

Auto Crash Is Fatal To One; 3 Injured

D. W. Smith, Mentone, Killed In Head-On Collision

A terrific crash of two automobiles on highway 1, three and a half miles east of Big Spring during a driving rain Monday afternoon took the life of one man and left three other persons badly injured. Little hope was held for one, a seven-year-old girl.

Child Unconscious
Dead was Dan W. Smith, 30, gauger for the Standard Oil company at Mentone, Loving county. In the hospital suffering critical injuries were his wife and their young daughter, Billy Jean; and the driver of the other car, Fred Bond, oil driller of Coahoma.

Bond, driving alone, was east-bound in a Studebaker; the Smiths, in a Chevrolet, were headed toward Big Spring. Officers investigating the mishap said one of the machines turned out to pass a truck and that the two automobiles collided almost head-on. The machines were demolished.

The injured were rushed to a local hospital by passers-by, and Smith succumbed about the time he reached there.

The little girl remained unconscious Tuesday afternoon, and physicians despaired of her recovery. Her skull was fractured in three places, and she suffered a jaw fracture and rib fractures.

Mrs. Smith suffered a broken leg, two arm fractures, a fractured pelvis and severe face and body lacerations. Her condition was regarded as critical.

Bond suffered a severe chest injury, facial lacerations, and cuts on both knees.

Funeral arrangements for Mr. Smith had not been completed, but rites probably will be held Thursday, it was announced from the Nalley funeral home. Besides his wife and daughter, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith of Christoval; three brothers, Cecil Smith of Monument, N. M.; Raymond Smith of Mentone, and William Smith of Christoval; and three sisters, Mrs. Alberta Walton of Eastland; Mrs. Ellis Obenshain of Oster; and Miss Lavarr Smith of Monument, N. M.

Prison Break Is Thwarted

Guard's Fire Wounds Two In Ohio's 1st Break Of Year

COLUMBUS, O., July 19 (AP)—Two convicts were shot, perhaps fatally, and an Ohio penitentiary guard was knifed today in an attempted prison break.

It was the first organized, attempted break in nearly a year.

Those shot were: Clyde Stamp, 24, serving a robbery sentence, Charles Menges, 34, sentenced to a life term for murder.

Guard Raymond T. Thornton, was stabbed in the stomach with a butcher knife.

Elmer Callahan, another guard thwarted the escape attempt when he opened fire as the two convicts approached the main prison gate with a "hostage," Col. William Walker, superintendent of the prison subsistence department.

The prisoners accosted Walker in the dining hall and forced him at the point of the butcher knife to walk in front of them toward an exit.

As the convicts approached the gate, Guard Thornton interfered and was stabbed as he broke away. Callahan then opened fire.

The prisoners' wounds were reported as serious.

Stocks Climb To New Highs

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—New waves of buying carried Wall street's month-old bull market in stocks today to the highest average prices since last autumn. Quotation boards recorded gains ranging to more than 33 throughout the share lists.

In the scramble of speculators to catch the renewed move forward, some of the heaviest dealings of the past month took place around the exchange posts and the ticker dropped as much as six minutes behind the market.

Transactions in the first hour of trading jumped to 870,000 shares compared with 220,000 in the same period yesterday.

America's Relief Problem

NAMED WAGE-HOUR BOSS

Appointed by President Roosevelt to administer the new wage-hour law, Elmer F. Andrews, 48, is shown with his wife at their Flushing home, watering their hydrangeas. He's quitting a $12,000 job as New York state industrial commissioner to take the $10,000 position.

VISIT OF GEORGE CEMENTS DEMOCRACIES' FRIENDSHIP AS WARS' CHAOS GROWS

Spain's Crisis At Valencia Is Nearing

By The Associated Press

The state visit of Britain's monarchs to France gave notice today that the two democracies stood together.

Meanwhile the world's two wars brought a Japanese air attack on China's provisional capital and desperate fighting in eastern Spain.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth arrived in France accompanied by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha, indicating there would be important behind-the-scenes conferences during the four-day visit.

The talks were expected to include discussions of the central European problem, efforts for a settlement with Premier Mussolini in the Mediterranean and problems growing out of the Spanish civil war.

In Spain, two insurgent armies continued to advance down the Teruel highway toward Valencia while government "suicide squads" fought a desperate rear-guard action in the Espina mountains to cover the retreat of the main body to new defense lines, about 34 miles northwest of Valencia.

Varied Attack
Other insurgent forces were driving southward through the Ebro mountains toward Sagorbe, 15 miles northwest of Sagunto, where the Teruel-Mediterranean highway joins the main coastal road leading to Valencia.

In the Orient, 33 Japanese warplanes made an intensive attack on Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang. Huge columns of dark smoke rising above Hanyang and Wuchang gave evidence of fires started and material damage that resulted.

Sharp guerrilla fighting in industrial Pootung, across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai, was reported to have ended by Chinese withdrawal after 600 persons had been killed in four days.

The fighting around Kluikang, 135 miles below Hankow on the Yangtze river, remained stalemated.

Tension in Tokyo over recent reported clashes on the Manchoukuo-Siberian frontier was emphasized by a demonstration before the Soviet Russian embassy by 25 Japanese, carrying heavy canes and clubs and wearing arm bands of the Nationalist society.

"Get out of Manchoukuo or we will throw you out," some yelled.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS PAYING OFF IN A BIG WAY

The municipal court Tuesday had disposed of a heavy volume of weekend business, including assessment of fines on at least 18 traffic complaints. These came in as the result of a new police drive on traffic violations, chiefly the failure to stop before making a right turn against a red light. For this particular offense, 10 tickets were issued and as many fines paid. There were seven other traffic violations which drew fines.

Other cases disposed of included six for drunkenness, one for disturbance and one for vagrancy.

PAT NEFF, JR., HERE IN M'CRAW'S BEHALF

Pat M. Neff, Jr., of Austin, attorney and son of a former governor of Texas, was in Big Spring Tuesday in the interest of the campaign for William McCraw, candidate for governor. Neff has been active in McCraw's behalf ever since the attorney general announced for the governorship.

Neff was accompanied here by Bob McClack of Sweetwater, West Texas campaign manager for McCraw.

