MULICAN WELL EAST OF LITTLEFIELD STANDING 180 FEET IN OIL; OFFSET WILL BE BORED, ACCORDING TO OWNERS

The oil standing 180 feet in the well is believed by many experienced men who have visited the well, located 5 miles east of Littlefield, will make a good producer. The well is 430 feet deep. Casing was set in the hole, a test pipe run and analysis of the oil has been made. The test showed 38 gravity degrees. Hundreds of people visited the well during the two weeks, many of them well known oil operators, and all come with the idea it is probable an oil field will be opened along the side of Lamb county.

It is now being perfected for drilling of an offset well, to be about 800 feet from the original well. This well will probably be drilled to a greater depth, as it is the expressed idea of many visiting operators that other strata of oil and sand will be found, one at 700 feet and another between 1400 and 1600 feet.

A contract for drilling the Mullican well, as made by Clark Mullican and relatives, for a 3,500 foot hole, and they all expressed great surprise that paying quantities should have been struck at such shallow depth. It is reported that Mullican has set for the drilling of two other wells on the ranch.

The well is located in section 21 B. of the R. M. Thompson survey. It was drilled by the Engle Drilling company. Leases in vicinity are reported to be turning from $25 to $50 per acre, and the well is running high throughout section. The drillers have a lease on 6,400 acres in the drilling area. Interest has also spread to the field, resulting in several of the lease-holders owning property east and west of Littlefield taking leases off the market or else raising the prices on them.

Mullican states that he and other partners in the enterprise have control of it and there will be no drilling until full development of the property has been made.

Thornton, of Amarillo, has expressed the interests of the Engle Drilling company, in the well, and is making a report carried in the Amarillo News, the purchase price named at $59,000.00.

Thornton is one of the Panhandle's most picturesque characters whose knowledge and tact in handling glycerine has not only helped the field's production but aided in putting out innumerable gas fires.

The sale of the Engle King well lease was made with John Keenan of Tulsa, president of the company, which had a mineral lease from the Mullican estate. Thornton plans to take over the Engle King drilling company and to drill the No. 2 Mullican, located a hundred feet northwest of the well in section 25, same block survey. The cellar was dug last week and the Axtell drilling machine moved to new location Saturday. This is the machine used in the Mullican No. 1 well, the well in Hale county.

HOCKLEY MAY HAVE FAIR

A movement has been started in Hockley county for a county fair to be held at Levelland this fall.

Committees have been appointed to work out the details of the exposition, which will probably be held just before the South Plains fair at Lubbock.

LOCAL HATCHERY ADDS $20,000 TO COMMUNITY WEALTH

That the South Plains hatchery has added to the wealth of Littlefield and surrounding trade territory some where around $20,000 is the estimate made this week by local business men who have been watching the first year operation of this new industry.

Last week the hatchery was closed for the season, although it may be again opened later on for a short fall run, if demands from local customers is sufficient to warrant it, according to Albert Nuenschwander, manager of the concern.

This year the South Plains hatchery set 120,000 eggs, of all varieties, from which were hatched 75,000 chicks. Of this total number it has been estimated that 40,000 of these will be sold on the market as fryers. The average weight at sale will be around two pounds, while the average price will be about 25 cents per pound. Thus these 40,000 chicks, if they all lived, would bring to the owners around $20,000.00.

The remaining 35,000 chicks will probably be kept as layers and foundation stock for future operations. Figuring out losses from death and a certain number of males, it is estimated that the pullets will average laying ten and one-half dozen eggs per annum, as they were practically all hatched from high grade eggs. Most of them will begin laying in October and November, when the price of eggs is at its highest, and will continue on through the winter and early spring as the quantity increases the price dropping in contrast. Estimating each pullet to bring a return of $3.00 each to the owner there would be an added $9,000 income from the hatchery products, while these same pullets would be retained, valued at $1.00 each to be used for even better laying service the coming year.

The South Plains hatchery is equipped with two of the best incubators manufactured today, having a total hatchery capacity of 36,000 eggs per setting. Its operations this year are a vivid illustration of its value to the community.

