Warnings Hoisted On East Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 9 (AP)—Hurricane warnings were hoisted along sections of the North Carolina and Virginia coasts today and the populous east coast from Norfolk, Va. to New York City was put under a hurricane alert as tropical storm Connie moved toward the area.

The alert extending to New York was issued by the Weather Bureau in Washington. It stated: "Alert all interests in coastal area from Norfolk to New York City for possible extension of hurricane warnings during the next 24 hours."

1,200 Korean Railmen Arrive For Demonstration

SEOUL (AP)—Twelve hundred Red-hating Korean railway workers reached Incheon from Seoul today to reinforce some 300 demonstrators besieging the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission billets on Wonsi.

Some of the enraged demonstrators threw a U.S. guard box at one causeway into the sea. Others tried to storm the island from the sea. They too were repulsed.

Swartz To Take More Space, Develop New Specialty Shop

Plans for a major renovation project that will result in a completely new store have been announced by Adolph Swartz, owner of the women's specialty shop bearing his name.

The alert extending to New York was issued by the Weather Bureau in Washington. It stated: "Alert all interests in coastal area from Norfolk to New York City for possible extension of hurricane warnings during the next 24 hours."

The hurricane warnings were hoisted from Cape Lookout, N.C., to Norfolk, Va. Northeast storm warnings were raised on the Virginia Capes, and between Cape Lookout and Wilmington, N.C.

Forecasters pointed out that hurricane force winds extend 120 miles to the north and east and gales an additional 150 miles, so that gale force winds at noon EST were less than 100 miles off shore in the Cape Hatteras area.

Dunn said the bureau here would begin immediately to issue advisories and special bulletins on the storm three-hour intervals instead of the six-hour intervals used while the great tropical disturbance was farther at sea.

The U.N. Command has denounced the Reds in the NNSC for improper activities and for blocking inspections in North Korea.

There was no confirmation from U.S. sources. In Pusan, scene of the most violent clash, an estimated 3,000 to 4,000 demonstrators yesterday made several attempts to break into the NNSC compound. They were repulsed with tear gas bombs. Fifteen American soldiers and 25 Korean demonstrators were injured.

Today's demonstration was broken up by tear gas bombs and blank shells, the latter fired to frighten the Koreans.

Some of the enraged demonstrators threw a U.S. guard box at one causeway into the sea. Others tried to storm the island from the sea. They too were repulsed.

Chandler Seeks To Bind Demo Party Wounds

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP) — A. R. (Happy) Chandler, with a political past and future built on a smiling but indomitable personality, refused to relax today while enjoying his second Democratic nomination for governor.

The energetic former governor, U. S. senator and baseball commissioner—who said "Never have I been so humble and so grateful"—worked to bind up intraparty wounds from an old-fashioned blood-letting primary.

After preliminary plans for the general election will come a vacation, when "all I want to do is sleep," Chandler said.

Three pounds heavier after a grueling political comeback fight to overcome a state administration firmly entrenched for eight years, Chandler, 57, confidently predicted victory in November.

He flashed the smile which has been a trademark since earning him the nickname "Happy" as a boy and said, "I am certain that many thousands of registered Republicans will find our program worthy of their support."

He expressed confidence Democrats will "close ranks" for the election despite his vigorous attacks on the administrations of Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and his predecessor, U. S. Sen. Earle Clements.

They backed Judge Bert T. Combs for the nomination. Combs also had the support of Sen. Alben Barkley, the former vice president who handed Chandler his only political defeat—in a senatorial primary.

Chandler's victory against such formidable opposition came 20 years after his first stunning political upset, when he won the gubernatorial nomination over administration-backed Thomas Rhea.

It was won with a 10-month, 900-speech campaign in which Chandler took only one day off, exclusive of Sundays.

Looking to a November victory which would make him the third Kentucky governor elected a second time after intervening years, he said, "I am deeply conscious of my obligation to the people of Kentucky who have nominated me."

Well wishers and a steady stream of telephoned congratulations continued to pour into Chandler's white frame home, which began taking on a jubilant victory air early yesterday.

With Chandler and his wife were several political lieutenants and their oldest son Ben, who was 26 yesterday. Their other son, Dan, is in summer military training. They also have two married daughters and five grandchildren.

Chandler's Republican opponent will be former U. S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, also nominated in Saturday's primaries.

The quiet Denney will be meeting a foe unbeaten in a general election in a career which began by winning a State Senate seat in 1929.

Always a strong personal campaigner, Chandler was elected lieutenant governor in 1931, governor in 1935 and U. S. senator in 1940 and 1942.

He quit the Senate to become baseball commissioner in 1945 and was considered politically dead by

Adlai-Harriman Talk May Have Bearing On Demo Nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — Two top Democrats meet here tonight for a talk that may have an important bearing on the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination contest.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, arriving today for the 47th annual Governors Conference, dines tonight with former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 Democratic nominee.

There are indications that Harriman would like to know privately what Stevenson has been unwilling as yet to say publicly—whether he again will be a candidate.

Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman and a close associate of Stevenson, said in an interview that if Harriman wants to know Stevenson's decision "he certainly can find out."

For himself, Mitchell said he has no doubt that "Stevenson will be running against President Eisenhower next year with a lot better chance of winning than he had in 1952."

Harriman has said repeatedly that he is for Stevenson. But he hasn't indicated any certainty that the former Illinois governor will run. And most politicians think he needs to have that information long before an expected announcement by Stevenson next November.

"There has been an extraordinary swing away from the Republican party, a disillusionment in the last two years," he said.

Asked whether he would try for the Democratic nomination, he repeated that he is for Stevenson.

Gov. John F. Simms, New Mexico Democrat, said he didn't have much luck learning Stevenson's intentions when he talked with him. "I think he is the strongest man in the party," he said. "But the man who gets the nomination next year will be a man who goes after it. I told him rather plainly that I think he ought to say what he intends to do within a short time."

Simms said he has heard "considerable talk" among Democrats about Harriman, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

Observing that he has no personal choice at this time, he said at this point he "wouldn't count anybody out" of the race.

Carmine G. DeSapio, Tammany Hall leader and New York national committeeman, who has been running Harriman for the nomination, got some unexpected support here yesterday.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Connecticut Democrat, said that as New York's chief executive Harriman has a "wonderful springboard." He added he thinks Harriman is a candidate.

California's Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight told a news conference he "thinks Harriman would give Eisenhower the strongest opposition from within the Democratic ranks. He said Stevenson is weakened by being a defeated candidate."

Knight and Gov. William G. Stratton, Illinois Republican, professed firm convictions that Eisenhower will run again.

Pleasant Weather Prevails In U. S.

By The Associated Press

Pleasant summer weather prevailed over most of the northern half of the country today but it was warm and humid in southern areas.

The cool Canadian air extended over the northeast quarter of the nation. Early morning temperatures were in the upper 40s and 50s through the northern tier of states from Wisconsin and Michigan eastward and ranged into the 60s as far south as Missouri, northern Kentucky and Virginia.

It also was cool in the northern Rockies, the Pacific Northwest and along the Pacific coast.

Fall Takes Life Of Tugboat Captain

LONDON (AP)—A fall from a ladder aboard the tug Turmoil yesterday took the life of Capt. Dan Parker, 63-year-old skipper who tried to save the American freighter Flying Enterprise in 1952.

Parker and the Turmoil battled the stormy Atlantic five days in an effort to tow the Flying Enterprise to port. When the ship finally went down off the coast of Ireland, the Turmoil rescued her captain, Kurt Carlsen, who had refused to leave his ship.

Residential Construction Gains In City This Year

Authorized construction in Big Spring during the first seven months of this year is somewhat behind that of the same period last year. Value of residential construction, however, is higher. Through July of this year 519 permits had been issued for construction listed at $1,242,990. Through the same month last year there had been 728 permits issued at value of $1,676,145. But last year during that first seven months the value placed on residential building was only $551,735. This year the residential building value is tabulated at $641,970. Residential building here through July accounted for 51 per cent of all construction work authorized. This figure is expected to swell even higher in coming months as permits are issued for home construction in the College Park Estates Addition. Commercial building, on the other hand, has been fairly low here this year. Only 22 per cent of the authorized construction — $409,690 — has been for commercial purposes. The other 17 per cent of building has been for repairs, additions, moving and alterations. This total so far this year has reached $197,330. Last year commercial and residential building was fairly well split in value. Some $1,356,310 was pegged for residences and $1,359,630 was listed for commercial structures. By July last year the commercial building permits totaled $831,595, more than twice the $409,690 listed through July this year. During 1954 there were 1,257 permits issued for construction valued at $3,160,240. On the average, permits issued during the two years have been for about the same cost construction. Through July last year the average permit was for $2,302. Through July this year the average was $2,388, only a slight increase. Records show that residential structures average higher this year, however. Average for each residential permit has been $5,534. Average per permit through July of last year was $4,522. Average commercial permit this year has totaled $3,562, while the average last year was $8,367. It is the smaller value permits for repairs, etc., which pull these averages down.

Army To Probe Breakage Of News Policy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Newsmen in Korea today were given the names of 10 soldiers killed in a truck accident before all next of kin had been notified. The Pentagon said it would try to learn the cause of this breach of Army policy. U.S. 8th Army headquarters in Seoul identified the casualties, members of the 24th Division killed in a truck accident last Saturday near Kimp'o Air Base, northwest of the Korean capital. Mothers of two of the soldiers, when told by newsmen of the Seoul announcement, said they had not been notified earlier. One said she doubted her son had been killed. An Army spokesman here said in response to an inquiry that the adjutant general, who notifies the next of kin, had received the names of only four of the casualties. The spokesman said the Army would determine why the names of the others had not reached the Pentagon. A communications delay could be responsible. In Tokyo, Army headquarters indicated all the names had been forwarded. All the armed forces customarily withhold identification of casualties until next of kin are informed. The dead whose names the Army said reached Washington, and whose next of kin were notified, were: Pfc. John B. Long III, 20, Spec. E.C. Edward L. Usery, 32, Mountain City, Ga. Sgt. Thomas J. Brown, 23, McGehee, Ark. Sgt. Robert J. Gourley, 22, Wakefield, Middlesex, Mass. Others identified in Seoul were: Pfc. Thomas J. Gilhooly, 20, Waterbury, Conn. Pfc. Paul A. She is the daughter of ranchers Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hunt. Nancy owns goats, sheep, cattle and horses in a ranch venture undertaken with her brother, James T. Hunt.

Holohan Witnesses Fly To U. S. For Reopening Of Case

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Thirteen Italians, most of them former wartime partisans, left by special plane for the United States today to testify in a reopened investigation into the wartime slaying of U. S. Army Maj. William Holohan. Dan Mauer and John Lewenberg, both of Manhattan Beach, are skindivers and artists. Yesterday they donned diving equipment, dropped their easels into the big aquarium tank at Marineland, and descended into the depths in pursuit of their art. They use lead to keep their easels down and paint on composition boards with paint specially compounded for underwater use.

could be extradited, however, and the sentences do not apply unless they return to Italy.

Jess Talkin

Gene O'Daniel says the rains have been skip-hopping over his country the whole year. He got some good rains on the farming land southeast of Coahoma early in the spring, then they stopped. However, he still has a fair crop that could change into a good one with just one more general rain. He says the ranchland northeast of Coahoma got some good rains on part of it, but the bare ground caused a lot of water to run off. He did get enough grass back, though, to stop feeding for awhile. Cotton is still growing at Knott, and it looks like a bumper crop will be harvested this fall. Jeff Painter says he needs one more rain to make as much as he did in 1950, when he made a half bale to the acre. He has a few bollworms and some lice, but has started poisoning for them. Crops around San Angelo have shown much improvement in the last few weeks, according to C. A. Rechenhain, specialist with the Soil Conservation Service there. Rechenhain travels most of West Texas and says ranges have improved very little in some areas. Ranges were so bare in these places that much of the water ran off and did little good. He said that some of the ranches where pitting had been done held the water and now have some new grass to show for it. Pitting is usually recommended on bare pasture where the soil is not rocky. The pitting machine cuts out slices every few feet and the water collects in these. In some places after rains, the pitted land was wet nearly two feet deep while rangeland that was untreated got only a few inches of penetration. A shortage of cotton choppers has developed in several communities. There is a big sign at the Payne Store at Fairview reading: "The Hands Wanted." Mr. Payne said that George Holman, Frank Hull and Johnny Jones all were hunting hoe hands and couldn't find them. If you are tired of eating eggs with yellow yolks, you can now have a choice of green or red. Nutrition experts have developed feed supplements which will cause the hen to lay different colored eggs. The shell is still the same but the yolks can be produced in assorted colors like toy balloons. Down at the Davis Feed Store

11 Happy Airmen Get Good News: Home This Weekend

TOKYO, (AP)—Eleven happy U.S. airmen today officially got the news they prayed for during 23 long months in Communist captivity—"home this weekend." The Air Force said Col. John Knox Arnold and the 10 other fliers freed by Red China last week will leave aboard two berth-equipped C-54s tomorrow for Travis Air Force Base, Calif., via Midway and Hawaii. Arriving at Travis Friday morning, they will continue aboard two fast two-engine Convairs to the military or civilian airports closest home. They were told they should be home Saturday, or Sunday at the very latest. The Air Force considered flying them to Travis via Alaska and Tacoma, Wash., but the airmen themselves said they wanted to return via the longer Midway-Hawaii route. Protesting lest officials "make a fuss" over them, the fliers also said they preferred no mass meeting with relatives at Travis, as proposed. Finishing their rigorous Air Force physical exams, they spurned offers of group sightseeing tours and went in twos or threes into the gay city of Tachikawa. A. Z.C. Daniel C. Schmidt, Redding, Calif., who learned last weekend his wife remarried while he was a prisoner, said he wanted to go out alone. Mrs. Charles Coward, a Red Cross grey lady, drove Schmidt off the base in her car to enable him to photograph Japanese scenes, the Red Cross said. A. Z.C. Harry M. Benjamin Jr., Worthington, Minn., and A. Z.C. W. Thompson III, Orange, Va., visited friends at an Air Force housing area and took pictures of the Army's hydroponic farm outside Tokyo. Benjamin is interested in biology. T. Sgt. Howard W. Brown, St. Paul, Minn., and A. L.C. Steven E. Kiba Jr., Akron, Ohio, were driven to the Air Force post exchange at Tachikawa to buy gifts. Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., left alone to visit friends. On the eve of their departure, all 11 fliers will be entertained by an orchestra and floor show at the base officers' club. "It will be a mild floor show, no strip show or anything like that," an Air Force spokesman said.

