TOWN and COUNTRY by Wendell Tooley

LOOKED back in the Aug. 1st yesterday and found Littlefield's first load of sorghum came in August of 1901. The first load came in this year? ... it is a failure.

1958 Jim Claunch at Bula was possibly the earliest grain sorghum around the county. It was a dryland crop and as I remember, some of the hybrid that yielded well. Farmers have it that Clouse will again be in the area to see who can bring the first load of grain sorghum in. If Clouse could have his to town just a little earlier last year, he would have No. 1, instead, the first came from the J. E. Duram.

WHEN there was the angel and let me drive," and he is.

AND MORE of my neighbors are becoming plutocrats. There are usually two to identify plutocrat neighbors. . . . they either own an ice cream freezer, riding type lawn mowers, don't know for sure . . . but ask one of my neighbors with an electric ice cream maker and riding mower. I see them out riding their lawns, but I haven't been in over for ice cream yet. I haven't decided what you call a neighbor who has conveniences. Any way you look at it, it makes it mighty hard on the other common sort of neighbors to keep up with plutocrat Joneses! Just do catch up with the Joneses. . . . they refinance . . . Penny's Fall Coat Caravan Planned Here

Penny's will borrow a slice of life from the desert next week and play host to a caravan. The caravan will roll into town August 8, 1962, in the form of Penny's traveling Fall Coat Caravan, according to Jim Joyner, store manager.

The caravan will be at the store for about 10 days, offering fashion-conscious women an opportunity to choose from an unusually wide selection of fall coats.

"Penny's space age version of a caravan will give women here a chance to choose fall coat wardrobes from as complete and economical a selection as any shown in the larger fashion centers," said Joyner.

He explained that Penny's is repeating the caravan this year because last year's initial effort was so well received. "We anticipate a good turnout here," the manager commented. "Some 550 stops have been scheduled for the coat caravan this year."

Most of the coats, sizes 5 through 22 1/2 will feature fur-trimmed collars or Cashmere. Most popular fall colors are expected to be Russet and Royal along with the ever-popular black. Brown is making a strong bid this season. Coats will come in misses sizes, juniors petite and half sizes.

Coats are replenished from town to town so that each store offers a wide assortment. The caravan will remain here until August 18th before moving on.

The Penny manager pointed out that all coats in the caravan may be purchased on convenient credit or layaway plans.

As the nation's No. 1 supplier of women's coats, he said that Penny's must offer a broad range of styles to satisfy the equally broad range of tastes involved. In this endeavor, he said Company buyers cover markets across the U. S. to bring women fashion at a reasonable price.

a thrilled pack match in the time of 16 minutes. The dreaded Viking beat Dandy Dan Miller the first and third falls to be declared the winner in the first main event of the evening. The last main event of the matches saw Rickey Romero win over Mad Man Monroe. This was one of the hardest fought and the roughest matches that has been witnessed at the local Arena in a long time.

Wrestling fans this week will be pleased at the matches that promoter John Ussery has arranged for this weeks wrestling card. Two big main event matches plus a special match with the girls.

The first main event will see The Viking take on Miguel Castro in a three fall match. Fans can expect anything in this match, because they will see two of the dirtiest and meanest wrestlers in the sport today as they pair off against each other in what should be one of the roughest matches ever to be at the local arena.

Following this match will be a special event featuring the sensational girl wrestlers in a one fall no time limit match. Jessica Rogers, one of the top girl wrestlers in this country will be battling it out with one of Mexico's great lady stars, Senorita Gonzalez of Mexico City. Miss Gonzalez, making her first appearance in Littlefield, would like nothing better than to beat Miss Rogers who has wrestled here before.

Colt League Stars Drop Final Game

Littlefield Colt League All-Stars lost their first two games in the Lovington tournament thus ending league play for the season.

The locals lost Monday night to El Paso, 12 - 1, and Tuesday night to Snyder, 8 - 3. Finals in the tourney were held Wednesday night.