LITTLEFIELD BUSINESS FIRMS CLOSE JULY 4th

In response to a petition circulated this week, practically every business concern in town attached their signature in agreement to close their place of business through the entire day of July 4th.

Customers are urged to govern themselves accordingly by making needed purchases on Saturday to last over Monday.

COMPRESS MATERIAL HERE

A carload shipment of material for the cotton compress, to be erected in Littlefield, by A. S. Underwood & Co., arrived here last week. The shipment contained material for the office building.

It is understood that as soon as the office is completed, material will be sent in for the compress, which will be ready for service by the time cotton picking arrives.

Last Thursday afternoon the Boy Scouts went on a hike. They spent the night at Yellow House ranch, and slept out in the open. After inspection and cleaning the camp, the boys returned home Friday morning.

There were 15 boys who participated under the direction of Scoutmaster B. B. Blair and Assistant Carl Williams.

He Is Making It His Business

LAMB COUNTY WILL HAVE A DELEGATE ON THE CAL. TRIP

Lamb County Farm Bureau will have in Mrs. F. F. Revier a representative on the California touring special, according to J. W. Hammock, county bureau representative.

"From what we hear," said Mr. Hammock, we are led to believe that California must be a land flowing with milk and honey. We trust our delegate will learn just what makes the milk and honey flow, so as to return a fair portion of the producer's dollar back to his own pocket.

These delegates on this trip will obtain first hand information regarding farm ownership, co-operative movements and living conditions in general. Miss Susan Landon will be in charge of the lady delegates. She has had large experience in co-operative marketing affairs, and has studied conditions in Denmark.

Full report of the trip will be received from Mrs. Revier by the Lamb County Leader.

OFFICIALS TO ENFORCE DOG LICENSE PAYMENT

At last the Dog Ordinance has growled and showed its teeth, resulting in the wholesale slaughter of canines in Littlefield last Monday. Who they belonged to city officials know not and care less. Warnings have been repeatedly given by officers and through the columns of the Leader that dog-owners must pay taxes on their favorite quadrupeds of this particular genus or else they will become targets for the practise of the city constabulary. A few have given heed to the warning, decourting their brutes with the little brass tags furnished by the city, but most dog-owners have permitted their canines to continue chasing the cats from off the back fence without license.

Not that the officials are showing any favoritism toward the felines, but the canines, no matter their species, sex, color, size or value must be paid for or else go to dog heaven. Got a dog? Better pay up, then!

CAUGHT IN SHOE SHOP

Last Friday night Sheriff Len Irvin took six men from Blakley's shoe shop on a charge of gaming. Some of them paid fines, while others are still out on bond.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl White, last Friday, a son. They have named the young man Robert Eugene. Earl says laundry business is picking up now.

A FEW QUESTIONS ABOUT HISTORY OF LITTLEFIELD

Question—and more questions—seems to be the rage now, so we are asking a few ourselves. They are about Littlefield and things connected with your home town. How many can you answer? Try your luck on them. We will publish names of people sending in correct lists of the questions. Mail them not later than Tuesday morning.

1. When was the Littlefield town-site surveyed?
2. What is the date of its incorporation as a city?
3. Who bought the first lot sold in Littlefield?
4. What building still standing was used as the first school building in Littlefield?
5. Who was the first school teacher here?
6. How many acres in the Yellow House ranch?
7. When did the Santa Fe railroad build through Littlefield?
8. Who was Littlefield's first merchant?
9. When was the first bank established in Littlefield?
10. Who was the first postmaster?

Correct answers to these questions will be published next week.

EMPLOY BAND DIRECTOR

D. W. Crane, of Elida, New Mexico has been employed as director of the Levelland concert band, which was organized more than a year ago by Clayborn Harvey, of this city. The band embraces 36 playing members and, under the new director, is making rapid strides in efficiency.

START WATER SYSTEM

Work was begun last week on installation of the municipal water system at Levelland. A 187 foot hole, supplying sufficient water, has been sunk and ditches are now being run for the water mains.

