Banking Bill Given Public Airing Before Senate Committee Friday Louisiana Legislature Passes Huey Long's Bills

Overcast Skies Give Promise Of More Rainfall

Rain, which Thursday night and Friday morning blessed a wide area from Oklahoma to southwest Texas, covered this section with alternate light and heavy showers.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at the airport recorded .59 inches through Friday morning. The U. S. Experiment Farm showed a lighter fall with .21 inches.

Good showers were reported as far north as Knott. Between that point and Ackerly they slackened into a light sprinkle, scarcely more than enough to speckle the ground.

Beyond Ackerly north, rain set in again and continued in beneficial downpours through most of the plains country.

Garden City had received as much as a half an inch and heavy mist was falling at 3 p. m. Friday.

Stanton received more than one-fourth of an inch which cleared the air and flushed grazing lands.

Wink reported moderate rains and a light shower was recorded at Guadalupe Pass. E. Paso had no precipitation.

At 2 p. m. it was sprinkling in Fort Worth and Santo. Although good rains had fallen at Abilene during the night and morning, it had ceased at 2 p. m. but skies were still overcast.

Although the forecast for West Texas called only for partly cloudy skies, low hanging clouds provoked hope of additional moisture.

Because the showers extended far into the dust-plagued area of Texas and Oklahoma, relief from "black blizzards" seemed assured. Rains earlier in the week visited the afflicted area in the Dakotas and part of Kansas.

Organize Federal Loan Association

Organization of Federal Savings and Loans association here was being consummated Friday.

After Sam Strauss, vice representative out of Washington, D. C., had explained the workings of the association, which is rapidly gaining in favor over the nation, a program to enlist shareholders was started.

Strauss addressed a small group on the plan Thursday evening. He was scheduled to hold another meeting during Friday afternoon.

More than half of the $5,000 minimum for capitalization for a charter request had been raised before noon. With the $5,000 capital stock subscribed by local persons will go $15,000 placed by the federal government.

After the charter has been granted, a regular campaign to enlist more shareholders will be staged in order to build up the loaning capacity of the association.

The association may loan as much as its total capital stock.

Its affiliation with the federal reserve makes it possible for withdrawals to be made on thirty day notice. There are no withdrawal or entrance fees. Withdrawals made in less than a year draw principal and one half the earnings; less than 3 years, principal and three-fourth the earnings, over 3 years, the principal and all earnings. Four per cent dividends are usually paid.

Investments in the association are secured up to $5,000. All loans made by the association are insured. It is not necessary to be a stockholder to obtain a loan from the association, but all borrowers become stockholders. Loans are made for repair work, modernization, new construction, home purchasing and refinancing.

The association is managed by local stockholders and local officials. It is subject to the same federal regulation as any national bank.

Strauss said Friday he hoped to complete the preliminary organization work before the end of the day. He is scheduled to go to Abilene Friday evening. Next week he must be in Washington, D. C., for an important conference.

Federal Savings and Loans associations are gaining in strength and numbers rapidly, according to Strauss. During the month from March 15 to April 15, 11 new associations were organized in this district, three of them by Strauss. Two state associations were converted into federal associations.

Chamber Commerce Directors To Meet This Evening At 6

Time of meeting has been changed on account of church services which some of the directors wished to attend. George White, president, urged all members of the directorate to be present this evening.

PWA Funds To Be Spent Under State Direction

BATON ROUGE, (AP)—The Louisiana legislature Friday at Senator Huey Long's orders, threw down the gauntlet to the Federal government in the senator's FWA fund control fight by finally enacting legislation to place expenditure of federal work funds under state supervision.

The senate also finally enacted bills giving Long's machine complete control of the Louisiana election and vote-counting machinery, ousting an anti-Long offshoot, and prohibiting the city of New Orleans, whose governing officials are arrayed against Long politically, from readjusting its indebtedness in federal court.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Administration of relief funds in Georgia, whose governor Thursday said President Roosevelt was radical and predicted a third party in 1936—was taken over Friday by the Federal government.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, appointed Miss Gay E. Shepperson, present state relief administrator, to head the federal set-up.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Amid a give and take of hard words, two administration spokesmen Thursday struck at Senator Long of Louisiana and Governor Talmadge of Georgia through the public works and relief funds.

Secretary Ickes, asserting that Long had "hallucinated the intellect," and adding that he did not "know how to do business" with Talmadge, held up four public works projects in Louisiana and cancelled the same number in Georgia.

Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, speaking within half an hour after the hot words of Ickes, remarked that "the only thing that counts is action; words don't mean anything."

He, then, disclosed he had taken the administration of relief in Louisiana out of the hands of Governor Allen, Long's lieutenant, and indicated he might have to give relief in Georgia through the cities rather than the state because of a lack of state appropriation.

The federal officials spoke at press conferences a few hours after boiling statements had come from both Long and Talmadge in Louisiana and Georgia.

What They Said
From Long had come word that he was coming back to Washington and "nail Ickes' ears back" in a senate speech Monday. Talmadge had said that President Roosevelt was "radical in the extreme form" who could see only those persons whom his secretaries permitted to come in. He predicted a third party in the next election.

Informed of the Long ear-nailing threat, Ickes said: "With or without benefit of body-guard? I'm not making any boasts. I wouldn't attempt to meet Emperor Long in any combat of oburgations and expetives. The trouble with Senator Long is that he is suffering from hallucinations of the intellect."

HUEY'S LEGISLATIVE ADVANCES HIS PROGRAM
BATON ROUGE, (AP)—The Louisiana legislature pushed Senator Huey P. Long's bill toward final passage in the face of threats from Washington to withhold federal funds from the state.

The senate finance committee today quickly approved Long's bills designed to place supervision of the federal expenditures under state board, block New Orleans refinancing in federal court and compel the appointment of elections officials to serve at the polls by local boards ruled by the governor.

Federal Deposit Insurance Asked To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Hearing the house committee's approval but facing a doubtful road in the senate, the omnibus banking bill was given a first public airing Friday before the senate committee with Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, advocating indefinite extension of the temporary law insuring deposits up to $5,000.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Calling the house session an hour earlier than usual, Democratic leaders Friday strove to push the administration's social security bill to passage before adjournment Friday night.

Speaker Byrns, and other house leaders predicted despite the promised republican attempts to change the bill it would be passed without any amendments of consequence save those approved by the democratic majority of ways and means committee.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Still standing firmly behind the administration, the house Friday refused to strike from the social security bill the section levying taxes on incomes and payrolls for old-age annuities.

