

DOUBLE DROWNING TRAGEDY HERE THURSDAY

Andrew Tittle, 16,
Ellis Harlan, 42,
Lives In Lake
Tittle Drowns In Diving;
Harlan In Attempting To Locate Body Of Youth

Lake on a farm three miles and one mile east of Littlefield was the scene for the deaths of two local persons last Thursday morning.
The victims were Andrew
Tittle, 16, and Ellis Harlan, 42, County farmer who died as a member of a searching party for the body of Tittle.
The body of the youth was recovered
at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night,
the lake had been combed about 1:30 o'clock p. m. when he dived off a row boat and died.
Harlan went to the scene of the drowning soon after the youths who with Tittle at the Lake had been Littlefield officials. He and other men, who, holding waded into the lake in an attempt to locate Tittle's body. Suddenly the men stepped into deep water and Harlan went down three feet before rescue was possible.
A. Webb became exhausted
in the search for the body and received attention at the Littlefield Hospital.
A number of other men needed
aid, including Deputy Sheriff Hopping, Alford Dunagin, A. A.
Henson, John I. Bowling, and
E. Strawn.
Hopping, who was in the boat, said: "There was suddenly a confusion and panic. It was many of them were unable to swim—several began hollering
and there was a scramble
for assistance."
The farmer, he said, went down times, "so quickly that you can't think that he had time to take any water."
Harlan was drowned about 2:30
p. m. Artificial respiration was used for nearly two hours but was unsuccessful.
Harlan and four other boys formed a swimming party. He and Fred

Salvage Committee Urges Every Family To Turn In Metal

Every Citizen In Lamb
County Urged To Do
Their Part In Scrap Drive

Every family of Lamb County is being called upon by our government to turn in their scrap metal of all kinds, according to V. F.
Jones, County Agent, and chairman of Lamb County Salvage Committee.
The month of August has been designated as the time to clean up the scrap metal from our places and turn it in to help win the war. Farmers are advised not to sell any scrap iron that they may need, but to go through their scrap and keep what they need and sell the rest.
A few hundred pounds of scrap metal from a number of farms will make lots of war materials so don't forget the small pieces; they are just as important as the big pieces.
This scrap is needed badly and the county salvage committee is urging every one in Lamb County to work and contribute their part to getting the scrap metals in. There are scrap dealers in every town of the county—gather your scrap up and take it in.

Sugar Allotments Are Increased

Increase in the sugar allotments of industrial and institutional users of sugar for the months of July and August, which were announced previously, will be extended to cover the allotment period of September and October. C. O. Griffin, chairman of the Lamb County War Price and Rationing Board, announced today.
Authorization for the increases in both allotment periods is contained in a new amendment to the sugar rationing regulations, C. O. Griffin explained, which was made effective August 17.
Industrial users will be given a 10 per cent increase thus raising their allotment to 80 per cent of their sugar base for these four months, while institutional users will be granted a 25 per cent increase, boosting their allotment to 75 per cent of their base.
Sugar purchase certificates for these additional allotments will be granted the institutional and industrial users when they apply for their regular allotments for the September-October period.
The Lamb County board has been authorized to accept applications for this period any time after August 7 and no special application is required to obtain this increase.

Alfred Pledges Himself to Support Pres. Roosevelt

"stretch runner," James Alfred is driving down the U. S.
national trail toward the August election in a dynamic campaign that has captured the imagination of the people.
Alfred and earnest stump speaking has already shattered one myth by forcing W. Lee into a runoff. Alfred is now a runner from his specific proposal for relieving "civilian casualties" while America at the same time presses this war to victory.
Alfred himself, former Governor of the district judgeship to make himself a campaigner of stout and tireless energy. He is confidant without closing his eyes to the hard job he has undertaken, and he likes to point out that in 1934 he overcame a greater percentage deficit in votes when he won the Governorship. Alfred's percentage in the primary that year was 29 per cent—less than the percentage of votes he received July 25. Yet in a thumping runoff he piled up a tremendous plurality to win over his opponent.

He has rededicated himself in this U. S. Senatorial runoff to his platform principles of winning the people's war as quickly as possible;
providing for our boys while they are in service and when they come home.

