THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1943

During the recent years while the pendulum of political strategy was swinging in favor of beneficent labor laws and increased regulation of business, vote-seeking politicians have time and again stepped across the line in their capacity of lawmakers to show open-armed favoritism to certain groups, principally labor.

Out of the welter came such laws as the Wagner Act, the National Labor Relations Act, the Guffey Coal Act, and others. These laws were drawn to appeal to the votes of organized labor. Justice and the national welfare were ignored. Labor racketeering and strikes increased. Evil as they are, especially in wartime, something worse has come of the class-conscious legislative thinking that has ruled Washington—a frightening admiration for personal government has sprung up within the groups which politicians have patronized. If this admiration prevails indefinitely, our republic will perish, for it was founded on a government of law, not of men—and its laws must be just if it is to survive. Government seizure of the nation's coal mines is only superficially attributable to the war. Under constant politically-inspired labor strife, it would have come eventually anyway. At last an important segment of the private enterprise system has been engulfed. As long as the coal mines remain under the total control of government, their former owners together with the miners are operating under a system of state socialism. If we want the system to expand and become a permanent substitute for capitalism, we have only to sit back and continue along the path we have been following. At its end there is neither private enterprise nor labor unions.

Congress should move immediately to amend or remove every law which deliberately favors labor or any other single group.

We have read much of the attempts of the War Production Board to make available to the civilian population increased quantities of civilian goods which shortages have been critical. For example, it is difficult for the average person to realize the function of the galvanized wash tub to millions of our people. Over half the homes of America are without bathrooms, and the galvanized tub, used for laundry, is the only bathing facility for the family. Despite this need, however, there has been for many months an acute shortage of large galvanized tubs.

This situation is cited to illustrate the importance of renewing supplies of essential domestic items which the majority of our citizens must eat, wear and use in order to maintain the morale and health of the country. Only the local storekeeper and the people affected know the importance of such items.

Mistakes are inevitable in establishing any rationing program of food and commodity supplies, but the time for correction has arrived, and wash-tubs point the way.

The Nazis must find the news from subjugated countries especially revolting.

An optimist is any person who starts out to work a crossword puzzle with pen and ink.

TIME TO INVESTIGATE

Boyhood Memories
I've never especially cared for magnolias. It goes back to my boyhood. There was a magnolia tree in the yard. Overnight, that tree could—and would—shed hundreds of leaves. It was my task to rake them up. Then, next morning, there would be as many leaves as ever littering up the lawn. I visited the place after an absence of thirty years and the old tree was still there and so were the leaves in the yard.

Did you read those nickle thrillers—Wild West, Buffalo Bill, Diamond Dick and Nick Carter?

Movies are alright—but a magic lantern show was a real treat in the good old days.

And did you ever "play show" in the barn? We had a real professional troupe because we actually charged money, and not pins, for admission. When we presented "Jesse James", you had to pay two cents to get in.

My first school principal had a crooked index finger. He must have broken it and then it failed to knit back properly. Anyway, it was permanently bent. The shape of the finger made it a very simple matter for the educator to yank a boy out of his seat by the collar.

Almost eight years ago, your columnist had the pleasure of interviewing H. P. Drought of San Antonio, just beginning his work as state administrator of the Works Progress Administration, and I was impressed by his courtesy and ability. The other day, the work came to an end after he had directed the expenditure of a third of a billion dollars, employing a total of 600,000 persons—a truly gigantic undertaking. Construction of strategic highways and many airports fitted into our war needs; 80,000 adult Texans were taught to read and write, to name just a few of the activities. Mr. Drought sums it up, "The successful efforts of WPA workers to find work for themselves, when private industry made jobs available, justifies completely this nation's faith in them."

"Hero Of World War II"

Dedicated to the Memory of Sergeant Grady Anglin

America has had her heroes
In days of long ago, who Gave their lives for freedom
Like those of the Alamo.

Their names are found in History, and the story still is told
Of
How they fought 'till the last
Men that fell with courage strong and bold!

