Government borrowing, according to a recent statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, will amount to between $7,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000 during December. He emphasized that as much as possible of this gigantic sum must come out of the "current income and savings of the people," rather than from the banks.

The reason is plain. Borrowing heavily from the banks means more inflation, because it creates new credit. Borrowing directly from the people is an effective brake on inflation. Unfortunately, it is easier to borrow from the banks—which is only one step removed from printing greenbacks—than it is to go to the already burdened taxpayer. The politicians have so far taken the easiest way with little objection from the people. However, the cost of total war is so great that a day of reckoning is close. We can "painlessly" stuff our banks with government obligations until our money and our savings are destroyed and the war effort imperiled, or we can dig into our pockets and our standard of living with the realization that the war must be won the hard way.

The trouble with the guy who knows it all is that he never wants to keep it to himself.

There are approximately 15,000 separate parts in a modern automobile, we are told—and we really believe it as there have been occasions when we have heard from each of them.

A warning that tuberculosis is increasing alarmingly in warring countries was sounded last week by President Roosevelt in endorsing the 36th annual Christmas Seal campaign of the National, State and Local Tuberculosis Associations, which started Monday.

President Roosevelt said that it will take the greatest effort possible on the part of the people to hold the disease in check in this country. In endorsing the Christmas Seal campaign, President Roosevelt said:

"The unholy alliance between war and disease is particularly powerful in the case of tuberculosis. It has increased in every past war. The disease is increasing alarmingly in many warring Europe and Asiatic countries.

"In the United States tuberculosis is now at the lowest rate in our history. But, to hold the disease at check during wartime will demand the greatest effort possible on the part of the people, the medical profession, the tuberculosis associates and the official health departments. Cooperation of all people in the fight against tuberculosis is imperative.

"The tuberculosis associations are well under way in their intensified and expanded wartime campaign. I have full confidence that the American people will generously add the purchase of Christmas seals, the main support of the National Tuberculosis Association and its seventeen hundred affiliated associations, to their many other wartime activities."

CAN HE BREAK THE LOG JAM?

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on the Times' exchange list.

If you see a neighbor with a spade digging in the back yard, he's probably not after fishing worms... he may be burying a five-gallon can of... (well, you guess.)—Electra Star.

The farmer is going to get even more cussed than he is now by industry and commerce when the show-down comes and the shortages of one food and another develop. How the farmer came to be placed in such unfavorable light before the workers of the big centers, he doubtless wonders, as we do. Pictured selfish, grasping, attempting to sabotage the war effort or gain his way, the farmer-ranchman wonders just when he got that way. Perhaps just after he sent his last boy or his only dependable hired man to war work or the battle front, we'd say. The farmer must take his profits, if they come along, and losses if they occur, and go ahead with the job at hand. Anybody who does anything worthwhile is going to be criticized. No reason why the farmer should feel himself exempt, even from unjust criticism.—Homer Steen in the Floyd County Hesperian.

Uncle Sam asked, and Editor Carl Roome of the Brantley Enterprise, a weekly newspaper, answered—in detail.

Filling out an occupational questionnaire for selective service he gave his duties as:

"I write news, editorials, advertisements, keep books, pay bills, read proof, clean type, set headlines, set advertisements, set news and editorials, pay bills, set jobs, feed press, cut paper, wrap bundles, solicit advertisements, solicit subscriptions, pay bills, repair presses and linotype (jackleg repairing), slice belts, saw metal cuts, pay bills, chisel cuts, make up newspaper, order supplies, tell people where the local draft board is, tell others where the town's lawyers might be, tell still others that silly rumor they were excited about was only a silly rumor, pay bills, wash forms, distribute type, solicit job printing, pacify irate subscribers whose paper failed to arrive, pay bills, edit bungled copy, collect bills, pay bills, sort mail, scan the exchanges and maybe clip an item. Then in my spare time, I hunt and fish and play checkers.

A girlie and the japs are a lot alike. They both sneak up the rear and it takes a hard Yank to put them in their places.—Donley County Leader.

