

"FOR SENATE CLUB" WILL BE FORMED LAMB COUNTY FRIENDS AT RALLY TONIGHT

DISTRICT-WIDE CAMPAIGN WILL BE LAUNCHED

Clyde Thomas, Defeated in First Primary, Swings
Support to Duggan

Encouraged and enthused by the strong lead of Arthur P. Duggan over his nearest opponent, G. E. Lockhart, in the race for the Democratic nomination to the State Senate from the 30th Senatorial District, the many local friends of Mr. Duggan, including farmers and business men, are planning to organize themselves into a "Duggan for Senate Club," for the purpose of making a district wide campaign between now and the run-off primary, which will be held August 27. It has been announced that the preliminary organization will be affected tonight and the meeting will be held in the Hendricks building, next door to the office of the Hendricks Insurance Agency. The many supporters and friends of Mr. Duggan are invited to be present.

Mr. Duggan's friends and supporters state that the strong vote he received in the first primary, and especially his lead over Mr. Lockhart, gives him a great advantage in the run-off and they predict his final nomination by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Duggan's intimate connections and relations with the farmers over the district, his past business experience, his wide acquaintance on the south plains, his unquestioned integrity, and the implicit confidence reposed in him by all those who know him, gives him a advantage in this final campaign, his friends say.

As further reasons for the prediction that Mr. Duggan will be nominated by a big majority, his friends point to the fact that Hon. Clyde E. Thomas of Big Spring, Texas, who was eliminated in the race at the first primary, has publicly announced his espousal of Mr. Duggan's candidacy and has asked his friends and supporters to support Mr. Duggan in the run-off. Mr. Thomas was third in the Senatorial race at the first primary election last Saturday and received considerably over 7,000 votes in the district.

The citizens of Littlefield community are especially urged to be present tonight, (Thursday), to assist in the organization of the "Duggan for Senate Club."

Duggan Received Immense Vote In Home County

From incomplete returns received all indications are that Arthur P. Duggan, Lamb County's Candidate for State Senator, received a very heavy majority over all of his four opponents in his home county.

Some indication of the immense vote piled up in Lamb County for Mr. Duggan is contained in the fact that Littlefield gave him 869 votes as against 173 for G. E. Lockhart, who is in the run-off with Mr. Duggan for the office. Additional evidence is that James H. Goodman received 28 votes in Littlefield; Jess C. Levens, 156 votes, and Clyde E. Thomas, 46 votes. Two other examples are the fact that East Littlefield gave Mr. Duggan 225 votes, as against a few for his opponents, and that Bainer cast 131 votes for the Lamb County Candidate, as against a few for the other aspirants for the office.

The latest total for the district is that Mr. Duggan has 9487 votes, as against Mr. Lockhart's total of 9425. Other standings in the race are: James Goodman, 5696; Jess Levens, 6391, and Clyde Thomas 7636.

The Littlefield Hotel is a three-story frame structure, and only quick and efficient work on the part of the fire department saved the building from destruction.

The fire was discovered by Night Watchman John Blair, probably only a few minutes after it

THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The young athletes of all nations and both sexes who are competing at Los Angeles for world championships constitute, beyond doubt, the finest aggregation of physically perfect humanity that has ever been assembled at one time and place in the history of the world.

There is no question whatever that the modern athlete is far superior to those of ancient days. We often hear of the remarkable physical prowess of some of the primitive races, but in every contest where it has been possible to match an intelligent, trained athlete of the modern era against the best of the primitives, the victory has fallen to the modern.

We venture the belief that the Olympic Games have done more than any other one influence to spread the gospel of physical training and outdoor sports throughout the civilized world. As we get older we realize that physical health is the most valuable asset the individual can have. Given sound health, and the controlling intelligence which enables its possessor to engage in physical sports, any young man or young woman need not worry about such immaterial things as riches. Youth does not always realize it, but all the money in the world is worth nothing to one who has not the health to enjoy the things it will buy.

