CWE CHAT WITH EDITOR

By Louis C. Stas

We survived the blizzard of 2011 with a snow measurement of 4".

- cwe -

I went out to measure the moisture in the rain gage and there was none. I know it was a dry snow, but I don't think it was that dry. I guess the wind blew so hard that it kept the snow out of the gage.

- cwe -

Now we are awaiting the winter storm scheduled for Wednesday.

- cwe -

The Chamber is still needing nominations for individuals to be recognized at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Let us hear from you.

- cwe -

The City, School and Hospital elections are just around the corner. There are chairs to be filled. A 'Thank You' or a word of encouragement would be appreciated by those presently serving.

- cwe -

The roads were fine Friday, when we went to OKC. We saw a few flakes of snow near Elk City Friday and OKC still had a lot of snow, but the streets were fine, getting to where we needed to go.

- cwe -

On Saturday evening I traveled with the Fishers to Hinton for the 'Groundhog Supper' at the Methodist Church. I did not get to see as many people as I usually do. I don't know if it was the weather or a conflicting event.

- cwe -

Celebrating a birthday on February 16 is the grandson (in-law) Happy Birthday, Pipp Gillette.

- cwe -

Monday night's card game was the boys against the girls and we each won a game.

STORM REPORT

As Reported by Stormie Meriwether, First Grade Student

Dear Friends, Yeah! Spring is coming! In Mrs. Means class we did a contest to guess if the "hedgehog" sees his shadow or not. I guessed no, he will not see his shadow. I very want the Spring to come! That was the right answer! Spring is coming! 'Cept first I think we will have more snow.

I went to Oklahoma to play in the snow. I tried to make a snowman. When I tried to put his ears on, his head fell off. I just made a "snow thing". The snow is too very crumbly.

I love to stay after school to do reading with Mrs. Markham. She is so nice to help the kids read. We read a story 'bout vegetables. Then we played a game with a squirrel. You have to pick the right sound for his tail or something.

We went to Hinton to the "Ground Hog Supper". That sounds yucky! It is really very good. It is sausage! Like ground hog like a pig!

We learn at School 'bout where food comes from. Chocolate milk is just plain milk from a cow with ground up chocolate beans. That's cool. Ham, sausage and bacon come from the pig, not a "hedgehog"! That's it.

Services Feb. 5 For Howard Lohberger

Andy Taylor and Rev. Darrel Perry officiating. Burial was in the Zybach Cemetery, Allison, Texas, under the direction of Wright Funeral Home, Wheeler, Texas.

Howard Fred Lohberger was born on October 20, 1943, in Wheeler, Texas, and died on February 2, 2011, at the age of 61 years, 3 months and 13 days. Howard grew up at Allison, Texas, on his parents' (Verne and Susie Lohberger) family farm. There he learned to work and play... driving trucks and tractors, hunting the occasional rattlesnake (much to his mother's dismay), honing his considerable athletic skills with brothers and friends, and getting farming and ranching into his system so thoroughly that he never fully recovered...he continued to be involved in one or both for the rest of his life, as long as he was able. He enjoyed music and was a big Elvis Presley fan.

He graduated from Allison High School in 1968 and went on to attend college at WSOU at Weatherford, Oklahoma, and Panhandle State College in Goodwell, Oklahoma. In his high school days, Howard had the natural athlete's eye-hand coordination to a rare degree; so much so, said his sister, Suzanne, that the vendors at the Oklahoma State Fair would make him leave because he had won so many stuffed animals!

One of those teddy bears must have taken over his heart because that's exactly what Howard became around children. He dearly loved young children and delighted in taking his own children with him when they were quite small and then doing the same with his grandchildren as the next generation came along.

Howard's generous nature was one of his main attributes. Even

MOBEETIE NEWS

By Melba Corcoran

This has been a bad week. The weather was awful below zero chill factor. Lots of frozen pipes. We were lucky no freeze-up. The restrooms at the jail and the lodge building weren't so lucky. Dale Corcoran and Bill Finsterwald got them thawed out.

The week started off with the death of Claudia Quarles. They buried her Friday here at Mobeetie. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

Janie and Joe VanZandt got word her mother had passed away at Cortez, N.M. They left for her funeral. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

Then T.J. Cole passed away. He is Frances Dickey's father. He had been in the care center in Wheeler. He was buried Sat. in Wheeler. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

Frances and Loretta were home from Houston for a few days and got to visit with T. J. on Sunday. Howard Lohberger, son of Verne Lohberger and brother of Suzanne Lohberger of the Museum Board, passed away. He was buried Saturday at Zybach Cemetery. Our sympathy goes out to the family. He had been in the Wheeler Care Center.

