McDOWELL WELL NO. 1

Showing Vapor, Steam and Gas, January 25, 1920.

McDOWELL WELL NO. 1.

On the Swab Before Casing Collapsed, July 19, 1920.

At the Itan well the Colorado-Texas Company continue to have trouble drilling thru the cement placed in the well to shut-off salt water. Five attempts have been made to shut off the water by putting cement in the well, but the cement is cracked or broken when an attempt is made to drill thru and the water reenters the well.

They expect to pull the casing again this week and reset to ascertain if a flaw in the casing is causing the trouble. If the casing proves to be O. K. one more attempt will be made to set the casing in cement. Should this attempt prove unsuccessful the company will drill another well close to test well No. 1.

Most all of the people of the Itan section as well as a number of oil scouts, with whom we have talked think this well will be good for from fifty to one hundred and fifty barrels if ever they are successful in casing off the salt water and placing this test well on the pump.

Honoring Dr. Kendrick and Family

The Ladies Auxillary of the First Baptist church, honored the new pastor, Dr. Kendrick and family, with a reception given in the basement of the First Baptist church, Thursday evening March 24th.

The auditorium was artistically decorated with many ferns and cut flowers. An interesting musical program was rendered, after which Mr. Shick, acting master of ceremonies, called upon Mr. McNew to address the pastor and his wife, welcoming them into our midst.

Dr. Kendrick, whom we have learned to love and honor in these few short weeks, responded with a message, filled with hope and cheer. Mrs. Kendrick also addressed the audience, as only one of her charming personalities can. Other interesting talks were made by Rev. Ben Hardy, pastor of the Methodist church, Mr. Bass, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and Mr. Reed. After a short moment of intermission, delightful refreshments were served to more than 200 guests; after which the crowd dispersed feeling happy over the pleasant occasion and the opportunity of welcoming to our city such estimable people as Dr. Kendrick and his family.

Anderson-Barnett

At the Methodist parsonage at 8:30 o'clock, Friday night, March 25th, Rev. Ben Hardy performed the ceremony which united in marriage Chas. F. Anderson and Miss Thelma Barnett, two of our popular and well known young people.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett, was born and reared in this city and is a young lady honored and esteemed by all who know her. At present she is teaching school and will continue until this term of school is out. The groom is a young man of sterling worth and has many warm friends throughout our county. They expect to make their future home in California.

Big Spring Wool Shipped

One hundred and twenty thousand pounds of 12 month wool of the 1920 clip was shipped on consignment to Philadelphia, Pa., last week from Big Spring, by the Wool Growers Association, of this county. 78,000 pounds of this wool was from Howard County and 40,000 pounds from Dawson county; and it is estimated by the Association that there is still in the hands of the wool growers of this county something over 75,000 pounds of last year's clip and it is almost time for another clip to begin. Conservative estimates place this year's clip at 250,000 pounds. The sheep industry in the Big Spring Country has been growing wonderfully in the past few years and when prices get back to normal again as they are sure to do you will see a great deal more wool shipped from this point.

City Federation Meeting

The City Federation will meet in the Rest Room at the court house Tuesday at 3 o'clock. It is time to elect a delegate for the annual district meeting at Abilene, Simmons College, to be held in April. Other matters of business to be arranged. Come and help us solve the problems we face in making Big Spring the best town it can become. Bring some one with you.

John M. Gordon, district manager for Dodge Brothers automobiles and B. H. Rhodes, traveling representative, were here Thursday on a business trip.

BOND ELECTION TUESDAY

Fate of Our Water Works System To Be Decided Tuesday April 5-- Do Your Duty

The Herald has had several notices in recent issues regarding the election next Tuesday, April 5th; but in conversation with a number of our citizens this week it seems like the people have not grasped the idea, that it is very imperative to the future development of the city that this bond issue carry. As your Mayor told you in the Herald of March 18, the city was owing the three banks of Big Spring $30,000 which was drawing 10 per cent interest, and that the banks were calling for their money, and that the $50,000 mortgage bonds issued in November, 1919, were not and could not be sold although every effort had been made to sell them. He also stated that the water works improvements, now underway, or far from complete, and unless this bond issue goes through, the banks will be forced to foreclose and with a broke city what does that mean?

If this bond issue carries Tuesday it will give the city enough money to pay what they owe the banks and also enough to carry out the contemplated improvements at the water works. Is there one citizen in Big Spring who wants to see the water works return to private ownership and that is what it will mean if this bond issue fails to carry next Tuesday. We all know that the most important question that has ever confronted this town, as well as other towns in West Texas, is the water question, and the town that settles that is bound to grow. Who wants to live in a town where they can say, "Yes, that is a good town, but they have no water supply."

Let's all turn out next Tuesday and put the bond issue over by a unanimous vote.

Northside Lobster Club

Despite the cool weather quite a large crowd attended the opening entertainment tendered by the Lobster club last Saturday evening.

A 15 minute handicap wrestling match between Frank Johnson, formerly of El Paso, and Adolph Hulp of this city furnished amusement for wrestling fans and neither wrestler was able to secure a fall.

Happy Coeran and Jimmie Stewart of Uniontown, Pa., boxed 5 snappy rounds.

Willie Gilmer vs. Bronc Winslow, Roy Cravens vs. Leo Cooran and Slim Larmen vs. Arnold Dean in 3 and 4 round sparring matches delighted the spectators.

During the intermission between the athletic events dancing was enjoyed.

Music furnished by Gomez orchestra.

Another big program is being planned for next Wednesday night to be held on the platform on corner of Pine and Montezuma streets. Adolph Hulp will perform on horizontal bar and other interesting events are planned.

Echols-O'Daniel

Sunday afternoon, March 27, at the Presbyterian manse, Big Spring, Texas, Rev. J. W. Harrison performed the ceremony which united in marriage Leroy Echols and Miss Amy O'Daniel, both of Coahoma, Texas. These two fine young people have many friends in Howard county, and especially will the bride be remembered by all the High School folks as one of her popular students for the last two years. Mr. Echols is a prosperous young farmer of the Coahoma section. The well-wishes of their many friends go with these two young people who have elected to go the pathway of life together.

Wage Reduction Planned

According to notices posted at the Texas & Pacific railroad shops in this city a reduction in the wages of all employes is scheduled for May 1st.

The notices request that every branch of employes send delegates to Dallas Texas on specified dates during the month of April, and beginning April 4, to confer with officials of the company relatives to the proposed reductions. All branches of railroad employes as well as many of the officials are affected by the proposed cut in wages, and an effort will be made to arrive at some amicable agreement.

Mavis Cleo McDaniel Dead

In the death of their infant daughter, Mavis Cleo, aged thirteen days, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McDaniel have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in this city. The beloved babe was claimed by death at 4:30 o'clock Thursday morning, March 31st.

Funeral services were conducted at five o'clock Thursday afternoon at the graveside in Mt Olive cemetery.

ELKS CAPTURE CITY

Big Spring Will Be in the Hands of the B. F. O. E. Today and Tonight

Celebrating the first anniversary of the organization of Big Spring Lodge No. 2886, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks the members of that organization have planned a big entertainment for this afternoon and tonight. In addition to eight auto loads of Elks from Lubbock; visiting Elks from many other cities are here for the jollification.

Most of the business houses in our city have beautifully and tastefully decorated show windows, store fronts and interiors, with the Elk colors, purple and white, predominating; the nifty decorations giving our city a gala-day appearance.

Following is an outline of the program for the occasion. At 4:30 p. m. all Elks and candidates will assemble at the B. F. O. E. club rooms. At 5:00 o'clock a parade will be formed, with A. J. Gallimore director and W. W. Inkman assistant. The parade will terminate at the T. & P. Dining Hall where a big feed will be served at 6:00 p. m. After the luncheon all will return to the club room where a class of 50 candidates will be initiated, and the newly elected officers installed.

Thieves Visit Our City

Big Spring has been especially fortunate in that our city has escaped the scourge of thugs, thieves, and bandits who have been active in all parts of the country but they may yet be headed our way and extra precautions should be taken in order to discourage these criminals.

The fact that the store of J. & W. Fisher was broken into Wednesday night and merchandise to the value of approximately five hundred dollars stolen, may indicate that the thieves are now in this section and every business house should join in securing additional protection against thieves. The ones who made the raid on Fisher's store were not experts, if all signs are true, and it may be that they will be apprehended before very long.

Improvements at Shops

The work of erecting a building over the Diesel engine at the T. & P. shops has begun this week and will be completed in a few days. The engine will be put in commission once more; having been out since the fire. The building will be concrete and steel and will be of a very substantial nature.

This will indeed be good news to our people for all are anxious to see our shops getting back in shape and all hope that it will not be long before work will be started on a much larger and better shops than we had before the fire, and some day we will see the shops, but just at the present time no work in the U. S. are making any substantial improvements and until such a time as they do we will have to get up with what we have.