Blonde Pleads Innocent To Murder Charge

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Geraldine Terry, a 23-year-old blonde charged with the butcher knife slaying of her husband of three weeks, pleaded innocent yesterday. She was freed on a $10,000 bond after she told the court that her husband Bill Lee Terry, an attorney, was stabbed fatally when he fell on a butcher knife during a struggle with her. Mrs. Terry said her husband came home "so drunk he could hardly stand," after an argument.

GENEVA, (AP)—Tomorrow's scheduled meeting between the ambassadors of the United States and Communist China has been postponed until Thursday at Red China's request.

GREATEST THING THAT EVER HAPPENED TO THE HARDTOP

236-hp Buick Converter, 6-Passenger, 4-Door Riviera, Model 63

THEY MADE THE RIVIERA A 4-DOOR BEAUTY —and now you can have it with the biggest bonus deal in Buick history

TAKE a look at the sports-car snap and styling of the automobile pictured here and you'll notice that this is a Buick Riviera—the hardtop that has outsold all other hardtops in America, bar none. Now take another look—and you'll see that this swift-lined dazzler has four doors, not just two. And that's the big news. That's the buzzing excitement. That's the wonderful thing about this new kind of car that's sweeping the nation. Here, you see, is the first combination of true hardtop styling and true Sedan comfort and convenience...

Because here you get the long, low, rakish look of a Convertible—with no center posts above the door line—with 4-door entry and exit—and with a bigger, Sedan-sized rear compartment. Great news? Sure is—but it's only part of the good things you'll find in the line of great Buicks now sweeping the country. There's the bold styling—the buoyant ride—the gorgeous new interiors that grace these big and roomy automobiles. And there's action here like you never experienced in a car before—because here is the velvet might of record-high V8 power combined with the whip-quick getaway response and gas savings of Variable Pitch Dynaflo. And when you press the pedal, your spirits really soar.

Record Volume Means Profit-Sharing Deals. It is all these things that have zoomed our sales volume past all expectations. So we're declaring a profit-sharing bonus deal on every trade-in now—an extra allowance beyond the normally long ones we've been giving all year. That means you get:
1. A Bonus Trade-In Allowance—biggest in our history.
2. A Bonus Buy—because in Buick you get the thrill of the year—in style, power, performance, value.
3. A Bonus Resale—because a Buick always resells high—brings you more money when you trade it in.
Drop in on us this very week and make yourself a whopping buy on the hottest-selling Buick ever built.

COOL COMFORT FOR HOT WEATHER DRIVING WITH Buick's Airconditioner (A genuine Frigidaire)
Automatically cools down the hot interior quickly—and keeps it cool. Replenishes inside air with fresh supply of filtered air. Lets you ride in quiet comfort with windows closed on dusty, windy, and rainy days, even when cooling is not required. Available in all 4-door Sedans and Riviera models of extra cost.

Enjoy cooled, filtered air for less than you think with Buick's AIRCONDITIONER. It's a genuine Frigidaire.

Thrill of the year is Buick

City Has Good Start To Equal Rainfall 'Average'

Big Spring is in a good position to equal or exceed its 50-year rainfall average this year.

And if that happens, it will be the first time in five years that the city has equalled the average for the first half of the twentieth century.

The average for 1900-1949 was 18.87 inches per year, local weather records show. The last year the average was reached was in 1950 when 20.75 inches of rainfall was measured here.

The city last year came close to the average, with 18.42 being gauged at the U. S. Experiment Farm at the north city limit.

Thus far this year, Experiment Farm gauges have caught 12.47 inches of rain. More than a third of this came in July when 4.94 inches fell. The first week of August brought another 1.63. The big snow in January melted down to 1.1 inches of moisture, and rains late in May gave the city another 3.7 inches. Otherwise, 1955 has been just about as dry as any year on record. There was but .22 inch of rain in February, .09 of an inch in March, none in April, and .79 of an inch in June.

However, if August continues to be as moist as it started, and if the fall and winter rains come this year, the Big Spring area could look back on 1955 as a "wetter than normal" year.

As every resident recalls, the area has had three extremely dry years since 1950. In 1951, the rain total was but 12.16 inches. The next year was even drier, with only 9.2 inches recorded here. In 1953, Big Spring registered 14.05 inches of rain, but more than six inches of this came in October and was of no benefit to that year's crops.

Since 1900, there have been only two years with less rainfall than 1952. They were 1910 and 1917. The total in 1910 was 7.25 inches. The all-time recorded low was set in 1917 when only 4.68 inches was received.

The wettest years have been 1905 with 30.73 inches, 1919 with 34.01 and 1941 with 31.62. Rainfall by month and year since January, 1900, is shown by the accompanying chart.

New Law Puts Tax On Sale Of Radio, Television Sets

A move to protect the legitimate businessman in the sale of radios and television sets, is embodied in a new tax law recently passed by the Texas Legislature.

E. R. Trego, of the State Comptroller's office here, reports that the new law is designed to eliminate a large number of small, non-permanent dealers who have been escaping the payment of taxes on radios and TV sets.

The law, in effect, requires any and all persons who make a sale or distribution of a radio or television set to become a bonded dealer and obtain a permit from the state allowing him to sell these appliances.

After the law becomes effective on Sept. 6, all dealers in radio and TV sets will be required to add a tax of 2.2 per cent to the retail price and in turn submit that tax to the State.

Radios used by law enforcement officers, radios constructed and used by "hams," and radios installed in new motor vehicles will not be affected by the law.

Before any permit is issued and before engaging in the sale, use, or distribution of radios and TV sets, the retailer must file with the State Comptroller a surety bond in an amount to be prescribed by the comptroller.

The bond will be made payable to the comptroller and conditioned to assure compliance on the retailer's part of the laws and regulations of this act.

Anyone who willfully fails or refuses to pay this will be subject to prosecution under a felony charge. The penalties are up to five years in prison and up to $5,000 fine.

Also audits may be made of the records of a business to determine if it is complying fully with the provisions of the law.

Pilot Suffers Memory Lapse

CHICAGO, (U.S.—) Orvin Hanks, 36, Dallas, co-pilot of the Braniff Airliner that crashed here three weeks ago killing 22 persons, says he has forgotten everything that happened on the flight.

The last thing he can remember occurred the previous day. "I seem to have a mental block. x x x The last thing I remember is going to a Little League ball game in Dallas the night before to watch my two sons play. I remember discussing the game with two Little League sponsors after it was over, but then everything goes blank."

"Last week sometime, about the middle of the week, I found myself in this bed, not knowing how I got here."

He was interviewed for the first time yesterday in a hospital. The plane, coming in for a landing through a fog, hit a gas station signboard and crashed in flames.

Beauties Draped

TOKYO (U.S.—) Those luscious bathing beauties who will sit on your lap while you sip coffee in Tokyo's quiet sandwich shops will soon be more modestly draped.

Police ordered them today to cover their thighs. The shapely girls, attired in tight-fitting bathing attire, are a comparatively new come-on.

Proprietors said they brought in plenty of business.

Danes Crack Down

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (U.S.—) Danish authorities, who see nothing wrong with nude pinups of Danish girls, are cracking down on pornographic literature from abroad.

Freed Flier Wants Quiet Homecoming

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (U.S.—) Col. John K. Arnold, top officer among the 11 airmen released by the Chinese Communists, wants a "quiet homecoming with no ceremony," his wife said after an overseas telephone call from her husband. Arnold requested that his wife remain at home when he arrives in Montgomery rather than meet him at the airport.

"He just wants to come home himself. That's all," Mrs. Arnold said yesterday.

Ike Praises GOP's Civil Rights Record

WASHINGTON (U.S.—) President Eisenhower said the Republican party has proved itself a "vigorous and productive champion of the ideals and purposes of Lincoln" on civil rights.

He said that during his administration the nation has advanced far in application of the belief in "the equal dignity of all our people, whatever their racial origin or background may be; in their equal right to freedom and opportunity and the benefits of our common citizenship."

"All of us realize that much must still be done," he said.

Couple Found Slain In Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.S.—) Blood-spattered bodies of a husband and wife were found in their bedroom yesterday. Police said they apparently had been hammered and slashed to death "several days ago."

Dead were Gomer Thomas, 45, and his wife, Betty, 39, found sprawled between twin beds. Police said two hammers and two butcher knives, all blood-stained, were near the bodies.

Officers said they wanted to question 19-year-old Robert Jacob Miller, son of Mrs. Thomas by a previous marriage. He sometimes made his home with his mother and stepfather. Investigators said he was reported seen driving his mother's car from the home Saturday.

Another son, Charles Miller, 18, and a sister of the dead woman, Mrs. Clarabelle East, found the bodies late yesterday. They said they forced the rear door when no one answered their knocking.

MORNING PEEPERS

By Joyce Cannaway

As the phones rang this morning from the 1000 block through the 1300 block of Sycamore, 20 women were home to relate how they were spending their time around 9 o'clock. Eight families were not available.

Mrs. Francis W. Griesse, 1001, was reading a newspaper. At 1002, Mrs. Henry F. Merrill, was getting ready to haul off the trash. The back steps at 1003 were being washed with the water hose by Mrs. Thurber C. Tinkham.

"We are trying to get the sewing machine to work, so we can make some aprons," explained Mrs. Arla E. Reed, 1004.

Just in from town was Mrs. Herman O. Sandlin, 1006, and Mrs. John D. Robertson, 1009, was arranging some cut flowers from her garden.

It was jelly making time at the John B. Petty residence, 1012, Mrs. Louis N. Brook Jr. was over at the neighbor's house. Mrs. Frances Glenn, 1100, was dressing to go to work.

Mrs. J. J. Dalley, 1101, and Mrs. Paul Holden, 1104, were chatting away when the phone rang at the Dalley home.

"Sweeping, cleaning and fixing to start dinner," said Mrs. John W. Holden, 1102, as she described her activities.

Mrs. Asa L. Fortson, 1106, had been sewing, but when I called she was cutting some flowers to take to a sick friend, Mrs. W. A. Langley, 1200 Wood.

No one said "hello" at the Fred J. Beckman place, 1107.

"Doing lots of things," explained Mrs. William M. King, 1111, "washing clothes, taking care of my mother, and talking with my neighbor, Mrs. D. M. Anderson."

Rugs were being dyed pink at the Lloyd Clark home, 1112. Mrs. L. M. Bradshaw, 1200, was not to be found.

Mrs. Ada Vaughn, 1201, who runs a nursing home, was bathing patients.

Sitting at the table with a coffee cup in hand was the way I caught Mrs. Austin E. Auld, 1202.

Then I hit a not-at-home streak. No answer came as the phone continued to ring at the homes of Mrs. Etta B. Read, 1204; Mrs. Goldna

Johnson, 1205; and Warren Abbot, 1307.

Armed with a flyswatter, Mrs. Charles N. Waldron, 1208, was chasing a mosquito she had seen.

Mrs. John W. Morgan, 1209, was at work and Mrs. Stephen J. Hughes, 1211, was rolling her little girl's hair.

A cake had just been put in the oven by Mrs. Irby H. Davidson, 1212, and Mrs. Leslie H. Slaughter, 1300, was at that regular after-meal task, washing dishes.

Involved in an every morning duty, making beds, was Mrs. Ted O. Brown, 1302. A piano student was in the midst of a lesson given by Mrs. Byron B. Smith, when the phone rang at 1303.

Putting on some coffee for the second time was Mrs. Charles A. Stevenson, 1306. She puts up early and eats with her husband and then has a second morning snack with the children later.

The Dixon Biddisons were not at home at 1311.

"Trying to get ready to pick up my two children who spent the night at my mother's house, and also trying to get this third child dressed," exclaimed Mrs. L. Heath, 1312.

Mrs. John T. Anderson Jr., 1314, was making her little boy's bed, and Mrs. Darrel M. Sinn, 1318, was ironing.

Supervising her husband as he pushed a lawn mower was Mrs. Vernon E. Lewis, 1319.

Charles Frosts Are Guests Of Dempseys

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frost and Peggy of Dallas have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dempsey, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Frost.

The Frosts and Mrs. Dempsey visited with the latter's children, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cain, and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Dempsey in Andrews, and went to Carlsbad Caverns and El Paso during the weekend.

Mr. Frost, once a resident of Big Spring, is now owner of a drug store in Dallas.

Fall Sports Forecast Bermudas, Knee Socks

By JOYCE CANNAWAY

Whether the college girls — or boys — like it or not, the bermuda shorts and knee length socks are here to stay, for this school term, at least.