Dear Friends, if you will listen,
A story I will tell
Of a noble, brave young hero
Who on Freedom's Battle fell.

This brave young Texas hero
Of courage and renown
Grew up in Wheeler County,
Just East of Wheeler town.

He was radio operator and gunner
On an Army Bomber plane.
I am happy to introduce him, Sergeant
Grady Anglin, is his name.

He was never wild and reckless,
Like many young men are.
His life as a loyal citizen
Shines like a morning star

He was born of Christian parents
And taught the Word of God;
So at an early age in life
He surrendered to the Lord.

His soul was in God's keeping
Friends, that is the reason why
He did not fear the enemy
And not afraid to die.

Some where on the far North continent
Of the land he loved so well
Bravely fighting for his country
Our noble hero fell.

On the Fifteenth day of April,
Nineteen
Hundred and Forty-three his
Happy soul went to God
To live ETERNALLY.

We know the very moment
This brave Lad went down,
He exchanged a Sergeant's uniform
For a shining robe and crown.

Bright angels are his buddies now
And with loved ones gone before
He is marching under Heaven's flag
On the happy golden shore.

Our hearts so sadly miss him
Since from us he has gone,
But the influence of his Christian
Life will still live on and on.

Dear God, please help his fair young Wife whose heart is racked with Pain, to understand, that her
Great loss is only Heaven's gain.
(Written by G. W. Simmons, Grady's friend and former pastor)

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on the Times' exchange list.

The Panhandle may have some good row crops and a good wheat yield after all, based on moisture that fell last week.

In the Panhandle, where we seldom have a surplus of rain, it is said that every wheat crop has to be lost four or five times by drouth before the land is harvested.

Few areas in the Panhandle can expect the average yield that they had in 1942 because of the heavy moisture received in the fall of 1941.

Anyway, it pays never to sell the Panhandle short. It will pay off in farming for those that work and have the courage to stick it out.—Panhandle Herald.

Aren't women fickle! You never understand them. Today they are sweet and lovable, and kind and considerate, tomorrow they have forgotten you, have their mind on other men and wouldn't give a snap of their little finger for your attention.—Dalhart Texan.

Conceived in an hour of desperation, my Victory garden has produced one discouraged radish, two blisters and nine chiggers. As the season advances I hope to double production.—Matador Tribune.

Did you hear the one about the county agent who called on a farmer raising hogs exclusively and asked him "Do you find that raising hogs is as profitable as crops?" "No," replied the farmer, "but hogs don't have to be hoed."—Paducah Post.

Recently Italian prisoners captured in the fighting in North Africa were shipped to the United States and a number of them were sent to the internment camp located at Hereford. We understand that the prisoners all wore shorts, coming from a warm climate, and nearly froze when they arrived during our cold spring snap.—Tulia Herald.

It is evident from the speech of Prime Minister Churchill that the Allies are not entirely ready for a Second Front. Heavy bombings will continue until such a time that invasion will be safe and profitable. Hitler has demonstrated that mass murder by attacking objectives which are impossible to take is the worst kind of military tactics. Invasion might be possible, but it might cost more in men and material than the Allied command thought profitable. In other words the Allied leaders are human enough to count the cost in life before undertaking any objective. The wise use of fighting strength is the thing which eventually wins wars. It is feared that American morale will degenerate unless a Second Front is opened this year, in which case the delay would be very costly. The greatest damage comes from the fact that delay means the possibility of less help from the overrun nations of Europe since Hitler is systematically wiping out the populations of these countries by starvation and privation. At best we must let the military leaders run the war, even if laymen are not satisfied.—Canyon News.

One prime difference in the present farm land boom and that of following the last war is that buyers are paying all or nearly all cash and do not have just small equity for a bad market or a few bad crop years to liquidate. If a man owns in fee and has some money to operate on, it makes a huge difference, with this exception: That he must make twice as much to make a farm pay that costs him $50 per acre as to make one pay that cost $25. Or is that just another idea we have.—Homer Sten in the Floydada Hesperian.

