Dairy Products to Be Exhibited Here

County Home Demonstration Council Endorses Show to Be Held at Wheeler on May 2

Agitated by members of the Wheeler County Home Demonstration Council, including several interested local persons, that organization has endorsed and will sponsor an exhibit of dairy products by Wheeler county women at Wheeler on Friday, May 2. This development comes as a result of efforts focused on the idea here early this week.

Prominent among the Wheeler community leaders for the exhibit are Mrs. John Henry Watts and Mrs. Jess Crowder.

Mrs. Hester Dodson of Twitty has been named chairman of the committee on arrangements for Dairy Products day. Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, strongly favors the idea. Her connection, however, is only in an advisory capacity and to assist in fulfilling the wishes of the council, which originates enterprises and formulates plans for their consummation.

Cognizant of the need for a nominal sum of money with which to meet costs of the undertaking, such as expenses of judges, award ribbons and incidentals, the sponsors of Dairy Products day presented a request to the Lions club at its Tuesday noon luncheon for a donation of $15.00. The request was granted by the club.

No cash prizes will be given, but award ribbons or other suitable markers will be used. This, of course, is the same as the dairy livestock and products exhibits held here for the past two years, when no cash prizes was given on products but were allowed on livestock.

Exact place where the show will be housed has not been decided as yet. Neither are the names of judges available at this time. Miss Chance has been instructed to write A. & M. college for qualified persons to judge the exhibits.

May Exhibit Dairy Cattle

The women's council has extended an invitation to men of the county owning dairy cattle to join in this event and exhibit animals, also. It is not likely, reports from the county agent's office indicate, that such will be the case, however.

According to Jake Tarter, county agent, the current campaign waged against Bangs' disease, including the tests and re-tests, makes it appear inadvisable to assemble a group of dairy cows. Some of these might still be carriers of the disease which authorities are striving to stamp out and thus infect healthy animals.

The question of participation will be left to the discretion of the men's dairy committee, consisting of F. T. Garrett, Shamrock; J. E. Willard, Wheeler, and Tom Laman, Mobeetie. Despite the apparent need for local precaution against spread of Bangs' disease, it has been pointed out that a score or more official dairy days have been designated throughout the state at which it is believed livestock will be assembled and shown, the same as at the dairy days here last year and year before.

Belief in the benefits accruing from exhibits similar to one planned here for May 2 and continuing the line of work introduced by the previous dairy days, is given as practical reasons for the women's determination to carry on the undertaking. They will, of course, welcome encouragement and assistance in putting the effort over and business people and private individuals of Wheeler and community can well afford to lend their support.

Wheeler Coop Gin Co. Annual Meet Saturday

Notices were mailed Tuesday by C. A. Whitener, secretary of the board of directors of the Wheeler Co-operative Gin Co., announcing that organization's annual membership meeting in the district court room here at 2:30 p. m., next Saturday, March 8.

Business of importance will come up for consideration and a number of directors are to be elected, states the notice in urging attendance of all members.

Chas. R. Flynt is president, and J. A. Bryant, vice president, of the organization, which operates a gin business in Wheeler.

SHAMROCK FORD DEALER TO STAGE BIG USED CAR SALE

On another page of this paper will be found the announcement of a big used car sale by the Holmes Motor Co. of Shamrock, authorized Ford dealer, in which an attractive list of used cars and trucks of various makes are offered.

EARLY COUNTY SURVEY RECORD FOUND HERE

Field notes of Wheeler county's original survey were found this week among some old papers in the basement of the county clerk's office by one of the WPA workers engaged in renovating and indexing old county records. The find is said to be of much value to the county archives. The notes cover a survey made by Travis Leach, first county surveyor, between July 21 and August 18, 1879, and give a complete description of the monuments, or markers, for each mile on the four boundary lines of the county. This early-day manuscript record of Wheeler county's metes and bounds had been mislaid for more than 30 years and its recovery is a source of pleasure to J. D. Merriman, present county surveyor, who prizes the documents highly, reports Ernestine N. Weeks, WPA Unit Manager.

County Entries Rate Average at Amarillo

Wheeler county's 4-H club boys' entries at the Fat Stock show in Amarillo this week rated average or better.

Hiram Whitener of Wheeler placed 16th on his Hereford calf in the senior division. Harold Williams of Twitty took 30th place on his Hereford in the same division. Glenn Hodges of Mobeetie, whose senior entry at Shamrock received grand championship honors there, placed 33rd at Amarillo.

E. M. Rives of Shamrock placed 1st on litter and 1st on group of three animals in the 4-H club hog competition.

In the calf show, Jimmy Leathers of Clarendon captured grand champion spot, with a Mason county boy exhibiting the reserve champion.

In the senior purebred breeders section, E. L. Martin of Wheeler ranked high with several entries, among them being the grand champion carload of Hereford heifers which won for him a silver platter, awarded by Lee Bivins of Amarillo.

Borger to Celebrate Anniversary March 8

Many Features Announced for 15th Birthday Festival, Including District Legion Meet

Plans are being made at Borger to entertain an expected crowd of 10,000 visitors at its 15th birthday anniversary celebration on March 8, when shows, parades and other activities will be offered. This is according to announcements received from the Borger American Legion Post and Jim Johnson of Canadian, 18th District American Legion commander.

A three-hour air show in the afternoon, free to the public, will be one feature of the celebration. Other attractions include an opening parade with 15 bands participating, band and maneuvering contests, a midway carnival complete with rides and concessions, and a big dance starting at 9 o'clock in the Legion hall. Because of an expensive orchestra which has been obtained, a nominal admission charge will be made to the dance.

The 18th District American Legion monthly meeting is scheduled at Borger for this date, Saturday, March 8, and will add its attendance and pep to the affair. Commander Johnson is urging attendance by all Legionnaires and Auxiliary members, with representatives from each post of the district present at 10 a. m. with post colors to be displayed in the parade. Everyone, states Johnson, taking part in this pageant, titled "Parade of Old Glory," is requested to carry an individual American flag, whether afoot, horseback or in cars.

At least 20 pilots will be seen in the air show, including Art Goebels, Phillips Petroleum Co. skywriter, who will give one of his spectacular exhibitions.

Of special interest to fliers and aviation enthusiasts will be an exhibit of the sensational Ecoupe, one of the new light planes made by a leading aircraft company. It will be the first and only showing of the Ecoupe in this region.

Introducing the remainder of the day's festivities will be the monster parade at 11 a. m. Expected to be more than a mile long, it will consist of at least 15 bands, a complete Santa Fe train in miniature, drum and bugle corps, motorcycle and bicycle squadmembers of several civic organizations and numerous floats.

Mr. and Mrs. Elon Myers made a business trip to Amarillo Tuesday, V. B. Hardcastle was in charge of the Farmers Co-Op Produce while Mr. Myers was away.

