That's Him, Mommy

From the safety of her mother's arms, little Joyce Lee Pike, 7, points to the man she said took her away in his car in Compton, Calif. Joyce's mother, Mrs. Mae Pike, said a neighbor told them a man took Joyce in his car offering her money. Six hours later she was spotted by an ice cream man and police were notified. She was unharmed and police are holding Everado Martinez on suspicion of kidnaping.

Four County Voting Boxes Consolidated

Changes in Howard County voting boxes, approved by county commissioners Monday afternoon, involve seven communities.

Not all the changes were approved unanimously, but the Morris, Vincent, R-Bar, Soash boxes have been consolidated with other voting places.

Morris, formerly Box 14, and Vincent, formerly Box 5, will be combined with Gay Hill. Commissioner G. E. Gilliam voted against the Morris-Gay Hill consolidation and two commissioners, Ralph Proctor and Earl Hill, were against the Vincent-Gay Hill merger.

Voters in the Soash area will be consolidated with voters at Knott Soash (Box 19) has been eliminated and these voters will cast their votes at Knott (Box 13) in the future. The commissioners were unanimous for this change.

Persons who previously voted at R-Bar (Box 7) will vote at Centerpoint (Box 11). Commissioner Hill voted "nay" for this change.

Two justice precinct lines were changed. Vincent was placed in Precinct 4 and Centerpoint was changed from Justice Precinct 4 to Justice Precinct 2.

County Judge R. H. Weaver proposed the various consolidations to make the cost of county elections smaller. He pointed out that the cost in smaller precincts was exceptionally high on a per-vote basis.

DENIALS MADE

Is The Klan About To Rise Up Again?

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
By The Associated Press

Is the Ku Klux Klan—what state Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd calls "The Invisible Empire"—about to rise again in Texas?

Shepperd says his investigators have turned up evidence in 22 counties of East Texas of attempts to revive the old "white-robed, hooded organization of the mid-'20s."

But the Federal Bureau of Investigation and at least two district attorneys in the state disagree with Shepperd.

In Dallas, W. A. Murphy, FBI agent in charge, said his G-Men have found no indication of any Klan activity in the East Texas area. He added that there were no indications of federal law violations by Klansmen in the state.

Dist. Atty. Jimmy Castledine of Wichita Falls said that in his opinion no organized KKK activity exists in Texas. Castledine pointed out that he is in a position to know. He is the president of the County and District Attorneys' Assn. of Texas. "I am in constant touch, either in person or by mail or telephone," he said, "with dozens of prosecutors and law enforcement officers all over Texas. Not once has anybody spoke of any possible outcropping of the Ku Klux Klan."

Castledine said Monday night he preferred not to be placed in a position of "challenging" the attorney general. It is possible, he admitted, that some inactive Klan backers are in Texas. But it is unlikely, he added, that they are organized for violence or demonstrations.

A similar statement was made by Dist. Atty. Tom Moore Jr. of Waco. He said the Klan "organizer" in Waco was an "elderly invalid" who "spends most of his pension money for duplicating paper."

Moore laughingly said he thought the oldest hardly a "threat to law and order."

"I don't know what to do about that old fellow," he added. "He just hates everything."

Shepperd last Friday said in a prepared statement handed to Austin reporters that there was an attempt in Waco to revive the Klan. He went there to investigate and came up Sunday in Longview with his new figures—22 counties of East Texas threatened with a KKK revival.

"Texas ran the hooded riders of the Invisible Empire out of the state before and we can do it again," the attorney general said. The attorney general emphasized that he was not confusing the formation of Citizens Councils in several Texas cities with the reported Klan revival. Such groups should not be confused with the Klan, he said, and added:

"Citizens groups use legal means. The Klan uses fear, hatred and illegal violence."

The first Ku Klux Klan arose in the South after the section's defeat in the Civil War. A few years after the World War I armistice, the hooded riders and their fiery crosses again became familiar over much of the South. Many persons said the two organizations, post

Civil War and Post World War I, had no connection. The Klan received its death blow in 1925 in Texas under the regime of Gov. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson and her then young and fighting attorney general, Dan Moody, fought the Klan tooth and nail. And the Legislature, according to the governors' wishes and the wishes of most Texans outlawed the most concealing portion of the Klan costume, the hood.

C-C Directors Okay Industrial Foundation Plan

Charter and by-laws for a proposed Big Spring Industrial Foundation were approved last night by Chamber of Commerce directors who then named a 25-member steering committee to set up the organization.

The foundation will be formed strictly as a civic undertaking, the charter says, to render financial and other assistance to the manufacturing and industrial development of Big Spring and vicinity.

Purposes are to erect or repair any building or improvement for the use of any manufacturing or industrial enterprise located within Howard County, according to the charter. It will be a non-profit foundation with all money earned or accruing to be used in the furtherance of the objectives and purposes of its charter. It is to be set up for a period of 50 years.

Amount of capital stock was not decided upon. Chamber of Commerce directors said they felt that matter should be left up to the steering committee or the temporary board which will be named in formation of the foundation.

Steering committees were to be contacted today and they are expected to start making contacts soon, lining up membership for the foundation. Named to the organizational committee were R. L. Beale, C. H. Rainwater, Leroy Tidwell, Lewis Price, Vance Lebkowsky, R. W. Currie, R. T. Piner, R. L. Tollett, Vic Alexander, C. H. Grigsby, J. B. Wignanton, M. M. Miller, Truman Jones, R. W. Whippley, R. H. Weaver, Elmo Wasson, Roy Reeder, Roscoe B. G. Cowper, Jasper Atkins, John Taylor, Ted Griebel, Clyde McMahon, A. C. LaCroix, J. H. Greene and Elmer Tarbox.

C-C directors last night also voted to make an additional $100 available to the Petroleum Committee for its work during the remainder of the year, gave the manager authority to assist in arranging for an appreciation dinner for service station attendants, and heard a Health and Sanitation Committee report commending Dr. R. A. Hale, director, and Lige Fox, sanitarian for the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, for their public health work.

The suit alleges that the order of the school board ending segregation in the first six grades of Big Spring schools is in violation of Section I of Article 232-13, Vernon Civil Statutes, which provides for the allocation of professional (teaching) units to public schools on the basis of average daily attendance of students. The statute provides, according to the petition, that the attendance shall be computed separately for white and Negro students, and that allocation be based on whole attendance. It shall be utilized in white schools and allotments based on Negro attendance shall be utilized in Negro schools.

The plaintiffs allege also that the desegregation order violates Section 7, Article VII of the Texas Constitution, and Article 290 of the Revised Civil Statutes, which, the petition says, require the maintenance of separate schools for Negroes and whites.

The petition contends that the order of the local school board will require the expenditure of money on schools that are "neither white nor Negro" within the meaning of the statutes.

The suit states that the defendant take the position that the statutory provisions have become inoperative in the light of the U. S. Supreme Court ruling that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. The plaintiffs state that they "are uncertain" about this, and claim that the "construction of the statute should be determined and declared by the court."

The petitioners ask that the court declare the defendants are bound by the provisions of the various statutes, and that they be restrained from expending public funds for "purposes contrary to the law."

They ask also that Edgar be enjoined from certifying to the comptroller the average daily attendance for the Big Spring School district, and that Calvert be restrained from issuing any funds to the district.

School board members who are named defendants in the suit are Chairman Clyde Angel, R. W. Thompson, Tom McAdams, Omar

Local, State Groups Sue School Board

The fight against desegregation of public schools in Texas centered on Big Spring today, after the Texas Citizens Council and the Big Spring Citizens Council filed suit in district court asking that the local school board be enjoined from carrying out its partial-desegregation order of Aug. 9.

The suit also asks that J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, and Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller, be enjoined from making state funds available for use in integrated schools here.

The suit is the first of its kind filed in Texas, and its outcome is expected to determine the fate of immediate integration of schools throughout the state.

A hearing on the petition has been set for 10 a. m. Friday, Aug. 26. District Judge Charlie Sullivan interrupted his vacation briefly, shortly after the suit was filed Monday afternoon, to set the time for the hearing.

Defendants in the suit are six members of the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District, Supt. W. C. Blankenship, Edgar and Calvert.

Furthermore, Dulles stressed the point that the Soviets have never given out any information on their weapons.

He said the whole situation created by the Russian announcement last Saturday shows why an international exchange of information and a system of "effective inspection" are necessary for an "intelligent approach" to the control and reduction of military power.

In a formal statement at his news conference, Dulles also said the United States government hopes that great power talks on disarmament which will begin under United Nations sponsorship in New York Aug. 29 "can make progress toward establishing a reliable international system of inspection."

Four members of the Big Spring Citizens Council, which yesterday filed suit seeking to block racial desegregation in city schools, this morning issued statements explaining their position in the school controversy.

School board members, named defendants in the suit, were in conference at noon. Chairman Clyde Angel said they would issue a statement later concerning their reaction to the anti-desegregation suit.

The members of the new Citizens Council are R. E. McKinney, a school board member and insurance man; Ted O. Groebel, oil jobber; Roy Bruce, city commissioner and service station operator; and John W. Currie, State National Bank official.

McKinney, who last week opposed school board action desegregating Big Spring schools through the first six grades, this morning was named chairman of the local Citizens Council.

McKinney said this morning that he believes the school board "acted hastily" in the desegregation move. He said the school district has just provided a new Negro school and that he "knows beyond a doubt" that the bond issue providing the school would not have passed if voters had known that desegregation was to follow.

Groebel also pointed to the new Negro schools, declaring, "I don't see any use in throwing that $200,000 down the drain."

Asserting that he is known as "a firm believer in states' rights," Groebel said he thinks the school board should have followed suggestions of the governor and attorney general that desegregation await a thorough study of the problem in Texas. He said also that he believes the school board should have conducted a public hearing before ordering desegregation.

Bruce stated that action of the four members of the council "was spontaneous in that each felt that the board acted hastily since the governor and attorney general had advised caution until some decision was secured as a guide."

Giles Pleads Guilty On Bribe Counts

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Former Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles today pleaded guilty to two counts that he had agreed to accept a bribe.

But he said he was innocent of a third count—of actually receiving a $35,000 bribe.

The state waived prosecution of this third count and Giles was expected to be sentenced later today.

He is already under a three year sentence for abetting theft in another case involving the state's 100 million dollar veterans land program he formerly administered.

Giles' plea of guilty came after two motions to dismiss and quash the indictment were overruled.

The state called a few witnesses to build a case to substantiate the charges against Giles.

This was described as a legal formality only.

The testimony was heard by Dist. Judge M. D. Jones only. There was no jury, since Jones accepted Giles' plea of guilty.

Fred Semaan, one of Giles' defense attorneys, said he doubted if the defense would put on any witnesses in this formality testimony.

Giles was tense and drawn when he entered the plea of guilty.

It came as somewhat of a surprise to the packed courtroom. There were tears in the eyes of Rogan Giles as his father entered the guilty plea.

Giles said he had no comment to make now, but indicated he might have something to say later today.

The defense waived the three day waiting period and indicated it would accept an immediate sentence.

Giles is under numerous indictments in connection with alleged fraudulent sales under the land program.

He has been free on bond and his prison sentence is on appeal.

The indictments in this case charged that Giles agreed to accept and did accept a bribe from C. V. Wynn and Arthur McKenzie, two San Antonio land promoters, in exchange for helping them make

Indians Protest Bloody Violence Over Colonies

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Inflamed over yesterday's bloodshed in Portuguese India, frenzied mobs of Indians rioted through Bombay today. They hoisted the Indian flag over the Portuguese consulate, forced newspapers, shops and business houses to close, and surrounded government buildings.

Demonstrators shouted "Nehru—leave Delhi and lead us to Goa!" as they stoned the consulate and smashed its windows. The consulate personnel had been evacuated earlier.

Police opened fire on the mob, wounding three demonstrators. Several bus and streetcar conductors were hurt in attacks on their vehicles as the mob enforced a general strike throughout the city.

Beginning at dawn, more than 150,000 Indians marched past the consulate screaming demands for military action against the three small Portuguese territories north and south of Bombay. Guards there yesterday killed an undetermined number of "nonviolent" Indian marchers demanding the cessation of the areas to India.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Parliament that his government would not be "provoked" by the killings into military action against Portugal. He said he would continue to seek the transfer of Portuguese India, the last foreign territory in the country, by peaceful means.