We see by the paper that Uncle Sam is having some trouble handling the huge volume of mail, which the war is helping to increase day by day. The government, it seems, is putting part of the blame on the "free" mailing privileges granted servicemen, which has increased the volume about 30 per cent. But somehow, the thousands of tons of franked propaganda from useless bureaus and agencies, which has been cluttering up the nation's mailbags for 10 years, has not been mentioned. Get rid of it, and give the soldiers a chance to write home.—Buffalo, Okla. Journal.

Don't jump at conclusions every time you see an apparently able-bodied single man of military age who isn't in uniform. There is almost certainly some excellent reason why he isn't in some branch of the armed forces. Local draft boards have done a very thorough job gathering in the men eligible for military service and those still wearing civilian clothes are most likely doing so because they have been rejected by the Army for good and sufficient reasons... You can save your embarrassment and the man in question humiliation

There was a man in our town
And he was wondrous wise;
He swore it was his policy—
He would not advertise.
But one day he did advertise,
And thereby hangs a tale:
The ad was set in quite small type
And headed, "Sheriff's Sale."

Just as winter winds began to blow, Austin cut the old age assistance checks $1 each. That may sound like a very small reduction to many people but, if you had been trying to get by on $18 a month—which is 60 cents a day—then a reduction of $1 can mean real suffering because of lack of funds for food, clothes, medicines and heat in the cold days ahead.

It is explained, of course, that the war has brought a reduction in State tax revenues and that the number of persons becoming eligible for old age assistance increases each month and so the cut of $1 a month may be only the beginning.

Until a few years ago, high State officials were receiving as little as $2,500 annually. The people authorized an increase through a constitutional amendment—the same method by which they authorized old age assistance. There was this difference, however; State officials saw to it that their own salaries were increased to the full limit permitted by the amendment but the old age pension checks have never averaged more than one-half of the amount which the Constitution permits.

Why should the full burden of the by being sure of your facts before you condemn.—Claude Wells in the Memphis Democrat.

It is surprising how many youths from West Texas are serving in the Navy or in the Merchant Marine. The latter work is one of constant chipping of rust from steel painting and scrubbing, except for officers and close subordinates. The life of a seaman is anything but romantic and the pay is less than a munitions worker and far more dangerous at this time. It cannot be said that men from this section of the state were born to the sea, yet a great many go out on ships and continue to go back after one trip with the Marine fleet.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

The weekly newspapers have at last come into their own.

Dr. Starch in a survey for the McCann-Erickson Advertising Agency found that a 44-inch "junk" ad in weeklies attracted almost as much attention as a full page ad in the dailies and more attention than a seven column ad.

The American Press in a comment on the ads said "this does not mean that a three or four to one space allotment can definitely be established as a formula for getting equal results in weeklies, but it does add strength to the findings of studies made by Rutgers University and Ohio State University which showed the readership of national advertising in weeklies to be about five times as great as readership in dailies."—The Clarendon News.

Pity the poor gasoline rationing boards. Their tasks are much harder than those handling sugar and coffee rationing. If the board does not give you what you feel you deserve, it should not be taken as a personal affront. The board is following rules which have been given them.—The Panhandle Herald.

Fire Commissioner Warns Against Fire Hazards at Christmas

Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, suggests that plans for the coming holiday season include careful consideration of fire prevention.

"We must not allow destructive fires to burn our homes, or to cause injury or death to our families," Hall said. "This can be avoided by being careful in planning our decorations for Christmas. The decorations more commonly used are highly combustible, and therefore, create additional fire hazards during the holiday season."

Several fire safety practices mentioned by the Commissioner were:

See that decorations are kept a safe distance from stoves or other heating equipment; do not allow them to come in contact with electric light bulbs, or appliances; prevent the accumulation of trash, papers, boxes or rubbish; "black out" matches, cigars and cigarettes before discarding them; keep matches beyond the reach of children; be careful to keep electric circuits from being overloaded.

If a tree is used, secure a fresh one, keep it dampened and outside the house until actually needed. When set up, place the tree in a room where it will be as cool and moist as possible.

State's financial difficulties, which are due to the war, fall on the shoulders of the weak and aged? Let's share the sacrifice. Why not put it on the statute books that every time the pension checks are cut, the salaries of State officials in the higher brackets shall be cut proportionately?

For instance, this would mean that a State official whose salary now is $10,000 a year would be reduced one-eighth, or $46 a month, which reduction would work for less hardship on him than the loss of $1 a month inflicted on the elderly because the official would still be getting $787 a month and maybe he could struggle along on that and get by somehow.

