The ladies of the Civic Club, backed up and assisted by the members of the City Commission this week instituted a clean-up campaign which will last until the members feel the City of Littlefield 's in a sufficiently wholesome and sanitary condition to warrant desisting drastic action with mowing blade ,rake and shovel.

Beginning next Monday the campaign will be on in dead earnest. The city will be divided into wards or sections, in charge of captains and white wing squads who will supervise emaculatory operations. The captains have authority in certain directory matters leading toward sani-

The First National Bank of Littlefield had its opening day last Saturday, a large number of people coming in to make initial deposits, talk over future business connections and to meet the new management .

Over $50,000 was received in deposits the first day's business, according to Cashier E. L. Maxey, who expressed his appreciation of the confidence and patronages extended Littlefield's new financial institution.

This new bank bears every evidence of becoming one of Littlefield's most prosperous concerns. With a personnel representing some of the most solid and enterprizing citizens of the town and community, and manned by officers of large experience in banking circles, there is every reason to believe it will at once take its rightful place in the front ranks of the business interests of this section.

In commenting upon the opening day, Mr. Maxey stated it was above their expectations, and that the nicer thing about their opening was the fact that the good business was continuing, a large number of out of town accounts having been transferred to the new institution and several new strong local accounts being

COUNTY RECORDS LARGE INCREASE DURING THE YEAR

That the total intrinsic valuation of Lamb county property for the year 1925 is $21,078,440.00, an increase of $1,110,450 over the previous year, is the deduction arrived at by figures just presented by County Assessor C. E. Cundiff, this week, when he finished his tax rolls and forwarded them to the state capitol at Austin.

Cundiff declared the job of tax assessor was no sinecure in these days. Three years ago when he first assumed the responsibility of taking care of the county's wealth enumeration the job occupied about five months of his time and required only five rendition sheets for the entire amount. The job just finished this week for the past year ,has taken 11 months time and 4,385 rendition sheetswithin itself a tribute to the remarkable development of the county during that period.

Last year the books showed 1,008 poll taxes assessed, according to Mr. Cundiff, while this year the number assessed amounted to 2,193. No assessments were made after January 1st, and it is estimated by the assessor that fully 1,000 more citizens arrived after that time.

The population of the county is now rated at over 10,000 people.

During the past year, the books reveal the fact that real estate values have increased $87,350.00, while city property values have increased $405,-

It is a note worthy fact that the new farm settlers coming in with their cows, horses, mules, hogs and dairy stock, have largely taken the place of the range cattle shipped out during the past year occasioned by the cutting up of the big ranches of this county. 1505 horses and mules in the county have been valued at $75,250.00. 15,749 cattle have been valued at $314,800.00 280 sheep have been valued at $1,400.00. 340 hogs have been valued at $3,400.00.

The valuation of personal property was put at $35,000.00.

The total valuation last year was $6,659,330.00; this year the valuation is placed at $7,029,480.00.

The tax roll last year totaled $112,-634.51; this year it was increased to $125,536.06.

Goods and merchandise was rated at $231,510; while farming tools and machinery was set down at $60,560.

It is stated by Mr. Cundiff that no taxes have been levied against the improvements on farm property, which in all probability would total another $300,000.00.

Live stock valuations were taken on a 50 per cent basis, while land values were assessed on the basis of 33 1-3

FIRST TWO BALES COTTON GINNED HERE SATURDAY

Despite the inclement weather and retarded crops over the Plains, because of the heavy rains, two bales Plains. of cotton were ginned here Friday by the Davanay gin.

The initial bale of the season was brought in by Calvin Patterson, who lives nine miles west of Littlefield. It was a 408 pound bale and was ginned from 1230 pounds of seed cotton.

W. E. Lacey, who resides three miles south-east of Littlefield was the owner of the second bale, which weighed 440 pounds and was ginned from 1520 pounds of seed cotton.

Both bales were bought by R. D. Bourough, paying 20 1-2 cents for the first bale and 23 cents for the second, the price being in line with other markets of this vicinity.

In all probability the cotton yield in this section will exceed any section in the state, with practically no dis- ity, and construction began this truction caused by rainfall or insects, week. and with the enormous acreage the yield promised to be very favorable.

A FOOLISH ARGUMENT

A few days ago we noticed a news item to the effect that a man living somewhere in Indiana had been dismissed from the orthodox church he attended because in making a living by growing flower bulbs he hybredized them so as to create new varieties.

