THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

Fourth Draft to Be Held Next Monday

The Wheeler county draft board is making arrangements to register over a thousand men in the county next Monday, April 27, in the National Fourth Draft Registration when all men who have attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before February 16, 1942, and have not attained their sixty-fifth birthday on April 27, 1942, will be registered. The board has been advised to be prepared to register approximately one and one-half times the number of men who were registered in the third draft registration. There were 729 men registered in Wheeler county during that registration.

The registration Monday will be held between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., day light saving time in the following places in this county: Mobeetie, in the school house; Wheeler, in the commissioners court room; Briscoe, in the school gymnasium; Kelton, in the school gymnasium; Allison, in the school house; Twitty, in the school house; Lela, in the school house; Magic City, in the school house; Kellerville, in the school gymnasium; and Shamrock, in the city hall.

Those in charge will be: O. W. Elliott at Mobeetie, T. M. Britt at Wheeler, Lee Barry at Briscoe, John Peeples at Allison, Gordon Stiles at Kelton, Mrs. Ernest Hood at Twitty, E. A. Deering at Lela, Guy McBurnett at Magic City, Orville Cunningham at Kellerville and H. B. Hill at Shamrock.

Registrants who were forty-five years old or over on February 16, 1942, are not liable for military service under the provisions of Selective Training and Service Act of 1940. Registration cards will be serially numbered but no lottery will be held and no order numbers will be assigned.

Questionnaires for all of the 729 men who registered in Wheeler county's third draft registration of February 16, have been sent out with the last of them being mailed Tuesday of this week. Approximately fifty men of this registration group are being classified weekly by the local board.

First National Defense Course Closes Friday

Last Friday night eight persons qualified for a certificate issued by the National Defense school in auto mechanics. Those qualifying were: B. F. McDonald, Clay Elum, John Wright, Jake Trout, Charles B. Sanderfer, J. C. Turner, Enos Morgan and Dorsey Hutchison.

In order to secure a certificate each member must have attended 120 out of the 150 hours instruction offered by Otis Reid, instructor of the course.

Another such course in metal work will start the first Monday in May with Bob Rodgers as instructor. Charlie Inman Injured In Highway Accident

Charlie Inman, Wheeler Man, received serious injuries late Saturday night when run over by a light pickup on highway 152 near the Wheeler ice plant.

Inman, who was walking home with a load of groceries he had purchased, and the pickup got to dodging each other after the car had made a quick turn on the road and the car's lights were focused on him, according to Wheeler officers who investigated the accident.

Inman was carried to the Wheeler hospital where doctors found his right leg was severely crushed. He was able to be carried to his home at the east edge of town Tuesday.

Junior Adcock of Hemphill county, who with three other youths was in the pickup at the time of the accident, was released on $500 bail early Sunday to answer charges of aggravated assault with motor vehicle.

Seniors Present Play Friday, May 1st

Friday, May 1, at 8:30 p. m., the Wheeler high school seniors of 1942 will present "Headlines," a three-act play dealing with the problems of running an honest newspaper in an average American city.

The plot is good, the excitement is intense and the laughs are plentiful.

Arlene Reynolds is the harassed newspaper owner; Jim Johnson is the crooked politician. Other characters are Bill Cospier, Maurine Hunt, Harold Callan, Glenda Schattenberg, Geraldine Williams, Juanita Sherwood, Lowell Pendleton, John Wright, Hazel Burrell, Glenn Hale and S. D. Miller.

The public is urged not to miss this play. Admission is 25c to adults, and 15c for children. Remember, May 1, 8:30 p. m., in the high school gymnasium.

RESIDENT'S RELATIVE IS REWARDED FOR BRAVERY

Sgt. Joe Smith of Carlsbad, N. Mex., stationed on Bataan, and a relative of Mrs. Mattie Womack of Wheeler, has been recommended for a lieutenantancy as a reward for bravery shown during battle on January 7. As well as being in the group to shoot down seven bombers and hitting many more, Smith's group distinguished themselves a few days previously by bravery in extinguishing fires caused by a bomb which set off a pile of shells stored nearby. The bursting shells peppered their position, but caused no casualties.

BLANKET PRICE FREEZING ORDER SCHEDULED TUES.

According to newspaper and radio reports a blanket freezing of virtually all prices at last month's levels probably will be proclaimed next Tuesday as a major part in the anti-inflation program.

The blanket price order would cover all consumer goods with the probable exception of food and would permit wholesaler and retailers to charge the highest price they charged in March but no higher.

Along with the freezing of price levels new forms of the legislation program are expected to include:

Drastic limits upon war profits.

A high pressure campaign for the sale of defense bonds and stamps.

Perhaps a maximum limitation on the size of individual salaries.

Possibly a ceiling for war industry wages, with a determination of the continuing row over hours of labor.

Sugar Retailers Asked to Secure Applications to Register April 28

Retailers, wholesalers, institutional and industrial users of sugar must register at high schools on April 28 and 29. Household sugar users will register on May 4, 5, 6 and 7 in elementary schools.

The book of instructions, called officially "The Plan for Distributing War Ration Book One," is being sent to county courts throughout the country. From the courthouses, these books will be distributed to public elementary and high schools, and there will be placed in the hands of registrars. It is estimated that 1,250,000 elementary school teachers in the United States will serve as registrars, and they will be assisted by volunteers, working under supervision of "school site administrators" appointed by local school superintendents.

Registrars of Wheeler county met with county rationing board members Wednesday night of this week to receive instructions for the registrations.

Another book of instructions, "The Plan for Trade Registration," gives directions for registering retailers, wholesalers, boarding house keepers, institutions such as hospitals, asylums and orphanages, cafes, hotels, bakers and soft drink bottlers.

With the proportionate small number of those of the trade to register in this county, registrars are requesting that registration be completed during the first day if possible.

Since these trade registration forms require much technical information, OPA officials emphasized that trade registrars should obtain the forms from local rationing boards beforehand and fill them out, so that during the two-day registration period, April 28 and 29, the trade registrant will need only to go to a high school and sign the application before a registrar, to obtain a sugar purchase certificate.

Those of the trade in this county are asked to contact either the school superintendent, who is the registrar, or the advisor Friday or Saturday of this week to get proper application forms.

The owner or manager, whichever the case might be, must be the one to fill out the application.

Designated schools in Wheeler county where members of the trade may register, the superintendent registrar and the advisor of each place are as follows:

Shamrock—Supt. W. C. Perkins, registrar, H. P. Mundy, advisor; Wheeler—Supt. J. L. Gilmore, registrar, R. H. Forrester, advisor; Kelton—Supt. C. C. Brown, registrar, Lewis Bledsoe, advisor; Mobeetie—Supt. M. D. Blankinship, registrar, Henry Flanagan, advisor; Briscoe—Supt. A. D. Barry, registrar, Weaver Barnett, advisor; Allison—Supt. J. W. Peeples, registrar, Sam Begert, advisor.