Van Stewart's Ochiltree County Herald is a big value each week, but last week when we opened the wrapper an ounce of sugar sifted out. If Mr. Stewart is going to make a practice of sweetening his paper, we would like to know in advance so we can save the sugar and not get it all over the office floor.—McLean News.

Home-canned Pineapple

(By Murlie Scales)

In canning fresh pineapple special care must be taken to save the Vitamin C, which is necessary in our diet. This vitamin is easily destroyed by exposure to air and to, too high a temperature.

Therefore the water bath method of canning is preferred to that of the pressure cooker for canning pineapple. This food contains acid and will keep easily if sealed hot and processed in a water bath the required length of time.

A water bath canner may easily be arranged at home. Any large kettle with a rack or false bottom and a tight fitting lid may be used. A wash boiler, small tub, a bucket, or a roaster may serve the purpose. Or a pressure cooker may be used if you leave the petcock open so that the temperature will not go higher than the boiling point. The kettle should be deep enough to allow covering the cans or jars with 1 to 2 inches of water.

Can the pineapple when the spines pull out readily. Cut off stem end and twist out the top. Cut one-half inch slices. Peel each slice. Remove core. Place each slice in cold water to prevent loss of vitamin C until ready to pack in jars. Cook core and trimmings with water. Strain and make syrup with this juice. Use one-third to one-half cup of sugar to each cup of juice for the syrup.

Pack the cold raw fruit into hot jars and pour syrup over the fruit within 1 or 2 inches of the top. Place the jars in the water bath which has been previously prepared and heated. The water should be about 3 inches below the rim of the jar so that no water will bubble into the container. Cover the water bath kettle with a lid. Count steaming time as soon as the steam comes out around the edges of the water bath cooker. Steam for five to ten minutes according to the ripeness of the fruit.

At the end of the steaming period remove container from the water bath. Press food down. Remove air bubbles. If container is not full, use fruit from one can to fill each of the others. Have fruit well covered with liquid. Leave one-fourth inch head-space for jars.

Seal containers and return to water bath. Add more hot water until it comes one inch over the top of the jars. Process for 28 minutes.

For further information concerning the pineapple see the county home demonstration agent and receive a new canning bulletin.

NOTICE:

Will the person who borrowed the pressure cooker thermometer from the Home Demonstration Office last August please return it? Others need it. 25-1tp.

MOVIE CHATTER

(By a Rogue)

Land Of The Open Range
Friday-Saturday, June 4-5, brings Tim Holt and Ray Whitley to the Rogue in another good western thriller. This time it is "Land of the Open Range" and there will be plenty of good cowboy singing and music, to say nothing of the story and hair-raising action. You are assured of enjoying yourself.

Lum and Abner
For Prevue-Sunday-Monday, June 5-6-7, the Rogue offers Lum and Abner in their newest picture called "Two Weeks to Live". If you have ever seen Lum and Abner on the screen you will be there. And if you enjoy them on the radio you should come out and really meet them so that you will get more enjoyment out of their radio performances. We guarantee that they will really entertain you in "Two Weeks to Live". You will be calling for more pictures like it. And why not? A few good laughs will help anyone at this time when the world is too much with us.

Life Begins At Eight-Thirty
Monty Woolley and Ida Lupino

furnish the stellar roles in "Life Begins at Eight-thirty. This is Monty Woolley's third picture. You will remember him in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and also in "Pied Piper". Ida Lupino has been seen in a number of outstanding attractions. So with the two stars in the same picture, we believe you will enjoy this, their newest vehicle. Come out and give it a try. Wednesday-Thursday, June 9-10.

WHAT SAY YOU?

