WOOLAROC AIRPLANE DRIVEN BY ARTHUR GOEBEL MADE A VISIT HERE IN TRIP: 1,000 PEOPLE WERE PRESENT

Woolaroc, piloted by Col. Arthur Goebel, winner of the California flight, flying on its 12 day trip, arrived in Littlefield this morning, and was greeted by 1,000 people anxious for a glimpse of the famous plane and its pilot.

The visit was made on the golf course south of the college, and a committee, composed of City and County officials, was present to greet it.

The arrival of the Woolaroc, a light pilot plane, marked the first of the trans-Pacific flights immediately following the arrival of the six passenger plane, piloted by H. W. Harrington, of Littlefield.

E. A. Bills made an address of welcome, which was responded to by Mr. Goebel, and the famed pilot presented with a check for $100.00.

Many availed themselves of the opportunity of examining the Woolaroc and its accessories, it being the first time that the plane had been in the state to gratify their air-mindedness.

The flight from Oakland to Honolulu, a distance of 2,437 miles, which was completed in 26 hours, 17 minutes and 18 seconds, and as told by Goebel is fascinating. It is the longest flight ever made.

Woolaroc was finally ready to go. Four hundred seventy-five gallons of Phillips Aviation gasoline were in the tanks and seventeen gallons of oil aboard. Needed extras included life raft and paddles, signaling, and navigation equipment—5,520 pounds of plane, fuel, and passengers to be carried over the 2,437 miles to Honolulu. It was an adventure, another flight to conquer the air.

W. V. Davis, who was stationed at the naval air station, San Diego, highly recommended. He agreed to make the flight and available help. I was in the compartment at the controls and the instruments except the fuel on the earth conductor which was in the rear compartment with Davis. Between us in the ship, were the gasolines. Above us was the glaring sun, a few hours, then the darkness of a long night and finally sunrise. Below us was nothing but a vast blue ocean.

There was plenty of time to think. I and I were as completely exhausted as if we had been at the end of the earth. We could not talk to one another. Not a word apart, we were strangers to one another in the air over mid-ocean. The sun went down. It had been a long day, and the weather had been perfect. Now night was coming on, and it was a loneliness that cannot be described and which has not been experienced by any except those who have headed a plane into darkness. The J-5 purred steadily. Regularly the radio signals came from the instruments on the board. Everything was working perfectly. Everything was as anticipated days and nights before. Air perfection cruising over a little spot in the vast Pacific.

Beside me in the compartment, as in Davis' compartment, were sandwiches and a thermos bottle of hot coffee. But we weren't hungry. I ate only three sandwiches. Darkness still, and getting foggy. One-third of the distance behind us now, and the ocean barely visible because of the fog. Mountains of clouds hanging about the ship. The fog thickening. Still, the steady purr of the J-5, the dots and dashes of the radio beacons. Alone, yes—but in constant contact with the world. Slowly the night was passing. Every little bit I turned to look back east out of the rear of my compartment to catch the first glimpse of daylight—welcome daylight! And it was coming. The fog was still below us at day-break—nineteen and a half hours of it altogether on this trip. The morning passed—the weather cleared, and below us again was the rolling blue Pacific. Noon came by our watches, with still the steadily humming motor, the distinctly audible beacons. One o'clock...two o'clock. Minutes ticking slowly. A speck on the horizon that might be a cloud or an island or a mountain!

"The ship speeded on. The speck grew larger, larger. The outlines of the speck became distinct. I gave one whoop out loud and I was my only audience. Below were the Hawaiian Islands. Because of the location of the army signalling station, we had naturally headed toward the Island of Maui. So we veered to the right, and came down on Wheeler Field near Honolulu, 26 hours and 17 minutes after we had started. In a plane circling about us as we landed, a flier held up one finger and then we knew we had won the race.

"That crowd! Twenty thousand people—many of whom had waited all through the night and the morning to extend the well known Hawaiian hospitality to the incoming fliers. And what a reception and welcome by James Dole, marvelous business man; Governor Farington, and army and naval officials accompanying him. Then the entertainments and the demonstrations accorded us by the happy Islanders.