I know how the girls have said, that if they were going to wear shorts, they didn't want them flopping around their knees, for if they were going that far down with the material, they would wear tiorador pants or slacks. But like every other crazy fashion, sooner or later we accept it and surprisingly enough, like it.

The "college miss" this autumn will definitely need one pair of bermudas and knee socks, just for the sport of it. Many colleges that would not permit regular shorts on the campus have now advocated the wearing of the longer ones. Besides, all that shows is your knees. Wool, flannel and corduroy are a popular materials for the bermudas, although you can find them in all weights of cloth.

According to the latest fashion magazines, the good old thick white ankle is being replaced by more brilliant hues of stockings. Knee-lengths come in all solid colors in many knits, Argyles and stripes. No danger of being overlooked when you appear in a pair of these leg accessories.

The modern co-ed is stepping out of the traditional suede loafer, according to fashion reports, into low, slack jobs of soft leather that insure comfort, which is very important to the college girl who has to trudge miles each day from the dorm to each class. Of course, she still will probably want one pair of the good old loafers that she has been accustomed to all these years.

Leading colors in casual shoes for fall are mustard yellow, forest green, brilliant red, camel color, gray, butternut, rust and teak brown.

A novelty shoe is a bright colored leather tennis shoe with neolite soles dyed to match.

A new leather, called cobble calf, looks reminiscent of handrubbed English leather, patiently buffed to an everlasting shine. Shoes of this calfkin go perfectly with the heathery tweeds that are so good for 1936.

Many of the new sports shoes are inspired by Italian flats, with a new inner-sole construction that make it pliable enough to fold into the palm of your hand. The "spring heel," a walking height of three-fourths of an inch high, may be constructed as a wedge style or the traditional style.

No matter which type of shoes, which pair of bermuda shorts, a light or heavy sweater or skirt, loud or calm stockings, you know you will be in the vogue as a smartly dressed co-ed, and what's more, you will be at the height of comfort.

Consider The Busy Ant—A Good Vacation Project

Do you have children around the house needing something new to interest them?

During these long summer days with no school, youngsters need some continuing project that not only keeps them busy but gives them something to think about.

Every think of studying ants! Lend a hand and some interest yourself and you'll be amazed at how fascinating ants can be.

Ants are everywhere. Maybe you've thought that they were a bit too plentiful but put them to good use. You'll find the little red ones on city pavements and in the backyard. (I hope not in the bread box.) The big black ones like the woods and gardens and make their nests in trees and fence posts.

Just watching them in fun. Scatter a few crumbs and watch an ant pull and tug at a delectable morsel many times bigger than his own body.

You will find that a crumb will attract several ants and if you watch you soon realize that some of the new comers are helping the first ant pull the food toward home and the others are fighting to pull it a different way. There are friends and enemies among them!

As your children become interested in the complicated way of life of ants they will want to learn more about them. You can make an ant nest out of glass so you can watch what happens in the below-ground life of ants.

The equipment is quite simple. You need two pieces of window glass about a foot square. Glue one-quarter inch strips of wood around the edges of one piece of glass. Leave two small holes so that you can put in food and water.

Just below the water hole put a piece of sponge which can be kept wet by putting water through the hole with a medicine dropper.

Now find an ant nest. Dig up ants and dirt and spread over the glass. Quickly glue down the top piece of glass and seal the edges with adhesive tape, all except the water hole for food and water. These holes can be plugged up either with cotton or with corks so the ants cannot escape.

Ant nests in nature are dark, so keep a piece of cardboard over the nest when you are not watching the ants and don't expose the ant nest to the sun.

You will be amazed at what the ants do. They build tunnels through the dirt, have nurseries for their babies, storage space for food, special rooms for sleeping.

Be sure to keep the sponge moistened with water. For food, poke in bits of bread crumbs, tiny pieces of meat or fruit, a few drops of honey or any dead insects you can collect.

Watching the ants will likely inspire the youngsters to get books about ants at the library. Think what a wonderful subject for compositions the ant colony will be next year at school.

Building such an ant colony is far more than just occupation for the children. It provides the kind of family interest and learning experience that are so important for building a camaraderie between child and parent. This in turn does much to develop security and growth.

Wednesday Is Remnant Day — One Big Table At 1/2 Savings

Freed Flier Tells Of Aerial Battle

TOKYO (AP)—The pilot said today 11 airmen released by Red China last week narrowly escaped being "blown clear out of the sky" when three Communist MIGs attacked their B29 Jan. 12, 1953. It was the first time the pilot, Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi, story-teller, told the press his story of the tense 3 or 4 minute interval before the leaflet-dropping B29 was attacked until the crew bailed out into Red captivity in the Korean War.

The night attack was in North Korea, 40 miles south of the Yalu River boundary of Red China, the crew says. We were under attack before reaching the last of six leaflet targets," Vaadi related. "Between the last two targets they really locked on us with searchlights. Then two MIGs almost simultaneously came at us. The first from the left — so close I could almost see the pilot — the second from the right. The first apparently knocked out our No. 3 inside left engine, the second knocked off a few inches off the right wing tip. We tried to get out of the way of the MIGs. I still kept flying toward the sixth target. "I had my hands full flying the aircraft. "A third MIG passed high between the first two and let loose two rockets. Our scanner saw them coming. "Luckily, I was slightly in a turn, trying to get out of the line of fire. If I hadn't turned, they would have hit our midsection. "They would have blown us clear out of the sky. "But they went right by. By now our No. 2 and No. 4 outside right engines were knocked out and feathered. And No. 3 inside right was burning. "I tried extinguishing the fire, but by then, the aircraft was pretty well battered up, and pulling very much left. "The engines began falling off. "I gave the order to bail out. We had stuck around for what seemed quite some time, but actually within 3 or 4 minutes we were all out. "When attacked we were heading almost west. We turned toward the southwest, trying hard to make the coast. It was fortunate we didn't. "It is possible the aircraft blew up before it hit the ground."

Nancy Smith To Aquatics School

Nancy Smith, Big Spring, has been selected to attend the Red Cross Aquatics School in Austin Aug. 17-27. The Red Cross here selects a young person every year to attend the school to become qualified to help teach local life saving and water safety courses. The Red Cross water courses here were recently completed with 14 area young people taking part. Owen Puckett, 1207 Rummels, and Robert Angel, 706 Hillside were the instructors. Angel attended the Austin aquatic school last year. Members of the senior group, ages 16-18, were: Don Dawson, Stanton; Annette Boykin, 101 Jefferson; Kathy McRee, 108 Canyon; Jackie Johnson, 212 Dixie; B. E. The junior group, ages 12-15, had enrolled: Tony Starr, Forsan; Hubert Craig, Sterling City Route; Lewis Porter, Big Spring; Franklin Williamson, Big Spring; Terry Stanley, Big Spring; Doug Eastham, 1015 Nolan; and Tim Williamson, Big Spring.

Two Cases Filed In County Court

Two cases were filed in county court this morning. One charged Isaac Woodruff with driving while intoxicated. Woodruff was transferred to county authorities this morning. He was arrested Monday morning by city police. Jesse Selvestino was charged with transporting beer in a "wet" area without a "manifest." He pleaded not guilty to the charge and Judge R. H. Weaver set his bond at $500. Selvestino was arrested by police officers about 12:15 a.m. this morning in the 200 block of Main. Two other men were arrested with him but they were not charged in the county court. Fred Taylor, Liquor Control Board agent, signed the complaint which alleged that Selvestino did not have the proper papers for transporting large quantities of beer.

HUNDREDS FILE BY ACTRESS' BIER

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—The body of actress Susan Ball, clad in her wedding gown, was viewed by hundreds as it lay in state today. Some 2,000 were expected to file over her bier before the 2 p.m. funeral services for the 21-year-old actress who died last Friday of cancer.

Jet Loses Canopy North Of Stanton

A T33 jet from Webb Air Force Base lost its cockpit canopy about five miles north of Stanton this morning and Air Force officials were fearful some resident of the area would cause its 37-millimeter ejection charge to explode. A search team from Webb was dispatched to the area to attempt to locate the canopy. Any other person coming across the piece of equipment is cautioned not to tamper with it. The firing chamber which ejects the canopy in case of emergency was still loaded and extremely dangerous.

52 Attend Scout 10-In-1 Meeting

A "ten in one" Boy Scout meeting was held last night at HCJC, with district chairman Charlie Weeg presiding. A total of 52 scout leaders attended, including cubmasters, den mothers, committee members, scoutmasters, neighborhood commissioners and members of the district committee. The cub leaders meeting was presided over by Jack Alexander, and their theme was "Robin Hood," which will be the Cub program theme for next month. Garrett Patton headed up the program for the Boy Scout leaders and their program theme for next month is "Rally Round," based on the Fall Roundup. Sam McComb, Camping & Activities Committee chairman, urged all troop leaders not attending summer camp to take advantage of the Pioneer Camp at Davis Mts. Camp, scheduled Aug. 14-19. He announced that Leon Kayser would serve as scoutmaster for any Scouts who wish to go, but whose scoutmaster can not attend. Scouts wishing to go can call either McComb, or Bill McRee. The cost will be nominal as scouts will do their own cooking, under supervision of the scoutmaster and other camp staff members. Sam Mellinger, advancement chairman, announced that the new merit badge counselor list is now complete and that all boys wishing to pass merit badges will now be counselor service. Lists will be furnished to all scoutmasters and explorer advisors.

Officers from the city force visit the academy at Webb every other Tuesday to speak to classes, bettering city-base relationships and making the airmen more safety conscious.

Martin-Lewis Split Healed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Martin and Lewis say they're going to keep on being Martin and Lewis. After weeks of feuding, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis met yesterday in the office of Paramount boss V. Frank Freeman. Afterward the studio said that the pair agreed to continue on as America's highest paid comedy team. There had been talk of a splitup.

Jessie Dennis Rites To Be Held Wednesday

Funeral will be conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Baker's Chapel Methodist Church for Jessi Dennis, 49, who died of a heart attack Monday. The Rev. J. W. Birt, Baker's Chapel pastor, will officiate and interment will be in the City Cemetery under direction of River Funeral Home. Mr. Dennis moved here about four years ago from Athens. He is survived by his wife and several brothers and sisters.

Clothing Found Along Highway 87

Several items of clothing were found strewn along Highway 87 south of the Forsan cut-off last night. J. W. Tatum, San Angelo, found the clothing as he drove from San Angelo to Big Spring. He turned the articles in at the sheriff's office here. Scattered along a two-mile stretch of the highway were four pairs of trousers, four shirts and other items.

To Dallas Meeting

Lige Fox, senior sanitarian at the Howard County Health Unit, is to attend a meeting Wednesday in Dallas of the Sanitarians of Texas. It is a committee meeting, Fox said, to finish framing a constitution and by-laws which will be submitted for approval to the organization later this year.

Commission Meets

A meeting of the Big Spring City Commission is slated for 5:15 p.m. this afternoon. Routine business matters are listed on the discussion agenda, said City Manager H. W. Whitney.

'Hot' Oil Recovery Method Under Test

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9 (AP)—An experiment with a new method of recovering heavy crude oil in California has shifted to a commercial oil field after being conducted in a laboratory the past eight years. The test will be the first attempt to extract heavy oils from a commercial field by a thermal recovery process. This method was developed in Texas by Magnolia Petroleum Co., as a joint research effort of Socony Mobile Oil Co. and its affiliates, Magnolia and General Petroleum. General Petroleum has just started the experiment in the South Belridge field, northwest of Bakersfield. The project is expected to take 2 1/2 to 3 years and to cost about a million dollars. The purpose, GP says, is to see if thermal recovery, also known as in situ (in-place) combustion, is feasible from both engineering and economic angles as a secondary way to recover low gravity crude which has resisted gas or water injection, or other means. In lab tests of thermal recovery, Magnolia engineers found that the heat generated by burning a small amount of heavy residual oil underground in a reservoir lowers the viscosity of the remaining oil so that the latter can be recovered when pushed toward producing wells by air or gas. During a pilot test in a southern Oklahoma oil field in 1952, combustion of a small portion of the oil resulted in recovery of a substantial quantity of the original oil, GP said. What actually is done, the company explained, is this: The heavy oil is ignited electrically after the oil sands have been permeated by air, pumped into the zone through an injection well. The combustion rate is regulated by the amount of air injected. No usable oil is expended in the thermal recovery process. That oil is pushed ahead of the burning front after their viscosities have been changed, with only the residual oil actually burning. The GP experiment is being carried on in the upper portion of the Tulare oil zone and at a depth of about 700 feet, producing 13 degree gravity crude. This zone is similar to other California producing zones which contain large amounts of heavier crude oils at the end of primary production. The field test will use a 5-well pattern, with four production wells centered on one injection well. The Office scandal. Four allege Hofheinz gave department heads instructions designed to pressure the councilmen into accepting his unsuccessful attempt to raise city taxes by 20 per cent. One charge alleges he refused to take action against city employees, residing outside the city limits, were found to have voted illegally in Houston precincts. The eighth charge alleges he failed to take action on reports of unauthorized use of city-owned automobiles. Binion branded today's proceedings as "an illegally constituted gathering."

Stowaway Gets Week In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Although a 16-year-old Hawaiian girl stowaway is going to be sent back home, she'll have at least a week in California. Joyceelyn Joan Pilapil is charged with delinquency by "secretly herself and remaining aboard" the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan. The U.S. commissioner ordered her held in juvenile hall under $500 bail, pending a full hearing next Monday. The U.S. attorney and the probation service said they will recommend that she be returned to her parents in Hilo.

