"Wheeler, town of friendship and pride."

Congratulations, Wheeler Cross Country Girls! on having won the meet over the weekend. -cwe-

The Lions Club annual Broom Sale and Cheese Burger Sale is scheduled for Friday on the square. Stop by for a delicious cheese burger and buy some cleaning supplies. Check the story on Page 1 for more informa-

Notice an article elsewhere on page one concerning the sidewalks. We need to raise some money, but matching funds for the sidewalks is available.

The new motel at the south edge of Wheeler is really coming along.

Dinner was held Saturday at Mobeetie. Over seventy people invitation.

-cwe-

-cwe-This group is to be commended for what they accomplish. This is County Youth Placings a hard working group.

-cwe-Steve Walker catered the meal. Delicious, Steve. Not only is he known as Mr. Bar-B-Q, he could also be Mr. Fagita.

-cwe-We played cards Monday evening. Rhonda and Leroy won the first game and Barbara and I managed to win the second.

STORM REPORT

-cwe-

As Reported By Stormie Meriwether Pre-Kindergarten

We play inside. It's too much raining. Hailey plays dress up with me. I see Hailey (Spence) pretty in the dress up clothes.

The wind blows all the leaves off. It is windy.

I did my school work. I make the letter 'F' for 'fish'.

I like the pep rally. We say, "Peel it to the left. Peel it to the right. Peel it down the middle and take a bite

Sales of blind made merchandise in previous years has been very successful and the Wheeler Lions Club has been able to use the net proceeds of these sales to provide glasses for local youth and other Lions projects. At the same time the sales provide dignity and the security of regular employment for blind citizens. Lions president, Dale Garner expressed his confidence that this year with support of the community, the broom sale of the local Lions Club will be successful.

Texas Baptist University's fall convocation the other day. But, "circumstances" were such that stiff formality was avoided.

Oh, the principals had on long black robes, tasseled mortarboards and colorful hoods, but young folks were predominant. And helping the assemblage "stay loose" were the nine grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. Bob Riley.

The grandkids had a vague awareness that Dr. Riley was being honored for 15 years of service in the presidency. But sometimes a guy "has to do what a guy has to do," so seven-year-old Christopher Berglund did-convocation or no convocation....

Hearing that "the white-haired guy" was back, some students figured that the speaker might be Bo Pilgrim. The chicken magnate in the pilgrim hat spoke at chapel there a while back, and he passed out evangelism tracts to each student. (Tucked inside each tract was a $20 bill.)

My hair matches Dr. Pilgrim's. And, my mortarboard matches his hat in blackness. That's about as far as the comparison goes! And the $20 bills I could give

Parkview Artery Flu Shot

There are some misconceptions concerning the flu shot.

The most common myth is that the flu vaccine can actually give you the flu. There is no live influenza virus in the vaccine so it can't cause the flu. The reason people think that is because they get the vaccine in the fall and winter when other viruses are circulating. People get a different virus and assume it was the flu.

Another fallacy is that the side effects of the vaccine are worse than the flu. Only 5 to 10 percent experience mild side effects, such as headache or low-grade fever for about a day after the vaccine. In truth, the worst side effect you're likely to get is a sore arm. The most serious side effect that can occur is an allergic reaction in people who have a severe allergy to eggs. For this reason. people who are allergic to eggs should not receive the vaccine Otherwise, in most people, there are no side effects. Finally, some people might reason that since the influenza vaccine isn't 100 percent effective, they're better off getting the flu.

Even if the vaccine doesn't prevent you from getting the flu, you are still likely to be far less sick than you would have been without the shot. The vaccine also greatly reduces the chance of severe complications.

It cuts down, eliminates the flu or decreases the severity of the illness. It dampens it [flu] down so much that you don't get very board do so because we are passionate about stopping child abuse," said Joan Gray-Soria, board president. "We need a few more people who feel the same way to help us make sure these children are cared for and don't suffer any further harm."

