CROWDS ATTENDED LITTLEFIELD TRADES AND LABOR DAY CELEBRATION PROGRAM OF INTEREST WAS GIVEN

Littlefield dual celebration of Trades and Labor Day, held here last day was attended by people from all over the county and wide. Early in the morning a parade began arriving and by the noon every available parking space on the street was taken and numerous people were standing on the side streets. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the main thoroughfare was jammed with the crowds of people who came for a day of recreation and enjoyment. They were not disappointed, for there was a program of wide variety of interest.

The first event was a number of races for little boys and girls which was followed by a parade of the various labor unions represented in the city. It was a good demonstration. There were in the parade a long line of footmen, then several cars carrying their families. The Stars and Stripes, numerous banners, advertising union made goods for sale by the local merchants, banners of slogans, flags, etc., were in evidence. Following the program the crowd gathered in the arbor just south of the First National bank, where Editor Mitchell introduced Hon. D. B. Denton, speaker of the day. Mr. Denton's speech was full of information and interest, a fuller report of which appears elsewhere in the columns of this newspaper.

Following the speeches was held the drawing of trades tickets, under the auspices of the Littlefield Retail Merchants Association. Mrs. Flora McIntyre, of Littlefield, holding No. 967855, won the first prize of $10.00. L. C. Kendrick, living nine miles north of Littlefield, holding No. 96122, won a second prize of $10.00. Mrs. E. M. Davis, residing six miles east of town, holding No. 195082, was winner of third prize of $5.00. Mrs. Jesse Seale, of Littlefield, holding No. 72325, won the fourth prize of $2.00. All prizes were drawn by a little girl from a can that contained them well distributed.

On account of the congested condition of the streets and the shortness of time following, the remainder of the street program was not given, and much of the crowd went to the ball park to witness the deciding championship game between Amherst and Littlefield teams. This was won by Littlefield, the score being 14-1. Amherst's lone run being won through errors on the part of the Littlefield players.

In the baseball throwing contests, held at the ball park Mr. Walling of Amherst won first money, and H. Mueller of Littlefield second. For distance throwing, D. Ratliff won first and Alvin Mueller second, both of Littlefield.

These Trades Day events are made possible through the business men of Littlefield who give liberally of their money, goods and time toward their success. The committee did not get to see all the merchants this week so it is no fault of theirs that their contributions are not here listed. Several merchandise prizes were given Monday, the list being as follows:

Porter Grocery Co., 50-lb. sack of flour to the largest family present Trades and Labor Day, won by Ed Abney, 15 members in the family.

The Fair Store, pair of house shoes to the tallest woman, won by Mrs. Eva Spann, her height being six and one-half feet.

Squires & McCormick, gallon of syrup to the heaviest man. F. W. Lichte won the prize.

Shaw-Arnett Dry Goods Co., shirt to the oldest man registering. Won by "Dad" Wells, 69 years of age.

Littlefield Furniture Co., cane bottom chair to the oldest woman. Mrs. L. Stockenger, 86, winner.

Sadler Drug Co., box of face powder to the youngest married woman. Mrs. Art. Lichte, married ten days, the winner.

Burleson Grocery, pair of hose to largest woman. Mrs. H. L. Thomlinson, who weighed 271 pounds, received them.

C. E. Ellis Dry Goods gave $2.00 in merchandise to the oldest married couple. It was won by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thomlinson, married in 1891.

"M" System Grocery gave a cake to every twin registering. Those receiving awards were Mrs. W. T. Jones and sister, Miss Bessie Bellomy, Misses Leona and Louise Spann, Misses Alo and Ola Lane, and Misses Elma and Velma Hood.

A large share of the success of the day is due to Messrs. E. C. Cundiff, J. W. Horn and their willing assistants. It is generally conceded by those present that it was one of the best celebrations ever held in Littlefield. Plans are already on foot for another one next month, that will be bigger and better than ever.

LFD. WINS COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP OVER AMHERST

In a three-cornered baseball series, played between Amherst and Littlefield teams, culminating Labor Day, Littlefield won the championship for Lamb county.

As someone said, "It was a case of too much Mueller." Herb pitched one day, Alvin the next, and Embert the next. Littlefield is proud of the Muellers; but they were not all of the team by a good deal. Much credit for the successful series is due Catcher Ratliff, as well as every other member of the team who played his part in masterly style.

The first game, played at Amherst last Saturday, was called off in the sixth inning. At that time the score stood 2-1 in favor of Littlefield.

The second game, played at Littlefield Sunday, resulted in a score of 2-1 in favor of the locals. It was a good game throughout; both sides demonstrating quality ball playing, throughout the game only three errors being chalked up against the Amherst players and two against the Littlefield lads.

In the game Monday little Embert, the baby of the Mueller family, went into the box to slam the spher over home base. He was in the finest of form, and held the opponents to a no-hit game. Hollingsworth, for Amherst, was knocked out of the box in the fourth, and a relief pitcher put in, who was but little better. The game was stopped in the seventh inning, the score being 14-1 in favor of Littlefield.

FIRST FOOTBALL GAME.

The first high school football game of the season is scheduled to be played between the Littlefield Wildcats and Ralls Jackrabbits.

The game is called for 9 o'clock a. m., on the morning of October 2, at Lubbock during the South Plains fair.

JESS ROBERTSON ARRESTED.

Jess Robertson was arrested Tuesday morning by Sheriff Len Irvin on a charge of carrying a pistol and assault. He gave bond in the sum of $500 before Justice Christian, for appearance at District Court.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Garrett returned Saturday from Mineral Wells, driving a new Pontiac car.

THE FINE ART OF HOG CALLING

E. C. Cundiff, program manager of Trades Day, held in Littlefield last Monday, announced that on next Trades Day there would be a dairy show, and urged all the owners of dairy cows to fatten 'em up and groom 'em down for the occasion.

But he also announced that one of the features of that program would be a "hog-calling" contest, to which both male and female callers would be admissible. He stressed the fact that so far as the ladies were concerned, the contest would not include the particular yodel used by the wives in calling their husbands to dinner.