Well-Known Resident Dies Here Wednesday

G. W. Porter, 80, County Pioneer and Prominent Rancher, Passes Away Following Extended Illness

Although not unexpected to those who knew of his condition, the death of G. W. (Green) Porter, 80-year-old Wheeler county pioneer and prominent rancher shortly after noon Wednesday, came as a shock to scores of friends and acquaintances throughout the Panhandle and in this county, where he had lived 39 years. Death was ascribed to heart disease and the infirmities of advancing age.

The deceased, who had lived a vigorous outdoor life, was quite active despite his years until last October, when he suffered onset of the fatal illness terminating in death yesterday.

Shortly after his marriage to Mrs. Cordie Graham on April 9, 1902, at Mangum, Okla., the Porters came to Wheeler county and settled on ranch land 8½ miles southwest of Wheeler, where by hard work and rigid economy during the years they gained extensive holdings.

He was a charter member, director and stockholder in the Citizens State Bank, organized here in 1908, remaining a director until two years ago. With his ranching, livestock and banking interests, Porter occupied a prominent place in affairs of the county and community.

Green Wood Porter was born Oct. 20, 1860, in Tennessee and died March 5, 1941, in Wheeler, Texas, at the age of 80 years, four months and 12 days.

Surviving relatives are the widow, Mrs. Cordie Porter; three sons, Nelson, George and D. H. Porter, and a step-son, Bert Graham, of Fort Worth; also four grandchildren and four step-grandchildren, and a number of nephews and nieces besides a host of friends and acquaintances.

Removing from his native state of Tennessee, Porter lived two years in Arkansas and later lived in New Mexico, then near Albany, Texas, and southwest Oklahoma, from where he came to Wheeler county.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at 2:30 o'clock in the Baptist church by Murray Fuquay, pastor, assisted by Rev. Wayne Cook, Methodist minister.

Many beautiful floral tributes and the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends bore mute testimony to the respect and high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew him.

The choir sang two selections, "Abide With Me" and "Will the Circle Be Unbroken," with Mrs. G. O. McCrohan at the piano.

Flower bearers were Mesdames Tobe Giles, Buck Britt, Virgil Tolliver, Fred Farmer, Dudley Callan and Misses Beth Stiles, Clara Finsterwald and Reba Wofford.

Pall bearers were Lee Guthrie, Henry Flanagan, Fred Farmer, Gordon Stiles, V. E. St. Clair and Bob Rodgers.

Interment was in the Wheeler cemetery under direction of the Hunt Funeral Home.

Mobeetie Youth Shows Champion County Calf

Glenn Hodges' Senior Entry Heads Shamrock Exhibit; Vermillion Has Reserve Champion

While entries in the Wheeler County Junior Livestock show, held last Friday at Shamrock, were somewhat less in number than had been expected, reports say it was one of the best from the quality standpoint in recent years by 4-H club boys and F. F. A. members.

With a very fair attendance of people from the surrounding area inspecting the exhibits, interest was gratifying. W. R. Nesbit, animal husbandman from College Station, judged the entries.

Glenn D. Hodges, Mobeetie 4-H club boy, headed the calf division with his senior entry, capturing the $75.00 regular premium money in that class, plus the $10.00 grand championship award, offered by the American Hereford association.

H. V. Vermillion of Shamrock exhibited the reserve champion calf. E. M. Rives of Twitty almost swept the field in the hog division, taking seven places.

Winners in the several groups were:

Senior Calf, 850 lbs. or over—Glenn D. Hodges, Mobeetie, 1st; Hiram Whitener, Wheeler, 2nd; Geo. Henderson, jr., Twitty, 3rd; H. V. Vermillion, Shamrock, 4th; Harold Williams, Twitty, 5th; Darville Atherton, Briscoe, 6th; J. T. Baird, Wheeler, 7th; Eddie B. Witt, Wheeler, 8th.

Junior Calf, under 850 lbs.—H. V. Vermillion, Shamrock, 1st; Jimmie Close, Lela, 2nd; J. L. Phillips, Shamrock, 3rd; J. T. Baird, Wheeler, 4th; J. L. Phillips, Shamrock, 5th; Harold Williams, Twitty, 6th; Alvin Hampton, Wheeler, 7th; Max Pipes, Shamrock, 8th.

E. M. Rives, Twitty, showed the grand champion and reserve champion porkers.

Fat Barrows or Open Gilts, over 175 and under 225 lbs.—E. M. Rives, 1st.

Fat Barrows or Open Gilts, over 225 lbs.—E. M. Rives, 1st and 2nd; Richard Hefley, Mobeetie, 3rd; J. W. Cordell, Magic City, 4th and 5th.

Breeding Gilts—E. M. Rives, 1st and 2nd; J. W. Cordell, Magic City, 3rd; W. H. Locke, jr., Wheeler, 4th; Darville Atherton, Briscoe, 5th. Boars—J. W. Cordell, 1st and 2nd; Giles Phillips, Shamrock, 3rd.

Winning calves in the county contest were taken Sunday to Amarillo, where they were entered in the Fat Stock show held there this week.

New Rule Eliminates Tied Football Games

District Conference Votes Downs and Penetrations to Decide When Scores Do Not

"There will be no tied football games in this district during the 1941 season," declared Bill Horchem, Wheeler high school coach, one day this week while discussing athletics in general and football in particular. In the absence of a score by either team, or when scores are equal, the winner will be decided on first downs and penetrations, he explained.

This rule was voted, Horchem said, in a conference of district superintendents and coaches held at Clarendon some time ago.

New impetus and greater interest in high school football contests is expected as a result of this method of deciding games. Instead of announcing outcome of a hard-fought battle between Blankville vs. Someburg as a tie, whether ending scoreless or with a couple of dozen tallies for each side, the moleskin-garbed warriors will receive credit for their performance on the gridiron.

Incidentally, this plan should obviate any argument as to who is "stuck for the cokes."

BEST COUNTY MOISTURE IN A DOZEN YEARS

"Wheeler county now has the best moisture since 1928," declared a long-time resident of this area more than two weeks ago. Since that time considerable additional moisture in various forms—rain, snow, sleet, mist, and even hail in the north part of the county—has been received. Several inches of wet snow here the middle of last week brought its quota and Tuesday, Wednesday and today of this week had alternating mist, rain and sleet. This afternoon a sharp, piercing wind from the northeast gives possibility of some of the season's coldest weather, second only to the severe freezing, snowy period of early December. On the average, February seemed somewhat warmer than the previous month, but according to figures reported by H. M. Wiley, the past month's mean temperature was only one degree above that of January.

Pampa News Declares Rained Oil in County

Reporting Wheeler county's newest and one of its best-producing oil wells, the Pampa News of recent date declares:

It rained oil in Wheeler county Monday when the bit dropped into pay dirt in the E. B. Clark No. 2 Schloss in section 90, block 24, H&GN survey. Oil poured over the derrick and covered the countryside for hours until a cap was set and a tube run.