Another great benefit, which is none the less real because it is intangible, is the spirit of international sportsmanship which the Olympic Games engender. Let thousands of young folks of different nations, speaking different tongues, reared in differing environments, and inculcated with different standards and ideals, get together in friendly contest, they are sure to discover that there is not much difference, after all, between their respective peoples. And the more often they get together as good sportsmen, the sooner will come about the understandings which make for world peace.

The best thing about the gangsters now is that they are killing off each other in large numbers.

EIGHT YEARS AGO IN LITTLEFIELD

(Excerpts from Lamb Co. Leader)

T. W. Barnes, merchant in Amrillo for the past 22 years, is here this week beginning the construction of a store building, 30x80 feet.

The building is located on lots adjoining Porter Grocery, and when completed will be occupied by a stock of general merchandise.

The new Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Yard, under the direction of F. V. Barber, is rapidly assuming definite proportions, and bids fair to be a big concern.

According to manager B. F. Cogdill, the main office will be 28x42 feet, adjoined by a warehouse 24x70 feet and back of which will be a new lumber shed 100 feet long and three stories high.

Miss Louise Beisel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Beisel, and William Yeager were quietly married Saturday at Sudan, Rev. J. W. Saffle officiating.

The Levelland school building, costing $60,000, has been completed and turned over to the trustees.

Home Demonstration Notes

By MISS RUBY MASHBURN
Home Demonstration Agent

"The History of Lamb County" was interestingly and entertainingly discussed by A. P. Duggan of Littlefield and Judge Bengé of Amherst, at the training school of home demonstration club women held at the Amherst school building Tuesday, July 19.

"Coronado and his troops were probably the first white men to reach Lamb county," said Mr. Duggan as he told of the early history of our county. "The valuable assets of the county in a material way as agriculture, live stock, and schools are not our most valuable possessions, there are our homes," said Mr. Duggan.

Mr. Bengé discussed the rapid development of the county since it was organized until the present time, giving the size of the county, number of farms and growth of the towns, most of which has taken place in the last decade.

Mrs. H. M. Packard of Spring Lake discussed the history and development of Spring Lake; Mrs. A. C. Barton of Spring Lake the history of Earth, and Mrs. Jay Phillips, interesting places in Lamb county.

The following from Lamb county are attending the annual Farmers' Short Course at College Station which will be held the week of July 25 to 30: Mrs. Forest Lumpkin and Mrs. Joe Stark, Sudan; Mrs. W. C. Squires, Heart's Camp; Mrs. Adron Jones, Blue Bonnet; Mrs. A. D. Helton, Sand Hill; Mrs. H. A. Sheffield, Spade; Miss Betty Stewart and Mrs. D. E. Rochell, Amherst; Mrs. A. B. King, Center; Irene Brown, 4-H Club girl of Littlefield, and Miss Ruby Mashburn.

beyond that; it was like many of the great fundamental things, it was just simply so, and no gentleman could question it, and still remain a gentleman. His code, for in those days it was the fashion to have one, included a frank understanding in advance. Whatever hopes he raised were always doomed to disappointment.

Gilbert had no desire to make any money, for the frugal habits of his father had left the family fortune fairly well recuperated. It was not a colossal fortune, but it was ample, at least for a bachelor. His funds had been placed in trust and this did much to make him static. He was liberal, in a way, and when the feeling seized him, he could be downright generous, crippling himself for even months on end to do a good turn for a friend. But the trustees saw to it that his generosity was confined to his income.

At thirty-five Van Horn still believed in the beneficence of his particular fortune. He was growing slightly heavy as his bent for hard exercise slackened and his hair tinged with gray. At forty doubt seized him, doubt that overtakes all men as they approach those middle years when the little question begins to be heard—“What have you done with your

in the Van Horn home. There was no question about her remaining, and Gilbert, when he came to consider the matter, was glad enough to have her there. Certainly many matters must arise in the life of a young girl requiring the instruction of a gentleman. This profound thought came to him quite as a shock. He liked to have Josephine around, liked to have her climb on his knee and make much of him. It was the first bit of honest affection Gilbert Van Horn had ever known.

