Pictures Of Favorites Of Sudan High School To Appear In Annual

Jo Ann Wells was elected the most beautiful girl of Sudan High school, and her picture will appear in the school annual, as well as other favorites for the 1952-53 school year.

Runners up in the most beautiful girl contest are Sharlene Wagner and Wyvonne Cook. Glenn Chester was named most handsome boy, and runners up are Joe Kent and Bill Peacock.

Lucy Barnett was named "Miss Hornet," and close competitors were Pat Hanna and Mary Joyce (Continued on Back Page)

W. G. Street Sustains Fractured Bone in Foot

W. G. Street, secretary to the City of Littlefield suffered a painful injury Wednesday, when he broke a bone in his left foot, when he stepped off the lower step at the Postoffice. The bone was set and his foot has been placed in a cast. However, he is able to be in his office a part of each day.

Tuesday night will be a BIG NIGHT in Littlefield, Lamb county, throughout the nation, and in most foreign lands, whether it is daylight or darkness beyond the confines of the United States.

On that night, following the voting of the day, it will be reasonably certain, by vote count, who will be the new President and Vice-President of the United States.

The Lamb County Leader, as usual, will be first to bring you the election returns wherever you may be in Lamb county, or beyond the boundaries of the county for many miles.

This special service has been made possible by reason of the fact that the Lamb County Leader will be a co-sponsor in bringing the returns over radio station KVOW.

Broadcasting will start at 7 p.m. (Continued on Back Page)

Two Constitutional Amendments Are Up For Decision In Tuesday Election

In all of the hurly-burly and confusion of the Presidential campaign, unusual in Texas because Texans normally settle their differences at the Primary elections, and are not too concerned when general election rolls—nevertheless, there are two Constitutional Amendments to be voted upon next Tuesday, and the voter will be handed a separate ballot, when he gets his general ballot Tuesday.

The first Constitutional Amendment on the ballot, if approved would authorize the Legislature to pass laws to enable, cities, towns and villages workman's compensation, including insurance for employees.

The second amendment would in effect if approved permit enactment of law by the legislature to provide financial aid to student (Continued on Back Page)

No Quotas or Allotments For 1952 Cotton, Says P. and M. A. Chairman

No marketing quotas or acreage allotments for the 1952 cotton crop. That's the word going out to farmers, according to B. F. Vance, Chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

Under provisions of law, the Secretary of Agriculture is required to proclaim a national marketing quota by October 15 whenever he determines that the total supply of cotton for the marketing year will exceed the "normal" supply—that is, domestic consumption and exports plus a 30% carry-over. For extra long staple cotton, a proclamation is required whenever the total supply exceeds the normal supply by more than 8%.

Latest available statistics of the Federal Government indicate that the total supply of upland cotton does not exceed the normal supply. Therefore, the Secretary has announced "no marketing quotas or acreage allotments."

While supplies of extra long staple cotton exceed the level at which a quota proclamation is required, such cotton is a strategic raw material for national defense, and quotas are therefore not being proclaimed this year.

Acreage planted to cotton in 1953 will be considered as a part of the base acreage in establishing future cotton acreage allotments, Mr. Vance said.

Cotton Crop Insurance

We would like to again remind you that your crop insurance premium became due August 31, 1952, and MUST be paid before December 31, 1952, to avoid interest.

If your premium is not paid by December 31, 1952, 3% interest attaches that date. Therefore we are sure that you want to meet your obligation and avoid paying this interest.

Most Lamb County farmers will want to take advantage of the cotton loan program this year. If you have not paid your premium, you are not eligible for a loan until the account has been liquidated. So we would like to urge you to pay your premium early, so you can take advantage of all programs offered you and strengthen your credit at the same time.

Youth Center will hold a formal "Open House" on Tuesday night, Nov. 11, between the hours of 7:30 and 10, with Woman's Club, Forum, and Jaycees acting as hostesses.

The "open house" ceremonies, are staged to allow community-wide inspection of the newly installed, and completely equipped Youth Center kitchen, kitchen equipment and facilities.

Up to the present time, the Center has operated without anything but makeshift kitchen and serving equipment.

With the installation of this new equipment, it is planned, with approval of directors, to make the Center available to clubs, and civic organizations for gatherings, on a nominal basis, to make the Center more nearly self-sustaining.

There will be entertainment features provided at the "open house," and light refreshments will be served—with everyone invited to attend.

Why Go To Sunday School Anyway?

By Dr. Weldon S. Meers
Pastor-Littlefield Missionary Baptist Church

The question, "Why go to Sunday School anyway?" has been asked over and over by children as well as grownups. When you think of the fact that the city of Littlefield has a population of approximately seventy-five hundred people and that only one-third or less of them are in regular attendance in Sunday School, then the question "Why go to Sunday School anyway?" must be answered. It is a question which must not be passed over lightly. Being a sane, sensible question it must have a sane, sensible answer.

The extreme importance of the Sunday School in this day in which we live is evident; for it is an absolute necessity for the religious instruction of the child as well as the adult. With the passing of the teaching parent, and the passing of the Bible from the public schools, the Sunday School alone is left as the only agency of religious instruction.

The importance of the Sunday School cannot be stressed enough. There are two main objectives of the Sunday School. The first and primary objective of the Sunday School is to evangelize. The greatest work of the Sunday School is to win the lost to Christ. Parents of today would never think of robbing their children of the opportunity offered socially and educationally. This is well and good for the few short years to be spent on this earth. But you Mothers and Dads of Littlefield, is it not far better to bring your children to an evangelizing Sunday School, so that they will have the opportunity of being prepared for eternity, than to give them what this world has to offer?