MOSCOW, (AP)—M. Khrpin, chief of the Soviet Military Air Force, issued an appeal Friday through the authoritative organ Pravda urging all countries to unite in the face of what he declared were German preparations for aerial, chemical and bacteriological warfare.

"Germany is prepared to use the worst of poison," he charged.

"It is doubtful if she will stop even at bacteriological warfare," Khrpin forecast the next war would be more cruel than any to date.

Twenty-six complaints have been filed for grand jury action, some of which will necessitate two indictments. In addition, the grand jury will hear other complaints not made already.

While the criminal docket will be heavy, the civil docket will be light. Since Feb. 1 there have been 48 civil cases filed, but 32 of those were divorce suits.

New England and Southern members of Congress have combined in a force common cause and are enlisting the aid of others through side tracks.

Urgent

It was significant the other day that the Supreme Court moved faster than the government toward bringing about a final ruling on the constitutionality of NRA. The Department of Justice asked that the Schechter case—involving alleged wholesale violations by the Brooklyn poultry firm of that name—be brought up for argument on May 6. The Court set the date at May 2. Court attendants say it is unusual for the 9 high jurists to rush a hearing. Now that the New Deal is in for an imminent showdown on the Blue Eagle it is a safe bet there will be no final action on extension of NRA until the Supreme Court has spoken. That would defer a final Congressional vote very shortly before the June 18 date on which the present setup expires.

Pamphlets

The American Liberty League, that organization backed by wealthy conservative Democrats and Republicans, may not have been making such a stir in the newspapers lately but it is getting plenty of circulation with its critical analyses of New Deal ideas. Approximately 30 pamphlets have been issued by the League to date—all of them pretty much at odds with basic ideas behind the Roosevelt program. The A.L.L. has circulated 1,100,000 copies, a measurable proportion of them by request.

Solution

The RFC Mortgage Company is getting under way—authorized capital $25,000,000. The amount that can be lent is unlimited. Apartment houses, hotels, business hotels and other big encumbered properties will be hauled out of the doldrums. The biggest business will be in New York City, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Los Angeles. The company will borrow from RFC whatever it needs. It will also turn mortgages over to insurance companies. Local agents of RFC will shape up the business. All directors and officers are in the RFC outfit.

President Schuylt tells the Whirligig that this company is backed by law and cash. Its operations supplement the work of Home Owners Loan, Federal Housing, and other agencies. It is free from the red tape of a government bureau. It can turn sharp corners like any other private corporation. It will not confine its operations to big cities.

Notes—Ambassadors and ministers of foreign governments were called to their feet at the Ordillon dinner last Saturday night and the Minister of Finland received ten times as much applause as any other envoy. Basil O'Connor, President Roosevelt's former law partner, is consulted by business men on some important matters. Illinois members believe they have blocked the plan to move the Air Corps School from Rantoul. Five major methods of fighting the dust storms and erosion peril are in the making.

Women—The annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was colorful—full of patriotism and politics. Snappy addresses on preparedness and shrillness between conservatives and radicals marked the dozens of side meetings. The contest for president-general was as full of political maneuvering as a national convention. Nothing so vividly illustrates the progress of women in public affairs as the congress of the Daughters. Many of them are skilled parliamentarians and public speakers. They furnished much food for thought to Congress.

Education—Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, has a rather low opinion of the "newspaper mind"—this referring to newspaper reporters who cover her department. Those who attend her conferences long since gave up all hope of getting any real news. But while the prospect of a strike in the rubber industry looked very black things changed appreciably around the Labor Department, Miss Perkins was gracious herself in answering questions. She tried vainly to get the industrialists to pose for a news photograph. And—she even discovered some of the reporters wanted to sneak off to the nearby Maryland races and did everything possible to wind conferences up in time to get them there.

The lady is learning her Washington. Experts agree with Mr. Morgenthau that the saving in interest is well worth while from the taxpayer's viewpoint—even if it's a fleabite to the future debt which the nation is assuming. But they don't share his belief that cheap money is a cure for all our ailments. It will evidently take more than that to induce reluctant borrowers to use the ocean of credit available. Right wing alarmists are fearful that Treasury policy plus proposed centralization of Federal Reserve control aims at giving the government complete mastery of capital and capital markets with "socialistic" financing of industry to follow. Their only consolation is that the government has so far been much bolder in word than in need at pushing up the federal deficit.

Nice—Railroad men wish to pete the Supreme Court would hurry and make up its mind about the pension act. They also pray fervently that Congress will do something p.d.q. about regulating truck and bus competition. If they get the breaks on these two matters they may not go through with their wage-cutting gesture on May 1st. If they lose out on both, comment runs that even the pay cut won't save their bacon. The Congressional outlook is not

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

Determined—New York critics of the New Deal are suspicious of the flood of bullish reports recently turned loose by Washington and other sources. Secretary Morgenthau's remarks about the breaking up of the financial log jam and his cheers for cheap money left Wall Street cold. Ditto for prophesies of tremendous industrial stimulation from the spending of the work relief fund.

You hear widespread comment in financial circles that the government is trying again to use talk for money in fostering recovery. Part of the skepticism traces to the simple conservative credo that the New Deal is ruining private enterprise and therefore recovery is impossible while it holds the reins—plus the further belief that psychology has consistently outrun performance. Part of it cuts deeper. Definite obstructionism is growing in certain financial and industrial quarters. There are people in high places who are determined that recovery shall not come—if they can prevent it—until Mr. Roosevelt is beaten for reelection. They are quite prepared to take a licking in their own pocketbooks for a year and a half if it helps to accomplish the desired result.

Pick-Up—Impartial New York observers appraise the true prospects as less rosy than painted by Washington and its allies but considerably less indigo than right wing extremists maintain. They figure we're in for a dull and despondent summer unless one of four factors develops unexpectedly. They hope it that immediate impetus could come only from (a) large new corporate financing (as distinct from the refunding issues which are beginning to come thick and fast), (b) extensive railroad buying of equipment, (c) a boom in private construction to this country. The first three are rated highly unlikely. The fourth is worth watching if international tension increases.

Fearful—Secretary Morgenthau's announcement that the balance of $1,200,000,000 in Fourth Liberties will be called for payment in October confirms our prophecy. When that job is done the stocks will be clear to raise relief funds as needed with a minimum of maturity complications. Don't forget either that with all the Liberties out of the way—few securities, on which to base gold clause suits will be left outstanding.