Shops were also closed throughout New Delhi by a 24-hour protest strike.

Nehru said latest information from the Bombay state government put the toll in the march into the Portuguese colonies at 15 dead and 28 wounded but he said the casualties might have been greater. He reported some 800 demonstrators were still in Goa and Dlu, two of the settlements, and said there was no information on what had happened to them.

(In Lisbon, the Portuguese Foreign Ministry said an unknown number of Indians had been killed and wounded yesterday. It said "The Portuguese authorities were obliged to meet violence with violence. . . . The responsibility for this bloodshed rests entirely upon the persons who encouraged, permitted and abetted the invasion.")

Diane Continues Edging Toward Coastal Areas

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Diane, her hurricane winds spinning at 115 miles an hour, moved relentlessly toward the mainland today.

She was the second hurricane in Carolina and Georgia coastal areas waited anxiously as the furious storm, fourth hurricane of the season, edged ever closer. The day brought a drop in her forward movement from 15 to 8 to 10 miles an hour, but the strength of her winds was undiminished.

At 8 a. m., she was 300 miles east-southeast of Charleston. A Weather Bureau storm bulletin issued at 8:20 a. m., said: "Movement at this slower speed and a change of course would bring the center to upper South Carolina or the North Carolina coast late tonight or Wednesday morning."

Throughout the night, Diane had remained on a west-northwest (more west than north) course, but forecasters said the reduced forward speed might cause her to turn toward the north. Such a direction change would place the North Carolina coast, swept last week by Hurricane Connie, in extreme jeopardy.

Diane's worst threat appeared to be to beach areas. Tides were forecast at some points as much as nine feet above normal.

Marines joined highway crews, civilian volunteers and convicts today in a feverish attempt to throw up sand breakwaters along North Carolina's beaches. Connie's high tides washed away many of the dunes which protect beach buildings.

Only last Oct. 15 Hurricane Hazel burst in upon the land at the North Carolina-South Carolina border and swept northward all the way to Canada, killing 177 persons and doing an estimated 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of damage. Last week's Connie was less severe. But her damage ran into the tens of millions and her death toll was 42. No one died; however, in the well-worn beach areas.

One result of Diane's approach was to postpone plans for a full-dress ceremony for the swearing in of Adm. Arleigh A. Burke as chief of naval operations. The ceremony was to have been held aboard the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga at Norfolk, Va. Under the revision the swearing-in will be tomorrow at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Reports from South Carolina beaches said that little preparation was needed for the blow. Vacationers went for early morning dips in the surf at Myrtle Beach beneath a warm sun and blue skies. Civilian defense spokesmen said last week's rehearsal for Connie had prepared that area for any eventuality.

"Vacancy" signs appeared at most of the beach inns and motor courts, but town officials said there had been no general evacuation, as such. They said they simply were few incoming tourists to replace those who departed after completing vacations.

The Charleston Weather Bureau said heavy rains would visit the entire coastal area tonight. The forecast was for four or more inches of rain. Inland floods and extensive crop damage were feared.

Airport Site Due Decision Today At Fort Worth Meet

Final approval for the site of a local airport may be forthcoming this morning from a meeting of the CAA Air Space Subcommittee in Ft. Worth. Marvin Miller, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Cook, Aviation Committee chairman, are representing Big Spring at the meeting.

Various prospective sites throughout the county have been submitted to the subcommittee previously. The local men should find out this morning if any of them have been approved for a municipal air field.

Chamber Manager Jimmie Greene said the Big Spring representatives are due back here today.

Ike Favors Another Atomic Conference

GENEVA (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, announced today that President Eisenhower favored a second world conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy to be held in two or three years.

He said it would be out of order for a formal proposal to be laid before the present meeting but added that the U. S. delegates to the U.N. presumably would initiate a proposal "in due course."

UNFINISHED BUSINESS FOR HOFHEINZ

Papers pile up as ouster fight hits climax

AT POLLS

Hofheinz Ouster Battle In Climax

HOUSTON (AP)—The feud between Mayor Roy Hofheinz and his city councilmen was decided at the polls today. Results of the special city election won't be known until after polls close tonight. Up for voter consideration were 19 proposed amendments to the City Charter. The first 18 were offered by the City Council, which has tried repeatedly to impeach the 42-year-old millionaire mayor. In substance they would remove "strong mayor" provisions of the City Charter. The 19th amendment was proposed by Hofheinz. It would end terms of the mayor, the eight councilmen and the city controller Jan. 2 and call a new city election for Nov. 19.

Hofheinz has predicted citizens will, in effect, turn out the entire amendment and rejecting all the rest. The Council has filed impeachment charges against Hofheinz which include an accusation he was aware of recently-disclosed scandals in the city Land Office. They also accuse Hofheinz of exerting wrongful pressure in behalf of a 20 per cent tax increase he tried to get adopted last December, and of failing to take action against city employees who voted illegally. Hofheinz, denying foreknowledge of the city Land Office irregularities, has charged the Council sought to blackmail him. He said they threatened to impeach him if he didn't call off his plans for an election on Amendment No. 19.

Arco Happy Over Niche In History

ARCO, Idaho (AP)—Atomic power has the people of Arco feeling higher than a space ship. "And naturally, they haven't started coming back to earth yet," former Idaho Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen said. That's because this little east central Idaho ranching center won worldwide fame last Friday with the disclosure it was the first town in history known to have been lighted by atomic energy. On the night of July 17 the Utah Power and Light Co. switched off the juice and let electricity flow into Arco's circuits from an Atomic Energy Commission experimental nuclear power plant 29 miles away. People are more excited about it now than they were on that historic night. Nobody knew what was happening then except town officials and the Power and Light people. Mayor Ralph M. Ellison even says the wrong date is going down in history. "It happened on July the 16—a Saturday night," he said. "I remember that as a fact. I don't know where they got that other date—but I know it was Saturday night."

made 'em think we're more important here than what we ever was." Paul Cross, publisher of Arco's weekly newspaper, ran off 150 extra copies of last Friday's edition. Tourists snapped up the extra papers. Cross ran off 150 more front pages yesterday, and they were selling fast, too. "So you see," he said, "people are still excited. In fact there's quite a move on foot to have a plaque or something like that put up here to commemorate the occasion."

Honors Paid Wagonseller

AUSTIN (AP)—State and military honors were paid Sen. Wayne Wagonseller, 34, in final rites here yesterday attended by some 300 legislative friends and colleagues. Burial was in the state cemetery after services in the Senate chamber where the body of the young Bowie lawmaker had laid in state during the afternoon.

Divorce To Unravel Schmidt-Fine Tangle

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Korean War B29 gunner whose wife said she wed another man in the belief he was dead has decided he'll unravel the marital tangle by seeking a divorce. But Airman Daniel Schmidt, 22, still hasn't made up his mind whether he will seek custody of his 2½-year-old son, whom he saw for the first time after emerging from 32 months imprisonment in Red China. Schmidt returned last week with 10 other airmen who were with him in the B29 when it was shot down. His divorce decision was announced yesterday by his attorney. It followed a face-to-face meeting at which auburn-haired Una Schmidt-Fine, 20, refused to leave Alford Fine, 21, a logger. "Dan wants whatever is best for the welfare of the boy," his attorney Howard Welch said, "and hasn't decided yet whether that would mean leaving him with the boy's mother or seeking custody." Welch said Schmidt would probably seek a divorce on general grounds—including extreme cruelty. "Just the fact that she's not living with Schmidt is enough grounds for extreme cruelty," he said. If Schmidt asks the court for the custody of Danny Jr. and wins, the youngster would live with Schmidt's mother Mrs. Nellie Peters, of Portland, Ore., Welch said. Una's attorney Harold Berliner, of Nevada City, would not comment on the possibility of a divorce or a child custody fight. Thomas J. Murray, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been in contact with Schmidt's attorney and the airman knows of the VFW's offer to finance a divorce. "Welch told me he had been retained by Schmidt as his counsel," said Murray, "and I assured him he will receive the full cooperation of the VFW—including association of the VFW—including association of the VFW—if he needs it." "If this turns out to be a child custody case it could be a winging and Daniel may need all the help he can get," Murray commented.

SEVILLA, Spain (AP)—The first Spanish jet plane built under the supervision of famed German aircraft designer Willy Messerschmidt was tested satisfactorily today. The plane is a fighter called HA 200 RL Saeta Dart.

Hoxie Rejects School Demand

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—A petition demanding that racial segregation be restored in the public schools was rejected last night by the Hoxie School Board. Foes of integration immediately announced that they would present the board with petitions demanding that its members resign. The leader for the pro-segregation group, farmer Herbert Brewer, said 1,063 had signed the petition. The board's statement, released by President Leslie Howell while about 200 persons milled around the corridors of City Hall, merely said that the board had decided to retain integration in the schools. About 25 Negroes were admitted to the white schools, which have an enrollment of about 1,000, at the start of the fall term last month. School starts early here, then recesses during the cotton harvest so the children can work in the fields.

Grandmother Newest Deputy In Tom Green

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Tom Green County's newest deputy sheriff is a red-haired grandmother who doesn't like guns but knows how to use them. Mrs. Capitola Stone, 45, a former Menard County treasurer named to the deputy post yesterday, learned about guns as a West Texas ranch girl.

At Least 50 Arrested In Peron 'Assassination' Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Government charges that "Catholic Nationalists" and opposition politicians had plotted to shoot President Juan Peron brought Argentina to its greatest state of tension since the June 16 revolt. Police said more than 50 persons had been arrested. Other sources indicated as many as 200 might have been jailed. Previous announcements of such plots during the nine years of Peron's regime have signaled widespread round-ups of his enemies. This could be the end of the "pacification" campaign Peron launched after the abortive navy uprising two months ago. It also could mean a new flareup in the feud between the President and the Roman Catholic Church—mostly dormant since the revolt —and a new crackdown on the opposition parties which have refused to go along with the pacification campaign unless the government ends its restrictive measures. Adding to the unrest were new antigovernment demonstrations, in front of Buenos Aires' Metropolitan Cathedral last night and earlier yesterday in the central Argentine city of Cordoba. Police used tear gas and fire hoses to scatter the crowds, arresting about 40 demonstrators in the capital and 15 in Cordoba.

Police Seize 2 In Guerrilla Crackdown

LONDON (AP)—Police seized two men in an ammunition laden car today as Scotland Yard and army agents pushed their nationwide hunt for Irish Republican Army (IRA) men blamed for raids on British military depots.

The dragnet caught the men in a station wagon near Hainault forest, Essex. Police found dozens of rounds of ammunition stacked on the back seat. The two men held for questioning were said to speak with Irish accents.

Meanwhile, detectives scoured the haunts and hangouts of London's Irish Nationalist groups seeking clues to identities of IRA men who raided the Arborfield Depot near Reading Saturday and stole 68 firearms and about 80,000 rounds of ammunition.

Two more abortive raids were made yesterday in British camps in Wales and England by men believed to be IRA members.

Fears grew that the swoops by the outlawed Irish Republican Army, dedicated to uniting Northern and Southern Ireland—by force if necessary—might lead to guerrilla warfare in Ulster, the six Northern counties of Ireland still under the British crown.

Police already have found three of the vehicles believed used in the Arborfield raid.

Fears grew that the swoops by the outlawed Irish Republican Army, dedicated to uniting Northern and Southern Ireland—by force if necessary—might lead to guerrilla warfare in Ulster, the six Northern counties of Ireland still under the British crown.

The British War Office meantime clamped a tight guard on its armories and special watch was being kept on all means of exit from England in an effort to prevent smuggling of the arms to Ireland.

The avowed aim of the IRA, banned in the Irish Republic as well as the United Kingdom, is to unite the six Ulster counties of Northern Ireland with the 26 counties of the republic. The six Northern counties are part of the U. K. under the British crown.

The Conservative Daily Sketch speculated that the IRA may adopt guerrilla tactics in Northern Ireland, pointing out that a "few thousand terrorists in Malaya have defied the might of the empire far longer than Hitler did."

The News Chronicle and Daily Mirror said the IRA has a definite timetable for an invasion of Ulster. The News Chronicle said part of the plot would be to seize the Dublin broadcasting station and appeal for an Ireland-wide uprising against Britain.

Both Irish governments warned against any such violence.

