STORM REPORT As Reported by . Stormie Meriwether, First Grade Student

Dear Friends, It was a very big day! we went to Amarillo to see the kids. I love to play with my cousins. We ate a lot of food and played all day. We jumped on the "Jumpoline", rode scooters, bikes and climbed the rope on the playhouse. I was swinging on the ope. I hit the board, I got a big bump on my head. I will not do that again! At Texas, Wheeler I saw my Dee (Dwight Tipps). It is a little sad and a little happy. Dee's grandmother was very old. She had an old body. She needs a new one. She has to go to Jesus to get her new body. She is Jennifer and Amber's grandmother too. I am so sad their grandma is gone, but

Nice to have""Nearly Brothers Band" out to Wheeler Care Center Tuesday night to make beautiful music. Several residents and guests out to enjoy the music. Also good to have Mike Bottoms and Johnny Janway from Heavener, Oklahoma, come with their guitars and sing. Sounded great. They were visiting relatives and going hunting. They were surprised at there being so many deer. Wish they could take some home with them. So many are a hazard to drivers at night and really eat gardens and crops. Also playing music were Robert Jones, Jay Godwin, Geoff Caldwell, Gene Keelin and Jim Jackson. Singing were Nadine Lane, Winnie Gilmer, Jay Godwin and Leona Coates. Many thanks...come again. The band plans to be back Tuesday, Dec. 8, to make beautiful music. Visitors always welcome; time is 6:30. Thanks for coming to sing beautiful make and music...makes our day! Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Lucy Mae Gipson, 94, of Erick, Oklahoma, in her death. She had been in Wheeler Care Center for therapy and care for a while. A pleasant, pretty lady who enjoyed the music of the band. When the "Nearly Brothers Band" came Tuesday night, Nov. 24, Lucy got up and danced some by herself as she often did. She usually walked by herself, or often did, with nothing to hold onto, even tho she was 94. She will be having fun in Heaven. Lucy died Nov. 25 in Wheeler. Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Laura Kerr-Smith, 81, of Wheeler, in her death. She had been at Wheeler Care Center for a while and was a sweet lady. Heaven will be brighter. Thanksgiving guests at the Edwin Hershman home were Brad, Sarita, Micaela and Shelby Dawson from Amarillo, TX., and Alan Hershman from Lebanon, Indiana. Friday guests were the same as Thursday plus Emmett and Carolyn Singleton from Cordell, OK., and Wayne and Paula Singleton from Graham, TX. Saturday, Sarita, Micaela and Shelby Dawson, Ed and Laurel Hershman and Alan Hershman visited the Crownovers and their families. ## WALKING HOME BY THE MOONLIGHT

1/112/2 1/11

By Roland Miles

A couple of times each summer, we would get together at a neighbor's house to listen to music. Dad had a guitar, but didn't own a fiddle. Sometimes, he would borrow one from a neighbor that would be there. They always sat outside to play those old songs and Dad would even sing a little. He would always sing at least a couple of funny kid-songs, such as, "True-Blue Bill" and "Ain't We Crazy". Then he'd sing some old "depression-days" songs. I remember, "Waitin' For A Train", "I Had A Gal", and "Red River Valley". Everybody would sit out there and listen until Johnnie, Orbilee and Dad, had exhausted their repertoire. Then we kids would go back to playing and the women would go inside for a meeting of their "secret society." The men would go over to the windmill and get a fresh drink of water, hang around and talk a little there, then go back where they had been perched earlier and play their music a little while longer.

Even after all those festivities, that wasn't always the end of the night's fun for me and my folks. We had to drive home in our '36 Ford. Shortly after turning off the highway and about two hundred yards into our pasture road, there was a really nasty, sandy, stretch of road. More times than not, we'd get stuck. It was only a mile and a half from the hi-way to our house. So, we would get out and start

On that walk home, I'd get to see sand rats (kangaroo rats), rabbits, possums and sometimes, an owl would fly by. I wasn't even afraid of the dark, as long as my mom and dad were close by.

and he went home and got settled in before his daughter, Judy Portis from Maryland, even caught up with him. Her niece, Jessica, picked her up at the airport; they ran by the hospital only to find out that he was on his way home. Judy spent the week with her dad and Frankie trying to get things caught up and some cooking done for the holiday. Judy was in Pampa several times to visit with OL-Davis Living Trust to Samson her daughter, Jennifer Mayfield, Erica, Jayden and Kourtney and with son, Donnie Medley and wife, Ronella, along with their children, Katelyn and Tanner. Judy had to fly home on Sunday. Maybe by the time that Judy and Gerry have to make their move to Barksdale Air Force base in Shreveport, LA., Tim and Jennifer will be settled into their new home in Ladson and Judy and Gerry can spend a couple of days with them. At least, they will be about half way between the kids so that will give everybody somewhere to go. We celebrated Thanksgiving in Dumas with Mom and the extended Orthman family. It was quite a day. We preceded that with a sandwich supper at the Dumas Inn atrium. It was a lot of fun. Lots of good visiting and room for the kids to play and swim. It not a heated pool, so they didn't last too long. Part of us stayed there, while some of the others stayed across the street. There were 19 for supper. Then, Thursday we all met at the Hunt Memorial Methodist Church at 5th and Pear. It was a beautiful day and the kids had room to play some football out-Franklin Hefley to Darren Ray side. There were 45 for dinner, lots Hefley, et ux, 7-2-09, Land Not of visiting and picture taking. It was so good to see everyone and try to get caught up. Some of you may remember Tex and Eva McKnight. They were very active with the bluegrass bunch out of Amarillo that started the music festival down at the Old Jail and Museum Park. They helped build it all up before it became just the music festival. Because of health problems, Tex has given up playing any music. They have both had some health issues, but look great and are doing so much better. They had a big get-together in their yard at Wildarado last summer after Tex had surgery and was doing better. Bob and Debbie Kinnamon hosted a big family hanksgiving. They all had a wonderful time and got to enjoy great-grandma, Lou Dean Douthit, getting acquainted with the two newest little additions to the family. Then, Sunday afternoon, Deb went down and helped her mother change out decorations and get her house all ready for Christmas. Debbie always makes sure that the little ones all have a Christmas stocking at Maw Maw's house. Lou Dean hosted the canasta club on Monday to get every one in the Christmas spirit. ## Remebering The True Meaning of Christmas

As a culture we place a lot of expectations on the holidays. As kids we always looked forward to the joy of the season: all the cool stuff we would get, all the great food and treats, and lots of time to just enjoy life and have fun since school was out for a few weeks.

These memories are imprinted into our mind and are revived every year with the sounds and sights of the holidays. To most it's a special time of year, one in which we celebrate and connect with those closest to us. Or so we hope.

But every year many people are lonely. For some it's another year without that special someone to share the season with. All the laughfrom 25,793,419 barrels reported during September 2008.

For others, maybe they have moved away from their family and don't know many people in their new city. Or possibly they will spend this year away from their children, deceased partner, or ex-lover for the first time. Most of us will not have this experience this holiday season, but for those that do, remember to invite them into your homes and lives, and to share with them the closeness of friendship. This could be a co-worker, neighbor, relative, or friend. Regardless, this is the most significant gesture of the holiday spirit you can bring to life this year.