KEEP ON

TOP O' THE WORLD

When you're feeling well, you're usually happy. Life is at its best. But when you're sick and blue, days lose their zest. You lack enthusiasm. Common constipation, due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, is an enemy of happy living. It frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal persons. It furnishes generous "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this gentle food safer than rickety patent medicines? Unlike cathartics, it remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Wiley Post Again Fails In Flight

LAFAYETTE, Ind., (AP)—Wiley Post, stratosphere speedster, who straggled out of the Burbank Union Air Terminal at 5:27 1/2 Pacific Coast Time Sunday and headed for New York in a nonstop record attempt, was forced down by super-charger trouble at the Purdue University airport at 3:40, Central Standard Time, here Sunday afternoon. He averaged 231.48 miles per hour for 1,900 miles. Post, circled the Winnie Mae four times around the field before trying to lift airport attaches termed "a sweet landing." His landing gear was dropped of the airplane immediately after the takeoff and he landed on the flat bottom of the ship. "Get my hat off," was the daring aviator's first words. He was wearing the 17-pound rubber fabric suit and heavy helmet in which he received oxygen on two previous unsuccessful flights. Post said that a clutch on one of his two superchargers was stripped. He had hoped to make the trip in between seven and eight hours. The former Oklahoma farm boy who set the two around-the-world marks, carried no radio sending equipment in the ship and had not been heard from or seen since the takeoff. He hurtled through the stratosphere at an average altitude of approximately 23,000 feet. He depended mainly on a radio receiving set for setting his course 900 miles ahead by tuning in broadcasting stations on route. Post was forced down Feb. 22 in the Mojave Desert, 125 miles out of Burbank by motor trouble which later he alleged was caused by sabotage. On his second attempt to establish a coast-to-coast record he came down at Cleveland because of depletion of his oxygen supply.

FHA Program Gains Impetus Here Tuesday

Applicant For Ten Thousand Dollar Job Wants To Be First

The Better Housing program was getting momentum in Big Spring Tuesday. At least eight inquiries as to repairs and construction possible under the FHA program were received before noon at the FHA office in the chamber of commerce. One of the inquiries was an avowed applicant who wanted to be No. 1 with a $10,000 application for a new home. Others definitely said they were intending to make repairs and renovations. A. C. Kyle, FHA representative in this section of the state, said that by "Wednesday morning we will be making a house to house canvass. We are appealing to courtesy of home owners and housewives to show every consideration to the canvassers. There is nothing mandatory about work being done." The survey is being made to ascertain work possible in the city. Kyle, who will be here this week assisting Mrs. Eck Lovelace, local FHA representative, was enthused over prospects for success of the program in this city. "I am highly desirous of seeing Big Spring show the greatest percentage gain of any city in the state within the next 90 days," he said of repair and construction work. "This city has an excellent opportunity of doing just that."

FORAN SCHOOL PLAY "The Galloping Princess"

The Junior and Senior classes of the Foran High school will present for their annual play "The Galloping Princess", an unusual comedy drama, on Friday evening, April 19, at 8 p. m. The presentation of the Junior-Senior play is a greatly anticipated event in the community life of Foran, as an evening of enjoyment, mirth and melodramatic hilarity is always in evidence. A jealous sweetheart, an aspiring mother-in-law, the strong arm of the law, and the intrigues of one Marx Invadane becomes mixed in the tangle of the life of Tess in her new home and all but wreck her budding romance. Mingled with the dramatic movement, are the rip-roaring antics of the little brother and the clowning of the Irish girl masquerading as a French maid. IPA Official Says Death Penalty Affirmed For W. R. Hildreth

Slayer Of Wife Must Die, Rules Court Of Criminal Appeals

AUSTIN, (AP)—The death penalty assessed by W. R. Hildreth in Howard county for fatally stabbing his wife last Oct. 1, with an ice pick was affirmed Wednesday by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Death penalty was returned against Hildreth here October 26 in the 10th district court after a jury had deliberated slightly more than two hours. Principal witness for the state was Mrs. Carlton Coburn, who testified she rushed to her mother's home the afternoon of October 1 after hearing screams. She said she saw her father leaving by way of the back door. She found her mother lying in the floor, with the blade of an ice pick protruding from her pelvic bone. "Bernice, he's killed me this time. Get a doctor," Mrs. Coburn said her mother told her. Hildreth was found later in the afternoon a hysteric and half from his home, his wrists and throat slashed. He pleaded guilty to a murder charge and asked mercy of the court.

His attorneys, Charles Sullivan and J. E. Litterer, were appointed by the court and served without pay. They appealed the case, after motion for new trial was refused, on the grounds that part of the testimony calculated to show prior threats was inadmissible and prejudicial. The defense counsel also took exception to use of the word "hysteric" and other remarks made by then District Attorney R. W. Hamilton in addressing the jury.

Assessment of the death penalty against Hildreth was the second in the history of Howard county. A. A. Bergdorf was given the death sentence for the slaying of Charles A. Walker, Dallas, at a filling station eight miles north of here October 22, 1928. His case was later reversed by the court of criminal appeals and Bergdorf is now serving a life sentence.

Utah is up you men in the oil business through organized effort to protect the oil industry, especially regarding the tax question," Mr. Fell said, in urging an organization in this section to promote the oil industry.

The Thomas-Dikey bill is a legislative means for determining the equitable rights between the states in petroleum production. Personally I am against federal control of the oil production, but I am in favor of a federal agency acting in the capacity as umpire in dispute originating between states in the matter of production, and I believe this means alone will prove the only salvation for the oil business.

The proposed bill does not set up federal control of the oil industry, according to Mr. Fell, but creates an umpire system. He compared the oil industry to a baseball game and pointed out the need of an umpire in which arguments between states in regard to petroleum production may be settled. He described the legislation as necessary to stabilization of the oil industry. "You can't have stabilization without conservation and you can't have conservation without stabilization," he said.

In closing Mr. Fell urged oil men to let their representatives in congress know their desires as to legislation, whatever they may be. Joseph Edwards, a director of the IPA, spoke briefly, stating that he appreciated the turnout of local oil men to the meeting, and offered his assistance to the program outlined by this organization.

The banquet and speaking was arranged by Mr. Edwards, Robert Piner, R. F. Robbins and Ben LeFevre.

