TO THE RESIDENT OF CITY OF WHEELER

As you are probably aware, disposal of solid waste is rapidly

After the Wheeler Landfill was closed, the City purchased a truck to transport any garbage that is not allowed in dumpsters to Pampa. The City requires persons putting items in truck go by the City Office and pay a small fee to use the truck. In the last several weeks there have been several items thrown over the fence, so they would not be charged for the services.

The City also provides a tank to dispose of used oil instead of residents pouring it into dumpsters or in the alleys. This is also against the law. Please use this container to help keep

The City also provides a place to put grass clippings and limbs. Please do not put limbs in dumpsters or beside them.

They will not be picked up and neither will your garbage.

Mobeetie is going to be a sea of activity this weekend as the Bluegrass fans gather for the festival. -cwe-

The Stas household is looking forward to a visit from the family blugrassers, Melba and Gene. And, the Times office will be represented by Ed and Patricia Forrester. -CWe--

Don't get me wrong. I enjoy bluegrass music also, but I would rather not have to sit outside in the heat. I am used to living in a refrigerator.

-cwe-And speaking of refrigerators, if you air conditioner has not been cooling up to capacity, have you checked the outside unit? I know of two units that were clogged-up with cottonwood seed; that just doesn't pertain to people with cottonwood trees in their yard. -cwe-

I know you are supposed to change the filter on the inside, but I didn't know the compressor would get clogged. -cwe-

In working on the calendar for next month, I was reminded of how little summer is left to enjoy. School starts for Ft. Elliott on Aug. 13; Kelton on Aug. 16, and Wheeler Aug. 17.

Mother Stas was released from the hospital Friday and Barbara and the kids came home Friday evening.

-cwe-Barbara was afraid I was getting cabin fever, so she sent Jennifer and I to Oklahoma Saturday to visit the in-

The grandkids have been here for the past week and we have been keeping the game table encircled. Pictionary and Uno are the games of the week. The kids are quite creative when it comes to the drawings; two that come to mind are Toe-key-o and Stir-up.

Jennifer and I sort of picked on Ronal Jr. a few times in Uno. He had to draw quite a few cards -cwe-

Mrs. Guthrie was released from the hospital on Tuesday afternoon. She had been in for almost a week. Her heart just can't decide what speed it wants to beat.

I forgot to tell of our experience the first of last week. I had promised Cathi and Guy the "marble" slabs in the back office that had been used as tables for the building of the paper when it was hot type. These slabs were about 3'x5' and measured 2" thick.

With the help of David Cross, Lyndon Loyd, Rodney Puryear, Greg Koelzer and Kenneth and Jason Nelson, the "marble" was loaded into Glen Arganbright's pickup. Along with Mother Porter's old kitchen cabinet. Of course I served as the supervisor, Glen had tests to take at College Station; he was accompanied by his mother, Pam.

Guy and Pip went to A. & M. and maneuvered the slabs onto their pickup. When they got it to Houston to have it polished, it was learned they were hauling two slabs of slate 400 lbs. each. They are now serving as a porch outside the kitchen door.

DON'T CUSS A FARMER WITH YOUR MOUTH FULL

It's not nice to cuss a farmer with your mouth full.

The sooner American consumers learn that lesson, the better off they, and the farmers that put food on their table, will be, according to one who makes his living from the land.

Seitz Selected Collegiate Scholastic All-American

Teri Ford Seitz, the daughter of K.D. and Joyce Ford of Wheeler Texas and the granddaughter of Elsie Cox Hodges of Shamrock, Texas was recently chosen by the United States Achievement Academy as a Collegiate Scholastic All-American. The USAA has established the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. Scholastic All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.30 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Teri, who recently received a degree in nursing from Texas Tech University and now attends Texas Tech Health Sciences Center, was nominated by Professor Pat Yoder Wise. She will appear in the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Directory, which is published nationally

George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy said, "Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American History. Certainly, winners of the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Awards should be conratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement."

