Regular Rains Give Crops Fine Chances

Clearly out of the dust period for the spring, and at the same time breaking over from the long period of drought that has held it for so long, the "dust bowl" received rain intermittently through the past week.

Farmers agreed that crops have the best chances since the dust curse hit the Texas Panhandle, and good feeling is marred only by prospects of a grasshopper infestation.

Probably the greatest deluge to hit the county fell Wednesday night in the southern district when creek waters were high enough to cover a bridge two miles south of Wheeler.

Many people were heard to say that no matter how much rain comes, they are resolved to say nothing against what at one time might have been termed "adverse weather."

No complaints have been made against the job of replanting which has been necessary in some places because of the precipitation.

When asked if he could estimate the amount of rain that had fallen, or if he had a record of the rainfall, H. M. Wiley, gas company owner, said, "No, I don't keep a record—I just try to keep out of the rain, and I've been able to make connections pretty well for the past week."

Joe Tilley made the statement, "Glad to see it rain—I've been here only two years, but if all the rains are like these, it would be all right with me if they come oftener."

When he arrived home Wednesday evening, Bill Owen, who lives just south of Wheeler, ran into deep mud, and since there had been only a light sprinkle in the business district of town, he was wondering where the wet ground had come from.

W. E. Gaines, filling station manager, said, "I'm just not able to tell how well I did like the rains."

Home Economics Project Work Begun

The annual summer project work in home economics is well under way, according to Mrs. Gordon Whitener, instructor.

Work on the projects carried on at home with classes meeting twice weekly at the home economics cottage for reports and instructions.

The classes will meet only until July but many of the projects will continue throughout the summer. Mrs. Whitener will return at the end of the summer and take up the work on "achievement day."

As a class project a candlewick bedspread is being made, which will be used in the home economics cottage.

Mrs. Whitener also lectures twice weekly at the adult education class in the WPA sewing room. Her discussions at this time deal with children's clothes.

WPA Work to Be Exhibited at Amarillo

Plans are under way in the local WPA sewing room for a display of work which will be shown at the district 16 exhibition to be held at Amarillo July 6, according to Mrs. Anna Balch, supervisor of the sewing room.

Samples of all types of work done in the sewing room will be on exhibit. All types of clothes will be shown, from the infant's layette to adult garments. A wedding ring quilt and a candlewick bedspread will be among the accessories for the home which will be featured.

The sewing room has a course in manual training in which a spool magazine rack, baskets and a small willow rocker have been made. These and many other small pieces of furniture will be exhibited.

"We are anxious to make a good showing at Amarillo, Mrs. Balch said. We will welcome any suggestions for improving our homemaking exhibit."

Folks, Meet Mr. Mannen

New member of The Times force is Calvin Mannen, here for the summer to handle advertising and news writing.

Mannen is a student in the University of Oklahoma school of journalism and plans to return in the autumn to complete his college work. He is recommended by a member of the university faculty as being one of their very best students.

The Times hopes with Mannen's aid to work out some plans for improving the paper during the summer months.

Tarter Tells Lions Of Conservation, Crops, Construction

"Diversification of products—that is the only method for Wheeler county farmers to succeed—and those farmers must be urged to try the plan of diversification," said J. L. Tarter, county agent, Tuesday, speaking at the Lions club bi-weekly luncheon.

"By trying to meet their problems through raising more kinds of crops, and by adding different types of stock to their farms, 179 Wheeler county farmers paid for all supplies in the year 1936," said Tarter. "The depression brought a realization of the beneficial results that might be obtained from diversification," he added.

"For general improvement in farming, and for consistently successful farming, three things can be done stated Tarter, "and those are, first, conservation of soil moisture; second, improved seed, and third, proper cultivation."

In telling of soil moisture conservation projects, Tarter said, "Over a seven-year period, beginning in 1929, 50,173 acres of land have been terraced in Wheeler county."

"No community can ever exceed the possibility of its own resources, although for brief periods there may be temporary booms," said the county agent, "and when those booms decline, then you see abandoned farmhouses, and along with this, abandoned towns."

Tarter cited facts and statistics to drive home his points when he reasserted the necessity for merchants to urge farmers to make cover crops. "One of the most successful farmers in the county is P. E. Ramsey, who sows his acreage in rye in the fall," said the extension division expert.