Kyle Speaks To Rotarians

FHA Official Gives Information; Nominating Committee Reports

A. C. Kyle, field representative of the Federal Housing Administration, with headquarters in Fort Worth, was speaker at Rotary club luncheon at Hotel Settles Tuesday noon, on a program in charge of W. C. Blankenship. Preceding the program, a banquet was conducted by Mr. Blankenship as leader and Mrs. Roy Combs as accompanist. She is serving during absence of Mrs. G. H. Wood, club pianist. Mr. Kyle outlined the purposes of the federal housing act, and said he was glad to see Big Spring so enthusiastic in carrying out the program. He said, however, that without the full co-operation of citizens with those in charge of the FHA campaign here, it would be impossible to get the full results. He urged every one to lend their support to the campaign here. President Davis called on the nominating committee to make its report for 1935-36 officers. Chairman R. T. Piner made the report and the following names were submitted: President—M. K. House; vice-president, Harold Homan; secretary, Elmo Wasson; treasurer, Byron Cook; directors, James A. Davis, Ben Carter, Bob Kountz, Theo. Francis and W. W. Inkman. Election of officers will be held at next Tuesday's meeting. It was announced. Dr. M. H. Bennett gave the club information as to expenses of trips to Mexico City, where the international convention will be held in June. He had literature to explain the plans fully, and any one interested in making the trip, can get additional information from the booklet. Visiting Rotarian N. L. Peters of Longview was present. Lomax Club Women Study Clothes Care

"Spring is here, and it is time to put away our winter clothes," says Miss Maxine Lou Parr, home demonstration agent to the Lomax club women at the home of Mrs. D. F. Coates on April 11. A miniature clothes closet was shown. The closet should be six feet long and from floor to ceiling. At the back of the closet there should be a shelf for hats, under the shelf a strong rod for hanging coats, dresses, and suits. There should be shelves on each side of the closet for folded garments and on the bottom shelves a hinged door for quilt and blanket storage. On the closet door was attached a 12-pocket shoe bag. Clothes should always be cleaned before storing as moths will not eat a clean garment and they do not like light. For this reason the inside of the garment should be placed in a moth-proof bag and sprayed with any good fly spray, bag closed and stored away until the following fall. Miss Parr also showed a dresser drawer with fitted boxes for all dress accessories, such as dresses, belts, gloves and makeup each in a separate box. Three county home demonstration agents were visitors at the meeting. They were Misses Parr, Howard county; Joellen Vanney, Martin county; Miller of Midland county. Members attending were Meses. A. J. Stalling, W. F. Coates, Henry York, D. W. Powell and Miss Velma Chapman.

Inquiries For F. H. A. Loans Made Locally

Mrs. Eck Lovelace To Be Assisted By A. C. Kyle Of F.H.A. Office

Inquiries were being made here Monday as to scope and type of improvements possible under the Federal Housing administration program. One involved a $1000 project, an over a garage structure, and several smaller structures were contemplated by persons inquiring. Mrs. Eck Lovelace has been retained by the local FHA organization to acquaint citizens with merits to be had from the housing program. Her office is in the local Chamber of Commerce at the Settles Hotel. A. C. Kyle, FHA representative, was due to arrive here Monday afternoon to assist Mrs. Lovelace in setting up an active organization and getting the program before the people. Kyle will remain here several days. Loans amounting from $100 to $2000 can be obtained from FHA approved institutions for improvements. These loans can be amortized over a comparatively long period of time at a low interest rate. J. E. Collins, local FHA chairman, said. These loans involve a few requirements as to income credit rating, etc. but are one of the whole very liberal and shorn of a lot of red tape. "An effort will be made to acquaint every home owner in Big Spring and Howard county of the benefits to be derived from this better housing program," said Collins. "Citizens in other places are using this plan to improve their residential and business property to complete satisfaction and it is believed that when the plan is thoroughly understood, many Big Spring residents will take the opportunity offered to remodel, repaint and rebuild their residential and business properties." Persons interested in remodeling or making repairs to their properties may gain full information by calling Mrs. Lovelace. A thorough canvass of the city is to be made in the near future to familiarize citizens with possibilities of the program.

All of this was being done as canvassers had hardly started work in gaining information from tenants and home owners of the town as to work possible under the FHA program. Seven persons started work Wednesday morning on the house to house canvass. By noon they had contacted a large number of residents and owners, most of whom listed needed repairs. A. C. Communications From Readers

It is very difficult indeed to point out the definite aspects of improvement or deterioration in the various trends of human endeavor. This is particularly true in such an intangible field as education. Good education implies so many lines of effort. Education includes virtually every effort that provides for the betterment of the race.

Not all laws passed by legislatures are indisputably sound, neither are they always unimpeachably progressive. It is generally true, however, that legislatures pass laws in accordance with certain trends of thought as expressed in the will of the majority of the citizens.

Many of the legislatures are now in session and the more important phases of school program upon which legislation is being passed are listed as follows:

- 1. More adequate and more equitable support of the school program.
2. Larger administrative units.
3. Property tax seems to be overburdened.
4. Search for new revenue predominant.
5. State taxation gaining ground over purely local support.

Should the reader be further interested the following editorial appearing in the American School Board Journal will be helpful: "While the legislative program presented by educational bodies and executives in the several states deal with a variety of measures, they are in the main designed to provide a more adequate support for the schools. Thus, they concentrate themselves largely with the administration of revenue laws or the planning and discovery of new tax sources."

In line with the effort to ease the financial problem connected with the administration of the schools are the numerous administrative units. Such larger units, usually enable a better distribution of the tax burden, an elimination of unnecessary duplication of costs, and a better control over the professional labors carried on in such units. The efforts, however, in the direction of consolidation have met with strong resistance in several states.

The subject of taxation is receiving greater attention. There is a reasonably settled conviction that the property tax is greatly overburdened. This leads to a widening of the tax base. The income tax lists and

Garden Club Members Plan To Go To El Paso Meeting; Hear Beautification Talk

Members of the Garden club met at the Statler hotel Tuesday afternoon to discuss the trip to El Paso and the beautification contest being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Fort Worth officials who stopped by to visit the local club enroute to the convention in Los Angeles conferred with the officers regarding the practicality of putting on a western convention in El Paso. It was decided to set the date for April 23 and to limit the session to one day.

Mrs. Henry Trigg, of Fort Worth, regional vice-president of this section, said that the program would be devoted to an address in the morning by a competent speaker on flowers and plants adapted to the semi-arid section of this part of the United States, followed by a luncheon. In the afternoon all visitors would be shown the most beautiful gardens in El Paso.