The Academy selects Scholastic All-American Collegiate Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of professors, instructors, deans and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

7th & 8th Grade Football Players Need Physicals

Boys who will be seventh graders this school year and plan to play football need to get their physicals as soon as possible. Also, any eighth graders who will be participating in athletics for the first time need to have a physical. According to UIL rules, a student can not compete until the physical form is returned to the proper school authorities. Physical forms have been made available to local doctors and can be copied if necessary. Equipment for the junior high football teams will be issued on August 16 which is the first day of school. Parents need to be aware that other forms will be passed out at this time. The first game for the junior high teams will be on September 9 in Memphis. If there are any questions, please call Coach Read or Coach Scott at 826-3364.

Mama and I thought we had our home sold the other day. Yep, we felt that it had happened. We dont really want to move but feel we need to be closer to our son and family so we can be of a little value to them and a littler farther away from this lawn that is sort of takin its toll on both of us.

We had one problem with this venture though. We found just as soon as the deal wuz consumated we had to leave rite them, not the next day but mui pronto ombrey. To be honest with you we just couldnt do that no matter how hard we would try. We got junk that we have accumulated over these many years that just couldn't be gathered in a matter of hours. Me and Mama figered we would have a least 30 days as has always been common practice, but seems like that courteousy is in the past somehow. Just say we had the dough to tie into another house and would move fore the deal wuz plum completed and at the last minute found that them other folks just decited they didnt want the place we would be in a sort of kettle of fish wouldnt we. Honest, we hope the next folks that get interested in our diggins are a bit more lenient about lettin us have a bit of time to move. Otherwise we mite be on this purty little place for the next 40 years.

Last Thursday me and Mama went to Indy. Channel 20 wanted some of my wit and wisdom (I call it sumthin else) and when we got there I found that they only wanted 4 minutes of it. Shucks I had prepared a bunch of the malarky I shoot and couldn't really get started in 4 minutes but did. The little fat wife got to go in the control room and watch all the action. After it wuz over I foolishly ask her what she thought of it and she said it wuz alright, but just the same line of bull I had been shootin for the past 50 years. I aint seen it but one of the neighbors said she had wondered why. Durn her hide, she will be sorry when I become one of them Walter Crankcases or maybe a Johnny Carleson.

I noticed where Mr. Clinton pushed the button on them Iranians a day or two ago and durned if the next button he pushed didnt close a bunch of our military bases. I aint smart but if you are goin to shut down all our muscle it sort of looks foolish to punch some ers and a couple of P 36s.

bird in the nose like that Gotem to wonderin just how in the heck are Whosain dont it. I can remember be- we goin to afford all them new taxes fore the big war we didnt have but one they are fixin to lay on us. All the extra pair of drawers per man and no manufacturin places are tryin to move extra shavin soap to keep our neat to some place else and goin to have to appearance. Seems like we only had have more money for their products it about a half a million men and boys in sort of leaves a feller confused about uniform and we had them ole Spring- all of it, but since I aint no graduate field rifles and a couple of B 10 bomb- from IU or Perdue or even A&M I recon I better leave them problems to the

SWEETWATER

Dry July half gone and we finally had four nightly shower this week that totalled .85 of an inch. Always heard that it doesn't rain at night in July. Little did they know. The raincrow began calling Sunday afternoon but never could get much to going. However, we appreciated every drop. For what it is worth, the frost flowers are in bloom.

Lucille Barker spent last week at Mangum visiting her sister Ethel Harris and several nieces. Ethel is in the Nursing Home.

Judy Hutchison and son Todd went down to see her folks Helen and H.E. Smith. Todd is in the service and stationed in Japan. He is home on leave. Donnie and Carolyn were out from Erick Sunday night.

Donnie's son Daniel Smith and Tina Lindenselser were married last week at Erick, I think.

We visited cousins Harold and Mary Bollen in their new home at Erick after church Sunday.