THE ATLANTIC CHARTER

One year ago August 14 President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced that they had signed a common statement of aims and principles for the kind of peace free men can make.
That statement became known as the Atlantic Charter. It was adopted in the United Nations Declaration signed in the White House on New Year's Day, 1942, by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr.
Churchill for the United States and Great Britain,
by Ambassador Litvinov for Russia and by Foreign Minister Soong for China. On the following day representatives of 22 other countries signed the Declaration and the number of United Nations
rose to 28 when Mexico and the Philippines adhered to the Declaration June 14.
The Atlantic Charter's economic objectives
have been formally made the basis of the Lend-Lease agreements concluded with our allies and all 21 American republics adhered to the principles of the Charter at the Rio de Janeiro conference last January.
The Charter has thus become the central statement on the kind of peace that the United States and United Nations are now fighting for the chance to build. It is a world-wide charter, as its text plainly states. It applies to all the world's peoples, to those who live on the Pacific and Indian oceans as well as to those who live on the Atlantic. It is called the Atlantic Charter because it was signed aboard a battleship on the North Atlantic during last summer's meeting of the President and Prime Minister.
Incidentally the name of the battleship where these principles of a free men's peace were laid down was the Prince of Wales. That battleship was sunk four months later off Singapore, fighting to her death against the Japanese wing of the Axis drive to conquer the world for tyranny.
The Charter has eight points. Their purpose is establishment of the kind of peace that will:
1. Afford to all nations the means to live in peace and safety within their own borders.
2. Assure to all people the opportunity to choose their own government and to "live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."
This purpose is stated in points three and six of the Charter. The Charter's other points implement this purpose: no seizures of other people's lands (one); no territorial changes except by choice of the people concerned (two); restoration of sovereign rights and self-government to those forcibly deprived of them (three); equal access for all peoples to the trade and raw materials of the world (four); international action toward securing for all a higher standard of living, improved labor standards and social security (five);
freedom of the seas for all men (seven); disarmament of the aggressors followed up by the setting up of a permanent system of international security that can keep the world at peace (eight).

Just Ridin' an' Roamin'

By MORLEY B. DRAKE
TIJERAS CANYON, HIGH IN THE MOUNTAINS EAST OF ALBUQUERQUE

We met a young soldier from 19
miles north of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He had never seen a rattle snake. We advised him not to get too friendly on short acquaintance
... with the rattle snake... such things as scratching his back and stroking his head were out... positively out.
This same young man said that he didn't like beer... and he screwed his mouth all up... just like he had taken a dose of very nasty medicine. That seemed kind of strange to us because we see signs all over telling us about a beverage... "the beer that made Milwaukee famous." But figuring everything out, perhaps it isn't strange that the young man doesn't like beer... A-1 spinach is grown in Texas... and we don't like spinach.

Continuing our visit with the youth from Wisconsin, we learned that there are many teetotalers in the armed forces... some like a drink
... some don't... just the same as in civilian life.

This same young man said that he was working for his wings...
he didn't have any ambition to be a corporal... a sergeant... or a lieutenant... all he wanted to do for the duration was to fly a ship and drop bombs on the enemy
... it's safer in the air than on the ground, he claimed... we didn't argue with him... it takes all kinds of folks to make up a world
... he doesn't like beer and we don't like spinach.

And down by the corral where they rent horses for so much per hour, we met a young soldier from Iowa. He told us all about being a successful rider up where the tall corn grows... just rode bareback anything that came along...
claimed he always got all tangled up in a muddle. We pointed out two

How Red Cross Helps Army Men

The question most frequently asked is "Just how does the American Red Cross help the man in Service?" Because of the varied services extended by Military and Naval Welfare, answers are numerous.

Herewith is presented an actual case which occurred recently in a Massachusetts Army camp, with names and details disguised for obvious reasons.

Twenty-two year old Private G.M.E. was notified by a brother that their mother was critically ill in a Michigan hospital. "Come home at once!" the Private was urged.

Excitedly Private G.M.E. reported to his Commanding Officer. To him an emergency furlough was essential. "We'll grant it if the Red Cross confirms this information," the Private was told.

The Red Cross Field Director—there's one in every camp—immediately telegraphed the Home Service department of the Chapter in the Michigan City.

A Home Service worker received the inquiry, contacted the doctor and the hospital and confirmed the seriousness of the mother's illness. A telegram to the Field Director recommended that Private G.M.E.'s visit home be permitted.

