Doing a little job of unloading at the Enders-Cushing Cushing ranch, southeast of Big Spring, the drilling crew are working with a fishing job. Fishing tools have been used and it is almost certain that they will be recovered in the next few days.

Railway Labor Board Ruling

The Railway Labor Board has made a ruling extending the operation of the national agreements which it previously directed should terminate July 1st. This permits pay to continue as at present until agreements between employing roads and their men are reached regarding the wage slash. In a measure, the new ruling was expected to eliminate a possibility of an immediate countrywide rail strike, for by indefinitely extending the national agreement and keeping pay for an eight hour day basis on present levels, an opportunity will be afforded those lines which have not reached terms with their men to continue negotiations.

In a new ruling the board eliminated overtime pay at the rate of time and a half for all work over an eight hour day.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Mrs. W. F. Fahrenkamp Entertains.

Mrs. Wm. F. Fahrenkamp entertained a number of friends at Bridge Thursday afternoon and a more pleasurable occasion could not have been planned.

After the series of interesting games of Bridge the guests were treated to delicious refreshments.

Four tables of players took part in the games and everyone reports an especially jolly time.

Prize Fight Bulletin

A bulletin giving the result of the Dempsey-Carpenter contest for the world's championship of the heavy-weight prize fighters will be posted at the store of J. & W. Fisher about 3:30 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

If you are interested in this contest be present and learn the result when the bulletin is posted.

J. S. Meriwether and H. A. Cordill attended the barbecue and celebration at Sterling City Wednesday and report a big crowd and a jolly time. They say the barbecue meat was the best ever and more than enough for the big crowd. A fine program of sports, good roping, steer riding, and broncho riding afforded entertainment for the crowd.

IMPROVEMENTS AT FISHER'S STORE

The Fixtures Put in by This Firm Will Add Greatly to the Appearance of Their Store

It's a long trail from the little frame store, located about where the steam laundry is now located, in which the firm of J. & W. Fisher started in business in Big Spring, away back in 1882, to their present modern department store. From this frame structure with a floor space of 2,000 square feet to their present quarters of 20,000 square feet their success can be accounted for in rendering A No. 1 service to their customers.

Not satisfied with things as they are, but always on the lookout to improve quality and service this progressive firm has recently completed installing modern fixtures, and rearranging departments in order to make each department complete within itself and afford customers the greatest convenience and privacy in shopping.

This new equipment added, not only protects the clothing and fabrics from damage due to dust and repeated handling, but enables the salespeople to more efficiently attend to their customers. The revolving dust-proof wardrobes in the ladies ready-to-wear and gents furnishing departments are the most up-to-date and modern fixtures that can be secured. The increased floor space made available and the fine distribution of light makes for comfort and satisfaction to the shopper.

Then too, there are alcoves, electrically lighted and lined with mirrors so customers may see themselves as others see them; fitting rooms, and a French or sales room where privacy is assured between the salespeople and the customers. A Baby Department, done in ivory and with everything under one glass and in which can be found a complete stock of everything needed in the way of clothing for an infant up to a four year old, is an innovation and we doubt if there is anything like it in any store in West Texas.

The plan to make every department separate and complete is appreciated and is a great aid to the sales force as well as to customers, and many are the compliments that are now being handed this progressive firm.

The next time you have occasion to be down town visit this store and note the big improvement that has been made. The entire store seems more roomy, better lighted and the sales force are not bumping into each other or trying to crowd between overloaded cases and counters. Visit the Shoe Department, the Ready to Wear, the Baby Department, the Men's Furnishing Department and you can form a better idea of the big improvements that have been made.

The Ladies' Rest Room will continue to be an attractive feature at this store and will now be located just north of the office.

It does one good to see a firm such as that of J. & W. Fisher going ahead making improvements in the face of what most folks seem to consider most discouraging conditions, but Fisher's have been here long enough to know that Big Spring is established on a solid foundation, it's going to come thru the reconstruction period in good shape and we are going to be enjoying prosperous times again.

"Keep everlastingly at it" has been the motto of the firm of J. & W. Fisher and with them this motto has spelled success.

Effect on Cotton

Cotton values on the New York Cotton Exchange shrank a total of 227 points during the period of the British coal strike, July in New York opened on April 1, the day the strike was declared, at 12.72c. On June 20, this month reached the low point for the season, when it was quoted at 10.45c or 227 points below the opening quotation on April 1. The opening quotation on June 28, the day of the settlement of the strike, was 11.40c, it having gained back 95 points from the low point.

H. C. Carr Sells Ranch and Cattle.

Howell C. Carr of the Vincent community is now visiting his son northwest of this city. Mr. Carr recently sold his ranch, consisting of 1290 acres of land and about one hundred and seventy-five head of cattle to Grady Guffy of Breckenridge. Mr. Guffy took charge of the ranch last week and Mr. Carr will visit here until he decides on his plans for the future.

Misses Villa and Wanda True will leave Sunday for a visit in Lubbock.

J. L. Wood Dead

The announcement of the death of J. L. Woods was received with deep sorrow by the many friends of the family in Big Spring.

Mr. Woods died at San Antonio, where he was undergoing medical treatment, at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 27th.

His death was due to cancer of the bladder and his condition was known to be serious since two months ago when he was to have been operated on at the T. & P. hospital at Marshall. Mr. Woods had been a resident of Big Spring the past ten or twelve years and was respected and esteemed by all who knew him. He was in the employ of the Texas & Pacific railway as a conductor; and before coming to Big Spring he resided at Del Rio, where for many years he was in the employ of the G. H. and S. A. Ry. as a conductor. He was a big hearted and generous man, a tried and true friend, ever ready to aid and assist the needy and his pathway thru life is marked with noble deeds.

The remains were sent to his old home at Del Rio for interment and funeral services were held Thursday.

He is survived by a devoted wife and a nephew, Albert Hite of this city, and to these and other relatives who mourn for one dearly beloved is extended the deep sympathy of their many friends.