"Education, of course, is the means of showing the farmer how he can make tremendous advancement if he desires," asserted Tarter, "and the best and most effective place to begin this education is with the youth in the schools. "Only in this way can real community leaders be developed," said Tarter, as he stated that 30 gold star boys have come from Wheeler county within the past seven years.

"In this development, the merchants of Wheeler have participated, and we hope will continue to take part, or the good of the farmers, the town, and for themselves," said Tarter.

Cain Named As Athletics Coach

Stina "Sugar" Cain, former Wheeler athlete and assistant athletic coach for the past year in Wheeler, has been named athletic director of the high school for the next year, according to H. J. Garrison, chairman of the school board.

Cain came here last year after finishing a five-year education in Texas colleges, where he was an outstanding athlete.

After graduation from Wheeler high school, Cain went to Amarillo Junior college in 1932, where he attended two years. Then he went to West Texas college at Canyon, where he received his degree in the summer of 1936.

Band to Appear In Suits Friday Night

In its first concert appearance in the new gold-colored uniforms, the Wheeler Municipal band, under the direction of Dub Lummus, will play in the high school football stadium at 8 o'clock Friday night, according to Mrs. Inez Garrison, president of the Band Mothers organization which is sponsoring the program.

"Soda pop and sandwiches will be sold by the Band Mothers," Mrs. Garrison said, "and proceeds from the sales will go to the uniform fund."

The band will go through drill formations, which they have practiced for several weeks.

The 'Golden Group' Goes to Town

"So bright you can see them a mile away in a dust storm," is the description given by Bandmaster Dub Lummus of the new band uniforms, which were distributed Wednesday morning among Wheeler band members.

The musicsters left at 8 o'clock Thursday morning for the Top o' Texas fiesta at Pampa, where they marched in the parade at 10 o'clock. This was their first public appearance in the new outfits.

Boys' uniforms are of gold gaberdine with black trimming, and black Sam Browne belts, with lapel style coats which are decorated with lyres on each lapel.

"The Tops' of the Top o' Texas"—that is what early observers are saying will be the official appellation for the Golden group.

Grasshoppers Must Go!

For the first time in some years the possibility of fair crops is seen. At the same time the greatest grasshopper infestation in history threatens the potential agriculture production.

Extensive campaigns and complete co-operation, in which the poisoning of grasshoppers may be accomplished, are the only methods of solving the real menace. This is not true only of Wheeler county. The same thing applies to other threatened sections.

Real work must be done, and the willingness to co-operate has been indicated. Now the problem is that of getting sufficient materials to make an appreciable amount of headway. The federal government is attempting to aid in combatting the infestation, but it cannot do the whole job.

The only direction to be offered then is that individuals take the lead and do as much as they can with the material they can get.

There are many individuals who are willing to co-operate in the work, but the task of getting enough poison with which to do the work will be difficult.

Because the occasion does require co-operation and because the campaign MUST go over, something MUST be done.

One suggestion is that the commissioners appropriate money from the county general fund. Since no individual nor any small group can do enough to cover the field in these plans, the only solution of this—Wheeler county's greatest problem—that has been offered is the plan of aid given by the county.

Certainly the cause is worth the procedure, even if the purse strings of the county fund are worn. The hoppers will soon eat all growing crops if they are not exterminated, and purse strings might as well be worn as devoured by the jumping pests.

Now that co-operation among the farmers themselves has been displayed, the same attitude upon the part of Wheeler county merchants and other citizens must be shown.

Grasshoppers or people will lose this conflict. The hoppers will fight their own battle methodically and effectively. Unless human beings fight back just as methodically, but more effectively, there is no question about which will win.

Miss Burleson Is Gone With Wand In Magic Report

When two people have worked on the same job, one immediately succeeding the other, the total accomplishment is liable to show a lack of organization, and the report of work will probably appear unsensational. When a five weeks period ended last week Miss Dalton Burleson made up a report of her office of Home Demonstration Agent of Wheeler County. It was obvious that her work, and the work of Miss Viola Jones, her predecessor, did not fall into the category of "unorganized change."

Indeed, it is difficult to receive 456 office calls, talk in telephone conversation with 234 people, and send out 2,623 bulletins to rural residents, but Miss Burleson and Miss Jones did it. That is not nearly all, though. Together they wrote 721 individual letters, six circular letters, in which not less than 200 copies of each communication went to country homes, and they traveled in an aggregate of 6,539 miles.

One thousand nine hundred and sixty-five women and girls saw and heard the two Home Demonstration Agents give 348 method demonstrations, while 1,580 attended 33 other meetings.

