Allison News

By Joe Ann Love

I am going to try my hand at reporting the Allison News. This is a new experience for me, so I will need all of the help that I can get.

Most of the people around Allison already know who I am, but for those who don't, I will tell you a little bit about myself and my family. We moved here from Queen Creek, Arizona (near Phoenix) in the summer of 1979 and my husband, Jimmy, takes care of the place southeast of town that is owned by Troy Jones. I am originally from Woodson, Texas (a tiny town between Throckmorton and Breckenridge) and Jimmy was born at Bowie. He also lived near Fort Stockton, Texas as a boy. We have two married daughters: Sheryl (Mrs. Danny Rhodes) and Diane (Mrs. Dale Van Horn) who also live at Allison.

We still have three children at home: Wanda Jo is a senior this year and hopes to attend school at Levelland (South Plains College) next fall. They offer a course there in country music and record engineering that she is interested in. Our only son, Wayne, is a sophomore and he is interested in farming, ranching, and truck driving. He likes basketball, motorcycle riding, camping, horseback riding and rodeo. His greatest achievement recently was passing his drivers license test just after he turned 16, in March. Our youngest daughter, Barbara Ann, is in third grade. She likes to go with her Daddy and help him as often as she can. She also likes playing basketball, riding horses, going for walks, and visiting her older sisters who live in town.

Now that everybody knows all about us, I hope you'll share your news with me. If you have any personal items that you'd like to have printed, or if your church or club has an item, please let me know. My telephone number is 375-2258, or if you prefer, you may drop which will be at Miller's grocery.

This past week has really been a busy one for students and teachers at the Allison School.

On Monday, April 6th, Coach Williams took several participants to the district tennis meet at Pampa. Those going were Marki Chandler, Tina Black, Terri Gibbs, Michelle Coulter, Pam Reames, Sherri Dutton, and Melanie Dutton won on Monday, so they went back to compete again on Tuesday, and placed third.

The 53rd annual Texas Tech Vocational Agriculture Judging Contest was held at Lubbock on Saturday, April 11. It was estimated that over 1,600 high school students from north, west and central Texas came for the event. Attending the contest from Allison along with our F.F.A. sponsor and Ag. teacher, Rick Smetana, were Tammy Hall, Jay Robertson, Charles Nelson, Guy Kuhlman, and Wanda Love in Dairy Cattle Judging. Marki Chandler, Tina Black, Jim Hall, Mike Rogers and Kevin Boydston were in Land Judging and Michelle Coulter, Angela Elmore, and Leon Lane were in Livestock Judging.

A special assembly was held on the morning of April 13th at which our principal, Mr. Gibbs, expressed his appreciation to all the students who represented Allison School at the U.I.L. meet in Clarendon on the 9th and 10th. He also presented ribbons to Melanie Dutton for 4th place in number sense, Wanda Love for 4th place in typing, Tina Black for 4th place in poetry, and Terri Gibbs for 2nd place in prose. Terri will be travelling to Levelland on April 24th to participate in the state competition which will be held at South Plains College.

Removing Price Tags, Labels—Sticky Work

Removing price tags and labels from household items can be sticky work, but it's far from hopeless.

Several precautions will prevent damage to metal, plastic or wood items.

A bit of "trial-and-error" may be necessary in finding the best method in each case, so is one procedure doesn't work, try another one.

Don't use strong abrasives or solutions until you adequately test them on the material in question, since they might soften, scratch, discolor or damage the item.

Here are suggestions for removing four of the most common kinds of labels:

Pressure-Sensitive Adhesives

Stickers or labels that are peeled from a backing or roll and pressed in place on a product are pressure-sensitive adhesives.

Often, these simply can be peeled off the product.

Adhesive that remains than can be rubbed off with your fingers similar to the way you "thumb-roll" rubber cement into small balls.

For older adhesive or adhesive that has been exposed to high temperatures and/or humidity, other methods of removal may be needed.

Surface of the household item will determine which methods and materials are safe.

Always pretest detergents, solvents, ammonis, acetone and other materials to assure they won't permanently damage or soften the product's finish. Pretest on the backside, bottom or inside of the item in a hidden place.

Some pressure-sensitive adhesives will come off if you use a solution of warm water, liquid dishwashing detergent and vinegar or ammonia.

Depending on the surface in question, oil, fingernail polish remover and acetone are other suggestions.

Commercial prewash spot removers are effective on some adhesives.

Whatever you choose, work the solution underneath or through the label to release the adhesive.

If you try cleaning fluid, remember it can soften some plastics. One cleaning-fluid procedure is to saturate a folded white cloth or paper towel with the solution, then place it over the label or tape for a few minutes, and when the adhesive softens, rub the label with another cloth or towel.

Water-Soluble Glue

Any label that was attached by moistening the adhesive with water requires a very simple procedure for removal: Simply soak it in water, if possible.

One way to soak the label without soaking the product is to saturate a sponge or several layers of paper towels with warm water and place it over the label.

This method works effectively on water-soluble glue, but if used mistakenly on pressure sensitive adhesives, it can make them more difficult to remove.

Appliques

Appliques are decal-like products sometimes placed on the bottom of a bathtub or showers for more slip-resistant surfaces. Through use, appliques show signs of wear or discoloration, and then it's necessary to remove them.

Often the applique and all its adhesive can be pulled up easily. More often, the top layer of the applique will separate, leaving a thin film of adhesive on the tub or shower surface.

To remove the film, get a grip on the edge with your fingernail, or get underneath it with a sharp-edge scraper. If the adhesive tears, try another edge, working toward the center until all traces of the applique are removed.

If the film is too thin to scrape or peel off, try working a generous amount of commercial prewash spot remover underneath the film to work on the adhesive. Allow the solution to soak through the adhesive for about 30 minutes,

Old Mobeetie Ass'n Meets

April 9, 1981

Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock 1981, the Old Mobeetie Association, met for the regular April business meeting in the hospitality room of the then scrape up the residue.

Take special precautions with fiberglass-reinforced plastic tub and shower units. Manufacturers of these do not recommend the use of strong solvents, abrasives and other preparations which can cause serious damage to the smooth protective finish.

Purple Price Marks To remove purple price marks, use a cloth or paper towel dampened in a solution of half chlorine bleach and half water. This method will remove these marks that sometimes are transferred to kitchen counter tops and other similar surfaces.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, lightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals... call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

what's happened. I've lost my notes. I know they would not be really late news, but I know I had some interesting things to tell. No use digging my poor feeble brain—I just can't think of very much.

There is one thing I want to mention. Not long ago I had a letter from Louise (Foashee) Hayes, who lives at Wilburton, Oklahoma. I remember Louise when she was just a young woman. She is the daughter of the late Mrs. Galand Foashee, are all here. Now from what I can hear those five 'girls' are having a ball. I heard such things as "one night we all sleep upstairs," & something about somebody falling out of bed, grabbing the curtain, which all came tumbling down. On Tuesday night Ida Farmer asked the five of them, along with Mary Finsterwald and me to come over and play Canasta. That was the most fun I've had in a long time. Ocie and Hazel leave for home in the morning (Wednesday) Gladys and Vernie will stay a while longer.

Guests of the Harold Nashes this week are their daughter Maryilyn and Mae's sister, Mrs. Jo Denning, both from Phoenix, Arizona.