Chautauqua Fund $864.03

E. E. Fahrenkamp chairman of the Big Spring Chautauqua Committee submits the following report as to balance in the Chautauqua fund July 1st, 1921:

Balance on hand at close
Net receipts for 1921..... $202.75
Net receipts for 1921..... $202.03
Balance on hand..... $864.03

This money is now on deposit and is drawing four per cent interest. To Mr. Fahrenkamp's able management of the 1921 Chautauqua is due the fact that a profit instead of a deficit was realized. Hardly a citizen but felt that the Chautauqua would show a deficit due to the dull times due to the reconstruction period and the further fact that several hundred men had just been cut off the payroll at the railway shops here.

The balance of the guarantee committee are aware of the time and attention Mr. Fahrenkamp devoted to making the 1921 Chautauqua a success, even if the citizenship at large were not, and they accorded him all credit for its success.

Overland Garage Moved

A. Richardson, proprietor of the Overland Garage has secured a three year lease on the Compton garage building, opposite the T. & P. depot, and moved his garage from its location on East Second street to the new location, Wednesday.

The present quarters were erected especially for use as a garage and Mr. Richardson is fortunate to secure possession of same. With this roomy, fire-proof building he will be in a better position to handle auto repairs, store automobiles and carry a large stock of auto accessories, parts, etc.

Here also will be headquarters for McNew & Richardson, dealers in Overland automobiles.

The Overland Garage will practically be open both day and night as some one will always be at the garage to meet the calls for service that may be phoned in, day or night.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle Dead

Carl Eugene Hinkle son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hinkle of the Konohasmet community died at the New Hotel in this city at 8:45 o'clock Sunday evening June 28.

The little one, aged one year, six months and four days was a sufferer from stomach trouble and had been ill several weeks.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the remains being laid to rest in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

The sorrowing parents have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends upon the loss of their beloved baby boy.

Honoring Mrs. Myer Blankfield

Mrs. Wm. Fisher entertained with a Bridge Luncheon at 1 p. m. last Friday in honor of her daughter Mrs. Myer Blankfield of Port Arthur, Texas. A delicious two course luncheon was served and the occasion was one of complete pleasure for everyone in attendance.

Five tables of players took part in the series of closely contested games and in which Mrs. Jno. W. Thurman had the honor of making score.

Two Banks Close Doors at Ranger

Ranger, Texas, June 29.—The Guaranty State Bank of this place failed to open its doors for business this morning and the Farmers' and Merchants State Bank closed at eleven o'clock. Both are believed to be closed temporarily only and officials of each said they were solvent. The closing of the Farmers and Merchants Bank followed a sudden demand of depositors for their money, the first two hours today. A few hours after the doors were closed, it was said, a large shipment of cash was received. Bank Examiner Sneed is in charge of both institutions. Plans were under consideration for reopening the Farmers and Merchants Bank Saturday or early next week, it was declared.

The Farmers and Merchants State Bank absorbed the Texas Bank and Trust Company a few days ago.

Merchants have agreed to accept script against the deposits in the Guaranty State Bank, if the consent of the State Commissioner of Banking can be obtained to the plan.

Outing at Moss Springs

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was a surprise picnic and supper given by the young men to their young lady friends last Saturday evening. It was a veritable feast, consisting of fried chicken, olives, pickles, fresh tomatoes, ham and cheese sandwiches, several kinds of choice fruit, delicious cake, ice cream, and ice cold watermelons. After doing full justice to these good things and "Typing" awhile in the open the merry crowd returned to town and spent a pleasant hour at the home of Miss Reba Orenbaum before parting for the night.

The party was composed of the following: Misses Annie and Emma Ward, Ruth Hatcher, Clara and Gulon Pool, Reba Orenbaum, Mary Holmes, and Thelma Fox. Messrs Clyde Branon, Ralph Baker, Clyde Fox, W. H. Bairbridge, Emil Fahrenkamp and Dr. Leighton Wetzel.

Labor Board Extends Wage Cut

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—The United States railroad labor board today extended its wage reduction order, effective July 1, to practically every large railroad in the country. No change from the average 12 per cent reduction granted 104 carriers on June 1 was made by today's decision. The new order affects 210 roads. The new decision will make a reality of the estimated $400,000,000 annual saving expected by the roads.

The decision, drawn as an addendum to the reduction order of June 1, adds practically ever railroad in the class 3 division to the original list of 104 roads authorized to make the 12 per cent reduction.

Following the 12 per cent cut, which was generally unsatisfactory to the roads, the carriers returned with added insistence that the 1920 wage award be wiped out.

The board, however, would not change its scale.

While no definite returns have been announced from the referendum taken by all the railway unions on acceptance or rejection of the 12 per cent cut, it was expected that conferences here on July 1 would agree to accept the board's decision.

The new order involves practically all classes of employes.

The only change in the rates of reduction made by today's decision was in the case of some marine workers at eastern ports.

Get in Parade July 4th

The American Legion and Band Boys are trying to put over an Old Fashioned Basket Picnic on the 4th and want every one to assist by their presence and their help.

We want the biggest parade that Big Spring has ever seen and are asking you to get your automobile in the parade. We do not care how you decorate it. Some have indicated that they want to decorate and they may do so but we have not and do not ask any one to spend any money to decorate their cars do just as you please. Put your family and a well filled basket in your car and get in the parade and we will go to the picnic grounds and try to have a good time with our friends.

The parade will begin to form at 10 o'clock a. m. on Scurry street between 2nd and 9th streets facing north, and those who can not get in line there will form on Main street between fifth street and 9th street facing south. Parade will start at 10:20—be sure to be in line.

Rail Group Wage Facts Prohibited.

Chicago, June 29.—No separate agreement on wages or working agreement can be given by any group of railway employes in a particular office or shop apart from the agreement made with that class of employes as a whole over the entire system, according to a ruling of the railroad labor board today. The decision was issued in the case of clerks in general offices on several railroads who wished to negotiate separate agreements, distinct from the agreements made by the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight haulers, express and station employes.

