To the People of this Community

How long will the war with Japan last? Everybody has an answer to this question but our best advice is not to base your bond buying on whether you think it will take weeks or years to win in the Pacific. The best war conduct is always to be on an all-out war effort basis.

General Douglas C. MacArthur gave you the tipoff on what to expect before your relatives and friends take over a wrecked Tokyo. In the Philippine campaign only 165 Japanese surrendered in a slaughter which cost them 308,180 men. Buy bonds in the 7th War Loan with a spirit of an American in combat. Give it to the Japs full force and with all your weapons. That's the way to do your part in the vital, mighty 7th War Loan. Now—all together.

THE EDITOR

I Am An American

The familiar custom of setting aside certain special occasions to remember such as annual cherry, potato, apple, sweet, baby and book days and weeks, may be traditional and according to many, not sensible, but when we set aside by official proclamation "I Am An American Day," the good is evidenced in the title alone.

The fact that we take the privilege of citizenship complacently, as our heritage and not with a price on its head, is the general custom. Many of the inherited privileges we have found under attack by our enemies, and we are forced to place a price on our freedom as citizens of this country, since we need to fight and die for it! Strange how human nature takes for granted food, clothing, shelter, friends and health until they are attacked. We seem to have to listen every so often to the voices of those who have lost this, in order to appreciate what we possess. Above all things we prize our freedom of citizenship, for without it what good from the rest?

The native-born American belongs to a long line of Americans, who proudly held the frontier against tyranny. What is the feeling of the foreign-born who has become an American through oaths of allegiance? He has as deep, if not deeper, sense of this privilege for his attainment was through renouncing loyalty to another land and a decision to join the enviable throng of Americans. We pass the coming of voting-age as just a part of ordinary routine, being natural and a heritage. To be born an American is a ritual unto itself. To become one by pledging allegiance through the rites of necessary procedure is an honor. To those who take it all so calmly and with such a matter-of-fact manner, we ask a question. Who would you rather be than an American?

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on the Times' exchange list.

Out of a flock of 300 White Rock chickens, only nine had fallen victims to ordinary "infant mortality," and Dan Higgins, Jr., of the Daniel neighborhood was looking forward to a healthy crop of fryers this summer, when suddenly the chicks began to lose their pep, sit down and stretch their necks as near to giraffe proportions as possible.

Performing an autopsy, Mr. Higgins found that his sluggish chicks had been spicing their diet with shingle nails, picked up from a sack in the yard. He found shingle nails in the gizzards of 25 of the three-weeks-old chicks — and hopes that will be all. —Hereford Brand

Courtesy is such a small thing that it has almost lost its splendor in the crushing avalanche of a world at war; a gem of civilization lost in the rubble of destruction. Aware of its power to please, a bus company has instructed its drivers to stand by the step and say "Thank You" to each departing traveler. Perhaps the postwar world will be a more courteous one. —Matador Tribune

"We can repay the debt we owe to our God, to our dead, and to our children by work."

With these words, President Harry S. Truman gave the sentiment of American people following the unconditional surrender of German forces. Most of the nation paused momentarily in their tasks and gave thanks for the cessation of hostilities on the European continent. But at the same time the realization is uppermost in our minds that we are at the halfway mark. We still must conquer the barbarous foe in the Western Pacific. The task will not be easy. Thousands and thousands of American lives will be sacrificed in this task, and on the home front a job must be completed.

And, as the military might of our nation is concentrated facing the Japanese, it is fitting that we rededicate ourselves to the task before us. And the harder we strive, the sooner the Hall County men and women will once again return to the peaceful pursuits for which they are fighting. —Memphis Democrat

President Truman is finding himself in a tight spot. His spot will get tighter as the war progresses. When peace comes, he is going to be forced to make decisions which will break the honeymoon which prevails in Washington. The New Dealers hope that he will continue to be their leader, although they would prefer Wallace. The conservatives believe that Truman will leave his old associates and veer to the right. The Republicans trust that he will still continue carrying water on both shoulders until the peace is assured. The President cannot continue long pleasing all three factions in the nation. In which direction will he go? Your guess is as good as any. Judging from his political background, we

The Times War Time Reporter Says

Folks I'll tell you: My grandpa never did think us men got an even break when company came and we had to sleep on the floor. It gives a man that inferiority complex that is common amongst married men that is so hard to overcome. And again at breakfast time when you find you've drawn that old cracked white plate and coffee cup with no handle makes things worse.