"We weren't hungry. We weren't tired. We weren't sleepy. We wanted but three things—to cable home; then a shave and a dip in the beach at Waikiki—a swim—and that from two men who had seen only water for 26 hours. After the generous welcome, we were driven to the telegraph office and cabled Frank Phillips at Bartlesville, the following: "We're here Phillips Aviation gasoline turned the trick. Have received the winning money from Dole."

GOEBEL
"After the royal welcome in Honolulu the time soon came for us to start back to the United States. We carefully took the wings of the plane and brought the Woolaroc back with us on the steamship "Monoa." We hated to say goodbye to Hawaii and promised to come back again some day.

STOKES-ALEXANDER CO. HAVE NEW REFRIGERATING SYSTEM

The Stokes-Alexander Drug Co., last week installed one of the thousand dollar mammoth Frigidaire refrigerating systems in their place of business. The big new machine takes the place of two other smaller ones that have been in service for the past two and three years and does considerable extra service besides. The new plant furnishes the frigid temperature for their large soda fountain, also cooling a big candy case, and in addition, makes 200 pounds of ice daily.

DISTRICT COURT MEETS

A large number of Littlefield citizens are making trips to and from Olton this week, occasioned by meeting of Lamb County district court, Judge Chas. Clements, presiding. It is reported that there is already a rather large criminal docket to be taken care of this term, in addition to the civil docket and other cases that can't push up to court as usual which was empaneled Monday. Those on the grand jury from Littlefield are Chas. Harless, Pat Boone, Lon Campbell, Harry Wiseman and Otto Jones. J. A. Hutto, of Sudan, is foreman.

LITTLEFIELD POST OFFICE SHOWS AN INCREASE OF $21,195.47 IN BUSINESS AT CLOSE OF THE PAST FISCAL YEAR

3,000 VISITORS IN LFD. LAST MONDAY FOR TRADES DAY

Parking space on all the principal business streets in Littlefield was at a premium last Monday when fully 3,000 out of town people were guests of the city on its regular first Monday Trades Day event, many of them coming from distances of 50 and 75 miles and even farther.

The day was a pleasant one throughout, with no disturbance of any kind to mar its passing. There was various kinds of entertainment, including band music and a variety of athletic events. Merchants made special price offerings of merchandise and there were numerous prizes given to those holding lucky trades tickets.

Winners of the bicycle races were: Otis Connell, first; Sidney Lucas, second.

Winners of the Yo-Yo contest were J. W. Bell, first; Carson Glass, second.

Winners of the three-legged race were: Joe Stanley Lambert and Cecil Hall, first; Gilmer Eagan and David Keithley, second.

Johnson, Miss Eloraine Voss, R. B. Ivy, G. F. Hodges, W. H. Cooper, J. F. Gibson. Several names could not be obtained.

PLENTY OF RAIN NOW OVER SOUTH PLAINS

Littlefield and surrounding country was smiling Thursday morning as the Leader went to press, because of the fine rain falling in this section Wednesday night.

Some crop sections of this vicinity were beginning to need rain, but not so now. There is a plenty.

The rain began falling here about 5:30 p. m., increasing steadily and lasting until well after midnight.

Early reports coming in are to the effect that the rain went at least as far north as Texico, and south beyond Slaton—both towns reporting sufficient moisture.

The work is being done by the Star Engineering Co., of Wichita, Kansas, and will be ready for service about the middle of this month.

RURAL ROUTE EXTENDED

CATS TROUNCE THE CLOVIS TEAM AGAIN SCORING 15-5

The Littlefield Cats beat out the Clovis Santa Fe aggregation Sunday on the latter's field, for the second straight time, by the lopsided score of 15 to 5.

The Cats were somewhat weakened by the absence of two of the regulars Herb Mueller, the backbone of the hurling staff, and his brother, Art, consistent third baseman.

The locals started the fireworks in the first inning, when Walker, leadoff man for the Cats, hit a long home run to right center field. Before the Clovis team could settle down the Cats had put over two more counters.

In the fourth frame the locals scored four more runs to give them a seven to nothing lead.

