

County UF Campaign Tops 40 Per Cent Mark

Littlefield Drive Reaches $7,820

Lamb County's first United Fund drive shot past the 40 per cent mark Wednesday, after only two days of active campaigning. UF officials reported $12,270 had been collected in five communities.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will benefit by the campaign. Red Cross is scheduled to receive $9,976 of the goal, the Salvation Army $6,679, the Boy Scouts $6,000 and the Girl Scouts $3,000.

The money for the four participating agencies totals $25,665, leaving $3,000 as a buffer and for administration of the campaign.

The big push is for pledges, with UF officials stressing the campaign is not a cash drive.

CHRISTMAS RUSH UNDER WAY AFTER SUCCESSFUL DOLLAR DAY

A bang-up Dollar Day in Littlefield Monday signaled the rush of Christmas and brought smiles to the faces of merchants.

For most stores, shopping picked up considerably Friday and Saturday, then hit a peak Monday as customers took advantage of Dollar Day bargains.

After better-than-usual activity over the week-end, shoppers hit the stores bright and early Monday, taking advantage of free parking offered in the city during this week.

Most merchants reported shopping as "still good" Tuesday.

It was the best shopping spree of the fall here after a late harvest had slowed business through Thanksgiving.

Some merchants called the rush the "best three regular days of the year" while others felt that "business should pick up considerably from here on out."

Just call me a card shark! It may be hard for my bridge-playing friends to believe, but I entered the duplicate bridge tournament in Lubbock Saturday night.

For those of you who might not get the full impact of this statement, let me explain that these tournaments are held strictly for professional bridge players.

Anyone that ever plays with me will vouch that I'm strictly in the amateur class... and likely to stay there.

I had a wonderful time, but was one of the few who did.

I went strictly as a favor to Ginny Chambers. She is an experienced hand at duplicate and found herself at the last minute without a partner. I kept telling Ginny that we'd make it fine if she just kept her sense of humor.

It was an education just to watch the people. The thing that impressed me most was how sad they all looked. I remarked afterwards that they couldn't be having much fun... they looked so mad at the world. But it was probably only their partners that they hated.

Common rules of courtship are ignored at tournaments. You play two hands and change partners. Most of the professionals never even introduce themselves... and just as soon you wouldn't.

However, by the time they played a couple of hands with Ginny and me, most of them softened up. They couldn't help but be a little kind to anyone who allowed them to make such nice scores.

Everyone was amazed to find out that we made high score on four boards.

Three times it was due to smart playing by Ginny. The other time we took unfair advantage of our opponents who were bleary-eyed from over indulgence. They couldn't even do too good a job of following suit.

I was surprised to find out afterwards that I was supposed to be a nervous wreck. Actually, I felt fine. But Ginny must have been near collapse. It took a day or two in bed for her to recover.

Teen Town is needing your help.

An elaborate, semi-formal Christmas party is being planned for the kids on December 20. One of the biggest obstacles to hurdle is trying to get the Community Center in the proper mood.

All persons who have Christmas decorations that they will be kind enough to donate to the cause are requested to bring them by Chisholm Floral during the next two weeks.

And while you're there, you might please J. E. by asking to see his new private office.

Santa came a little early to J. E. this year. His employees decided their boss man needed a secluded corner in which to conduct his own business... and take care of all the gratis jobs he does for the community.

Odell Mathews partitioned off a corner of the floral shop, painted the walls a restful beige, and his wife made new drapes. All the employees chipped in to buy carpeting, and Bob Chesley added the finishing touches by designing some original framed floral arrangement for the wall.

The project is a Christmas present but they did it a month early since they felt J. E. needed the little inner sanctuary more than usual during the busy Christmas season and while he directed the United Fund drive.

J. E. is mighty proud of his secluded corner... and proud of the devotion which prompted the boys to fix it for him. I suspect that the new office had much to do with J. E. again holding Christmas Open House this year.

Two California Boys Charged In Burglaries

Two California youths were charged here Wednesday after a pair of Amherst firms were burglarized Monday night.

The youths, Guy Carter Jr., 19, of Concord, Calif., and Jimmy Leon Rollin, 17, of Wasco, Calif., admitted break-ins at Waggoner's Grocery and Emmons Hardware.

County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson said.