PROPER FOOD

Are you too fat?
Are you too thin?
Do you get up tired and lack that indispensable commodity known as
"Pep"?

If you do the chances are that you are not eating the right kind of food.
No engine develops its maximum power with the wrong kind of fuel and the human engine is no exception to the rule.

Proper food is not a matter of quantity or even price as many of the most valuable foods are not high priced nor in the "luxury" class.

"Pep" giving foods are those that contain what is known as "vitamines"
and should be included in every diet.
They produce health and growth. They are milk, butter, yolk of eggs, and the leafy vegetables, such as spinach, cabbage and lettuce, fresh fruits and whole grains.

There are five main groups of foods and one of each should be included in the diet of each normal person every day. They are:

Group 1: The mineral and acid class, the body regulators including spinach, lettuce, peas, string beans,
tomatoes, turnips, carrots, cabbage,
onions, fruit.

Group 2: The protein class, the tissue builders, including lean meats, poultry, fish, oysters, milk, cheese,
dried vegetables, cocoa, nuts, custard,
ice creams.

Group 3: The starchy class, that give heat and energy, including flour,
meal mixtures, bread and crackers, macaroni, rice, tapioca, cereal breakfast foods, potatoes.

Group 4: The sugar class, that give heat and energy, including syrup, honey, preserves, jellies, dried fruits, candy,
sugar, frozen ices.

Group 5: The fats class, that give heat and energy, more heating per quantity than sugar or starch, including butter, cream, lard, salt pork, bacon chocolate, vegetable oils.

If you have a tendency to be too fat, go lightly on groups 3, 4, and 5 and substitute largely from Groups 1 and 2, the repair and regulator foods.

Similarly if you are too thin and without energy, specialize on the starch sugar and fat forming foods, and protein foods—never forgetting Group 1—the regulator.

Take the same care with your food as you do in selecting your clothes and you'll be surprised at the difference.
Your natural inclinations may not always be an indication of what is best for your system.

Cotton Yield of 8,300,000 Bales Cotton commission merchants are at last awake to the fact that the 1921 cotton acreage has been reduced at least thirty per cent. Using the government's formula for estimating the probable yield, the acreage and condition on June 28th being 78.8 and 60.5 per cent, with normal conditions henceforth a yield of about 8,300,000 bales should be expected according to some of these commission men.

This estimate will be less if rains are plentiful in the cotton belt in July as damage from boll weevils will be snormous. Weevils are more active than in any previous year at this early date.

Credit Versus Care

Garland News: It seems to be the common custom these days when any class gets in a financial hole to ask the Government to create a special fund to take care of them. As long as this lasts the country will never get back on a stable basis. Borrowing more money to throw after already too great loans will never settle conditions.
What is needed is a general cleaning up, individuals taking their losses and wiping off the slate and beginning anew. It will be hard to realize this,
but it will eventually have to be done,
and not until then will we get on a firm basis again.

Truly and succinctly said. Running to Washington for relief is a decadent development. Our economic politics has become waterlogged with the socialistic assumption that the Government is a god which rectify all things, even bad business practices, merely with a nod of the head or the waving of a wand. The Garland contemporary is exactly right in saying that borrowing more money to buttress what are already overloans will never bring order out of chaos. We have talked so much of credit, and granted to credit so great an implication of power or medicament, that many tolerably sane thinkers have come to look upon credit as the same as wealth, which it is not and never can be. Many men seem no longer to aspire to own small things outright; they strive only to own equities in big things, with the result that when declining prices wipe out their equities they blame everybody but themselves. The criticisms levelled at the Federal Reserve Banks have been in nearly every instance voiced by individuals who were over-borrowed and who became embittered

when they were compelled to cease borrowing. The farmer in our boom era wasn't satisfied to own a small farm clear of debt. He wanted a thousand acres, and wanted to owe for it.
The cattleman wasn't content to own a section of land and a bunch of cows, all paid for. He wanted a vast stretch of pasture, a great herd of stock—and loans at the bank. The merchant was not willing to engage in a small business on his own capital. He preferred to maintain a department store and owe 70 to 80 per cent of his inventory.
The publisher was not a piker, either—
he was not the kind of person to piffle along with a small and debtless and independent printing plant. We wanted perfecting presses and batteries of linotypes and mortgages on top of them.
Now, whether we like it or not, whether we are resigned to it or not, whether we will admit it to ourselves or not, the fact is that if we owe two-thirds or half of what we thought we were worth a year ago we are stripped almost to the bone. Adding to our debt is not going to relieve us. The reason a debt is a debt is because it must be paid. Expansion of credit does not take up slack; it only adds to it.—
State Press in Dallas News.

Hon. John Wanamaker

Houston County Times: John Wanamaker has completed sixty years of service as a merchant. Wanamaker was the first big merchant to discover the potentialities of regular systematic newspaper advertising. It would require police details in Philadelphia and New York to keep him out of newspaper offices. And the only reason under the sun why he likes advertising is that it increases business for his stores. Whether times are good or bad, Wanamaker's advertisements always appear in the New York and Philadelphia papers.

Mr. Wanamaker became a merchant before he became an advertiser. He began as a quite small merchant, but was unwilling to remain small. He experimented with advertising at a time when most of his competitors, themselves small merchants, were convinced that advertising didn't pay.
John Wanamaker was not willing to give his valuable time and valuable brains and unusual business capacity to a store which depended upon the "drop-in" trade, or upon the handshaking methods then in vogue. Wanamaker believed there was a better and bigger way to attract custom than by standing at his door and endeavoring to intrigue the passers-by. So he began putting little special announcements into the newspapers. He put good sense into the ads before he put the ads into the papers. The public responded, in a faint but perceptible degree. Therefore, he put in more ads and bigger ads. Soon he employed a man to do nothing but attend to his advertising. Everybody knows that John Wanamaker not only showed his competitors how to sell goods, but how to advertise. To imagine John Wanamaker running a store which carried no goods that would bear advertising, or prices that he preferred the public not to know, is to conceive of the Egyptian pyramids swimming the Nile.