That there is a real art in calling hogs will be readily vouched for by any number of citizens in and around Littlefield. Many of us have called them ourselves, and gloated over the effort of our vibrant voices as the quadrupeds assembled around the slop trough from the four directions of earth. Just what is the standard and correct syllabic intonation required the Leader does not know, rather are we inclined to believe that every section has a particular code of lingo and sliding scale of melody to attract the mortgage lifters. At least that is our observation as we have traveled about over the different states of this country.

For instance, in Southern Indiana and across the river in Kentucky they say: "Pooooogie! Pooooogie! Pooooogie!"

Out in the Middle West it is generally, "Whoee! Whoee! Whoee!"

In East Texas it frequently is: "O Pig! Pig O! Pig O! Pig O Pig!"

Down in Louisiana we recall an old timer who said, "Hog-ee! Hog-ee! Hog!" When asked why this particular call, he admitted it was not quite so melodic as some others; but it was different. As a result his own hogs knew it and responded, and he never was troubled with having to feed a bunch of his neighbor's hogs.

In the State of Oregon we heard an old mountain rancher calling his hogs thus: "Soo eeee! Soo eeee!"

If we remember correctly, Fred Pratzel, champion hog caller of Nebraska, and whose voice can be heard two miles away, says it's "Poooo ew olig," which is somewhat on the order of the Swiss yodel.

We are not well versed in hog lore; but it is our opinion that for one to be eminently successful in hog calling they must put appeal as well as power in their voice—one has to convince the hogs they've got something for them.

At any rate this hog-calling contest on next Trades Day ought to be quite interesting. There are folks living here from nearly every State of the Union, and they will doubtless demonstrate a wide variety of valuable intonations that will be interesting to all bipeds attending.

TO SPUD IN WHICKER NO. 1.

Contract for Bledsoe Well Calls for 3,500 Feet.

The Whicker No. 1, oil test well, located three and a half miles southeast of Bledsoe, will spud in September 15th, according to statement given out by J. C. Whicker, this week.

It is stated that the machinery and material for drilling are all on hand, that work on the road to the location is now in progress, and as soon as operations are started, the well will be pushed to its completion.

Geological reports of the structure in this vicinity are very favorable, according to Mr. Whicker, and if this well turns out to be a producer, it will form a connecting link between the Panhandle, Artesia, New Mex., and the Reagan county, Texas, oil fields.

The drilling contract on this well calls for 3,500 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Campbell, who reside 12 miles east of Littlefield, left Friday for a visit with relatives at Lytton Springs.

VISIT CARLSBAD CAVE.

Toews and Family Explore Interior of Earth 800 Feet Deep.

C. W. Toews and family returned Saturday from Carlsbad, N. M., where they visited the famous cavern.

Mr. Toews states that the roads by way of Roswell and Artesia, N. M., are in good shape and the trip can easily be made from Littlefield in less than a day, and that the people in this section should avail themselves of the opportunity of so great a sight as one enjoys from a trip through the cavern.

They, with 76 other tourists, entered the cave at 11:30 a. m. Friday and stayed in for five hours. They were led by guides to a depth of 800 feet below the surface and from there they walked five miles.

Alvin Gamillion, of Lytton Springs, arrived here the latter part of last week and will make his home with his parents on the north Spade ranch.

Charlie Hawkins, of Lubbock, transacted business in Littlefield Tuesday.

BUYS VARIETY STORE.

Geo. R. Long, of Quanah, Will Be Citizen of Littlefield.

George R. Long, of Quanah, this week purchased the Littlefield Variety store from H. H. Barnard and is now in charge of the management.

He is an experienced business man having been manager of the Quanah Light and Ice Company previous to coming to Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Long are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Crockett, former friends, until a place can be secured.

TO HAVE DAIRY SHOW.

This Will Be Leading Feature of Next Trades Day.

On the occasion of next Trades Day in Littlefield a feature of the occasion will be a dairy and horse show, according to E. C. Cundiff, in charge.

Cundiff states that more than $100 in prizes will be awarded at that time, and plans that this shall hereafter be an annual event.

Competent judges and good speakers are assured and full details of the program will appear in this newspaper at a later date.

AMHERST PAPER SOLD.

E. F. Huntsucker, of Abilene, to Be the New Editor.

A deal was closed last week whereby the Amherst Argus, formerly owned by J. L. and E. W. Tullis, passed into the hands of E. F. Huntsucker, of Abilene.

Huntsucker was formerly editor of newspapers at Roby and Roscoe. The Tullis' have acquired an interest in an Abilene weekly newspaper.

W. M. U. MEETING.

The W. M. U. met Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. F. A. Butler, at her home where quilting was done and a lovely miscellaneous shower was given the retiring president, Mrs. L. W. Jordan.

A business session was held wherein new officers were elected, namely: President, Mrs. T. Y. Casey; vice president, Mrs. Wm. Lowrimore; recording secretary, Mrs. R. E. McCaskill; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Barnard; personal service chairman, Mrs. L. H. Howard; young people's leader, Mrs. Lambert.

At the end of the meeting an ice course was served to about thirty ladies.

Lee Pool made a trip to Lubbock Tuesday.

DIRECTORS LAY PLANS FOR A BIG AGRICUL. EXHIBIT

At the meeting of the Directors, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday noon, W. D. T. Story was employed to receive and classify the agricultural exhibits for the Littlefield community fair and agricultural exhibit to be held here September 27 and 28.

K. F. Albright reported that there was still plenty of leaf worm poisoning for all the farmers desiring it, and that where they did not have the money for its purchase, credit would be extended until November 1st.

Gus Shaw reported that arrangements for the community exhibit were progressing nicely, and suggested that a committee to have active charge of the concessions be appointed. Chairman T. S. Sales appointed on this committee E. C. Cundiff, City Marshall Wynn and L. R. Crockett.