For the fruits of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth; proving what is acceptable unto the Lord. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. For it is a shame never to speak of those things which are done of them in secret. Ephesians 5 9-10-11-12

County Agent Tarter Says Don't Get Caught With Your Points Down

County Agricultural agent Jake Tarter states this week that point rationing is the order of the day and urges persons not to neglect to keep their points straight as food is the most important item in these days of war. Below he lists the "Don'ts" in regard to the food situation:

DON'T fail to plant that plot to late vegetables, as the records gathered prove that 20 cents in seed bring $6.40 in food.

DON'T neglect early pullets and think they can just be run along for awhile as profitable pullets are pullets developed straight along with a balanced ration at all times.

DON'T neglect to have clean water for all poultry and livestock as water is the only source of moisture for any animal except man.

DON'T dope livestock or poultry until some trouble shows up. Then get a proper diagnosis before giving too much treatment.

DON'T let acres lay idle. Plant and grow crops for war. If one has more acres than they can tend let some neighbor have the excess acres and they will grow a necessary crop.

DON'T fail to grow beef, pork or fowls for food as points are not necessary when one is feeding on their own production. Even beef or pork is not under point regulation for one who grows their own. If they buy points are necessary and one should, just as a patriotic duty, observe the Share the Meat program by rationing the amount they eat per person per week.

DON'T waste time or material during these war days as time is valuable and should be used in production or conservation of war materials.

DON'T forget or neglect to register for farm labor, whether needed in crop production or small grain harvest, cotton chopping or fall harvest. The Farm Labor Movement will start soon and all are urged to cooperate in getting labor by registering when the time comes so we will know how much seasonal labor to order in.

Mrs. Lemmie Day and son, James Lee, of Wetumka, visited from Monday until Wednesday in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Guthrie and son Marion Lee. Visiting in the Guthrie homes Tuesday and Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Edmondson of Tipton, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Guthrie and son Gail of Erick, Oklahoma and Mrs. L. H. Dirickson and niece Paula Dirickson of Matador.

Processed Foods—Blue stamps G, H and J remain valid through June 7. K, L, M, will continue good through July 7.

More Canned Foods For Civilians
 Civilians will gain 30 million cases of canned fruits and vegetables as a result of reduced government requirements. The reductions are mainly for corn, peas, spinach, tomatoes, snap beans, fruit cocktail, sweet cherries, peaches, pineapple, and pineapple juice. Since the 1943 production is not known, current point values for these items will not be immediately affected.

Pay Off Farm Debts
 Increased revenue from crops and livestock should be used to pay off farm debts, said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard recently. He emphasized that the payment of outstanding obligations, along with as large an investment as possible in war bonds, is a sound protection for the future.

Food For 3-Day Furlough
 A serviceman on leave or furlough of at least 3 days hereafter will be provided with a complete application form for obtaining rationed food before he leaves camp. He will give the application to the person who provides his meals, who will submit it to the local board for food certificates within fifteen days after the furlough ends.

Further Cheese Rationing
 To conserve supplies of milk, rationing will be extended to include all cheeses and cheese products, except cottage, bakers, and pot cheese, the War Food Administration and OPA have announced. All hard cheeses and most cheese foods have been rationed since March 29. Early in June soft perishable cheeses such as cream cheese, neufchatel, camembert, liederkrantz, brie, and blue cheese are to be added to the ration list.

Women Must Work
 By December, 1943, one-third of the female population of working age—17.4 million women—will be required for the civilian labor force and the armed forces, said WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt. At least 2 million women must be added to the labor forces in 1943.

Lower Potato Prices 7 Percent
 Consumers ceiling prices on potatoes have been decreased about 7 percent according to a recent OPA announcement. At the same time, the price paid growers was increased 30 cents per hundredweight on the 1943 early crop.

Sugar Supply For 1943
 On the basis of prospective 1943 supplies of sugar, the current level of consumption in this country probably can be maintained, the War Food Administration has announced. The allocation of the prospective supply will be as follows: 1,153,000 tons to the armed forces, Lend-Lease and other exports, and 4,600,000 tons for civilian uses. The civilian uses include an estimated 2,258,000 tons for household use and home canning, and 2,342,000 tons for industrial and institutional uses.

