County Council 4-H Girls is Organized

Extension Service State Agent Directs Procedure at Meeting Saturday Afternoon

Under direction of Miss Onah Jacks, College Station extension service state agent for 4-H girls clubs, a Wheeler County 4-H Girls Council was organized at a meeting here Saturday afternoon in the district court room. Approximately 75 4-H girls and club sponsors were present for the meeting, which opened at 2:30 p. m.

Officers elected for the new organization, first of its kind ever established in the county, are: Miss Dora Goodnight, Mobeetie, chairman; Miss Marion Crowder, Wheeler, vice chairman, and Miss Mary Ellen O'Neill, Magic City, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Jacks outlined the three fundamental objectives of a 4-H club which are: to build leadership, to carry on the business of the clubs and to establish co-operation between girls' and women's clubs.

The council will meet regularly on the third Saturday of each month in the court house here. The body will consist of the president and one elected delegate from each club, which will make 28 members in all.

The council is also expected to further stimulate interest in and coordinate the work of the 14 girls' 4-H clubs of the county.

Commenting on the new group, Miss Rose Erisman, assistant home demonstration agent, said: "I am confident the formation of a council will mean much to the future of club work. The girls all felt highly honored to have Miss Jacks as their guest-supervisor at this organization meeting." Miss Erisman is directly in charge of girls work.

Following the business meeting, the young club members complimented Miss Jacks with a tea. Members of the County Home Demonstration council were invited guests.

Monthly Legion Meet Occurs Next Tuesday

Palo Duro Post, Canyon, Planning Big Program for Membership of 18th District

Another of the monthly meetings for the 18th District of the American Legion will be held next Tuesday evening, Oct. 25, beginning at 7:30 with the Palo Duro Post No. 97 of Canyon as host. This is according to announcement by Charlie Maisel of Pampa, 18th district commander of the American Legion.

These meetings are held each month and all members of the American Legion throughout the district are urged to attend. The last meeting was held at Tulia, with over 200 present.

The Canyon Post is planning one of the best meetings that has ever been held within the district next Tuesday night. Program features include a final report on the Veteran's Hospital to be built in Amarillo. Lou Roberts, past district commander and present district membership chairman, is to present completed plans for the mammoth American Legion membership drive which will be carried on during American Legion week, Nov. 4 to 13, inclusive.

An outline of the program for a two-day district convention at Borger on Nov. 19 and 20 will be given by the convention committee.

An important part of the Canyon program will be a big feed, music by the Canyon American Legion band and numerous other forms of entertainment.

An auxiliary meeting, presided over by Mrs. John Dever, 18th District Auxiliary president of Memphis, will also be held in Canyon at the same time as the Legion get-together.

Chester Lewis, commander of the Wheeler post, states that an effort will be made to send a good delegation of ex-service men to the Canyon meet, and requests any who might be interested in going to contact him at the earliest opportunity. He also mentions—in connection with the annual membership drive—that all who pay their dues on or before Nov. 11 will be presented with an American Legion souvenir half dollar by the organization's state department.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Merriman and daughter, Miss Florence, and Miss Lois Hodges motored Sunday to Pampa where Mr. Merriman gave a fiddle program over KPDN. They were all dinner guests of the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Turner, and daughter, Joyce.

Williams Places Two Groups Fine Heifers

W. L. Williams, breeder of purebred Hereford cattle at his ranch 2½ miles southwest of town, reports recent sales of two groups of choice linebred heifers.

One lot of three promising young females was purchased the last of the week by W. L. Vickrey of Apache, Okla. Delivery of them was made yesterday by Williams.

Glen Porter, local stockman, was the other purchaser of Williams Herefords. This week he selected six heifers to constitute foundation stock for a herd of better quality cattle he plans to build up. Early transfer of these animals, also, will be made.

Local Baptist Young Folk Highly Honored

Taft Holloway and Miss Orveta Puett Named Delegates to B. S. U. Conference

Two Wheeler Baptist young people, Miss Orveta Puett and Taft Holloway, pastor of the local church, have recently been accorded distinctive honors by that denomination. At a meeting of the Baptist Student Union in Canyon, where Miss Puett and Holloway are students in West Texas State college, they were elected delegates to the All-Southern Baptist Students conference at Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 27-30.

The conference convenes quadrennially, hence a four-year college student has only one opportunity to attend during their time in school. Each of the Wheeler young people are in their first year at Canyon. Thus, their selection implies acknowledgement of worthiness.

Holloway, pastor of the Wheeler Baptist church for the past three years, asked and received approval of his congregation to seek further educational advancement by enrolling at W. T. S. C., which he did when the fall term opened last month. He drives to his charge here following the last class period each Saturday, remaining to deliver the Sunday night's discourse, after which he returns to the Randall county school town.

Since Holloway will be away on the fifth Sunday in this month, members of the Baptist Student Union from Canyon will be in charge of services at the local church.

MOBEETIE METHODISTS TO SPONSOR PROGRAM-DINNER

Announcement has just been made that the Mobeetie M. E. church will sponsor a program and dinner in the home of H. E. Matthews at Jowett on Tuesday evening, Nov. 8. Plates will be 50 cents.

Principal object of the affair is an effort to raise funds for the purpose of refinishing church furniture and to redecorate the building's interior.

GLANCING CASUALLY INTO THE TIMES WINDOW

Entries during the past week in The Times window have run to the staple and substantial in variety and excellent to super-excellent in quality.

Among the top-notchers are two items brought in by W. O. Miller. One is a globe-shaped Bermuda onion measuring 14 inches in circumference, and the other is several ears of better than average yellow Dent field corn.

Mrs. T. M. Bradstreet today sent in a Porto Rico yam weighing 7 3/4 pounds. Sound and symmetrical, this tuber offers the foundation for a dish fit for any man.

John Henry Watts, to redeem himself for the freak carrot of a week or so ago, presented the office with a bunch of fine large carrots. One was reserved for the window and the others proved crisp and tender when served on the editor's table.

Strictly a freak and quite unusual was the contribution today by B. D. Cox. While digging his sweet potatoes he found a cluster of five or six medium to small potatoes grown into and through a loop of heavy wire. Bound closely together near their tops, the tubers had filled the ring or loop full—wedging themselves tightly in during their growth.

To Darrell and Darville Atherton, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Atherton of the Briscoe community, goes special mention because of the splendid samples of small grain brought to this office. Darrell selected and sent 60-day maize and Texas black-hull kafir, and Darville entered 90-day kafir. Both boys are 4-H club members and with these exhibits as samples of their work, the older "boys" will have to hustle to equal their achievements.

Mustangs Defeated in Shamrock Tilt Friday

Hard-Fought Grid Battle Results in Score of 19-6 for the Fighting Irishmen

By AUBREY WARREN
The Wheeler Mustangs were jostled from their precarious perch on the top rung of the conference ladder by the Shamrock Irish eleven, who administered a stinging 19-6 defeat Friday night on the Shamrock gridiron.

Despite the fact that the Mustangs gained more yards on the ground than their opponents, the score was the other way. Wheeler gained 255 yards rushing and lost three, while Shamrock rang up a total gain of 227 yards with a loss of 12. The Mustangs attempted six passes; three being intercepted, the others falling incomplete. The Irish tried six, with none intercepted and one completed for a touchdown.

The game was a thriller from start to finish, regardless of the final 13-point difference in score.

The Mustangs received and after three jabs at the line lost the ball on a fumble, Shamrock recovering on the 43-yard marker. A few plays later they plunged over, with Allen carrying the ball. R. C. Hale, former Mustang, who does nothing but place kick for extra point, failed to convert.

The Mustangs took the kickoff. Emler, with one foot on the goal line, caught the ball and by dint of shifty running and smart sidestepping, returned it 60 yards to the Irish 40. Two first downs in rapid succession put it on the 30, from where Compton, husky Mustang blocking back, bucked the line for a goal. Compton just lowered his head, dug in his cleats and charged the opposition, emerging in the secondary with three tacklers hanging onto him. These he shook off, and then sidestepped a defensive half-back on his scoring march. Acting Captain Green failed to convert from placement.