Hillevi Romblin of Sweden, named Miss Universe in the annual contest at Long Beach, Calif., last month, gets her makeup applied by Nich Marcellino as she prepared for her film debut in Hollywood in "The Benny Goodman Story." She won a film contract because of her victory in the international beauty contest.

Locations Staked In Mitchell; Wildcats Spotted In 5 Counties

Six locations were staked in Mitchell County today, and wildcats were spotted in Tom Green, Scurry, Schleicher, Nolan and Sutton counties. Kerr-McGee, Inc., finalized its No. 1 Docia Bowman in the Welch field of Dawson County for a 24-hour pumping potential of 51.97 barrels of oil. Five of the Mitchell locations are in the Westbrook field. Anderson and Prichard staked its Nos. 5-B, 6-B, and 7-B Morrison and No. 2-A Bird in the field. Paul DeCleva spotted his No. 5-D Strain. The other Mitchell try is in the Coleman Ranch area. It is Blue Danube No. 2 Solomon. Dawson Kerr-McGee No. 1 Docia Bowman made the pumping potential of 51.97 barrels of oil through perforations between 4,848 and 4,943 feet. Recovery included 55 per cent water. Gravity measured 34 degrees, and the gas-oil ratio was 371-1. Total depth is 4,945 feet, the 5 1/2-inch goes to 4,944, and pay top is 4,848. Operator used 28,000 gallons of acid. Location of this Welch field producer is 467 from south and 467 from west lines, 16-C30-pd survey. Shell No. 1 Clay, wildcat five miles west of Patricia, got down to 9,984 feet in lime and shale. Site is 705 from north and 895 from west lines, labor 4, league 267, Moore CSL. Amerasia No. 1 F. J. Beaver, C NW NE, 18-33-4N, T&P survey, reached 5,145 feet in lime and shale. This wildcat is eight miles north of Ackerly. Cities Service No. 1 Hendon, C SW NE, 72-M-EL&RR survey, has bit turning at 8,250 feet in lime, shale and sand. A drillstem test was taken between 7,734 and 7,765 feet with the tool open three hours and 10 minutes. There was a fair blow throughout. Recovery was 751 feet of drilling fluid. Site of this wildcat is five miles southwest of Welch.

Water Usage Is Climbing Again

The amount of water being used in Big Spring is increasing daily, records at the City Hall show. During the last 24-hour period, ending at 8 a.m. today, the consumption totaled 5,987,000 gallons. This is more than a million gallons higher than the 4,881,000 gallons tabulated Sunday. Sunday's use in turn was higher than the 4,473,000 gallons distributed Saturday. Only 3,815,000 gallons were used last Friday. Officials expect the daily distribution figure to again reach above seven million gallons if the hot days of August continue without rain. In early July daily use soared quite high, the record of eight million gallons being set on July 12. Big Spring's filtration plant has rated capacity of only 5 1/2 million gallons, which is less than the amount used in the last 24-hours. When consumption goes above 5 1/2 million gallons water has to be piped in from city wells south of town. A bond issue proposal is being asked in today's election which would provide funds for a new sedimentation basin at the filter plant to increase the rated capacity to 14 1/2 million gallons.

Dawson Agriculture, Stock Tour Planned

LAMESA — A tour of Dawson County farms and ranches will be planned Wednesday morning at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee. Chairman Tim O. Cook set the breakfast meeting for 7 a.m. The agriculture and livestock tour probably will be conducted about Aug. 25.

Air Crash Is Fatal To Crop Duster Pilot

KNOX CITY (AP)—A crop duster pilot from Dallas, Carl E. Clymer, 30, was killed today when his plane failed to clear a power line on the Elmo Stephens farm two miles southeast of O'Brien, in Haskell County.

To Encampment

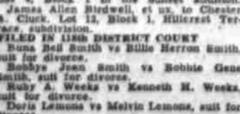

LAMESA—Sixteen Dawson 4-H Clubbers and their leaders, County Agent Leroy Colgan and Assistant Byron Pierce, left today for Lubbock and a three-day district encampment. They will return to Lamesa Friday after the close of the outing, district contests and other activities.

Pickup Is Stolen, Firm Burglarized

G. W. Carter's pickup truck was stolen here Monday, police said. Carter, who lives at 606 Holbert, told officers the vehicle was parked in the 200 block of Johnson. It was taken in a 1950 green Chevrolet pickup and had a box of tools in back. Officers said the McKinley Grain Company, on West First Street, was burglarized last night. Quite a bit of change, including a number of pennies, was taken. Entry was made to the building through the back door.

STORM

pressure system now squarely in its path to the north," said Dunn. "There will be probably no further slowing of its forward movement. "Forecasters are fully on the alert and the public will be quickly advised of any changes which could mean either a lessening of the danger, or an increase in the storm's threat. Connie has traveled a greater distance but now is following the approximate path of three hurricanes which took heavy tolls of life and property in Northeastern States last year. Last year's hurricane Carol formed Aug. 26 about 300 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Aug. 31 smashed across Long Island and New England with catastrophic effect. Sixty-eight persons died, and property damage was estimated at 465 million dollars. This year's Connie is about in the spot where Carol began the northward sweep. Hurricane Edna formed Sept. 8 about 60 miles northeast of Turks Island, an area passed by Connie Sunday night. Edna struck Cape Cod Sept. 11, then moved over eastern Maine, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Twelve died and damage reached 50 million dollars. Hazel, top killer of last year's hurricanes, formed Oct. 5 in the Caribbean Sea near the Windward Islands chain, cut across the western tip of Haiti and, reaching Connie's present path, raged inland over the North and South Carolina coasts Oct. 15, swept most Eastern states north of there and rampaged into Canada. The death toll was 145 with 78 of them in Canada. Property losses, never fully tallied, exceeded 246 million dollars. Connie is a big, fully-developed hurricane. A Navy flier who piloted a plane into Connie's "eye" called it "the biggest storm I've ever seen." Lt. R. T. Pittman, Covington, Ga., said the eye was 28 miles across,

Crucial Series Open In Two AL Stadiums

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Call 'em critical, crucial or just plain crazy, man, but a pair of three-game series that opens tonight could be the beginning of the end for New York, Boston, Cleveland or Detroit in the frenzied American League pennant race.

While first-place Chicago tries to get the suddenly not-so-list-less Kansas City Athletics back in perspective, Boston rumbles into New York and Cleveland stops off at Detroit.

The Yankees are just three percentage points behind the White Sox. Third place Cleveland is a half-game back. Fourth place Boston is 1 1/2 behind Detroit, in fifth, is 5 1/2 short.

Thus far, it's been a strange case of contented contenders, with nobody raising much of a fuss about running off with the lead. Now the situation rules out such foolishness. The schedule puts on the squeeze and something's got to give.

Real Gone Guys

Bobby Richardson, rookie second baseman for the New York Yankees, hurdles sliding Al Kaline, Detroit Tigers' rightfielder, and gets off a double play throw to first base in the first inning of their twin bill opener at Yankee Stadium in New York. Friday stepping umpire Larry Napp called the out. This play started when the Tigers' Jack Phillips grounded to third baseman Gil McDougald. Richardson took Gil's throw for the force out and relayed to first to double up Phillips. The Tigers won the opener, 4-2, with the Yankees taking the nightcap, 3-2. (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

FRANK LEAHY, former Notre Dame football coach: "I figure to sell Pete Simone in a packet deal with three other players after this season is over. Do I think I'll return to Roswell next season? I doubt it. Business will really have to pick up for me to do any good now. I started to join Shreveport recently but came up with a back injury and had to pass up the chance."

BILL TERRY, former big league first baseman, delivering his prescription for the varied ailments of organized baseball: "Go back to the days of Mister (K. M.) Landis when a major league club could have only 40 players under contract. That would re-supply the elusive quality that so many people say the game has lost in the big leagues and minor leagues alike. . . . Plenty of those major league clubs, one or two in particular, have 24-hour recall on from 300 to 400 players."

CHARLIE GOZA, Ahtlene Blue Sox catcher, on the experience of catching the ex-Big Spring hurler, Art DeCesari: "He threw the best curve ball I've seen all season."

BILL HOLMES, Texas Tech football publicist: "Texas Tech's probable starting lineup for 1955 is strictly a product of West Texas. Center Dwayne West of Fort Worth comes from the farthest point."

PAUL RICHARDS, Baltimore manager, on Bob Nelson, the bonus rookie from Dallas: "One time I saw him hit a home run in high school and it looked like the center field fence was coming in on rollers."

DON DALLESSANDRO, former major league outfielder, when told by Umpire George Magerkurth that if he didn't shut up, he (Magerkurth) would bite his head off and swallow it: "If you did, you big ox, you'd have more brains in your stomach than you've got in that thick skull!"

TOMMY BYRNE, New York Yankee hurler, known as baseball's "wild man" when he was hurling for the Yanks a few years ago: "It's a good idea to walk a few men. Otherwise, people would wonder if that was really Byrne pitching out there."

DONALD CAMPBELL, whose jet speedboat recently set a record, when asked how it felt to drive a boat on water at 200 miles an hour: "It's like driving a motor car on ice with tremendous power under one's right foot."

BUD WILKINSON, University of Oklahoma football coach: "Without the kids from Texas, we wouldn't have had the teams we've had."

CHARLEY POWELL, San Francisco 49er gragger, who turned pro boxer not long ago: "It's hard to say whether I'm through with boxing or not. Archie Moore told me I shouldn't give up and that I still have a future. So does my manager. So maybe I'll know what I'm going to do after this season. There's doubt at the top of the fight game and I'm not so sure I won't get there yet."

Lindsey Seeking Sept. 30 Game For Garden City Six

GARDEN CITY, (SC) — Still needing a game to complete his team's schedule, Targe Lindsey, football coach at Garden City High School, was to leave today for Beaumont, where he planned to attend the annual Texas Six-Man Coaches' Association school, which starts Wednesday.

Lindsey's family was to accompany him to Beaumont. Targe planned to drive about half way today and complete the journey Wednesday, in time for registration.

The Bearcats still need a game for Sept. 30 and will play it either at home or on the road.

Lindsey said the team could play on Oct. 7 but he would prefer the former date, if possible.

Garden City plays six-man football.

The Bearcats will begin their fall workouts on Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Red-Hot Bosox Head For New Yorkers' Lair

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Breathing fire and oozing confidence, the torrid Boston Red Sox storm into the Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener of a three-game series with the reeling New York Yankees.

In the past two months, the Sox have won 43 of their last 59 games for a fantastic .729 mark and have fought their way to within a game and a half of first place in the American League.

The Yankees, on the other hand, have won just 12 of their last 34 games for .353 mark.

"Right now our chances are as good as anyone's," chirped rookie Manager Pinky Higgins. "What we do will depend a great deal on our 12 remaining games with the Yanks. But the games mean a lot to the Yanks too."

Higgins indicated he would start Willard Nixon against Whitey Ford in the first game. Nixon is a natural, having beaten the Yanks in three of four tries.

Yanks Manager Casey Stengel will pitch Don Larsen tomorrow and Bob Turley Thursday. Higgins has not decided who will oppose them.

Stengel has nothing but worries. He's concerned over the club offense and went so far as to admit that this is the poorest club, so far as consistent hitting is concerned, that he's had since he took over in 1949.

"Ever since they beat us in that July 4 double-header, those Red Sox have been hot," observed Stengel gloomily. "They're getting pitching, hitting and fielding. Well, maybe we can cool them off in the same place."

Cubs And Cabot Register Wins

The Cubs humbled the Flicks, 8-5, and Cabot Carbon turned back the Eagles, 11-6, in American Little League play here last night.

Robert Carr clubbed a home run, triple and single for the Cubs in their win over the Flicks.

Cabot scored five runs in the sixth, largely with the help of walks, to humble the Eagles in the other go.

Jerry Bowerman had three hits, including a homer, in the losing effort. Derry Dunlap had a round-tripper for the winners.

Howard Clubs Three Homers As Artesia Decisions Cops

ARTESIA, N. M., (SC) — Dan Howard feasted on Big Spring hurling as Artesia raced to a 10-4 victory over the Cosden Cops here Monday night.

Howard clubbed two home runs and accounted for four RBI's and Tom Buford set the Cops down with six scattered hits.

Marcus Joy, the losing hurler, and Huck Doe each had a brace of hits for the visitors.

Howard drove out his round-tripper in the sixth and eighth innings.

Palmer Upsets Neely In Meet

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Finals in all divisions are scheduled today in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament with the spotlight on Paul Palmer Jr. of Phoenix, Ariz.

This youngster has been the up-setter of the tournament and yesterday he took out Ned Neely of Atlanta, the top-seeded player in the boys division, 6-2, 7-5.

Palmer, 17, defeated Neely, 6-2, 7-5, in the boys division final at Tam Sunday.

Walker Will Get 'Day' Aug. 19

DALLAS (AP)—Doak Walker will have his day and it will be when he plays his last game in Dallas' Cotton Bowl.

The Southern Methodist great, now ending his career with the Detroit Lions of professional football, will be seen for the last time in motochkins here Aug. 19 when he plays the Philadelphia Eagles in the Cotton Bowl.

Mayor R. L. Thornton will proclaim it Doak Walker Day in Dallas, and at halftime Doak's friends will present him with gifts. His teammates at Southern Methodist, where he was three times All-American, and his coaches from junior high school up to pro football, will be present.

Harlan Ray, Southern Methodist ex-student, is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Ray said he expected more than 50,000 to turn out to see Walker play his final game here.

"We are going to tell him how fortunate we are to have him as one of our citizens," Ray said.

