WHEELER COUNTY 4-H CLUBS JOIN IN NATIONAL ACHIEVEMENT WEEK

Boys Help Supply Nation With Meat

Wheeler county 4-H clubs are doing their share in helping feed the nation at war. Nearly every boy in the 4-H clubs in this county is carrying some sort of meat growing demonstration. Since there are approximately 250 of these boys in the county, the total amount of food stuffs these boys will raise this year will be no small amount in the total that this county will contribute to the war effort.

If anything can be classified as vital in this time of war, the 4-H clubs must be placed very near the top. It is to these boys and girls that we must look to maintain the farms and food raising plants while their big brothers and even their fathers are being called into the armed services to carry on the fight in the armed forces of our Nation.

These boys and girls will be the Agriculture leaders in the next few years. They will have to carry on under conditions that we do not have to meet today.

In these clubs they are getting responsibility and experience that will place them in a position to meet all the conditions that a rapidly changing world is thrusting upon them.

This year the club has 30 hives in the fattening ring, 175 head of swine, hundreds of chickens, and many registered dairy heifers that will soon be in production. Most of these animals will be finished to top

Tarter Compliments Wheeler 4-H Members And Their Leaders

During the period 1930 to 1941 Wheeler county 4-H club boys have been awarded more Gold Stars for meritorious service than all of the other 21 counties combined in district one. During 1930 and 1931 2 Gold Stars were awarded each year, in 1932 3 were awarded, in 1933 5 were awarded, in 1934 7 were awarded, in 1935 6 were awarded and in 1937 4 were awarded local youths. In 1938 only one Gold Star was awarded to each county as the state boy's club agent's office decided that enough counties were not getting in on the stars because competition was so tough and that a boy had to be an expert to get the Gold Star award. Since that year only one boy in each county has been eligible for the award. One Wheeler county boy has received a star each year since, making a total of 33 Gold Stars awarded to Wheeler county 4-H club boys since the year 1930 when the awards were first started.

The Sante Fe trip to the National Congress of 4-H club members is considered the highest award to be presented to 4-H club members, with the exception of the Washington trip which is awarded to only 2 boys and 2 girls each year. Wheeler county youths have been awarded 4 trips to the National Congress since 4-H work began in the county in 1930. These trips have been won by the following boys on the years specified: 1934—James A. Morgan; 1936—James P. Passons; 1938—Bob Macina; 1942—R. L. Zybach.

Assistant county agents are due a lot of credit for the achievements of Wheeler county club boys. In 1934, John R. Wennohs was the first assistant who made a speciality of teaching boys soil conservation and record keeping. Wennohs was later promoted from his position here to assistant in Agricultural Planning with headquarters in College Station.

E. Goule followed Wennohs as club agent in the county. His speciality was meat animals and he assisted in leading the boys in livestock judging so well that Wheeler county won the state championship over 254 counties and the boys represented the state of Texas in the national livestock judging contest at Chicago. This team gained more national publicity for Wheeler county than any other job ever done as the boys placed 6th under northern conditions and northern types of meat animals. This was unusual for a southern team to get that high in a national contest in the National Stock Yards. As an A. & M. graduate Goule was a reserve officer in the ROTC corps and is now a captain in the armed forces and located at Fort Riley as a training officer. He was promoted from assistant agent in Wheeler county to county agent of Lipscomb county before entering service and was afterwards transferred to Sherman county where he is promised his county agent position back when the national emergency passes.

Goule was succeeded in Wheeler

Girls Are 100 Per Cent Victory Demonstrators

Wheeler county 4-H club girls are almost 100% Victory Demonstrators. There are a few new members who have not yet signed the pledge card, but they, too, in all probability will become Victory Demonstrators soon. 4-H Week which was observed last April was a sort of dedication of 4-H members to the Victory Demonstration, and now, during National 4-H Achievement Week, is a good time for them to check up on themselves.

The Victory Demonstration is the war-time program sponsored by the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. To help rural folks do their part to win the war, the Extension Service is asking everyone to be a Victory Demonstrator. And "everyone" means man, woman, boy and girl. The Victory Demonstrators Pledge which Wheeler county 4-H girls have kept so well reads:

As a Victory Demonstrator doing my best to help win the war I will produce food, feed and fiber to assure good health for myself, my family and others.

I will take good care of everything I use—food, clothes, furnishings, equipment, buildings, livestock, and the soil, as well as scarce articles such as rubber and metals.

I will buy carefully anything I must have, and I will buy U. S. War stamps and bonds with all the money I can. I will work hard with my family and neighbors and help people to be cheerful, to have courage, and to take part in all war activities.

Just how well this pledge has been kept is evidenced by the hundreds of victory gardens raised in the county this year and the great increase in the amount of fruits and vegetables canned, dried, and stored for future use. But the girls have not considered raising gardens enough contribution to the food production effort. Some are raising chickens and fattening calves and hogs, too. Some of these will be marketed and some will be kept for home consumption. Girls are willingly helping to relieve the farm labor shortage by pulling cotton and helping with the peanut harvest. Many of them are wisely investing their earnings in U. S. War stamps to help the boys "over there" whose places they are taking here at home.

These are just examples of the way 4-H members all over the United States are adapting themselves to war-time situations and driving straight ahead toward victory at home.

EX 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Clyde Filmore, formerly Miss Thelma Louise Mayfield and a 4-H club girl of Mobeetie, is now employed in war work at Wichita Falls.

Anna and Dorothy Mertel of the Pakan community are doing their part to win the war by helping to build bombers at North American Aircraft in Dallas. Dorothy was awarded the Danforth Scholarship to attend the American Foundation Camp in Shelby, Mich., in August, but she enrolled in war work instead.

Mrs. C. Harrell and little daughter of San Antonio visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Creekmore recently. Mrs. Harrell was Miss Exie Creekmore and was an outstanding 4-H club girl. She won the $300 scholarship for her club work and entered Texas Tech at Lubbock in the fall of 1935, where she majored in Home Economics. Mr. Harrell is employed by the Borden Company in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stauffer and family, formerly of the Pakan community, are now in California where he is in war work. Both Mr and Mrs. Stauffer were 4-H club members in this county. Mrs. Stauffer was Miss Edith Reneau when she won the Washington trip in the summer of 1927.

Histories and records of 4-H club girls work for 1942 are due in November. Three girls from the Center 4-H club have sent theirs in. They are printed as the girls wrote them.

OLETA CARVER: "I helped the rest of my family raise a garden which was an acre and a half. In it we raised three different kinds of beans, three different kinds of peas, and two kinds of tomatoes. We also raised spinach, sweet potatoes, cucumbers, radishes, carrots and potato pumpkins. I helped can beets, tomatoes, cucumber pickles, peach and apple preserves, chow chow, squash, okra, beans, and peas. I have made a cup towel, a make-up cape, a sewing box, and an apron. I have also sewed buttons on shirts and dresses and sewed up ripped places in my clothes. Last summer

FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY FOR FAC PRESIDENT

Funeral services were held at the Wheeler Baptist church at 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning for Donald Patrick Frye, founder and president of the Frye Aircraft Company of Dallas, Kansas City, St. Louis, Long Beach, Denver and Omaha.

Frye had made his home in Dallas for the past two years. He died of gunshot wounds in a Dallas hotel early Wednesday of last week. He is the son of Dr. Will Frye, who resides on the Frye Ranch nine miles northeast of Wheeler. Other survivors are his wife, Clare; a brother, Jack Frye, president of Transcontinental Western Airways, one of the biggest aviation organizations of the nation; a sister, Mrs. Opal Thomas of Hollywood, California, and his step-mother.