The pay was topped high and was much greater than in any well in the area. No storage was available and no head had been installed on the well.

The oil poured from the hole in such volume that some believe the well will gauge nearly 1,000 barrels.

Located nine miles northeast of Shamrock, the well is the second drilled by Clark. The first was completed for 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas and a few barrels of oil. It is an outside location and offset to the Ledford well on the same lease which gauged 200 barrels. Pay in the Ledford well was found at 2,098 feet and the Clark test was drilling 10 feet higher.

County School Heads Meeting On Thursday

Banquet and Business Session for Superintendents-Principals Held at Shamrock

The Wheeler County Principals and Superintendents association, of which J. J. Dyer is president and Stina Cain, secretary, held a regular meeting last Thursday night, Feb. 27, at Shamrock. Twenty-three members of the organization enjoyed a banquet prepared by the Shamrock Home Ec girls under supervision of Miss Minta Aline McAninch.

After the banquet a business session was held and several matters introduced.

Following a discussion by W. C. Perkins of a good citizenship day program, President Dyer was authorized to appoint a committee to make arrangements for a County Citizenship day. With J. L. Gilmore of Wheeler as chairman, the other members of the committee are Walter Shelton, Kellerville; M. D. Blankinship, Mobeetie; John Walker, Shamrock, and Allen Kavanaugh, Wheeler.

It was unanimously voted that the organization act as co-sponsor of the Josh Lee program to be given at 8 p. m., Sunday, March 16, in Shamrock.

Details of coming school events were settled by fixing Friday, March 21, as the date for the senior and high school junior tennis tournament, which will be at Shamrock. The county ward school tennis tournament will be held on Monday, March 24, at Briscoe.

For the Interscholastic League meet it was decided to have two classes in story telling, ward and rural. The group went on record as favoring one critic judge in the district declamation contest.

The teacher-trustee banquet was dated for Thursday evening, April 3, at Kellerville. Next regular meeting of the Superintendents and Principals association will be on Thursday, April 24, at 7:30 p. m., in Mobeetie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Zirkle and son, Larry Don, motored Friday to Canadian where Mrs. Zirkle visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hollis, until Tuesday evening when Mr. Zirkle returned from Amarillo where he attended the Fat Stock show. Mr. Hollis, who was in a car wreck two weeks ago, is doing nicely and expects to be able to be up in another week.

New Secretary for Selective Service

Miss Florence Merriman Resigns to Accept Washington Position; C. J. Meek, Successor

Miss Florence Merriman, secretary of the Wheeler County Selective Service board since its inception last November when the draft program for military training became effective, this week resigned from that work to accept a position in Washington, D. C. Miss Merriman took a civil service examination for typist in September. The latter part of last week she received an inquiry regarding her availability and on Tuesday a call to report for work on March 11.

Exact nature of Miss Merriman's work is not known at this time, except it will be clerical or stenographic in nature. She will leave here Friday and drive through to the nation's capital.

At a meeting of the Selective Service board Tuesday at its office in the court house here, C. J. Meek of Wheeler was appointed successor to Miss Merriman as secretary of the board.

In connection with this and other Selective Service office activities, the board has issued the following statement:

"Owing to the fact that Miss Florence Merriman has resigned, effective March 6, to take up a new position with the Civil Service commission in Washington, D. C., March 11, the local draft board has had to employ a new clerk.

"This new appointment of Miss Merriman is indicative of her ability, and while the board regrets to lose her, the members wish her success in the new position.

"After receiving many applications for the position of clerk to the board, for which its members are appreciative, it employed C. J. Meek, well-known Wheeler business man and member of the advisory board of the county, who will assume his duties March 7. In order to devote full time to this work, Meek is relinquishing his position as city secretary and will sever connections with his abstract business.

"Since the members of the draft board receive no compensation for their services, they felt the need of employing some one who not only could care for the clerical work with dispatch, but would also bring to the position some business experience and executive ability so the members themselves would not have to be in attendance at the office more often than absolutely necessary. As is generally known, none of the members reside in Wheeler.

"The board felt, also, since it has become acquainted with its duties, that a man will better fit the needs of the office than a woman.

Two Calls Received
"The board has received calls Nos. 9 and 10. The former asks seven white men to be sent to Fort Bliss, El Paso, on March 21. They will leave here the previous day in order to reach their destination at the appointed time. Call No. 10 requires no men from this county.

"One of the seven men leaving here in the March 12 call is No. 94, Granville Rankins of Lela, the first married man to be drafted from Wheeler county.

"Barring something unforeseen, the board has reason to believe that, with the filling of the March 21 call, Wheeler county will have furnished two-thirds of the men it will be called upon to supply in the first year of the training program."

Nice Group of Boys Come Out for Track

Preparatory to spring athletic activities, a nice group of boys attending the Wheeler schools have signified their intention of coming out for track, it has just been learned. Up to Tuesday noon, a total of 33 had enrolled for track work. They are:

A TEXAN'S WARNING

A timely word about government spending was spoken by Representative Hutton W. Summers of Texas on the floor of the house recently.

"When we look out into the country generally," he said, "and see what is happening with reference to what this government is doing, we cannot discover an effort made anywhere to economize, to get a dollar's worth of value for a dollar spent, or to give a dollar's value for a dollar received. Somewhere in the machinery of this government there ought to be an agency that would look into these expenses everywhere.

"But before we change the policy, we have to change the general attitude. We have to create in America a general feeling that it is the highest and most reprehensible species of thievery to take from the federal government money not required to pay for the reasonable expenditure of anything that is done."

Summers said that the important job we are facing is that of preserving the independence and security of this government as a real democracy, and that a people who would profit from their nation's extremity cannot do that job.

The nation's credit, Summers pointed out, is not unlimited.

"We ought to know," he said, "that the rapidity with which, by reason of these high costs of preparedness, we are drawing upon the nation's credit is one of the most dangerous things that is happening in this country. We have been running along here for 10 years drawing on that reserve in peacetime. There is nothing in the picture which does not indicate that those 10 years are the best years we can hope to have in a long time within which to pay the current expenses of our government.

"We have got to do something we have not been doing before. With all things necessary to feed and clothe and house our people, no wars to fight and with little preparation for our security, we in this generation actually have not paid the current expenses of our government."

No partisan spirit animated Summers' remarks and he did not criticize anybody in particular. "I am not saying this in criticism," he said. "This is not a partisan statement. It is of concern to the American people and it is to them I am speaking.

"The drawing upon the nation's credit, this notion that the treasury of the federal government is inexhaustible, that it is the thing out of which everybody is to make money, is a notion which has grown up in this country until it has become the gravest sort of public menace, especially in times like these.