MORE TEACHERS SELECTED

At a meeting of the Littlefield School Board held last Friday, Miss Lennie Mangum, of Henrietta, was elected teacher of English. Other appointments were: Miss Juanita Sawyer, Lone Oak, Spanish; Miss Dorothy Nettleton, Dallas, history; J. M. Parks, College Station, vocational agriculture.

FARMERS SHIPPING $1,200 WORTH OF CREAM HERE WEEK

That the weekly shipment of cream from Littlefield is bringing in considerable money to producing farmers, was clearly demonstrated this week when a check on the week's shipment by local dealers was made by a Leader representative.

During the last three days of the past week, according to figures obtained, 106 cans of cream were shipped from this point. The cream was purchased from the farmers at 32 cents per pound, or a total of $948.76. During the first three days of last week 50 cans were shipped out, representing another income of $424 to the producers, or a grand total of $1,272.76 for the week. In addition to this it is known that there are also several individual shippers each week. This means an income from this one source of more than $5,000.00 per month.

OLD FIDDLERS CONTEST A FEATURE OF ROTARY MEET

Arrangements for the old settlers entertainment to be given by the Littlefield Rotary club are progressing nicely, according to committee report given at the meeting last week.

One feature of the entertainment will be an old fiddler's contest, in which there will be several entrants. One old fiddler claims to have a violin 175 years old while another claims his instrument to be 200 years old. Several visitors from surrounding towns are expected on this occasion.

Scoutmaster B. B. Blair was present and told something of the progress being made by the Boy Scouts under his direction. The club agreed to purchase some needed paraphernalia for the scouts.

A committee was appointed to arrange future programs covering several weeks in advance. R. S. Thomas is to give the classification address at the next meeting.

METHODISTS WILL START REVIVAL MEET IN JULY

Rev. D. F. Fisher, well known pastor-evangelist, has been engaged by the Methodists of Littlefield to hold a revival here, beginning Sunday, July 10th.

Through the courtesy of the Baptist people, the meeting will be held in that church. Full announcement of the meeting will appear in this newspaper next week.

CITIZENS FAVOR PAVING OF MAIN STREET IN L.F.D.

"It has cost around $1,500 to keep Main street in condition of repair, during the past year, and then it has not been so kept," declared City Secretary E. C. Cundiff, last Monday. "Every time there is work done on this street it means an outlay of from $30 to $40," continued Cundiff.

The statement was made in connection with recent opinions expressed by local citizens and property owners on Main street to the effect that it should be paved. Notwithstanding present financial conditions, it is stated it would be a good business proposition to pave this street, to say nothing of the added pleasing appearance.

One business man declared it cost him more to keep his stock clean than it would to pay for the paving in front of his place of business. Another pointed out the fact that over a period of 15 years the paving expense would scarcely be noticed. Still another called attention to the local satisfaction of having the principal business street paved and of the added favorable appearance it would present to visitors.

Mayor Crockett is heartily in favor of the paving, and is ready to take the matter up in a definite manner if enough of the citizen property owners on Main street will favor the movement for an improvement district.

BUREAU MEMBERS WILL RECEIVE CHECKS IN JULY

Farm Bureau members in Lamb and Bailey counties will receive reserve checks early in July, according to county representative J. W. Hammock.

Mr. Hammock states he has information from the Dallas office that one per cent reserve checks will be distributed at the Palace theatre in Littlefield between the fifth and ninth of July, at which time a mass meeting will be held here in the theatre.

These reserve checks will be for cotton shipped during the year 1921, for cotton shipped in 1922 reserve checks will be paid next year. Exact date of the meeting will be in the Farm Bureau paper of July 1st issue. All members of the Bureau and other farmers are invited to attend the meeting whether they have checks due them or not.

SCOUTS GUEST OF PALACE

Arrangements have been made whereby Boy Scouts who attend four consecutive scout meetings and show good deportment will be admitted free to the Palace theatre, and furthermore, they may be accompanied by their best girl, according to Max L. McClure.