El Paso flexed its home run muscles Monday night as Bujanda homered twice and Gijanda slugged a four bagger to help power the win.

Pat Risinger started the game for the locals and was relieved in the third with the score 3-1.

Against Snyder the local Colts committed six errors as pitchers Gary Pigg, the loser, and Jerry Cox gave up only five hits.

A four-run fifth inning gave Snyder the victory over the locals in a battle for survival in the loser's bracket of the double elimination tourney. Until the fourth, the score was tied at 2-2 as both teams scored single runs in the second and third innings.

Snyder added two more in the sixth to make it 8-2 and Littlefield wound up the scoring in the seventh with a single run.

Programs were outlined for the entire year subject to the approval of the membership. These include a business meeting for August; Drying and High Moisture Gain Contest in October; Cotton Out-look and Future in November; Income Tax and Social Security Laws in December; Electrification in January; Concrete and Masonry in February; Pre-emergent Weed Control in March; Sheep Production in April; Insects and Pests in May; Irrigation Schedules in June; and Farm Safety in July.

Other things set to be accomplished during the year include inviting farmers and other members to certain educational meetings, enter out-going members in area contests, cooperate in community activities, cooperate in stock show, assist the SCS in judging contests and in representatives from different community organizations to at least one meeting. Those attending the meeting were Eldon Gohlke, Doug Walden, Roy Ogerly, W. J. Hall and Finis Branham.

First Grade Enrollment Begins Here

Parents of children who will start to school this term are asked to register those children at the office of Paul I. Jones, principal, in the Primary Building each morning before August 14. Children who were registered with the principal last May need not register again.

To register a First Grade pupil the parent will need to present the birth certificate at the time of registering. The children must be six years old before September 2, 1962.

All pupils will need to be vaccinated for smallpox before the term begins and the scar is sufficient evidence of that vaccination. Also, all pupils must show the teacher the first day of the term a record of the vaccination for diphtheria if that record was not shown at the time of registering with the principal. The two vaccinations are required before the enrollment is completed.

Pupils in Grades 2 and 3 who have moved into this school district during the summer may register any morning at this office by bringing their school cards and their diphtheria vaccination cards. All new pupils in all grades will need to show evidence of having been vaccinated for both Smallpox and Diphtheria.

Ben Franklin Store Begins Opening Sale

Grand opening for the completely remodeled Ben Franklin Variety store in Littlefield will begin today according to Allen Roberts, store owner.

Roberts, who managed the store for several years before moving to Lubbock, purchased the store last month from Frank Bartley of Levelland. He began a remodeling soon after the purchase.

He pointed out several highlights of the newly decorated store including a lowered ceiling with complete new light and piped soft background music. He continued that the inventory has also been doubled for a greater selection.

"Our store has the largest buying power of any store in this area," Roberts stated, "as we are associated with 2500 other stores."

"During the grand opening days customers will be able to see themselves on tv as we will have a closed circuit tv camera and projector in the store," he continued.

The store has been completely rearranged for self-service making shopping easier and faster.

"We will have free gifts for everyone who comes in during our grand opening," Roberts stated, "Plus many grand opening values for our shoppers."

The store was closed Wednesday in preparation for the grand opening.

Roberts and his family moved back to Littlefield Monday and reside at 513 East 8th. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have three daughters, Linda Kay, Marsha Ann and Gay Lynn.

Fanning eight men in all, Henderson put down a last ditch Southwest effort by striking out the side in the finalinning with two men on base.

Both Williams and Southwest starter David Reed came on strong in the early innings, setting the sides down in order.

But, the Littlefield sluggers drew first blood in the second inning when James Black broke the hitting ice with a line shot to left. The next batter, Carl Odom, forced Black to set the stage for Jerry Smith's single. Larry Schovajsa then drilled a single to bring Odom in and pave the way for the beginning of the end.

On the next play, Billy Henderson fired a sizzling grass-cutter at firstbaseman Miles Johnson which skipped away for a two-base error to drive in Smith and Schovajsa.