Donald Frye was born November 29, 1906. He and his brother and sister were reared by their grandparents on the Frye Ranch near here. He attended the Wheeler school until 1920. Still a youth of 15, he became interested in flying and soon became the youngest person in the nation to hold a transport pilot's license at the age of 16.

He barnstormed over the country, became a stunt flyer and owned a flying circus in the days when airplanes were considered little more than "flimsy crates." As aviation developed he served a term as an army pilot, worked his way up in aviation to become personnel director of the Douglas Aircraft Industries and later served in the same capacity for Consolidated Aircraft Corporation.

In 1940 he decided to establish schools for training aircraft workers and pilots, and during the past two years, his six training centers were responsible for the training of some 12,000 mechanics and 2,000 pilots. He owned several patents pertaining to the betterment of airplanes and aviation, one of which is a portable hanger for planes.

Judge R. H. Forrester, former school teacher of Frye, was in charge of the rites held Sunday. During the service Frank Wofford sang "Home on the Range." Pallbearers were boyhood chums: Gordon Stiles, Robert Holt, Tom Britt, Henry Miller, Duard Wofford and Bronson Green.

The body was shipped by rail from Dallas to Childress Friday and brought from there here to the Hunt Funeral Home where it lay in state until time for services. Interment was in the Wheeler Cemetery.

Friends throughout the nation were shocked by the sudden passing of Frye—that his vast contribution to aviation should terminate so suddenly—and sent many messages of condolence to those who mourn his death.

Wheeler Mustangs to Play McLean Fri. Nite

The Wheeler Mustangs and the McLean Tigers will go into the game here Friday night on practically an even basis. The Tigers may have the edge on the local lads in experience, but speed and trickery are apt to offset any advantage along this line.

The Mustangs haven't forgotten the thorough trouncing they took from the hands of the Tigers last year and are determined to even the count so far as games go.

The game is called for 8:00 p. m. and the gates will be open to the park at 7:15. Admission is: adults 55c, high school students 30c, and grade school students 15c.

The Mustangs were handed two defeats during the past week, being trampled 16 to 0 by the Shamrock Irishmen Friday night after taking part in a nip and tuck battle for the first half.

The second stringers returned a game with the Pampa B team Armistice afternoon to come home with the small end of a 19 to 6 score.

After the McLean game here Friday night the next conference tilt scheduled for the Mustangs is a game with Lefors there November 30.

Pennington, Abe Glasgow, Bob Orrick, Earl Mitchell, Shamrock; A. C. Higgins, R. Wm. Brown, Briscoe; John Sims, George Robinson, Tom Grammer, C. A. Dy-sart, D. G. Sims, Frank Lee, J. F. ## Christmas Mailing Should Be Done Early

The post office department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. And sales are rising. Such heavy purchases always presage heavy mailings.

If thousands of our soldiers, sailors, marines and civilian friends are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. Postmaster Chester Lewis stated this week. The best efforts of the post office department alone cannot be enough, in view of wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist.

About 25,000 experienced postal workers already have been taken by the war services. Arrangements are under way to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs, but this man power is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and air lines are heavily taxed by movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain. Winter weather, hampering transportation, is beginning.

The free mailing privilege granted to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 per cent, it is estimated. Expansion of those forces also is adding rapidly to the postal burden.

The deadline is already past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas. The New York post office reports that in late October, 350,000 such parcels were handled daily in that office alone.

The post office department is making strenuous efforts to avoid such a terrific jam as it faced in 1918 under similar conditions, during the First World War. It can succeed in those efforts—and avoid many heartaches for its patrons—if the public will cooperate by mailing early.

Large Group Attends Legion Feed Wednesday

About sixty-five men attended the annual Legionnaire oyster feed put on at the Legion hut here Wednesday, Armistice Day. Ben Wofford, Spanish-American war veteran, was guest of honor to the group.

World War II army men home on leave were also guests of the group. Willard Rogers, J. B. Calcoate, jr., Robert and Claude Wright, J. T. Pond, H. E. Young, jr., and Bernice Davis were among this group. Calcoate is being inducted this week.

Post Adjutant Jim Risner and Commander Dr. V. N. Hall have asked that an expression of thanks be made those helping out with the feed, especially Ed Watson and Barney Burgess, who prepared the dinner.

MILEAGE RATION SIGN-UP DELAYED TILL NOV. 19-21

Gasoline rationing will be postponed from Nov. 22 to Dec. 1, OPA announced Wednesday. The postponement of rationing in the West and Mid-west is necessary because of hitches in the distribution of coupon books and forms over the country.

In addition to the postponement of actual rationing registration for the ration books has been postponed until Nov. 19, 20 and 21, one week later than originally planned.

Raymon Holt, chairman of the local war price and rationing board, has received the following telegram from OPA Director Mark McGee:

"To Board Chairman, Wheeler County: Registration for gasoline will be postponed until Nov. 19, 20, 21. Effective date of gasoline rationing will be postponed. Will be advised later on effective date. All surplus passenger type tires must be turned in by Nov. 22. Give foregoing information to newspapers and school superintendents."

Wheeler County motorists, registering for basic mileage rations at school house registration sites on November 19, 20 and 21, must take along their application forms, listing serial numbers of their tires, and their car registration cards, Holt said today.

Holt announced that local school authorities have arranged for registration to take place in seven schools on the three days from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m.

The serial numbers, Holt warned, are the indented numbers on the tire walls. They are not to be confused with any raised numbers appearing on the tires. In case the serial numbers have been obliterated, only the branch name of the tire need be listed.

The rationing board chairman urged car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle to dispose of these excess tires at once, since the school house registrar cannot issue a mileage ration book to any applicant who lists more than five tires. Excess tires can be sold to the government through the local office of the Railway Express Agency.

"Only basic ration books will be issued by the school house registrars," Mr. Holt said. "Motorists with car registration cards and properly filled out application forms will be issued 'A' books providing for 240 miles of driving a month. Motorcycle owners will get 'D' books, good for similar mileage.

"No supplemental rations will be issued at this registration time. So don't ask the registrar for any. However, anyone who feels he will need more mileage than the basic book

E. J. Cooper, vice-president of the Wheeler County Singing Convention announced this week that the group will meet at Center next Sunday afternoon November 15. The program is to begin at 1:00 o'clock. The meeting of the group, originally scheduled for Sunday, October 18, was postponed because of rain.

School to Close Early For Cotton Picking

The Wheeler School has adopted a plan whereby the students may continue their studies as well as aid in the harvesting of crops.

Superintendent Gilmore is asking for the cooperation of the city patrons as well as the rural patrons in getting the students to school on time in order that they may be dismissed on time.

Starting Monday, classes will start at 9:15 a. m. and will be dismissed at 12:45 p. m. Any time the weather is not favorable for working in the fields, the regular schedule will be resumed.

BRISCOE SCHOOL PLANS TO DISMISS SIX WEEKS

The Briscoe schools are to be dismissed six weeks for cotton picking, starting next Monday, Nov. 16, members of the school faculty announced this week. Weather conditions will, of course, be a determining factor as to whether or not the school will adhere strictly to this schedule.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1942

Last spring many of our young people joined with other members of 4-H Clubs all over the Nation in a Mobilization Week, mobilizing our rural youth for the war effort. The effects of this mobilization have been apparent all through the summer. Youngsters collecting piles of junk, old iron and steel, rubber, paper, and all the other salvage items called for by the authorities in Washington. They have been more industrious in their gardens, and in helping with the family's farm duties. They did mobilize, not in a rush of excited, then waning, endeavor, but rather in a spirit of doing their share in our main job of eliminating the Axis.