Heard from some readers this week. Chester Jones up Shamrock way called to say he was a faithful reader. He's kin to the Kendalls. Said his cousin Vern Kendall was the first man captured by the enemy in World War

Ethelyn Allison called. She's Slats' widow and a good fan of mine. Everyone knew and liked Slats when he sold bread to all the stores. One day when Tony was about three, Slats got to teasing him and had him bawling for a box of crayolas. Times were hard and dimes were scarce. I finally told Slats, "You got him to crying, you buy them." He did.

A lady came up to me at Grand, Berniece Short, and she was my reader. She has moved back to Sayre. Was a Kendall, too. Said she hoped to see my flowers but not my snake. I

The Erick Kitchen Band went to Grand Place Tuesday. A large audience out, even one in her bed. Enjoyed seeing all of them, especially my friends Virgie Kahoa and Flossie McAdoo. Flossie and Vetola Parker of Briscoe have always been special to me. Band folks were Betty Brothers, Jack Criswell, Donna Mercer, Iona Miller, Richard Crawford, Roy Swagger, Lloyd Addis, Murray Orgain, Bessie Perkins, Venus Payne, Margaret Hiller, Mable Holland, Leonard Taylor, Basil and Billy Doss, we three, and Ole Five String. Lynette had all kinds of goodies for everyone.

Birthday balloons were passed out and Happy Birthday was sung to these residents. Punch and cake was served to all the residents. Rod Frizelle, youth and music minister of FBC sang several songs for the residents. The host and hostesses for the party were Beverly and Neal Smith, Rod and Amber Frizelle, Sindy and Samatha Chapman, Mildred Porter, Gladys Panell and Pat Helsley.

After the party Maria Reyes set up arts and crafts for the residents to do. They worked on straw brooms. They decorated the brooms with silk flowers and ribbon. They were really pretty.

Bingo our biggest activity was played by 20 residents on Wednesday. Mr. Knoll and Dora McGuffin were our blackout winners. On Saturday, 19 residents played. Gertie Cornell was our blackout winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt had church with the residents over 20 residents attended, the residents really enjoy church services with Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt.

Janice Sparlin had Sunday school with the residents. Janice will be on vacation the next 3 weeks so we will miss her alot, but we wish her a fantastictime. The squirrels came on Thursday afternoon. They played music for 11/2 hours and the residents loved it. Liz Shipps 2 daughters danced for us.

They were really cute. Maria was here by herself on Friday. I took off to visit may grandmother in Garden City, Kansas. I really appreciate Maria alot. Maria made room visits on B & C Hall. She also wrapped a package for Zinnie Bailey to give to Doodie Phillips. She also worked on arts and crafts. This time they painted some bears, butterflies, owls and kitty kats.

The Erick Kitchen Band will be here this Friday the 23rd of July at 2 p.m.. So be sure to come on out and enjoy the band with the residents.

On Aug. 7th, Mr. Robertson will be giving the employees of Wheeler Care Center an Appreciation Picnic at the City Park from 11 A.M.-4 P.M. We will have hamburgers and hotdogs and all the trimmings to go along with the meal. We plan to have games to play and alot of visiting.

The Wheeler Care Center is one of the 3 largest business here in Wheeler. We have been in business for 10 years giving the best care possible for our elderly. The WCC provides many various services. We provide a beauty shop, social services, counseling on advance directives and living wills. We provide a wide range of activities to meet all residents needs. We also go on out of town shopping trips. We have hot nutritious meals from various menus to fulfill all diets required. We provide 24 hour licensed nursing care and a high staff patient ration. We have a dedicated group of volunteers and offer church services from the many churches in our community. We have up to date in-service training by Satellite to promote better quality of care for our residents. Mr. Robertson is very proud of the WCC and wants to show his appreciation to the employees by honoring them at the picnic.

SOLVE SUMMER BOREDOM WITH READING

As summer time approaches, parents will be faced with the age old "I'm bored!" statement from their children.

