As Reported by . . . Stormie Meriwether, First Grade Student

Dear Friends, It was a busy week. My dad took me to see the pictures at the art show! That was fun! The cowboy pictures are very good. I like the one catching the calf just like my cowboys.

I was so happy to see Shantell. I think she is the boss of that

At the night I very wanted my mom to go, but she said, "No, Sweetie Heart. You and dad go with Baba and Pop. I do not feel well.". It was a little sad to leave my mom at home, but I very wanted to go.

Kyle's grandma (Deliese Atwood) sat at my table. She wants to know if I can play Chicken Bingo. I don't know what is Chicken Bingo. She says you have to put the numbers on the ground. If the chicken drops on your number, you are the winner! Eeew! That's yucky! What if it drops an egg? Are you the win-

The cobbler looked delicious in the big black pots, but I picked the chocolate cookie. After we ate, my dad was going to take me home. I said, "Please, please, please, dad! I want to hear Miss Paula do her poem! Finally he said yes. Miss Paula is so good! She reads like a lady! I am so happy my dad let me stay. I got to hear the cowboys sing too! It was a great day! (Continued Page 8)

"Usually only super-athletes can run across South America," said Dan Beaupré, National Geographic's director of education partnerships for National Geographic Live. "With the introduction of this continent to our expanding roster of giant maps, we look forward to educating a new class of geographic explorers, whether they be kids or kids-at-heart."The studets at Fort Elliott Elementary was excited that their school was one of the choosen schools. The students grades Pre-k thru 5th grade really enjoyed the walk through South America. National Geographic's Giant Traveling Maps program was introduced in 2006 with a map of Africa created after National Geographic magazine's 2005 special issue devoted entirely to that continent. Since then the program has expanded to maps of North America, Asia and South America. In the 2010-2011 school year it is estimated that more than 300,000 students will interact with one of these maps. In addition to school visits, the maps appear at National Geographic Live events around the country featuring explorers, scientists and journalists. COLLEGE STATION - In spite of recent rains in some parts of Texas, the drought isn't going away any time soon, said a Texas Cooperative Extension specialist. And with drought comes the increased risk of wildfires.

That's why taking steps to protect home and property in case of fire is so important, said Janie Harris, Extension housing and environment specialist.

She recommends following these steps from the Texas Forest Service:

- Keep propane gas tanks far enough from buildings so valves can be shut off in case of fire. The area around the tank should be cleared of any vegetation that might fuel for fire.

- Store gasoline in approved safety cans, and keep these cans away from occupied buildings.

- Keep combustibles - including firewood, wooden lawn furniture, boats and lumber - away from buildings.

- Clean roofs and gutters regularly to prevent buildup of leaves and other debris which could catch and spread fire.

 Keep fire-fighting tools handy, including ladders long enough to reach the roof, shovels, rakes and some buckets for carrying water.

- Keep garden hoses connected on all sides of the house for emergencies.

- Know all the emergency exits from the house and from the neighborhood.

'You must plan ahead of time," Harris said. "If you live in area with big trees, you need a defensible space around home; you need to know that trees close to the house can be fire fuel. To keep that risk down, Harris and the forest service recommended clearing trees and brush out an area at least 30 feet out from the house, she said.

"Cut tree limbs overhanging the roof; clean out gutters," Harris continued. "Choose fire-wise landscaping, such as hardwoods instead of evergreens. And clearly mark your home address from the main road, and make sure your driveway is accessible for firefighting equipment.'

Knowing about burn bans in the area is also important, she said. On its Web site (http:// txforestservice.tamu.edu/), the forest service maintains a current list of burn bans in the state. If burning is not banned, the forest service recommends:

- Clearing combustible material - such as grass, leaves, scrap wood and other debris - away from the site where the burn is to

- Keeping a water hose ready at the site of the burn.

- Never leaving a burn pile un-

More information on protecting homes and property from wildfires can be found on the Texas Extension Disaster Education Network site http:// at texashelp.tamu.edu/, Harris said. But preparing for a disaster such as wildfire means more than protecting buildings, she said. Families should always keep disaster supply kits prepared and available for every member. The kits should include such items as necessary medication, changes of clothing, food and water, battery-operated radios and flashlights.

Extension's Family and Consumer Sciences Web site (http:// fcs.tamu.edu/) has more information on preparing disaster supply

And if wildfire should become more than just a possibility, "know to leave if you feel least bit threatened," she said. "Know the ways to get out of your neighborhood if there's only one way to leave, get out early.