The pastor of the church, who seems to have been the leader in the movement to excommunicate the bulb grower, explained that the man had been interfering with the divine scheme of things. "If the Almighty had wanted flower bulbs hybredized he would have made them that way," declared the parson as he shut the doors of the church in the face of the Indiana parishioner.

Proctate and Bladder Trouble Makes Many Mon Fool Twenty Years Older Than They Are.

It is said that fifty per cent of men past forty and many younger ones are victims of prostate trouble.

One of the commonest symptoms of this dangerous disease which saps vitality and makes you old before your time is the necessity of getting up several times a night.

Other symptoms are dull, dragsy, aching at the base of the spine, pain in groin, burning sensation of organs, lack of vigor and frequent attacks of the blues.

lack of vigor and frequent attacks of the blues.

But there is hope for you, no matter how old your case, from a wonderful new formula. It seemingly brings new health, vigor and freedom from these troubles to both old and young.

This wonderful treatment is known as Walker's Prostate Specific, and is prepared in convenient, pleasant table form. All you need to is take one tablet after each meal and the symptoms seem to vanish like magic.

To prove these statements the Walker Institute, 1888 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo., generously offers to send a $1 treatment under plain wrapper, postpaid and free of charge to any sufferer who will write for it. STORE Y. H. SWITCH

Oklahoma Merchant Optimistic Over Growth of This Section.

C. H. Heckler, of Waukomis, Okla., is this week putting up a nifty little filling station and store building at Yellow House switch, about six miles east of Littlefield on the R. Q. M. highway.

Mr. Heckler was returning from a trip to California a few days ago, and came by here to look after his farm interests which he has held in that vicinity for the past 12 years. He became so favorably impressed with the wonderful outlook and development of this section, that he immediately decided to make this his future home, and, accordingly entered into negotiations with H. L. Smith for a location for business on his land which adjoins the Y. H. switch.

Mr. Heckler is an experienced merchant, now owning two stores in Oklahoma, which he will probably sell, devoting his entire time interest to the new business enterprise.

This new store and filling station will be of great value for community trading to the farmers of that section.

LADIES DISCUSS SUNDAY CLOSING OF BIZ. HOUSES

That the church organizations are and development of Littlefield and the surrounding territory was substantiated Tuesday afternoon, when 60 ladies of the church organizations of the city met in a joint session, at the Methodist church, for a very interesting program and social hour.

Garden flowers were artistically arranged adding brightness to the occasion, and as each lady arrived she tium corsage and was served to delicious fruit punch and wafers, also at departing.

Mrs. O. F. Grier, chairman of the social service committee, of the Missionary society of the Methodist church, called the house to order at three o'clock, making a brief welcoming talk and with a scripture reading. after which she introduced Mrs. L. W. Jordan, president of the W. M. U., the Baptist organization, Mrs. W. G. Street, president of the Presbyterian auxiliary and Mrs. Burns, president of the Missionary society, who took their places near the leader.

A prayer was led by Mrs. Lauramore, followed by a hymn, "Work For the Night is Coming."

Mrs. Pat Boone made a very instructive talk on, "What is Social Service," bringing out many good points.

Mrs. H. J. Jordan delighted the guests with a solo, "Help Somebody Today."

Mrs. R. L. Speight made a talk on 'Recreation for the Young People in the Church," bringing out the fundamental points on the subject and it's great necessity in the church organiz-

"Blest Be The Tie That Binds," was the closing hymn and Mrs. E. A. Bills dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

Following the program the ladies mingled in a very genial get-acquainted meeting.

A round table discussion on closing the business places in Littlefield on the sabbath had been planned but it was decided that the president of each auxiliary appoint a committee from their organization to meet with the Chamber of Commerce in the near future to discuss the matter.

Mrs. W. G. Street, in behalf of the Presbyterian auxiliary, extended the invitation for the next joint meeting, which will be held the fifth Tuesday in December, to meet with them in the church basement, unless a further gathering place is designated.

Possible to Keep All Roots in Fresh Condition.

Few people realize the number of vegetables that may be kept in the fresh state for winter use.

