THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

$184,457.33 in Crop Payments Arrive Here Today

Long Awaited Funds Get Hearty Welcome

Receipts Represent 54% of Total Sum—Remainder Expected in Near Future

995 CHECKS IN LOT

Agricultural Conservation Force Hastens to Distribute the Tokens to Owners

What is probably one of the best items of news The Times has published in months is the announcement that the first lot of 1937 agricultural conservation payments, aggregating 995 checks calling for $184,457.33, arrived this (Thursday) morning. Word that the checks had come in was communicated to this office by Jake Tarter, county agent, soon after their arrival.

Today's receipts amount to approximately 54 per cent of the whole sum ultimately expected, which would therefore total well over $300,000. According to Tarter, the remainder is expected any day now. Possibly tomorrow or the next day should see them in the local office.

Coming of this money brings encouragement and brighter outlook to farmers and business interests which have been in a stagnant condition recently. Some unavoidable delay occurred in getting the Wheeler county checks out from the regional office.

Failure of the checks to materialize at what was supposed to be the appointed time gave rise to rumors wholly without basis on fact. It had been bruited about that the checks were in the county agent's office and were being held back for some obscure reason.

That this and other similar imaginings were groundless is proven by an exhibit in The Times window. Learning that the tokens had arrived and were being prepared for distribution, a representative of this paper asked for one or two discarded envelopes in which they were mailed.

Two of these are on display here. They bear registry date of March 2 at Dallas. The writer was also shown one of the actual checks which bore a Dallas date line and March 2 as the date upon which it was drawn.

It is apparent, therefore, that whatever delay has occurred must have been unavoidable—or least was not in Wheeler.

Anyway, everyone is glad they are here and predictions of a noticeable improvement in local business conditions are heard on every hand.

Allison Girls Annex Another Game Monday

Rambettes Cinch Trip to State Meet in Victory Over McLean Here

(By AUBREY WARREN)

Coach John Peeples' Allison Rambettes, famed Panhandle girls basketball sextet, cinched their prospects of entering the state tournament next week when they defeated the McLean lassies, 23-15, in a game played in the Wheeler gymnasium Monday night. Although the Allison girls did not run up their customary large score, they won the contest handily.

This was the second in a possible three-game series with McLean to determine the district winner. Allison won the first game, Saturday night at McLean, with a score of 29 to 6.

In Monday night's game Oleta Jones, scoring 14 points, was high point girl of the contest while Fleeta Cunningham of McLean hit the hoop for 10 points to lead her squad. Notwithstanding Jones fell below her 24-point average per game, she played good ball.

At the end of the first period the Rambettes were leading, 6-3. At half-time the score was tied, 9 all. Again taking the lead, Allison was ahead three points at the end of the third stanza.

Increasing their lead during the fourth quarter, Allison had garnered a 7-point margin when the final whistle sounded.

This game was played in the local gymnasium by invitation of the Wheeler Lions club, sponsor, to attract as large a gate as possible to obtain funds to send the Wheeler-Hemphill county champs to the state A. A. U. tournament, which will be held in Greenville March 9-12.

AIRWAYS HEAD SALUTES OLD "HOME TOWN"

Jack Frye, former Wheeler boy, flying a Northrop Gamma cabin plane, saluted the "old home town" early Saturday morning in a brief series of banks and other air maneuvers. Frye was making a record flight from New York to Amarillo, where he attended a business meeting of Transcontinental Western Airways, of which he is president. He also zoomed low over the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frye on their ranch east of town where he spent his childhood, but did not land, evidently due to haste to keep his business engagement.

Gilmore Re-elected as Head Wheeler Schools

At a meeting of board officials of Wheeler Independent School district, held Tuesday night, J. L. Gilmore, incumbent, was re-elected as superintendent of the schools for another year. The board's action is a vote of confidence in the superintendent's administration and is believed to reflect the general sentiment of the community as to his ability.

Nothing is available at this time concerning acceptance by Gilmore, but his friends believe and sincerely hope, that early assent will be given.

Local Club Women in Auto Mishap Tuesday

Six Ladies Escape with Minor Injuries when Car Turns Over on Highway

While on their way Tuesday morning to Amarillo, where they were preparing a parade float, six Wheeler county home demonstration club women were involved in an automobile accident from which they all escaped with comparatively minor injuries. Occupying the Jess Crowder car, driven by Mrs. Crowder, were Mrs. Homer Moss and Mrs. Geo. C. Jones, Wheeler; Mrs. Milt Williams, Twitty and Mrs. S. P. Beasley and Mrs. Oscar Nix of Shamrock.

The accident occurred about 9:30 a. m. at a point near White Deer when the Crowder car attempted to pass a truck. Getting off the slab on wet, slippery ground, the machine went out of control and turned over.

Most serious casualty was sustained by Mrs. Moss, who received a broken right shoulder and bruises and contusions. Mrs. Jones also suffered injuries to her leg which, though painful, are not considered serious, other than to keep her indoors for awhile. The other members of the party were able to continue their journey after the car had been righted, although shock and minor hurts were received.

Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Jones were conveyed to Pampa, where Moss met them after being informed by telephone of their plight. They are reported resting as well as could be expected.

BALCH TO BE LOCAL AGENT FOR AMARILLO NURSERY CO.

According to word received here yesterday, the Sunshine Nursery company of Amarillo will open a branch outlet in Wheeler within the next few days. Ernest Balch, well-known Wheeler man, has been appointed representative of the local plant. M. V. Cook, manager of the Amarillo concern, will visit Wheeler soon and assist Balch in getting started off right with his new duties.

Crop Program Meets Scheduled in County

Beginning tomorrow (Friday) night, a series of crop program educational meetings will be held throughout the county. Purpose of these is to acquaint farmers with provisions of the new program that they may vote intelligently on the subject March 12, when the referendum will be held.

The meeting tomorrow night is at Pagan. Another is dated for Saturday afternoon at Shamrock. On next Thursday, March 10, starting at 3 p. m., one of the series will be held at Kelton.

On the following Friday night, March 11, at a meeting in Wheeler in addition to dissemination of information, a county committeeman will be elected to replace one who has become ineligible through entry into the political arena.

At that time a community agricultural club will be organized for Wheeler.

Connally for Cotton Laboratory in Texas

Senator Emphasizes Value of New Program and Why This State Should be Favored

United States Senator Tom Connally of Texas has just issued a statement regarding location of the regional research agriculture laboratories to be established under the new farm bill. That Connally favors his home state as the site for a cotton research laboratory is seen in the following statements recently made by him on the subject:

"The recently enacted farm bill provides for the establishment of four regional research agricultural laboratories. The function of such laboratories is to conduct research into and develop new scientific chemical and technical uses and new and extended markets and outlets for farm commodities and products and by-products thereof. One of these laboratories is to be located in the cotton region. A federal appropriation of one million dollars is authorized for the establishment of each laboratory.

"Texas, by all means, should be the site of the cotton research laboratory. However, other cotton states will, no doubt, make a determined fight for its location.

"While the act does not require any financial participation by the state in which located, the act does provide that the secretary of agriculture is authorized to acquire land and interests therein and to accept in the name of the United States donations of any property, real and personal, to any laboratory established pursuant to the act and to utilize voluntary uncompensated services at such laboratories.

"There is wide-spread interest throughout Texas in behalf of the location of such a laboratory in our state. Cotton producers and the cotton industries generally have, for a considerable period, indicated a vital interest in this project. Texas is the largest cotton producing state. It is more directly interested in cotton exports than any other state since 90% of the cotton produced in Texas is normally exported.

"The establishment of such a laboratory in Texas would be of immeasurable benefit to all of the people and industries of the state. Cooperation with the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and other institutions devoted to agriculture would insure outstanding service to the people of the entire United States through the agency of such a laboratory.

"I desire to urge that organizations in Texas, Chambers of Commerce, the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and farm associations co-operate actively with each other in a movement to bring the location of the cotton research laboratory to Texas. Pertinent data, the proposal of a site or location, and all related matters will be of tremendous value in presenting this matter to the secretary of agriculture.

"Steps have already been taken to advise the Secretary of Agriculture that Texas expects and desires the location of the laboratory in our state. The Texas delegation in congress will actively and aggressively press the matter before the secretary. It is hoped that their efforts will receive the hearty co-operation and the support of our people."

PROPOSED ORGANIZATION YOUNG DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Homer L. Moss, county attorney here, is in receipt of a communication from W. H. Higginbotham of Houston, state chairman of the committee on organization and membership of Young Democratic clubs, suggesting the organization of a unit in Wheeler.

Tentative plans are in process of formation, with prospects of organization in the near future. As soon as a date for preliminary meeting of interested parties is announced, The Times will publish the fact, together with details of the movement.

MR. AND MRS. GLENN WILLIAMS HERE TODAY ON BRIEF VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams and children of Artesia, N. Mex., who have been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. John Breedlove, quite ill at her home in Wellington, came to Wheeler today to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williams and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Whitener. The spent the night with Mrs. Williams' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Howe, and daughter, Mona. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and children will return home Friday.

Amarillo Fat Stock Show Starts Monday

This Year's Program Dedicated to 4-H Club Boys—Mrs. Roosevelt Appears March 9

A special release to The Times from Amarillo declares the 11th annual Amarillo Fat Stock show, March 7 to 11, inclusive, is certain to be by far the largest in the history of the institution in view of record entries in every division, according to Grover B. Hill, president. Dedicated to the 4-H club boys in the area served by the show, this year's program will feature the appearance of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will be in Amarillo on Wednesday, March 9.

The Amarillo Fat Stock show affords 4-H club boys and breeders an unusual opportunity for successful demonstrations in the art of feeding, care and exhibition of all classes of livestock. The Panhandle Livestock association and the Panhandle Hereford Breeders association hold their annual meetings each year in connection with the show.

This year's record entry list includes 312 4-H Club calves, 283 pigs and 130 lambs. Three hundred carlot bulls have been consigned by the region's premier breeders, and 57 bulls and nine females will be sold at the annual auction of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders association.

Highlights of the week's program are:

Monday—Vocational students livestock judging, special educational program, pig club judging, placing of sale cattle.

Tuesday—Placing club calves, lamb club judging.

Wednesday—Mother-in-Law Day, 4-H club and livestock parade, mother-in-law's parade reviewed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Panhandle Hereford Breeders banquet.

Thursday—Pig and lamb club sale, complimentary picture show for 4-H club boys and F. A. exhibitors at show.

Friday—Calf club sale.

Last year's grand champion 4-H club calf was exhibited by Victor Lehmborg of Mason, Texas, and was purchased by Phillips Petroleum company at 66 cents per pound.

Large cash awards go to top winners in all divisions of the show.

Many County 4-H Boys Will Go to Amarillo

About 300 Club Members Plan Trip to Fat Stock Show Next Wednesday, March 9

From W. B. Hooser, assistant county agent and prominent in Boys 4-H club work, it is learned that approximately 300 club boys expect to attend the Amarillo Fat Stock show on next Wednesday, March 9. There they will participate in club activities and contests, including the big parade in which substantial prizes are offered. Local leaders believe Wheeler county will rate high in this.

Wednesday holds added interest for show visitors because of the anticipated presence of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as special guest of the mother-in-law day program.