Since Big Spring is one of the most active garden club cities in this part of the country members are making a special effort to go. All members of the club are eligible and those with cars or desiring to join a motor party are asked to get in touch with either Mrs. J. M. Morgan, president, or Mrs. W. D. Williams, secretary.

The present plans are to leave Big Spring Monday morning, April 22nd and return Wednesday, April 24th. Mrs. Gordon Phillips of the Chamber of Commerce addressed members of the club and answered questions about the yard beautification contest.

This is the first year the Chamber of Commerce has devoted itself to such form of civic improvement, she said.

The public as a whole, although interested in the project, seemed timid about entering, she continued. Members of the Garden club, all of whom will be working in their yards, should take the lead and every member should join the contest for the sake of the city as a whole.

Members were asked also to give out information to the public about the contest and to answer questions. The contest is not limited to garden club members, however, but to anyone interested in setting an example of yard improvement.

Those interested are asked to go by the Chamber of Commerce office and fill out an entry card. The details and point system by which the yards will be judged is as follows:

- 1. Attractiveness—15 points.
- (a) General Impression (5 points).
- (b) Cleanliness, homeliness, appearance from street.
- (c) Details (10 points).
- Plantings well to boundaries, rather than "cluttered" about the house. Plantings to form a "frame" for most attractive parts of the house, keeping house as dominant "center of interest." Foundation plantings well chosen. Shade formed by trees. All season bloom. Nestness and care. Good lawn, free from weeds.
- 2. Neatness—15 points.

- (b) Details (10 points).

The Big Spring Week We Observe With Fires, More Beauty, Youth And Progress

It is ironic that immediately after the prevention work we should experience an outburst of damaging blight. What makes it all the more aggravating is that each of the blazes can be attributed only to lack of due care.

One garage caught fire because a trash fire was burnt in the open and so near the frame structure. Another building was destroyed because gasoline was used to clean fixtures in the same room with an open fire. Still another was the result of a cigarette in the middle of a mattress. None of these causes can be called "unfortunate" or "accidental" and that it goes with a vast majority of the fires which plague the nation.

Civic and beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week announced its yard and garden contest. Out here in the "semi-arid" region of the country, we are too prone to accept barren, rocky yards as inevitable when a little effort and money would completely transform residential property. It is true that water rates are not entirely conducive to beautification, but the city is now taking special irrigation rates. If as much progress is made in the next two years as in the past two, then water will be available during summer months in sufficient quantities and low prices.

"You Win If You Lose" Watchword of Yard Contest

"You win if you lose." With this slogan as a watchword, the Chamber of Commerce civic and beautification committee will launch its yard and garden contest April 20. Cooperating with the chamber committee is the Garden club.

Homes within the corporate limits of Big Spring are eligible to be registered in the contest. Suitable prizes for first, second and third places will be awarded in the form of flowers, plants and shrubs that added to the yards and gardens of winning entries.

Liveability and attractiveness of yards and gardens will be the prevailing consideration in scoring. Improvement of the cost of improvements, it was decided by the committee.

Conditions Welghed

Liberal credit will be given where entries have beautified their places in the face of unfavorable conditions. In the same degree, failure to take advantage of naturally favorable conditions will be considered in the scoring.

Entries will be registered until April 20, the committee voted. The contest will terminate on July 20, when, perhaps, a second contest may be started.

Persons wishing to enter the contest are urged to register at the chamber of commerce office in the Settles hotel building.

Five judges, two from the beautification committee and three from the Garden club will make inspections and determine the winners. Three official inspections will be made: One shortly after the contest opens, one at the height of the growing season, and a third prior to the close of the contest.

Front Yard

A total maximum of 25 points will be awarded for the front yard. In this division, a maximum of 15 points will be given for attractiveness, five points of which will go for general impression, including hospitality, homeliness, appearance from the street.

Ten points may be given for details which embrace plantings well to boundaries rather than "cluttered" about the lawn, plantings to form a frame for the most attractive parts of the house, keeping the house as the dominant "center of interest," foundation plantings well chosen, shade formed by trees, all season bloom, neatness, care, good lawn free from weeds, vines, trellis work, window boxes, unusual things that impress, and permanency of planting.

Improvements made this year may create a general impression, based principally on what the entrant has achieved with conditions at hand, also not essential.

Rear Yard

The rear yard, often the sore spot of a home, may be scored a maximum of 20 points. Of this total, 10 points will be given for attractiveness, 10 points for livability, adaptability for human use and enjoyment is meant. The back yard, it is desired, shall become an out-door living room.

In scoring the livability of the back yard, five points may be given for general impression, 15 points for details, including, privacy gained by border plantings, shrub, tree and screens, shade formed by trees, comfort, restfulness, lounging facilities, garden furniture, etc.

General impression as to attractiveness may bring in a maximum of five points. The flower garden, as to pattern, composition, color, continuous bloom, and neatness may be scored as high as 10 points. Border plantings, with due consideration to general outline, continuous bloom, artistic composition, good background for outdoor living room, and trees for shade, may bring 10 points. Garden features, including pool, rockery, bird bath, bird houses, pergola, seats, summer house, etc., may draw 5 points.

Improvements made this year are eligible to a maximum of 10 points.

Alley and Garage

The alley, garage, kitchen service, etc., may net as high as 10 points with cleanliness, freedom from weeds, ash cans, in alley, neatness of laundry yard, garage door openings, concealed plumbing, appearance of drive, garbage can concealed by shrubs, vines or flowers.

Parking, based on attractiveness, trees kept well trimmed, freedom from weeds, and good lawn, care of it, etc., will be scored a maximum of 10 points.

Thus a maximum of 100 points is possible in the contest.

Members of the chamber committee and the garden contest expressed the hope that many entries will be listed in the contest for city beautification.

PLAINVIEW PERFECTS PLANS

Jed Rix On Job At Host City Assisting In Arrangements

PLAINVIEW—The 17th general convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is one month distant, but the West Texas convention goes would not realize it if it dropped into Plainview this week. Both the host city and the WTCC have their plans going ahead so briskly and smoothly that they could, in a pinch, pull off the big show on a week's notice.

The West Texas Chamber's convention manager, Jed Rix, is on the job regularly and will stay there until the show is ended. He reported at Plainview early in the week, offering his services to E. C. Kuykendall, general chairman of the host city's fifteen convention committees. These, and their leaders, are:

Housing, S. A. Umphress. Lunches and banquets, Marion Peters. Special entertainment, E. M. Miller. Programs, Winfield Holbrook. Finance, R. Q. Silverthorn. Registration, Jack Shaggs. Bands and quartets, A. E. Moorman. Transportation, Glenn Mabry. Decorations, John Scott. Meeting facilities, Arthur Reinken. Printing, Dennis Sealing. Reception, C. E. Davis. Publicity, H. S. Hillburn. Dances, Alex. Nisbet. And over them all, the general committee headed by Kuykendall.