Arthur P. Duggan, Rev. H. G. Scoggins, P. W. Walker and W. D. T. Story were appointed a committee to arrange for speakers for the occasion, and an effort will be made to secure Col. C. C. French, of Fort Worth; A. K. Short, Dallas; B. M. Whitaker, of Stamford, and others, who will speak on various phases of farming during the exhibit.

The Leader was highly commended for the excellent special issue printed last week, 2,000 copies having been ordered by the local Chamber of Commerce, for county-wide distribution, in addition to the regular circulation, making a total of 3,600 papers carrying the news of last week to the public.

20 ADDITIONS TO CHURCH AS RESULT OF BERRY MEETING

The revival meeting of the Christian church, conducted by Rev. F. J. Berry, of Clovis, closed last Sunday night with a large attendance present and one of the best meetings of the series.

During the meeting there were 14 members received by baptism, two by restoration and six by letter; a total of 20, and in addition a great spiritual impetus was enjoyed by the entire membership.

Rev. Berry is one of the strong preachers of that denomination. He delivers a plain, straightforward Gospel in a most sincere and urgent manner that appeals to his hearers. Void of any sensationalism, exaggerations or undue methods, he advocates a type of Christian profession and living that is sensible, logical and appealing to people who have no interest in the fanatical, inconsistent frothy type of professions that lasts a little while and then the last estate is worse than the first. Such constructive preaching as Rev. Berry has brought to the citizens of Littlefield bids fare to be of lasting good to the community.

Rev. Berry, at the close of this meeting, was engaged to hold another revival service for the church here next August.

Community Building

Paint Surest Weapon Against Rot and Rust

Home is man's dearest possession. He who owns even the humblest of dwellings owes it two precious gifts—protection and beauty.

As a man of business he will not willingly see his property deteriorate. As a reputable citizen and head of a family he will wish his home to present an attractive appearance and be an asset—not a disgrace—to the community in which he lives.

Every house is beset by two inveterate enemies, which never take a vacation. These are rot and rust. Fortunately, they leave their fingerprints as they go about their ugly task of destruction.

The fingerprints of rot are most easily found on such places as window-sills, sashes, door-sills and the like; in fact, on any woodwork that is exposed to the ravages of the weather.

Cellar stairs and windows are another salient point of attack by rot, because of the dampness to which they are exposed; while the deadly fangs of rust gnaw at the iron window gratings and the furnace door.

Paint is the surest weapon against these twin foes. By forming a waterproof film over structural materials, it keeps out moisture, and thus prevents rot from sending its fungus spores into cracks and crevices and porous surfaces. In like manner it checks the chemical action of the air upon exposed metals, which results in rust.

Clean Up Grounds to Add to Beauty

If there is a garage, it should be located where it will be of most convenience, and will not be unsightly. The same thing is true of a driveway, and of a service yard, for drying clothes. Space should be allowed for a lawn where children may play. If it is possible, space should be reserved for vegetable and flower gardens.

If the house is to be built, it is most important to start with a good layout in which these desirable points are met as far as possible. Standing trees should be allowed to remain and should be protected from injury during the construction of the house. As the excavation gets under way, the top soil should be collected and retained in one place, then spread over the surface of the lot evenly, after building is completed and the lot has been finally graded.

If a finished house is bought as a home for the family, it is well to bear in mind that a great change for the better usually can be brought about by cleaning up the grounds around the house and at the borders, screening the back steps and improving their usual unsightliness with a trellis, planting vines to grow on the fences—if there are any—and planting flowers.

Every Community Can Become "God's Country"

There appeared the other day in a newspaper an article on "God's country." It brought to mind the thought that one hears a great deal these days about "God's country." It is sometimes considered clever for one to remark, when asked where he hails from, "I'm from God's country."

Does not the sun-shine fall more beautifully on the spot where one was born than anywhere in the world? Whether it be on a side street in a village, or the more pretentious brown front of a city, if it has one time been "home" it is "God's country."

After all, "God's country" is in the heart. The true "God's country" is made by believing that home is the best place on earth, by attending to all of life's duties, by being just and fair with one's fellow men, by living life at its fullest wherever one happens to be.—Washington Post.

Cleanliness and Beauty

In striving for bigness, it has been suggested that Indianapolis should not overlook the rather obvious truth that quality also counts for much in the estimate of cities—and also in their livableness. To be a little more definite, beauty is a very important element, and in beauty cleanliness is an important factor. For cleanliness means health and comfort, and is also a sure indication of enterprise and prosperity. Much progress has been made along this line in the last few years, and Indianapolis has much to be proud of, but we have hardly yet approached the ideal. The individual citizen can do much—and he has done a great deal, but the chief reliance must, in this case, be on the government, which alone can look after the streets and alleys, and the city property generally.—Indianapolis News.

Give Contractor Time

It requires a certain amount of time to honestly and conscientiously do any bit of work, and this applies to the building trade in particular. Time allotted to contractors for preparing bids is usually determined by architects.

If an insufficient amount of time is granted for contractors to bid on buildings, the architect is imposing a hardship on the contractor, and at the same time his client does not derive the benefit of keen competition.

WHY NOT A NATION OF THINKERS?
THINKERS LEAD WORLD INDUSTRIES

A remarkable man died in this country a short time ago. This man was not a "superman." He was just a plain everyday American citizen, with an abiding faith in humanity, and the deepest respect for American democracy and freedom as guaranteed and protected by our constitutional form of government.

He had a broad vision. He built up his business by helping others to build up their business. He knew that if his manufactured articles were to have the greatest sale, consumers had to be able to buy and willing to buy. He could see that in order to sell a pump for irrigation purposes, he had to do a whole lot besides build a pump. It was more necessary at first for him to encourage the teaching of scientific agricultural methods, so that farmers could use pumps and have the money with which to buy, than it was to build a pump factory.

And so it was throughout his business career. He saw the value of building up the buying power of the people as the surest way to build up his own business.

He could see that exorbitant taxes, radical legislation and disturbing governmental policies were detrimental to the laboring man and business, and that the laboring man suffered most by any policy which crippled industry and destroyed employment.