Let's be democratic about this. If there is going to be sacrifice, let the better-paid servants of the people carry a part of the load and not put it all on the backs of the aged.

On Every Front

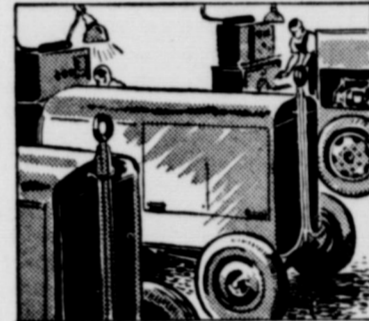

... General Electric equipment is fighting with America's land army. From the rolling kitchen to the front line, electricity works for victory.

1. In the factory electricity stitches the seams of tank armor, and on the battlefield it controls the operation of these spearheads of modern combat.

2. In induction center and field hospital, the X ray helps safeguard the health of our fighting men, aiding in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

3. Far from the usual power sources, mobile power plants supply electricity for 800,000,000 candlepower searchlights by which a newspaper can be read 12 miles away.

4. Blitz war requires swift communications! On the soldier's back, in field and sky, radio co-ordinates the striking force of American army planes, guns, and tanks.

Youths Who Have Become 18 Since June May Register In Local Community

The following item was run in last week's issue of The Times and is being repeated again this week by request of the local selective service board in order to be sure that all youths concerned are informed of the time they are to register and who is to register them.

Wheeler county youths who have reached their 18th birthday during the last half of this year will register in their local community in the sixth draft registration beginning December 11.

For the registration Dec. 11, to Dec. 31, inclusive, the following schools will aid in the registration program:

Shamrock, W. O. Morrow in charge; Kellerville, Floyd M. Shawver in charge; Mobetie, Jack Davis in charge; Allison, Sam Begert in charge; Kelton, Webster Willoughby in charge; Briscoe, C. C. Brown in charge. Boys in the vicinity of Wheeler will register at the local selective service board office in the court house. Any one may register at Wheeler but the board is designating the various places over the county to make registration as convenient as possible in view of gas rationing. Boys becoming 18 on January 1, 1943, and thereafter, will register at the local office in Wheeler unless there is notice to the contrary.

By proclamation the president has set the week beginning December 11, and ending December 17, for draft registration of those who became 18 in July and August. Young men who reached that age in September and October will register in the following week and those who became 18 in November and December will register in the week starting December 26, and closing December 31.

More fully explained the proclamation states as follows:

(a) Those who were born on or after July 1, 1924, but not after August 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the week commencing Friday, December 11, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 17, 1942;

(b) Those who were born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the week commencing Friday, December 18, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 24, 1942;

(c) Those who were born on or after November 1, 1924, but not after December 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the period commencing Saturday, December 26, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 31, 1942;

(d) During the continuance of the present war, those who were born on or after January 1, 1925, shall be registered on the day they attain the eighteenth anniversary of the day of their birth; provided, that if such anniversary falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, their registration shall take place on the day following that is not a Sunday or a legal holiday.

No youth who was born after December 31, 1924, will register this month.

WHAT SAY YOU?

For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Wherefore comfort one another with these words.—I Thessalonians 4:16-17-18.

Institutional Coffee Users Must Keep A Record of Food Served

Records of virtually all foods served in boarding houses, restaurants, hotels, clubs, hospitals and institutions in the month of December must be kept for later use by the Office of Price Administration, Lee Guthrie, chairman of the Wheeler county war price and rationing board, announced today.

Such establishments should have registered with the Wheeler County war price and rationing board on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, November 23, 24, or 25 to obtain their coffee allotments for the period ending January 31, 1943, Mr. Guthrie said.

The board has now received copies of precise instructions as to the records which such institutional users of foods must keep in December, and reports based on the facts thus recorded will be required of each boarding house, restaurant, hotel, club, hospital and other institutional user after December 31.

"The OPA has explained that the facts are necessary so it may have accurate information as to the effect of the current rationing programs on the service of meals, and on the use of other foods that are not rationed," Mr. Guthrie pointed out. "It is expected that valuable information especially will be provided on the present coffee and sugar rationing programs. Boarding houses, restaurants and hotels are among the largest users of all foods, therefore they are being requested during the month of December to keep exact records of their use and sale of various foods and also of the number of meals they serve and the dollar revenue they obtain from this. The OPA expects to obtain from these reports a much clearer picture of the needs of the public and private group eating places.