The Field Director, in turn, reported to the Commanding Officer the findings of the Chapter worker. The Commanding Officer, thus convinced of the legitimacy of the request, recommended the furlough.

But it takes money to make a 3,000 mile round trip. Private G.M.E. had some but not enough. The Field Director, from a fund available to him through the Red Cross, advanced the train fare and money for meals enroute. Private G.M.E., fully appreciative of the service rendered, was enroute to his home four hours after the first message from his brother was received.

The mother's condition did not improve in the time allotted under the emergency furlough so a request for an extension was made, referred to the Field Director and to the Home Serv-

Don't Hoard Calcium Arsenate

Cotton growers were urged by the Texas USDA War Board this week not to hoard supplies of calcium arsenate.

Ample supplies of calcium arsenate, which is used for poisoning cotton insects, are being manufactured. B. F. Vance, chairman of the board, said. According to latest information, approximately 68,000,000 pounds will be available, 10 per cent more than was used last year.

Indications are that some farmers are making purchases before they need the insecticide, while others are making unnecessary purchases or unnecessarily heavy purchases. As a result, local shortages are occurring in some areas.

Everything possible is being done to get the calcium arsenate to the places where it is needed at the time it is needed. Farmers and dealers can help meet this year's heavy demand by preventing early or unnecessarily heavy purchases and by using the materials as sparingly as possible, Vance continued.

Calcium arsenate is being manufactured at a maximum rate now, and the material is being distributed principally upon a basis of the normal pattern of use. A considerable portion of the current production, however, is being moved to areas where insect infestation is heaviest and the supply of poison appears adequate, according to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

ice worker, and when confirmation of the need was received the commanding Officer permitted a three day extension.

Private G.M.E. returned to his camp at the end of the furlough knowing that his mother would recover. Sixty days later he was thousands of miles from home, somewhere in Australia.

Private G.M.E. is only one of many thousands in the American armed forces who have been similarly helped through the Red Cross Military and Naval Welfare Service, made possible to our armed forces because the American people voluntarily contribute to the support of the Red Cross.

"It is imperative that we are immediately furnished a list of the names and addresses of all dependents—even though they do not need assistance—who have men overseas or stationed at distant posts in the United States," Colonel Gilbert said. "One function of the new section will be to inform all dependents in this area of the aids and facilities offered by Army Emergency Relief." Names and addresses should be mailed to the Army Emergency Relief Section in care of Colonel Gilbert, Lubbock Army Flying School, Lubbock, Texas.

"Establishment of Army Emergency Relief is one of the most important morale steps that has been taken because it promises each member of the Army that his dependents will be provided for regardless of where he may be," Colonel Gilbert declared. "We want all dependents in towns and cities in this area to feel free to call on us for any assistance, and we promise them that their problems will be kept confidential."

Services of the section will be enumerated as follows: 1. Outright grant of money to families in great need. 2. Loans to help dependents, or Army personnel, through any emergencies. No interest will be charged. 3. Relief in kind—that is, food, fuel, medical and dental care, hospitalization, assistance in securing pensions, compensation, insurance, allotments, etc.

4. Information about any phase of Army Emergency Relief, and from time to time, when available, information about service men who are separated from their dependents.

Eligible for assistance from Army Emergency Relief are cases arising from combat or accident casualties, hardships caused by a sudden change of station of units or individuals, and other financial distress incident to military service which the section may pass on.

Army Emergency Relief is a non-military, or private, charitable association incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia. The association has the full cooperation of the Army, the members of its national board of managers include the Under Secretary of War, two Assistant Secretaries of War, one other civilian, and two army officers.

The initial grant for the association came from the American Red Cross, whose relief work it supplements and with which it cooperates in administering to Army men and their families. Other funds have been donated by military personnel and civilians who make up the membership, and derived from various public and military benefits.

Colonel Gilbert pointed out that a service man need not be a member of Army Emergency Relief for his family or himself to get aid. "Relief will be provided personnel of the Army of the United States and their dependents, without regard to the degree of relationship of the dependents, including dependents of retired or honorably discharged or deceased personnel," Colonel Gilbert said. "The service man's rank will in no way be considered in determining the amount of aid to be given."