Registration must be made in same county where the business is located.

Time of registration will be between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., war time.

Prominent Rancher Dies Last Thursday

W. E. George, prominent rancher and pioneer, died Thursday at 10 p. m. in a Shattuck, Okla., hospital. He had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Allison, at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. L. Naugle, assisted by Rev. Geo. T. Palmer, district superintendent of the Clarendon district. Rev. Palmer is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. George and Rev. Uel D. Crosby, Methodist minister of Canadian. Burial was made in the Zybach cemetery on the Washita.

William Edward George was married to Miss Caloun at Old Mobeetie on May 9, 1886. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the ranch home on the Washita in 1936, which was attended by their children and friends.

A few years after their marriage the Georges settled on a ranch near Allison which has been their home ever since. The old home was razed by fire a few years ago, taking with it many keepsakes and heirlooms of pioneer years. A new house was built and they continued to make their home on the ranch.

Mr. George was born Sept. 7, 1864. He had been a cattleman ever since he was a young man. His wife, Mrs. George, and nine children survive him. They are:

Mr. George's sons carry on the business of ranching which he followed all his life.

POISON GRAIN FOR KILLING RABBITS FREE TO FARMERS

The U. S. Forest Service is furnishing poison grain free for killing jack rabbits to protect peanuts as well as their trees during the coming growing season, Jake Tarter, county agent, announced this week. Anyone, whether they have a tree strip or not, can get the grain as long as it lasts.

The county agent will be in his office Thursday afternoon and all day Saturday until further notice but one may get the poison whether he is there or not.

Farmers are being urged to grow peanuts for national defense if they will properly plant them and properly take care of the soil after the nuts are harvested. The best method is to plant in strips as weather conditions might be such this fall that cover crops, such as rye, can be grown. It is advisable to plant 6 or 8 rows of peanuts and that many rows of sudan, cane, kaffir or maize. In case sudan or cane is grown they will be counted as government acres, but if feed is grown, all will count same as feed, as peanuts do come out of the feed acreage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wileman of Oklahoma City, attended the funeral of W. E. George, Saturday and also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wileman, returning to the city, Saturday night.

HE MADE THINGS LOOK IMPRESSIVE FOR AWHILE TO SAY THE LEAST

With all the action and dignity of one with authority, a man, "H. J. Herzog," pulled into the Crump-Mundy service station here late Friday and advised station attendants to stock all passenger tires in preparation for shipping to Quartermaster headquarters of Fort Sill, Okla., as it was government orders and the tires were being requisitioned by Uncle Sam. A truck would call by for the tires early this week.

"And you might as well put one of the tires on my spare," Mr. Herzog advised. Wanting to do what was right by his boss, as well as Uncle Sam, the attendant called Mr. Crump to take over the situation.

Mr. Herzog presented Crump with one of his authoritative looking cards with the usual large inlaid U. S. letters, imprinted name and all, produced regular purchase order forms, some of which were already filled out, and advised taking the serial numbers of the tires.

He knew the wholesale cost of the tires to the penny. He even knew where to find the serial numbers on the tires without taking but very little of the paper wrapping off. He told of being an ex-soldier and was wearing the well-known forty

Ask Increased Cotton Acreage Allotment to West Texas This Year

The West Texas chamber of commerce is asking the U. S. department of agriculture to allot, on or before June 1, then the unplanted cotton acreage of the 1942 national allotment to those territories which, after that date, can still successfully plant and produce cotton. By such a reallocation formula, said a WTCC petition sent to Secretary Claude R. Wickard, West Texas latest of all planting territories and ideally suited to cotton production, can meet the agriculture department's urging for full planting of allotted acreage to meet war needs for increased fibre and oils.

This year's national acreage allotment has been set at 27,400,000 acres. The petition by the regional chamber pointed out that invariably final plantings in the belt have been far under the allotments, due to unseasonable weather, diversion of cotton lands to other crops, and other factors. Last year the falling off totalled 4,200,000 acres, more than doubling that of 1940.

In West Texas, said the petition, cotton of the 1941 crop was planted at late as July 1, and the region went on to produce 60 per cent of the entire state's 2,555,611 bales ginned prior to March 15, 1942. It was asserted that of 19 million available cotton acres in West Texas, and with only 4,355,341 acres allotted for this year, "there remain available over 14 million acres now devoted to feed and grain crops and to retired land, with which to take up this year's unplanted cotton acreage without taking from any farmer anywhere any allotment which he wants and to which he is entitled." If there is a need of increased staple cotton fibre and of vegetable oils, stressed the petition, "West Texas has the facilities and land to achieve these goals."

The WTCC's petition signed by J. Thos. Davis, president, and by C. M. Francis and Clifford B. Jones, chairmen of the agriculture and chemurgic committees was prepared by Manager D. A. Bandeen. Copies have been sent to all West Texas congressmen with request that they appoint a delegation to wait on Secretary Wickard in support of the plea. Affiliates of the WTCC also have been asked to actively support the petition through their congressmen and to campaign for planting of the additional acreage if it is allotted. The campaign has been assigned as an activity in the regional chamber's intercommunity defense and preservation contest. Should the petition be granted and the additional acreage allotted, it is estimated that West Texas' cotton income this year would be increased by $100,000,000.

Interest High in First Aid Course

The second meeting of the Red Cross First Aid course being conducted each Tuesday and Thursday night, at the court house at 8:30 p. m. was well attended.

At the first meeting on Friday night, about 55 enrolled and bought Red Cross instruction books. The Tuesday night class showed an increase and this lesson was on bandages, proper and improper.

Local Merchants Purchase $2,650 Produce Weekly

Some are of the opinion that produce sold in the Wheeler area is a minor line of cash income, but a complete survey of those buying eggs, cream, hides, and poultry was made the first week in this month at the request of the Wheeler Lions Club for some information on agricultural lines. Figures secured from the merchants of the actual amounts which was bought during the week are astounding.

It is also understood that the amount of poultry bought at this particular time was at a time when the least amount is sold. Turkey season has passed and the season for culling hens has also passed, so it was one of the low weeks of the year as far as poultry sales are concerned.

The following figures were taken from the merchant's books of produce bought and purchases of all merchants were totaled.

Eggs bought in the week...$1,620.78
Cream bought in the week... 809.40
Hides bought in the week... 18.40
Poultry bought in the week... 202.06

Total of all produce bought during the week...$2,650.64

Taking this as an average the annual sales of produce in the town of Wheeler alone would be $137,833.28 and, as stated above, this was one of the lowest weeks in the sale of poultry and hides.

This amount from produce sold more than doubles the amount of AAA money received by the farmers in the Wheeler area, and more than half of all money received as rental payments for the whole of Wheeler county.