Their statements also implicated a 15-year-old Sudan boy in the two burglaries. The youth was arrested by county officers Wednesday morning, and brought to Littlefield for questioning.

Wilkinson and Sheriff Dick Dyer talked with the two California youths Tuesday night at Lubbock after officers there arrested the pair.

Local Industrial Foundation Stops Its Operations

Littlefield's $50,000 Industrial Foundation folded Monday after a year of operation.

The action had been expected for several months after officials found that money invested in the Foundation would not be tax exempt.

Funds invested in the Foundation will be returned to stockholders.

Officials said the Foundation was dissolved because stockholders invested funds on the basis that their investments would be tax free.

A later ruling found that the investments would not be tax exempt under the Foundation's charter. The Foundation felt it would be unfair to bind stockholders to the charter after the ruling was made.

$5.5 Million Crop Forecast

County's '57 Grain Crop Furnishes Bright Outlook

Too much rain, late cotton and early freezes have taken a lot of gleam off Lamb County's cotton crop for 1957.

But the picture for the county's grain crop looks brighter all the time.

That's the feeling of Lamar Aten, county ASC office manager, who said Tuesday that returns from the 1957 grain crop may top 1956 by a whopping million dollars.

Aten's comment came as farmers mopped up the end of the grain harvest for the year.

The county's harvest is about 38 per cent completed, with only a few patches in the northern edge of the county yet to be harvested.

"We'll make over $5 million on grain loans this year unless I miss my guess," the ASC office manager said.

Aten figures that money will represent about 90 per cent of the crop, boosting his prediction for the county's overall production to $5.5 million's worth.

He believes the 1957 crop is a "good million dollars" better in money than the 1956 effort.

The big reason for this, Aten says, is that Lamb County farmers have come through with some of the greatest yields in the county's history.

Those yields have offset prices which have hovered between $1.30 and $1.50 per hundredweight on the market.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has been accepting 13 per cent moisture grain at a $1.76 rate.

That $1.76 rate was the most attractive to farmers, so about 90 per cent of the crop probably will be handled at the local ASC office.

Farmers all over the county reported higher yields in 1957.

Lamb County Youth Officer Decision Near

County Judge Pat Boone Jr. said Tuesday that county commissioners may reach a decision on whether the county will employ a juvenile officer soon, possibly at a regular meeting Monday.

Judge Boone said he will make a report of his findings to commissioners at that time.

His comment came after a committee favoring the hiring of a county juvenile officer appeared before commissioners Saturday.

Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Littlefield, and Bill Lyman of Littlefield made a lengthy report of their investigation at the Saturday meeting.

Rev. Vanderpool and Lyman are among a group of men from throughout the county who have been studying the need for such an officer for the past several months.

A Lamb County grand jury recommended recently that the county employ a combination juvenile officer and juvenile probation officer.

The report given by Rev. Vanderpool and Lyman listed some 200 juvenile cases this year that would have been handled by a juvenile officer in Lamb County.

Says Littlefield's Master Planner..

"Yields up around 7,000 pounds to the acre on hybrid irrigated grain have been frequent," Aten says.

In fact, the ASC manager says, "I wouldn't be surprised if that's been about average on hybrid irrigated grain."

Grain yields of about 4,000 pounds on hybrid irrigated were about average in 1955.

The dryland farmer has seen his yields almost double over a year ago.

He drew about 800 pounds to the acre in 1956, and about 1,500 on the average in 1957, Aten figures.

High moisture content has been a problem this year for most grain farmers. Grain companies, however, have taken the wet grain and the risk of drying it down to 13 per cent, the CCC's standard.

Letters To Santa Start 'Texas-Style' St. Nick To Visit Here Friday

Jolly Old St. Nick is coming to Littlefield Friday Texas-style.

Many a mama will have to explain to the kiddos why Santa didn't bring his reindeer.

The fact that Santa will be pulled in a miniature buckboard by Shetland ponies won't make it any simpler for Mom.

But Santa never got a welcome any bigger than he'll get here Friday, when the annual Christmas parade will be staged at 4 p.m.

Hundreds of youngsters are expected to be on hand, along with the Littlefield High School and Junior High bands and the Hockley County Sheriff's posse.

Santa's buckboard will be followed by a chuck wagon filled with candy.