This man started with nothing but a clear vision and an understanding of basic principles which underlie both individual and national prosperity.

When he died he was the head of the greatest business of its kind in the world, and his products were sold in every nation.

The question will be asked, "What has all this to do with my job or my business?"

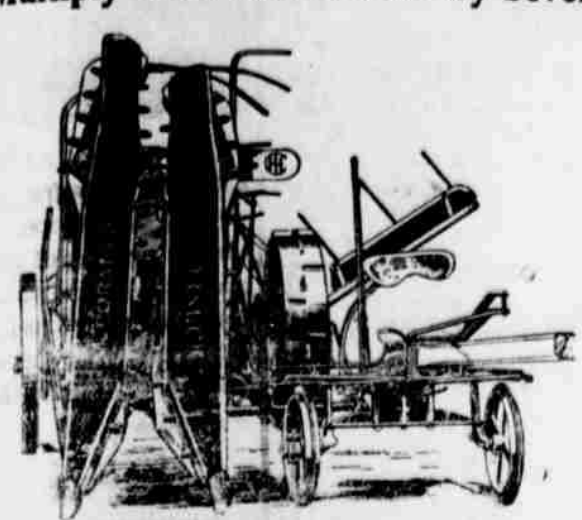

It has everything to do with your business or job, whatever it may be. You have the same brain to think with as the man mentioned, although you may not have the God-given insight into human nature which he had. But you can profit by the record which he left. It doesn't take great intelligence, for the shoe merchant to see that he will sell more shoes if conditions are good, nor for the insurance agent to understand that prosperous people are better prospects.

Get over the idea that you can make prosperity for yourself alone, and realize that you depend upon the "other fellow" for your business.

The United States is a world leader in many ways, or this reason, it should become a land of "thinkers." We should not be at the mercy of political agitators and legislative buccaneers. The country editor should understand that an unsound piece of legislation or taxation which interferes with some industry three thousand miles away, may take an advertisement of a local store out of his paper or create unemployment which will cut down his subscription list. The local grocer may lose his business, because an unsound tariff policy destroys the market for local farm crops. The banker feels the effect immediately when any business is hurt, and it goes without saying that the day laborer is the first man to "get the ax" when business suffers.

The lesson to be learned from this man who has passed on, is plain and simple. He lived his life largely in the interest of the other fellow—not a purely charitable angle, but from the standpoint of "good business." As more of us follow his example, many business problems and world controversies will disappear.

—FALL—SHOWING!

It is with keen delight we announce this showing of Fall Wearing Apparel in Frocks and Millinery. They are authentic representations of what the fashionable will wear in Fall and Winter 1926-27.

Models of the moment, of felt and other wanted materials, with large, medium and small brims, and draped or folded crowns. Smartly and simply trimmed, according to the mode, with tailored bows of grosgrain ribbon. Colors include soft tan and rose tints, as well as darker tones. Prices range from $2.50 to $7.50.

Autumn tones in heavier fabric is the natural trend of fashion as Fall bears down with its crisp mornings and chilly evenings. Smart simplicity marks new Fall frocks, with here and there a clever turn of braids, plaits and embroidery trimmings. These new frocks are here in silk crepe and many other silk materials and some in clever combinations of fabrics. Prices range from $12.50 to $25.00.

A SOUND PROPOSITION.

Banks were probably never rendering a reater service to the public than they are today. Within recent years, they have been emphasizing the value of properly safeguarding the interest of a wife and mother, in estates which are left to them in the shape of insurance payments or other assets.

The Security Trust and Savings Bank, of Los Angeles, has been doing good work in showing the problem faced by the average woman who is left money to invest. Her business has been running the home and raising the family. In 99 cases out of 100 she cannot be expected to know the difference between good and bad investments. The result is, that savings left for her protection are too often acquired by the smooth stock salesman who offers her a glittering proposition which "promises" large returns.

An insurance trust, administered by the modern bank, eliminates the danger of lost capital and assures a steady income. It is the height of folly for dependent persons to attempt to speculate with or invest funds upon which their future living depends. There would be less need for charitable institutions if the insurance trust idea were better understood and more extensively followed.

Home Ownership as Basis for Strength

Unhappily, the notion is still current among many people that four walls and a roof make a house, but they do not make a home. Nearly everyone has some kind of a house; it may be a place where he eats and sleeps, while he dreams of a home, a place which he has made a sanctuary for his wife and children, and where love and happiness reign supreme. A home and a shelter are two distinct phases. But real homes with their joys and their rewards were never more within the reach of the young men and women of the community than they are today. House-keeping, through the invention of new devices for household efficiency, has become easier, and freedom is greater on the part of women, because of the strides made in equipment and labor-saving devices and knowledge, both of the importance of the home as a factor in the social life and happiness of the community, and how to maintain it, was never so widely spread.—Exchange.

Then she took down a picture of a dear little girl from the mantel and another of a lovely young lady and looked long and lovingly at them, while a tear fell upon the young lady's face. Then anyone could see what it had all been about, and how she who had no child and no young lady that Christmas time was bringing back sweet memories and sending out new joys with the mysterious bandbox. The Y DAIRY
PURE-BRED DAIRY
SIRE HELP MILK

The value of using pure-bred dairy sires is indicated by the high records made by some grade cows. One of the highest testing cows ever developed in the Cow Testing Association of America was Aggie, a Holstein grade cow owned by D. W. Huenink of Cedar Grove, Wis., who had developed his herd through cow testing association work and by the use of pure-bred Holstein sires, selecting his herd carefully on the basis of production and profits. This cow produced in 12 months some 20,932 pounds of milk and 317.4 pounds of fat, equal to 1,022 pounds of butter.

The reader may ask what profit such a cow would make over the ordinary cow. According to the extension service of the Holstein-Friesian association the owner of Aggie received $2,130.46 for her milk in five years sold at butterfat prices. Her feed cost during that time was $652 and her average profit above feed cost was $245.85.