George B. Hanna, Northern Ireland's home minister, said in a speech last night in Belfast that any IRA invasion would be met by 13,000 policemen and the "loyal people of Northern Ireland, standing side by side, and I promise you, armed to defend themselves."

James Dillon, the Irish Republic's agriculture minister, said in Donegal the partition of Ireland "will never be accepted by the Irish people," but he warned of the dangers of civil war and appealed for patience.

Danny Ryan, IRA recruiting officer in Britain, told a London crowd Sunday the "Republican Army (IRA) is an army and it will take the field against the British army when the time is ripe."

Ignoring the presence of Scotland Yard inspectors in the crowd, Ryan said "the casualties will be greater" as the fight for unification of Ireland goes on.

Police took the names of IRA officials at the meeting where Ryan spoke but no arrests were made.

The British press demanded aggressive government action to curb terrorist operations.

ROK Rejects Red Unity Parley Bid

TOKYO (AP)—Top Chinese and Korean Red leaders chorused a new demand yesterday for a Far East conference to unify Korea.

The proposal got short shrift in South Korea. A government spokesman in Seoul denounced it as "nothing but the usual Communist trick to gain more time for another armed aggression." He added, "We never believe in any talks with the Communists and we refuse to talk to them."

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and Commander in Chief Chu Teh both called for the conference, provided for in the Korean armistice.

North Korea's Premier Marshal Kim Il Sung went further and suggested a mutual North-South undertaking not to use force, and "speedy convening" of a North-South conference to "discuss the question of Korea's unification."

The Peking radio, heard here, carried all three speeches, made on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of Korea's liberation from Japan.

Chu Teh, speaking at a rally in Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, said Communist China was in "complete agreement" with the "positive proposals" put forward by Kim and that the "Chinese people . . . will do their utmost to support them."

Voluntary Credit Bar Drops Home Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics attributes an 11 per cent drop in July home construction chiefly to a voluntary tightening of housing credit. The BLS reported yesterday that nonfarm housing starts in July fell to 115,000 units from 129,000 in June.

U.S. Tells Uranium Production Method

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

GENEVA (AP)—The United States told the world in detail today how metal—is basic material for atomic energy production—on a large scale and at low cost.

The operational technique was described at the 72-nation atom-for-peace conference by Dr. H. A. Wilhelm of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's contract laboratory at Iowa State College.

He said the technique was intended to be detailed enough to allow uranium metal producers in any country of the world to duplicate the process.

The process, he said, involved mixing uranium compound—uranium tetrafluoride—with magnesium metal and placing the mixture in a furnace to initiate a "reduction" reaction leading to the production of uranium metal itself.

Uranium metal, as distinguished from raw uranium ore, is the basic material of atomic energy production for both peaceful and military uses.

Wilhelm hinted that the method he described played the key role in the wartime production of the metal for the atom bomb.

Another American scientist, Dr. M. Calvin, of the University of California at Berkeley, reported a major advance toward solving and duplicating the process of photosynthesis—nature's method of supplying food to the world.

He said he and his associates had identified all the steps in one of two stages by which green plants under sunlight convert water and carbon dioxide into food-stuffs. He said they had detected every stage of the process by which carbon dioxide is "reduced" to form carbohydrates—sugars and starches.

Soviet scientists told the conference last week they believe they are on the verge of solving the mystery of photosynthesis.

Calvin said the process remaining to be solved is how solar energy is absorbed by chlorophyll or how the green pigment of plants is used to "split" molecules of water to supply hydrogen needed to "reduce" carbon dioxide.

He said a new theory is that within plants is a kind of "battery" made of layers of chlorophyll between microscopically thin layers of fat and protein, and this absorbs sunlight and uses it to split the water.

Artificial duplication of photosynthesis would greatly increase the world's food supply.

Crewmen Land Runaway Blimp

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP)—A damaged, runaway Navy blimp was set down in a cornfield by three crew members last night after drifting helplessly for 15 miles.

None of the three civilian crewmen aboard the 350-foot airship was hurt. The craft had broken away from ground crews after an initial landing at the Lakehurst Naval Air Station in which her landing gear and both propellers were smashed. Five crewmen jumped to the ground. The pilot, copilot and a mechanic stayed aboard to dump the ship's gasoline and water supply.

The Navy said this made the blimp too light to remain aground. Off it went, and floated helplessly for 93 minutes. It was finally brought down by releasing helium gas.

Murder Charges

TRINITY (AP)—Murder charges have been filed against John H. Gullory, 25, Kinder, La., in the slaying of J. D. Greer, about 30, a Huntsville, Tex., painter. Greer died yesterday of injuries suffered in a fight between the two in front of a liquor store here Saturday night.

Lions Club Camp Has New Use For Three R's

By ANNE LA FEVER
To members of the Lions Club and the children who attend the Crippled Children's Camp near Kerrville, the Three R's mean something different from "reading, ritalin and rhythmic." This camp, sponsored by the Lions of Texas, is based on giving crippled children Rest, Relaxation and Rehabilitation.

Three local children returned Saturday from the camp. They are Jimmy Lee Barteo, son of Mrs. Nevis Barteo, 604 Runnels, Rosalita Arista, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Arista, 404 NW 6th, and Donald Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Matthews, 1600 State.

Mr. and Mrs. George Melear, accompanied by Mrs. Matthews, made the trip to Kerrville to bring the group home. Attending the camp from the latter part of June until the first week in July were Sandra Sue Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin, Sterling City Rt., and Roger Samuel Bass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Bass of Elbow.

The camp day starts at 7 a.m. with reveille, followed by breakfast and a cabin clean-up. Assembly meets at 9:45 a.m. and at 10 a.m., the groups are taught arts and crafts. These classes include basket-weaving, beading, shell-work, leatherworking, metal work and painting, among others. Each child tries to finish some article to take home.

Swimming is the next activity, and it is done in a pool specially designed and equipped for handicapped children. Here, the campers are constantly under the supervision of instructors. Unit games complete the morning schedule up to lunch; these include such games as darts, checkers, table tennis, shuffleboard, archery, dominoes, horse shoe pitching, jacks and ping pong.

After lunch, there is a rest period until 3 p.m. when more work is done in the arts and crafts division, or groups prepare for a "camp-out." This is an excursion to Inspiration Point for a night spent in the open. Cooking is done out-of-doors, with story-telling and songs around a campfire, and the campers sleep in the open. Each group is taken out for a night spent in this way.

Swimming is again enjoyed in the afternoon, with an hour set aside for dressing and stunt practice. At 5:30 p.m., the evening meal is served and at 6:30, there is an evening program composed of stunts by various units of the campers.

At the end of the program each evening, a Friendship Circle is formed with all campers holding crossed hands while they participate in an appropriate ceremony of song and prayer. Taps sound at 8:30.

Two publications are put out by the boys and girls taking part in the camp. One, a newspaper titled "The Lion's Tale," contains little stories, poems and songs by the campers themselves. "The Crutch" is in book form, and it serves the purpose of an annual, summing up the various highlights and activities of the sessions.

On the last night of each two-week period, an awards program is held, in which different campers are recognized. Awards are given for phases of development in swimming, such as sinker, cork, life buoy and life savers. The crafts also come in for recognition, as do the outstanding game players. The top award is given to the best camper, the one who has improved the most of all the groups.

Transportation is supplied by the Lions Clubs, whose members have various ways of adding to the permanent fund. Active memberships are available for $10 per year for all Texas members of the club. The public may buy sustaining memberships for $5 or more, while Life Memberships can be had for $100 or more.

Other methods of raising funds are the setting aside of the equivalent of $3 per member per year to be used in the maintenance and operation of the camp. Special projects, such as carnivals, home talent shows, minstrel and sports events, are benefits for the fund. Memorial contributions from individuals, groups or estates are welcomed, and some clubs have a project of selling Christmas cards.

The camp, which is a state-wide project of the club was opened in June, 1953, for six sessions of camping of two weeks each. Bunk houses are designed to hold 20 campers and six counselors. All buildings are of permanent construction and are provided with features making the use of crutches and wheel chairs safe and easy.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Birth Of Four Babies Hasn't Ruined Figure

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Tido Fedderson's fresh young beauty won her a screen test with Cecil B. De Mille when she was eighteen. But at that time she was planning to marry so she did not take advantage of a free trip to Hollywood and the possibility of becoming a movie star.

Twenty years and four children later she met Mr. De Mille at a party and when she reminded him of the incident, he asked, "Would you like to work for me now? You know the offer still holds." So as a result of this conversation, Tido went to Paramount for a part in the picture "The Ten Commandments."

"It is a compliment to you," I told Mrs. Fedderson at the studio yesterday, "that Mr. De Mille was still interested. Have you worked very hard to retain your youth and beauty?"

"After the last baby was born I was most determined to regain my figure, but my doctor would not permit me to exercise until my child was ten days old," she told me.

"I found, too, that doctors are more insistent about dieting. I wasn't allowed to gain more than 18 pounds. Keeping a constant check on your weight as you go along makes the task of getting back to your normal weight much easier."

"Tido's nails are so long and perfectly shaped that I asked for her secret."

"I never file them dry," she confessed. "I shape them with an emery board, wetting the nails first. I use oil on my cuticle every night, massaging them until the circulation is stimulated. I put white iodine in with the oil. This keeps them from getting brittle."

Tido is also working in TV these days. "My husband produces the 'Millionaire' series and I appear in all of them," she explained. "I appeared in the first show and it went over so well that he considers me sort of a mascot now."

"How does your husband feel about your having a career?" I asked.

"Oh! It was his idea," she said. "Do you have any tips to give on how to keep a marriage happy?"

"Never let your husband feel anything in the world is more important to you than he is," Tido said. "I never neglect my children but my husband knows he comes first."

Birthdays Celebrated By Forsan People

NEW COUNTRY CAPTAIN

Ingredients: One frying chicken (about 2 1/2 pounds ready-to-cook weight), 3/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 4 to 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1-3 cup finely diced onion, 1-3 cup finely diced green pepper, 1 clove garlic (crushed), 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 teaspoon dried crushed thyme, 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, 3 tablespoons currants (washed and drained), blanched toasted almonds.

Method: Have chicken cut so there are 2 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 legs, 2 second joints, 2 pieces of bony back. (Save wing tips, neck and giblets for stock.) Wash and clean chicken pieces in cold water; drain. Mix flour, salt and pepper; coat chicken pieces with mixture. Heat butter in 12-inch skillet until very hot; add chicken and brown well on all sides; remove chicken pieces. Add onion, green pepper, garlic, curry powder and thyme to dripping in skillet; stir well over low heat to get up browned particles; add stewed tomatoes, including liquid in can. Return chicken to skillet, skin side up. Cover skillet and cook slowly until tender—20 to 30 minutes. Stir currants into sauce. Serve accompanied by toasted almonds. Serve with the following menu:

GOP Chides Demos Over Hoover Sniping

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Republican senators said today they charge that former President Herbert Hoover "stacked" his reorganization commission task forces to indicate the Democrats are "running against Hoover again."

The Democratic National Committee said in its Monthly Digest yesterday that President Eisenhower had given the Hoover Commission a political tinge and Hoover had picked personnel who wanted to "turn back the clock" on government policy.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) denounced this as a "sly political slur that reflects on those who made it," adding: "The Democrats will find they are not running against Mr. Hoover next year but against President Eisenhower."

He said the Hoover Commission and its task forces "have rendered an outstanding, unselfish and highly patriotic service to the country."

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said in a separate interview that the criticism of the former Republican President shows "just how barren the Democrats are of real issues for a presidential campaign."

"You'd think they would let Mr. Hoover have a few years of peace but they're running against him again," he said.

Sen. Williams (R-Del.) said that "for 20 years the Democrats have been running against Hoover and maybe they figure they ought to try it again."

Williams expressed the opinion that "the commission has done a good job and if we would carry out its recommendations we would save a tremendous amount of money."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, predicted that at its next session Congress will enact some—but not all—of the Hoover Commission proposals.

The commission made extensive recommendations which it said would save the government up to $4 billion dollars yearly. Congress failed to act on any of its major proposals in the last session.

The commission said a total of 10 billions could be added to Treasury funds by the sale of surplus and unneeded property assets, liquidation of certain lending agencies and curtailment of the ex-

Donald A. Quarles, right, takes the oath as secretary of the Air Force in a Pentagon ceremony from Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker. With them is Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson. penses of some bureaus.