Doug Corse passed away. His funeral was Sunday. He was buried in Mobeetie. Our sympathy goes out to the family. He had really had a bad time with his heart and surgery.

Bill Dyon passed away. Bill had been in Wheeler Care Center for some time. His funeral was Monday. Our sympathy goes out to the family. He was buried in Mobeetie.

These are just the ones that had ties to Mobeetie. Too many in such a short time. Our sympathy goes out to the ones not tied to Mobeetie.

Dale and Melba Corcoran went to Wheeler Thursday to get Melba's medicine and decided to eat supper while there. They ran into Bill and Tony Finsterwald at Mel's and sat with them and enjoyed a visit with them.

Those working at the museum this week were Louise Hogan, Maurita Stribling, Ada Lester, Suzanne Lohberger, Gina Seitz and Melba Corcoran. The museum was closed Tuesday during the snow. Part hours Wednesday and back open on Thursday.

Dale and Melba went to Pauline Barnes and Joey Stone's Friday night. While there, Pauline had a phone call that Debbie Alexander had been put in the hospital in Lubbock. Pauline and Joey left Saturday morning to go see about her. Debbie is in ICU, but doing better. Remember her in your prayers.

OLD TIMES NOT FORGOTTEN

By Roland Miles

COTTON BALES And APRICOT BRANDY

Cotton gins always fascinated me as a kid. Anytime dad took a cotton trailer to the gin, I'd go when I was out of school, I'd go with him. They had soda pops and peanuts there and he'd always buy me some.

One of the things I liked to do while eating my peanuts and drinking my soda pop, was to wander around and watch the gin

Parkview Artery Body Piercings Increase Risk of Frostbite

As the temperatures steadily drop during the winter months, we all spend a lot of time thinking about preparing for the cold. So while considering the best winter coat or what gloves will do the job to keep fingers warm and toasty, for those that have body piercings they have another consideration to make. One thing to keep in mind during the cold weather is protecting exposed skin, especially if it has a piece of metal jewelry through it which can intensify the cold. Unless you normally spend a lot of time outdoors in frigid temperatures, you may just not know about the biggest threat to your skin; when Ol' Jack Frost nips at your nose, it can be dangerous if your nose is pierced.

What is Frostbite? (Frostbite, in a nutshell, is skin or soft tissue that freezes due to exposure to extreme cold. Your body is designed to fight cold, but if you get too cold, your body stops sending warm blood to your appendages (nose, ears, fingers etc.), and keeps it near the core of your body to protect vital organs and prevent hypothermia. This automatic protection means those places deprived of blood flow are subject to freezing. Add to that a piece of metal jewelry of any type, and you complicate the situation. The jewelry can actually intensify the cold by acting as a heat sink. In other words, as the jewelry gets cold, it transfers more cold to the pierced area, like inserting an icicle, carrying the cold inside that soft tissue making it that much worse. Basically, you're being frozen from the inside out.

Signs of Frostbite (Usually the surface appears pale or a waxy white color and feels stiff or doesn't move normally. It will sting and burn first (known as frostnip) and then becomes numb and more solid feeling as the freezing continues. Then it may turn red and if allowed to progress to dangerous extremes, it will turn a whitish-purple shade. Gangrene and loss of damaged extremities can result from severe frostbite. The most common places a person is subject to this risk are the ears, nose, fingers and toes. These are the first places to lose blood flow. As far as piercings go, anything that is exposed - eyebrows, nose, ears, and lips are the most common to be exposed even when you are bundled up everywhere else. Other piercings are less of a risk simply because you usually cover up those areas just getting dressed. However, if for some reason you get wet, anything goes since the water makes any body part exposed to severe cold, even if the area is well covered.

Prevention & Treatment (Prevention is the best medicine. It usually takes extreme temperatures or long exposure to very cold weather to cause frostbite. Most people know well ahead of time if they are going to be subjecting themselves to such conditions, so prevention is as simple as preparation. If you can't cover it up to keep it warm, removal is the best option. But, anyone who has piercings should know how to take out the jewelry in an emergency situation. If you find yourself stranded unexpectedly in severe cold, take action then before the damage occurs.

Medcat
Winter is the season in which people try to keep the house as warm as it was in the summer, when they complained about the heat. —Author Unknown

I especially liked the press. That was the last step in the ginning process. It would smash the cotton really tight and then the men would put some steel bands around it. When they let the press off, the bands would get as tight as a fiddle string.

After I got through with my soda pop and peanuts, I'd climb up on the trailer and watch the man run the suction pipe that sucked up the cotton out of the trailer and send it over to the gin to have the burs and seeds removed. When the bales were finished, they usually weighed around five hundred pounds.