Hooser states that about five trucks will be needed to transport the boys on this trip. It is also necessary, he states, that they leave quite early, about 5 o'clock, Wednesday morning. All club boys who wish to go are urged to be at the designated truck loading point on time. With a considerable number of passengers for each conveyance, even a slight delay by each one would make it impossible to reach Amarillo at the specified time, 9:45. The parade is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock.

Capable sponsors and others to assist in handling and caring for the youngsters will be provided, declares Hooser, who says that every possible precaution will be taken to safely conduct them to the show and back to their homes.

KELLERVILLE CHORUS TO BROADCAST ON SATURDAY

A chorus composed of the class in public school music of the Kellerville school will appear in a 30-minute broadcast over Station KPDN, Pampa, from 11:15 to 11:45 next Saturday morning, March 5.

Assisting in the program will be a vocal quartet and an orchestra.

Walter McCord, teacher of public school music at Kellerville, is directing the program and invites personal friends and patrons and friends of the school to listen in.

BULLETIN

In their first game here Wednesday night, the Allison Rambettes triumphed, 44-32, over the combination Conlen state champs and current Mobeetie girls basketball team. Playing again tonight, the Mobeetie combination hooped the long end of 30-27 score. The tie will be played off tomorrow, Friday, night in the Wheeler gymnasium.

Wheeler for Studer as Westex Official

Lions Club to Endorse Canadian Man as Head West Texas Chamber Commerce

That the recent declaration by Jed Rix, an office official of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, concerning the fitness of Carl Studer of Canadian as a presidential possibility for the organization, meets instant and emphatic approval in Wheeler is seen in action taken at Tuesday's meeting of the local Lions club.

Although in no way affiliated or connected with the chamber of commerce, this Lions club nevertheless, is interested in things designed to benefit the Panhandle. The unanimous opinion of the club was that Studer's elevation to head of the Westex body would be beneficial not only to this region but West Texas as a whole.

With A. B. Crump as chairman, and B. T. Rucker and H. M. Wiley, members, a committee was named Tuesday to draft resolutions of endorsement of the Canadian man to the position mentioned. According to Crump, who is a county director of the West Texas Chamber, Studer would first become a vice president and later advance to the presidency, which is the usual procedure.

Studer, as district director, has done such an excellent job that his fellow members of that organization as well as citizens of this region believe he deserves the opportunity for greater achievements possible as president of Westex. His distinguished leadership in community and regional activities is too well known here to need more than casual mention. He has been the mainspring of Canadian's Anvil Park Rodeo, a successful endeavor covering many years, and one of great publicity value to the entire Panhandle.

District One of the West Texas organization includes 21 counties of the Panhandle. Its annual convention will be held at Wichita Falls on April 25-26-27.

Masons to Meet Monday

Next Monday night, March 7, is the date for a stated communication of Wheeler Lodge No. 1099 A. F. & A. M., reports Harry J. Garrison, secretary of the lodge. Convening at 7:30 o'clock, F. C. and M. M. degrees will be conferred.

BOB HOLT CLAIMS CROQUET "BELIEVE IT OR NOT"

Encouraged by mild and open weather of the present season, local croquet addicts have indulged their passion for that game at frequent intervals in recent weeks. Latest development occurred Sunday afternoon, and is rated as "believe it or not" by its perpetrator, R. J. Holt.

Affiant declares and avers that a game in which he, the said Bob Holt and L. E. Mallory were partners vs. "Halfup" Reid and Carl Wright, the following did occur:

Holt was for the southwest wicket, "alive" on everything, his partner, for the same wicket, was "dead" on everything. Playing off an opponent's ball, Holt proceeded to make the wicket, the basket, the next corner wicket, the home wickets and became "rover." At the same time he carried his partner along the same route, up to the last home wicket, without further molesting their opponents.

Holt, an amiable banker who can figure interest as cleverly as he plays croquet, modestly admits that considerable luck entered into Sunday's accomplishment. Moderate sleuthing has failed to unearth anyone who will refute the stunt which Holt asserts "might not happen again in a thousand times."

Local fans are expecting Bud Burgess to cap this with the declaration that he often plays around the court, making every wicket, basket and all, without the assistance of either an opponent's or partner's ball to play on. Next to his shoe repair work (in front of it) Burgess does like to play croquet.

Market Quota Vote Dated for March 12

Committee Chairman Urges Farmers to Fully Inform Themselves Concerning Measure

The Texas Agricultural Conservation committee, in the course of its regular monthly meeting at Texas A. & M. college, went on record as urging farmers to make every effort to inform themselves as to the workings of the new farm act, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the committee.

"The referendum for the cotton marketing quota has been set for March 12," Slaughter pointed out. "It is imperative that cotton producers make every effort to determine how the quotas, if approved, would affect them individually, and how they would affect other producers, consumers, and the country generally."

State AAA officers have attended a regional meeting at which the new act was fully discussed, and information as to the details of the program will be placed in the hands of county agricultural agents as soon as possible.

The state committee will co-operate with the Extension Service in an informational campaign which is designed to reach the greatest possible number of farmers, Slaughter said.

County agricultural agents, their assistants, and county and community committeemen will hold community meetings at which the act in general, and the cotton marketing quota in particular, will be discussed.

Articles explaining points in the act will be furnished to newspapers and a number of radio programs dealing with the cotton marketing quota have been scheduled.

A comprehensive list of questions on the act as it applied to cotton, with answers, is being prepared and will be printed, Slaughter said. Copies of the list should be available for distribution to farmers early in March.

Twitty Man Declares for County Position

Fotts Announces Candidacy for Office of Tax Assessor and Collector

Thomas M. Fotts, who lives 2½ miles west of Twitty and a resident of Wheeler county for the past 10 years, has authorized announcement of his candidacy for the office of Wheeler county tax assessor and collector, subject to the will of the voters in the Democratic primaries.

Never before having been a candidate for public office, Fotts asserts he decided to enter the assessor-collector's race only after talking with a large number of friends over the county. He wishes to make it plain that he is basing his expectations of election solely on his qualifications.

Fotts has been engaged in the wholesale and retail gasoline and oil business during practically all his residence in the county and his acquaintance is county-wide. His reputation as a citizen and ability as a business man are well known to most of the residents of the county, as his business connections have not been confined wholly to Shamrock, where he maintains commercial headquarters.

If elected to the office of tax assessor-collector, Fotts promises a business-like administration. He feels that his many years experience in various lines of business qualify him for the place and he promises to perform honestly and efficiently the duties entrusted to his care.

"I do not have a long list of promises of what I will do if elected," said Fotts. "I have resided in Wheeler county long enough that most of the voters should know what kind of man I am. I do want to say that if I am honored by election to the office that I will conscientiously strive to serve the public efficiently and honestly. I am going to try and see all the voters personally and ask their support. In the meantime I will appreciate their earnest consideration of my qualifications for the office."

Boy Scouts on Wienie Roast

Scout master Taft Holloway reports that only slightly more than half the registration of local Boy Scouts participated in a wienie roast held Tuesday evening. Holloway says a royal time was enjoyed by those present and hints rather broadly that those not present really missed something.

SUICIDE BY TAXATION

"The biggest problem facing the nation today," says Roger Babson, "is not the recession, not the jobless, not the railroads. It is our taxation system." Unsound, excessive and inequitable taxation coupled with unprecedented government extravagance is slowly driving the nation to commit suicide by taxation.

Reform in government spending and taxation is the crying need of the moment. As Babson declared, the only basic policy in our present system is an almost fanatical desire to conceal taxes from the ultimate payer—the consumer. Taxation has been instrumental in bringing private enterprise and industrial progress to the present point of stagnation.

Babson points to 10 different steps that should be taken immediately:

- 1.—Broaden the income tax base.
- 2.—Pare down excessively high income taxes.
- 3.—Reduce capital gains assessments.
- 4.—Eliminate tax-exempt securities.
- 5.—Tax government employees.
- 6.—Remove the undistributed profits tax.
- 7.—Stop the present policy of virtual "embezzlement" of social security funds.
- 8.—Clamp down on special local taxes.
- 9.—Lower real estate taxes.
- 10.—Cut public spending.

These are concrete suggestions for a practical program of solvency and business encouragement which, if enacted, would stimulate the private citizen to forge ahead. Private enterprise would take a new lease on life. Employment and wages would resume their upward march in step with the constantly rising standards of living that has characterized American progress for the last 150 years.

NO HOLIDAY FOR DEATH

Last year accidental deaths in the United States declined 4 per cent from 1936. But there's nothing in that to cause us to throw out our chests—nature, not man, was the cause of the drop. The mild, cool summer according to the National Safety Council, was responsible for almost all of the decline inasmuch as heat deaths were 4,500 below normal.

In fields where man is the governing factor, the death and injury total, with the exception of home accidents, continued to rise. The greatest killer of all time, the automobile, claimed 4 per cent more victims than it did in 1936, for a total of 39,700. Occupational deaths climbed 6 per cent, to 19,000.

The grand total of deaths from all accidental causes was 106,000—with 375,000 persons permanently injured and 9,400,000, 8 per cent of the whole population, temporarily injured. The direct cost of these accidents is estimated to have reached the staggering total of $3,700,000,000.

There is 1937's accident record, expressed in cold figures. It is bad enough looked at that way. It is infinitely worse if you regard it in terms of human values—mutilated bodies, widowed mothers, orphaned children, blinded and crippled individuals, gore and carnage. And perhaps the most sombre reflection of all is that 90 per cent of the accidents were in all probability easily preventable—somebody was careless, somebody was ignorant, somebody took a chance, and there was no holiday for death.

CHARLIE BECOMES AMBASSADOR

Charlie McCarthy has a new job—ambassador at large for the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay. Here Edgar Bergen is handing Charlie his ambassador's commission and the NBC star seems pleased, to say the least.

Will 1938 repeat this grisly toll of life, health and dollars? It's up to us, all of us, to answer that question through our actions.

TIME FOR ALIBIS PAST

Congress can no longer think up workable alibis if it refuses to repeal or drastically amend the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes.

Scores of leading economists and newspapers have gone on record as saying that these taxes are largely responsible for the business slump. The larger businesses of the country are solidly aligned against the taxes. And now it is apparent that small business has taken a similar position. At the recent meeting of representative "little business men" in Washington, these two taxes came in for almost unanimous criticism.

Furthermore, half-way measures won't do. These taxes must be radically changed if business is to be encouraged in this country.

TIME AND WORK

"The more we think about it, the more alarmed are we by the thought that the time may come when everybody will be able to earn a living in two hours a day, or three months in the year," says a magazine.

It occurs to the writer that the alarm is needless. From what he can see of men who work and men who run a business, there never was and never will be a day that has enough working hours in it. The tired business man of a few years ago has become the harassed business man of our time.

Every day is his busy day, every hour his busy hour, or so it seems to this writer. There is no "time on his hands" for a successful man, every time is a time of stress for him; indeed, during one unusual period lately the writer doffed his hat, smiled and passed on when he met his own wife on the street.

Furthermore, it seems to us that the situation grows more definitely "that way" all the time, that for a man to hold a job that has responsibility attached to it requires increasingly more of his time and attention, and that, for a man to find time to "invite his soul" become more and more difficult.

There is, of course, increased organization and systematizing of his work and his time to rely upon for that is a time-honored remedy; the only question is, when does the man find time to turn his attention to devising more organization and more system.—Plainview Weekly.

IS THIS TRUE?

Even secular writers can see the drift of the times, and can realize the spirit of humbuggery and deceit among the professed followers of the Lord.

