The reception was my first opportunity to see the "spread" Maxey's puts out for such an affair. I have commented on their catering of banquets, but this was a new experience. One could have spent all his time at the table "grazing". It was delicious and looked beautiful; my compliments, Wanda. Wanda was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Gina Herd.

Thursday evening, I had the opportunity to spend some time with Santa. Santa visited Wheeler from 6 to 8 p.m. in the "old stamp store". I operated the camera and had several assistants in timing the developing for the film. 81 pictures were taken. Compliments are extended to Donna Velasquez and Andrea Sims for the excellent job of cleaning and decorating the building. Hyland's Pharmacy helped me cover the cost of "no good" pictures. And, our thanks to Sheriff Jimmy Arlams in his help of getting Santa into town. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored Santa's visit.

The ground was covered with snow in Wheeler Sunday morning, but the amount of moisture received was only 0.04". The estimated measurement of snow would have been 0.4". I can't tell you about the snow, because I am not sure how far it reached in any direction.

Toys for Tots collections are once again being made in Wheeler. Help brighten Christmas for some youngster. Leave a new or used toy in one of the barrels located in Wheeler, Shamrock and Bell Mart.

Back to the subject of food-one of my favorite subjects, remember the meal being sponsored by the Wheeler Mustang Band Sunday. Give mom a day off-guaranteed good eating. Then set back and enjoy the music, as the bands present their annual Christmas Concert.

I had intended to extend my compliments to Rainbow Carpet in Pampa. We had them come in the Friday after Thanksgiving to clean the carpet at the house. I could not believe

Wheeler Senior Citizens December Meeting

The Wheeler Senior Citizens gathered Monday night for their regular dinner and game night with a beautiful decorated Christmas tree and four guest present who were Bro. Weldon Rives. Pastor of the Methodist Church and wife Margie, Betty Howard, Ruby Beashears and B.K. Barham. Members present were Helen and Eli Sabbe and Tom and Alice Bell Helton, Leon and Vea Fillingim, Roy and Lois Meadows, Ray and Mae Brazeal.

Jess and Curtis Moore, Oleta Jones, Ruth Hoggard, Elva Wood, Lawrence Lancaster, Paul Shumate, Eupha Mae Sorenson, Jewell Holloman, Mary Finsterwald, Fannie Mae Bradstreet, Nellie Horton, Sallie Harris, Opal Davidson, Hestell Killingsworth, Grace Burk, Pet Sims, Birdie Hudson, Naomi Speck and Amelia Sims. The halls and tables were beautifully decorated with Christmas scenes.

After the bountiful meal the program was presented by Bro. Rives. A poem was read on the ageing of our minds which brought chuckles from the crowd. Then a Christmas letter was read and we were reminded of what the true Christmas is all about. After the program there was the exchange of gifts and games of 88, dominoes, and canasta were played and enjoyed by all.

We invite all Senior Citizens to come meet with us. Help make 1989 the best of yester years.

Have you been to the Wheeler Library, lately--or at all? If not, then you are missing one of the enjoyable expereinces of life. The physical appearance of the library is a real credit to our community. BUT, as you cross the threshhold you CAN pass into the aura of romance, suspense, the old west, mystery, scientific wonder plus the added opportunity of emerging again a better educated person, better balanced to meet the challenge of life and of being smugly intellectually fed. Why, Pardner, a book is one of the best friends you can have without the chance of backtalk! I think you will also appreciate the friendly, courteous, interested service of the personnel. Try it!! and be blessed.

highway 67 and hadn't gone but a few miles and had a blowout on the car. The right front tire had blown and luckily it didn't swerve er nothing and we got off the road without mishap and I figured this would be a Piece of Cake as I raised the trunk to get the spare and found we didn't have a spare, someone had left what looked like the front wheel off of a wheelborrow, Mama said Ab that's the spare, Slim Pickens I thought but got it out and started looking for the Bumper Jack and found some weird looking thing that looked like an overgrown Nut Cracker and after readin the instructions on the heal we got it to work and then tried to get the hubcap off so I could change the tire, lookin at the instructions again we found a sort of funny wrench to get the hubcap off and changed the tire to this fool thing that's called an Emergency spare, normally a Feller would try to get home on the spare but that durn thing wouldn't get you two miles down the road. Ask Johnny Reid about them Jap jobs. I'm goin to see if my brother has a 15 inch, 5 hole Chevy rim and a good spare I can borrow. I've seen two Goat Ropings and One County Fair but I shore felt foolish pullin into that Service Station last night to get a Tire. Don't know what to do bout that Nut Cracker jack but Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets. Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas. Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs. Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit. Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk. If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL). Place your tree away from the fireplace or other heat sources and out of the traffic pattern. Never string lights on a metallic tree. Light strings with damaged insulation can electrically charge a metallic tree. Instead, shine unattached colored floodlights or spotlights on the tree. Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too. Never use lighted candles on a tree or near evergreens. And don't burn evergreens in the fireplace. Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty. When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines. Make sure you or your decorations don't come in contact with them.

MOBEETIE

Community News

The children of the Mobeetie School in kidergarten, first and second grades will soon be sporting new, warm, colorful caps made for them by the women of Mobeeite and the surrounding area through the "KID'S CAPS" program.

The Mobeetie ladies have been crocheting and knitting for the last 2 months to reach our goal of 30 caps to be delivered to the school before they close for the holidays. We went over the goal and 37 caps will be distributed to the children by their teachers under the leadership of the school principal, Vikie Lewis.

