 The world famine is appalling.
 We sometimes feel our country
 is feeding everybody everywhere.
 The blunt fact is that, so far, of all the nations of the world ours
 has made the smallest proportional response to the food crisis brought on by a common war and
 by drought.
 Canada and Britain have intensified their rationing, since war's end; save for sugar, we've dropped ours. Canada has exceeded many of her commitments to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA). Britain has stripped her food reserves below safety level to help alleviate starvation.

We promised UNRRA 300,000-000 pounds of meat in the first three months this year, but didn't deliver half that amount. We delivered only half the 1,200,000 tons of wheat we had promised for the same period.

Now that the famine is reaching its peak, what are our plans?
 One thing we can all do, right
 now, is back the Emergency Food Collection in our community. It offers everyone a simple, direct and personal means of giving quick additional help to the hungry and starving overseas.

The main objective of the collection is to secure cash gifts.
 More food can be obtained for a given amount of money if it can be bought centrally and in large quantities. Saving is also effected in pick-up, packing and transportation costs. The secondary objective is to procure food packed in tin cans.

There is no better way, it seems to us, to obtain more food and dispatch it quickly to the areas
 of greatest need.

Think what it would mean if each family gave a substantial money gift, and, in addition, set aside a can of food a day for our afflicted neighbors—just for one month!

Scores of thousands in Europe
 and Asia appear certainly doomed.
 But we can save many other lives
 if we get behind the Emergency Food Collection and really push.

H. B. Hill Author
 Of Redistricting
 Law Passed in '21

The possibility of Governor
 Coke Stevenson calling of a special session of the Legislature to act on redistricting in the state of Texas has brought out some historical legislative history in which H. B. Hill, Shamrock attorney, figures prominently.

Mr. Hill was the author of the senatorial redistricting law passed in 1921, when he was state representative of this district. That law on which the local attorney worked for 14 months was the only real shake-up after the adoption of the present constitution.
 A law had been passed 20 years
 before that time, but it only changed a few of the small counties and made no real adjustment of senatorial districts.

Governor Stevenson has suggested calling a special session of the legislature for the enactment of a law redistricting the state. The session would be held after the primaries.

Mr. Hill has offered the governor his experience gained in his work on the previous law, and Stevenson has expressed his appreciation and thanks, stating that he believed the Shamrock attorney could be of great help to him
 in putting the program over.

VA REGIONAL OFFICE OPEN

Since the opening of the Vocational rehabilitation and education
 division of the VA Lubbock regional office on June 1, 107 veterans have been approved for entry into training and 180 veterans have been enrolled in training, reported Eldon F. Fuller, chief of the division. Forty-three of the 180 awards for subsistence were for veterans with disability or vocational handicap.

On Thursday, June 13, the division authorized subsistence for 71
 of these veterans and issued 44
 "certificates of eligibility and entitlement"—official permit to go to school—to disability and non-disability cases. Fifty-two adjustments to subsistence have been completed.

Following authorization of subsistence by the vocational rehabilitation and education division, payment to veterans is made through the finance division, allowing $90 per month for married veterans and $65 per month for single veterans.

Regarding further activities of the division, nine thousand files have been inventoried, 250 new files have been created, and 4,500
 pieces of mail have been received,
 sorted and routed to various sections for action.

Forty business institutions in the Lubbock vicinity have been surveyed for recommended approval to train veterans on the job.

Determination of eligibility for benefits and certification as to the education or training to which each applicant is entitled is conducted by this division. Veterans classified as eligible receive on-the-job or institutional training.
 The division assembles regional data concerning the need for general education and for trained personnel in the various crafts, trades and professions.

Individual files and status records for each veteran applying for vocational rehabilitation and for each veteran receiving education or training are maintained. The disabled veteran is under stricter supervision of the division than the non-disabled veteran. Personal counsel is given the veteran and technical correspondence is conducted with those making inquiries concerning vocational rehabilitation and education.

Key personnel of the vocational rehabilitation and education division consists of Eldon F. Fuller, chief; M. L. Penn, assistant chief; George A. Heath, chief, advice-ment and guidance section; Carl G. Clift, chief, education and training section; Luther H. Edwards, chief, registration and research section; and Ben Boswell,
 chief, training facilities section.

Veterans' News

The veteran disabled in line of duty during his military or naval service has first claim on government medical aid and hospitalization. But ex-servicemen whose illnesses or injuries are not the result of their service may also receive free hospitalization, if they leave the service under conditions other than dishonorable, and are unable to pay for treatment at a private hospital.

However, until the Veterans Administration's hospital construction program is completed, veterans with non-service-connected disabilities will experience some difficulty in obtaining hospitalization, since service-disabled veterans hold top priority.

In cases of life and death emergency, any veteran will be admitted immediately to any veterans' hospital. Next in line under the priority system is the vet with a service-connected disability. Third in the lineup is the veteran needing treatment for a non-service-connected disability, but receiving pension for a disability he did acquire in service. Fourth is the veteran whose only disability is non-service-connected.