The American Guardian believes that if Jesus were to come again in the manner of His first advent, He would again follow His former life; heal the sick, halt the blind, and get jailed for practicing medicine without a license.

He would visit the prisons and talk to the inmates and be held on suspicion. He would speak a good word for Mary Magdalene and the woman taken in adultery, and have the vice squad upon His back.

He would drive the money changers out of the temples, and be thrown into prison for endeavoring to overthrow the government by force. He would rile up the people and get beaten up by the Red squad.

He would preach peace and good will on earth to men, and be denounced as a yellow pacifist by some, have his naturalization papers denounced by the supreme court, and deported by the Department of Labor as an alien enemy.

And, how sad, but many professed followers who need their eyes anointed with eye salve would be among the rabble who would mistrust His good intentions.—The Faith.

Contract for the paving of 27 miles of Texas Highway No. 4, U. S. Highway No. 83, from Perryton to the Lipscomb county line, was let in Austin Monday, with Coker and Braden, Amarillo, awarded the work at a figure of $164,844. Some unique if not humorous things happen to a newspaper man. Some time ago a fellow made some bad news. Since he was making the news, we printed it just as he made it. Next day after the Leader was printed, a postal was received from this fellow. It read: "I don't like the way you treated me. You did not spell the name of the man I hit right. If I am a subscriber stop the paper." He never had been a subscriber, but his wife was and is to this date without any complaint from her.—Donley County Leader.

A tip for chambers of commerce might be to encourage local filling station operators in their efforts to create good will for the town. Whether tourists stop and trade with other merchants depends many times upon the impression of the town gained from the man who fills the gas tank. Most operators are as proud of their town as they are their station, and usually after stopping for gas the tourist visits other stores.—McLean News.

Production Credit Service Geared to Serve Members

A Farmers' Organization

This Association is an organization that loans money only to farmers and stockmen. All those who use it become members and part owners. These members all own the voting stock and elect the directors from among their fellow members. Each member has one vote regardless of the amount of stock he holds.

Loans Made for Actual Time Needed

Farmers and stockmen who borrow from this Association get money for the time they need it without frequent renewals. Loans are made for the length of the feeding period.

May Buy or Sell Anywhere

Canadian Valley Production Credit Association members are free to buy or sell their cattle or sheep or other products through any agency they wish.

Can Finance All Sound Credit Needs

PCA service not only includes loans to finance feeding and fattening operations but members can obtain loans to finance other types of farm operations.

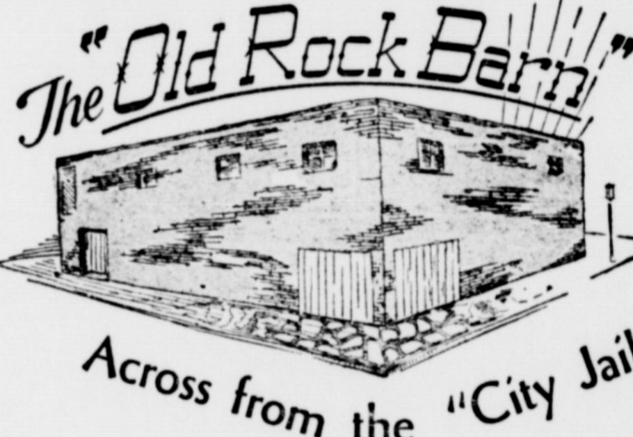

Loan Rates as Low as 5%.

Movie Chatter

By a Rogue

Public Cowboy No. 1

Friday and Saturday, March 4-5
Westerns are usually about the same, but "Public Cowboy" goes further than most of them. It is a modern story; short wave radio, airplanes and a system of cattle rustling that is novel and effective. So you Western fans won't be disappointed with Autry's performance and voice. Smiley Burnette and his special brand of comedy and an old favorite, William Farnum. Of course Ann Rutherford adds the romantic element.

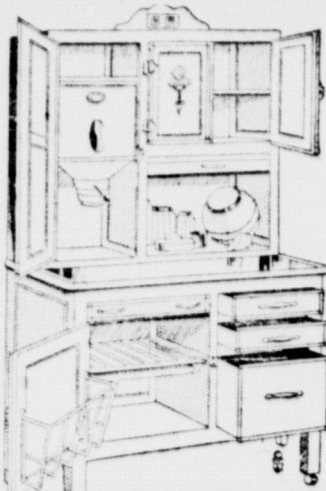

It's Love I'm After

Preview, Sun., Mon., March 5, 6, 7
And just because you're a Western fan is no sign that you don't like fun and romance. "It's Love I'm After" will furnish a laugh or two and who doesn't need laughs? You'll like Leslie Howard more than ever and he is ably supported by Bette Davis and Olivia de Havilland.

Danger—Love at Work

Wednesday, Thursday, March 9-10
Crazy people! You'll see them in this nutty, wise-cracking picture. As much fun as a "medicine show." The oldsters, as well as youngsters, will enjoy this hokum of an unsophisticated era. Don't miss a lot of fun brought to you by such characters as Ann Sothern, Jack Haley, Edward Everett Horton and Walter Catlett.

MODERN KITCHEN EQUIPMENT

The kitchen, workshop of the home, should be properly equipped for satisfactory preparation of wholesome meals to insure health and happiness of the family. This store has modern kitchen equipment in variety and price to meet every want. Kitchen cabinets, cook tables, stoves, utensils of all kinds and high grade cutlery provide the major kitchen needs.

Then, for comfort, let us suggest a Palco Sanitary rug or one of the new Challenge or Rubbertex rugs in the slightly lower price range, priced most attractively.

Campus Improvements

Mr. McNeill, Mr. Barry and Mr. Standee worked Tuesday afternoon setting out trees. The school has 1,100 trees to set out. The work done Monday was south of the buildings.

A fish pond will be added to the campus late in the spring. The pond will probably be located between the main building and the home economics building.

Sports

The county junior tournament was conducted in the Briscoe gymnasium Friday and Saturday, Feb. 25 and 26. The Briscoe junior high school girls won in their division by defeating Shamrock.

Sophomores Present Program

The assembly program Thursday, Feb. 23, was an outcome of class work done in the sophomore class. The sophomores studied and presented "The Grand Cham's Diamond," under the direction of Miss Stubbs.

The characters were Cliffereene Sivage, Mrs. Perkins; Armond Clepper, Mr. Perkins; Oleta Dickinson, Miss Perkins; Ray Sanford, Albert Watkins; Leon Ramsey, a stranger.

Fourth and Fifth Grades

The fourth grade plans to present "Sigurd, the Young Warrior," Friday at the assembly program. The fifth grade will assist in this room program by singing off stage at a supposed banquet for King Alf, some of the songs used in choral singing.

Glen Robertson has been absent several days due to sickness.

We are reviewing now for our six weeks test this Thursday and Friday.

Cold weather and snow bring action on the part of Autolite Jean Milash who is seen taking steps toward giving her car proper protection from chilling blasts by installing a winterfront that fits between radiator and grille of the car. The installation, an easy matter, is taking place under the watchful gaze of an automotive expert. The winterfront slips down out of sight and stops the cold from getting at the engine or into the car's interior through the radiator. This winterfront is operated by dialing a knob on the dash.

Members of the class are expecting their wristlets and belt buckles to arrive soon.

There was also a contest in extemporaneous speaking. This was won by Charles Maxson, Tyson Shelton and Elbert Blackburn. These students are to put on a program soon for the entire music class.

Purpose of these contests is to get students used to performing before an audience.

TEACHERS MAY ORGANIZE PANHANDLE NEWS SERVICE

Hurray! We may have a chance at a news service. The journalism teachers will meet at Canyon during the March 18 meeting of Panhandle teachers.

During this meeting, the teachers will discuss their problems and a Panhandle news service may be organized, allowing all school papers a "first hand" chance at the news of other schools.

SERVING WITH WHAT WE HAVE
Lesson Scripture: Mark 6:1-13.
Devotional Reading: Romans 12:3-8.
Memory Verse: Luke 16:10.

Angle of Approach

People are divided into various classes according to the angle by which they are approached. The approach today is through our possessions. And we all consider ourselves among those who have, or among those who have not. The fact of the matter is that we all have. Some may be without earthly goods, but all have a life, personality and influence.

Let us take a look at our memory verse together: "He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much; and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much." That is strong teaching; but, beloved, it is from the Lord.

Listen to Him again, He is admonishing us to be faithful in using what we have, for the user is the gainer and the unfaithful is the loser. "I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not (hath not increased) even that which he hath shall be taken away from him" (Luke 19:26).

So, let none of us think that we are gaining anything by complaining about our poverty while we do nothing about it.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON

Introduction
One of the first things considered in choosing a leader is his popularity. When God's servants cater to the demands of the world, they usually do it to the sacrifice of faithfulness to God. Jesus was faithful unto His Father in heaven. He never was popular among the leaders of the day in which He lived. Only among the common folk was He popular and that just for a while, for they soon turned against him through the influence of the leading class.

Back in His own home country the people held to the common idea that no one could become great without doing it in the usual routine way—through the rabbinical schools and under the tutelage of the recognized great educators of the day.

They were sure, therefore, there was something wrong with His great powers. Why, said they, do we not know His brothers and sisters; his father and mother? The very idea—that such a common and well known man should think to become great! How absurd! And so, his own brothers disbelieved on him.

Amazed but Undismayed

Though He was without honor among His own kith and kin, He, nevertheless, went right ahead with His work. Many a messenger-servant whom God has called and endowed, has been discouraged and churches have refused to recognize and use him because he had not gone the usual route and obtained his "doctor of theology" degree from men in a denominational seminary.

Proper education is a very fine thing, but we are wrong when we think that God cannot use men until they are endorsed by some modern organization. "Being a 'layman preacher' without authority of men may not hinder God's use of him as much as being a 'Rev.' preacher

The Baptist Missionary society met Monday at the church. The lesson was on Missions, led by Mrs. George Henderson, and was enjoyed by all.

There were seven members present. Dink Hunt of Wheeler was accompanied to Amarillo Monday by Arthur Whitener, Mrs. Lige Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Johnson.

They took Mr. Johnson to St. Anthony's hospital, where he underwent a medical examination.

A number of people from here attended the funeral of Dr. Wm. I. Joss at Erick, Okla., last week.

Miss Rena Johnson was a visitor in the Shamrock Texan office last Saturday.

with authority God never delegated to him.

But "all authority in heaven and on earth" was given unto Christ and all discouraging influences and opposition of men did not hinder (but helped) His accomplishing the full will of the heavenly Father. Just so it may be with each of His servants.

Equipped for Service

Again, we must say, God knows what is best. I should have thought that with such hostility they were to meet, they should have been made entirely independent of those to whom they were sent. But God thought otherwise. He made them absolutely dependent upon those hostile groups and homes.

If these servants of God were not received by those to whom they were sent, it only added to their undoing. But our Saviour would give them a chance. Had they been permitted to equip themselves for such a work as man would have thought necessary, they would have been throwing barriers in their way—God always knows best.

(This is far from teaching that God's servants must always go empty handed. For Jesus reversed His orders on other occasions).

A Dangerous Thing

Tell that sweet story of Jesus to your neighbor, friend, or acquaintance. If God wants you to serve in a greater capacity, He will open the doors for you. If He wants you to be "better prepared," He will make that possible, also.

Our training is to be "in the inner chamber" and alone with God; then out to a lost soul for service. This sort of training cannot be superceded by any other sort.