"If we stop to think, we will know that we cannot keep on going as we are going now. If we do continue, the time will come when the government will put out an issue which the people will not take, and that will be the time when the smash comes, or some dangerous venture for our democracy will have to be made.

"I know some of these doctors and professors have some theories about it, but they cannot theorize common sense and its judgment out of this picture. They cannot put anything else in the judgment seat which common sense must occupy.

"I do not care how many guns we have; I do not care how many ships

The Foreign Invasion That Must Be Stopped

we have; we cannot win in this country unless we have a people fit to win, and a people that is gouging their own government at every chance cannot win."

WAR APPEARS INEVITABLE

What Associated Press staff writer Richard L. Turner called "a new and, to some, a startling phase in the argument for helping Great Britain," recently appeared while the Senate was debating the lease-lend bill. This new phase was the admission that the proposed policy involves the risk of war.

The opponents of the lease-lend measure have long used that as their prime weapon. They have declared that once the bill becomes law it will be only a matter of months before we are active participants in the war against the Axis. At the beginning, however, the bill's supporters generally pooch-pooched that supposition. They said that the measure could not carry us any closer to war. Now their tone has undergone significant change.

For example, Senator Barkley, the majority leader, recently said that "the course we chart is not without risk." Going a long step farther, Senator Pepper, one of the most aggressive backers of all-out aid to Britain, said, "If the action we propose will not save England, we will save it anyway." Frankest of all was Senator Bailey, another leader of Democratic forces, who said: "I am hoping that intervention may not mean war, but I am ready if intervention does mean war."

The president himself said that there were hazards in any course that this country might pursue in its foreign policy. It was obvious that the possibility of war was in his mind when, in answer to a question at a press conference, he said that even if we were to engage in naval hostilities with Japan, there would be no let-up in our sending supplies to England. The administration stand is that, risky as the lease-lend bill policy may be, it contains the greatest assurance for American security with the least risk of war.

If we went to war, it is apparent that, at the beginning, our participation would involve the navy and perhaps the air force, not the army. Britain could certainly use our fighting fleet—the great British navy, which has sustained heavy losses, is spread out dangerously thin. She must command the North Sea, the Mediterranean, and a considerable part of the Far and Near East. She must convoy the merchant ships that bring her supplies from the New World and Oceania. Her fighting force in the Orient is inferior to Japan's. Britain has plenty of men in khaki today—she hasn't enough floating gun platforms.

In theory, if we should go to war with Germany, Japan would at once attack us. She might attempt to seize the Philippines and the lesser Pacific islands which fly the American flag. And then what might prove one of the greatest naval wars of all time would begin.

There is still another possibility here. Britain apparently fears that Japan is about to embark on new adventures of her own—toward Indo-China, the Netherlands possessions, or even Singapore, key to the East. Large numbers of the famed Australian troops have been sent to the Singapore garrison. Enough planes have also been sent, it is reported, to give Britain superiority in the air in that area—the Japanese air force is not especially large, and the sons of Nippon aren't supposed to be much as pilots. At the same time, Britain would have a tough job on her hands resisting a full-dress attack by the Japanese fleet.

Many observers think that if Japan does make her move, we will step in—that the buglers on our warships will sound Battle Stations, and it won't be for practice. Some think we might also help if Japan went after the Crown colony of Hongkong—a position which is virtually indefensible from land, and can only be protected by sea power.

It should become clear before long what Hitler's spring strategy will be—a drive through the Balkans, an attempt at invasion of England, a Japanese push in the East, or, perhaps, a combination of all three. In the meantime, this country is not nearly so far from war as the majority of its people, judging by polls, hope.

NAZIS SPREAD MISERY

Of all the countries brought under the domination of Nazism by tank and bomb, the conquered land that was Poland is in the saddest plight.

After the conquest it was divided into three sectors. Germany kept for herself the industrial west, which was valuable, and annexed it to the reich. Soviet Russia was permitted to take over the eastern provinces. The central territory became the Polish Gouvernement Generale, a sort of No Man's land, German dominated, into which could be herded all the "undesirables" the reich did not want. Its ultimate destiny was set forth as the farm and sweatshop of the conqueror.

An all but impenetrable wall of restrictions surrounds the Gouvernement Generale; communication with those within is next to impossible. But the perfect censorship has yet to be devised. News does leak out of the area, people do occasionally escape from it, and from what is known of the conditions therein it is certain that within its boundaries Nazi oppression attains its full bloom.

The cities are overcrowded and in deepest misery. Barbed wire fences or concrete walls enclose the least desirable sections to form the ghettos within which Jews are permitted to live. Conditions inside the walls are indescribably wretched. Disease is kept down only by the unceasing efforts of the Jewish physicians who must live there and to whom the Germans, from instincts of self-preservation, allow a limited amount of medical supplies.

Conditions in the countryside rival the hardships in the towns. New-comers by the thousands, once prosperous traders or professional men, are brought in by freight car and turned out to shift for themselves as best they can. In the Soviet provinces matters are no better.

Yet there is an endless and aimless migration of miserables from the Soviet hell to the Nazi hades and from the Gouvernement Generale to Nazidom, as rumor falsely spreads a hope that life may be less arduous elsewhere, a hope that cannot be realized under such vicious misrule.—New York Times.

BEEF FROM ARGENTINA

If South American beef is fed to the United States army, soldiers should have no difficulty in eating it. Many of them, as civilians, partook of it before entering the army.

Most of the leading brands of canned corned beef on grocery shelves in Wichita Falls and elsewhere are South American products, with no real competition from American brands.

In other words, the war department would simply be following the lead of most American housewives, in serving Argentine canned beef to the troops.

That doesn't put a better light on the business, of course. A nation that produces as much beef as our own, and that has made the meat business so much of a factor in its economy, should not have the imported product on the menus of either civilians or soldiers.

There is no justification for it, not even in the explanation that the Argentine product, due to lower costs is of superior quality or that we must buy Argentine beef in order to hold that country's good will.

It doesn't make sense when a beef-raising country is a beef-importing country.—Wichita Falls Times.

Report Cards

Long faces, sighs and an occasional tear was quite noticeable at noon Monday as students received their report cards. Then, too, there were radiant smiles on the faces of those who had made the honor roll—some for the first time. Teachers were wondering why some of the students never worry about their grades except when they get their report cards.

This is the second week of the second six weeks of the second semester, and students are becoming aware of the fact that only a comparatively short time remains for them to accomplish what they desire for this school year. Perhaps that is the reason some students have made a firm resolution to improve their report card grades during the remaining time.

Library Notes

Mrs. Ernestine Weeks has received official appointment as high school librarian and will report for work on Monday of next week, March 10. The students will be happy to again have help in taking care of the library and locating their reference works.