The essential conditions for the storage of all root crops including such vegetables as potatoes, beets, carrots, horse radish, parsnip, winter radish ratabaga, saisify, turnip, kohirabi and also cabbage, are that they be kept cool and moist, away from air currents. Storing should be done as late as possible, avoiding freezing. link that breaks is not the successful

These conditions may be met in several ways. The simplest for home use where only a few of each are to be stored, is to place them in a box of moist sand or soil in layers and leave In a cool part of the cellar,

Where larger quantities are to be kept, they may be put in what is known as an out-of-door pit. Only whole specimens free from disease should be used. The method is as follows: The vegetables are placed in a conical pile on the surface of the ground in a well drained location. A covering of six to eight inches of straw or litter is then placed over them, and a covering of as much soll, commencing at the bottom and working toward the top. In severe climates a later covering of manure may be necessary as soon as the soil freezes. In this way, vegetables may be kept in perfect condition until we'l slong in the spring .- J. J. Gardner, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colorado.

Fall Plowing Best Plan for Eradicating Garlic

That the fall plowing or cultivation method of destroying wild garlie is successful in practically all cases in which the work is carefully done, was further indicated by a recent check-up among farmers who have practiced this method in Knox county, Indiana, according to a statement eceptly issued by A. A. Hansen of the Purdue university agricultural ex-

J. B. McCarty started the method three years ago on a 22-acre field heavily infested with garile. In spite of the fact that the work was seriously interrupted one season on account of weather conditions, most of the garife has been eradicated. Me-Carty plowed the infested field during the fall of 1921, plowing again the following spring. This was followed by corn and the fall plowing was continued during 1922. At present the field is in soy beans. Nolan McClure succeeded in eradicating a bad stand of garlie by two years of fall and spring plowing, usrye in the fall. His results were exceptional since at least three years are usually required to destroy wild garlic by this method. The cultivation method consists essentially of fall plowing as to turn the garile plants completely upside down, followed by spring plowing and a cultivated crop such as corn, cowpeas, or soy beans, either in rows or broadcasted.

Feed Liberally to Get Profitable Flow of Milk

"Liberal feeding must be practiced If profit is expected from dairy cows," says R. W. Clark of the Colorado Agricultural college. "A large portion (50 to 75 per cent) of the food given a cow is required for maintenance, the remainder being required for the manufacture of milk. With a scant feeding, the whole amount given may be used for maintenance, leaving nothing for milk production.

"In feeding for large returns, a variety of foods gives better results than a single diet. Such a ration is better digested, relished longer, and is more likely to meet all the requirements of the body. Large consumption of food is important and this will be accomplished with a mixed diet. If certain needs of the body are not suppiled, the animals will develop a depraved appetite, leading them to eat ones, leather, paper and similar materials to satisfy the craving which arises because the ration is lacking in ome particular nutrient."

FALSE ECONOMY IN RATIONS FOR COWS

common practice among many armeral who feed dulry cows to feed illierally of ear corn or a plain mixture of corn and cobmeal and ground oats. chiaking that if they food enough of it silled expensive protein foeds. These practices are seldom given much at tention until they come into the range of cow-testing associations.

When such men do become members of some cow-testing association, it is often difficult to induce them to decrease the total amount of grain fed and add a high protein feed to their present ration, says a writer in the Successful Farming. Their argument is usually that the feed will cost too much. The following illustration was used by the writer quite recently to prove that such is not the case;

A member of the Jefferson county, lowa, cow-testing association was feeding his cows a ration of 300 pounds of corn and cosmeal, and 200 pounds of ground oats. The average monthly production of his herd was 470 pounds of milk and 24 pounds of butterfat. His ration was cesting him $1.04 per 100 pounds. To 18 cows he was feeding 7,200 pounds of grain during the month at a cost of $74.88.

A suggested ration of 400 pounds of corn and cobmeal, 300 pounds of ground oats, 300 pounds of bran, 100 pounds of cottonseed meal and 200 pounds of oilmeal would cost him $1.73 per 100 pounds. This ration is considerably more expensive per 100 pounds but at the rate his cows were producing, 3,300 pounds of the suggested ration would have been sufficient to keep up the cows' production during that month. However, 3,780 pounds were suggested to allow for putting some of the cows in a little better condition. This amount of grain would cost $60.39. Here is a saving of $14.49 for the month.

Apart from this saving, the fact should not be overlooked that the suggested ration contains more protein, consequently an increase in production can reasonably be expected. The owner's ration contains only about 7 per cent protein, which is altogether too little for large and economical production. The suggested ration will contain about 12.3 per cent protein. The posture which these cows were getting was not abundant and a little supplementary roughage would have improved conditions considerably.