The sixth proved to be the usual bad inning for the Cats. A free ticket to first, two errors, three hits and one or two so called "boneheads" donated five runs for Clovis. This only seemed to give the Cats a good start for they came back in the seventh with a barrage of hits that netted them eight runs.

Sam Pruitt went the entire route for the Cats and was complete master of the situation, with the exception of the sixth frame. He held the Mexico boys to five hits and was unusually effective when men were on bases.

Walker and Wood led the onslaught for the Cats, the former garnering two runs, and Wood collecting a single, double and home run in five attempts. The local infield functioned perfectly with many sparkling plays.

Arrangements are being made to bring either Tahoka or Lockney here next Sunday. The locals beat Tahoka three weeks ago on the latter's field by a close margin. They were held to four hits and were able to win only by taking advantage of the breaks. Lockney has been playing a fast brand of base ball this year, beating such teams as Tulia, Quitaque and Amarillo.

The Cats are grateful for the support given them by the local fans this year and promise them some of the best teams in West Texas before the season is over. Efforts are being made to bring such teams as Lamesa, Paducah, Quistake, Roswell and Carlsbad, N. M., here during the latter part of August and in September. It is likely that the Fort Worth Cats will also be here sometime in September.

Come out to Panther Park Sunday and see a good game.

LON'S CAFE RE-OPENED

Following a complete renovation and redecoration, including the installation of new furniture, etc., Lon's cafe, popular eating house in Littlefield, was reopened to its customers last Monday morning.

The smiling countenances of Lon and Mrs. Lon reciprocated by a crowd of hungry folks who filled the cafe to capacity at the dinner hour on opening day.

CAFE CHANGES HANDS

The Club cafe, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chitwood owners, was purchased last week by Mrs. Nora E. Harris, she taking charge Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chitwood have gone to Clovis, New Mexico.

Wednesday morning owners of the Palace cafe purchased an interest in the Club, combining the two.

"AIR-MINDED" FARMERS

The way the farmers and their folks mingled with town folks and crowded around the Woolaroc when it visited here last week, showed the intense interest of both in aviation. Many of them sizing up the pilot plane that accompanied were heard to express their desire to own one like it.

We wonder how many people around Littlefield know that the farmers of the U. S. are among the country's most consistent flyers. Well, they are, if one is to believe figures recently compiled by aircraft makers. Of 4,791 planes sold from March 1928 to March 1929, 1,043 of them were purchased by rural residents. And during the national air races in Los Angeles last September 111 planes were sold, of which 53 went to ranchers and farmers.

In a way, it might be expected that the plane would prove of great value in widely-separated communities and that ranchers and rural business men would find it of more constant service than those whose interests are closely bound up in the compact business circles of cities. But if you tell the average citizen that almost one-fourth of the planes bought in this country last year were purchased by farmers they will be inclined to doubt it.

Yet it is true, and it is also accepted as further proof that the fear of airplane travel is gradually being replaced by a spirit of confidence. Remember when folks used to feel they were flirting with death when they entered an auto, and how we looked on it as an agency of destruction? Yet in 20 years we have reached the point where women and children handle a car as safely as they could handle a baby buggy.

Who is there to say that in another 20 years the public will be accepting the airplane as a vehicle fully as safe as the auto?

One reason why we never have women presidents, is because none of them ever reach the required age.

JOINING THE CHURCH

Not long ago we asked a minister to tell us the reasons given by some people around Littlefield for not joining church, and here are a few:

"I am waiting for my husband to join;" "I don't consider myself good enough."

"I don't have the right kind of clothes to wear."

"I got too much church in my childhood."

"There are too many hypocrites in the church."

"The church is a joy-killer. I want to have a good time."

"I am too tired to go to church on Sunday."

Those are the favorite alibis, and it ought to be easy for every non-attendant to pick out the one he uses most. They've been in use since the hills were young, and probably will be used for a long time to come. But, in a country that is generally religious, we wonder how many who use these alibis realize that they are as thin as it is possible for an excuse to be.

And we also wonder if the same ones who use them are actually foolish enough to believe that those who do go to church accept them as a sufficient reason for anyone staying away.