The Fruit Safe

After the sudden drop in temperature Sunday all our citizens were sure that the fruit crop, which promises to be the largest for many years, was sure to get killed. But no extensive damage has done to the crop so those who are in a position to know tell us.

Due to the fact that a stiff wind was blowing Sunday night there was no frost. There was considerable ice Monday morning and it was cold all day; but Monday night was not so cold and the opinion is that the fruit crop is safe. Gardens were hit in some parts of the city by the cold wave but no material damages were done to these. Most all the flowers were covered and the general opinion is that the freeze did no material damage.

All hope this will be the last cold snap of the season and if it should be the citizens of the Big Springs Country will be living out of their gardens in a few weeks and will have plenty of fruit to eat and can this year.

W. F. Getting Home

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend W. F. Bonner at Texarkana, in which he says: "The dog woods are in bloom, the fish biting, the weather is fine and so is the home." and adds that when we get all he is coming back to make his home here. W. F. make your arrangements to return for it will not be long before the oil will be flowing.

Baseball Stars Arrive

The members for the T. & P. Baseball team of Big Spring, arrived Thursday and the members of the team are looking lucky since they came in time to play with Fort Worth team, Sunday, April 3rd.

A large number of our citizens were present at McDowell well No. 1 last Saturday to witness the shooting of this well. Some seventy or more automobiles were parked about the vicinity of the well. Shortly after noon the 100-quart shot of nitro-glycerine which had been placed in the well was exploded and the spectators had the satisfaction of seeing oil shoot more than thirty feet over the top of the derrick.

After the shot the oil subsided in the well and the hope now prevails that it is going to be a good pumper. All kind of guesses as to the production are to be heard but it will probably be several days before any estimate as to the possibilities of the well can be definitely arrived at. The work of placing the tubing in the well for connecting up the pump was completed Thursday and the well will be placed on pump today. It will be several days and possibly a week before the pumping will definitely prove the capacity of this well.

Home folks as well as oil interests from other sections are keenly interested and this test is being watched with considerable interest.

The General Oil Company is going right ahead with work on other test wells in this vicinity and the following report is made as to progress on other tests.

At Roberts No. 1, one string of lost tools has been recovered and the second string of lost tools had been located in the center of the hole, ready to be caught with the fishing tools when work stopped Thursday evening. Valentine Day, driller on this well, expects to have the well cleaned within the next two days. This test is 2585 feet, in time.

Excellent progress is being made on Sand Hill No. 1 and it should be but a short time until this well reaches the depth at which good oil showings are encountered in this section. A double crew of drillers is to be put on this job today. This well is now 2130 feet deep and they are drilling in a red bed and lime formation.

At Reed No. 1 they have cemented the six and five-eighth inch casing to shut off water. This is the second time this casing has been cemented but it is thought that it will hold this time. It will be a week before they will drill thru the cement. This well is 3313 feet deep in time.

New Company to Enter Field

R. S. Campbell, M. E. Daly, and E. M. Stockton, Chicago capitalists, who spent several days in this city last week, and who were here at the shooting of the McDowell well Saturday, but had to leave Sunday for Roswell, returned Wednesday and entered into a contract with the Jas. Currie estate, for 15,000 acres of land in the southeast part of Glascock county with one drilling contract; work to begin on well just as soon as it is possible to get the material on the ground.

That these gentlemen are able in every way to carry out any contract entered into is fully demonstrated by the fact that they now have four producing wells in the Brady field and have already enough casing, tools, etc. bought and paid for, to put down half a dozen wells if they think this field will justify same.

The Herald is indeed glad to see this group of moneyed business men come into the field and in conversation with them they told the reporter that they had nothing to say right at this time, but when they got here with their machinery and rigged up and started after the "liquid gold" they would let us publish "doings" and not what they said they were going to do. They left Thursday for their oil holdings near Brady and expect to be back in the field in the next few weeks ready for business. The eyes of the big oil people are on the Big Spring section and we are going to see great development in the next twelve months.

Oil Wells at Westbrook and Itan

A Herald representative made a trip to the oil wells of the Underwriters Oil and Refining Company, near Westbrook, in Mitchell county, Thursday and found everything moving along nicely on the wells of that company.

T. & P. well No. 1 is making about eighteen barrels of oil per day on pump while well No. 2 is making about six barrels per day. The shallow well was not in operation as they have a fishing job holding up operations on this test.

The Underwriters Company expect to spud in a well four miles south of Westbrook within the next few days, the work of completing the derrick now being underway.

They also plan to make a new location between their well No. 1 and Roster well No. 1, of the Colorado-Texas Petroleum Co., this location will be selected within the next few weeks and the test well started before a great while.

Oil Company Given Extension

The Federal Service Oil and Development Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., the company which has entered into a contract to complete the Quinn test well started by the Big Spring Production Company, west of this city, asked and has been granted a thirty day extension of the time limit for resuming operations on this test well.

April 1st was the date set for forfeiture of contract unless work was started but the company will now have until May 1st to start operations.

At Enders-Cushing Well

The Enders-Cushing test well on the Cushing ranch, has reached a depth of 2136 feet. The last 140 feet drilled thru is a gray lime. A geologist who recently visited the well reports this to be the Wichita-Albany formation and states that the Cisco formation will be encountered shortly.

This location is in a section which oil men consider most favorable and great hopes of securing a good oil well are entertained.

Mrs. W. W. Rix left Thursday evening for a several weeks' visit with relatives in Paris.

BIG SPRING HERALD BY JORDAN & HAYDEN

$3.00 A YEAR IN HOWARD COUNTY. $2.50 A YEAR OUTSIDE OF COUNTY

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Big Spring, Texas, Under Act of Congress, March 8th, 1897.

Big Spring, Friday, April 1, 1921.

From the tone of the dispatches from Washington it looks like an early recognition of Obregon's regime in Mexico. Poor old Mexico certainly needs the recognition of somebody for any country that has been revolutionizing 10 or 12 years need to get to work and raise something to eat instead of raising revolutionists.

The long county-seat fight between Spur and Dickens, in Dickens County, was settled last Saturday, in the election held on that date. Spur received the majority of the votes but not the necessary two-thirds that it required to move the county seat from Dickens.

With the best season in the ground that we have had in many a year it is going to be mighty hard to beat the Big Spring Country out of a bumper crop this fall.

Now that the city is the cleanest it has been in years, let's see if we can't keep it that way.

The building boom has at last hit Big Spring and there are a number of new residences going up all over town, and a number soon to be built. Let the good work go on, for when the oil rush comes, we will need all the houses and many more besides.

In conversation with an oil man from one of the northern states this week he remarked to The Herald man that while he thought we had great possibilities in the way of oil, he thought our greatest possibilities lay in our agricultural and live-stock industry as he had visited no section of this United States that had so impressed him as ours had, and further that when it came to real prosperity that agricultural prosperity meant more to any country than oil.

"Cotton is the chief money crop of the South—no denying that fact," says the Mart Daily Herald. "However, we go broke on it every few years when advantage is taken of our marketing system by the manufacturers, who have been able to buy the cotton at their own figures regardless of cost of production. As an aid to the law of supply and demand southern consumers could help themselves by using more cotton made products instead of buying silk and other substitutes. Especially is this true of underwear, hosiery and dress goods of various kinds and texture. The cotton goods represent our southern interests as far as helping ourselves is concerned. The more demand there is for manufactured cotton products, the more cotton will the manufacturers use."

The Devil succeeded in starting something in last week's paper when he stated that the Elks would serve beer to those wanting it at the luncheon to-night and his satanic majesty has been cursed by both members of the lodge and outsiders this week. They are to serve the beer alright but the "kick" is to be extracted from same and as the negro remarked after taking his first bottle of beer with the "kick" gone "you is nothing, that's what you is." That is the same kind of beer that will be served at the luncheon. The Devil thought that all his readers were posted on the laws of the country and with the Volstead act in force in the U. S., and the Dean law operating in Texas, that they would know that it would be a harmless substitute for what some of us older ones remember used to be served at occasions of this kind, and besides we did not know how to spell the famous brand they are to serve at their luncheon, so just put it beer. Hope this explanation will prove entirely satisfactory to all but if not the editor will be home next week and you can take same up with him; as we will drop out of this responsible position as soon as he returns.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

The Bully beat up his Wife last week and he is now En Route to beat up the Editor for Putting it in the Paper. The Editor will remind the Bully that he is merely Printing the News, not Making it, and then he will Bust the Bully over the Bean with the Mallet and set him out in the Alley to Rest Up.

B. J. Cochran who was tried last week at Aspermont in the "empty grave" swindle case which had created wide spread attention all over this part of the state was given two years in the penitentiary.

"The experience of the boy who sold his hog, and being hungry, went into a restaurant and 'blowed' his money for a mess of pork chops, is somewhat applicable to many of the products that the farmer has for sale, and which is impoverishing him beyond the point where farm life has ceased to be attractive," says the Ladonia News. "There are many inequalities that should be corrected, and the farmer himself has it in his power to remedy many of them. One of the ways that suggests itself as a reasonable solution is for the farmer to cut out so much cotton and raise his own living on the farm; such as potatoes, vegetables for canning, corn with which to feed porkers and feed stuffs with which to feed and fatten dairy cows and beef for market."