All merchants can't be Wanamakers.
But it looks like every merchant would wish not to be like Mr. Wanamaker's first competitors, who disappeared into unadvertised obscurity a generation ago.—State Press in Dallas News.

Episcopal Church Notes For June

Services have been well attended, in spite of hot days. This is the record too, of our good little Sunday school which reports very few children away on vacations. We welcome back a number of boys and girls, from schools at a distance. Also during the month we have had quite a few visitors.

On the first of the month, the Vestry met with members of the Women's Auxiliary and other organizations, at the request of the Rector. A quite promising attendance had the financial state of the Church laid before them by the Treasurer. His report showed a gain in balance on hand, for which we cannot but be thankful.

The Nation-wide Campaign was discussed, with its assessment of $9.10 per communicant, per year, which comes rather hard on a large family, so, all our Communicants must try to come through, as every failure has to be made up by some one else.

It was decided to hold these meetings every three months, at which every member of the congregation is invited and urged to bring ideas for the further efficiency of the Church. As a result of the first of these meetings, the Rector has started a Bible Class for adults which meets at the Rectory, at 8:00 P. M. on Tuesdays. We have been considering the church—the idea in the Divine Mind which brought it into being. In other words, why there grew up a flourishing church before ever the New Testament came to be written. Then followed the Church's Sacrament of Baptism, its necessity for all. Side by side with this, we are considering the church as a building, its ornaments, its services. Then follows 20 minutes of questioning time, and the class becomes more social, and there is a rapid fire of questions, all demanding an answer. Such as, Why do we do this, and, Does the church teach that? Such a class is a stimulating thing for the Parish it keeps the interest alive. Every one has a question about the church, or the Bible. Why not try and get it answered? You are welcome, you and your questions, at the class. I have also started a vacation kindergarten Bible class, on Tuesday mornings, at 9:30 as I think these long bright days of summer afford a great opportunity to teach the little folks the old Bible stories, children's hymns and prayers, and they like to come.

This month too, we are starting a Communicants Guild which we hope all our communicants will join. With one ideal to aim at as we will not call it an obligation or rule till we attain it, namely to say daily prayers and to make our communion once a month after due preparation. There will be two opportunities for this in the month. On the second Sunday at 11 o'clock and on the fourth Sunday at 8:00 o'clock in the morning.

In addition to their ordinary monthly meeting on the second Monday of the month the Women's Auxiliary held an open meeting at Mrs. Dawes' house. A good number were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. It was very interesting listening to Mrs. Notestine's account of the early days before the first church was built and about the old rectors who came from time to time to give their services and we count ourselves fortunate to have with us still two or three of those old timers and hard workers. And Mr. Dawes could carry on the story from the time the old church was hit by the cyclone through the building of this church up to the present. What a record for a man to have. Thirty odd years and never to have missed a service except through sickness or absence. And all that time to have taken charge of the organ and choir and act as vestryman and warden and to bring up his family to follow in his steps. Surely a record for which to thank Almighty God. He has gone to England to see again his old Mother and though we shall miss him we can spare to his grand old Mother such a son.

Old fashioned! Yes, perhaps, but these young full blooded Rusks days which strive so eagerly to taste all that life has to offer, have they that same strong quiet restraining sense of duty of just carrying on through the years of the generation ago. It was good to sit by and listen to the quiet talk of old days and their names and memories. And what of the future? The future is yours young people. The foundations are laid. This is the heritage the older generation with its effort and sacrifice is handing on to you. It behooves you one and all to be up and doing to at least match up to their standard of attainment. Yours is the spiritual building of living stones going up on their foundations truly laid.

We are glad to welcome back Mrs. B. C. Rix after her short holiday. She is always to be depended upon and her support guaranteed in advance. Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Miss Clara Jones are away. What a lot you can crowd into two short weeks of glorious weather particularly if you are taking a Ford with you. Mrs. Hayes and family are away in California. Called there by her mother's death. We envy her the sea breezes of the Pacific coast. We have had to say farewell and God-speed to Mr. and Mrs. Blount and baby who have left for Stanton. May they do very well. And now we are losing Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rix and J. G. Rix Jr, who go to San Antonio. Our best wishes and brightest hopes go with them and the very best of luck attend them. Mrs. Williamson is out of town with her husband and baby on some oil field, but we hope to see them now and again. Mr. and Mrs. Tamsitt have been taking trips but I hope are settled down. We are glad to hear his brother is better. We have just had the sad news of the death of Mr. John L. Wood at San Antonio. He went down there sometime ago and underwent a serious operation. Conflicting accounts have from time to time come through as regards his health. Now good, now bad. Your prayers are asked for him that his soul may rest in peace and light and refreshment and also for Mrs. Wood and Albert Hite that they may take their heavy loss in a Christian spirit and that they may be comforted of God.

There is only one Saint's Day in July and that is St. James' Day, Monday, July 25th. There will be the usual Sunday services through July. On the second Sunday Holy Communion at 11:00 A. M. Evening prayer at 8:00 P. M. And on the fourth Sunday Holy Communion 8:00 A. M. Morning prayer at 11:00 A. M. Evening prayer at 8:00 P. M. With Sunday school every Sunday at 9:45 A. M. The Women's Auxiliary meet as usual the second Monday, July 11th at Mrs. Gilmour's house. I hope to have the church bell going this coming month. It has been too long silent and its call to worship unheard. I am looking forward to visiting the boy scouts in camp. July is the month of picnics let's get together and make a good start with the town picnic on July 4th. So all of you watch out and boost for picnics. The social side must not be neglected. I hope to have a visit from the Bishop in the Fall, and I want to be able to present him with some confirmation candidates. Will all those considering this matter give me their names.