Crops, Range Land Helped By Showers

Wide Area Benefited By Monday's Scattered Rains

Howard county could chalk up another contribution toward good crops and improved range conditions, after rains, ranging from light showers to drenching downpours, which covered a wide area Monday afternoon.

Although the fall was spotted, the moisture was welcomed as of tremendous benefit to pasture lands and row crops, and for most farmers the rains came at "the right time." In many areas the fall was considered sufficient to "make a crop."

Big Spring apparently was in the center of the heaviest downpour. The department of commerce gauge at the airport showed a total fall of 2.56 inches. To the north, the U. S. experiment farm reported a reading of a little more than an inch and a half.

Reports indicated that the fall was as heavy to the south and southeast, Forsan receiving a drenching downpour and the Chalk area reporting a good rain. Cosbom reported an estimated one inch, but reported the fall was lighter north of there.

Stanton reported only a light shower, and the moisture did not extend west of Martin county. Reports to The Herald said appreciable rainfall was recorded in the Elbow and Lomax areas.

To the north, however, the moisture was scant, Ackerly receiving only a light shower.

Agricultural observers agreed that the rain would be of vast benefit to cotton which has grown rapidly during the recent hot weather. Feed crops were helped, too, and range grass was much improved after having had "a drink." The brisk downpour in Big Spring Monday afternoon filled the streets curb-full, and the low area in the western part of the city was inundated. The city had another job of silt-removal and gutter cleaning on its hands after the swift water runoff, an estimated $400 worth of work being necessary in the walks of the city.

Rains left the airport, where surface runways are under construction, in such soft condition that American Airlines planes could not land.

Conviction Of Price Fixers Sustained

Fined Guilty Last Week, Defendants To Pay $65,000

MADISON, Wis., July 19 (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today sustained the conviction of 17 defendants found guilty last January of a conspiracy to raise and fix midwestern gasoline prices in 1935 and 1936. He fined these defendants—12 companies and five executives—a total of $65,000.

The judge dismissed the charges as to 10 other executives and one corporation and found that the rest of the defendants were innocent. Among the individual defendants, whose convictions stand, is Charles E. Arnott, New York, vice president of the Socony Vacuum Oil company, alleged by the government to have been the "master mind" of the conspiracy.

In a 16 page decision Judge Stone treated all defendants in three categories: (1) Those who he held were shown to have combined through gasoline purchasing agreements to "peg" the midwestern market; (2) those whose connection with the conspiracy was substantiated; and (3) and those who were clearly shown to be innocent.

Among the individual defendants, whose convictions stand, is Charles E. Arnott, New York, vice president of the Socony Vacuum Oil company, alleged by the government to have been the "master mind" of the conspiracy.

KNEW NOTHING OF RATES, FORMER TVA CHAIRMAN SAYS
Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman of the TVA, charged today the authority's famed "yardstick" power rates were established and published without his knowledge.

Testifying before a congressional investigation committee, he declared the figures were released by the TVA Director David E. Lilienthal in September, 1933, four months after the TVA was created by congress.

"I learned about them from the newspapers," he asserted.

He charged Directors Harcourt Morgan and Eliott ran "rough shod" over him in board meetings and often took action without his knowledge.

BEQUEATHES $6,000 TO HOME

DALLAS, July 19 (AP)—The Methodist orphanage of Waco was bequeathed $6,000 in bonds by Mrs. Tommie Lee Ludolph, who died July 15. Her will, filed for probate today, indicated an estate of $25,000.

Corrigan's Feat Is Great Inspirational Force

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

NEW YORK, July 19—When young Douglas Corrigan poked his tumbled red-head and laughing, Irish face out of the window of his flying contraption at the Dublin aviation field, he satisfied an overpowering personal ambition of long standing.

But he did far more. He took his place—most likely unwittingly—among the great inspirational forces of our age.

That is the real value of such breath-taking exploits, which often seem so foolhardy and uncalled for.

TRANSATLANTIC FLIER POCKETS $2,000; PREPARES FOR RETURN TO AMERICA

American Lauded For Feat By De Valera

DUBLIN, July 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera congratulated Douglas G. "Daredevil" Corrigan today on his "wrong way" flight from New York to Dublin.

The prime minister hurried from a cabinet meeting to greet the 31-year old Californian and hear the details of the daring flight.

After thanking de Valera for Ireland's kindness to him, Corrigan visited government buildings arising out of his failure to have any of the papers a flier abroad is supposed to carry.

Officials of Ireland's department of external affairs told him they would place no difficulties in his way.

Corrigan went out to Baldonnell airport to see his "old crate" and disclosed he hoped to visit London to exhibit the plane. There also was some talk that he might take the machine to the Glasgow exposition.

"I am not going home without the plane, but I won't fly it," the Californian explained. He said he would take it back by steamer.

He had lunch at the United States legation, where messages from many parts of the world poured in with congratulations on his flight. One of them was said to have been from Henry Ford.

GASSING CORRIGAN'S CRATE

Irish Press Praises His Flight

Broadcast Relieves Him Of Temporary Financial Worry

DUBLIN, July 19 (AP)—Douglas G. "Daredevil" Corrigan was $2,000 to the good today on that little "mistake" in direction which took his $900 plane across the Atlantic.

"The $2,000 I got for my broadcast to America last night will keep me in pocket money while I'm here," he said.

"But as soon as I can get steamer passage fixed up I am going home. I am trying to get a boat where my plane won't have to be dismantled."

He acknowledged that "folks here still are tremendously excited about my trip, but after all it wasn't much. They've been very kind to me in not having me summoned for landing without an airworthiness certificate."

The 31-year-old Californian who flew an aged $900 plane the "wrong way" across the Atlantic, set all England and Ireland talking and was proclaimed on two continents as a foolhardy hero, slept late in the guest bed of the American legation. He wore pajamas borrowed from American Minister John Cudahy.

"I want a nice long rest," he told Cudahy last night. "Don't wake me for a long time. I'll sleep through breakfast."

To Be Overlooked
He has the matter of the legality of his landing to settle with Irish officials, but men with names like Corrigan and Cudahy are not likely to have trouble here getting over a technical difficulty when it concerns a flight like Corrigan's to Dublin.