Allen broke through the Mustang line for the second Irish score in the second quarter. Hale's educated toe delivered the extra point.

Late in the fourth period that vaulted Irish passing play was introduced for the only time during the game, when a long heave from Sutterfield to Allen resulted in another touchdown. Hale's kick for point went wide.

Game ended with the ball in the Mustangs' possession.

Starting line-ups were:
Wheeler—Ends, Weeks and Pitcock; tackles, Pillers and Wright; guards, Green and Noah; center, Stephens; quarterback, Groves; halfbacks, Hall and Compton; fullback, Emler.

Shamrock—Ends, Fox and Wilson; tackles, Burcham and Burton; guards, Bills and Purcell; center, George; quarterback, Allen; halfbacks, Byers and Dorman; fullback, Sutterfield.

BLUES TO FURNISH PROGRAM FOR DOWNTOWN BIBLE CLASS

Thrown for a loss by the Reds in last Sunday's attendance contest of the Downtown Bible class, the Blue-side is preparing to offer a special program beginning at 9 sharp next Sunday morning. This is the report of Raymon Holt, sponsor of the idea that is bringing together each Sunday morning a representative group of local men and young men, some of whom do not often find their way to regular Sunday school in any of the churches.

With a very fair attendance on both sides in the current contest, Captain L. S. Ivy of the Red brigade, rallied the greater number at roll call, thus shifting the task of presenting a program Sunday onto the broad shoulders of Capt. W. J. Murdaugh and his Blue cohorts.

Briscoe School Gets Crop Harvest Recess

With the conclusion of its week's work last Friday afternoon, the Briscoe school dismissed for approximately a month's crop harvest recess, was the announcement made by B. S. W. Jones, superintendent, during a brief call at this office Saturday.

This "vacation" period, a more or less regular annual custom, is for the purpose of allowing pupils an opportunity (without absence demerits) to assist with cotton picking and gathering of other field crops before inclement weather of late autumn and early winter arrives.

Mrs. G. B. Cole of San Diego, Calif., left today for home via Springfield, Colo., where she will visit her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bun Cole, for a few days.

Curtis Douglas Gets Temporary Judgeship

Allred Appoints Panhandle Man to Fill Pickens' Place Until November Election

Curtis Douglas, prominent attorney of Panhandle, Texas, has been appointed as judge of the 89th Judicial District to succeed E. J. Pickens, Canadian, who died last week. Douglas will serve until a new judge is elected.

CURTIS DOUGLAS

lected at the general election to be held in November. The November elected judge will serve out the unexpired term of Judge Pickens, which would have expired on Dec. 31, 1940.

Three attorneys of the 84th district have received recognition as possible candidates in the November election. They are Jack R. Allen of Perryton; Joseph Aynesworth, Borger, and W. L. McConnell, Panhandle, present district attorney of the 84th district. McConnell was nominated for another term at the Democratic primary in July. In naming Douglas as judge, Governor James V. Allred announced that he selected him because he had not been mentioned as a possible candidate and that Douglas had assured the governor that under no circumstances would he allow his name to be placed upon or written on the ballot for election to the place.

Aynesworth of Borger is an avowed candidate for the vacancy. He was in Perryton Wednesday in the interests of his race, reports the Ochiltree County Herald which further declares that Governor Allred's office was swamped with telegrams from every county in the district and from many other points in the Panhandle urging that he appoint Jack R. Allen of Perryton as district judge.

Allen is well qualified for this position and he would make a very able and impartial judge, going into office with no entangling alliances or obligations to special groups or cliques, says the Perryton paper. District Attorney McConnell has not made an announcement but it is understood that he will be a candidate.

SIDELIGHTS

Hon. Marvin Jones

Chairman House Committee on Agriculture

In the current discussions of the farm bill many of the most desirable features have been overlooked. Some people have thoughtlessly urged that the measure be repealed. They overlook some very worthwhile features of the bill which I do not believe any thinking person would want repealed. Among these are the following:

1. The freight rate provision, which authorizes the secretary of agriculture to file applications to correct the rank discriminations against agricultural products in the freight rate structure of the country. This has been one of the greatest burdens agriculture has suffered. I do not believe any thinking person actually interested in the success of the American farm would want this provision repealed.

2. The research provision, which provides for the establishment of laboratories in the different sections of the country and for the search for new markets, new outlets and new forms of distribution for the various farm products that are produced. Surely no one wants this desirable feature repealed.

3. The export provision, which provides for 30% of the tariff collections to be devoted to exporting farm commodities and to distributing these commodities and their products

Groom Gridders Meet Locals Friday Night

Football fans of Wheeler and vicinity will have the opportunity tomorrow (Friday) night to see the Mustangs again cavort in their own corral when the Groom eleven meets them in a non-conference game, starting at 8 o'clock.

Not much information is available concerning the visitors' strength. It could prove to be just another football game and yet it might turn out to be something else.

Every follower of the sport and supporter of the Wheeler Mustangs can best play safe by being on hand for this contest, which is probably the last of the current season, except the conference battle against McLean here Nov. 11.

Good Progress Made on City Water Well

With Analysis and Sufficient Water Practically Certain, Development is Proceeding

Construction progress on the water well that is expected to supply Wheeler's new water works and sewer system is proceeding nicely as it nears completion, which is expected some time this week.

Analysis on tests sent in to the state laboratory are said to be satisfactory.

An indication of the amount of water that may be expected from the well is found in an unofficial test of an adjacent well put down by the contractor to supply water for construction purposes on the permanent well. According to Truman Watson, engineer with the North Plains Engineering Co., representing the City of Wheeler on the project, this auxiliary or temporary well furnished 90 gallons per minute in a recent test. The hole was incomplete, only having the pipe set in the water bearing level and without any special preparation whatever. It is 90 feet in depth.

Since specifications for the permanent well require a minimum of 100 gallons per minute production, it is quite evident that when completed with gravel walls and other prescribed requirements, there is no doubt as to an ample supply.

Watson states that upon completion and acceptance of the well, affording necessary data, further plans and specifications for the major phases of the project can be prepared and operations start soon thereafter.

Methodist Youth Program

Childhood and youth week was observed Wednesday evening in the assembly room at the Methodist church when several officials and Sunday school teachers gave a program and social.

Rev. E. C. Raney and Dr. H. E. Nicholson gave talks on youth and Mrs. H. M. Wiley read a paper on Modern Youth and religious living. Mrs. C. J. Meek and Mrs. H. M. Wiley served dainty refreshments.

More Subsidy Cash Arrives Past Week

Three Lots Coming in Since Last Thursday Aggregate More Than $25,000.00

Receipt of three more lots of cotton subsidy payment checks since Thursday of last week was announced by the county agent's office today. Date of arrival, number of individual checks and amount of money represented follows:

Oct. 13—64 checks, $10,218.88.
Oct. 14—44 checks, $7,407.28.
Oct. 15—73 checks, $7,735.44.

These consignments, combined with arrivals of Oct. 7 and 8, previously mentioned in this paper, give a combined aggregate of 1,435 checks representing a grand total of $201,910.44. These figures were supplied by B. A. Zorns, Wheeler County Administrative assistant in the office of Jake Tarter, county agent.

Also according to Zorns, the foregoing total equals approximately 70 per cent of the whole amount coming to Wheeler county from subsidy payment sources. Or, in other words, there yet remains outstanding about 30 per cent, portions if not all of which is expected at most any time.

Those directly benefiting in particular, as well as business in general, appreciate the timeliness of this money's arrival. Right now, when tax payments are due and will shortly become pressing, when approach of cold weather requires additional expenditures for clothing and food, the beneficiaries will find plenty of outlets for their cash.

Again, at this time, when curtailed crops—either from government practices or unfavorable weather conditions—combined with extremely low prices even where a market exists at all, has brought retarded business activities, influx of a large amount of cash is of great benefit.

However, a general upturn in local business is noticeable, dating from early in the month when first arrivals of checks began to reach the county.