The child as well as the parents need to be educated in religious matters. Children go to school to learn the three "R's—Reading, Writing and Rithmetic." But what about the fourth "R"—Religious training? To prepare for this short earthly life children are spending five days a week learning the three "R's." But there are millions who are not studying the fourth "R"—Religious training. Over seven thousand people here in Littlefield are preparing to live, and yet one third, or less, are preparing to die. Parents are the ones who take the responsibility of seeing that their children are educated and provided for in this life. But how many of you parents are leading your children to Sunday School so that they will be prepared for eternity? "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6)

According to statistics there are thirty-six million boys and girls who need to be in Sunday School in our land of America. Many of them are here in Littlefield and we MUST win them for Christ before they are won for crime.

Justice Louis L. Fautett of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, declares that during his 23 years experience on the bench, in which more than 4000 boys were brought before him, he found only three who were members of a Sunday School at the time they com-

Fine Arts Festival Nov. 9-16

The University of Texas 11th annual Fine Arts Festival, scheduled November 9-16, will include nine concerts, two operas, a Pulitzer Prize-winning play, an art exhibit and a radio-TV program.

The traditional week of art, music and drama, presented by the College of Fine Arts, will open with a November 9 concert by the University's Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Alexander von Kreiser, with Angel Reyes and Edward Fiorelli, violinists, as soloists. "Old Music with Old Instruments," a lecture-recital by Cecily Arnold and Marshall Johnson, is scheduled for November 10.

"They Knew What They Wanted" will be presented by the drama department November 10-15. The annual art department faculty exhibition of paintings and sculpture will be shown during the Festival and through December 1.

A new feature this year will be two performances of Gian-Carlo Menotti's one-act operas, "The Telephone" and "The Old Maid and the Thief," performed by the University's Opera Workshop November 13 and 14. Two performances also will be presented by The Mozart Trio, a unique vocal ensemble, on November 11 and 13.

Dr. Chauncey Leake, University vice-president in charge of the Galveston Medical Branch, will give a lecture on Leonardo da Vinci November 13. Radio House will present a radio drama, "Long Live B Hall," and a television demonstration November 15.

Other Festival events will include a program of compositions by the late Carl Yentl, November 11; an organ recital by Fritz Heitmann of Berlin, Germany, greatest living interpreter of Bach, November 14; concerts by the San Antonio Symphony and Symphonette, conducted by Victor Alessandro, November 12; and by the Robert Shaw Chorale with String Ensemble, November 16.

Good Fences Essential In Livestock Production

Good fences properly located are a must on the stock farm or ranch. Maximum returns from grazing crop residues such as stalk fields, stubble or drough stunted crops, cannot be obtained unless the fields are fenced. C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, also points out that efficient use of pastures and supplementary grazing crops often depend upon the fencing arrangements.

Good management of grazing herds is made easier; time and labor are saved in transferring the stock and greater safety is provided for the attendants when properly located and strong fences are used.

Bates offers these suggestions to those who may be planning new fences for the farm. The outside or boundary fences, he says, should be placed on lines established by a licensed surveyor. This practice will eliminate disputes between property owners over the location of property lines. These fences should be strong and well-kept for they add to the attractiveness of the farm as well as to its actual value.

The cost of constructing new fences, says Bates, is classified by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a capital investment and may be depreciated for tax purposes. Repairs made on established fences may be treated as farm operating expenses in tax reporting.

Cross-fences, says the specialist, may be of lighter construction and in many cases, the electric fence may prove most practical for this purpose. The electric fence is easy to construct and has proved effective for holding most types of livestock.

The division fences should be planned to permit maximum use of the central lanes for easy moving and transfer of livestock. It is important to layout the field plats or divisions on the farm with as long rows as is possible to eliminate excessive turning with the tractor when plowing and seeding.

Another important item in fence building is posts and the advantage of using treated or steel posts or those made from long last wood should not be overlooked, says Bates. Compared to 1940 prices, wire and posts are now relatively expensive, but labor usually accounts for about half of the total fencing costs. If posts are used which will last for 20 or more years, labor costs will amount to only about a third as much as when posts are used that must be replaced in six or seven years.

Good fences, concludes Bates, are profit makers when used to get the maximum returns from the areas devoted to pasture and forage production. If livestock production is to be expanded into a major farm enterprise, good planning of fence arrangements and well-built, properly maintained fences are a must.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

During the past few months, citizens all over the United States have been exhorted by printed, radio or movie advertisements to be sure to "Register" in order to be eligible to vote in the November 4 election. To many Texans these ads have been confusing, some of them wondering whether the new Election Code passed by the last session of the Legislature may have contained some requirement regarding registration.

This confusing situation has arisen because in a large number of states registration has replaced the poll tax. National get-out-the-vote campaigns were planned with the requirements of the "registration states" in mind, and campaign advertisements circulated in "poll tax states" along with the others.

Registration is not required by the Texas Election Code. Unless you fall within specified statutory exceptions, you must still have a poll tax receipt in order to vote. In some but not all cases persons exempt from payment of the poll tax must obtain exemption certificates from their County Tax Collector.