Another member was feeding, along with fair pasture, 15 pounds of ear corn to cows quite recently fresh, At 60 cents per bushel this feed would cost him $3.87 for each cow per month Ear corn is not an economical feed at any time because of the quite large percentage that is not digested. Seven pounds of the same ration, as was advised in the previous case, would cost 3.63 for each cow per month. This would be a saving of 24 cents on each cow. Apparently this is only a small saving but the higher protein content of the suggested ration would, no doubt, bring about an advance in production which would indirectly be a further saving.

It should be easy to see from these Illustrations that what appears to be a saving in refusing to feed high protein rations is simply false economy. In many cases less pounds of grain in a balanced ration will bring more economical results than a liberal amount of feeds deficient in that absolutely necessary milk-making food, pro-

If the conditions in that first illustration had been the same for the entire year, a saving of $173.88 could have been effected and it costs only about $40 to be a member of a cow-testing association for a year.

Big Cows Produce More

Milk, Declare Experts cow producing 100 pounds of butterfat a year on the average returns $8 to her owner above cost feed, and the cow pounds returns $99. With four times the production, over 12 times the return above feed cost is secured.

It is significant also that Dana of Vermont, Pearson of Illinois, and others have furnished evidence from which the conclusion can be drawn that arge cows produce more, make more efficient use of feed and produce more economically when all items of cost are considered than do smaller ones. In this way the size of the cow is one factor that influences milk costs. Again mature cows between the ages of five and eight as a rule produce more efficiently. This is shown by McCan-dish, of Iowa, who after making a study of over 10,000 official records, concludes that milk is produced in larger quantities at a lower cost by cows between five and eight years of age.-H. R. Lascelles of the Colorado Agricultural College.

Soy Beans for Cows

Soy bean meal proved to be fully as aluable as oilmeal as a feed for dairy attle in an experiment conducted recently at South Dakota State college. Feeding soy bean meal in moderate quantities did not have a damaging effect on the butter made from the milk, although if fed in excess it has tendency to produce a soft, salvybutter. There is no reason why farmers should not cut down the feed bill by raising their own high-protein

"How-do-you-do, Green?"

Then she changed her voice so it was just like her own,

"Very well, indeed, I thank you," she answered.

"And are the children quite well,

Mrs. Cucumber Green?" "Quite well, I thank you," she answered again. "Only." she added, "I am a little bit worried about Robbie. He caught a cold yesterday and I do hope it don't get worse." "Dear me, that is too bad," the neighbor said, sadly, shaking her head.

"Well, I do hope I won't have to give the dear child a dose of castor oil." Mrs. Cucumber Green said. "If I have to do that I have two chocolates to give him for taking it. But I shall not give it to him unless I have to do so. I always think it is so unkind to give a child castor oil unless he is very, very sick."

"Just the way I feel about castor oil," said the neighbor.

"And are the other children well? I think you said they were?"

"Oh, very well," sald Mrs. Green, Now Mrs. Cucumber Green was just four years old. It was a most perfect age. It was such a nice, round, complete age. Next year she would be

She was "going on" five now. She had been given a set of pink shes for her birthday, and a big cloth cat. The cat had to be leaned up against something or he would fall down. She had already given the cat a fine name.

Lucifer was the cat's name, named after a big cat who lived across the street. The big cat's mistress used to call out for him. "Lucifer, Lucifer, Lucifer, Luc-i-fer!" She was going to have a party in the afternoon so she was very busy dressing the children during the morning. It was hard to decide just which clothes they should wear as they had quite a few nice clothes. Of course Gyp, the darling little gray dog stuffed with sawdust, didn't need to be dressed, except that there was a blue ribbon to tie around his neck. Neither did Johnny Naples have to be dressed. He always wore the same suit, summer and winter, for best and for every day. His suit was a bright worsted one of many colors and as he had come all the way from Naples, which was way across the sea, she had given him the name of Naples.

Her uncle Johnny had given him to her and so she called him Johnny, too. But most important of all was the dressing of Allie Bas. Allie Bas was a rag doll, the most adorable, wonderful rag doll in the world, Her body was just the right size for hugging, and though her painted face was kissed until it was quite dull, still every year or so Allie's face could be re-paint-to call her Allie Bas for short. With grown-up mothers it was much nicer that they didn't have favorites with their children. Grown-up mothers should never have favorites and so they were very good about this. But when you are a "pretend" mother you can have favorites. That is one of the nice things about being a "pretend"

Allie Baa was Mrs. Oucumber Green's favorite child. The others were very kindly treated, and they were leved, as all children should be. Mrs. Oucumber Green knew that, But Allie she adored!