Of course, you might call it a day, or a year, after "loafing" through that list of activities, but Miss Burleson and Miss Jones found time to call at 191 homes, to attend to all other office business.

Miss Burleson is now planning the or a year, after "loafing" through says will be concerned largely with vegetable cookery. Connected with this will be studies in gardening and demonstrations of sodding at various rural homes.

Ho hum. We wonder what a Home Demonstration Agent does with her spare time.

School Change Averted

Announcement has been made here that Miss Madge Richerson, teacher in the Center rural school, who had previously accepted a position at the Dentworth school in Gray county would return to the Center school. The Center school officials met the price of Dentworth school, and she agreed to return to the Wheeler county school for a second term.

Mrs. J. F. Witt returned Wednesday from a week's visit in Amarillo, Lefors and Groom. Two of her grandchildren, Joe and Rita King, came home with her for a visit.

Miss Gladys Gunter, who has been employed in Los Angeles, Calif., for the past eight months, returned home Wednesday.

Wheeler to Be Well Represented in Top O' Texas Fiesta

The Top O' Texas Fiesta at Pampa got off to a flourishing start Thursday morning with the parade at 10:00 o'clock as the opening feature.

Wheeler was represented in the festivities by the gold and black clad Wheeler municipal band in their first public appearance in new full dress uniforms.

Miss Annie Mae Puett rode in the Queen's float as Wheeler's representative, Miss Annie Mae Green rode in the Rodeo Queen division.

The two-day celebration features every phase of the Panhandle's development from the pioneer days up through the present period.

Rodeos, dances, parades, and many contests furnish ample amusement.

A 76-page tabloid special edition of the Pampa Daily News Tuesday brought graphic description of the glamorous history of the Top O' Texas area.

The names of many old settlers at Mobeetie, the first town in the Panhandle, appeared in the pioneer section. A number of these old settlers now live at Wheeler or are well-known here. One story was devoted to the early history of the Mobeetie and the development of Wheeler county. Wheeler county appears prominently in the section devoted to the gas and oil industry. The name of the county appears again in the ranching division.

Honor Ranking Is Given 27 Students

Twenty-seven students were on the honor list of the Wheeler High school for the last six weeks of the spring term, according to data received from the office of Superintendent J. L. Gilmore.

Five scholars, including two seniors on the list with the record of "straight A." They were Parilee Clay and Inez Hunter, seniors, and Joe D. Bruton, Norma Webb, and Gayle Wilson, freshmen.

Others named were: Bonnie Adams Evelyn Ray Benge, Ruth Fay Garrison, Alice Hardin, and Lois Walker, seniors; Aubrey Warren, Cleo Sewell and Irene Hunt, juniors; Clella Beth Moody, Earl Gilmore, Johnnie Fay Tompleton, and Marian Smith, sophomores; Elizabeth Balch, Loise Genne, Presley Guynes, Marian Hestlow, Sarah Hilton, Frances Noah, Ethel Claire Raney, R.C. Hale, Tris Hooker, and Joe Markham, freshmen.

Hopper Poisoning Subject Discussed Before 270

Co-operation, Work To Be Necessary In Campaign

Emphasizing the fact that grasshopper poison should not be spread in great quantities, but that it should be broadcast in sudan grass or cane during the next two weeks especially, Mr. R. R. Reppert, Texas extension service entomologist, spoke before approximately 270 Wheeler County farmers Monday in the District courthouse.

Reporting success of the county in getting 63 tons of government poison material, Reppert said that delivery of the mixture may be expected this week-end or early next week. Reppert advised those who could to go ahead with their work in order that an early and effective beginning may be made toward eliminating the hoppers. The government contributed supply of poison will be limited, and will be insufficient to control all the county, but as long as it is available the mixture will be distributed.

As he asserted that success of the hopper killing will depend entirely upon co-operation in every way the entomologist was followed by Mr. Jake Tarter, county agent, who asked that volunteers pledge their support in supervising mixing stations. These mixing stations will be in Wheeler and Mobeetie, if support can be obtained for the Mobeetie station.

Poison will be mixed only when the farmer has come after it, as waste may be prevented in this way, and the process is simple and quick, according to Tarter. The danger of infection in the hands after handling and broadcasting the white arsenic and arsenite, was related by Reppert as he advocated the use of rubber gloves. "Lubricating oil may be applied to the hands but special care must be given to the fingernails to prevent the poison from eating into the nail and flesh," said Reppert. His warning was repeated as some members of the audience told of experience with the poison.

