Miller Sells Times to R. J., Bill, Dison

Former Publisher of Lockney to Be in Charge of Newspaper As Result of Deal

R. J. (Bill) Dison, editor and publisher of The Lockney Beacon, of Lockney, Texas, for the past three years, has purchased The Wheeler Times newspaper and printing business from C. G. Miller and is taking over management of the plant this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dison and their two sons, Donald Ray, five, and Jerry Mac, two, moved to Wheeler from their former home Monday.

Prior to going to Lockney, Dison was editor of the Hale Center paper in Hale county. He is an ex-student of WTSC and Tech colleges and is a native West Texan.

Miller says that he is unable to announce any plans for the future and declares he intends to take a few months' rest. He and Mrs. Miller expect to continue making Wheeler their home indefinitely.

The new editor realizes that Mr. and Mrs. Miller have devoted much time and effort toward making The Wheeler Times one of the best weeklies in this section of the country. It is his intention to carry on with the same high policy standards that have been put into practice by the Millers.

Correspondents and other news contributors to The Times are urged to continue sending in items. Liberal contributions of news items by everyone of the entire community will most certainly be appreciated and will be a most important factor in keeping your home paper newswy.

Don Robbins, linotype operator for The Times for the past several months, is to remain in the mechanical department. Floyd Sheffield, a young man from Lockney, is to assist Mr. Robbins. Employment of some one to take Mrs. Miller's place as assistant local newsgatherer, is pending.

21,238 Bales Cotton Ginned in Wheeler Co.

The Department of Commerce Bureau of the Census of Washington reports that 21,238 bales of cotton were ginned in Wheeler county from the crop of 1941 as compared with 13,078 bales ginned from the 1940 crop.

MORE CONSERVATION CROP PAYMENTS RECEIVED HERE

During the past few days two more batches of conservation crop payment checks have been received at the ACA office here.

Last Saturday 29 checks calling for $4,684.68, came in, and on Tuesday of this week another lot of 152 checks, valued at $16,390.49, were received.

SON OF ALLISON COUPLE TO GRADUATE FROM UNIVERSITY

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Richardson of Allison have just received an invitation to attend graduation exercises of the medical branch of the University of Texas, Galveston, on March 20. At that time their son, O. J. Richardson, will complete his course in medicine and surgery. Ninety-five doctors and 65 nurses are graduating on that date. Examinations by the State Medical board will be continued during March 23 to 27.

Dr. Richardson will serve his internship in the U. S. navy. He will remain at Galveston until after taking the oath as junior lieutenant, and will then be assigned to a naval base somewhere in the United States. This assignment is expected about April 15.

Dr. Richardson plans to come to Allison shortly after April 1 for a few days visit with his parents, other relatives and friends.

Former Wheeler Lady Dies

Mrs. Cozette Crofford Brooks, 26, wife of Marion B. Brooks, McLean, died Wednesday evening in an Amarillo hospital following a long illness.

Mrs. Brooks was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Crofford of Hobbs, N. Mex., who made their home in Wheeler for a number of years. She had many friends here who will mourn her untimely death.

Miss Rubinelle Snider of Canadian, who had spent several days with Misses Laverta and Laverna Turlington, returned home on Saturday.

Jeff Williams of Buffalo, Texas, came Sunday to make an extended visit with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shirey, and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Tuttle. Mrs. Tuttle is a niece of Mr. Williams.

WHEELER BOY MAKES GOOD PROGRESS IN CAA COURSE

Joe Markham of Wheeler, a freshman at West Texas State College, Canyon, is progressing rapidly in the CAA primary course offered in connection with the college.

Markham has completed one course of 18 hours in civil air rules and begun the 24-hour course in navigation. Twenty-four hours in meteorology and six hours in general service of aircraft will be required to finish the entire course. Students will reach the solo stage when they have completed eight hours of flying.

County Sends 15 More Young Men to Service

Maintaining its high ratio of men sent to the nation's fighting forces—both volunteers and draftees—Wheeler county sent 15 more men for military duty last week. This group left for immediate induction at a point which censorship prefers left unnamed.

Those who went were Freddie Victor Davis, Chauncie DeLeon and Coy Andrew Clay, Randolph Clarence Lackey, Carl McKinley Wright, Floyd Ernest Walker, Reuben Thomas Burkhalter, Edward Matthew Pagan, John Henry Montgomery, Alva Downen Troxell, Kenneth Carl Rogers, John Thomas Hardin, Ephraim Ernest Sizemore, Clifton Cleve Harbour and J. C. Wells, jr.

Four others, bringing this contingent to 19, had previously volunteered. They were Edward Leon Gilmer, John Lewis Anderson, jr., Sardis Alva Robison and Marcus Edwin Kimbell.

FINAL GINNING DATE SET

B. F. Holland, manager of the Wheeler Co-op Gin, announces that Saturday, March 28, is the date set for ginning the last of the 1941 cotton crop and the gin will operate the last time for the season on that date unless bad weather prohibits farmers from getting their cotton to the gin. In that case the following Monday or the first pretty day will be the final day for ginning.

SHOWER IS BENEFICIAL

An approximate one-quarter inch shower in this area Tuesday night will prove beneficial for winter wheat and an aid to farmers in getting their lands ready for spring planting.

Red Cross Special Meeting

Mothers, sisters and friends of soldier boys or anyone interested in the Wheeler county boys who are enlisted in the armed forces of America are invited to meet at the Red Cross sewing room in the court house at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

WORD OF APPRECIATION AND RECOMMENDATION

More particulars will be found elsewhere in this paper regarding its sale by Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Miller to R. J. Dison, formerly of Lockney, who is now in charge. Surrendering ownership and control of The Times is a painful experience to the Millers, who have given the paper their utmost in effort, time and labor for more than eight years, except for a brief interval.

The necessity of relinquishing the paper is even more irksome than that of the act itself. Loss of our son, William Houston Miller (who had been with the paper continuously from its inception) by volunteering for service of our country, together with other circumstances over which we had no control, are the sole reasons for selling. The retiring owners have no complaint with the support extended by patrons of the paper, both advertising and subscribers.