Retaliating, McKinley led off the third inning with his soaring blast over the left center-field fence to score the first Southwest run.

Reed found himself in hot water again in the bottom of the LOOKS LIKE the monsoon season has arrived in West Texas... we get a little shower of rain most every night... and some areas received as much as six inches of rain last week. Up Amarillo way the rainfall set a record for July.

Some folks ask... has it rained too much?... or do we have enough rain? County Agent Bill Kimbrough says that rain in West Texas is ALWAYS as welcome as a newborn calf.

THERE SHOULD be no reason for unemployment compensation checks going to anyone in this area now. Farmers are in need of cotton choppers, tractor drivers... Littlefield is experiencing one of the biggest building booms in several years and highway construction is going at full speed on the Lubbock highway.

Countless trucks are hauling gravel from the pits west of town to the highway job.

The vegetable harvest is in full swing in the Olton area. If a fellow can't get a job these days, he must be run-

The elder Norwood got another tractor and removed the overturned tractor from the youth. He then took his son to South Plains Hospital in Amherst where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The father said it appeared that Jerry had turned a tight corner and the tractor toppled sideways with him as he pulled out of a ditch at the edge of the field.

Jerry was an end on the Amherst High football team last year. He would have been a senior in the school this fall.

As a junior, Jerry was class president and class favorite and was vice-president of the Amherst chapter of the Future Farmers of America. He was president of the Baptist Young People's department.

In addition to his outstanding record as an athlete, Jerry ranked high scholastically in his class.

Survivors include the parents Mr. and Mrs. John Norwood; a brother, Johnny, of the home; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Templeton of Amherst.

The accident occured in the final hours of National Farm Safety Week.

Pallbearers were Gary Sherrill, Ray Edwards, Bobby Hedges, Johnny Blair, Chris Eadie and Billy Breashears.

RAIN

(Continued from Page One) Reports from other areas for Saturday's rain showed 2.5 inches west of Littlefield. In addition some rain fell on the area Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Bula received .2 inches Tuesday.

Fieldton received 2.75 inches Saturday with heavier reports from north of the community. Sudan and Amherst both had heavy rains with electrical storms accompanying the moisture.

Olton reported almost four inches Saturday with some heavy hail reported. H. B. Carson who farms north of Olton reported hail destroyed 200 acres of cotton Saturday. The belt of hail appeared to be to the northeast and northwest of Olton.

Many area farmers who have been asking for rain now want the sun to shine so the fields can dry out permitting them to get back into the wet fields. Weeds have become a problem on about every farm and in some cases the weeds are choking out the young cotton.

Meanwhile the United Elevators, grain storage facility in Plainview, is being emptied of its wheat and grain sorghum contents within the next two or three months. Approximately 15,600,000 bushels of grain were in storage at the Plainview facility.

Jacks on said the Mitchell auto laid down 95 feet of skid marks before the impact.

Mrs. Mitchell was reported driving the auto which was enroute for a Lubbock hospital. Rev. Mitchell was riding on the passenger side of the front and the daughter in the back seat.

Rev. Mitchell received severe head and facial cuts when his head went through the windshield. Mrs. Mitchell received internal injuries, apparently when the steering wheel was driven back almost to the back of the front seat.

Sandhills Philosopher

Doesn't Think His Conversations Worth Bouncing From Satellite

Editor's note: The Sandhills philosopher on his Johnson farm writes about talking a week. He seems to be against it.

Dear editor:

I never try to stand in the way of progress—I've tried it and it doesn't work—and if people want to bounce television shows and telephone conversations off a satellite, it's all right with me. I am curious about what they want to talk about that's so important. I can't imagine anything I could think of that would require the launching of a satellite to bounce it to the other side of the world.

Quick communication, I've been told, is a boon to understanding, but have you ever listened to two women talking on the telephone for 45 minutes without ever coming to any understanding?