Sudden Change Gives Winter Weather Hint

Wind Veers to North Tuesday Night and Brings Sharp Blast—No Frost Yet

Following several weeks of unseasonably warm weather, at times approaching mid-summer heat records, a sudden change Tuesday night brought sharply lowered temperatures and a hint of what the region may expect within the next few weeks. Cloudy conditions and chilly winds prevailed throughout Wednesday and part of the night, sufficiently unsettled to prevent frost which had been forecast in light showings for this locality.

During Wednesday slight precipitation occurred in the Panhandle, rain fell in Wheeler, while sleet was reported a short distance southeast of here, and flakes of snow are reported at Pampa.

Today, Thursday, has been fair with somewhat milder temperature. However, light frost in low places is the weather bureau forecast.

For purpose of comparison and to refresh the minds of those who may be interested in the matter of weather conditions about this time last year, files of the paper were examined.

It is revealed that traces of frost on Oct. 18, 1937, was reported by several different persons. Little if any damage resulted to vegetation.

On Nov. 15 of that year, a "norther" swooped down on the Panhandle, bringing heavy frosts and killing freeze. A minimum of 19 was recorded at Pampa; Lubbock and Plainview had 24-degree weather and freezing temperatures prevailed at Vernon, Wichita Falls and other points in that portion of the state.

One sharp difference between this year and last is in the amount of moisture received after the hot period of July and August. Much more rain fell last fall than this, which spurred growth of crops right through to frost time. Now, and for some time past, crops in much of the county have dried up, cutting production noticeably. Late cotton, especially, has suffered.

With the exception of a brief rainy spell along in September, no moisture has relieved the drouthy condition following an excessively hot, although late mid-summer period of three of four weeks when crop growth suffered extensively.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bentley and children of Canadian spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wright and children.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES

There has been a persistent rumor that Congressman Marvin Jones would be tendered a lucrative federal appointment, probably a Federal judgeship, and that he would resign the seat and accept. Nobody could blame Marvin for accepting such "special security" in the face of political turmoils always present to one who has had high office for a long period, and a more recent addition to it to make just after the new congress is under way and before 1939 is in sight.

Conclusive rumors have it that a number of prominent men over the Panhandle will be candidates for the vacant seat in congress, and much speculation is going the rounds as to who will not act as to the relative chances of this and that person in a two-week-end special election, where a run-off is required, where planning will win or without a majority.

T. E. Whitman discussed the situation this week at an editorial in the Amarillo Times under the heading of "The Morning Question." John-son says:

The favorite has some league vote of confidence among Panhandle editors but now in the probable majority is out of the race. The next few months based on the general assumption that Marvin Jones is to receive a high federal appointment.

There are as many opinions among the politicians as to what choice candidate as there are political candidates themselves—and the fact is daily getting bigger.

Ed Bishop of the Dallas Texas Seven John McCarty of Amarillo and those of the suggestion to Curtis Douglas of Panhandle that he should wait until 1940 and take the state senator's job as a partner. Dave Warren over at Panhandle, however, can't agree with Bishop, declaring that McCarty if he had political ambitions should be bigger better when he returned to Amarillo from Dallas. Had he stayed out in the brush he would have had far more opportunity for political preferment.

Amarillo will have the many good men in the race. Says Warren, for McCarty to be the high man. As president of the Panhandle Water Conservation group he has needed to get a law for each of the 28 counties and it doesn't look like he can do it by next summer.

The East Panhandle press generally is launching a campaign in behalf of Lenora Wells, editor of the Wellington Leader, a man who will give any other candidate a race for first place.

Amarillo is expected to have two or more candidates—James G. Cade, who opposed Jones in the recent primary and Mayor Tom Rogers—but it is evident from the stage of the game that there are various counties other than Potter which will offer favorite sons, and back them as well.

While it is a little early for alignments and commitments. The news must keep from looking with favor on the potential candidacy of Hon. Lenora Wells, editor of the Wellington Leader, president of the Texas Press association, and one of the most brilliant young newspaper men of the state. Wells is a great favorite in Collingsworth county, has the undisturbed backing of the farmers, and a lot of the type of brilliant young men who have been so successful in recent months in winning seats in congress.

It and when Hon. Marvin Jones wanted to seat in the lower house at Washington, there will be right smart groups as at this district, and we hold to the opinion that the man who would be a man well-qualified to represent the district, even though it will take several years for him to climb the ladder of seniority to the high place occupied by the present incumbent.—Clarendon News.

The Times isn't quite ready to indicate its choice of potential candidates. A look is wanted here and if the big Amarillo newspaper that gives the country that place it will indicate things greatly. In case to fall, the next best bet is Wells, and the Water Conservation authority man can continue so far as we are concerned, to do out the awards where they promise the best returns.

It will be interesting—under the circumstances—to see whether Collingsworth, Deek Wells county gets a sake while McCarty is head of the water group.

SENATOR SMALL'S FORMULA

Senator Chas. C. Small of Amarillo, long an astute student of state affairs, told a chamber of commerce gathering at Pampa last week that the legislature should levy no new taxes, pass as few laws as possible, and then go home, says the Houston Post.

That is a very simple formula, but it would do more to stimulate business and restore the people's confidence in the state government than four months of heated debate, high-speed spending and aimless legislative efforts to regulate everything by statute.

Small is correct in his contention that people these days place too much reliance in the efficacy of legislation. Too many citizens believe that economic, social and moral ills of the country may be cured instantly merely by passing a law. They look to government for benefits which can be obtained only through concentrated private effort.

The people's blind faith in the power of laws has been reflected in Texas in recent years by a record-breaking number of special sessions. The chief accomplishment of these extended lawmaking sprints has been to develop new ways of spending money raised by new taxes.

Today a large percentage of the people are overtaxed and over-regulated under existing laws. In addition, they are worried to the point of exhaustion by threats of more taxation and more laws.

Citizens who bear the burdens would welcome with much enthusiasm a few years of Senator Small's program calling for a minimum of legislative activity.

WHEN COTTON FARMERS VOTE

When the cotton farmers voted, 9 to 1, last March in favor of the quota system provision of the agricultural act, it was in the belief that the drastic act was necessary to stabilize the cotton market. It was in the hope that the system would be administered fairly and efficiently.

There must have been many doubts in the minds of those who voted affirmatively, but those doubts were resolved in favor of a plan that seemed to have a chance to work.

When another vote is taken Dec. 10, the South's experience with the quota system will be fresh in the minds of the farmers. Many of them have come to believe that the law itself is unsound. Many are convinced that it was administered poorly this year. It will take all of the administration's powers of persuasion to win the two-thirds majority which is necessary.

Here in Texas, where the law has been particularly painful, it will not be surprising to see an adverse majority. The fact that cotton payment checks will be distributed between now and Dec. 10 may make the opposition less active. But it will not be easy to win approval.

Texas' special needs in respect to cotton marketing were largely ignored when the law was passed. No consideration was given to the problem of West Texas cotton farmers who must produce low quality cotton or none at all. Particularly injurious was the provision forbidding increase in dairy herds.

The administration is likely to find that Texas cotton farmers, while friendly to the Democratic party, haven't forgotten what has been happening to them this year.

HUGE PUBLIC DEBT

A few years ago there was tremendous public concern over the fact that the national debt had passed the 25 BILLION dollar mark. Today it is forecast that the debt will shortly touch 50 BILLION DOLLARS—yet an astounding public indifference prevails. This gigantic mortgage against the earnings and property of all individuals and all business no longer makes the headlines.

Such indifference is one of the most dangerous phases of the whole problem of debt and taxation. We will never reduce the debt, even as we never will reduce or equalize taxation, without an awakened, aggressive public demand to compel a change. The politicians won't do it for us—they will simply inflate it to even higher levels. And that means more taxes and higher taxes, a steadily lessened national income that can be spent for productive purposes—and more hard times in the future.

Wake up to the fact that the public debt is your debt. It is inescapably related to your job, your savings, your opportunities, your security. When all of us know that Washington and the state capitals will hear a concerted public demand for a drastic change in present suicidal fiscal policies of unbalanced budgets and wasteful, extravagant and uncalled for public expenditures.