The Millers would indeed be ungrateful if they did not express in most emphatic terms their appreciation of the many courtesies, the patronage and the fine co-operation accorded them. They feel that more good people to the square mile are found right here in the Panhandle than anywhere on earth. And Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who expect to continue living in Wheeler indefinitely, hope to merit the continued friendship, confidence and esteem of hundreds of friends which has been a source of pleasure and encouragement to greater effort in past years.

Finally, the new management is recommended as a worthy successor to the retiring publishers, who confidently believe that the same spirit of friendliness, co-operation and support will result in at least as good—if not a better—Wheeler newspaper.

March 31 Ends Period for Cotton Insurance

Conservation Authority Urges Use of Program for Protection Against Crop Losses

The final date for cotton crop insurance is March 31, according to Clarence Zybach, Chairman Wheeler County ACA. Farmers of Wheeler county are urged to investigate their individual farm records at the county office as soon as possible, as each farm has a different yield and rate.

Because of unfavorable crop conditions for the past few years, yields on some of the farms in the county are not as high as they would be under normal conditions. The rates for cotton crop insurance are correspondingly high. However, there are a large number of who can't afford not to insure.

The loan and the parity programs under the AAA have been important factors in getting better prices for farm products. The farmer will be no better off, however, if he has no cotton to market at the end of the year.

Purpose of the cotton crop insurance program is to stabilize the farmer's income, not only for this year, but for every year. A farmer will be guaranteed to produce at least 99 per cent of the average yield he has made in the last seven years. This guarantee gives protection against any kind of unavoidable loss such as hail, drouth, floods, insects, frost, windstorm and a poor crop. The only requirement is that the insured farmer carry out normal practices in farming the cotton crop.

It also provides protection for the cotton seed that a man would ordinarily sell. Any amount of lint loss would be increased by 19 per cent to take care of the corresponding loss of cotton seed.

Lake McClellan Takes Lives 3 Pampa Youths

One of the worst tragedies of the Panhandle in recent months and the most serious yet to occur there, happened last Friday at Lake McClellan in southeast Gray county when three Pampa youths lost their lives and a fourth narrowly escaped with his life.

The youthful victims were Bill White, 15, son of County Judge Sherman White and Mrs. White; James Boston, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boston, and Billy Thompson, 14 years and 11 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thompson. The plucky lad who saved his own life after he saw the three others die was Lewis L. Allen, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Allen. All were residents of Pampa.

An account of the misfortune which brought anguish to three prominent families appeared in the Pampa News as follows:

The lads went to Lake McClellan Friday morning, taking with them a new boat which Mr. and Mrs. White gave Bill, their only child, as a Christmas present, and which he and his friends had been putting in condition for its initial trial. Friday was chosen because it was a school holiday due to the educational conference at Amarillo.

The boat operated nicely in the forenoon, stated young Allen. After lunch the boys again started for a sail and shortly after 1:30 the craft capsized, throwing them into the choppy water.

Chilled by the icy water the boys tried to right the boat or push it toward shore. Failing in this they lost their holds and dropped one by one beneath the waves. Young Lewis finally made a heroic effort, swimming some 20 yards to shore. He summoned aid but nothing could be done. After long and tedious search, the bodies were recovered during the day Saturday.

Funeral services, attended by one of the largest groups of mourners ever assembled in Pampa, were held Sunday afternoon.

PEEPING IN THE WHEELER TIMES WINDOW

The Times window this week, in harmony with the spring season, bristles with fruit—cackleberries.

J. F. Rathjen, the latter part of last week, brought in an egg from his White Leghorn flock that approaches a record size. This egg weighed 4 ounces and measured 8 inches around the long way and 6 1/2 inches the short way.

On Saturday Miss Violet Cowden brought in a Buff Orpington egg that is slightly unfinished. One end tapers off to a point and has the appearance of a soft-shell, but is firm to the touch.

Final entry and by the smallest and most unusual, is a tiny peanut shaped egg from the Buff Orpington flock owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Mason, and sent in yesterday by Mrs. Mason.

Mason Announces for Commissioner, Pct. 2

Well-Known Resident of County for 12 Years to Seek Election—Pledges Best Efforts

Entry this week of W. E. Mason, well-known farmer residing a short distance southeast of Wheeler, into the commissioner's race in Precinct 2, Wheeler county, brings the number of candidates for that office to five. In his announcement as a candidate Mason says:

"Since a number of my friends in Precinct No. 2 have urged me to enter the race for county commissioner of that precinct, I wish to state that I have decided to do so, hoping to make more friends and to be your next commissioner.

"I have lived in the precinct 12 years, coming here from Grayson county, where I did road work for eight years, working for two commissioners and a Texas highway foreman. I feel that through this experience I can, if elected maintain better roads and bridges in the precinct than if I had never had any experience.

"In the matter of finances and expenses of the precinct and county, I believe in making every dollar go as far as possible and keeping the precinct in the best financial conditions possible.

"I was never before a candidate for any kind of office until two years ago when I made the race for the same office I am seeking and received a handsome vote but not quite enough to elect me. With no reflection intended toward anyone, I can truthfully say I am not a politician in any sense of the word—simply a plain citizen who believes he can serve his precinct and county to the mutual advantage of all concerned. I have endeavored to be honest in all my dealings and expect to uphold my past record toward this end.

"In respect to my opponents, I wish to say that I intend to seek the office in an honest and clean way and let the voters decide on July 25 who shall be their next commissioner. If elected to the office, I will perform my duties to the best of my ability, devoting my time to the welfare of the precinct and county. I am under no obligations and have made no promises to hinder me from performing all the duties of commissioner to the best of my ability.

"The support and influence of the voters in Precinct 2 are solicited, together with their votes, in the July Democratic primary."

NOTICE TO LEGIONNAIRES

A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT

(An editorial from The Dallas News)

Deep in the heart of America is the readiness to give without reservation in freedom's cause. That heart is not a capitalist heart. It is not an agrarian heart. It is not a proletarian heart. The heart of America is not divided—it is one. Incorporeal, indivisible, that heart beats and warms and stirs the souls of us all.

We may misunderstand each other, use harsh terms about one another, arrive at different opinions about men and issues; but when it comes to championing the fight of freedom, we are one. Consider this letter and the spirit that it breathes.

To the President of the United States: Washington, D. C.