Democrats have assailed the commission's power report, which contended that the taxpayers are subsidizing the operations of multi-purpose dam developments which benefit only 10 per cent of the public.

The Digest article said that "in case after case," Hoover had "stacked" the task forces with men who have vested interests in a given point of view and therefore cannot be considered detached experts."

"Mr. Hoover's most flagrant abuse of this appointment authority is his selection of the 26 persons making up the task force on water power and resource policy," the magazine said. "No one of the 26 represents what might be called the 'public power' point of view..."

The Digest said the previous Republican Congress changed the law so that the Hoover Commission, which under President Truman had been divided equally among Democrats and Republicans, was not required to be bipartisan.

"But President Eisenhower must also bear a major responsibility, since it was his decision to fill his four posts on the commission with three Republicans and only one Democrat, thus giving the GOP a 7-3 majority," the magazine said.

It added, however, that subsequently "Mr. Eisenhower has carefully tried to avoid placing his stamp of approval directly on any specific recommendation of the Hoover Commission."

Judge Adds To Trimming

WELLINGTON, England (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Leahy, 31, admitted in court she had forged a prescription for 320 slimming tablets—to trim her 238 pounds to something more suitable to her five-foot height.

The tubby housewife told the judge yesterday her doctor prescribed only 60 pills at a time, and she was not getting the desired results.

The judge fined her 6 pounds ($16.80).

Mrs. Leahy is now down to 168.

German Saves Buried Children

GIESSEN, Germany (AP)—U. S. authorities told today how a quick-witted German laborer rescued two young American children buried in an earth cavern.

Lt. Walter S. Bloomfield's children, David, 8, Robert, 6, and Susan, 5—had been playing at an American construction project here Friday when Heinrich Trebert heard a cry.

He dropped his tools and ran to the spot. Robert was unhurt, but David was buried up to his neck.

Putting his ear to the ground, Trebert thought he heard another child's breathing. He dug down and found Susan. The little girl seemed lifeless when uncovered, but Trebert revived her with artificial respiration. Then he dug out David and hailed a passing American sergeant to rush the two children to medical aid.

They were still under hospital care today for bruises and shock, but will be released soon.

Bloomfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bloomfield, Yonkers, N.Y.

Ike Gets Down To Real Vacation—On Fishing Trip

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower gets down to real vacationing today with a trip high into the Rocky Mountains for several days of trout fishing.

The President arranged to travel by automobile shortly after noon to Fraser, Colo., about 70 miles northwest of Denver on the western slope of the Continental Divide for a stay at the secluded Byer's Peak Ranch of an old friend, Aksel Nielsen.

Tomorrow Eisenhower will be joined there by his 7-year-old grandson David, who stands to get some expert advice from the President on how to cast dry and wet flies for trout. The youngster, vacationing now at a boys camp at Estes Park, Colo., never has done any fishing.

In advance of departing for Fraser, the President planned a brief stop at his Lowry Air Force Base office, and then a round of golf at Denver's Cherry Hills Country Club. The drive to the fishing camp was scheduled after lunch here at the home of Eisenhower's mother-in-law Mrs. John S. Doud. Eisenhower arrived here Sunday night from Washington for an extended work-and-play vacation. Yesterday he put in 2½ hours at his tiny office at Lowry and then went out to Cherry Hills for golf with former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado; William W. Flenniken, Denver oil man and the club champion; and Rip Arnold, the club pro.

Thornton, Arnold and Flenniken—all crack golfers—spotted the President an 18-stroke handicap for 18 holes, but were ready to begin whittling it down at the end of the round.

Eisenhower actually had an 89, eighteen over par, but the other members of the foursome detected a much better presidential game in the immediate offing—when he has had a few days to polish it a bit.

The Chief Executive carded eights on two holes.

U.S., Red China Talks Recessed

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. and Communist Chinese ambassadors met for nearly two and a half hours today and then recessed their talks until Thursday. They gave no indication of any progress toward the release of 41 Americans held by Peking.

At the end of their session behind closed doors, the negotiators said only that they would again take up the issue of civilians repatriation at their next session.

The meeting was the seventh, and one of the longest, between U. Alexis Johnson, U. S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia, and Wang Ping-nan, Red China's envoy to Poland.

Ike Knows Where To Go On Vacation

Next to not having any chance for a vacation at all the worst thing is to have the time but to be unable to make up your mind what to do with it. We have read about an outfit somewhere in the Atlantic Seaboard vicinity that specializes in surprise tours; that is it sells bus trips to people who don't know where the bus is going, or what they'll see on the trip. That must be a wonderful thing for people who can't make up their minds, and there seem to be more people who can't make up their minds about where to spend a vacation than any other one decision one must make. There usually is a conflict among members of the family, and that doesn't help the situation much.

President Eisenhower doesn't have to bother with decisions about vacations. He has settled on Colorado as the principal theater of recreation and enjoyment, and he took off Sunday for that favorite haunt of a good many Texans. Perhaps Ike's choice of Colorado was dictated by his Texas blood. He will return East to Philadelphia August 24 and his Mamie, who remained behind at the Gettysburg farmhouse while the President gets the fishing fever out of his system, will go back to Denver with him.

New Troubles For U. S. In Korea

An ugly situation has developed in South Korea which has resulted in the death of some and the wounding of several American soldiers and South Korean voters. The report of the South Korean police regarding this incident differed from the official U. S. account. The incident climaxed more than a week of demonstrations by South Koreans probably inspired by, and certainly not seriously opposed, by Syngman Rhee's government, which had demanded that the Czech and Polish members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission leave South Korea by midnight Saturday (tonight).

lished under the truce, which consists of five United Nations Command officers and five Communist officers. Nor is it to be confused with the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, which completed its work long ago and disbanded. The NNSC investigates, at MAC request complaints of truce violations outside the demilitarized zone in Korea. It is in pursuit of these duties that the Poles and Czechs, true to Communist form, have harassed the people of South Korea and in general caused as much trouble as possible.

Talbot Paid For Mistake In Judgment

WASHINGTON — They blew taps on Harold Talbot's service as Secretary of the Air Force — and the Secretary of Defense pinned a medal on him for his standing performance as a public official. But that didn't erase the stigma he will carry for life — the stigma of a cruel system of politics which crucifies a man forever because he makes a single mistake in judgment.

talbot on the administration and hence there was only one thing for him to do — to resign. It is interesting to note the condemnation which swept over Talbot like a tidal wave. It came from the "Right" and the "Left." The "Right" saw danger to the administration politically. The "Left" saw a chance to bite back because of the improprieties charged to Truman officials in the last administration.

Inspiration For Heart Victims

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democrats' 47-year-old leader in the Senate, is an inspiration for anyone who has a heart attack. He's just recovering from one but shows no sign of regret or self-pity. There seems no doubt the exhausting hours and endless details and worry of his work as majority leader, the toughest job in the Senate, brought on his attack July 2. He left the hospital Aug. 7 and is resting at home now.

Johnson's operations is detailed planning done in such a way that he got senators with opposing views to work together in shoving legislation through. Was this his whole technique? No, he said, he believed in showing consideration for other people. They always appreciated it, he said, and proved it by their cooperation.

He likewise is chief of state—in effect, and uncrowned king with all manner of ceremonial duties ranging from the entertainment of visiting foreign dignitaries to buying the year's first Buddy Poppy, or launching the Washington Senators on another staid season.

Presidents Have No Privacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The minute a man is elected President of the United States he moves into a goldfish bowl illuminated by searchlights. A president has many things — power, prestige, a standard of living few millionaires could afford. But he's denied one thing any Joe Doakes can achieve — privacy.

Herbert Hoover used to say a president can be by himself only on two occasions — when fishing and when praying. Even that isn't quite true any more. President Eisenhower often has a gallery when he fishes, and crowds form to watch him go to church.

Privacy? Most men would count it a small price to pay for a sure place in history. Only the 33 men who have held the presidency of the United States could tell them how great the price really is.

Around The Rim

He May Cut Down On Traffic, Too

You may have noticed a little story on the front page of the Herald last Friday stating that the Mexican State of Chihuahua has a new "reform" governor, Gen. Jesus Loyosa has started an anti-vice crusade in the border town of Juarez, which is across from El Paso.

personally wouldn't mind paying them a small amount extra for whatever I may buy there. But when they make the prices unreasonable for no more reason than that they think we can afford it... it's a little too much.

It goes without saying that almost every one of the Mexican border towns could stand a little cleaning up. Juarez is probably no worse than any of the others, but it sure would make visits to that country more enjoyable if morality were returned to it.

Back to the campaign of Loyosa, I think that he is shooting primarily at straw men. Except for small, exclusive places, not open to the average tourist, there are no gambling houses. It certainly is nothing like Nevada's Las Vegas. No one has ever tried to sell me any narcotics and I know of no incidents of this type.

However, it is only a step in the right direction. I frequent Juarez and Acuna (across from Del Rio) quite often because of a mania for the bull fights. I would like to add my two bits worth on the reform.

The American authorities should take a hand in the matter to a certain extent. Almost anytime you are in Acuna or Juarez, you can find many, many teenagers drinking freely at the bars, etc. These kids should not be allowed to cross the border without the benefit of their parents' guiding hand.

It would be much more enjoyable to visit Mexico if there weren't so many people eager to get their hands on every dollar you might have with you. Or even if they weren't so brazen about taking it.

If we don't allow the teen-agers to drink intoxicants here and, in general, run amok; why allow them such easy access to a place where they can?

We've Conquered Atom, Why Not Zipper?

Man is a marvel! He has already put the Indian sign or the old whammy on atomic power. And in another 20 years, he will have the hydrogen potential jumping through hoops. The guy is good, all right, and no use denying it.

Man had never been trussed up by a zipper. The term "solitary confinement" has taken on a whole new set of connotations since the zipper hit the market. Houdini might have dealt with it, but not the average man.

But—this lone dissenter would have been a lot more impressed with the atom-for-peace revelations at Geneva last week if ingenious homo sapiens had only been able to perfect a sure-fire, foolproof zipper in the last two decades.

In a New York apartment house, an elevator operator who couldn't cope with stuck zippers wouldn't last 48 hours on the job.

Why, if man is as smart as he's cracked up to be, has he been unable to invent a zipper that will work unfailingly all the time and not get its wearer into a jam at crucial moments? It is one woman's opinion that more persons are destined to perish through high-blood pressure and heat failure brought on by stuck zippers than will ever go to glory via the atom or hydrogen bomb.

Yes, YES, YES! I know all the zipper companies announced more than a year ago that they were about to flood the market with a perfect zipper that would always and eternally zip. If it's a zipper, this zipper would automatically unstick itself. This dream zipper was to be man's undoing. And woman's, too.

It took the zipper to prove that one of the greatest scientists of the world, Sir Isaac Newton, was talking through his high hat when he opined that everything that goes up must come down.

In the meantime, I am desolate. If my immortal soul is in jeopardy, it is not from treading the primrose path, or trifling with strong waters, or succumbing to the wicked allurements of New York life. It is because I have been caught once too often in a zipper.

Anyone Want An Impossible Job?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the first time in Hollywood memory, a producer is conducting a worldwide search for a costume designer.

med from the dearth of ideas that the Hollywood designers came up with. So far, the local scissors men haven't come up with anything better than giant-sized fig leaves, flesh-colored tights, tree bark wrap armbands and bird feather armbands.

And what's really strange about the search is that the job requires costumes for the original Adam and Eve, but no audists need apply.

Otherwise, he notes, there will be no dramatic impact in the scene where Adam and Eve are banished from the Garden of Eden and try to cover their bodies for the first time.

Somewhere, Vanessa Brown and her are convinced, there's a genius who can figure out a way to costume their forthcoming "Mark Twain's Adam and Eve."

Costumes must be in good taste, says Franklyn, because there are so many love scenes. When Adam and Eve aren't kissing in her bower, the seductive Lilith is bathing her eyelashes at Adam to get him to taste the forbidden fruit.

Non-Driver Causes Multiple Injuries

World Trade Hopes Pinned On Geneva

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen hope—as distinguished from expect—that Geneva will produce some positive pledge of more peaceful times and a token step toward relaxation of curbs on world trade.

Russia wants but Russia has few things to trade that this country wants.