One suggestion is "Why don't you read something?" Although this is a good idea, it is usually not enough to produce results. Parents may have to do a little work to get children to read. The reward for the effort is more than just filling a few empty hours. Summer reading may introduce children to a new way of enjoying life and give a boost to their education. What are some ways parents can encourage their child to read?

Practice what you preach. Let your child see you reading. Children will see by your actions that reading is important. Remember that action speaks louder than words.

An enjoyable introduction to reading is reading aloud. Choose a "good time" to share a book. Extend the text by asking questions about how the story or characters make the child

Establish a family custom of storytelling. Stories may be borrowed from any book the child has read. Storytelling allows the use of language and imagination.

Take a family trip to the supermarket for purchasing magazines of their choice. These could be used as rewards for some house or yard work. by making the trip a family outing, children are encouraged to browse the variety of magazines and may become interested in new and different topics.

Another family trip could be to the local library. Going together to get library cards and becoming familiar with the library encourages children to model their parent's behavior.

Make sure children have a special place in their bedroom for library and personal books. This gives added value to those "special books". It also helps keep tract of those library books.

If the child is asking to stay up later at bedtime, be positive and say "Sure, you can stay up for awhile. . . if you

It is important that the bedroom or reading area has adequate lighting for reading. A 100 watt bulb is the most common recommendation. Use children's questions and natural curiosity to encourage reading. Rather than answering questions like "what is a turbo charger," try to find the answer in print and let the child read the description. Use television series or mini-series based on books as a spring board for reading. If the child enjoyed the show, suggest getting the book or one on the same subject.

If the family is planning a vacation, get pamphlets and tourist information about the location. Put the child in charge of being the tour guide. From reading the brochures, the child can tell the family about the vacation interest points.

Most of all, remember, summer reading is an adventure and escape from boredom. Share that adventure with your children.

THE GREAT COMMANDMENT

Jesus was asked one time which commandment was the greatest of them all. He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind," (See Matthew 22:37) He said that was the first and great commandment. It is the highest priority. Jesus was quoting from a passage in Deuteronomy. What He quoted was the main topic of a longer commandment. The full commandment includes getting God's Word in your heart and then teaching it diligently to your children. Deuteronomy 6:5-9 gives all the details of the commandment. It is actually only one commandment, and the rest of the passage following the main statement is God's instruction to us concerning "how" to love the Lord with all our heart, soul, and mind. If you love Him like that, it will be more than just expressing words. You don't necessarily love the Lord just because you say the words," I love the Lord."

If you look into the Bible at Deuteronomy 6:5-9, you will see that there are no less than 10 "ands" connecting the whole passage together. In fact, to further emphasize the fact that the whole passage is inseparable, I would mention the fact that in the original language that the Old Testament was translated from, there are no punctuation marks. The punctuation is determined by the sense of the sentence. It was quite common in Hebrew for the sentence to be lengthy. No periods, commas, colons, ect.. are there in the original. So, the entirety of verse

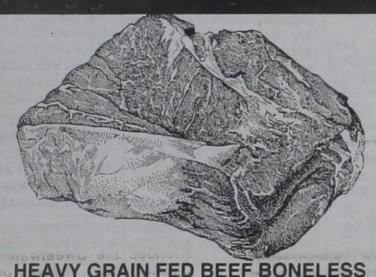

6-9 are part of the greatest commandment.

That being so, there is no greater responsibility that we parents have in life than teaching diligently to our children the Word of God. You must teach in the casual, informal things of life. Your attitude toward God and the things of God will be conveyed in the day to day activities of life. If your children see that you say one thing but do another, they will see that what you say isn't so important to you after all. For example, if you say that attending church regularly is important, but you don't do it, they will more than likely follow your example and ignore your words. You will wonder then when they are adults why they go to church so little. Time will show you that what you consider to be relatively unimportant as shown by your actions will, in most cases, prove to be even more unimportant in your children when they are grown. If they don't see any real commitment in you to things pertaining to God though you may say you are a good Christian, you shouldn't be taken by surprise if they don't act much different than a heathen who has never been involved in church at all as they reach the age of independence from you.