Having done with the Van Horn myth let us step back for a few years and review the incident that has been slightly touched upon; the incident of the river and of the boy, born to the name of Breen, on the river, but actually begotten by Van Horn.

It was in the summer of 1883 that the great internal and hushed-up scandal of the Hallett-Van Horn household had its beginning at the country place in Astoria, in that fine mansion overlooking Hell Gate. Gilbert, home following his junior year at college, was being sheltered from the vile contacts of the city and the haunts of Brevoort Van Horn. He was studious, but not so much of books as of nature. Mrs. Hallett-Van Horn's maid, a comely, lively girl named Harriet, the most satisfactory handmaiden Mrs. Van Horn had ever enjoyed, stumbled upon Gilbert, at ease in his mother's boudoir, reading Nick Carter. Mrs. Van Horn was in the city shopping. The fact that the maid had stepped from a luxurious bath may have added somewhat to the astonishment of young Van Horn. For the first time he was aware of the fact that female proportions were actual.

Very early the next year a condition of extraordinary difficulty became manifest. Harriet, to be quite plain, was in a family way, a decidedly annoying situation in view of the fact that she alone seemed able to do Mrs. Hallett-Van Horn's hair as it should be done.

At once suspicion hovered about the house. Harriet would not confess the name of the culprit. Harriet supposed, if the truth were known, that she would be imprisoned for life.

Then the eager flicker of suspicion hovered about the house. It rested, in turn, on every male person. Even Jules, the page, was under suspicion. “No, ma'am, it was not him.” So Harriet patiently absolved them, one by one, in the daily, hourly inquisition.

“The butler, old Simmons? Lord, no ma'am. Not him, oh, no no!”

Could it be an immaculate conception? Mrs. Hallett-Van Horn almost wished her faith was strong enough to believe it, but no, a miracle of that sort might happen to her, but not to that girl.

A month of utter torture followed. The situation became worse. Her husband, Brevoort Van Horn, must be the guilty party. He simply must.

The storming between Lida and Brevoort grew so intense that even the servants were wrought up. Mrs. Hallett-Van Horn became hysterical to the point of speaking before Simmons.

“Begin your pardon, Mr. Van Horn,” Simmons lingered outside the door as Brevoort left his wife's apartment. “May I speak sir?”

“By all means, Simmons. Who in hell did it?”

“I hope you will pardon my presumption, sir.”

“Simmons, spill it. Was it the parson, or who?”

“It was Mr. Gilbert, sir.”

“Gilbert!” Brevoort stood somewhat dazed. “Great Jupiter, her son. And mine,” he added, as an afterthought. “Well I'll be damned!”

The bringing down of Gilbert from college he was coming anyway for the midyear recess, was an event. He had not forgotten the incidents of the preceding fall. In fact he had a rather lively idea of a renewal of the affair: Gilbert, also, was a simple fellow.

“Your mother wishes to see you, at once, Mr. Gilbert.”

The meeting was in the library. Brevoort stood before the fireplace, shifting from one foot to another. His spats gave him the curious appearance of a man who is standing in a puddle of glue.

Mrs. Lida Hallett-Van Horn reclined in a large cushioned chair, her back to the windows. She was fully and somewhat formally dressed. A shawl of black lace, thrown over her shoulders, intensified her pallor.

Husband and wife did not speak. After all he had done then to accuse her own boy!

When young Gilbert came into the rather tense room, his father gave him a look of pity. Mrs. Van Horn, the Hallett for a moment subdued, smiled at him wanly. He bent, and she kissed his forehead. Her cheeks flushed. That handsome boy. Her boy.

Gilbert, sensing something unusual, wondered what was up.

“Gilbert,” Brevoort tried to get things moving. He was due down at the club, at Twenty-first Street, a beastly drag, at four. “Your mother has asked us here. I have asked you, Gilbert, I mean we, that is your mother and me.”

