Paving Job East of Town Is Completed

Another Strip of 5.2 Miles Toward State Line Open to Travel—Only Short Gap Left

Barriers were removed, machinery prepared for transport elsewhere and the new 5.2 miles of hard-surfaced road east of Wheeler was opened to travel last week. J. E. Barnhill of Turkey, contractor, declared his work was finished as he turned the project over to the state highway department for approval.

The new strip of paving extends well beyond the 9-mile corner, east of town, and together with the original 5.2 stretch—first paving on Highway 152 east of here—totals 10.4 miles. Between five and six miles of unpaved road remains to the state line.

Known as Oilfield Highway 41 as well as Texas Highway 152, this road is of vital concern to residents of northern Wheeler county and of the town of Wheeler in particular.

Preparatory work for the first strip of paving started in May, 1934, and the road opened to traffic in October of that year. W. M. McMurry was county judge at that time and Arthur Whitener commissioner in Precinct 2, which the route traverses.

Some additional work was done during 1935, consisting of grade and drainage operations as a WPA project under supervision of the late Warren Veale.

Efforts continued to secure more paving. Last fall an award of the recently-completed strip was made. Work got under way this spring but was greatly delayed for two months or more by excessive and continuous rains. Now, however, the job is finished.

Determination of residents along the route and of Wheeler to obtain paving on the remainder to the Oklahoma line has not abated. Recently at a meeting of the Oilfield Highway association at Binger, Okla., one of the projects earnestly discussed was completion of the "Wheeler road east."

Another boost for it developed last week when Carl Lee Page of Sweetwater, Okla., told County Judge D. A. Hunt that progressive business men of Elk City, Okla., have declared their intention of building a first-class county road straight through from a point on Highway 66 three miles west of that town to Sweetwater. In fact, that portion of the proposed road from the 66 "elbow" to the north-south Sayre to Cheyenne road is already graded and in good condition. Therefore, only a comparatively short strip remains to be improved.

Elk City merchants, through this method, expect to make a bid for patronage from the Sweetwater region.

People in this county, traveling east, will have no objection to the proposed Elk City improvement—in fact will welcome any movement toward a better and more direct route to Oklahoma City for pleasure and commercial travel.

One idea of the Oilfield Highway 41 association is to hard-surface the Oklahoma section from the state line to Sayre, where it will connect with the present paving on 41 eastward through Cordell to Oklahoma City. But two routes east would be better than one—and may both win out.

By way of the present route, east to the county line and thence to Sayre, the distance to Elk City is 11 miles shorter than around by Shamrock on 66, and if the direct route east from Sweetwater is opened up it will cut an additional 10 miles, or a total of 21 miles less to Elk City than over Highway 66.

G. B. Rush Named as Wheeler School Coach

At a meeting of the Wheeler Independent School board one day last week, Garrison B. Rush was employed as high school coach for the coming term. He will also teach science in high school.

Rush was coach in the Shamrock schools for some time, making an enviable record, and last year served in that capacity with the Miami schools. He is talented in the direction of athletic activities and his coming, in the opinion of many, will greatly strengthen the prestige and progress of the local school system. He and his family plan to move here about Sept. 1.

Opening date of the Wheeler schools, according to a statement issued today by Supt. J. L. Gilmore, will be Sept. 8. It had previously been planned to start Sept. 1, but certain developments make it appear better to postpone the date one week.

PAINTING EPIDEMIC HITS SOUTH SIDE SQUARE

Either Tony Puckett, with a new interior paint job at Puckett's Grocery by Cicero Craig, or R. G. Russ with a new coat of white paint on the under side of his store awning, Bill Genthe on the brush, are responsible for a painting epidemic along the south side of the square. Other paint jobs include awnings at the J. P. Green & Sons hardware and The Times office-Burgess Shoe shop building. More jobs are anticipated. A pleasing improvement at McDowell's Drug store during the past few days is a new marble design linoleum on the floor which harmonizes nicely with other fixtures.

4-H Club Boys Attend District Encampment

Twelve County Youths to Lake McClellan—Win First in Area Baseball Tournament

Twelve Wheeler County 4-H club boys accompanied by Jake Tarter, county agent, and Charles Griffin, assistant county agent, attended the District 4-H Club encampment at Lake McClellan in southern Gray county, August 12-16. Members of the party returned to their several homes Saturday.

Swimming, motor boat riding, rifle shooting, boxing and baseball were the principal sources of entertainment. The Wheeler county boys took first place in the district baseball tournament.

At night the boys were shown pictures of A. & M. college, the state fair and various Fat Stock shows of Texas.

Those from the county attending encampment were: Charles Sandifer, Wheeler; Darville Atherton and Jack Riley, Briscoe; Doyle Carver and C. L. Pitcock, Kelton; H. B. Krug, Davis; Lin Welch, Twitty; Jimmy Close, Shamrock; W. H. Locke, Bethel; Bradford Bullard, Lela, and Joe Johnson and Shelby Turner, Magic City.

Jack Loter Succumbs Here Monday Evening

Jack Loter, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Loter, died in the Wheeler hospital Monday night following a brief illness reported to be typhoid fever.

Besides the aged parents, Loter is survived by his wife and daughter, Patricia Ann, and two brothers and two sisters. A brother and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Twitty Church of Christ by J. L. Roberts, minister of that denomination of Shamrock.

Baptist Church Plot Graded and Smoothed

The Baptist church this week has had a plot of ground adjoining its property on the south scraped free of weeds and grass, graded and smoothed up. The plot contains two 50-foot lots purchased not long ago from H. M. Wiley.

Murray Fuquay, pastor of the church, states that leveling of the ground is to provide parking space if needed and that later it is planned to make of it a church park for outdoor activities. Trees, grass and other improvements are contemplated.

WHEELER YOUTH "ON AIR" NEAR ARCTIC CIRCLE

Not even the army can keep Grady Anglin, Wheeler young man with a yen for broadcasting, off the air. He's at it again in Anchorage, Alaska, near the Arctic Circle where he is stationed with the 36th Bombardment Squadron at Elmendorf Field.