But trade between the East and West is another question. In calling for a world economic conference, Russia apparently would like to boost its trade. But many American businessmen take the view that the most that can be expected, if the cold war is sidetracked, would be a moderate and gradual rise in East-West trade.

Trade between the East and West already has perked up some recently. It is currently the highest in three years, but is insignificant in comparison with total U.S. foreign trade.

'Teahouse' Top Show At State Fair Musicals

By MARSHALL COMERER
DALLAS (U)—The Teahouse of the August Moon opened last night as the final attraction of the State Fair Musicals 1955 season and proved to be quite a rollicking evening—the best show of the summer.

This is the first time that the Musicals have presented a play in their summer seasons, which have been made up of musical comedies and operettas. But if the size and enthusiastic reception of the opening night audience are indicators, Teahouse may set some kind of an attendance record during these next two weeks to go with its Pulitzer Prize and Critics' Circle Award.

The action of the play concerns the efforts of the U.S. Army to rehabilitate Tobiki village in the island of Okinawa near the end of World War II. But lectures on democracy, a new school building and the Pentagon's Plan B take many an amusing turn in the hands of an easy-going captain and the villagers who would rather have a teahouse.

The key character in the play is Sakini, an Okinawan who was employed as an interpreter for Capt. Frisby. He acts as narrator of the story for the audience, a job he does with chuckles and Oriental philosophy. Burgess Meredith, who created the role on Broadway, turned in a sparkling performance last night and received ringing applause at the end of the play.

He was ably supported by other members of the national company, many of whom were in the Broadway production. They included Scott McKay as the lovable, easy-going Capt. Frisby, Victory Sutherland as Col. Purdy, Barbara Luna as Lotus Blossom, and Bernard Hughes as Capt. McLean.

Allies Agree Guard Must Remain Up

WASHINGTON (U)—America's European allies have agreed that the Western bloc must maintain its military power at a high level if the United States, Britain and France are to conduct further effective peace talks with the Russians.

Officials reported today that since the summit conference at Geneva last month there have been several exchanges of views in the North Atlantic Treaty Council at Paris. The 15 member governments are agreed, they said, that there is no evidence yet on the part of the Communists that would justify any changes in the scheduled Western defense buildup.

The Soviet government announced Friday night that it had decided to reduce Russian armed forces by 640,000 men by Dec. 15. The United States, Britain and France are expected to confer with Soviet ministers on the move. Over the weekend they welcomed it as a step in the direction of reducing armaments but they were frankly suspicious of whether the Soviets would make the full cut and just what Russian intentions were.

Barring some surprise move that would drastically alter Western thinking, they seem certain to go into the foreign ministers' conference with Russia at Geneva Oct. 27 in as strong a position as they held during the top-level talks last month.

But diplomatic experts are becoming increasingly uncertain how long this will be true. They expect Russia to make a big play in coming months for public opinion pressure to force cuts in Western arms expenditures and troop levies. Their gestures cost them little and their promises cannot be checked.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) commented the Russian move "might have more meaning if we knew what percentage of total Russian military manpower it represents."

RED PROBE

Show Business Witnesses Balky

NEW YORK (U)—A congressional probe of Red activity in show business brought up a solid line of opening-day witnesses firmly opposed to answering questions.

Altogether, six actors and an actress were called before the House Un-American Activities Committee yesterday and each in turn refused to answer when asked about communism. When one declared this refusal contained no implication of guilt, Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) snapped back:

"You can refuse to answer and we can all draw whatever inference we wish."

The probe was denounced as a "star chamber procedure" by actor Lou Polan. Ignoring the committee counsel and Walter's banishing gavel, Polan read a statement arguing that the committee lacked authority to conduct the investigation. At the end he announced:

"I refuse to answer any questions that this committee puts before me." His defiance brought applause from the hearing audience, but Walter warned it could bring a citation for contempt.

Most witnesses complained that the committee's questions invaded their privacy and threatened the constitutional right of free association. One of these was Phil Leeds, 39, who played in the recent stage hit "Can Can," and on several TV shows. He declared:

"The committee is invading upon my privacy as an American citizen. In America you can believe in anything. You can believe in Yogi Berra or that lanolin will save the world."

At the end of the day, Walter commented:

"I am sure that these people have demonstrated that there is something to be concealed in the framework of the (theatrical) unions."

Unions repeatedly mentioned during the hearing were Actors Equity and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Five witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, which protects a citizen from self-incrimination. Two who simply based their refusal on an alleged lack of authority on the part of the committee were Polan and actor George Tyme.

Tyme, who recently appeared in the stage show "Lunatics and Lovers," challenged the committee, saying it had "no right to invade my inner beliefs, my conscience and my associations."

Polan, who is now playing the sheriff in the hit play "Bus Stop," called the investigation "a lawless effort to censor the legitimate theater or control the entertainment."

"I think the purpose of this committee is to throw fear into the theater," declared another actor, Martin Wolfson, 51, a veteran Broadway performer.

"This is an attack on the theater," said Stanley Prager, 38, a comedian now appearing in the musical hit "The Pajama Game." He continued, "I believe that what I think and say and with whom I associate is not this committee's concern."

However, Prager came the closest

Her 'Illusion' Was Contagious

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—"This may sound illogical," a Vanderbilt University student told her psychology professor yesterday, "but there's a bull in your office."

"Nothing ever sounds illogical," began Dr. Stanford C. Erickson. Then he turned and faced a young bull calf, a fugitive from the stockyards here.

The bull was caught after smashing equipment and sending students and secretaries scurrying.

Probe Chief Sees Red Cells In Government

NEW YORK (U)—Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) says testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee which he heads has disclosed the existence of Communist cells in government circles.

He said last night the committee intends to launch a full-scale probe of Communist infiltration in government in February.

Preliminary investigation and examination of witnesses under oath has shown "Communist cells in the United States Senate, the War Labor Board and the National Labor Relations Board," Walter said.

He explained, he meant staff employees of the Senate and not senators.

Walter, who is here in connection with the current probe of Red infiltration of the theater, addressed a rally of the Alliance, Inc., which describes itself as an anti-Communist organization which does research work on subversive activities.

The meeting was opened by Archibald B. Roosevelt, the group's president, who asked, "Is Joe McCarthy out of business?" "No!" roared the audience.

In his speech, Walter said: "In executive session held by the committee, we heard witnesses testify under oath that there was a Communist cell in the United States Senate. Another witness swore of Communist cells and infiltration in the War Labor Board and the National Labor Relations Board."

The War Labor Board to which Walter referred went out of operation in January, 1946.

Walter said information collected by his committee is "beyond the imagination of anyone."

Reds Interview Justice Douglas

LONDON (U)—U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, who used to be regarded by the Russians as a spy, was the subject of a friendly interview broadcast by Moscow radio today.

The jurist is touring the Soviet Union with Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Committee on Government Operations.

Moscow radio said one of its correspondents, talking with Douglas at the Kaganovich cooperative farm near Tashkent, South Kazakhstan, asked the justice how the Soviet people were receiving him.

"Very well," Douglas was quoted as replying. "The people here are very friendly and very kind."

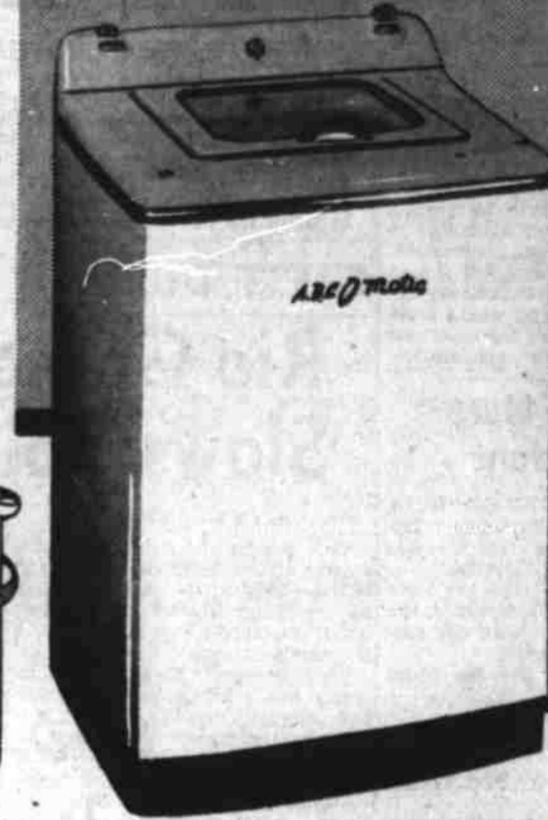

The broadcast said Douglas told the interviewer he and Kennedy had chosen their own route and were free to go where they pleased. They are now heading into Siberia.

6 Completions, 7 Locations Are Reported, Including 1 Wildcat

Six completions and seven locations were reported in the area today. One of the new locations, in Mitchell County, is a wildcat.

Glasscock

Harry M. Frank No. 1 TXL is to be a new Spraberry Trend venture about 25 miles southeast of Midland. Site is 1,320 from north and east lines, 5-36-45, T&P survey, on a 320-acre lease. It will be drilled by rotary to 8,100 feet.

Andrews

Standard No. 1-BR University is the wildcat which has the 400 feet of proven pay in the Wolfcamp, and as yet there has been no water.

Borden

Blanco Oil No. 247 Canon et al. in the JoMill field, is one of today's completions. It flowed 188 barrels of oil through an 18-64th inch choke, and there was no water.

Dawson

Cities Service No. 1 Hendon, wildcat five miles southwest of Wells, is drilling below 9,053 feet in line and shale. Site of this prospect is C SW NE, T3-M-EL&R survey.

Phillips of Fairview; Shirley Fryar of Knott; A. J. Pirkie of the Moore community, and Cecil Leatherwood of the Cauble community.

Officers of the new organization are Cecil Leatherwood, president and manager; C. A. Nichols, vice president, and W. H. Rogers, secretary and treasurer.

The association is set up to handle farm labor altogether, and will follow the wording of the charter, which reads, in part, "for the purpose of forming a non-profit marketing association without capital stock under the laws of the State of Texas."

Leatherwood said the company was interested only in handling farm labor and did not intend to sell any kind of merchandise. It will deal primarily with Mexican National laborers and will use the Big Spring Labor Camp as an unloading base.

Laborers will be furnished for members only, but any farmer who wishes to join the new organization may come to the office at 201 Runnels and make application for membership.

Leatherwood recently resigned as manager of the Howard County Farm Association and as a director in the Howard County Farm Bureau. Other directors who resigned with Leatherwood were C. A. Nichols and W. A. Rogers.

The Howard County Farm Association will continue to operate in the same manner, according to Ralph White, bureau president. He said they had contacted a man with considerable experience in handling braceros and would probably hire him within the next few days to manage the association.

CREST DUE

Rio Grande Rise Slows Tourists

Only tourist and emergency auto traffic moved between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Tuesday as the rising Rio Grande reached about 10 feet, some 8 feet above its normal level.

The approaches to the low-water truck bridge were dynamited Monday but the higher railroad bridge wasn't threatened by the flood which may crest at 16 feet or higher late Tuesday night.

The flood crest isn't expected to be a serious threat to the storied cities. Elsewhere Tuesday, the Weather Bureau said the state was virtually dry once more with the only rain reported since midnight at Galveston, Gulf Isle pleasure resort.

A dry air mass that has kept temperatures at subnormal, comfortable levels for several days was still at work Tuesday. Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 62 at Lubbock to 80 at Corpus Christi.

Most of the state, weather observers said, was clear with some cloudiness in the Panhandle and along the upper coast.

Tuesday temperatures were expected to be changed little from Monday's when no weather station reported as much as 100 degrees. The range was from Alice's high maximum of 98 to Galveston's low maximum of 83.

W. W. Murray staked his No. 1 C. C. Thompson as a wildcat about 3 1/2 miles southwest of Colorado City. Drilling will be 330 feet from north and east lines, 62-27-T&P survey. It will be drilled to 5,000 feet by rotary.

Harris-Walton and Bassett-White-White No. 3 E. T. Strain will be a Sharon Ridge 1700 field venture about 19 miles north of Westbrook. It will be drilled by cable tools to 1,750 feet. Site is 990 feet from southwest and southeast lines, 82-97-H&T survey.