Under Texas law a poll tax is not just a license to vote, even though it is a requirement of voting. It is a tax which the statutes say shall be collected from every person between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, who resides in this State on the first day of January preceding the levy of the tax.

Indians are not taxed, nor persons insane, blind, deaf or dumb. Those who have lost a hand or foot, those permanently disabled, and all disabled veterans of foreign wars (where such disability is forty per cent, or more) are exempted from the payment of a poll tax.

Those who are exempt from the payment of a poll tax, and who reside in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, must secure a certificate from the Tax Collector of their County of residence before the first day of February of the year when such taxpayer shall become entitled to said exemption.

This exemption is good for one year. A new exemption must be secured for each year. Certificates of exemption are issued without cost to the person entitled to receive the same.

Those who reside in cities of less than ten thousand inhabitants are not required to secure this certificate of exemption before voting. These may make proof of their exemption at the time of voting to the presiding judge of the election where they are qualified by residence to vote.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Sudan To Get New Postoffice Building

A bid submitted by U. H. Mileur of Sudan for construction of a new postoffice building in Sudan has been accepted by the Postal Department, according to Simon D. Hay, Sudan postmaster, who has been notified.

The 30 by 60-foot building will be constructed on lots between the Salem Dry Goods Store and Mileur Hatchery. The new building will provide 600 more feet of working space than in the present location.

Work on the building is expected to get underway as soon as final approval is given plans and specifications by the Postal Department.

No Age Limit On Payment of Social Security Tax On Earnings of Worker

"Am I required to pay the social security tax on my earnings after I am 65 years of age?" That question is frequently asked at the social security office.

"There is no age limit on the payment of taxes, and workers who continue to work on a job covered by social security after they reach age 65 must continue to pay the social security tax, regardless of their age," says John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration.

Many employees, and employers alike, are confused on this point. Some seem to believe that because the minimum age for entitlement to the retirement insurance is age 65, the taxes need not be paid after a worker reaches that age.

"This is not true," Mr. Hutton emphasized. "Employers, their employees, and the self-employed pay the tax on their social security income even after an application for the benefits has been filed. This is required, and it is equally applicable to all persons—even to those who are receiving the insurance payments after age 75 whether they are retired or not."

Local Minister and Wife To Attend ACC Homecoming

Roy Tidwell minister of Littlefield Drive Church of Christ returned home Monday evening, after spending the past seven days at Taos, New Mexico, where he led in a revival service, at the newly organized Church of Christ there. George Darling of Floydada assisted in the revival in leading in the singing and personal work.

Mr. Tidwell stated that the church attendance multiplied four times during the seven day revival meetings. And although the congregation is small, workers are very enthusiastic. The church building there has recently been erected.

NO HIGH-BROW READING

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Girls read the comics first in a newspaper and boys the sports page, a librarian found out from a study of reading habits of Baylor University students.

All the students interviewed by Mrs. L. W. Wood, Baylor librarian, claimed to read some of every section of daily newspapers. She also found fewer than 1 per cent of the students spent their spare time reading such magazines as Harper's, Atlantic Monthly or Saturday Review of Literature. On the other hand, True Confessions and True Story, which rank second and eight, respectively, in national circulation, didn't even place in the Jaylor survey.

Among the 20 most popular books for spare time reading listed by those interviewed, Shakespeare had none. Mickey Spillane, the new writer of sexy detective stories, had five.

Monticello stands on a high hill two miles south of Charlottesville. In the past, this hill was called "Jefferson's little mountain," commanding as it does a magnificent view of the surrounding country. When a young man, Jefferson was a keen student of architecture as well as law and, on this hill, he decided to build a mansion. While the building was in the process of erection, the family home, "Shadwell," nearby, where Jefferson was born and which he had inherited upon his father's death, burned to the ground in 1770. Fortunately, one room in the new house was sufficiently finished for occupancy and, using this room as parlour, bed-room and study, Jefferson was able to superintend, at close hand, the completion of his residence and the laying out of the formal garden, both of which have been carefully restored and now visited by thousands.

Every male member of the Parkview Baptist Church is urged to attend this first meeting of the new Church fiscal year.

Every officer of the Parkview Brotherhood was agreed to attend new West Plains Associational Brotherhood Clinic at the First Baptist Church Thursday here in Littlefield. District Nine Missionary, Rev. Franklin Swanner, and the Secretary L. H. Tapscott of Dallas, will be the leading instructors in the clinic.

Parkview Baptist men wanting to attend who are in the Training Union Study Course will leave their Study Course, early, around 8 o'clock and go in a group over to the First Baptist Church to attend the clinic.

Parkview Messengers
The Parkview Baptist Church sent its pastor, Rev. John C. Taylor, as messenger to the Texas Baptist General Convention which convened in Fort Worth in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum last week.

Rev. Taylor left with Dr. and Mrs. Lee Hemphill early Monday morning, arriving in time for the afternoon sessions of the Woman's Missionary Union Convention held in the Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium. He was called home one day early for the funeral service of one of Parkview's faithful members, T. J. Crisp.

Mrs. A. B. Askew, President of the Parkview W. M. U. also attended the two conventions, the TBGC and W.M.U. sessions. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heathman.

Rev. Taylor and Mrs. Askew gave reports of the Convention to the Parkview Baptist Church last Sunday morning.

WHAT TO DO:

- At the top of the Democratic Party column, strike out the names of Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. Sparkman.
- Leave the rest of the Democratic Party column as it is.
- At the top of the Republican Party column, leave the names of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.
- Strike out the rest of the Republican Party column.
- Strike out all other columns on the ballot.