“Not me,” Lida Hallett interposed, her voice sharp. “Not me, Mr. Van Horn; you, and, and Simmons.” She bowed into her hands; a handkerchief dabbed at her glistening eyes.

“Well, the fact is—” Brevoort was somewhat at a loss. “Let us send for her.” He looked pleadingly at his wife. Of course. It was the brilliant idea. “Ring for Simmons.” “Simmons,” Mrs. Van Horn spoke with icy coolness, “have Harriet come up at once.” The matter soon would be settled.

They stood for some minutes, eternities, father, mother, son. Gilbert, his eyes on the fire, began to do some thinking on his own account. Had the girl told, of— He had not looked at it in that light, as any harm to his parents, you know.

“Son, oh, how can I say it. The awful lies, the horror of it.” She covered her face, her head bent down and sobs shook her shoulders. Her delicate white hands trembled, her rings flashing in the firelight. “I simply can't say it. Deny everything, Gilbert. Tell them they lie.”

“Son,” Brevoort's quick eyes caught the look of consternation, of realization, in the boy's face. Again he had an uncomfortable feeling that this thing, if told at the club, would meet with roars of mirth. “Mother's maid, Harriet, is about to, that is, to become a mother. We, that is I—”

“Not me, Gilbert, not me,” she sobbed and trembled.

“We believe you are responsible for her condition. Is that so?”

Gilbert hung his head for a time, then he looked straight at his father, past his mother who suddenly faced him, her eyes bright and eager for the glad denial, ready, willing, anxious to hear him fling back the vile insinuation, fling it back like a Hallett.

“I suppose I am to blame. I—”

A cry from the chair. Mrs. Lida Hallett-Van Horn had fainted. There in the library, surrounded by books as unknown as life, books filled with the stuff of dreams and crimes, and love, these people enacted a scene. The young man was the least to blame. Mrs. Hallett-Van Horn refused to see her son. He went back to his studies marveling at the curious trick life had played. How was he to know things could be so serious?

BETTER DAYS AHEAD
 (From the Frederick, Okla., Press)
 Indications point to the fact that the depression which has been devilling business for nearly three years is gradually being dissipated.
 Prices of farm products seem to have reached their bottom. Prices of hogs which in some of the middlewestern states is a barometer of business conditions, has almost doubled during the past few weeks. For more than a month up to about the first of July hogs brought but 2 1/2 cents a pound in Frederick. The price then began advancing rapidly until 4 1/2 cents a pound was paid which figure has been steadily maintained. Hog dealers say that with the prevailing low price of feed they can be grown profitably for 4 1/2 cents.
 This week Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, who prepares a daily editorial for the Wichita Times and a number of other papers, is explaining why he thinks we are gradually emerging from the depression. He says people have put off buying so long that stocks of manufactured goods have about become depleted and factories must soon resume.

That he is speaking the truth is proved by a dispatch on the first page of Wednesday's Wichita Times, headed "Dinner Falls Again in Evidence as Gates of Mills and Factories Are Opened in New England States."
 This dispatch says textile mills, shoe factories, hat factories, velvet mills, jewelry shops and even pickle factories, which have been closed for some time, are again opening in the six New England states and thousands of men who have been idle for some time are again being employed.

One man got the idea that if a neat cap could be made and sold at a nominal price the young men who have been going bareheaded for a long time would begin buying headgear.
 He was able to produce a handsome white cap for 25 cents and the demand was so great that numerous factories were required to fill orders. The cheering news for Oklahoma is that these caps are made of cotton. The Press editor bought one of these caps
 at Lincoln and nearly every person to whom it was showed said he would like to buy one of them.

The August issue of the American Magazine has an article which shows that this country has had 13 depressions during the past 123 years, some even worse than this one and that we emerged from each and attained even greater prosperity than ever before.

The articles in the American say three of the depressions were worse
 than the present, that of 1837, 1857, and 1873. They were all brought about in part by wars, such as was the present one. That of 1837 followed the Napoleonic wars which involved numerous countries and lasted longer than did the world war; that of 1857 followed the Mexican war and disturbances in Europe; and that of 1873 was caused by the great Civil war of 1861-65, which was such a great drain on the country. This lasted longer than has the present depression.