He won't have to worry about clothes. Admiring tailors already have sent the daring aviator two new outfits for free.

He had offers of contracts, too, although he had been here less than a day, but it was understood he turned them all down with the statement "I prefer to be footloose while I am here and won't sign anything."

Footloose and fancy free, he is staying in Dublin a day or two without planning for the future. The crash of the United States $2,150 miles from New York to Dublin's Baldonnell Airfield between 4:17 a. m. E.S.T. Sunday and 9:30 a. m. E.S.T. Monday was locked up at Baldonnell to safeguard it from souvenir hunters.

Not In Order
Under the air navigation pact American fliers are permitted to land at their scheduled flights if their passports are in order. But Corrigan did not bring a passport. Such a document is not needed to fly from New York to California, as Corrigan insisted he thought he was doing until he sighted Irish shores.

Technically Corrigan was "go signed" today pending an examination of credentials and communication with the United States government. But little trouble was expected because of the unorthodox flight.

Newspapers burst into praise. The Northern Whig of Belfast said: "Flying the Atlantic in an old dilapidated monoplane, Corrigan turned a gamble with fate into a brilliant and jaunty triumph."

"Never has there been a long distance flight so unceremonious and impudently daring, but this irrepressible flier, who has Irish blood in his veins, risked everything and by a combination of audacity and skill and good fortune came safely through and made transatlantic flying look ridiculously matter-of-fact."

The Irish News said: "Corrigan's feat without wireless, weather reports, maps or adequate instruments leaves us almost speechless with amazement."

"When the initial shock is over the hand of everyone will be lifted to salute this intrepid adventurer with an Irish name."

Physicians Heap Bitter Criticism On Government Health Program

Many Disagree On Proposals Introduced

WASHINGTON, July 19—Officials of the American Medical Association heaped criticism today on a presidential committee's recommendation for a $250,000,000 government health program.

The far-reaching venture, proposed to the national health conference yesterday, would have two general aims:

1. It would expand general public health facilities, try to eradicate tuberculosis, venereal diseases, and malaria and to control pneumonia and cancer deaths, and develop maternal and child health centers.

2. It would use some state, local and federal funds to build hospitals, maintain free beds, and give grants-in-aid for research.

Presentations of the proposal by a committee on medical care appointed by President Roosevelt started an immediate dispute.

"Unsatisfactory"
Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, Ky., president of the A.M.A., termed the program unworkable. Dr. Hugh Cabot of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., a leader of the "rebel" group in the medical association, replied:

"Maintenance of the standards of medical practice by the medical profession as at present organized has been grossly unsatisfactory."

Dr. Olin West, secretary of the A.M.A., and Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the association's journal, joined Dr. Abell in preparing a more complete criticism of the proposal.

In his first comment, Dr. Abell argued that further studies were needed.

Everything Wrong

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Roman Nicinaki, 47, was alive today because his heart isn't in a normal position.

Neighbors found him suffering from a bullet wound which, Dr. Charles Meyers said, would have been in his heart if the organ wasn't about an inch to the left of a normal position.

City Asks To Submit Sites For Hospital

Vets Administration Requested To Send Engineer Here

Civic officials in Big Spring taking the lead in pressing a bid for this city as site of the projected new veterans hospital were in contact with congressional representatives and Washington offices Tuesday in an effort to have Big Spring included on the itinerary of a veterans administration engineer who next week will inspect several proposed sites in Texas.

The engineer's tour was announced Monday, and Big Spring was not on the list of towns to be visited. The official will be at Sweetwater, San Angelo and Lubbock, and local groups had requested that Big Spring be visited along with these towns.

The chamber of commerce wired such a petition through Congressman George Mahon and Senator Tom Connolly, and both had replied Tuesday that they were transmitting the appeal to the veterans administration.

Meanwhile, a site committee of the chamber of commerce was called to meet at the Crawford

BATTLE TO SAVE RESORT FROM FOREST FIRE

SEATTLE, July 19 (AP)—Eight hundred men toiled in sizzling heat today to save Forbes Landing, fishing resort near Campbell River, B. C., from a raging forest fire.

Burning back over timber land it swept last week, the fire virtually encircled the town.

The fire started near Menzies Bay a week ago, barely missed Forbes Landing and forced evacuation of the settlement. Last night, the wind changed and drove it back over its blackened path.

SWIM POOL CLOSED

The municipal swimming pool was closed Tuesday for draining and cleaning, and will be open to swimmers again on Thursday afternoon, it was announced by city officials. Algae growth in the water has caused some trouble.

Corrigan's Feat Is Great Inspirational Force

I recall vividly another example of the effect of an epic flight like that. I was in mid-Atlantic with that famous sea-hero, Captain George Fry, when Corrigan's predecessor, the great Lindbergh, came winging his way across.

The Viking Fry responded to wireless news of this gallant effort like an old war-horse to the smell of gun-powder. The blood of adventure and daring ran hot through his own veins.

The skipper asked me to wireless the Associated Press for Lindbergh's route, and when he had that Fry promptly diverted his ship, the Roosevelt, northward and well out of its course in order to be available to help the flyer.

What matter if the vessel was into this port, there was a hero in the making. Fry had told us of a desert make for the west of that day, so that Lindbergh might see it, and at night huge searchlights blazed from the Roosevelt.

On August 24, 1911, the big dirigible ZR 3 broke her back over the mouth of the Humber river at Hull, England, and carried nearly half a hundred Yankee boys to flaming death. She was being purchased by the United States from England, and that was to be her final trough.

I spoke with an American army captain as we stood among the bodies of his colleagues. He was looking far away and his eyes were dim with grief, but his shoulders were square as he said:

"We shall keep on until we have conquered dirigible flying. Nothing can stop us. We shall carry on where these boys left off."

And so it goes. Inspiration comes along from those who dare greatly and grandly, no matter what their walk of life. It's the Corrigan who lead the way.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Not Forgotten

Not easily forgotten will be Pepper Martin. The grinning, witty sport who kept baseball alive in Big Spring during those lean years has passed, but it is hard to realize that he has been jerked out of our existence.

Back To Berndt

When the Barons left for their four day road trip this morning (they will touch Clovis and Wink before returning) they didn't go at full strength.