Twelve Links in Clean Milk Chain

Healthy Herd and Careful Attention to Details Quite Important.

Contrary to a somewhat common belief, it does not require expensive equipment, high priced cows, or much extra work to produce clean milk.

With a healthy herd, kept in a clean stable and yard which can be kept cican easily, and with careful attention being given to details a milk con be produced, according to E. H. Farrington and L. C. Thompson, dairy specialists at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, which is both highly nutritious and wholesome.

Since the reputation of many a farm and factory is based on the purity of its products it is quite important that all of the aids to clean milk production be known. The first consideration, the experts point out, is that of a clean herd. Good milk cannot be produced from diseased cows. A clean stable also aids immensely in the prefriction of clean milk.

Must Exercise Care.

Good ventilation is also an imporpent factor. It is quite important that animals secure plenty of pure fresh air since tuberculosis spreads faster and gains an easier foothold where fresh air is not provided in abundance: A dry barnyard and the removal of the manure some distance from the barn will aid greatly in reducing the number of files which; in the summer, annoy the cows and the

The value of pure water, abundant sunlight, and careful feeding cannot be overemphasized according to the specialists. The matter of clean milking and clean utensils are intimately associated; for great numbers of bacteria may be introduced into milk from the bodies of the cows and from unsterilized utensils. Quick cooling of milk to lower temperatures prevents bacterial growth and gids in the production of better milk which will keep longer and make finer dairy products.

Prompt Delivery Necessary.

After the milk has been produced under conditions which are as near ideal as possible it is important that it be delivered promptly to careful customers, Farrington and Thompson declare. They report that milk should be kept in cold water until it is loaded onto the wagon to go to the station or receiving plant.

Clean milk means fewer complaints. a better class of patrons, and a steady market for the product, the specialists conclude.

Various Crops Injured

by Tiny White Maggots Carrots, parsnips and celery are injured by tiny white maggets that bore in the roots and sometimes in the case of carrots completely honeycomb them with their burrows. Unfortunately we know very little about this pest, because-it is a European insect that has Glenn W. Herrick in the Rural New Yorker. In England a quart of kerosene thoroughly mixed with a bushel of wood ashes and distributed along both sides of each row of carrets has given fairly good protection, it is said: After the ashes have lain two days the oil is washed into the soil with water from a hose. It is doubtful if this remedy is always practicable in gardens im this country and it is some what doubtful if it will prove successful: It is, however, worth trying in a garden. It is also reported that Dutch gardeners in Holland are able to secure protection from this magget by planting onions among the carrots.

The writes would suggest the use of obacco dust containing at least 1 per ent of alcotine. Such tobacco dust can be obtained now from reputable manufacturers. It should be distributed along each side of the plants in a row, using about one pound to 25 or 30 feet of plants. It should be applied as soon as the plants are two or three inches high.

Alsike Clover Pastures

Unfit for Some Animals Most farmers know that whiteskinned animals pastured on alsike clover are apt to develop sores on the nose, ears and legs. Why this is, science has not been able to definitely determine, the nearest they can come to it is to say that it is a type of poisoning, says the Indiana Farmers Guide. This poisoning seeins worse when hot sunny weather follows a heavy dew. Professor Hansen, the weed expert of Purdue, advises that when it is noted that the sores are appearing, the affected animals should be immediately taken off the clover and out on grass While the danger of alsike polsoning is not sufficiently great to warrant farmers to avoid the growing of this valuable crop in areas where it is adapted, it behooves those who keep white-skinned stock to use care and judgment in pasturing it.

Sweet Clover Hay

Sweet clover hay that is well cured and not too coarse and stemmy is equal to alfalfa hay as feed for dairy cows and since it is generally conceded that alfalfa hay is superior to red clover hay for dairy cows sweet clover hay must be considered better than red clover hay. It must be remembered, however, that sweet clover hay must be well cared and not too coarse; the cutting from the first year's growth is most satisfactory.

The Texas Utilities Company

It Supplies Light and Power Without Effort on Your Part

That is one of the reasons why service of electricity is growing so fast It meets the definition of "an essential public service."

No community that expects to grow can get along without electric light and power. No community can grow unless its electric service grows ahead of it to make its growth possible.