PEANUT PICKERS IMPORTANT Peanut pickers which Texas farmers are buying this year will be even more important next year when an even greater acreage probably will be planted to this important warcrop.

Farmers and cooperative groups now are purchasing 1,800 peanut pickers which were allocated to the Southwest for the harvest of this year's record crop. B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, said. He urged farm groups not to wait until too late to get their pickers as no more will be made available after the original allotment is exhausted.

He was close to the Midway tilt but was not directly in the zone of action. At Pearl Harbor, he was on a seaplane tender which almost was lifted out of the water by a bomb. Of the Coral Sea battle, Aday said: "We were so busy and the operation carried on over such a wide area that it was impossible to see too much." His ship was not damaged in that battle.

"Reap the Wild Wind" To Be Shown At Palace Theatre Saturday Midnight, Sunday, Monday

Three rousing cheers for Cecil B. DeMille, the only man in Hollywood who could have made "Reap the Wild Wind" the rousing, rowdy, splendid riot of color, adventure and sheer "bigness" that it is. The film, starring Ray Milland, Paulette Goddard and John Wayne, will be featured at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday.

DeMille took a thrilling story, written by Thelma Strabel and published in the Saturday Evening Post, and turned it into as thrilling a Technicolor movie as the eyes of this reviewer have ever seen.

Set in 1840 when America's seateered for the Army Air Corps, and is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

borne trade was threatened by wreckers who operated out of Key West and took advantage of the wild hurricanes of the Caribbean. "Reap the Wild Wind" tells the exciting story of a boy and a girl, Milland and Paulette, who helped to end the piracy. Behind the love story is the broad sweep of history, forerunner of a later day when steel-hulled undersea pirates would wreck ships off the very same shores.

While the shipwreck and hurricane scenes are exciting enough for a half dozen thrillers, the film's highlight comes when Milland and Wayne battle to the death in a fathoms deep rendezvous with a giant squid. This sequence alone is enough to ensure for "Reap the Wild Wind" a secure spot in cinema history.

Supporting the stars is a large and distinguished cast, including Raymond Massey, Lynne Overman, Robert Preston, Susan Hayward, Charles Bickford, Walter Hampden, Martha O'Driscoll and Janet Beecher.

If you want the peak in entertainment try "Reap the Wild Wind." You can't miss with this one.

Homemakers Should Have Own Garden Says H. D. Agent

Homemakers should encourage gardeners to have their own garden, is the recommendation made by Beatrice Hardy, County Home Demonstration Agent, Extension Service, A. M. College of Texas.

Pepper: Cut off the lower half of mature red pepper and scrape seed from cavity in the upper half.

Okra: Seed may be left in the bottom until ready for planting.

Eggplant: Seed from mature fruit should be washed thoroughly and spread in the sun to dry quickly. Otherwise seed will germinate if left overnight in damp pulp.

Cantaloup and watermelon: Wash seed thoroughly and spread out to dry.

If thoroughly dry, vegetable seed can be stored in various paper containers and should be kept in a cool, dry place. Beans and peas should be treated with a teaspoon of Carbon disulphide to a quart of seed to prevent weevil damage.

dark green specimens and leave on the vine until a rich golden color. Remove seed, and spread out to dry.

Tomato: Remove seed from vine-ripened tomato into small wire strainer and wash out material holding seed. Seed also may be scraped on a newspaper and placed in the sun to dry.

Wild Mustang grapes contain very little natural grape sugar, and yield only half as much juice as the improved varieties. However, Mustangs may produce juice of fair quality when blended with juice of improved varieties.

Better flavor and more attractive color are obtained by mixing juice of different varieties. Thus varieties with a deep red color may be used in combination with light colored grapes in proportion of 75 per cent to 75 per cent, and tart and sweet varieties may be blended for flavor. Here are some suggested blends.

Carmen 75 per cent (light and sweet) and Mustang 25 per cent (dark and tart).

Carmen 50 per cent and Black Spanish 50 per cent (for a deep, wine color).

America 50 per cent and Carmen 50 per cent.

Scuppernon 75 per cent and America 25 per cent.

Making Grapejuice In The Home

High quality grapejuice can be made from thoroughly ripe grapes of improved varieties without the addition of sugar. With inexpensive home equipment, grape juice can be made during July and August, the harvest season for wild grapes and improved varieties.