I understand also you can now install a telephone on a tractor, but I always figured a man with something so important he needed a phone while plowing, is too important to be plowing in the first place. I guess I could get a phone installed on mine, but I can't think of anything I could say that couldn't wait till I could write it down and mail it, and I don't know of anything anybody could call me about that would make riding a tractor any better. Couldn't even hear him anyway, the way my tractor sounds.

I have a notion that what all this hurry to talk to somebody amounts to is the exercising of the age-old habit some people have just for talking, and my theory is that quicker communication systems don't improve conversation, they just enlarge the field of coverage.

However, I read last night that somebody has perfected a typewriter in which you can talk and your conversation comes out typed, and here is one invention I believe may have great possibilities.

Under the present system, if somebody is talking to you, you almost have to listen, whether you pay any attention to it or not. But under this new system, you could turn on your typewriter, tell your conversationist to go ahead, and talk, you'll read it later, and you could keep on reading or watching television or whatever it is you're doing, even if it's just sitting and staring. Then after he's gone, you could read what he had to say, or wad it up and throw it away. I could use one of those machines, with a large waste basket to go with it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Cotton Spin Machine Is Developed

A radically new experimental cotton spinning machine, developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture engineers, may be an important step toward eventual automation in cotton spinning mills.

Although much additional research will be needed to perfect its operation, the prototype apparatus has demonstrated advantages that could lead to considerable savings of time and labor required in spinning cotton yarn.

Inventors of the machine known as the SRRL Ringless Spinning Machine, are G. J. Kyame and H. R. Copeland of USDA's Agricultural Research Service. Their machine spins cotton without the use of bobbin, ring or traveler, which limit the rate of yarn production and the size and shape of yarn packages in current spinning.

The machine has two major faults, say the inventors. It puts more twist in the cotton than is desirable in a satisfactory yarn and the yarn varies in thickness and strength along its entire length and its appearance is inferior.

In conventional spinning, a bobbin is mounted on a spindle that revolves inside a closed ring at speeds up to 12,000 revolutions per minute. As the bobbin turns, twist is imparted to a strand of fibers, converting it into yarn. The yarn, in turn, is wound around the bobbin.

In the SRRL Machine, the yarn is wound directly from the spindle into packages of any shape or size needed for later processing steps. This eliminates time and labor now required to change bobbins and rewind the yarn.

The manufacture of cotton yarn consists of an expensive series of disconnected processes. Although several of these have been combined or connected, many textile people agree that the full advantage of automation cannot be realized in spinning mills until present processes are replaced by an entirely new spinning procedure. The SRRL Ringless Spinning Machine, officials believe, is a step in this direction.

Glass Fiber Mats Protect Newly Seeded Waterways

Glass fiber mat was the most effective of seven materials recently tested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for use as temporary protection of newly seeded grass waterways.

Grassed waterways are used to carry flood runoff from terraced and contour-cropped fields as well as from roadways and airports. Temporary protection of newly seeded channels -- until the grass is established -- prevents damage from runoff - producing rains, which can make regrading and reseeding necessary.

The channel-lining materials were rated according to the volume of water they withstood without damage to the waterway or to the material.

The glass fiber mat withstood more than four times as much water discharge as the next best material tested, pine-mesh cloth. The mat is a commercial product about 1 inch thick. It is made of fine glass fibers and is similar in appearance to insulation.

The materials were tested in a channel with a 6 percent slope. The channel had a shallow V cross-section, 10 feet wide and 6 inches deep. The test section was 100 feet long. Each material was subjected to flows of increasing velocity. The tests lasted 40 minutes, unless channel damage occurred sooner.

Glass fiber mat was also tested for ease of penetration by vegetation. Bermudagrass, commonly planted on waterway channels in the Southern Great Plains, came through the glass fiber mat readily. Further testing with other grasses is needed.

The study was conducted at the Stillwater, Okla. Hydraulic Laboratory in cooperation with the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station.