The exact information that such users are requested to keep during December includes:

1. The number of persons served during December, with each person counted separately every time he eats a meal.

2. The gross dollar revenue from the service of food and non-alcoholic beverages.

3. The quantity of each of a number of specified foods used during December.

4. The quantity of each of the specified foods that is on hand at the close of business on December 31.

Foods for which records are to be kept in total pounds used are: sugar, coffee, butter, poultry; meats, including canned and edible parts such as liver, hearts and kidneys. Meats are to be listed separately by pounds for: beef, pork; veal; lamb and mutton; sausage, scrapple, luncheon meats, etc.; and canned fish. The list continues with cheese, except cottage cheese, pot cheese and bakers' cheese; margarine; lard and compound shortening; cooking and salad oil; canned soup; canned fruits and vegetables; canned fruit and vegetable juices; commercially frozen fruits and vegetables; dried or dehydrated fruits; dried peas and beans; canned evaporated and condensed milk.

Foods for which records must be kept in gallons are: fresh milk; fresh cream; and ice cream.

The weight of canned foods can be the weight given on the labels. Canned fruits and vegetables will include all those in tins, jars or bottles. Cat-sup and chili sauce should be included, but not olives, pickles, jams and jellies.

Worley Presents Editor With Copy Of Honolulu Newspaper

This week the Times' editor was presented with a copy of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin by Representative Eugene Worley, of Shamrock, member of the House from this district. Representative Worley, who held a commission of Lieut. Commander, United States Navy, and went into active service on the U. S. S. Saratoga after Pearl Harbor, and who since has returned to Washington in a response to a call by the president, brought the paper from the Hawaii Islands.

The paper is very much like the American daily and carries both United Press and American Press dispatches. Some of the major headlines appearing on the paper that was published August 10 are: "Japan's Air Losses Big", "American Aerial Blitz to Be Opened Soon", "U. S. Begins Offensive in Pacific", "Six Are Hurt in Explosion at Schofield", "Sinking of Three More Jap Liners Revealed", etc.

Keynote of what has been and is taking place in the islands is revealed in an editorial of the Star-Bulletin and reads as follows:

"SOMEWHERE ON OAHU"

You can listen to the cynics, skeptics, faint hearts and rumor peddlers around Honolulu any day in the week, including Sunday—and we've already lost the war.

Get out in the field, if you are able and permitted to do so, on Oahu or any other island, and you'll develop a different frame of mind.

A number of civilians were privileged to see an attack and defense problem somewhere on a lonely shore of Oahu Sunday morning—and they got, in the well known parlance, an eyeful.

They saw some of the fastest flying, the finest shooting and the closest coordination of air and land power to be found in the world today.

Sure—it was on a miniature scale but that scale could be tremendously magnified right on Oahu, or any other island of this group, and still there'd be plenty in reserve.

For perfectly understandable reasons, only a very few persons save those in the military or naval command can watch the army and navy in practice. Yet it's a pity that more of our civilians couldn't see the picture now and then at close range—the picture of our armed forces doing their war jobs in field, or at sea.

There'd be fewer cynics and skeptics and rumor peddlers.

Not that Hawaii seethes with these unpleasant gentry. On the contrary, they're in the small minority. But we'd like to eliminate them altogether.

Here in Honolulu we see and we feel all the rough edges back of the warmaking. Minor inconveniences are sometimes magnified to hardships. Minor errors are sometimes exaggerated to fatal mistakes. . . . Out in the

The snow did not keep many people away from church Sunday. That is an indication that most folks are becoming more interested in spiritual things than they have been. In this changing world we need to realize that does not change to fasten our faith upon. Even Sunday evening there were more people at church than we really expected. Christian soldiers should be as brave as any soldiers, and should be glad to do their duty in the face of difficulties, just as any soldier must do.

Remember our regular services next Lord's Day and Wednesday evening.