It may be supplemented for special places and service. Paul, because of his education, was qualified for the service whereunto God called him.

It was a very dangerous thing for the ones to whom Christ sent the apostles to reject the message they gave. It is still just as dangerous for men today to reject the gospel of God.

But, remember, the greatest message is sometimes "put across" through a cup of cold water in His name. You do not have to be a great possessor nor a great preacher, to serve God in His efforts to save lost souls.

Advertising in the Wheeler Times Does Get Results

When a solicitor goes out from this newspaper office to sell advertising space, much greater assurance prevails if absolute proof of that commodity's effectiveness is available.

The paper itself has sampled the service sold to others to increase their business and found that IT DOES GET RESULTS. A recent instance will illustrate: Due to a combination of circumstances, The Times subscription list had quite a number of patrons who were in arrears—none for any great length of time.

These subscribers whose accounts had become overdue were invited through regular display advertisements—the same as is sold to merchants and others—to inspect the expiration date figures following the address name on their paper. That many of these valued subscribers to The Wheeler Times DO READ ADVERTISING is found in the fact that they renewed their subscriptions, several of them voluntarily mentioning the fact that they had failed to observe their expiration date until the matter was called to their attention through an advertisement.

No, not all those in arrears have responded as yet (although a number have shown their consciousness of the situation by informing the publisher that they will meet the obligation just as soon as possible), but the response has been sufficient to prove that WHEELER TIMES ADVERTISING DOES GET RESULTS.

Besides the results obtained by the paper itself, regular advertisers from time to time report satisfactory results—all of which sums up to this: The Times is the most profitable and result-getting advertising medium available in Wheeler and northern Wheeler County.

DAVIS ATTENDS MEETING OF WOLF HUNT DIRECTORS

S. B. Davis of Allison attended the annual directors meeting of the Texas-Oklahoma Wolf Hunters association, held at Childress last Friday. Principal question decided during the business session was choice of location for the annual fall meet and hunt. Childress was selected and the meet dated for the latter part of next September or early October. Exact date will be announced later after a committee has investigated the situation to avoid conflict with other events. Members of several committees were named Friday. Quannah has been the host town to fall assemblies of the association for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sharp and her mother, Mrs. J. S. Carwile, of Mobeetie, were in Wheeler and Shamrock Wednesday, attending to business. Mrs. Sharp was Miss Nellie Carwile before her marriage the last of December.

LIONS CLUB ENTERTAINED BY GROUP FROM MOBEETIE

Tuesday's Lions club luncheon was favored with splendid entertainment, provided by a male quartet from Mobeetie and their accompanist, invited for the occasion.

Composing the group were Charlie Hix, Warren Thompson, Charles Mixon and Pat Patterson, with Miss Aileen Lee at the piano. They gave a group of numbers well received by their audience. Mrs. Joe Thompson was a member of the group but did not take part in the program.

A record attendance of visitors were guests at the luncheon. Names of all the visitors are not available, but among them were W. A. Purnell, E. C. Smith and A. S. Wharton, all of Magic City.

During the business session, President Nicholson appointed Harry Wofford a committee of one to select a Wheeler young lady as entry in the St. Patrick's day festivities at Shamrock on the 17th. A. B. Crump, B. T. Rucker and H. M. Wiley were delegated to draft resolutions endorsing C. A. Studer of Canadian for an official position with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce body.

Another special guest was Roy B. Morgan, Junior Forester and district officer for shelterbelt plantings in the five counties of Wheeler, Hemphill, Gray, Donkey and Collingsworth. Morgan's headquarters are at Shamrock as a central point for his duties.

NEW STATUTE REGULATES COMMON SCHOOL TRUSTEES

In order that all parties concerned may be properly informed in the matter, B. T. Rucker, county superintendent of schools, has requested The Times to call attention to a new statute enacted by the forty-fifth legislature relating to common schools. It reads as follows:

"That trustees of any common school district or consolidated common school district shall have authority to make contracts for a period of time not in excess of two years with principals, superintendents and teachers of said common school districts or consolidated common school districts, provided that such contracts shall be approved by the county superintendent. No contract may be signed by the trustees until the newly elected trustee has qualified and taken the oath of office."

Rucker declares this new law will postpone the making of contracts later than heretofore, contingent upon election, and compliance as stated.

DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS WINDOWS AS ITS SUBJECT

The meeting of the Wheeler Home Demonstration club yesterday afternoon at the club room was made especially interesting with an excellent demonstration on windows and their treatment in regards to ventilation, light, screens, curtains and draperies. Using a miniature window for a model, Miss Dalton Burleson, home agent, made the demonstration.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Jess Crowder, Mrs. C. W. Shaffer, vice president, was in charge of a short business meeting during which the county float to be entered in the mother-in-law parade in Amarillo March 9 was discussed.

Members present were Mesdames Elton Myers, A. C. Wood, Jim Risner, C. Bryan Witt, Bill Owen, B. A. Zorns, O. Sandifer, C. W. Shaffer and Miss Burleson.

MRS. CLINT JOHNSON OF STINNETT SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Clint Johnson of Stinnett, stricken with serious illness and taken to a Borger hospital Friday, is much improved this week. She was able to receive nourishment Wednesday.

Her mother, Mrs. G. A. Bolton, and daughters and son, Mrs. Vera Tucker, Mrs. Shelby Murphy, Mrs. Troy Burgess and Lloyd Bolton, went to Borger Friday to be with Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. J. F. Tate of Muskogee, Okla., was also at her sister's bedside Sunday.

Lloyd Bolton returned here Saturday to get his father, G. A. Bolton and take him to Borger.

4-H Club Boys Going to Amarillo March 7

Plan to Attend Fat Stock Show in Company with Other Club Boys of County

The Mobeetie 4-H club boys plan to attend the Fat Stock show in Amarillo on March 7. They will accompany other club boys of the county on the trip.

Boys who have attended this annual Amarillo event in the past report very interesting as well as educational values. Those who went last year gave a report of the following activities besides attending the show.

They went through the Amarillo News-Globe printing office, the Steffens creamery, the Great West flour mill and several other interesting industries of that city.

The boys have ordered 4-H caps to wear in the parade at Amarillo.

GRADE SCHOOL PICTURE SHOW A BIG SUCCESS

The picture show, "The Covered Wagon," sponsored by the grade school, and put on by Dr. Stover, was a success in spite of very bad weather conditions. Proceeds are to be used to defray expenses of the Interscholastic League in the grade school. A total of $22.50 was realized from the show.

FERN SMITH TO REPRESENT MOBEETIE IN IRISH PARADE

Fern Smith was chosen by the high school girls to represent Mobeetie in the Irish parade at Shamrock on March 17. The parade will be a part of the St. Patrick Day celebration.

BONFIRE GOSSIP

The sophomores have considered very much getting a moving picture machine. We are going to back it all we can. We are planning on giving a "Sock Supper." The date has not been set yet. Watch this column for further notices. There is a new addition to the sophomore class. She is Eva Morris of Spade. We are proud to have you, Eva.

How is This for Loyalty?

The seventh grade class won the $5 prize for selling the most tickets of any class to the high school tournament.

When the question came up of making a first payment on the moving picture machine, the seventh grade offered its $5.

Members of the class understood from the first that this money was to be used in any way they saw fit.

Would you have been so loyal as to share your money with the whole school, like they have so generously done?

A CORRECTION

In the last issue of The Outlook appeared a list of teachers in charge of Interscholastic work. In the group was the name of Mrs. Green in charge of spelling, which was incorrect. It should have read Mr. Green.

Don't Fail to See 'An Arizona Cowboy'

This play is a comedy-drama of the Great Southwest in four acts. It takes place in Purple Dog, Arizona, and the time of playing is about two and one-quarter hours. This play is to be presented by a group of students, coached by Mrs. Blankinship.

Tyson Shelton plays the part of Farley Gantt, one of nature's noblemen. His part is a strong, dramatic leading role.

H. T. Reed, who is Paul Quillan, plays the role of mother cowboy and is Farley Gantt's partner.

Grebble Owens, who is Duke Blackshear, is a cool, calculating, keen villain.

The part of Hezekiah Bugg is played by F. P. Heare. He is a very talkative, boisterous old man, and lives very much in the past, especially in the year of '89.

Elbert Blackwood is Yom Kee, a small active Chinaman, always looking for trouble.

The part of Big Elk, an Indian chief, is played by W. C. Ring.

Grizzly Grim, Ed Johnson, is a regular bully as long as he thinks he has everyone buffaloed.

ValRue Dyson, who is Margaret, is a very well educated girl and owner of the ranch.

Vineta McCain, Mrs. Bugg, is a big commanding woman of the whole outfit.

Dora Goodnight plays the role of Coralie Blackskinner, and is a Spanish type vamp.

Fawn, an Indian maid, is played by Dorothy Bradley.

Maurita Dunn plays the part of Yougan, the gal from the poor house.

This play will furnish good entertainment for everyone. It is a typical western play and very humorous. Mrs. Bugg certainly does have her husband wrapped around her little finger. He is obliged to do things, such as skip a party with the boys, in order not to unnerve his sweet Petunia.

Friday night, March 11, is the tentative date set for presentation of this attraction.

Admission will be 15 cents and 25 cents. The proceeds of the play are to go to financing of Interscholastic League work in high school.

EX-MISSIVE STUDENTS MARRIED LAST SATURDAY

Ralph Sims and Miss Wilma Lester were united in marriage at Wheeler on Saturday night, Feb. 26.

Ralph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sims, and Wilma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lester.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims will make their home in the Union community.

DORIS GOODNIGHT BECOMES BEAUTY OPERATOR

Doris Goodnight has become a beauty operator. She assisted a group of boys in the act of beautifying some donkeys last Sunday. She helped them cut, shampoo and set their hair.

Plans Being Made to Buy Movie Projector

High School and 7th Grade Unite Forces to Get Funds for Down Payment

The Mobeetie high school is making plans to buy a movie projector. All classes of high school and the seventh grade are uniting their forces to raise funds for the down payment on the machine. The whole school is supporting the idea 100 per cent.

Sponsors of the movement contemplate giving interesting exhibitions at frequent intervals, charging nominal admissions, for the purpose of meeting payments on the projector as they come due.

Both Junior Squads Win in Tournament

Hurrah for the junior basketball teams. Both the boys and girls showed their ability in a big way.

The boys' scores were 40 to their opponents' 5, while the girls' score was 36 to their opponents' 2.

The boys team, coached by John Plaster, consists of John Barton, Chester Blackwood, Jack Sims, H. T. Reed, Denzell Leonard, Orville Ferguson and Claud Henderson.

The girls team, coached by Embelle Knight, consists of Betty Mixon, Juanita Beck, Pauline Shelton, Joan Painter, Wanda Creekmore and Audrey Brewer.

BLANKINSHIP IS CHAIRMAN OF BASKETBALL COMMITTEE

A new basketball league is to be formed with the schools that comprise the district of class B football as participants.

Superintendent M. D. Blankinship of Mobeetie is chairman and Coach Bill Allen of McLean and Coach Joe Coleman of Wellington, are members of the committee who will work out details of the league.

Junior Class is Tricked

The junior class looked very well pleased, Feb. 28, when Miss Cogdell said, "Your belt buckles and wristlets are here." All members of the class were not present and she asked those who were present to wait until the remainder of the students came. They waited, but not so patiently.

