Folks have always laughed at me cause I live from hand to mouth and Thank you to Zelma Reid for the always have. It seems that I ain't the only one that lives that way. Unkle Sam is doin it every few days but I can't figer out how. When me and Mama are out of funds we really mean it but the US of A government just starts up the money presses and out comes another ten gillion bucks.

Tomorrow is voting day and Mama is one of the birds that run the election in our township. She has to be there at the polls at 0500 and start gettin things ready for us Democrats and Republicans to decide who we want in office that we can critisize for the next two or four years. The polling place Mama works at is the Masonic Lodge and just up the street is the other polling place for this township. The other polling place is the Freedom Fire Dept. and the good ladies of the community will serve both the polling places their meals for the day. Us henpecked husbands will either have to do our own cooking that day er find a few crumbs scattered along the way. No crumbs for Ab, I had to go to the Freedom Sparlands and pay for my food. Elections over and what now? Ha. By the way, that hospital stay wuz not bad, said I had eaten too many M and M's er sumthin. It wuz iner ear infection and I would survive. Man I don't want any more of that. Apparently it ain't as contageous as I figered and the Doc said I could split wood, mow the yard and any other job Mama has lined out for me. Don't want any more of it. I bought a couple of lottery tickets on election day and no luck but the bird that bought the next two tickets had luck. He won $2,500.00 bucks. Please don't let Mama know of this though she might cut out the homemade biskits for a month er maybe let me sleep in the barn for a week. Recon I better shut this thing off

To BE Given Away ... World's Largest Stocking, Stocking for Men & Stocking for Women (13 & Over) (12 & Under)

Had wonderful weather for the Honey Festival and Veterans Day. We are proud of all our veterans and the Memorial that Roger Mills County erected honoring them. If you haven't been to Cheyenne to see it, the new courthouse, the Black Kettle Museum, and the Battle of the Washita Monument out west a ways, you have missed something. Often, the nicest things are right at home. And the Antelope Hills where Coronado camped when he went thru this country, Dead Indian and Skipout Lakes. Roger Mills County has about everything.

Surely was a big crowd at the Festival. Everyone said it was biggest parade ever. The Kitchen Band performed in the morning to an enthusiastic audience. Jane Nell Cox of The City Flower Shop presented lovely corsages to the members. Visited with Burneal (Hill) Daniels of OKC. We were young together once. Sue Smith and her daughter Laurinda OKC had a booth. Wanell Waldo of Wheeler, Lee and Shirley Griffey of Canute also had booths.

Saw Mrs. Emery from Clinton, Geneva Miller, Strong City, Oscar and Lena Luman, Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Boggus, Cheyenne, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Rogers, Grace Roberts, Pauline and Shortie Lee, Pat Tignor, and the Chub Campbells, all of Sayre, plus several hundred others.

I didn't have the lucky ticket but the quilt did come to Sweetwater to live. Marcia Coker was the lucky winner. Eileen Logan won the doll given by the 100th Meridian Museum.

Joe lost me in the crowd at the Arts and Crafts. Called out Honey, where are you? and seven women answered "here" before I could get there.

After the weekend festival, on Tuesday, the band went to Grand Place. Found Jim Dykes manager and Kim Boswell, a SW girl, is the new social director. Cleta Coffey was visiting.

Seedig Reunion Roma and Billy Brown got back Held October 5-7

The Seedig reunion was held Oct. 5, 6 and 7, 1990, at Sonn-See-Farr, home of Leone and Lynn Farr, FM 1991, one mile southeast of Meridian, Texas.

Hosting the reunion were the Leone (Seedig) Farr family. Tessie (Seedig) Lund family, Louie and Ellen Sonntag, Emily and Bunk Mills, Wilbert and Lenis Seedig, and Hilda Seedig.

The reunion began Friday afternoon. Upon arrival, each one was asked to register and given a nametag by Patsy Lund.

An evening meal of sandwiches, chips and dips and desserts was shared outdoors. A guest, Marcia Eppler, provided entertainment as she sang songs and also led in a sing-along. Games of 42 were played. Then it was time to retire for the evening to motel rooms in town and neighboring towns, to their own camper, staying with relatives, or returning to their own homes.

Saturday began with all returning for breakfast. Ladies were fixing the eggs and biscuits in the kitchen while the men cooked the sausage and bacon on a large grill outdoors. Homemade jellies, coffee cake, and TX. coffee completed the meal.

As the day progressed, more relatives arrive. Pitching horseshoes and playing croquet was enjoyed.

Garland Schoor led the family in prayer before the pot luck dinner. Tables, chairs, and haybales were set up outdoors for meals and convenience of visiting.

In the afternoon, Wilbert Seedig and Ivanne Farr presided at the business meeting. Letters and phone messages from some who could not attend were shared at this time. These people were dearly missed.