Wheeler Good Deeds Club Meets

The high school 4-H club met Tuesday morning in the high school building with Miss Gidden. Several of the club members were present. La Verta Turlington acted as chairman and called the house to order and everyone repeated the motto, pledge and prayer together. Several songs were sung with Louise White-ner, leader. Nina Merle Pond gave a report of the last council meeting. Miss Gidden gave a talk on modern styles and arrangements of the hair. Meeting was adjourned at 10:30.

Her dark hair, brown eyes and pretty complexion go to make an attractive teacher for our faculty. She plays a very important part in our school activities and helps us all a lot with our work. She is very popular in the school and especially is she popular with the seniors who are in the play.

This person is very well thought of in our school; the ones who are doing things they are not supposed to think of him as being "hard" on them, but really he is just trying to help them to be better citizens for our state and nation.

His light hair, blue eyes and light complexion make him a nice looking gentleman. He has been very faithful to the school and also to the community of Wheeler.

Plagiarized Ode to English

I have an English teacher;
I shall not pass.
He maketh me to show my ignorance.
Before the whole class.
He giveth me more than I can learn.
He lowereth my grades.
Yea, though I walk
Through the valley of knowledge
I do not learn.
He anointeth my head with wave-lengths.
My eyes runneth over.
Surely vibrations and laws
Shall follow me all the days of my life.
And I shall dwell in English class forever.

Funnybone Ticklers

He has a head like a doorknob;
any girl can turn it.
He had no cash to pay the debt,
so Romeo'd what Juliet.
People find out how foolish it is to stay up all night when it finally dawns on them.
Some cause happiness wherever they go; some whenever they leave.
Love is like insurance; the later in life you get it the more it costs.
I've a friend I'd like you to meet:
Athletic Girl, What can he do;
Chorus Girl, How much has he;
Literary Girl, What does he read;
Religious Girl, To what church does he belong; College Girl, Where is he!

Mobeetie Happenings

(By Times Correspondent)

Girls to State Tournament

Although there had been some reports to the contrary, the Mobeetie girls basketball team left Tuesday for Waco to be a contender in the state cage tourney. The winner of the district tournament is the only team that is allowed to compete in state competition; therefore Mobeetie was the only sextet in this district eligible to enter the state meet.

The Mobeetie team was second place winner in the state tournament, but there is only one girl on the present squad who made the trip to Waco last year and was in actual play while there. The trip was made by 11 girls, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Blankinship and Allen Kavanaugh of Wheeler.

Funds for the trip were raised by the business men of Mobeetie and some contributions from Wheeler.

Those contributing were the Panhandle Power & Light, Harry Wolford, G. L. Gunter, D. A. Hunt, R. G. Russ, jr., Homer Moss, Bud Martin, Jess Swink, Miss Tamsey Riley and Mrs. Artie Lee Hunt, Wheeler.

Farmers Equity Service Station, First State Bank, Smith Brothers Gin, Drake & Simpson Garage, City Drug Store, Cicero Smith Lumber Co., Judson Jones, J. A. Neece, Cross Hogan, H. L. Flanagan, A. B. Lancaster, L. W. Helman, Frank Lee, Leonard Green, E. E. Johnston, Bill Godwin, Emmett Tabor, D. G. Sims, J. K. Ribble, L. D. Smith, George B. Dunn, J. Wade Duncan, Frank Peace, W. T. Beck, J. H. Scribner, O. E. Sims, Tom Arnold, John Dunn, O. W. Elliott, Tiry Hardin, J. N. Plaster, Nolan Satterwhite, L. D. McCauley, T. A. Gilbert, Clyde Schaub, A. H. Burke, A. A. Burch, H. T. Reed, O. G. Beck, A. I. Baird; Mesdames Lloyd Whitfield, J. A. Neece, Dennis O'Briant, C. C. Porter, Leonard Green, Si Marchbanks, J. H. Scribner, Nolan Satterwhite and Virginia Crowell.

Mountain View Consolidated

When the school boards of the Mountain View and Mobeetie school district met recently, the two schools were formally consolidated. The Mountain View community voted in the spring of 1940 to unite with this district, but due to difficulties the consolidation was not completed until last week.

This district's unification with Mobeetie will enlarge the Mobeetie district to something over a hundred square miles of territory. This increase in territory will enable the district to qualify for more transportation aid from the rural aid fund. The Mobeetie district has just received $2,468 in salary aid from the equalization fund, which represents 50% of such aid for the current year. The school is expecting to qualify for about $4,000 in transportation money from this fund also.

Educational Films

One of the main educational features of the Mobeetie schools is to put to good use their moving picture machine. This is done to create interest as well as to furnish an enjoyable means of entertainment for both the grade and high school students.

The latest short picture to be shown in the schools was the film, "Bound to Last." This was a story of the binding of books and it emphasized the amount of time it takes to complete this process; therefore students should care for their books as though they were personal property.

Another recent picture was "Tobacco Land and Pleasure Time." This film was shown through the courtesy of the Chesterfield company and was based on the growing of tobacco and the making of cigarettes. The latter part of the picture was of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians presenting one of their broadcasts.

A number of other pictures are scheduled to be shown. It is the plan of the school to show at least one educational film a week.

Cotton Council Warns of Trade Legislation

MEMPHIS, (Tenn.).—Legislative measures providing new prohibitions and discriminations against cottonseed products, under consideration during current state legislative sessions, will be exposed and branded as unfriendly acts toward the raw cotton industry, the National Cotton Council asserted this week. The council said that it would undertake whatever steps which might be necessary to combat new barriers against cottonseed margarine and shortening.

"The council has endeavored to communicate the adverse affects of these trade barriers upon the cotton industry and has endeavored to discourage retaliation inspired by these discriminations," declares C. G. Henry, chairman of the council's section on trade barriers and penalties, "but in the face of our action new discriminatory measures have been introduced for consideration by states whose products now find a friendly market in the Cotton Belt."

"The time has come when the raw cotton industry must recognize these new attacks on our cottonseed products as definitely unfriendly to the 10 million Americans dependent upon cotton for a livelihood."

Henry said that the council would consider each piece of state legislation aimed to injure the cotton farmer and take whatever action necessary to secure its removal.

He stated further that the full force of the cotton industry would be placed behind efforts to remove existing unfair, federal restrictions against margarine and other cottonseed feed products.

THE FARMER

(By a Times Reader)

The farmer today has a hard row to hoe;

He is all dressed up and no place to go.

The government's got him, he hasn't a chance;

They own him right down to his shirt, shoes and pants.

They catch the poor man, full of fear and alarm,

They say what he needs is a nice little farm.

The government buys it and moves him right in;

What they do to him then is a shame and a sin.

They buy him horses, a cow and a calf;

They buy him some chickens, and here is the laugh—

He doesn't have feed to feed the poor stock.

So he borrows some seed to raise him a crop.