DEMOS FOR IKE BALLOT—A resolution of the State Democratic Convention recommended that "every Democrat in Texas vote and work for" the election of Eisenhower and Nixon. The sample ballot reproduced above shows the easiest way a Texas Democrat can vote for Eisenhower. Another method is the write-in plan recently approved by Attorney General Price Daniel. Voters may scratch Stevenson and Sparkman and write in Eisenhower and Nixon under the Democratic column, crossing out the Republican and other slates.

Senior High School Honor Roll Released For First Six Weeks

Ralph Schilling, principal of Littlefield High school has announced the honor roll for the Senior High school for the first six weeks period ending October 15.

Mr. Schilling says that students eligible for the honor roll, must be carrying at least four subjects and have a grade point average of 2.25. In figuring the grade point average, an A is worth three points, a B two points, and a C one point, while a D or F does not receive any points. The total number of grade points is then divided by the number of solid subjects carried, to arrive at the average.

Tenth Grade: C. Barnett, Paula Bell, Bill Burke, Robert Cannon, Judy Christian, Johnny Fields, Veta Holbert, Dan Howard, Scott Kester, Barbara Locke, Joyce McCormick, James Macha, Yvonne Meadows, Shirley Moore, Marlene Mueller, Jo Ann Parrack, Betty Reagan, Latayne Steffey, Gloria Thomson, Milton Vaughn, and Delores Wall.

Eleventh Grade: Straight A in four subjects: Erna Jones, Glenda McCown, and Nancy Morrow.

Others Joetta Burton, Doris Byrd, Troy Gardner, Rosa Lee Hemphill, Wynelle Lightsey, Bobbie McShan, Leo Boyd Montgomery, Norma Moss, Naomi Murdock, William Owen, Ethel Pope, Polly Potter, Bobbie Reed, James Renfro, Alma Roberts, Lynn Russell, Wanda Webb, and Anona Williams.

Twelfth Grade: Straight A in five subjects: Kay Hendricks; in four subjects: Jackie Beckner, Jim Doherty, Don Erwin, Billy Jaques, Bill Jones, Dorothy Koke, and Eugene McNeese.

Others: Margaret Aldridge, Kent Brooks, Patricia Byrne, Patti Dyer, Melba Edwards, Dorothy Emmons, Dorothy Poltyn, Vondee Fowkes, Sydney Grimes, Howard Harvey, Wilma McCain, Donald Nickels, Larry Rice, Edwina Schovajsa, Elwood Smith, Keith Streety, Garland Thorton, LaNell Tindal, Madevyn Wade, and Lloyd Williams.

Boys' Ranch Addition Finished

Twenty-four lucky boys have been excitedly hanging curtains, washing windows, waxing floors and putting the final home-like touches in their rooms in the recently-completed housing unit at America's first boys' ranch, 40 miles northwest of Amarillo.

Most of the boys had a hand in the construction of the building and for months they waited anxiously for the date when 24 boys would be chosen to take up residence. Since all the boys could not live in this first of the proposed series of units, a merit system was devised to select those who would call the new unit their home.

The young ranchers are keeping their rooms spotless, perhaps more than necessary, but they are very proud of their new home and intend to see that nothing is done to mar its beauty and comfort.

The housing unit has an exterior of red Colorado stone and green vertical siding. The boys' rooms have a natural, varnished finish with exposed roof beams. A masonite tile bath adjoins each of the six 4-boy rooms and every boy has his own private closet.

Quarters for a counselor and his wife are provided at one end of the unit and a recreation room, complete with library, is situated at the other end. The counselor has charge of the unit and is responsible for the program of the boys.

All furnishings are Brandt heavy oak pieces that are finished naturally. Double bunks, four chairs and a desk complete the furnishings of the boys' room. And each room has an Arvin radio, the gift of Hollywood's Queen for a Day when she visited Boys' Ranch. The boys' personal effects are arranged to suit individual tastes.

Plans for the new unit were drawn up by the 5th year architectural class of Texas A&M, the same group that will plan and sign most of the buildings in the long-range Boys' Ranch expansion program.

The boys are extremely proud of their new home and invite all their

THE GOOD? OLD DAYS UNDER REPUBLICAN RULE

I am a tax paying cotton farmer. I have been around for a good while and I remember some thirty years ago when Republican rule was in evidence. I remember Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover especially well.

- WHEN Cotton was selling for 5c a pound.
- WHEN Potatoes were 75c a bushel.
- WHEN Red Beans were $1 a sack.
- WHEN Wheat was selling for 20c a bushel.
- WHEN Corn brought only 10c a bushel.
- WHEN Maize was $4.50 a ton.
- WHEN Livestock was selling for 5c a pound.
- WHEN A Bank went broke, brother, you were broke.
- WHEN No Farmer had rural electric service.
- WHEN Social Security was unheard of.
- (IKE SAID IF ALL THAT AMERICANS WANT IS SECURITY, THEY CAN GO TO PRISON.)
- WHEN You Could get a room at any hotel for 50c a night, but NO ONE HAD THE 50c.
- WHEN Chicken Dinners were 20c, BUT NO ONE HAD 20c. (WE WERE PROMISED A CHICKEN IN EVERY POT, BUT WE DIDN'T EVEN HAVE A POT TO PUT IT IN, NOR A WINDOW TO THROW IT OUT.)
- WHEN We Were Promised a car in every garage, BUT WE DIDN'T EVEN HAVE A GARAGE.
- WHEN Prosperity was "JUST AROUND THE CORNER." (HOW DID HE KNOW THAT THE DEMOCRATS WOULD WIN IN '32?)
- WHEN Farmers didn't have 90 per cent parity for crops.
- WHEN Jack Rabbits were known as Hoover hogs.