The above amounts do not include a lot of produce traded for supplies in many cases and is an accurate figure taken from the merchant's books. It is something that all merchants and farmers should be proud of.

It is hoped that time will permit that this same information can be gathered in Shamrock, Mobeetie, and other communities of Wheeler county as a matter of information to let farmers and the general public know just how important the sale of produce is in Wheeler county as a supplement income for the people.

Statistics of this survey were compiled by Jake Tarter, county agent.

SOIL CONSERVATION CHECKS RECEIVED HERE MONDAY

Forty-four soil conservation checks amounting to $5,302.18 were received here Monday by the ACA office and have been distributed to farmers over the county.

This week's checks make a total $118,234.79 in payments to Wheeler county farmers in soil payments during the past several weeks.

Corp. Cecil Meadows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Meadows of Briscoe, spent the week end visiting relatives in and around Wheeler and returned to Camp Barkley, Abilene Sunday afternoon.

MRS. PRUDENCE FITZGERALD DIES IN MIAMI HOME

Mrs. Prudence Fitzgerald, 70 years of age, widow of the late postmaster S. E. Fitzgerald, died Friday morning at her home in Miami, after an illness of a few days.

She was found unconscious in her flower yard earlier in the week having suffered a stroke from which she did not regain consciousness.

Survivors are five sons, three of whom were present at their mother's bedside, Roy of Miami, Leo of Yuma, Colo., and Cecil of Higgins; and Russell, of Miami and Earl, now of the armed forces; and two sisters.

Mrs. Fitzgerald had been a resident of Miami for nearly 40 years.

PEEPS IN THE WHEELER TIMES WINDOW

There'll always be a hen to lay a larger egg so it seems with an exhibit brought in Saturday to be placed in The Times window.

Mrs. L. V. Sivage brought in a Buff-Leghorn egg weighing five and a half ounces. The egg is eight and seven-eighths inches around the long way and seven and one-eighth inches around the short way. The egg weighs 1 1/2 ounces more than the egg recently brought in by J. F. Rathjen from his White Leghorn flock.

Another entry of interest was brought in Saturday by Mrs. J. H. Creakmore. She had found two peculiar looking mushroom plants and brought them in for the window display. The plants have a sponge looking top and large white stem.

WHAT DOES FREEDOM MEAN?

The Commercial-Appeal of Memphis, Tennessee, on February 28, published a communication from John C. Sheffield of Helena, Arkansas. He raised some points on which the public is becoming more critical each day. In part, he said:

"My son was born while I was in France during the first World War. Today he is a member of the United States Marine Corps—We know he is somewhere in the Pacific. We are anxious about him. Thousands of other parents are like us.

"One of my friends who is a good mechanic with a family to support, went to get a job in a munitions plant. Every day we hear on the radio and read in the newspapers that such men are needed to turn out munitions for the soldiers, sailors and marines. But this man was refused a job until he could get a union card. He could not get a union card because he did not have enough money to buy one.

"Why can't a free-born American get a job in a plant where the government needs workers, without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader?"

Mr. Sheffield, you have asked a question that millions of Americans are asking today. Why can't a man get a job in an industry producing war equipment with taxpayers' money, without paying initiation fees and monthly dues? What answer is there to that question? How can such a situation be permitted to exist in a free country? What do constitutional rights mean when a man cannot work without paying private organizations for the privilege?

A LITTLE LESS SWEET

The war will sit right down at the tables of Southwesterners in a few days, and bring home forcefully to them the fact that this is a total war—a war in which every man and woman and every material must be enlisted if we're to win.

That means that war will be helping itself to the sugar bowls on our dinner tables—and in our kitchens. We'll simply have to eat another orange, or have another stewed prune and content ourselves with half a pound of sugar per person in each family for awhile.

Trade users of sugar—including wholesalers, retailers, cafes, boardinghouse keepers, restaurants, hotels, asylums, hospitals and orphanages—all will have to register at high schools on April 28 and 29 for their allocations of sugar, and state the amounts of sugar they have on hand and are accustomed to sell or use.

This will be only the prelude to the registration of more than 130,000,000 Americans on May 4, 5, 6 and 7 for War Ration Book Number One, which will parcel out sugar and any other commodities that may later be rationed.

Of course, many persons still don't see the necessity for sugar rationing. The best answer to them is an illustration: Mark on a sugar bowl a lower ring, representing slightly more than a third or 38 per cent of its capacity. That is our home-grown sugar supply.

Above that mark a smaller band, representing 35 per cent of the sugar bowl's capacity. That is the quantity of sugar we've been importing from the West Indies. And above that is a still narrower band—the

UNFINISHED SYMPHONY

27 per cent we've been getting from the Philippine Islands and Hawaii.

Everyone who reads the newspapers can readily see why we are receiving no more sugar from the Philippines, and why our imports from Hawaii are diminished drastically. Most persons also can read "between the lines" of ship-sinkings and understand why the 35 per cent we normally import from the West Indies is a doubtful quantity this year. Those ships are needed now to transport war materials.

Added to these factors is the sugar requirement in making munitions explosives, and also the fact that a large amount of sugar must be supplied to our armed forces, wherever they may be.

Rationing has become a necessity, so we may "share-and-share-alike"—and also so we may live on our home-grown supply if need be.

"DON'TS FOR VOLUNTEERS

There is bound to be much waste and inefficiency when work is done by volunteers. But there would be far less than there is now in volunteer defense work if women would pay attention to the following list of "don'ts."

Don't be a dabbler, one month deciding that you want to be an ambulance driver and the next that you are more interested in learning quantity cooking.

Don't be a fault finder, letting yourself become critical of the organization in which you are working that you scare others away from it.

Don't be an easy mark, taking on more jobs than you can do efficiently, just because you hate to say "No" when you really should.

Don't be a joiner, signing up for anything the other girls do, just to be in the swim.

Don't be a responsibility dodger, one of those who is willing to be a cog but not willing to take on any real responsibility.

Don't be undependable, thinking that just because you are doing volunteer work without pay, you don't have to be a certain place at a certain time and that when a defense class and a social event come at the same time hour, the social event is the more important of the two.

Don't be choosy, deciding that someone else can do the hard and the routine jobs and that you will wait until an opportunity worthy of your brains and ability comes along.

Don't be a trouble-maker, wasting valuable time in petty squabbles, or indulging in hurt feelings.

Just because women's war work is on a voluntary basis doesn't mean that it isn't vitally important. It is so important that all unnecessary waste of time and energy ought to be cut at once.

CEILING PRICES SET ON SCRAP IRON AND STEEL

Ceiling prices have been set on scrap iron and steel and there is no point in holding accumulations of these on the farm or around a city household in the hope of obtaining a higher price. George Butler, executive secretary of the Texas Salvage Committee, pointed out today.