Directors of the Big Spring club are trying to work out the transportation system. Before Jack Hitehuson surrendered the business management of the team his automobile was used along with Manager Charley Barnabe's.

Major league softball games scheduled for the Muny diamond Monday evening were postponed due to wet grounds.

According to Manager Hack Miller of the Lubbock club, the Hubbers have a young lefthander now in training in Lubbock who is just about as good as Jerry Blanchard.

And (more bad news for the other teams of the family), Blanchard may be hitting the Texas trail again any day now.

The Lubbock club, spurred by Business Manager Harry Faulkner who is being spurred by the whole Chicago White Sox club system, is apparently intent on outdistancing charging to the WT-NM league crown.

Wink, the most successful club in the league last year, is having its troubles in numbers or lack of numbers this year. The people have cooled off over there and Jodie Tate is overriding.

New Record

Doug Jones, while playing in the Clovis Invitational golf tournament several weeks ago, established a new record for the Clovis course, shooting a stunning 64.

LONGVIEW IS 4-3 WINNER

Texas' Kansas Liners came closer to league leading Marshall of the East Texas circuit last night with an 8-6 victory over Tyler.

Timely hitting in the pinches brought a 7-5 victory to Henderson over the Palestine Pals.

RETURN HOME SATURDAY-

Barons On Road Again, Meet Clovis Tonight

Deprived of a chance to do their share at bringing the Lubbock Hubbers down from their high perch when rain forced postponement of the Monday afternoon game at Barons park the Big Spring baseball crew left for Clovis, N. M., where tonight they will tangle with one of the major threats for the WT-NM loop leadership.

The Barons oppose the Pioneers twice, then move to Wink for three games in two days before returning home against the Pioneers Saturday afternoon.

Clarence Trantham was due to take the hill in tonight's affair. Johnny Soden was due to work Wednesday while Pat Stacey was due to work again Thursday.

Manager Charley Barnabe announced that he intended to play right field in the absence of Frank Jacob who is on the sidelines due to an injured finger.

In a game played at Midland the Cardinals advanced a step nearer to the top rung with a 11-4 victory over Hobbs.

At Wink the Pioneers kept pace with the Cardinals by defeating the Wink Spudders, 6-1.

The Spuds move to Midland for a two game series beginning today while Lubbock's crew will be entertained by Hobbs.

Tonight the West Siders and Davidson's Millmen will tangle in a game which may decide the second ydace team in the loop's standings.

PASADENA, Calif., July 19 (AP)—The football public, denied the right to buy tickets to the Rose Bowl game last New Year's Day, got a break from the Pacific Coast Conference today.

Mr. Armstrong, Fan, even though his alma mater was the school of hard knocks, will have a chance to get one of the 25,000 seats reserved for public sale at the next renewal of the grid classic.

They amount to 46 per cent of the Rose Bowl's total seating capacity, 29,000. Fifty per cent of the seats will be allowed to the university whose team represents the conference in the "East-West" game.

Rowe, Dean Tangle Again In Dallas

Two Former Greats In 'Rubber' Duel; Herd Wins, 3-0

Beaumont's Exporters, who walloped the Tulsa Oilers 8-4 to cut the latter's Texas league leadership to three games, came here tonight to pit Schoolboy Rowe against Dallas' Paul Dean, in the rubber game of a now famous duel on the mound.

When the Schoolboy was with the Detroit Tigers and Dean with the St. Louis Cards, Daffy beat Rowe in a world series contest. Recently in Beaumont, however, the two former big league stars, now attempting a comeback, met again, with the Schoolboy winner although Dean allowed only four hits.

Scoreless the first four frames last night, the Exporters burst loose with a six run barrage in the fifth, and scored twice again before the end.

In a ten inning affair at Fort Worth, the Cats eked a victory over Houston 5-4 when a final inning rally was successful.

Dallas beat Shreveport 3-0. Jolly Sorelle of the Steers getting back to work for the first time since he was hospitalized for spine trouble.

Committee Begins Strike Inquiries

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—A Senate committee inquired today into activities of citizens' organizations during a 1935 strike in the Berger Manufacturing company steel plant at Canton, Ohio.

Chairman LaFollette (Pro-Wis) said the civil liberties committee wanted to develop in detail the incidents of the strike as indicating a pattern which he asserted the Republic Steel corporation followed in the 1937 "little steel" strike.

The committee heard yesterday dramatic testimony of street fighting between union pickets and Berger company officials and guards.

"I saw him fight his Jimmy Vaughn out in Los Angeles," said Henry, "and I think maybe he's gone back. He didn't lick Vaughn until Vaughn got tired and Jimmy peeled him a couple of licks that really rocked him."

"Now that's different than he was," continued the hammer. "Remember him against Montez that time indoors. Pedro hit him with everything but the water bucket one round and he came back in the last rounds and won a draw.

Says Ambers Isn't What He Was

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Every time you look up Henry Armstrong is getting ready to knock some fellow's head off. This time it is Lou Ambers and the Los Angeles negro goes so far as to predict he'll belt out the king of the lightweight.

The buns-saw is making his first appearance here since he battered Barney Ross into a bleeding, helpless pulp and added the welterweight championship to his featherweight crown. He starts training Wednesday.

Yankees Meet Up With Indians In First Of Four Games Today

No matter what may happen to those pennant-hungry New York baseball clubs within the next week or so, no one can say they haven't given or received fair warning.

The Yankees, leading the American league by a game and a half as they go into a "crucial" four-game series with Cleveland's second-year Indians today, sounded the alarm by winning 17 of their last 20 games and tying another.

The Cubs, right now, look like a team to watch in the National league. They have won seven straight from Philadelphia and Boston to move back into third place.

The Cubs, meantime, pulled out a 7-6 decision over the Boston Bees in the ninth inning after blowing a 6-3 lead in the same frame.

The St. Louis Cardinals knocked off the Phillies, 5-3, in the day's only other game as the Brooklyn Dodgers, with four straight victories, were checked by rain at Cincinnati. The American league had an open date.

Dr. Paul Rader Dies

LOS ANGELES, July 19 (AP)—Dr. Paul Rader, 53, internationally-known evangelist, died at Hollywood hospital today after a long illness.