"My Dear Mr. President: I see where overtime and 'short week standards' are to continue, while my 22-year-old grandson is serving his, your country and mine for $21 per month. Why? Can't you, as head of our noble nation, do something?"

"He had a good job, his family needed him, yet he gave it up for our country."

"Look at our boys, God bless them, dying every day to protect these men, and you let them; or do you? Hasn't the head of so great a nation any way to keep the government plants at work day and night to get guns and ammunition for our boys at least to strike back? MY GRANDSON HAS BEEN IN CAMP EIGHTEEN MONTHS OR MORE, AND NEVER HAD A GUN YET!"

"Shall they fight with bare fists?" "We as a nation have failed to live close to God. I believe in living for God—and getting ready to fight, if we are pushed around. We are being pushed."

"We know your boys are in also, and they need planes, boats, guns, shot and shell!"

"I love my country—your country—and pray for you as our leader—that God may give you knowledge and wisdom to use it for His glory and our good. You are our most distinguished servant and we are your loyal people."

"We want to follow your leadership and be proud of it. I am over 70 and have given all I have gladly. Any human that fails our nation now should never be allowed the honor of and blessing of its love and protection."

"I do not draw a pension and never expect to draw one. I live very cheaply and am happy in this land of freedom. My father fought for the South in the '60s. I love our great state, which won liberty by fighting at San Jacinto and the Alamo. My daughter wrote the Calcade of Texas that you saw when you were here on our hundredth birthday. So you can see that we are loyal. Please help us do something about these slackers!"

"Many of our people are praying for you. This is your opportunity to do great things. Sincerely,

"MRS. J. M. ISBELLE."

B. F. CROSSLAND GRADUATE FROM AIR CORPS SCHOOL

B. F. Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Crossland of Wheeler, has been graduated from the world's largest Air Corps Technical school at Sheppard Field, where he has been attending classes for the past several months.

Private Crossland, attached to the 318th Technical School Squadron while in the school there, was graduated March 22. Prior to enlistment he attended Briscoe high school.

Having undergone intensive training designed to give him a complete working knowledge of the battle birds, he is now qualified as one of the eight specialists necessary to keep one plane in the air. Graduates of this technical course are eligible to be shipped to any tactical unit maintained by the air corps.

Wheeler Man Attends Son-In-Law's Funeral

C. V. Hale, accompanied by his son, Glen, left here last Thursday morning for Fort Worth in response to a message that his son-in-law, J. A. Duncan, had been killed there. No particulars were given regarding the incident.

Hale and son returned Tuesday after attending funeral services for Duncan.

From a Fort Worth paper brought back by Hale it is learned that the deceased was 30 years old and a Soil Conservation service photographer and was preparing himself for a part in the nation's war industry. The victim was driving home from Polytechnic high school, where he had attended a night school class, sponsored by the University of Texas, when his car and a M. K. & T. passenger train collided at a crossing not marked by an automatic electric signal.

Duncan's body was found about 100 yards from the crossing on the track right-of-way. The automobile clung to the engine and a switch engine was brought to the scene to remove it.

Duncan was a native of Anson and had lived in Fort Worth two years, coming there from Acme to take a position with the SCS.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Duncan of Brownfield; a sister, Mrs. E. M. Riley of Acme; the widow and three children, Donald, 8; Betty, 5, and Jimmie, 2.

Hale stated that his daughter, the former Miss Thelma Hale, and children will continue to make their home in Fort Worth.

Dr. V. N. Hall has transferred his office temporarily to Shamrock and will be located at his brother's office over the F. & M. Bank.

County-Wide Rally Draws Large Crowd

Gathering of 1,500 Citizens Here Sunday Endorses Resolutions to Texas Congressmen

Keeping pace with other sections of the country where a vast majority of the patriotic citizenship believes that something should be done about the existing strike situation and 40-hour week, 1,500 Wheeler county citizens assembled Sunday afternoon on the court house lawn to discuss these subjects of national significance.

Primary point of origin for Sunday's mass meeting was at Shamrock, where the Boosters club last week named a committee comprising Messrs. Clayton Heare, E. K. Caperton and Bill Walker to contact County Judge D. A. Hunt and request him to call a county-wide patriotic rally. Purpose of the gathering was to discuss the national strike and 40-hour week situation. Also to take a survey of sentiment regarding changes in both matters.

Following speeches by several different persons, the appended resolution was submitted for approval of the assemblage and adopted:

WHEREAS, the citizens of Wheeler county, Texas, have met together on this 22nd day of March, 1942, at Wheeler, Texas, and have come together in a spirit of patriotism and unity for discussion of national problems and policies, and

WHEREAS, it is the expressed desire of everyone to lend aid in every possible way to the common cause of defeating the enemy as quickly, as completely and as lastingly as can and must be done, and

WHEREAS, we have confidence in our national leaders and in their patriotism and desire to protect our country and supply our armed forces with all necessary supplies, equipment and fighting machines, and in such spirit of confidence and national unity we feel that we see dangerous existing conditions that

General Electric Company Starts Advertisement Series

The Wheeler Times has been selected as one of the newspapers that the General Electric company has chosen for a campaign of institutional advertising. The company is one of the first of the great corporations to recognize the wisdom of telling its institutional story to rural America and the management of The Times is proud of the fact that the local paper has been listed among the many weeklies to carry the new advertising schedule and we are sure the message contained in each advertisement will be of deep interest to our readers. First release of the series appears in this issue of The Times.

WHEELER CLUB GIRLS WILL SELL FLOWERS FOR EASTER

At a meeting of the Sunshine 4-H club March 19, arrangements were made for members of the club to take orders for flowers for Easter. Patsy Wiley, Edna Farmer, Marjorie Esslinger, Coene Carter, Geraldine Oglesby and Elizabeth Slaten were named to solicit orders for the flowers and profits are to go to the club's treasury.

Twenty-five of the 4-H club girls have signed pledges to be victory demonstrators this year.

HOWDY, FOLKS

This week we cannot help but feel as though we are placed in the same category as that of a Methodist minister who has stepped into his pulpit on his first Sunday following an annual conference appointment. There is usually a fair crowd at church to see what the new preacher is like.

Many of you are glancing at this column to see what the new editor is like. You are, perhaps, wondering what the editorial policy of The Times will be since it has changed ownership.