Presbyterian Church Notes

Let our folks all keep in mind that El Paso Presbytery will meet with us on Tuesday evening, April 12. This meeting promises to be the best in the history of the Presbytery. We expect to have a full attendance of all the ministers, and probably a ruling elder from each congregation. We are also promised a quartet from the Lubbock church. The program for the three evenings and two days will be printed next week.

Our Woman's Auxiliary had a fine meeting last Monday afternoon to close up the church year. Mrs. J. I. McDowell, the retiring president, who has given such splendid service to the work, presided at this meeting. The new officers who were installed at this meeting are as follows: Mrs. Dr. Barnett, President; Mrs. A. W. Flanken, Vice President; Mrs. H. G. Whitney, Secretary; Mrs. Ella Barrick, Treasurer. Mrs. Dr. Ellington, Mrs. Noble Read, and Mrs. J. N. Rutherford are the new Circle chairmen. The reports for the past year showed splendid work on the part of all the officers and members, and yet we look ahead to even greater results.

Our young people's work is moving along splendidly. The Senior Christian Endeavor had a large attendance last Sunday evening, and it appears as if the leaders are doing fine work. The smaller girls and boys of the Junior C. E. are doing such fine work, and show a determination to make it better. Our church report to Presbytery will show a good year all along the line. But next year should be better.

Report of Prayer Circles

Wednesday, March 30, 1921. Circle 2. Met with Mrs. A. C. Smith, and were present. Arrangements for next week to be made later. Circle 4A. Met with Mrs. Stockton, Mrs. Brasher was the leader, and were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Brasher and Mrs. Miller will be the leader. Circle 4B. Met with Mrs. Lovelace, Rev. Ben Hardy was the leader, and 14 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Young, and Rev. J. W. Harrison will be the leader. Circle 4C. Met with Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Lester was the leader, and 12 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Lynch and Miss Vera Lynch will be the leader. Circle 5A. Met with Mrs. Deats, Mrs. Dr. Collins was the leader, and 5 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Collins and Mrs. C. S. Holmes will be the leader. Circle 5B. Met with Mrs. Ebborn Coffee, Mrs. C. E. Williams was the leader, and 11 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. G. I. McNew, and Mrs. Clugan will be the leader. Circle 6. Met with Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Hardy was the leader, and 11 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Miss Verbena Barnes, and Mrs. Clay Read will be the leader. Circle 8. Met with Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Roy Franklin was the leader, and 32 were present. Will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Greene, and Mrs. Greene will lead.

This makes a good showing for the Circles, with 97 present on a disagreeable day like Wednesday, and yet some of the Circles did not do so well as usual; but next week will no doubt show improvement in attendance all around. Circle 5B had fallen by the wayside for a few weeks, the captain being absent from town; but Mrs. Chas. Macpherson Jr. rallied the folks together, and made a splendid showing. Mrs. Barrett must have kept the telephone busy to get a larger attendance than for sometime. But the banner goes to Mrs. Rogers, captain of Circle 8, north of the tracks where the good women turned out to the number of 32. "Prayer changes things." So says Dr. S. D. Gordon, together with an innumerable host of others who have experienced the deep truths of life. Keep up the good work of meeting together in the prayer circles, for whatever of good we shall have in this community will come because of the praying folks.

City Election Tuesday

On next Tuesday, April 5th, the voters will be called on to elect two aldermen to fill the places of A. P. McDonald and R. D. Matthews, whose terms have expired. We have not heard of anyone spoken of or whether these two will stand for reelection, but the time is short and we should see that some of our best business men are put out; as many questions of vital importance to the future development of our city will come up in the next few months, such as a sewer system, paving main street, laying of more cement sidewalks, etc. and we should have the best there is in the city to handle these questions. If the two whose time has expired will stand for reelection all right and good, if not let's get busy and see who will.

Ball Game Sunday

Big preparations are now going on among the T. & P. ball players here for the game Sunday and they are preparing to eat that T. & P. ball team of Fort Worth up.

This is the opening game of the season and you are going to miss some fast ball playing if you fail to see it. The Fort Worth team says they can't afford to let a little country team beat them and they are bound to win.

This game should be attended by a large crowd and you are sure to get your money's worth. Be sure to be on hand and help our boys win this game by your presence as well as help them. It will be quite a feather in our cap if we take the first game from a big city like Fort Worth and our boys say they are sure going to do that. Come and see.

The Tooth Brush Drill

The size of the tooth brush, as well as its shape, is a matter of personal opinion. It would be reasonable to use a large brush for a large mouth, and a small brush for a small mouth. The bristles should be of medium stiffness and good quality. There must, of course, be a dentifrice; this may be any good tooth powder or paste, or merely good soap. A good powder, however, is preferable to any other dentifrice. One of the main things is to brush the margins of the gums.

Silk floss for cleansing between the teeth is a splendid aid.

During the last eight years of school
dental clinics in Cincinnati, the following tooth brush drill has been worked out and is used successfully to teach children how to clean their teeth:

Attention—hold brush up in right hand at the height of the shoulder, in front of child. (This is so as to see that the brush is clean.)

Upper Teeth—1. Place brush in mouth, upper right, where the gum and teeth join. Turn down towards grinding surface eight times.

2. Brush upper front. Place on gum and turn down eight times.

3. Brush upper left. Place brush on gum, turn down eight times.

4. Brush upper right inside. Place brush on gum and turn down eight
times.

5. Brush upper front inside. Place brush vertically, brush down eight
times.

6. Brush upper left side. Place
brush on gum and turn down eight
times.

7. Place brush on grinding surface of teeth, upper right, scrub forward
and back eight times.

8. Place brush on grinding surface of teeth, upper left, scrub forward and back eight times.

Lower teeth—9. Place brush in mouth, lower right, where the gum and teeth join. Turn up towards grinding surface eight times.

10. Brush lower front. Place on gum, turn up eight times.

11. Brush lower left. Place brush on gum, turn up eight times.

12. Brush lower right inside. Place brush on gum, brush up eight times.

13. Brush lower front inside. Place brush vertically, brush up eight times.

14. Brush lower left inside. Place brush on gum, turn up eight times.

15. Place brush on grinding surface of teeth, lower right, scrub forward
and back eight times.

16. Place brush on grinding surface of teeth, lower left, scrub forward and
back eight times.

Attention—hold brush up in right hand. (See how clean the brush is now).

Last—see that each child's brush is thoroughly rinsed with fresh water and put away in a clean place.

NOVEL STYLE IN SUIT

For those who are looking for something entirely new, suits like that shown above are provided in the spring displays in which capes or capelle overgarments or blouses with short close-fitting peplums take the place of the regulation suit coat. This new idea has been worked out with fine success in the model pictured.

Presbyterian Auxiliary

The women of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met in social session at the home of Mrs. Littler, March 15, the object of the meeting was the annual Mite-Box opening.

The program was as follows:
Devotional exercises which consisted of prayer by Mrs. Lane and short talks by some of the ladies.

The Object of the Mite-Box by Mrs.
J. I. McDowell.

Vocal Solo by Mrs. L. S. McDowell.

Piano solo by Miss Jeanette Barnett.

Parlor car trip to the Mission Fields.

The train was made up in the parlor,
and the crew consisted of engineer, conductor, and news butch. Mrs. Willis as engineer, was dressed in the usual overalls and cap worn by railroad men in that position. She proved very efficient in the easy riding and fast time was made by the train, and there was a pleasant smile for everyone as she blew the whistle and started the train, in spite of dirt and grime on face and clothing which such a position carries with it.

Mrs. Bonnie Read, in conductor's uniform, passed down the aisle and took up the tickets and gave such information as was needed.

As it was a trip of unusual length and interest—reaching from Texas to Oregon—including Home and Foreign Missions—she proved herself very capable and well informed.

Mrs. Littler as news butch in the regulation uniform, created much merriment as she sold her wares from station to station.

There were four mission stations on our route, and at each station we found a lady representing that special field
—which she described to us and showed us curios peculiar to the people she was representing.

On our return to the "Home Land"
we opened the Mite-Boxes and found they contained $27.00 which was divided equally between Home and Foreign Missions.

After playing a few games, delicious refreshments were served and we all went home feeling that we had gotten much information about our mission fields as well as a little innocent amusement.

Baptist Church Notes

The ladies of the Baptist church held their regular monthly missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. Hatcher
Monday, March 25th; with Mesdames Hatcher and Orenbaum as hostesses.

Mrs. Ford was leader with "Christian Americanization" as her subject.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Beckett, followed by a hymn, after which a splendid paper on Christian Americanization of the Immigrant, written by Mrs. Henley, was read by Mrs. Piner. Mrs. Henley was unable to be present.

Mrs. Etheridge rendered a most beautiful piano solo, and Mrs. Reid read an excellent paper on "Our Individual Responsibility."