DON'T let them take it away

- DON'T BE A SUCKER! I HEAR A LOT OF COMPLAINING THAT THEY WANT A CHANGE. IF A REPUBLICAN IS ELECTED, THEY WILL GET A CHANGE, BUT IT WON'T BE CHANGE IN THEIR POCKETS. A G A I N, THEY ARE PROMISING YOU ANYTHING YOU WANT TO VOTE REPUBLICAN. YOU CAN'T LIVE ON PROMISES WE TRIED IT.
- DON'T LET THEM change our production lines to soup lines.
- DON'T LET THEM change that farm tractor to a mule team.
- DON'T LET THEM stop you from riding that Cadillac. And go to riding freight trains.
- DON'T LET THEM make you change that TV set for magic lantern.
- DON'T LET THEM hide Teapot Dome (their multi-million dollar oil scandal) behind a mink coat.
- Can you place any confidence in them?
- Don't be deceived by Republican propaganda. They even accused "Ikey" of being a Communist before the convention.
- Will I be carry Texas? No, not even Lamb County.
- Will Ike be president? No, never! That would be a calamity.
- You and I cannot afford for we don't want another World War. Remember, he is a warrior.
- P.S.—These were some of the things they did in the past. Would they do any better in the future? You know that the dog was turned to his vomit. And the sow that was washed, returns to her wallowing in the mire.

Popular Young Couple United In Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Elliott of Friona are announcing the marriage of their daughter Erna Ray to 2nd Lt. Delbert C. Brandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Brandon of Littlefield, which took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith at Hart. Approximately 50 relatives and close friends were present for the ceremony, performed by Rev. J. Henry Cox, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Olton.

The ceremony was performed in front of a picture window, with tiered candelabra holding white tapers, and baskets of white chrysanthemums forming a background. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue wool dress trimmed in white. Her hat and gloves were white and her shoes were blue. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses. Miss Loretta Davis of Lubbock was maid of honor, and she wore a wine colored wool suit, with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mary Beas Smith of Hart, served as flower girl. Auburn C. Stowers, brother of the groom acted as bestman. Candelighters were Pat and Ruby Bush of Lubbock.

Mrs. Elliott, mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories, and corsage of pink carnations, for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother chose a mauve colored suit, with black accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations, tied with orchid ribbon.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Smith was hostess at a reception for the wedding party and guests. The table laid with a white linen cloth was centered with an arrangement of pom-pom chrysanthemums. The three tiered white wedding cake, was decorated with tiny white rosebuds. After the first slice had been cut by the bride and groom, Miss DeLois McAdams of Lubbock served the cake. Mrs. Orville Neville of Littlefield presided at the guest register. Immediately after the reception

Ballet Tips on Foot Care

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Pamper your feet, if you want to be foot-happy and carefree. Balletinas, whose foot and leg beauty is their main concern, spend a good part of the day exercising, massaging and prettifying their feet. It pays off in beauty dividends not only at the feet but in the face as well.

You can't look pretty if feet and legs are tired from overwork, believes ballet dancer Paula Lloyd of the Ballet Theatre. Says she: "Faithful care is what a ballet dancer's feet require. After all it is our business to keep our limbs up to par. After a day of class, rehearsal or performance a regular routine of foot care must be performed to keep up good footwork."

Miss Lloyd thinks that any girl who spends a good deal of the day on her feet in any job could take a leaf from the ballet dancer's notebook to help keep her limbs relaxed.

After a session of dancing Miss Lloyd warms up her feet with a series of little exercises. The main idea, she says, is to keep the muscles warm so that they do not cool off too quickly after exercise and stiffen. She bathes her perspiring feet in good quality witch hazel.

Her foot exercises include rotating the foot from the ankle, making little circles in the air. This helps relax legs and heel tendons. She spreads her toes apart to help prevent stiffness and soreness. These are good little exercises, she says, for girls who wear high heels a great deal. Toes are likely to become cramped and tendons at the heels can shrink a little if high heels are worn constantly without foot massage.

She massages her feet gently with her hands until they tingle.

Her dance day is about 8 to ten hours—2 hours for performances, 1 1/2 hours, class, and 1 1/2 hours of rehearsal. After the performance he frequently goes ballroom dancing for a few hours.

When she is dancing for fun, Miss Lloyd prefers to wear high heels. She thinks the change gives her feet a rest, just as low heels would rest feet which normally are

The most relaxing treatment for abused feet is to lie down with the feet raised slightly higher than the head, she says. Miss Lloyd usually does this after her exercise, massage and witch hazel treatment. Then she tries to nap for an hour before going on to another dance

Stengel Is Master Strategist -- Clowns Only When Necessary

By SYD KRONISH

(AP) Newsfeatures Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Genius or clown? That's a question that has been raised for many years in baseball circles concerning Charles Dillon (Casey) Stengel, manager of the champion New York Yankees.

Despite his amazing record of winning four consecutive American League pennants and four world championships, Stengel still has been maligned as a ouija board operator, a "character" and a lucky guy who would come up with a barrel-full of gold if he fell in a mud puddle.