Stocking Regulations
 OPA's new regulation setting definite maximum prices on rayon stockings is based on construction, which in turn governs quality. All full-fashioned rayon hosiery sold at retail must be marked with the ceiling price and gauge or needle count. Gauge and needle count govern wearability, not sheerness. First quality, full-fashioned rayon hosiery prices now range from 71 cents to $1.31. Hosiery with special features such as "non-run", or mesh, reinforced heel, sole and welt, etc., are now priced from 98 cents to $1.67. Irregulars, seconds and thirds are cheaper.

First quality circular knit rayon hosiery prices range from 28 cents to 64 cents. Hosiery with special features is priced from 36 to 66 cents and irregulars, seconds and thirds for less.

Teachers Can Take Summer Jobs
 School teachers will not be prevented from taking jobs at higher pay under WMC regulation No. 4, the "hold the line" order, nor will they endanger their regular position by working during the summer vacation in war plants, agriculture or necessary civilian services, said Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission recently.

Price Support For Butter
 Dairy farmers have been assured that wholesale prices of butter will continue to be supported by a level equivalent to 46 cents a pound, Chicago basis, until June 30, 1944, by the War Food Administration. The support was pledged last December at the time farmers were called upon to meet 1943 production goals.

Prices Set On Pressure Canners
 Specific ceilings on three war models of pressure canners have been announced by OPA. Except in the far western zone, the consumer will pay $13.90 for the National model, $14.90 for the Wisconsin model and $15.90 for the Burpee. In the far western zone prices are 60 cents higher because of transportation costs. Production of another 125,000 pressure cookers has been authorized by WPB, bringing the total during 1943 to about 275,000, more than in any other year.

Maternity Care Provided
 Wives of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed forces can now get maternity care plus medical, hospital, and nursing care for their babies in 23 states without cost to the family, the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor has announced. To apply for such aid the wife must fill out a form secured from the State Health Department. Additional states are expected to have approved programs soon.

Mileage For Scrap Tires
 To obtain additional mileage from tires that can be made servicable with the addition of liners, the Office of Rubber Director has excluded reusable tire carcasses from rubber scrap going to reclaiming plants. Because of this order some half-million otherwise unusable tires can be placed in service through the Defense Supplies Corporation.

Lumber For Farms
 To relieve lumber shortages on farms for all repairs except those to farm dwellings, WPB has set aside a total of 500 million board feet of lumber for delivery on an AA-2 preference rating during June, July, August and September. Farmers who cannot obtain lumber with present ratings, should apply to the county farm rationing committee for certificates to purchase lumber for maintenance, repair and new construction necessary to the food production program.

Canning Workers Needed
 About 400,000 workers for the food canning and processing industry will be needed at the peak season this year. Canning is essentially a seasonal, home town industry, manned by local workers—youths, housewives, mechanics, and others—who normally work at other occupations during the rest of the year.

Food Dealers Well Off
 Under the community-wide dollars and cents ceilings now being established, food retailers and wholesalers will continue to enjoy the most favorable economic position on record, says OPA. The volume of business done, dollars margin over cost, and profits before taxes stand today at high levels, a favorable situation reflected in the fact that business failures are currently at the lowest point in a half a century.

Saving On Farm Fertilizer
 Farmers who use nitrogenous fertilizers—used mainly for top-soil reconditioning—will be saving approximately $225,000 within a year by the six percent freight reductions which became effective May 15, 1943. This saving will chiefly affect sales and purchases next year, since most farmers have already bought their 1943 requirements. The individual's saving will depend upon his location and upon the delivery system of the seller.

Frills Removed From Women's Wear
 A clothing conservation program adopted by WPB will affect every branch of the women's and children's outdoor industry. Manufacture of dresses is now subject to two controls, square-inch limitations on the amount which may be used for trimmings, collars, pockets etc., and restrictions on size and designs of the trimmings, and control of the basic silhouette to specified measurements of length, sweep, hip, hem, etc., listed in amended order L-58.