More Work For Directors

Gone are the days when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce spent thousands of dollars it had collected over the territory in offering whoopee entertainment calculated to draw 'em by the tens of thousands. Times have changed, and the WTCC conventions nowadays stress work—although entertainment is offered the conventionists in well-balanced quantity. This year sees another extension of the work idea, with greater responsibility for the 22 town directors.

Policy of the present management is to put more emphasis on, and especially the declaration of, policies out of which the program comes, squarely up to the 197 affiliated towns that have chosen their own local directors to serve on the regional board. In line with this, the directors will run the Plainview convention. Resolutions will clear as usual through the convention work committee, but the final yes or no will be said by the directors as they sit together at noon luncheon on Monday and Tuesday, May 13-14, and breakfast at 7:30 the morning of the third and last day, May 15. There will be something to eat, yes, but the gathering will be strictly business.

S. T. Harrison of Memphis has accepted appointment as chairman of the convention's election committee, to accredit the local directors. At his direction Rix's office has written the 197 member towns to nominate their directors, without delay. Anton has been the first to respond, nominating Paul Whitfield, lumberman and chamber of commerce secretary.

The convention work committee will share with the directorate the job of whipping the business in shape.

Fiesta, Contests

Outdoor pageantry on a big scale went out of WTCC conventions eight years ago. Chief item of entertainment now is an indoor, modern and fast-moving "floor show" usually built around some local, territorial or historical idea.

This year's show will be known as "La Fiesta," and will be given under the direction of Miss Wilma Friedsam, head of the English department of Plainview's Wayland college. She has had abundant experience in handling entertainment features of the town's annual dairy show—biggest event of its kind on the Plains-Panhandle—and has put on attractions in a dozen or more towns of the section.

La Fiesta will be given on two nights, Monday and Tuesday, May 13-14. Entertainment acts are to be imported only in the sense that the entertainers will come from the larger towns of West Texas. E. B. Miller, entertainment committee chairman, has had acceptance already from eleven towns to his invitation to send their best floor show acts. These are Abilene, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Denton, Vernon, Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock, Quanah, Mineral Wells and Dalhart. Talent will be adequate, thinks Miss Friedsam, to put on a different show each night. Each affiliated town is being asked to send a sponsor for supplying of background and color.

Main-line contests will be My Home Town, Poster, Quartet and Beautification. Houston Harte, San Angelo, again has accepted the chairmanship of the Beautification committee which will put on the contest. A loving cup will be the top award. Regulations governing the contest have been sent to the towns.

Twenty-two towns already have entries in the Poster contest, these being Dumas, Munday, Electra, Floydada, Throckmorton, Hamlin, Haskell, Lubbock (two schools), Pecos, Fort Worth (two), Mobeetie, Stephenville (John Tarleton), Annetta, Otsey, Barkersville, Plain-

Processing Tax Is To Continue

ATLANTA (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace Saturday warned processors and handlers of farm commodities that they might face "something more extreme" if they succeeded in destroying the agricultural adjustment program.

Reiterating that the cotton processing tax would be continued, the secretary charged that "the effort of certain textile manufacturers to get rid of the processing tax is the spearhead of the movement."

Burglars Break Into Coahoma Hotel Fri.

COAHOMA—Burglars broke into a hotel here Friday evening and made off with twelve dresses. B. F. McKinney, deputy sheriff, recovered all the dresses Saturday in a gin building.

Entrance was gained into the hotel by ripping off a screen.

About 50 entries are expected in the My Home Town contest, for which Tinny Glasgow of Spur and Lloyd Lanoite of Post are the first accredited contestants. Entries sent in for the Quartet contest are from Floydada, Big Spring, Quanah, Memphis, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Dalhart and Fortales, N. M.

Advance Crowd Ballyhooing

The Panhandle and Plains are famous for crowds. Put on almost any sort of convention and you'll have an overflow. No exception is expected for the 1935 general WTCC convention—but Plainview is taking no chances. Its chamber of commerce is planning to put on three trade trips into the hinterland for purpose of "inviting neighboring towns to both the WTCC show and the Dairy show. Forty towns will be visited on an 803-mile itinerary and the Plainview band will go along, the bandmen dressed in their new uniforms.

Special trains are cinched from three points: Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Likewise Dallas is expected to run its usual train and Amarillo will run either a train or organized motorcade to support its invitation for the 1935 convention. A hot fight is expected between Amarillo and Wichita Falls, with El Paso, Mineral Wells and perhaps Brownwood dark horses.

Better make your hotel reservations early, warns convention manager Rix. Said he: "While Plainview has ample hotel accommodations to handle almost any convention, we have not forgotten that the San Angelo hotels began to reject applications for reservations two weeks ahead of the opening of the 1934 convention."

County Agent Has Majority Of Contracts

Ninety per cent of supplemental documents on 1934 cotton contracts and practically all new contracts have been tabulated.

Old and new contracts will be sent to Austin following deadline for new contracts Monday, County Agent O. P. Griffin said. He expressed the belief that all new contracts, with the exception of some which might be in the mails, were in the office.

Papers on 148 new contracts have been received. Eight others, under a different classification, have also come into the office.

Griffin said when all types of contracts were received, they would number 965 as compared to a total of 817 last year.

Although contracts for 1934 called for an average reduction of 38 per cent of base acreage and only 35 per cent this year, Griffin said that benefit payments would exceed those of last year.

A one-fourth increase in parity payment would neutralize the smaller percentage of reduction, and the 150 odd new contracts would pay over and above last year's total figure.

Total cotton production for Howard county for the base period, 1923-32, was 69,300,000 pounds of lint, or an average annual production for the base period of 12,066,000 pounds of lint. Last year's contracts represented 10,893,300 pounds of lint and additional contracts this year add $17,215 pounds to this figure for a total of 11,710,813 pounds, or 349,837 pounds under the average total production of the base period.

All cotton acreage for the base period amounted to 106,800 acres. Contracts last year accounted for 98,848 acres, and contracts sent this year accounted for 96,548 acres, and contracts sent this year add 8,208 acres for a total of 104,876 acres, 1,924 acres over the base period acreage, said Griffin.