Even after I got in high school, seems like I still wound up at the gin once in a while. One time in particular, I was maybe a sophomore, several of us boys were trying to think of something to do on "Halloween" night. Someone suggested that we load up a couple of bales of cotton and put them in front of the school superintendent's double-door garage. Seemed like a really good idea at the time and we knew Mr. Brown was a good sport.

Harold Reid had an old pickup, so we went to the gin and started loading up a bale. As luck would have it, my Grandpa Holt was the night watchman during the ginning season. He came out of the gin office and started walking toward us. Everybody that was with me, scattered like a covey of quail. When he got over to where I was standing, he asked me, "How come you boys are loading up these cotton bales?" I told him what we had planned to do. All he said was, "Well, I just wanted to know where they were going to be, so I could send the gin hands to get them tomorrow." "Just make sure that none of you smokes around the bales!"

We went ahead and finished our mischief that night and never heard anything more about it. Almost disappointing!

Grandpa continued his night watchman job for several more years. After I started dating Shirley, I'd usually drop by and visit Grandpa for a while, after I took her home. He really liked to play checkers, but he also, really hated to lose!

One night, Shirley and I stopped by to visit with him before I took her home. Naturally, he wanted to play checkers with her. Not knowing how he felt about losing, she played to win...and did. He didn't ask her to play again for a long time. Then, one day we were all together and Grandpa started teasing her about beating him at checkers... all was well.

A few months later, after I had taken Shirley home one night, I stopped by to play checkers with Grandpa, again. About the time we'd finished our second or third game, he leaned back in his chair and pulled out a small bottle of "apricot brandy." He handed it over to me and said, "You want to try my apricot brandy?" I took a little swig and gave it back. He took a swig too, and put the cap back on. "I take this for my asthma," he told me. Then he grinned and said, "I have asthma pretty often.".....

Jack J. Wells Western Artist

Jack J. Wells was born and raised in the horse and cattle country of Oklahoma. He received an education of his western subject matter on a first hand basis. Ranching, rodeoing and horse trading were the family business. Jack and his older brother, Justin, both began drawing about the same time they began riding and walking. This early sibling rivalry helped quicken the development of their artistic talents. They would often draw their own comic books just for fun.

Jack's formal training has since come mostly from the school of being there. From rodeos to horse shows to art shows, he has competed and shown his artwork all over the country.

Food Check-Out Week 2011:
Stretching your grocery dollar with healthy, nutritious food

(Wheeler) —During this time of economic squeeze is it possible to feed your family healthy, nutritious meals and still stay within your budget? The Wheeler County Farm Bureau thinks so and it is joining the Market Square Thriftway, Texas Agrilife Extension Service, Texas Farm Bureau, American Farm Bureau Federation and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) in promoting Food Check-Out Week, February 20-26, 2011.
"Farm Bureau's Food Check-Out Week is devoted to helping teach Americans how to stretch their grocery dollars with healthy, nutritious food," said Mark Elmore, Wheeler County Farm Bureau president. "America's farmers and ranchers are dedicated to producing safe, healthy and abundant food. And they share a common concern with consumers when it comes to putting nutritious meals on the table while sticking to a tight budget."
According to a USDA study, the cost of less-healthy foods has risen more than the cost of those foods which are more nutritious. It is still possible to spend between 10 and 11 percent of a family's disposable income on food and have a healthy diet...
"Eating healthier does not have to cost more and can even cost some families less," said Mark. "The United States continues to have the safest, most abundant, healthiest and least expensive food in the world."
Learning to use your grocery dollars wisely ensures that nutrition isn't neglected. Fruits and vegetables, along with whole grains, low-fat dairy products, lean meats, fish, beans, eggs and nuts are all important parts of a healthy diet, according to health professionals.
To increase awareness and celebrate the week, Wheeler County Farm Bureau is holding a Farmer's Share Lunch on February 24th 11am-1pm at the Market Square Thriftway in Wheeler. "We will be cooking hamburgers and anyone can come by and purchase one for $0.39, or the farmer's share. The average cost of a cheeseburger is around $4.50 and we want to show the public how much the farmer actually receives out of that $4.50 when they go to a restaurant. Tom Velasquez of Market Square Thriftway has graciously allowed us to set up outside of the store and is going to have a drawing for two $50 gift cards and Wendy Hazzard of Texas Agrilife Extension Service will be on hand to discuss food safety and pass out some goodies."
"As a farmer, I am producing affordable food for my family and yours," said Mark. "I am proud of what we do and hope America will join us in celebrating Food Check-Out Week."