Supplying electric power and light is not selling a commodity. It is doing service. This service must be ready every minute of the day. It must be ample to meet all demands. It must be supplied to all alike.

These things about this service lend it the great public interest that attend it. They are the things that make it desirable for the community and its people and electric utility management to understand each other fully and be perfectly frank with each other.

HADDAWAY SELLS THE SCHOOL LAND OF HALE COUNTY

That Haddaway ranch, located west of Sudan, is the latest of the ranches to be entirely sold out to settlers. As an idication of the interest displayed in that section, it is well to note the localities from which the settlers came. Among the buyers 15 Texas counties were represented, viz: Eastland, Dickens, Lampasas, Lubbock, Garza, Lamb, Limestone, Wichita, Wilbarger, Gray, Haskell, Hardeman, Bailey and Collingsworth. Oklahoma was represented with settlers from four counties, Tillman, Greer, Harmon and Jefferson. The long distance buyer hailed from California, who bought the block adjoining the Fairview school, and in addition to farming, he will put in a store, filling station and cotton gin.

The settlers are already breaking sod, putting down wells and starting vigorous development.

Mr. Haddaway is one of the earliest investors in the Sudan section, having made his first purchase there in 1910, before it was known that there was to be railroad facilities through this county. After 15 years experience in this part of the Plains, he is more convinced today than ever before, that this is one of the richest and safest farming sections of Texas. During his residence in Lamb county he has handled the sale of 18,000 acres, on a part of which the town of Sudan is now located.

Being loth to leave this section, Mr. Haddaway has, in conjunction with M. C. Vaughan, recently secured the exclusive sale of the Hale county school lands, west of Sudan. It is the last of the unsold school land in this section, and is considered exceptionally high grade stuff. It is surrounded by a well settled county, and a peculiar feature of the selling will be the fact that deeds are to be issued direct to the buyers from the county, which so far is known, is the first time such has ever been done.

"Banking" System Old

The Roman emperors lent money spon land. The lending of money on he security of movable articles, which were said to be pledged, became common in European countries during the Fifteenth century. Out of this grew the system known as pawnbroking. which was specially regulated in England in 1756, and 27 years later the business of pawnbroking was licensed.

C. B. Edgar went to Lubbock Saturday after a load of groceries. The hungry farmers around Whitharral keep Mr. Edgar on the road most of the time.

Miss Vivian Jordan who is teaching our primary grades in school, spent the week-end with her mother and brother at Littlefield.

Our school opened Monday with an enrollment of 75 pupils. Several have been enrolled since. The school work is somewhat hampered by the pupils being crowded in the old school building and also a shortage of text books, but our capable teachers and patrons are putting forth every effort to meet these emergencies. Two closed in and upholstered school trucks driven by Messrs. Ramsey and Lawson, transport the children. If all of the improved farms in this district are occupied next year other trucks will be necessary before the term closes.

HOW SYSTEM HELPS

The word system has a strong sound, like the name of a taskmaster who keeps our noses constantly at the grindstone. But its mission really just the opposite.

It steps into our chaotic day and smooths out the wrinkles, and culls out of our haphazard methods. It makes head save heels and one motion do where two were required before. It is as much needed in a home as in a factory.

To install system in your home, first make a definite plan of your work. Know what you want to do S. F. Elliott and sons have bought this day ,this week, this month, this System will help you discover how corners may be cut, how duties often separate may be combined. It will teach you to place the kitchen table near the sink and the stove; to keep brooms, kettles and paring knives where they are most frequently used to do several upstair jobs while you fewer trips to the cellar; to order grocall ;to make ironing board and work table the convenient heighth; to plan menus for several days ahead; and to prepare dishes for two meals with one 'session" in the kitchen.

System saves money by means of the budget; and by the purchase of one article which will serve various purposes, and which requires least effort to keep it in order. It saves the time we waste in wondering where we are "at" now, and what to do next. It divides the words among the members of the family and gives each one a fair share trough making each appreciate home more.

System gives the children a regular hour for going to bed and for getting up, for work and play, for washing, brushing teeth, and combing hair. With regular hours and regular habits they do not have to be told every time and this makes them responsible individuals and saves irritation.

If your life is rather hodge-podge, give your attention to organizing it. See if you cannot practice system in the arrangement of the house; in the daily routine; in buying; in planning; in saving money; and physical care of the family. This will oil the wheels of your home life and make it run smoothly.-Plainview News.