But a smart man will just keep digging in because he knows that along around pay day he will be treated as an equal in the family again, and that helps him to bear his burden.

My little poem today will be:

The beds in our house are taken up
And there isn't room for more;
So there's nothing left for poor old Dad
But a pallet on the kitchen floor.

He moans and groans and catches cold
And his back is cramped and sore,
As he tries to get his rest
On his back in the kitchen floor.

We all sorter feel sorry for Pap
As he dresses and creeps out the door,
But Mom says he can have plenty fun
Watching mice as they play o'er the floor.

I guess that he will not be as radical as the leftists demand; nor as conservative as the rightists demand. Will he be able to carry the balance of power between the two? There are great times ahead in our political life. —Canyon News

What is believed to be the biggest acreage of wheat ever planted in the area was evident to a Tribune reporter, who made a trip to Lawton, Okla., last week end.

Wheat, wheat, wheat. As far as the eye could see over a 700-mile tour from here to Oklahoma and back, field after field has been turned into wheat this year, displacing many thousands of acres that were formerly planted to cotton.

Except for small sections where the soil was predominantly light and sandy, wheat and barley seem to cover fully 90 per cent of the cultivated fields. Farmers who have given up their sons and farm hands to fight the war have been forced to small grains this year, due to the manpower situation. —W. H. Graham in The State Line Tribune, Farwell

Maintaining Rural Health Stressed By Extension Service

The A. and M. College Extension Service is giving its experience and educational facilities freely to maintenance of rural good health. Difficulties in functioning public health services, which have been heightened by wartime limitations, are concentrated effort in this more necessary than ever, says Eloise Trigg Johnson, Extension Specialist in family life education.

To give direction and emphasis to Extension Service's cooperation rural health work. Mrs. Johnson has set up a four-point general educational program. Its objectives are to encourage (1) a critical study and evaluation of all available health service facilities in the community, county and state; (2) periodic examinations for the determination of the health status of each family member; (3) the use of positive preventive measures in control of contagious and infectious diseases; (4) planning for the solution of family problems as a positive factor and maintenance of good mental health.

Reports from county home demonstration agents indicate that much constructive work is being done. In Amarillo county, each home demonstration club will meet with one of the county health nurses this month for the purpose of an "open" immunization clinic for pre-school children. These meetings will be held at the schools, and interest is indicated by calls upon the county home demonstration agent regarding dates for similar meetings in communities not immediately scheduled.

Tuberculosis prevention work also being done in many communities. Members of the home demonstration club recently sponsored a "well baby" conference in the Progress community of Hidalgo county. Mrs. Johnson says. Two hundred babies were examined and remedial recommendations made. Mothers also were given help in child care and feeding.

Other progressive work in the field of rural health includes a mental health training meeting at Amarillo for 18 county home demonstration agents in the techniques of problem solving.

As a background of the current rural health program, 23,546 families in 1944 were assisted in the prevention of colds and other common diseases; 9,430 were aided in home care of the sick, and 8,855 in child-feeding problems.

Receives Bronze Star For Meritorious Service

PFC. BERNARD C. LOWERY, of Mobeetie, right, is congratulated by Brig. Gen. John Devine, Commanding General, 8th Armored Division, 9th U. S. Army following his receipt of a Bronze Star medal at a ceremony somewhere in Germany. He received the award for meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy in Germany on March 1, 1945. When a task force in which he was operating was held up by a road block and strong enemy resistance, Private Lowery voluntarily led a patrol into the town to determine the extent of enemy defenses. After discovering a concentration of enemy he returned to the observation post and directed artillery fire on the enemy strong point.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Leonard of Mobeetie have received the following letter from their son, Allen, who volunteered for service with the army three years ago. He is a navigator and is now in France.