Asking earnestly for your prayers both for the church here and for myself.
Your sincere servant in Christ,
Rev. F. B. Eteson.

Baptist Missionary Meeting

The W. M. U. of First Baptist church held their regular monthly missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. L. E. Coleman Monday afternoon June 27, with a splendid attendance present.

A very interesting and instructive program was rendered under the leadership of Mrs. Homer McNew, who had as her subject, Russia. This topic was of special interest owing to the fact that Russia is a new field for our missionary work.

Mrs. Barber gave the scripture reading, which was followed by a hymn and the opening prayer by Mrs. W. L. Williamson. Mrs. Clifton Tucker read a splendid article on "Flash Lights on Russia." Mrs. Agnell read a beautiful poem entitled "The Cry of Russia." Mrs. Henley had a paper on the "Manners and Customs of the Russian People", which gave a good idea of how they live, etc.

An excellent talk by Mrs. McNew on Siberia was an enjoyed feature and a paper by Mrs. Bettie gave some splendid thoughts. Mrs. Reagan's talk on the religious life of Russia was very inspiring to all.

The meeting was closed with sentence prayers for the students after which it was turned over to the president, Mrs. Beckett. A motion that the collection taken, be used for the purchase of bibles to be used in missionary work was carried.

By mutual consent a plan was agreed upon by which the carpet fund could be increased. Each member was requested to make as much money as possible between now and the August meeting, which will be the latter part of August, and to be prepared to turn it over to the committees at that time, telling how she made it. Articles of food, such as pies, bread, cake and jellies, will be salable as well as fancy work and other things. Members will please notify Mrs. Menger as to what they will have for sale and she will help them find a buyer. The hostesses for the afternoon, who were Mesdames Erlich, Shauks and Coleman, served a delicious plate luncheon at the conclusion, during which time social chat was enjoyed.

Presbyterian Church Notes

The pastor having returned from his vacation the usual services will be held in our church next Sunday. The subject for the eleven o'clock hour will be: "The Universal Possession."

Davis, the great king of Israel, the successful military hero, the sweet psalmist of the chosen people of God, said, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go up to the house of the Lord." David had some real friends, who struck the right note when they suggested to him that they go to the place of worship. Who can tell but that you might make someone glad next Sunday morning by extending the same invitation.

Neighbory Visits

The good old practice of visiting neighbors in the country should be revived. We do not appreciate our neighbors as we should; they do not understand our motives as they might if we visited oftener. How we miss the finer qualities of character in neighbors by not entering their homes and having them sit at our tables and enjoy the pleasures and comforts of diversified farming!

The most indifferent neighbor in the community may respond to your invitation to "come over", and a few hours in his presence in your home may make a lasting impression upon him. There is very little fault in the worst of neighbors if one knows them. And most of them have got some good traits.—Farm and Ranch

Wall Street Gamblers and Their Raids

Another series of attacks on Mexican Petroleum again caused demoralization in the stock market yesterday and drove many securities to the year's low level. In the absence of any Stock Exchange investigation, such as was made in the Stutz corner, the Mexican Petroleum mystery deepens. Its moral and economic effect is far more severe than that caused by the Ryan adventure of a year ago when discipline was promptly applied.

There is no doubt but that a group of prominent speculators are using the machinery of the Stock Exchange, and a number of commission houses that are members of it, not only to beat down the value of securities but to cause widespread apprehension and to retard the business readjustment that was beginning to make some headway before these vicious attacks on the market began about six weeks ago.

There are a great many business men throughout the country who have been accustomed to look upon the stock market as a pretty reliable index of approaching financial and commercial conditions. Prominent bankers yesterday pointed out that these market attacks are creating the impression that there is something very serious overhanging the financial situation, whereas the financial crisis was actually passed several weeks ago when a prominent financial institution set its house in order.

According to this banker, business men began to be very hopeful about a month ago and thought business was on the mend. Then began the raids by the professional gamblers, which has created an impression that conditions are bad and have actually undone most of the constructive work performed during the first four months of the year. Unfortunately the name of the young man identified with a family that has been engaged for many years in oil production has been used by the Wall Street gossips in connection with these market raids, and credence has been attached to these stories largely through the repeated lowering in the price of crude oil that has occurred during the market demoralization.

It is equally unfortunate that the impression has gone abroad that insiders in Mexican Petroleum have winked at it, if they have not been concerned in the bear attacks on that property. While repeated denials have been made that the stock has been supplied from the treasury of the Pan-American company, and this denial has been accepted in good faith, it is a fact that the transactions in the last two days in Wall street have greatly exceeded the outstanding capitalization of the company, which consists of less than 100,000 shares. On Wednesday last Consolidated Exchange alone trade in 100,000 shares. The total transactions yesterday and on the day before on the Stock Exchange were in excess of 100,000 shares.—New York World.

Nero is said to have fiddled while Rome was burning. These brazen gamblers of Wall street appear to be modern Neros. They are hammering the market to pieces and they have been hammering it for six weeks. Independent oil producers of America have been hammered into the earth. Now the gamblers are raiding Mexican petroleum companies and stocks.

Mark the prediction! The pickings are to be rich when the upward trend in the price of crude comes again.

These millionaire gamblers of Gotham are as reckless as were the pirates on the Spanish Main in the long ago.

Governor Neff's Program
 Governor Neff has mapped out a program for the approaching session of the legislature. The Waco Times-Herald is quite sure that Mr. Neff has at heart the best interest of the people of Texas; he wants to render such service as will redound to the people's good and to the glory of the commonwealth.

With portions of the governor's program the Waco Times-Herald finds itself in hearty sympathy, and more particularly with that one which proposes consolidating overlapping departments and abolishing useless offices and positions; this has long been a Waco Times-Herald hobby, this of lessening the size of the governmental establishment.