We had a most interesting discussion of the Mexican situation at home, and it was decided to look into the matter and see if it will be possible to establish a Good-Will Center in Big Spring for the Mexicans, in order to teach them the American mode of housekeeping. The president appointed a committee of three to attend to this.
Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Etheridge, and Mrs.
Holmes being appointed.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

West Texas Towns After a Hospital For Ex-Soldiers

Stamford, March 31.—Henry M.
Baton, manager of the Washington office, West Texas Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday appears before the special committee of three appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, Mellin, to locate the Government Soldiers' Rehabilitation hospital for the Southwest. The West Texas representative contended for a location of the hospital in West Texas. There are several West Texas towns contending for the location including Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Pecos.

Mr. Eaton in his argument before the committee at Washington favored only the location in West Texas but was neutral as to the aspiration of the different competing towns.

Railroad Labor Men Ask For Conference

Chicago, March 31.—Railroad employes tonight laid a proposal before President Harding for a conference between labor and the railroads in an attempt to settle the whole transportation problem now confronting the country.

In a telegram signed by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor the chief executive was asked to call a conference between the railway executives and the labor unions to "undertake to compose the differences on all points in dispute." Mr.
Jewell declared the unions had "every faith" that such a conference would be "productive of immediate salutary results."

Texas Railroads Make Money for First Time

Austin, March 31.—For the first time in several months, the railroads of Texas made money during the month of December, 1920, according to the monthly report for that month
given out by the railroad commission today. The total operating revenue was $233,374,945.05 while the operating expenses were $229,358,778.75 making the income $4,016,166.26. The income for December, 1919, was $21,187,934.69.

Breckenridge Has Another Blaze

Breckenridge, March 31.—Breckenridge lost another business block by fire today. This time it was the block west of the Jake Hamon depot bounded by the railroad and Gonzales creek and fronting on Walker street.

Three hotels, several cafes, lodging houses, tool houses and check stands were completely destroyed at a loss estimated at between $40,000 and $60,000.

This is Breckenridge's third disastrous fire in a month.

Harding Receives His First Monthly Pay Check

Washington, March 31.—President Harding today received his first monthly pay check. It was for $5,520-$4. Ordinarily the monthly check sent to the President by the treasury department is made out for $6,520 but Mr. Harding was "docked" for the three and a half days that Woodrow Wilson served as President for this month.

Tuberculosis Tests of Western Herds Started

Fort Worth, Texas, March 31.—Two veterinary inspectors, one of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission and one of the Bureau of Animal Industry, have started the making of tuberculosis tests under the accredited herd plan in the western part of the State. They will work from Midland and the Big Spring territory to El Paso, Dr. L. G.
Cloud, State veterinarian, announced today. Some of the herds to be tested have been tested under the accredited plan before, while others are just taking up the eradication of tuberculosis.
The regulations require that a herd show no reaction at two annual or three semi-annual tests to become accredited.

"West Texas is troubled with bovine tuberculosis to a lesser degree than any other portion of the State," Dr.
Cloud said, "and it is expected that upon the completion of the prescribed tests a number of herds will be accredited tubercular free."

The first issue of the monthly report of the State Veterinarian on tuberculosis among dairy cattle furnishing milk to cities in Texas of over 5,000 inhabitants will be issued probably tomorrow or Saturday. The control of tubercular dairy cattle is handled entirely through city ordinances, according to Dr. Cloud, and the report will show that some cities are not conducting testing work.

Cardinal Gibbons Is Laid to Rest

Baltimore, Md., March 31.—With all the splendor of a ceremony centuries
old, the Roman Catholic church today laid to rest one of its most revered and faithful servants—James Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, and the second American to be elevated to the cardinate.

Archbishop John Bonzano, apostolic delegate at Washington, celebrated a pontifical requiem mass in the cathedral of the Blessed Virgin Mary, with seminarians chanting Georgian music never before heard outside the sistine chapel in Rome during a funeral of a pope.

Archbishop John J. Glendon of St.
Louis delivered the funeral sermon.
During his eulogy of the dead, there remained scarcely a dry eye among his hearers, whose memories went back to the kindly, gentle old man who led with power of spirit as well as power of mind.

Irish Parties' Leaders Hold Parley

Belfast, Ireland, March 31.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, was interviewed Tuesday by Sir William Goulding and three other southern Irish unionists, with the object, it is understood, of securing the opening of peace negotiations between the Irish republican parliament and the British government.

The interview took place at Dundalk,
county Louth.

Sir William is a prominent Irish railwayman, resident of Dublin. He is chairman of the Great Southern and Western railway of Ireland and of the Irish railway clearing house. He was a member of the Irish convention of 1917-18 and 19's former high sheriff of the county of Dublin.

Methodist Notes

We had 19 present at Sunday school Easter morning. In the Beginners department the little folks were given Easter eggs. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Patterson gave the Juniors a rabbit hunt on Saturday before Easter. A number of the teachers gave their classes some form of Easter entertainment. Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Morosco gave special missionary stories on our work for the famine stricken areas, and on Brazil. Frances McNew will give her reading this Sunday. We had many beautiful Easter specials by the choir at church service and Champ Warren gave the solo "Just for Today" in his own splendid way. Brother Hardy's Easter sermon was one of his best, appropriate and inspiring.

The Circle meeting at Mrs. Cauble's on Monday afternoon proved almost an overflow. An interesting program of music and news items from the "Voice" were given, also a unique chain service concluded the program. Delicious refreshments of cake and cream were served.

The business meeting will be held at the church Monday at three. All Methodist women are urged to attend. We never have a dull session. Come and join us.

Red Cross Notes

The many Easter Rabbit hunts last Saturday furnished more competition than the Playground has yet experienced. While the attendance was smaller, the interest abated not at all. In fact, those present had the best time last Saturday than at any previous meeting.

Wednesday afternoon the older boys had a good ball game on the lawn, while the younger set of boys and girls played games suitable to them. Of the many good stories at both sessions, the favorite seemed "The King of the Golden River", a classic that approaches in beauty and purpose Van Dyke's "Story of the Other Wise Man."

All children are invited to attend all games and also the story-hour in the court room.

Big Oil Pool Here Somewhere

A. J. Mandin, scout for the Pure Oil Company, headquarters at Amarillo, was in the city Tuesday looking over the oil situation in this section of the state. He was well pleased with our prospects for big production from what he gathered from the logs of the wells now going down. Most all of the oil men this writer has talked with since the wells now drilling were down any depth, and they all had encountered the showings they have, are of the opinion that there is a big mother pool in this immediate section and some one is going to tap it some day. When all of the scouts of the big companies are of the same opinion regarding this pool of course us small fish in the oil game are bound to believe it is here and will be discovered some day if we keep putting down holes.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A Timely Article From The Superintendent That Should Be Read by All Our Citizens

Teachers now teaching in the same positions as last year are Mrs. Agnell, Mrs. Fahrenkamp and Miss Pool. Former teachers but now in new positions are Miss Mott and Miss Thompson.

Of the above teachers at the beginning of the present year Mrs. Agnell and Miss Thompson had been in the faculty only a part of a year, Miss Mott one year, Miss Pool two years and Mrs. Fahrenkamp several years.

Other teachers in the faculty part or all of the present year are Misses Dunning, Johnson, Lomax, Nichol, Ramsel, Denton, Gracey, Gulon Pool, Clark, Cochrum, Compton, Flanken, Giles, Ethel Palmer, Maggie Palmer, Steker, Mesdames Brown, Pittman, Thurman; Messrs Reid, Pearson, Perera, Grant.

The causes of this transitory faculty habit is as evident to every one as to the writer, hence we need only mention a few of the principal causes.

Teachers, like other folks, like to eat, wear fairly good clothes, have some place to call home, read good literature, attend some good amusements, have enough to pay for summer bills, and have a tooth filled or pulled occasionally, pay a possible doctor and drug bill and not have to borrow money to get to their school work in the fall. Therefore they are interested in salary.

Most teachers are not afraid of work, but they do like conditions that make it possible to do good work. Therefore lack of equipment and overcrowded conditions are undesirable factors.

After a hard day's or week's work it is so restful to be able to go "Home" to eat and rest. Most teachers are away from their immediate families and friends, those with whom they have labored, played, laughed and cried. Perhaps some pupil or patron has misunderstood her and therefore not been just as courteous and thoughtful as if at some card party. So the teacher housing question is a serious factor.

In this far western section the distance from the more populous and school centers makes it difficult and expensive.

Before leaving these difficulties I wish to say that it seems that our homes here have been exceptionally considerate and cooperative this year. Our teachers have been well cared for while in a number of instances in the State teachers have given up their work on account of not being able to find homes.

Under the head of results we wish to notice:

1. Constant changing is not conducive to either getting or keeping the best and most efficient teachers.

Most colleges and universities are now furnishing free information to teachers in regard to positions and vacancies. These institutions are not only helping schools to find the best teachers, but they are also helping the teachers to find the best positions. Teachers are informing themselves as to the positions. The school as well as the teacher must furnish some recommendations.