Dr. Rader's evangelistic work had taken him twice around the world. He had been preaching in Africa and England early this year when illness compelled him to return home.

Moves To New Waters ABOARD THE U. S. S. HOUSTON, En Route to Panama, July 19 (AP)—The Houston crossed the Tropic of Cancer early today and President Roosevelt and his party held high hopes of more good fish luck in the vicinity of Cape San Lucas, southernmost point of Lower California.

The light heavyweight champion is matched for a 15-round non-title bout with beer drinking, "Two-Ton" Tony Galento at Philadelphia's municipal stadium a week from tonight. Tony has been getting most of the headlines.

"So, I'm the forgotten man," mused Lewis at his training camp here. "That's all right by me. I never was much of a hand for carrying around. But just keep one thing in mind—fighters don't forget me."

Lewis Says He Can Beat Any Active Boxer

LEIPERVILLE, Pa., July 19 (AP)—"The forgotten man"—that's what they're calling John Henry Lewis these days. The light heavyweight champion is matched for a 15-round non-title bout with beer drinking, "Two-Ton" Tony Galento at Philadelphia's municipal stadium a week from tonight.

"I saw him fight his Jimmy Vaughn out in Los Angeles," said Henry, "and I think maybe he's gone back. He didn't lick Vaughn until Vaughn got tired and Jimmy peeled him a couple of licks that really rocked him."

"Now that's different than he was," continued the hammer. "Remember him against Montez that time indoors. Pedro hit him with everything but the water bucket one round and he came back in the last rounds and won a draw.

"We still think he's cute, we haven't changed our minds on that," Henry answered. "Man, he's hard to hit and he knows a lot. But if his legs are goin' he isn't going to be so hard to hit and you saw how much knowin' a lot meant for Schmeling when he got in there with that Louie."

THE HAGE TO MEET SOLDIER THOMAS AT BSAC TONIGHT

He may not be as terrible as the accompanying photo would lead to believe but Jack Hagen will try to show Soldier Thomas that he means business when he stalks into the ring against the Vancouver soldier boy in the main event of the Big Spring Athletic club's three bout wrestling program tonight.

Jack figured he didn't get any better than a draw in his long-and-tumble with Thomas in last week's 20-minute special event, thinks he'll come out much the better in the setto this evening.

Jack's main drawback is playing around with an opponent too such. The local ringfighters consider him quite a hand at kicking through and coming out on top when he really wants to but since his return recently hasn't tried. He set about merely to bully his way over Thomas last week and did such a good job that Referee Johnny Neuman called the whole thing quits.

25 BS Youths Expected To Compete

Showers Are Great Aid To Municipal Course

Showers that soaked the Muny golf course Monday afternoon slowed up practice of local entrants of the West Texas Junior Golf tournament, slated to get underway with the qualifying round Friday, but the moisture in general is expected to put the greens and fairways in great shape for the crunch.

Interest continues to pick up in the meeting and Pro Harold Akey predicted that Big Spring would have at least 25 youngsters playing for the honors.

Most dangerous Big Spring threats for the championship honors are expected to be Wimpy McGuire, who plays steady if not sensationally; Dub Prescott, a regular on the Big Spring Sand Belt golf team; and Jimmy Brigham, who was one of Prescott's team mates earlier in the season.

Forsan Meets Snyder Today

COLORADO, July 18 (Spl)—Forsan and Snyder were left to fight it out in the final round of the West Texas district semi-pro baseball tournament after Snyder's 6-4 victory this afternoon over the Mexican Tigers of Big Spring. The deciding game is booked here Tuesday afternoon.

One win already has been recorded for Forsan over the Scurry countians. It was a one-sided decision in a clash Sunday afternoon. In the other half of a scheduled double bill, Muleshoe defaulted to the Tigers.

Famed Cathedral Struck By Bomb

BARCELONA, July 18 (AP)—The celebrated cathedral of Barcelona was struck by an insurgent bomb during an air raid today. Crowds gathered about the 14th century church, which was considered one of the finest examples of gothic architecture in Catalonia. CABBIE LOSES WAY PILOTING AIR HERO

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—With thousands of other New Yorkers, Jesse Romero, a taxi driver, craned his neck last week for a glimpse of Howard Hughes but failed to see the homescoming hero.

Last night he picked up a passenger at a Park Avenue apartment—a tall, spare fellow who yanked his hat over his eyes and asked to be driven to Grover A. Whalen's home on Long Island.

On arriving, Romero noticed that his passenger was received with a great fanfare. He pocketed his $8.50 fare and 20-cent tip and turned to a bystander.

"Who's that guy?" Romero asked.

"Howard Hughes," the bystander said.

"Gee," Romero said today. "The way I was driving him around Long Island, it's good thing he didn't take me on that round-the-world trip. He would have been flying yet."

He admitted he had been lost and had delivered Hughes 40 minutes late for his dinner date with Katherine Hepburn and 100-odd other prominent guests.

Plan Dedication Of Will Rogers Memorial Hwy.

LOS ANGELES, July 19 (AP)—Plans for formal dedication of the Will Rogers Memorial highway, extending from Chicago to this city, with a pageant depicting the early life of the late comedian, were announced here today by Carl Hinton, national president of the Will Rogers 66 highway association.

He said Vice-President John Garner and governors of five of the eight states traversed by the highway have accepted invitations to attend the celebration, to be held at Amarillo, August 15, the third anniversary of Rogers' death.

Two motorcades will leave the terminal of the highway three days previously, Hinton said, and meet at Amarillo.

"Our pageant will depict the life of Rogers as a cowhand in the Texas Panhandle," he added. "He got his first job in Amarillo at the age of 18 years. The pageant will follow him during his tour with the old Nellie Baker circus to South America, his early life in New York and will close with a spectacular scene from the 1936 Ziegfeld Follies, in which he was starred."

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUTH

Texas especially should be interested in a statement by Dean Carl W. Ackerman that the continent south of the Panama Canal holds the greatest possibilities for peaceful development of any area in the world. He made this statement after having made two trips around the world visiting Europe, the Orient and South America. That continent, as he sees it, is the continent of present opportunities, a challenge to the courage and resourcefulness of men and women of this nation.