He plants all his farm in cotton and maize;

The government tells him just what he can raise.

The dry weather gets him, the bugs get the rest.

But they say the poor fellow is doing his best.

The winter sets in, his stock is all poor;

The government helps keep the wolf from the door.

They loan him his eats, his feed and grain—

When spring comes they start all over again.

He works on for years with government aid,

And finds he has just got a few dollars made.

But the government gets it and loans it right back

To get them some things for the farm they lack.

They pay him for cotton and hogs he don't raise;

They pay him to plow up his cotton and maize.

The government goes right on to pay and to give;

The farmer is lucky to get by and live.

But they say he is too old to work on the farm,

So they take it back—it will do him no harm.

And here is one thing that I failed to mention,

Uncle Sam gets the farm and the farmer a pension.

Briscoe Club Meets

"Point of view is everything. Fineness lies not so much in pretending that the world is other than it is, as in taking it as it is and enjoying the beauty inherent in it. Mrs. Lloyd Childress gave a report on the proposed amendment of the 1941 Texas Handbook.

Allison Club Meeting

"An economical way to keep linoleum looking bright and new is to go over it with a mixture of one teaspoon of alcohol which makes it dry quickly) to a cup of sweet milk (1½ cups milk will go over an ordinary rug). This should be done after a floor has been scrubbed and is ready for a coat of wax. I find that this does almost as well as wax," explained Mrs. Carl Levitt at a meeting of the Allison Homemakers club, which met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Davidson, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 25.

Because of prevailing bad weather, this meeting was held Tuesday afternoon instead of Tuesday night, as previously planned.

During the business session a quilt was decided upon as a means of raising money for the club.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Carl Levitt, Fred Begert, George Parker, Walter McCoy, Sam Begert, Gertrude Peoples, Cecil McCoy and J. L. Davidson.—Reporter.

Value of a Smile

The thing that goes the farthest Toward making life worthwhile, That costs the least and does the most Is just a pleasant smile.

The smile that bubbles from a heart That loves its fellow men, Will drive away the clouds of gloom And coax the sun again.

It's full of worth and goodness, too, With manly kindness blent— It's worth a million dollars, And it doesn't cost a cent.

BRISCOE BRONCO

News of Briscoe school activities, community happenings and other matters of interest and information, compiled for The Wheeler Times by the student body and faculty members of the Briscoe schools.

Staff
 Editor—Lola Meek
 Assistant Editor—Mildred Wilson
 Society Editor—Alma Waters
 Sports Editor—Bud McCarrroll
 Snooper—Zetha Dickinson, Vernon Savage, Thelma Hefley, Alma Waters
 Faculty Advisor—Miss Erma Jane Pate

Care of Textbooks
 We are given free use of our textbooks and should care for them as we would if we had to buy them ourselves. The books are published for our use and we should appreciate this enough to take the proper care of them.

We should not write or mark in these books. A page should never be turned down.
 We should keep covers on our books and keep them as neat as possible. One book cover should be sufficient and you should not have to cover your book every six weeks.

If we have the habit of turning down corners or marking in books to distinguish the place or assignment, let us adopt the habit of using some kind of book marker to prevent this. May we resolve to keep our books neater in the future than in the past.

Sports News
 Tuesday evening the Mobeetie Hornets came to Briscoe to play two fast-moving basketball games. The junior boys defeated the visiting team by a slight margin of two points. The Broncos were defeated by the stronger Hornets team, the final score being 18-11.

These games climaxed the basketball season and now we will practice track and tennis.
 Although the Broncos and Bronettes had a rather unsuccessful season this year, they expect to be highly successful next season. The Broncos lose only two men this year; also the Bronettes lose only two.

The players graduating are: Alma Waters, Bernice Williams, Pete Luttrell and Bud McCarrroll.

Colleen Chosen
 Members of the Briscoe high school met Friday afternoon, Feb. 28, for the purpose of choosing a colleen to represent our school at the St. Patrick's day celebration in Shamrock, March 17.

Four girls were nominated from the entire high school and then one was chosen by the group. Those nominated were: Bernice Williams, Alma Waters, Joyce Sorensen and Lola Meek.

After lively voting it was discovered that Lola Meek, a tall, black-haired, blue-eyed senior, was selected as colleen.

Educational Films
 Last Thursday our educational films were about Robert Burns and Abraham Lincoln.
 The English IV class has been studying about Robert Burns. The film helped them to see and better understand his life. Robert Burns is remembered for his famous songs, "Auld Lang Syne" and "Comin' Through the Rye."

The film about Abraham Lincoln told of the struggles during the Civil War. In this film we heard the famous "Gettysburg Address" delivered. This picture was especially valuable to the English III class whose members have been studying orations, and to the American history class.

Briscoe Club Meeting
 "Each club is supposed to make a scrapbook," stated Ladell Atherton in a council meeting report. The 4-H club of Briscoe met Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 1:30 o'clock.

Mary Ruth Evans was appointed to make the scrapbook for this club with the assistance of other members. Emilee Seidig was appointed vegetable demonstrator and Mary Ruth Evans clothes demonstrator.

The following topics were discussed:
 Conversation at the Table—Lottie Marie Zybach.
 Manners—Rozena Helton.
 What a Good Club Member Should Do—Ladell Atherton.

Those present were Laverne Finsterwald, Beatrice Rowe, Rosemary Finsterwald, Betty Jane Barry, Anita O'Brien, Iris Clepper, Ladell Atherton, Joan O'Brien, Nelda Bess Barry, Emilee Seidig, Irma Jean Lee, Lottie Marie Zybach, Armell Sorensen, Rozena Helton, Maidell Sorensen, Hattie Sollock and Mary Ruth Evans.

Coming Events

 Show "Telephone Operator," Serial No. 6 "The Clutching Hand"—Friday night, March 7.

Band News
 For several weeks the girls who were interested in becoming drum majors or majorettes have met with Mr. Mohr for the proper instruction. Monday of last week he chose the ones who had proven their ability and show promise of becoming good majorettes. They are Thelma Hefley, Tommie Cook, Joreen Moore, Iris Clepper, Faye Francis, Rozena Helton and Alva Lee.

The band plans to attend the St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shamrock on March 17, and the Borger birthday celebration Saturday, March 8.

Assembly Notes
 The freshman class gave the program last Friday, Feb. 28, in assembly when the following numbers were presented:
 Flag Salute—Doyle Ramsey.
 Reading—Joyce Sorensen.
 Trumpet Duet—Glenn Robertson and Frank Field.
 Play—Members of class.
 Harmonica Solo—Roy Harold Johnson.
 "Sunshine"—Freshman girls.

The program for next week will be given by the seventh grade. We invite visitors to attend.