Stengel is a strange phenomenon in the sporting world. He has proved himself a capable, spirited and winning ball player and manager. But the brick-bat tossers continually use him as a prime target.

When first given an opportunity to handle managerial reins in the majors he became noted more for his gags, comical antics and dizzy doings. Most of the baseball writers realized that Stengel was asked to pilot a bunch of also-rans and incompetents — the Brooklyn Dodgers (1934-36) and the Boston Braves (1938-43). Five times these clubs finished seventh.

If Case didn't make with the funny stuff he probably would have been relegated to the straight jacket division of the local sanitarium.

He was finally shunted to the minors. Few observers believed the rubber-faced Stengel would ever be back in the big time as a manager.

But Casey is made of sterner stuff. As a young man he quit the dental profession for baseball, not because it offered greater monetary gain but because he loved the game and wanted to make it his life's work.

He spent most of his active playing career in the National League with the Dodgers, Pirates, Phillies, Braves and Giants.

Never what some call a "great" player, Casey somehow rose to the heights when the occasion demanded. Such a time came in the World Series of 1923 when he almost succeeded in beating the Yankees singlehandedly. The Yanks did beat the Giants that year but never subdued the fiery Stengel who batted .417 including two home runs (one inside the park.)

Casey Stengel raises four fingers to indicate four straight pennants and World Series triumphs. The 62-year-old manager hopes to be back next year to pilot the Yankees to a new record of five flags and world's championships.

In 1949 when the Yankee brass named Stengel as their manager, the ridiculers came to the fore. They predicted the demise of the Yankees.

"The Yankees could have picked a better—and funnier—guy from the circus," they howled.

Today these ill-wishers are his fondest supporters.

Old Case (he'll be 63 his next birthday) has proved himself the master strategist of baseball.

During the past four years he was forced to juggle his personnel almost every day. This season he used over 100 different lineups.

His Yankee teams could never be mentioned in the same breath as the "window breakers" of the Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri era or with the DiMaggio, Henrich, Keller, Gordon outfits.

His Yankee teams were crippled by injuries, depleted by calls to the military service and always singled out as the "team to beat." The pressure was on Stengel and his boys from the first ball tossed at spring training to the final out of the World Series.

His choice of pinch-hitters, relief pitchers and rookie replacements were unbeatable.

He was loved by his players and admired by his foes.

He knew when to scold and when to praise, when to grimace and when to smile, when to talk and when to remain silent.

Many baseball writers who travel with the Yankees believe that the turning point of this season came after a 3-2 defeat by the Philadelphia Athletics early in September.

The players and writers were in the dining car of a train heading back to New York. The players were in a jovial mood and were playing the word game "20 Questions."

Suddenly Casey burst into the car and shouted in an angry voice: "I'm surprised at you men. Anyone would think you had just won a ball game instead of losing. Maybe you don't realize it but there's 6,000 bucks riding on these games. Maybe you guys don't want it!"

The car remained silent as Case finished with a few more choice words aimed at his players.

The next day the Yanks won and continued belting the opposition until they had the pennant nailed to the mast.

Casey's ability and astuteness can be summed up best by Connie Mack, the "grand old man of baseball," who said at the conclusion of the '52 series: "Stengel will go down as one of the great in the game. In my two best managers I have seen are John McGraw and Casey Stengel."

 From where I sit, stories like "right" hams being tougher than "left" ones are with us because some people get ideas into their head and hang onto them for dear life. Hack Horse Shows Class

AP Newsfeatures
 NEW YORK—A Cinderella horse, formerly a hack, is likely to upset the hunting and jumping classes at the 64th National Horse Show which opens in Madison Square Garden on Nov. 4.

Barbara Pascarella, a 22-year-old miss from Woodcliff Lake, N.J., is credited with having saved the horse's life.

Riding Since Four
 Barbara's hobby is painting horses. But she has been riding since she was four. She has shown gaited saddle horses in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York but this will be her first National.

She never thought she would make the big one. But that was before she knew of Mr. Rx, so named because of an Rx brand on the horse's hip. His publicly known career began in a New Jersey stable where he was a friendly but generally no-account hack for hire.

The horse was bought by a man who prefers to be known only as a "family friend," and brought to the Claremont Riding Academy here for fattening up.

Rx reacted well to better treatment but when his benefactor decided to give up riding and feared that a new owner might not act kindly toward the old hack, it was thought best to destroy him.

Bought for $100
 When Miss Pascarella learned of this she bought Rx for $100. She took the handsome black gelding back to New Jersey where he is now in training.

Miss Pascarella stands only three inches above five feet and weighs but 90 pounds but she feels Rx will carry her safely over the barriers in the National.

"Post Hannover" Conference Will Be Held In Lubbock Next Tuesday

National Lutheran Council of churches of Lubbock, and surrounding communities will hold a "Post-Hannover" Conference at Shepherd King Lutheran Church of Lubbock on Monday, November 3, starting at 5 p.m. It is one of more than 200 similar conferences scheduled throughout the country this fall.

The meeting has been arranged to bring to local churches the "Hannover Horizons" of world fellowship and service of the Assembly which was held at Hannover, Germany, last July 25 to August 3. Thousands of delegates and visitors representing more than 50 million Lutherans in the federation's 52 member Churches in 25 countries attended the Hannover Convention.