Accounts have been cast up now, and we find what they have accomplished. 4-H members in this country have purchased hundreds of dollars worth of war stamps and bonds. 4-H club members working in conjunction with other school children collected tons of scrap metal, gardens started, planted, and utilized, and those families will reap the full harvest during the winter as the canned and stored foods bring a bounty of health and good eating to the table.

But these are not the only achievements of our wide-awake alert 4-H members. Their club demonstrations in helping to win the war are just as varied as farming. Boys and girls, both, have had pig, poultry, calf, dairy, and similar demonstrations. They had additional demonstrations in helping to relieve the farm-labor shortage, care of farm machinery, first aid, home nursing, nutrition, food-preparation, and clothing conservation.

The Achievement Week now being held is only a symbol of the success of these young Americans. Their true achievement lies in their acceptance of the responsibilities of citizenship, ably demonstrated by their hard work, and the methodical way they have gone about learning to be better citizens by working with their hands, head, and heart.

Fall in love with yourself and you won't have any rivals.

Working to forget is much better than forgetting to work.

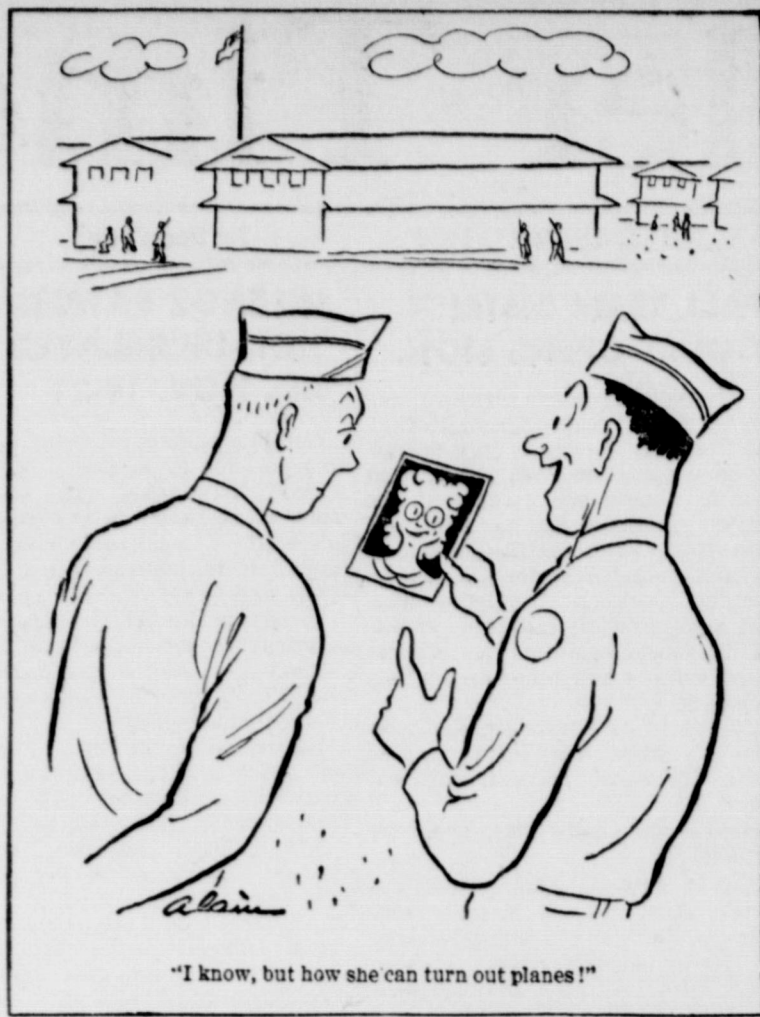

The world gets along better when people are shaking hands instead of heads.

The people of this country are face to face with the most critical of all tests that can be exacted of our form of government—inflation. It is more difficult to understand than war. It is intangible.

Dr. Paul F. Cadman, leading economist, has pointed out that it will take a lot more than laws to fight inflation. The present policy of one group blamed another group in seeking a scapegoat for the rising cost of living, will prove disastrously futile. If continued, it will offset all tax measures, forced savings, price regulations, wage stabilization, rationing, and credit control.

Inflation is a challenge to the individual. As Dr. Cadman observed: "This is one of the real occasions when the American people have a chance to demonstrate the moral fiber of the nation in their willingness to be obedient to the unenforceable. For, of a truth inflation cannot be controlled by either legislation or compulsion."

Most of us have occasionally been guilty of unconsidered attacks on industry, labor or politics, as if each group was a separate entity. We need all three groups and the sooner we realize it, just so much sooner will leaders of each group moderate their policies.

"I know, but how she can turn out planes!"

It is a mortal certainty that if the irrelevant disputes don't cease, we might as well abandon the hypocrisy of waving the American flag and consoling ourselves in our discontent with brass bands. It is inconceivable that we cannot live up to the ideals of freedom and opportunity that made this nation. However, the test is before us, final and irrevocable. Everything heretofore has been preliminary, with plenty of cribbing. Not so now. You cannot crib in a test in which natural law is the judge.

Only production, thrift, economy and honesty in public and private life can stem the tide of inflation now.

In these times you have to move pretty fast to keep up with running expenses.

Turning over a new leaf too often may make you lose your place completely.

A Man Talks to His Mule

Here is a bit of writing which truly deserves to be called an agricultural classic:

"Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule drawing a plow. Unexpectedly the plow hit a root, the mule stopped, and the man began to grumble as he fixed the hames:

"Bill, you are just a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man made in the image of God. Yet here we work, hitched up together year after year. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. Verily, I think it is a partnership between a mule and a fool, for surely I work as hard as you, if not harder. Plowing or cultivating we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two, therefore I do twice as much as you.

"Soon we will be preparing for a corn crop. When the crop is harvested I give one-third to the landlord for being so kind as to let me use a small speck of God's earth. One-third goes to you and the rest is mine. You consume all of your portion, with the exception of the cobs, while I divide mine among seven children, six hens, two ducks and a banker. If we both need shoes, you get 'em. You are getting the best of me, and I ask you, is it fair for a mule, the son of a jackass, to swindle a man, the lord of creation, out of his substance?

"Why, you only help to plow and cultivate the ground, and I alone must cut, shock and husk the corn, while you look over the pasture fence and hee-haw at me. All fall and most of the winter the whole family from baby up picks cotton to help raise enough money to pay taxes and buy a new set of harness and pay the mortgage on you. And what do you care about the mortgage? Not a thing, you onery cuss. I even have to do the worrying about the mortgage on your tough, ungrateful hide.

"About the only time I am your better is on election day, for I can vote and you can't. And after election I realize that I was fully as big a jackass as your papa. Verily, I am prone to wonder if politics were made for a man or a jackass, or to make jackasses out of men.

"And that ain't all, Bill. When you're dead, that's supposed to be the end of you. But me? The preachers tell me that when I die I may go to hell forever. That is, Bill, if I don't do just as they say. And most of what they say keeps me from getting any fun out of life.

"Tell me, William, considering these things, how can you keep a straight face and still look so dumb and solemn?"—Progressive Farmer.

A recruiting officer asked a colored applicant, "Have you had any previous experience?"

He replied, "I sho' has, boss; I've been shot at three times befoh dere eveh wuz a waih!"

Perhaps the oldest contribution to the scrap drive in Texas was a 92-year old flat iron given by Mrs. P. V. Gibson of Amarillo. It belonged originally to her grandmother in Tennessee.