Campus Fashions
 Many beautiful and glamorous colors are being worn on the campus. Among all these varied colors we wonder which is the most popular. Is it red? You will likely form that opinion when you see all the red blouses, sweaters, socks, gloves and skirts that are being worn.

A style quite often seen is knee socks. They are worn in many bright, striking colors. Girls who wear them say they are very warm on cold windy days, even if the boys don't like them.

We can't help admiring those lovely red and white striped blouses Bernice and Alma wear. They are tailored and quite neat.

We almost envy Moebean because of that stunning red sweater with the gold button trim.

The short jackets that are worn by Miss Pate, Miss Osborne and Mrs. Barry are very clever looking, and have you noticed those large patch pockets on them?

For a chilly, cool day we might be able to borrow Mrs. Wiley's beige long sleeved sweater.

Seen and Heard
 Mrs. Wiley learning to look in her chair before she sits down. (Now who could be that mischievous?)
 Pete Luttrell asking for a handkerchief last Monday afternoon in the show. (We didn't think he would cry).

Billy Jean Baird being called handsome. (Who started this, anyway?)

Bernice W. so tickled last Friday evening just before and after the bell rang. (Wonder what she could have heard that was so funny?)

Alma Waters wanting to know who the Snooper is. (What's the matter Alma, can't you take it?)

Lola Meek blushing Monday at the statement of "Beg your pardon." ("Fess up, Lola, what's the meaning of this?")

Kenneth Walker on the decline in junior bus. What's wrong, Kenneth? Who's there that takes your interest so much of the time?

Characteristics
 Tall freshman boy; dark hair, brown eyes; plays basketball; likes to tease, well-liked, good natured, humorous.

Short senior boy; dark hair, blue eyes; witty; doesn't take part in sports; well-liked, chum R. W., mischievous.

Tall senior girl; reporter of senior class; song leader of F. H. T. club; well-liked, pleasing personality, plays basketball.

Slender junior girl; blue eyes, brown hair; quiet, friendly, well-liked; member of F. H. T. club; doesn't take part in sports.

Twelve Things to Remember
 1. The value of time, don't waste it.
 2. The success of perseverance; don't give up.
 3. The pleasure of working; try it.
 4. The dignity of simplicity; be yourself.

 9. The wisdom of economy; a rainy day may come.
 10. The virtue of patience; your turn will come.

A Dangerous Lesson

Rejoicing was in full swing as the students and teachers bid each other farewell for the summer vacations. They were glad that their year's work was completed and the students were proud of their reward of promotion. This excitement had continued all day and as the sun sank lower in the west, the busses began leaving one by one.

As they were leaving, one of them suddenly stopped; a small boy darted back into the building to reappear in a few seconds with a coat under his arm. Dashing back toward the bus, looking neither to the right or left as he crossed the street, he failed to see an oncoming car. He stumbled! The scream of biting rubber attracted the attention of people nearby. The car came to a stop—the child was safe, only by a few inches.

If the driver had not observed the school zone, and slowed down, just think what would have happened to that small boy!

Jumping unharmed, the led met the older man as he was getting out of his car. With a glow of thankfulness on his face, the youngster said, "I'm sorry sir, that I scared you so badly, and I thank you kindly for your careful driving and observance of safety rules for the protection of careless children like me." It was a queer tale that he related to his parents that night. "I wish that I could help every child and driver to realize the value of observing safety rules concerning motor vehicles and their operation."—TON PRICE.

CLASS NEWS

Freshmen
Wonder why the freshmen just simply can't find the surface area of a cylinder? Wonder if it is because Mr. Brown can't get the right answer? Who is the certain freshman girl who wishes "long hoop skirts and pantalets" were worn today? What is this story "D stands for death" that Betty and Theresa have been talking about every day in the lunch room? Tell us some more, kids, we enjoy hearing it. The freshmen welcome a new class member, John McLaughlin, who has joined our ranks.

Sophomores
The sophomores are still grieving because they missed seeing "Gone

"No, that ain't you, Flannigan, it only seems so, like it seems you're eating Cake sometimes when it's a slice of WHEELER BREAD."

With the Wind" at Wheeler last week.

We are working on a play to be presented at assembly soon. We are glad to have Bobby Cooper back in school after several days absence.

Sophomores present their Movie Title tales—
The seven dwarfs decided late one night to take a trip. Grumpy wanted to go to "Colorado." Bashful wanted to find the "Little Princess," who was "Somewhere on Fifth Avenue." The others decided they would like to take the "Santa Fe Trail," but they hated to separate, so they started out together. They went to "Little Nellie Kelly" who gave them their lunch. Dopey told "The Trail Blazers" of their plans, so "They Gave Him a Gun." While "A Lone Wolf Keeps a Date," the dwarfs met him. Thinking only of "Escape," each one made a "Tails-pin Tommy." Back on their "Long Voyage Home," they scamper never more to roam and they were sure that they were "Seven Sinners."

Juniors

Wonder why Judy and Midge were all smiles Monday morning? Girls, you are supposed to go to church on Sunday night! We welcome Elmeda Watts back into our ranks again. Wonder what would happen if two of our members missed going to Shamrock on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday nights? The juniors have truly missed Louise Hembree and hope she is back in school soon. Vergie just can't seem to get from drawing attention on the street and blocking the traffic.

Lois, who is that tall, dark, handsome Romeo from Mobeetie we have been seeing you with so often lately? The juniors are continually going around mumbling the lines to their play. Sounds like they were having a very interesting soliloquy. What's this about Hawaii, Winona? It seems that that place holds some very dear memories for her.

Seniors

It seems that the seniors are having trouble settling a dispute concerning the juniors company on their annual trip to Carlsbad. Due to sickness, the seniors have been unable to continue practice on their play for some time. They are ready to resume practice now, though. They plan to present it some time near March 20. A more definite date will be set later. We are sorry to lose one of our class members, Grace Futch, who withdrew. We wish you lots of luck and happiness in your new home, Grace.

Why is it that some of the senior boys are so fond of skating—especially when they are supposed to go to play practice?

Four of the senior girls will receive jackets this year and five boys. The girls are Norma Dee Robertson, Marvella Wallis, Frankie Beaty and Grace Futch. Boys receiving jackets are Donald Carmen, J. D. Henderson, Alvia Kenney, Bryan Burks, Max Britt and Ton Price.

Weldon, what senior girl was it that you escorted home after the senior theatre party? We want you to know that we are back of you one hundred per cent in your endeavor to capture the feminine hearts of dear old K. H. S.

Doomed

The evening was one that seemed to foretell the coming of some unusual and disastrous event. True enough, late that same evening, dark billowing clouds appeared to ominously encircle the globe; the air seemed to weirdly enchant all living things, both plants and animals, wild or domestic; life seemed to cease existing as the black mammoth-like monster steadily approached, hovering over its frightened victims, only to dissolve them into its murky midst.