Clean Grain Bins Help Cut Insect Losses

The summer grain harvest in Texas is picking up momentum each week and farmers are reminded that grain storage facilities should be put in first class shape before the harvest begins. C. F. Garner, extension entomologist, says grain should be stored only in bins which have been cleaned thoroughly and treated with a residual spray.

He says all old grain, trash, feed sacks and debris that furnish living quarters for insects should be removed from the bin. A sweep-down of the ceiling and walls and a thorough cleaning of the floor are musts. A good cleanup job around the bins will also help keep down insect infestations, he adds.

Grain storage structures should exclude all outside moisture, and they should be easily accessible for inspection and fumigation of grain. Bins in which grain can be aerated are helpful in cooling or drying grain.

For the residual spray, Garner suggests either malathion (premium grade) or methoxychlor used in a two and one-half per cent formulation. The latter is available as a wettable powder or emulsifiable concentrate.

Premium grade malathion may also be used as a protectant on corn and grain sorghum. One pint of 57 per cent malathion mixed with 2 to 5 gallons of water is required to treat 1,000 bushels of grain. Sprays may be applied to the grain stream as it is being unloaded or turned into final storage. The use of this chemical will reduce

Flame Cultivation Tours At High Plains Planned August 10

Results from flame cultivation control of weeds will be viewed and explained during tours at the High Plains Research Foundation on Friday afternoon, August 10, at the Foundation's research farm at Halfway, Texas, located 14 miles west of Plainview. The Texas Butane Dealers Association sponsors the tours.

The tours will start at 1:30 p.m. from the headquarters building and close at 4 p.m. with an "experience exchange conference" in which farmers using flame cultivation will join a panel of scientists and professional flame cultivation experts in reviewing progress in this new field of farm economy practices.

Tractor drawn wagons will transport the visitors on the tours. Stops will be made throughout the 310 acre farm the possibility of insect damage, Garner adds.

The entomologist explains that only clean, sound grain with a moisture content of 12 per cent or less should be stored. Grain with a high moisture content attracts insects, promotes mold growth and may induce heating. Grain, he adds, that is free of broken kernels is safer from insect damage than dirty, cracked grain. Garner suggests leaving adequate space to inspect and fumigate the grain if necessary at the time the bin is filled.

Finally, the entomologist suggests that grain producers visit the local county agent and pick up copies of the latest publications on grain storage problems.

where the results of flaming will be shown on corn, grain sorghum, castor beans, soybeans, sesame, peanuts, cotton, sugar beets, blackeyed peas, and green beans.

A demonstration of the use of flame cultivation equipment will be held with cotton. Included will be cotton planted June 21 and July 17, to show the results of early flaming. Cotton planted on May 24 will also be flamed.

The tour will close with an exhibit of flame cultivation at the Halfway Community Grounds. The critique will be held at 4 p.m. on the spacious lawn around the Kilgore Memorial Building and Jim Hill Greenhouse.

Farm Values Show Marked Rise In Texas

The average value per farm in Texas increased from $48,378, to $64,950 between 1959 and 1962, according to C. H. Bates, economist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In this same period, the average size of farms increased from 631 to 710 acres. This year the land on the average Texas farm is worth $59,302. Buildings are worth an additional $5,648. The average value for land and buildings is about $91 per acre, he said.

The rate of sales of farmland accelerated some during the last year also. The number of farm title transfers in Texas rose from 51.8 per 1,000 farms in 1960-61 to 58.2 in 1961-62.

A study by USDA's Economic Research Service shows the average value per acre of farm real estate reached a new high of $123 per acre in the U. S. in 1962, 5 percent higher than in the previous year. The average farm has 336 acres, and is worth $41,400. About $32,800 of this is accounted for by land, and the balance, $8,600 by farm buildings, Bates said.

Regional Historical Meeting Set

A regional meeting of County Historical Survey Committees in 44 Panhandle Counties in the Texas State Historical Survey Committee has been set for August 18 in Amarillo, Dr. Robert N. Richardson of Abilene, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee announced.