Hog Production Goal Increased for 1943

The 1943 hog call is for more and fatter hogs—15 per cent more and each one 10 pounds heavier. Recent war developments have made it necessary for Secretary of Agriculture Wickard to up the 1943 hog goal to a 15 per cent increase in farrowings over 1942's record crop. Previously the secretary had asked for an increase of 10 per cent.

At the same time, he reiterated his requests that growers market their hogs with at least 10 pounds more weight on them and that they plan farrowings so as to result in orderly marketings.

Although the Texas pork production goal has not yet been announced, B. F. Vance, Texas USDA War Board chairman, said that Texas growers would be asked to produce their share of the increase being asked.

According to Secretary Wickard's announcement, the Agricultural Marketing Administration will support prices of hogs so as to insure growers a price level of $13.25 average, Chicago basis, for good and choice grade butcher hogs weighing 240 to 270 pounds, until the fall of 1944.

ON THE HOME FRONT
Official Press Release from the Office of War Information

Here's a special message to the farmers, stock raisers and dairymen of the Southwest from the Office of Defense Transportation.

No farmer is to be put out of business as a result of the ODT's Certificate of War Necessity plan.

As long as the tires, spare parts and gasoline are available, the ODT will help every farmer get enough tires, spare parts and gasoline to carry on his necessary truck operations.

Any farmers who are dissatisfied with the amount of mileage and gasoline allowed in his Certificate of War Necessity for his truck or trucks should take the matter up immediately with his county agent, his county war board or his county farm transportation committee.

If the agency contacted is convinced that any farmer should have been granted more mileage and gasoline, it will recommend that a revised Certificate be issued.

This recommendation will be made to the ODT district manager serving the county in which the farmer lives.

Farmers who have received Certificates allowing them sufficient mileage and gasoline for a limited period are urged to delay filing appeals with their county farm transportation committees until those whose Certificates contain obvious errors have been taken care of.

If a Certificate does not contain an obvious error, the farmer's OPA war price and rationing board will grant him a gasoline ration in an amount provided by the Certificate. In accepting such a ration, the farmer does not forfeit his right to appeal for an additional gasoline allowance later. Appeals may be filed at any time.

If a farmer has received a Certificate which does not allow enough gasoline to operate the mileage allowed in the Certificate or which contains other errors obvious on the face of the Certificate, the farmer should do two things.

First, he should go to his OPA war price and rationing board, present his Certificate and ask for a temporary transport ration. This ration will be granted by the OPA board, giving the farmer enough gasoline to operate until January 1.

Then the farmer should take his Certificate to his county agent, county war board or county farm transportation committee and point out that an error apparently has been made. The agency then will take up the case with the proper ODT district office.

In this drive to save rubber, Southwest OPA officials have moved quickly in every instance to take care of emergency situations and to keep the wheels of transportation rolling. Truck operators, passenger car fleet operators, and non-highway users of gasoline have been authorized to purchase gasoline on OPA's emergency form, R-555, or to use any slip of paper as long as the operator signs his name, and address, his vehicle registration number, and the amount of gasoline obtained. This action was taken to care for only the operators who have not yet secured their ration books from hard-working local boards, and will be in effect only until they have secured their books.

It never has been the purpose of OPA or any other agency to keep essential mileage users off the road. The Government is only trying to look ahead—to be sure that these same operators are still on the road a year from now, or two or three years from now. If unnecessary travel continues and trucks and cars continue to drop off the road at the clip which they have been dropping off, the Government will have failed in its duty to the people of this country of keeping vital transportation rolling. Foresightedness now may save us much grief in the future.

Coffee drinkers who failed to get their war ration book No. 1 (sugar ration book) must file an application with their local war price and rationing board by December 15, in order to purchase coffee, and that date is the last date on which ration stamp No. 9 may be used to buy sugar. Book No. 1 is necessary not only for securing coffee now, but must be presented to local boards around the first of the year in order to receive war ration book No. 2.

Cpl. Jeff Griffin will leave this week end for Fort Bliss, Texas, where he is stationed. He was called to Wheeler several days ago by the serious illness and death of his father, A. B. Griffin. Lt. Joe B. Griffin returned to his post at Fort Belvoir Virginia, the first of the week.

Farmers Asked To Repair Machinery

If you are wondering whether there will be time to get everything done when next spring's work begins take a tip from Jake Tarter, Wheeler County Agricultural Agent, and put your machinery in the best of condition this winter.