In a letter dated August 10, Anglin writes: "Well, here I am in the frozen north. I arrived the 6th and already am beginning to like it. This country is very unusual, but is truly beautiful."

"Anchorage has a population of about 6,000 and yes, a radio station. And I'm already broadcasting over it. I work nights as general announcer and it's needless to say how much I enjoy it. This station, KFQD, is the oldest in Alaska and the 95th station established in the western hemisphere. It was opened in June, 1924. Broadcasting over such a station is something quite different from previous positions."

Aged Father of Local Man Dies in Oklahoma

Henry Frye, Nearly 90, Passes Away Last Thursday at Sulphur—Was County Pioneer

Henry Frye, early-day Wheeler county resident and father of Tobe Frye, who resides on a portion of the old Frye Ranch, northeast of Wheeler, passed away on Thursday of last week at Sulphur, Okla., following a brief serious illness. He was injured in a car accident some years ago and had since been an invalid.

Funeral services were held and interment made in the Sulphur cemetery on Saturday. His grandsons were pall bearers and his granddaughters flower girls.

Those attending the funeral from this county were Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Britt, Shamrock, and sons, Tom and Buck Britt, Wheeler, and Bert Davis, Briscoe.

Frye was born Oct. 6, 1851, at Rochelle, Va., and died August 14, 1941, at Sulphur, Okla., lacking only 52 days of reaching his 90th birthday.

He came to Texas at the age of 19, first locating near Fort Worth, and became a cowboy, helping to drive cattle "up the trail" to the north. In Colorado he met Miss Lula Miller, native Texan and daughter of an early-day Wheeler county family, the W. J. Millers. The young couple was married March 15, 1877, at Dodge City, Kans., returning that summer to Texas and settling on the Washita, where they lived five years before coming to the old home place which they still own on Sweetwater Creek, northeast of here.

Six children, three sons and three daughters, blessed their union. Of these, one daughter died in infancy. Another daughter, Elizabeth, married the late Frank Young and died a few years later.

Surviving, with the aged widow, are the following children: Cornelia Puryear, Holyoke, Colo.; Will of Van; Tobe of this county, and Harry of Sulphur, Okla.; also 17 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

Jack Frye, eldest son of Will who spent much of his youth on his grandparents' ranch, is president of the Transcontinental Western Airways and a widely known flier and aviation authority.

In pioneer days Henry Frye contributed much to Wheeler county's history. To him and others of his kind, the Panhandle owes a great debt. Far too few of them are left and they are fast passing away. All honor to them, heroes of their day, and an inspiration to people of any age.

Fourteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Frye moved to Sulphur to be near their son, Harry, who owns and operates a hotel and bathhouse at that place.

Mrs. J. M. Porter of Wheeler, long-time friend of the family, pays the following tribute to the memory of Henry Frye:

Our friend
We oft had doubts of other men
But knew just where he stood;
Some thought always of selfish gain,
He sought his neighbor's good.

When in his presence, others rose
To higher, purer desires;
The reach of service wider grows
When lighter at such fires.

His summons came; though he no more
Shall walk the ways of men;
The influence of his noble life
Bears fruit beyond his ken.

BONNIE ADAMS TO RECEIVE DEGREE FROM UNIVERSITY

Miss Bonnie Adams of Wheeler is the only candidate listed from this county to receive a degree from the University of Texas the latter part of August. She will be awarded a bachelor of science in home economics.

A news release from the university says: Potential "doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs," and probably cowboys and sailors as well, are among the 533 students who have applied for the bachelor's degree, to be conferred in commencement exercises August 25.

The graduating class, slightly larger than that of last year, will be divided into 18 groups, each to receive a degree in a particular field of study. The major divisions are arts and sciences, business administration, engineering, pharmacy, education, law and fine arts.

Medical Association Meets

The Gray-Wheeler Medical association held a regular meeting in the court house here Tuesday evening. An interesting program was heard by a fairly representative attendance of the membership.

Lieut. Wood Finishes Flying School Course

Wheeler Boy Gets "Wings" as Pilot and Commission at Stockton—Texans Head Class

Aviation Cadet Thomas Owen Wood was one of 123 members of Class 41-F scheduled to graduate last Friday from the Air Corps Advanced Flying school at Stockton, Calif. Wood is a son of Judge A. C. Wood of Wheeler.

Graduates were given "wings," symbolic of the aeronautical rating of pilot, and commissioned second lieutenants in the Air Corps reserve.

Texas was best represented by a large margin in the graduating class composed of young men from all sections of the United States, one from Hawaii and another with the Republic of Mexico as his home address.

States represented and the number from each in the upper brackets were Texas, 33; Kansas, 19; Colorado, 14; Oklahoma and Nebraska, 6 each; trailing with from one to four each were 15 other states, Hawaii and Mexico.

Some 35 different colleges and universities had former students in the group, with nine from Texas A. and M., and seven from the University of Texas. Wood is a former student of John Tarleton Junior college, Stephenville.

Capt. Jay K. Montgomery, public relations officer, states that last Friday's class made a total of 637 pilots for Uncle Sam's expanding air force turned out by the Stockton school. This comparatively young advanced institution, commanded by Col. Leo A. Walton, started operation last January first and is one of a number of similar schools in the nation.

Nice Rain Wednesday Night Brings Relief

Accompanied by winds approaching gale-like proportions at times, a nice rain visited this region Wednesday night, bringing relief to vegetation suffering from high temperature and lack of moisture.

Estimates agree rather closely on an inch of rain in Wheeler. Reports indicate a similar precipitation pretty well all over the county.

Only mild damage to some grain and fruit resulted from the hard wind, so far as it has been possible to ascertain. One orchardist reported a considerable quantity of peaches whipped from his trees, but no particular injury to the trees themselves.

Wheeler Young Folks Married at Perryton

Miss Dora Faye Miller and Audrey Downs, both of Wheeler, were married Sunday evening, Aug. 3, in Perryton at the Baptist church, with Rev. S. R. McClung reading the single ring ceremony. Mr. Downs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Downs of near Wheeler and is well known in this community, having attended the Wheeler schools.