"And listen to the authorities. The bottom line is: When they tell you to get out, get out."

Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Willie Renner, 91, in his death Sunday, Feb. 27. Services were to be Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. at Mobeetie Baptist Church with burial in Wheeler Cemetery. God bless you all. Ethel Grimes is his beloved sister.

Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Billie Ferguson, 84, in her death. Funeral services at Wheeler Baptist Church Wednesday with burial at Mobeetie Cemetery. Thanks for leaving the beautiful flowers at Wheeler Baptist Church. Many there to enjoy the good meal. God bless you all! Gene Ferguson is her son and there are many grandkids.

So sorry about all the people killed and homes destroyed by the fires. Sorry to hear about all the wind and things destroyed, but it could have been much worse. May God comfort each of you.

Nice to have a phone call and a good visit with Charlotte Austin at San Antonio. She can't remember everyone's name, either. Remember I love you even if I can't recall your name right away. Thanks for calling, Charlotte. Charlotte is married to Aubrey; they live in San Antonio and enjoy kids and grandkids. She lived

Nice to have a visit Saturday from Charlie and Edie Phillis from White Deer. They had been to a ballgame to watch granddaughter play ball and came to visit me before the next game. So good to see them. They used to live in the Briscoe area. (Hope I got that right.) Special friends! Thanks for coming! Hope you will come again. God bless you!

Many thanks to the kind people who trimmed trees in front of my house. God bless you! That helps! I don't know who did it, but many thanks...looking good!

I couldn't get names of all who had helped by working on the new Baptist Church, but many thanks! And, God bless you all! A good crowd out to view the progress, enjoy the fellowship and enjoy delicious homemade ice cream and other goodies Sunday night. Many thanks to all! Looking good! Don't know when expected to be finished.

OLD TIMES NOT FORGOTTEN

By Roland Miles

WE LOST OUR SCHOOL BUS!

Without knowing the circum- became part of the road. stances, you might wonder; how in the world, could you lose a school bus? Well, the truth is, we just lost the use of it. We always knew where it was actually located. Here's pretty much how that came about.....

This was the bus that ran our route northeast of town. There were several small, dry, creek beds, or "draws" as we called them, that we had to cross every day. This was never a problem, even when it rained a little. We'd just drive right on through; only this particular time, it wasn't just a small rain...it was a genuine, "frog strangler." It was still running about a foot and a half or two feet deep out in the middle. This was a draw the driver had crossed several times before when the water was that deep, without any problem. This time, for whatever reason the bus drowned out and didn't want to fire back up. The rear end was so close to dry ground that the few remaining kids opened the emergency exit door and jumped out the back, without even getting their feet wet. The driver got out and walked to a neighbor's house. After talking to the farmer, they decided they were going to pull it out with a tractor, but by the time they got back, the bus was lying on its side. The water had washed away the sand from around the tires that were on the upstream side of the bus and that caused it to lay over. Water was now running through the windows. The tractor wouldn't budge it!

The next day, the county brought out a bulldozer. They tried to drag it out, but each time they pulled on it, part of the frame would tear loose. They finally took a cutting torch and salvaged the frame, tires, and engine. After that, they just ran over the body with the dozer a few times, then dumped several loads of caliche on top of it. After smoothing that out, it all

The next spring, it came another big rain that washed it up and tumbled it a couple a hundred yards down into Uncle Fat's pasture. For several years, it would move on down the draw a little farther each spring.

I guess it's still down there in the pasture somewhere, just a relic from the past...

Scholarship Deadline For '11 Seniors

AUSTIN, Texas - Texas high school seniors have until March 28 to apply for the Don't Mess with Texas scholarship.

The 8th annual scholarship is sponsored by Dow Chemical Company in partnership with Keep Texas Beautiful. The firstplace winner will receive $3,000. The second- and third-place winners will receive $1,000 each. Don't Mess with Texas is the litter prevention campaign of the Texas Department of Transportation.