As to the repeal of the suspended sentence law, that is a matter difficult to come to a decision on; his law has its good points and also its weak points, and it is an open question as to which has the preponderating advantage. The weak thing about it, as we see it, is that it might tempt a jury to resolve the doubt in favor of the state, thus reversing a principle regarded as sacred in Anglo-Saxon civilization.

The Waco Times-Herald finds itself out of harmony with Mr. Neff in his proposal to give the governor power of removal as to offices elected by the people.

The Waco Times-Herald hopes that the legislature will carry out Governor Neff's suggestion of redistricting the state into senatorial and representative districts; it may be said that the body is obligated to do as much.—Waco Times-Herald.

Progress and the Bathtub

Whenever a man starts to launch a new enterprise or sell a useful but hitherto unheard-of article, let him stop and recall what happened when bathtubs were first introduced. Within the memory of many people still living the bathtub was lambasted as menace to democratic simplicity and a danger to health.

An ordinance was introduced in Philadelphia—and almost passed—to prohibit bathing between November and March. Boston made bathing unlawful except on medical advice. Virginia imposed a tax on bathtub owners of $30 a year. Yet everybody knows now that having a bathtub in the house is a first-rate idea. Bathing was probably even more needed then. But people resented bathtubs because they were new. Many new ideas are made commercially successful. But usually there are difficulties. The public resents a novelty.—The Nation's Business.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1921

BY JORDAN & HAYDEN

The Red Cross Will Help
 Although it is nearly three years since the armistice was signed, the Red Cross finds that the number of disabled service men in need of help is constantly increasing. The Red Cross is charged with the duty of helping these men just as during the war, but often with difficulty in reaching them. The service is available to them from the Red Cross and from the government. It is theirs for the asking. The Red Cross Chapter will be glad to assist in obtaining these rights, and a veteran not in a position to reach a Red Cross Chapter, he should communicate with Southwestern Division Headquarters, 901 Equitable Building, St. Louis, Mo.

The Big Spring Herald has been helped by the Red Cross to help these men to get what is due them. A brief outline of the service of the government and the Red Cross are prepared to give them. Compensation and medical services who can furnish affidavits showing (1) that their disabilities to or aggravated by war and (2) that others are dependent upon them, may secure additional compensation from the government medical treatment where it is needed. The Red Cross will act as to help veterans fill out applications, and prepare detailed affidavits and see that they reach the authorities. The secretary at the nearest Red Cross Chapter will help them do this.

Certain cases of veterans call for special medical treatment. If they have no money, the Red Cross can provide for them temporarily while this treatment is being made, if necessary, often is able to pay sums of money without interest.

In cases where veterans are in hospitals, the Red Cross is to perform these services: (1) to get the man transportation to the hospital to which he is assigned; (2) to provide means for such recreation as the doctor allows him to enjoy; (3) to follow up compensational claims with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance; (4) to file his application for medical training; and (5) to endeavor to look after his family during his absence.

Where a veteran's condition is such that the Red Cross will provide financial aid, pending the outcome of the government's adjustment of compensational claims.

The Red Cross home service, as constituted, strives to give help for their families where they need advice and assistance in working out their personal and family affairs; medical service for those dependent on veterans, including care of their cases, assistance in legal matters; follow up claims for compensation, assisting in reinstating and securing insurance; assistance in securing a guardian in cases of mental incompetency; assistance in looking after Liberty bonds, back pay, bonus claims, and loss of baggage; assistance in getting certified copies of discharge papers, in obtaining wound and death certificates, information as to military medals.

6. The Red Cross will show veterans how to make out applications for vocational training, whether at home or in a hospital. The Red Cross has information about various trades available to the veterans and puts him in touch with medical officers to see if he should and could take such training. The veteran is advised how to complete these arrangements and how he can get transportation to the training center. While he is in training efforts will be made to care for his family at home.

7. Families of veterans who have died can secure the help of the Red Cross in preparing and following up claims for government insurance and compensation. The Red Cross also gives advice and instructions as to the return of bodies from overseas.

8. It is not necessary for a veteran to go to Washington to present his government claims and requests. He needs only to ask the nearest Red Cross chapter, or, if it is unable to perform this service, he should write Southwestern Division Headquarters in St. Louis.

Now is the time to make your old hat look new—all you have to do is put Elkay's straw hat dye on it and it will look "brand new" Ward's The Rexall Store.

Republican Congress a Failure
 Unless there is more performance and less "hot air" at Washington in the effort to cut down national expenses the Republicans may not have a majority in the Senate and House next year. Six months ago the people by a majority of 7,000,000 votes expressed a desire for a change. The change has not materialized. The powers that be are unable to decide which way to jump, while the people are sick and tired of the excessive tax burdens.

The administration is not making a move to cut down the nation's army and navy bill of $850,000,000 a year. Just why is not known; though it is suspected that big interests and the hostility of professional naval and military men are responsible.

It's going to be up to the Republican congress to get busy soon or quite a number of these birds will find themselves displaced by Democrats in the 1922 elections.

Screw Worm Begins Its Attacks On Live Stock
 The screw worm fly is appearing in considerable numbers in the Southwestern states, and already a number of cases of infested live stock have been reported by field agents of the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture. While this is about the usual time for this pest to begin its attack on animals, the showery weather which has occurred over a considerable part of the screw-worm territory, especially southwest Texas, is very favorable to the multiplication of the fly, and attention of the cattlemen is directed to the importance of disposal of all waste animal matter.

Work of the Bureau of Entomology clearly indicates that by systematically destroying all carcasses, preferably by burning, the losses due to the injury and death of cattle, sheep, goats, and other animals are greatly reduced and the expense of treating infested animals largely eliminated. In this instance an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

A number of progressive stockmen have entered into an active campaign against the flies by means of the use of flytraps on the ranges, in addition to preventing the breeding by carcass destruction. This has been shown to be a good supplementary measure to carcass destruction.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR.