He has been employed on the Clarence Zirkle wheat farm near Perryton, where he will remain for about a month. Mrs. Downs has been staying at the Joe Hyatt home this summer and expects to remain there until her husband's work is completed at Perryton, after which they will live near Wheeler for a while.

A telegram received Wednesday, however, stated that she would start homeward today, driving through, and should arrive within a few days. It was also learned that Bob Pierce of Dallas, son-in-law of Mrs. S. P. Hodnett, Wheeler, and friend of the Judy family, who is attending a convention in Chicago, may accompany Mrs. Judy on her trip back to Texas.

Worley May Attend Annual Farm Event

Farmers Barbecue and Picnic Will Be on Friday Afternoon and Evening, August 29

Sponsors of the annual Wheeler County Farmers' Barbecue and Picnic are expecting as one of the headline speakers at this event Congressman Eugene Worley. Word has been received, reports County Agent Jake Tarter, that Worley is making special efforts to attend the farmers' "play day" affair.

It is understood that Worley has been appointed on a committee to investigate certain matters in connection with the national defense program at points from the eastern to western seaboard. It is believed his schedule will bring him to this part of the country next week.

The barbecue and picnic will be held at the usual place, the Kelley brothers ranch on Sweetwater Creek, seven miles northwest of Wheeler, on Friday, August 29. The program, beginning at 2 o'clock, will be very similar to that of former occasions, with horseshoe pitching, dominoes and other entertainment and recreation selected by those attending the affair.

The evening program will start at 7 o'clock. At this time the big barbecue will be served, followed by speaking. Heading this part of the program will be Cong. Worley, if he can get here. Other speakers scheduled include:

C. H. Day, state director of the AAA from College Station, an able and informed man who has appeared here on previous occasions and is known to most of the farmers. Completing the list of outside speakers will be Caesar Hohn, state director of the Land Use program, also from College Station. While Hohn brings many interesting thoughts in a serious vein, he is also something of a humorist and well worth hearing.

Loudspeaker equipment and lighting facilities will be provided for the program and during the supper period.

The barbecue is open to all farmers and their sons of the county; also farm operators or those living in town or elsewhere who own farms. With payment of their share of the incidental expense not yet made by a number of eligibles, Tarter says the fees will be collected that evening. The barbecue, with its pork and beef and other items, costs money and those enjoying it are expected to bear their share of the expense.

Bread and pickles will be for sale on the grounds to those who do not bring their own supplies of this kind, but all are requested to bring knives, forks or whatever they wish to eat with. The barbecue meat and coffee will be supplied free to those taking part.

Anyone who wants to spend the night at the picnic grounds is invited to bring bedding and food and equipment for preparing breakfast next morning. Those wishing to spend the night there are welcome to do so.

A word of warning to avoid possible embarrassment is sounded by authorities in charge of the picnic that no intoxicating liquors of any kind be brought to the grounds. Pop and candy will be for sale, but no beer or other drinks.

Widow Wins U. S. Defense Bond

Mrs. Bessie R. Alston, of Salt Lake City, receives from Mayor Ab Jenkins (right) $500 U. S. Defense Bond as first prize in unique contest sponsored by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company. Lee Nebeker, Lumbermens representative, looks on.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.—In ceremonies held at the City Hall here today, Mrs. Bessie R. Alston, widowed school teacher, was awarded first prize of a $500.00 U. S. Defense Saving Bond for the best letter in a nation-wide contest sponsored by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company on the subject: "How old should boys and girls be before being permitted to drive the family car?"

Mayor Ab Jenkins, an outstanding figure in safe driving, despite the fact that he has broken many world's speed records, made the presentation.

Peter Pans Crowd Highways

In her letter Mrs. Alston, who has a son in the army and a daughter who is a nurse, declared: "Thousands of Peter Pans crowd our highways today—children who will never grow up. Put one of these behind a steering wheel and he immediately develops deadly auto-intoxication which is the cause of most traffic accidents; disregarding signals, weaving in and out, endangering lives, he is the world's worst 'show-off.'"

Driving maturity, Mrs. Alston wrote, is made up of five special qualities: intelligent thinking; sane judgment; emotional control; unflinching courtesy and a high degree of good citizenship.

"HOW OLD SHOULD THOSE CHILDREN BE BEFORE PERMITTED TO TAKE THE CAR?"

(BY BESSIE R. ALSTON)

(Editor's Note: This is the prizewinning letter in a national contest sponsored by the Lumberman's Mutual Casualty company in an effort to reduce the more than 300,000 youthful accidents each year. Published by permission of copyright owner).

Thousands of Peter Pans crowd our highways today—children who will never grow up. Some of them are 15, some are 50, but chronological age can no more determine driving fitness than a yardstick can measure faith or courage.

Put one of these ever young drivers behind a steering wheel and he immediately develops a case of that deadly auto-intoxication which is the cause of most traffic accidents; disregarding signals, weaving in and out, endangering lives, he is the world's worst "show-off."

Keeping these unsafe drivers off the road is the responsibility at once of the home and the license bureau. Of the home, because that is where the driver is made or marred. It is true that most 16-year-old youngsters can master the mere mechanics of driving in a day, but it takes from 16 to 20 years to train a good driver, to establish the five special qualities that make up driving maturity. They are intelligent thinking, sane judgment, emotional control, unflinching courtesy and a high degree of good citizenship. No one of these flashes automatically into being at the turn of a calendar page; each is a slow growing product of inborn intelligence and lifelong training.

Courtesy is the keynote to road safety, yet it is the quality most lacking in many of our American youths. The mother who insists that her child crowd ahead of his elders to snatch the last seat in the bus or who watches indifferently while he runs his tricycle over the neighbor's garden is training, all unaware, the roadhog of tomorrow.

The dad who chuckles gleefully as he tells his dinner guests of fooling a "cop" or doing 80 on a 50-mile road is unconsciously teaching little "big ears" a lasting lesson in contempt for law and safety.

Emotional restraint, nervous stability, these should be built up before any child is allowed the wheel.

For too many years we have handed car keys and licenses to youngsters with a queer superstition that these things in themselves possessed the magic that could change an unthinking child into a mature driver overnight. The magic hasn't worked, therefore it is the duty of the state to keep the immature, the mentally deficient and the drunken driver from our highways. New standards must be established, new licensing procedures set up.

