Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America-but friends living - of which Will of America overseas-building glass of beer is proof! good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

IF otton had a squeal...

ork packers take pride in saving "everything but the squeal." The cotton try, too, is making valuable by-products of everything produced in the eld. The wonders of chemurgy have given new values to the cotton seed and the stalk, and new promise to the fruits of Texas soil.

This is adding worth to Nature's resources...putting them to work for mankind. This is practical conservation.

It's the same way with natural gas, for gas would be worthless if remained unused in the ground. It takes companies like United Gas - gathering, processing, transporting it ... making it available for use — to give it value. A natural resource thus conserved furthers industrial development, creates jobs, benefits every family in Texas.

Union Producing Company

Texas is cotton capital of the nation, producing 1.650,000 bales on six million acres. Texas cotton farmers received over 278 million dollars for their lint and more than 49 million dollars for their seed in one recent year. Yes, and thousands of other Texans earn their living in the handling or processing of cotton. This is Free Enterprise at work—private capital and private citizens working together to bring prosperity to Texas and all her people.

NATURAL GAS serves more ... costs less than ever before.