The women who participated in the "KID'S CAPS" program by donating yarn or making caps are: Annabelle Corcoran, Doris Finsterwald, Leta Mae Gatlin, Ethel Grimes (Wheeler), Carrie Harris, Louise Hogan, Mary Hovey, Carol McCurley, Juanita Parker (Pampa), Betty Rains, Elizabeth Richardson, Anna Lee Sims, and Eva Webb, Margaret Trout and LaJaune Alexander (Wheeler).

Ladies we appreciate your efforts and your enthusiastic response. Thank you very much.

From The Minister's Desk: In the book, None of These Diseases, the author, Dr. S. I. McMillen uses a story from a book by Dale Carnegie to illustrate the tragic results of revenge.

On a trip to Yellowstone Park, Mr. Carnegie was taken with a group of tourists to a place where the grizzly bears were fed. The guide told the group that a grizzly bear can kill almost any animal in the United States. But as Mr. Carnegie watched the bears eat, he noticed that there was one animal that the bears would allow to eat with them — a skunk!

One of the bears could have lived up to their reputation and killed this two-toned intruder. But none did! Why? These bears apparently realized the costly results that would come from such an action.

Smart bears! Much smarter than the many people who spend weary days and sleepless nights brooding over wrongs done to them, fostering resentment and planning revenge. These people do not apparently realize the tragic results of resentment and revenge.

Do you? What do you do when you are mistreated? For example, what would you do if ------Your boss promises to recommend you for a promotion, but instead belittles your performance. smart as a grizzly bear. Your mate who pledged to love you for better or worse leaves you

> Your dearest friend gossips about the secrets of your life.

Such experiences are unjust and unfair. But what should your response be? Should it be a response of resentment and revenge? Or should it be a response of forgiveness and mercy?

Perhaps the correct response is given in Ephesians 4:31-32, which says: "Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. And be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other, just as God in Christ also has forgiven you."

The correct response is to forgive those people who mistreat you. And this response is rooted in the forgiveness that God has granted.

you. The Apostle Paul said: "--Just as God in Christ also has forgiven you." (verse 32)

When it is hard for you to forgive someone who has mistreated you, focus on the forgiveness that you have received from God. Ponder on the sins that He graciously forgave. And remember that this forgiveness is not the result of what you did; it is the result of what Jesus did (Ephesians 2:4-10). To freely forgive people is to be like God. And it makes you as

Time flies-very fast for a lot of us but more slowly for the little people who are waiting for Christmas morning. Well, boys and girls, it won't be long. May each one of you have a very Happy Christmas.

The days have been sorta confusing for me. When you mix shopping, wrapping packages, trimming the Christmas Tree, having company, along with a regular work program, it does jumble routines. But most every household faces all this at Christmas Season, so we might as well buckle down and think about what Christmas really means.

Smoking A Turkey

If you want something unusual for Christmas, try smoking a turkey. Smoked turkey tastes wonderful and cuts down on the mess in the kitchen.

Check the instructions that came with your smoker for advice on how to cook a large bird. Some cookbooks will also contain this information.

Buy high quality charcoal and wood chips to help insure that the fire will be maintained during the long cooking time. Start with dry chips to produce a fast smoke, then add wet chips for slow cooking toward the end of the process.

Also remember that a full pan of water must be in the smoker at all times at maintain proper humidity.

For safety's sake, use two thermometers. Use a meat thermometer to tell you when the meat is cooked. Poultry meat is done when the meat thermometer registers at least 180 to 185 degrees F at the thickest part of the dark meat, such as the thigh or who works.

the Burley Mann's trip. They were in Austin during Thanksgiving. They spent several days with their son, R.B. Mann and family. On their return home they were picked up at the Amarillo Airport by their daughter, LaJaune Alexander and her friend, Opal Farris.

Here in Wheeler, during Thanks-Alexander were hosts to old friends who had lived in Perryton, when the Alexander's lived there. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Deutschendorf who now live in Stratford, on their way to Oklahoma, stopped by. They were accompanied And speaking of time flying-a lot by Mrs. Deutschendorf's sister, Pat LaJaune also identifies Mr. Deutschendorf as being the uncle of the singing and recording star, John Denver, whose wedding they attended last summer.

> On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn, their daughter Tammy Trevino and small daughter Crystal from Dumas stopped for a visit with the Alexanders. LaJaune at one time was a sitter for the Dunn children, but didn't recognize Tammy as a grown up parent.

> On Saturday night the Alexander's son, Farrell and wife Karen of Littlefield, Tex. stopped by on their way home from Nebraska where they had visited Karen's relatives. Farrell is a member of the law enforcement for the city of Littlefield. Karen is a dispatcher. The Alexander's other son, Russ and his wife Susan of Pampa spent several days with his parents-going back to Pampa for a days work and returning here. Susan helped LaJaune with corn popping for the Care Center residents on Friday. Russ took time to do some hunting while here.

> LaDawn and Traci Milburn of Borger visited their grandmother, Lydia Guthrie on the week end.

> Joe and Rhonda Guthrie returned to Ft. Bliss on Tuesday after visiting relatives here, and Shamrock and Twitty.

involvement is essential to the vitality of the fine arts," said Mrs. Klein.

The Golden Nail theme is taken from a rhyme beginning "For want of Wheeler Times, a nail...." that tells of a nail lost from Bothe shoe of one horse that led to the loss of the horse, the rider, the battle and finally a kingdom.

Winners are chosen from the slate Meadows in Wheeler, Texas and of nominees by a four-person committee selected from immediate past presidents or executive committee members of fine arts boards, past Golden Nail Award winners or past members of the Golden Nail Committee.

Nominations are invited from individuals as well as arts organizations, Mrs. Klein said.