At last the package was opened and instead of getting wristlets and belt buckles, they received some belts the boys had ordered.

Members of the class are expecting their wristlets and belt buckles to arrive soon.

Mobeetie Girls Win County Championship

Local Section Breaks Kelton Tie to Win County by One Field Goal

The Mobeetie basketball girls broke the Kelton-Mobeetie tie to win the county championship by one field goal, made in an extra period play-off in the county tournament.

Until the tournament, the teams had played four games with no more than four points difference. The first game in the tournament was won by Kelton with six points, Mobeetie took the next game with 18 points.

At the end of the final game the score stood 29-29. An extra three-minute period was played. With only five seconds left to play the score was still tied, 31-31.

In the jump ball play, Sims of Mobeetie tipped it to Ferguson, who was under the goal. She scored and the ball was put into play again before the final whistle was blown.

Home Ec Girls Attend District Meet

Miss Cogdell and seven home ec girls attended the district home economics meeting in a room Saturday. The girls were Thressa Godwin, Helen and ValRue Dyson, Elsie Robinson, Dora Goodnight, Ruth Hanning and Clara Corcoran.

Registration started at 10 o'clock and the meeting adjourned at 2:30.

The program consisted of talks, songs, musical numbers and skits. Mobeetie's part was a skit given by Thressa Godwin and Dora Goodnight. Lunch and refreshments were served by the Groom home economics department.

JOHNSON IS DIRECTOR OF ASSEMBLY PROGRAM FRIDAY

The assembly program was conducted entirely by the student body on Friday, W. C. Johnson announced the following numbers as presented by volunteers.

"Why go to High School"—F. P. Heare.

"Jokes and Facts"—Doris Key and Zana Mae Fugh.

Skit, "A Great Help"—Home ec girls.

Book report on "How to Win Friends and Influence People"—Margie Roberts.

Several group songs were sung with Geraldine Sims as leader and Elsie Robinson at the piano.

The Music Class

Charles Mixon, F. P. Heare and Alma Guber won the vocal solo contest in music class last week.

There was also a contest in extemporaneous speaking. This was won by Charles Mixon, Tyson Shelton and Elbert Blackwood. These students are to put on a program soon for the entire music class.

Purpose of these contests is to get students used to performing before an audience.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Follow students, do you know when George Washington was born? He was born on Feb. 22, 1732 and died in 1799. He was the first president of the United States. Washington was born on the banks of the Potomac in Westmoreland, Va. He died at Mount Vernon.

George grew up a planter's son; that is to say, a gentleman. When not in school, he was at liberty to ride, play, hunt, or amuse himself as he pleased. To work or even to run errands would have been considered beneath his station in life.

He could outrun and out-jump every boy in the neighborhood. George was fond of riding, and was never without a saddle horse.

George's mother was unable to send him to England to attend college, but she appears to have taken great pains with her son's training. She was proud of his courage, truthfulness and honesty.

George Washington served only two terms as president. This custom has been handed down to the present day and is one of the subjects being discussed for the next presidential election.

WHY GO TO NORWAY?

Why go to the expense of a trip to Denmark or some iceland country for amusement and winter sports? We have a winter resort right here in the former wind-swept section of Mobetie.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the welcome snow storms which fell a few days ago. The older people enjoyed the beautiful scenery and quiet atmosphere which the snow caused. The younger folks enjoyed the various sports that the snow and frozen ground provided.

Although some of our own students and teachers were athletes they were not thoroughly pleased with the after-effects of some of the sports which they partook of accidentally when the ground was frozen. While walking to school with an armful of test papers, Miss Knight took an unexpected fall. In trying to jump a snowdrift, Supt. M. D. Blankinship landed in a reclining position but said he arrived safely at his destination.

Upon arriving at school late last week, Coach Meek stated that he was coming down a hill faster than his wheels were turning and landed in a ditch. Several of the students have reported unexpected slips, falls and tumbles, but it was all in fun.

At the rate some of them are improving we expect to have some one competing with Sonja Henie in the near future.

DO YOU KNOW—

That three of our four teams won the county basketball championship this year?

That the play "An Arizona Cowboy" is to be given March 11 in the high school auditorium?

That those mighty pretty dresses are being made in the home department?

That the general math students can work your problems for you?

That we are going to have a more attractive school yard next year?

That the tickets for "An Arizona Cowboy" are to be on sale soon?

That spring may not be here, but if not, it is just around the corner?

That according to our way of thinking we have the finest student body in the state of Texas?

That you really should see "An Arizona Cowboy"?

THE TALEBEARER

F. P. Heare seemed awful worked up over a affair which he received during the snow. In a statement he declared that his head popped and he did not know anything for five minutes. Unsolved is just what kind of a stop watch was Heare carrying?

Alma Gaber was seen rushing all about the building Monday morning. When stopped by Miss Knight she explained that she was trying to find out how to "tuna a fish." She was proud of his courage, truthfulness and honesty. She gave her a chance to see the singer just one more time before he left.

Great excitement was aroused in English III Class after reading "The Lady or the Tiger." Hugh thought it should be against the law to write such stories. Wilton thought it was a waste of time to read a story and not find out how it ended. All the members groaned as they finished the story.

Wilma Sims came to school Thursday morning limping and quite lame. Wilma announced that she turned out the light and jumped at the bed. Missing her aim she bumped her knee on the bedrail. She must have been trying to turn out the light and get in bed before it got dark.

SENIOR SCANDALS

There has been a rumor of Lois Farmer trying to figure out if she is a good girl or used to be a "good girl."

The seniors all have a great attitude toward the picture machine and they are backing it in full. Not necessarily for the seniors but for the students they are interested in and are leaving behind.

The seniors enjoyed the friend-to-friend talk that Mr. Blankinship gave them last Thursday.

League Entrants Busy

Students who are entering Interscholastic League events are now quite busy with their preparations. Much progress is being made by the various entrants.

Much Farm and Ranch Work Done in Region

Percentage of Co-operation in 22 Panhandle Counties Highest For Entire State

Reports from county agricultural agents in the northern part of the Panhandle Extension District show that 70 per cent of their time in 1937 was spent in the field out on the farms and ranches of their counties, according to P. D. Hanna, extension service district agent for that section. Their reports indicate the wide scope and variety of their work with all of it aimed at the goal of achieving a more satisfactory farm life.

More than 1,000 4-H club boys were enrolled, carrying on demonstrations in livestock feeding and management, poultry, field crop demonstrations with cotton, wheat, grain sorghums, gardens, training in stock judging, insect identification, wildlife conservation and farm engineering. Terrace lines for over 27,000 acres were run by club boys trained by the county agricultural agents.

Over 88,000 acres were terraced, and over 1,500,000 acres contourured under the supervision of the county agricultural agents. The number of trench silos for feed conservation

Girls Enjoy Bingo Party

Monday was the Home Ec club day set aside for social hour, which was devoted to a bingo party.
 The girls met once a week. Every other time is spent in some form of program while the alternate meetings consist of a social hour.

 He: Gosh, I'm afraid to tell you.
 She: Go ahead, you sap, what do you think I brought up this wishing business for?

was doubled in the district in 1937, with 333 new trench silos put in by farmers and ranchmen. There were 900 silos in all, ranging in size from a few hundred cubic yards to over 15,000 cubic yards, built by farmers and ranchmen.

Another conservation project, new in the Panhandle area, but expanding rapidly under the supervision of the Texas A. & M. extension service, is wildlife conservation. Game management is intended not only for the pleasure of the landowner, but as an important source of income. In 1937, 13 game management areas were established, with 663 individuals participating. The acreage involved in these areas is over 3,500,000.

An emergency program that saved the Panhandle over 10 million dollars in crops was supervised by the county agricultural agents in combatting the worst grasshopper infestation since 1924. Over 2,800,000 pounds of poison bait were distributed to farmers in the district.

In the Agricultural Adjustment program, supervised by the county agricultural agents, over 60,000 farmers and 900 ranchmen co-operated, a higher percentage of both farm operators and acreage than any other section of the state.

LOVE FINES A WAY

Dick started after her. Then changed his mind. Sobriety had made his way down Elfration Walk. He was so intent upon his thoughts that he didn't see the girl and man embracing until he walked right into them.

"Beg your pardon," he started, then Brenda.

"Hello, Dick? This is Paul."

"Prince Paul?" questioned Dick. His manner changed instantly. "The Princess Brenda is looking for you."

"She is? Thank you," replied Paul. "I shall go to her at once." He kissed Brenda fervently and left them. "And you're supposed to be Rosalie's friend?" sneered Dick after he had gone. "Even while kissing her home?"

"Particularly while kissing her home," laughed Brenda. "Dick, you're very stupid. I want to tell you something. Rosalie doesn't love Paul honestly. And Paul doesn't love Rosalie. I love Paul and Paul loves me. And you love Rosalie and Rosalie loves you."

"Sounds like an awful lot of love getting nowhere, doesn't it?"

"You mustn't blame love-blame matters of State—it's the Queen who says Rosalie must marry Paul and the King says what the Queen says."

"But can no one else influence him at all?"

"Maybe someone could, if someone could get to him—but he's so intent upon ventriloquism and his dummy Nappy he won't let anyone talk to him."

"Hey, Dick!" called a voice.

Dick looked down the path and saw his best friend Bill Delroy bounding toward them.

"Got any of the royal party here? Their Majesties and the Princess are returning to the cruiser to dress for the Superintendent's dinner and the orders are all royal hands on deck."

"That means my," laughed Brenda, and with Bill and Dick as escort, she hurried to the waiting launch.

"That night, instead of attending the brilliant ball given by the Superintendent, the King insisted upon a walk with Bill Delroy."

"You'd better get back to the ball, King," Bill suggested. "Looks kind of silly for a king to be out walking when they're throwing a big party for you up there."

"But I don't like being a King."

"Then why don't you cut it out. Take your real name and be a regular fellow. But the way—that is your name?"

"Frederic Basilmovitch Romani-koff."

"Well, maybe you better stay King."

"But I don't want to be King; I want to be a ventriloquist—a great ventriloquist—the best in the world." He sighed. "You're a very helpful young man. I can confide in you. I feel as if we're old friends, you know. And if there's anything I can do for you—"

"Do something for my pal, Dick and for Rosalie," Bill said quickly. "They love each other."

"The King nodded. "Yes, I guess they do. Well—I shall talk with Nappy about it, my dummy you know and whatever Nappy says I do."

"Oh, do you?" asked Bill thoughtfully.

"Oh, yes," the King exclaimed. "Well, then," Bill smiled suddenly. "Let's get back to the party—what do you say?"

Late that night, after the festivities, the King was making ready for his royal sleep. He gently turned

"Well, you're one if you don't do something about Rosalie and Dick Thorpe. They love each other."

"Yes," sighed the King romantically. "He has all the way over the ocean—he stopped short. "Say, who are you?"

"I'm Mickey, the football mascot," came the timid answer. "I'm Dick Thorpe's pal, and he's the naest guy in the whole world."

"And how did you get aboard this

"You will not," ordered Mickey. "I will not," shouted the King. "You want to be happy," cried Mickey, "and you want Rosalie to be happy, and that's why you're going to abdicate."

"Yes!" roared the King. "I abdicate in favor of Paul—so Paul can marry Brenda. And I'll ask the President to pardon Dick for flying without license so that Dick can marry Rosalie!"