The Top of Texas Community Partners Board is a member of the Greater Texas Community Partners Organization. This statewide organization was formed to meet the critical needs of abused and neglected children through state and local collaborations. Successful collaborations between community volunteers, businesses and state and local government help raise awareness of child abuse and provide the resources these children need to become healthy, productive adults. Top Texas Community Partners held its first meeting on May 15, 2001, and Hemphill Counties.

The Top of Texas Board needs several volunteers to join the board. Gray-Soria said the board needs representation from the Pampa, Lefors, McLean, Canadian, Miami, Wheeler and Services (CPS) to ensure that the help."

Quail Population Recovery Study

Texas Agricultural Experiment vicinity of each transect and could Station and Texas Cooperative Extension personnel are trying to find out how and when quail populations in the High Plains will recover after last year's wildfires.

A study was started last spring to monitor the impacts of wildfire on quail, said Ken Cearley, Extension wildlife specialist in Canyon. Dr. Dale Rollins, Extension void" of how large-scale fires influence quail habitat. "This scale of wildfires is a rare event and presented a unique research opportunity for us," Rollins said. "We often use prescribed burning as a tool for managing quail habitat, but on a much smaller scale. "Our main interest is determining how long it takes those quail to repopulate that area two, three, four miles from the unburned edge," he said. "The draws and sandier lands included in these fires are typically good quail habi-

Laura Baar, a research associate, will spend the next month listening for spring calls from quail in six different sampling transects in Gray, Roberts, Hutchinson, Carson and Wheeler counties.

"We are interested in how distance from the edges of the burned area impacts quail abundance, both inside the burn and outside," Cearley said. "By counting calling males in the spring, we hope to be able to tell how many breeding birds are available going into this year's nesting season."

The transects are 10 miles long and extend at least 2 miles into one of the two largest blocks of burned area, each over 400,000 acres in size, he said. Mile markers are located along the transect, and all the sampling will take place at those markers.

Baar will listen for the birds beginning 30 minutes before official sunrise and continuing for one and a half to two hours, Cearley said. She will spend five minutes at each marker before moving on, and the count will be repeated three times on successive days.

The survey began last year, but the single year's data will provide limited information by itself, Cearley said. Last year was a dry year and that affected the number of quail almost statewide, so it probably also affected the survey in and around the burns.

A third year of data gathered in 2008 would be helpful, but that will depend on funding, he said. Already the survey had to be cut back somewhat from the first year due to lack of funds.

Funding for the study has been provided by the Panhandle Chapter of Quail Unlimited, several local landowners, West Texas A&M University and Extension's Quail Decline Initiative, Rollins said.

In the first year, scent stations and artificial nests with chicken eggs were used to determine how many potential nest predators coyotes, skunks, etc. - were in the

"Often, we'll find out that a burn will enhance the diversity and abundance of forbs, so that will be useful data once it is analyzed," Cearley said. "We are currently assessing the distance from the various mile markers to the edge of the burn from imagery provided by the Natural Resources Conservation Service," Rollins said. This year is looking better for quail overall due to abundant rainfall, Cearley said. Much of the burned area looks good with what appears to be adequate cover. "We expect better numbers," he said. "Last year there hadn't Salinas and Cody; Stacie and Slatton. Good job, girls! Hector and Jonathan (family members) Keith and Ann are from Beaumont, Tina's family from Big Spring, TX., and Stacie's family from Austin. Verline works full time at a day care facility taking care of four babies from 8 months to 10 months. Ray won't be able to work for 4 to 6 weeks and can't drive for 4 weeks. Ray and Verline are from Pampa.

Our Ft. Elliott Volleyball girls and Ann Boydston; Tina and Steve played Memphis Tuesday night at Briscoe and won the first three games of 25 points each. Rules have changed some since I was in school, but I wasn't a good athlete. Maybe too pokey. Playing on the Ft. Elliott varsity team were Stormi Lancaster, Lauren Baird, Megan Horn, Kaycee Swift, Mayci Meadows, Tisha McLaughlin, Karly Lovelace, Amber Maddox and Morgan McDowell. Good job! Also winning were the J. V. girls and J. H. girls. We are always proud of you. Coach is Brad