The transient teacher is not only not the most efficient teacher, but naturally does not take the interest nor put forth the effort of the more settled and better satisfied teacher. The constantly moving teach is not likely to have the force of personality to become an integral part of the school and community. She may not even exert all her available force because of the habit and desire of moving every year or two.

One year is not sufficient for a teacher to become a positive upbuilding force in a school system. In short the nomadic teacher is more or less a weight or parasite to be carried by the school system rather than a positive pulling and helpful force. This helplessness is noticeable in the general community interests, in the team work of the faculty and in all student activities both in school and in society.

In school business, as in other business, it is not economy to be constantly changing. If a new mechanic, a new salesman or bank cashier, especially one with limited training and experience, often wastes material and drives away customers, is it surprising that the same may apply with teachers? How much more serious is this lack of economy when measured in terms of children. If a piece of material is spoiled by a mechanic the loss may be replaced with a small cost and a little extra time and effort. If a new salesman or cashier offends a customer, often the trouble can be remedied by explanation and special effort. Not so with the child. The textbook matter poorly or wrongly taught may be corrected, but the wrong habits and attitudes gotten during the getting of the lessons fasten themselves quickly and become a forceful part of his very self. The child is getting his education just the same. The good or bad quality of this education is determined largely by the bigness, personality and efficiency of the teacher.

With 75 to 90 per cent of a faculty carried over each year it is possible to develop the best elements to the maximum limit. When this becomes true it is much easier to develop the few new teachers that come in each year. A tested and proven faculty can always carry a small amount of new weight while a small carried-over faculty can not carry a new weight larger than itself.

A known and trusted faculty makes it easier to get a large financial support than it is for a constantly changing faculty to get a much smaller financial support. This makes it both possible and desirable for both the school system and teachers to invest more for still better work and more efficient results. In this way we add to school team work, making it easier to discipline the whole school and making it next to impossible for the individual pupil to get out of harmony with the school spirit and cooperation with the student body and faculty.

Naturally the idea of more permanency carries with it the idea of a better paid, better prepared and ever-preparing faculty. The ambition of any forceful administration is to build up a really forceful faculty. All the combined forces of a board of trustees and superintendent can not do this in one or even two years. Human development is slow.

The average mother will tell you that it is often easier to do her work than to have the children do it. At the same time she will tell you that she is over-working herself and neglecting the proper training of her children. This same idea may apply in the administration of almost any business involving a number of people. It may be easier in many instances for the superintendent to handle directly almost all the details connected with all the different buildings and rooms in his care, but in doing all this work he is neglecting some larger work and at the same time depriving his principals and teachers of their initiative and self-development. Happy is that board and superintendent who can get a fairly good faculty, hold most of it and work with it patiently, in spite of criticisms within and without, until even the critics declare it to be an excellent faculty.

best showing at the beginning. In fact all superficial public work seeks to make a showing. Superficial work "Toots its own horn." Lasting and enduring work can not make a showy display at the beginning, for, as in most instances, the best and real foundations are not in sight and are not things of beauty at best. Schools should make a showing, but not a camouflage display. We are more interested in the personal development of both teacher and pupil than in what they learn out of or in books. Their likes and dislikes, their attitude and respect for authority and the interests of others far outweigh the little textbook matter gotten while in school. The attributes of large personality are not easily and quickly gotten or developed, however they will speak forcefully for themselves and for the schools when the opportune time comes.

Think what it would mean for our schools and children if a goodly number of our teachers were able to spend this summer doing special graduate work and then come back to us, not some other school, happier, healthier, not bankrupt, better prepared for the year's school work and with a broader vision and keener insight and appreciation of what it means to be a TEACHER.

How much better for the Board, the faculty, the student body, the school and community to be boosted than to be knocked.

How much better and bigger to be a booster than to be a knocker.
A. W. FLANIKEN,
Superintendent.

Receipt for "Jackass Brandy"

As we hear a great deal now about home brew and a number of our people are in favor of returning to the good old days when every man could make his own at home, and for the benefit of those who desire to do so we give them the following receipt which we found in an exchange this week. The man who left this receipt shot and killed himself on a lumber pile in San Francisco after calling a crowd to witness the act.

The receipt is as follows:
"Seven spools of barbed wire, 10 pounds of chewing tobacco, one sack of tule roots, one can blasting powder, five gallons of river water. Mix all together and cool for nine days and nights. Set on ice and cool while you dig your grave. Then take one drink and go for the hole. You will not need a covering. The jackass will cremate you."

Texas Released from Sheep-Scab Quarantine

A new quarantine order issued by the United States Department of Agriculture releases the entire State of Texas from quarantine for sheep scabies. The order becomes effective April 15, 1921. Texas counties which until recently have been subject to quarantine regulations and which are now released are: Concho, Crockett, Edwards, Kimble, Menard, Pecos, Schleicher, Sutton, Terrell, Tom Green, and Valverde.

According to veterinarians in the Bureau of Animal Industry there are a number of cases of sheep scab still existing in Texas, but the disease is so well under control that a continuance of the quarantine in the "Lone Star State" is considered no longer necessary. According to the new order promulgated by the department, the following areas of the United States are still under quarantine:

California: Mendocino, Sonoma, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Fresno, Merced, Madera, Tulare, Kings, and Kern counties, and the island of San Clemente.

Louisiana: The parishes of Allen, Beauregard and Vernon.

A NEW UNIVERSITY AT AUSTIN, TEXAS, OPENS THIS YEAR

Rev. Dr. Matthew Schumacher, C. S. C., President of St. Edward's College, of Austin, a branch of Notre Dame, announces that beginning next September, the standard of this institution will be raised to include actual college grades as well as the preparatory, and that a campaign will be put on, running through the year, for funds for new buildings and equipment.

Complete courses of instruction in both freshman and sophomore classes will be added in September, meeting the usual classical, literary, scientific, pre-engineering, pre-legal, pre-medical and commercial requirements. As soon thereafter as practicable the junior, senior and post-graduate courses will follow, making St. Edward's a University of the first rank.

"A Greater St. Edward's," like St. Edward's, will be open to young men of good character, regardless of religious belief.

St. Edward's, in her forty years' history, has sent out nearly three thousand graduates and former students who are now representative citizens of Texas and the Southwest, including a number of men prominent in our own community.

Texas needs more colleges. The demand for higher education is greater than the present existing colleges and universities can supply. Some colleges have set a limit upon the number of students they will accept. Many are turning students away. All are overcrowded, and still the demand continues.

Texas and the Southwest, authorities say, are losing many fine young men because they cannot secure a college education here. They go east or north to college and many never return.

Higher education of course means greater earning capacity. The boys found this out in the late war when they saw that the commissioned officers in both army and navy were usually men of higher education, while those with little education invariably went into the ranks.

COLLIER'S WEEKLY AND CATHOLIC VIEWS ON EDUCATION COINCIDE

What has the world war taught us as individuals?

This question is answered by an editorial in COLLIER'S, the National Weekly, in its issue of March 19, 1921, as follows:

"The world war has taught us that MEN, and not things, are what count; that HUMAN CONDUCT and human wisdom are the forces that overcome depression; that PERSONAL EFFORT and personal accomplishment weigh more in the end than do any resources of material or of money."

In speaking of the campaign to make "A Greater St. Edward's," at Austin Texas a great Catholic University President Matthew Schumacher, C. S. C. said:

"This is our viewpoint exactly. For generations our colleges have trained the will as well as the mind and body. We believe that if life were knowledge, and not action; if it were of more consequence to know than to be, to have than to become, then we could readily grant that educating the mind alone were sufficient.

But if action and conduct, right action and right conduct, are more than knowing, if conscience is more than brain, then of course, it makes a great difference how we are prepared for life.

"We judge a man by what he DOES, and not by what he KNOWS. This standard is almost unconsciously recognized by the world."

Concerning Bankhead Highway

A meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday for the purpose of making provision for representation at the Fifth Annual Convention of the Bankhead National Highway Association. In compliance with a request made by J. M. DeArmond of Midland, director, representing West Texas from Fort Worth to El Paso, the directors paid for fifty annual memberships in the Bankhead Highway Association in order that Howard county should have proper representation at this convention.

Among the important matters to be taken up will be marking the Bankhead Highway from Washington to San Diego, California, plans for beautifying same, report of Military Transport Convoy, and steps taken to have the Federal Government take over the Bankhead Highway as a military road.

In addition to the above, and the most important matter coming before the convention from the standpoint of Texas, will be the recommendation of the Revision Committee to the Constitution; providing that the constitution be amended in such a manner as to name the cities through which the main line shall run from Memphis, Tenn., to San Diego, Calif. The present Constitution already names them from Washington, D. C., to Memphis. The purpose being to fix the main line by naming the route in the Constitution which will forever settle the question as between Oklahoma and Texas, relative to the main line running thru our State.