The high cow for milk production in the Johnstown (Colo.) testing association is Clara III, owned by C. W. Henry, a grade Holstein with a record of 20,331 pounds of milk and 631.3 pounds of butterfat. The high cow for butterfat in the Fort Lupton association is a Guernsey grade and the high milk producer is a grade Holstein. Many of the most profitable herds in the state are grade herds, but are all headed by pure-bred sires.—Charles L. Bray, Colorado Agricultural College.

High-Testing Milk From Fat Cows in Experiment

There is a growing demand on the part of consumers for a high-testing milk. This says the dairy department of the New Jersey College of Agriculture, makes of interest to dairymen some recent experiments which seem to prove that it is possible to increase a cow's fat or "cream" production.

A series of tests at the University of Missouri shows that cows in fat condition at calving time will produce milk testing higher in butterfat during the year. Seven Jersey cows beginning their lactation in this condition gave milk averaging 5.5 per cent butterfat. Another group of Jerseys, beginning lactation in a thin condition, averaged 5.2 per cent butterfat. The same relation held true with Holsteins and Ayrshires.

Three-tenths of one per cent does not seem very much, comments the college, but with a herd producing from 50 to 100,000 pounds of milk a year the increase in butterfat is an appreciable item.

Contrary to the opinion of some, the butterfat content of a cow's milk cannot be raised by feeding certain products. Numerous tests at several experiment stations have established this.

The conclusion is made that giving cows a good rest and sitting them for the following lactation is a saving proposition.

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

Published every Thursday afternoon at Littlefield, Texas.
Subscription: $1.50 per year; 75 cents for six months.
Advertising rates given upon application.

No. Entered as second class matter May 24, 1923, at the post office 27 at Littlefield, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1897.

JESS. MITCHELL, MEMBER Editor and Publisher

National Editorial Association, Texas Press Association

Subscribers who change their addresses, or fail to get their paper, should immediately notify this office, giving both new and old addresses.

Communications of local interest are solicited. They should be briefly written, on only one side of the paper, and must reach this office not later than Wednesday noon of each week. The right of revision or rejection is reserved by the publisher.

Advertising that does not show in its text or typography that it is paid for must be marked as an advertisement. All local advertisements remain in this paper for the time specified or until ordered out. All notices, matters not by whom nor for what purpose, if the object is to raise money by admission fee or otherwise, is an advertisement and when sent in for publication must be paid for at the regular advertising rate per line for each issue printed.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Littlefield Leader will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

THE BEST LOSERS.

They give the farmer credit for being the world's champion complainer and yet he isn't entitled to that reputation.

A farmer will complain when a hot spell wilts his corn or when a hailstorm beats down his wheat, but a city critic makes more noise when the same sun wilts down his collar and the hailstorm interferes with the ball game.

A farmer may get discouraged at crop failures and low prices but there are more farmers who can crack jokes over their hard luck than there are city men who can get a chuckle out of a real estate slump or a dull merchandising season.

Somebody has pictured the farmer as a "chronic complainer" when the fact of the business is he is a far better loser than the city chap. And if you think he isn't just stand around and listen to the city man squawk when the weather isn't just exactly what he would have it if he had the job of making it.

APRONS FOR HUBBIES.

At the recent convention of the Federation of College Women "kitchen duty for husbands" was advocated. The man who helps his wife with the dishes and the need by American men for "kitchen culture" were among the subjects discussed, and practically every woman taking part favored some sort of domestic "rule" by which husbands would have to go "fifty-fifty" on the housework while the women would, wherever possible, take a more active part in their husband's business affairs.

We haven't sounded out any Littlefield women to find where they stand on the subject, but we believe we know enough about them to warrant the assertion that if put to a vote the proposition wouldn't carry here.

They argue that kitchen work is a hard enough proposition as it is without having a husband hanging around in the way and that dishes are too costly to be buying new ones every time they have to be washed and wiped.

BACK TO BOOKS.

The sound of the school bell is once more heard around Littlefield and while it doesn't come as sweet music to the ears of every boy and girl we believe it finds more of them anxious to get back to their studies than was the case with youngsters of the older generation. That may be accounted for from the fact that they have brighter and more comfortable school rooms, or more convenient ways of getting to school. Or it may be that text-books are not as dry as they used to be and that new methods of teaching are more interesting.

These help some to take the sting out of school routine, of course. But we candidly believe the present generation of young people realizes the serious side of life more fully than did the older generation when it was in school. Today's boys and girls know that the greatest handicap that can befall one is the lack of education; they know that the better they employ their hours in the schoolroom the greater will be their opportunity for enjoying the comforts and even the luxuries of life when they have finished their studies and are out in a world where everyone must fight his own battles, and where the fighting gets harder and harder every year.

At any rate, school days are here once more and every word of encouragement you can speak to the youngsters as they pass, books in hand, will help to lighten that which they consider a heavy load. They're doing their part in getting ready to carry on when you have finished. Show them you have confidence in their ability to do a good job of it by cheering them on their way with a smile and a kind word or two.

THE BUSINESS BAROMETER

It is a commonly accepted fact that the best barometer for judging any given town or city is its newspaper. That this is especially true regarding Littlefield is attested to by the fact that this newspaper carries a large number of subscriptions sent by local citizens to their friends and relatives residing elsewhere. They are proud of their home newspaper; they realize it reflects the spirit of progress here and they want their folks to catch that spirit. That many of them do this is well proven by the fact that they frequently drop into this office to tell the editor that it was because of reading this newspaper sent them by someone living here that they are now moving out here.

Every newspaper stands as the show window of that particular town. It displays the pulse of the community through its news and editorial columns, while its advertising columns reflect the attitude of its business men. It is a commonly accepted fact that a newspaper which is more community building spirit can do more to build up a given town than any other single factor.

As a rule the business men of Littlefield realize this fact. They know full well the pulling power of their home town paper; they know its advertising brings results. Of course, there are a few who do not realize it. They prefer to snip their small quota of business from the overflow generated by the advertising of their more energetic and far-sighted colleagues. They have the narrow idea that every newspaper editor is entirely selfish, endeavoring to fill his advertising columns for his own personal aggrandizement rather than upon a meritorious merchandising basis. They are the leeches of the community who try to suck in all they can, in turn giving out as little as possible to public enterprise and welfare. They are not the most desirable class of citizens, yet every community has some of them to their sorrow.