Another Reduction in Ford Cars

Another reduction has been made in the list price of all types of Ford cars and the Ford Truck. The list price, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

TOURING CAR.....	$415.00
HUNABOUT.....	$378.00
COUPE.....	$395.00
SEDAN.....	$450.00
CHASSIS.....	$345.00
TRUCK-CHASSIS.....	$495.00
TRACTOR.....	$250.00

The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now enjoying the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another price reduction possible immediately.

Ford business for April and May 1921 was greater by 56,633 cars than for the same two months in 1920; in fact, the demand has been even greater than the supply, so that our output has been limited by unfilled orders but by manufacturing facilities.

During May we produced 101,424 Ford cars and trucks for sale in the United States alone—the highest month in the history of our company—and our factories and assembly plants are now working on an average of 1000 cars daily schedule for June.

The Fordson tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce on account of the recent price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor. Can you afford to go without a car any longer when Fords are selling at these new low prices? Is there no reason now why you should delay purchasing a Ford car, Ford truck, or Fordson tractor. We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of Ford car which you are interested. Just phone us or drop us a card.

When a Man Has a Job and Works at It

No one need be afraid of a man who has a job and works at it. He is a good, safe and sane citizen. It is because of the truth of this statement that the Southwest need not cause any other section of the country to worry about it. The leading industries of the Southwest are agriculture and livestock and farmers make up a goodly portion of our population. These citizens all have jobs and they are not neglecting them. That is the reason that the Southwest will be the first to recover from deflation ills and be riding the waves of prosperity by early fall. As a matter of fact, the income from the many sources of revenue in the diversified Southwest has already paid hundreds of thousands of dollars of debts and will continue to pay debts and buy necessities until the major crops are marketed.

The crops of the Southwest are being produced at less cost per acre than for many years past. Farmers are no longer spending their time hauling high priced labor and hauling them back and forth from town. Farmers are working and doing better work than any hired hand they ever paid good money to. As a result the fields are cleaner and there will be raised more per acre of better quality than the average. Steady, intelligent work has pulled the Southwest out of the trough of despondency, and the same kind of work is going to make it possible for our producers to register another profitable year.—Farm and Ranch.

Those who failed to have a good spring garden as well as those who have had the pleasure and profit which comes with a bountiful supply of fresh vegetables for the table and for canning, should begin immediately a plan for a fall garden. Oftentimes the fall garden is more profitable and gives more satisfaction than does the garden grown in springtime.

Federal-Aid Roads Under Construction or Completed

Of the 22,030 miles of Federal-aid roads which have been built or are now under construction, more than two-thirds are earth roads, sand-clay, or gravel, says the chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. These have cost less than one-third of the total amount expended as compared with nearly 50 per cent of the estimated cost applied to 4,800 miles of hard-surfaced roads. A study of local conditions by an engineer of the bureau is necessary before a road project may receive Federal aid.

The type of road to be used and the most suitable surface with respect to the traffic of the locality must be determined. Service must be satisfactory, while costs must be kept low, both for building and maintenance. There must be a careful analysis both of the engineering and economic conditions for each particular project. There are individual considerations in every case which affect the determination as to the best type of road materials for that locality.

The mileage of Federal aid roads which have been built or are now under construction is nearly sufficient to encircle the globe. This is the record of work accomplished since July, 1916, when the Federal Government first stepped in to aid in the enormous task of building highways that are now called upon to carry more than 9,000,000 motor vehicles plus a very substantial horse-drawn traffic in the 48 states.

The Federal-aid law is well named. The Department of Agriculture has given the broadest possible construction to the law for the purpose of providing the greatest mileage of highways suited to the traffic to be carried over them at the minimum expense. An analysis by the Bureau of Public Roads of the projects under contract shows that all types of roads, from the graded earth road up to the finest paved surfaces, have been built.

On March 1 of this year 22,030 miles of highway, extending into every State had been completed or were in process of construction, says the bureau, at a total estimated cost of $361,946,868.

The states initiate the road projects, but before Federal aid is granted an engineer of the bureau makes an inspection of the roads to be improved, studies the local conditions, consults with the State highway department, and no projects are approved which are not considered suited to the conditions to be met. Many popular fallacies exist as to road improvement, and there have been many misconceptions as to the types of roads on which Federal-aid funds may be used. Properly built earth roads, say specialists of the department, are fundamental requirement in all highway improvement.

Regardless of the material or type of surfacing which is to be placed, the preparation of the roadbed requires the highest engineering skill and experience. The department considers that the use of adequate sums for the securing of proper location, thorough drainage, permanent bridges and culverts, and the elimination of railroad crossings is demanded if enduring improvements are to result.

Federal aid is allotted to the improvement of earth roads, but only with the stipulation that a suitable surfacing will be placed as soon as funds become available. This allows the roadbed to be prepared and become thoroughly consolidated before the surfacing is placed, which is highly desirable from a construction viewpoint. To follow such a course, however, is out of the question when a road is heavily traveled and some form of surfacing must be provided. To care for traffic under these conditions frequently a sand-clay or gravel surfacing is provided, which will serve for several years and yet allow the road to be maintained under reasonably heavy traffic.

Granting that the preparation of the roadbed has been properly done, many kinds of road surfaces will give excellent service. The element of time is important. There are so many miles of roads to be constructed and their cost will be so enormous that the most careful and detailed study of each road project must be made to provide, at the lowest possible cost, roads which will give satisfactory service and which can be maintained without undue depreciation under the traffic which is to use them. Many times the question has been asked the bureau, What type of road is best? The answer is always the same: There is no one best kind or type of road surface.

A recent statement issued by the officials of the bureau expresses this thought in the following language:

"It is the policy of this bureau to consider the conditions on each individual Federal-aid project as there are elements, such as subgrade, drainage, and present and prospective traffic, which vitally affect the determination of the standards of construction to be used."