JOB HOLDERS PROSPER

Fearing a rush of unemployed to Texas, the state planning board has asked chambers of commerce and Lee O'Daniel and Gov. Jimmie Allred to quit boasting prosperity talks in Texas. The folks outside have heard this thunder, and are said to actually believe it. They are coming in droves despite the fact that 261,000 in Texas are looking for jobs.

There was a time when Lee and Jimmie were common poor folks. It has been a long time. In fact so long that they have forgotten slim fares and tattered garments.

The state employment office says we don't need any more because we can't take care of what we have. The labor member of the planning board brands this era of prosperity bombast as a lot of hokey. Only those holding good jobs feel that Texas is a utopia.

The ten thousand who have registered the past 90 days after coming to Texas' renowned prosperous area upon the call of spellbinders, may tell us that Texas is in one hell of a fix just like the rest of the nation.—Donley County Leader.

NEWSPAPERS FOR SAFETY

Billboard advertising is dangerous. The primary purpose of a billboard is to attract the attention of motorists to the message of the advertiser. In doing so, it distracts their attention from the operation of the automobile, resulting in more accidents than the billboard companies care to admit.

Newspaper advertising is much safer, since the easy chair conveniently located in the home is not apt to climb a telephone pole at 60 miles an hour when John Q. Public turns his attention to an ad.

A majority of 137 votes were cast last Saturday, for the issuance of $4,000 bonds to meet a $48,750 PWA grant for erecting a $150,000 high school building in Canadian. It was announced by school officials following the election. Figures on the returns of the election were reported as follows: For the bonds 373 and against 236 votes. School authorities expect to have a contract let for the new structure within the next three weeks. It was said.—Canadian Record.

Actual construction work on the new Wellington post office was begun Thursday morning when digging of the basement was started. The work is being done with a power drag line, which has attracted considerable attention since its arrival in Wellington. Excavation of the basement was scheduled for completion Thursday, however the fact that the cement for the basement walls has not arrived will hold up work until its arrival.—Wellington Leader.

Announcement was made this week that the Vogue Theatre will have its formal opening on Wednesday night, Oct. 19. C. L. Dance, owner, states that the theatre has a large seating capacity with all modern seats. The very latest sound and projection equipment has been installed under the patronage of West Texas cotton farmers who must produce low quality cotton or none at all. Particularly injurious was the provision forbidding increase in dairy herds.

This was his first time to enter into competition at any fair with his sheep and winning of the blue ribbon among keen competition in New Mexico speaks highly for his breed of sheep.—Miami Chief.

The new city well drilled at the city park has been completed and is now on a pumping test, making 225 gallons per minute on slow speed. When the well is cleaned out properly, it is expected to make over 300 gallons per minute. The well is 142 1/2 feet deep, with 12-inch casing in a 15-inch hole. Over 20 yards of gravel has been placed around the casing to keep sand from entering the pump, and it is expected to be ready to furnish water for the mains within a few days.—McLean News.

A man in Indiana sold his wife for four dollars. Times are getting back to normal in price, but the old boy was arrested. For selling his wife? Nope! He failed to give a bill of sale with her. With the official announcement of the final approval of the Wolf Creek water conservation project in the Ochiltree State Park, engineers from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics arrived in Perryton to start preliminary work on the project. Equipment is now being assembled and Exline states that he expects all of the heavy equipment to be on the ground within the next 10 days.—Ochiltree County Herald.

You sure have to hand it to the automobile manufacturers when it comes to keeping up with the times. Every year the new cars are so pretty and so efficient that it seems next to impossible to improve on them. Then another year rolls around, and you are amazed at the improvements, beautiful appearance and increased efficiency. However, this year is the same as last; I am again ready to swear from the models I have seen that they have come to the end of the row—they just can't make 'em any prettier.—Jimmie Gillentine in Hereford Brand.

A petition was presented to the county commissioners on Monday of this week asking that they order an election to vote $4,000 worth of bonds on Precinct No. 4, with which to buy land for a soil conservation and recreational lake near Higgins. After viewing the petition, the court ordered such an election to be held. The lake site for which the bonds are being voted is located on the Sebts ranch south of Higgins. It has been picked by officials as one of the best sites in this section for such a dam.—Higgins News.

Another thing about driving in the old days, you didn't have to worry if the other fellow decided to cross a narrow bridge at the same time you started across.—Paducah Post.

J. Glenn Wallace, 31-year old returning Silverton farmer, was killed on State Highway 5, east of Quanah Sunday, when he fell into the path of a vehicle driven by R. R. Jones of Pampa. Investigating officers said they believed high winds caused Wallace to lose his balance and fall in front of the automobile. He was going in the same direction as Jones, who was held blameless.—Quanah Post.

LOCAL MOTORISTS DISCOVER AMAZING NEW TIRE "BUY"

New "Standard" of Value At Low Prices in All Sizes

Car owners who want to save money on tires are enthusiastic about a new tire manufactured by The B. F. Goodrich Company, called the Goodrich "Standard." Although it is priced at a level that means real savings in all sizes, the Goodrich Standard Tire has many features found only in high-priced tires.

Like tires that sell for more, the "Standard" is double-cured. This process, say Goodrich engineers, insures that the tire is tough all the way through, inside as well as on the tread. Also like more expensive tires, the Goodrich Standard has cords that are 100% full-floated in live rubber.

Many New Features

The new Goodrich Standard, besides having an extra strong, bruise-resisting carcass, has a new and improved tread design that is wider and flatter. Particularly striking in appearance are the new "streamline" sidewalls. Motorists who have seen the Goodrich Standard describe it as one of the most outstanding tire buys in years.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

By C. E. BRYANT, Jr.

WHAT A POWER!

By R. A. SPRINGER

I have just returned from a meeting of the Baptist laymen of Texas. Some 3,000 Christian men—leaders not only in church work but in the business world—were present and resolved that they would stand together for the advance of the cause of Christ.

These men represented 150,000 men in Texas, part of a group of a million Baptist men in the South.

"The world has yet to see the power of a million men mobilized for Christ," one of the speakers said. Another followed with the statement that there was reason to believe that if this huge number of men had devoted their money and prayers for mission work around the globe there would not be the bloody conflict in Europe.

We at the conference were made to think of the immense power of any body of a million men with a common purpose. We thought still more of the million men united in a trust with Christ, for didn't He promise to guide those following His will?

David was a very small incapable lad in comparison with the giant Goliath. But David was fighting for God's cause and, with His help, was stronger than the mighty giant. What couldn't a million men, each working for Christ's cause, do in winning the world to Christian ideal?

It is a marvelous picture in my imagination as I try to think of an earth in which all the nations are guided by Christian principles. Everyone would dwell together in brotherly love and wars and rumors of wars would be ended.

Such is not impossible; we can bring it about by turning ourselves over to the will of God and giving and praying for the spread of Christianity around the globe.

Chemical Elements Help Plant Growth

At the turn of the present century only 10 chemical elements were considered necessary for plant growth, but now agricultural chemists know that at least 64 elements are present in soils, and of these 58 have been found in plants of one kind or another.

"Many of our poor yields and diseases of plants can be explained by what are called deficiency diseases," explains M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service. "Pecan rosette, citrus mottle leaf, and white top of corn, sudan, and the sorghums are due to zinc deficiencies, while lack of adequate amounts of boron is responsible for cracked stem of celery heart, dry rot of beets and turnips, and the pathological condition of cauliflower and alfalfa."

In some parts of Texas, the use of minor elements such as zinc, boron, copper, and iron has been found profitable, the chemist said. However, in most of the state, the soils contain adequate quantities of these.

The use of farm manures, compost, wood ashes, tankage, and the like tends to conserve the minor elements in the soil, hence farm manures and wastes should be utilized to as great an extent as possible. In many areas, this farm manure should be treated with about 75 pounds of superphosphate and 25 pounds of muriate of potash, per ton of manure in order to balance the plant nutrients better.