"The home paper should be supported by all the people whether you agree with what the editor says or not," remarks the Glen Rose Reporter. "Suppose you should die today and the editor told the truth about you and the kind of citizen you had made—?"

Here's a little sketch that your columnist wrote years ago while editor of a small West Texas daily:

Dashing over the Broadway of America from Eastland to Ranger the other morning, I glimpsed that fascinating, unending "big parade" of huge buses; lumbering trucks; glistening, aristocratic cars and wheezing antiques of the automotive world. There came in sight a queer group laboriously approaching the top of a hill.

An old creaking cart. A woman walking alongside, her face wrinkled and so smitten by sun and wind it was the color of leather. A burro tugging along. And beside him a man with a rope around his waist, helping pull the vehicle.

The man's face was burned to a brown that was almost Asiatic. A coarse stubble covered his chin.

Poverty and suffering were written in every feature of that picture—the ancient cart covered by a flapping canvas; the weary burro; the worn travelers.

Here was an anachronism. Over the million-dollar brick highway, where gaily go thousands of cars daily and above which the motors of airplanes hum, was toiling this pair in a manner befitting the days when Daniel Boone was fighting the Indians.

This prodding pair—where were they going? Where their relatives in the West where a welcome awaited? Were they bound for the Plains of Texas or for California, which they have heard of as lands of opportunity and wealth for all? Or were they following a wonder urge that carried them unresting across deserts, valleys and mountain ranges? What were they getting out of life? Did they smile and laugh as do other people who have homes and definite niches in this world?

Through what experiences did they pass in all those years from prattling childhood to the moment that they came toiling up that hill, and through what experiences will they pass as they travel broad highways and narrow byways that stretch on perhaps to the end of their days?

In fiction, the writer tells us what has gone before and then carries the creatures of his imagination to the climax that leaves them with assured places in the world. But, in life, we view a scene for an instant, as though revealed by a flash of lightning at night. Darkness precedes. Darkness follows.

Whatever you do, try to arrange your affairs so as to have some money laid away, either in tax certificates or in cash, to pay off that huge income tax bill you are going to have next spring. It will not be necessary for you to make a lot of money to owe Uncle Sam a quite substantial sum. It is a most unfortunate thing that a pay as you go policy has not been adopted for most of us taxpayers, who spend just about what we make as fast as we make it. Next spring we'll owe taxes we can't pay and there'll be hair in the butter. Uncle Sam can't get blood out of a turnip, it is true, but he can make a turnip sweat.—Homer Steen in The Floyd County Hesperian.

A local woman wanted to turn her husband in on the scrap drive because he had so much lead in his pants.—Donley County Leader.

With the feed to produce beef, pork, milk and eggs standing in the fields and with the valuable cottonseed not gathered, we read in the papers that Texas is hoarding labor. A welfare worker in Washington says so. It seems that Texas did not send enough farm workers to Michigan to gather beets.

Naturally anybody in Washington knows more about Texas than we know ourselves; therefore the gentleman is correct automatically. But where is this surplus labor Texas is hoarding? They are not in Collingsworth or Dallam; they are not in Hartley or Hall; they are not in Lamb or Lynn. They must be in the state. The man in Washington said so. Do you suppose it would be practical for the Governor to send the Rangers to see if they are hiding in Big Bend country?—The Wellington Leader.

A man some hundred miles away read a booster article about McLean in a daily paper and made a trip here Wednesday to sell some town lots he owns. He was greatly disappointed in not finding things exactly like they sounded in the article. Local merchants say that business is about 30 or 35% better than the corresponding period a year ago, but there are still vacant business buildings and there are plenty of rooms for rent, as well as other kinds of available housing. There may be the beginnings of a boom here, but it is not here yet. It has been tried to force booms in the past, but experience generally shows that booms come and go without paying much attention to wishful thinking—McLean News.

Merchants who have goods to sell make a mistake by not properly presenting their goods to customers through the local paper.

A lesson could be learned from extra appeal made by merchants in large cities to prospective customers. Their campaigns are well thought out and presented through the daily papers.

The merchants in the smaller towns have the same opportunity. In fact, tire rationing is of great help to the local merchants. The people are not nearly as likely to go to the big city to do their trading. They take tires into consideration.

There are thousands of articles still for sale without restrictions. People still eat and still wear clothes and buy other necessities.

There are many thousands of new dollars being paid out in your community through the various war agencies. Money is sent back by those in the armed services to their dependents. There is money spent for relief and there is much money at high prices for live stock and other products. You are much more likely to get some of this money as a merchant if you properly present what you have to sell in your local paper. Take time off and plan your campaign. Let the newspaperman help you.—Uvalde Leader News.

Ever since our entry into the war, the stench in my nostrils has been frequent boasts heard about so-and-so making $90 a week in industry or working for the federal government. Every time I hear of these high wages, in many instances being paid dumb clucks who wouldn't weigh out over $15 worth on the scales of reality and equity, I think of our soldiers who, for a comparative mere pittance, are—or soon will march day after day with heavy packs until their feet are blistered, sleep in swamps, dodge bullets, and actually experience suffering and death.—Fred R. Kreiger in Boise City (Okla.) News.

On the Seven Seas

For 45 years General Electric has developed and built electric equipment for warships. Here are a few of the ways in which electricity serves the Navy.

1. Just one battleship may have electric generators to produce as much as 180,000 kilowatts. This power would supply the needs of a city of 375,000.

2. Searchlights produce millions of candlepower of light to aid in detecting enemy ships and planes, and to guide Navy gunners to their targets.

3. More than 20 different operations are performed in bringing a naval gun to bear on its target. Electricity helps to co-ordinate these operations.

4. When a battleship goes into action, electricity helps direct the ship, operate the guns, and give the orders. G. E. is building equipment to do these jobs.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Rip Van Winkle Was a Lucky Man!

When Rip Van Winkle woke up and wandered back to the old home town, he was neither recognized nor remembered. He found his wife gone, his daughter married, his native village remodeled, and America independent. He had slept clear through the Revolution!

Nevertheless, Rip was a lucky man, because we'd never have known about him to this day if Washington Irving hadn't written him up.

Any business firm that is contemplating hibernation from advertising during World War II might well consider the plight in which Rip found himself. For after this war even a Washington Irving—if you could find one—might not be able to bring back into public favor a once popular trade name.

It ALWAYS pays to advertise!

MILEAGE CONTROL RULES OUTLINED

All passenger cars will be eligible for recapping services or for replacement tires under the national mileage program effective December 1, but motorists will be limited by quotas to be assigned to rationing boards, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

However, OPA warned that a board may refuse to grant an application for a new tire if official inspection indicates the applicant has abused or neglected the tire he seeks to replace.

The grade of tire allowed a motorist in case recapping is impossible, will be determined by the amount of mileage allowed applicants in their gas ration books, it was explained.

The continuing rubber shortage makes it necessary "at least for the time being" to limit distribution of tires by rationing board quotas, OPA explained. In this way the issuance of tire purchase or recapping certificates will be held to the supply of available rubber.

Local boards will not be permitted to issue certificates in excess of their quotas. When a board receives more valid applications than its quota will accommodate, it must decide among the applicants "on the basis of relative importance to the war program, public health and public safety."

Emphasis will be placed on recapping tires now on cars with a material made almost entirely of reclaimed rubber, OPA said. With few exceptions, car owners will not be eligible for replacement tires if their casings can be made serviceable by recapping.

Regulations define three grades of replacement tires and the grade for which each motorist is eligible, will depend upon the amount of gasoline allotted him under the mileage rationing plan. Those with highest mileage will qualify for the best grade of tire.