The parade will start at the Santa Fe Depot and wind up Phelps Avenue to the courthouse.

Santa will stop at the courthouse to talk with the children and dole out his candy.

Youngsters who don't get to talk to Santa personally or who don't get to talk long enough can write him a letter.

Santa's mail box has been set up in front of the News & Leader office so that youngsters can send their letters postage-free.

The News & Leader will print the letters, then send them on to Santa at his chilly quarters at the North Pole.

Lamb County FB Report

By PETE PETERMAN
The quarterly meeting of the Lamb County Farm Bureau will be held in Littlefield in the Legion Hut at 7 p.m. Monday. A covered dish supper followed by entertainment will start this quarter.

In the convention at Dallas there were many problems discussed that are vital to every farmer in Lamb County. I would like to use this column to tell you some of the things going on in agriculture circles in Lamb County and Texas.

First, our cotton classing is important to each and everyone of us farmers. By constantly working together, we can improve the methods used to class our cotton. In the Texas Farm Bureau convention the following resolution was passed and work has begun on it already: "We recommend that a government loan price be set up for "split grade," light spots, and "plus grade" cotton that would more accurately reflect the true value of the cotton."

A light spot; recognition by our government loan would increase the buying power of the farmers in this area. With the cooperation of each farmer, the Texas Farm Bureau, Plains Cotton Growers and other farm organizations we can accomplish this.

First commercial advertising was done orally or with pictures because writing had not yet been developed.

Driver Winds Up In Two Similar Mishaps; 3 Hurt

The first accident didn't convince Wendell L. Whitfield, 16, of Littlefield Saturday.

So he wound up in another mishap Sunday and landed in the hospital along with his two passengers.

Both mishaps involved parked vehicles that Whitfield wasn't able to avoid, officers said.

The first occurred Saturday about 1 p.m. when Whitfield made a left turn from Fourth Street onto Phelps.

His car smashed into a parked car owned by W. G. DeLoach of Sudan. DeLoach's car wasn't damaged, but Whitfield had a $40 repair bill.

The next night, about 11 p.m., Whitfield was driving west on East 7th Street. He smacked his auto into the rear of a parked truck-trailer.

This time Whitfield, along with two passengers, was injured. Whitfield, Lindie Roscoe Fair, 17, and James S. Wells, 16, all of Littlefield, were released from local hospitals after for cuts and bruises. Whitfield's auto was lost. The trailer was damaged slightly.

The loot at Emmons included a collection of 35 to 40 silver dollars.

The raid at Waggoner's came almost exactly three years after the firm was burglarized in 1954. The firm was entered by the same method on Dec. 3, 1954.

Wilkinson said the youths admitted spending most of the money taken in the burglaries. Everything else had been recovered, he said.

From statements made by the youths, officers pieced together this story:

Carter, his wife and Rollin left in a stolen 1953 automobile from Wasco, Calif. They admitted burglarizing a grocery store at Delano, Calif., prior to their departure.

They arrived in Sudan, the youths told officers, and got together with the Sudan youth. Carter told officers he used to live in Sudan.

The California youths said they and the other boy then went to Amherst in the Sudan youth's car and burglarized the Amherst firms.

The California youths said they then went back to Sudan, took the Sudan boy home, picked up Carter's wife and went to Lubbock.

Burglaries at Lubbock and Lorenzo followed before Lubbock officers arrested the pair.

Dyer and Wilkinson had been called out by Littlefield police earlier Tuesday night to question two Pittsfield, Mass., couples city police arrested in connection with the burglaries.

Wilkinson and Dyer questioned the couples, then got a call from Lubbock officers linking the California youths to the crimes.

The Massachusetts couples were still being held in the city jail Wednesday, awaiting questioning by FBI authorities.

Mrs. Dora Gilbert Masten, H. P. West, Delmer Cann, H. W. Qualls, Otis Markham, Tommy Henderson, Floyd Walker and Joe West.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Simmons and family of Berger were Thanksgiving guests in the home of his sister and family, the Marvin Mays.