Most of the soils of Texas are deficient in humus and if this is supplied, good crop yields will be had. Thornton recommends that some winter legume be planted this fall and turned under in the spring. This will not only add humus but also nitrogen to the soil, and will prevent leaching of valuable plant food and prevent washing of the soil.

Tree Planting Double Three Previous Years

Tree shelterbelt plantings in the Plains states, in which the Forest service co-operates with farmers, in 1938 almost doubled the total for the three previous years, a report just released by the Forest service headquarters at Wichita Falls shows.

A total of 6,871 1/2 miles of tree shelterbelts has been planted, of which 4,264 1/2 miles were planted in 1938, the report shows. A total of 11,636 farms have been served, 7,046 of them this year. Eighty-four million trees were used to establish these shelterbelts.

The largest mileage for the year was in Oklahoma, 1,039 miles on 1,870 farms; Nebraska was second with 1,007 miles on 1,725 farms.

Oklahoma also leads in total plantings, with 1,542 miles on 2,760 farms. Nebraska is second with 1,516 miles on 2,587 farms. Other state totals are: Texas, 1,165 miles on 1,488 farms; Kansas, 1,150 miles on 2,088 farms; South Dakota, 843 1/2 miles on 1,594 farms, and North Dakota, 655 miles on 1,119 farms.

Shelterbelt planting in the Plains states is wholly co-operative, foresters point out. Planting is done only after an application is received, an examination made of the planting site, and the soil prepared for planting. The Forest service furnishes the trees, and uses relief labor to do the planting and build the fence surrounding the shelterbelt. The farmer furnishes the land, prepares it for planting, furnishes the fence material when needed, and cultivates the shelterbelt during the few years this is necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons and two children of Wellington were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude McMillin, and children.

Science News

Many things of interest happens in the science laboratory. Some of these do not work out in a purely scientific method.

Last week Mrs. Blankinship and Buck Hogue were seen discussing part of a skeleton which Mrs. Blankinship had brought to the laboratory. Buck also has part of a skeleton. They were considering putting them together to make a complete skeleton.

Finally their spirits became dampened and part of the enthusiasm was lost when one skeleton was found to be larger than the other. "We might create a freak," said Buck.

Dressing Rooms Equipped

The dressing rooms in the gym have been equipped with new benches. This should afford sufficient seats for home and visiting teams.

Biology Class on Field Trip

"Was it a picnic?" someone asked when they saw the students out of class.

"It certainly was not," one of the biology students answered. We were just making a field trip, and it certainly was profitable. Our laboratory is better equipped with live material for study.

Besides finding material for study, the students have found that their eyes are better than they thought. They were able to see, with a little supervision, things of nature that they never knew existed.

Area Conference

The home economics teachers and a few visitors from Area 1 had an all-day conference at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo, Friday, Oct. 14. The conference was directed by Miss Gladys Armstrong, area supervisor.

The first part of the program was given over to a panel discussion of the new phases of the Future Homemakers. This discussion was led by Miss Bateman, homemaking instructor from Tulla. Various girls' chapters were represented in this discussion, including Tulla, Memphis, Canyon, Plainview and Claude.

Wheeler county was represented by Miss Dill of Briscoe, Miss Cogdell of Mobeetie, Miss Jones of Allison, Miss Milam of Wheeler and Miss Jernigan of Shamrock.

Library Notes

The library is receiving magazines that are valuable to the student body and the faculty as a whole. Among these will be found The National Geographic, Colliers, McCall's and The Country Gentleman.

The librarian is planning to compile a book of stories in the near future, collected from different magazines sent to the library.

A new magazine rack has recently been added, much to the benefit of the library. A book stand for the new reference books has also been placed in the study hall.

Seventh Grade Program

The seventh grade class, with Maurine Hunt as leader, presented a very interesting program before the high school students and faculty Friday afternoon at 2:45.

To open the program, Mary Belle Heare gave a reading on "Don'ts," which was quite real to all children who have heard them so much. Five girls, Helen Gardner, Mary Belle Heare, Hazel Campbell, Billie Jean Baird and Newita Williams, offered a beautiful vocal treat.

Helen Gardner then gave a reading entitled "Bonnie and Clyde." Carey A. Dysart made a very interesting "speech" impersonating Supt. Blankinship. Maurine Hunt gave a musical reading, accompanied by Mrs. O. W. Elliott at the piano. The entire student body is unusually fond of singing, and as a closing gesture to everyone, Mrs. Blankinship led a group of songs, concluding with the first verse of the Star Spangled Banner.

ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION AT LUBBOCK NOV. 15 TO 17

The thirtieth annual state convention and conference of the Parent-Teachers association will be held at Lubbock Nov. 15-17, with the Hotel Lubbock as official convention headquarters.

In view of the fact that this is election year and officers of the Texas Congress for the triennium, 1938-41, are to be elected, it is predicted the number of delegates assembling at Lubbock from all parts of the state will exceed the official registration figures of any previous convention.

Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, now state recording secretary, has been placed on the ballot for the office of first vice president. Mrs. Griggs has served as eighth district president and for some years has been one of the most active leaders in the state.

"Parental Quests" is the convention theme. Presenting it in general session addresses before the delegate body will be three nationally known figures: Cameron Beck, lecturer and vocational and industrial relations consultant of the School of Business Practices and Speech, New York City; Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, Idaho, first vice president of the National Congress of Parents and associate editor of the National Parent-Teacher, and W. Roy Breg, executive secretary of Allied Youth, Inc., Washington, D. C.

Parent-Teacher week in Texas officially began Sunday, according to the proclamation issued by Gov. James V. Allred in honor of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which celebrated its 30th birthday Wednesday. The chief executive urged that attention be centered especially on child welfare work during the week set aside.

More than 2,000 units in Texas observed the birthday of the Texas branch of the National Congress and paid tribute to the Texas founder, Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, of Dallas.

Since 1909, when Mrs. Porter opened an office in Dallas and began writing letters to interested educators and fathers and mothers in the parent-teacher movement, she has taken an active part in making Texas Congress history. She has watched the Texas branch grow to an organization embracing more than 131,000 members. At present she is chairman of the board of directors of the endowment fund and also chairman of the Founders Day and Texas Congress birthday committee.

"We are more fortunate than other states," Mrs. M. A. Taylor, state president, said in commenting on the widespread congress birthday observance, "for our founder is still with us, still serving, still giving her time and strength. And when her active service to the congress is over, her devotion to parent-teacher ideals will continue to bless thousands."

Fifty-two members of the home-room mother group of the Borger West Ward unit attended the regular monthly meeting. The group planned a visiting program and Mrs. H. G. Dodge led a lesson on the Changing Conditions of the American Home.

At the first fall meeting of the entire unit, Mrs. Victor Aubrey spoke on The American Home. A social hour in honor of new teachers followed the regular meeting. Special guests at the meeting were members of the newly-organized East Ward P-T. A., of which Mrs. S. C. Harrelson is president.

Wheat Loans Preval

Until Next December

The wheat loan program recently announced by Secretary of Agriculture H. A. Wallace will apply to co-operating wheat farmers at farm rates between 52 and 55 cents a bushel, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee.

"The loan is made under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment act of 1938, and is about 52 percent of the present farm parity of wheat. If wheat were bringing the parity price, it would bring $1.14 a bushel," Slaughter pointed out in the course of a meeting of the committee at Texas A. and M. college.

"The loans will be made by the Commodity Credit corporation, are without recourse, and local AAA committees will certify producers who are eligible for loans and will be responsible for grading and inspecting farm-stored wheat placed under loans," he pointed out.

The rate of the loans to be offered farmers at individual points will be figured from basic rates established for the principal terminal markets less freight and 4 cents for handling charges.

Wheat may be stored in approved commercial warehouses or in 55 specified counties, on farms, and must be of specified grade, quality, and moisture content—No. 3 or better for all storage except farm storage of hard red spring wheat, which must grade No. 2 or better.

The maturity of loans will be seven months in commercial storage and May 31, 1939, when stored on farms. The loans will be available through December 31, 1938. Warehouse loans will be secured by warehouse receipts and farm loans by chattel mortgages.