All mileage book holders will be eligible for new inner tubes.

Police and firemen and others requiring high speed travel may be given certificates for grade one tires, even though they fall in the lowest monthly mileage classification.

New tires of obsolete sizes to fit rims 18 inches or more in diameter will be available for motorists with supplemental gas rations provided recapping is impossible.

A car owner who has a tire worn to the recapping point, or who needs a replacement, must have official OPA tire inspector fill out a form recommending a recapping service or a replacement. This form then, is presented to a war price and rationing board by the motorist.

Cars held by dealers for resale are not eligible either for recapping or for replacement tires until transferred to a purchaser. Under the new regulations a person buying a passenger car must have the tires inspected within 10 days. The tire inspection record of the previous owner is to be delivered to the buyer who must turn it in to his local board in applying for a mileage ration.

• Shorter days and more evenings spent at home are bound to mean more use of eyes : : : more risk of eyestrain.

So while your family is reading . . . playing games . . . sewing for war needs, remember to guard their eyes from strain with simple steps like these below.

How to help your eyes and avoid wasting light

Clean bulbs and bowls often! Make full use of light you have!

Dust and dirt steal more light than you think. Wipe bulbs and reflectors with a damp cloth and you'll get as much as 25 to 30% more light.

Use shades with white linings!

Dark lamp shades or shades turned yellow inside rob your eyes of light . . . may cut down light as much as 50%. Clean or brush shades regularly; if they're too bad, replace with fresh ones.

By arranging furniture and lamps carefully, you can often make one lamp serve two or more people effectively. But be sure it isn't too far away from either! A difference of 12 inches can reduce the light you get by as much as 50%.

ARMY COBBLER—How the shoeless Continentals at Valley Forge would have envied the United States soldiers of today when the Army carries to the field every facility for keeping footwear whole and comfortable!

Despite the modern mechanization of the armed forces, shoes are still a most important factor in the soldier's equipment. An Army shoe lasts about four months and in that time is re-soled twice. The shoe then is ready for salvage, and from this Uncle Sam also derives a percentage. With the latest equipment and skilled repairmen some of the camps and posts can turn out 900 pairs of re-soled shoes a day, according to the Quartermaster Corps. Millions of shoes have been bought for the Army since it is estimated that each man in the fighting forces will require 10 pairs during his period of service.

WICKARD PRAISES CLUBS

TO THE 4-H CLUB MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES: I want to congratulate you—one million five hundred thousand 4-H Club members—on your contributions during 1942 to the farm and home front and to the Nation's war effort. In a time of stress, you have helped substantially in enlarging the Nation's food and fiber supply, and storing and preserving food. You have gathered thousands of tons of scrap rubber, metal, paper, aluminum, and turned them over to the Nation. You have aided in rural areas the National nutritional programs for the use of right foods and development of better health. Moreover, your work has helped make up for the loss of those who have left the farms for the Army and Navy, or for war industries in cities.

All these contributions lead us to expect still larger things from you in 1943, not only in the production of food and fiber, but especially in helping to replace the manpower on the farms. More than ever before, the Nation needs the help of every one of you. I know that you are inspired by patriotism and have a deep faith in our Nation. I know that this Nation can depend on you to redouble your war efforts. You can do your part by producing and preserving food; taking part in salvage campaigns; helping on the farm and in the home; keeping well and strong; continuing your education; studying the meaning and significance of democracy; and purchasing war stamps and bonds. In all this work, we want you to know that you are a definite part of your Government's organization for helping to win the war and establishing a lasting peace.

Sincerely,
Signed: Claude R. Wickard
Secretary

Gene Autry and Frog

And once again comes that singing, yodeling cowboy, Gene Autry, with his old side-kick, Frog Millhouse, in another story of the wide open spaces, Home in Wyoming. The date is Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13-14, at the Rogue Theatre. There will be only about two more pictures from Gene, as he is in the army, so be sure and see this one.

Jungle Book

For Preview-Sunday-Monday, Nov. 14-15-16, the Rogue offers another technical picture, Jungle Book, from the pen of Rudyard Kipling. The star is Sabu, the Elephant Boy, and the story concerns itself with the adventures of the boy and his animal friends. It compares favorably with the Tarzan pictures. Those who have seen the picture claim it is one of the best jungle stories they have ever seen.

True to the Army

Last week, on Wednesday and Thursday, we gave you a little jingle on Sailors. This week we bring you another of the same sort, but concerning the army. The stars are Judy Canova, Allan Jones, Ann Miller and Jerry Calonna and the title is True to the Army. After seeing this picture you will not be a bit wiser but you will have been entertained with good wholesome comedy, the kind the world needs more of these days.

RALPH L. HUNTER NOW ARMY CAPTAIN

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Hunter, former Wheeler residents, will be glad to learn that he is now a Captain in the army and is located at New Orleans.

Mrs. Hunter, Claudia to Wheeler folks, is also in New Orleans and is a volunteer at the Fighting French Headquarters. The November issue of Click, carries a picture of "Miss Claudia" and gives a lengthy article concerning the welfare they are doing. Some of the accomplishments of these volunteer workers, is the successful persuasion of the debutantes to give up gay parties and solicit funds instead, while the older women are giving benefit dinners in their ancestral homes. Money is also raised by the sale of almost "new clothing" contributed by wealthy New Orleanians. They also cater to the tourist trade by selling souvenirs.

Mr. Hunter will be remembered as manager of the Wheeler Abstract Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Adams and children, Robert and David, of Shamrock, Mrs. C. M. Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCasland and Mrs. Lindsey McCasland and daughter, Lana Elaine, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holt and sons, Larry and Dennis Lee, of Stinnett, Texas.

Health Officer Gives Hints to Avoid Colds

With the advent of fall, and colds becoming prevalent, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, makes the following suggestions as to ways by which seasonal illnesses may be warded off, or at least may be gotten under control before they do any serious damage.

Keep as fit as possible. Dress according to the weather, indoors and out-of-doors. Put on a heavier suit when a cold snap comes. Use a raincoat, over-shoes, and umbrella on rainy days. Change as quickly as possible, into dry clothes if you are caught in a drenching downpour.

With a shortage of fuel facing all of us, our houses are likely to be chillier than usual during the early fall months. Look up your supply of sweaters and have them ready for use on these first chilly days. Get out some other heavy clothing and warm bed coverings at the same time.

Eat plenty of simple nourishing food. Have your meals at regular hours. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise out of doors, every day. Get the necessary amount of rest.

If you are caught in the clutches of a cold, unawares, don't treat it lightly, it may turn into something very serious, if neglected. The quickest way to get over a cold, or to bring it under control, is to go to bed, keep warm, eat lightly, drink plenty of water and fruit juices, and at the slightest sign of fever, send for your doctor and stay in bed until he feels that it is safe for you to get up and get out again.

And remember, colds are very contagious. Cold-producing germs are scattered far and wide whenever the victim of a cold coughs or sneezes. They are likely to be found on anything the victim touches. If you are the victim, keep your germs to yourself. Have your own towels and wash cloths, your own drinking glass and dishes—and be sure that they are adequately sterilized with hot—very hot—water and soap after you have used them. Keep well supplied with paper handkerchiefs; dispose of them promptly after they have been used.

WHAT SAY YOU?

There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus who walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit for the law of Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.—Romans 8:1-2.

W. J. BRUMLEY.

There is no reason for Americans to worship at the shrine of a selfish business man who manages to wrangle a fortune by oppressing the public.

Careful clean-up now will provide a sound defense against fires.