We hope our policy will always remain to manifest interest in and support of those things, and only those things, that are for the mutual benefit of the community we expect to serve. May we never stoop so low as to support some clique or clan or individual for personal gain when such would be of detriment to the general welfare of the community.

We want to solicit the co-operation of every individual. Your newspaper is what you, the public, make it. We invite your liberal contribution of news items weekly so that The Times may continue to be one of the newest weeklies in Texas.

Both the new editor and his wife are native West Texans. Both were born in West Texas and are proud of it. During our lives we have naturally heard a great deal about West Texas hospitality but after having spent a few days in Wheeler we doubt if there is a community in this great section of a great state that can more rightfully claim title toward showing a warm welcome than right here where we have come to make our home.

As time permits we'll be calling you by your first name . . . at least some name . . . in the meantime we're saying "Howdy, folks. We're glad to be here."

BLOODY HANDS

The Memphis Commercial-Appeal recently published a letter by a World War veteran whose only son is now serving in the Marines. In part, it says: "How can fathers and mothers of boys who are in the danger zone and who are being called upon to sacrifice their lives, feel any 'surge' of unity when the president and congress permit a bunch of shipbuilders and munitions workers to quit when they get good and ready?"

"Do our boys at the front get 'overtime' and 'double time' in the fox holes of the Philippines? Do our sons who are giving their lives to protect the jobs of these and others like them (workers at home) quit on holidays? Is it the idea of our government that it is more important to preserve labor unions than it is to preserve the American Union? Why can't a free-born American citizen get a job in a plant without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader?"

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, declares that the country's output of military supplies can be doubled if existing war production machinery is used 24 hours a day seven days a week.

He said unless production is brought to victorious levels, "we shall burn in the flames of a public wrath so intense that in its heat it might consume the very standards we have set for free men to live by."

Every man who deliberately shuts off desperately needed supplies, while his brother fights to preserve the country, has blood on his hands.

TOTAL MOBILIZATION

A surprisingly heavy majority favoring total mobilization of the American civil population for war effort has been recorded by the Gallup polls.

The first inference to be drawn from this is that the nation is ahead of Washington in its awareness of the existing crisis.

The second inference might be put in the form of a question: If official Washington is behind in its realization, is it not also behind in aptitude and technique for assuming the huge responsibility that would devolve upon it in event a law should be passed calling for total mobilization of civil population?

Our national administration must fight its way out of its present confusion before assuming other huge and complicated tasks, if Roger Babson has gotten the right impression during his recent visits in Washington.

He thinks that the war could be won sooner if 25 per cent of the Washington government employees were sent home, or into the fighting forces, but he reports that, actually, 40 million dollars is to be spent for new office furniture to accommodate newly appointed officials.

The consensus of commentators on Washington affairs is that President Roosevelt is holding on to the prerogative of making too many final decisions and at the same time delegating secondary authority to too many subordinates.

Seemingly, when the president becomes aware that the administrative processes are bogging down, he tries to remedy the situation by redistributing the inferior authority among still more subordinates. What he needs to do is to delegate more of the power that he now holds and devote more of his own time simply to seeing that the men to whom the authority is delegated either do the job or get out of the way for better men.

This is the kind of streamlining that is needed and it will not call for the expenditure of 40 million dollars for more desks and swivel chairs.

THE GOOSE ENDANGERED

In a recent column, Hugh Johnson commented on the law of diminishing returns. The basic tenet of that law, he said, "is that rates of taxation can be so high as to discourage our business and other incentives to create wealth."

"Tax rates above this limit—no matter how high they go—will result in lower rather than greater revenue to the taxing source, and the decline in revenue will go relatively faster and farther than the increase in rates of taxation."

With taxation paramount in the headlines, next to war, and with congress debating the new treasury revenue bill, it should be thoroughly understood by everyone that we have reached the point of killing the goose that lays the golden egg. The government can tax the golden egg out of existence. But it can't create a new goose. The government can tax productive industry to the point where all incentive to progress is destroyed. And the government and the people will find that the very foundation of individual freedom and opportunity has also been destroyed.

Progress comes out of risk. Men take chances. They play long shots, in the hope of making a profit. Every great industry we know was a "long shot" gamble once. Motors—electric power—oil—mining—go down the list, and you'll find that all these vast enterprises were little experimental enterprises once. "Risk capital" made them possible—and so made possible this kind of a country.

Taxation can be so applied that the ability to progress will disappear. If the so-called "excess profits" tax is so increased that business is deprived of the money needed for expansion, experiment and development, production will seriously suffer. These are facts which congress must keep in mind.

Today's tax problem amounts to raising the needed revenue without destroying the economic and social system we are battling to preserve.

RIGHT AS RAIN

My chief aversion of the moment, snorts Boyce House, consists of these great "foreign correspondents" who knew for years (to hear them tell it now) what Hitler was going to do and what the Japs were up to—but didn't say anything about it.

If they're telling the truth about having known all this, then their failure to warn us makes them mighty close to being traitors.

If they didn't know (and I don't think they did), then they are liars.

CHURCH MEMBER AILMENT

In a recent Wichita, Kans., Church of Christ bulletin appeared the following comment on a new disease which attacks church members. Perusal of the article indicates the disease is one not confined to any particular denomination. It reads as follows:

Morbis Sabbaticus is the name for the disease. It attacks the patient every Sunday; no symptoms are felt on Saturday night; the patient sleeps well, wakes feeling well; eats a hearty breakfast; but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services for the morning are over.

Then the patient gets easy and eats a hearty lunch. In the afternoon he feels much better, and is able to take a walk, talk about politics and read the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack and stays at home.

He retires early, sleeps well, and wakes Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday. The peculiar features of this disease are:

It always attacks members of the church.

It never makes its appearances except on Sunday morning and prayer meeting nights.

The symptoms vary, but it never interferes with the sleep or the appetite.

It never lasts more than twenty-four hours.

It is contagious.

No physician is ever called.

It always proves fatal to the soul in the end.

No remedy is known for it except prayer.

Christ is the only antidote.