Blending should be done after extraction of the juice and prior to processing and bottling. A bushel of America, Black Spanish or Carmen grapes will yield three gallons of juice, and a bushel of Mustang grapes about 1½ gallons.

For a small quantity of juice made at home; an enamel or aluminum dishpan, a clean meal or sugar sack, ½ yard cotton flannel for filtering, a bottle capper and bottle caps, or corks which have been boiled in paraffine. For making juice on a large scale, add a crusher, fruit press, saccharimeter (for testing sugar content of the juice) and several large aluminum or wooden containers.

Steps in making juice are:

1. Wash grapes on the stem thoroughly and crush into aluminum, wooden or earthenware vessels. Do not use tin, iron or steel containers.

2. If highly colored juice is desired, heat the crushed grapes, stirring constantly, to 145 degrees F. Most of the color of the juice comes from the inner skin. Heating the crushed grapes and pressing while hot will produce a rich wine color.

3. After heating, extract the juice by pressing, or hang up in a drain bag and squeeze.

4. Filter the juice through cotton flannel cloth or jelly bag and blend or sweeten if necessary.

5. Pour into bottles or fruit jars, filling to neck of bottle or jar. Cap or cork.

6. Place in pasteurizer (may be large pot or wash boiler) having a false bottom, and cover with water completely. Heat and hold at 165 degrees F. as follows:

Pint bottles or jars 30 minutes.

Quart bottles or jars 35 minutes.

½ gal. bottles or jars 45 minutes.

Gallon bottles or jars 45 minutes.

7. Place bottles or jars on side when removed from the pasteurizer to test for leaks and to sterilize caps and lids.

8. Store in cool, dark location until all settling and precipitation in the bottles or jars has taken place (four to eight months).

9. If a clear juice is desired, uncork bottles after all settling has taken place, filter, rebottle and pasteurize.

Cautin: When first heated with stems on the grapes, avoid higher temperature than 145 degrees F. since a higher temperature will extract tannin from the stems and tartaric acid from the seed, giving the juice an undesirable flavor. In pasteurizing, temperature should not go above 165 degrees F. as this tends to destroy the natural flavor of the juice.

Chick Assn. To Hold Meeting Aug. 17-20

Dallas, Aug. 14.—Poultry's part in the winning of the war will be the theme of the Texas Baby Chick Association, which returns to its birthplace for its 19th annual convention to be held here at the Baker Hotel August 17-20. President U. H. Mileur of Sudan will preside.

Selective service, ceiling prices, inflation, priorities, tires, rationing and other war restrictions will be explained by Government officials to some 1,000 delegates representing Texas' $60,000,000 poultry industry, which brings cash returns to the state next to cotton, cattle and dairy products.

The Experiment Station of Texas A. & M. College has a report to make on their recent discoveries in the use of cottonseed meal in poultry feeds. The stimulus of the war on the dehydration of eggs will receive attention. Inflation as it affects the industry will be handled by Tyrus Timm, economist in farm management, Texas A. & M. Extension Service. Poultry diseases will be discussed by Dr. T. O. Booth, State Veterinarian, Dr. T. C. Byerly, senior poultry husbandman, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, will cover "Our Victory Program."

Scrap Harvest Is Vital War Crop

Another vital crop has been added to the list of important war crops on Texas farms this year—all kinds of scrap.

County USDA War Boards are working closely with county salvage committees in the drive to gather all the scrap on Texas farms this year, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, has announced.

"County boards have been carrying on scrap collection campaigns for some time," Vance said, "and their experience will prove valuable in the concerted, continuous drive which must be carried on from now till the last shot is fired."

America's steel mills need huge supplies of scrap iron and steel in order to operate at maximum capacity. In addition, the national salvage campaign will continue the drive to collect scrap rubber.

County USDA war boards are charged with the responsibility of reaching all farm people in the salvage campaign, Vance pointed out in his letter to the boards. They will work with the county salvage committees, farm equipment dealers, rubber dealers, WPA and other groups directly connected with the campaign.

GRAHAM BAKERY MOVE TO NEW LOCATION IN HALL BUILDING ON PHELPS AVENUE

The Graham Bakery, owned and operated by O. B. Graham and son, E. O., for the past two years, are planning to move Saturday to the Hall building, on Phelps Avenue, formerly occupied by the Littlefield Appliance Company.