Any seat in the house, selected by the Scoutmaster, will be available to the boys and their companions.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

I have finished the work which thou fastest me to do.—John 17:4.
 It is thy duty oftentimes to do what thou wouldst not thy duty, too, to leave undone what thou wouldst do.
 —Thomas A. Kempis.

A GLORIOUS FOURTH

¶ This ought to be the greatest Fourth of July the present generation has ever celebrated.

We make that statement in view of the fact that within recent weeks new honor and glory has been brought to the stars and stripes by a youthful American, a son of the Middle West, a modern hero and an explorer without equal since the days of Christopher Columbus.

Almost nine years have passed since this nation laid down its arms in what we hope will be the last great human struggle in which our citizens will be called upon to participate. It passed safely through the period of readjustment, and has lent aid in both a moral and financial way to sister nations across the sea. And just as the skies were clearing for them comes the triumphal spanning of the sea by Chas. Lindberg, a glorious triumph for science, but a still more glorious victory for the peace of the world.

Littlefield is ready to celebrate the Fourth of July in a sane and patriotic manner, and add her cheers and applause to that which is now being heard throughout the entire land in honor of her newest messenger of peace—Chas. Lindberg. Boyhood has brought new luster to the flag for which manhood fought. He has given the stars and stripes a new meaning in the eyes of the nations across the sea. He has linked the world closer than it has ever been by bringing it into closer touch. Never before have we had greater reason for putting our whole heart and soul into a celebration of Independence Day, for never before has it meant more to us.

Hang out Old Glory to the breeze. Celebrate the day in the way that best suits you, and that you may deem appropriate. But, wherever you are and in whatever way you celebrate remember to hold in your heart a prayer for a continuation of the peace that is now ours, and a better understanding that has been brought to the world by the youthful Lindberg, the newest agency of good will toward all mankind.

One reason there are not more black eyes is because few husbands have the nerve to think out loud while listening to a curtain lecture.

STABILIZING EGG PRICES

¶ In the program of diversification that has been waged in this section of Texas chicken raising has been included. Now everyone raising chickens knows that the price of eggs has dropped to the minimum. Four months from now they will be going up again, and from Thanksgiving time on during the winter "cackle-berries" will be high priced. Evidently some means is necessary to stabilize the price the year 'round.

Perhaps here and there egg circles will be organized and contracts will be made with local ice manufacturers to provide dry storage for these summer raised eggs, but in general these summer laid products will continue to be dumped onto the market at the then prevailing price.

We believe this matter that might well be handled by West Texas Chamber of Commerce—providing a storage for these summer laid eggs to be sold during fall and winter when the prices are more favorable. It would mean the addition of thousands of dollars to the egg-producing farmers of West Texas.

The organization of an egg bureau, something on the order of the wheat and cotton bureaus might be in order. Or the entering into contract with some large storage company centrally located to store and hold these eggs until fall prices prevail might be arranged by this organization to the benefit of its constituents.

In all the time we have lived on earth we have never yet heard a man thanking the Lord because he has more than he deserves.

DON'T BLAME THE HEN

¶ Next to the newspaper business, we believe more people have started and failed in the chicken business than in any other. Perhaps no other field has claimed such high hopes and returned as little success. Here and there this man and that have made tremendous profits in the industry, and tales of their success have spurred thousands of others to try it. A vast majority of them sunk money in the poultry business—and charged it up to experience, to dabbling in something that looks easy but is not.

There are many in this class today and yet a greater percentage are making it pay than ever before. Chicken raisers in this neighborhood have told us that more depends on the man than on the chicken. Success is not going to come to the fellow who doesn't know the fine points of poultry raising, no matter how good his stock may be. High egg production per bird is necessary to profit, and only experts know how to get high egg production.

We have no desire to discourage any Littlefield man who thinks he can make a profit in the poultry and egg business, but if he wants to make a good living, or perhaps more than a living, then the thing for him to do is to remember that more depends upon him than upon the hen.

Who won the gasoline war may be an unsettled question, but there is no doubt about who will pay for it.