Judge DeArmond will look after the interests of West Texas at the annual convention to be held at Greensboro, N. C., April 21st and 22nd.

School News (By Senior Class)

The Big Spring High School is one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the state. Her efficient work is recognized in all the southern states and no student desiring to attend another high school is troubled with the matters of affiliation and examinations. Furthermore, a graduate of this Institution can enter any college or university in the United States (with the possible exception of Harvard and Yale) without entrance examinations. But nothing has yet been devised by the human mind which does not require constant repair and improvement. The Big Spring High School could become more proficient if a few new things were introduced. We, the pupils, suggest three things which demand immediate attention.

First, a well organized Glee Club would be a wonderful asset to the school and community. Untold advantages would be gained by programs rendered periodically, both here and in adjacent cities. We expect such a club to know all over West Texas by this time next year.

Second, a complete library is needed and the school must have it. We do not mean a little closet, partly filled with a few volumes commemorating the deeds of antiquity, but a library composed of practical reference works. The standard of every department in school depends upon a real library, and this is what we advocate, and what the school demands.

Thirdly, a progressive school requires a well-equipped commercial department. Above all, the Big Spring High school needs this. The idea of commercial training is not a theory for it has been proved practical all over the nation and if we mean to keep step with the forward march of civilization, the school must adopt modern customs—old things give away to new so it behooves us to make way for commercial training in the high school. An institution without modern equipment, soon declines, like the mighty China did in years gone by; so, now, are you willing to stand by and watch our school—the greatest advertising asset the city possesses—approach the dark abyss of deterioration? Of course you are not! Therefore, we advocate the placing of certain courses in the present system, such as typewriting, stenography, political economy and manual training, thereby raising the standard of the school from twenty-four credits of affiliation to thirty. The patrons desire it, the children want it, and the school demands it, so let us add a commercial department to the school. What is your opinion?

Come up to the high school auditorium Friday night, April 8th and hear our girls' debating team argue the inter-scholastic debating question with the Odessa girls. Arrangements have already been made with the Odessa High School for this debate and a large audience is expected. Remember April 8th, 7:30 p. m. Come out and boost the girls!

Miss Clothilde Nichol is very interested in organizing a Spanish Club this week. This is to be a "Big Spring Spanish Club" and everyone is invited to join.

News of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dead

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Everett Brown, formerly May Allison of this city, at Houston, Texas, early this morning, March 31st, came as a shock to friends and relatives here. Her death came most suddenly, following an operation. Services to be held in Houston. Deceased is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Allison, former of Big Spring, grew to womanhood in Big Spring and was loved and admired by everyone who knew her. Her untimely death brings sorrow to hearts in this city. Mrs. Brown Big Spring some six years ago. "The Bible Goes With Us"
There is a magnificent editorial in current number of Leslie's Weekly.
It is magnificent because it is true.
It is a pen tribute to the greatest of books. It is literature because it contains the greatest of books. It is worth while because it is the masterpiece of all the masterpieces of literature. It is timely because it is the story of civilization. It is opportune because men are not well read or well informed until they have devoured and digested its contents. It is the book of spiritual life, the book of the immortality of the soul, the book of the future life and all that is worth while in civilization has been wrought by it. It reproduced for the edification of the readers of The Record and for the books of those who preserve some of the printed truths of civilization and the classics of the time:
The Bible is the Great Spirit of the white man's civilization. Our infidel hallucinarian may reject it, but it is distilled in his blood. It is more an literature, more than the Booz
of the Church, than history or theology.
It is power. It is the essence in the character of our institutions, of the gentlemen and ladies we meet on the highway of progress. It endows low understandings with higher ideas than any of the uplift writers.
It imparts a literary taste surpassing that of the authors of the best fiction. It brings more tremendous power than all the special editions of all the newspapers ever issued. The spirit sees in it the charter of free thought. The forward mind sees in it the compass for the course. The imaginative mind, resting on the far shores of time, sees it flowering out in the tender and the beautiful, the strong and the great. It is the Great Generator.
The tongue of Moses gives voice to innumerable tongues. The sword of truth summons innumerable swords.
The altar of Aaron splits into many altars. Its Psalms are the battle songs of freedom. The magic of its wordy words is in all our literature, were every Bible burnt. From the lamp the lamp of art was filled;
from this fire the fire of science was kindled with pagan fuel.
Looking back sixty centuries, we see they are civilized; looking forward

sixty centuries, we are savage. The Bible goes with us.

If it is the Word of God we shall not cast it down; if it is the work of man, we must not.

We will look upon it in the hour of prayer and the hour of peril. We cannot forget. But the solicitude of high-souled teachers cannot call back the audience—that audience filling toward the tombs of its fathers, children still, after so many ages; ignorant yet, after so much wisdom.

—Fort Worth Record.

Cut Acreage to the Bone

"Keep down the new cotton crop to 6,000,000 bales" is the advice of the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore. "If not a single acre was planted in cotton this year and if every farmer would hold the cotton which he now has until the effect of no acreage was felt in the world's markets the South would receive much more for the existing stock than it will for the stock on hand and the new crop combined. The whip handle of the cotton situation is entirely in the hands of southern farmers, bankers and merchants." Colonel Edmonds says every acre planted beyond enough to produce at the maximum 6,000,000 bales is an economic waste. Thanks for the compliment. The Record said it early in January. And The Record gives sweeping endorsement to the slogan of the Manufacturers Record. "Let the South cut its acreage to the bone."—Fort Worth Record.

J. A. Rix Returns From Trip to Big Spring

J. A. Rix, manager of the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Company, of this city, spent a day or two visiting and attending the Chamber of Commerce meeting at Big Spring a few days ago. Mr. Rix stated that the Chamber of Commerce meeting was indeed a live affair, and one of the best he had attended in quite a while. He said that every speech that was made during the session was full of life and enthusiasm and there was not a dull moment. A big banquet was served to one hundred and fifty guests. We note the Big Spring Herald gives large space to the meeting, reporting all of the addresses made by those in attendance.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Extracts From Secretary Wallace's Statement

It is a terrible indictment of our modern civilization when this great country is in the period of what almost might be called economic chaos because of our great surplus food supply, while across the seas, in both directions, almost half the world is suffering for want of food.

It is a time for every man who can help to take hold. As in the days when we dragged our fire engines by hand to the scene of the fire and every good citizen rushed out and took hold of the long rope and did his bit, so we must do now.

We can not hope to reach normal conditions until we arrive on a price level which will be fair to all our people and all products. Farm products must come up in price and other products come down until the normal relation between them has been restored.

This talk of bringing prices, whether farm prices or other prices, back to the prewar normal is morally wrong and economically impossible. We incurred a heavy national debt on the inflated prices. If we could force all prices back to the prewar normal (which we can not) it would be equivalent to just about doubling that debt. We can pay off our debts much easier if we maintain a price level more nearly the level at which the debts were incurred.

We will get thru this period. The Nation is not going bankrupt. The farmers are not going bankrupt. Neither are they going to lie down on their job. Gradually farm prices will be brought into fair relation with other prices and we will go ahead hitting on all cylinders.

We are the best producers in the world, but our sales system is very bad, indeed. We must study everything which influences both production and price.

Religion is the only solid basis for society. Religion is to society what cement to a modern building—it makes all parts compact and coherent. The teachings of Christ have been the basis of all Christian legislation for nearly 2,000 years and continues to be the light and guide for hundreds of millions of souls. Neither Solon, Lycurgus nor Justinian nor Napoleon nor any other framer of laws ever exerted a tithe of the influence which the gospel of Christ exercises on the human races.—Cardinal Gibbons.

Big Spring High School

Our schools were recently visited by Chas. M. Rogers, supervisor of the educational department of Texas, and following is his report on our schools, and recommendations for their betterment:

The Big Spring High School is housed in a comfortable, commodious, and attractive modern brick building, which is quite adequate for the needs of the school. Very unfortunately, although the building is practically new, it has cracked seriously, and is demanding attention. Already plans have been begun to remedy this fault.

Laboratory rooms have been well provided for, two good rooms having been set aside for this purpose. Adequate provision for tables and cabinets was made, but the equipment on hand at present is badly deficient. Orders are being made out to replenish the depleted apparatus for the several sciences offered. This matter should be rushed in order that the science work this year may be kept up to standard.

Two rooms are quite well equipped for home economics, and this equipment is being used to full capacity thruout the day.

The library and the arrangement for its use are not satisfactory. It is open to the students very little of the time. A much better arrangement could be effected by placing dependable students in charge during a few periods of the day, so that students could have access to the books at the time they could use them. The library contains two good encyclopedias, several complete sets of books that are not very usable for high school purposes, and quite a number of miscellaneous books. The value of the library is above the minimum requirement, but the selection of books is not satisfactory, some very much needed books being absent. There are only single copies of history source books and readings, while for standard history work a set of one for every three classes is needed for each history taught. For English, to maintain four units of credit, a set of anthologies for English and American literature each, a careful selection of standard fiction, and a supply of classics are needed. Very good new history charts were purchased this year.

The library for elementary grades is considerable below the minimum requirement of $25.00 per room set up for classified schools. Due to shortage of funds, there are not enough teachers in the school, and consequently had congestion in the grades and in some high school classes prevails. One grade has 50, another 54, and most of them near 50, while the maximum prescribed for classified schools is 40 per room, with 30 as a more preferable number. At the same time, all high school classes should be kept below 30. This school has been forced to these unsatisfactory conditions by the lack of adequate funds. Now that the constitutional limitation on tax rate has been removed, there is encouraging hope that these people will properly finance their schools to hold them up to the high standards which they have attained.

In spite of unsatisfactory conditions, there was evidence of a spirit of co-operation and of a studious and responsive attitude on the part of the pupils. The teaching force seems to be well qualified, earnest and enthusiastic. Classes were visited in physics, biology, physiology, English, history, algebra, plane geometry, and Spanish. Everywhere instruction was efficient, response of pupils was satisfactory, and it was apparent that a good quality of work was being done. However, physics laboratory work was handicapped by shortage of equipment, and reference work in history has been deficient on account of shortage of books and insufficient access to the books on hand.

RECOMMENDATIONS:
1. That as soon as possible provision be made for adequate funds.
2. That the number of additional teachers be employed necessary to relieve the present overcrowded conditions.
3. That the high school and elementary libraries be improved according to suggestions herein listed. (See bulletins 91 and 120.)
4. That arrangement be made which will permit free use of the library.
5. That specimens of work be submitted for credit in physiology and photography.

For Kindness Received
A few words in way of thanks for the many kind favors during the long illness and death of our beloved daughter, Lottie, who passed away at Big Spring, Tex., Friday, February 25. First the many favors that she received from the M. E. minister during her long stay at Akamagordo, New Mex. He came to her assistance shortly after she arrived at that place and remained with her until she came home. He wrote many kind and encouraging letters during her stay of six months at home, after which she went to Big Spring, Texas where she received many favors from the Clerk's Union, I. O. O. F. Lodge, Elks, K. P.'s, Red Cross and many others. When she went to Big Spring there were no empty houses, so she put up a tent in the yard of Mr. Benson who was very kind to her and her sister, Clara, which they used until her health became such that it was necessary to move into a house. Not an empty house available until Mr. Bennett vacated his and let them have it, which is equal in charity to that shown Joseph's father by Pharaoh when he gave him the best land of Egypt. I must say that Big Spring is the most charitable town that I ever knew and if there are any good Samaritans at this age they must be in Big Spring. Doctor Barnett must not be forgotten for his medical assistance and many other favors.

Then the impressive funeral service
Raymond Bry, the M. E. minister at the Christian church at Asher, Okla., and the many kind favors of the home friends, also the beautiful floral offerings bestowed upon the grave by the home church.

Increase Your Happiness
If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life forget your neighbor's faults. Forget all the slander you have ever heard. Forget the fault-finding and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories you may have heard by accident, and which if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they are. Blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life. They will come, but will only grow larger when you remember them, and the constant thought of the acts of meanness—or, worse still, malice—will only tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday, start out with a clean sheet today, and write upon it only those things which are lovely and lovable.—Sharon Herald.

FACTS, FUN AND FOOLISHNESS

(By Austin Callan)
A Picture

She was just a little old woman sitting at the door of an ancient looking home. A neat lace cap covered her head and a fleecy white wool shawl was pulled close about her head and shoulders. It was a cool place there, as the gentle South breeze wafted in to kiss her wrinkled brow, and how fragrant were those breezes fresh from a great wide meadow that was covered with the first wild blossoms of the year. "I was just watching the glory of that sunset," she said as I walked up. "Did you ever see anything grander?" And indeed it was a rare and glorious picture. The few broken clouds that floated along the West looked like so many isles of gold in an imaginary sea. Here and there the Great Artist had touched the scene with purple and yellow and turquoise and at points giant streams of red fire shot out into the sky as if from some hidden searchlight hidden underneath God's canvas. I enjoyed it immensely for my eyes had never fallen upon a more splendid masterpiece of the Divine Artist. But to me that little old woman's life represented a more beautiful sunset, for I knew how she had spent her years, and what a splendid family of children she had raised and what tenderness, what nobility, what character she had poured into each of their lives.

"I have been a busy woman all my years," she declared. "To raise eight boys and two girls and raise them so that they are useful to the world; is a gigantic task. But I feel that I have done the job well; not one of the flock has ever brought sorrow or shame into my life. They love me, they come to cheer me whenever they can and I am just sitting here at the close of the day proud, satisfied and ready for the call of the angels."

It is unpopular to say so today, but that little old woman, singing thru the years of long ago to her babies, that little old woman teaching them to pray at her knees, that little old woman sewing buttons on their clothes, pulling thorns out of their feet and in-willing into their lives the glory of true manhood and pure womanhood, has been worth more to humanity than any woman politician that the world has ever produced.

She sits at the close of day where the shadows long and longer grow. Back of her is a life ripe with useful deeds; before her is an Eternity where she will receive a mother's reward. It is a blessing just to stand in her presence; somehow you feel that it is a holy place there; in imagination you can see the streets of gold and hear the rustle of angels wings.

Plans of Farm Bureau Taking Shape Rapidly

Dallas, Texas.—Fifty-six Texas counties had been organized by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation on March 20; membership drives were launched in Jones, Hall, DeWitt, Burleson, Collico, Hays, and Angelina counties on that date; and membership drives were already in progress in Limestone, Panola, Franklin, and Hopkins counties. Farmers' meetings in several counties where organization work was under way voted to continue the drive and attempt to reach a larger portion of the farmers.

Wool meetings of farmer wool growers at Temple, Georgetown, Hillsboro, Waxahachie and others centers signed contracts to market their wool through the Southwestern Farm Bureau Wool and Mohair Cooperative Marketing Association, which is launching a drive for a 2,000,000 pound pool of wool. Wool experts of the Farm Bureau say this will make the association one of the largest wool factors on the world market. The drive will be carried into all wool sections of the State within the next few weeks.

Final adjustment of the cotton marketing contract of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers Cooperative Marketing Association to meet the views of the Texas Bankers' Association's Committee was arranged at a conference between C. C. Moser and Walton Petzet of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and Aaron Sapiro, Marketing expert, at Little Rock. Mr. Sapiro also approved all of the essential points of the legal form of the cotton contract. Representatives of the Texas Farm Bureau have been invited to meet with delegates from the Oklahoma and Arkansas farm organizations at Oklahoma City in April when the Oklahoma Cotton Growers Association goes into permanent organization, to lay plans for a federation of cotton pools in the three states. Oklahoma has signatures to assure its 300,000 bale cotton pool and Arkansas is planning a state-wide pool of at least 200,000 bales. A sign-up campaign for 1,000,000 bales of Texas cotton is about to be launched by the Texas Cotton Growers Cooperative Association, the cotton marketing division being organized by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation similar to the wool and tomato marketing organizations.

4,290 Tests: 3,249 Producers.

The report of the Texas-Louisiana division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, which has just been issued shows that 4,290 wells were drilled in Texas during 1920. These figures were taken from the report of the oil and gas department of the Texas Railroad Commission. Of this number 3,249 were producing oil wells and 1,041 were dry holes. A total of 825 wells ceased producing during the year. On Dec. 31, 1920, there were 2,414 wells producing in Texas. One hundred and nine gas wells were drilled in Texas during the year.

There was a wastage of oil during the year amounting to 113,520 barrels. This wastage was through leakage and breaks in pipelines. According to the estimates of the department there was a fire loss to oil companies amounting to $1,465,467.

The commissioner estimates the average cost of drilling wells in Texas at $27,000. The total cost of drilling in Texas during the year at that rate was $115,830,000. The total value of oil produced during the year was nearly $233,000,000.

"It is now said Russia under the leadership of Bolsheviki is planning for world power," says the Cleburne Daily Enterprise. "Russia is a great nation in resources, and all she needs to become a world power is to settle down, and harmonize its varied interests now warring, under a capable leadership. For a long time Russian peasants were held close to the earth by a military government, and given no chance to rise. The name Bolsheviki has become one associated with all kinds of atrocities, but maybe it will emerge from the revolution and give to the people that which was denied them by the czar. The history of all nations is written in blood. Even this own fair land of ours is builded upon the lives of hundreds of thousands of dead soldiers, who gave their lives upon the field of battle and poured their blood lavishly to fertilize farms and fields."

TRADE MARK

For thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal, and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do all the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of euilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

She Said It

"You are no gentleman," she wrote, "if you think I said such a thing as she said you said I said I had said."

"Dear Girl," he answered, "you must not think I think you think you must be the kind of girl I think you must be if you said such a thing as you said she said I said you said you said you had said."

It seems he knew she knew he knew she said just what she said she heard he had heard her friend had heard him say he had heard her say, but with intuitive feminine tact she accepted his apology.

"But," protested the youth, "I took only one."

"The Unclean Thing"

The puzzling question whether the Soviet Government or Mr. Lloyd George has been more deeply taken in by the agreement signed yesterday for the reopening of trade between Great Britain and Russia may be answered in two ways. In so far as the agreement was put through in the guilelessness of good faith both have been taken in over their heads; but if the two parties to the agreement fully understood, as we suppose they must have understood, that the things they have covenanted to do are impossible, then neither was taken in. If that was the case, Sir Robert Horne and Mr. Krassin, of course, engaged appropriate winks across the table.

The condition solemnly agreed to in this treaty are impossible of fulfillment because, the industries of Russia have been destroyed under the Soviet rule she has no commodities to exchange with the British merchants, and must pay with gold for the goods she imports. It is known to all the world that Russia has very little gold except stolen gold or gold already pledged. Moreover, debts are owing to British merchants which they could not collect from Russia, and the representative of the Soviet was unable to persuade the British Government that gold arriving in payment for goods to be shipped in the future should be regarded as immune from seizure to pay these earlier claims. Mr. Krassin had to consent that if the gold coming from his country were seized the matter would have to be left to the decision of the British courts, which have already adjudicated such claims in favor of British creditors.

That stanch organ of British conservatism, The Morning Post, attacks the treaty, or rather the policy of making such a treaty, in an article with the title, "The Unclean Thing." It points to the obvious truth that this trade agreement inevitably leads to the recognition of the Soviet Government and blames the Ministry for establishing relations with a government "which is blackened by every crime and the agents of which are actively plotting the destruction of every civilized State." This is again a truth known to everybody. If it were reasonably possible that anything would come of this agreement, all established governments now sustaining relations of amity with Great Britain might properly describe it as "The Unfriendly Thing." The members of the Soviet Government, in view of their deeds of blood, have been denounced as maniacs and savages. Their savagery has been proved by crimes of cruelty and violence unparalleled in the history of the world. The assumption that they are maniacs must rest upon the belief that sane persons would not exhibit such murderous rage against their fellow beings. From the international point of view the grave aspect of the matter is that they openly avow their purpose to overthrow all civilized governments, and the sincerity of that avowal has been amply demonstrated by their practices and propaganda to that end in other countries, notably in this country and in England itself.

The Soviet Government is threatened by many revolts in widely separated parts of Russia; it seems to be weaker, in greater danger than it hitherto has been. Recognition on the part of the British Government and the resumption of trade and diplomatic relation would strengthen it very much at a time when most of the civilized people of the earth have begun to hope for its overthrow. In England even, according to financial dispatches from London, business men dislike the policy on which Mr. Lloyd George has entered. "The Unclean Thing" would be further strengthened by the reopening of trade. For instance, it was reported recently that an English firm had contracted to supply a large number of locomotives for Russian railroads. That, undoubtedly, would be a new element of strength. But this Soviet Government to which Mr. Lloyd George, to the extent that his trade agreement may be effective, proposes to give substance and solidity, which recognition would more firmly establish and might perpetuate, is the declared enemy of France, the United States, Italy, and all just, humane and civilized governments. Russia has a great army, perhaps the most powerful army in the world today. Mr. Lloyd George's trade agreement tends to assure supplies and equipment to this army—an army that may be used against any of the countries recently allied or associated with Great Britain in the war. Is there not good warrant for the assertion that in bargaining with Russia for an agreement to desist from Bolshevik propaganda in the Near East, in India and the countries bordering on India Mr. Lloyd George has greatly increased the power of Lenin and Trotsky to carry on their hostile and destructive propaganda in all other countries? He is not merely dealing with an unclean thing, he is patting mad dogs on the head.—New York Times.

GREAT ASSET TO TEXAS
IN NEW UNIVERSITY
AT STATE CAPITAL

Very Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., the Provincial in the United States of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, the order in charge of St. Edward's College, was recently in Austin, when he officially approved the plans of making the institution a College in fact as well as in name, and authorized the solicitation of funds for new buildings and equipment to begin at once.

Accordingly President Schumacher announces the appointment of a Committee consisting of Rev. Joseph Maguire, C. S. C., and Rev. Michael Quinlan, C. S. C., from the college faculty, who with Leonard J. Schneider and John F. Butler, prominent business men, the Provincial and President Schumacher, will have charge of the expansion plans. Paul C. Gerhart, of Dallas, an experienced campaign manager, has been appointed Campaign Director, and has already begun work.

"Catholic Educational Institutions of actual college standard are limited in number in the Southwest," said President Schumacher. "This will account, in great measure, for the fact that, up to the present time, Catholics have not been getting a college education in proportion to their numbers. 'A Greater St. Edward's' a real college or university, will remedy this, and become an added asset to the state.

Such an institution should attract young men from a wide radius to Texas. They will come to Austin to enjoy our mild climate, to live under our state laws, to make friends in Texas who will be an asset to them in after life, and finally, after graduating from 'A Greater St. Edward's' to go into business in the State, and assist in the moral, intellectual and material development of the Southwest."

St. Edward's already has much in the way of property and buildings to make a University, including a campus, farm and dairy consisting of 700 acres, ideally located and elevated.

A GREATER ST. EDWARD'S PLANNED TO BE NOTRE DAME OF SOUTHWEST

Rev. Dr. Matthew Schumacher, C. S. C., President of St. Edward's College, at Austin, Texas, is one of the leading educators in the Catholic Church in America. For some time he has been assembling some of the "best minds" at St. Edward's, having even then in contemplation the raising of the standard of that institution from a preparatory school to a college, or university. Hence, the faculty is all ready for the college.

Now the change has actually been decided upon, and a campaign for funds begun to make expectations realizations.

President Schumacher was for twelve years Director of Studies in the University of Notre Dame, and was instrumental in the reorganization of the courses of study of that institution which brought it up to its high standard and wide reputation. For years Dr. Schumacher was president of the Collegiate section of the Catholic Educational Association.

The studies at "A Greater St. Edward's" will be under the direction of the former Dean of the English Department of Notre Dame, while the former head of the Chemistry Department there will have charge of the sciences. These men are already at St. Edward's.

Other members of the faculty of St. Edward's are Notre Dame University graduates and members of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, a community known with a world-wide reputation for successful educational work. All of these men make teaching their life work and are there on a basis of service, not of financial reward; so the character of the instruction imparted is unsurpassed.

A Treatment For Painful Feet

Mr. Editor:

Thru your Clinic, let us treat the peoples feet. We have treated their heads, hearts, now the feet.

This is the season when there is an epidemic of sore feet, of the dry, aching, burning kind. There is a kind that comes from dislocated vertebrae, from rheumatism, weak or broken bones.

Now, the latter kind must be cured by a placement of dislocated vertebrae, by diet, and by rest or muscular treatment; by exercise for the weak or broken arches.

Old acid, salt-soaked, poison-soaked thin soled shoes and improper socks will cause sore and painful feet.

For this kind of sore feet, the shoes and socks must be treated. Wash the shoes internally and externally, eliminating the heavy coating of blacking poison and salt from sweat, plus acid from the system.

Socks, where feet are sore, should be preferably, white, thick and soft; but brown, blue or gray are fairly good.

Now, for the dry, burning sore feet; wash or scrub them with "Sapollo", cutting off the dead skin, making it possible for them to become moist, to breathe and throw off poisons that have accumulated in the feet. Follow this up with a massage of alcohol and witch hazel or bay rum and with witch hazel; but be sure to get the alcohol on the feet and not in the stomach. In treating the feet, always think of the fellow across the hall, next room or across the alley. Odors from the feet are loud.

Aside from the immense suffering of one with sore, painful feet, they become nervous, the whole body and brain are affected and they throw their uncomfortable, irritable feelings off on others and others pass it on until a whole family, shop, store, or neighborhood are affected.

Accidents, suicides, assaults, brainstorms and other evils all sometimes have their origin and inception in sore feet.

So, while "Sapollo" is the best thing for the feet I know; common old lye soap, sal soda and all these things are good.

Now, we charge for this remedy for the feet, that you feel and get a sense of gratitude towards the paper that brought you the news and pass both the paper and the remedy to the next fellow.

Hogs and—Hogs

Hogs are of many kinds, different in colors, sexes, sensibilities and insensibilities. And like the Biblical declaration concerning the poor, "ye have with you always." There's the road hog who refuses to give any part of the highway and the end seat hog who takes the end of the seat in theater and church and makes those coming in later brush past him to get a seat. Then there is the postoffice hog who gets his (and "he" isn't always of the masculine gender either,) mail and stands in front of the box to read while others, waiting to get to their boxes, have to look on and wait; who insists, when he finds the windows closed while the postmaster and his assistants are struggling to get the freshly arrived mail distributed, that the window be opened and he be given his parcel post package, or after closing hour demands that the postmaster open the windows and sell him a postage stamp.

Oh, yes, the woods are full of hogs not all of them of the four-legged variety. May his tribe decrease—Alpine Avalanche.