It was noted that Olga Schoor, 86, was the oldest one present; Benjamin Bernhardt, 4, the youngest one present; Lynn Farr, Jr. of Canada, came the greatest distance; and the descendents of the late Richard Seedig were the largest family group present. With the Farr's consent, it was decided to have the reunion for its fourth consecutive year at the same place next year, Oct. 4, 5, and 6, 1991. The Olga Schoor family will serve as hosts. The Saturday evening meal consisted of hamburgers grilled by some of the men. The bountiful dessert table was located in the den for the entire weekend. Sunday morning began with a big breakfast, a repeat of the previous morning. Then all gathered under the oak trees for the worship service. Marcia Eppler sang a solo and led the group in singing several hymns. Lynn Farr, Jr. read scripture, gave a sermonette, and led everyone in prayer. Throughout the day, people were saying goodbyes. Some family members had great distances to go, so they had to leave early. Those remaining shared one more meal together with Clara Klass giving the table prayer. In addition to fellowship and good food, cameras and video recorders captured much of the weekend's activities. Some family members visited family gravesites, drove by the old Richard Seedig place near Clifton, and visited their relatives. At times, the wind was gusty, the temperature was a little too warm for some and pesky flies came even though they were not invited. All of these were minor problems. Otherwise the outdoor weekend was wonderful! The attendance numbered 57. Present from the late Richard Seedig family were Clara Klass and Norman Klass of Chelsea, OK .; Olga Schoor of Abernathy; Mildred Griffith of Amarillo; Bea and Louie Flowers, Randy and Shirley Schoor, Garland and Barbara Schoor, all of Lubbock; Henry and Fronie Seedig of Olney; Lillian and James Haile of Aledo; June and Ken Daily of Haslet; Minnie Nolte and Delbert Nolte of South Houston; Ida Wolff, Lee and Martha Wolff, all of Cleveland, OK.; Gertrude and Oscar Bernhardt of Fort Worth; Armin and Karen Bernhardt and children Christopher, Jennifer, and Benjamin of Garland. Present from the late Mrs. Alvin (Emma Seedig) Sonntag family were Louie and Ellen Sonntag of Meridian. Present from the late Emil Seedig family were Clara Cole, Emily and Bunk Mills, Sonja Bliss, and Brandon Bliss, all of Amarillo. Present from the late Paul Seedig family were Tessie, Orin, and Patsy Lund of Clifton; Frank and Janice Lund of Kopperl; Max Lund of Plano; Leone, Lynn, and Ivanne Farr of Meridian; Lynn Farr, Jr. of Montreal, Quebec, Canada; Dana Arnold of Southlake; Mark Alsup of Canyon Lake; and LeAnne Alsup of Canyon Christi. Present from the late Louis Seedig family were Hilda Seedig of Waco; Bessie and Harvey Fichte to Clarendon; and Wilbert and Lenis Seedig of Perryton.

By Laura Guthrie You can't always go by expert opinion. A turkey, is you ask a turkey, should be stuffed with grasshoppers, grit and worms.

Thanksgiving

It's more than golden turkey, mincemeat, and pumpkin pies; It's home and health and sharing, and close-knit family ties. It's mellow hours of weaving a glowing holiday; creating rich traditions that live beyond the day.

May each of you have a happy Holiday.

I'm low on the scale this week. Instead of being lifted by a party, I'm lowered by a cold. I hope I don't spoil the familys day. If every thing works out well, we will drive over to Fairview, OK. and spend the day with Steve's and Melinda's mother, Lydia.

Tootsie Jolly told me that her son, Dean Jolly who lives in Tyler, Tex. suffered an apparent heart attack Monday. He was in I.C.U. late that day but hopefully recovering.

Wayne Roper, Elva Woods cousin, and a former Wheeler citizen died, Monday. He lived at Lagrainge, Tex. Elva Woods sister-in-law (Fred Woods sister) Violet died last week. She lived in Glenrose, Tex.

Elva is expecting her family to be with her for Thanksgiving Day. Her son James Hubble and family of Dimmitt, her daughter Elizabeth and husband Lanny Atchley and family of Lefors and a granddaughter Caroline Britton of Groom, are all expected.

Jean Pollock, who has been here with her mother, Jewell Holloman, has returned to her home in Maryland. Jewell returned with her and will spend the winter there.

I enjoyed Lawrence Welks tribute to Thanksgiving last Saturday night. Of course it is a re-run. It was filmed in the days when performers had dignity and beauty. On July 19, 1990, GTE Southwest Incorporated ("GTE-SW") filed revisions to the company's tariff pertaining to the features and associated equipment for providing emergency number services (9-1-1).

In this filing, GTE-SW proposes to modify its existing 9-1-1 tariff and to add more than 200 new service offerings. The new items of service and equipment in this application have been added to meet the company's increasing 9-1-1 customer demands and to allow GTE-SW to compete more effectively in the 9-1-1 equipment market.

The product line in the new offerings consists of a mini-computer and specialized console package for larger communities, as well as a personal computer with Automatic Number Identification (ANI) display for smaller communities. (ANI displays a caller's telephone number on the emergency dispatcher's computer screen.) In addition, the product line will include ANI and Automatic Location Information (ALI) display units compatible with, and similar to, those offered by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and other local exchange carriers in Texas. (The ALI feature displays a caller's address on the computer screen.) The rate charged existing 9-1-1 customers may be revised at the expiration of their contracts with GTE-SW if the proposed tariff is approved.

This filing has been assigned Docket No 9667. The hearing on the merits is scheduled for February 25, 1991, at the offices of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The deadline to intervene in this docket is December 31, 1990.