The author of this article, Clarence Budington Kelland, says that the history of this nation is a series of de-pressions or panics lasting several years and followed by as many prosperous eras, each prosperous age being three or four times as long as the period of depression. If the depression is now ending he says we will have from 10 to 12 years of prosperous times.

Kelland's idea is that when periods
 of good and bad times occur 13 times in succession, then it proves there is a law of ebb and flow in finances that can not be stopped nor begun by human agencies. The Press will agree that there may be a law in economics whereby depressions are bound to come, but it believes that human agencies can do much to lighten its damage and to hurry its departure.

There is considerable money in the country, much in the hands of people who are afraid to spend it for fear
 prices have not reached the bottom.
 They buy only what they need for the present. When they realize that prices are advancing they will begin to purchase for future needs. When this point is reached conditions may improve so rapidly that even those pessimists who declare there is no future for the human race will realize that the United States is a pretty good country after all.

Says Lamb County
 Has Best Crops

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davis have just returned from a three weeks automobile tour of the west coast, including Mexico and Canada. In visiting Canada they went as far north as Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were accompanied by Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Figley of Hart-ings, Okla.

Mr. Davis said that the party made a total of 7,000 miles. He especially observed the condition of the crops, and on his return home reported that no farming section had better crops
 than Lamb county.

Vocational Notes
 By R. A. Box

The Littlefield Future Farmers are making good progress with their cotton and feed projects. Out of the thirty-seven boys who enrolled in vocational agriculture the past school year, twenty now have cotton projects going. These range from five to fifteen acres and total 150 acres.
 With one or two exceptions, Acala is the variety, and the seed used is either state certified or was produced from the certified seed planted last year. This use of pure seed, with proper spacing of 6 to 9 inches, and correct cultivation, will be the chief practices stressed in the projects.
 Feed crops totaling 135 acres, consisting of milo, hegari, kafir and corn are growing. The grain sorghums were planted from seed furnished free by the State Certified Grain Sorghum Seed Growers Association.
 This seed was all copper carbonate dusted before planting. Milo will be spaced 18 to 36 inches, kafir 6 to 9 inches, and hegari 12 to 14 inches.
 All feed projects are to be rogued
 of off-type stalks.

John Bruce, first-year student, had the misfortune to lose his ten-acre
 cotton project in a recent sandstorm.
 He has replanted in hegari, and has a good stand. John has six Duroc Jersey sows that he is running on sudan pasture and is fattening for the fall market.

Deward Rucktashel caponized 25
 of his Barred Plymouth Rock cockerels recently. He has nearly 100 pullets and capons. It is his intention to sell the capons next spring at a higher price than he can get for them as fryers. Deward also has 5 acres of cotton and milo.

Ray Jones purchased a registered
 Duroc Jersey gilt from the Tierra Blanca Farms at Canyon shortly before school closed. He now has a nice bunch of pigs.

Ball Club Playing In Tournament

The Littlefield Baseball Club made their debut in the base ball tournament last Monday and drew Hale Center for the first game of the tournament.

The drawing took place at 11:30 A. M. Monday morning with but six paid entries. Texas Utilities of Lubbock, Lamasa, Wofforth, Levelland, Hale Center and Littlefield. The first game was set for two-thirty P. M. "Hale Center vs. Littlefield."

Big Newty Moore was the mound artist for the locals with Dick Ratliff in the catching department. Chief Hanks on First-base, M. Ratliff second base, Lumpkin short stop, Art Mueller third base.

In the outfield Thornton in left field, Simmons in center and with Dewey Walker absent, Bill Gregory held down the right field berth.

Moore was invincible until the ninth inning when a lone tally was registered on two successive hits. Up until this time not a man got past second base. The bats of the locals started clicking in the second inning when Moore reached first safely. Mick Ratliff intended sacrifice went for an infield hit, Art Mueller singled sharply to left killing the bases. Hanks responded with a long double to left centerfield fence scoring Moore, Ratliff and Mueller. Hanks scored on an infield out winding up the rally for that inning after Dick Ratliff took a third strike, B. Gregory grounded out and Lumpkin followed suit.