Dr. Hemphill Meets With Church Board

DALLAS—The Rev. Lee Hemphill, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Littlefield is a member of the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas which met in Dallas Tuesday to recommend the distribution of $1 1/2 million for state missionary work. The 191-member board, composed of pastors and laymen from over the state, also elected administrative personnel and named members of important committees to function during the coming year. The $1 1/2 million in state mission funds is included in a record $10 1/2 million cooperative program mission budget approved earlier this year. It earmarks $228,408 for Latin-American work in Texas. Part of the board's business was to hear reports from a six-year Progress Committee engaged in a study of an advance program for every phase of Baptist work to culminate in a jubilee celebration in 1964. A $1 1/2 million Lottie Moon Christmas offering goal was presented to board members. The annual Christmas offering for foreign missions will be taken in Texas Baptists' 3,807 churches Dec. 8 following a week of prayer sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union of Texas. Board members also considered a proposed survey of all phases of Texas Baptist work by a management consultant firm.

General Manager Of TSA Cautions Texans On Safety

AUSTIN — "Today is the day to prevent an accident — not tomorrow." J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, issued these words of caution to Texans, regarding Christmas tree decorating safety. "Most of us make special efforts to see that our homes are filled with pleasure during the Christmas season. "Why, then," Musick asked, "can't we go a step further and make sure our holiday spirit isn't accidentally marred through carelessness in decorating our homes?" Musick pointed out that it takes less than 60 seconds for the average Christmas tree to burn completely. "You have probably seen a Christmas tree burned outdoors," he said. The roar and power of that fire are awesome, even when under control. It can bring death and terror into a home unless a few common sense precautions are taken. To reduce the possibilities of such an accident to minimum, Musick listed the following "musts" for safe decorating. 1. Keep tree outside until ready to set it up; then erect it away from heating units. Never place it so that it will block an exit. 2. Make a fresh cut diagonally in the trunk, at least one inch above the original cut, and keep the base in a water-filled container during the holidays. 3. Anchor your tree firmly at both the top and bottom. Don't try to fireproof your tree with chemicals. Use non-flammable decorations. 4. Keep lighted candles away from tree or other decorations. Use only Underwriter approved lighting — checking to make certain all sockets and wires are in good condition. 5. Turn off tree-lights at bedtime or when away from home. 6. Clean up after Christmas gift opening — scattered wrappings are an invitation to disaster. 7. Dispose of tree safely; never burn it in the fireplace. "Remember," Musick concluded, "keep your Christmas a bright one, with happiness not with fire."

Yuletide Season Has Become Time Of Death On Highways

Peace on earth, good will toward men—this is the theme of the holiday season. The whole Christmas story is one of peace, joy, hope and happiness.

Yet, ironically, the Christmas season has become a time of tragedy and death on Texas streets and highways.

The two principal villains in the holiday accident picture are excessive speed and drinking drivers. In fact, a combination of these factors accounted for 71 percent of the rural fatal accidents during 1956.

The rush to get home for the holidays, increased crowds of shoppers and ever-present glass of cheer combine with heavy traffic, parties and careless pedestrians to turn this happiest of all seasons into the deadliest time of the year.

But all of this need not be, if we would use just a little extra care and courtesy in our driving and walking. Too, it would help if we gave more support to public officials, safety organizations and law enforcement agencies who are stepping up their fight on accident prevention. With these simple efforts Texas could go a long way toward keeping peace and joy in the holiday season.

This is just what we are asked to do by the Texas Safety Association which is now busily engaged in statewide activities designed to keep the holiday accident toll to a minimum.

By way of suggestion, here are some of the things which we, as individuals can do to help hold down the holiday death toll.

Soft pedal the gas pedal! Remember that winter weather, here in Texas, is very changeable without notice, and you may often be called on to change your driving habits to meet driving conditions.

Stay alert! Don't let hustle and bustle of last minute Christmas shopping distract you when you are walking or driving.

Don't drive after drinking! And, watch out for those who do. You can't get responsibility out of a bottle.

Beware of early darkness! December's early twilight accounts for many deaths by the prolong reduction of clear vision. If possible, plan to do your traveling during daylight hours. If you are a pedestrian, give yourself extra time when crossing streets.

Finally, resolve to give real support to those who are protecting your life. Only through your good will and help can public officials crack down on traffic accidents. Speak up and act for stiffer fines, no-fix tickets and adequate police personnel.