You should have time to do it, and if it is done you'll save a lot of precious time after planting begins, says Tarter.

Almost any farmer can set up an efficient workshop especially if he has electric power, and do much of his repair work readily. Besides repairing, sharpening and painting field machinery, he can overhaul the milk-er, washing machine and other pieces of farm and home equipment—just as extra insurance so it will give full service during the war period.

Motor-driven equipment, if available, will increase the usefulness of the farm repair shop and speed up work . . . for example, a high-speed grinder with wire buffer and sanding disk attachments is most useful and economical because it saves time in sharpening and cleaning tools. A hand drill is another time saver because it can be used without removing the part from the machine. The handy farmer can put together useful power tools for himself, using non-critical materials lying around the place.

The situation will be critical next year. All farm machinery and equipment, excepting repair parts, were frozen on Nov. 1. But over-hauling and repairing the machinery you have will save a lot of headaches in the farming business next year. So Tarter suggests that you check over your machinery at once and order replacement parts. You can also do blacksmithing before the rush repair season begins.

In many cases the person who is worrying for fear he may lose his mind, wouldn't miss it if he did.

A lie is a poor substitute for the truth, but up to now it is apparently the only substitute that has been discovered.

Second World War.

People do not care any more what they say or call anyone than if there never was a command from God not to use his name in vain. Evil thoughts are what is the matter with all the world and the people. Some people still care what they say and some still try to live the way all people should, and especially the people that call themselves Christians. People will go to Church and pretend to be the best, and when they get out of the Church house they start their cursing and speaking evil of people; but still they wonder what is the matter with the world.

Evil thoughts, not caring, and leaving God out of our plans is what is wrong with the world. If people would think twice of what they are saying they would not say what they do. We condemn other people for the way they talk and still talk the same way.

Should sin and evil thoughts continue?

Whooping Cough One of the Hardest Diseases to Control

Commenting today on the control of communicable diseases, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said that whooping cough is one of the hardest of the so-called children's diseases to control. This is because it is a highly contagious disease which begins as an ordinary cough and is often not recognized until the child has exposed other neighborhood children. Whooping cough is contagious during the week or ten days preceding the easily recognized symptom known as the "whoop." Even when the disease has been recognized, often a physician is not called and children are allowed to play with others when they are known to be sick.

In children under the age of three years, whooping cough can be very dangerous and is often fatal. Frequent spells of coughing and vomiting weaken the child to such an extent that he easily becomes a victim of some complicating disease such as pneumonia. Whooping cough complicated by pneumonia is so dangerous to young children that it is advisable to call a doctor as soon as the child becomes sick.

"Do everything you can to protect children from whooping cough," Dr. Cox said. "Keep them away from playmates who have colds, especially when whooping cough is prevalent in the community. Teach children not to put into their mouths objects which have been handled by others and be sure that they wash their hands before eating. If, in spite of your precaution, your child appears to be catching whooping cough, call your doctor at once."

WAR changes a famous slogan

FOR THE DURATION, a famous and friendly slogan goes into retirement.

With gasoline being rationed to lengthen the calendar life of your tires and thus conserve the Nation's war-time stock-pile of rubber, we no longer invite you to Phillip-up with Phillips.

But you are still as welcome as ever at any Phillips 66 Service Station. The Phillips man is anxious to get and hold your business, even though your gasoline purchases are greatly reduced.

If anything, he is more anxious than ever to give you those pleasant, friendly services which make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. That is his way of showing his appreciation for your business. And more, he has pledged himself to "Keep 'em Rolling", as a patriotic duty.

In the meantime, hundreds of Phillips research workers and many thousands of production employees are speeding up their good work for victory. With Phillips vast resources of raw materials, their efforts have made the company one of the largest suppliers of 100 octane aviation gasoline to the Army Air Corps, the Navy, and the United Nations' air forces; have made the company an important participant in the U. S. synthetic rubber program.

Remember these facts, and drive in where you see the Orange and Black 66 Shield. That's where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil . . . two famous products which are everything you can expect in times like these, when the needs of Uncle Sam's fighting forces naturally come first.

P.S. In place of our slogan at the bottom of this advertisement, we have placed a slogan that is yours, ours, and every American's.