WHY IS THIS

¶ Littlefield motorists who hope to see the day when there will be a standardized system of road signs in this country, with all the highways marked in a harmonious way, are also doubtless wondering if the time will ever come when there will be a standardization of gasoline prices. It has reached the point where in a drive of a few miles it is difficult to find two stations selling it at the same price.

Very often there will be a range of from four to six cents is just a few miles distance, and as far as the regular brands go, one is pretty much the same as the other, with the exception of "high-test" and "anti-knock" brands put out by a great number of concerns.

Then why isn't gasoline, since it is pretty much the same the country over standardized in price like sugar and other commodities? Here is a question often asked, and yet we've never found a motorist who could give a satisfactory answer.

¶ The fine rains of last week ought to make the smiles of both town and country people stretch out a little broader. These rains mean added thousands of dollars to the people of this section.

¶ If they were so inclined, there are plenty of East Texas towns that could boast of several things we do not have out here on the South Plains. Mosquitos, for instance. They have many of those things.

¶ Aside from a similar squint of the nose, we have observed that our fellow-townsmen A. G. Hemphill has another trait common with President Coolidge, that of telling fish stories.

¶ We have often observed that every time Littlefield folks leave there they are glad to get back, and are generally satisfied after they have learned how much better Littlefield is than many other towns.

¶ Now with plenty of rainfall, local farmers should not overlook the planting of some late corn the kind that matures in 90 to 110 days. There is plenty of time yet for this kind of crop to well mature before frost.

¶ The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for the stand it is taking relative to power syndicates monopolizing the water of West Texas streams. It seems already several of the rivers of this section have been gobbled up by the giant corporations. West Texas flood waters should be used by West Texans.

¶ Right now would be a good time for Littlefield citizens to start the annual weed-cutting campaign. A trip over town will reveal the fact that many of the yards and vacant lots are not as vacant as they might appear to be.

¶ How many of the questions regarding Littlefield, published on the first page can you answer? If you have missed some of them ask some one who knows. This is an excellent opportunity to become posted on Littlefield history.

¶ Littlefield parents who last week sent their boys to the summer military training camps are to be commended. The physical training they receive there will be good, as also the discipline, and there is nothing wrong in them learning something about military tactics, tho it is hoped they will never have to use that information.

TRI-STATE FAIR WILL ENCOURAGE PANHANDLE CUBS

Amarillo, June 29. That the literary department of the Amarillo Tri-State exposition may have a part in the development of a Panhandle writer who will become nationally known is the hope of Mrs. Paul Nunn, superintendent of the department.

"I feel if we can find some person in this section who can attract the attention of a nation of readers we will have justified all of the expense and attention of the department has received," said Mrs. Nunn. "I feel sure we have many possibilities for producing some good writers in this section and I trust they will do their part by entering our contests."

Mrs. Nunn announces that competition will be held in four classes with prizes of $15, $8 and $5 in each class. Short stories must not be over 4,000 words, informative articles not over 2,000 words, personality sketch not over 2,000 words, and poetry not over 20 lines.

Willard C. Hawkins, noted literary critic of Denver, will judge all of the entries, which must be made prior to midnight of September 4th.

Mrs. Nunn, head of the department, who is a well known writer, will not enter any of the events.

CHEVROLET WILL SPEND HUGE SUM ON ITS FACTORY

With production running at the record clip of more than 5,000 units daily and demand for the product constantly increasing, the Chevrolet Motor Company will expend two million dollars in further development of its properties at Flint, Michigan, in order to relieve the congestion brought about by steady increase in production, according to W. W. Gillette, of the local Chevrolet agency.

This will include two buildings, a three story office building and a new parts building. On the completion of these new buildings the present office and parts building will be razed and a modern factory building erected in their place, Mr. Gillette said.

The new parts building will be a 3 story structure, 530 by 12 feet, and of concrete construction. The new office building will be of brick and concrete construction, and will be 260 by 60 feet.