The fire column is a lurking danger more powerful than the fifth column, warns Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

My suggestion is to TURN THE UNDER-PLANTED ACRES TO THE COTTON FARMERS OF WEST TEXAS. They can produce the vegetable oil and the long staple lint the nation requires. The extra acres can be allotted to them after all other cotton farmers have used as many or as few as they desire. Such a move would not increase the national cotton acreage. It would not penalize any cotton farmer of any other section.—Deck Wells in Wellington Leader.

Anvil Park rodeo, scheduled for July 3-5, this year, has been cancelled by board members who met at the city hall last Friday night. There was approximately 589 dollars in the treasury. Defense bonds, with an expiration amount of $675 have been purchased, leaving about $80 in the treasury, Carl A. Studer, secretary said.—Canadian Record.

Panhandle has had the most active week in real estate since the boom days. This activity is based on the belief that Panhandle is going to become an important defense center. Largest deal was the announcement during the week end of the sale of the Panhandle Inn and the post office building by Frank A. Paul to John E. Hill of Amarillo.—Panhandle Herald.

At a recent birth in this area at which Dr. Garner officiated he was paid for his services with a "fruit jar full of nickles and dimes" saved for the purpose. The surprised doctor didn't immediately count the jar full of money but accepted the count of the proud papa, P. John Monk.—Quitaque Post.

Rumors are afloat that the cities of Amarillo, Borger, Panhandle and Pampa expect to be benefited by the location of a huge government bombing plant in the very near future. Activity at Panhandle within the last few weeks make it appear likely that the plant may be located in that vicinity.—Miami Chief.

A fine way to build up civilian morale—one crowd bawling "pull yourself together," and another taking the girdles away from the gals. Durn them rubber-grabbing Japs a n y h o w.—Donley County Leader.

With next week's issue of the paper, the March 26th issue, this column and this writer will bid the fine people of Hansford county farewell, at least for the duration of the war. Friday of last week the writer received his orders to report to Uncle Sam as a commissioned officer, and the county will be rid of their country editor. Orders call for the writer leaving Oct. 26 and we do not make public any more just where our soldiers are stationed.—"Honest Bill" Miller in Spearman Reporter.

It has been ordered by some office boy up at Washington that local ration board offices shall be kept open 24 hours a day. In Randall county one clerk is paid only on a three-fourths time basis. Just who is going to keep the office open the balance of the time, or just why the office should be kept open at night is still a midnight mystery. It takes a Democracy to promulgate silly and impossible orders.—Canyon News.

General MacArthur's promotion is the best news the world has known in some time, but the fact remains that we must keep him supplied with the munitions of war if he is to justify our hopes. From all indications we must get away from the 40-hour week and strikes before we are able to give all out aid to our fighting men.—McLean News.

Here's some consolation. It is just as well that you do not make a lot of money these days. If you don't make it you won't miss it and won't feel it nearly so much as you would if you made it and then had to pay it all out in increased taxes.—Tulia Herald.

Simmons Powell, wholesale gasoline agent in Clarendon, has draft order No. 1 at the Donley County Selective Service board after the 26th green capsule drawn from the famous Washington goldfish bowl contained 176, the first number to affect local registrants.—Clarendon News.

All of us have it impressed upon us in no uncertain terms that business, for the duration of this all-out war, will not be as usual. The extent of curtailments and the outlines of changes that are inevitable are as yet only dimly seen. But we can be assured they will be drastic.—Memphis Democrat.

Through the co-operation of the county commissioners of Cottle and King counties and the State Board of Health, annual vaccination of children in the city and county schools will begin next week. Vaccinations for diphtheria, small pox and typhoid will be given this year. Tests will be given to those children where indicated.—Paducah Post.

Eighth Grade Sponsors Show
The eighth grade of the Mobeetie public schools sponsored a picture show Tuesday, March 17, to promote the sale of defense stamps. The show, Custer's Last Fight, and a newsreel, Graf Spee Scuttled, were shown during the day and at night. A total of $31.40 worth of defense stamps were sold.

The eighth grade sold popcorn to pay the rental for the picture shows, and admission charged was "Buy yourself a defense stamp as you enter." No profit was made by the eighth grade, and their only reward was the knowledge that in their small way they had helped Uncle Sam sell more defense stamps.

Why You Should Patronize Times Advertisers

We believe the practical course of action for residents of this section is to read The Wheeler Times advertisements carefully each week, and then make needed purchases from the listings contained in these advertisements.

TIMES ADVERTISERS ARE THE ONES TO PATRONIZE BECAUSE:

The fact that they advertise shows they are progressive and wideawake business houses—the kind that have quality merchandise and will give the best of service.

They are proud of their merchandise and their prices, otherwise they would not publish them for everyone to read. Their prices are in line with good business practices, and will compare favorably with prices to be found anywhere.

They are the leaders in prices. They set prices after careful and business-like consideration. Others may copy them, but those who make the prices are the ones who prove their confidence in the offerings and deserve your patronage.

They are community builders; because as a general rule, those who advertise are the ones who are of the most good to their town, encouraging citizens of the trade territory to spend and keep their money at home.

They are making an effort to sell to you, which should be rewarded with patronage. The man who pushes his business, whether it be large or small, deserves favor over the one who sits back and waits for business to come in—provided it doesn't go off to towns where more enterprise prevails through merchants inviting trade to their stores.

CIRCULATION AND PRESTIGE

Principal essentials determining the value of any advertising medium are circulation and prestige. Regardless of the item offered and price quoted or how appealing an advertisement may otherwise be, unless it reaches potential customers benefits will be nil and cost of the advertisement wasted. Second only to circulation in value is prestige. Prestige represents that intangible something which creates confidence in the reader. If the news accompanying the advertisement—and these are inseparable for results—contains material or information of interest accurately and carefully presented, the reader will have more confidence in the advertising. An advertising medium which purchasers have learned to depend upon and which they BUY and PAY for possesses prestige that reflects favorably in its advertising columns. Free circulars and throw-away "guttersnipes"—claiming to be advertising media, have limited circulation, less prestige and no advertising value at all. The Wheeler Times has CIRCULATION AND PRESTIGE—the best in Wheeler County.

As a favor to yourself and your community—trade at home and

Homemaking News

The first year homemaking girls are making school dresses from cottons. The materials are of solid colors and geometric designs. Some are trimmed with white collars and buttons as well as zippers. Their patterns are simple and suited for school. Full skirts and princess lines are apparently the greatest choice.