"There is no profit in hoarding," Mr. Butler emphasized, "and fortunately, we find that the majority of farmers are only too glad to donate their accumulations of scrap, to charitable and civic collecting agencies, while others choose to sell. The important thing, though, is to get in that scrap!"

The office of price administration, he said, has established a maximum price schedule for steel and iron scrap, and Leon Henderson, the price administrator, has made it plain that OPA has no intention of increasing these maximum prices. It took into consideration the fact that much material collected would be varied and would be prepared for use by the mills. Also, much of this scrap is located in sections remote from the usual scrap collection and from steel centers.

"I can't conceive of anyone's withholding this vital war material for the selfish purpose of speculating on the possibility of higher prices in the future," Mr. Butler said. "That can bring only a loss of self-respect by anyone who gambles for personal profit, at the expense of our common effort to whip our enemies."

The salvage official called attention to the fact that labor and trucks will be provided by the Work Projects Administration in areas where the state salvage committee hasn't succeeded in moving scrap materials.

Mr. Butler pointed out also that where instances of hoarding of scrap steel and iron are found, the war production board's bureau of industrial conservation has questioning powers, and it already has not hesitated to use those powers when anyone possessing scrap has refused to sell it to mills offering the ceiling price.

CHILDREN'S WEEK

Commenting recently on the wide spread interest and cooperation shown by Texans in the observance of Texas Children's Week, April 19-25, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, said that America has no better safe-guard for her future than the promotion of good health in the youth of today.

"Americans have done a great deal in the past to make the United States a better and safer place in which to live the all-important years of childhood," Dr. Cox said, "but in spite of all of this, American childhood has not yet been made as safe as it can be."

Dr. Cox pointed out that the national emergency naturally adds to the health hazards that already exist and urged parents of every child in Texas to make sure that their children have been immunized against such preventable diseases as diphtheria and smallpox.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that although most babies are born physically sound, the foundation for future health is laid in the first six years of life. All parents must realize that raising child health standards is a job for them especially, Dr. Cox said, and added that it is better to keep them from getting sick than to try to save their lives when they are ill.

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

The idea of "if I do, I get a whip-pin" never even occurred to seven-year-old Wayne Stagner and eight-year-old Dean Clark, when they crawled into their grandfather's granary last Saturday to get 17 sticks of dynamite and some case caps, which had been stored there by members of a geophysical crew which is making a survey in Deaf Smith County. But visions worse than whippings leaped to the minds of crew members when they discovered that the dynamite was missing from the granary, which had been locked, with the only possible entrance through the transom ten feet from the ground. Sheriff J. O. Newell was called in to look for the missing explosives and the men were almost ready to call in the FBI to prevent what they thought might be a fifth column attempt to blow up the railroad bridge, when someone remembered that Dean and Wayne had been talking excitedly of a "secret," which turned out to be the dynamite, cached under an old sink in the Stagner yard. Announced intention of Dean and Wayne, "to blow up Hitler."—Frona Star.

Clyde L. Leighton's "Beef Bowl" has won the nation-wide cash award contest to rename the old Dust Bowl, which last year harvested the biggest crops in history. His entry, one of several hundred from more than 30 states, has been chosen by a committee of pioneer Texas Plainsmen. The 54-year-old stockman lives near Clayton, N. Mex. The Dalhart Texan made the award. The two biggest international shipments of registered Hereford bulls in history have been made from Dalhart. One was 254 in 1930 by Coon & Culbertson, of Dalhart, then the biggest registered Hereford breeders in the world. The other was 250 this spring by W. O. Culbertson & Sons who now have the Coon & Culbertson herds. Both went to the Palomas Land & Cattle Co., in the State of Chihuahua, Old Mexico. Beef cattle income in the counties of the old Dust Bowl is now $28 to $36 million yearly. Wheat payroll, next biggest, is $24 million.—Clarendon News.

War time is no time for reveling, yet some people do not seem to realize it. The nations that are winning the war today are not given to self-indulgence, and we must learn the lesson before we win the final victory.—McClain News.

There wasn't room in one pair of longhandles and one pair of pants for Otis Purcell and a wee rodent Wednesday afternoon. Consequently the mouse emerged from the leg of the longhandles just as Otis emerged from the trousers. Otis had been sacking some sudan seed in his storage room when a car drove up in front of his store for service. Otis bounced out to accommodate his patron and had the car practically serviced when he discovered that "company" was sharing his habits. Well, you've all seen the comic postcards of a gentleman rushing to one of the small secluded cabins adjacent to service stations. This scene was very realistically enacted by Otis on his return to the store room—where he braked to a skidding stop—with his pants down—and very quickly off. Only to have the visitor scamper out of the leg of his longies and to safety. A nice little comedy while it lasted.—Quitague Post.

WARNING ISSUED RELATIVE TO USING S.S. NUMBERS AS IDENTITY

In spite of repeated warnings, unsuspecting merchants, service stations, bankers, hotels—even post offices—continue to accept social security account numbers as means of identifying individuals seeking to obtain cash or pay bills by check, according to Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security board.

Only recently, in a Texas city, a merchant called the social security office demanding to know the address of a man for whom he had cashed a check for almost one hundred dollars, and this in the face of the fact that less than sixty days ago, and numerous times previous to that date, local newspapers had published announcements stating that social security account numbers would in no case be accepted for such purposes.

Reed emphasized that the Social Security Board has made a pledge to all working people that the records of each individual secured at the time of the issuance of social security account numbers would be regarded as confidential. "This pledge," he continued, "has been kept to the letter regardless of our sympathetic feeling for victims of persons who have obtained social security account numbers by unauthoritative means and are using them fraudulently."

The purposes for which social security account numbers are used are to identify the wage records of workers in order to give each worker proper credit on his old-age and survivors insurance account for wages received, by employment security agencies for identification purposes in the administration of the unemployment compensation program, and by employers in order to correctly make up their quarterly wage reports to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

FARMERS URGED TO PURCHASE PEANUT SEED

"Farmers can purchase seed through the AAA, pay for them out of the 1942 check, and plant goobers for national defense," advises county agent Jake Tarter. "The seed costs about $1.48 per bushel.

"The government guarantees that farmers will receive not less than $82.00 per ton for all goobers harvested in 1942, and acreage will come off their feed acres and not government acres, or plant less cotton and then the goobers. But, the government is urging that farmers plant their full cotton acreage in 1942 as the seed is needed for oil in national defense.

"Those farmers planting peanuts should grow a winter cover crop on the land or plant 6 rows of peanuts and 6 rows of feed, sudan or cane or other rank growing crop to prevent the land from blowing away this winter. If you have not applied at the office for seed and acreage, do so now.

"About five pecks of seed should be ordered for each one acre intended to be planted."

Yes, vaccine prepares you to beat trouble... now how does this oil work that principle?

Like a plague, modern driving conditions are widely attacking motor oil—wasting it away. Nature can't modernize her oil. And the best refining even weakens certain natural "immunities"...