Reppert was unable to answer definitely the questions referring to the care of poultry while the hopper killer was spread over the turn rows, but he did give the opinion of Oklahoma farmers who had experience in the work. "They say that turkeys will not be hurt by the hoppers and I have not heard of any chickens killed by the mixture," he said, "but the best policy to observe is to be careful with the poultry."

Notice of the date when the mixture will be available will be given through The Times and over rural telephone lines, Tarter said.

By Tuesday Mr. Tarter reported that excellent co-operation had been given by the farmers after the request for volunteers to aid in distribution and mixing of the poison.

"Although we have a number of helpers," Mr. Tarter stated, "they will be plenty busy because an immense amount of work must be done."

Highway Group Will Go To Canadian Monday

A large number of Wheeler business leaders will attend the annual convention of the Great Plains Highway Association at Canadian June 7 and 8, according to A. B. Crump who is Wheeler county's director in the association. The banquet will be held at 6 o'clock on Monday evening with the business meeting to begin at 8 o'clock the following morning.

The road, State Highway 83, is the shortest between Canada and Mexico and is of great importance to this section, Crump said.

The road is paved from the north line of Texas to the coast with the exception of a few short strips in Hemphill and Collingsworth counties, and between Paducah and Guthrie. The Wellington gap is the worst strip of the road, according to Crump.

At the Tuesday meeting of the Lions club it was planned that a group of the members would attend the association meeting.

The Wheeler group will leave from the City Drug store.

Raymond Holt Goes To Rochester

Raymond D. Holt, assistant cashier of the Citizens State bank, who was stricken with a heart attack two weeks ago, went to Rochester, Minn., last week, where he will recuperate under physicians' care.

His condition is favorable, and according to word received here by his father, D. E. Holt, president of the bank, there is no indication of further complications, although it was stated his condition will require several months of complete rest.

County Agent Issues Letter Directing Mixing of Poison

Since it might be a week before government material arrives for the grasshopper-poisoning campaign it would be well to take some precautions if the hoppers are out in the fields, as they are in some parts of the county.

Mix your poison as follows:
2 gallons of water.
2 quarts of syrup.

3 lemons ground, rind, juice and all 1 pound of white arsenic.

Mix these materials together first, then mix with 25 pounds of bran.

Be sure that the liquids and poison are mixed first, then mix with the bran.

Do not use corn syrup.

Avoid putting the poison out in heaps, and be sure that poison is broadcast so thin that the stock will not pick it up.

It may be a week before the material from the government arrives, but when it does arrive it will be necessary for the farmers to furnish their own mill run feed. Use 25 pounds of the feed to each 75 pounds of government material. Get your own lemons and syrup.

Bring a sack to put the poison in. It is estimated that the poison will cost about fifty cents per hundred pounds.

Every farmer is urged to get the poison out as soon as possible after the government material arrives, since less material is required to kill the hoppers while they are small, and after the hoppers sprout wings they will spread over the fields not already infested. Therefore, call for the poison as soon as it arrives and get the job over with.

Jake Tarter, County Agent.

Dedication Held At $28,000 School

The new $28,000 Kellerville rural school, in the heart of Wheeler county's oil fields, was dedicated last Friday evening with C. A. Cryer, superintendent of the McLean schools, as main speaker. R. H. Forrester, Wheeler attorney, was master of ceremonies.

Announcement was made that an election will be held Saturday, June 5, for the purpose of canceling the $25,000 in bonds which were voted last year for erection of the building, as the structure is paid for at this time.

B. T. Rucker, county superintendent, appeared on the program and congratulated the patrons on their school which is the richest school district in the county with a $5,000,000 valuation. He was followed by H. M. Wiley, Wheeler, president of the county board.

Anthony Hunt, recently elected principal of the school for next term, spoke briefly.

Others on the program were Rev. (Continued on Page Six)

83 Enroll for Bible School Courses

The annual daily vacation Bible school opened Monday morning at the Methodist church with 83 present at the first session, according to Rev. E. C. Raney, pastor of the church. The Church of Christ and the Baptist church are participating in the school.

Three pastors and 12 helpers are directing the activities of the 81 children who were enrolled the second day of the school. The juniors had the largest attendance with 30 present. The beginners were second with 20 enrolled. The primary class had 17 and the intermediates 11.