Walker is expected to come to Dallas Aug. 18 and will be greeted by Thornton and other city dignitaries at the airport. The mayor will give him the keys to the city.

Padres Again Fall Back After Nearing Top Spot

By The Associated Press

So near and yet so far is what San Antonio's Missions are muttering under their breaths these dog days of the Texas League race.

Twice within 11 days they have pushed within a half-game of leading Dallas only to be thwarted in the blue chips games.

Monday night they had a golden opportunity to pull into a tie with the faltering Eagles but Tulsa's Ollers licked them 9-3 in the second of a double-header and it put Dallas back in the lead by a game.

The Eagles were snapping a 3-game losing streak by nailing last-place Beaumont 1-0.

Charley Fowler was the man who did the job. The Eagle hurler not only limited Beaumont to four hits but his triple in the sixth led to the lone run of the game. Alex Cosmidis lofted a sacrifice fly for the Dallas victory.

QUARTERBACK CLUB MEETS FIRST TIME IN CAFETERIA THURSDAY

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will stage its first meeting of the year in the High School Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, at which time plans for the upcoming football season will be undertaken.

Officers for the booster group will also be named. Serving as co-chairmen of the club now are R. H. Weaver and Jack V. Smith while Charley Staggs is the secretary.

Staggs will give a financial statement of the organization. A new membership drive will be undertaken sometime this month.

The first football game is less than a month away (Sept. 8) and the club hopes to be fully organized and meeting regularly by that time.

Membership fee generally runs from $1 to whatever the subscriber wants to pay. The income is used almost exclusively to boost athletic teams of the local schools.

Indications are a pre-season barbecue will again be staged for the high school griders, although nothing definite has been worked out.

The barbecue has proved a huge success in years past.

5-2 AND 15-14 Elks Are Beaten Twice By Cats

The Cats sprang two upsets in Senior Teen-Age baseball league play here Monday night, defeating the Elks in both ends of a double header, 5-2 and 15-14.

Charles Johnson hurried the victory in the opening game and supplied some of the batting power his club needed to finish in front. He struck a home run in the fifth with one on. Leon Clark also clubbed a round-tripper for the Tabbies with none on in the fourth.

For the Elks, Ronnie Wooten and Robert Byrd hit four-masters but each came with the sacks deserted.

Outside of those boundary swats, no one else hit Johnson safely.

In the second game, the Cats survived two five-run enemy innings and won the engagement in the last inning when Johnson raced across the plate on a fielder's choice. Charley had walked and stolen second and third.

Froman clubbed a bases-loaded home run for the Elks in the third.

It was a bitter one for Jim Atkins of Beaumont to lose. He gave up only three hits.

Tulsa and San Antonio divided their double bill by identical scores. San Antonio took the opener 9-3, using big homers to get the job done. Willie Tasby parked the ball with two mates on base and Jim Pisoni hit a homer with one on.

In the nightcap, Tulsa struck back for six runs in the fourth inning when the Mission defense fell apart for four errors. While Tulsa got only five hits to 12 for San Antonio, Dolan Nichols won his 16th pitching victory of the season.

Shreveport's Sports surged into third place with a 3-0 triumph over Fort Worth while Houston fell down to fourth by taking a 3-0 trimming from Oklahoma City.

John Andre permitted Fort Worth only six hits in hurling his shutout. The Sports got two runs in the first inning and that was that. Both were at the expense of Bob Milliken. The Sports pounded 10 hits.

Al Papp was in his glory as he showed Oklahoma City to its victory over Houston. The veteran knuckleballer gave up only four hits and faced just 20 batters.

It was Papp's 19th victory of the campaign.

It was Hurray Night. Dallas got its game with Beaumont over in just an hour and 20 minutes while Houston and Oklahoma City required only 1:35.

Whites Are Ready To Face Negroes

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boys baseball team from Pensacola is scheduled to make its debut in the Florida Little League tournament late this afternoon and the three white teams apparently are ready to play against it.

The city stepped aside and left the decision to Little League officials.

Orlando boys voted to go ahead with the game although one of the Orlando managers resigned.

Miami, which meets St. Petersburg in the other semifinal today, is ready to play the Negro team if they meet in the final game tomorrow. Comanager Joe Clemente said.

St. Petersburg Manager Harry Repaid told a newsmen his team would refuse to take the field but he later denied he said it and the team sponsors at St. Petersburg said, "The team will take on any future opponent, whether it be Negro or white."

The city of Orlando stepped out of the controversy after Asst. City Atty. Donald P. Senterist said there was no state law nor city ordinance against a Negro team meeting a white team.

Shandor Records 20th Hill Win

The West Texas-New Mexico League Monday night crowned its first 20-game winner of the season—but other than that it was all pretty much routine.

Ted Shandor of Albuquerque picked up his 20th victory of the season with an 8-3 decision over Abilene. That left the Ducks still one game ahead of Amarillo and two ahead of revived Pampa, as both those clubs notched victories.

Pampa got Clovis 10-5 and Amarillo pounded Lubbock 15-2. In the other game, El Paso stopped Lubbock 5-2.

The clubs all wind up two-game series in the same locations Tuesday night.

St. Louis Cards Facing Worst Finish Since 1919

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, staggering along with an undependable bullpen and little batting punch, have just 48 games left to prevent what could be the club's worst National League finish since 1919.

Branch Rickey, as field manager that year, brought his club in seventh. Four Cardinal clubs have finished sixth since the World War I days, including Eddie Stanky's 1954 model, but none has hit the No. 7 spot.

The Cardinals and Harry (The Hat) Walker now stand with a 48-60 mark, 28 games off the pace and 3 1/2 games behind sixth-place Cincinnati. And they're lost 10 of the last 13 games.

St. Louis, since including the 1919 finish, has been in the league's second division only nine times against 27 first-division berths.

Walker, who took over from the ousted Stanky during the current season, said today:

"Relief pitching has been the big problem. And it doesn't make any difference who's in there."

Williams May Get To Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Davey Williams, one of the sparkplugs in the New York Giants' 1951 and 1954 pennant drives, may not be through with baseball after all.

The 24-year-old second baseman learned yesterday that there was no evidence of a slipped disc in his vertebrae—an injury which probably would have ended his five-year major league career to an end.

Continually bothered by a checkup back, Williams had a checkup at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., recently and was advised he was suffering from spinal arthritis and a possible slipped disc. But the club announced yesterday that new tests showed no slipped disc.

Akins To Seek Martinez Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban Issac Logart's manager screamed during the fight with Vince Martinez after last night's bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

Logart, loser of a split decision in 10 rounds said his manager, Eddie Mauff, would protest the decision to the New York State Athletic Commission.

"I asked the commission to see the scorecards and he won't show them to me," yelled the Cuban's manager. "I will make protest."

The crowd of 1,300 paying $2,026 booed the verdict for Akins by Judge Joe Agnello (6-4) and Frank Forbes (5-4-1). Referee Ray Miller scored it for Logart 5-4-1. The AP had it dead even 4-4-2.

Promoter Tex Sullivan of the London Sporting Club said he would guarantee a $100,000 sale for Akins to box Martinez of Paterson, N.J., at the old Newark, N.J., ballpark, September 26 or October 3.

U. S. Scientists See Atom Competing With Coal Power

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

GENEVA (AP)—An American scientist told the atom-for-peace conference today "there is a good possibility" atomic power will be competing with electricity from coal in the United States within the next 15 or 20 years.

The prediction was made to the 72-nation scientific congress by Dr. James A. Lane of the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge, Tenn., national laboratory.

"Taking all available economic and technical information at its face value," Lane declared, "it is evident that the outlook for large-scale nuclear power in the United States is very promising."

Reporting at the same conference session, two Russian scientists indicated such an atomic plant as the 5,000-kilowatt station the Soviet Union now is operating can best be utilized in areas remote from coal supplies or where only low grade coal is available.

Giving the first detailed account of the Russian nuclear plant, D. I. Blokhinstev and N. A. Nikolayev conceded that the electricity it is turning out costs "considerably" more than the output of large coal-burning Soviet stations. But they added:

"An atomic power station now is already more profitable than a coal station in regions situated far from coal mines or than coal stations operating on low quality fuel."

Lane told the conference a review of published estimates of the capital cost of nuclear-electric plants, combined with projected operating costs, had led him to conclude "there is a good possibility that nuclear power costs in the range of four to seven mills per kilowatt hour will be realized within the next 15 or 20 years."

"At these power costs," he said, "nuclear plants will compete for an appreciable fraction of all new plants built by 1957, the total construction costs of which may amount to between 4 billion and 30 billion dollars."

The present U. S. reactor development program now being carried out in the laboratories of the Atomic Energy Commission and by various industrial concerns throughout the country is aimed at such an objective.

He said the AEC is now building or contemplating five different types of prototype or pilot-plant reactors.

"The building of these prototype power plants will not only provide information leading to reduced costs, but will also permit a more realistic evaluation of the applicability of nuclear energy for larger scale power production," he said.

Present indications, he said, are that the new fuel costs in all the reactors being considered — after taking credit for new fissionable fuel material produced at the same time power is produced — will be low enough to make nuclear powered electricity competitive with coal-produced electricity.

Noting that five American industrial groups are planning a "more venturesome" program than the AEC — that is, by building five full-scale reactors — Lane declared that among experts estimating the economic prospects for such plants "the optimists outweigh the pessimists."

Lane's over-all conclusion for his report was that, "taking all available economic and technical information at its face value, it is evident the outlook for large-scale nuclear power in the United States is very promising."

The Russian scientists, besides saying that their small-sized commercial reactor provides a starting point for nuclear power development in the Soviet, said Russia's operating experience with it "may be of help also to other countries interested in the wide use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes."

Three U. S. scientists also held out promise for remote areas with a paper disclosing development of a new "boiling water" atomic process. They described it as "an important step toward the economical production of nuclear power."

The American experts, from the Argonne Laboratories at Lemont, Ill., said their process involved generation of the steam for the turbines inside the reactor rather than in an external boiler. The boiling inside the reactor previously had been considered unsafe, but the report said this had been disproved.

A 5,000-kilowatt plant using the new principle is due to be in operation at the Argonne Laboratories by the latter part of 1956.

The American report said adoption of the boiling water principle will simplify construction and operation of small atomic power plants and will cut the cost of construction and operation.

Small plants using this process, the U. S. report added, are "suitable for use in remote areas or in conjunction with mining or manufacturing operations."

The two Russian scientists said the 5,000-kilowatt nuclear plant the Soviets are operating provides "a real basis for nuclear power development in our country."

They reported that Soviet scientists are designing a 100,000-kilowatt plant to use two reactors of the same type as in the first station, as well as "various types of atomic power stations with a capacity of 5,000 to 100,000 kilowatts and more."

Blokhinstev and Nikolayev gave this economic picture of the first Soviet atomic plant:

"The cost of one kilowatt hour of electric energy produced by the first atomic power station exceeds considerably the average cost of one kilowatt hour in powerful heat (large coal burning) power stations in the U. S. S. R."

"In 1953 the cost of electricity in thermal power stations of the Ministry of Electric Power Stations was 10 kopecks per kilowatt hour."

"However, a kilowatt hour of atomic station power is comparable in cost with that of a similar type low power thermal power station (of up to 5,000 kilowatts of power output)."

(At the official Russian quotation, 10 kopecks equals 2½ cents. The price of round-the-clock power in the United States averages between two-fifths and seven-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour. However, the absence of any free rate of exchange in the Soviet Union, plus the fact that power production is entirely controlled and financed by the government in Russia, makes any accurate power price comparison virtually impossible.)

The Soviet scientists said the steep cost of their atomic power was due to "the small size of the station, to the big outlay in piece manufacture of fuel elements, to the great consumption of uranium 235 because of the small size of the atomic reactor and also to a number of peculiarities in the design of a station aimed at creating greater reliability of operation."

"Experience shows these peculiarities may be dispensed with," the report added.

Explosion Rocks Experimental Plane

EDWARDS, Calif., (AP)—An explosion rocked the world's fastest rocket plane seconds before a

10 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., Aug. 9, 1955

mother ship was to release it high above the Mojave Desert. Research pilot Joseph A. Walker, 34, scrambled up into the mother plane, a B29, and the rocket plane—the stub-winged Bell X1A—was dropped, pilotless, onto a bombing range from 30,000 feet. An Air Force spokesman said that the B29 was unable to land with the damaged rocket plane hanging from its belly for fear the rocket, still carrying highly volatile fuel, might explode again.

H-Bomb Survival Needs Know-How

Editor's Note - It's 10 years since the first atomic bomb...

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE AP Science Reporter NEW YORK (AP)—Some simple lessons for surviving H-bombs are becoming clear.

U.S. Approves Atomic Power Reactor Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today approved two privately drafted atomic reactor projects...

The projects were proposed by Detroit Edison Co. & Associates, and what is known as the Nuclear Power Group...

Dr. John von Neumann, acting chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said the planned undertakings provide "an acceptable basis for negotiation under the power demonstration reactor program."

AEC's announcement came on opening day of the United Nations atomic conference in Geneva, where Russian delegates showed movies of the reactor in a Soviet atomic power station.

Detroit Edison & Associates propose to build and operate a fast breeder reactor plant with 100,000-kilowatt capacity.

Ford To Aid Development Of Peaceful Atomic Uses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. Fund announced today it is setting up a million-dollar pool to reward scientists who develop peaceful uses of atomic energy.

USDA Predicts Slightly Lower Crop Of Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture today predicted Texas' 1955 cotton crop will total 3,900,000 bales, only slightly below 1954's production.