April 26

Dearest Folks:

I didn't fly yesterday or today because I was O. D. from noon yesterday until noon today. I'll fly tomorrow if the weather permits. It rained a little tonight, the first since we landed in France. We've been taking advantage of this beautiful weather.

After work today I took my pistol and German rifle and went to the woods. The fellows said there were wild hogs there but I didn't see any. The woods are about 5 miles from the field. It was a beautiful spring day—the flowers are in bloom and the trees in full leaf. I really enjoyed the outing. I was alone and sat down under a big tree to rest and became quite drowsy. That was the longest time I've been alone since entering the army. I had a big time just thinking. I went across the little farms going over and coming back.

All the farmers live in little villages with the farms around it. The fields are green with oats now. It just seemed that war was an impossibility and I would forget about it until suddenly I would have to go around an ugly bomb crater that brought back the reality. Most of the craters have been filled but the chalk dirt that was blown from under the top soil still shows. You can see them from the air, a row of white chalky spots stringing across a field. Of course most of these fell harmless but I have pictures of evidence of more destructive hits. I haven't seen an airfield in France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg or Germany that hasn't been blasted to hell. Excuse the expression, but that is the best way to describe them. Some of the larger airfields had beautiful buildings and great hangars that are now just a mass of twisted steel among the crumbled concrete and brick walls. All the wooden parts of the structures were burned.

It just seems impossible to create so much ruin and devastation. Then you think of the cause for it! The Nazis caused it but our bombers did it with, of course, the help of our Allies. Most of the villages and cities in France, Holland and Belgium are not too badly damaged. When we leave the western part of the continent and fly over Germany we don't need to look at the map to know when we cross the boundary. The cities and villages immediately become just little patches of wreckage in a surrounding of green fields and forest.

Germany is a beautiful country—mountains, rivers, lakes and a large portion of evergreen forests. Some small villages aren't marked by war but those that offered any resistance were literally wiped out. Aachen is in a state of ruin that cannot be described so are Kassel, Mainz, Hanover, Giessen, Frankfurt and others. In the little city of Giessen I noticed the very center of town, where you'd expect to find tall buildings, is a vacant lot used for a dump—four or five blocks without a wall standing! And all around are the ugly walls with no glass in the windows, the roof blown off and parts of the walls crumbled.

It gives a grim satisfaction to see these things happening to the people that have caused so much heartache to the world of peace loving, God fearing people. The people they planned to destroy are now, not so slowly, destroying them. The job we are doing has the appearance of the end of a war-loving people.

Will you hold a FAT-SALVAGE BEE for your country?

HERE IN AMERICA, when a neighbor needs help, it has always been the custom for all the folks to pitch in and give him a hand. Many a harvest would have been lost without the help of a husking bee.

YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS a fat-salvage bee right now! Millions of tons of fat have been used up to supply the thousands of battlefield and home-front needs in this war. And there's still a lot of war ahead!

A PLEA TO EVERY WOMAN! Our country is calling on you, the women in small cities and towns and on the farms, to save every drop of used fat. Your used fats are desperately needed to meet our country's requirements.

So scrape all pans and roasters. Skim soups and gravies. Keep your used fats in a tin can—any kind will do. Save meat trimmings and plate scrapings in a bowl; melt them down and add the liquid fat to your can.

When the salvage can is full, take it to your butcher. He'll give you 2 red points and up to four cents for every pound. If you have any difficulty turning in your used fats, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

Needed this year: 100,000,000 more pounds of used fats

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Civilians At War

The government needs and asks its citizens of the 180th week of the war against Japan to:

1. Buy your overseas serviceman a bond during the 7th War Loan Drive, and tell him you have done so on a V-Mail gift certificate, obtainable wherever War Bonds are sold.
2. Stay on your war job until victory over Japan. If manpower needs in your industry are changing, your U. S. Employment Service Office can tell you the nearest job where you are needed.
3. Continue to buy only what you need. Reconversion has started, but America's factories cannot produce sufficient civilian goods to end the threat of inflation while Pacific war needs continue.