Rubber Boots For Workers
 Rubber boots are now available to the following classes of workers; miners, loggers, communications linemen, construction workers, oil drillers, quarry workers and clay extractors. Formerly only loggers and miners were on the eligible list. Applicants must show ration board a definite occupational need for rubber boots, but a purchaser is no longer

GROW A TUB GARDEN

By Betty Sue Bownds

There are ways of growing tomatoes, peppers, squash and cucumbers during the hot, dry part of the summer. The tub garden method has been tried and found successful.

Get an old tub, several gallon cans, or cut a discarded oil drum in half. Cut long slashes about half way from the bottom, four or five to the tub, or three or four to the gallon can. Sink the lower two-thirds of the tub into the ground convenient to a water supply. Fill the tub to the ground level with barnyard manure and cover with an inch or of good soil. Pour in water until the tub is full.

It is important to select a drought resistant variety of tomatoes and sturdy plants. Set the tomato plants opposite each gash and about eight to ten inches from the sides of the tub. About ten to twelve inches farther out and between the tomato plants, set four or five bell pepper plants. Around other tubs or buckets try squash, cucumbers, or cantaloupe. Water thoroughly through the tub two or three times weekly, and keep the weeds down. In extremely hot weather provide a shade and wind-break made of old sacks tacked on poles.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dysart and children of Ft. Worth, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. David Dysart of Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. A. B. McPherson of Canadian, Texas and Carey Dysart of Mobeetie visited their sister, Mrs. Alwyn Savage the past week.

Mrs. Pauline Wright left Thursday for Vermont, Texas after visiting two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Schaub.

required to turn in worn-out rubber footwear when he buys a new pair.

Extra Meat Rations
 Loggers, miners, prospectors, fishermen, sheepherders and others who live or work far from population centers and who cannot supplement their meats-fats rations with fresh fish, poultry and eggs can get extra points for rationed meats and fats by two new OPA amendments.

Sausage Regulations
 The Price of some of the beef ingredients used in sausage manufacture has been rolled back from 3-8 cents to 1-1-2 cents a pound, effective June 1.

Tucker, Forrestburg, Texas and two sisters, Mrs. Fay Wilson, Oilton, Okla and Mrs. J. W. Paynor, Forrestburg. The latter was unable to attend the services.
 Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by the pastor, Rev. John A. English, assisted by O. O. Holliday, pastor of the Baptist Church.
 Huge masses of lovely floral offering and a vast concourse of sorrowing friends and acquaintances bore mute testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Clarence Dyson, Edward Meek, Roscoe Meek and C. J. Meek sang "Where the Roses Never Fade" and the entire choir sang several selections.
 Flower bearers were Misses Lucille Hutchison, Mary Ruth Vinson, Geneva Davis, Elva Willard and Mesdames Bronson Green, Verna Harcastle and Ernest Dyer.
 Pall bearers were Pymon Martin, Percy Farmer, Roy Bailey, Ernest Lee, Clarence Dyson, Bob Rodgers, Ebb Farmer and Amos May.
 Other out of town relatives attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Galmor, Whitesboro, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Galmor and son, Mobeetie; W. W. Galmor, Forrestburg; Bert Galmor, Forrestburg; Mrs. Alice Moncreaf, Milburn, Oklahoma, and many others.
 Interment was made in the Wheeler Cemetery under the direction of the Hunt Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

In our hours of bereavement we have found friends by our side comforting us and sharing our grief. For this we shall be eternally grateful. Words seem feeble in trying to express how each word of sympathy, each act of kindness, and the bountiful floral offerings have helped quiet our troubled hearts. We especially wish to express our thanks to the nurses at the Hospital for their courtesies and all who helped in any way.

News From Boys

one. Burgess, Wallace, Green, Dysart and the boys from Amarillo are fine. We meet for a conference almost every night; they are swell pals. Well, we still haven't heard when we will move. Of course, we wouldn't, but I'm sure we won't get to come back to the states. Imagine we will keep moving with the Marines. Seems that we are a part of them now.