SCOUT NEWS

The past week has been one of activity for scout troops here. Troop No. 7 entertained its sponsors, the Lions club and guests, with a Mexican supper Wednesday evening. Friday evening Troop No. 2 held its sponsors, the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist church and parents to a wienner roast at the city park.

Doubtless, both of the functions served to cement better relations and friendship between the boys and the sponsors.

Troop No. 5 is planning to get out in the open Friday. Later in the month an overnight hike is to be held.

Troop No. 3 is in Canyon Pasture, many miles southeast of here, today. The troop left Friday afternoon for the spot, which is considered to be one of the most beautiful in the county. Scoutmaster Jack Cummings was in charge of the troop. Saturday a week ago, Judge W. E. Denton took his Stanton scouts to the spot for a much enjoyed outing.

With the exception of the Midland patrol, known as the Whang-poo, the scouts' training school had better than average attendance last Tuesday. The Midland delegation started over, but had car trouble near Stanton. Wallace Wimberly, patrol leader, said the group will be here Tuesday.

Boy and Girl Scouts took part in the opening of the district P. T. A. conference here Thursday morning. They presented the colors, led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The girls presented a pretty picture in their uniforms, and so did the boys.

Troops are still practicing for the Round Up here May 10-11. The sessions will become more intensive as the date for the affair nears.

Four Big Spring scouts went to Foran to sit in on a meeting of the scouts there Tuesday evening. When the meeting was over, almost every scout either paid up his registration fee or said that they would. Under I. O. Shaw, they are looking forward to a great year in scouting.

At Elbow a large number of boys are anxious to get into scouting. Many have already passed their tenderfoot tests. April 24 a delegation of Big Spring scouts went to Elbow to help them get off to a good start. J. R. Hale, school principal, is taking a prominent part in getting the work started there.

Area Executive A. C. Williamson said here Friday that 16 troops in the council had paid in their deposit fees for the national jamboree. Four or five others told him last week they were getting their fee in soon. Wink wants to send four or five boys.

SCOUT NEWS

Troop No. 1 (Bob White Patrol) —The regular weekly meeting took up with the scout oath by Tom Diester. There was a new member, Jodie Diester, who passed all of his tenderfoot tests and most of his second class. Nell Manning passed compass tracking and scout pace. Tom Diester passed compass and scout pace. Don Ferguson passed tracking and judging. The patrol planned a hike for Friday night.

The meeting was attended by Jim Ferguson, Jodie and Tom Diester, Wesley Yarbro, Sidney Moody, Seymour Ballard, Joe Hoard, Don and Clifton Ferguson, and Nell Manning.

Troop No. 4—Twelve scouts, four visitors and one official was present for the regular weekly meeting held in the East Fourth Baptist church. The meeting opened with the roll call followed by a short talk by the scoutmaster. Patrol members were then held. Scout meetings and campfires were held. The troop planned to have one over night hike before the big roundup which is held in May. The troop was dismissed with the scoutmaster's benediction.—Reported by Frank Wenz, scribe.

Troop No. 5—The troop took up at 7:30 Thursday night in the First Baptist church with the scoutmaster in charge of the meeting. Several announcements were made and the patrol were dismissed to their patrol meetings.

Each patrol had to put on a short skit representing some scout law and required some time to arrange.

Two entirely new games were played and they proved to be very interesting. One consisted of blowing a paper bag full of air, and then patrolling took turns in trying to see how far they could shoot it (as in the shot put). In the other, balloons were blown up and tied on the belt of each one in the contest. Then at a given signal the contestants strived to burst the balloon with a paper "club." Goidie Miller, Bull patrol, was the winner of the contest. The Bull patrol also won the other contest with an easy margin.

The scoutmaster then gave a short talk on the obeying of the scout oath. The troop was dismissed with the scoutmaster's benediction.—Reported by Buck Tyra.

Troop No. 7—The troop met on Thursday evening with 23 boys present. The Giants and Wildcat tied for honors in the contests. The scoutmaster and several boys spent Saturday morning in the country on a map making expedition.—Reported by John R. Hutto, scoutmaster.

Mr. J. W. Rogers was elected school trustee to fill the vacancy of J. W. Low who had served from the district.

Herald Gets Easy Victory

CCC Team Defeats Ice-men To Tie For League Lead

By HANK HART

The Herald Type Lice went into a tie for the league leadership and the CCC Foresters broke into the win column Thursday evening, the Herald beating the Ford Motor company 14-3 and the Foresters squeaking out a 10-7 victory over Southern Ice.

The Foresters took a first inning five run lead and were never headed. Ray was on the mound for the Foresters and survived rallies in the second, third, and fourth stanzas to earn his victory.

The CCC twirler gave up 12 hits during the evening but his mates settled down behind him in the last three innings to protect the lead.

The Foresters also collected 12 bingles, Kyle and Ray getting two each. One of Kyle's blows was a circuit smash and came with two aboard in the seventh.

Greer also smacked out a four bagger for the Corps.

Sally Smith found Ray better than did his mates, and came through with four hits.

The Type Lice tallied in every inning and did not leave the result in doubt after the first stanza.

Curtis Driver, Herald center fielder and "strike out king," finally found a pitcher he could hit and came through with a double and two singles to lead the parade against the Ford twirler.

Miller Harris, big first baseman-manager, also was a factor in the Herald win with a home run and a triple.

McKen held the Motorists to eight hits, half of which were collected by Balch and McCurrie.

The defeat showed the Johnsonmen into the cellar along with the Ice-men. Both teams have lost two games.

DAVE LIVINGSTON
 OF HOUSTON
 CAPTAIN OF THE YALE SWIMMING TEAM

BOB KIPNUTH
 YALE COACH
 HIS SWIMMING TEAMS HAVE WON 136 DUAL MEETS IN ELEVEN YEARS WITHOUT A LOSS

Robert J. Kipnuth, Yale's swimming coach, builds his system on a solid foundation—a program of general body building and corrective physical education work. The soundness of this plan is attested by the fact that over a period of 11 years the swimming teams of Yale university have won 136 dual meets without a single setback.

Kipnuth was a physical education specialist in the Yale department of health when named swimming coach in 1917. With only a slight knowledge of water sports, he introduced the program of body building which he calls training, rather than coaching.

The theory he works on is that the basis of all competitive sports should be perfect physical condition. Form is a great conservator of energy but worth little without proper physical development to supply the power. A strict training is adhered to throughout the entire year, not during the swimming season only.