God said that if you and I would train up a child in the way he should go that he would not depart from it. It is impossible to train up a child in the way he should go if you, as a parent, don't really go that way

AG LENDERS SEEK BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP

Credit Association (PCA) based in Arcadia, Louisiana, and the Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT), headquartered in Austin, are seeking regulatory approval to proceed with plans to establish a business relationship.

A request has been submitted to the Farm Credit Administration (FCA) to allow the PCA to reaffiliate to the Texas district. The reaffiliation will funds through the $4.2 billion Austinbased bank. The association currently is affiliated with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Jackson (FICBJ) located in Jackson, Mississippi.

The reaffiliation must be approved by FCA and stockholders of both the FCBT and the FICBJ. Voting is scheduled to be completed this summer. with an anticipated transfer date of September 30, 1993.

"We look forward to this new relationship with the Farm Credit Bank of Texas," Nothwest Louisana PCA President Billy Perritt said. "We believe it will allow us to provide loan products at more competitive rates, and enable us to offer more services to our members.'

Originally chartered to provide agricultural credit in the state of Texas, the Farm Credit Bank of Texas' boundaries have expanded to encompass Northwest Louisiana Production five states since 1989. The bank currently provides funds to 17 PCAs in New Mexico and Texas for making short- and intermediate-term agricultural production loans. It also makes long-term land and rural home loans through 48 Federal Land Bank Association in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. Together, the bank and associations have approximately $3.5 billion in loans outstanding to enable the PCA to receive it loan more than 52,000 farmers in the five state region.

The borrower-owned Northwest Louisiana PCA currently has approximately $45 million in short- and intermediate-term agricultural production loans outstanding to more than 600 producers in the parishes of Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Claiborne, Lincoln, Jackson, Union, Webster and Ouachita. Offices are located in Arcadia, Farmerville and Shreveport.

D.B. Fisher of Arcadia is chairman of the Northwest Louisiana PCA Board of Directors, and James C. Hoss of Hosston is vice chairman.

Gene Gibson is hospitalized in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. He had minor surgery last Monday afternoon.

From the Minister's Desk:

The first ten amendments of the United States Constitution are known as the bill of Rights. With these amendments, American citizens are guaranteed that they have certain freedoms and liberties which the government cannot revoke. For example, the first amendment says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceable to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

Notice that the first statement of this statement says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof--" This statement consists of two phrases which contain two cherished constitutional rights. These two phrases are: --

1. "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion --. " This phrase has been interpreted by this nation's judicial system to mean that a wall of separation exists between church and state. For this reason, the government cannot impose religion upon the citizens of this nation.

2. "--Or prohibiting the free exercise thereof --. " This phrase states that the government cannot prohibit "--the free exercise--" of religion. The citizens of this nation have the constitutional right of "-free exercise--" of religion without governmental interference.

Since the founding of this nation, the judicial system has struggled to maintain a balance between these two cherished constitutional rights. But for the last few years, this balance has been disturbed by several judicial rulings. These rulings have given precedent to the constitutional right of separation of church and state over the constitutional right of "--free exercise--" of reli-

As a result of this imbalance, some terrible inequalities now exist in this nation. Perhaps the best example of these inequalities is that it is legal to utter virtually any conceivable blasphemy in a public place. But it is illegal to pray at school, before a football game, or at a commencement ceremony. To correct inequalities like this one, it is imperative that the two constitutional rights in the first statement of the first amendment be carefully

An Invitation: You are cordially invited to attend any of the weekly services of the Wheeler Church of Christ which meets at 1001 S. Alan Bean Blvd. in Wheeler, Texas.