One bright day the wedding march was played when Rosalie became Mrs. Dick Thorpe.

down the covers of Nappy's bed to bid him goodnight—but Nappy wasn't there.

"Nappy?" he shouted and looked wildly about the room. "Oh," he breathed a sigh of relief as he spied the dummy slouched on the floor in the corner of the room. "There you are. Hello, Nappy?"

"Hello," answered Nappy. "Hello," smiled the King—and the smile froze on his face as he realized that Nappy had spoken of his own accord. "Nappy?" he demanded in a trembling voice. "Nappy—did you speak?"

"Certainly I spoke," replied Nappy. "You've been making me talk for years now, haven't you?"

The King fell into a chair. "But Nappy?" He stared at the dummy with unbelieving eyes. "It was always I who spoke—not you."

"Yeh. But you never said anything, you really meant—"

"But I—"

"Yeh. But from now on you're going to say the things I want—"

The King turned haggard eyes to the mirror. "Either I've gone completely crazy," he muttered, "or this is a miracle!"

"It's no miracle, King—it's a strike. You guys have made slaves of us dummies long enough. It's time we spoke for ourselves."

The King jumped up suddenly and seized Nappy by the arm. "Nappy," he cried, "you're alive—you're—"

he threw back his head and roared with relief. "Nappy, you're a fake. You're not Nappy—and you're not a dummy."

ship?"

"Bill Delroy sent me. He said you were so dumb you'd never know I wasn't Nappy."

"Bill Delroy, there's a fine chap," the King beamed. "What did he say?" he asked sharply.

"He said if you go back to Montaritz you're a fool, because the natives will shoot at you again, like they always do at the Spring Festival—and they're not going to miss every time."

"I don't want to go back," protested the King. "And Rosalie doesn't want to be Queen—"

"Yeh; that's what Bill says; and he says if you abdicate, Rosalie will too. Then Paul could become King and marry Brenda—Rosalie can marry Dick—"

"But that still leaves me with the Queen," said the King thoughtfully.

"Yes—but Bill says you wouldn't have the chancellor spying on you all the time—and there are millions of pretty girls in America—"

A sharp knock cut him short and the Queen burst into the room.

"Frederic!" she exclaimed. "Stop playing with that dummy and listen to me. That Cadet Thorpe who is Rosalie's escort is the American who flew to Montaritz to see her. I want you to ask the Superintendent to dismiss that man at once—"

Mickey suddenly raised his head his jaws working up and down. "You're the King—and you don't want to do that, Frederic," he squeaked.

The Queen glared at the two of them. "Frederic, do as I say!"

"Attaboy!" yelled Mickey and jumped up to cheer.

"Nappy!" shrieked the Queen. "He's alive—" with a moan she folded up and keeled over in a faint as Mickey marched out of the door whistling the wedding march.

And one bright day not long thereafter, the wedding march was simultaneously played for two brilliant weddings—when Montaritz hailed his new rulers King Paul and Queen Brenda—and when Princess Rosalie became Mrs. Dick Thorpe.

THE END.

I HEARD—

That Wilbur Sims was asked to pass his judgment on the junior play.

Mrs. Scribner telling F. P. to not do everything the girls asked him to do.

The seniors saying "Pleased to meetcha" to Miss Cogdell.

That Miss Cogdell and Mrs. Scribner had a little trouble with a peddler the other day.

That Ina has a new supply of photos—and there isn't a picture man in town.

W. L. Mahan don't like to be bumped by another car, on Sunday night, especially.

Coach Meek was worried because he could not find the "do-dad" that goes on the pump.

The Owl Says:

Dear People:

Usually you have to tear the box tops off and send them in to different places before you receive what you are asking for. I don't advertise any certain thing, so I'm going to ask that you tear off the top of Miss Cogdell's car and send it along with your letters, or the top off of a car just like hers. Or it will be all right if you write your letters on the back of $10 bills and send them in. I will appreciate them.

Yours very truly,

THE HOOTING COMPANY.

Dear Owl:

I have a very serious problem to consult you about. It is this way—I work as the janitor of Mobetie high school.

I believe I have more troubles than anybody. I believe the "kids" of the schools nowadays are twice as mean as the kids used to be in my day.

Some of the kids can do some of the meanest things. I would never have thought of such a thing.

When I went to school I never thought of putting soap on windows at Halloween. The meanest people around here are F. P. Heare, Fern Smith, Leon Barton, Wilma Sims and Dora Goodnight. What can I do to improve them?

Yours very truly,

JOE C. McCAIN.

Dear Joseph Calvin:

Poor ole you! I feel sorry for you. I don't know what this younger generation is coming to.

But I don't know of anything I can do about it. I suggest that you try thinking of some of the mean tricks you did.

Do you remember the time you stole those watermelons? And how about that time you played hooky?

Perfectly yours,

THE OWL.

Dear Owl:

I am lonely and blue. What shall I do?

MISS COGDELL.

Dear Miss Cogdell:

I suggest that you go to some South Sea island. It helps a lot; haven't you noticed how pepped up Mrs. Blankinship is since she came back from the sea?

Yours,

THE OWL.

Crying is Mistaken for Girls Giggling

Home Economics Students Meet with Trials in Making Linen Dresses

The home ec. girls have started making their dresses which are to be dress-up costumes. Most of them are making linen dresses and are really having trouble getting their material pressed. They also had some difficulty in stretching their materials before cutting it.

When Miss Cogdell secured permission from Mr. Blankinship for some of the girls to use another room, she was asked to stop her girls from giggling. Since the girls are far too refined and dignified for such behavior, he must have been mistaken.

The girls decided he must have heard several of them crying because they had to rip out seams which they thought were securely sewed.

Football Hope

According to Coach Clinton Meek, District 3 has been divided into two sections for playing convenience.

Mobetie, Shamrock, Wheeler, Lefors and McLean are in one section, while Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon and Lakeview compose section two.

The winners of their respective sections will play to decide the district championship. Section winners are to be decided by a contest between winners from the north and south halves of the district.

Arranging Schedules

Schedules and other plans and preparations were made at a meeting held at the U-Drop Inn at Shamrock Tuesday night, Feb. 22, for next season's football games.

Teams in each district are now scheduling non-conference games with teams of the other districts. This schedule is incomplete, but the conference schedule for Mobetie is as follows:

Sept. 9—Mobetie vs. Lefors, there. Sept. 16—Mobetie vs. Wheeler, tentative.

Sept. 23—Mobetie vs. Shamrock, tentative.

Oct. 21—Mobetie vs. McLean, there.

Spring Training Begins

Suits were issued Monday to the boys who plan to make up the football squad next year. If weather conditions do not prevent, spring training will be well under way by the end of the week.

THE FISH POND

The "fish" are doing very nicely in English. They have their term themes in, most of them have their poetry said, and they have started out good on oral reports. There are a few students giving 10 minute reports.

Maurita Dunn gave a very interesting report. The entire class seemed to enjoy it very much. Mary Ruth Bartram gave an interesting report, also, their subject was Women's Work in Japan.

The freshmen are very glad that six weeks tests are over again. They are always quite cheerful when these are over.

The "fish" wish the weather would clear up so that all could come to school. There have been a few students absent on account of bad weather the past week.

The freshmen like their home room teacher better each day.

Juniors Set April 5 for Class Play Date

25 Members to Try Out for Roles in Mystery Comedy

"The Blue Bug," junior play, will be presented April 5 at the gymnasium-auditorium.

Characters haven't as yet been decided, but those who will try out for the parts are Velma Hestlow, Helena Jones, Mary Ella Patterson, LaVerne Cox, Marion Smith, Scotty Risner, Claudia Pillers, Duard Parker, Marilyn Johnson, Raymond Smith, Geraldine Lewis, Jack Pitcock, Alvern Hampton, Norma Lou Maxwell, Johnnie Faye Templeton.

Helen Flynt, Helen Scott, J. B. Crowder, Gerald Robison, Lillie Myrle McClain, Caroline McBee, Herbert Green, Arlie Cole, Arnold Robertson and Earl Gilmore.

Seniors to Present Comedy March 22

Attention please! The date for the senior play has been decided. It is Tuesday, March 22.

This fast-moving comedy is full of action and romance, (yeh, man). The characters are Aubrey Warren, Irene Hunt, Ruth Faust, Amos Page, Mary Belle Johnson, R. J. Puckett, Lavell Jaco, Huffman Walker and Cecil Parker.

Proceeds of this play will help the seniors to make the Carlsbad trip. Everyone is invited, according to Miss Lois Kirby, sponsor.

CORRAL STAFF RECEIVES STATE HONOR CERTIFICATE

An all-Texas honor rating certificate won by the Corral in the state press contest last December was received by Miss Bernie Addison last week. The paper competed against all other Class B schools in the state publishing a four-page paper.

This certificate, which is now framed and hangs in the journalism room, has the words "The Corral" in old English lettering and bears the inscription "for superior accomplishment."

It was signed as approved by F. L. McDonald, director of the Department of Journalism at Texas State College for Women.

March Enters Like Tame Lamb—May Take Leave as Vicious, Roaring Lion

"If March comes in like a lamb it will go out like a lion," is another of those good old American beliefs which have been handed down from generation to generation.

The fateful time, that is, the first day of March, has made its entrance very calmly and unlike a lion in every respect, but whether or not there is any truth in the above statement in regard to the outcome of its mode of entrance is yet to be seen. Since March entered like a lamb,

5 Attend District Home Ec Meeting

Five home economics students attended the district club meeting at Groom Saturday.

The instructor, Mrs. Nina H. Young, took them in her car. Registration began at 10 o'clock and a fee of 25 cents was charged.

After group singing, the welcome address was given by Ruby Mae Buchanan, president of the Groom club. Dalton Ford, principal of the Groom high school, gave the opening address.

Introductions were then performed and followed with a reading by a Groom teacher and spring style notes by Sumnerwood. A song by two Groom homemakers was followed by the main address of the day on "Personality" by Kenneth Kendrick, principal of Groom high school. Before going to lunch in the homemaking room, a skit was presented by McLean.

Upon returning from lunch, the group had a business meeting. At this meeting it was decided to have regular meeting times. In April, Allison will be hostess, in October, Mobeetic and in January 1939, Lefors. It was also decided that all meetings should begin at 10 o'clock and end at 3 o'clock.

Lefors presented notes on the state rally, followed by a dramatization from Shumrock. Skits were then presented by Mobeetic and Allison. Two readings were given by Kelton. As the conclusion of the day's meeting, the group sang "Sing Your Way Home." Afterwards, refreshments were served in the homemaking room.

CIVICS STUDENTS WRITE NEGATIVE OF JURY DEBATE

that would signify, according to the old superstition, that it will make its exit like a lion—with very bad weather in store.

Of course, everyone is hoping for fair weather since the Interscholastic League meet is scheduled for this date. However, favorable weather would be very unusual for a league meet in this part of the country at least. No one would be very disappointed if his belief in this old saying were shattered.

P.-T. A. Tournament Proves Success

St. Patrick Day Featured in Decorations

"Every one seemed to have a good time and we made enough money to finish what the P.-T. A. owed on the piano," announced Miss Wmونا Adams finance chairman in charge of the game tournament Tuesday night. The program consisted of a vocal solo, "Mother McCrea," by Miss Lois Kirby; a violin solo "Where the River Shannon Flows," by Mal Wynne.