The campaign of General R. S. Mackenzie of the United States army in 1874 ended Indian hostilities in Texas.

Old Age Tax Rate To Remain 1 Per Cent

Employers were put on notice today in a statement issued by W. A. Thomas, collector of Internal revenue, second district of Texas, that there will be no change in the tax rate on Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance on January 1, 1943, as had been anticipated.

Under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1942 passed by Congress and signed by the President on October 21, the tax rate remains at 1 per cent on payrolls of employers and 1 per cent on wages paid to employees which must be deducted by the employer and reported to the collector of internal revenue, according to Thomas.

"Office of the Social Security board located in different cities in my district have received numerous inquiries regarding the proposed increase which was originally scheduled to double the tax in 1943," said Thomas. "Official notice will be mailed out to all employers in due time announcing the 'freezing' of the old-age and survivors insurance tax for the year of 1943. In the meantime, employers have no cause to worry about an increase. Reports will continue to be made as usual and in the same manner, making certain that each employer reports the account number of each employee and the amount of wages paid each employee."

It was emphasized by the collector of internal revenue that collection of taxes under the Social Security Act is the responsibility of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and not the Security Board. All reports should be mailed to the office of the collector in Dallas.

Around School

We have lost two of our students. Nadine Brunley and Clifton Patterson were married last Saturday. We hope that Nadine and Clifton will be very happy.

Billie Joe Wright is moving to Aspermont, Texas, the latter part of this week. We are sorry to have him leave, and hope that he will be happy at his new school.

The Wheeler schools dismissed for Armistice Day. We hope before long that we will have another great "Victorious Day" to celebrate.

Tommy Hyatt was absent from school Tuesday.

The English IV Class has been having lots of fun practicing for the program that they plan to give at the Methodist Church Sunday night, Nov. 15.

Will Present Program

 My Heart's in the Highlands—Mary Elizabeth Marrs.

 The Daffodils—Imogene Crowder.

Seen and Heard

R. J. telling people that it is dangerous to leave ink bottles uncapped while not in use. Billie Joe trying to think up something funny to put in the paper. Mrs. Gilmore trying to drill conjugations of verbs into her English Class.

The football boys having a hard time getting the charcoal off their faces. How about that, Lewis? Why was a certain sophomore girl so happy Saturday night? Was it because she had a heart-to-heart talk? Is it true that Inez McWhorter makes many mistakes in typing because she is in love with a Kelton boy—wonder who he is. Why has Neva Jane Weatherly been brooding so lately, and nearly biting everybody's head off that speaks to her? Is it because a certain boy stepped out on her the other night? We wonder whose ring Patsy has been wearing, and whose watch Jenelle has been wearing. Why were a lot of the students sad this morning? Was it because of the hard Civics test that they had?

Senior Proofs Received

The seniors had their pictures made two weeks ago. We are sorry they were so nervous when they were snapped, because some of the proofs were rather vague. They were proud of them, believe me, some of the other students weren't exactly pleased. Well, we juniors will get to look pretty one of these days, too. The seniors worked hard to get a pretty pose, but some poses were a little sad; however, the pictures were like the models. The proofs came to Mrs. Wofford last Thursday, and they were given to the seniors that they might see them and cry on each other's shoulder. You know some seniors even laughed about how the pictures turned out. May I ask a question? Well here goes: Who get's the sweetheart pictures? They are going to exchange pictures with each other and I wonder if they will go to the boys in the army. Maybe some of the junior boys will get a picture. I wish I had some and I know some of the other students besides the seniors want them. Boy! Were they excited about their proofs? Most of them won't get a lesson for weeks on the account of the excitement. Mr. Gilmore had his picture made and all of the proofs had a frown. Wonder if he was worried or just wanted to look that way? Well, the proofs were returned to the studio and the pictures are to be sent back sometime in December. Let's just hope they return before Santa comes.

Fishes Pool

The freshman girls enjoyed having Wanda Tolliver as a guest at school Friday evening and a house guest over Saturday.

Is it true that the freshman girls keep their study hall desks nearer than the seniors.

The Keyhole Spy

Dear Keyhole Spy—Why is it that some freshman girls can be so sweet and others so unconcerned about other people's feelings?—Answer—Maybe they are playing "Follow the Leader."

Dear Keyhole Spy—Why do some freshman girls glance suspiciously at a beautiful gold ring a fellow classmate wears. Answer—Could it be jealousy?

Dear Keyhole Spy—Why was Mr. Witt 30 minutes late to school Tuesday? Answer—Did the bus detain him?

Dear Keyhole Spy—Why are the freshmen so silly, the sophomores so "Boy Crazy", the Juniors so tall, and the seniors so beautiful? Answer—Nature has her way.

Human Parasites

There are always those people in life who we call human parasites. They are to be found in all manner of things. Especially do we find these persons in school; persons who depend on someone else to get their work for them.

This is a way of getting by easily no doubt, for the person who does nothing at all except copy something that a classmate has written and put his name on it, but it does him no good at all as far as teaching him something.

Children are sent to school by their parents so that they will be able to cope with life's problems, but a person who depends on someone else to get his work for him does not learn to work out his problems during his early years and is therefore unable to cope with the problems he will face in later life. There is no one, then, to solve this problem.

Therefore, let's not be human parasites. Let's do our own work and do our best at it. A person's own individual work is better although it is not as perfect as someone else's work presented, it is his own.

"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink; you can lead a boy to school, but you can't make him think."

This old saying is very true. True also is the fact that someone else's thinking will do one no good. One might copy another's lesson and receive the same grade but does not put much into one's head. That after all, instead of receiving a grade is the ultimate aim in going to school.

—Nelson Dyson

Senior Scribblings

We seniors wish to thank everyone for attending our senior play. We hope everyone got their money's worth. We also wish to thank the other classes for the cooperative manner in which they gave up the study hall.

Pat is glad his scenes are over.

 Last Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Wood spent a very delightful evening in the Matthews home. Following the serving of a very delicious dinner, the evening was devoted to rendering music with Mrs. Davis at the piano and the rest joining in song.

Wonder Why

School has to turn out for cotton picking? . . . The boys can't eat with the girls in the lunch room? . . . We can't have some more ball games? . . . Inez received a letter Monday morning? . . . Ray H. had Mable Alice come up to the library Monday? . . . Pat almost forgot his lines in a certain scene and Thelma did call Laverne "Aunt Susie"?

Seen and Heard

That the juniors are giving the seniors a party. Someone getting tickled behind the stage. The seniors not knowing how much money they have.

Our Gang Happenings (Sophomore)
 Anita had a very interesting time in Amarillo Saturday. She seems to be very patriotic. The sophomore girls had an interesting time killing chickens Monday.

Seventh Grade News

Hooray! School is going on another week but it is turning out this week-end. We have to take semester tests this week and, as usual, some will get sick (including Bill). We hope Miss Cox gets her glasses by this time. The Grade Music Club wishes to thank Lottie Marie for her splendid help Friday afternoon and night. Raymond Venable hasn't been in school for several days. We hope he will return soon. Dolores Ledbetter was absent from school Thursday. We wonder why LaVerne and Dolores had to get tickled Friday night.—Mozelle Wilson, Reporter.

Guess Who?

She is classified as a junior. She is very quiet and studious. She enjoys basketball and other sports. Her hair is light and she has grey eyes. She belongs to the Home Ec. Club. She is very tall and weighs about 135. Answer next week.