In many states whenever an ap-

"No one of these," she continued, "flashes automatically into being at the turn of a calendar page, each is a slow growing product of inborn intelligence and life-long training."

Mrs. Alston suggested, as a means of drastically reducing the appalling number of youthful automobile accidents each year, "an educational program so vivid and convincing that the public would wholeheartedly support it."

Attack on Problem

Lumbermens, nationally known for its long standing policy of "helping accidents not to happen," sought in the contest the most astute methods of attack on the growing problem of auto accidents among the youth of America.

The material contained in the many thousands of letters which were received over a two-month period from all parts of the western hemisphere, will be assimilated by Lumbermens experts and incorporated into a safety promotion plan, according to company officials.

Lumbermens co-sponsors the Kemper foundation for traffic police training at the traffic institute of Northwestern university and the "Not over 50 Club" which now has a membership well over 300,000.

plicant has passed a simple test in mechanics, shifting, turning, backing and can read and interpret a few signs he is licensed to drive. This is insufficient. For years I taught mentally deficient boys. Wholly irresponsible, easily enraged, anxious to show off, wholly childish, many of them could and did pass driver's tests, and many of them, too, have had minor as well as serious accidents.

Even the normal 16-year-old is still a mere child, at the very peak of that emotional instability adolescence brings. He has no means to buy fuel or insurance to protect others. His sense of responsibility would be greater if he were old enough to earn some of these things, instead of being brought up to regard them as something dad owes him. After all a car is no child's toy; it is the tool that challenges the power of an adult mind.

We do not allow our youth to vote until they are 21. Why not make driving a man's job, too?

A series of tests for driving maturity would aid in doing this. It would give an occasional 16-year-old of proved superiority in all the necessary controls, and a real life need for a driving job the right to drive. It would defer, for two, or even five years, the privilege for the less mature. And youngsters do a wonderful job of growing up between the ages of 16 and 18 or so, and this sliding scale of age combined with mental maturity would take all this into consideration. It would take the mentally deficient permanently off the road.

An educational campaign would be necessary, one so vivid and convincing that the public would support it wholeheartedly. There would then be more interstate unity in the license laws. Surely parents, glad to have their authority reinforced by the law would co-operate in safeguarding the young lives that are their dearest possession.

Coaching School Grid Contest at Plainview

All-Star Game Dated Friday Night, August 29—Adams Only One from County in Lineup

Everything is set for the kick-off of the Plains Coaching school exhibition grid game at Plainview on Friday night of next week, reports a special to The Times from that place.

The 44 star football players are lined up in East and West camps, day and night program features are arranged, coaches are sending in their acceptance of invitations to attend and officials have been secured to call the all-star grid game on the night of August 29 when the week's session will be concluded.

Dell Morgan, Texas Tech coach, and Marty Karow, backfield coach at Texas A. and M., will conduct the school, with Jack Curtice, Canyon head coach, assisting Karow of the East camp, and Berl Huffman, assistant at Tech, aiding Morgan with the West aggregation.

Carroll Adams of Wheeler has been selected by the committee as a member of the East squad. He is the only player from this county and one of the few from the entire Panhandle area to be so honored.

Registration of coaches will start at 9 a. m., Monday, August 25, at the city auditorium. Beginning at 10 that morning a series of lectures at which Morgan and Karow will alternate in sessions at the auditorium or on the football field, whichever place best suits the coaches' requirements for the day.

From 11 until noon each day will be taken up in conferences between coaches with Morgan and Karow leading round-table on any and all problems the mentors wish to discuss. From 4 until 6 each afternoon the two sectional aggregations of grid stars will go through their paces in illustrating procedure for benefit of the coaches and training for the all-star game.

Bob Horne of Plainview, chairman of the committee in charge of the coaching school arrangements, reports mailing invitations to head coaches and staffs of all Southwestern schools and all Texas colleges.

United Gas Pipe Line to Circle Gulf South

New 200-Mile Link Just Started to Serve Coastal Region with Florida Objective

United Gas Pipe Line company announced Tuesday that construction of a 200-mile natural gas pipe line has been started to supply the increasing fuel requirements of industries and cities in Louisiana and along the Gulf Coast of Mississippi and Alabama to Pensacola, Fla.

The new line will run from the gas fields of southern Louisiana across Lake Pontchartrain to Mandeville, La., eastward to Gulfport, Miss., and thence to Mobile, Ala. At Mandeville another line is being laid to Covington, La. It has been estimated that 56 per cent of the line's capacity of approximately 80 million cubic feet daily will be used by industries engaged in filling national defense contracts.

The crossing of Lake Pontchartrain will be the longest underwater natural gas pipe line in the world. A single line, 14 inches in diameter, will traverse the 25 miles of water from the southwestern bank to Mandeville on the northern shore. Construction on this section of the line will start the latter part of August.

The new line will tie into existing lines at several points and at Mobile will connect with the Pensacola lateral line constructed several years ago, but built large enough to handle sufficient gas for all the requirements of the growing Pensacola industries and the U. S. Naval Training station near that city. United Gas Pipe Line company's main transmission lines will, upon completion of the new project, encircle a large portion of the Gulf South. This part of the United system extends from the fields in lower Louisiana northward to Shreveport, La., and across to Monroe, La., and Jackson, Miss., southward to Mobile, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla.

The new line completes the loop by linking Mobile and intervening points with the Terrebonne parish gas wells, running from west to east. The lines are supplied from numerous gas fields which are tapped all around the big circle.

Large Range Cotton Hose Designs Ready

More than 150 different cotton stocking designs now are available to the hosiery industry as a result of investigation by the Bureau of Home Economics at the Beltsville, Md., research center. Three years ago congress appropriated funds to the department of agriculture for investigating the use of cotton for women's hosiery.

According to Dora E. Barnes, specialist in clothing for the A. and M. College Extension service, the designs vary from cotton web mesh for evening wear to plain knits in various weights for sports wear, and for around the house and garden. Several are in production and more will be soon. They are produced on a modern full-fashioned knitting machine and undergo severe laboratory and "field" tests for washability, washability and appearance.