BUT CONOCO Nth OIL makes it all up—and then some—with modern man-made preventives. They get credit for its healthy record of more than twice the mileage averaged by five other fine oils in an impartial Death-Test lasting till engines burned up.

The rival oils, in identical cars, braved blistering Death Valley with a strict 5-quart fill apiece. One gave out when Conoco Nth was still more than two-thirds up! None came closer than 58% of Conoco Nth mileage!

Get Conoco Nth oil for the Spring change that your engine must have. You'll get its added modern synthetic, Thialkene inhibitor, to inhibit—forestall—the fouling attacks of engine speeds and pressures. Instead of breaking down into so-called varnish, gums, and worse, your Conoco Nth oil can stay more like its own good self—to help your mileage stay up.

Death Valley proved it—and proved again that an OIL-PLATED engine lives long. OIL-PLATING, a recognized Conoco advantage for years, comes from the other great synthetic in Conoco Nth. This exerts magnet-like action to envelop working parts in close-bonded lubricant that doesn't all quickly drain down.

Instead it stays plated—much as any plating—and that's what the conventional movable oil film slides on! You're one more remove from excess wear—from repairs and delay these days. You're up to the Nth degree of oil mileage for your car. Change now at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

BRISCOE BRONCO

News of Briscoe school activities, community happenings and other matters of interest and information, compiled for The Wheeler Times by the student body and faculty members of the Briscoe schools.

"How American School can help in National Defense.

We as a school and other schools as well, should do our part in the defense program. Some people will say how can a school help in defense? There are many ways a school can help. Now let's look at them a little and make a little study of them.

We as a school can save paper, pencils, fountain pens and the tires on our buses. And there are many other ways, but let's study some of these a little and then we can estimate the rest very easily.

First, we will study the waste paper. How we could save our paper. If we would kindly ask our teachers to let us use the back side of our paper and not use a fly leaf. Your paper does look lots neater with these other things. But during this time of war, we should be able to do without these things and help Uncle Sam. Just think if he used all these fly sheets and the space to haul them he would have taken for defense work, how many lives he might save and how much land he might save.

A pencil is a very meager thing in space, but you figure the time it takes to make one, the space it takes to haul it, if you put two or three dozen that way, it would take lots of room so take care of your things.

Now let's look at the tires that are used. It takes several miles of rubber to go and come to ball games and to the show, so just figure how much it takes. You say, well, I just live only five miles out. Did you ever think you had to come and go and by the time several come in, it will burn lots of rubber.

Now when five come in a car there is fifty cents spent, whereby we can buy one fifty cent defense stamp. So let's move the show over to one show a month and that will save lots. Also, the ball game, let's have only one or two a month.

If everyone would save, little by little, just think how much we could save and help in this defense program.—Clara Helen Seedig.

Broncos Seeking Preparedness

It is high time that all the little Broncos be saddled as the six weeks exams are rolling around again this week. Soon semester exams are coming and then the "Judgment Day" which will tell which little Bronco has done his part or which little Bronco has balked on the teachers.

Teachers are now looking closely at their grade books and frowning over some Bronco's grades. Just today I heard Mrs. Wood say that a certain yellow Bronco had not handed in a classic project and one little red Bronco needed eighteen more book points and fifty memory lines to put him over. I also noticed that a certain bay bronco in the sophomore class was working to be best all around Bronco and I know she will be on the list to be considered this year for I overheard someone say so, and if her hoofs are not fast enough to get there this year, we know she will get re-shod and make it next year.

"Come on Broncos and get your bridles on!"

It seems as if it would be rather dangerous to spend the night with Marge since Marie came to school with a black eye as a result of spending the night with her.

Thus, anyone may do any repair or maintenance they desire on any existing building structures. For Farmers and Ranchers

Any farmer or rancher can make additions to, or build new, any individual building, structure, project or improvement (other than his home) costing less than $1,000. Each individual project must cost less than $1,000 in any 12 month period. (But remember, repairs and maintenance are unlimited).

For Home Owners City and Rural

Construction of a new home or additions and design changes in existing homes must cost less than $500 in any 12 month period. This applies to farm, ranch, and city homes. WHEELER H. D. CLUB HEAR KNITTING INSTRUCTIONS

The Wheeler Home Demonstration club met Wednesday in the club room at the court house with Mrs. Luther Parks as hostess assisted by Mrs. W. C. Zirkle.

After a short business session, Miss Helen Green gave very informative instructions on knitting, after which refreshments were served to the following:

Mesdames Jess Crowder, J. E. Willard, Jess Swink, Luther Parks, W. C. Zirkle, C. J. Meek, Ernest Lee and Misses Helen Green and Tamsay Riley.

DAVIS CLUB HEARS REVIEW OF "INVITATION TO LIVE"

After hearing Mrs. H. F. Krug's review of "Invitation to Live" by Lloyd Douglass, Tuesday afternoon, April 14, in the home of Mrs. Joe Anderson, the Davis home demonstration club members feel a personal acquaintance with "Dean Harcourt, the lovable and efficient Priest, Barbara, Larry and Sally" and several others almost equally interesting and the quaint way fate assisted by the Dean dealt out their cards in the game of life.

From the sublime, when the dean quoted "Oh God, our help in ages past; our hope for years to come," to the ridiculous, "As women's hats go I've seen worse" the review of this present day writer held the audience spell bound to the end and we are indeed thankful to have heard Mrs. Krug.

An interesting part of recreation for the evening was a recitation "Gossip Town" by Mrs. A. O. Krug.

Those enjoying the meeting were: Mesdames A. O. Krug, H. F. Krug, C. L. Womack, E. J. Cooper, Luther Bullock, Clara Smith, Claud Gipson, Misses Earlene Gipson, Mrs. Carl Wright and the hostess, Mrs. Anderson.

The next meeting will be at the Davis school house Wednesday night, April 22 at 9:00 p.m.

LIBERTY H. D. CLUB HAS REMODELING DEMONSTRATION

When Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, met with Liberty home demonstration club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. L. Wall, giving a demonstration on remodeling clothes she said, "One thing is imperative if successful results are to be accomplished in remodeling, and that is to have all goods thoroughly cleaned, sponged and pressed before making them up. Garments made up without observing this rule always show creases and old stitchings that destroy whatever good appearance the work might otherwise have."

In further discussion Miss Chance said, "There simply must be unity of idea, not only as it is expressed in color harmony, proportion, and scale, texture combination, that are compatible, but also in appropriateness for the season, the time of day, the spirit of the occasion, formal, or dignified or gay, informal or conventional or conservation."

She also explained it is wise to take an inventory of ones wardrobe each year and buy additional clothing to match accordingly showing there was a difference in fashion and style. Illustrations of various accessories were shown and on account of war conditions, certain materials being restricted, we would have to become used to new materials.