The scholarship is one of TxDOT's efforts to generate more youth involvement in Don't Mess with Texas, since research shows that age is the number-one predictor of littering behavior, with Texans ages 16-34 littering the

Any Texas high school senior who will attend a two- or four-year Texas college or university can apply. For the essay prompt, application, rules, and background information, visit http:// dontmesswithtexas.org/pro-

2011 marks the 25th anniversary of the Don't Mess with Texas

About Don't Mess with Texas Don't Mess with Texas has been educating Texans about litter prevention since 1986. TxDOT's litter prevention program includes Adopt-a-Highway and a grassroots partnership with Keep Texas Beautiful. Don't Mess with Texas activities also include a spring "Trash-Off," community outreach, a scholarship, a corporate partner program, and a photo album where Texans can share their iconic Texas images. For more information, www.DontMessWithTexas.org TxDOT's goals are to prepare for the future, enhance safety, maintain the transportation system, relieve congestion, enhance connectivity, and work with partners to identify funding strategies. I already had a doctor for my diabetes and another for my heart problems, but after I fell, they said I would need physical therapy. I didn't know how I would manage it all on my own. So I talked to my doctor, and he explained my options. I chose Accolade Homecare.

When I met Kathy, the nurse from Accolade, she taught me how to manage everything from the doctors and medications right down to my lifestyle, like what foods could help me. I had no idea Accolade did so much. Thanks to Kathy, I'm moving around again and am even healthier than before.

THEREFORE being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: By whom also we have access by faith unto his grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulations worketh patience; And patience, experience; and experience, hope: And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet preadventure for a good man some would men dare to die. But God commendeth before. Louise was sorry she his loveo toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him. Romans 5:1-9

THE Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to from time to time. lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Psalm 23 The weather in Allison, Texas USA on this Tuesday morning is very foggy and wet and cold and windy. Yes what a day!! But the Lord hath made it and so we are to rejoice and be glad in it. Praise be to Jesus. This reporters mother said that it lightened and thundered in the late night or early morning hours and this reporter didn't even know it. Now isn't that amazing! Miracles never cease for sure. If you are in a deep deep sleep, you hear nothing and know nothing happens. Thus the beauty of a deep sleep. We are thankful for the moisture that we received altho it wasn't much, but still will make it not so dry around here. Praise God!!

law, Mike Hulse. Had a great time visiting, shopping and eating out, playing games, sat by the lake and watched people as they walked around for exercise. The weather was a little cooler than normal for there.

Kim Thompson picked Louise up at the airport and Louise spent the night with Kim and the next morning, Louise and Kim went to Cheryl's house and had breakfast. Cody and Kristina, Sabrina, Makenna and Maddie came over also. Had a great visit and the baby is a doll. She has lots of black hair. They say she is such a good baby. On return home, Louise Boydston went to Elk City, Oklahoma and visited her mother, Pearl Harrison.

Her cousin and wife, Charles and Geraldine Townsley were there and Louise enjoyed seeing them. They had buried Charles sister, Laverne Townsley the day couldn't be there but could not get a flight out earlier.

Shirley Chadwick kept the home fires burning while Louise was gone. Sue Martin came over for a few days with her. Opal and Juanita Boydston also visited her

We covet your prayers for Vance Boydston, he is beginning treatment for his cancer today and will require four more treatments, this treatment today was seven hours long, but the others should only be two half hours long. Also pray for his kidney's as well, he only has forty percent usage of his kidney's. But we serve a God who can heal anything and nothing is mpossible thru him. Praise God!! We believe that all things are possible thru him. So now we have to believe that he is going to heal his body. The Allison community and surrounding areas are so very thankful for the Lord sparing the fire from burning their houses or getting to them. Praise the Lord for his blessings to us. Allison was put on stand by but thank the Lord didn't have to evuacate. Thank the Lord for his goodness. We are praying for those that wasn't so lucky in Amarillo that day. It is so tragic to loose everything, but are thankful no lives were lost. Praise God for that. We can't thank our firefighters enough for their tireless and many hours of hard work saving houses and what they could against a mighty high wind that day. Again a shout out to the firemen of our communities and to those in the Texas Panhandle, they are the among the best there is. Thanks!! Just a reminder, PLEASE DON'T FORGET TO SPRING FORWARD AN HOUR ON SAT-URDAY NIGHT!! Daylight savings time here again. I do wish they would leave our time alone.

Such is life in the fast lane tho. Pete Gilmer stayed a few days in Rockport, Texas, relaxing and enjoying a really nice time. He enjoyed the delicious food there and also visiting with family and church. He reported a wonderful time. Would be nice to just kick back and have a great time I'm Opal and Juanita Boydston enjoyed a delicious meal in the home of Louise Boydston on February 28th and Juanita Boydston made homemade vanilla ice cream and Louise had prepared the meal and a cake. That was my Juanita' uncle Roma Brown's birthday, so guess we helped him to celebrate altho he couldn't be with us. We enjoyed for him.