I went to Sunrise Service Easter morning. Sure enjoyed it. First time I have been to church in a long time; should be ashamed, but guess I'm a little denominational. I just can't get interested in the kind of services we have. Sunday morning was the first time I had heard a protestant chaplain since I left the states.

I see Wayne Fox ever once in awhile. He looks well and is doing fine. Its always a thrill to see any of the boys from home. I'm sending a clipping which everyone should read.

I'm feeling just fine. Don't worry about me. I appreciate your prayers. Love,
 James Allen Tucker

The clipping Tucker sent to his family is as follows:

"I am a mother's son. I am the pride of a family and part of a home. I love my life as you love yours. I'm a youth in years and experience in life, yet I'm a gambler, betting the highest stakes that a man can wager, my life. If I win, you win, if I lose, I have lost all. The loss is mine not yours; and there is a grieving mother, a saddened family and a broken home to which I can never return.

"I ask only for God-speed and support of my nation in return for laying upon the altar of my country my all. For bravery and blood will you furnish bullets and bread? Will you pawn your shekels if I pawn myself? Will you bet your gold while I bet my blood? Will you hazard your wealth while I risk my life? I am the flower of a nation's manhood, the glory of a noble race. I am the American sailor."

Mrs. Lucille Whiteley of Oakland, California has forwarded the following letter from her son Pfc C. W. Whiteley, Jr., who is stationed at Topeka, Kansas.

Dear Mom:

This is a pretty nice field but is just too far from home, but maybe one of these days soon, I will get out that way. If I can get a few days off maybe I can catch a plane out there. There are planes leaving here everyday for Tucson, Arizona, Hamilton Field and other places along the coast out there, and I don't think they mind letting a fellow ride.

Don't worry about me for I am happy here and don't want you to think I am going to be shipped across anytime soon, because it looks like I might be stuck here or somewhere in this vicinity for the duration. All the boys that are here are just the same thing that I am, and I have been here for several months. The thing that I am going into is tower control work. That means I will (after I learn a little more about it) be guiding air traffic at some field. I don't like it myself as I would rather go across before the other guys have all the fun and get this thing over with.

How about L. D.? Does he think he'll be coming home pretty soon? We all hope so, don't we? Is Warren still in that vicinity, or has he been shipped out and what about the rest of our service family? Do you keep in touch with any of them? Well I've 'writ' all I know. Answer soon, Love,

C. W. Whiteley, Jr.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to let you know my change of address. I really enjoy the home town paper. It lets me know of all the news in Wheeler and surrounding towns. I can also keep up with all of my friends in the service of the U. S. by reading the "News for the Boys in Service" column. I think that is the best feature in the paper so keep up the good work. I guess that by this time Floyd Sheffield is in the army. I think I am going to like this place even if the sun is hot. I got out in the sun two hours yesterday with out a shirt and today my back feels like I slept in a bed of coals.

"YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT NOW DO YOUR BEST!"

DURING the first year of our toughest war, we—trained a lot of men—made a lot of fighting tools—built a lot of shipping.

And to help pay for it all, we bought War Bonds. Altogether, 50 millions of us bought War Bonds. And nearly 30 millions of us started putting, on the average, 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds every payday through the Payroll Savings Plan.

That was a good start. But, it was only a start. What we did in '42 is not enough for '43!

We've got to do more fighting this year. We've got to do more building, more training, more shipping and more saving.

We've got to buy more War Bonds.

Is that too much to ask? Many of us are making more money than we have made for years. The things we'd like to buy with that money have either disappeared or are as "scarce as hen's teeth." So, why not put that money into War Bonds at good interest—$4 for every $3 when the Bonds mature? Money to help pay for the war—keep prices down—provide peacetime jobs and peacetime goods and a generally decent world for all of us when the war is won.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. See if you can't boost your antel