The hat not being necessary is used as a frame for the face, so make careful selection if any is used, and not use more than three centers of interest with any garment such as pins, flowers, bracelets, watches, etc.

A short business session was held with roll call being answered by Mesdames C. A. Myatt, A. L. Wall, C. L. Calvert, Olen Davis, A. L. Morgan, H. M. Roth, F. C. Lively, H. L. Dorsey, B. L. and Kate Stokes, and Mrs. Luther Petty with Miss Hettie Burr as a new member. The hostess served refreshments of cookies, sandwiches and ice tea.

The next meeting will be at Liberty school house the night of May 6th, when an open program will be given followed by a recreational party.

BRISCOE H. D. CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ZYBACH

Quoting H. Stanley Marcus, Dallas consultant in the Textile Clothing and Leather division of the War Production board, "Cultivate cotton, velveteen and corduroy. It is possible to get them made in great quantity by the now out of work weavers who formerly made upholstery fabrics for the automobile industry," said Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, as she gave a demonstration on style trends for 1942.

Girls, women, we have been asked to make ourselves look as feminine as possible by wearing laces, frills, jaboos, veils and flowers, for our boys in service, she further stated in a meeting of the Briscoe home demonstration club, Tuesday afternoon, April 7, in the home of Mrs. Katherine Zybach.

No matter how far out of line you have slipped owing to bad posture habits, so long as your mind and muscles are capable of change, you can always do some reconditioning by getting back to the normal balance and adjustment of the body, stated Miss Chance when she gave a second demonstration on posture. Keep your normal curves and lines. Don't let them become humps and bulges, she said, as she gave several exercises by which if used regularly would lift sagging muscles and reduce bulging waist lines, which mar the posture of an otherwise beautiful person.

Those present were Maurine Barnett, Bernice Ramsey, Bessie Barry, Ruby Zybach, Irene Zybach, Josie Lee, Mae Sorensen, Grace Riley, Mrs. Newman, Anna Zybach, Bessie Price, Lucille Tipps, Lucile Chance, Aunt Sallie Meadows and little Patricia Tipps, Patsy Ann Ramsey and Lynden Lee and the hostess, Mrs. John Zybach.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Grace Riley, April 21 for a book review.—Mrs. Henry Lee, Reporter.

APRIL 19-25 DESIGNATED AS CHILDREN'S WEEK

Children's Week, April 19-25, should focus the attention of the community on prevention of delinquency, according to Mrs. Violet S. Greenhill, chief of the state division of child welfare.

Rehabilitation of young people is enormously expensive compared with the cost of an adequate preventive program, she said. There are now 586 boys in the Gatesville State school and 220 girls in the Gainesville state school for girls. Too often they return to communities not prepared for their future care and protection, it was pointed out.

"What Texas needs," said Mrs. Greenhill, "is a constructive program for well established juvenile courts or courts of domestic relations, probation courts, foster homes, case work services to meet every exigency, and more adequate provision for aid to dependent children."

FUTURE AVIATION CADETS ADVISED OF REQUIREMENTS

Major Perry C. Buchner, Aviation Cadet Procurement officer of Lubbock, advises in a news release this week that after giving the mental screening examination to hundreds of young men hoping to enter the armed forces as aviation cadets, he finds that the greatest deficiency is a limited vocabulary and lack of precision and exactitude in the use of words and advises young men who are planning to take the test to gain as much fundamental training as possible in the studies which are related to the technical training.

The following fields of study are suggested as desirable:

1. Study the scientific method and the basic laws and principles of the physical sciences, especially general science, the weather and elementary physics. Such study will make it easier for the individual to comprehend and apply principles of flight, to understand the operation of his equipment and to learn many of the special technical skills which the members of the air crew must possess. Knowledge of the applications of the sciences and a background of general scientific information is desirable.

2. Study of mathematics, with special emphasis upon speed and accuracy in fundamental mathematical operations. A study of algebra and elementary trigonometry is helpful, but ability to handle simple calculations involving ratios, proportions, decimals, percentages, fractions and simple formulas is of primary importance. Familiarity in the interpretation and use of tables, graphs, charts and other methods of summarizing data is desirable.

3. It is necessary for the cadet to read technical material with comprehension and understanding. He must grasp the meaning of what he reads, be able to apply principles, make interpretations, and see relations to other problems. It is very desirable that he learn to read and study in this way.

4. In order to be alert to changes in the world in which he lives and to understand the significance of new developments, the cadet should study current history and the background of current social and scientific progress. He should have a knowledge of world geography and be able to understand maps. He should be familiar with the changes and developments in science, government, military and world affairs which it is necessary to know in order to comprehend the present world conflict and the purpose of our war effort. Such a background is desirable in the men who are to be trained as officers and leaders in the army. Other studies will probably be of value but are not as essential as the subjects mentioned above.

BORGER LEGION IS HOST TO WAR MOTHERS MAY 9-10

"A Mother's Day" parade will be featured at the Eighteenth District American Legion convention to be held in Borger on May 9 and 10.

A tribute from the boys of the last world war to mothers who have sons serving in this war, the parade will have in its lengthy column carloads of mothers who have boys in various parts of the world. Not only will mothers of Hutchinson county be in the parade, but mothers from all over this district.

Among prominent American Legion Auxiliary women who have been extended special invitations to the convention, are:

Dr. Martha Wood, Houston; Mrs. W. J. Danforth, Fort Worth; Mrs. George Berry, Lubbock; Mrs. Van Stewart, Perryton; Mrs. Lance Thompson, Sweetwater; Mrs. Ruby Box, department president of Oklahoma, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Hupp Clark, eighteenth district president, Pampa; Mrs. Inez Hizer, president Panhandle Plains Association, Laverne, Okla.; Mrs. Celia Weir, Beaver, Okla.

Legionnaire dignitaries who'll probably be there include State Commander Andrew Dilworth of San Antonio; Dr. W. J. Danforth, national executive committeeman, Fort Worth; Bolton N. Hyde, Grand Chef de Gare, McAllen; George E. Betts, Veterans State Service officer Austin; W. A. Cole, State Detachment Commander, S. A. L., Dallas; Fred R. Army, state membership chairman, Dallas; Max M. Fife, departmental commander, Oklahoma; Ward Moody, field representative, Austin.

JUDGE E. L. PITTS SEEKS OFFICE OF CHIEF JUSTICE

District Judge E. L. Pitts of the 99th District Court at Lubbock, has announced for the office of Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th District to succeed Chief Justice M. J. R. Jackson, who retires voluntarily next January 1.

Judge Pitts is 53 years old, a native Texan, born in Fannin County. His parents moved to West Texas when he was a child; and he grew to manhood in Palo Pinto County, where he resided until he moved to Northwest Texas some years ago. Templeton-Smith Vows Read Recently

A recent wedding of interest was that of Miss Willetta Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Templeton, Shamrock, and Mr. J. Everett Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith of Wheeler.