Dean Ackerman is an observer who bases his statements on what he has seen. He might have added that the portion of America south of the Rio Grande and north of the canal also is a fertile field for the younger generations of this nation who are grieved because there are no more frontiers to conquer. There are opportunities in those countries for a man determined to do something worth while, and who is not afraid to work for the fortune he wants, and one who is equipped to go into those countries or send his equipped agents into them, and get their business.

Texas can and would benefit in this unworked field by educating her youth to understand and speak and write the Spanish language — the language which is spoken in those countries. Portuguese is the official language of Brazil, largest of the South American countries, but is so nearly akin to Spanish as to be easily mastered by the master of Spanish.

Not so many years now until the highways building through Mexico and the Central American states will reach the canal and then push toward Rio and Buenos Aires. Before then there should be thousands of young Texas men and women able to talk with these people, qualified to represent the manufacturers of the United States. The schools and colleges of Texas should make Spanish a requirement of their courses of study, and do their part toward making these young people able to take a worthwhile place in life. It is a duty the schools and colleges owe to the youth of Texas.

Witness killed in automobile crash. COREIN, Ky., July 19 (AP)—Oscar Skidmore, 22, distant witness in the Harlan anti-labor conspiracy trial at London, Ky., was killed in an automobile accident late last night on a highway four miles east of here. Skidmore's death was the fourth fatality in the course of the ten-week-old trial. Three other men, either witnesses or defendants, have been shot dead.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON — The South's first lynchings of the year came at a most inopportune time for a southerner who had begun to think the freedom from such crimes had given them an especially convincing argument against a national anti-lynching bill. Of course there is no "opportune" time for a lynching, except in the opinion of a limited few. Yet two came just at the time President Roosevelt launched his program for federal intervention in bettering conditions in the South, which he called the nation's "number one economic problem."

Lynching may seem remote from the President's proposal to find what is wrong with Dixie, but the negro is generally recognized as the "number one problem" of the nation's. Any failure of the South to solve that problem would appear to encourage federal intervention of a type opposed bitterly by the South. The reconstruction days gave it a bitter sample of federal intervention.

They Won't Talk

Until the recent lynchings in Georgia and Mississippi had not been a lynching during the current year. As Congress adjourned, Rep. Hatton Summers of Texas, chairman of the House judiciary committee, called this to the attention of the country in support of the southerners' assertion that the South is solving its lynching problem without federal intervention.

Last session southern senators filibustered to death a bill permitting the federal government to punish officials of counties where lynchings occurred. Under the bill, Georgia's county might have been hit by a $10,000 fine, together with damages to relatives of the lynched negro.

Before the lynchings were many days old, southern newspapers called on state officials to make an example of the lynchers. And that's the hard job. In the town of 500 population where the Georgia lynching occurred, probably every resident knows at least one member of the mob—but won't tell.

Soxkeys Unsighted

If we were a salmon we would not climb 72 tortuous steps to the top of a dam only to lay an egg at best. But the Columbia river salmon are doing it at Bonneville dam. We thought they never would. A troublesome condition has developed, however. The "soxkey" salmon, the choicest in the Columbia, failed to show up in their accustomed numbers. There always has been a big summer run of soxkeys during June and early July. This year it failed to develop. Officials of the bureau do not blame the dam.

Many fishing operators have left the river until the next run, several weeks hence. Where in years past they caught thousands of sockeye salmon during June and July, now they catch but a few hundred.

The Bureau of Fisheries is concerned. Although there has been a slump in the sockeye run every four or five years, there has been no such slump as this. The peak June run used to bring 100,000 salmon daily to storm up the river. Now it is a scattered few thousand — and they are smaller.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds By ROBBIN COONS

(Fanny Singleton, actress and writer, today does a stint for our Hollywood columnist, Robbin Coons, who is on vacation.)

By PENNY SINGLETON
DOLLYWOOD—"Hi, Harvey," I hail the policeman at 6:45 a. m. at the gate of the Warner Brothers lot as I trundle past in my Ford. "I'm writing a column for Robbin Coons. Got any ideas?"
"Say, with my contacts," he grins. "I can get good dough for my ideas."
"You're right about that, Harvey," I retort. "Anybody who knows A star is an influential person in Hollywood, over there's no doubt about it. I think to my self. The "contacts" even have a business of their own."
Look at the thriving business conducted by the guides to Movie Stars Homes. They advertise their tours at stations along Sunset Boulevard. Last night, my phone rings and a man's voice at the end of the line wants to speak to Bill Powell. When I say he has the wrong number, he is so mad he nearly breaks the phone. "And I paid $15 for that number, too," he roars.

Just another one of the minor industries — selling movie stars phone numbers — at a price. I know a masseuse who tells me she could retire if she'd accept the bribes she's offered for introductions to some of her star customers. In one week, a portrait painter offered originals of her whole family for Christmas presents for one introduction, and an interior decorator proposed to redecorate her whole house, if I could get her into the studio garage the mechanic tells me he's about to hire a bodyguard.

"But why?" I say, looking at his 200 pounds.

"There have been three guys hounding me for a week trying to get me to recommend their garage service to Pat O'Brien and Anita Louise. I'm about to go nuts. The chauffeurs are having the same trouble. People are — I say trying to bribe them for introductions or gossip they can give to magazines and newspapers."

By the time I've had my cup of coffee and am in the hair dressing room, it's 7:15. I'm plunked down under the dryer with my hair on curlers and decide to look at some magazines on the nearest stand. They're dated 1903-1912 and marked "Research—Bette Davis." I realize that they're the check for authentic hair styles for Bette's next picture, "The Sisters," which is laid in the 1903 period.

The hairdresser sees me looking at the pictures and remarks, "That Bette is certainly popular. A little girl I know offered me ten bucks if I'd just let her come in and watch Bette have her hair dressed."

"Oooh, I think to myself the contact business again."
"Penny, Penny," booms a voice over the studio Public Address system. "Are you daydreaming? You're due on the set."
"Sowie, I think to myself, 'that's a contact I'd better not forget.'"