The meeting will begin with a luncheon in the Vic Motel.

All County Historical Survey Committee members, members of County Historical Associations and other people interested in historical preservation are urged to attend," Richardson said.

"We want this meeting to be a wakening of interest in historical preservation in the Panhandle," he added. "It will also afford the opportunity to discuss the coordination of all our efforts."

This is the fifth regional meeting of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee has held in a year. Other meetings have been in the regions surrounding Victoria, Nacogdoches, McCamey and Abilene.

The Panhandle Regional Meeting program will be centered around what the counties are doing and can do for preserving Texas history and the work of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in state historical preservation programs.

Counties included in the meeting are: Armstrong, Baylor, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crosby, Dallam, DeWitt, Dickens, Donley, Garza, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hartley, Hemphill, Haskell, Hutchinson, Kent, Lamb, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Motley, Oldham, Parmer, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Stonewall, Swisher, Terrell, Terry and Yoakum.

Delegates Return From Bible Meet

Delegates from the Littlefield Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses returned home this week following their three-day Bible meet in San Angelo, Texas, said Loyd Lowery, presiding minister.

"Some 5,510 were in attendance at the Bible convention, which attracted delegates from a 12-state area," he said. "This was one of the largest conventions that San Angelo has seen."

"One of the highlights of the three days," Lowery said, "was the public lecture 'Take Courage -- God's Kingdom Is At Hand!' by W. R. Thomas, Watchtower Society representative."

Lowery added, "Thomas stated that Christendom has been falling away from true Christianity herself, so could not be responsible to represent God. He also showed from the Bible the wonderful conditions God's Kingdom will bring to the earth such as total peace, happiness and health."

Penn Point

By D.H.P.

Well, you had two weeks rest from seeing this column in the paper and I had two weeks rest from having to write it... so the way I see it we are about even and you will have to once again see it in the paper and I will have to start writing it again.

I think it does all of us good to do without each other... some of you probably would like to do without me all the time, but I would hate to do without any of you for more than two weeks.

Don't know how you are planning to spend your vacations but just in case you are looking for any suggestions I might recommend the place where I spent mine. Of course you have to like nature in the "rough" to enjoy southwest Louisiana, but if you do, (and I don't) I can show you a spot so far from civilization that the wild hogs are even friendly.

I spent two weeks just camping out with a bunch of Okies and a few Texans. We got up at 4:30 every morning and went fishing until sunup, then just lazed around until supper time and then went back to bed around midnight.

Did get to see a lot of territory around the place where we camped. It seemed as though we had a feller who kept telling us to be at certain places at certain times each day and about the only way to get there was on those flat extremities at the end of each leg. There was some real pretty country down there if you like swamps and tall pine trees.

If you are looking for mosquitoes to help make the vacation more pleasant then you don't want any part of that country. It seems as if the big freeze down that way last winter killed out all the biting varmints and for the entire two-week stay I can honestly say that I didn't see or hear a single mosquito.

to... but there were plenty of other small insects to make up for them.

There weather wasn't too bad that is if you like high temperatures and even higher humidity (and I don't) most of the day. It was one of the few occasions in my short life where you were wetter before and after taking a shower than when standing under the shower.

And it only rained one day during the two weeks and you can never guess where I was when the skies opened... yep, right out in the middle of nowhere with nothing to stop the rain but my fatigues. It didn't rain very long, about an hour or so, but the quantity was amazing... about two inches. But, there is nothing like feeling cool water run down into your boots like a small river.

All kidding and joking aside... and since most of you know that I have been in my annual two-week tour of duty with the Army... I thought I would spice up the "good time had by all."

Actually, this year's training once again showed the calibre of men serving in the Army Reserve and National Guard who stand ready at a moment's notice to leave their jobs, families and communities in the defense of this country. I served with the 45th Division or better known the Oklahoma National Guard or Thunderbird Division.