The fact that the leading business men of Littlefield last week subscribed to the publication of 2,000 extra copies of the Lamb County Leader is a sufficient attestation of their concentrated interest in community welfare. These 2,000 copies going out over the county, in addition to the regular circulation of 1,600 papers, furnish the strongest possible evidence of the spirit of loyal co-operation that has made and continues to make Littlefield "the town ahead."

LITTLE LEADERS

Saving for a rainy day is fine; but the Littlefield citizen who buys his coal now can give winter a warm welcome.

It's also a pretty good idea for the Littlefield motorists to remember that their brakes won't stop the car behind them.

Telling the truth is the best policy in the long run, but the trouble with some Littlefield men is they don't run long enough.

Some Littlefield people spend so much time wondering where other people get all their money that they never have time to make any of their own.

A timely warning: Some Littlefield men will live to a ripe old age; others will go out hunting this fall and pull their gun through a fence—and there will be another story in the Leader the following week.

An alarm clock is a good deal more reliable than a rooster, but it does not make getting up any easier for the average Littlefielder.

We don't know why Littlefield girls run the streets to much unless it is because some of them are hunting their mothers.

The time is fast rolling around when about the only thing that will scare the few horses that now come to Littlefield will be another horse in town.

There are a million things a Littlefield girl doesn't care to have her parents do, and one of them is to help her entertain her boy friends.

Littlefield married couples should learn early in life that scraps do not make a good meal and neither do they make a happy home.

The average Littlefield boy doesn't care much about leaving footprints on the sands of time. He wants to leave auto tracks.

According to our observation, the greatest difference between a roadhog and the kind we see up around Littlefield is two feet.

Recently we have been looking for the man who said: "There are no ugly Littlefield women—some are just prettier than others."

One rotten apple can spoil a whole barrel, and one chronic knocker can keep a whole town stirred up.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla. Board of Commerce.

THAT good roads are great discounters of distance.

THAT they shorten distance from farm to market.

THAT the delivery of farm products to the market at all times of the year is made possible by good roads.

THAT they bring the producer and consumer closer together.

THAT they develop communities.

THAT they bring in new people.

THAT they are an aid to farming.

THAT they increase the value of both city and country property.

THAT they make it possible to use the motor truck for all short hauls.

THAT they cut automobile maintenance.

THAT they connect the large population centers.

THAT they increase the value of suburban homes and make it possible for the establishment of poultry, dairy and truck farms because of the convenience of transporting the products to market.

THAT good roads must be kept to the forefront as one of the most progressive enterprises to which any community can direct its energy and resources.

Good roads are the best investments any community ever made because good roads build good, prosperous communities.

She has never had a crop failure.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS AS MEASURED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

A glance backward and a look ahead which business men always take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas has been making progress during 1925. It shows that the prospects for further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is seen the progress of the several essential public services upon which growth and achievement have depended.

The service of the telephone in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which the development of the past year could not have been accomplished. In the outlook for the present New Year this company is expecting to be a major factor in the building of this community to still better service to the people.

The service of the Panhandle Telephone system and the growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and ambitions, if they are right, are identical.

DO YOU WANT COTTON PICKERS?

That the Government is doing everything within its power to furnish cotton pickers for the growers of the South Plains country is the information brought back to Littlefield by W. G. Street, who attended a meeting held at Lubbock last Monday.

The meeting was attended by a representative of the Department of Labor, with headquarters at Fort Worth, and there were also representatives present from several surrounding towns of various counties. It was stated at this meeting by the Department representative that every farmer desiring hands should immediately report to his local Chamber of Commerce the number of hands desired and when needed. Information is also desired as to whether single hands or families are wanted, what kind of accommodations will be furnished, such as house or tent, fuel, etc., also about what they expect to pay for should be in the hands of the Department not later than September 20th, at which time hands will be moving in this direction.

It was stated at the meeting that there is an enormous demand for hands on the South Plains, and the farmers are urged to make out their want lists as soon as possible. There is no charge by the Department for their services other than that of transportation, and no farmer will be called upon to pay for any hands that do not arrive at his location.

Another meeting regarding securing hands will be held in Lubbock on the 20th of this month and every cotton grower in need of help is urged to attend.

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is desirous of assisting the farmers in any way possible, and it is suggested that the below blank be properly filled out and handed to either W. G. Street, at the Lamb County Mercantile Co., store, or to Jess Mitchell, at the Leader office, either of whom will see that it is immediately forwarded to the proper source. Other blanks like the below may also be obtained from either of these two men.

L. J. Sullivan, formerly of Littlefield, but who now resides in Vernon, was here Wednesday transacting business and meeting old friends. He reports the arrival of a new daughter at their home recently.

Miss Georgie Chapman, of Arkansas City, arrived here Tuesday to visit her sister, Miss Ella Chapman, with whom she went to Lubbock where the latter will take dental treatment for a complicated dental trouble which she has suffered for the past two weeks.

County Farm Agent D. F. Eaton, of Lubbock, and Agronomist D. L. Jones, of the Lubbock Experiment Station, were pleasant callers at the Leader office Monday afternoon while enroute to a farmer's meeting at Sudd. They are very much interested in having the farmers of this section attend the meeting at Lubbock next Monday, full notice of which appears in this issue of the Leader.

BUILDING MATERIAL

There is an automobile that advertises: "WHAT COMES AFTER THE PURCHASE PRICE?" That applies to Lumber and Building Material, too. After you have erected your building, how long will it last before the elements make repairing necessary? How long before it is called an old house? If you want to sell, can you show it with pride and say, "This house is built of the very best lumber and materials. It is as good as the day it was built."

Ask a carpenter—he will tell you that good lumber and good building materials are the cheapest in the long run.