The next game for the Littlefield Club will be played with the Texas Utilities Club on Wednesday afternoon to determine the winner of the first round winners. The Littlefield boys are very optimistic over their chances of winning the tournaments first prize $100.00 purse.

Clovis Loses To Littlefield Team

The return game with Clovis last Sunday was a repeater of the previous results when the locals trounced the Mexico boys on the home grounds the week before to the tune of 18 to 4.

Bill Gregory was the mound choice for this game and came through in good style, allowing the Clovis team a measly six hits and these were well scattered throughout the nine innings.

Moore who worked for the home club was batted to all corners of the lot. Thornton, the two Gregories and Mueller led the batting attack that mounted to seventeen hits before the

She Reduced 38 Pounds the Safe Way

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for 4 months and I think they are wonderful. I am 32 years old and 5 ft. 2 in. tall. I was very fat. I weighed 165 lbs. and now I weigh 127 lbs. and feel fine. If I let up taking the Salts one morning I feel lazy and heavy." Mrs. Florence Lettus, Boston.

This is just one of hundreds of letters we get every month—Kruschen not only causes you to lose fat but while you are losing it you gain in health—in vivaciousness—you lose fat where fat is most prominent and at the same time keep stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning naturally.

Any drugstore in the world will sell you a jar of Kruschen for a trifling sum—take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—light on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. But for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous. It's the little daily dose that does it.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon...

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF SAID COURT: NOW COMES A. T. Bontke, plaintiff in the above styled and numbered cause, and with permission of the court first hand and obtained, filed this his first amended original petition, and complains of E. H. Flynn, F. L. Flynn, defendants herein, and represents to the court:

I. That plaintiff resides in Taylor County, Texas. That the defendant E. H. Flynn resides in Okmulgee, Okmulgee County, Oklahoma, and that the residence of F. L. Flynn is unknown to this plaintiff.

II. For cause of action plaintiff represents: That heretofore, to-wit, on or about January, 1929, he was lawfully seized and possessed of the simple title to lot Two-(2) Block Seventeen (17) of the town of Littlefield, in Lamb County, Texas, as shown by the map and plat of said town, recorded in Vol. 6, page 500 of the Deed Records of Lamb County, Texas.

That thereafter on or about the same day the defendants unlawfully went into possession thereof, and ejected the plaintiff therefrom, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars. Plaintiff alleges that he has been deprived of the possession of said lot for a period of about three years and that the rental value of said property is $500.00 per year. Plaintiff further alleges that by virtue of such ejection, this plaintiff has been unable to sell said lot, although he has had several purchasers for same and has entered into written contracts for the purchase of said lot only to be found that defendants have clouded the title to said property, which prevents plaintiff from giving possession to the purchasers, thereby resulting in a failure to consummate such sale, and that by virtue of being unable to sell said property plaintiff has been damaged in the sum of $1,000.00.

Plaintiff further alleges that defendants have erected and possess and maintain a house on part of said property, and have failed and refused to remove same. WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays for the issuance and service of citation upon the defendants as required by law, and he prays that upon final hearing he have judgment for the sum of Three Thousand ($3,000.00) Dollars, and for a mandatory injunction removing said building above referred to, and for the right, title and possession of the premises, and for a writ of restitution, for costs of suit, and for such other and further relief to which he may be entitled either at law or in equity.

THANK YOU!

To the friends and voters in Lamb county who supported me so loyally in the primary last Saturday, I here express my heartfelt and sincere thanks and appreciation.

Your votes gave me the largest vote in a single county in the entire district and made it possible for me to lead the ticket for State Senate. Being high man over this large district against four good lawyers and politicians is a real accomplishment. For this I am very grateful.

To those who voted against me, I now earnestly invite your support in the run-off. There is no feeling of ill will on my part and I now ask the united support of the 5100 voters in Lamb county so that this county may for the first time have a representative in the Legislature halls of Texas.