My assignment, never known until I arrive, was with Company B, 1st Battle Group, 180th Infantry... a unit with enough battle streamers from World War II and Korea to almost stretch across the state of Oklahoma.

The Company Commander was a Capt. Ed Adams of Bowlegs, Okla., who served in Korea and has served his entire time both in the Guard and on active duty with Company B. The only other officers regularly assigned to the Company is a Lt. Bill Rodebush of Seminole, Okla. Both are fine officers and instilled confidence in the men under their command.

There were three Reserve officers besides myself also assigned to the company. Two of the three reside in Texas and the other was a loud mouth from Arkansas (guess he had to be that way because there isn't much to say about Arkansas so you have to be loud).

One of the officers is a chemist in Pampa and the other an engineer for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Harlingen. Both were fine officers.

I was assigned to be Weapons Platoon Leader and during the second week we were on the mortar range far away from the rest of the company, if you like weird feelings (and I don't) you should have the opportunity to remove a "misfire" round from an 81 mm mortar (and I did).

A "misfire" is a live round that fails to ignite when it hits the firing pin at the bottom of the mortar tube. After kicking the tube several times to make sure the round is all the way to the bottom and it still does not go off, all you have to do is "pour" the round out the front of the tube. Sounds easy doesn't it? It is!

All you have to do is twist the tube free and lift up the rear... slowly... until the round starts forward. The nerve shattering feeling is when you hear the round jangle forward. Lucky for you it didn't go off and the last time I saw the round was well in front of the gun positions where it was marked and left for the demolition team to dispose of. Oh well, it was just all in a day's work (vacation).

I don't know how you feel, but I am darned glad to be back home and sitting here writing about my two weeks' vacation. I just hope that yours turns out better than mine.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. - Gov. Price Daniel and water conservation leaders are launching a campaign to win voter approval of Constitutional Amendment No. 4 on the general election ballot November 6.

Daniel's Statewide Water Conservation Committee will meet on September 19 to map the campaign. Other statewide organizations are being urged to join the effort.

This amendment would allow the Texas Water Development Board to use part of its $100,000,000 water loan fund to pay for the added height needed to fully utilize damsites in Texas.

Story is this: When cities or the Federal government build reservoirs, there may not be enough demand for water in the area to build the dams to their full height. Water studies have indicated that in 20 to 50 years the full yield of all presently proposed reservoirs will be needed to supply the 21,000,000 Texans expected by the year 2010.

But if the dam and reservoir are built only to meet present or near-future needs, there will be greatly increased costs later on, since recreational and other developments will have been built around it. Cost could run two or three times as much, then, to buy the developed land and raise the dam.

In the long run, sponsors argue, the amendment would save Texans many millions. If it passes, the Development Board could pay for the added cost now and hold the water storage space until cities or industries in the area need the water and are willing to pay for it. Then the revenue can be used to pay off the long-term bonds the Board issues.

Two samples of the need are in the news these days. Lavon Reservoir near Dallas was built mainly for flood control by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Now more space is needed for water supply purposes.

Today, however, the North Texas Municipal Water District which supplies water to 10 cities in the area, will have to pay about 60 to 70 per cent more than it would have cost them in the first place.

Cooper Reservoir on the Sulphur River is being delayed, right now, because cities in the area just can't raise the money to build it to full size.

LEGISLATORS' LIBRARY LEAVING -- Miss Doris Connerly, the 1919 University of Texas law graduate who has directed a reference library for State Representatives in the Capitol for 34 years, won't be in the statehouse when the 58th Legislature meets next January.

She will retire on September 30.

Miss Connerly became director of the Legislative Reference Library in 1928 when Dan Moody was governor.

She and the late Gov. Beauford Jester were former classmates and friends. However, she won't pick a favorite among the Texas governors she has worked with. But she does say that she considers herself fortunate to have served during the terms of Coke Stevenson, Allan Shivers and Price Daniel. "These men played an important role in Texas' growth in economics and culture," she says.