The boiling mass, a messenger from the abode of all evils, bore down on the terrified population of small villages, drawing a veil between them and the outside world. They were doomed like rates to die a slow, horrible death. Some, who had hardly known a day's sickness were trembling before this mighty demon as the leaves of a tree in a slight breeze. It was directly above us now; a huge hand shot forth suddenly from above; down, down, it came as a vulture from the skies, pressing the precious life-giving air from about us, leaving a thick brown substance in its place.

Suddenly, from amidst this terrible monster, came a terrific wind; its tremendous force crashed trees and buildings to the ground as if it were the mighty Gulliver in Lilliput. How long could we endure this suspense of waiting? Waiting for what we couldn't even imagine! What we were crushed as small ants under the feet of this terrorizing force? The howling voice, which surrounded every object, seemed to be continually chanting; it was the witch of the plains foretelling our destiny—doomed, doomed—wouldn't it ever quit torturing us?

What, have our prayers really been answered? Have we really been spared? The howling of the wind became a whisper, then even that ceased to be heard. This can't be true. I know, I'm going crazy—I'm going cra—no, I guess it is true.

Look, you can see a faint glow of light sifting through this dense fog of dust. It has decided to spare us—this time.

Fads and Fashions

Girls, spring is nearly here. What about your hats? They are wearing snap brim hats, sport hats, poke bonnets with "sweetheart" brims, and felt hats in pastel colors. Let's get our hats now to wear with our new spring wardrobe. Say, how about a playsuit, slack suit, or jacket suit for play time and for hiking? They are neatly made in multi-color stripes, patriotic colors and plain materials.—VERNA MAE PITCOCK.

Is It a Fact That—

Evelyn and Weldon are sparking? Juliette wants three stripes on her jacket? Vergie and Lois have got the habit of being late to class? Bernice has that "come-hither" look? We are about to lose two more members from the senior class? (a boy and a girl). That Myrtle and James were having such a fine time at lunch Friday? Alvia and Oscar have girl-friends at Shamrock? Max is getting rather dignified and studious? Mr. Gandy is growing a pair of handlebars? Benita is in love? Alvia pins his hair back occasionally with a bobby pin? Francis likes the color green? Glen still has an interest in Erick, Okla.?

Uncensored

Who were the cute girls that had Loyd cornered in that little Ford Saturday? Looked bad to us. Where was Winona last Sunday while all that beautiful dirt was blowing? Maybe she didn't notice the sand.

Wonder who those S. H. S. boys are that are about to be invited to a party? Would a freshman or a junior girl know?

Why was Midge so happy Monday all day? What about that boy-friend at Erick, Okla., Midge?

Will those seniors ever start practicing on their play? We hope so, and soon, too. Wonder what Vergie and Marvella were doing in Wheeler Saturday? Well, maybe it was their spring shopping.

It seems that the most popular song on the campus is "Frenesi." After all, it means "Love Just Me," so why not?

Wonder why all the primping and fussing in history class Monday? Maybe Elmeda caused it all. We hear some of the boys even polished their nails.

Have the seniors come to a conclusion on whether the juniors are going to Carlsbad with them or not?

IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY

Phillips 66

STARTS

cold motors faster

You Don't Have To Be A College Graduate to understand why Phillips 66 Poly Gas starts cold motors faster. It's as simple as ABC.

A. It is a scientific fact that quick starting in cold weather depends directly on the high test (volatility) of the gasoline.

B. It is a scientific fact (revealed by our latest available full-year study of gasolines; June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) that:

The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels.

C. See for yourself, if Phillips 66 isn't the greatest self-demonstrating cold-weather gasoline you have ever used. You ought to get at least one trial tankful at regular-price because you simply cannot get such high test in any other gasoline at any price.

This extra high test costs you not a single penny extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Drive in and get that trial tankful at the first Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Friday-Saturday "The Big Stampede"

For those who like our week end shows we are offering an attractive one entitled "The Big Stampede," and who could come nearer staging a big stampede than that good-looking cowboy, John Wayne? He's handsome, but he's hefty—not a sweet pea at all. Entertainment for young and old. Kids, bring your pops and moms to see this one.

Preview-Sunday-Monday "South of Suez"

This is really a melodrama, but romance and mystery play a prominent part. The show opens in a diamond mine in Africa but progresses to a court of justice in London. George Brent is cast as the hero and Brenda Marshall plays the romantic lead. Some of our local people have seen this show and bring very satisfactory reports of it. I'm sure you won't be disappointed with this one.

Wednesday-Thursday "The Man I Married"

"The Man I Married" is an indictment of Hitler and Nazism, more pointed and out-spoken than any of its related predecessors. Adapted from the Liberty Magazine story, the film first carried the title, "I Married a Nazi." It's a frank exposure of the treatment accorded the Czech-Slovaks by the Nazis—shows how they were made to clean the streets with their hands, the marking of Jewish shops, espionage by the Gestapo and demonstrations of Nazi laws calculated to make the state supreme. Also it tells of inroads by Nazi propaganda into the United States and attempts to keep the United States on a friendly basis. Starring Joan Bennett, Francis Lederer and Lloyd Nolan.

Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN Home Supervisor, F. S. A.

Price of Safety
Never kindle a fire with kerosene or gasoline; take risks in burning trash, stacks or prairie grass; relax vigilance with teams, especially colts; use gasoline for cleaning in the house; fill the tank of an oil or gas stove in the house; strike a loose stick with an ax.

Never work in front of a sicklebar while the team is hitched on; try to ride a load of bundles or hay that has started to slip; lean a pitchfork against a stack while someone is above; leave a chair where it may be stumbled over in the dark; try to stand on a rocking chair to hang a picture.

Never attach a radio antenna to a building without a lightning arrester; allow a loaded gun in the house or barn; allow children on a farm machine while the motor is running or the team hitched on; try to drive a crooked nail; allow children to have matches.

Always paint the edge of the top cellar step white; label all medicine bottles; have bottles containing poison properly labeled, and put pins in the cork; provide ample ventilation when using a gasoline or kerosene stove; keep kitchen knives in a rack, never in a drawer.

Always keep the garbage can covered from flies and dogs; be sure to extinguish the fire of matches before casting aside; keep scissors safe from children; keep yards free from rubbish that might cause a fall or injury; avoid a lone tree during a thunderstorm.

Always prevent children from riding on the running board or mudguards of car or machine; put broken glass in a safe place; keep wet hands away from electrical appliances; remember that most accidents don't happen—they are committed, and therefore can be prevented; remember the danger spots—ladders, steps, haymows, rubbish heaps, loose tools, or rocks, etc.

Mrs. J. S. Merritt of Fletcher, Okla., came Friday to make an extended visit with her son and wife. Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Merritt, and daughter, Naomi. Mrs. Merritt suffered a light paralytic stroke recently and came to take treatments from her son for a while.