That is, there must be a careful analysis both of the engineering and economic conditions for each particular

Cotton is in a very depressed situation and something ought to be done to assist it. The $50,000,000 pool to take care of the cattle situation will help that industry, but cotton has received no such aid, and it is imperative that something be done. Cotton stagnation is not the South's problem alone. Perhaps the South is more directly concerned than any other section, but when cotton suffers the whole nation suffers.—John T. Scott, president of the First National Bank of Houston. The $50,000,000 pool "to take care of the cattle situation" is a pool on paper. Its promoters should get busy. The Suspended Sentence

The suspended sentence, for the young and for first offenders, is the result of hundreds of years of experimentation, of physiological investigation, of Christian education — an answer to the agonized prayers of a race groping painfully toward a far off and seemingly impossible consummation—and this race once more bearing the image of its creator—a re-created or a perfectly created race. Not that this alone will perform the work, but it is a long stride in that direction.

The question is, shall we deliberately take a long, long step backward, undo a good that has been at least abuses have arisen in connection there-abuses have arisen in connection there-with?

Suppose such action were applied to all out statutes and laws that have been abused—just suppose. One wrong thing most certainly can never justify another, but when fiends incarnate are given new trials, when criminals of deepest dye are out on bond, free as air; when the creators of poverty and crime pursue their course unchallenged, then shall we vent our disgust upon such a provision—a provision which is a door of hope, and the only door of hope to our young who have been tempted and have fallen?

The doing away with this safeguard means just this—disgrace and destroy as completely as we can just as many as we can.

Governor Neff, our most Christian Governor, you are wrong, frightfully wrong. The young man, your neighbor or mine, with his head up, going whistling to his work every morning past your door or mine, left the courtroom a few years ago a terribly frightened and truly chastened youth, with his future dependent upon his his good conduct.

He has made good; he is building an American home. God only knows what he would have become had he been herded with criminals and the criminally-minded for a long period.

Were he your son, Governor Neff, or the son of your friend, then what? —MRS. F. O. MCKINSEY in Dallas News.

God Almighty cannot prevent me from winning a victory today.—Gen. Joe Hooker to President Lincoln, day before the Battle of Chancellorsville. But, this bombastic statement was not verified. Lee defeated Hooker that day, Federal loss 18,000 men. But, the Confederates lost one of their greatest generals, Stonewall Jackson, who died that day, from wounds inflicted by his own men, through a mistake, the night before the battle. This was the greatest loss that could have befallen the South at that time, General Lee alone excepted. The loss of General Jackson was keenly felt by the Knightly Lee, who said:

"I feel like I had lost my right arm." Some noted writer said that God had to remove Stonewall Jackson to prevent the South from winning the war. It does look like fate was against the South. The unexpected exhaustion of artillery ammunition by the Confederates at the most critical moment during Pickett's assault on Cemetery Heights at Gettysburg, alone prevented a crushing defeat of General Meade, the greatest general on the Northern side during the Civil War.

Had Lee won the Battle of Gettysburg, it would have made it almost impossible for the Federals to have carried on the war to a successful conclusion. Perhaps it was best after all, but it is mighty hard for an old Southerner like the editor of The Star to admit even this much.—Baird Star.

Suppress All Lawlessness

Crap shooters are being fined; homes and hotels raided to break up friendly poker games and scores of officers are busy running down minor infractions of the laws while organized mobs and bodies of masked men kidnap citizens, drive them to some secluded place, beat them up and order them to abandon business, home and other interests and leave town never to come back. This is being done apparently without fear of the law or molestation either during the time the crime is committed or after. If any officer has made a serious effort to search out and arrest a member of these criminal gangs, it has not been given publicity. If any grand jury has made a real honest-to-goodness investigation of this crime with an effort to find the guilty parties and return indictments, the members have kept that fact to themselves. Lawlessness is running riot under the sanction of organized bodies of men who announce their purpose as that of good citizens interested only in the suppression of crime and the betterment of the morals of the people.

The Ku Klux Klan, including those bodies of men who claim to be of that order, is a libel on our State, County and City governments. The existence of this organization and of other bodies sailing under their colors is a reflection upon, not only our regularly constituted officers, but upon every good citizen. It is an admission that our laws are either inadequately enforced or insufficient to give needed protection to the people.

When a body of men assume the right to regulate the morals of their community by force, or to take the law into their own hands in the attempt to suppress crime by the commission of another far more serious in its infringement on the rights of citizens guaranteed by the constitution and in its influence on good government, then it is time for all good citizens to rally to the support of our constituted authorities and assist them in every way possible to tear off these masks and bring the guilty before the bar of justice.

Not many years ago the favorite stunt of Texas delegations to National conventions was to disguise as Indians and cowboys and shoot up the town. It was fun of course, but that kind of fun cost the Southwest millions of dollars in business. It verified the impression already prevalent in the North and East that the Southwest, and Texas in particular, was in a primitive state; that it was "wild and woolly" and lawless and not yet advanced in civilization far enough to make a business venture profitable. The order of the Ku Klux Klan is doing far more injury to the business of the South than all of the fool stunts pulled on the unsuspecting Eastern public by over enthusiastic delegates. The outrages committed in the name of the Klan are telegraphed far and wide and are displayed prominently in every daily paper. The impression is given that we are a lawless set of gun toters and that the Southwest is yet more of a place of adventures than it is for business. If Ku Klux Klan, in whose name these crimes are committed, is guiltless, then publicity should be given to that fact. Members must admit, however, that the existence of their order, and the purposes for which it was organized as published in their proclamation, incites lawlessness on the part of others who find protection under their name. This in its self is sufficient to condemn the clan and cause its suppression.—Farm and Ranch.

Millions of Surplus Husbands

Washington, D. C., June 27.—There were 2,090,132 more males than females in the United States in 1920, making the ratio 114 to 100 as compared with 106 to 100 in the period of 1900-1910, the census bureau announced. A preponderance of males has been shown in every census, due primarily, the announcement said, to the considerable number of foreign born residents among whom the males outnumber the females. Nevada has 148.4 males to every 100 females, the highest ratio of any state, the statement showed.