The girls started working on their dresses this week. They will have five weeks in which to complete their work.

The second year homemaking class is required to make all-purpose dresses, which may be either a suit or dress. The class has many attractive suits as well as dresses. The suits are made of wash silk and spun rayons, with both smooth and nubbled finish. The dresses are of many designs and colors of pastel shades. The materials are of sharkskin, alpaca and different spun rayons. The class was asked to consider the war situation when planning their all-purpose dress. The garments will be finished within two weeks.

Any third year class is required in normal conditions to make dressy dresses or evening dresses. This year they were allowed to make a garment they need most. The dresses are very attractive in both design and fabric. There is one coat and one evening dress. The coat is made from corded alpaca and the evening dress from floral design taffeta. There are two cotton dresses. One is pique voile and the other eyelet embroidery. The class is well along on its garments. They are also to be finished in two weeks.

This year, due to war conditions, there will not be a state rally. So far as it known now there will not be a public style show as usual.

The homemaking girls do plan, however, to have a private style show in the homemaking cottage and invitations will be extended to the mothers of the girls. Prizes in defense stamps will be awarded.

Newt Trout of Allison was in Wheeler Monday attending to business and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Trout, and family.

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County.

Liberty H. D. Club Meets

"Sport experts point out that good figures come from good athletic form, from a perfectly articulated body," said Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent as she spoke to the Liberty club Tuesday afternoon of last week at the Liberty school house when Liberty and Heald clubs met in joint session with the lesson being given on "Your Carriage, Madam."

Miss Chance continued by saying, "If you don't like your figure, if you're out to improve your hips it's a matter of getting your body in balance." It was brought out that a person should have a natural carriage and preside with poise and to correct our poise, watch it at all times, sitting, standing and sleeping. Improve by getting body to work as a unit; stand on feet above arch, with feet parallel and toes straight ahead. It was also stated one can get warm quicker in bed by straightening out, giving muscles a chance to act. All members were used as models when their defects and methods of correction were shown.

The business session was presided over by the president by singing America the Beautiful and prayer. Council report being given by Mrs. Floyd Lively, and it was voted to contract some pineapples if possible, through the council marketing committee.

The recreation period was presided over by recreation chairman with each member giving a joke or reading, and the session being dismissed by the pledge to the flag.

Roll call was answered by the following members by quoting their favorite Bible verse: Mesdames Liveley, C. A. Myatt, T. H. Hardin, H. M. Roth H. L. Dorsey, A. L. Wall, Olen Davis, C. L. Calvert, Luther Petty and Miss Hettie Burr as a visitor.

The next meeting will be Wednesday night, April 1, at the Liberty school house with the families and interested persons present, when a book review on "Invitation to Live" will be given.

COUNTY HOME MEMBERS HEAR REPORT ON STATE MEETING

The Wheeler County Home Economics association met Monday night, March 22, in Wheeler and heard Evelyn Plummer give a report of the Texas State Nutrition committee meeting. Miss Plummer attended the meeting in Austin March 12 as a substitute representative for the chairman of the association.

Also included in Miss Plummer's report was a discussion of what is being done in carrying on the work of nutritionists over the state and nation.

Economics associations of Texas were visitors at the Texas meet.

Don't Die On Third

The trouble with so many of us is the fact that when we have achieved our goal at third base we simply stop and let things go.

We work so hard to reach third base. When we get there and try to go on in home, we fail once, we try again, we fail, and after many failures we give up and simply stop trying.

Often times we reach third base and never go any farther just because we don't try. We think that we have already gone farther than many so what's the use. So we just stop there and never know what happens next. What if Edison, the world's greatest inventor, had stopped when the first ray of light came from the instruments which he used to make electricity instead of trying again until it was perfected.

Where would the world be today if after he tried several times he had stopped just because he failed the world would have suffered as well as he.

We do not even like to think what would have happened if Columbus had died on third, or if when the United States after a trial for peace, and afterwards a trial for victory, had died on third when our goal seemed almost achieved where would we be now.

Whether we be playing the game of life or baseball when we get to third let's keep on going, and not die there.—Mary Ruth Evans.

Your Scrap Metal is Needed Now for VICTORY!

A CRITICAL SHORTAGE of scrap metal now exists in United States War Industry. Unless more scrap is forthcoming at once, war production will slow down and months, even years will be added to this fearful battle.

It is of the utmost importance that every pound of scrap metal on your farm start moving now toward America's steel mills and foundries to make more war materials.

To help you get your scrap moving, this store will cooperate in every way possible. Canvass your farm from the attic to the farthest fence corner. Gather every bit of old metal into a conveniently located pile and drop a post card to this store telling us approximately how many pounds you have collected.

Your card will be turned over to a scrap dealer who prepares scrap for the mills. His truck will be routed past your farm to pick up your scrap soon and get it started toward the fighting front.

This store collects this information and passes it along as a patriotic service without commission or profit of any kind. Our work in this campaign and the cost of this advertising is our contribution to victory.

Take Care of Your Refrigerator

Now that the War Production board has "frozen" production of family-sized mechanical refrigerators, every homemaker who owns one will want to take better care of hers than ever. So believes Lenore Sater, chief of the household equipment division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics.

The amount of energy a refrigerator uses depends partly on the temperature of the air right around the cabinet. The warmer this air, the more energy it uses. The refrigerator should be set out of the sun and not too close to the stove. There needs to be space enough for good circulation of air at the back and top.

Allow at least 2 1/2 inches leeway at the back of an electric refrigerator and 6 inches, preferably 12 at the top. A gas refrigerator needs also 2 1/2 inches at the back and from 10 to 12 inches leeway at the top.

Keep the refrigerator cold—but not too cold. You're wasting energy if you keep the temperature in the cabinet below 40 degrees Fahrenheit even in the coldest spot. This coldest spot, reserved for milk and raw meat, needs to be between 40 and 45 degrees Fahrenheit at all times. You're not getting safe refrigeration if any part of the cabinet gets above 50 degrees.