NEVER CUTS SQUAD

Some 300 youngsters come under his wing each season. Kipnuth welcomes all youngsters and though they sometimes run to great numbers he never cuts down. Every man is impressed with the fact that he has an excellent chance of making the team.

No wonder then that the Yale entry list in swimming meets is generally double that of most teams. Kipnuth has a fondness for mass swimming—which may account for the way Yale has dominated the relay records.

One might expect that Yale's marvelous record would attract scholastic swimming champions. It does draw a few, but the percentage is far below the figure you might expect. Over 60 per cent of the freshman swimmers this year were novices as far as competition was concerned before Kipnuth set about developing them.

Sprinters have been his strong point. Yale swimmers have captured the 50-yard free-style championship of the Intercollegiate Swimming association 17 times in 28 years.

But in the long run it has been his diligent efforts toward developing balance, rather than individual strength, that is responsible for the amazing record his teams have compiled.

The Relief Load

This is an attempt to determine the reasons why in spite of a substantial recovery in the past two years, the relief rolls are so large. The question is of the greatest importance. The burden of relief now constitutes for all practical purposes the whole Federal deficit. But for relief the budget would readily be balanced. What is more, the cost of relief in terms of human self-respect, in its effects upon standards of personal and social responsibility, and in its political implications are, though they cannot be measured, immense.

The problem is so vital that it calls for the most careful examination and justifies what must inevitably be a tedious analysis.

It is necessary to begin by examining the ideas, widely circulated by responsible writers, that there has been a sensational increase in the size of the relief rolls, not only since Mr. Roosevelt took office but especially in the past twelve months. It has been said, for example, that the number of families on relief increased 72 per cent between February of 1934 and February of this year. It has been said that the total number of persons dependent on relief increased from 31,000,000 in January of last year to over 20,000,000 in January of this year.

These figures are the result of two simple errors. They overlook the C.W.A. of last winter. When men went to work for the C.W.A. they were taken off the official relief rolls, though they were no less dependent upon government money. They overlook also the drought which added 400,000 cases, or approximately 1,500,000 persons, although no one would deny that drought relief is as distinct from the depression as earthquake or flood relief would be.

Now the C. W. A. employed about 4,000,000 men during the early winter months of last year and about half of them were drawn from the relief rolls. To make a correct comparison of the last winter's relief load with this winter's, it is necessary to add 2,000,000 C. W. A. cases to the figures for February, 1934, and subtract 400,000 drought cases from the figures for February, 1935. The result is as follows:

Relief cases—February, 1934 ..... 5,132,011
 Relief cases—February, 1935 ..... 5,039,000

In short, there has been no increase in the relief load in the past twelve months. There has also been no substantial reduction. The load is just about what it was though there has been some improvement in business.

ATHLETES IN BAYLOR MEET

Over Two Hundred Enter Events

WACO. (Sp.)—Over two hundred athletes from approximately fifty high schools over the state will participate in the Baylor Bear club invitation track and field meet here Saturday April 27. Every section of the state will be well represented, and most of the outstanding teams will be on hand.

The preliminaries will start on Carroll field at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, and will be completed in time for the athletes to be guests of the University at the Baylor A. & M. baseball games. The finals in all events will take place under the arc lights, beginning at 7:30 Sunday evening.

Direct Halbert Nutt announced that teams from Fort Arthur, Houston, El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth, Lufkin, Abilene, and many other leading high schools over Texas will be on hand. Interest in the meet is mounting as the date draws near, and a large crowd of local track fans will turn out for the exhibition.

The meet has been held twice before. In 1922, Fort Arthur high school took first place, and in 1923, Lufkin high school won major honors.

clay courts, may ask what he could do on grass courts, provided his Mexican City showing warranted further duty. He's beaten some of the best on grass surfaces, notably beating Wood at Seabright in 1923 and being runner-up at Seabright and Southampton in 1924. He trimmed Ellisworth Vines in the 1923 nationals.

Won Southern Title At 16

Seven times Grant has been Southern champion, and he now holds the national clay court title for the second time. He races, often sprints, and falls, but more often than not retrieves the ball.

On turf he can't do this so well, and since court-covering is his greatest asset he's handicapped. There are few grass courts in south for him to practice on.

Bitzy, not yet 25, won his first Southern title in 1927. He's been knocking off top-notchers ever since, but has never earned a rating than No. 7 nationally. He's No. 10 on the 1934 list.

BITSY GRANT IS AMBITIOUS

Gets Chance In Cup Competition

By E. K. BUTLER

ATLANTA. (AP)—An ambition that's taller than he is finally has rewarded Bryan M. Grant, Jr., the "Atlanta Atom" known to the tennis world as "Bitzy."

When the Davis cup selection committee decided to give Bitzy his chance in actual cup competition—a singles assignment in the American zone play at Mexico City in May—he became the smallest man ever to win a United States Davis cup berth.

The 5-foot-4, 150-pound gazelle of the courts is slightly shorter and lighter than that famous mighty midget of America's holyoan tennis days, "Little Bill" Johnson, and Grant hopes to prove size is no more necessary to tennis greatness now than in Johnson's day.

"This is my biggest chance," said Grant, "and I'm going to take advantage of it." It is obvious to anyone who talks to him that the Mexico City assignment by no means fulfills Bitzy's tennis ambitions. It's his intention to perform so brilliantly in the Mexican capital that the pickers won't be able to leave him off the squad picked for overseas duty.

Some Nice Wins

Among his souvenirs of early 1935 competition are the following feats:

Won Miami-Biltmore tourney, defeating Berkeley Bell, No. 7, and Sidney Woods, No. 2 both in straight sets.

Won Bermuda tourney, whipping Gilbert Hill in final.

Won River Oaks meet at Houston, Tex., beating Bell again and Wilmer Allison, nation's No. 1 ranked.

"I'm keeping in better condition and training harder than I ever have before," says Bitzy. But the critics point out also that he's playing a more aggressive game, going to the net far oftener than formerly, volleying better—and his temperament has improved.

The tennis fan, mindful of Grant's well-known preference for question almost every year for 20 years after the close of the Napoleonic wars. The more I study, the less inclined I find to make a final judgment on who is essentially a question of character and the motives of those who are in want. My belief is that here as in other questions of practical morals, the abolitionists are most surely wrong, and that the only course is to make a constant effort to strike a balance between sympathy for distress and gratitude in giving relief, knowing all the time that the need of relief is in itself an evil and that a perfect way of administering it is not to be found.