Opal and Juanita Boydston traveled to Elk City, Oklahoma and looked at cars at Auto Mart. Thomas Stevens from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma met Opal and Juanita there. After test driving a car and enjoying a meal at Elk Country Cafe, Opal, Juanita and Tom enjoyed visiting the Elk City Museum. You know I have lived in Allison for fifty some odd years and had not ever visited the museum, but it is well worth visiting. So very interesting. Needless to say we so very much enjoyed it, but did not near get all the build-

"Productivity appraisal" may lower the property taxes on your farm, ranch or timberland!

Texas law allows farmers, ranchers and timber growers to pay property taxes based upon the "productivity value" of their land rather than on market value. This means qualified land is taxed based on its ability to produce crops, livestock or timber-not on its value on the real estate market. And it can mean substantial property tax savings.

When is the application deadline?

If your land has never had a productivity appraisal or you are a new owner, you must apply to your local appraisal district before May 1 to take advantage of this benefit on your 2011 property taxes. You may get up to 60 extra days if you have a good reason and ask for it before May 1. If you miss this deadline, you may still be able to apply, but you will pay a penalty. Check with your appraisal district

Do you need to reapply annually?

If your land already receives agricultural or timber productivity appraisal, you normally don't need to reapply unless the chief appraiser requires you to do so. If a new application is required, the appraisal district will notify you by mail.

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestered exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $15,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $35,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owns a home on Jan. 1 and uses it as a primary residence on that date is entitled to a $15,000 homestead exemption to lower school taxes this year...and it doesn't matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. Counties, cities and special taxing districts may also offer homestead exemptions.

Are other exemptions available?

If you're disabled—or if you're 65 years old or older—you are entitled to an additional $10,000 school tax exemption on your home. And if you qualify for the 65 or older or disabled exemption, you're also entitled to a permanent, locked-in "ceiling" on the school property taxes on your home. (The county, city or junior college may adopt a tax ceiling to lock in 2011 taxes as the highest amount for 65 and older or disabled homeowners.) The age 65 or older homeowners school tax ceiling transfers to the surviving spouse, if the spouse is 55 years of age or older at the time of death and lives in and owns the home. The age 65 or older homeowners (or their surviving spouses 55 years of age or older) also may transfer the percentage of school tax paid, based on their former home's school tax ceiling, to a new home.

If you're a disabled veteran who receives from the Veterans Affairs (VA)-(1) 100 percent disability compensation due to a service connected disability and (2) a rating of 100 percent disabled or a determination of individual unemployability, you are entitled to an exemption from taxation of the total appraised value of your resident homestead. A surviving spouse does not qualify.

Do I have to apply each year?

No. If you had a homestead exemption on your home in 2010, you won't need to reapply for 2011 unless your chief appraiser requires it. However, if you haven't received an exemption on your present home—or if you've moved to a new home—you'll need to file for an exemption for 2011. If you are 65 this year, you may file for the age 65 or older exemption up to one year after the date you turned 65. And if you became disabled, you need to file for the disabled person's exemption. the disabled person's exemption.

When and where should I file?

File applications before May 1 at your appraisal district office. If you need more time, contact us at:

Don't get hit with a penalty! "Render" your taxable property by April 15.

A "rendition" is a report to your county appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you owned or controlled on Jan. 1 of this year.

Who must file a rendition?

You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property that is used to produce income-such as the inventory and equipment used by a business. If you render late, don't render or file an incomplete or false rendition, a 10 percent to 50 percent penalty may be imposed.

Are there any advantages to you?

The advantages of filing a rendition are:

- ray You give your opinion of your property's value. The appraisal district must notify you in writing of any value change and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.
- You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address. If your bill is mailed to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or paying extra charges for late payments.
- You can also file a "report of decreased value" to notify the appraisal district of significant depreciation of the value of your property in 2010. The district will look at your property before assigning a value in 2011.

What's the deadline?

The last day for filing 2011 renditions is April 15. You can get an automatic extension to May 15 (or the next business day if a weekend) if you ask for it in writing on or before the April 15 deadline. The chief appraiser may grant an additional 15 days after the deadline for an owner who shows good cause in writing.