THE FAULT FINDER

Fault-finding is a grievous habit which invariably ends disastrously with the fault-finder, yet this class of people seldom realize the fact until it is too late, and next to gossip, the chronic fault-finder is the most pernicious character any town can support.

Unfortunately there are some of that kind in Littlefield. Perhaps they are sometimes commendatory, but their constant critical attitude of others far outweighs their laudatory become the rankest of pessimists, surrounding themselves with the glooms remarks.

People of a censorious nature are the most unhappy in the world. They of their own cloudy natures. Fault-finders disgruntled with others, soon become disgusted with themselves and it doesn't take the world in general very long to lose confidence in them. The man with the pernicious spirit of intolerance soon finds himself in the discard.

Fault-finders are the source of most ill-feelings one toward another. They break friendships, disrupt confidence, unharmonize social relations, split churches and produce community cleavages. No town will progress very long nor very far with a bunch of fault-finders in the lead. The sooner any community realizes that fact the better off it is, and the sooner fault-finding people realize their unfortunate penchant and cease their grumbling and criticism the quicker they will catch the true note of progress and become good citizens.

They say the Mediterranean fruit fly is practically blind. Probably got that way eating grape fruit.

WHAT IT COSTS

Insurance companies have recently been gathering statistics in every state in the union in order to learn how much it costs to rear children.

In the average for the entire U. S. it was found that it costs parents about $10,047 to rear a girl from birth to the age of 18; boys cost slightly less.

The average also shows parents spend $531 to maintain a baby through the first year of its life. By the time the youngster is 10 years old the average parents have spent $4,253, and this expenditure is increased to $7,551 by the time the boy or girl is ready for high school at the age of 15.

There may be some Littlefield parents who will consider these figures a little high, but it is an average, and if they reared their children for less, then someone else spent more on theirs. Even at that the American child is a big bargain, no matter what it costs to raise one.

A girl and a car are very much alike. A good paint job conceals the years but the lines tell the story.

MORE EGGS PER HEN

The trend toward increased production has hit the egg industry and newspapers are devoting space to the experiments of Dr. R. T. Renwald, Omaha poultry fancier who, after five years, has developed a brood of chickens without wings and toes.

Normal hens, he explains, are bothered each year with the moulting of their wing feathers; during this period egg production falls off. The new type hen, having no wings, can keep right on laying the year round, producing on the average, Dr. Renwald hopes, 300 eggs a year. In addition, the new type of chicken will be easier to keep in a yard since she can't fly or scratch.

As Will Rogers, the comedian, explains: "They're a fine chicken for egg production, but it's going to be pretty tough on the fellow who is accustomed to eating at the second table and getting nothing but the wings and gizzards."

LITTLE LEADERS

Some of us can still remember when Littlefield merchants sold calico for 5c a yard and certain customers could always tell him where they could buy it for 3c.

Nothing makes the average Littlefield man madder than to spend $2 for gasoline to get to a fishing place and then find some other fellow's cork right where he had counted on putting his.

There comes a time in the life of every Littlefield man when he would give ten dollars if he could read a strange woman's mind when she was sizing him up.

What has become of the old-fashioned Littlefield man who wore a ready-made black bow tie that fastened to his collar button with a wire loop?

The Littlefield man just back from a vacation always says he feels better but what he means is that he feels it's better to be back home.

Some Littlefield women seem to believe that they have sufficient will power to go, sip or leave it alone.

Train your son in politeness and he will make a good book agent.

What a politician hears "with his ear to the ground" he broadcasts with a loud speaker.

WHAT IS DOING IN WEST TEXAS

JAYTON will soon see a modern brick building replace the old iron building adjoining the Palace theatre. The latter building is being torn down and the general merchandise store owned by G. Coury which will take its place will be run with the idea of giving sanitary goods, with high quality and the best price to the public.

ROCHESTER is seeing some road work done by the state highway department. Low places on the main thoroughfare which stood in water after every rain have been filled in. It is planned to fix other streets in the near future.

PORTALES, N. M. will be the home of the Eastern New Mexico division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce according to present plans. The Portales chamber of commerce plans to furnish office space, and extend the services of their secretary, Sam Seay, to the regional organization.