The charges on commercial storage will be paid by the Commodity Credit corporation if they take over the wheat while producers of farm-stored wheat will receive a payment of 7 cents a bushel for storage if they deliver their wheat to the Commodity Credit corporation in proper condition on or after May 31, 1939.

Gasoline Vacuum Car Heater

MORE HEAT—FASTER! That's what car owners want in these days of modern winter transportation; when driving is no longer just a luxury, but a necessary part of business and personal welfare. The modern motor car should be equipped with the new South Wind Car Heater which operates on a new and different principle—by using small quantities of the excellent motor fuel, gasoline, already at hand. It is under perfect control and safe at all times, because it has its own sealed vacuum combustion chamber. It manufactures its own heat quickly—large volumes of it—dependent of engine temperature or speed. Let us demonstrate this new winter necessity.

SPACE HEATERS

They Are Truly Frugal

Frogil Down-Draft Hot-Blast Oil-Burning Circulators and Circulating Radiant Heaters are truly frugal. They are entirely different in construction, they have many exclusive features of operation not found in other models. Inspected and approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, they are truly tested and approved in the laboratory of actual use, home tested and proven in homes like yours, because tens of thousands of them have been heating homes throughout the nation since 1927.

Down-Draft Hot-Blast Principle

This is the most efficient, most economical and most satisfactory method of burning oil, because it completely burns all the gases from vaporization of oil in the burner. It is impossible to introduce sufficient air into the burner to burn all the gases formed by vaporization. The exclusive Frogil hot-blast tube introduces additional air pre-heated to a temperature of over 600 degrees, which instantly burns all unburned gases, assuring complete combustion, perfect combustion and increased heating efficiency.

The Frogil patented burner is different in construction; it must be, because it is built to last. Constructed of heat-resisting cast iron containing a special alloy this metal cannot be damaged by heat and will positively give the service you require. This construction is exclusively Frogil, not found in any other oil-burning heaters on the market today.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Gives Cotton Improvement Ideas

REPRINT FROM OCTOBER 1938 WEST TEXAS TODAY
Courtesy of and by W. H. MECOM, Entomologist

Getting down to "grass roots" in the battle to widen margins between cotton production cost and selling price—by going after maximum per-acre yield with minimum outlay—Texas cotton farmers this year have been waging intensive war on the insect pests that normally destroy what would amount to nearly a million bales of the state's potential production.

With federal, state and commercial organizations pooling their resources of men and materials, the campaign of education, demonstration and practice of proved methods in control of the boll weevil, flea-hopper and other pests has been geared up to help Texans meet the challenge of low-priced foreign competition and the acreage-reduction program.

The first step toward cutting cotton-raising costs, and one that can be—has been, in many sections—taken quickly and with proved, practical results, is that of insect control. This is not overlooking the fact that finding new uses for cotton, improving ginning and baling practices, and producing finer grades and greater staple length are also vital to complete solution of the cotton industry's manifold economic ills. It is merely that insect control is one phase of the problem that can be attacked realistically and effectively.

Emphasizing the directness and relative simplicity and economy of combating cotton insect ravages here in Texas has been the increasing use of one of the state's own readily-available resources, sulphur, in control measures. For several years the efficacy of sulphur dusting for thwarting the cotton flea-hopper—a tiny, green sucking bug that has rivalled the more notorious boll weevil for ranking as "Cotton Enemy No. 1" in many sections—has been convincingly demonstrated in terms of both gross cotton and net cash returns.

Evidence that this method of flea-hopper control, frequently demonstrated at cotton "clinics" throughout the state this year and increasingly practiced by growers, can bring such gains in per-acre yield as to show sizeable net cash profits to growers is contained in reports of K. P. Ewing and R. L. McGarr of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Describing results of extensive tests in Calhoun county, their report says that 10 dusted plots—in comparison with parallel untreated check plots—showed an average gain in yield of 31.8 per cent, with a high of 88.7 per cent.

On these plots, ranging from 17.5 to 76 acres in size, the average increase was 167.5 pounds per acre. Against this gain in cotton production, the applications of sulphur, in from two to four dustings, averaged 62.1 pounds at a total cost of $2.69 per acre, leaving an average net profit, in cash, of $4.76 per acre—and one farm had a per-acre high net of $11.86.

In five of the cuts the gain from dusting was between 200 and 350 pounds per acre; one cut produced between 100 and 200 pounds per acre gain; three cuts showed between 26 and 100 pounds, while in only one cut did the dusting fail to show an increase in yield, and this was caused not by failure of dusting to control the flea-hopper, but by the fact that the hoppers were not sufficiently numerous in either the treated or untreated plots to have as much effect on yield as did other factors.

This year's battle, on a widening front, has seen inclusion of sulphur as ammunition in the "artillery"— hand and power dusters, and even airplanes—booming away at the boll weevil, too, for another Ewing-McGarr study shows the effectiveness of combining the yellow gulf coast mineral with the time-honored weevil "medicine," calcium arsenate.

Highlights of their findings and recommendations are that: a mixture of two parts sulphur and one part calcium arsenate is recommended when there is a combined infestation of weevils and hoppers, especially for early-season control; this mixture gave larger yields and greater profits than the arsenate alone even when used against high infestations of the boll weevil and low infestations of other insects; calcium arsenate alone is recommended for bollworm, sulphur alone for light infestations of hoppers or when infestation consists principally of nymphs.

Educational work as to the proper application of insecticides, as to mixtures, spraying or dusting equipment, time and frequency, and so forth, has been carried on at increased pace this year by state agencies aided by commercial organizations which manufacture or produce the materials recommended by the experimenter stations.

As Travis Bryan, banker of Bryan, Texas, who regards dusting as an ideal form of "crop insurance," says: "It is well known by those who come into close contact with the realistic efforts being made to bring more efficiency into agricultural practices that these concerns have capable, well-trained men who can and do contribute much in educational work among farmers and ranchers."

"It's merely 'good business practice' to be sure," Bryan adds, "but even so all such supplements to salesmanship must be conducted on a strict merit basis, especially when done on such a broad scale as is entailed in recommending comprehensive agricultural programs."

"In this state the work of commercial organizations in putting at the disposal of college and county agencies equipment, materials and services of their own entomologists is an encouraging manifestation of the willingness of these industries to do their part in creating effective machinery for fighting farm problems."

With the fund of information and tested practices richer and more readily available than ever before, and with abundant, low-priced native Texas "ammunition" and willing, well-trained demonstrators from commercial organizations and county, state and federal agencies at their services, Lone Star cotton farmers are potentially the best equipped cotton growing army that has ever undertaken the perennial battle with the bugs.

Pot Shots at Sport

(By AUBREY WARREN)

Next Friday night the Mustangs will play their third non-conference game of the season when they meet the Groom Tigers on the local gridiron.

The Mustangs dropped a heartbreaker to the Shamrock Irishmen last Friday night. This defeat makes it possible for the district to be thrown into a three-way tie. If Wheeler beats McLean and McLean licks Shamrock. This would leave the three elevens with only one loss each against them.

The Wellington Skyrockets, riding the crest of a prolonged victory wave which has carried them undefeated so far this season, drubbed a fighting Lakeview eleven, 73-6, in Wellington last week end. Clarendon and Memphis came out in a 6-6 deadlock as the other conference game in the southern half.

The Rockets take the blue ribbon on high score in the Panhandle for the week end and the Plainview Bulldogs took a close second by blanking Clovis, 60-0.

McLean and Mobeetie clash in the only conference game in the northern half of the district next Friday night.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders continued to win Saturday by taking a 19-13 vengeance victory at the expense of Montana University. The Raiders are proving more and more that they have one of the nation's strongest teams this year.

T. C. U. will have to be my pick for the southwest conference victor. They licked A. & M. last week, 34-6. Ki Aldrich, T. C. U. bid for all-American, played a whale of a game.

The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys broke back into the win column by licking the Canyon Buffaloes 39-0.

West Texas State Frosh barely eked out a 21-19 win over the Altus Junior college eleven in Canyon, Saturday. Walter Adams, Wheeler boy, was in a starting tackle berth for Altus.