Five class periods have been arranged for the two-hour session. The subjects taught include music, lesson from the text, and devotion, recreation and construction.

All who attend for seven days of the 10-day school will receive a certificate, it was announced.

Children who have not yet enrolled in the school are cordially invited to attend the daily sessions.

A. B. Zorns Improving After Operation

A. B. Zorns, assistant agriculturalist in the office of J. L. Tarter, county agent, was stricken with appendicitis last Friday afternoon and was operated on.

Because of his excellent condition, Mr. Zorns has made rapid progress, and he will soon be released from the Wheeler hospital.

"OVER THERE" AGAIN

Our last "legal murder," called war began in 1914 after the slaying of an Austrian prince.

Countries mobilized and attacked before the sound of assassin's gun had echoed, and the peace of Europe was shattered.

Conditions were tight with the concealment of international ambitions, economic as well as political activity boiled from southern Europe over the remainder of the of the globe as if it were white steel pouring from the main furnace to agitate and congeal with the cold metal of human relations in other nations.

Is there going to be another world war soon?

How will it start?

One way would be the bombing of a German ship by Spanish Loyalists. This might be a very effective way to involve several countries of Europe, probably including Germany, Spain, Italy, France and perhaps England. War propaganda from both sides, those of the Fascists and the democracies or other forms of government, could excite the people of the United States into attempting again to "Fight a war to end wars," or to "Make the world safe for democracy."

Who would profit if we entered the war?

Not many members of the American Legion today seem anxious to shoot and blast the citizens of other nations, although they are patriotic. So the soldiers must not profit.

The relatives of the soldiers certainly did not win anything, in spite of the fact that the Armistice in the last war was asked for by the opposing forces.

The opposing forces themselves could not have enjoyed much wealth or personal satisfaction when they did not receive the spoils of the war.

That leaves two classes of people unaccounted for: the conscientious objectors who disdained to make a sacrifice, and the other men who stayed at home but were not physically unfit. Those men reaped the profits of war. They owned the industries most affected by the war.

They sold to the government at prices beneficial to themselves, and they made no sacrifices. They sold to other governments with the protection of the United States, and when that protection was offered the United States became concerned with international disputes.

Our last war began with the slaying of an Austrian prince. The next one, if there is one, may begin with anything and exist for nothing.

You Have to Ask Another Hippo

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE gentleman in charge of the elephant house at the zoo was peevish. He had a right to be feeling peevish. The tap was out of order so he had to carry water in buckets from a hydrant a hundred yards away to his great pets which were craving their morning drink. No sooner would he put down his burdens than one of the brutes would insert its trunk, give a couple of sucks and lo, the buckets would be siphoned dry. It looked as though he must spend his entire day lugging water. Naturally he was out of temper—he who ordinarily was the most courteous and kindly of men.

Heavy-laden, perspiring and weary, he staggered past a run of outdoor cages and tanks. A lady who was paying an early morning visit to the gardens, halted him.

"I'd like to ask you a question," she began.

The poor tired man set down his loads and mopped his dripping brow.

"What is it?" he said.

"It's about this hippopotamus here."

"Well, what about this hippopotamus?"

"I wish to know whether it's a male hippopotamus or a female hippopotamus?"

"The keeper gave her a hard look."

"Madam," he said, "I don't think that would be of interest to anybody except another hippopotamus!"

Counting Sheep Is Poor Way For One To Induce Slumber

Many people who cannot sleep make use of various mental devices to pass away the time or to suggest themselves to sleep, writes Dr. Thurman B. Rice, professor of bacteriology and public health, Indiana university school of medicine. Indeed many times they work harder in trying to go to sleep than they work during the day in trying to make a living. Some of these helps are real helps while others are all wrong.

Saying the alphabet backwards, counting to a million, enumerating the well known sheep as they gambol over the hedge and other similar procedures are tiresome and defeat the purpose of going to bed. If you do not sleep you should by all means try to rest, for you will need the rest next day. Why not recall pleasant memories and have a good time with oneself? Of course this applies only to those persons who have so lived that they may reasonably consider themselves a good companion for themselves. To have some familiar experience which is lived over and over in the wee small hours when Morpheus is out on a spree is to have what is known as a "nesting thought." Cultivate one. It really is a lot of fun and can be as romantic as any one may wish.

