Sandhills Philosopher

Philosopher Has Bright Outlook For Next Year

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm sounds an optimistic note for the new year, his letter this week reveals. This may be cause for worry.

Dear editor:

With a new year at hand, I, the United States is running short stopped by a neighbor's house to of gold and half our missiles won't wish him a happy new year and fly, looks like people are always at borrow a pipe wrench, but he did each other's throats and I don't not seem in the mood for either see much hope for the world."

I didn't argue with him, but all what's going to happen in 1961 than the experts who thought they know what was going to happen in 1960, but whatever happens, I aim to find it interesting. I can get along without that pipe wrench, but unfortunately here comes my neighbor with it now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

understand that things are normal. You drop in on the world, so to speak, for a few days at a time in between long sessions of plowing and naturally you're in a mood for being wished a happy new year or asked to lend a pipe wrench.

Out of years of reading about the world, I'd like to point out that its present shape is not much different from what it was last year, the year before, and on back to the time Caesar was writing Latin books for children. The world has always been in trouble one way or nother, the same as you and me.

The prospects for 1961 are no worse than what as good as, the prospects were for 1960, 1959, or any other year on back since calendars were invented.

Baptists Plan Youth Revival

AMHERST — The Baptist Church will hold a youth-led revival Friday and Saturday nights and both services Sunday.

The night services will be at 7:30 p. m.

Special music and individual testimonies will be given by young people each meeting.

Norman Lockett, will be speaker for the revival. Saturday night Rev. James Lunsford, Missionary from Brazil, home on furlough will speak. Also that night there will be a watch party for the new year.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council offers this suggestion for a New Year's Resolution — "I will strive at all times to protect my family from accidents by setting a good example of safe living and by teaching all members of my family the principles of safety and see that accident hazards in the home and on the farm or ranch are removed or corrected." Let's make 1961 the safest year ever so far as rural living is concerned," challenges the Council.

Nancy Burks Is Honored By White Bible Ceremony

Nancy Burks, bride-elect of Ronald Crow, Canyon, was honored recently with a White Bible Ceremony in the home of Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Young Woman's Auxiliary Director of the First Baptist Church. This is a traditional ceremony honoring members or former members at the time of their marriage. The ceremony was staged before the open fireplace. On a coffee table in front of the hearth was an open Bible with a gold satin ribbon marking the scripture, Psalms 119:105. White spiral tapers in tall gold holders flanked the Bible and all rested on a cloud of white angels' hair. The Yuletide motif was suggested by tiny springs of holly encircling the candles in gold floral arrangements. Judy and Linda Dale offered the opening prayer with the song "God Give Us Christian Homes" accompanied at the piano by Jancy Blackmon.

Melva L. Ross, president, gave a history of the hearth as a symbol of the home. As she spoke she took one of the tapers from the table, lighting from it small candles tied with green satin ribbon and carried by members of the YWA who formed a circle around the honoree. As they stood with lighted tapers, Judy Dale, sang "Bless This House."

Mrs. Nelson then explained the need of God's word in the home and the significance of the use of the YWA colors of green and white. "May the purity of your love symbolized by the white continue in growth, symbolized by the green, as you advance more and more in the furtherance of the Gospel," she concluded.

The song, "Thy Word Is a Lamp Unto My Feet," by the Dales introduced the text of the presentation address, brought by Mrs. Nelson.

Following the closing prayer, Judy Dale sang, "O Perfect Love," thus concluding the ceremony.

The traditional white Bible reception was then held. Refreshments were served from a table laid in white lace and lighted with tall white tapers in milk glass containers. Table decorations featured a miniature bride carrying a tiny white Bible, and a ceramic Bible bearing the names and the wedding date of the couple. All appointments were of milk glass.

The economy of the West continues in full vigor and measurements of industrial activity are expected to start a new upward trend by the second quarter of the new year.

The year 1960, has been helped by a banner agricultural production in states served by the Santa Fe; in fact, a new all-time record is established in the number of carloads of grain handled, due to bumper crops of winter wheat and sorghum grains.

Despite this peak in farm production, revenues and earnings declined appreciably, having failed to measure up to early estimates because of the temporary recession in industrial production which became apparent to us last spring with the start of declining tonnage in the movement of durable items and raw materials associated with building and construction fields.

In the interest of meeting demands of a continuing growth of population and industry by providing improved facilities to perform an efficient and economical service, the Santa Fe went forward with its $100 - million program for capital improvements in 1960, the outstanding improvement being the 44-mile change of line in the transcontinental route between Williams and Crookton, Ariz. opened to traffic on December 19.