Chief Clerk Busy

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Rudolph Forster, right-hand man of many presidents, is busier than ever in the absence of President Roosevelt and all his secretaries. Forster is chief clerk in the White House executive offices. He has to sort incoming correspondence and matters of state to determine what should be sent on to the president, cruising in the Pacific.

"The president is required by law to do certain things," Forster explained today, "whether he is in Washington or on the high seas."
The veteran White House aide, shy despite impressive shaggy eyes brows, indicated he thought it a pity to interrupt a man's vacation. But when he finds business requiring the president's immediate attention, into the pouch it goes. The mail bag travels to Mr. Roosevelt by air as often as necessary.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

Chapter 16 A LEAR

"Them rustlin' polecats was on us boys before we could get from our blankets," the puncher continued breathlessly. "Blowed Charlie's lamp plumb out! Blammed Ed outer the saddle last night! He never knowed what hit him! I risk up empty'n my iron fist as I could work the trigger; grabbed Ed's horse as it come larrupin' by. I been sickin' leather ever since. Figgered you'd wanna know quick."

"Where'd they head for?" bel-lowed Ratchford.
"I didn't do no lingerin' on that larrupin' 'F you wanna know, I'd suggest you fork a bronc right out there, mister."

"Where'n hell was Hackett?" Trone demanded, spurred by a sudden surge of anger at his loss.
"Couldn't say, boss. Haven't seen 'im fer a week."

Ankrom stepped forward from the shadows. "Didn't he go to your southeast line camp last night?" he asked. And at Trone's dispirited nod: "He hasn't showed here since."

Trone shook his head and again:

"Lead off, and don't wear these horses out."

Trone stared back in silence. Ankrom said, "This polecats I mentioned is passin' the word to these rustlers. He tells 'em when it's safe to make a haul an' likewise where to make it."

"You got proof of this?"
"Hamm Hackett been reportin' that you're losin' cattle?" At Trone's nod Ankrom shrugged. "I'd say it was evident then. At your range boss, it is up to Hackett to stop this stealin'. Evidently he can't stop it. There's only one reason, as I see it, why Hackett can't stop your losses with the men at his disposal. Someone on your payroll is tipping the rustlers off, tellin' 'em where Hackett and the men will be at a time when a bunch of your critters are loosely guarded someplace else."

"You ought to be a detective," Ankrom grinned. "Then you've known that much right along, eh? How come you don't know then how your cattle are bein' stolen?"
"They're bein' run off into the badlands, into the lava beds, across that big flat flat. Trail peddlers out in them places an' we can't."

"Do you know why the trail peddlers out?" Ankrom interrupted.
"Sure. It peters out in the badlands because steers don't leave much trail on lava. An' who could trail steers across a loose salt flat with the kind of winds we have in Texas?" Trone growled. "You got any more bright remarks?"

"Yeah—one or two. You, or your foreman, has jumped to the wrong conclusion."
"What do you mean?"
"Those rustled cattle of yours have never been driven more than a hundred yards into the badlands or out onto that salt flat."
"You're crazy!" Trone snapped testily.
"Four cattle," Ankrom went on imperiously, "have been taken off the range in trucks."

The former Yale site now is occupied by a cemetery. Lady Fenwick, first white woman ever to live in Connecticut, lived in Saybrook in a quaint white house with shutters. She died there too and her remains are buried just a few steps away from the waters of North Cove.

Along North Cove is group of beautiful homes, and one of them belongs to Dr. Hepburn, father of Katharine Hepburn, the actress. She is there now and it is said that Howard Hughes was a guest in Dr. Hepburn's home just before his record-breaking flight around the world.

A well fed man is usually a happy one, and that is the frame of mind one should be in when you visit this country. For years now I've been listening to New Englanders boast and brag of their manner of living, their stately aims, their wealth, and fishing.

And I'm going to see for myself. Miss Hall, the stewardess, tells me we are only a couple of miles out of Saybrook, and so in a few minutes I'll be in the car and heading for Old Lyme, with its tree-shaded streets and old, old houses, and inviting gardens, and lobster dinners.

Early Action Transfers Advised On

School District Changes Must Be Made By Aug. 1

County Superintendent Anna Martin Tuesday issued an announcement stressing the requirement that all transfers to be made for the coming school year must be completed by August 1. This is the final date set up by state statute, she reminded, and parents desiring to make transfers are instructed to make applications at her office before that time.

Miss Martin also disclosed an announcement from John Olsen, director of school census, to the effect that county superintendents do not have discretionary authority in refusing transfers. This is in accordance with a ruling by the attorney general's office he said.

Any group of trustees objecting to a transfer may file objections with the county board, but that protest must be filed within five days after the first of August.

Another announcement came from State Supt. L. A. Woods to the effect that in calculation of the amount of aid a state aid school will receive, only those scholars which have been transferred by parent application through the office of the county superintendent will count on the teacher-pupil load. It is necessary, the official said, for transfers to be completed by August 1 through the county superintendent's office.

Candidates In Final Tours O'Daniel Urges Voters To Take Back Their Government By The Associated Press Words-and music to go with them—rode thundered and played mightily the Texas air today as candidates launched fully into final summing up of cases for judgment by the electorate in Saturday's democratic primaries. Beneath the flow of oratory and mountain "swing" campaign organizations rolled logs and "turned chips" in concentrated efforts toward lining up the vote. W. Lee O'Daniel and his hillbilly band, continuing to declare it was time for Texans to "throw out the professional politicians in Austin and take back their government," pointed their way today to Seymour, Olney, Graham, and Jackboro. Mentions No Opponent Ernest Thompson, who spoke in Austin, moved on to La Grange, Columbus, Hallettsville, Rosenberg, all in the afternoon, and planned to speak at Houston tonight. Thompson talked only of his record and platform and did not mention any other candidate. William McCraw pledged in his address last night at Port Arthur an administration in harmony with the Texas legislature and labor if he is elected governor. Today he went to Hempstead and Galveston. McCraw failed last night to mention by name a single one of his opponents. Tom Hunter planned to speak at Waco. He was at Houston for a radio address last night in which he explained how he would carry out the state's contract with its aged pioneers. Karl Crowley, who spoke at Houston last night, emphasizing the seventeen points in his platform, was to go to San Antonio tonight. Other candidates, among them P. D. (Pete) Renfro of Beaumont, had not reported speaking schedules, but were for the most part making contacts by shaking hands.