In an emergency case, a large part of the necessary paperwork may be deferred until after the veteran arrives at the hospital.

The procedure for a veteran with a non-service-connected disability who wishes to get into a VA hospital is as follows: He goes to the nearest VA regional office or hospital, or to a VA office in a small town, and files an application. He will be examined to determine his need for treatment, and he must certify that he is unable to pay for treatment at a private hospital.

A veteran with a service-connected disability follows a similar procedure, except that it is easier for him to establish eligibility for hospitalization. For example, his ability to pay for treatment is not considered; a veteran with a service-connected disability is always entitled to treatment at a veterans' hospital.

Disabled veterans taking vocational training are entitled to hospitalization or medical treatment at any time during their training period, if they suffer any injury or disease that would cause interruption of their training.

Q. Where death of a veteran is connected with service other than in time of war, may pension be paid?
A. Yes; pension is payable to his widow, child or children, and dependent parents, where his death results from a disease or injury incurred in or aggravated by active military or naval service, in line of duty.

Q. Is it required that the Veterans Administration approve a veteran's course of education or training under the GI Bill?
A. No, an eligible veteran may elect his course and choose the state-approved educational or training institution at which he wishes to enroll. He may file his application direct with the nearest VA office or contact office or through the approved institution with which he has made arrangements for his education or training.

Q. When a veteran moves to another area within the state, or to another state, how can he continue his claim for unemployment allowances?
A. He should report to the United States Employment Service office nearest his new address for instructions.

Q. Where may a veteran secure information in regard to converting his National Service Life insurance policy?
A. At the nearest Veterans Administration contact office or by writing direct to the Veterans Administration, Washington 25 D. C.

Q. If a veteran secures a loan guaranty on a farm must he live on the farm?
A. No, but he must live near enough actually to operate the property and to supervise the farming.

Q. If a veteran is receiving an increased pension, or a subsistence allowance for educational purposes, is he eligible to receive unemployment allowances?
A. No.

M'LEAN CAMP WILL BE SOLD

The War Assets Administration announced this week that by July 1 more than $1,750,000,000.00 worth of war surpluses are scheduled for sale at 161 sites throughout the country. The McLean Prisoner of War Camp is one of the sites. These are sales, WAA explained, for which preparations started sometime prior to the middle of June or will have been started by the first of July.

The 161 sales at sites mark increased momentum in the progress of WAA's accelerated "sales-at-site" program which, when operating in all 33 regions, calls for similar sales at approximately 938 sites, which include military installations, industrial plants and at warehouses.

Five "sales-at-site" are on the current planned schedule within the Fort Worth region with property having an original cost to the government of $16,304,000.00 involved. Preliminary surveys have already been made at the Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot.

Camp Bowie, Prisoner of War Camp at McLean, Prisoner of War Camp at Hereford and two army installations outlying from Dalhart.

Dates for the actual start of "site sales" at these locations have not as yet been announced by the Fort Worth regional office, pending inspection and pricing of the surplus property inventories declared by the Army at the several sites.

Hamilton Morton, WAA regional director in Fort Worth, this week stated that it was hoped that the first "site sale" in the Fort Worth region might get underway by July 15.

The sales at site disposal method will permit prospective purchasers to visit the site, inspect the merchandise, select what they want to buy, pay their money and depart with their purchases or have them shipped to them.

FARM FACTS
WORTH KNOWING

Q. What are approximate weights of dairy calves at birth?

A. Brown Swiss }100 lbs.
Holstein }
Ayrshire } 85 lbs.
Guernsey } 75 lbs.
Jersey } 75 lbs.

Q. How much feeder space do growing pullets need?

A. About 3 in. per bird. Thus a 8-ft. feeder will care for 40 growing pullets.

Q. Is the self feeding of the sow and her litter practicable?

A. Yes. Records over a number of years at the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company show the following results of self feeding:

1. Larger and more uniform pigs at weaning time.
2. Saving in labor.
3. Feed used more effectively.
4. Health, vigor, and breeding efficiency of the sow protected, resulting in larger litters.
5. Less danger to pigs from crowding, resulting in less loss from injury and crippling.

Q. What is proper age for marketing New Zealand fryer rabbits?

A. Fryers should be marketed when they weigh approximately 4 to 4 1/2 pounds (live weight) at about 8 to 10 weeks of age.

Q. Can broilers be raised profitably during the summer months?

A. Yes. Although growth is better during the spring, fall, and winter, most people are able to make a nice profit out of broilers in the summer, particularly in climates where it is not too warm.

If your mouth's watering for fried chicken—and shortening's short—switch from the top of the stove and even fry it. Delicious and saves fat, too. . . . Cook the chicken in an iron skillet with small chunks of vitaminized margarine. At the very last, turn up the flame so the chicken will be nice and brown.