The department, in its first prediction on the 1955 crop, estimated the nation's total production under controls this year will be 12,728,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This year's crop is being grown under rigid Agriculture Department plantings and marketing quotas which limit acreages to the smallest level permitted under farm law.

Television Helps Capture Suspect

NEW YORK (AP)—A television panel on the CBS show What's My Line? managed Sunday night to guess that the slim dark-haired young man's occupation was that of an elephant handler.

Nine hundred miles away in Royal Oak, Mich., two viewers thought they also recognized him as something else and they called the FBI in Detroit.

Double Jolt

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Frank Blandowski, 67, got more than one jolt when he collided headon with another car last night.

Hammond Organ 'Spells Out' Tones

Tones literally can be "spelled" on the Hammond organ, asserts Mrs. Champ Rainwater, local representative of the Shield Company, Hammond dealers.

"Musical tones are made up of harmonics, just as words are made up of letters," she explains. "The Hammond organ's drawbars provide the player with control over the harmonic ingredients just like the typewriter's keys provide the typist with control over the letters."

With the simplified method of drawbar registration on the Hammond, organists can learn to spell using harmonics instead of letters, she states.

The Shield Company, with main offices in Fort Worth, has been dealer for the easy-to-play Hammond organ for more than 19 years. Mrs. Rainwater is one of the eight staff organists with the firm.

Mrs. Rainwater's studio and sales office is located at 1708 Main Street, and it is there that she demonstrates the Hammond products and provides instruction for her pupils.

The Hammond organ is known as "music's most glorious voice," and it is noted for its versatility of operation. Though a fairly expensive instrument, it is coming within the financial range of more and more West Texas homes.

Reason for this is that the Shield Company has convenient time-payment plans. Mrs. Rainwater indicates that the firm's ultimate aim is to make it possible for every church and home in this area to enjoy the famous instruments.

Tones are produced on the Hammond organ electrically, making it possible for the musician to create an unlimited variety of registrations, including the conventional organ voices and orchestral qualities not available on any other organ, she points out.

During the time the Shield Company has represented Hammond, hundreds of the popular organs have been installed in homes and churches throughout Central and West Texas. The firm maintains a complete installation and service organization to assure that every organ is properly installed for a lifetime of enjoyment.

The latest two developments on the Hammond organ are the new Selective Vibrato and the Touch Response. The vibrato is standard equipment on all new instruments.

Hammond organs occupy less space than grand pianos and offer a variety of console and tone cabinet designs. Varieties can be viewed at Mrs. Rainwater's studio.

Get Ready For Winter Heating Now

The cold weather is still months ahead but, if you reside in a place where natural gas is not available or you prefer a cheaper, safer kind of fuel, the thing to do is have installed a butane gas system.

Butane systems for homes come in all sizes and are designed to last for extended periods of time. When their supply of fuel is exhausted, orders can be placed for new supplies.

The local agent for butane and propane gas is the S. M. Smith Company, which maintains its business on the Lamesa Highway, just inside the city limits.

Butane gas plants have proved especially popular in rural areas where, as a result of butane gas and rural electrification dwelling can boast as many modern conveniences as any urban home has.

Butane not only serves its purpose as a source of heat but proves a servant in many other ways, from supplying fuel for tractors to providing incubator heat for newborn chicks.

The Smith concern is prepared to install any prescribed butane system on farm implements and is in a position to demonstrate machines which have been converted to that fuel use.

Such systems not only prove more economical but are safer and easier on motors than conventional automotive fuel. Butane insures longer life of motors, too.

Terms of installation of such fuel systems are very reasonable. Individuals planning to make the change should consult Sherman Smith, manager and proprietor of the concern bearing his name.

Wife Acquitted In Officer's Slaying

CAMP SENDAL, Japan, (AP)—Mrs. Romola Abidin, Bayside, N. Y., was acquitted yesterday by a U.S. Army court-martial of the Cherry Blossom Lane slaying of her warrant officer husband.

She testified that her husband ran toward the bedroom where one of the boys was sleeping, screaming, "I'm going to kill the kids."

Phillips Stocks U. S. Royals, Does Recapping

The finest tires produced by the United States Rubber Company, from the ordinary black casing to the revolutionary nylon tubeless tire—the U. S. Royal Master—are stocked locally by the Phillips Tire Company, located at Fourth and Johnson Street in Big Spring.

The Phillips concern has, for a number of years, been outfitting Big Spring's motoring public with new tires and is now in a position to offer coloramic rite styling.

The Royal Master comes in Damascus Blonze, Crown Blue and Valley Green—designed to match the colors of most any car on the market.

For those who prefer the white-side-wall casing, Phillips of course, can equip automobiles with those. In addition to stocking new tires, Phillips Tire Company has the world's finest machinery for recapping tires and thus guaranteeing them added thousands of miles of life, at no risk of safety.

The public have an open invitation to watch the Phillips Tire Company's machinery recap tires. It is sure to interest all who care to watch.

Phillips Tire Company is also the headquarters for expert automobile seat-covering work. Phillips keeps in stock a number of different samples of seat covers and car owners can usually find just what they seek to blend their colors.

All seat-covers are tailor-made. They fit perfectly and, of course, are guaranteed.

Manager of the Phillips Tire Company is Truett Thomas, longtime Big Spring and Howard County resident.

Refrigerator Bargains Given By Local Firm

If your old refrigerator isn't giving the service it should during these hot months or even if you need a larger modern type, you can't get a better deal than at Wasson and Trantham Furniture, 211 W. 4th.

They are needing some good used refrigerators so Wasson and Trantham are giving out amazing trade-in values for your old box. The big 12-foot double door refrigerator by Westinghouse was $569.90, now it's only $399.95 and your old box. The 10-foot Westinghouse models were $469.90 and are now $349.95 and your old refrigerator.

Westinghouse is a famous name in refrigeration and they feature several exclusive ice box designs. Several models of the Westinghouse lines to be found at Wasson and Trantham feature the twin juice mixer. This mixer holds two six-ounce cans of concentrated juice and automatically mixes in the correct amount of water to make a delicious drink with a minimum of effort.

These refrigerators also feature automatic defrosting, cheese and butter keepers, egg trays, door shelves, and roll out shelves. The 10-foot model has a big 54-pound freezer while the 12-foot model has a 75 pound freezer. Each also boasts exclusive double humidifiers.

Wasson and Trantham also handles conventional 9-foot boxes with push-button defrosting. Too, they have the smaller apartment-sized refrigerators which also feature push-button defrosting, shelves in the door, humidifier, and a 34-pound freezer. These smaller boxes are especially economically priced.

The latest two developments on the Hammond organ are the new Selective Vibrato and the Touch Response. The vibrato is standard equipment on all new instruments.

All refrigerators by Westinghouse carry the full five-year warranty. Also, the rubber tubing around the doors of these boxes is guaranteed for the life of the refrigerator. Only Westinghouse gives you this guarantee.

The factory-trained workmen at Wasson and Trantham can service any make or model of refrigerator, range, washer or dryer.

Go by Wasson and Trantham, 211 W. 4th and save money on all types of furniture and appliances.

Judge Gets Term In Jail

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. Aug. 9 (AP)—A justice of the peace was sentenced today to a year and a day in prison for forcibly resisting a federal officer who sought to take his wife into custody. She was given a sentence of the same length for urging young men to evade military service, but service of it was suspended.

Manuel Miller, 47, the husband, also was fined $1,000.

His wife, Lucille, 45, was sentenced on 18 charges she urged draft registrants to refuse to serve in the armed forces in violation of the selective service.

Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson additionally placed the husband on three years probation, for resisting another federal officer, and the wife on five years probation. Both, already held on bail, served notice of appeal.

The maximum Miller could have received was 10 years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both. The maximum which could have been given Mrs. Miller was 90 years imprisonment or $10,000 in fines, or both.

The Millers are the parents of three children, twin daughters aged 10 and a boy, aged 12. Miller is a machinist by trade.

The Millers gained national attention May 3 when U. S. Marshals went to their home to take her into custody for commitment to a mental hospital.

Miller, armed with a rifle, told officers he would shoot any one who attempted to cross his threshold. The siege lasted 12 hours until tear gas forced surrender.

Bulgananin Throws Real Whing-Ding

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov took the Indonesian ambassador's wife rowing but flooded the boat and soaked the lady.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen bested Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan in a boat race.

Party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Marshal Georgi Zhukov and Ivan Konev picked raspberries.

Premier Bulganin helped Bohlen's 15-year-old daughter Avis catch three fish.

The occasion was an informal 54-hour party Bulganin gave yesterday at his country estate 60 miles southeast of Moscow. The 150 or so guests included foreign diplomats and newsmen and their families and many Russians.

The Soviet capital had never seen anything like it, as the Premier himself admitted.

The program included a two-hour luncheon, community singing led by stars of the Bolshoi Theater, fishing and boating on the estate's lakes, and a drive through the deer park. Some of the group gathered under a fir tree for the telecast of the Moscow Spartak soccer team's 3-0 victory over England's Wolverhampton Wanderers.

Bulgananin in a short speech at the end of lunch said the party was a direct result of the harmonious atmosphere displayed at the Geneva summit conference.

He added that he hoped it would be only the first of many such her festivities.

"But this should not interfere with our work," Khrushchev interjected.

Responding to the Premier, the dean of the diplomatic corps, Burmese Ambassador Maung Ohn, said the envoys wanted to repay the Russian hospitality with an annual dinner for the Soviet leaders.

Molotov came a cropper as he wound up a boat ride with Mrs. Subandrio and Argentine Ambassador Leopoldo Bravo. In beaching the boat, the foreign minister rowed too far up on shore and the water poured in over the deck.

Molotov blushed as Defense Minister Zhukov called him "a terrible sailor."

"One should ride with you around the edge of the lake, not in the middle," the marshal added. The guests snapped hundreds of candid photos of their hosts, prompting one newsmen to ask Bulganin, "Doesn't this look to you like the start of Eisenhower's plan to do photo reconnaissance of the Soviet Union?"

"Yes, I suppose this is the start of it," the Premier replied, roaring with laughter.

Reporters noticed corn growing on the grounds and asked Bulganin if his Khrushchev had enlisted him in his corn-growing campaign.

"Yes, he has got me growing corn, and strawberries too," Bulganin said.

The Premier also told reporters he has no plans "or invitation yet to visit the United States, but I hope that at some time this will be brought about."

Thought This Wasn't Due Till 1984?

NEW YORK (AP)—Another crack has appeared in the dike of privacy and individual freedom. This time the culprit is television.

It has begun innocuously enough in the sweet name of efficiency, but let's point it out immediately before the whole dam bursts. The scene is the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, where they plan to install a closed circuit TV setup for the teller serving a remote window which faces on the street and handles the baby-carriage trade.

It seems that this teller often has to stroll off to various parts of the bank to get balance cards for customers. Now a TV receiving screen will be placed in the teller's cage and when he wants a customer's record, he calls for it on an intercom system and the record is flashed on the screen.

It sounds real efficient. But has it occurred to you that the teller in that cage may WANT to go wandering off? Suppose he wants a drink of water. Suppose there's a beautiful blonde handling the records with whom he is madly in love.

It's the inalienable right of a working man to wander off to get a drink of water or exchange a few words with a blonde in the course of his working day. He returns refreshed in spirit and ready for the old grind.

The television installation in a bank is trivial, you say. Not at all, say I. This is that small cloud on the horizon.

Have you considered what a closed circuit TV set could do to shop and office? Supposing Jones, the boss, gets the idea of having cameras trained on the working force and a screen placed on his desk three floors away.

At 9 a. m. Jones is in his office, set tuned in and fingers nervously tapping his desk. The working force scuttles in. Jones scans each desk on the screen. Ah, ha! Where's Smith? At 9:10 a. m. Smith appears in and flings himself in his chair, sobbing for breath.

Jones snaps on his squawk box and snarls: "Late again, Smith. What's your excuse this time?"

A microphone is lowered to Smith's face and he babbles his weak excuse.

Navy Chief To Personally Review Cadet Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas personally will review the record and make the decision on Eugene Landy, denied a Naval Reserve commission because his mother was once a Communist.

Thomas said yesterday a special board of officers has been formed to review the case and Landy will be given a chance to appear before the board. No timetable was given.

Landy, 21, of Bradley Beach, N. J., sailed Sunday on a 30-day trip as a deckhand aboard the supertanker Western Sun from Marcus Hook, Pa., to Beaumont, Tex.

He was graduated with honors from the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., last Friday but stood silently, hands at his side, while fellow graduates were sworn in as ensigns in the Navy Reserve.

Thomas said that, according to regular procedure, Landy applied for a Navy commission toward the end of his senior year. And still according to procedure, Thomas said, his qualifications were considered by a regular naval board. The board unanimously decided against his suitability, the Navy secretary said.

Thomas said Landy then was interviewed by representatives of the Navy Department and the en-

To Wear The Undershirt, Or Not?

There seems to be a bit of a potter developing among our colleagues as to the desirability, or undesirability, of wearing an undershirt these hot summer days. Some hold that it is much cooler without one, but others take the contrary view. Well, brethren, we have tried it both ways, and we must say each side has its points. Some men, of course, beg the question entirely, by going around all day in the hot sun without a shirt of any kind, top or under. This always seemed to us a rather drastic way of getting out of an argument, so we must put the desiccated down as daring fellows, not at all the ultra-conservatives that the Peronista party regards them as being. Besides, going around in the hot Texas sun without a shirt of any kind all day long strikes us as a good way to barbecue oneself, but who wants barbecue without a sauce of some sort?