Many try to suggest themselves to sleep and as a rule succeed only in suggesting themselves wide awake. Their dialogue with themselves goes some thing like this:

"I'm going to go to sleep. I'm going to go to sleep. I'm going to go to sleep."

A little voice says: "You're not. You're not. You're not."

"I'm going to go to sleep. I'm going to go to sleep."

"You're kidding yourself. You're just like you always were and you won't go to sleep for two hours."

Etc., etc., etc., for a couple of hours, tiresome nerve racking hours.

Lie still and rest, think about some pleasant experience, and above all think of something else than sleep, insomnia, and related subjects. Every time that one flounders over on the other side the activity wakes him that much wider awake—not to mention its effect upon one's bedfellow, if he has one.

Form a habit of being moderately fatigued and sleepy before going to bed, and then go to bed to sleep.

Lengthening Life Of Silk Stockings

Some recent studies of clothing costs showed that in some instances more is spent for hosiery than for any other single item in the feminine wardrobe. Some women, it was found, buy from 40 to 50 pairs of stockings a year. What can be done to lengthen the life of a pair of silk stockings?—A leading farm paper:

"The most important part in reducing the hosiery bill is the care given stockings after they are bought. Take care in putting them on and off. In putting on hose, turn them wrong side, out, slip toe of stocking in, insert your toes, and pull hose over your leg. The seam should form a straight line up the back of your leg. Hook supporter in hem while standing. Never hook below hem as this may cause a run. When you have on a good pair of stockings unhook supporters if you have much bending to do.

"Care in laundering is no less important in the life of hose. They should be rinsed before wearing and washed immediately after being taken off. It is well to remember that moisture, perspiration, and dirt damage silk fiber. Wash stockings with a mild soap in a lukewarm water but do not rub or twist as this breaks the threads. Lift up and down in the suds and squeeze gently. Rinse thoroughly, squeeze out water, and hang up by the toes to dry slowly.

"Hose should be carefully inspected after each washing. Pull stockings over the hand and look for tiny breaks or runs. Be sure these are mended. Remove finger rings before handling stockings."

Roosevelts Make Real Home of White House

How the Roosevelt family has transformed the White House into a home is interestingly told in an article in a farm paper, from which we quote:

"The atmosphere is no longer that of the home of a nation's ruler but that of the home of a happy, healthy family of typical Americans. State formality has almost been eliminated and friendly hospitality has taken its place. There is fun and laughter.

"The Roosevelts brought from their home at Hyde Park much of their own furniture and hangings to make the stately old house more homelike. The President's Oval Room study on the second floor dominates the Presidential living quarters. Among his prized personal belongings are several hundred framed prints of great rarity, showing scenes along the Hudson River and other sections of New York State, as well as of ships of many sizes and types. They are hung all over the walls of his study, the library, and the halls, the choicest being in the executive offices in the west wing. In addition there are ship models of various sizes, representing craft of different periods. One of these which the President holds very dear is a model of an ancient galleon of solid silver.

"The President chose one of the smallest bedrooms in the mansion, one that adjoins the Oval Room, giving him the convenience of going in and out without disturbing anyone else. Mrs. Roosevelt has the suite overlooking the gardens, with the bedroom usually occupied by the Presidents since John Adams' time."

Uncle Jim Says

"Field seeds of unknown origin are not dependable. Use seeds of known hardiness."

Texas farmers will do well to buy, whenever possible, seeds bearing the familiar state certified or state registered tag. The tag means that state representatives have visited the seed producer's plant, that they certify to the purity of the variety. The producer must fulfill strict requirements to insure the purity of the strain.

Texas now certifies several different varieties of cotton, corn, grain sorghums, wheat, oats, and Irish potatoes. The plan used by many farmers is to buy enough certified seed to plant their entire acreage with the increase. When reasonable precautions are observed to prevent cross pollination and mixing, such a plan is usually worth while, and the only expense is the annual purchase of a small amount of seed.

The state certified tag means that the seed is true to variety and free from noxious weed seed. It should not be accepted as a recommendation of the variety represented. Farmers should plant only varieties of field seed known to be adapted to their section.

This is especially true of legumes, which are particularly as to their soil and climatic requirements. County agricultural agents can recommend soil building crops which will yield the utmost return in soil improvement.

Home Again

Well, that was a long round trip, 1,500 miles, especially for one who does not like to drive long trips, but it was worth it. Of course we enjoyed meeting again with old friends and relatives. A very pleasant sight on the way was the fine wheat which we saw everywhere. I think I never saw such wonderful prospects for small grain crops. But we passed through a place in Kansas where hail had apparently ruined thousands of acres of very fine wheat.