The "Post-Hannover" Conference here will also discuss plans for completing local church goals in the current Lutheran World Action appeal to raise $2,900,000 for relief and reconstruction abroad and a ministry to Lutherans in the U.S. military forces.

Arnold Maeker is conference chairman. The committee in charge of arrangements include Werner Tegeman, welcoming committee; B. R. Bradshaw, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Spitzer, music and food committees. Dr. Henry F. Schuh of Columbus, Ohio, president of the American Lutheran Church will be the principal speaker, and the Rev. Martin E. Carlson, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, director of Stewardship of the Augustana Lutheran Church will also speak.

ual service to Lutheran men and women in the armed forces. This ministry is conducted by the Council in cooperation with the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. It provides pastoral care for service personnel while they are in training camps in this country and on duty abroad.

32 Service Centers
The program at present includes 32 service centers and nearly 100 contact pastors in the United States, Alaska, Panama Canal Zone, Formosa and Hawaii. It provides religious literature and helps home congregations keep in touch with their members in military service.

The Council has allocated $700,000 of the LWA goal for the support of orphaned missions, which were cut off from their supporting societies in Germany and Finland by World War II and which are still dependent on aid from the United States. Support is given to Lutheran orphaned missions in Africa, Palestine, India, China, Japan, New Guinea and Indonesia.

During the past four years, aid to displaced persons and refugees has been a major activity of the Lutheran World Action program. A total of $530,000 has been allocated for this work in 1952, with $390,000 going to Geneva, Switzerland, where the Lutheran World Federation Service to Refugees has its headquarters, and $140,000 to the New York office of the Lutheran Resettlement Service.

DP's Resettled in U.S.
More than 36,000 DP's have been resettled in the United States through the Lutheran Resettlement Service and more than twice that number have been aided in other parts of the world through the LWF Service to Refugees. While the American program is nearly completed, unless Congress passes additional legislation, aid to refugees in Europe remains a continuing need. Resettlement efforts are still being made in South America, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand.

The emigration of large numbers of Lutheran refugees from Europe to Latin America prompted the National Lutheran Council to organize a division on Lutheran Cooperation in Latin America last fall. An increasing amount of aid, including $65,000 from the 1952 LWA appeal, is being given to minister to refugees, organize congregations and develop church life in Venezuela, Peru, Brazil, Colombia, Argentina, Chile and other Latin American mitted their crime. He says: "This experience has satisfied me of the value of the Sunday School to the community in helping to safeguard it from the growth of criminals. In fact, I regard the Sunday School as the only effective means to stem the tide of vice and crime among our youth." From this statement we may well say that the Sunday School, is the greatest need in our community.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the F. B. I., has this to say as regards the Sunday School: "Of course I believe in the Sunday School. Crime among youth would become practically negligible if the young people of America attended Sunday School regularly during the formative years. The Sunday School is of real spiritual influence. Religion to a boy, or girl, becomes a reality based on love and not on fear. Youngsters come to know that God asks more than mere lip service to His commandments; that He asks us to live under His guidance and love. Through the Sunday School it is possible to impress upon receptive youth the principles of Christianity. Thus it must be recognized as fundamental in a democracy and is a necessity predicated upon justice and liberty."

"Why go to Sunday School anyway?" Surely if the Sunday School tends to make better citizens, then we need to enlist the youth, the boys and girls, and the adults of Littlefield in Sunday School. Better citizens always make a better community. This being the case what is the worth, or value, of the Sunday School to the city of Littlefield? How much is it worth to you Mr. Real Estate Man? How much is it worth to you Mr. Merchant? How much is it worth to you Mr. Mayor? How much is it worth to you Mr. Police Chief? How much is it worth to you Mr. Citizen?

"Why go to Sunday School anyway?" Senator Toby says: "In the great moral crisis which America faces today, the Sunday School occupies a strategic position. I know of no more enduring contribution that parents can make toward the future of their country than to give their children the benefit of Sunday School training. Therefore, I say to every patriot: Throw your full weight behind your Sunday School and Church. Take your place with those who hold high the banner of Truth and righteousness."

"Why go to Sunday School anyway?" R. G. LeTourneau, successful Industrialist, says: "While learning how to build better machines, America has forgotten that only the Word of God will build Christian character. Machinery is not enough. The one thing we need most in our country today—the thing we so pitifully lack—IS SPIRITUAL ARMOR. I know of no other place where our children can get the solid background of Bible training needed to build Christian character. Only as our young people become firmly grounded in the Word of God will they be able to fulfill their duty as citizens."

"Why go to Sunday School anyway?" It makes better citizens, it makes better communities, it benefits morally, socially and spiritually. But above all a real teaching, evangelizing Sunday School will not only show you how to be saved and thus be prepared for eternity but will because your spiritual "roots" to sink deep into the Word of God. If there was ever a day when people need to be "rooted and grounded" in the Word of God. IT IS TODAY.

In concluding, may I say this to the citizens of Littlefield? In spite of the amazing discoveries of science, man's problems have increased rather than decreased. The bold assertions of our materialistic age have not solved the spiritual needs of man. We know that CHRIST HAS THE ANSWER TO YOUR PROBLEM, in Him you will find peace, strength, happiness, and genuine satisfaction; an answer to EVERY NEED. Why not come and learn of HIM?