E. O. Graham established the Graham Bakery on November 1, 1939, and was joined in the business by his father, O. B. Graham, in December of that year.

Mr. Graham, Sr., said Monday that since establishing the business they had added considerable new machinery, including new slicer, cookie machine, bread moulder, etc., and that their business had increased greatly each year until at the present time they were enjoying a wonderful volume, especially in the pastry line.

Mr. Graham asked the Leader to thank their customers for the splendid business extended them, stating their new location would offer a more convenient place for their trade.

Mr. Graham said he believed the new location on Phelps Avenue would be advantageous to their business, and would bring a further increase in their volume. The building will afford them a space 25x60 feet, which, with the Rucker building, which they now use for storage purposes, will give them ample space to carry on their business.

James Young Elected President Local FFA

James Young was elected president of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America at a meeting Tuesday night. Thirty-six members attended.

James is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young, and he has a very outstanding project program. The coming year should be one of the very best years for the Littlefield FFA, under his leadership.

Other officers elected were: Norbin Taylor, vice president; John Estle Willingham, secretary; William Thomas Hale, treasurer; Levi Coble, reporter; Kenneth Bales, parliamentarian; Fred Grisham, watch dog; and Claud Pool, Historian.

Other business at the meeting included discussion and plans for a Play Day, Friday, August 21, at the home of Buck Ross, and a skating party Tuesday, August 18, at 9 p. m., with the Homemaking girls.

An interesting program was presented at the meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Lehman of the State Highway Patrol gave a talk, and music was furnished by Hubert Gohlke playing the accordion, and Maurice McCarty and Doss Maynard. A movie, "Road to Happiness," was shown to the FFA boys and Homemaking girls.

With South Plains Men In The Service

Reginald Harlan, who is in the army air corps, arrived Friday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harlan, and his sister, Miss Geraldine Harlan, and their relatives. He has received basic training at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, an air base at Salt Lake City, Utah, and the Windover Guntery Range in Nevada and Utah. He had been stationed the past few weeks at Boise, Idaho, and will return soon to Boise, and will probably be transferred to Santa Anna, Calif.

He has been in the air corps the past three months, and prior to that time, he was in the ordnance division of the army. He had been a student at the Texas University, before he enlisted in the army in January, and would have received his degree in June.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson received the following letter this week from their son, R. P. Wilson, who asked that it be published for his friends in Littlefield.

"To Those Friends at Home: Here I am charge of quarters tonight with not much to do but to think of those bright lights back there in my old home town that I love so well. So I get me a pen and paper to write what is on my mind. We are somewhere in Northern Ireland, getting along swell, though we have our dislikes for something we have to do, but when you turn the card over you can see we are proud to be here. We all know that there is a big job ahead of us for those we left back home, and we are only too glad to do it. So keep those chins up and those bright lights a burning for we will be returning some day. Pfc. R.P. Wilson."

GUAYULE'S SWIMMING POOL

After the rubber producing guayule shrub has been chopped and crushed it is put in a large vat such as the above. The rubber, mixed with cork from the bark of the shrub, rises to the top and is skimmed off. In succeeding processes water is forced into the air holes in the cork, waterlogging it, and in a second similar flotation process the cork sinks to the bottom. The rubber is then dewatered and is ready for use in making tires, tank tracks or girdles.

BROUGHT UP ON GUAYULE

Juan Montero's ancestors gathered guayule in Mexico when it was first discovered there. His grandfather came to the United States when guayule was domesticated here in 1912 and have worked in the Salinas guayule fields ever since. Rubber is extracted from the roots and branches of the shrub, which contains a greater proportion of rubber than any other known plant, according to General Tire chemists.

Spade School Opened Monday With 208 Pupils

School opened Monday, August 10, with only seven regular teachers present. A total of 208 pupils were enrolled. This number is about 30 less than the number enrolled last year the first day. Part of the drop in number is due to a number of families being away for vacation, but the total enrollment this year is expected to be about 20 less than last year.