Journalists And Doctors

Newspaper people and doctors have a great deal in common. That is the unusual theme of an editorial in the Louisville Courier Journal, entitled "Press And Medicine Both Serve The People."

The Journal says: "The two professions—medicine and journalism—have some notable points of similarity. Both are concerned with important functions of human life. Doctors strive to preserve and restore human health . . . Journalists deal with the health of human minds in a democracy by trying to keep them adequately informed."

"Both professions are practiced by men and women who are passionate believers in their calling. Here is perhaps the root of some misunderstanding. A doctor believes that all must recognize the nobility of his profession. A journalist is just as convinced that the satisfaction of the people's right to know is a duty of a high moral order. Such pride can lead to arrogance on both sides. The practitioners of both professions sometimes fail to explain their actions fully to each other or to the public, because they forget that any explanation is necessary . . ."

Happily, misunderstandings born of such causes are much less common than they used to be. More and more doctors—along with medical societies—now recognize the need for good public relations, within the framework of medicine's high code of ethics. More and more newspaper people, on their side, are showing a keen interest in the problems and achievements of the medical fraternity. The legitimate interests of both groups—and, of far greater importance, the public interest—is thus served.

$51 Billion Isn't Enough

The federal highway program is supposed to provide 41,000 miles of roads over a 13-year period at a cost of $51 billion. But now, according to a growing body of evidence, it begins to appear that even that incredible sum of money isn't enough for the job. The Chicago American says: "Some authorities think the present appropriation will pay for only half the new roads we need."

It's interesting to relate this king-sized problem to something that is going on in the states. In Illinois, Wisconsin and Texas determined efforts were made to lift truck weight limits to the startling figure of 72,000 pounds. The Illinois and Wisconsin legislatures did pass such bills, but in both cases they were vetoed by the state governors, on advice of highway authorities. In Texas the bill passed the House but died in the Senate—when, reportedly, members began "Hearing from the folks back home."

Wisconsin's Governor Thomson, in explaining his veto, said: "Probably not more than 10 per cent of our Class A highways are constructed to carry such loads." The cost of such superhighways is unbelievably high. So is the cost of maintenance. And they are definitely not needed by private cars and by trucks of moderate size, which make up the vast majority of the traffic.

Soaring road costs are commonly blamed on inflation. This is a factor but not the only one by any means. The oversize trucks constitute one of the principal reasons. That's why more and more people, in and out of government, are coming to believe that it is time to review our methods of raising road money—and to share the costs on a more equitable basis than is the case today.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Both special sessions of the Legislature passed all the bills for which Gov. Price Daniel called them. Most by wide margins.

Even so, final days found everyone at sixes and sevens. House members and Senators wrangled among themselves. Each house sniped at the other. And numerous lawmakers found ways to show they were put out with the governor.

Both houses gave lop-sided approval to the two bills requested by the governor to bolster local control of schools. One allows closing of school threatened with federal occupation. The other empowers the attorney general to assist districts in fighting anti-segregation suits.

Then another bill was proposed to allow county judges to require registration of organizations attempting to interfere with public school operations. Sponsors said it was aimed at the NAACP. Though there seemed to be no large block of opposition to the measure itself, haggling technicalities stretched out the time table.

Some legislators accused others of deliberately prolonging the session to embarrass the governor. Each day (including weekends) made a $11,000 bite into the governor's emergency fund. House members said Senators were sticking around to have the last word in their feud with the Insurance Department.

Whatever the cause, it seemed evident that the Texas Legislature can't be turned on and off like a faucet.

HINDSIGHT — Renewal of the contest over tidelands ownership brought criticism of Governor Daniel's role in the federal tidelands law.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo said he felt Daniel should have seen to it the 1953 law recognized specifically Texas' claim to lands 10 1/2 miles out.

Daniel, then a U.S. Senator, sponsored the federal law. At present a federal suit challenges Texas' claim to land beyond three miles.

Daniel retorted that if Hardeman would read the bill he would find it gives each state title to boundaries "as they existed at the time such state entered the union." Texas Congress fixed the coastal boundary at 10 1/2 miles into the Gulf, said the governor.

Hardeman replied Daniel should have attached a map to the bill.

NOT HAPPY — Dissatisfaction of a number of Senators with the Insurance Department seems unlikely to simmer down.