Texas' legislative library was established by the Legislature in 1909 to furnish legislators with factual and historical material. But thousands of state workers and citizens interested in state business have used its services, including the file on "State Statutes and Session Laws." These date back more than 150 years and relate to all 50 states in the Union.

COURTS TAKE A HOLIDAY - Justices of the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals have shed their long black robes for the remainder of the summer. The massive doors to their elegant chambers in the Texas Supreme Court Building won't be opened again until they reconvene on October 1.

Both courts are "supreme courts" because of a unique judicial set-up that Texas shares with the State of Oklahoma and England. Civil cases appealed from lower courts come to the Supreme Court. Final hall of appeal for criminal cases is the Court of Criminal Appeals.

POPULATION ZOOMING -- State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy estimates that Texas' population passed the 10,000,000 mark Friday.

He based his prediction by computing births, deaths and migration since April, 1960.

At that time Texas had a population of 9,579,677. Then Texans registered 570,250 births and 176,500 deaths or a natural increase of 393,750.

Assuming that the 1950-1960 rate of migration has continued, 26,500 more people have moved into the state than out, during the calculated period. That would give the state a total population of 9,999,927 on July 26.

Dr. Peavy figured Friday was "10 Million Day," since more than 400 people are added daily by the excess of births over deaths.

NATIONAL SEASHORE URGED -- The Legislative Beach Study Committee, headed by Sen. Robert W. Baker of Houston, endorsed the creation of a nation seashore area on Padre Island during a meeting in Galveston. He urged immediate legislation to implement the recent law passed by the U. S. Senate.

Committee is composed of Sen. Culp Kreuger, El Campo; Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston; Rep. Neal Caldwell, Alvin; Rep. Don Garrison, Houston; John Mehos of Galveston; Jack F. Walker of Baytown; George T. Camp of Beaumont, and C. T. Parker Jr. and W. E. Edwards of Houston.

They expected to meet again in the fall to prepare a report for the Legislature.

SAFETY PLAN LAUDED -- Governor Daniel credited organizations such as the Junior Chambers of Commerce and the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs with awakening public interest in the use of safety belts in automobiles.

He said that Texas Department of Public Safety statisticians have informed him that their accident reports show that "500 lives could have been saved in Texas traffic in 1961 alone if drivers and front-seat passengers, in particular, had been wearing seat belts."

This would have reduced that year's traffic toll by nearly one-fourth.

Jaycees and members of TFWC have been conducting safety belt campaigns.

WILSON CITES ODDCURES - Attorney General Will Wilson noted the recent U. S. District Court's refusal to allow naturopaths to prevent the State of Texas from prosecuting them for practicing medicine without meeting qualifications of the Medical Practices Act.

Wilson called the decision "a valuable tool with which the people of Texas can fight uneducated charlatans and quacks who prey on unfortunate people when they have troubles."

He cited state's evidence including:

One naturopath who treated patients by sending catnip, parsley and strawberry leaf tea through the mail without having seen the patients.

Another who claimed to be qualified to give psychiatric treatment by an extension course from the University of California, U. of C. denied any knowledge of such a course.

Another claimed to use an electronic machine to detect cancer, cataracts, arthritis and hardening of the arteries from urine specimens sent to him through the mail. Members of the department of electrical engineering at Texas A & M College found the machine incapable of detecting vibrations or diagnosing any form of illness.

James L. McNees Jr., attorney for the naturopaths, said he would appeal the ruling against his clients to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The naturopaths have filed a $1,000,000 slander suit against the attorney general, but no hearings have been held.

SHORT SNORTS

The U. S. Senate has confirmed two promotions to Major General: Thomas S. Bishop of Austin, Adjutant General of Texas, and Everett S. Simpson of Amarillo, Commanding General of the 36th National Guard Division.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported the deficit in the General Revenue Fund increased from $28,351,556 to $33,083,117 since July 9.

Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity has asked C. Smith Ramsey of San Augustine, chairman of the Board of Regents of State Teachers Colleges to explain the firing of