How glad we were to learn, upon our arrival home, of the wonderful rains Wheeler county had been having. Now we can smile and look more pleasant. But, I am told that the man who can smile, when everything goes dead wrong, is the man worth while. That is a hard lesson to learn, don't you think? But it is true that smiles are catching. That may be the secret of some of my smiles you have wondered at.

And this reminds me. Next Sunday morning I plan to preach on the subject of "O How Happy Is the Child of God!"

"O how happy are they Who their Saviour obey, And whose treasures are laid up above;

Tongue can never express That sweet comfort and peace

Of a soul in its earliest love."

And at the evening hour, "Beyond Redemption" will be the theme. Don't come to these services unless you are prepared to hear some very effective truths God has made known unto us. But if you are willing to listen to God's message of love, we will be delighted beyond expression to see you present. C. G. M.

BRISCOE GIRLS INSTRUCTED IN VEGETABLE COOKERY

Mild flavored vegetables should be cooked in a small amount of water in a covered vessel, and strong flavored vegetables should be cooked in a large amount of water in an open vessel.

Mild and strong flavored vegetables are determined by color, continued Miss Burleson. Vegetables shouldn't be cooked too long because the food value is cooked out into the water.

Those present were: Joyce Sorenson, Nellie B. Candler, Mabel Alice Smith, Cliffrone Savage, Nadine and Betty Henderson, Aleta Dickerson, Dottie Joe Greenhouse, Lavern and Lajuana Treadwell, Alma Waters, Ruth Morris, Joy Bill Riley, Elsie Ruff and Miss Dalton Burleson.

Methodist Church

(Rev. E. C. Raney, Pastor)

Has there ever been an individual who did not feel, at some time, one more of all of the universal heart hungers of humanity such as food, knowledge, excitement, thrills, contentment, fellowship with some big soul—someone in whom and to whom he could confide, and unload the inner longings of the heart?

One of the greatest thirsts prevalent in men is the thirst for appreciation, friendship, and love. Courtesy, too, is an important element in men's development for better things. We want to refer the reader to the last few chapters of Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Make Them Like You," a recent book on human relations which is an old science in new style.

The art of human relations was a great factor in the work and teaching of Jesus. It should be a great asset to delegates to the meetings, and these two choose two other local members to accompany them to association programs.

Folk games, a feature of many of the assemblies throughout the state, have been introduced into the Wheeler association, and Lynn Gott, whose wife will accompany him on the trip, will assist in leading the games at Bethel.

President of the Wheeler recreation association is Mrs. Jim Risner. Mrs. Roy Oswalt is president of the Bethel organization.

MRS. TYSON SPEAKS TO 4H GROTTO ON CANNING

"Canning is an essential factor in club work," stated Mrs. N. J. Tyson, sponsor of the Mobeetic 4H club, which met May 25. Canning bulletins, with important paragraphs underlined, were given to each of the club members. With the canning demonstration, a shoe rack was displayed.

Included in the group were: Mrs. N. J. Tyson, Dora Goodnight, Opal Barton, Delora Ferguson, Maurita Dunn, Iweta Patton, Geraldine Sims, Peggy Love, Doris Goodnight, and Jaunita Beck.

The next meeting will be at Maurita Dunn's, June 14. All members are urged to attend.—Opal Barton, Reporter.

BRISCOE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB SODS LAWN

The Briscoe Home Demonstration Club prepared and sodded a lawn at their meeting in May. Members of the club were assisted by their husbands and the 4-H club.

A truck was used to haul dirt with which to fill in the yard in the leveling process. Posts were put up for the fence. Grass was set out and a foundation planting made of perennials and annual plants. Iris beds were made in the corner of the yard. Plans are being made to fence the grounds at an early date.

Those other than the club members who assisted with the work were: John McCarroll, James L. Smith, Greenhouse, Jiggs Standlee, Kenneth Greenhouse, R. L. Zylbach, Bud McCarrill, Leon and Doyle Ramsey, Joy Bill Riley, and Dottie Greenhouse.

Mrs. Tom Britt sent this pecan pie recipe and says a small portion is a sufficient serving as it is very rich:

Pecan Pie

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup white Karo syrup
1 1/2 tsp. butter
2 tsp. flour
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup pecans.
Cream egg yolks and sugar, add flour, melted butter, syrup and cinnamon. Fold in stiffly beaten whites, then the pecans. Cook until it sets or is firm and pour into baked pie shells. This makes 2 medium sized pies.