"There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" and "My Wild Irish Rose," sung by a quartet composed of Taft Holloway, W. C. Zirkle, Brigham Young and Gordon Phillips; and "My Wild Irish Rose," by Ethel Claire Roney, Irene Hunt, Johnnie Faye Templeton, Lula Barr and Imogene Jamison.

St. Patrick colors of green and white were carried out in table decorations and caps and aprons worn by the girls who served.

Guests at the 17 tables played bridge, rummy, "42" and sticks. Mrs. Stinson Cain won high score in bridge and Lloyd Davidson in "42."

JUNIORS MEET TO PLAN PARTY FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Members of the junior class met last Wednesday with their sponsor, Miss Imogene Holbert, and selected entrants for the Texas history current events contest. Those selected to represent them were Gerald Robison, Edgar Flynt and Earl Gilmore. Plans for a party to be held Friday night were formulated. A committee consisting of Helen Scott, Jerry Lewis, Johnnie Faye Templeton, Gerald Robison and Scotty Risner was appointed by Herbert Green, president.

There are 20 members of the class who are trying out for parts in the junior play, "The Blue Flag."

Six Weeks Tests Given Wednesday
Six weeks tests were given Wednesday after being postponed because of the snow. They were the first six weeks tests of the second semester.

Speech Students to Present Play

Lillie Myrle McClain Has Charge of Texas Independence Day Program

According to Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, instructor, the public speaking class will present a three-act play entitled "15th of January," probably March 15.

Each member of the class will have a part in this play as a part of his semester's work. The play is a college comedy and has characters.

Some time during the first two weeks of March a program on books in the library will be presented to the high school assembly by the public speaking class.

On Texas Independence Day, March 2, the following program was presented by members of the public speaking class. Lillie Myrle McClain was in charge of this program which included: a song, "Beautiful Texas," a discussion of Texas Independence Day by Huffman Walker; "I'm Going Down to Texas," a poem, by Minnie Lee Phillips.

Ray Holley presented a review of the battle of San Jacinto. Zolan Wilkins and James O'Gorman gave a sketch, "The Surrender of Santa Anna."

Three members of the junior and senior classes answered true and false questions concerning Texas. The program concluded with the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" by the group.

Pupils Make Project on Middle Ages

Miss Bernie Addison's history I classes, sections A and B, have completed projects started two weeks ago. The students of each class worked in three groups, each group being assigned one project.

Products of the two week's research are on exhibit in the high school library. They are two sets of dolls dressed in the fashion of a lady and a knight of the days of chivalry. The ladies wear long dresses, veils and crosses. The knights wear full armor and carry shields and wooden swords.

Charts showing the relationship between feudal classes are also on exhibit. They are illustrated by pictures of the different classes and their activities.

To one group was assigned the task of writing plays dramatizing the ceremonies of dubbing a knight and becoming a vassal. They were presented to the class last week.

THINK OF HELEN KELLER AND BE THANKFUL FOR EARS AND EYES

On March 3 a half century ago the barriers of night and silence were broken for Helen Keller by Anne Mansfield Sullivan. And so important a personage has she become that the American Foundation for the Blind has set aside 1938 as Helen Keller year and March 3 as Helen Keller day.

A dauntless will to overcome her handicaps prompted her to learn to speak and to compete with normal men and women and even to excel many of them.

Should our work suddenly be plunged into darkness, could we master life with such grim determination? Not if we continually pour out to the deaf heavens lamentations of our much brighter fate.

1938 will be well spent if in that time we learn to appreciate our vision by remembering one whose sightless state we can not understand.

DEFEAT IS NOT BITTER UNLESS YOU SWALLOW IT

This is the time of year to begin dreams and plans. With only a few weeks to go on this school term, students could start now to make better in their social and educational part of life.

"The early bird gets the worm," as many intelligent young folk have discovered. A Texas cowboy loves to ride along his favorite trails alone singing the old western ballads, but he never leaves his work unfinished just for pleasure. Many lessons have been learned from cowboys.

If the students of today were to take hold of the wheel of fortune and start it to whirling there would be higher educated, more ambitious and better equipped people for these modern times in America. What they need is more self-confidence and courage. But, if they never take it on themselves to turn their own head in that direction, three-fourths of the time they awake to find they are in the wrong place.

Many could take the handle bars of open opportunities and pedal down the path of success.

FASHION

ETHEL CLAIRE RANNEY has dressed up her old costume by adding a reverse curl on each side of her face—MISS HOLBERT is wearing a new locket today. Did you notice MARY BELLE JOHNSON'S black and white taffeta dress Monday? Nifty, oh what!

NEWS

W. J. FORD was home last week end and took BOBBY GROVES' back to Abilene with him for the week.

DRAMA

Sunday afternoon JOHNNIE FAYE TEMPLETON and EVERETT COLE had a "tortoise race." It is a new fashion of seeing who can drive the slowest.

SONG

A tune suggesting a temporary parting with added bit of affection—"Good Night, Angel."

CRIME

Those of us who possess pink pants (trud faces) were rather at a disadvantage when MR. GILMORE suggested that people who stole demerits usually showed guilty faces by blushing.

NONSENSE

HARRY GARRISON said that he would soon have his picture in a magazine. All excited, I asked him which one—He replied—"Oh, a freak magazine, and underneath it will read a strange animal; it eats, it sleeps, it talks just like a human being."

RECIPES

ALTON WEEKS gives us an improved version of how to make delicious snow ice cream. It's really quite worth your money to learn how ALTON says "Be sure to whip your cream until it is stiff, adding your snow gradually, etc."

BUSINESS

Speaking of "big business" SCOTTY RISNER says he has had at least 25 different fountain pens since school started.

TRANSPORTATION

That (transportation) is what about 10 Wheeler boys didn't have when they took a sudden yearning to visit Shamrock Sunday afternoon, P.S. They used the air route.

WAR

The teachers are still marking up victories while the students are left in the bay (of demerits). A war on another front is that between the S.S. and S.P. writers.

CRUSH

It can be a bar of candy or that secret yearning JACK PITCOCK feels towards BRITTS' RANCH.

Imagine! SILVA LOUISE FICKE not having "an ear for news"? DORLA JEAN WALLACE not spilling ink all day long? CAROLINE MBBEE not wearing something that is colored red? HANSEL PARKER not being the "apple" of several girls' eyes? HUFMAN MALKER not talking in the study hall? INEZ HUNTER wearing anklets.

Pardon me, WHEELER, but did you say notes? I just received one from . . . Well, I won't tell you, nor will I tell you the poor girls name. It read:

— has SCOTTY RISNER'S bracelet, R. J. PUCKETT'S silk hankie, and HARRY GARRISON'S ring. She goes with BARE ROBINSON, and to top it all, she likes EARL GILMORE."

THELMA MILAM says DOROTHY MILLS has ELYA BELLE CROUCH eating out of her hand. (Who knows something she doesn't want told?)

There is a saying that nothing is that has not been before. This must be true because braids are beginning to appear on the campus.

Taking down my crystal ball, I see great things in the future. Two girls are walking into different places. They are dressed in white with black caps. (Must be nurses).

The pretty one is MARION SMITH. The other, I don't know.

I see a president coming out of our school group. Maybe not the United States president. See, it's STINA CAIN. (Don't you see, I mean that he is going to be the president of his household. Did you say maybe? Well, didn't MR. GILMORE say that the women were going to rule the world?)

"Right this way, folks, right this way! See the greatest 'wild tale' tellers alive." (LOIS BRADSTREET and BERNICE WILLIAMS).

With the Exes

Mrs. Peggy (Page) Pevey was another member of the class of '30. Peggy played basketball in '28, '29 and '30. She was a member of the Home Economics club and pep squad. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pevey are now at home in Woodson, Texas.

Sam Begert was another member with the class of '30. He played football in the year of '29. He now lives in Allison.

Mrs. Hazel (Tolliver) Yates also was a member of the class of '30. She was a member of the Home Economics club and the pep squad. Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Yates now live in Berkeley, California.

Conley Cornelius is married and is now working at the Baker hotel in Mineral Wells. Conley was another member who graduated with the class of '30.

Ross Scott ran track in '30. He was a member of the debate team also. Ross is now going to school in Dallas and is planning to be a lawyer. He was a graduate in the class of '30.

Mrs. Elizabeth (Taylor) Smith also was a graduate with the class of '30. She was a member of the Home Economics club and pep squad. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith now live near Wheeler.

Wallace Pendleton has returned home from Clovis, N. Mex., where he has been looking for a job and visiting his brother, Ray. Wallace was a graduate with the class of '37.

W. J. Ford, who is a student at Abilene, was home to visit his parents and friends over the week end. He graduated with the class of '37. Bobby Groves went back with him to stay a week.

We heard that Helen June George, '37, had a birthday last Monday, Feb. 28. She celebrated her 18th birthday.

Child Care is Theme of Home Ec Meeting

Meeting at the activity period Thursday morning in the home economics cottage, the Home Economics club discussed the care of small children.

Members of the home economics II class were in charge of the program. The president, Claudia Stinson, called the house to order, presided over the business meeting and announced the program.

The following program was given: "What the World Would Be Without Babies," Elizabeth Bales; "Care in the Purchase of Underclothes for Children," Lesode Revison; "Nursery Floor Coverings," Inez Hunter.

"How the Back Yard Can Save Children," Viola Lamb; "Saving Accounts for Children," Ethel Clark Ramey, and "A Child's Party," Cleo Sewell.

After the program, Francis Noah and Fredley Gaines displayed children's play garments they made that class and pointed out the good and bad points of each. Plans were also discussed for the club to attend the district home economics club meeting at Groom. At the next meeting the home economics III girls will be in charge.

Manual Training Boys Complete Term Projects

Articles of furniture ranging all the way from a medicine cabinet to a portable desk have been finished by the manual training boys. W. T. Boech, instructor, says the class will start on second semester projects soon.

Seven students made tables. They were Douglas Jones, John Wright, Arthur Eisner, Charles B. Sandifer, Cecil Parker, Carol Adams and Maurice Barnes.

Other things made were a portable desk, Howard Nations; wall racks, W. E. Pennington, Alton Nations and John F. Ivy; radio stand and magazine rack combined, Edwin Roberts; magazine rack and kitchen stool, medicine cabinet, Millard Braxton.

ADDITION SUBMITS DATA TO UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

Miss Bernice Addison, Corral sponsor, submitted data Monday to the University of Missouri for the eighth edition of the alumni directory of the journalism school.

The directory, which will list activities of the 400 graduates since 1934, will contain information as to their present position and articles published. Miss Addison had four articles and one poem published since graduation in 1935.

SMALL SCOUTS DISCUSS AMERICAN GIRL AT MEETING

Miss Imogene Holbert, leader, met with the grammar girl Scouts Tuesday in the Wiley building.

During the meeting, the time was spent reading the "American Girl" official girl Scout magazine. The high school troop did not meet this week but they helped the lower group sell tickets for the P.-T. A. tournament.

They received half of the proceeds taken in from selling tickets.

After being in the study hall a period Earl Gilmore said, "time should be dead by now." I started killing it 45 minutes ago."

Smart, Young Freshman Named "Young" is Youngest in Wheeler High School

What a coincidence! The youngest girl and also the youngest student in High school is named Young. She is 12 years old.

This honor, or whatever you wish to call it, is bestowed upon Jewel Young a freshman. She was born Aug. 17, 1925, in Wetumka, Oklahoma. Weighing approximately 74 pounds, this small girl is 4 feet, 9 1/2 inches tall.