There are times in Texas when one gets a vicious sunburn even though the sky is cloudy; that is when the actinic rays of Old Sol are particularly virulent, and if one isn't careful one may become a hospital case. The worst sunburn we ever had came while sitting on a corral fence with a shirt on, but no undershirt, watching the hands brand, dehorn, vaccinate and otherwise give the spring calf crop a good going over. Right through the shirt it was, and it wasn't a particularly hot day either.

For what it's worth, and with experience on both sides of the pro-undershirt and anti-undershirt factions, we'd say it's far cooler to go without than with — providing your skin isn't particularly sensitive to sunburn. The knit undershirt sticks to the skin something fierce, and going without one gives the air a chance to circulate and thus hasten the evaporative processes. It's the evaporation that cools one off.

There is another division among the ranks of summer comfort-seekers — the cold drink versus the hot drink theorists. Here you enter a large field of controversy indeed, for almost every one has an opinion, pro or con on that subject. Here we are an ardent homeopathist, a convinced adherent to the belief that to cool off in summer you should drink hot coffee, and to cure frostbite you should rub snow on the affected surface.

Incident No Credit To Galveston

Life magazine sent a photographer, Joe Scherschel, and its Dallas correspondent, Henry Suydam, to Galveston for a story on Galveston as the nation's "last surviving sin city." At three o'clock in the morning the pair was taking pictures at an "athletic club" when the proprietor "and some others" came out and they were either chased away or fled, according to who was telling the story. Later in the lobby of a Galveston hotel their proprietor either knocked Suydam to the floor, or merely "tapped him," also according to who was telling the story.

The magazine's publisher, Andrew Heksel, wired the mayor of Galveston a protest of the "atrocious assault" upon Suydam, and called the incident an "affront to the American people and a flagrant violation of the freedom of the press."

Regardless of circumstance, it is easy to decide who got the black eye. It was Galveston, which long has been known as a law unto itself when it came to operating a wide open city. Chasing a man to a hotel and knocking him down isn't a good way to win friends and influence people, and again — regardless of circumstances — the incident will be taken as symptomatic of Galveston's long reign as a place where anything goes.

As a result Galveston, which has been too long tolerated in Texas as a place where state law enforcement agencies regularly fire and fall back in an intermittent campaign to keep the place reasonably pure, will get the kind of publicity she hadn't bargained for — the kind that could "close her down" where everything else failed.

Telling The Russkys How To Entertain?

Schooled to suspicion by its tough life and hard times, my generation of Americans, if it found a $100 bill in the street, would spurn it as a plant, a trap or home-made.

Right now we are busy looking gift Russians in the mouth, trying to figure out whether to judge them by their molars or their malarky.

Still and all, no matter what the real purpose or the current Russian sunshine, I venture to suggest that we are in for a considerable spell of peace.

This prediction is based on an omen I would like to call to the attention of the State Department. Members of the Russian Agricultural Mission now touring the Midwest have requested Iowa State College on agriculture, but to include all the college's Domestic Science Department pamphlets on tea and garden parties, and on buffet meals.

In addition, Vladimir Matskevich, acting Soviet Agricultural Minister who heads the group, and Andrei Schevchenko, counselor to the Ministry of Agriculture, told the school authorities that their respective wives had warned them not to dast return home without all the books on American etiquette they can corner.

Obviously, a new party line is forming right under our very noses, and we are being asked to supply the ground rules. What does this sudden preoccupation with gracious living portend? Only one thing: Russian women have been told (1) there is going to be plenty of time out in the future for living it up, and (2) to get hep. Pot luck, apparently, is on the way out. Finger bowls are on the way in, and the Russians want a blueprint. There are hapless girls in Russia, too, who always order chicken salad and want to know how to get out of the rut. And, likewise, what to do if an earring drops in the borsch.

If the comrades want books on etiquette, they have surely come to the fountainhead. We Americans are loaded. Together with the Bible and cookbooks, etiquette tomes are the backbone of the publishing business. Never have so many made so much money telling such multitudes what to do with the pinkie, a divorced husband, and the neighbor's chickens.

I only regret that the Russians have not sought advice at the summit on how to give a cocktail party. This form of entertainment — if such it be! — has reached its ultimate peak of perfection in the U.S.A. This is the drop-dead party that was invented to pay people back, and it certainly does!

One of the strict rules of the affair demands a room only half as large as the crowd requires. The test of the liquor is that it should be semi-lethal and capable of quick action, with vodka as a home product, the Russian hostess is already the moses'.

Food is immaterial as long as it is goeey and leaves a permanent stain on furniture, rugs and guests.

Come to think of it, if we can introduce the genuine U. S. cocktail party into the U.S.S.R., this may turn out to be America's supreme secret weapon.

Advice On Choosing Brokers

NEW YORK — Seems there are a number of people in these prosperous times with troubles like this:

They have a goodly sum of money coming in. They'd like to put it into securities. They are too busy to keep the required watchful eye on a stock portfolio. They'd hire the services of a professional investment counselor. But they aren't sure how to select one.

The growing business of furnishing "how to" guides has now got around to this subject.

The American Institute of Management will soon issue for its members a "How to Choose an Investment Adviser" brochure. It is aimed particularly at business executives and others who see securities as one means of building and maintaining income in the face of heavy personal taxes.

Some companies forbid their executives to dabble in stocks because to do so successfully would take too much of the company's time. Other executives don't want to take the time. And some don't have the necessary confidence.

Forty-two firms specializing in such services are listed by the Institute as members of the Investment Counsel Assn. of America. Fifteen have offices in New York, and one or more are located in 13 other cities. They are distinct from advisory services, or brokers' customers' men, or trust departments of banks.

Many advisers to individuals won't deal with accounts under $100,000. Their fees usually range from 1/4 to 1 per cent for handling a portfolio of that size to 1/2 of 1 per cent if the portfolio contains securities valued at six million dollars, or more.

Some counselling firms, however, specialize in small accounts. Their fees usually range from 1 1/2 per cent for a $5,000 por-folio to 1 1/4 per cent for one above $20,000.

The institute has some general words of warning. It believes that "far too many men of inferior caliber can, today, find their way into this potentially lucrative field without training or probing search of moral character, and with little public supervision."

It also takes a sour view of advisers who try to serve too many clients. It says, "adequate supervision of more than 15 substantial accounts — or 20 accounts of any size — is impossible. The adviser who exceeds this number eventually gives inadequate attention to all."

The successful counsellor? The Institute says: "His strength lies in ability — resulting partly from his own inquiring mind — to interpret developments before even industry itself has perceived their meaning."

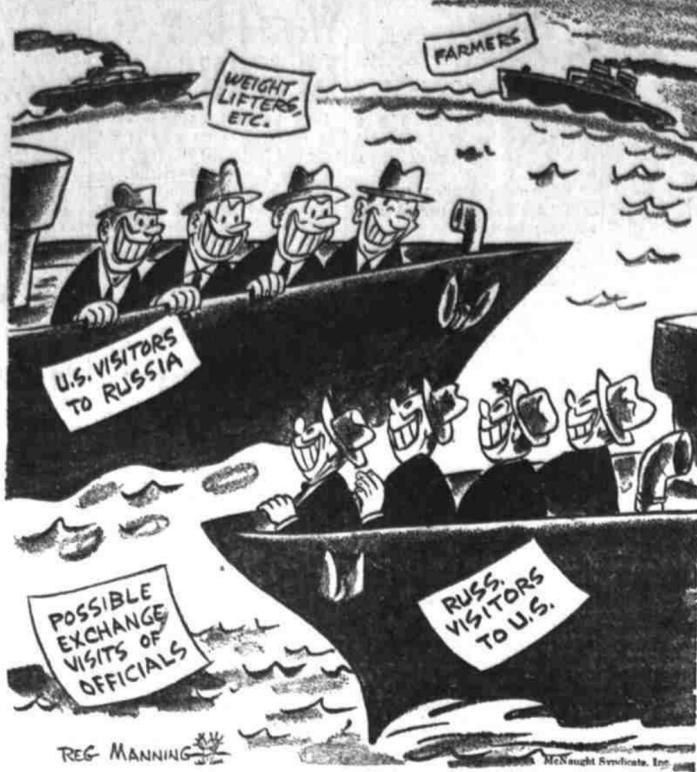

And the best way to judge this ability is by checking the results of following a counsellor's advice over the last 10 years, say.

An adviser who "appears to believe that outguessing the market is his main task" often stumbles, the institute says, because this can lead to overlooking intrinsic merits of individual issues. And the institute says your investment counsellor "should have nothing to sell, either directly or indirectly, except his services. Brokerage fees cover the cost of a different function and should be kept a thing apart."

For the rest, the adviser should have wide contacts in industry and the financial world. And, like all trustworthy business executives, the adviser must have all the big three qualities: industry, integrity and ability.

How Do We Look To A Starman?

WASHINGTON — If you lived on a star and had been watching man on earth through the ages you could not help but cross your fingers as you looked down upon the world's atomic scientists meeting this week in Geneva.

You might wish them well. But you'd have to wonder: "Will they make it this time?" For many times from the perspective of a star, as you watched the generations of man, you must have said aloud: "Why does he always have to make a fool of himself?"

There were the empires that withered — the Egyptian, the Greek, the Roman, the French, the German, the British. With them were their wars, always fresh testimonials to man's inability to get along with man.

But now man — driven by his conceits and inferiorities, his primal urges and studied cunning, his neuroses, and the endless restlessness that blessed and cursed him through the ages — at last has reached a peak.

Now at last man, in the knowledge of the atom that he holds in his hand, has the power to destroy himself and every other living thing on the face of the earth if he cannot finally learn to live peacefully.

It is almost as if the whole history of man's combined wisdom and folly has been heading inevitably for the mid-20th century when, because he has learned too much, he is faced with the last choice between living and dying together.

Delegations from 72 countries — including leading atomic scientists from the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Canada — opened their atoms-for-peace conference in Geneva this week.

The meeting had its origin in President Eisenhower's invitation — delivered before the United Nations on Dec. 8, 1953 — to the world's nations to pool their knowledge of the atom's peaceful uses for the good of mankind.

If the nations can go on from this point and exchange their knowledge of what the atom can do — in creating power, in medicine, in agriculture, in industry — man has a future undreamed of before the bomb fell on Hiroshima in 1945.

But will they go into a real exchange of ideas? And, if they do, will they be able to continue to do it? At the moment they meet, other scientists back home in the United States and Russia are devising uses for the atom in war.

The Geneva meeting is being held during a strange lull in the cold war — a period of almost cordial relations between the East and West — when the big powers are talking of keeping the atom for peace only and abolishing it for war.

It is not this meeting, important as it is and could be, that will decide whether man has found real wisdom at last or is a complete fool. The many meetings which decide that will be those which seek a way to outlaw atomic weapons and atomic war and leave the atom thereafter only for peace.

Ike's About To Run Out Of Land

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — If part-time farmer Dwight D. Eisenhower holds onto that city job in Washington for another five years or so, he may have to move out of his farmhouse.

The way people keep giving him things for the 188-acre farm, the time could come when there wouldn't be enough room left for the President, his wife and his golf clubs.

Cows, farm equipment, furniture — almost everywhere the President goes somebody gives him something. And Ike Eisenhower goes a lot of places.

Nobody has troubled to keep books but it's known that he has received at least eight head of livestock, mostly Black Angus, since word got around he was interested in building a herd.

This is in addition to, among other things:

Two pigs, one of them named Pansy.

A flock of chickens.

A chain saw.

A spice box for Mrs. Eisenhower.

An antique sofa and an equally antique fireplace mantel, both presented by the White House staff.

A 30-foot flagpole and a hand-eagle.

A silver Paul Revere bowl.

And, most recently, from the American Legion Boys Nation, a 2 1/2-horsepower cultivator.

Probably the most elaborate gift has been a complete flower garden, set up at a Washington flower show last year and later moved on to the Eisenhower farm on the edge of Gettysburg battlefield. Right pretty one, too. Serpentine brick wall and everything.

All sorts of people bestow gifts on the President — livestock breeders, Republican clubs — even Democrats. The latest Black Angus heifer, Blue Bonnet, was presented at a Women's National Press Club affair by Democratic congressional leaders Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Usually the people who make these gifts have nothing to gain from the White House — except, sometimes, a little incidental publicity. The makers of one piece of farm equipment, for instance, were overjoyed that their trade name showed up in news photographs.

Giving things to presidents is an old American custom — and one that the presidents sometimes regard wryly. "That's the way it always is," Harry S. Truman once remarked, "people wait until you have everything in the world and then they give you something."

Eisenhower likewise tossed off a good-humoredly ironical remark when he wound up a New England trip laden down with everything from two calves to a little evergreen tree — now planted on the farm — from Skowhegan, Me.

"I have accumulated so many gifts," he said, "that I am moved to remind the chairman there is one very important thing he forgot. He should have provided a truck to carry them in."

False Crime

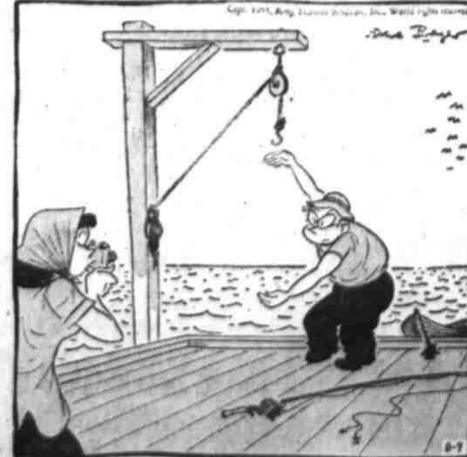

DENVER — Police put a stop to what they called the youngest con game in Denver. A woman reported her son told her a young friend of his was selling marijuana cigarettes.