The teachers present the first day, besides the superintendent, R. L. Davidson, were Mrs. Quinton Wright, formerly Miss Robbie Rivers; Miss Cleome Martin, Miss Alma Osborn, Miss Fannie Pillow, Miss Elwanda Allen, and Vernon L. Jackson. Mr. Jackson was recently elected as principal and coach. Miss Mattie Lee Scargo, of Shamrock, was elected teacher of Home economics but was unable to be present because of the death of her father. Mrs. Davidson is substituting for her at present. Mrs. Roy McQuatters is substituting as math teacher and Mrs. C. D. Dodson is substituting as science teacher in the junior high school. Two regular teachers are yet to be elected.

A large number of parents were present at the opening of school to meet the teachers and wish the school another successful year.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

H. J. R. No. 1

A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Civilian Defense
Schools Being Held
At College Station

San Antonio, Texas, August 14.—R. E. Smith, Regional Director of Civilian Defense for the Eighth Civilian Defense Region is calling for volunteers to attend schools now being held at Texas A. & M. College at College Station, Texas. These civilian Protection Schools are for the purpose of giving thorough training in civilian protection matters so that those who attend may return to their schools or communities and teach courses there. It is especially hoped that the number of Texas teachers or upper-classmen from colleges will attend. The following is detailed information relevant to the schools:

"Each school continues for ten successive days and instruction is provided by experts from the War Department. Graduates of the school will in turn establish civilian protection training organizations in their own states and communities and organize and demonstrate typical control centers or command post exercises before large community groups.

"It is imperative that those attending these schools be men and women capable of organizing similar schools for instruction and of their communities protection. It is more important now than ever that colleges and universities exercise this leadership through selecting one or more individuals from their administrative or instructional staff, or even carefully chosen seniors or graduate students, and sending them to one of the Civilian Protection Schools.

"It is desired to emphasize that the candidates for these schools must initially have a knowledge of educational organization and administration as well as of pedagogical method that would enable them (after obtaining the technical knowledge of the Civilian Protection Schools)."

It is also highly desirable that manufacturing plants, utility companies and employees of fire insurance companies attend these schools because of their special interest in these matters.

The total cost is approximately $25 net including transportation to and from the school. Opening dates for future sessions of the School are August 23, September 6 and 20, October 4 and 18, November 1, 15 and 29, December 13 and 27. Applications should be sent as follows: The Honorable Coke Stevenson, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas.

Deadline In Applying For Crop Insurance August 31

Farmers have everything to gain and nothing to lose in the shift to a three-year contract for wheat crop insurance, according to J. F. Chafin, chairman of the Lamb County AAA committee.

Federal all-risk wheat crop insurance this year is being sold only on a three-year contract rather than on a yearly basis as in the past, the AA official said.

The three-year contract makes it possible for the wheat grower to know what his minimum income from wheat will be for the next three years, Chafin declared, since the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation guarantees that it will not lower the yield or increase the premium rate during the life of the contract.

At the same time, the grower has the privilege of cancelling the contract and signing up for a new three-year period in any year when the yield and rate established for his farm would be more advantageous to him, he explained.

In other words, farmers in this area who suffered crop losses this year will not have their rates raised or their yields lowered during the life of the contract, Chafin pointed out, but producers whose yields and rates would be more favorable will be able to take advantage of them. The grower who takes out insurance this year will have coverage during the three-year period at the rates and yields in effect this year, unless he wishes to cancel the contract and sign for another three-year period.

Crop insurance applications are being accepted at the county AAA office now. Deadline for applying is August 31 or before seeding of wheat, whichever is earlier.

HAVE DIFFICULTY IN LOCATING RELATIVES

When Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Baker of Oklahoma City decided to come to Holliday, Texas, to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Witherspoon, they did not advise them in advance, and on arriving at Holliday learned that these folks had a short time previous to their arrival left Holliday to visit relatives in Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker wouldn't be disappointed in the trip, so they drove on to Littlefield thinking this a small city like Holliday, and that they would easily find where their relatives were visiting. On arrival here they found this city much too large for that, and sought help in this newspaper office. However, though all the personal items in last week's issue were scanned, the newspaper did not furnish the necessary information.

The next best advice the newspaper could give this unfortunate visitor was to contact the police and city officials; and the Leader hopes Mr. and Mrs. Baker were able to find their relatives here.

die James, 12, rowed a boat to the opposite side of the lake, said to be about a half mile across, and had rowed back into the center toward the shore where their companions were waiting.