Surveys made in 1940 showed that 89 per cent of the 16,200 full-fashioned knitting machines in the United States are suitable for knitting cotton as well as silk, while only 47 per cent can handle nylon yarns. Last year, American women bought more than 43,000,000 dozen pairs of full-fashioned stockings. If these had been made from cotton, it is estimated that nearly 300,000 bales of long-staple fibre would have been required.

Hope Springs Eternal

(By a Times Reader)

We have worked all year, a soulless slave;
We have pinched the budget and tried to save.

A vacation of two weeks we have won
With the hope of having lots of fun.

Now a careful study we must make
Of every mountain, stream and lake.

Some tell us here, some tell us there;
But we can't make up our mind just where.

We want to fish and we want to camp
Where it's not too cold and not too damp;

Where it's not too hot and not too dry,
And never a cloud to dim the sky.

But it's hard to choose a place like this
With nothing to mar our vacation bliss;

So we choose a place that's not too far
To negotiate with the family car.

Right here is where we start to swear,
For the wife and kids have nothing to wear;

The car needs tires and a set of rings—
Then there's gas and oil and other things.

But we are happy, our hearts are stout,
We have not a thing to worry about.

The hard part is over, we have done our best
And now for two weeks of comfort and rest.

We drive weary miles through dust and sand
To get to our chosen promised land.

To find it just like all the rest—
Mosquitoes, flies and other pests.

We can't sleep for bugs, we can't eat for ants,
We live for two weeks like a bunch of tramps.

Some people think a vacation is swell,
But for us it is just two weeks of hell.

We have spent all our money and tried for a loan
We would be far better off to have just stayed at home.

We are all tired out and glad to be back
And we try to make up for the spirit we lack.

We call in our friends to wine and to dine
And tell them we had just a wonderful time.

While under our breath we swear with a grin
To never go on a vacation again.

But time's a great healer, a year rolls away,
And again we'll be longing for vacation days.

Railroads Unable to Meet Wage Increases

Say Demands Would Add More Than 40 Per Cent to Wage Costs and Create Deficits

Declaring that no industry can pay out more than it takes in and remain in business, the Conference committees representing American railroads in the pending wage negotiations, today advised leaders of railroad labor that the railroads are unable to grant their demands for increases in pay.

The five operating brotherhoods have asked for a 30 per cent increase, with a minimum increase of $1.80 per day, while the non-operating groups of employees have demanded an increase of 30 cents an hour, with a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour.

"This case," said Fred G. Gurley, speaking for the Conference committees, "has become generally known as the 'thirty per cent' case. It should be known as the 'forty per cent' case because the demands made would add more than 'forty per cent' to railroad wage costs.

Nine hundred million dollars per year is about what is being demanded, said Gurley. That is more than the railroads have ever had in net income in any one year and twice as much as all the net income that the railroads have had in the last 10 years.

"Had these demands been in effect in 1940, instead of a small net income for all the railroads, there would have been a net deficit of more than 600 millions. Had the demands been in effect in the first five months of 1941, there would have been a net deficit of 225 millions, and such railroads as the Pennsylvania, the Union Pacific, and the Santa Fe—all household names—would not have earned expenses."

"It is conceded" he said, "that there is an increase in railroad business at the present time, with some resulting increase in net income, due, however, almost solely to additional business resulting from changing world conditions and our supreme national defense effort. No one knows how long these conditions will continue and no one knows what the additional costs of operation will be in handling this additional business or how high taxes will mount."

"Certain it is that the earnings of the American railroad worker are now the highest that they have been and this in spite of the struggle which the railroad industry has had in order to survive."

Two Canadian young men placed in the water sports at the opening of Lake Fryer in Ochiltree county, Sunday, Paul Wood of Canadian, who has won previous places in boat races at government lake contests in the Panhandle, took a first Sunday in the 16-horsepower class. G. W. Sportsman of Canadian, was second in the same event.—Canadian Record.

RECOGNITION IS GIVEN COUNTY 4-H CLUB GIRL BY FARM PUBLICATION

Under the heading "Texas 4-Hers Pay Their Way," by Miss Onah Jacks, Texas State Girls' Club agent, the Progressive Farmer, widely circulated farm publication, gives recognition to a Wheeler county 4-H club girl as follows:

In Wheeler county, Texas, the 4-H club girls are paying their own way. Dorothy Mertel, president of the Pakan club and a member of the Wheeler county girls' 4-H council, tells how they made money in her club:

"We are getting along fine with our cakes—now. I thought of taking orders for cakes one night as I lay awake and wondered how our club would make money this year. My mother goes to Shamrock each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, so this gave me a start. I thought I might go along each time, get orders for cakes, and deliver them. All our other club girls attend school. I brought this idea up at our meeting and all the girls decided that each of us should furnish the ingredients for the cakes we make, since we all have milk, eggs and butter on hand, and the other ingredients do not cost much.

"Now you may understand why everything is 'ticking' like a new watch. We have 100 per cent profit. We make any kind of cake people order. Devil's food and coconut seem to be the favorites.

"We use part of our money to send one of our club members to the Short Course. The rest is for entertainment and recreation."

Much Expansion Given School Lunch Program

Texas' 215 county home demonstration agents and assistant agents have been asked to help families in their counties know how to obtain or expand community school lunch programs.

According to information received by Mildred Horton, vice director of the A. and M. College Extension service, and passed on to the county workers, several changes in policies governing the program will make possible expansion of the service.

For example, WPA will now permit the assignment of its workers for the preparation and serving of meals to all children, provided all needy children are furnished free lunches. A change in regulations of the Surplus Marketing administration makes it possible for that agency to purchase and distribute a wide variety of protective foods to the states. In addition, state directors of commodity distribution will be notified in advance of delivery what foods and what amounts will be available for school lunch distribution.

"The combination of wider variety of foods and advance knowledge of the kinds and amounts to be distributed should give school lunch supervisors a great deal more freedom in planning well-balanced and nutritious meals," WPA and SMA workers say.