Snooper

Dear Snooper: Was it Thelma or Pat who was embarrassed Friday night? Eighth Grade Girl. Dear E. G. G.: I wonder. Dear Snooper: Why are all the students so happy this week? Curious Teachers. Dear C. T.: Could it be that they are planning on a six weeks cotton picking vacation, starting Monday, Nov. 16? Dear Snooper: Will there be any "Bronco" news during cotton picking vacation? Students. Dear Students: I will be very busy during my vacation and there won't be any news.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

Francis B. Sayre, former High Commissioner of the Philippines, and noted Presbyterian layman, said recently: "We are in a desperate fight today to defend human freedom against the determined attack of ruthless barbarians who, with utter contempt for humanity, would establish themselves as lords of the earth—For the defense of human freedom, no price can be too great. Freedom for the souls of men for outweighs any possible material cost—In such a struggle, the forces of religion have a momentous stake. Whatever concerns mankind is of vital interest to religion."

More than one thousand communities in some 500 counties across the United States are "critical defense areas" and one of the major problems in these places is the care of the children, especially those whose mothers are forced to leave them somewhere all day while at work. Many churches are concerned with this situation and are endeavoring to meet the needs of the children—The rural village of Windham, Ohio, is being expanded into a small city by war industries. The Congregational and Methodist churches of Wildham have united their efforts in maintaining a nursery and medical center for the children—in Baltimore, Mrs. Charles Wade, a Negro Methodist mission worker, carries on an interdenominational work among Negro children, including a day nursery supported by Negroes and served by volunteer Negro physicians and nurses—Hundred of other communities, however, are still without such church provision for the children.

According to a recent hospital survey made in the fifteen provinces of Free China, which has now some 150,000,000 civilian inhabitants, there are only 130 hospitals to care for the wounded, the victims of air raids, the victims of epidemics, and the general illnesses of this vast population. Of these hospitals, 113 are conducted by Protestant or Catholic missionaries, representing churches in America and in Europe—the latter now supported mainly from America. In order to help maintain these civilian hospitals through this war period, the Church Committee for China Relief (supported by American churches) is paying for free beds for destitute patients, furnishing medicines for the poor, and granting subsidies of rice for Chinese doctors and nurses.

One hundred years ago, in the city of Stavanger, Norway, the Norwegian Missionary Society was formed—the union of some sixty small mission groups. War conditions will not permit a centennial anniversary in Norway this year, but the work and the results of the work of the century still go on in Madagascar, the Sudan, in central China, and in South Africa. The 185 missionaries of this Society have been "orphaned" by the war, being unable to secure funds for their work from the homeland. But the missions are being supported by friends in the United States and Great Britain.

When Union Theological Seminary in Mexico City, Mexico, recently began to realize that its program of studies was largely for urban communities while more than 80% of the country's evangelicals live in small villages and attend rural churches, it added a new department to its organization—that of "The Rural Church." The department will have five sections, each under an instructor qualified in his particular field: evangelism, religious education, health, home improvement, and improvement in agriculture. Dr. Ralph A. Felton, rural expert of Drew Theological Seminary, Midson, N. J., was instrumental in having this Rural Church Department established.

"Agriculture and theology mix well among the Zulus in South Africa," says the Rev. Henry A. Stick, missionary in Natal. He says that when the Zulu students who are in training for the Christian ministry at the Adams Mission Station, Natal, were asked what they wanted for Christmas, they unanimously asked for hoes. ## What becomes of the miles you don't drive?

Today undriven miles are war weapons.

The rubber you don't use is airplane tires, antitank-gun treads, machine-gun mounts, life rafts, tank-interior pads, pontoons, and hot water bottles for field hospitals.

The gasoline you don't use is fuel for fighter and bomber planes, for jeeps and tanks, for motor torpedo boats and armored cars. And more, the magic of the new petroleum chemistry takes the material, which formerly became gasoline, and Aladdin-lamps it into precious synthetic rubber and devastating high explosive.

The same intensive Phillips research which in peacetime was dedicated to improving Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil now, vastly increased in scope and faster in tempo, serves the Nation's victory program.

In the same national interest, every patriotic driver is cutting his miles and his speed, making his car and his tires last longer and go farther.

Every Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you in this effort. Make certain to enlist his aid when you stop at any Orange and Black 66 Shield for Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for fast-starting pep and extra mileage... and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

county by W. B. Hooser, who spent his 2 years in Wheeler county as an apprentice specializing in swine and field crop production. He was so successful in taking instructions in the various lines of agriculture that he was promoted to the position of county agent of Hall county, one of the biggest counties and hardest to serve. Hooser placed more pure bred hogs among 4-H club boys than any other assistant agent ever has in Wheeler county and he is now doing an outstanding job in Hall county as agent. Results of his work with 4-H boys in Wheeler in field crops is still showing good.

Hooser succeeded in Wheeler county as assistant agent by M. J. Sims who promoted meat animal production as his leading line. He carried out the plans of the county agent started by Hooser, making a wonderful progress both for himself and all 4-H club boys. In fact, his progress was so good that he was promoted to the position of county agent of Roberts county and has a fine program of agricultural development in that county.

Sims succeeded in Wheeler county by C. V. Griffin whose specialty was dairy development and he was instrumental in placing 31 high bred dairy heifers with 4-H club boys. 14 of this number were registered heifers shipped from Ft. Worth. His work was outstanding to the extent that he was promoted to the position of county agent of Jones county and is now in the armed forces in the medical department.

Griffin was succeeded by James Eiland who assisted with one of the best developed programs with the 4-H club boys ever made in the county, but he is now also a first lieutenant in the forces and is located at Hunter Field, Georgia.

Victor Joyner is now assistant agent and is doing a fine job but the army is nipping at him and he is to be in service within a few weeks. It is hoped to have as good a successor to him as we have been getting to assist in carrying out the program so far with all assistant agents we have had in Wheeler county. All have been a fine lot of boys.

There are a lot of other boys who have done a wonderful job at their task. These are:

J. E. Crabtree, who has progressed to the extent that he has gone through Sherman county, Dallam county and is now county agent of Potter county.

H. M. Breedlove, who was promoted from assistant in Agricultural Conservation work in 1935 to Donley

Cotton Referendum To Be Held December 12

Cotton farmers all over the South go to the polls Saturday, December 12 to vote on cotton marketing quotas.

Cotton marketing quotas have been in effect for the past five years, the growers voting each year to use quotas as a means of insuring each grower his fair share of the available market for cotton. George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, pointed out in announcing the referendum date.

Last December 89.4 per cent of the Texas growers voting favored quotas on the 1942 crop, while 93.9 per cent of the growers voting over the nation favored quotas.

Slaughter indicated that because of wartime conditions, the number of ballot boxes for this year's referendum would be considerably larger than the number in previous years. This move is intended to make it possible for all growers to get to the polls despite the transportation problem and the rush of wartime food production.

Full information on the present cotton situation and the prospective demand for cotton next year will be provided farmers eligible to vote in the referendum, Slaughter said.

county as agent and has served in this position since then.

Joe L. Merharg, who is now specialist with the Farm Security Administration in Amarillo.

The most credit for all accomplishments of 4-H club boys in Wheeler county goes to local 4-H leaders of the county, such as Dusan Pakan, A. B. Pike, Lee Barry, J. D. Purcell, J. V. Younger, C. A. Nickell, Cullie Watson and a lot of others in various communities of the county.

Local adult leaders have done more for and with 4-H club boys than all of the county agents and assistant agents that have ever been in the county as they are able to take and follow instructions and do a swell job.