WADE URGES STATE BOARD OF CONTROL TO GRANT PERMITS FOR IRRIGATION

Homer D. Wade, manager of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the State Board of Water Engineers last week at Austin in the interest of the irrigation districts of Brownwood and San Saba. He is making a fight to have the Board vacate its recent decision denying San

Saba the right to impound waters of the San Saba river on the grounds that power syndicates has already filed on the entire run of the water shed of the Colorado river. Pecan Bayou and Jim Ned Creek are also in the Colorado water shed. Brownwood will be denied the right to use waters from these streams for irrigation purposes if the San Saba decision is allowed to stand.

At the recent session of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce executive board held in Cisco, the directors condemned the policy of allowing power companies to file on water routes and rights to the detriment of West Texas agriculture and municipal needs, and memorialized the State Board to reopen the San Saba case and to grant the Brownwood petition. The body declared itself in favor of industrial development, but opposed to power concerns taking long time filings on water courses needed for irrigation, and denying West Texas the right to use flood waters for agriculture and municipal development. It developed at the hearing that the Colorado watershed was filed on many years ago, and nothing has been done to develop the power possibilities of the stream.

Wade, representing three hundred towns of West Texas, many of which will be directly affected through their interests in projects in other streams, urged that the State Board follow the policy established by the U. S. government and permit the use of flood waters for agricultural and municipal needs first. West Texas is entitled to use its own rain fall in any manner it sees fit, according to the arguments of Wade, and he declared his organization opposed to any rulings which take from West Texas the right to use its water. He declared that the Chamber would fight this matter out to the last as a matter of principle for all towns of West Texas and would not stop with one defeat. Should this Colorado decision stand, similar proceedings might follow with the Brazos, the Pease, the Canadian, the Trinity and the Pecos water sheds, he declared.

This is an all important matter to West Texas and the Brownwood case assumes a region wide importance because of this fact.

APPROPRIATIONS AID TECH. IN ITS BUILDING PLANS

Lubbock, Texas, June 29. With an appropriation of $900,000 for buildings and equipment assured for Texas Technological college, for the next two years the institution will enter a new phase of its unprecedented growth. A half million dollars will be used in the erection of buildings and $100,000 for equipment. An engineering building, a practice building for home economics, the first unit of an agriculture building, and a green house will be built the first year of the biennium, and a science hall will be constructed the second year.

The engineering building will cost $240,000 with $45,000 for equipment. It will be erected in the center of the space between the textile and administration buildings and will face east. The material and architecture will harmonize with the general plan outlined for the entire college group. It will contain two stories and a basement. Construction will start as soon as plans of the architect are completed and contract can be let. Officials expect this building to be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term in 1928.

The practice house for home economics students is to cost $20,000 with $2,500 for equipment. This structure will be located between the home economics building and College avenue and will face east. The ladies taking home economics will live in this building in turn, thus getting actual experience in carrying out the things they have learned in the classroom. This building will be ready by the opening of the fall session.

Although only $10,000 was appropriated for the first unit of the agriculture building it will be one of the most needed structures, as this department has been housed in overcrowded quarters in the home economics building. This first unit will be located in the aggie quadrangle midway between the main building and the stock-judging pavilion. On the west side of this quadrangle will also be constructed a hothouse at a cost of $7,000. Both of these buildings will be ready for use this fall.

These four buildings together with equipment will entail an expenditure of $35,000 during the first year of the biennium.

During the second year a science building will be erected at a cost of $225,000, with $50,000 for equipment. This structure will face the college square on the southeast corner. While in the beginning it will house the various sciences, it will be designed for a chemistry building. This will greatly relieve the congestion of the laboratories which are at present crowded into the basement of the administration building.

In Groceries —its Quality First

Groceries are foods—that nourish and sustain the body. They must supply the cells and tissues with energy and strength.

Groceries must above all be pure and rich quality. So many stores make a practise of underselling and handling so-called "just as good" brands. For standard well known quality products they will substitute inferior products. We handle only the very best. Our groceries and everything we sell is highest quality—and priced low as that quality will permit.