Chemical Research No. 3 Hardee was finalized in the North Coleman Ranch field for potential of 246 barrels of oil. There was no water, and gravity measured 26 degrees. Casing pressure was 100 pounds, and completion was natural. Top of pay is 3,050 feet, and perforated zone is 3,050 to 3,100 feet. Total depth is 3,170 feet, where the 5 1/2-inch casing is bottomed. Site is 330 from south and east lines, 85-97-H&T survey.

Harris and Walton No. 7 Strain, 990 from north and 330 from east lines, 82-97-H&T survey, pumped 35,41 barrels of oil on potential. Some 64 per cent of recovery was water. Gravity of oil is 28.8 degrees, and the gas-oil ratio is 1,722. Operator fractured with 12,500 gallons of fluid. Total depth is 1,722 feet, and the 5 1/2-inch is at 1,650. Pay top is 1,655 feet. This is a Sharon Ridge-1700 field venture.

Cosden Petroleum Corporation spotted its No. 6-23 Foster in the Parochial Base field about 13 miles west of Sterling City. It will be drilled by rotary to 2,500 feet. Site is 1,680 from south and 3,700 from west lines, 23-33-H&T survey.

British American No. 1-K Johnson, wildcat 10 miles northeast of Sterling City, was making hole at 7,464 feet in sand and shale today. This prospect will be drilled to 7,600 feet instead of the 7,600 feet originally scheduled. Site is 690 from north and 320 from west lines, 195-2-H&T survey.

Flood Survey Is Completed In Big Spring

A field survey of flood conditions in Big Spring's lowlands has been completed here by the Lubbock engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper.

The survey covers the area along the railroad tracks from the Jones Valley Addition in West Big Spring to the Beal's Creek vicinity east of the city.

Completion of the survey was announced by City Engineer Clifton Bellamy, who said the engineering firm should have a report ready in about two to three weeks.

The survey was ordered on joint authority of the City and County Commissions. Purpose is to find out what can be done here to alleviate flood conditions during times of heavy rains.

The local governmental bodies, T&P officials, and Highway Department personnel have been studying the flood problem here for some time now. The survey was asked before this group decided upon any concrete form of action.

Driver In Mishap Charged With DWI

Clifford Ben Dawson, Coleman Courts, was charged in county court this morning with driving while intoxicated. He was involved in an accident Monday about 7:30 p.m. Lucille Johnson, Gomez Apartments, was hospitalized as a result of the mishap.

The injured woman was riding in a City Cab operated by Jack Shirley when the collision occurred near Fourth and State. She was taken to Big Spring Hospital in a River ambulance and was treated for minor lacerations.

Police arrested Dawson at his residence a few minutes after the accident occurred.

Another accident, apparently without injury, was reported about 7 p.m. last evening in the 1500 block of Lancaster. Drivers involved were Kenneth M. Smith, 507 Lancaster, and J. M. Farmley, 1603 "A" Lexington.

SEGREGATION

Jones, John Dibrrell and Robert Stripling. All but Stripling, who was absent, voted in favor of the order desegregating Big Spring schools through the first six grades Aug. 9. They said at the time that under the Supreme Court decision local school authorities are charged with "the responsibility of prompt and reasonable start toward a good faith and complete compliance."

McKinney, opposing the action, argued that the board should wait before taking any such action. He said it should study the consequences of integration in other communities before starting desegregation here.

The integration move was confined to the first six grades here because of the crowded conditions of junior high school; the board said.

Shepherd, in an interview about the time the suit was filed, declared if Texas laws on segregation are eliminated, the whole structure of school laws will collapse.

"New Texas laws are needed," he said, "before the old ones are wiped out." Texas Constitution and other laws specify state funds cannot be allocated to schools unless segregation is practiced.

Shepherd said he believes the question of segregation should be settled in state courts. He pointed out Texas was not a party to the Supreme Court suit that ruled against segregation.

Rifle Settles Deadly Issue

DENISON, Tex., (AP)—Two young men settled an argument over whether a rifle or a shotgun is a better firearm by shooting it out yesterday. One was killed and the survivor is charged with murder.

Kay Richardson, 22, the survivor and the man who liked the rifle, told authorities his argument with 19-year-old Gerald Lee Wells began after an all-night drinking bout.

Richardson gave this account to County Atty. Boyd Newman and Denison Herald reporter John Crawford:

Richardson was carrying a shotgun and pistol as the two walked along a railroad track. The argument began and Richardson turned his firearms over to Wells and went home for his 30-30 rifle.

When Richardson returned, Wells opened fire with the shotgun but the pellets scattered harmlessly. Richardson said he fired once as Wells ducked behind a shed. Richardson said he intended only to scare Wells. Newman said, however, that Richardson also fired into a house and threatened several other persons with the gun.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Glenn Coates

The book, "Not As A Stranger," is still on the best seller lists for the reason that it is one of the best written and most interesting novels ever published. The book is one of idealism and opportunity. It is the story of a boy who had the first and made the last. His motives are made to seem honorable enough to warrant the means he uses to attain them. But author Morton Thompson was not content to stop at that. He made the boy repentant at the end.

The film version is every bit as good as the book, and in some ways much better. Olivia de Havilland's portrayal of Kristina is one that you will not soon forget. I have no doubt but that she will win an Academy Award nomination for this performance. The film has an all-star cast and that isn't just a convenient use of a superlative.

Frank Sinatra, Robert Mitchum, Brockliff Crawford, Charles Bickford, Gloria Grahame, and Lon Chaney all have extensive speaking parts. For those of you who have read the book, Mitchum is Luke, Sinatra is Al, Crawford is Dr. Aaron, Bickford is Dr. Runkleman, and Miss Grahame is Harriet. Chaney plays Luke's drunken father.

The story is substantially the same as the book. Luke is a poor boy who has always wanted to be a doctor. He can't make enough to pay his tuition so he marries an efficient but homely nurse, because she has money enough to get him through school. After graduation, he goes into practice under a doctor who is about to retire. There he meets Harriet and has an affair as he cares nothing for his wife. He makes enemies because of his idealism, and friends, too. The climax comes when he discovers that "man does not live by bread alone."

The movie could have had a better actor than Mitchum for the part of Luke, but he does fairly well. However, Olivia de Havilland practically holds the story together. Her beauty is not a drawback for the part at all. She speaks with the Swedish accent described in the book and she is everything, and more, that Thompson could have wanted for his character.

Producer-director Stanley Kramer has made a good film interpretation. It is to his credit that the picture does not discredit the novel. Readers may notice small changes in the course of action and subtle overtones in the ending. But this was probably done because of a necessity to cut down the length.

This picture is great despite the fact that it is not in color, not in CinemaScope, and does not have Rembrandt Sound. It is proof that a great story with good actors is enough; the technical improvements are not necessary for a really good motion picture.

By all means see this picture. Quality of this type is only too rare.

Gallagher Claims Witnesses Just 'Can't Remember'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Sgt. James C. Gallagher denies that he caused the death of three fellow prisoners of war in North Korea and says those who claim he did just don't remember what happened.

In testimony at his court-martial yesterday, Gallagher, 23, said of prosecution witnesses:

"They're not lying — they're just not remembering. That happened years ago (in 1950) — if their memory isn't as good as mine, I can't help that."

Gallagher, who was to return to the stand today, gave his version of the incidents and stuck to it in an hour of sharp cross examination.

The reddish blond Brooklyn soldier is accused of collaborating with his Red captors and of second degree murder in the alleged deaths of three prisoners.

Before Gallagher took the stand, a score of prosecution witnesses testified that he sought favor with the Communists and that his treatment of three prisoners caused their deaths. They said he threw Cpl. Donald Thomas Baxter, William Jones, Detroit, out of the prisoners' squalid hut and let them freeze to death. Both men were weak and ill with dysentery.

Gallagher admitted he and another man had carried Jones out of the hut after the sick soldier failed to respond to orders to clean himself. However, Gallagher said, he carried Jones back in again after about 15 minutes.

Gallagher denied putting Baxter out and said that on the contrary he had helped carry him into the hut after he collapsed in the compound.

Gallagher also denied doing anything that would kill the third man, previously unnamed but whom Gallagher called Dunn. Other witnesses said Gallagher hung the man on a wall peg and beat him, after which the man died.

Gallagher testified that he had put Dunn on the peg to help him exercise and overcome the effects of pneumonia. He said the man was too weak to stand without support and he had tied him to the peg with a scarf.

He tried to get Dunn to exercise on the advice of a British doctor, he said, but the sick man did not want to. He said he finally gave up trying to force him, and the man died.

Gallagher also denied that he advised a Communist instructor to shoot a squad of POWs who resisted Communist indoctrination or that he ever willingly spread Communist propaganda.

Antenna Pierces Youth's Heart

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who pulled a broken automobile radio antenna out of his own chest after it pierced his heart was in critical condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The antenna was plunged three inches into the chest of Larry Latourette when he and a companion fell from a bicycle. It speared the bottom of his heart.

Hospital attendants said they thought twice the boy had died. He was placed in an oxygen tent.

Police said he was pedaling while riding on the handlebars, carrying the antenna, which they had found on the road.

The boys fell from the bicycle when it struck a roadway sign.

Road Crew Rescues Pup

EDMONSTON, Md. (AP)—A five-man road crew labored for six hours yesterday to rescue a little, bedraggled cocker spaniel named Blackie from a below-ground drainage pipe.

Using air drills, they dug up several sections of an asphalt street before they found the dog whose faint wails of anguish, coming out of the open end of the storm drain, had brought help.

Carried to an animal hospital, Blackie was treated for malnutrition and a broken leg. Robert M. Lynn, a veterinarian, estimated he had been without food for three days.

Later, Buelah E. Jeffers claimed Blackie as hers. She said he had strayed a week ago.

Nehru Criticizes UN Representation

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today his government still is "far from satisfied" with the representation of India and other Asian countries in the U.N. Secretariat.

Nehru told Parliament India believed more Asians should have secretariat posts, especially in the "principal officer" category. He said the matter would be "pursued and pressed" by India's U.N. delegation.

Driver Features International '300'

A powerful, feature-packed tractor for all farm and commercial work, the International 300, is one of the fine products to be found at Driver Implement Co. on the Lamesa Highway.

This low-profile, all-duty tractor is designed and built for all uses. It is feature-tailored to match the user's exact requirements in price and performance.

The estimated horsepower on the drawbar of this tractor is 39.48. Operating weight is approximately 4,105 pounds, and it is equipped with torque amplifier drive, fast hydraulic hitch and completely independent power take-off.

The torque amplifier drive provides 19 speeds forward and enables the operator to boost pull-power on the go. The high weight-to-power ratio gives outstanding push and pull power.

The tractor brakes are of the double-disc type which utilize the forward or backward motion of the tractor to ease foot pedal pressure.

The International Harvester engine is designed solely for heavy-duty service. It boasts aluminum pistons, compression ratio of 6.6:1, full pressure lubrication, thermomatic controls, and the single-plate clutch.

All instruments on the panel are in the operator's direct line of vision. Choke, light switch, ignition and starting key are all conveniently located.

Dimensions of this all-purpose tractor are: wheelbase, 75 inches; overall length, 118 inches; overall width, 59½ inches; overall height, 58½ inches. The turning radius is 9 feet 8 inches.

Driver Implement Co. invites you to see this tractor and other implements for the farm and home at their location on the Lamesa Highway.

They can make immediate delivery of this tractor and one is on the floor for display now. A call to Driver Implement Co. will bring a salesman with one of these tractors to your farm for a free demonstration.

McMahon Operates Modern Building Supply Facilities

The Clyde McMahon Ready-Mix Concrete Company operates two modern plants in and near Big Spring to supply area builders with top-quality concrete and other construction materials.

The firm's concrete plant, one of the most efficient in the entire state, is situated at 605 N. Benton in Big Spring. McMahon recently opened a new gravel plant about eight miles southeast of the city on the Moss Creek Lake road.

Both plants are equipped with the best machinery money can buy to assure McMahon customers they are getting the best available in ready-mix concrete, gravel and sand.