Bring all warm foods to room temperature before you put them in the refrigerator. Cover all foods except those that have thick skins. Moisture from foods left uncovered evaporates and collects on the freezing unit. That makes it necessary to defrost the refrigerator more often. Storing foods without covers also lets the flavors escape into the circulating air. Then delicate goods, such as butter and custards, take on the flavor of other foods in the cabinet.

Remember that it takes energy to cool everything you put in the refrigerator. Never store foods that do not require refrigerator temperatures to keep them. Never put into the cabinet paper bags, pasteboard cartons, tops of hulls of vegetables you won't use, or containers larger than you need. Don't overcrowd the refrigerator. There needs to be free circulation of air in the cabinet if the refrigerator is to work efficiently.

Be sure only clean food and clean containers go into the refrigerator. If food spills, wipe it up immediately. Some foods contain acid that may injure the glaze on the cabinet lining, make it harder to keep clean.

Now that there's a rubber shortage, be especially careful of the rubber gasket around the door. Wipe off any food or grease immediately and try not to grasp it with greasy hands. Grease is a natural enemy of rubber.

Steel-Piercing Eye

Steel used in vital parts for war machines—planes, tanks, ships, guns—must be flawless, because America's fighting men must have weapons that are both accurate and tough.

1. The new million volt X ray built by General Electric saves precious hours in finding flaws. It is so powerful that its rays can pierce thick steel castings.

2. Defects in the steel show up on X-ray film. Therefore faulty materials are tossed aside before costly hours of machining have been spent on them.

3. A regular check-up on pieces of X-ray film worn on workers' wrists helps guard against prolonged exposure to the rays given off by the X-ray tube.

4. X-ray exposure needed for 5-inch-thick steel is now 2 minutes instead of previous 3 1/2 hours! Whole days are saved in examination of even thicker castings.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Bad Men of Missouri

You have seen the life story of the James Brothers, Frank and Jesse, on our screen. You admit that it is one of the pictures that you will always remember. You may have seen the story of the Dalton Gang, also. And now comes the life story of the three Younger Brothers, Jim, Bob and Cole. These three brothers are almost as well known as were the James boys. They, too, came from the State of Missouri and were called the Bad Men of Missouri by all except those who knew them best, and these called them by a title more kindly. For, indeed, their exploits toward helping the needy were many. Almost any old-timer can relate some story of how the Younger Boys helped some person in need. So come out and see their life story on our screen Friday and Saturday, March 27-28, at the Rogue.

How Green Was My Valley

For Preview, Sunday and Monday, March 28-29-30, we bring you How Green Was My Valley with Walter Pidgeon and Maureen O'Hara. This picture was given the award by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as the BEST picture produced in 1941, it having been released late in December. All who have seen the picture say that the committee was justified in giving it the Oscar, as the award is called. We are putting our personal guarantee on How Green Was My Valley, and urging you to see it. We know you will not be disappointed. Many who have seen it expect to see it again. We especially invite the ministers of the town to see it, and we assure you that you will like it equally as well as One Foot In Heaven. Really it's a grand picture, Doris, even if you cannot get Pete out to see it.

The Maltese Falcon

Humphrey Bogart and Mary Astor are the stars in The Maltese Falcon which comes to the Rogue Tuesday, March 31. If you like a super-detective and mystery story you will find the one that tops them all in The Maltese Falcon. And, incidentally, this will be our last Bargain Nite show for a while. After Tuesday, March 31, we will be closed on Tuesday nights. So you had better take advantage of this last Bargain Nite.

Underground

Underground, with Jeffrey Lynn and Philip Dorn, concerns itself with the life story of two German brothers who are both Nazis as far as appearances go. One of them, however, is connected with an underground organization working to undermine the Nazis. The one brother, unknowingly, sends the second to the gallows. He then takes his place with the underground organization and carries on the work against the Nazis. This picture carries plenty of action, mystery and suspense. And contrary to most stories, it deals strictly with the Nazis and does not attempt any espionage against our government. It comes to the Rogue Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, April 1-2.

IT TAKES CO-OPERATION...

Fifty years ago no one thought of trying to stimulate the industrial growth of a whole region. The American pioneer spirit took care of everything.

Today, with our country largely settled, it is not enough to leave our industrial future to nature. Realizing this, our organization is telling the nation about the splendid opportunities for war and peacetime production that are available here in the Gulf South.

The program is designed to co-operate with all other groups interested in building a greater Gulf South —to work with you, and your local organizations—and to help build your community and the rest of the Gulf South area.

But the job is big—it takes co-operative pulling power—the co-operation of everyone working shoulder to shoulder in the interest of the whole country's defense and its peacetime progress after war. All of us in the Gulf South know that only through close co-operation and unified action can victory be assured. We deeply appreciate our responsibilities in this great crisis.

should be corrected or guarded against and feel that we have the right to call such to the attention of our leaders.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by this mass meeting of 1,500 patriotic Wheeler county citizens assembled that a report of this meeting in the form of this resolution be furnished to our Texas senators and our Texas delegation of congressmen, as follows:

1. We have confidence in your leadership and in your desire to do your part in the common cause. We also feel that we have the democratic right of holding mass meetings of our citizens for the purpose for which we are assembled.

2. We see great danger in the 40-hour week law, and think it should be suspended during the war. Unscrupulous employers will use it as an excuse to slow down production in order to avoid overtime pay and make greater profits. Employees should be required to work at least 56 hours per week at regular pay. If regular pay is not a fair wage, then let it be increased for each work day and cut out overtime and double time pay. Honest labor is not at fault. It wants to work but is not permitted to work. Labor racketeers are a menace to labor as well as to the nation. Overtime and double time tend to slow down production, increase production costs and actually result in a hardship on those who want to work.

3. Wheeler county citizens have shed their life blood on the field of battle. Their mothers, their fathers, their wives, their sisters and their brothers with bleeding hearts proudly dedicate this sacrifice to the cause of freedom. But such dedication is marred by the constant report of strikes in essential defense industries.

With the records showing 5,328 strikes from July, 1940, through November, 1941, with a loss of 26 million man-days; 330 strikes begun in December, 1941, and January, 1942, with a loss of 890,000 man-days; 35,350 man-days lost in February and 16,560 man-days lost from strikes in the first 19 days of March, these gold-star citizens are wondering if their national leaders are not entirely too lenient with this kind of situation.