Police picked up a 14-year-old boy with two cigarettes. He said had bought them from an 8-year-old friend.

The 14-year-old bragged that he had a bargain, too. The 8-year-old charged him only 50 cents each. The going price for marijuana cigarettes is about $1.25.

Police started after the 8-year-old for a good stiff talk with the boy and his parents. Meanwhile, Detective John Moritzky examined the cigarettes. They contained nothing but black tea.

Mr. Breger

Only a fraction of the gifts made to Eisenhower are for his farm. "Official" gifts, such as art works from eminent foreign visitors, stay in the White House or go to such public places as the Smithsonian Institution. Others go to the Eisenhower museum in Abilene, Kan.

In an average year the President will receive such oddly assorted items as a 100-pound cake in the form of a Christmas tree, a made-on-a-sewing-machine tapestry portrait of himself and Mrs. Eisenhower, a gold nugget set into a tie pin, a Hopalong Cassidy good luck charm from a small girl admirer, a solid gold desk set valued at $5,000.

He may be — and, in fact, has been — sent Bibles; in 78 languages, a gold-plated horseshoe, a guaranteed original shillelagh, a section of the original rail used in completing the first cross-country railroad, and the collected speeches of a man he heard a lot about in 1952, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Around The Rim

Patricia Facing Her Toughest Test

I was really glad to hear that Patricia McCormick may take her "alternativa" in Mexico City next year. With over four years of "novillera" fighting behind her, Pat deserves the distinction of the first woman ever to become a full-fledged bull-fighter in that famous ring.

Pat might not be the first woman to fight in the El Toro ring, however, Alfredo Blancas, connected with the Juarez bull ring, tells me that Bette Ford is scheduled to fight in the Mexico City ring sometime this fall. It is strictly a matter of politics, he said.

Bette Ford has been fighting the bulls for less than a year and has never been gored. Pat, on the other hand, has been seriously gored several times, once almost fatally. Not that the number of gorings should make either of them better than the other, but it is some indication of the closeness of the cape-work.

It can be said without any bias that Pat fights larger bulls on the average than Bette does. (I have some pictures to prove it.) Pat is more skillful with the cape and sword. It would be difficult to say either is braver than the other and I have never seen either of them run from a bull.

But a performance by Pat shows a wider repertoire of passes and much more grace and style. Pat depends on skill and artistry to satisfy the crowds; Bette uses more daring and, perhaps, foolhardiness.

Because of Pat's obvious superior ability, (I have talked with no one connected with either the Acuna or Juarez rings that disagreed about it, it would seem that she should get the first fight in the Mexico City ring.

Of course, Pat will leave the Mexico ring a full "matadora," qualified to face full grown bulls and no more over-grown calves. Bette will still be a "novillera" fighting the smaller ones.

Incidentally, these girls will be the first to fight in the Mexico City ring on foot. The almost legendary "Conchita" was billed there many times, but she fought from horseback in the Portuguese style.

The "alternativa" is a very important event for a bull fighter. It is similar to a graduation and indicates that the novice has "come of age." The novice is sponsored by a well known matador, recognized as being one of the best.

On the day of the alternativa, the novice and the matador appear in the ring together. The matador fights his bull in the regular manner, trying to do a better than average fight. Alternately, the novice will try his cape on the bull trying to out-perform the matador. Then, at the end of the cape-work, the matador, in formal ceremony, will present his sword to the novice and the novice must make the kill.

If all goes off all right, the novice is then a matador. Pat's "alternativa" will probably be a highly publicized affair. It is almost certain to be the biggest test of her ability and courage thus far.

More Difficulties Coming On China Policy

GENEVA — The reappraisal of America's China policy that has begun here at Geneva may not be agonizing but it is distinctly unhappy. And if it proves possible to progress from this first stage of the ambassadorial conference the later phases are likely to be even more painful.

The process of re-evaluation has been long delayed perhaps because of the obvious difficulty of reconciling past statements and past performance with present realities. One of Eisenhower's first acts as President was to call for the "unleashing" of Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist forces on the mainland other than the pinpricks of sporadic harassment would have involved American air and naval forces and would almost certainly have meant, sooner or later, all-out war.

It was this prospect which terrified our allies in Western Europe, and one of the reasons an American Ambassador has now set down at a conference table with an Ambassador from Communist China is the pressure of European opinion. To responsible Europeans, American insistence on maintaining Chiang as "China" after he had been driven from the mainland with the most dangerous folly. Particularly was this true in European eyes when American military forces in Asia were sharply reduced.

It would be convenient for America if Peking would just let matters ride and accept, after the prisoners have been exchanged for the students, the cease-fire which has in fact existed in the Formosa Straits for the past three months. But every indication here is that Peking wants much more than this and wants it quickly. So the struggle to find an acceptable way out of the China dilemma becomes immediate and acute.

Take as an example one point of the ambassadorial negotiations here — the effort to find a formula which would permit a third party, an Indian diplomatic team or a neutral power such as Sweden or Switzerland, to supervise the exchange of prisoners and students. Such an arrangement might seem to give Communist China through a third party, jurisdiction over all Chinese nationals in the United States. This would be a serious, perhaps fatal, blow to Chiang Kai-shek. And so the cables are passing back and forth between the State Department in Washington and Geneva in an effort to find a safe formula.

If this comparatively small point is sticky, it takes little imagination to see how long and painful will be the process of arriving at the larger formula for a permanent adjustment enabling Communist China and America to live on the same planet. And time, it will be added, is not necessarily on the American side. Pressure has been steadily building up in the United Nations for action by the General Assembly granting Red China the U.N. seat now held by Nationalist China. Support for such a move has grown in the Far East, Middle East and Europe.

Nor is a prolonged on-again-off-again negotiation likely to enhance the position of Chiang on Formosa. He may well wonder, as constant appeals are beamed from Peking to his supporters, what his fate will finally be.

Perhaps the most urgent question in the present reappraisal is whether America can stop at some halfway point, resisting the pressures not only from the Red Chinese but from elsewhere in Asia and in Europe. At some such halfway point the past could be forgotten and the way prepared for a gradual readjustment to acceptance of Communist China as a fact of life.

What China wants is recognition, admission to the U.N. and settlement of Formosa. The two first demands might be granted through the "two Chinas" solution, which Chou has said again and again is unacceptable. As to Formosa, Dulles has said again and again that the United States will accept no change in its status, and again and again it has been said publicly under the Eisenhower Administration that Formosa is part of America's strategic perimeter. So it would seem that even though Dulles and Chou should agree to meet they would face each other across an unbridgeable gulf.

To those familiar with the attitude of the Chinese Reds during the prolonged truce negotiations at Panmunjom in Korea there is a great difference here. Ambassador Wang Ping-nan speaks politely, reasonably and even occasionally in a friendly way. At one point he ignored his interpreter and said smilingly in English, of which he has only a limited knowledge, "Yes, I agree." At Panmunjom the approach was inflexible, unabating hostility, words bitten off with venom and spite.

So there is a change in atmosphere just as there was at the summit conference. But whether it signifies anything more than an calculated change of manners is a question still to be answered.

Old-Time Jazz Bands In Reunion

HOLLYWOOD — Drama makes this town the world's jazz capital this week. Hollywood's jumping to some of the best swing music heard in 20 years—and no wonder. Two of the greatest bands of the swing era are reunited.

The reunion is only temporary, but while it lasts some great music is being made.

At Universal-International, they are making "The Benny Goodman Story" and most of the original members of the greatest of swing bands are rocking the sound stages. Gene Krupa, Teddy Wilson, Harry James, Lionel Hampton and Goodman, the King of Swing himself, seem to be playing better than ever, if that is possible, playing better than ever, if that is possible, playing better than ever, if that is possible.

On tonight's Climax show over CBS-TV, the original Bob Crosby Bobcats will be reunited. This band, one of the greatest of all Dixieland stylists, will perform their old arrangements of "Muskrat Ramble," "Gin Mill Blues," "Little Rock Get-away" and other Dixieland classics.

The play "One Night Stand" will dramatize a true incident in the history of the Bobcats. Playing themselves will be such Dixieland experts as Eddie Miller, Nappy LaMarr, Matty Matlock, Bobby Haggart, Billy Butterfield, Charlie Teagarden and Crosby.

elsewhere but that we were with him because of his ideas — not his commercial appeal."

So the Goodman band stuck with swing and finally — at the old Palomar Ballroom here in Los Angeles — the new type music hit. The rest is history, else U-I would not be making a movie about Benny Goodman.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Certain insects deserve more fame than they have been given. They are enemies of locusts, and could be employed more widely to cut down the danger of locust plagues.

These insects are blister beetles. Their strange name arose from the fact that a substance in their bodies will raise a blister if it touches the human skin.

Some kinds of blister beetles get

A blister beetle (enlarged).

Yanks Take Over Services For Russian Baptists

MOSCOW (AP)—A Baptist preacher from Virginia administered the Lord's Supper to 2,500 Russians here Sunday night in the first such ceremony to an American Protestant group since the Bolsheviks came to power.

"We were very impressed with the devotion of the worshippers," said Dr. Theodore F. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Richmond who is visiting the Soviet Union with three other Baptist clergymen.

Dr. Adams said he was "startled at the amazing number of young people and men in the congregation" which filled the Moscow Baptist Church for the three-hour service.

Dr. Adams, new head of the World Baptist Alliance, said he "thought it a very high honor" to be asked to conduct the service.

Dr. Arnold T. Ohrn of Washington, D.C., general secretary of the alliance, preached the sermon on "The Cross and Resurrection."

The four American clergymen arrived in Moscow Saturday as guests of Russian Baptists. The others are Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, a Negro pastor from Chicago, and Dr. V. Carney Hargoves of Philadelphia.

Legate Arrives

TOKYO (AP)—Shigenobu Shima, Japanese minister to Washington, arrived by plane today to report to foreign minister Mamoru Shigemitsu. Shigemitsu goes to the United States Aug. 23.

Colorado City Set For Press Meeting

COLORADO CITY—Colorado City is all set for its role of homecoming host to the 25th annual "Silver Jubilee" Convention of the West Texas Press Association Friday and Saturday, Aug. 12-13.

The association, founded in Colorado City, will honor its first president, 82-year-old J. L. Martin of Abilene, and all other past presidents at the Friday luncheon in the Civic House.

Max Bentley of Abilene, who helped organize the association and served as its president in 1934, will be speaker for the past presidents luncheon.

Earlier Friday morning, following a business meeting, Roy V. Fox, WTPA contest chairman, will present 1955 Better Newspaper Contest trophies to winning newspapers.

Morning activities will close with an address, "Starting Them Out Right," by Dr. William E. Hall, head of the Texas Tech journalism department.

Elmer Wright, publisher of Sweetwater Reporter, will preside over afternoon activities which include talks by the following: Ed Wischmeyer, managing editor of Abilene Reporter-News; Roy V. Fox, co-publisher of Colorado City Record; and H. B. Fox, syndicated columnist and magazine writer who resides in Taylor.

Friday evening activities will include a barbecue and dancing at Colorado Country Club with the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce as host.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the annual WTPC breakfast Saturday morning. Fred H. Husbands of Abilene, executive vice president and general manager, will be the speaker. Director of Information, Paul Marable Jr., will present the WTPC Distinguished Community Service Plaque to the newspaper with outstanding community service.

Speakers on the Saturday morning program include W. H. Graham Jr., (Farwell) State Line Tribune; Ben Oglesby, Bronco Enterprise; J. L. West Jr., Big Lake Wildcat; E. B. Harris, WTPA president, Graham Leader; Russell Bryant, Texas Press Association president and publisher of Italy News-Herald; Vern Sanford, manager of Texas Press Association.

Luncheon speaker Saturday will be Chester Lauck of Houston, executive assistant to the president of Continental Oil Company and formerly Lum of Lum and Abner, popular radio and firm team.

SCS Trainee Is Assigned Here

Bill Dittmore, one of the trainees from the recent Soil Conservation School in Big Spring, has been assigned to the local unit for further training. He is a soil scientist but will also receive training in farm and ranch planning.

Dittmore and his wife are from Dallas, and are now living at 405 W. 6th Street. Mrs. Dittmore will teach in the Big Spring Schools for the coming term.

Ex-Villa Aide Denies Claim

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A man who handled part of Pancho Villa's money says the Mexican general needed all his money to finance his army and didn't have any left over gold to bury in Texas graveyards.

Manuel Gonzales, financial agent with the northern division of Villa's army, also denied that 76-year-old Dolores Vasquez ever held the rank of colonel in the border raider's army.

Miss Vasquez said at Brawley, Calif., Friday that Villa buried gold in cemeteries at Corpus and Roma, Tex.

"That is not true," Gonzales told Joe Oliveria of the San Antonio Express. "The money that Pancho Villa took was never buried. He used it for his campaigns."

State Hospitals To Benefit From Cigarette Tax Hike

State Hospitals and Special Schools will be among those benefiting most from the one-cent tax increase on cigarettes to become effective after the first of September.

A one-cent per package increase will be put on cigarettes payable by the person making the first sale in the state after the effective date.

E. R. Trego, of the State Comptroller's office here, says he expects the change-over from the distributors four-cent stamp to the five-cent stamp to be very smooth and should cause very little trouble.

One-fourth of the revenue from this increased tax will go into a fund for the state hospitals and special schools for building, repairing and equipment. One fourth of the balance will go into a state available school fund and three-fourths will be credited to a clearance fund.