To aid volunteer or sponsor-paid workers on the school lunch room projects, WPA in-service training institutes will be held under supervision of trained home economists.

County home demonstration agents have been asked to give continued co-operation informing the public about school lunch programs. Under their direction, hundreds of home demonstration club women in the state have been canning surplus fruits and vegetables for hot lunches during the coming school term.

Shelterbelts of trees have been the means of rehabilitating many wind damaged farms.

GEORGIA AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER SCORES AMERICAN FARM INCOME PLAN

Tom Linder, Writing from Office at Atlanta, Asserts "Controlled Economy" Proves Failure

"How much longer can the American farmer last at this?" is the question propounded by Tom Linder, Georgia Commissioner of Agriculture, writing from the Department of Agriculture headquarters at Atlanta. Linder then gives the following facts:

The average national income for the five years from 1925 to 1929 inclusive was $79,217,000,000.

This means that the total income of all kinds of all the people of the United States totaled this figure during those five years.

The average cash income to farmers throughout the United States was $10,006,000,000. The farmer received 12.6 per cent of the total national income.

During the five years from 1935 to 1939 inclusive, the national income dropped to an average of $65,039,000,000 per year. Of this national income the farmers received an average cash income of $6,212,000,000, which amounted to 8.8 per cent of the national income.

In other words, from 1935 to 1939 the farmers received only two-thirds as much of the national income as they received during the five years from 1925 to 1929.

For the sake of argument I have included all government benefits of all kinds received by the farmers during the latter five-year period.

Subsequent to comprehensive tabulations of farm income before and after the regimented control plan became effective, the commissioner adds this comment:

The facts are that the congress has set up a "controlled economy." The further facts are that this "controlled economy" does not "control" anybody except the farmers.

The natural result of a controlled economy which does not control anyone except the farmers is to continually rob the farmer of more and more every year of the things he produces for the benefit of those who do not farm.

The national income for the next 12 months is bound to be at least 100 billion dollars. The government

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

The Rev. Robert L. Warton, D. D., of Greensboro, N. C., for 42 years a Presbyterian missionary in Cuba and for 23 years superintendent of the schools of his church in that country, has been awarded the highest honor Cuba's government can bestow, "Knight of the Order of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes."

In 1900 Dr. Warton organized at Cardenas, LaProgresiva, which today has 750 students and boasts an alumni group of many men prominent professionally and in the government. Later he organized two other schools and eight Presbyterian churches in the interior. Back in Cardenas he has superintended the work of a score or more schools, and has also been a promoter of sports and a leader in civic life.

One of his civic interests has been the paving of streets in Cardenas a movement he inaugurated in a series of debates at La Progresiva. The municipality has officially named him an "Adopted Son" and "Benefactor of the City," and he has been honored by the Association of Public School Teachers, by the Cuban Red Cross and by the Liceo de Cardenas.

"Man's environment is partly natural, partly social, and partly divine," says Dr. Theodore M. Greene, of Princeton university. "Nature, man and God are the three great facts with which we must all come to terms. History has abundantly demonstrated what our Christian theologians have always maintained, that man can preserve and foster his human dignity only in proportion as he responds to the divine initiative and maintains, in his own life, a vital tension between the natural and the divine.

"Without a religious anchorage we must inevitably fall back into a state of nature, a state of brutal, sub-human animality. This is the predicament in which the world finds itself today. The irreligious and anti-religious humanism of recent decades is transforming itself before our very eyes into a naturalism which proclaims that might is right, that the individual is the pawn of the state, and that human dignity and value are illusions.

"Can any doubt remain that Christianity is absolutely essential to our democratic society and way of life?"

Interdenominational and government co-operation by missionaries among American Indians was emphasized by the Fellowship of Indian Workers in national conference in the Navajo Mission School, Farmington, N. Mex., recently. Representatives from 15 denominations and 15 Indian tribes attended.

Meeting to consider the problems and opportunities presented by Indian work, the group recognized that "the most significant contribution that can be made at this time to American democracy is to ease social tensions and racial conflicts within our nation."

Suggestions offered new workers among Indians by "veterans" in the field included the following: "Go slowly;" "Don't get in a hurry, but always go ahead;" "Remember that Indians will read the workers before they will read the Bible;" "Meet them on the level;" "Use the simple words of the Master;" "Look at problems through the eyes of the Indian people."

self is going to spend 30 to 40 billion dollars. During the five-year period of 1925 to 1929 the farmers were somewhat below parity with the horse and buggy days of 1913.

But even on a basis of the five-year period of 1925 to 1929, giving the farmer an average of 12.6 per cent of the national income, the farmers in the next 12 months should receive a cash income of around 12 billion dollars.

If the farmer is put on an actual parity with 1913, and then we add 33 1-3 per cent to give him buying power to live at the standard of the present day, the farmers income during the next 12 months would run around 18 billion dollars, or 18 per cent of the national income.

This would be in line with the income that the farmer did receive prior to the enactment of high protective tariffs. Any legislation that does not provide actual parity on a basis of today for the American farmer is class legislation.

Any legislation which says to the American farmer, "You must produce food and clothing for the balance of the people at a price which does not give you equality with people in other lines," is nothing short of legislating the farmers into peonage.

The farmers of America are the most patriotic people in America. They are willing to make any sacrifice needed for national defense.

But to single out the American farmer and legislate the greatest hardships on him, when people in all other lines are being paid a bonus to support the government in the war, is uncalled for, intolerable, and will not be forever submitted to.

We say today that the United States is giving seven billion dollars to England under the Lease-Lend bill, and that we are going to give them seven billion more in the next 12 months.

Can you name anybody in America today that is giving anything except the farmer. Do you know anybody else in any line of business that is working below parity?

No! The only two classes of people who are actually giving today are the farmers who raise the food and clothing, and the boys who have got to carry the guns and do the fighting.

Meeting to consider the problems and opportunities presented by Indian work, the group recognized that "the most significant contribution that can be made at this time to American democracy is to ease social tensions and racial conflicts within our nation."

Suggestions offered new workers among Indians by "veterans" in the field included the following: "Go slowly;" "Don't get in a hurry, but always go ahead;" "Remember that Indians will read the workers before they will read the Bible;" "Meet them on the level;" "Use the simple words of the Master;" "Look at problems through the eyes of the Indian people."