Those next of kin to our dead heroes feel, and we all feel, that NO LABOR STRIKE IS JUSTIFIED OR SHOULD BE PERMITTED DURING THIS WAR. Not a man-day should be lost in getting supplies and tanks and planes and guns and ammunition

KELTON HOMEMAKING GROUPS MAKE COOKIES, STUDY FOODS

"Weren't those whole wheat muffins good," and "what kind of cookies did you make," were remarks that echoed down the halls of the Kelton school from the boys who were taking homemaking in the exchange classes last week.

These exchange classes continued three weeks, with the boys taking homemaking while the girls were making thread and spool holders in manual training. They studied personality and manners. Then studied what foods should be eaten and why it is necessary to eat them.

Every class planned, cooked and served a breakfast in class. Whole wheat muffins seemed to be a favorite, since they were made in every class. The last week was climaxed by a laboratory in which the boys made cookies of several kinds.

These were saved and cookies and hot chocolate were served in every class the last day.

Those served during the evening were Supt. C. C. Brown, Coach G. S. Gandy and the following class members: Raymond Souders, Neal Kenney, Boyd Neal Austin, Edward Lee Pool, Doyle Carver, Duane Gipsen, W. L. Carver, Loyd Kenney, Thomas Joiner, Edwin Watts, Loyd Beaty, Bobby Cooper, Billie Wayne Wagner, Mildred Souders, Lonnie Lee Kenney, Ray Wright, C. L. Pitcock, Claude Reivous, Glenn Rives, Floyd Norrid and the instructor, Mrs. Charles Torrance.

to our fighting MacArthurs. ACTION is the watch-word; WORK OR FIGHT must be the final decree. If a man wants double time, let him get it on the drill ground with a rifle in his hands.

4. No special interest of ANY KIND has any right to request, expect, or secure any special profit or benefit from this war or any activity in connection with it. Let's adjourn politics, do away with war profits, cut out strikes, suspend the 40-hour week, lock up labor racketeers, produce war materials every hour of every day, send our boys something to fight with and WIN THIS WAR. We hold that anything short of that now is TREASON.

Gov. Stevenson Proclaims Period—
Asks Co-Operation to Check
Health and Fire Menace

Civilian Defense Clean-Up week in Texas has been designated for March 29 to April 4, in a proclamation issued by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Calling for co-operation of city and county officials, fire departments, public schools—both urban and rural, civic and patriotic organizations, the governor in his proclamation has emphasized the need of a clean-up campaign at this time in the interest of public health and fire prevention.

"The health of our citizens and the preservation of property from destruction by fire is of vital importance to our nation as an important part of its victory program," the governor declared.

Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, stated that the health of the nation in time of peace or war is of paramount importance. The men in our armed forces must be in perfect physical condition, and those engaged in supplying war material and other defense activities can not have their efforts dissipated by sickness or accidents. This week should kindle a desire on the part of all to make health a part of their war effort.

"Fire prevention has always paid liberal dividends where it has been practiced," Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, said. "The value of fire prevention now is more important than at any time in the past 25 years. The growing list of every day articles being removed from market as more plants are converted to war production makes it vital that all resources be protected from fire losses. A thorough clean-up with the removal of fire hazards is of major importance in fire prevention."

It has been pointed out that scrap and waste collections for the war effort can be given added emphasis during Civilian Defense Clean-Up week by organizations engaged in such activity.

"In collecting waste paper," Commissioner Hall cautioned, "care should be exercised in storing it so as not to create a new fire hazard."

Farm Tenant Payments
Much Beyond Schedule

Local FSA Administrator Advised 1941 Receipts Run 61 Per Cent Above Demands

Former tenant farm families in this area who are buying their own farms under the farm tenant purchase program of the Farm Security Administration, paid 61 per cent more on their loans than was due to the federal treasury in 1941, according to a report just received here by Frank O. Wofford, rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA in Wheeler county.

The 178 farmers, who formerly operated land they could not own and who had full use of their farms purchased under the government's long-term credit plan, were expected to repay a total of $72,782 at the end of the year. Actually, however, these 178 farmers repaid a total of $117,388, or 61 per cent more than demanded.

This means that even though the average farm tenant purchase borrower has crop failures for the next two or three years, has costly illness in the family or other setbacks, he still will be current with his payments to the federal government, his state and county taxes and his property insurance.

The record was particularly remarkable because the loans were made to farmers unable to finance their purchases through ordinary credit channels. Without the government's help they would have continued to operate as tenants, instead of owners.

Congress enacted the farm-tenant law in 1937 after a presidential commission had found that America was rapidly becoming a nation of tenant farmers, that almost half the farmers were tenant, and that their number was increasing by about 40,000 a year.

It reported also that farm tenancy was bad for the nation and recommended a program of government loans to help tenants to become owners, as other nations had done. The program is just beginning to gain enough headway, after four years, to show results.

The record of these borrowers proves the wisdom of the Farm Security Administration's theme for all of its different programs, that "given a chance—given the tools and the guidance they need—small and impoverished farm families everywhere can make good."

The national record of the farm tenant purchase program is just as impressive as the area record. Up to the end of the last fiscal year, June, 1941, the 14,944 farmers who had borrowed money under the farm tenant act to buy their own farms had paid back to the government almost $500,000 more than was due.

The annual average gross income of the 178 tenant purchase borrowers in this area for 1941 was $3,850. The average net cash income of this group for the same period was $1,609. Their annual average net income, including the value of farm products used in the home, was $1,733. These figures are many times greater than those of the average farm operator for the same period in the same area.

Moreover, these home owners have security of tenure. They have raised their standards of living far beyond those which they could not enjoy as tenants. Now they are a part of the communities in which they live. Their children's future is tied more securely to the American idea of home ownership.

Purchase loans are made to tenant families for a period of 40 years at 3 per cent interest.

An example of the progress made by some of the borrowers is the case of one farmer in Kansas who borrowed $3,912 in 1938, to purchase a 479 acre farm. He will pay the last dollar due on his loan within the next few days.

Another case is that of the farmer in Texas county, Okla., who borrowed $7,434 in 1939 to purchase a 480 acre farm. Although he has until 1979 to repay the loan, he has, to