Senate investigating committee indicated it is still not through with its inquiry into the Department's delay in action on an unfavorable report on Preferred Life. It recessed after hearing two assistant state auditors confirm the examiner's finding of irregularities in the company.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood stressed the committee's findings in a speech explaining why the Senate had turned down the Insurance Board's appointment of William A. Harrison as commissioner. He said the Senate felt Harrison had been remiss in not taking immediate action against the company.

Senate finance committee turned critical questions on the three board members for having questioned the Senate's right to pass on Harrison's appointment. Board appeared to ask a bill authorizing the department to reduce the number of examiners and raise salaries.

LAND BUY OKAYED — Legislature moved forward another step the plan for a consolidated state government center in the heart of Austin.

Both houses passed a bill authorizing purchase of two blocks northeast of the Capitol for a Texas Employment Commission Building.

Overall plan is to ring the Capitol on three sides with five new buildings. Included will be the State Courts Building, state office building, Insurance Building, TEC Building and library and archives building. Cost is estimated at $20,000,000, all to come from various special funds rather than general revenue.

OIL LEASING HELD UP — Excessive importing of foreign oil was blamed for the Texas School Land Board's decision not to hold an oil and gas lease sale in February.

Board members said the market is too depressed to make a sale worthwhile. "There's no use putting up our school lands at a cheap price to let the oil companies profit still more because of their excess imports," said Governor Daniel.

At least one large oil company has informed the state it may pay rentals on present leases of submerged land under pending outcome of a federal suit contesting state ownership of a portion of the tidelands.

A CHANCE TO SPEAK — Citizens in every county will be given a chance to say what kind of schooling is needed to equip Texas youngsters to live in a space age.

A school study committee set up by the last Legislature plans to ask local county committees to submit ideas. Called the Hale-Aiken Committee, the 24-member panel is made up of legislators and private citizens.

They've promised to heed the wants of interested citizens in the report they're to make to the next session. Already, there's been a large response.

Suggestions range from a "crash" program in science to cutting new building needs by using facilities 12 months a year.

Broad areas being explored in the study are (1) what to teach and for how long, (2) how to get teachers, (3) how to build buildings and (4) how to pay for it all.

MONEY READY — State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler repeated an earlier statement that he is ready to start making payments of about 33 cents on the dollar to US Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors.

He's been ready since September, said Wheeler, but a court fight among creditors has blocked action. His statement apparently was prompted by legislative criticism of "too slow" liquidation proceedings.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas' January draft quota will be 493 men, highest call since August, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. This compares with a call of 340 for December.

Also in January, local draft boards are to send some 2,000 men for re-induction examinations. Travis County Judge Tom Johnson is making another try at getting the state to pay cost of returning criminals from other states. Previous Legislature and governor cold-shouldered his pleas. Records show extraditions cost Travis County $1,117 in 1956. . . . A 14-member citizens advisory committee named by Governor Daniel will assist the Texas Employment Commission in sorting out the various jobs of state employees. Last regular legislative session authorized formation of the committee "to develop an orderly classification plan based on actual duties and responsibilities."

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is misinterpreting the news again, his letter this week indicates.

I'm no scientist, but I've lifetime working on research, if a basic research somebody who works as hard as I do, regardless of whether it or not.

Farming the way I do as close to being basic as anything I can think of. A farmer starts a year he has no more idea what he's going to turn out than a scientist starting a year without practically no theories. I know farmers have plowed ahead without practically no theories. I know farmers have plowed ahead without practically no theories. I know farmers have plowed ahead without practically no theories.

But there must be a take. If Washington is a shortage of us basic researchers, it ought to take count of the farmers country. Instead of counting much we produced, it ought to find out how much we researchers, but our we've been researching wrong field.

Your faithfully,

What we need now, Washington has decided, is more scientists for basic research. More egghead scientists, men who work on theories without any consideration for whether the idea will be worth anything commercially or not.

Cadillac

A Masterpiece... Even by Cadillac Standards!

The magnificent Cadillac car for 1938 is, without question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac . . . a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no precedent insofar as beauty is concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury and spaciousness in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own extraordinary pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are simply a revelation.

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to see and drive this extraordinary new Cadillac at your earliest possible convenience.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on Cadillac's twelve new models, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham.