The box supper held at the school house Thursday night was quite a success. The candidates were here, and spoke.

Miss Cecil Patterson received the cake for the prettiest girl and her brother, Sam, received the bar of soap for being the ugliest man. Mrs. Patterson's children are quite a contrast. Oh yes, G. P. Howell will be in the run-off for the ugliest man.

Batching seems to be quite rage around here. J. D. Blalock, J. E. Brown, Roy Hilson, H. H. Snow, Pat Wooley, J. C. Cox, Glen Roper, and J. T. Ray all are experiencing the task of cooking.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Shrum and Mr. and Mrs. E. Veach shopped in Littlefield Saturday.

Trucks and Busses Pay Heavy Taxes

Trucks and busses in Texas pay $2,675,787 MORE in taxes than the gross amount paid by the railroads. Although trucks and busses constitute only 14% of the total number of motor vehicles registered in Texas, they pay 25% of all taxes paid by all the motor vehicles in Texas.

 Total paid for highways, etc. by motor vehicles 35,370,197.00

Out of the total taxes paid by motor vehicles of $45,776,973.00, commercial cars, which are trucks and busses, paid $10,462,382.00, which is approximately 25% of the total and $2,675,787.00 MORE THAN THE GROSS AMOUNT PAID BY THE RAILROADS.

These figures were compiled from the records of the State Comptroller, State Highway Department, State Treasurer, and Railroad Commission of Texas for the year 1929. The records for 1930 and 1931 now being compiled will no doubt show a decided increase in the taxes of the motor vehicles and a reduction of railroad taxes.

NOT ONLY WILLING TO SERVE YOU HE KNOWS HOW!

Willingness to serve doesn't come through training; ability does. So Conoco chooses as station salesmen men who want to serve... who like it... and trains them to be experts.

When a Conoco man fills your gas tank or supplies oil, he gives you exactly the amount you want. There's no splashing, no muss.

He gauges the air in your tires accurately and supplies the proper pressure to each, including spares. He cleans your windshield spotlessly. He fills your radiator without splashing.

The Conoco man's information service is just as expert as these things he does with his hands. Ask him about roads, mileage, hotels, camps, sports, places to buy supplies. He is ready with accurate information on these and many other subjects. He keeps his station rest rooms clean and his station inviting. He checks parcels and cares for mail and telegrams. Everything he does for you is done cheerfully, expertly. He wants to make your stop at his station a pleasure for you... and he knows how!

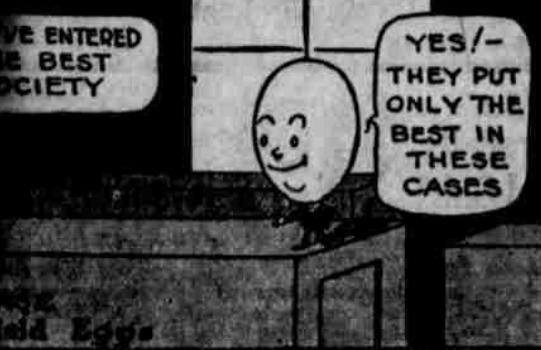

EVERY CONOCO STATION IS A BRANCH OF THE CONOCO TRAVEL BUREAU... A NATION-WIDE FREE SERVICE FOR MOTOR TRAVELERS

started. Mr. Blair hurried to the fire station, a distance of one block away, notified Truck Driver Floyd Wynn, and Fire Chief Carl Arnold and his men were on the job in very quick time.

When the firemen arrived the blaze existed in the dining room and other downstairs rooms. Chemicals were first used, and then water was forced through the chemical hose, with the result that the blaze was quickly extinguished with surprisingly little damage. The fire never had the opportunity to eat very extensively into partitions, because of the quick and efficient work of Chief Arnold and his men. The greatest damage was to the walls, ceiling and furniture in the dining room.

Enthusiastic commendation is in order to the entire personnel of the Littlefield fire department.
