144 Farmers Sign To Plant Peanuts

144 farmers of Wheeler county have agreed and ordered goobers to plant under the defense plan of increased peanut oil production for national defense. A total of 1,490 acres have been pledged by the local farmers and others are signing daily.

"Peanuts should not be planted earlier than cotton, and should be planted about 4 inches below the surface so as to have sufficient furrow to enable farmers to work dirt to the plants so nut spears can reach the ground and grow. If spears do not reach the ground because the plants were planted too shallow, they will not develop peanuts," county agent Jake Tarter, states, relative to growing the goobers locally.

"Peanuts should be worked only sufficiently to keep down vegetation, and get sufficient dirt in as when spears start down to the ground plants should not be worked too close to the plants unless cultivation is shallow enough that roots and spears are not destroyed.

"Peanuts should be planted in rows the same width of cotton or any other inter-tilled crop and spaced about 12 to 15 inches in the rows as they can be too close in the rows as any other crop, and if too dry in the summer, peanuts will dry up like any other crop; but they stand drouth better as a general rule than feed crops.

"Peanuts should be covered slightly deeper than cotton or one and a half to 2 inches deep," Tarter concluded.

Unofficial vote indicates wheat farmers approved quotas by approximately 89 per cent while national approval is expected to average about 82 per cent.

Price Control Goes Into Effect Monday

The first effects of the over-all price ceiling will be visible to the consumer on May 18.

That is the day the retail ceiling goes into effect, and also the day when every person offering to sell a cost-of-living commodity at retail shall have marked the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

The maximum price may be marked on the commodity itself or on the shelf, bin, rack or other holder or container upon which the commodity is kept. Or the maximum price may be posted at the place in the business establishment where the commodity is offered for sale.

Under the regulations, the maximum shall be stated as follows: "Ceiling Price $—.—," or "Our Ceiling $—.—."

It might be noted, Office of Price Administration officials have said, that the seller may sell commodities at lower than the ceiling price if he desires.

In posting the ceiling prices, any person choosing to post by price-line the maximum prices of commodities in classifications specified in the regulations, shall post the maximum price by price-line at the place in the business establishment where the commodities in such price-line are offered for sale, and, in addition, shall mark the selling price (which may be lower than the maximum price) of each such commodity on the commodity itself.

BUY YOUR WINTER'S FUEL NOW

We've all been advised not to hoard—and that's necessary advise indeed. But there is one basic commodity which the government wants us to "hoard" now—coal.

High officials are urging individuals to purchase next winter's coal stocks before summer ends, and preferably immediately. This, of course, isn't "hoarding" at all. It is, instead, a definite contribution to the war effort.

The reason for it is simple. If everyone waits until cold weather arrives before ordering coal, the drain on the mines and on the agencies which transport the fuel, will be tremendous. Worst of all, that drain will come at a time—early and middle fall—when crop movements are at their peak. And in addition, war freight of all kinds will be substantially heavier in the fall than now.

The point is to get every possible ton of coal into the hands of the ultimate consumer at the earliest possible time. So, buy your winter's coal today. Then you'll be doing your part to clear the transportation lines for war traffic. And you'll also make certain that you won't be out of fuel when you need it.

RAT CONTROL ON THE FARM

The first step toward successful rat control is a sincere determination to be rid of the pests. Often the control measures to be used will vary for different premises. Study your problem, observe the feeding and nesting habits of the rats, where they are running and how they gain entrance to buildings. With this information you are in a better position to begin worthwhile control work.

No poison, however, good, will be effective unless the rats eat it. For this reason baits should be chosen that the rats will take readily. At least three different types of bait should be exposed at the same time in order to assure effective poisoning. Be sure the bait is fresh and attractive. Small pieces of poisoned bait should be placed in rat runways, around the wall line of buildings and in attics and basements. Baits may be laid on squares of paper to make their removal easier and to check on results.

Formulas for mixing poisoned bait are available at the county agent's office.

The same care should be taken in choosing bait for traps as is used in poisoning. When you use the common snap trap the baits may be securely tied to trigger and set with the baited end to the wall, in runways, near holes and where rats are feeding. Plenty of traps should be used—rather 50 traps to catch one rat than 1 trap to 50 rats. Some suggested trap baits are: Nut meats, sliced apple, bread crust, salt pork or bacon rind.

Many inexpensive measures may be taken to stop rats from entering buildings. Try these:

Use tin for flashing around service fixtures.

Stop holes in masonry with concrete or in wooden floors with tin.

Remove rubbish, lumber or other waste materials from underneath buildings.

THE GLAD HAND

AFTER THE WAR—THEN WHAT?

Today most minds are centered on the job of winning this war—and that is one of the biggest jobs that has come to any nation in the history of mankind. At the same time, many men are thinking of that day when the war will finally end and the equally vast task of reconstruction must be started. They are laying plans for this world of the future, based on the hope that ways can be found to make international peace and prosperity real and permanent, instead of temporary and illusory.

All Americans know what happened after the last war. It was the position of President Wilson that this nation must accept the responsibility of leadership in world affairs, and he believed that the League of Nations was the proper instrument for the discharge of that responsibility. For good or ill, Mr. Wilson could not win the American Congress and the American people to his side. He literally burned himself out on a national speaking tour which proved to be an utter failure. This nation was sick of internationalism and war. It wanted only to mind its own business and to manage its own affairs. It had little interest in what went on beyond its borders.

Now the situation is vastly different in many ways. The Atlantic Charter commits this nation to help in the rebuilding of all the world. The Charter, in principle, has been almost universally approved—indeed, the main criticism of it is that it does not go far enough. And, perhaps more important still, the political opposition to the Administration has formally placed itself on record with a policy which is a far cry from the "traditional isolationism" of yesterday.

At the end of the last war, the strongest figure in the Republican party was the able Senator Lodge, who did more than any other man to block Congressional approval of the League of Nations. Now a dominant figure in the party is a man whose viewpoint is genuinely internationalist, Wendell Willkie. It was Mr. Willkie who carried the torch at the recent meeting of the Republican Policy Committee, and who succeeded in having passed resolutions which almost completely embody his ideas.

The other day Mr. Willkie made a speech, in which he said this: "It will be a new idea to many Americans that the United States in the future may need help from other nations. But we do need help if our personal liberty, of justice, of equality, of hope and growth and expansion, are to survive. We can keep America to ourselves, though I doubt if the America we keep to ourselves would be free. But we cannot keep freedom to ourselves. If we are to have freedom, we must share freedom. . . . The day of vast empire is past. The day of equal peoples is at hand. . . ."

"Let us keep that aim shining before us like a light—a light for the people of Europe, for the people of Asia, for the people of South America, and for the people of our own beloved land." As Time put it, "Seldom before had any U. S. Leader said, in such clean, earthly words, that the freedom on which this nation was founded means freedom and dignity for all people of all lands."

Precisely what we must or will do in the future is in the laps of the gods. Many think that there will be great economic adjustments, and we must find ways to help other peoples attain the means as well as the desire to buy part of the incredible flood of goods that our post-war factories will be able to produce. They think there will be an end to thinking that peoples of another creed and color are inferior to peoples of our creed and color. They think, in short, that a real start may be made toward the goal of the Brotherhood of Man that philosophers have dreamed about for 20 centuries.

In any event, all of us are now getting a new and far more accurate idea of the character of other people.

We used to think of the Chinese in terms of incredible poverty, disease and ignorance—now we have learned that the Chinese are brave and intelligent and are led by men who are outstanding in any company. We used to think of the Russians as spineless serfs—and now the Russians have held the greatest military machine the world has ever known, and perhaps saved all the United Nations from defeat and disaster. We used to think of Australia as a rather uninteresting and unimportant "island" far away in the Pacific—and now we have learned that the Australians are people very like ourselves, proud and embattled, and that the defense of Australia is vital to our own defense. So it goes. Whatever comes, the average American is obtaining an infinitely better knowledge of the world and the peoples who inhabit it than his forebears ever had.

CORRECTION MUST BE MADE

In his recent speech to congress which dealt with price stabilization, the President said: "It is our effort to be fair in all phases of price control; and if our future experience reveals inequality or unfairness, corrections will, of course, be made."

It seems inevitable that general price freezing will have to be swiftly followed by many corrections. Those corrections must be made in order to save retail business, both small and large, from imminent destruction.

Increases in retail prices have been substantially less than increases in wholesale prices. In the last war, to the contrary, retail price boosts kept pace with and often ran ahead of wholesale rises. The reason that did not happen this time is that retail industry long ago pledged itself to do everything in its power to hold the cost of living down. In fulfilling that pledge, it adopted the policy of pricing goods on the basis of original cost, not replacement cost. In other words, it did not increase its prices to the consumer until it replaced stock at a higher cost. The result of that public-spirited policy was a very large "lag" between the retail and wholesale price indexes.

Now adequate provisions must be made for eliminating that lag, otherwise, retailers will be legally bound to sell many articles at no profit, and some articles at an actual loss. That would mean disaster for thousands of stores.

This affects every community in the country. It affects every kind of retail store—general merchandise, clothing, household goods, hardware, food, etc. The very life of a large segment of small business depends on it. All agree that price stabilization is necessary. But it must not be imposed in a way that would literally destroy enterprises which have fought most effectively against inflation.

CHECK YOUR HEALTH

"Pre-habilitation is a word with much more meaning than the familiar one 'rehabilitation,'" Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, declared today in emphasizing the advisability of frequent physical examinations.

Dr. Cox pointed out that young men who expect to enter military service within the near future should go to their family doctor for a check up, so that any remedial physical defects can be attended to before they are called.

"By possible corrective treatment, young men can be ready for military service when called, who are not now able to serve," Dr. Cox said.

According to the state health officer, not only young men expecting to enter military service, but war workers and their families, students cramming four year's work into much less time and all others caught in the accelerated speed of the business world today should be examined by a doctor at least twice a year.

"It costs less to maintain than to repair," Dr. Cox, declared, "Get to know a good doctor before you need repairs."

It is well to be alert for fifth column activities, but the spreading of ugly rumors without foundation of fact is a deplorable thing. Innocent persons can be hurt through no fault of their own. A traitor deserves to be shot, and proper authorities can take care of him if given authentic information. Any information of this kind should be given to the authorities just as soon as learned.—The McLean News.

Rumor is that within another month thousands of workers will be employed at the Pantex Ordnance plant in Carson county. Visitors say the average resident of Panhandle and Amarillo has no conception of the boom that these workers will make. As housing conditions are limited they will be insufficient to take care of the demand.—The Panhandle Herald.

The man who grasps principles can successfully select his own methods. The man who tries methods, ignoring principles, is sure to have trouble.—The Clarendon News.

Millions of American citizens are giving their time to various agencies of government which are necessary to carry on the war. There are 6,000 Selective Service boards and half that many Ration boards, the members giving their time without pay. There have been four registrations of men for military service, and one big registration for sugar in which citizens donated their time to these registrations. Red Cross, Navy Relief, Chinese Relief, USO, sale of War Bonds, and other war-time measures could not be carried on without the work of millions of Americans who are willing to donate their time in this national emergency. This is what makes America the greatest nation on the face of the globe.—The Canyon News.

It might be noted that the increase in pay voted the American soldiers did not come as a result of a strike, sit down or walk out, on the part of the soldiers. Neither did it come as a result of the soldiers being egged on to demand it by a well paid radical leader. The boys on the firing line are a notable exception when it comes to matters of this kind. They would have gone clear through the piece to the end for $21 a month without a squawk.—The Tulia Herald.

Probably the youngest person registered for his sugar rationing book in the country is Joseph Wayne Burkhalter, the very youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burkhalter of Wellington. Joseph Wayne was born at one-thirtyfive a. m. Tuesday morning, May 5, and shortly after nine a. m., he had been registered and issued a sugar rationing book. "It looks like he's the youngest registrant we have in the county," E. N. Lewis, chairman of the rationing board, commented.—The Wellington Leader.

ANTI-INFLATION PROGRAM

There is small chance of the President's anti-inflation program passing exactly as he proposed it. It will be adopted in general, however.

It is unlikely that Congress will accept the $25,000 ceiling on incomes. But some sort of limit will be imposed. Biggest of all may come over the President's ideas on agricultural prices—the farm bloc is extremely strong, and it swings a great deal of weight when the votes are counted.

RURAL PEOPLE ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT CELEBRATING NATIONAL COTTON WEEK

Rural people of Texas will be among the most enthusiastic to celebrate National Cotton Week, May 15-23, because they know the importance of cotton in the economic life of their state and nation, says Mildred Horton, vice director of the A. and M. College Extension service and a member of the Texas National Cotton Week committee.

Through the state's 217 county home demonstration and assistant agents, Texas farm families are being urged to emphasize "conservation" of cotton during the observance.

Care of clothing and household cottons is in line with the victory demonstrator's war-time pledge which thousands of farm families are making with the extension service, Miss Horton says. One part of the pledge is to "take good care of everything I use—food, clothes, furnishings, equipment, etc."

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, extension clothing specialist, points out that most cotton materials give long life. During National Cotton Week she will emphasize materials which require little pressing or ironing such as woven "crinkled" materials and woven seersucker—materials which are sanforized shrunk and will not shrink out of shape with laundering.

Cotton work clothing which is safe, comfortable, and attractive is being recommended to women and girls who are taking the place of men and boys on the farm or in war industries. Some of the crease-resistant fabrics excellent for work clothes are light-weight denims, seersucker and gabardine.

With paper and linen scarce, Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement, says cottons are being used more widely in the home. She urges homemakers to use unbleached muslin for household purposes, since this will save bleaching and dyes.

In addition, homemakers will soon be asked to limit their bedding supply to four sheets and four pillow cases per bed, so it is important that their bed linens be given the best of care. One sheet contains enough material to make four pairs of shorts for a man in the army.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I should like very much for you to reprint an article I have written on "Conscientious Objectors."

The question has been raised as to whether we should look to our government for protection since Paul wrote as he did in Romans 13:1-4. Should it protect us in wars against gangster nations when necessary?

Both Romans 13:1-4 and I Peter 2:13-14 show plainly that we should obey our government, as Romans 6:3 and Gal. 3:27 are that we are baptized into Christ.

The loop hole put in the constitution and the draft laws for the conscientious objector to slip through if he desires, does not excuse him any more than the fellow that has conscientious objections to obeying Acts 2:38. Both carry the same penalty.

I can't understand how anyone can make an argument of Matthew 26 that Peter was trying to start a war of defense. Why can't we accept what Peter in his declining years says to the Elect: "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake whether it be to the king as supreme, or unto governors as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well."

I Peter 2:13-14: "We all object to wars but still we find ourselves in one that has to be fought to the finish." We need to understand that we, as citizens of this government, have a job to do, and in doing this job we must take and lose many lives. We are the ministers of God's wrath to bear the sword of vengeance against them that do evil and protect them that do well.

This is not the work of any individual alone, but both Christian and sinner, so that they who obey God and the laws of the land may have a citizenship in heaven which will be above anything of this earth. Then our allegiance will be to God only who created all things and ruled them to the glory of his kingdom.

Conscientious objectors say "A Christian must not take up arms and kill in defense of his government; if he does he will go to hell."

Paul says, "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God, the powers that he be are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God, and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation."

There was a Darky up in New York a few days ago called to give cause for not registering. He said, "Good folks, I see one of them Jehovah Witnesses down in Harlem. I was just born again and made a new creature six years ago. I ain't old enough for the draft." The conscientious objector might take a pointer from this darky and find a shorter route to keep out of the firing line.

Interviewed my good friend, Homer Leonard of McAllen on the radio recently. The Speaker of the House tells some amusing stories about the Missouri Ozarks, his native hearth. Says Mr. Speaker:

"I was walking across the hills one morning and came to a cabin. I stopped to get a drink of water. A woman was sweeping the floor—sweeping it out into the yard. She was bare-footed. I said 'Mawnin, mum.' She said, 'Mawnin, stranger.' I looked down and said, 'I see you had a fish fry here last night.' She said, 'No, stranger, we ain't had no fish fry here, leastwise not in quite a spell now; them ain't fish scales you see—them's toe-nails; we had a square dance here last night.'"

Here-and-there: Harry Bengé Crozier appoints your columnist on the USO state publicity committee and Secretary of the Treasury Mor gen-thau sends a handsome document certifying that this chronicler is a Minute Man to make talks in the war bond campaign—"Coke Stevenson is making Texas a truly great governor," says the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram, editorially.

Most people, if asked what is the newest part of Texas, would say unhesitatingly, "West Texas." But Floyd Studer, celebrated paleontologist of Amarillo, tells of the discovery of the ruins of an "apartment house" in the Panhandle, hundreds of years old. Also he says the oldest "newspapers" in Texas are to be found out there in the form of paintings on the rock. One such painting shows a man being killed by a buffalo—a tragedy that occurred many centuries ago. Another painting is found on a cliff overlooking a spring and shows a plumed serpent. In the ancient worship of the Aztecs in Mexico, long before the coming of Cortez and his conquering Spaniards, the plumed serpent was an emblem and you can still see these creatures carved in stone in the crumbling temples near Mexico City.

All newspapermen, sadly familiar with the way an error will creep in and then another error sometimes slips in when a correction is attempted, will smile wryly at this from a paper:

"We stated last week that Mr. John Doe was a 'defective' in the police force. This is a typographical error. Mr. Doe is really a detective in the police force."

"Walking more will be good for us. The reduction in quick, easy transportation will cause us to get better acquainted with our neighbors.

"The almost-forgotten pleasure of visiting will be re-discovered and the lost art of conversation will be revived."

These are the philosophic observations of Bruce Melvin, regional consumer regulations executive of Office of Price Administration in the Southwest. His eyes twinkle as he reels off the long title, for the former professor of sociology in Cornell university has a sense of humor. Friendly, mild-mannered, soft-voiced, Dr. Melvin has studied housing and rural youth problems over the nation.

Aims of his department are to assist the consumer to adjust himself to the restrictions on the quantity of goods (due of course, to the heavy demands of war); to aid the consumer to buy wisely, to conserve and to find substitutions for goods which are becoming scarce.

BOAT RACES PLANNED FOR SUNDAY AT LAKE McCLELLAN

Lake McClellan, one of the soil conservation projects located in the southern part of Gray county, will hold its formal opening Saturday, May 16 and Sunday, May 17. Lake McClellan will be the first among the soil conservation lakes in the Panhandle to open for the summer season of 1942.

Much work has been done by the concessionaire and the McClellan Boat club at the lake during the winter months. New docks have been built and roads improved and hard surfaced.

The formal opening will begin Saturday night May 16, when the McClellan Boat club will sponsor a dance at the recreation hall with music by Pinkie Powell. Admission is to be forty cents plus tax per person.

The program for Sunday, May 17, will consist of outboard motor races surf-board and water ski exhibitions. Boat races will consist of races for 16 HP, 22 HP, 33 HP service motors and runabout type boats, concluding with a free for all race. Cash prizes of $6.00 for first place, $4.00 for second place and $2.00 for third place plus the entrance fees will be given in each race. An entrance fee of one dollar per boat will be charged for each race entered. The entrance fee is to be added to the prize for that race. Races will start promptly at 2:30 p. m. All races held this season on Lake McClellan will be pace started races.

Surf-board and ski exhibitions will be given by several riders after the races. A full description of all events will be given over a public address system.

Fishing for cat fish will be allowed in Lake McClellan from the boat house, east to the dam during May and June. No game fishing until July 1.

Commodore W. A. Noland of the McClellan Boat club and Bert Howell, Lake Concessionaire, urge you to make plans now to enjoy a week end outing at the formal opening of Lake McClellan.

Lake Childress To Open Season May 15

CHILDRESS, May 14—The 1942 fishing season at Lake Childress, one of the favorite spots of Panhandle anglers, will open May 15.

The opening date for this year is two weeks earlier than the season's inaugural date during the past two years, when the lake remained closed until June 1.

Fishing at the lake, located 10 miles west of Childress near Carey, was the best in the past decade during the 1941 season, and with the continued work toward improving conditions and the addition of 42,000 fingerlings during the past year, the '42 season is expected to be among the best in the lake's history.

The two to four inch fingerlings placed in the lake during the past year included 13,200 bass; 12,700 crappie; 6,500 channel cat and 10,500 bream and perch. The fish were secured from state and federal hatcheries.

Bob Moates is warden at the lake, which is municipally owned.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

Led by Captain Alejandro Guzman, of the Salvation Army in Mexico, a "Great National Evangelistic Crusades" has been launched by the Army with the cooperation of the Protestant churches of the republic. One of the goals of the campaign is "to place a Gospel portion in every home in the land"—calling for more than 5,000,000 New Testaments and parts of that book. The campaign is beginning in the larger cities with series of evening services.

Saturday and Sunday, May 16 and 17, will be observed as "United Service Organizations Sabbath" by Catholics, Jews and Protestants throughout the United States, when members of all these communions will be asked to give generously in support of USO service to boys in the army and navy. The appeal for support of the USO in sermons and in gifts has been sent to every priest, rabbi, and minister in the United States over the signatures of the Most Rev. Edward Mooney, archbishop of Detroit; Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the Synagogue Council of America; and Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Under the auspices of the Africa Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, an interdenominational conference on African missionary, social, economic and educational problems will be held at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, on June 19 to 25. About 300 delegates will be present. Dr. Newell S. Booth, missionary in Elizabethville, Belgian Congo, is secretary of the Africa Committee and is planning the conference program. The major topics of consideration include: "Present Day Africa," "The Church in Africa Today," "Africa in the Peace." Special consideration will be given to problems faced by the nationals and by the Christian churches in North Africa, Ethiopia, Liberia, French Africa, British Colonial Africa, Portuguese Africa, the Belgian Congo, and South Africa.

Miss Mary Murray, for some years a Baptist missionary in Arizona, where she has been "comin' round the mountain" in her trailer-home chapel, has moved to Detroit, Michigan. There she has parked among the trailer-camps of the defense workers and begun a ministry of Christian service to uprooted families. She will visit trailer-homes, establish Sunday schools for the children, get the people in touch with local churches . . . and then move on to others of the hundreds of camps.

"A real revival of religion, a quickening of the spiritual life of the nation would strengthen our morale for the war effort and would be our sure guide to a just and lasting peace when our enemies shall have been vanquished," President Franklin D. Roosevelt recently wrote to Dr. Douglas Horton, of Boston, minister of the General Council of Congregational Churches, in urging the maintenance of regular church activities and gatherings during these days of war. The President continued: "It is a fact that we are now engaged in an all-out war, in which it is necessary for us to marshal every physical resource in the defeat of enemies who threaten our destruction. Until victory is achieved we must meet force with every superior force and vanquish once for all the monstrous tyrannies against which we are arrayed. Although we are called upon to use force to

CLASS PROPHECY

By Valoree Riley
In the year 1952 A. D., we find a great change has come over the entire country. The stars still gleam, the moon still beams but many things have happened that no one dreamed of.

I have graduated from college and am journeying on a tour for English information over the entire United States. I have made my home in Kansas City since 1948.

My journey first took me to New York City, to an English conference. I had just returned when I met a man in the lobby of my hotel. He was middle aged and his hair was slightly gray. Something about him seemed familiar and I listened, and I heard him say, "It is not the quantity, but the quality that counts." Then my thoughts turned back to ten years before and I remembered Frank Cornelius. He was a successful business man in St. Louis. He was a traveling salesman for a stationary company there. He seemed to be doing well and at last he had gotten a most beautiful blond. I had never known her before and they seemed very happy.

My journey then took me to Chicago to the nation wide fair. A large meat packing plant was there, which had the title Clepper & Clepper, Inc. I visited the plant and found that Edd Clepper was the owner of this affair. He and his beautiful wife, also a blond, lived here. She proved to be the famous stage player who had been in New York, the former celebrity, Mary Evelyn Wood. She had become very famous in piano solos.

My next stop was Philadelphia, where I met none other than Tommie Helen Cook. She was now a well known interior decorator, and lived in an extravagant apartment on Fifth Avenue. I spent the night with her and we went to a famous night spot and here we met the former Ela Swetnam, who was now the wife of a General Wilson. He had won much honor in the war, almost forgotten by now. She had proved to be a very skillful housewife.

My next trip was by plane to Hollywood; and there I met the celebrated Modeen Wilson, now a star in many famous technicolor pictures. Her success was due to her personality, because she always had a way with the men. She invited me to spend the week end with her, but my business was urgent and I had to hurry back to my work. I took the plane to Amarillo where I saw Alton Seitz, as a well known hardware business man. He said he still remained a bachelor, because none of the ladies had pleased him. I arrived in Kansas City just before the clock struck twelve noon. I thought that my journey had proven successful and I was very much the better for it.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

By Ela Swetnam

The president of the senior class, Tommy Cook, wills her baby talk to Billy Jean Baird. She wills her tall stately figure to Marie Finsterwald. To Wayne Meeks she wills her quick thinking, and to Wayne Treadwell her front seat in the senior room. She wills all the seniors' books to the junior class.

Modeen Wilson, vice president of the senior class, wills her big mouth to Marjory Burton. Marjory wants to sing over the radio and might enjoy playing the part in, "Shut My Big Mouth Wide Open." She wills her editor's knowledge to Dolly Jo Greenhouse, and hopes she can also win first place in "Ready Writing." Modeen enjoys playing tennis and wills all the love games she has played with Frank to Thelma Hefley. She also wills her popularity with dark curly headed boys and those from Pampa to Thelma. Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas For May

The above map of Texas shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of May, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the State is $18,594,500. Every income earner in the State is expected to step-up War Bond purchases on a basis of ten per cent or more of income. This is necessary to help America's armed forces take the offensive against the Axis powers. The American voluntary method of War Bond purchases must be successful in reaching the quotas set by the Treasury Department for every county in the nation. The job of every American now is to stop spending and save dollars to help win the War.

Revised 3A Payments Reflect War Needs

Wiser use of land, labor and equipment in producing wartime food is the aim of recently-announced parity and conservation payments to be made Texas farmers cooperating under this year's AAA program.

Payments also act as levers to assist farmers in continuing soil conservation practices and in converting from production of crops with big reserves to crops the country needs to increase quickly, Geo. Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, announces.

A parity payment of 13.5 cents per bushel will be made to cooperating wheat growers, but no parity payments will be made to cotton and rice farmers because their 1941 return, including conservation payments, is at or above the parity level.

New conservation rates of payments, which are paid producers for seeding special crops according to AAA regulations, also have been designated. New cotton rate is $1.20 nounced and replace rates originally per 100 pounds instead of $1.25, while the wheat conservation rate of 10.5 cents per bushel has been reduced to 9.9 cents.

The payment rate on commercial peanuts, which does not include peanuts for oil under the Food for Freedom program, has been reduced from $1.45 per ton to $1.25 per ton, and the rate on Irish potatoes has been changed from 2 cents per bushel to 1.8 cents per bushel. The 1942 rice payment will be 3.88 cents per barrel instead of 4.86 cents.

New payment schedules do not include payment rates under the 1942 conservation program, the AAA chairman said. Necessary changes in these rates will be made later when more adequate information becomes available concerning the extent of participation in this phase of the program.