The concrete and gravel plants are operated on the same basis. Every batch of material is prepared to laboratory specifications, or McMahon will meet the specifications of any customer. He has the equipment and personnel with the know-how to do the job. The even consistency of McMahon's mixing process assures builders that there'll be no crumbling or flaking of the concrete they use from the McMahon plant. Big trucks equipped with giant mixers deliver the product, keeping it thoroughly mixed right up to the moment it is poured into forms. The ready-mix concrete from McMahon's also is popular with householder who likes to make his own repairs. He can prepare forms for walks or other structures and a McMahon truck will deliver the ready-mix in the desired quantity at little more than a moment's notice. McMahon also serves the area with paving aggregates, a number of quality building materials, including the new and popular Holiday Hill stone which is easily laid; concrete blocks; Remington stud drivers and cartridges, and expansion joint materials. McMahon's telephone number is 3-2132.

Nalley Ambulance On Call Constantly

The eight-hour day and the 40-hour week may prove ideal for the average working man of today but such a schedule could hardly be adopted by an ambulance driver.

Such a vocation demands that a person be prepared to respond on emergency calls at any time of the day or night, seven days a week.

The Nalley Funeral Home, located at 906 Gregg Street in Big Spring, maintains three ambulances for just such service and keeps attendants on hand to operate them at all times.

The drivers have had long and careful training in what to do in event they are called to an emergency, from getting to and from the scene of an accident without undue loss of time to the proper and safe manner in transporting patients to places where they can be treated.

Coy Nalley, owner and manager of the concern bearing his name, has invested a quarter of a century of his life as a licensed embalmer and funeral director.

Because of that background, Nalley is qualified to plan any type of funeral service down to the smallest detail and thus take that responsibility of bereaved ones at a time the stress and strain is greatest.

Joe Bunch, also an employee of the establishment, has been similarly trained for such work.

Nalley burial insurance, sold locally by employees of the concern, offers a type of protection to families that guarantees them financial relief when tragedy strikes.

Payments can be arranged to suit the subscriber.

Texas Giants

Artesia Sweeps Double Header From Bobbies

Nick Cappelli must have walked under a ladder on his way to Steer Park last night.

The hustling Pennsylvanian committed a throwing error two outs deep in the seventh inning of the second game to open the door for four Artesia runs and the Numexers went on to topple Big Spring, 8-6, in the afterpiece of a twin bill after Artesia had won the first game, 7-3.

Cappelli fielded Frank Gallardo's ground ball perfectly but winged the ball over first sacker Jim Barr's head and two runs came home, just when it appeared Big Spring had won a 6-4 verdict.

It was a tough break for the little guy, usually the slickest defensive player around.

Tom Costello, making a rare appearance on the mound for the Cops in the second engagement, pitched brilliantly until he weakened slightly in the seventh and walked Bob Boyd and Tom Jordan.

Dan Howard doubled down first base way to give the Numexers a run before Gallardo stepped in.

Paul Dobkowski followed Gallardo and walked Costello then gave way to Aga Baca, who immediately surrendered a double to Bob Wilson and two more runs crossed the plate.

Costello had earlier clubbed his 21st four-master of the season, a solo blast against the Colts that sank the second. Frank Billis followed suit in the same inning with his seventh of the campaign.

The winning hurler in both games was Eddie Locke, whose season's record stands at 12-7. Locke was bounced around in the second contest but held on to finish.

Dan Howard of Artesia drove out his 23rd boundary swat of the season in the first inning of the second contest with Jordan for company on his trip around the sacks.

Artesia broke fast at the expense of Garland Turano in the opening engagement, scoring three runs in the 'hello' frame. Turano weathered the storm and went all the way on the mound, however.

Tom Buford started on the hill for Artesia but gave way to Locke in the fifth, after the Cops had gotten to him for three tallies in the fourth.

RAMBLINGS — Costello benefited to the extent of a triple on a fly ball hit to right field in the fourth inning of the first engagement, when Howard failed to pick it up upstairs. The ball fell not far from him. Paul Dobkowski of the Numexers drove out two home runs for Artesia in the first game, his 14th and 15th of the season. In the three hours of action, not a rhabubar of any consequence occurred. A total of eight doubles were clubbed in the opening game, five of them by Artesia. Manny Sabari and Jim Barr hit successive triples for Big Spring in the fourth-inning of the second engagement.

League Leaders Vie With Cops At 8:15

The two 'feudingest' clubs in the Longhorn League, San Angelo and Big Spring, open a two-game series at Steer Park at 8:15 o'clock this evening.

Big Spring is going nowhere in the race but, if the Cops hold to tradition, they will give the Colts all the fight they want tonight.

The two teams haven't gotten along all season and rhaburbs seem to be the rule rather than the exception when they meet.

Gang fights have broken out in both the local park and San Angelo, when the teams have played.

There's something about the Colts that rubs the Cops the wrong way and the locals usually play their hearts out against the league leaders.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., Aug. 16, 1955 11

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

CARL COLEMAN, head football coach at Big Spring High School: "I don't know why people are picking us to win the district championship. If Snyder doesn't take it, the Senats should conduct an investigation."

FRED SULLIVAN, Boston Red Sox hurler: "Mike (Higgins) has given us the feeling he knows we are big leaguers. We don't have to prove we're game, that we have courage or ability. Billy Klaus has been terrific at shortstop. Why? I'd say it's because of Higgins. Sure, Billy makes an error, but he stays in there. He isn't benched right away. Then he comes up with a big fielding play or a big hit. A player who knows everything doesn't depend on one incident or misplay, has more confidence and gives a better performance."

A CHATTANOOGA BUM, invited into the Lookout ball park several years ago by Owner Joe Engel to watch the last-place Lookouts perform, after he had asked for and been given a dime by Joe: "Here's your dime back. If that's part of the deal, I'd rather go hungry."

L. B. COOPER, city councilman of Odessa: "I've definitely got assurances that the city and county will split the cost of a new park. The park will be worked into the park system here."

EMMETT BRODERSON, new football side here: "Watch this Waldo Wesley (of Plainview). He's a great back and could be the best in our district. He ran our B team ragged last fall at Levelland."

COOPER ROBBINS, Odessa grid coach: "It might help if our boys started thinking of a championship. Our kids have the ability if they'll just make up their minds that they really want to win."

MAX ODENDAHLL, Roswell scribe: "Alton Sample, who umpired for the Longhorn League last season, was burned up during a recent series here. He says he went out to fill in for Jerry Pooler's partner, Dale Stuckey, but the league wanted him to do it gratis. So he refused, and what happened? The league office sent another umpire all the way from San Angelo to fill in the next inning. Of course, the other umpire would have to have his expenses paid from San Angelo. It's business like that that not only makes the league office enemies but puts it behind the eight-ball financially."

FRED HANEY, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates: "I had a runner on second, 3-2 on the batter. With the pitch, he tried for third. It's ball four and he's out stealing. I asked him why he did it and he told me, 'I thought the bases were loaded and I had to run.' I don't know what he was thinking about, but if it was Wall Street and stocks, he's thinking about $100 less."

A TEXAS A&M EX, commenting on the fact that the Texas Aggie band will be sent to the A&M-UCLA football game Sept. 16: "The other conference schools have agreed not to put the band on probation for making the trip."

A HIGH SCHOOL COACH, who prefers to remain anonymous: "The interscholastic League will find it is making a mistake bending to restricting demands of the larger schools. Sure, they have to travel pretty good distances now but when they drop the AAAA enrollment down to 750, they're going to take in a flock of smaller schools that can't hope to compete with your big powerhouses like Waco, Wichita Falls, Fort Arthur and Odessa."

J. C. Caroline Flunks Out At University Of Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois' his head sadly after hearing the news.

"He was my No. 1 offensive man, No. 1 defensive man, No. 1 punter and we planned to use him on kickoffs and extra points. There's not much to say except this is a terrific blow to Illinois."

"Right now, I guess we'll have to move Harry Jefferson in Caroline's spot with Abe Woodson at the other half. From there on we'll just have to fill the gaps. Looking over the situation, we'll probably have to start four or five sophomores."

Caroline virtually came from nowhere in 1953 when he led Illinois to a share of the Big Ten title. The fleet-footed Negro from Columbia, S.C., led the nation in rushing offense with 1,254 yards in 116 carries.

Yanks Head For Boston Holding League Lead

You can't always tell the depth of the well by the length of the handle on the pump. Which is to say, both Cleveland and New York have won six of their last seven games in the ding-dong American League race, yet the Yankees have pushed the Indians out of first place.

The Yanks, who have played and won one more game than the Tribe, slipped back into the lead by a half-game yesterday, walking off with their second doubleheader sweep at Baltimore in two days, 5-4 and 13-8. Cleveland and third-place Chicago, now 1 1/2 games behind, were idle.

In the only other game, fourth-place Boston played 3 1/2 games back by smacking Washington 8-4 in way of warmup for yet another crucial series with the Yankees opening tonight in the Beanstown.

By winning straight, the Yankees, who last lost in Boston in the opener of a three-game set last Tuesday, have become the third outfit to hold first place in seven days.

WORK ON PARK Big League Fever Burns In St. Paul

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—A king-size brochure deposited upon this desk by a perspiring postman leaves no doubt that big league fever is burning bright in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Entitled "Midway Stadium—the Finest Municipal Stadium in America," and an invitation to Major League Baseball, the handsome arrival details the many alluring qualities of a modern plant being built halfway between the business centers of the adjoining cities.

To begin with the new stadium will seat only 12,500, but it is being so designed and constructed that its capacity could be boosted to 35,000 almost overnight. While St. Paul is the actual builder, that city's hope obviously is to share such a franchise with Minneapolis.

"Within approximately 50 miles of Midway Stadium," declares the brochure, "live almost 1 1/2 million people, who would make up the greatest percentage of spectators attending major league baseball games in the Twin Cities. Within approximately 150 miles live almost three million people. There will be four parking areas for 9,200 cars."

How Minneapolis feels about this proposed teaming up to obtain a big league franchise we are not aware, but from here it looks like a proposition that could make an owner or two think long and hard. Most baseball men consider Brooklyn the likeliest candidate for the next jump West, and within two years.

There appears to be small chance of another American League shift for years to come. The younger circuit is doing all right as it stands, with six of its members almost certain to draw more than a million home attendance from the present torrid race. Baltimore and Washington probably will fall short.

Ruth's Record Will Endure Forever In Eyes Of Fans

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—It has been seven years now since Babe Ruth died of cancer and the grief-stricken fans filed through Yankee Stadium to pay their last tribute to the "Bambino."

His home run record of 60, set 28 years ago, still is the target of every slugger in baseball. Perhaps the Babe's great record will be broken one of these years. It might even be this season with Duke Snider and Willie Mays swinging for the fences. But the fans who remember the big fellow who trotted around the bases on pinstriped legs never will admit it. To them the Babe's record lives forever.

The younger generation must settle for hear-say evidence about the lovable happy-go-lucky Bambino who hit his last home run in 1935.

Year after year, some young fencebuster grabs the headlines by beating the Babe's pace in July or August. He had hit only 38 by Aug. 17, 1927. But that killing pace of 20 homers in the last 35 days has been too much for every challenger.

It takes about two pages of small print to list Ruth's many records. His lifetime record for 22 seasons was 714 homers. He hit 50 or more in four seasons, 40 or more 11 years and 30 or more 13 years. He led the American League in homers 12 seasons from 1918 to 1931.

Many people forget Babe was a pitcher, long before he ever was famed as a home run hitter. Ruth's feat of pitching 29 World Series innings in succession without allowing a run still is tops.

The Babe, wearing No. 3 on his broad back, would walk to the plate, swinging a couple of bats. When he took his full swing, he threw every ounce of his huge body into the effort, making a complete pivot if he missed. He did miss often too, for he also set the big league record for strikeouts with 1,330 in his career.

But when he hit the ball, it went high, wide and handsome into the stands or over the distant wall. Then came the real show as he dog-trotted around the bases, wearing a wide grin and doffing his cap to the crowd.

Ruth started his big league career with the Boston Red Sox, finished as a player with the Boston Bees (Braves) and wound up as a coach in Brooklyn.

In his final days, he was a shrunken figure. His once-heavy, black hair was streaked with gray. None who was present ever will forget Babe Ruth Day at Yankee Stadium, not too many months before his death. Wearing a tan cap and a long tan camel's hair coat, the Babe talked through a home plate microphone in a hoarse whisper.

"The only real game, I think, in the world is baseball," he said in a farewell to the "House That Ruth Built."

One of the best pitcher games of the season was at Fort Worth where stout Billy Harris set Beaumont down with only two hits, both singles, in winning 3-0. It was Harris' 13th triumph of the season.