Jewel started school at Magic City in a building called Carpenter school. As she said with a merry twinkle in her brown eyes, "It is on a hill."

In her first year at school she made the primary, first and second grades. She will be 15 when she graduates if "her foot doesn't slip." Before starting to school she had learned her ABC's, could count to 100 and knew how to print her own name.

Her average when she graduated from the seventh grade was an A minus. She would have been salutatorian, but school authorities decided not to have one last year at Magic City.

It seems that she enjoys tennis best of all sports. The baseball team on which she played last year tied for third at county.

Last year Jewel won first on her essay in Wheeler county and in 1935 she won second at county in spelling. She entered choral singing last year and her team took third.

A trip to College Station was won by Jewel last year, but she was unable to go because of the infantile paralysis there. She has had two years of 4-H work, but isn't taking it now. This is her first year as member of the Spanish club.

Joan Crawford is her favorite movie star. She often is seen wearing blue, which is her best-liked color. Chicken is her choice of delicious food.

Her hobby is reading. She reads more fiction than any other type of novels. Dorothy Canfield and Louisa M. Alcott are the authors of her choice. An "Old Fashioned Girl" written by Mrs. Moode is her favorite book.

When asked if she is petted at home, she replied, "No." She further explained that she had three younger sisters and no brothers, which of course makes her the oldest child.

She made the A and B honor roll twice the first semester, which is good for a student so young. On the mid-term examinations she was exempt on all subjects except algebra, and she put her department on this.

Last summer on her vacation trip she visited New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma.

This youngest member of the students of Wheeler high school was undecided as to whether English or Spanish is her favorite subject.

After finishing high school, she plans to attend W. T. S. C. at Canyon. Her ambition is to be an air hostess. Let us wish her success in the future.

Remainder of Grade Entries Announced

Grammar grade teachers in charge of the various Interscholastic League entries announce some extra entries and when the eliminations for the various contests will be.

Mrs. Allen I. Smith who has charge of essay and spelling says that she will have the elimination in essay about the middle of March. There have been no others entered.

For those coming out in spelling Mrs. Smith says she will have eliminations about over 10 days until they are all eliminated but three.

Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, instructor in declamation, announces that Lois Staley and Louise Tillman have decided to enter in declamation. Mrs. Davidson plans to have eliminations about the middle of March, also.

Picture memory seems to be very popular among the students in the grammar grades. Although there have been no more added to the list, Mrs. G. O. McCrotan stated that picture memory eliminations were held Tuesday. Winners will be announced next week.

Mrs. John Hood and Mrs. C. C. Crowder are in charge of story telling. They are also planning to have the eliminations about the middle of March.

TEACHERS MAY ORGANIZE PANHANDLE NEWS SERVICE

Hurray! We may have a chance at a news service. The journalism teachers will meet at Canyon during the March 18 meeting of Panhandle teachers.

During this meeting, the teachers will discuss their problems and a Panhandle news service may be organized, allowing all school papers a "first hand" chance at the news of their schools.

Home Ec Class Arranges Flowers

As a means of learning how to arrange flowers correctly and artistically, the home economics I class had a lesson last week on the arrangement of flowers. Mrs. Nina H. Young, instructor, purchased the flowers of a Shamarok florist.

After each member of the class had arranged the group of flowers in vases they considered appropriate, their choice was judged by the class. Criticisms were made, and the faults in arrangements and choice of vases were corrected.

After this, the vases of flowers were placed in appropriate positions about the home economics cottage. Bouquets were presented to several high school teachers.

Approximately 15 vases were arranged. Flowers used were: sweet peas, snapdragons, calendulas and lace fern. Some of the flowers were donated by the Shamarok florist.

After the discussion, rules were made by the class as how to obtain the most beautiful effect by the arrangement and placing of flowers.

BULLDOGS GROWL NOW APPEARS IN DAILY PAPER

The Bulldogs Growl, Borger school paper, now appears in the daily paper.

This publication, which had been supported by advertising and put out separately by the school, is now published every Monday in the Borger Daily Herald.

It consists of one page similar to that put out by Pampa and Canyon high schools.

Fights with Canadian Slated for Tuesday

Varlin Massey to Top List of Cowtown Pugilists; 12 Fights Matched

Canadian's leather-pushing Wildcats will battle the Mustangs here Tuesday night, March 8.

The boys have improved very much since they fought at Shamrock, and fight fans can be assured of plenty of action, states Coach Stina Cain.

Representing Wheeler will be Homer Jones, plucky lightweight. Fighters who also looked promising are Clifford Young, Buford Emler, R. B. Stephens, H. V. Compton.

Canadian will bring 11 or 12 fighters, all of whom probably will have opponents. Varlin Massey, popular 148 pound fighter who fought his way to the finals in the Pampa gloves tournament, will enter. His opponent has not been named.

These are preliminary fights leading to an invitation tournament to be held at Wheeler, April 8.

We intend to make this one of the best high school boxing tournaments ever held, announced Coach Cain.

Basketball Girls Win Three Trophies

Six Players Attend All Games Matched This Season

All of the girls who took part in basketball this season are proud of the trophies they added to the case, according to Mary Belle Johnston, captain. They brought home three beautiful awards for the school collection.

Six of the girls attended all of the games. They are Margie Bowers, Mary Belle Johnston, Jerry Lewis, Norma Lou Maxwell, Elsie Weeks and Lois Ficke. Three of them, Mary Belle, Norma Lou and Jerry, started every game.

Taking the lead as high point player, Margie made a total of over 100 points for the year.

The girls won second place in the Wheeler tourney, third place at Mobeetie and third at Miami.

The players did not bring home a trophy from the Shamrock tournament, but Johnston and Jaco were awarded medals.

Among the girls who lettered are Margie Bowers, Mary Belle Johnston, Alvern Hampton, Jerry Lewis, Norma Lou Maxwell, Lovell Jaco.

BRITON HONORS FRIEND WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Meta Bruton entertained a group of students in her home last Monday night. The occasion was the eighteenth birthday of Helen June George, graduate of last year.

Guests played table games, such as Flinch, Bingo, dominoes, 42 and checkers. Cake and cocoa was served as refreshments.

Students present were Helen June George, Elva Bell Crouch, Buford Emler, Hubert Johnson, Raymond Smith, Leo McDonald, Faye Webb, Marion Smith, Jack Williams and Joe D. and Meta Bruton.

Spring Grid Training Starts Tuesday

Spring grid training started last Tuesday when Coach Stina Cain issued suits to the guards.

The guards were the only ones called this week, because the coaches wanted to build some good players out of the inexperienced men who are coming out for the first time. Other members of the team will be called later.

Coaches Divide 3B Grid Conference

Mobeetie, Letors, Shamrock, McLean are District Foes of Mustangs Next Year

The Wheeler Mustangs will play only four conference games next season, because coaches and superintendent agreed last Thursday night to divide district 3B into two sections. Winners of the northern half will play the winner of the southern half to determine the conference championship.

On September 16 they will meet Mobeetie in the season opener for conference play. After an open date on Sept. 21 they will play Letors in the following Friday. The famed Irish will be the foe on Oct. 14. McLean will be the last conference opponents on Armistice day.

This division leaves Wellington, Clarendon, Memphis and Lakeview in the southern half.

13 Volleyball Girls Report for Practice

Wheeler volleyball girls began workout with four first string players back from last year's squad. The girls are Crouch, Johnston, Bowers and Derryberry. A new volleyball and a new net were purchased by Coach Stina Cain.

Thirteen girls reported for a regular workout Monday at activity period. The girls will work out every day during the week. Girls reporting for practice were Crouch, Derryberry, Bowers, Johnson, Smith, Johnston, Carter, Patterson, Weeks, Wallace, Milum, Jones, Mills and Williams.

The Wheeler girls won the county last year but failed to place at the district.

FORMER STUDENT HELPS PUBLISH SCHOOL PAPER

Mrs. Ray Gwyn (formerly Faye Ficke) sent a copy of a small four-page paper which she and her husband publish, to Miss Bernie Addison recently.

This publication is distributed free of charge in the home town of Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn at Midland, Texas, where they own a job printing shop.

Two articles in the paper appeared to be written by Faye, who was Corral editor in her senior year. One was about spring days reminiscent of childhood in Missouri and the other was a tribute to O. O. McIntyre.

"Killer" Compton Wins First Fight

Clifford Young Gains Decision over King—Four End in Draw

"Killer" Compton, 174 pounder from Wheeler with dynamite in each fist, slugged an easy victory over Burcham in his first start as an amateur boxer in the local ring last Friday night. Clifford Young won a decision over F. H. King of Shamrock for the only other victory conceded the Wheeler boxing team.

Youngsters Settle Grudge
"Little" Weeks and Junior Brewer, both of Wheeler, fought the first fight. They were put in the ring because of a grudge that they could not settle successfully otherwise.

Hooker again led the bouts against Shamrock by losing his second fight of the season to Coleman of Shamrock. Pendleton and Reid fought to a draw in the second bout.

Kenneth Young, displaying a hefty right, lost by a decision to O'Gorman of Shamrock.

Alton Nations, fighting in the 100-pound class, lost by a close margin to Staggus of Shamrock. Clifford Young won over King in the next matchup.

Jones Shows Great Promise
Homer Jones, a lightweight, showed great promise in fighting to a draw Byers of Shamrock. The judges' assent went the wrong way in some of the fans' opinions.

Emler made his first start in the fistie ring by battling to a draw with Burton of Shamrock.

In the last fight Compton practically slaughtered Burcham of Shamrock. Killer Compton had him wavering at times in the last round but with his terrible blows landing on the Shamrock lad's face Compton seemed to hold him up. Arthur Reid was not fighting because of a broken nose.

FRESHMEN HAVE PARTY IN AGRICULTURE BUILDING

Last Friday night the freshmen were entertained with a party held in the agriculture building.

Elsie Weeks, Carrol Adams and Jake Trout were in charge of the games played.

About 20 freshmen were present.

Eleven Pupils Take Tapping from Daniels

Everybody has gone professional. There are 11 students and one teacher taking tapping from Mrs. Otie Daniels from Shamrock.

Students in her classes are Lois Sandifer, Dolores Watson, Bonnie Waters, Lewis Craig, S. D. Miller, Mary Joe Ivy, Dorothy Watson, Presley Guynes and Iris Brune. The one teacher is Miss Wilona Adams.

Mrs. Daniels has attended the Fanchon and Marco Tapping school at Hollywood, Calif., and has danced with Ina Morris of Amarillo. Students in her classes at Wheeler, Shamrock and Wellington total 60 enrolled. Mrs. Daniels plans to present a program at Wheeler in June.

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

What do you think of the division of District 3B? All teams north of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad will now play in the conference and all of the teams south of the railroad will play in that conference. The winner of each section will meet to determine the district championship.

Spring grid training started Tuesday afternoon for the guards.

Compton showed great promise as a boxer in his first fight in the local gymnasium last Friday night.

All of these preliminary fights and dual meets are being held in preparation for a boxing tourney to be held in the local gym on April 8.

Coach Stina Cain stated that he hopes to make it one of the best boxing tourneys held in this section of the country this year.

The Allison girls have been showing some classy basketball for the past week in the local gymnasium. They took McLean girls 23-15 Monday night.

Homer Jones, plucky lightweight, is likely to be a little rough with the leather this season. He showed that he could take and give last Friday night.