The new line incorporates the most modern types of railway a-construction for flexible, high speed operation and produces significant economies along with more dependable and efficient service.

Other improvements in the 1960 program included a new freight yard at Brownwood, Texas; expansion of icing facilities at Belen, N. M., to expedite eastward perishable traffic; a new combined rail - truck freight house and office building at Argentine, Kans. which will be put in service shortly after the first of the year; and new equipment made up of 85 diesel freight units, 1,975 new freight cars, and 50 new baggage cars.

Among these were 200 piggyback cars equipped with two and three deck super - structures for handling motor vehicles. The Santa Fe continues to equip its new freight cars with roller bearings and many with special devices to minimize damage to loading - approximately 1700 new cars are now available with "shock control" underframes.

While not equaling the program of 1960, plus capital improvements in area of $5 million - and the second line charject in Arizona, 100 miles of new main line provide greatly increased cy in train operation to the Phoenix area.

Also included will of 234 miles of main
new continuously welded 1750 new freight cars gauge cars will be con-ing the year.

The continuing inflaral is altogether too steep future best interests of and employees. It is the serious factor confront-ness, government and representatives. Much wage costs and tax load-ly partial relief from a creases in rates are pre-continuation of the the earnings margin and it increasingly difficult ample funds for all dependitures on capital in-ments that would contriberally to greater effici-employment.

The capital expendgrams that I have men-all physical improve-can be made accord-best judgment of railroament to the extent that available. They represent ernization of the phys-that is vital to the contindern transportation. It there is another less where there is an ever need for modernization tiquated government pre-tion policies which are upon assumptions of the past.

There are a number ing inequities that exist outmoded type of regula-table legislation is remedy them. It is ex-there be a repeal, or the railroads, of the commodities exemption now permits motor cars not railroads to haul products without econotion. There must be a the artificial obstacles vent railroads from and engaging in other lines.

Some provision for charges must be made use of publicly - prov-ties so that the users bear economic cost of propetitive transportation.
Likewise, there is great the present taxation levthe treatment of dep-ductions in respect to plant and equipment

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION: KEEP RECORDS!

Back in pioneer times our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more. Great-grandpa wasn't covered by social security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies. We have taxes great-grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he would have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts, and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

So, why not make a New Year's Resolution to follow these suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.
2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file, and where you were married and by whom.
3. Get for your file copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement, as to when may be found.
4. Insert your will or a copy of it, if your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.

5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in the file.

6. Make a list of all the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.

7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons there who you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.

8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work, make a note of that too.

9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

Mrs. Doc Vann Submits Winner in Rime Contest

Mrs. Doc Vann, Rt. 1, Anton, is this week's winner in the Littlefield Press Ad Rime contest.

She found the hidden slogan, "Check credit guaranty with mechanical and electrical items," and her prize-winning rhyme was "Repair service must be near. So buy at home, and never fear."

Mrs. Vann's entry will go into the file along with the previous Ad Rime winners, and she is now eligible for the grand prize of $50 at the end of the contests.

Another Ad Rime appears in this issue of the Leader. The guide lines are "Keep you' home town on the map."

All entries must be in the Press office before 5 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 3.

One Star Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

Population Shift for 1960 comes to its trends in Texas. The Federal decennial census have now been given and evaluation. Findings in general are that the thinly populated areas of the State are becoming even more sparsely populated while more people are moving to the more thickly populated areas.

Three of the older, comparatively thickly settled counties showed the heaviest losses in population. These were Lamar County in Northeast Texas, which lost 9,000 during the decade, Hill and Fannin counties in the old Blackland Belt, which lost 8,000 and 7,600 respectively. Then there were Rusk, Red River, Navarro, Cherokee, Falls and Limestone counties, all of which had losses of at least 5,000. The trend of the past two decades projects an outlook something along these lines: Rural counties that are in fairly close range of future job opportunities probably will hold their population at a fairly stable level. Suburban and open - country areas not far removed from work opportunities can expect to grow fairly rapidly. However, until the anticipated population explosion actually arrives, open - country, strictly rural counties far removed from industrial areas may become even more rural before growth overflows in their direction.

One Million Acres Trees Planted In 1960 and ranchers cooperated with the Nation's 2,863 soil conservation districts and other agencies in providing services to farm woodland owners, and most of the planting stock came from State nurseries cooperating with the Forest Service, USDA officials said. The States also provided specialized forestry assistance in fire prevention, disease control and marketing where resources were available. The Great Plains States — Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming — led all regions in field windbreak plantings with 3,630 miles during the year and a cumulative total of 30,584 miles. Georgia farmers (working with soil conservation districts) led all States in tree planting with 223,568 acres during the year and a cumulative total of more than 2 million acres.