The importance of such balance is not limited to a proper understanding of constitutional rights. It is also needed in a proper understanding of the meaning of certain Biblical texts. One of these texts is Ephesians 2:8 which says: "For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God--." Like the first statement in the first amendment, there are two phrases in this text that must be carefully balanced. These two parts are:--

1. "--By grace --. "Salvation is the grace of God which means that people cannot earn their salvation. The Apostle Paul wrote: "--Join with me in suffering for the gospel according to the power of God, who has saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace which was granted us in Christ Jesus --. " (II Timothy 1:9) Salvation is not by works. It is "--by grace --. " 2. "--Through Faith--." Since this text plainly states that salvation is "--through faith--", the critical issue is not whether faith saves. Rather the critical issue is the type of faith that saves. According to several New Testament texts, the type of faith that saves is a faith that consists of obedience not mental assent. (John 3:31-39, Romans 1:1-

7. James 2:14-26)

When this critical issue is properly understood, it will correct the erroneous belief that baptism is a work of human merit which nullifies the grace of God. But baptism is not a work of human merit. The Apostle Paul gave the perfect description of baptism in his letter to the church at Colossae, saying: "--Having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised up with him through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead." (Colossians 2:12) Baptism then is an act of faith which symbolized the death, the burial, and the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (Romans 6:1-11) Rather than nullifying the grace of God,

Ephesians 2:8 is like the first statement in the first amendment. It contains two phrases that must be carefully balanced if it is to be properly understood and correctly this act of faith appropriates it.

Q.M. Priday would like to see a change in the public's attitude toward a beleaguered agricultural industry.

This fourth generation cotton and grain farmer seeks not sympathy, but understanding and support for his profession. Public mistrust of agriculture has been bred, he maintains, by a national media that would rather deal in controversy than in fairness. Misin-formation, he says, is being presented to young children through public schools. And mismanagement of government resources, he feels, has resulted in a bureaucracy out of control.

suffering unfair attacks from all sides.

The farmer gets blamed for everything from poisoning the food supply to destroying the ozone layer, he says.

side influences are putting their family

Also it is again time to be considering overseeding small grains into cotton. This should be done as soon as possible and no later than September 15th. Just overseeding the small grains in cotton is not all that matters. The small grain must make a stand and produce at least 2000 pound of Flat Small Grain Equivalent of growing wheat. This must be kept on the soil surface thru April 1st. This means no Deep Breaking, listing or heavy disking before April 1st. Wind Strips is probably the best alternative. It is very important for each farmer to look over their plans and carry them out as scheduled. All permanent practices must be installed by December 31, 1994. This will be here before we know it. For this reason no warning tickets will be given. We will have to submit all violations for non-compliance to ASCS. We will do our best to help everyone who wants to be kept in compliance, but we an go only so far. If you need assistance contact the SCS. Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on nondiscriminatory basis without regards to race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or

But the misunderstandings don't stop with food safety. Another perception is that farmers are feeding at the public trough, siphoning billions of taxpayers to support a lavish lifestyle.

"Everybody thinks that the $58, $60 billion expense or allocation for the USDA comes to me and my colleagues to buy a new Cadillac, when in fact the biggest percentage goes to food stamps, commodity programs for schools, and for university and various experiment station research," Priday says. Many of those costs, he charges, are being unnecessarily added by an out-of control federal bureaucracy. Priday hints that government bureaucrats have two purposes. "They have no real interest in anything but perpetuating their bureaucracy and advancing their own career." he says.

This results in excessive government regulation, he says, which is "occupying us with administrative activities totally useless and not productive and wasting vast amounts of money. Priday reminds consumers that farming is not like a store. First, if a farmer loses a crop due to excessive wet weather or from drought, he can't just turn around and reorder. "Smokeless tobacco that is kept in the mouth or chewed is more dangerous than a cigarette," says Cheryl Bressler, assistant head nurse of the Otolaryngology Intensive Care Unit at The Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Bressler has pioneered a local effort to educate people about the dangers of using smokeless tobacco. Her message may be startling to some, but not as shocking as the age of some of the "users" she's met. "I've talked to a 6-year-old boy who used it regularly, says Bressler, "so I now target elementary and Middle school children."

Her message is straightforward. "Tobacco in any form is not good for you. Chewing or dipping tobacco may not cause any major health problems initially, but continued use of these tobacco products can cause cancer.' And cancer is certainly a word even a first-grader understands.

Bressler says smokeless tobacco contains larger amounts of cancer causing chemicals found in cigarettes. These chemicals are absorbed through the mouth and stomach and stay in the bloodstream longer.

In fact, smokeless tobacco is one of the leading causes of oral cancer. Each year, there are more than 30,000 new oral cancers detected in the United States and one third of those people die from their disease.

"If you look inside a dipper's mouth, you may see a white patch or sore where they keep the tobacco between their cheek and gum," Bressler explains. "The white patch, called leukoplakia, will be wrinkled, hardened or cracked. In time, it could turn into cancer."

It doesn't take long for a dipper to discover the signs of danger. Leukoplakia usually develops after just a few months of use, so dippers should examine their mouth, lips, and tongue daily for warning signs.

Sores that bleed easily or don't heal, a sore throat, pain in chewing and swallowing food, or sore or red gums may signal something is wrong. If any of these signs are present, the dipper

You're Not Young Enough To Run Through The Sprinkler. And You're Not Rich Enough To Heat Your Water With Electricity.

Is this living, or what? Relaxing in a warm, wonderful bath is the grown-up way to have fun in the water. But there's nothing fun about getting a huge utility bill at the end of the month. That's why so many people who leve their baths hot make sure they re heated with clean, sate, economical natural gas. People who have natural gas het water heaters can enjoy their het baths three times mere than others who heat their water

Farmers Are Urged To Comply with Farm Plan

The Soil Conservation Service in Wheeler would like to urge all government participants to comply with their Conservation Plan. There are numbers of producers who are schedule to put in practices this year. An there are a numbers of producers who are going to try to avoid doing anything. These individuals who will try to avoid doing anything should be aware! A stiff fine would be given to those indi-

These are a list of practices that are scheduled to go in 1993. For example: Pasture Planting; Critical Area Planting; Diversion Terraces; Terrace System and Waterway. If these practices aren't put in 1993, the producers will be out of compliance and government payments will stop. Producers should also contact your local S.C.S office when they complete a practice and when they need help with a practice. The Jan. 1, 1995 deadline will be hare before you know it.

Wheeler County Soil Conservation Service has over 850 Farm Plan which to administer. About 5 percent of the 850 plans will be spot-check every year. If you don't fall on The spotcheck list that year, the next year you could. I will suggest to all producers to comply with their FSA plans.

You r local Soil Conservation Service encourage all farmers to come by the office to discuss their conservation plan. The Soil Conservation crew is looking forward in working with you and visiting with you. For more information contact the local Soil Conservation Service at 826-3565 or 826-

Funds Used to Develop New Teaching Methods

Dr. Jerry Stockton, President of Clarendon College, announced receipt of a $59,823 grant from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board in Carl D. Perkins state leadership funds. The project will create a model program of professional development in gender non-traditional teaching methods for K-12 classroom teach-

The college's proposal links the TEA's Region XVI Education Service Center and Panhandle Tech Prep Consortium with West Texas A&M to provide accredited training for isolated rural school personnel. The model responds to the National Council for Research on Vocational Education's December, 1992, findings that all members of a school community must be involved in teaching method changes for the changes to result in student success.

The acclaimed "Power Teaching" methodology developed by Dr. Shirley McCune will be presented to teachers, the model program will be presented to teachers. The model program will specifically facilitate professional development for teachers in Clarendon College's eight-county service area; teachers in all 67 Panhandle ISD's will be encouraged to participate.

A manual for reproducing the program will be available upon completion of the model. For more information, contact Carol Farris, Grants Coordinator, 874-3571