Agricultural Information For Servicemen and Veterans

In order to provide agricultural information to servicemen and veterans of this war who are interested in agriculture, the U. S. Department of Agriculture will place kits containing samples of available information in separation centers, hospitals, libraries, and vocational guidance and retraining centers of the Army, Navy Air Forces, and the Veterans Administration. These kits will be available for review in approximately 1,000 places in the Continental U. S. and overseas. Accompanying each kit will be order blanks on which the veteran or serviceman can order by a simple check mark any item or group of items he may want. Among the material offered are several general publications designed to help the agriculturally inclined serviceman or veteran decide whether or not he really does want to become a farmer. In addition the kit contains 12 bulletins on subjects such as poultry raising, dairy farming, irrigation, farmhouse plans, and conservation farming.

V-E Day Statement by Claude R. Wickard, Sec. of Agriculture

The farm people of America join with the rest of this nation, the liberated people of Europe and freedom-loving people everywhere, in welcoming the coming of V-E Day. Though our hearts are made happier by this good news, we all realize that this is not an occasion for all-out rejoicing. The European war has been won only at a very heavy cost. The lives and health of many of our young men have been sacrificed in this struggle. Also there is still a full-scale war to finish, and for our allies. And being a Humanitarian Nation we'll want to do our share in helping to feed the starving and suffering people of the liberated areas. So the fighting on the farm front is not over, just as the fighting on the Jap front isn't over. I am sure that the farm people of this nation — the people whose production record is one of the great achievements of this war — will pay tribute to V-E Day by continuing all-out production until final and complete victory is won.

V-E Day Statement by Judge Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator

American farmers will not stop work to celebrate our victory in Europe. They are devoutly thankful that one phase of the war is over, but they know that the needs for food are as great as they ever were. They also know that their war job must go on day and night until total victory is won. All of us would do well to follow their example.

Surplus Property, When Available, Assured to Farmers

Farmers and rural areas generally are assured equal opportunity to supply their needs out of surplus property as it becomes available. The Surplus Property Board said. The board's Regulation No. 3, effective June 1, 1945, sets up procedures for channeling critically needed trucks, machinery, and equipment into agricultural uses. Farmers, however, should not expect a flood of surpluses at give-away prices, the board warned. First and second purchase priorities given by the Surplus Property Act of 1944 to Federal Agencies and State and Local Governments will absorb many surplus items, but trucks, machinery and equipment in critical short supply will be distributed on the basis of greatest need. Disposal agencies designated by the board are directed to cause appropriate quantities of surplus property to be sold or channeled into rural areas so that farmers and farmers cooperative associations will be given opportunity to buy. Sales will be made to distributors, dealers, wholesalers, farmers cooperative associations or retailers who customarily distribute in rural areas, and who certify that the surpluses being purchased will be so distributed. The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has announced that surpluses will be sold mainly through dealers and distributors, not to individual consumers. An exception to that rule is provision for direct sales to veterans who wish to buy surpluses to establish themselves in business, the professions or agriculture.

Increased Need For Nurses Seen

Victory in Europe has increased, rather than decreased the Army's need for nurses and will not affect the urgent requirements for recruits to the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, the Office of War Information announced. According to the Surgeon General, U. S. Army, the Army Nurse Corps today is 9,000 nurses short of its June 1 goal of 60,000 nurses. Before July 1, 1945, there must be an increase in nursing strength in this country of nearly 14,000 nurses in the military and government services, and more than 35,000 for civilian needs, or a total of nearly 50,000 additional nurses, according to the Public Health Service. It is expected, however, that most of this need will be met by graduates from the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. It is anticipated that more than 30,000 student nurses will graduate between July 1, 1945 and July 1, 1946. To help meet these

WE WILL REMEMBER

... as long as we live!

Back on the job, in white collars or work-stained khakis, the returning ex-servicemen of our organization hardly look like heroes of the Tunisia campaign or the battle of France. Some have scars to show for it... many have foreign service and valor ribbons.