We hear that a non-skid cover for ladies' shoes has just been patented.

To give your windows a sparkle—add about a half cup of witch hazel to each quart of warm water when you're cleaning them. They'll really shine.

Summer vegetables and fruits are a definite boon to menus now that practically all other foods are scarce. . . . And don't forget that in most cases raw vegetables pack more vitamins than cooked ones; so serve garden-fresh salads often with real mayonnaise for additional flavor.

Many super-markets are adding flowers as a side-line on the theory that housewives will be more tempted there than when they pass the florist's.

New York restaurants and hotels have declared wheatless dinners three nights each week. I think that would be an excellent practice for us at home, don't you? There are plenty of substitutes, such as corn meal and potatoes, to fill in and still give us that satisfied, well fed feeling.

Be sure and save those odd stock-ings! I've seen some lovely braided rugs made from them.

Miss Bonnie Prater Weds Shamrock Man

Of interest in Wheeler is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Bonnie Prater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Prater of Twitty Saturday evening, June 22, with Minister Worley R. Ferguson officiating.

The wedding took place at the parsonage of the Church of Christ of Twitty Saturday evening, June 22, with Minister Worley R. Ferguson officiating.

Miss Jeanne Franks was bridesmaid and wore a street-length dress of white sheer and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Claude Clay served his brother as best man.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of blue crepe complimented with white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Clay is a graduate of the Wheeler high school with the class of 1946, where she was a popular student in all school activities.

Mr. Clay served in the army for 58 months.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado.

The couple will make their home in Shamrock.

Navy Secret Radar Components Released for Railway Use

THE first peacetime application of radar components to a railway communication system, now possible through the lifting of Navy Security Restrictions, will be made on the Rock Island Lines, according to a program announced by J. D. Farrington, chief executive officer of the road.

The Rock Island's new system will embody important developments designed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company for military and Naval radar operations only recently released by the Government for this purpose. The "highly secret" Klystron tube, which is used in the Rock Island system, was developed by the Sperry scientists especially for aircraft and ship radar installations.

This revolutionary new tube has been of great importance in making available for radio and other purposes a portion of the radio spectrum which is 20,000 times as wide as a home radio broadcast band. The ultra-high frequency waves thus generated are so short that they approach heat and light waves in the electro-magnetic spectrum.

Because of the very high frequency waves (2650 megacycles) to be used in the Rock Island's new system, trains and other places of transmission and reception will be equipped with a new type of antenna developed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company which allows any degree of directional control. In contrast to the conventional antenna an assembly of platters or discs is mounted on a short hollow tubing only a few inches tall. Developed for Naval wartime use, this is a particularly important factor in railroad operation too, since antenna clearance is limited on trains passing through bridges, tunnels, etc.

In commenting upon the radio communication installation, Mr. Farrington said: "We on the Rock Island Lines have long recognized the importance of radio communication in the efficient operation of a modern railroad. Our tests and experiments during the past year-and-a-half have shown many advantages in the use of this type of communication. Now that commercial use of war-proven, heretofore highly secret radio-radar apparatus is being permitted by the armed forces, we are pleased to have the cooperation of the Sperry Gyroscope Company in inaugurating this system as part of a permanent and far-reaching program."

The first application of radar components to a railroad communication system, made possible through lifting of Navy security regulations, will be made on the Rock Island lines. In the above photo, J. D. Farrington, (center) chief executive officer of the Rock Island, inspects the hitherto secret antenna, held by Dr. H. H. Willis, vice president of the Sperry Gyroscope Co., which developed the antenna for the Navy. This antenna, which is only a few inches high, can radiate waves equal in power to those radiated from an average high-powered radio station's conventional antenna. This particular type of radar antenna will be standard equipment on all Rock Island trains. The antenna held by Ernest A. Dahl, Rock Island electronic engineer (left) will be used at the railroad's "wayside stations." Other radar components will be used in the Rock Island's Sperry-engineered communications system.

Supervising the work for the Rock Island will be C. O. Ellis, superintendent of communications. E. A. Dahl, electronic engineer, and A. E. Ganzert, electrical engineer, while the Sperry Gyroscope Company will be represented by Dr. H. H. Willis, vice president, Dr. Carl Frische, chief research engineer, and C. F. Poirier, industrial sales engineer.

New Flavor for Iced Coffee

Cinnamon sticks and almond flavored whipped cream make popular iced coffee a real taste treat.

Any party is a success when guests try to analyze the subtle flavoring of the refreshments. That's just what happens when Spicy Iced Coffee is served. Stick cinnamon, allowed to steep in coffee, gives an indefinable, delicate flavoring to this beverage which may be sweetened with either light corn syrup or sugar. Make the coffee double-strength, using twice as much vacuum-packed coffee in proportion to the water as you do for the regular-strength beverage. Brew the coffee according to the directions for your coffee maker, then proceed as follows:
