Political Calendar for 1942 Election

First Democratic Primary July 25, Second Aug. 22 and General Nov. 3 are Highlights

Although 1942 is an "off" year, with only the regular biennial state election coming up, it promises an interesting if not exciting political season. A calendar of principal events, issued last week by the office of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, is highlighted by three dates of prime importance to the electorate, namely: the first Democratic primary on July 25, the second on August 22, and the general election on Nov. 3.

These dates are fixed by statute. In addition to the three dates above and a half dozen more listed by the governor's office, A. B. Crump, chairman of the Democratic County Executive committee, has supplied additional dates to form the following complete political calendar.

Jan. 31—Last day to pay poll tax. First day was Oct. 1, 1941.

Feb. 10—Election judges for county appointed by commissioners court.

March 8—Last day for tax assessor-collector to prepare poll lists.

June 1—Last day for candidates for state offices and district offices, in districts containing more than one county, to file requests to have names placed on the ballot.

June 8—Meeting of state executive committee to select site of state convention and certify names of candidates to county chairmen.

June 15—County executive committee meets to determine order of names on ballot and make estimate of election expense.

June 20—Last day for candidates to pay assessments for ballot.

June 22—Primary committee meets to prepare ballot.

June 25-30—Period for filing expense accounts for first primary.

July 5—Absentee voting begins.

July 13-17—Period for filing expense accounts for second primary.

July 22—Last day for voters to appear before county clerk and cast absentee ballots. Last day for presiding judges to obtain list of voters for use in first primary.

July 25—First primary. Polls open 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. County clerk or county chairman wires unofficial returns to secretary of state.

July 28—Last day for presiding judges to report election returns to county judge.

August 1—County executive committee meets and canvasses returns.

August 2—Absentee voting begins for second primary.

August 4—Final day for third expense reports in first primary.

August 8—State executive committee meets in Austin to canvass primary returns and certify to county chairmen names for ballot in runoff primary.

August 10-14—Period for filing expense accounts for second primary.

August 19—Last day for absentee balloting in second primary.

August 22—Second primary.

Sept. 1—Final date for filing last campaign expense report.

Sept. 8—The law provides for holding state party conventions, to declare nominees and adopt platforms on Sept. 1, but due to conflict with another law, which sets a meeting of the state executive committee on Sept. 7, the convention date probably will be Sept. 8.

Oct. 1—Poll tax paying begins.

Nov. 3—General election.

Chairman Crump stated yesterday that a meeting of the county executive committee will be called about May 1, to organize and fill any existing vacancies.

Peterman in Race for Commissioner, Pct. 2

H. B. Peterman, resident of the Allison community, has authorized The Times to announce that he will be candidate for the office of county commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primary on July 25. A formal statement of Peterman's qualifications, together with other details, will appear in this paper at an early date.

In the meantime he solicits the influence and support of Wheeler county voters for election to the office of his choice.

WORKING DAYS OF MOBEETIE RED CROSS UNIT ANNOUNCED

The Mobeetie Red Cross unit, located in the rear of the City Drug store, will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons of each week at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Austin Caldwell will be in charge of the knitting on Tuesdays while Mrs. Jno. Dunn will supervise the sewing on Thursdays. The material for shirts and overalls and the knitting yarn has come.

WHEELER TIMES SMALLER THIS WEEK—WAR

It won't take long for a regular reader of The Wheeler Times to notice the paper is smaller (less number of pages) this week. While the publisher deeply regrets this fact, he makes no apology. Bill Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Miller, publishers of The Times, entered the nation's armed forces early this week. He carried a large share of responsibility and work of publishing the paper. It will be impossible—owing to personal reasons—to completely replace him, but efforts are being made to secure help capable of doing a portion of his work with the paper. It is hoped to restore The Times to its former number of pages soon. In the meantime, any complaints should be directed to Messrs. Hitler, Hirohito or other causes of the war in which the United States is so deeply involved.

Two Payment Methods for Farm Income Tax

Farmers and ranchmen who will be required to make their first income tax return by next March 15, have the choice of two methods in computing the tax on their 1941 incomes. One is the "accrual" and the other "cash."

According to Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management of the A. and M. College Extension service, "accrual" means that beginning and end-of-the-year inventories, as well as cash expenses, cash incomes, accrued incomes and prepaid expense are used in determining profits. Those who keep no records, or only records of cash receipts and disbursements, must use the "cash" method.

Timm suggests that farmers and ranchmen who have not paid income taxes prior to this year should study the alternative methods before making their selections as the one chosen is binding for succeeding years unless another method is authorized by the Internal Revenue bureau. Even in that case certain adjustments of income are necessary.

More than 95 per cent of Texas farmers and ranchmen who paid income tax in 1940 used the "cash" method.

Examining both methods, Timm first points out that unmarried farmers whose incomes exceed $750 and those married with no children or other dependents are required to file returns. A deduction of $400 is allowed for each eligible dependent.

Under the "cash" method, all cash received from sale of livestock, live-stock products, crops and other income from similar sources, together with cash received for work and other services outside the farm are subject to tax. All government payments received also should be included. Income not subject to tax include increases in inventories still on the farm, farm products used by the family (if production costs not included) and state refund on gas tax, provided the net cost of gasoline is reported.

Cost of livestock, livestock products and crops purchased which are sold within the year are expenses which may be deducted in the tax return, Timm says. If desired, as capital asset, depreciation may be taken on livestock for work, breeding, or dairy purposes.

Other deductions permitted include ordinary and necessary expenses on feeding and raising livestock, as well as all other disbursements in crop production, cultivating and processing; depreciation on farm buildings (except residences), permanent improvements and major implements; depreciation on small orchards; usual charges on small tools; death losses of purchased livestock; state, county, school, poll and gasoline taxes; automobile and truck licenses, and gifts to charity, religious and charitable institutions.

Timm says that county agricultural agents have record books and other forms which will be helpful to farmers in preparing their returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Farmer left Wednesday on a business trip to Lampasas and Florence. They expect to visit the state capital and other points of interest in Austin.

New Man Will Head County School System

Jesse J. Dyer Replaces Kavanaugh as Deputy Superintendent of the County Schools

Jesse J. Dyer, former principal of the Twitty schools and more recently of Shamrock, this week assumed the duties of deputy county superintendent of schools. He temporarily replaces Allen Kavanaugh, who was recalled to army service, leaving Monday for Camp Wolters, near Mineral Wells.

Kavanaugh, who had previously been in service, was released because of the 28-year age limit until the ruling was changed to include all acceptable men above that age. He had spent several weeks here between service periods. Kavanaugh is a candidate for re-election, placing his announcement in the press two weeks ago.

Dyer has had 20 years teaching experience and holds a B. S. degree from ETSC at Commerce and an M. A. degree from WTSC at Canyon. He has an administrative certificate from the State Department of Education.

The new deputy is an ex-service man, being a member of the 9th Division, A. E. F. in World War I.

The Dyer family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer and one daughter, Miss Margaret Helen, who is a freshman at West State college, Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer have moved to Wheeler to make their home, and are living in one of the Pollard properties in the northwest part of town.

Aged Former Resident Passes in California

A. H. Moore, 82, died Saturday, Jan. 17, at Sebastopol, Calif., where he had been with relatives for some time.

Mr. Moore is well known in Wheeler county, where he owned and operated a farm three miles east of Wheeler for a number of years, later trading it for business property in Pampa, where the family made their home until recently.

Besides his devoted wife he is survived by 12 children and a number of other relatives and friends. One daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Childress, and family live at Briscoe.

GATHERING FEATURES ADAMS 40TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adams enjoyed a family reunion and dinner Sunday, when all their children except a daughter, Mrs. John Kongs, San Pedro, Calif., were at home. The dinner celebrated Mr. and Mrs. Adams' 40th wedding anniversary, which falls on Jan. 22.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Adams and sons, Robert and David, Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams and daughter, Patricia Ann, Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams and children, Charles and Linda Aline, Perryton; and Miss Bonnie and Carrol Adams and the honeymoons, Mr. and Mrs. Adams.

GROUP OF RELATIVES VISIT IN H. H. GREENHOUSE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Greenhouse, living southeast of Wheeler, entertained a group of relatives Wednesday evening of last week.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Guynes, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greenhouse and daughter, Miss Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Callan, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Greenhouse and children, Dollie Joe and Bill, Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hathaway and children, Paul and Ray, Mobeetie; Mrs. Robert Beauchamp and daughter, Jayton, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Wootley and son, James, Borger; and Mrs. B. F. Chastain and son, Ben, of Denton.

PEEPING IN THE WHEELER TIMES WINDOW

The Anglins appear to have a monopoly on The Times display window this week. First is Don Anglin of Wheeler, who exhibits an unusually large pullet egg, measuring 6x7 inches in circumference, from his flock of White Rock pullets.

The other exhibit consists of pictures showing Alaskan scenes and personages. These were sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anglin, by Grady Anglin, who is stationed with the nation's air forces at Fort Richardson, Alaska. Permission to display the pictures was very considerably given by Grady in a letter accompanying them.

The two Anglin boys mentioned are cousins.

R. P. Grayson of Allison was a Monday business caller in Wheeler.

Treas. Tamsey Riley Seeking Re-Election

Well Known Briscoe Woman Asks Customary Second Term as Finance Officer

This newspaper has been instructed to announce the candidacy of Miss Tamsey Riley for her second term as treasurer of Wheeler county, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primary on July 25.

Miss Riley needs no extended introduction to the voters. Through her long-time residence in the Briscoe community and work as a school teacher she was well and favorably known before entering the office of treasurer, where she has come in contact with the general public and acquired many additional acquaintances and warm friends.

Those in a position to know, declare she has performed the duties of her office in a highly satisfactory manner and recommend her return for a second term. Upon this record Miss Riley asks re-election.

In her 1940 announcement this candidate stated: "My work heretofore has been such that I feel I can easily adjust myself to the duties of the office to which I aspire."

The manner in which she has conducted the affairs of the office, Miss Riley believes, entitles her to the usual second term accorded a competent public employe. In conclusion, she reiterates another pledge and plea of two years ago, when she said:

"I want the voters to know, that if elected, I shall do my very best to perform all duties pertaining to the office in a creditable manner and will greatly appreciate their support and vote in the coming election."

Final Cage Games for Season Tuesday Night

Coach Gordon Phillips announces that the final home basketball games of the season will be played in the high school gymnasium next Tuesday night, Feb. 3. McLean will be the invader and two games, one each by the A and B teams of the two schools, will be played.

The Mustangs beat Shamrock two games last week, one in each division, and are thirsting for similar revenge on McLean as a sort of consolation for the setbacks suffered by Wheeler in football this year. Defeat of the Irish was a sweet morsel and now the same dose is cooking up for McLean.

The support and attendance of all basketball fans of Wheeler and community are solicited for these closing home games by the Mustangs. Proceeds from admissions will be applied on providing awards for the Mustangs in athletic achievements.

MORGENTHAU DENIES RUMOR OF SAVINGS CONFISCATION

Recurring rumors that the federal government intends to confiscate all savings deposits are being circulated in many parts of the country. The continued circulation of such rumors might lead to the withdrawal of savings deposits or the hoarding of funds which ordinarily would find their way into banks as deposits.

In connection with these rumors, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau recently made the following statement:

"I wish to state most emphatically that there are no foundations whatever for such rumors. The federal government does not have under consideration any proposal involving the confiscation of the savings deposits of this country for any purpose. Furthermore, anyone circulating rumors of this character is acting against the welfare of the nation."

The importance of financing the war effort to the greatest possible extent from current income rather than from accumulated savings has been repeatedly emphasized by the treasury department.

In furtherance of that policy, efforts are being made to encourage all employes to adopt a payroll allotment plan for the sale of Defense Savings bonds to their employes, because that is regarded as one of the essential steps in combating the development of inflationary tendencies.

RED CROSS KNITTING AND SEWING MATERIALS ARRIVE

The Red Cross yarn and material for shirts and overalls for the refugees is here states Mrs. Ernest Lee, unit chairman.

The Wheeler county sewing room on the third floor of the court house has been secured for a meeting place and all women are urged to come and help.

The sewing room will be open from 1 to 5 p. m. each week day.

BROTHERS MEET HERE AFTER 35 YEARS

M. D. Bullard and family, living seven miles northwest of Wheeler, were pleasantly surprised Monday when his brother, J. M. Bullard, accompanied by Mrs. Bullard and their son, J. M., jr., and Mrs. Helen Fredey, sister of the men, all of Auburn, Ky., arrived for a brief visit. The Bullard brothers had not seen each other in 35 years. The Kentuckian recently entered the hotel and tourist court business in that state, but has disposed of his holdings and is now visiting relatives and friends while looking for a new location. He was a member of the Long Beach, Calif., police force for 17 years, retiring four years ago. The family may return to the West Coast to again reside.

May Publish Draftees Names Under New Rule

War Department Changes Policy in Regard to News Formerly Placed Under Ban

Names of registrants about to be inducted into the armed forces may be furnished newspapers and newspapers may print these names, General J. Watt Page, state Selective Service director, this week advised all local boards.

"War department policy on the matter of restricted information," General Page said, "has been reconsidered to permit the furnishing to newspapers of the names of registrants about to be inducted. Newspapers may also publish photographs of such registrants. No information may be given out, however, with respect to the number of men covered by quotas or calls."

General Page also stated that there now is no objection to the public posting of names of persons who have entered the armed forces from a community.

The war department removed the restriction concerning publication of names of selectees soon after an address by Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, National Selective Service director, before the National Press club last week, when he stated that the Selective Service system felt that these names could be made public without danger of giving any important information to the enemy and that he was hopeful the war department would consent to removing it.

Names of Men Soon to Be Inducted Released

The local selective service board today released a list containing the names of 22 young men who will probably be inducted into military service in the near future. It has been reported to the board that some of the following have already enlisted, therefore are not subject to the approaching induction. Those reported are:

Lee Oscar Cook, Byron Lee St. Clair, Thurman J. Richardson, Coy Andrew Clay, Thomas W. Brown, Ambrose A. O'Gorman, Forrest H. Kline, Claude V. Wright, Gerald V. O'Gorman, John Samuel Merte, Lewis Willis Rogers, Tom Frank Maloney, Rudolph Mitchell, Jesse Leo Fisk, Ephraim E. Sisemore, Kenneth Carl Rogers, Vernon Ray Billingsley, James Rose Walker, James C. Westbrook, Herman C. Gabriel, Chas. J. Nixon, jr., and Leonard Ellis Mixon.

KAPPA BETAS IN METHODIST MID-WEEK CHURCH SERVICES

Young women of the Kappa Beta club will present programs at mid-week services of the Methodist church each Wednesday night during February. Object of these programs, states Rev. Wayne Cook, pastor, are to strengthen faith, hope and courage for current trying days. Services begin at 7 o'clock and continue about 45 minutes.

Next Wednesday night Mrs. Max Wiley will lead the program, consisting of a review of the book, "My Sister and I," solo, same title, by Evonne Hubbard, and organ music, Mrs. G. O. McCrohan.

Each service will have a period of remembrance for the young men who are in the country's armed forces.

Greenhouse Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Greenhouse had all of their children home Sunday for a dinner and family reunion.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Greenhouse and son, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Greenhouse and children, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Callan, Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Greenhouse, Memphis.

Grow More Garden Advise Authorities

Extension Service Says Backyard Production of Foodstuffs is Patriotic Duty

"It is patriotic to grow a vegetable garden in the backyard, if no other space is available," declares a news release from the office of County Agent Jake Tarter, which reflects the Food-for-Freedom policy of the extension service. Continuing, the article points out that whatever amount of vegetables are grown in backyard gardens releases just that much more food for the defense program.

Tarter recommends that garden ground, to which has been applied a half inch of manure or an inch of cotton burrs spread evenly, should now be broken or spaded up in preparation for planting as soon as weather conditions permit.

The following list of vegetable varieties adapted to this locality has been compiled by the agent's office:

Tomatoes—Porter, Burgess or New Stone; cabbage—Early Wakefield; sweet corn—Southern Sweet; green beans—Long Green, Pinto or Kentucky Wonder; carrots, radishes or mustard—any variety; but Swiss Chard has proved the most satisfactory variety of that vegetable; onion plants—Bermuda, Pennick or shallots; peas—Blackeye, Brown Crowder or Cream are good producers and give best results if planted about May 25.

Tomatoes, cabbage, pepper and egg plants should be bedded soon if the gardener wishes to grow his own plants. Generally speaking, however, it is more economical and satisfactory to buy the plants when adapted varieties are obtainable.

Rainfall or other moisture is an important factor in vegetable production, states the agent. Many times, he points out, a dry spell comes along during the critical period when sufficient moisture would produce a bountiful yield, especially in backyard gardens.

In rural fields enough ground can be planted to provide sufficient vegetables in normal seasons or with the help of some irrigation where practical.

Growing more gardens for production of more vegetables, is the point at issue, according to Tarter and the Agricultural Extension service which he represents. Therefore, he explains, anyone who breaks out a lawn or backyard for vegetable production during the emergency facing this nation is to be highly commended and marks the act as one of sympathetic co-operation.

The county agent or other members of the extension service in Wheeler county are ready and anxious to assist in any way possible to promote growing more vegetables on small or large scale, but special emphasis is placed on home gardens that will help supply the family, right at home, with vegetables.

In conclusion, Tarter observes: "We as citizens should not be like Pearl Harbor, but should realize the need for preparedness and our individual part in doing all possible to produce and conserve. By so doing, we will not be caught short of necessary commodities, which could easily result if we fail to understand the gravity of the situation confronting us."

Sheriff Swink Asking Election Second Term

Jess Swink, sheriff of Wheeler county serving his first term in that office, this week announces his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primary on July 25.

Swink declared that his formal statement to the voters of the county, asking their consideration of his candidacy for a second term, will be published in The Times within the near future.

ROBINSON FAMILY REUNION HELD AT AMARILLO SUNDAY

Members of the Robinson family from Wheeler county and nearby met last Sunday at Ellwood Park, Amarillo, for a reunion and day of visiting and taking pictures.

Those attending the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, Mobeetie; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson, White Deer; Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Robinson, Abilene; Misses Alma Packwood and Wilma Robinson, Amarillo, and Oran Robinson of Tucumcari, N. Mex.

Oran Robinson, who was until Jan. 15 staff sergeant and company clerk with the New Mexico state guard, left Monday for Dallas, where he expected to enlist in the U. S. navy.

PUBLIC WASTE MUST CEASE

The most telling criticism of the newly proposed federal budget deals with projected expenditures for non-war activities. The budget calls for a cut of about one billion dollars a year in this direction. Many economists and high governmental officials are convinced that a reduction of at least double this amount can be made.

The taxpayers are being called upon to accept a financial burden unparalleled in American history. Last year's record-breaking income tax bill is supposed to produce an increase in tax revenue of some $3,500,000,000 a year. This year, plans call for another bill to produce around nine billions additional.

Every possible source of revenue will be tapped to the limit. With such a staggering sum to be raised for the nation's protection and survival, every conscientious citizen should protest the spending of a solitary tax nickel for any non-defense purpose which can be eliminated or deferred.

We are still spending hundreds of millions each year for "relief" at a time when the national income, because of the war boom, is at record levels, and an acute labor shortage is imminent. We are spending more millions for a long list of "social" projects which divert money and energies from the grim job of winning the greatest war history has known. Throughout the country waste of public funds continues.

Congress must learn that the era of "spending as usual" must come to an end.

CANADA AND CONSCRIPTION

Nothing in modern war has shattered so much the ideal conception of democracy as the necessity of conscription. In theory, Cincinnatus is always ready to leave his plow to preserve his liberty.

In practice, democracy has many a Ulysses and Achilles who will try to mask their availability for service. Britain's volunteer record in 1914-18 was phenomenal and well beyond our best experience, but John Bull had to come to conscription. The year 1917 taught us a lesson and we have wasted no time in making the draft effective alongside voluntary service.

Canada, in the war up to its eyes, is still aloof and now will put national sentiment to the test in a plebiscite on the issue.

In the most united nation, it is difficult to obtain sanction for draft. Even when reconciled to war, the average man is likely to say, "Let George do it" when it comes to the actual fighting.

So the outcome of a plebiscite anywhere would be difficult to forecast. Canada presents the interesting problem of diversity of racial origins and a good deal of jealousy between the people of French and British extraction.

Like our own, too, Canada is a broad country and people in Ontario, in Manitoba, in British Columbia may think quite differently.

But on a broad basis the outcome of the Canadian vote on conscription must reflect the sentiment of the great autonomous dominions that now make up the British Commonwealth of Nations. All are confronted with a peril as acute in the case of the individual country as of the parent one.

It is common sense that in union there is strength and that conscription alone can mobilize the whole commonwealth in its own defense.

It will be interesting to note what the outcome will be in Canada when the collective sons of Jean Crapeaud, the blood strain of Scottish highlands and Welsh mines, the mixed lines of aboriginal and immigrant Canadians meet to decide the issue on which their liberties surely depend.—Dallas News.

CENSORSHIP AND DEFENSE

Managing editors of Texas daily newspapers were told a great deal, at their meeting in Dallas last week, about their duties in connection with censorship. It was explained to them by army officers that while one little item about a troop movement, for instance, is not particularly helpful to the country's enemies, a thousand such items in a thousand newspapers may be pieced together to provide the other side with valuable information. Wherefore, the one little item must not be printed.

Newspapers, however restive they may be under such rules, accept them willingly enough. Their misgivings about censorship have to do, not with any particular type of news item, but with the spirit in which the censor wields his deleting pencil.

One who is empowered to censor news is under temptation to suppress without discrimination. Too often, he will ban publication of items by way of covering up the mistakes of those responsible.

If newspapers were permitted to publish the names of young men inducted into the service, such items would be of interest to the friends of those involved, and to the general public. They would help to bring home to the people the nature and extent of the defense effort as a whole.

Whatever fear that may exist from dissemination of such information must be from its effect upon the people at home and not from possible benefit to the enemy. It might be that if the general public was told the facts, including the numbers from each community by which comparisons could be made, some unpleasantness could arise. A program of mystery and secrecy—from everyone but our enemies, who can obtain all the information they want without much effort—seems to be the order of the day.

The inference is clear that the people either haven't sense enough (or too much sense) to be told all the facts.

Such items are not published because of their presumed value to the enemy; yet they would hardly be as helpful to him, after the last shred of military information had been wrung from them, as the secretary of war's recent announcement that an army of 3,600,000 was being mobilized.

The newspapers are prepared to co-operate fully. But they want to work under realistic regulations, not fanciful notions. Their hope is that those in authority will try harder to reconcile the problem of censorship with the newspapers' duty to their readers.

HOME ECONOMICS AND WAR

"Home economics" used to be a course that a few women took in high school or college. Today, with half of our national income about to be devoted to the needs of war, home economics must play a role in the life of every family in the land.

We are just beginning to feel the war pinch. Prices of many articles have gone up, and will undoubtedly go higher still. Commodities that used to be cheap and abundant, have grown scarce or have disappeared entirely. New and strict priority orders will make it necessary for the consumer to go without many articles which once were almost as common as air.

Home economics simply means scientific planning for the household. It means making each dollar do its full duty in purchasing food, clothing, household effects or anything else. Today, in thousands of homes, it is the housewife's most difficult problem. Fortunately, she has one excellent ally to help solve that problem—the retail stores of this country.

The chain stores have been particularly active in work to advise and aid the consumer. Thousands of other stores have also co-operated. The result is that the retail store has become something more than a place where you shop for what you need. It is also the place where trained, informed men will aid you in making necessary readjustments in your living.

The stores are pledged to furnish the public with supplies at the lowest possible cost. They are advising consumers on the use of substitutes. They are fighting hoarding, speculation and scare advertising. They are thus performing services which come straight home to every family in America.

As a consumer, take advantage of what the stores are doing. Help them in the campaign against waste and high prices. That's the way to keep our standard of living as high as possible during the war.

THE UNEATEN MUSTARD

One of Great Britain's wealthiest men died recently leaving a fortune created by human wastefulness. Sir Jeremiah Colman founded the industry by which mustard sauce became available for hot dogs and sandwiches everywhere in the world.

Colman was fond of saying that the business owed its success, not to the mustard actually eaten, but to the dabs of it left untouched upon the eaters' plates.

A radio speaker last Sunday night used this remark as a text for a lecture on wastefulness, pointing out that millions who go hungry might be well fed on the leftovers from American plates.

We had some lessons along that line in 1917 and 1918, when wheatless and meatless days and careful rationing of sugar tended to correct wasteful habits. The lessons, however, didn't stick. They had to be learned all over again when the depression made it necessary in many households.

Today another relearning is required, as to many items, and there is no reason to believe that it will have any more lasting value than before.

It clashes with American temperament and habit. Science finds uses for grapefruit rinds and sugarcane pulp and many other products formerly deemed useless.

But inventiveness strives in vain against the wastefulness of the average American's table.

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Hal Collins, wealthy Mineral Wells hotel owner, wants to run for the U. S. senate. He indicates his willingness to even run against his former warm friend, Senator O'Daniel. Perhaps this friendship is weakened considerably since Collins was forced out of the race last year by O'Daniel. Collins is a severe critic of the Roosevelt administration and does lots of talking about his opposition.—Canyon News.

The leaders were well pleased at the response of the invitation and a nominating committee was appointed by the chairman, E. M. Ballegee, to report at the next meeting which was set for Monday, Feb. 2, same hour and place.—Miami Chief.

Now comes Secretary Wickard saying that there is a shortage of oil products and that we must raise more peanuts and soybeans. That is fine of course. But what of cottonseed oil? I said a year ago that cottonseed oil was one of the most useful vegetable fats. I said turn the farmers loose. The lint will keep. The oil can be used now. Then there is wheat to provide life giving bread for the starving of the world when the war is won. Why not turn the wheat farmers loose? Don't let them break out more sod, but do let them farm the wheat land.—Deck Wells in Wellington Leader.

Forty basketball games are expected to be played in Canadian Jan. 30 and 31, during the twelfth annual basketball tournament, Coach Bill Mack Gibson declared this week. Acceptances to invitations sent out some time ago have been made earlier this year than usual. Trophies donated by Canadian business concerns, are said to be among the handsomest ever given.—Canadian Record.

FAITH—People will believe anything. Right on the heels of the Austin rumor that there weren't to be any more automobile batteries, came the super deluxe Dallas rumor that only "black candles" could be used during the recent blackout there. Dallasites were so stirred up the local fire chief had to issue an official declaration pointing to the falsity of the rumor.—State Observer.

Frank C. Osmer, congressman from New Jersey has left his job and enlisted as a buck private in the army. Associated Press wirephoto shows Osmer shoveling ashes on a fatigue detail at Camp Lee, Va. Even though no part of New Jersey is many miles from the briny deep, Osmer evidently has been unable to secure sufficient nautical knowledge to qualify him for a high ranking office in the navy as some of our Texas congressmen.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Representative Young of Ohio recently stated that there are some 90,000 statues of men on horseback, soldiers, sailors and politicians, over the country that contain about a million tons of metal that could be scrapped and used for national defense. There has never been a more constructive suggestion. Practically all of these monstrosities have no particular meaning today and could well be removed as a means of civic beauty, even if the metal was not so sorely needed.—McLean News.

Cameraman representing Universal Newsreel are in Hereford this week working up a picture on Deaf Smith county which will eventually be shown in most movie houses in the United States. The Newsreel is centering around the tooth decay publicity recently received here and will show farm and city scenes as well as pictures of Deaf Smith county natives and their "perfect" teeth.—Hereford Brand.

The defense program's call on manpower, and the necessity of completing work on cotton crop insurance papers are the two reasons given by the state AAA office for slowness in sending out conservation payments to Hall county farmers. These reasons were outlined by B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge, in a letter received this week by Millard P. Brown, Hall County ACA secretary. Numerous inquiries have been received by the state AAA office concerning payments which have been delayed, Vance said.—Memphis Democrat.

The showing of "African Paradise" in Amarillo next Monday will afford an additional pleasure for Mr. and Mrs. B. C. True of Panhandle because it will give them an opportunity to say hello again to an old school friend, Osa Johnson. The Trues and Mrs. Johnson all attended the same school together at Independence, Kans., and as schoolmates they went to the same entertainments and to the same Christian Science church.—Panhandle Herald.

Bill Middleton stated Wednesday that those seeking new tires and who must have their old ones inspected, are required to take the tires from the rims and carry them to the inspectors. These inspectors work without pay and also without charge and consequently don't make any visits or professional calls to make inspection.—Quitaque Post.

Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN
Home Supervisor, F. S. A.

When you work out a blackout system for your home make use of materials you have on hand, suggests Bess Morrison, textile specialist of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Best blackouts often cost the least. Look through attics, cellars and high closet shelves for usable materials now going to waste. Rushing out to buy yards of goods for blackout curtains is not only expensive—but the looms and machinery that it takes to produce that yardage are needed to meet military requirements.

Look the situation over first. Don't try to blackout the whole house. Select one room or two that are the safest. Then concentrate on these rooms and make them absolutely light proof. Remember to cover glass doors and door panels as well as windows—and skylights, transoms and ventilating shafts.

There's no one best way to achieve blackouts. You have to study the type of windows you have. Following are some possible ways that may be suitable, says Mrs. Morrison.

Curtains

Probably the most common method of blacking out is to use curtains. Look at your present curtains, the draperies you are using, or portieres and draperies you have consigned to the attic may be suitable with a little alteration. They should cover the whole window and lap over well at the center.

If the draperies are of damask, velvet, brocade or other heavy material and are lined—you need only to rip out the pinch pleats at the top and baste in a lightweight dark lining. This material may be sa-teen, percale—or good parts of old bed sheets dyed black. Finish off the top with rings to go over the present rod. Sew two rings to the outer edge on the underside to slip over small tacks at the side of the window casing to insure a snug fit at the side.

Unlined draperies may be treated the same way. But the lining you baste into them should be of dark material—such as flannelette or cotton flannel. Special curtains—Take stock of the material you have rounded up. Any material will work that shuts out light. It should be dark—either black, dark blue, dark green, very dark brown or the darkest red. If it is not one of these colors, dye it. Old bedspreads, old blankets, old quilts, old carpets, rugs and old sheets are some of the possible materials suggested for use by the Office of Production Management.

The complete list of blue stamp foods for the period of Feb. 1, to Feb. 28, in all stamp program areas is as follows: Butter, all cuts of pork (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), fresh grapefruit, pears, apples, oranges and fresh vegetables (including potatoes), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour and whole wheat (graham) flour.

"The food stamp program, building America's health defense, not only provides nourishing foods to fellow Americans in need, but primarily creates wider food markets for farm products. In these days of full farm production, the stamp program, community school lunch program, direct distribution of commodities, and lend-lease purchases, all under the supervision of the USDA Surplus Marketing administration, help assure to the American farmer a fair return on his full production by creating and maintaining a steady outlet for the food he produces," Goode pointed out.