The Canyon Eagles blanked Vega, 27-0. McLean drubbed the Dumas Demons, 31-7, and Lefors licked Paducah, 7-0, in other Class B games over the week end.

Yours truly did not pick the exact score on last week's clash between Wheeler and Shamrock and I kinda got the winning teams mixed up but I did pick the score of the winning team.

Here are predictions on District 3B games this week.
Wheeler 13, Groom 7.

"Pete Goes to Town"

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Awhile back Walter Peterson of Justin, Texas, was asked by the local vocational teacher to tell the local F. F. A. class something about his experience. "Pete" has regularly topped the Christmas beef market in Fort Worth for a good many years, which is "going to town" in a big way.

He and his brother raise Short-horns and feed them out on their own oats, corn, sorghums, etc., and cottonseed meal for which they "swap" their own cottonseed.

These figures are quoted from memory and may not be exact, but are accurate enough for practical purposes. "Pete" read from his records without any oratorical frills, about as follows. For 10 years he has fattened an average of seven-and-a-half calves per year, they weighed an average of 900 pounds, and sold for an average of 10 cents, or $90 a head. Price in that 10 years ranged from as low as 6 to as high as 14 cents.

Several valuable points are implied if not expressed. First, Walter and his brother kept good cattle, raised good calves, and fattened some every year regardless of price.

Second, fat cattle could always be sold for some price, carrying a great deal of grass and feed that either could not have been sold at all or would have sold cheaply at harvest time.

Third, the price variation was as wide as even cotton or wheat, but they did not go in and out on its ups and downs. Result, an average for the 10 years shows a good market for the feed they ate.

Fourth, they are not "big" farmers or "big" feeders. A good many people think less than a carload of beef is too little to monkey with. The Peterson boys don't; a truckload a year has brought them an average of about $675 more net than 10 bales of cotton would have averaged for the same period.

Assuming that they had the average number and the average weight in the 6-cent year, "Pete" had only $405 to show, or $54 a head. Doubtless he "lost money" according to a strict bookkeeping account; but he sold some feed and some time that would have otherwise brought nothing, and $405 is more than 10 bales of cotton is bringing now. In the good year, however, his returns for the same weight in beef would have been $945, the equivalent of more than a dozen bales of cotton at 15 cents.

Many a Southwestern farm this year has enough feed to fatten from one to 10 calves or yearlings, and it is more profitable to feed two or three right than to merely warm up a carload.

Few will make the profits or get the prices the Petersons do, for they are old hands at the game and don't have to buy the calves to feed, but if Southwestern farmers whose cotton or wheat acreage has been reduced go into the raising and feeding of livestock and poultry with as much interest and stick to it with as much persistence as they have shown in planting cash crops regardless of price variations, they will find that feed crops properly used in a long-time rotation system pay as much per acre and per hour of time as cotton.

No expert in Washington or at the State College of Agriculture, much less the author of these periodical comments, is competent to set up a detailed program for any particular farm or farmer.

But the principles of good farm management are universal, and in their final analysis may be reduced to "intelligent and complete utilization of labor and land."

Bulletins on farm organization and planning may be had on request from State colleges of agriculture and the U. S. D. A., and will be helpful, but at last the farmer himself, perhaps with the assistance of his county agent, vocational teacher, or the farm management specialist from his State Extension Service, must work out the reorganization of his farm right on the ground. It is not too late to begin.

Ranger is still one of the most colorful towns in Texas. Main street, of course, is quieter than it was on that New Year's Eve, during the big oil boom, when men stood on opposite sidewalks and fought a "battle" with Roman candles.

But old drillers still sit around in the lobby of the Gholson and swap tales of the great rush, as well as experiences in the fields of Oklahoma, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and foreign lands—Russia, Mexico, Venezuela.

The old Ranger police station still stands. Many a hijacker was brought in by Byron Parrish and members of his department. Parrish wore gold-pieces for cuff-links and could juggle a tin can with bullets until both his six-guns were empty. The building now is occupied as a residence.

The spot where the once-celebrated Oklahoma cabaret flourished is the location of a hospital.

Most daring crime during the entire boom was the daylight holdup of the cabaret by two men who lined up a dozen tough customers at the bar and searched them. There was a puddle in the middle of the floor and one of the robbers addressed the proprietor:

"You're supposed to be tough; get down and wallow in that puddle like a hog."

At this moment, a policeman entered and they disarmed him. Then, after one of the bandits had shot a hole in the floor, they left. There was a running gun-fight through the streets, in which a deputy sheriff was wounded. Some of the pursuers were on horseback. The robbers were cornered in a hotel and captured without another shot being fired, though one of them was reloading his pistol as the posse burst into the room.

Austin is, of course, the most politically-minded city in the state. Even when the headlines in the Austin newspapers do not play up some governmental or political event, the newsboys will pounce upon some political story with a small heading and base their shouts upon that. Particularly is this true of the newsies around the hotel entrances.

They shout "All about State Official Zilch." If any issue ever really printed all about some of the officials at Austin, the copies would sell at two-bits apiece—and most of the buying would be done in a big hurry by the officials and their friends, intent on suppressing the issue.

At Amon Carter's Shady Oak farm near Fort Worth, there is a huge steer head that (apparently) talks and the eyes gleam a fiery red while smoke rolls from the nostrils.

Just about the last word in newspaper offices is the new home that Col. George T. Spears has built for his Graham Leader and Graham Daily Reporter, edited by H. L. Trout, widely-experienced journalist.

A fan big enough for an airplane propeller completely changes the air in the building every 55 seconds. There is a fireproof vault to store the historic files of the Leader, founded 62 years ago. Alongside the building, in a courtyard formed by three structures, there is already a big tree, and grass and flowers will be set out to create a beautiful patio.

Colonel Spears owns newspapers also in Menard, Forney, Megargel, Stanton, Newcastle, Wylie, Throckmorton and Bridgeport.

Clean as a Kitten

AS IF IT HAD NINE LIVES, a clean, correctly lubricated motor keeps going mile after mile, and year after year... with less fuss and noise, and fewer costly visits to the repair shop.

The dictionary says that refine means "to purify, to cleanse"—which gives you an idea of what we do to produce Phillips 66 Motor Oil. Out go destructive impurities and harmful elements. Out goes wax, to insure free, fast flow in winter. Out goes gum which might make piston rings stick.

What remains is a great lubricant... 100% Paraffin base... 100% Phillips value, with rich body and high-degree oiliness to provide a tough, friction-reducing film...resistant to high speed, high pressure, high heat.

And the big plus is the Phillips name. This makes for peace of mind, because you know that you are getting all the lubrication you pay for, when you drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil... at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Something to Advertise

While its range is of necessity somewhat limited, there is never any difficulty in finding something to advertise about The Wheeler Times. Actually four main groups cover the range of this business. But under each of these are numerous subdivisions. For instance, display advertising embraces virtually every item used by mankind—multitudes of things. Likewise, the Wantad Column serves as a clearing house for hundreds of items. Then, subscriptions could be expanded into an interesting message. Job printing, with its almost unlimited possibilities and wide usage, merits detailed treatment to tell of all its many features. For this occasion, however, attention is called to the following departmental titles

Display Advertising Wantad Column Subscriptions Job Printing

The reader is invited to supply his or her own interpretation and elaboration to accompany these departmental headings. Just a little thought will develop an amazing volume of information and sales talk on any one of these.

How Is Your Subscription?

As a primary adjunct to advertising, circulation must be maintained. Circulation means subscriptions, hence the question: "How's your subscription?" After the name of Wheeler Times subscribers will be found certain figures such as 6-21-38, which means that particular subscription is paid up to the 6th month (June), 21st day of 1938. Look right now at the expiration date following your name on the upper right hand corner of the front page of this paper and see how your subscription stands. If it is past due, we would appreciate renewal at the earliest convenience. Thank you.