Hopping said Tittle, meantime, was diving out of the boat. He had made several dives, then came one after which he bobbed to the water's surface and cried for help. James attempted to row the boat near, he said, "but he never came up again."

On shore were Orville James, 14, Billie Knight, 14; and Toney Wayne Clark, 12.

Hopping said it appeared that the boy had had an attack of cramps.

Many people from Littlefield and vicinity went to the lake during the afternoon, and numbers of men offered their assistance in finding the body, as they swam into the lake and dived from motor boats.

The youth's body was recovered with the aid of members of the Lubbock fire department. Chains, grappling hooks and a drag bar were brought from Lubbock.

The lake is on the Bruce Porcher farm.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for both victims.

Final rites for Tittle were held at 3 o'clock at Hammons Funeral Home. Bro. Jack McCormick of the Ninth Street Church of Christ was in charge of the service. Interment, under the direction of Hammons, was in the Littlefield cemetery.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tittle, a brother, Euell, 10, and a sister, Billy Jo, 13. They reside in the College Heights Addition.

Pallbearers were Arthur Jones, W. J. Chesher, Elmer J. Moore, Sid Hopping, Buck Ross, and Mr. Matthews of Buia.

Services for Ellis Harlan were conducted at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist Church by Rev. Wilton Lynn, pastor of the Methodist Church at Janes, assisted by Rev. J. H. Sharp, local Methodist pastor. Interment was in the Littlefield cemetery, under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Harlan had lived in the Littlefield vicinity the past 10 or 12 years. He is survived by his wife, a son, Lamar, 16, two daughters, Ina Virginia, 12, and Marinell, 7. A brother, J. J. Harlan, resides east of Littlefield. Survivors also include his step-mother, Mrs. George Harlan of Slaton, and five brothers, Fate Harlan of Southland, Tom of Goree, Felix of Cooke, J. ness for this war. If it had not been for the isolationists in high places, he says, MacArthur would have had 200,000 more men at Manila and the Japs would never have dared to strike at Pearl Harbor.

He has leveled his fire at those who voted to disband America's selective service army just four months before December 7.

In a statesmanlike accounting of war and domestic problems, Allred has called for 25-cent cotton, real parity for all farm and ranch commodities and a one-dollar limit on union initiation fees.

"No man or woman should have to join a union to work on a defense job or in a war industry," he declares, and he has pledged himself as Senator to introduce a bill prohibiting any enforced initiation fee, permit fee or dues in defense industries.

"As a fighting Texas Senator, I will support President Roosevelt—my Commander-in-Chief and yours—on his war policies until Hitler and the Japs are permanently removed as a menace to our freedom, until the peace is written and enforced.

"At the same time as Texas' Senator I shall fight for Texas' rights. General Robert E. Lee said he would never draw his sword against Virginia. I shall never lift my voice nor acquiesce in any proposal or suggestion harmful to the interests of six million Texans."

In his campaigning, Allred reports, he has found "the most definite inequality in the entire war effort behind our fighting lines is the fact that Texas farmers have had to fight this war with their sons and the products of their farms without getting a just return. No Texas farmer is unpatriotic; the country ought not to be unpatriotic toward the Texas farmer by taking his produce away from him at less than it is really worth in comparison with wages and profits of others."

He favors and has pledged himself to work for 3 per cent government loans to farmers and ranchers, and is urging that mohair surpluses be built up, for these will be needed, along with other agricultural and ranch products, when the war is over.

"They will melt like snowballs when we are called upon to feed the starving and clothe the naked of the world," he says. "Every ship now carrying war materials will have to be loaded to capacity to meet the demands of a devastated globe."

He has promised to sponsor a bill calling for the simplification of governmental reports business men have to make every day. He is further advocating that America make use of these business men in place of theoretical experts wherever possible, pointing out that their training and brains are a real resource.

He pledges to continue to oppose federal control of oil—a step he successfully blocked while Governor—and has set himself squarely against regimentation or nationalization of business, against gasoline rationing, against socialized medicine, and against federalization of unemployment compensation.

Allred, at the same time, is reminding that the country must continue old age benefits which were begun in his administration as Governor, and favors lowering the age limits if necessary to take care of Texas' aged citizens.