29 4-H club boys of the county have finished college. 2 former boys are, or were, county agents. Ewlin Dysart was county agent of Hartley county before going into the armed forces and E. M. Gossett Jr., is assistant agent of Eastland county. Several of today's outstanding young farmers are ex-4-H club boys.

4-H club boys, along with FFA boys have been leaders in making self-feeders, raising hogs, using better seed for field crops, using a better ration for feeding livestock, controlling insects and livestock parasites, better stock of hogs and the production of certified and treated seed for feed crops.

Jake Tarter, County agent.

Mileage Rationing

providers may ask the registrar for an application form for a supplemental ration.

"This form is to be filled out later and presented to a local war price and rationing board. The board will issue a supplemental ration only after a careful examination of the applicant's need for additional mileage and his plans for car sharing."

Applicants for basic rations should go to the school house registration site nearest their homes. The schools to be used for registration are:

Allison, Briscoe, Mobeetie, Wheeler, Shamrock, Kelson and Kellerville.

E. K. Caperton of Shamrock and Leonard Green of Mobeetie have been named to aid the members of the Wheeler County War Price and Rationing Board, R. D. Holt, Bob Douglas and John Dunn, with the gasoline rationing.

Autoists who expect to apply for supplemental rations to enable them to drive to and from work should make plans now to share rides with others needing transportation to their jobs.

To get more than the basic "A" ration a car owner must participate in a car-sharing club and agree to carry at least three other persons to and from work, or prove that he cannot do so.

The rationing board chairman suggested that car owners get together with their neighbors on some car sharing plan or with fellow employees at the plant or office. If two or more cars are to be used in the club, members may divide up the use of those cars to suit their convenience. Supplemental rations will then be issued each vehicle for mileage to meet its obligations.

The club must be formed before the application for a supplemental ration is submitted to the board. In fact, signatures of all members must appear on the application, and applicants must certify that they will carry through their part in the car club agreement.

Supplemental applications, Mr. Holt emphasized, are not to be presented registrars at school houses on November 19, 20 and 21. These registrars will be authorized to issue only the basic ration books—"A" books for passenger car owners, and "D" books for motorcycleists.

However, vehicle operators who feel they will need more mileage than the basic books provide may ask the registrar for a supplemental application. This is to be filled out later and sent to the local war price and rationing board.

The basic books will provide mileage for 240 miles a month. If the person to whom the ration is issued intends to use his car for driving to work, or in connection with his work, he will be expected to consider 150 miles a month of his ration available for such driving. The remaining 90 miles a month may be reserved for such essential family travel as driving children to school, or sick persons to the doctor, etc.

Applicants for supplemental rations will first need to prove that they need more than 150 miles of occupational driving provided in the "A" book. Secondly, they will need to show that they have formed a car club. If they do not form such a club, they must prove they cannot do so and that alternative means of transportation are inadequate.

"All applicants for a supplemental ration will use the same form," Mr. Holt pointed out. "The board will decide whether the ration granted should be in the form of a "B" or a "C" book. The "B" book, in addition to the "A" book, provides for a maximum of 470 miles of occupational driving a month. Mileage for more than 470 miles a month requires a "C" book. But only drivers performing services regarded as essential to the war effort or the public welfare will be eligible for "C" rations."

Those drivers entitled to preferred mileage through "C" rations must meet the car sharing requirements, the same as other applicants for supplemental rations, Mr. Holt said.

Operators of trucks, buses and taxis must have their certificates of war necessity before applying to the local war price and rationing board for their mileage rations.

"The certificates of war necessity, issued by the Office of Defense Transportation, form the basis for our issuance of transport rations to these commercial vehicles," Mr. Holt said. "When applicants come to the board they must bring with them these certificates, together with properly executed application for a mileage ration."

Each war necessity certificate states the number of miles the vehicle for which the certificate is issued will be allowed to travel during a three-month period. The certificate also states the number of gallons of gasoline needed to cover this mileage.

The rationing board will determine the amount of transport rations to be issued for the vehicle on the basis of the mileage allowed in the certificate. In no case is the board permitted to allow more gasoline than is stipulated in the certificate.

The "T" books will be tailored to the allowable mileage by tearing out coupons.

3-A Registrants Desiring Commissions Should Contact Board

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, today urged III-A registrants, desiring to train for commissions in the U. S. Army, to contact their local boards immediately for instructions and proper application forms.

State Selective Service headquarters has been notified, General Page said, that there are vacancies for registrants now classified in III-A for training for commissions in the following branches of the service: Anti-Aircraft Artillery, Coast Artillery, Cavalry, Chemical Warfare Service, Engineer, Infantry, Field Artillery, Ordnance, Signal, Military Police, Tank Destroyer and Armored Forces.

Such registrants volunteering to try for a commission, General Page emphasized, must be American citizens with at least four years high school education. Volunteers under twenty-one years of age must obtain the written consent of their parents or guardians, he stated.

General Page pointed out that colored registrants who can meet the requirements will be given the same opportunity to make application for this training.

AAA Committee Elections Nov. 12-13

Every farmer in Texas should consider it a patriotic duty to participate in the election of county and community committeemen who will administer the AAA program during the coming year, according to George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee.

Farmers will meet in community meetings Thursday and Friday, Nov. 12 and 13, to elect community committeemen and delegates to a county convention. Convention delegates, meeting Saturday, Nov. 14, will elect county committeemen.

"AAA committeemen next year, more than ever before, will play a vital role in American agriculture," Slaughter declared. "More and more important jobs are being handled by committeemen—jobs which are of great importance to the nation's wartime living. These jobs require that the men doing them be capable of doing them properly."

The state chairman reminded farmers that the man they elect to serve as chairman of their AAA committee also will be chairman of their county USDA war board.

"He must be a leader who is capable of getting his job done expeditiously and efficiently," he pointed out. "In addition, he must be in a position to devote considerable time to AAA and war board work."

The number of community committeemen to be elected for next year will be nearly double the number elected in past years, as each committee will represent a smaller number of farmers.

Community meeting places at which committeemen will be elected and the time of the meetings are listed by county agent Jake Tarter as follows:

- November 12—Mobeetie—11:00 a.m.
- November 12—Briscoe—2:00 p.m.
- November 12—Allison—8:00 p.m.
- November 13—Wheeler—10:00 a.m. (District court room.)
- November 13—Kelson—2:00 p.m.
- November 13—Twitty—4:00 p.m.
- November 13—Shamrock—8:00 p.m. (C. C. office.)

PEEPING IN THE WHEELER TIMES WINDOW

It couldn't happen anywhere but in Wheeler county—that is, twenty-six inch carrots don't grow just anywhere. Dr. C. C. Merritt recently presented such a bundle of vitamins for The Times window display and it has attracted the attention of scores of passers-by since being placed in the window. Mrs. Albert Hayter has presented another "Believe it or Not" display, a Bermuda grass root that has grown entirely through an Irish potato. Mrs. C. D. Loter recently brought in a nice lot of sweet peppers she has grown. Two items of particular interest to The Times editor are the printed notice of a horse stolen at Dodge City, Kansas, Sept. 21, 1885, and a copy of the Wheeler county financial report of Nov. 12, 1883, to August 25, 1884. The statement was printed in and clipped from "The Panhandle," an Old Mobeetie newspaper of some years ago. These items are owned by antique collector Jim Risner, who possesses a small museum and one of the finest stamp collections in this part of the country.

Hardly a suitable item for the window display but an item of interest never-the-less, was a live carrier pigeon brought to The Times office recently by Mrs. J. W. Henderson of Mobeetie. The pigeon was feeding near her back door and entered the house when the door opened. She was attempting to contact proper authorities to find out what to do with the bird.