Movie Chatter

This week end we have another variation. "Crime School" promises to be a straight-from-the-shoulder style entertainment. The plot and circumstances are familiar—being presented in "Big House" and "San Quentin" featuring adults. But here we have the "Dead End" group, or in other words, a juvenile cast. This picture is a study in sociology, when incorrigible boy criminals become bestial under cruel corrective treatment, yet when given a chance, respond to humane, considerate influences. Humphrey Bogart plays the part of the superintendent and is supported by a strong cast of boy actors.

After seeing "Love Finds Andy Hardy" we just couldn't come down to an ordinary picture for Preview, Sunday and Monday, so we are bringing you the sweetheart of the screen in "Little Miss Broadway."

You are quite familiar with Shirley Temple and her singing, dancing and other antics. This time she is a knock-out when she does a Rogers-Astairish dance with George Murphy. The cast is long and nameful but the most important are Edna Mae Oliver, the old lady who makes life miserable for the child; Phyllis Brooks plays the nice lady who marries the nice man; Jimmy Durante, El Brendel and others supply the comedy. Everything from the story (which couldn't happen) to Shirley's latest hair-do goes to make this the best Shirley Temple picture ever made.

By now you are surely acquainted with Mickey Rooney. If not, now is the time to meet him. Anywhere you see him he is a wow. In "Lord Jeff" Mickey is coupled with Freddie Bartholomew where they play the roles of fellow students, preparing for careers in the merchant marine. The story is a natural for both juvenile and adult interest. The setting and treatment is new and fresh which gives zest and interest to our mid-week entertainment.

Cotton Quota Coming Earlier This Season

With Texas Agricultural Conservation association committeemen and state AAA workers back to their Texas A. and M. college headquarters after a regional conference in Fort Worth, field men went to work this week on a simplified farm program for 1939.

Chairman George Slaughter of the state committee said the bulk of 1939 cotton acreage allotments will be calculated and sent to farmers by Dec. 1, well ahead of planting time, and in broad contrast to the situation which aroused criticism last year.

Because of late amendments to the farm act of 1938, allotments this past spring could not be calculated until April 7, or after most Texas cotton had been planted, Slaughter observed.

"Getting allotments to them around Dec. 1," he said, "will give farmers the benefit of full facts before the marketing quota referendum, expected to be set in the first part of December."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson have moved to an apartment at the Tom Owen residence, west of town. They have been staying with Mrs. Henderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris, north of Wheeler.

SIDELIGHTS

By HON. MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress from Texas

If any cotton or wheat farmer will take his pencil and figure these payments and prices alongside the 1932 tragedy, he will find how much better off he is with the present program than he would be with no program at all. At the beginning of the 1938 cotton picking period there was a carryover of 13,000,000 bales—more than twice the annual consumption of cotton in the United States. Any program, any plan that may be offered must deal with this tremendous carryover.

Everyone familiar with the facts knew that the new farm act of 1938 was going into effect during the most difficult period that could be conceived. The tremendous surpluses that had been produced in our major crops complicated the problem to an extreme degree. It seems to me that anyone sincerely interested in the success of the farm program should be willing to wait until there is a thorough try-out of the new measure or at least until one season has passed before beginning to sow the seeds of discord and to stir up dissatisfaction.

No one claims the new law is perfect. On the other hand, no fair man can deny that it has many desirable features. No man is wise enough to predict in advance just how it will work out. This much is certain: anyone who is attacking it when the new season has just started is not making a contribution to the welfare of the farmer.

No doubt in the light of the experience, some changes will be found necessary. These changes can and should be made. Congress does not meet until January. By that time I am sure any needed changes will be much clearer. In the meantime I hope that all farmers and every sincere friend of agriculture will refrain from interfering to the end that the best possible results may be obtained.

Any act, for its success, depends upon three things:

1. The form of the law.
2. The character of administration.
3. The co-operation of those in whose interest it is enacted.

No law, however perfect, can be successful unless it is well administered. No law however perfect, even if well administered, can succeed unless the people who are affected are willing to co-operate. He does the farmer no service who lights the torch of intolerance and who undertakes to create dissatisfaction at the very time during which the most critical part of the work is being done.

The agricultural program today is not a bill. It is a movement, and the bills are but various steps in that movement. It involves credits. We have the lowest farm interest rates that have ever prevailed in the history of this country. It involves markets. We have a specific provision for widening the markets both at home and abroad.

It involves freight rates. We have provision for correcting the inequities in the freight rate structure. It involves research and new uses. Provision has been made for work along these lines. It involves the preservation of the soil. This is the heart of the present program.

It involves the handling of our vast surpluses which are sometimes produced within the borders of America. Provision is made in the act by which the farmers, under a two-thirds vote, can provide for regulating the disposal of excessive surpluses. At the same time it provides for widening of the markets and increasing the sale and distribution of these surpluses.

There are more than 200 commodities produced in America, involving some nine billion dollars in annual values. Any man who feels that he has a simple panacea that will fit the vast, intricate and complicated problems of the various farm commodities produced in this broad, big country, I believe has not thought the matter through.

I am sure that every true friend of the farmer is anxious to see the law improved as we go along. I am sure that by intelligent and co-operative effort great improvement can be made. This is the history of all great movements in America. I do not believe that the solution of this age-old problem can be achieved or even materially contributed to by extreme attacks and bitter personalities. I am sure that if all those who have a simple heart interest in the success of the greatest of all American businesses—American agriculture—will calmly analyze and show a disposition to co-operate in working out the final program, great progress can be made.

Guard Against Colds

Variable autumn weather, with its frequent temperature changes, often from summer warmth to winter's chill in a few hours, is a source of catching cold, not to mention contagious "common colds" more often acquired by close contact of indoor activities. It is wise to exercise care in safeguarding the health against cold infections that all too frequently lead to much more serious trouble. Proper clothing, food and exercise strengthens bodily resistance. Then, supplement this with the use of reliable preventives and remedies for relief. Here are a few suggestions:

- Milk of Magnesia
- Cold Tablets
- Nose Drops
- Chest Rub
- Aspirins

Quota Ruling Causes Resentment Sooner than Planned—Eligibles Wanted

Receipt Friday by the county commissioners court of an order Geo. A. Linder, supervisor, div operations in the regional of Amarillo, concerning WPA ment stirred the local official prompt action.

Linder's ruling declared the quota of WPA workers for the county will be based upon the actually employed on some Progress administration project 1, Tuesday of next week.

Fully cognizant of the situation here, and realizing that it could come serious later on this when employment of other workers is scarce, the commissioners in a meeting Monday decided that the quota of WPA workers for the county should be based upon the actually employed on some Progress administration project 1, Tuesday of next week.

One of these is the Mag Wheeler road project, several long, starting at Magic City running northward to a point north of an east-west line Wheeler. Operations will include grading and drainage work, plication of gravel and clay the distance, although certain things do not require the latter at this time.

Harvest help needs cause pension of work on this weeks ago following an initial of only a few days.

The other is a 12-mile stretch from Allison south to ley-Walser corner, nine miles of Wheeler. Only a part of it to be graded, graveled and ped to correct the sandy soil.

Every effort will be made to duce all eligible WPA workers to report for duty next Monday especially Tuesday—on one other of these projects. He is stated that notices will be from the Amarillo office, to men where to report. Rum that workers from Shamr the south section of the county assigned to the Magic City, while most of those in vicinity and the north area sent to the Allison job.

There are about 386 eligible workers in the county. It is imperative, for the future welfare, that the large number of these men themselves available for employment next Monday and even though emergencies compel them to secure leave some while they attend duties.

The Times does not know percent of those working will be designated as the quota. Regardless of the percentage, the ratio will be proportion to the total employment. The new order simply that the "future quota for county will be based on the actually employed Nov. 1."

It is to their own interest men to sacrifice, if need be to comply with the regulations mentioned. Of course every such will not be the case ployment could and might full scant between now and crop season.

Furthermore, the situation is not an imaginary result of an attempt to a piece of "news." These are believed to be wholly correct published at the personal two members of the county court: Doug Sims, coroner from Precinct 1, and W. county judge, who feel concerned should be given full facts that they may then determine actions accordingly.