Putting up a taste of summer to flavor next winter's meals—that's what many a thrifty homemaker is doing these days. By means of tin cans or glass jars she's busy keeping surplus garden stuff from going to waste.

"The importance of a well-planned canning program cannot be emphasized too strongly," says Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics. "Survey after survey has shown that home canning as part of a wise home-production program can make the difference between diets that are poor, and diets that are good from the standpoint of nutrition. Home produced home canned food helps provide better diets with fewer food dollars."

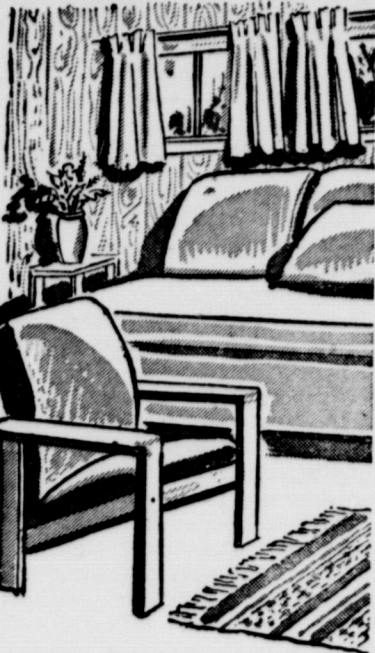

Always a busy canning time—mid-August should be busier than ever this year in view of the nation-wide campaign to save food for emergency needs. In nearly every locality, it is pointed out, supplies of vegetables go to waste each year because they are not gathered and distributed for immediate use—or not stored or preserved.

For that reason, the U. S. government has urged every community in the county to save its surplus vegetables and fruits. These surpluses may then be distributed later in the community, particularly through school lunch programs.

Whether canning is done on a large scale or a small scale, a steam pressure canner is a "must" piece of equipment for processing non-acid vegetables, say canning experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Practically all vegetables but tomatoes come in the non-acid class.

Eighty and one-half acres of shelterbelts properly located will give protection to the average 160-acre farm.

SAVING MONEY With Cotton Bags

Summer cottages may be charming. A great variety of articles especially suitable for the summer home can be made from used cotton bags. Use laundered cotton bags to make curtains. Trim them with applique or stencil designs or with a border of contrasting material. Sew small brass rings under pleats at the top to permit the curtains to be drawn to at night to avoid the need of window shades.

Make pillows, table cloths, kitchen towels, hand towels, dusting cloths, etc., all from cotton bags. Any of these articles can be dyed or tinted to carry out a color scheme.

The material in cotton bags is sturdy and closely woven and will stand the hard wear to which every article in the summer cottage is put.

Other Cotton Bag Sewing ideas are illustrated in a free booklet. Write to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, Tenn., or Textile Bags, 100 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

Sheriff Jake Honea was down from the county seat Wednesday and when asked how his injured knee was getting along, stated that he believed now that he would "save his leg." Jake's kneecap was split open in a mishap at the rodeo and had to be sewed up, then the flesh over the knee had to be drawn over the cap and sewed, requiring a total of 18 stitches.—Quitaque Post.

Stagecoach War
For Friday and Saturday, August 22-23, there will be a slight change in the program from the way it appears on the calendar. The picture listed for this date is Hopalong Cassidy in Wide Open Town. This picture was not completed in time to fill the engagement and in its place will be another Hopalong Cassidy picture called Stagecoach War. We feel this slight change will not inconvenience many of our patrons, and we are sure you will enjoy Hoppy just as much in one picture as in the other. So please remember that it's Stagecoach War in place of Wide Open Town for Friday and Saturday, August 22-23, and that the stars are Hopalong Cassidy, Lucky Jenkins and California.

Ziegfeld Girl
About a year or so ago Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brought to the screen one of its greatest pictures of all time which was called The Great Ziegfeld. And now as a successor to and even surpassing it, this same producing company has made Ziegfeld Girl. If you are a movie fan and know your stars you probably could sell the writer of this column on the merits of this picture. You could probably tell us some things we do not know concerning it. However, we are going to use enough space to mention the stars just in case you might have forgotten even one of them. To begin with there is Judy Garland, who alone is drawing power enough for any average picture. Next we find James Stewart who is now doing time in Uncle Sam's army. Next in line comes gorgeous Hedy Lamarr who has a following all her own. And last, but not least, there is Lana Turner, who really walks off with the laurels and in a great measure steals the picture. This is a picture that you will have to come early if you want to be sure of a seat. It comes to the Rogue Preview-Sunday-Monday, August 23-24-25.

Moon Over Miami
In Technicolor
Some time ago we all decided that when a producer went to the extra expense of putting a picture in technicolor that it was a very good standard by which to judge the picture. And sure enough, it is just that in the case of Moon Over Miami which comes to the Rogue Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, August 27-28. This picture has for stars Betty Grable, Don Ameche, Charlotte Greenwood, Jack Haley and Robert Cummings, enough for two or three ordinary pictures. If you chanced to see Down Argentine Way, That Night in Rio or Tin Pan Alley you will have an idea of the sort of picture we are talking about in Moon Over Miami, which is equally as good or perhaps better than any of those mentioned. For goodness sake don't miss it, or there will be regrets.

How's Your Subscription?

The average reader's reaction to this question might be: "How should I know, that's the publisher's business; I have no means of determining when my subscription is out!"

This is not correct, however.

Every subscriber can easily tell just when his or her subscription is out. As a part of the address on each paper are certain figures. These mean more than just a record for the convenience of this office; they enable subscribers to check their expiration date and renew for the paper when the time for which they subscribe is out.

For instance: an address may read John Jones 7-24-41. This shows John's subscription expires July 24, 1941.

Won't you, dear reader, look at YOUR expiration date, as shown by the figures following your name on the address of this paper and—if in arrears—remit promptly?