The ceremony was an event of April 7, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Babb in Lubbock, with the Rev. Carl Herford, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city, officiating.

The single ring ceremony was read before a large mirror which hung above the mantel. The fireplace was banked with ferns and flowers and an indirect lighting effect was used. The bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Smith was born and reared in Shamrock. She attended the local schools and is well known throughout the vicinity, having taught speech in the county for a number of years. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's clubs of Shamrock and Wheeler.

PRODUCTION CREDIT GROUP ATTEND CONFERENCE

Good management methods for making money and then retaining some permanent benefit from it will enable farmers and stockmen to materially improve their financial position this year, according to C. W. Allen, who attended a conference of executive committees of six Panhandle Associations in Plainview, April 16 and 17. J. A. Bryant, president, M. H. Smith, director, C. W. Allen, secretary-treasurer, and Ford Hamker, assistant secretary represented the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association at the conference.

The normal values figure for products—use of 5, 10, or even 20 year average—was stressed as a safeguard against getting out on a limb of inflationary prices. Such values, they said, in most cases figure out to be about the same prices as prevailed in 1937.

This was the first of a series of meetings to be held over the state for discussion of methods to keep loans sound while helping finance the agricultural war effort and meeting prevailing cost conditions. It is pointed out that the producer must consider the higher cost of operations and also bear in mind that the "normal values" are the sound ones to be considered by the farm and ranch family which is in the business permanently.

Texas' 36 production credit associations now have 18,606 members and a total of $25,751,507 in loans outstanding, a gain of 2% in membership over a year ago and a gain of 38 per cent in loans outstanding.

Business Has Learned

to properly appreciate the value of consistent advertising and the importance of good printing. It has also learned the necessity of getting the most in return for every dollar spent for advertising and printing. The quality of advertising and printing is reaching new heights, and as a result only advertising matter of outstanding merit can hope to impress itself on the prospect's mind with sufficient force to stimulate action and get results.

This period of greater appreciation and discrimination in matters of advertising and printing has found us well prepared. Long ago we saw the coming demand for the best and have qualified ourselves in every way to supply only the best.

The highest quality printing is less expensive in the end because it will be read, and advertising matter must be read to get results.

GOOD PRINTING IS A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

Not every buyer of printing has a true appreciation of good printing as it affects his business and social standing in a community. He doesn't always know what printing means to him in terms of dollars and cents. He doesn't always realize that the printing he uses—especially his stationery and advertising matter—is really a small part or fraction of himself sent around for others to see and to use in weighing and valuing him and his business.

The impression created by superior, attractive printed matter, its power to picture us as we desire to be pictured, and its ability to sell our wares are deserving of much greater consideration than is the mere difference between good printing and poor printing.

Gene Autry

Gene Autry, Frog and Tadpole will be at the Rogue Theatre Friday-Saturday April 24-25 in a picture that seems destined to become the most famous picture they have ever made. The title of the picture is Heart of the Rio Grande, but the theme song throughout is the very popular, Deep in The Heart of Texas. You have been hearing this song on the radio and on juke machines for several weeks. Now is your chance to see the picture built around the song, Deep in The Heart of Texas. And incidentally, if you have never met Tadpole, you should come out and meet him because he is a carbon copy of old Frog. So remember the play date is Friday-Saturday April 24-25.

Song of The Islands

Well, folks, it looks like we have you snookered for the week-end shows. Besides the Gene Autry show mentioned above, we have another very fine show for Preview-Sunday-Monday April 25-26-27. It is Song of The Islands. The locale is beautiful Hawaii. The stars are Betty Grable, Jack Oakie and Victor Mature and the whole picture is photographed in Technicolor. And, to our way of thinking, no one could ask for more in any picture. Just Oakie ---agItNtheE think of it---Betty Grable, Jack Oakie Victor Mature, all in the same picture---add to this Hawaiian moonlight, guitars, hula-hula, romance, comedy and gorgeous Technicolor and you will have some idea of what awaits you in Song of The Islands. We believe it is the best picture we have offered for 1942. So be on hand in plenty of time for the Preview and be assured of getting a seat.

A Gentleman at Heart

Cesar Romero and Carole Landis are the stars of A Gentleman at Heart which comes to the Rogue Wednesday-Thursday April 29-30. They were last seen together in Dance Hall. Romero is best known for his portrayal of Cisco Kid. However, in A Gentleman at Heart, he is not Cisco, but the Big Boss of a horse race boogie and Carole is the manager of an art gallery which sells copies of original paintings, passing them off as genuine. In the end reformation on the part of Romero is accomplished, and we presume that they live happily ever afterwards.

TEXAS LAKES OPEN TO FISHERMEN ON MAY 1

A news story published in the Wichita Falls Record News this week will be of interest to many local fishermen who have been wondering if certain lakes would be open for fishing during the coming season. Reports have been circulated that the lakes would be closed to the public as an emergency war measure.

The news story is as follows: All rumors to the effect that the fishing lakes in this area will not open this coming season are false, State Game Warden J. H. Dozier announced Monday.

Lakes Kemp, Diversion, Wichita and Olney will open May 1 just as they have in the past with the state game laws applying as always. Restrictions will be placed, however, preventing fishing from or near the dams, spillways and flood gates, the warden said. Signs showing just where fishing will be permitted will be posted.

Dozier said full co-operation on the part of the fishermen in obeying these restrictions is necessary in order that the lakes may be kept open.

Fishing is legal before May 1 in any private lake, in Wichita River up to near Diversion Dam and in Holliday Creek. Fishing is permissible on Red River subject to certain Oklahoma game laws which require a temporary license or small fee.

Taking of bass and crappie is illegal in any lake, pond or stream before May 1 since a bass caught now may mean the loss of 15,000 or more bass fry by May 1, since these fish are not through spawning, Dozier pointed out.

"Prospects for this year's fishing are better than in many years for two reasons," Dozier said. "In the first place fewer fish were taken last year than in previous years because of flood conditions and second because stocking of the lakes has been greatly increased the past two years."

A large crop of good sized sand bass will provide an added attraction

Truth About The Farm Security Issue

By J. Walter Hammand, President of Texas Farm Bureau Federation (From Texas Agriculture)

A confusing array of misinformation has been spread about the country by the enemies of agriculture in regard to the recent controversy over appropriations for the Farm Security Administration.

Elements in our national life that have always fought agriculture at every turn are now doing their best to capitalize on this incident to divide the farmer's ranks and break down his faith in those organizations which have done the most in recent years to raise his income and give him a decent standard of living.

J. Walter Hammond of Tye, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, and also a member of the national board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was in Washington when the issue was before the House, and had an opportunity to know the facts at first hand.