Then ask him who handles the best Lumber and the best Building Materials, and he'll say

See us for Maize Heading knives. We have them in two sizes. Ever try Sealack Roofing Cement? It sure stops the leaks. We handle all kinds of Plumbing Supplies.

School Playgrounds
Educational Necessity

School playgrounds, educational leaders realize, are as essential as school buildings. "We talk no more in terms of square feet per child, but in acres per school," states Dr. James E. Rogers, director, Community Recreation Training School, Playground and Recreation Association of America, in School Life, a publication of the Interior department, bureau of education. Joliet, Ill., a town of 30,000, has one school with 20 acres, and the others average more than five acres each. Elyria, Ohio, with 25,000 people, has bought an athletic field of 18 acres for its high school. Tacoma, San Diego, Peoria, and many others have great stadiums. In Gary, Ind., every high school has a playground a block square, a gymnasium, and an auditorium. These mean clearer brains, more active bodies, and make for better study and recitations. On playgrounds and athletic fields are learned some of the greatest lessons of life. For this reason, Doctor Rogers urges, schools should maintain their physical education for 12 months rather than for 9.

For Street Planting

With attention and care, trees of small size will thrive in small patches of soil where larger trees, with their spreading root systems, might languish, says the American Tree Association of Washington, in urging you to join the tree-planting army. The effect of these formally pruned trees is dignified and decorative, and gives a fine touch of green to a street lined with high-class shops or handsome houses in solid rows. For a 2-cent stamp the association will send you tree-planting suggestions.

Mothers' Aid System

All the cities and 17 of the towns of Rhode Island have adopted the system of mothers' aid since the state mothers' aid law came into effect July, 1923. Two hundred and twenty-three families are being cared for at present under the law. Improvement has taken place in the health of the families aided and in the school records of the children. It is reported by the Rhode Island public welfare commission.

Community Acquaintance

We should all take a little more time in visiting around our local industries. Many folks do not know just what we have here in the Colbert county district. Let's try to get acquainted with our neighbors' plants. —Tusculum Times.

City Healthful Comes Before City Beautiful

"Public health is basic municipal work, and should be accorded a more important place among municipal activities," said William P. Capes, secretary of the New York state conference of mayors and other municipal officials, in a talk broadcast from station WGY, Schenectady, recently, the New York Times states.

"Unless a municipality is healthful," said Mr. Capes, "it is no fit place in which to live, to work and to play. Before we can have the city beautiful, the city contented, the city efficient, we must have the city healthful. That is why the New York state conference of mayors and other municipal officials always has been keenly interested in health work; that is why this organization of 60 cities and 30 first-class villages has for the last 15 years been promoting efficient health regulations and organization and keeping local health officials informed about public health activities and proper public business management.

The first gathering of city officials, which resulted in the organization of the mayors' conference, was called in 1910 for the sole purpose of considering public health questions. This epoch-making event was the beginning of the movement which later resulted in a reorganization of the state health department, and following it 95 per cent of the annual messages of the mayors dealt principally with local health problems.

"A few years later the conference urged the scoring of city health work. A member of the state department of health, trained in both public health and municipal work, went annually from city to city and, by a scientific method of scoring, learned the efficiency and value of each local health activity. This not only showed each city administration where its public health work was effective or weak but also created a rivalry among the municipalities and succeeding local health administrations which produced better health protection.

The work of the mayors' conference leaves no doubt about its attitude on public health. It is basic municipal work.

Principle of Zoning Cities Making Gains

More than 26,000,000 people were living in zoned municipalities at the close of the first six months of 1925 according to a report just issued by the division of building and housing of the United States Department of Commerce.

The report shows that in the last four years the principle of zoning cities so as to define districts for various uses, residential, commercial or industrial, has come so generally into adoption that the number of people living in zoned communities has in that period increased more than 130 per cent.

In the past four years the number of municipalities which have zoning ordinances has increased more than seven times. The number is now 393. Of the 33 largest cities in the country 27 now have zoning ordinances. Three cities of more than 100,000 population, Denver, Colo.; Hartford, Conn. and New Bedford, Mass., have adopted zoning ordinances within the last six months. Altogether, 46 cities adopted zoning ordinances during the period from January to July, 1925.

Five states hitherto without enabling acts for zoning have enacted zoning legislation during the first half of 1925. They are Maine, New Hampshire, Utah, Idaho and Arizona.

Harmonizing Planting

No grounds are too small that planting will not greatly enhance the desirability of the home. Too much cannot be said on harmonizing the planting with the adjoining property. This is particularly true of the parkways where uniform trees through the entire block are necessary, and ordinances generally protect the larger suburbs, but are overlooked in the smaller ones, and in the city it is not enforced consistently. Nature will express herself around the home and out-door living rooms can now be realized with bloom and fragrance in just a few short weeks so that back yards and front yards should be no more and in their places a new attitude.

Playgrounds in 700 Cities

Since 1885 more than 700 American cities have established public playgrounds and recreation centers for children. The first was in Boston and was called a "sand garden." The idea was imported from Germany and is being copied the world over.

Worth of Paving

Nothing is better for a town that well-paved streets. No town has arrived until it is paved. With paving it may become a city. Without paving, it must remain a burg. The same applies to a county. A county with paved roads is a county well advanced in satisfaction. —Dallas News.

Garden a Beautifier

First thing that anybody can do to beautify a little town is to plant a flower garden—a big one.

Cooling Very Essential for All Dairy Products

Cooling is essential in either winter or summer. Too many dairymen follow the practice of leaving cans of milk in the barn during the winter months. Such milk will accumulate odors from the barn and the animal heat in the milk will allow the bacteria to grow so that the milk will not meet the high standard of milk which is given proper attention. The man who is producing cream should also give attention to cooling. Practically every producer should be able to sell sweet cream during the winter months if he gives his product reasonable attention. The mere fact that cream is better in the winter than summer is proof of the fact that cooling is one of the greatest essentials in the proper handling of dairy products.

Dairy Hints

Alfalfa hay and corn silage together supply ideal roughage.