Pay Tribute To British King George In Paris To Bind Friendship Of Two Nations PARIS, July 19 (AP)—A booming salute of 101 guns welcomed King George and Queen Elizabeth of England today on their arrival for a visit of state to France. The boyish-appearing King George, monarch of an empire of nearly 500,000,000 subjects, came with his consort by boat and train from London to this capital and was greeted by gray-haired Albert Lebrun, titular chief of state for 102,500,000 persons. The visit of the British sovereigns was designed to reaffirm—as did a similar visit by King George V in 1914—the common front of two of the world's greatest empires. The royal party arrived at the little Bois De Bologne station in the aristocratic northwest corner of Paris, a square, gray-stone structure under whose green cupola visiting royalty traditionally descends. The royal train arrived at 4:40 p. m. (9:49 a. m., C.S.T.) The king and queen, smiling broadly, stepped onto the platform and shook hands with President and Madame Lebrun. The king wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet. The queen was all in white. Marines lining the platform presented arms while a marine band played "God Save the King" and "Marseillaise." The appearance of the king and queen brought volleys of cheers from throngs surrounding the station, while the royal salute sounded from the guns of Mount Valerian fort in the western suburb of Suresnes. The British royal standard and the French tricolor ran up on gilded staffs. From a huge cage, concealed by banks of flowers, 10,000 white doves were released as their majesties appeared, a symbol of Franco-British aspirations for peace. King George and Queen Elizabeth arrived at Boulogne this morning from London and came to Paris over 120 miles of carefully guarded rails which became, in effect, their private line for the occasion. Troops, mobile guards, gendarmes and police guarded the entire route.

22 INJURED IN REFINERY FIRE WELLSVILLE, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—Twenty-two firemen were slightly injured today as they made a desperate and nearly successful effort to blow out the disastrous Sinclair Oil Refinery fire with steam. Thirteen injuries, most of which were minor burns or scalds, swelled the casualty toll of the three day fire to three dead and approximately 100 injured. Company officials estimated the loss at $1,000,000. Only a smoldering, stubborn blaze remained in the ruins of the dewatering plant today after engineers finally succeeded in putting the power plant of the $15,000,000 refinery back in commission. With steam in the boilers for the first time since Sunday, fire fighters turned roaring steam jets against blazing buildings and tanks.

Rumanian To Attempt Hop NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—The second solo flight across the Atlantic ocean in less than a week will be attempted Thursday by Capt. Alexander Papanu, the "Lindbergh of Rumania," who hopes to become the first to fly the 4,713 miles from New York to Bucharest non-stop. The captain, famous in European sports circles and recognized as an outstanding aerobatic performer, holds the Rumanian altitude record of 41,700 feet. For the ocean part of the route he will follow the trail of Douglas G. (The Inconquerable) Corrigan, who conquered the ocean stretch—the eighth person to do it solo—yesterday in a surprise hop to Ireland in his $600 "flying crate." Papanu will use a new type Barkley-Grow transport plane and expects to complete the trip in 31 hours. The twin-motored craft, relatively small, has a wing span of 35 feet, nine inches and a length of 25 feet, eight inches. It will have a gross weight of 7,950 pounds.

OLYMPICS TO BE CONDUCTED IN HELSINGFORS HELSINGFORS, July 19 (AP)—Finland today accepted a formal invitation to hold the 1940 Olympic games at Helsingfors. Finland originally had bid for the international games and was given first call by the international Olympic committee after Japan renounced the games last week.

Confessed Thief Surrenders To Amazed Police PATERSON, N. J., July 19 (AP)—Police and bank officials expressed amazement today at the story of a $26 a week bank teller who assured them he was not "crazy" when he told of stealing $100,000 during the past seven years. "Have you been feeling all right?" Detective Captain James Smith said he asked Angelo B. Oliva, 31, after the teller entered headquarters yesterday to confess the alleged theft. "I'm not crazy," Smith said Oliva protested. "But this thing has been preying on my mind. I couldn't sleep and every time detectives came into the bank guarding a payroll or a delivery of cash, I thought they had come for me. I could see that things were bound to go from bad to worse and I decided to give myself up. I'm not crazy; I'm just trying to tell you that I've stolen $100,000."

TO LIVE ABROAD NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—William M. Greve, 54-year-old former financier and yachtman, has renounced his American citizenship to become a subject of Liechtenstein, a tiny tax-free principality in the Swiss Alps. Greve was born in New York. He retired from business in 1936. Liechtenstein has a population of 10,000 in its 63 square-mile territory. It maintains no army or navy, and three policemen keep order. The Bastille was built between 1870 and 1883.

Brash Young Flier May Stop Here On 'Storming' Tour Douglas Corrigan, the daring young man with the flying machine—an old crate he pushed across the Atlantic in amazing fashion—may visit Big Spring on a cross-country tour. From dispatches from Chicago said that G. E. Smith, president of American Airlines revealed that Corrigan signed, before his Atlantic hop, a contract to storm the country for AA. According to terms of the contract revealed by Smith, Corrigan will tour the cities of the American Airlines route from coast to coast in his antiquated plane. It was considered probable his itinerary would call for a stop here, one of the regular stations on American Airlines.

Health (Continued from Page 1) needed because medical requirements varied widely in different localities. He added: "Those people who think that they can devise a centrally controlled medical service plan which can be fitted to the varying conditions of the states, counties and cities of this country are discussing theories which no practical health administrator could possibly approve." Makes Assertions Dr. Cabot said he did not feel much confidence in the results of the A.M.A. survey of medical needs. He asserted thousands of persons lacked medical care while thousands of young physicians "are starving to death." Visibly upset by Dr. Cabot's charges, Dr. West commented that "one member of the medical profession has held it up to ridicule." It became apparent today, however, that the social security board, the children's bureau of the labor department, the public health service, and other federal agencies concerned with the nation's health had perfected the federal-state program without the advice of the medical association. Clifford E. Waller, assistant surgeon general of the public health service, presented a part of it dealing with expansion of general health services which alone would provide up to $100,000,000 annually for public medical care during the next seven years.