Here is his statement in regard to the much-publicized Farm Security controversy. Says Mr. Hammond:

"I think it should be made plain from the very first that the American Farm Bureau Federation had as much to do with setting up the federal farm program, which includes FSA, as any other group in the United States, perhaps more. We have never been opposed to the principle upon which FSA was founded, and we do oppose it now.

"As evidence of our position in this respect when the Byrd committee proposed to Congress that FSA be abolished outright, the American Farm Bureau promptly went on record as opposing this step.

"Instead, we recommended that certain objectionable features of FSA be corrected so that Congress would NOT feel called upon to abolish it.

"The Farm Bureau believes that it for sportsmen this year, the warden said.

is not the duty of organization to bring about the enactment of beneficial farm measures, but also to see that these measures are administered efficiently, economically, and for the benefit of the farmer.

"Certain policies of the FSA did not meet these requirements. For example, in its proposal 1943 budget, the organization asked for a total of $125,000,000 for rural rehabilitation. Of this amount $70,000,000 was to be used for loans, $10,000,000 for administrative expenses.

"We considered this cost of administration to be outrageously high. We failed to see how it was beneficial to the farmer when for every two dollars he received, it cost more than a dollar to distribute it.

"Maybe there has been a reason for these high administrative costs. I have had more than one FSA client tell me that he has 'just about been supervised to death.'

"No doubt some supervision is necessary, but we all know that too much of it will kill the initiative in any man.

"The Farm Bureau is looking out for the best interests of the American farmer—not the federal bureaucrats who hope to make an easy and profitable living telling him what to do.

"There were several other features about the FSA program for 1943 to which the Farm Bureau objected, but these are fair examples. The whole point is that the Farm Bureau does not wish to abolish Farm Security, but merely to bring about certain needed reforms.

"Now some agriculture's enemies both in and out of Congress are taking this opportunity to spread the poisonous propaganda that the Bureau is serving only the interests of the 'big farmers' and not looking out for the low-income group at all.

"As a matter of fact, over two-thirds of our members, both in Texas and all over the nation, are small operators or tenant farmers.

"We are well aware that a vast number of deserving farm families have been enabled, through tenant purchase and rural rehabilitation loans, to own a farm and home of their own. We also know that many of them feel that they have been required to make certain expensive improvements which they are afraid they will never be able to pay for. But that is just another feature about the program which we think should be corrected.

"The Farm Bureau contends, however, that mere farm ownership is not enough. Farming must also be made to pay fair return on the investment of land, labor and equipment if real security is to be obtained.

"We ask, 'what does it do to set a man up in farming if conditions are such that he can not make a living at it?'

"The Farm Bureau is striving to increase agriculture's total share of the national income so that every farmer—big or little—can earn a decent living, with or without FSA assistance.

"A square deal for all agriculture—that is the Farm Bureau's goal, and it has done some pretty effective work along this line in recent years, which is no doubt the reason why many of agriculture's enemies are so anxious to discredit the Farm Bureau.

"As your representative on the national board of directors, and also as a plain Texas 'dirt farmer,' I want to urge all of our friends and members not to be deceived by this attempt to divide us and thus cripple our efforts to achieve our goals."

Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN
Home Supervisor, F. S. A.

Get The Good From Fat

"Take good care of kitchen fats and oils," is a wartime "must" for every cook. With farmers making an all-out effort to produce enough fats and oils this year for ourselves and for shipment to our allies-homemakers will need to make the wisest possible use of kitchen fats. Here are some suggestions from Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the U. S. department of agriculture's bureau of home economics.

There are a lot of ways to waste fat, but look first for the most obvious—the wastefully big pats of butter, the fats that are actually thrown away. The practice of pouring bacon grease or drippings down the sink, for instance, is wasteful in addition to being a plumbing nuisance. Leftover fat is wasteful if it is stored improperly, just as is any fat. Fat is also wasted if it is put into products that are so poorly or carelessly made they go uneaten.

Another way to waste fat is to serve too frequently foods that need a lot of fat.

Measure fats carefully. Not only is it waste to use more than you need, but too much fat makes cakes oily and can cause them to fall, makes unappetizing greasy gravies, sauces and soups.

Good way to measure less than a cupful of fat is to use a measuring cup with some water in it. If you want to measure 1-3 cup of fat, fill the measuring cup 2-3 full of water, then add fat and push it under the water until the water comes to the level of the cup top. Pour out the water and you have an accurate 1-3 cup of fat.

Don't spoil fats and foods cooked in fats with too much heat. The unpleasant odor of smoking fat is a warning that the fat is breaking down chemically. Food cooked in smoking fat will be harder to digest—may be irritating to the digestive tract. And once fat reaches the smoking point it gets rancid more quickly when you save it to use again. Many fats may be saved and reused. Keep bacon fat drippings for seasoning vegetables.

Clarifying fat will free it from objectionable odors, tastes, or colors in most cases. Here is a way to clarify the fat you have rendered down as suggested above, or leftover fat in which you have cooked strong-flavored food. Melt the fat with an equal amount of water. Heat for a short time at a moderate temperature with occasional stirring. Let the mixture cool, remove the layer of fat, and scrape off any bits of meat and other materials which may cling to the underside.

Store all fats in a closely covered container, in a dark place, and away from strong flavored foods. Table fats should be kept very cool—in a refrigerator if you have one.

Wheat Farmers Ballot May 3 on '43 Quota

Wheeler county wheat farmers, along with the wheat farmers of other counties over the nation, will vote for the second consecutive year in the national wheat marketing quota referendum on Saturday, May 3.

Aim of the marketing quota is to divide a limited wheat market cooperatively among wheat farmers and provide orderly production, marketing, transportation, and storage.

About 12,000,000 bushels of Texas wheat will be without a home this year unless more storage space is constructed.

Estimated wheat crop for the state is 37,842,000 bushels while bulk storage capacity is estimated at 25,817,000 bushels. These figures do not take into account the Oklahoma crop, a portion of which normally moves into Texas. Estimated combined Texas-Oklahoma crop will approximate 93,000,000 bushels with storage space in both states which will take care of approximately 49,000,000 bushels.

"Terminals in Texas are full; sub-terminals are nearly full; and country elevators are from 80 to 90 per cent occupied. "Best bet for Texas wheat farmers is vastly increased farm storage," George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, announces.

Texas USDA War board has been advised that supplies for wooden bin construction will be available but that other materials, ordinarily used, are being diverted into war channels. "If controlled production of wheat cannot be stored satisfactorily, think of the serious problem an uncontrolled flood of wheat would create next year and the next," he adds.

Polling places in the county and persons in charge of voting are as follows: Mobeetie, Tom Laman; Briscoe, L. R. Barry and S. B. Davis; Shamrock, Howard Leake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee spent Sunday in Mobeetie as the guests of Mrs. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Dunn.

Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, returned to Wheeler, Tuesday afternoon, after visiting relatives in Denton a few days.