In behalf of all the above reasoning, ask yourself these questions: What am I doing to help this wonderful institution which is helping me in so many ways, adding value to my home, and good to the whole community? Do I not owe it to the Church, as well as myself, my family, and my God, to identify myself with the Sunday School and Church by ATTENDING REGULARLY? We will see you in Sunday School next Lord's Day!

countries. Inter-church aid in Europe is another major project supported by LWA funds, with $715,000 allocated for this purpose, much of it to help churches in the East Zone of Germany, as well as to aid war-ravaged churches and church institutions elsewhere on the Continent.

Other allocations from the 1952 LWA goal include $225,000 for Lutheran World Relief, $200,000 for promotion, $25,000 for the American Bible Society, and $115,000 for work in cooperation with other inter-denominational agencies.

The St. Martin Lutheran Church of Littlefield, located west of town on the Bula highway, is a member of the National Lutheran Council.

Eastern Star —

Secretary and Mrs. Jettie Hinton of Dayton, Grand Treasurer. The latter two were re-elected.

A capacity crowd filled Municipal Auditorium to witness the installation service which carried out Mrs. Garitz's colors of amethyst, emerald and topaz and emblem, the jewel. Many members of Littlefield Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, of which the retiring Grand Matron is one, have been in attendance throughout the session. Included in the group from here were several grand officers, Mrs. Ina Mae McQuatters, worthy matron of Littlefield Chapter acted as page to Mrs. Boone, during the chapter sessions.

The Grand Finale, final session of this 70th Annual Grand Chapter meeting, an almost equally important highlight of a royal and festive Eastern Star week, was a program and banquet tribute and serving as a final honor to the retiring Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Boone. This final event was programmed as a banquet which brought together the membership of all the Star Chapters of this entire western section of Texas, given to and for the honored Grand Matron and Patron. Grand Chapter members were the honor guests, with several hundreds of Star members from throughout West Texas attending.

A beautiful tribute-program was presented during the course of the banquet, which was themed "The Little Prairie Flower of the Golden West," arranged and directed by Mrs. W. D. T. Storey of Littlefield, and during the course of the presentation, Mrs. Storey personally paid a tribute to Mrs. Boone, which interlocked with and into the presentation title.

In her tribute address, Mrs. Storey employed all of her well known talents in bringing out in beautiful phraseology, the outline of the entire life and Eastern Star connected activities of Mrs. Boone, which date from an early day in Littlefield, when she helped to charter the local chapter, and served as its first Worthy Matron. She fittingly called attention to the fact that this Grand Session has been titled the "Good Shepherd" session, and stressed the year's creed "Our Faith Is Real" and the 1952 watchword, "Truth, Unity, Love and Peace."

One of the really touching moments of the program presentation came, when Mrs. Storey recited: "And when the blue pencil of fate writes '30' to earthly assignment, and life's little journey on earth has ended—our little Prairie Flower, this delicate blossom, this fragrant wild rose, our 'Best Flower' will still be our memory." In conclusion the speaker solemnly amid mingled smiles and tears said, "May God Bless and Keep You Again" is the wish of our sky full of twinkling little stars that live in God's Great Universe about us.

Also having prominent parts on the program were past Grand Patron Pat Boone, who gave the invocation, "A Season of Meditation"; Wm. Brune, whose talk was titled "A Sturdy Oak of the Long Star state"; Mrs. Ina Mae McQuatters, Worthy Matron, Littlefield Chapter, recited a tribute to other Grand officers present titled "Blue Bonnets of Texas," all of Littlefield. The banquet program concluded brought the beautiful response to the program presentation honor from both the retiring Grand Worthy Matron, and the retiring Grand Worthy Patron, Earl Manning.

The debate rules, will allow two 30-minute speeches for the presentation of each proposition each evening, and each speaker will be permitted to choose his personal moderator. The debate is certain to bring community-wide interest, and the general public, and all denominations are invited to attend, with no admission fee to be charged. Personal insinuations or innuendoes will not have a part in the debate, and the issues to be debated.

the crowns placed upon their heads at the evening program, which taxed and overflowed the capacity of the huge high school auditorium.

Miss Nita Gooneward from the grade schools and Miss Joyce McCain of junior high, received top ballots, and were announced as Queens-to-be when the polls closed Thursday at noon. They were escorted by Don Huckabee and Bob Weaver, respectively.

At the crowning ceremonies C. A. Miller, manager of the local J. C. Penney Department store, acted as toastmaster of festivities. The two queens were surrounded by a coterie of princesses, princes, pages, etc., which also included the seven little misses from the seven other grades who lacked only a few votes of the coveted Queenly honors, bestowed on two other schoolmates.

The Carnival opened with a mammoth parade led by the high school band, which saw close to 2,000, mostly in mask or costume, in the line of march. Prizes were offered for best costuming, four prizes being allotted to girls and four to boys. Dorothy McDonald, Jimmie Woods, Joyce Colbert, Ronny McWilliams, Caroline Woods, Grandall Oden, Othana Smith and Joe Huber, were parade prize winners.

Orville Newton, junior high, received a prize for personal sale of the most admission tickets, and a similar prize went to Mary Garcia of the primary grades.

Mrs. C. O. Greer and Mrs. Gaston Shaw, acted as co-chairmen of the General Carnival committee, and had the loyal support of about twenty different committees, and a hundred workers. All were unanimous in their praise of support, and co-operation, and the co-chairmen have asked the Leader to express their thanks to one and all to everyone, who had a part in making this carnival the success it was—a success which will result in new and needed equipment, etc., at the local schools.