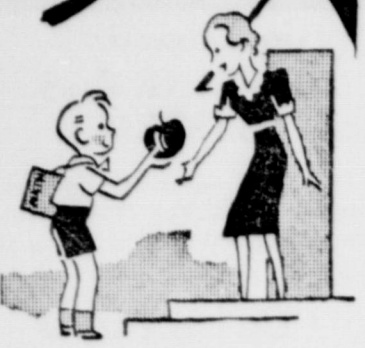

It should be pointed out that acceptance of the paper through the mail places liability for payment upon the person so receiving it. There is not now nor never has been a disposition to force the paper upon anyone—yet every effort is made to accommodate anyone who may be temporarily short of funds. Therefore, those who accept delivery of the paper are expected to pay for it in the usual course of events.

If not in position to meet the obligation at the moment, please advise the office and let us adjust the matter satisfactorily and thereby avoid embarrassment to all concerned.

Home Ec Association Enter Nutrition Work

Accept Challenge at Meeting Home Ec. Association Held Here on Monday Night

Wheeler county women are anxious to meet the challenge of nutrition as expressed by their attendance at the Wheeler County Home Economics association, which met at the home economics cottage here Monday night.

Mrs. Max Wiley presided in the absence of Mrs. Clifford Hiner of Shamrock.

Miss Lucile Chance and Miss Sybil Gidden, reporting for the Nutrition committee and the Organization Planning committee, brought out the fact that not many conferences are called by the president of the United States, but that the president had called a National Nutrition Conference for Defense. President Theodore Roosevelt called the Conservation conference and Woodrow Wilson called the White House Conference on Child Welfare.

The prestige given the Nutrition conference makes nutrition a vital national issue, Miss Chance stated. Both committee reports gave definite and far-reaching plans for the county, with details to be worked out later. The keynote of both reports stressed the fact there is plenty of food available and that the work of the group is to translate this abundance of food into reality for the people in Wheeler county.

Mrs. Wiley, speaking to the members, quoted President Roosevelt in his message to the National Conference on Nutrition, when he said, "Fighting men of our armed forces, workers in industry, the families of these workers, every man and woman in America must have nourishing food. If people are undernourished, they cannot be efficient in producing what we need in our unified drive for dynamic strength. It is the work of the national conference to explore and define our nutritional problems and to map out recommendations for an immediate program of action."

"If this is the instruction the president gave the national committee on nutrition, then it is the work of all home economics workers in Wheeler county to help carry these plans of action to all the people of the county."

"Showing there is a very strong co-operative spirit already in Wheeler county we are glad to find Miss Lucile Chance and Miss Sybil Gidden from the extension service, Miss Leona Crossland of the WPA office, Miss Vera Martin of the housing division, Mrs. Cecil Reavis of the lunch room project, Mrs. James Brothers of the housekeeping aid, several county teachers of home economics, as well as housewives who have had home economics training, in our meeting tonight.

"This sort of help will make it easier to carry out the plans for better nutrition in Wheeler county." Plans for September were formulated and the various committees for the local organization are busy working out menus and recipes in order to present the foods required by the Texas Food standard to build a well balanced diet.

The group meets each third Monday at the home economics cottage, Wheeler, at 8 p. m., and every home economics worker is urged to come, as well as housewives with home economics training.

Every person in the United States with home economics training is urged to register for defense. Cards for this purpose may be obtained from Miss Lucile Chance, Wheeler.

Club Women in Fine Annual Picnic Affair

More Than 200 County Residents Attend Encampment at the Finsterwald Ranch

More than 200 Home Demonstration club women, their families and guests enjoyed the annual club encampment picnic at the Finsterwald Ranch north of Wheeler Tuesday night of last week.

Early in the evening games were enjoyed by the crowd: "Down Hitler" caused much merriment with guests throwing a rolling pin at a dummy of "Der Fuehrer." Horse-shoe pitching was popular with the men.

A bountiful picnic supper was served at two long tables under the trees, cafeteria style and club women, as usual, proved their excellence at the culinary art.

After supper the crowd enjoyed group singing, led by Hester Dodson, and a program given by the club women.

Briscoe ladies presented a clever travogue in which various European countries and points of interest in the United States were visited.

Nanette Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Tyson of Mobeetie, gave a reading and song which was greatly enjoyed.

An imitation of Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, getting fined for speeding was the skit presented by the Country Neighbors club.

The Three Leaf club of Shamrock had a skit of a draftee home on furlough.

Miss May Ruth Stauffer of the Pagan club read a poem, "Smiles." The concluding skit was given by the Magic City club which was a fortune-telling feature and the audience asked questions of "Madame Zorka."

Mrs. T. C. Harless of Magic City led a group of games including a "beauty contest" which caused much merriment.

The program was concluded with a talk by Miss Viola Jones of Beaumont, former Wheeler county home demonstration agent, who visited here this week and was an honor guest at the picnic.

A large number of club women remained for the all-night encampment.

MISS VIOLA JONES ENJOYS VISIT WITH MANY FRIENDS

From 1927 to 1937, Miss Viola Jones was county home demonstration agent of Wheeler county, making scores of friends and acquaintances both in Wheeler and throughout the county. She was transferred in 1937 to Jefferson county, with headquarters at Beaumont. Since that time she had paid this county one brief visit until last week.

For the past three years the County Home Demonstration council and Miss Lucile Chance, home demonstration agent, have planned for and urged her to attend the annual encampment and renew friendships here. This year, through co-operation of the extension department, she was able to come, arriving August 11.

Open house in Miss Jones' honor was held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Porter during the afternoon and evening of the 11th, when many who could not attend encampment met her. On Tuesday she visited the sick and those otherwise unable to attend either meeting. These included Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. C. R. Flynt, Mrs. A. E. Jaco, Mrs. Jeff Kelly, Grandma Rogers and Mrs. Paul Stauffer, as well as several others.

That evening she attended encampment, principal object of her trip here, at the Finsterwald ranch.

Wednesday she visited more friends and spent the night with a former schoolmate and co-worker, Mrs. W. Y. Burden of Shamrock, who came as home demonstration agent to Collingsworth county at the same time Miss Jones assumed her duties in Wheeler county.

Thursday morning a brother, Alvin Jones, of Oklahoma came by and took her to the home of their parents, at Lamesa for a family reunion.