What Is Your Life?

By J. LLOYD RICE

"For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away."

The divine writer of the Book of James is here picturing the brevity of life. Some other writer pictures it as a shooting star that blazes its way across the sky and then disappears to be seen no more.

Shakespeare said, "All the world is a stage and men and women the actors. Each one appears to play his part, disappears behind the scenery and is seen no more."

There is no question about the brevity of life. The fact is universally established; but what is your life individually?

Some lives are like a beautiful flower as it blooms and gladdens the earth with its lovely form and cheerful color; sending up a fragrance as of a sweet smelling incense before its creator. Others like the song of the mocking bird, overflowing with joy.

As the mocking bird is so full of his song that he can not finish singing during the day, but must send his glad notes to the world even in the darkness of the midnight hour, so optimistic lives sing; as did Paul and Silas in the midnight darkness of the Roman jail, until the prison of the soul is shaken to its foundation and the spirit is as free as the mocking bird.

Did you ever seek shelter under a stately pine as a rain storm drifted by? Did you ever hear the music of the leaves, as the branches swayed in the gentle breeze? As that great tree sends its roots deep into the bosom of the sustaining earth, it sends its branches far into the upper air and glorious sunlight. There they give off life sustaining oxygen.

A portion of God's great power has been given to each of us, and it is largely up to us to fashion our own lives. Not alone, but by complying with natural law. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he."

We have much control over our own thinking, and we can do much to make our own lives as beautiful as a flower, as happy as the mocking bird, and as strong as the stately pine. What is your life?

(By a Rogue)

Badlands of Dakota

For Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30-31, patrons of the Rogue Theatre will have a chance to kill two birds with the same stone. They will not only see a good western picture but will become acquainted with one of the roughest and most scenic spots of America. We are talking about the famous Badlands of South Dakota. This broad expanse of unexplored land is one of the most interesting spots in America. It is a rough desert country of high and lofty rock mountains, and when we say rocks we mean rocks. It is so barren that no form of life can exist therein. It makes a natural background for the picture which comes to the Rogue under the title of Badlands of Dakota. We know you will be more than pleased with it.

In the Navy

About a month ago we brought a picture called Buck Privates to our screen. The stars were Bud Abbott and Lou Costello. You told us in no uncertain words that you liked it very much and you ask us for more of these boys. So, accordingly, for Preview, Sunday and Monday, Jan. 31-Feb. 1-2, we are bringing Abbott and Costello back to the screen in another riot of fun and laughter called In the Navy. So start making your plans to be on hand when the curtain rises for the preview Saturday night at 10.00 p. m.

Red Cross Show

Ordinarily each Tuesday is Bargain Nite at the Rogue Theatre. We are continuing this policy with one exception. Tuesday night, Feb. 3, there will be a show at the Rogue for the benefit of raising Wheeler's quota for the Red Cross. The picture for this occasion is Singapore Woman and it is being furnished free of charge by Vitagraph, Inc. We, of the Rogue Theatre, are giving our time, equipment and entire facilities for this one night to the worthy cause. The local Red Cross board expects you to do your part toward this show. Advance tickets will be offered for sale to the public. All tickets for the night performance will be 25 cents, and whether you attend the show or not you can buy a ticket for the cause of suffering humanity. There will be a special matinee for school children Tuesday afternoon starting at 1.00 p. m., at which time admission will be 5 cents for grade school and 10 cents for high school students. So come on, folks, and let's go over the top for Wheeler.

The Bugle Sounds

He that hath ears let him hear, and he that hath eyes let him see The Bugle Sounds which comes to the Rogue Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 4-5. This is a brand new picture; so new in fact that you probably have not heard of it. But lest you be caught unawares, may we say that we have seen this picture and in our opinion it is the best picture for 1942. It is the story of the

You get more dollars from your poultry by increasing production. Be sure to provide the minerals they must have in order to make eggs. Watkins Mineral for Poultry contains them and has done a lot to make many flocks pay better.

Coops Prove Merit!

In both theory and practice, cooperative institutions have proved their merit as business enterprises. This produce association, conducted closely along cooperative lines, has also proved its merit to the membership and community as a whole. This association was established here by and for the farmers of Wheeler's trade territory. There is, of course, a difference in cooperatives. The men back of an organization and the kind of management applied to its affairs—whether it be a cooperative or some other venture—makes a world of difference in the results. This association has the support of progressive, substantial farmers and is managed according to sound business policies.