HAPPY'S new Methodist church is being constructed in a hurry. The excavation has been completed and the rough part of the plumbing done. Work has been started on the first floor. A nursery, kitchen, banquet hall, lavatory rooms, pastor's study and assembly room for the choir have been included in the plans for the house of worship.

The B-2 club met Tuesday night at the compress. Weiners and marshmallows were roasted. The regular meeting was held. Everyone stayed for a slumber party on the compress platform.

A SUCCESS STORY

"Twenty-five years from now I want to be worth at least $50,000," said a young man one day.

So he opened a bank account, and saved about $90.00 out of each month's income. Part of his money was kept in the bank and part of it was wisely invested otherwise under the direction of his banker.

He really saved from his pay check only a little more than $20,000, yet at the end of the 25 years he had almost $60,000. Such is the power of interest in behalf of money that is wisely kept at work.

This bank will be glad at any time to assist in your investment and other financial problems.

TERRACING SHOWS BENEFIT DURING THIS DRY WEATHER

According to Albert Parks, upon whose farm the county agent is holding a terracing demonstration, "my terraces are holding up much better on my terraced land, and are far more uniform than ever before, and so far my expense in farming my terraced land is less, with a possible higher yield than ever before."

"At the present time when rainfall is lacking one can surely see the benefit of keeping every drop of water on the land during the period of rainfall in the early spring, and the only way to do this is through terracing," said Mr. Parks.

Those who are interested in terracing should drive to the Parks farm, one mile south of Amherst, and see the actual results.

Terracing of wheat land during the past few months has proven very profitable, and the county agent is available to hold terracing demonstrations on wheat stubble of the past year.

A trip is being planned by the county agent to visit the Spur experiment station within this month to see the soil erosion experiments that have been carried on during the past few years, and those interested in making this tour are requested to turn in their names to him within the next few days. These experiments are very important especially so, in relation to amount of actual weighed water, and soil that have escaped from this land during the past few years where no terraces have been, and the surprisingly small amount when they have had terraces.

This tour will be taken during the latter part of this month.

BLACK HEAD AMONG TURKEYS

During the past month there have been many reports to the county in regard to sick turkeys, and upon investigation in nearly all cases traces of balckhead and intestinal worms have been found by the county agent.

The first thing to do is worm the turkeys with iodine solution, and follow then the practices of treating turkeys like one would chickens which had coccidiosis. After worming starve turkeys for a day, then give them names to him within the next few days and after the third day slowly add solid food, such as whole kaffir, milo, etc. This sort of treatment has been found very effective in the control of the present turkey sickness found throughout the county, according to County Agent D. A. Adam.

Insects are raised in incubators at the FLY-TOX factory. When they are fully grown and especially strong and lively they are turned loose in a test cabinet, "The Fly-Tox Chamber of Death." Less than a teaspoonful of FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Within five minutes all are dead. But, the test isn't finished yet. The dead insects are carefully taken from the "Chamber of Death" and put gently into incubators. They remain there 24 hours in an effort to revive them. If even a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested does not come up to the high standard of quality, and never leaves the factory. This is the quick acting insect spray you want. It is FLY-TOX. Accept no substitutes. There is nothing just as good. There is only one FLY-TOX. Developed at Melon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Every bottle guaranteed.—Adv.

OLD INDIAN FIGHTER OF COMMANCHE COUNTY IS HERE

W. H. Reed, 85, of Gustine, Commanche county, is here this week visiting his brother, L. D. Reed, 83, who resides in the north part of the city. "Uncle Bill," as he is familiarly known by his friends, states this is the first time he has ever visited the Plains country, having never been farther west than Sweetwater previous to this visit.

He boasts the fact that he is a native born Texan, and older than the state, it being a republic when he discovered it, and since that time he lived here under three different flags. During the early days he had many harrowing experiences fighting Indians and was also a Confederate soldier during the Civil war. He is accompanied here on his visit by two grandsons and the wife of one of them. Notwithstanding his 85 years of age, he is erect, hale and hearty and has kept all his faculties perfect and looks good for another 85 years. In fact, he says he has never had to call a doctor to see him but once since he was mustered out of the Confederate army.