We are glad to have them back. They endured much to safeguard the security of our nation. Keeping their jobs for them was the least that we could do. But more than that, we will never forget what they did for us. As long as we live, we will remember.

By BOYCE HOUSE

I reckon, first and last, in his philosophy, my grandpa—like Shakespeare—touched on every subject. There are some of the sayings that Bartlett and Stevenson left out of their big books of quotations because they didn't know my grandpa:

A chicken is a wonderful animal; it's good to eat before it's born and after it's dead.

Logic and theory are all right — but you can whip a cow and still she won't give whipped cream.

If a rabbit's foot means good luck, how did the rabbit ever lose it?

A practical joker is the most impractical person there is.

Here's an old saying, "The Lord looks after fools and drunkards." The word "fools" includes both.

Maybe that old saying is true but who looks after the families of drunkards?

The greens were the richest people in our town when I was growing up. They had a pair of matched bays and a fine carriage and a driver who wore a plug hat — (some other clothes, too, of course but I remember the plugged hat in particular). But when the Greens went to the world's fair in St. Louis in 1904, they came back very indignant. They said, "Nobody paid any more attention to us than they did to anyone else."

Old Brother Smithers is my kind of folks. Sycamore Hollow was having a drouth and the food supply was about to run out, so a special service was called and Parson Browning was praying, "Oh, Lord, send us 20 sides of meat; five barrels of flour; a barrel of salt; a barrel of pepper" — and Brother Smithers broke in, "That's too much pepper; five pound will be plenty."

You won't plant a garden because you have to wait so long to get a mess of string-beans and potatoes? Well, try planting a garden and, the same day, borrow a hundred dollars at the bank, due in 60 days, and see how time flies!

MOVIE CHATTER

(By a Rogue)

Under Western Skies
Friday - Saturday, May 18 - 19 brings Under Western Skies to the screen at the Rogue Theatre. This is, as you might have guessed, another of those delightfully entertaining singing western pictures. It is a western built around a musical background. The stars are Noah Berry Jr., Leo Carillo, and comedian, Leon Errol. While we do not pretend to have a BIG show, we do claim that we can and will entertain you with a number of your favorite western cowboy songs in Under Western Skies.

The Conspirators
Hedy Lamarr and Paul Henreid furnish the star power in the highly fascinating murder mystery which comes to the Rogue Theatre - Sunday-Monday, May 19-20-21. If you are among those who like stories of intrigue and mystery, we believe you will thoroughly enjoy The Conspirators. Here is a story of arch criminals at work. Here is a study of those who would wreck the very foundation of the government of the Democracies of the world. See this story of master criminals and you will better appreciate our own country.

Can't Help Singing
The date is Wednesday - Thursday, May 23-24. The place is the Rogue Theatre. The picture is Can't Help Singing. The star is Deanna Durbin. The photography is in Technicolor. Our opinion is very favorable. Your patronage is wanted. You are the winner. We are happy to make you happy. You will be there and all will live happy thereafter. We will be seeing you at a grand show. Don't forget.

American Prisoners say:
"WE WANT TO GET BACK AT THE JAPS!"

MATCH THEIR SPIRIT in the MIGHTY 7TH WAR LOAN DRIVE

YES, despite their long months and years of privation and suffering, those gallant men, just released from filthy Jap Prison Camps, still have their good old fighting spirit. They're itching to get back into the fight and give the Nips a taste of their own medicine.

Let's show them that we're not quitting either! Let's match their spirit with our dollars! Let's make this MIGHTY 7th War Loan the mightiest of them all!

But to come even close to matching their sacrifices, everyone here at home must buy War Bonds until it hurts. Buy double or treble the extra War Bonds you've bought in any previous drive. Remember, this is really two drives in one. In the same period last year, you were asked to subscribe to two War Loans.

So let's go, Americans. Our hard-fighting Soldiers, Sailors and Marines are giving their ALL. The least we can do is to lend our dollars.