Here is a recipe my sister, Mrs. W. B. Wingo of Akron, Ohio, sent. She reads The Times and says she feels she is pretty well acquainted in Wheeler and is using the recipes sent in.

She declares this is the one and only way she ever saw weiners prepared so she could eat them, and that these are really good, especially to take hot to a picnic:

Baked Weiners

2 lbs. of (skinned or other) weiners
1 can tomatoes (sieved) or tomato juice
1 large onion chopped fine
1 green pepper, chopped fine.
1 tsp. salt
A generous dash of black pepper.
Mix ingredients and pour over weiners placed in heavy baking dish or roaster. Cover tightly and bake very slowly until thick sauce is formed (about two hours). If weiners have skins on them, prick well before putting in baking dish to prevent bursting.

Farms, Gas Stations To Compete in State

In a beautification project sponsored by the state highway department of Texas, prizes will be offered to farm homes and filling stations, on federal and state highways, according to Mrs. J. H. Caperton, Shamrock, county chairman of the beautification board.

The contest will begin June 15, when names will be submitted to the state department by county chairman, and will end August 15. Mrs. Caperton said. Three judges will be appointed in each county to grade the entries.

Assistant chairman of the board, Mrs. R. H. Forrester, Wheeler, will receive entries for the northern part of the county and for Wheeler vicinity, while Mrs. Caperton will accept entries for the Shamrock district.

Prizes will be awarded on cleanliness, orderliness, trees, flowers, and other beautifying features of the stations and homes. The filling stations will be judged in two classes: those independently owned, and those under individual ownership. Mrs. Caperton stated.

Stations in towns of more than 5,000 population are ineligible.

Contest slogan is "Clean away all unsightliness in Texas."

Jim H. Sharpe, pastor of the McLean Methodist church, Rev. W. T. Durrott, Lula Mae Farley, Wheeler; Mrs. John Lewis, Wheeler; M. D. Bentley, McLean, and Rev. W. B. Gilliam.

George Berlin and Pete Ballard, school board members, spoke briefly on the work done by the school board this year in erecting the building.

A dinner was served by the women of the community before the program was held in the auditorium.

In a visit to the school plant last Thursday Deputy State Superintendent J. W. Gunstream praised it as being one of the finest structures of its kind that he had seen.

The building is face brick trimmed in white stone. It is caulked and weatherstripped throughout. The floors are of oak in the rooms with asbestos tile floors in the corridor. The lighting system is highly superior. It has the most modern steam heating plant in this section.

The building has an auditorium, six classrooms, library, office and book room. The auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 280, is especially well built.

The school has $4,000 worth of equipment. Playground equipment is to be purchased at an early date, and will include swings, see-saws and basketball courts.

A beautification program of the school grounds began Monday. The project calls for the grading of the grounds and sodding it to grass. A number of trees and shrubs will be set out during the beautification program. A water system on the grounds furnishes an ample supply.

Club Members Will Report Improvements

Members of home demonstration clubs in Northwest Texas and the Panhandle are reporting improvements and additions of equipment for their homes to their county home demonstration agents.

In Nolan county, Mrs. O. R. Artman of the Divide club is building a stone and concrete cellar 10 by 14 feet which will be used to store canned goods and stored vegetables. In addition, she has repaired a small room adjacent to the kitchen which she will use as canning center and to store a supply of canned goods for general use.

Another member of the Divide

State Doctor Gives Suntan Tip

AUSTIN.—"One of the striking examples of overworking a good thing is the enthusiasm displayed by thousands of persons in trying to secure a sun tan too quickly. Under a misguided conception of the sun's health giving power, such persons either deliberately or thoughtlessly submit their unprotected faces, backs and legs to overexposure and suffer painfully, sometimes seriously, as a consequence," comments Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"The discomfort and annoyance of even mild sunburn should deter people from repeating this folly from year to year. However, especially where younger persons are concerned, the enthusiasm for fun and the desire to become speedily tanned are likely to exact the inevitable price with painful regularity.

"It is one thing to apply the principles of sun treatment scientifically and quite another to place the tender skin unrestrainedly under the direct rays of the sun. It should be understood that when the sun is employed as treatment patients are exposed for but a few minutes at a time, the periods being gradually extended as the tanning develops."