ALLISON NEWS

By Juanita Boydston

LET not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if I were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. Thomas said unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. John 14:1-7

O COME let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also. The sea his his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Today if ye will hear his voice, Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness. When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work. Psalm 95:1-9

The weather in Allison, Texas on this Tuesday morning is a beautiful day right now. Its windy and cold, but later on we are to receive snow and several inches I understand so be prepared and ready for it. God is great and greatly to be praised!! He will take care of us and provide our needs, praise be to Jesus!!

The Allison community was saddened to hear of the death of Howard Lohberger, who was only sixty one years old. His funeral was at the Allison United Methodist Church on Saturday, February 5th, 2011 with Rev. Andy Taylor and Rev. Darrel Perry officiating, and there was a large crowd in attendance.

Howard was laid to rest in the Zybach Cemetery. Our sympathy and prayers are with the family. He will be missed!!

Bret Begert, Richard Meadows, and Roy Baker were recently at the Region 16 Education Center for the Panhandle Area Association of School Boards Meeting. Main topic of discussion was school finance.

Sunday after church, Louise Boydston had a celebration of Sue Martin and Gary Boydston's birthdays at Louise's house. Those helping to celebrate were: Bennie and Debbie Boydston, Jason Boydston, Josh and Heather Archer and daughter, Paisley, Eddy and Sheila Walker, Opal and Juanita Boydston, Gary and Julie Boydston, Ernie and Sue Martin, and Shirley Chadwick. Louise prepared a very delicious birthday meal and all enjoyed the food and good fellowship.

Opal and Juanita Boydston accompanied Louise Boydston and Shirley Chadwick to Wheeler, Texas on business and then on to Pampa, Texas where Juanita Boydston saw the eye doctor, Misty LaBlanc, because Juanita had been experiencing some flashes of light in her eyes. The eye doctor at Broom Optical said she had a large floater in the back of her right eye and thought she needed to see a specialist in Amarillo, Texas so made an appointment to go there on Tuesday. But because the weather was sounding bad for Tuesday, Juanita called and asked if she could see the eye specialist on Monday and they had just had a cancellation so Juanita was allowed to go on Monday when the weather was just beautiful. Couldn't have asked for a more beautiful day to go. Amarillo had received quite a bit of snow so was snowy up that way, but the main roads were clear and we made it just fine.

Opal and Juanita Boydston accompanied Louise Boydston to Amarillo, Texas to the eye specialist and he said that the vitreous, which is a gel-like substance that helps the eye maintain a round shape and has million of fine fibers intertwined with the vitreous that are attached to the surface of the retina, the eye's light sensitive tissue. Anyway to make a long story short, Juanita's vitreous had detached from her retina and Juanita just needed eye drops at this time. So praise the Lord she didn't have to have surgery and has that ordeal over with. Praise God. Before Juanita's doctor's appointment, Opal, Louise, and Juanita met with Kim Thompson and Cheryl Dupont at Taco Bell for a quick lunch. So glad to get to meet with them and have a short visit. Then after the doctor's appointment, Juanita shopped some in J.C. Penny's and was lucky to find a good bargain on a ten speed mixer that she had been wanting for some time. Then Opal and Juanita and Louise went by and visited a short time with Warren and Charline Brown. A little icy on her walk way, but praise God we all made it without a fall. Then Opal and Juanita and Louise came by Pampa and did a little more shopping before heading home. After getting home, Louise made a delicious meal for Opal and Juanita and Bennie and Shirley. We so enjoyed it and the visiting as well. Praise the Lord for his goodness and mercy and for his healing power. Praise be to Jesus!!!

Thank you Louise for taking us to Pampa first and then to Amarillo later. You are such a good helper in time of need. Thanks again!!

God Bless and Keep ya'll till next time!!

To the Editor:

The Fields family would appreciate very much hearing from anyone who has photographs of the old town of Ramsdell, founded by our great-grandfather, Ed R. Wallace, in 1908. At one time, Ramsdell boasted the Rock Island stock yards, a hotel, lumber yard, and post office, and as well as many residences. It was a water stop for the Rock Island Line.

If anyone has any photographs of Ramsdell from the early days that they would be willing to share, please contact Ken Fields at 120 W. Kingsmill, Pampa, TX 79065, 806-669-6851 or 315 N. Main, Shamrock, TX 79079, 256-1474. We will make sure the photos are carefully copied and the originals returned to you.

Many thanks,
Ken Fields

The nation's oldest livestock show ended February 5 at Will Rogers Memorial Center. The stock show featured 23 days of family fun and entertainment and hosted over 22,000 head of livestock entries throughout the run.