When bran is $20 per ton, oilmeal is worth about $7 per ton as a source of protein.

Systematic feeding results in higher milk production and at the same time cuts the feed bill.

A cow cannot eat enough hay and silage to produce her maximum of milk, hence the necessity of feeding concentrates.

To get the best out of a herd of capable cows requires careful feeding management.

The milk of average cows tests between 4 and 5 per cent butterfat, that of Holsteins from 3 to 4 per cent, and that of Guernseys and Jerseys from 5 to 6 per cent.

A businesslike dairyman is one who first sees that the cows which he is milking are of the high-producing type. The poor producers must be weeded out.

First Recorded Eclipses
Eclipses were first recorded by the Athenian named Callipus in 475 B. C. The first eclipse recorded in history happened on March 19, 29 B. C., according to Ptolemy. It was an eclipse of the moon, and was observed with accuracy at Babylon, Mesopotamia.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON ARRIVED HERE TUESDAY

The cotton market in Littlefield is now open for this season, J. L. Woodruff, living 19 miles southeast of town having brought in the first bale Tuesday afternoon, which was ginned at the Davanay gin. It was sold on the streets at auction, bringing 25 cents per pound, or seven cents per pound above the current market price for the day. C. L. Yeager was the purchaser. It weighed 385 pounds, and the staple was of the Burnett variety.

Mr. Woodruff states this first bale was taken from a 100-acre field that is all maturing regularly. He has about five other bales now open and ready for picking.

MRS. BRITAIN ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Jimmie Brittain was hostess Friday, at her home, at two delightful parties, one of which was held in the morning while the other took place in the afternoon.

At each occasion garden flowers were used in the decoration and at the conclusion of the games a dainty plate consisting of salad, cheese straws, potato chips, stuffed olives, hot buns and butter, was passed which was followed by frozen fruit jello pie topped with whipped cream. Candy in dainty trays were placed at each table at the beginning of the games and at their conclusion a guest at each table making high cut was awarded the tray.

Those present at the morning affair were: Mesdames H. W. Wiseman, A. P. Duggan, J. C. Houk, Charles Harless, F. G. Sadler, D. C. Houk, W. G. Street, Doc Miller, J. M. Stokes, L. H. Howard, C. E. Ellis, Bessie Baze, B. L. Cogdill, T. Wade Potter, J. D. Jones, S. J. Farquhar, E. A. Logan, L. W. Condra, A. H. McGavock, P. H. Boone, Miss Sadie Davis of Snyder and the hostess.

Those present in the afternoon were: Mesdames Otha Key, R. W. Steen, K. F. Albright, John P. Butler, Earl Hopping, Everett Grantham, J. D. Jones, Ray B. Jones, C. C. Clements, T. Wade Potter, P. W. Walker, J. W. Porcher, W. H. Rutledge, A. C. Chesher, Arbie Joplin, H. S. Vettis of Ardmore, Okla., Misses Vivian Courtney, Bettie Cutherson, Dess Key and Willie Chaney.

D. B. DENTON WAS SPEAKER HERE FOR LABOR DAY EVENT

Hon. D. B. Denton, of Littlefield, was the speaker last Monday at the Littlefield Labor Day celebration, and it was the consensus of opinion expressed both by the union representatives and the audience at large hearing him that he did full justice to the occasion. Mr. Denton for two years was field representative of the Farmers Alliance in Oklahoma, and was therefore quite familiar with his subject.

In the outset of his speech he paid our tribute to the 14,000,000 men of the nation whom he declared constituted the backbone of democratic government. He apologized for appearing before the audience without a shave; but he said, "since I am a staunch believer in unionism, don't own a razor of my own and the barbers of Littlefield all had their shops closed, it was for me to either visit a 'scab tonsorial parlor' or else appear before you in this manner. I chose the latter, so you will have to take this speech with the whiskers on."

The speaker declared he was against the old idea that competition was the life of trade. Rather, he declared, it is the death of trade. Co-operation is the real life of trade. Where people learn team work and get in the harness of labor for mutual benefit the greatest results invariably accrue. Mr. Denton traced the rise of unionism from its inception several years ago, up to the present time, declaring it was the one method that would bring justice and equality to all mankind alike. He declared that money was originally intended merely as a medium of exchange and barter whereby the necessities of life might the easier be obtained; but of late years its accumulation and hoarding had become the chief occupation of many citizens.

Mr. Denton paid a high tribute to the late Samuel Gompers, former head of the American Federation of Labor, declaring him to be one of the wisest statesmen of his time and the greatest leader labor had ever produced.

He referred to the farmers as a bunch of scabs—smilingly including himself in that respect. Then explained what he meant by saying they were their own worst enemies, because they would not affiliate for their own interests; would not organize and hang together for their just rights as do members of other crafts, and businesses.

He declared that organization, under the direction of unionism had been the greatest medium for the increasing of literacy and contentment among the workingmen of the nation. "More than any other one thing," said Mr. Denton, "it has bought more homes and furnished them nicer, put more pianos in the parlors, more pictures on the walls, better food on the tables and more Fords in the garages." He closed his address with an eloquent appeal for justice and equality among all mankind.

LITTLEFIELD MAN IS HURT IN AUTO WRECK.

F. L. Young, of Littlefield, was seriously, but not fatally injured, about the middle of the afternoon Saturday when the light car in which he and two other men were riding was hit by a relief bus of the Sunset Stage line near the city limits of Littlefield, according to reports brought here by stage drivers.

Young's car, a Ford roadster with a small delivery bed, was considerably damaged. The machine was turned completely over by the impact of the heavy stage car, witnesses to the scene said, and Young and one other occupant of the car were pinned underneath. Young sustained a slightly fractured shoulder, and other minor bruises about the head and body. F. F. Jackson and M. C. Jackson, other occupants of the Young car, were only slightly injured. J. H. Hutchinson was driving the stage car.

In 1924 Texas produced 4,851,000 bales of cotton out of a total world production of 19,360,000 bales.