About Your Health

Short on resolutions for the new year beginning Sunday? Here's a list designed especially for you and your family by the Texas State Department of Health:

Promote to give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Periodic examinations are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully, so let your doctor look you over thoroughly once a year whether you're ailing or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged. Dental troubles won't kill you, but sometimes they can make you wish you were dead. So check in once yearly with your dentist, too. If you are putting on weight, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, boiled potatoes and the cream filled tidbits which almost invariably spell extra pounds and perhaps an early grave. Too much weight contributes to high blood pressure, and may be associated with hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease. Too, it means impaired vigor, greater surgical risk and greater danger from otherwise minor illnesses. The statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease are piling up so fast it is getting tougher and tougher to rationalize the habit. Resolve to impress those statistics on the minds of the teenagers in your family. When driving, consider that every other car is being driven by a madman, and when walking trust motorists only as far as you can see them. Motor vehicle deaths stand far above accidental deaths of all other types. Resolve to take full advantage of every advancement in medical science aimed at benefiting you and the family, but always on competent medical advice. Start by getting the youngsters and yourself immunized against polio if you haven't already done it. Promise to obey local and state laws pertaining to health protection. For example, if your town has a dog leash law, adhere to it. It is a public protective device and you are the public. Last but vitally important, give an occasional thought to such awesome problems as water conservation, pollution abatement, juvenile delinquency, and the growing number of elderly people in our society. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to community efforts to solve them. (A Weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Read the Following Carefully for Good Rhyming Words

If every person and family will spend their dollars at home we will have an outstanding and prosperous community.

Among home firms there's not a chap who asks for odds or handicap. They use no claptrap — set no trap — and don't consider you a "sap."

Now — maybe it will prove a snap to make an AD-RIME from this "yap" So let the old typewriter tap and "loot" may drop right in your lap.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the railroads' approximately 40,000 Texas employees contributed on their own property. The vast majority of railroad workers, many of whom live in Lamb county, own their own homes.

The largest railroad contribution in Lamb county was for the support of education. The school tax for 1959 totaled $9,103.

City and village taxes amounted to $1,836, while the share of the county government's operating expenses paid for by the railroads totaled $2,494. The road and bridge fund gained $3,398 from the railroads in 1959. All other taxes brought the total for the county to $17,049.

"With the future of our country and state depending to a great extent upon the education of our youth, I am glad to see that nearly half of the taxes paid by the railroads in '59, a total of $4,565, 103 went to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "Recognizing this need for education, many of our railroads also make scholarships available every year."

In Dallas Gigantic Parade Planned As Part Of Bowl Picture

DALLAS — One of the most spectacular parades ever staged in the Southwest will take place here on Saturday morning, Dec. 31.

The 1960 Cotton Bowl Coronation Parade will lend a fitting climax to the exciting week of entertainment, sports event and other festivities leading up to the 1961 Cotton Bowl Football Classic between the University of Arkansas and Duke on Jan. 2.

The parade will spotlight the Cotton Bowl Queen and her princesses. The line of march will move through downtown Dallas beginning at 10:30 a. m. and will be televised locally at 12:30 p. m.

Twenty-nine bands will give the parade a tuneful theme, representing some of the most outstanding high school, college and military bands in the country.

Theme for the first section of the parade is "Happy Holidays." Sponsored floats have been elaborately designed to represent Easter Valentine, July 4th and other holidays. Spaced between the colorful floats will be mounted units, antique vehicles, and various novelty units.

The most glamorous part of the parade will be the Queen's Section Carrying out the Silver Anniversary theme of the 1961 Cotton Bowl game, each float represents a Southwest Conference school and Duke.

The Queen's float, in the Arkansas colors of red and white, will feature the 1961 Cotton Bowl Queen, Gail Blossom, of the University of Arkansas, standing on a beautiful balcony. Princesses representing the other Southwest Duke, from the visiting institution, will also ride on floats brilliant with school colors accented with silver.

Official band for the parade is the Fourth U. S. Army Band from Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The U. S. Marine Corps Drum and Bugle Corps from the Marine Barracks in Washington, D. C. will be the band for the Queen's section and a group of Marines in dress blues will serve as an honor guard for the Queen's float.

The parade is an estimated two miles in length and will take approximately an hour and a half to pass in review. Trophies will be awarded to winning bands and floats to be judged during the parade.

Supply and demand are still the major determining factors in egg prices. F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says the demand for eggs in 1961 should remain near the 1960 level and the price to consumers relatively low compared with other foods.