Harry Schwegman's 3-run homer in the sixth featured for the Cats. The only Beaumonters getting hits were Jerry Mason and Jim Solt.

PGA To Attract A Big Turnout

EL PASO (AP)—Seventy-five professionals from Texas, Southeastern New Mexico and Western Louisiana will compete here Sept. 29-Oct. 2 in the annual Texas PGA Golf Tournament.

Jack Harden of El Paso is defending champion, having won the title both in 1953 and 1954.

The total purse for the tournament yesterday, nothing was said about speculation that Amarillo may seek the Beaumont franchise in the Texas League.

Present facilities, built in 10 days after the 1952 fire, seat about 3,500. The club suggested a park seating 6,000 and capable of expansion. Commissioners asked that the club submit specific plans.

Ramsey Returns Here As Cosden Club Manager

W. E. (Nat) Ramsey has resigned his position as golf professional at the Cosden Country Club to return to Big Spring as manager of the Cosden Hunting and Fishing Club, whose clubhouse near the Cosden lake immediately south of town is nearing completion.

Ramsey will be succeeded at Cosden by another ex-Big Spring, Bob Hodges, now of Littlefield.

Ramsey has indicated he will retain his status as a golf pro and will handle the Cosden Invitational Tournament this weekend.

Hodges is a one-time member of the Big Spring Country Club. His wife, Lois Hodges, was acknowledged to be the best woman golfer in the city at one time.

He has been associated with the A. & B Office Supply Company in Littlefield for the past year. He will help him with the management of the Cosden club.

Ramsey formerly worked for Cosden Petroleum Corp., here, before World War II. He played outstanding baseball with a semi-pro team fielded by Cosden.

Later, he was recognized as one of the area's top bowlers and still maintains his interest in that sport. He is a brother to Hornshell (Red) Ramsey, former Little All-American at Texas Tech and later a pro grid star for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Elks Decision Tabbies, 11-4

The Elks smothered the Cats, 11-4, in Senior Teen-Age baseball league play here Monday night.

Home runs by Ronnie Wooten and Tommy McAdams made it easy for Tabbies' Anderson to achieve the win. Anderson struck out five and walked six before giving way to Robert Allen in the fifth.

Buddy Meeks was the losing hurler. Charles Johnson drove out three hits, including a home run, for the losers.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"IT'S THE KID IN NUMBER TWELVE, ED. HE WANTS A SOFTER PILLOW."

Jen-Talkin
by Jess Blair

Two little wells on the I. P. (Easy) Hoelscher farm west of St. Lawrence have paid good dividends the last few years. Hoelscher drilled his first well about seven years ago, then later put down another one. Both wells are small, yet Hoelscher waters about 90 acres of cotton and manages to make a bale to the acre.

He holds down overhead by hiring almost no labor except for picking. This year he put down 45 pounds of anhydrous ammonia, but says there is hardly any difference in that field and one that is not fertilized.

Hank Childress who also farms near St. Lawrence says he can tell little difference between the land he fertilized and the rest of the field.

"It may be this land is not ready for fertilizer yet," he said. "Water seems to be the only limiting thing down here."

Childress has three wells with a total output of 700 gallons. He is irrigating 100 acres that should make more than a bale to the acre. If fleashoppers hadn't damaged the early crop and if the angular leaf spot would stop, he might have had two-bale cotton on most of the place.

He says pumping costs are rather heavy down there because of the water depth. Most of the wells in that community range from 250 to 300 feet. Last year he spent $1,400 for butane and pumped only two wells.

"With that kind of expense, a farmer must either hold down overhead in every way he can, or else make a mighty big crop," Childress said.

A new grass experiment now started at the Big Spring Experiment Station may some day furnish the means of reseeding thousands of acres of barren rangeland in West Texas.

The man in charge is Jud Morrow, a range specialist from College Station, who is supervising this test along with 10 others in Central and West Texas. Morrow says that most reseeding experiments fail because of the grass plants used. They are not hardy enough or the seed is too sterile.

Now they hope to breed super-hardy grasses from native strains that can take the hot weather and long droughts. To find the proper parent stock, Morrow and his helpers went into the driest areas they could find to search for grasses.

"We found one place in New Mexico," he said, "where people told us no rain had fallen in seven years. The range was almost completely bare and even the tobosa grass had died. Yet here and there we found a grass plant living. It was these tough, super-hardy plants that we dug up and transplanted on the experiment stations."

There is no time limit to the tests, but they hope to eventually produce seed that can be planted on ranges and will grow. Plants vary in hardness just as animals and people do, so they now hope to breed up grass species which can take the longest, hottest drought West Texas throws at them and keep thriving.

This area will need more Mexican Nationals this fall than usual to harvest the cotton crop. Native labor may be in short supply, because of so much work in other areas.

Bill Williams, farm labor man at the Texas Employment Commission, says he has about 15 crews ranging from eight to 50 in each crew which will be ready to pick cotton. He thinks there may be enough native labor to take up the slack during the peak labor periods, but most of the cotton will be picked by the Nationals.

At one time large numbers of colored people from Central and East Texas came to this area to

Coast Guard Snags Honeymoon

DETROIT (AP)—The Coast Guard innocently interrupted a sailboat honeymoon.

A search had been started when Walter A. McGuffin, 35-year-old Detroit engineer, and his bride of three weeks failed to return from a sail on Lake Erie Saturday. They had just returned from a Bermuda honeymoon.

Yesterday, Lt. George E. Cote of the Coast Guard cutter Tupelo spotted McGuffin's sloop. He pulled alongside and shouted: "You're supposed to be missing."

"We're not missing," McGuffin shouted back. "We're just on an extended wedding trip."

And the Tupelo moved on.

W. E. Clay 83, Dies In Austin

William E. Clay, native of England and a retired T&P Railway brakeman who resided in Big Spring for the past 29 years, died early today in a hospital at Austin.

Mr. Clay, 83, had been hospitalized for the past two years. He retired from the railroad in 1937. Before moving to Big Spring 29 years ago, he served as a yardmaster in the St. Louis, Mo., railway terminal. He was born June 19, 1872, in Lancashire, Eng.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ethel Clay of Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Herbert of Gretna, La.; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. Clay was a member of the St. Thomas Catholic Church here and was affiliated with the Knights of Columbus and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at the River Funeral Home. A River coach was en route to Austin for the remains this morning.

Albuquerque Wins Two From Hubbers

By The Associated Press

A crazy hop and good pitching gave Albuquerque a twin victory 3-2 and 5-2 Monday night over Lubbock to enable the second-place Dukes to pull within one game of West Texas-New Mexico League-leading Amarillo.

Amarillo, playing at Plainview, managed to eke out a 6-4 victory in 11 innings while third-place Pampa fell four games behind as it dropped 13-9 before Clovis. Celler-dwelling El Paso, meanwhile, drubbed Abilene 7-4.

Jamaica Clings To Heritage From England

KINGSTON, Jamaica, (AP) — The capital city of this small Caribbean island provides a study in contrast. Surrounded by American culture — both from the United States and Spanish America — it clings to a heritage from England. The residents of Jamaica, which lies 90 miles south of Cuba, are British subjects. There is only one field in which the United States predominates here — tourists. More than 100,000 visitors from the United States came last year. They immediately found touches of the British culture. Motorists whip along narrow streets on the left side. In vacant lots, small boys play cricket. But everything is not gay. With wide unemployment, the government of Chief Minister Norman W. Manley has set as its goals development of industry, development of the tourist trade, continued development of the largest money maker, agriculture. Manley returned last month from a trip to England during which he obtained a guaranteed price market for Jamaican banana production for the next five years. Estimates of the number of Jamaica's unemployed range from 11 to 20 per cent of the total labor force. Emigration to England has drained off a small portion of this — 12,000 during the past two years. Employment in industry rose from 19,000 to 26,000 in 1953 and continues to increase. The government sees the best answer to its problems in new and expanded industries, and is seeking to attract foreign capital. It admits its accomplishments to date have been disappointing. Jamaica exports to other Caribbean islands the products of its textile and shoe industries. Wills O. Isaacs, minister for trade and industry, hopes for an industry geared to the American market. "We have only a limited supply of dollars," he said. "The government will try to abolish some of the restrictions on imports so that there can be a freer exchange of goods between Jamaica and the United States."

India Still Feels British Influence At Every Corner

NEW DELHI (AP)—The British left India only eight years ago today, but their influence still remains evident at almost every street corner and in every bazaar. Although India is now an independent republic, New Delhi's main business street remains Queensway while the broad boulevard leading to the main government buildings is still Kingsway. Street signs carry a Hindi designation, but also an English translation. Traffic moves on the left side of the road. More and more Indian newspapers are appearing in Indian languages. However, the more important newspapers — the ones most diplomats and Indian officials read — are in English. Hindi is the national language, English, at least until 1965, is the working language of the government. Dress and food are strongly tailored to the acquired English tastes of the more prosperous Indians. Many men wear European clothes, and the cut is English. Afternoon tea is as much a ritual with many Indians as with Londoners.

Services Set For Crop Duster, Wife

SAN SABA (AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for a young crop duster pilot and his wife, killed Sunday in a plane crash near Marfa. The pilot, James G. Rainbolt, about 24, was an Air Force veteran and the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rainbolt of San Saba. The Rainbolts had been living at Pecos.

DE Program Now Being Organized

The distributive education program for the 1955-56 school year is now being organized. It was announced by Big Spring's DE teacher, Miss Mary S. Herring. Openings are available for students interested in the retail, wholesale and service selling fields. Enrollees will be given classroom and on-the-job training. Miss Herring is ready to interview students wishing to enroll in DE classes, and those interested should contact her before school starts. The sooner a student contacts her, the quicker she will be able to find the proper job for that student. Pre-school registration in the course will also help with classroom schedule problems. Miss Herring will be in the high school office every morning between now and the time school begins. Her afternoons will be spent contacting prospective employers. She stated that she hopes to make the 1955-56 year the best in the program's history. New students are urged to sign up for the course along with those who have taken DE in the past. Students in DE spend mornings in classes and afternoons in stores working, Miss Herring explained. "The distributive education creed is 'knowledge plus experience equals skill.'" An employer who has an opening for a student in any distribution job is urged to contact Miss Herring through the school.

U.S. Studies Ways Of Preventing Surprise A-Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will concentrate, at this month's disarmament conference, on finding ways to prevent any nation from making a surprise atomic attack. Officials pointed up this approach today as a major U.S. goal which will come up for discussion at a meeting of a U.N. Disarmament subcommittee in New York Aug. 29. The United States, Britain, Russia, France and Canada will be represented. As one official put it, in talking of the possibilities last night: "If you can prevent a surprise attack, you can prevent any attack. With weapons as devastating as those which exist today, no nation will start a war without a surprise attack." As part of the plan, this country proposes to press for Russian acceptance of President Eisenhower's suggestion for exchange of military blueprints and aerial reconnaissance privileges, made at the Geneva summit conference.

Showing Their Colors

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Formosa police ruled today that only those prostitutes who have passed a venereal disease test may wear cosmetics. That's to distinguish them from those who fail the test.

Jay Cunningham Buys Interest In Davis Feed Store

John Davis, owner of the Davis Feed Store at Second and Benton, announced today that he has sold a part interest in the store to Jay Cunningham who has been one of the store's employes for two years. Davis said, however, that the store's name would not be changed at the present time. Cunningham came here from Garden City where he was born and finished high school. He then attended Texas Tech for two semesters before going into the Navy. He had worked in a feed store four years before coming to Big Spring. Cunningham is married and has two children. His home here is at 1907 Runnels. Davis is currently celebrating his 20th year as owner of the store. He had one other partner prior to Cunningham. His son-in-law, Wesley Deats, was a partner until 1953 when he left to study for the ministry.

Services Set For Crop Duster, Wife

SAN SABA (AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for a young crop duster pilot and his wife, killed Sunday in a plane crash near Marfa. The pilot, James G. Rainbolt, about 24, was an Air Force veteran and the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rainbolt of San Saba. The Rainbolts had been living at Pecos.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

hundreds of small forms of ocean life.

Q. Which sharks are man-eaters?
A. White sharks, blue sharks, tiger sharks and hammerheads are among those which have been known to kill people. Now and then a mako or a nurse shark seizes a human being.

Those sharks, and a few other kinds, can be described as man-eaters, but it would be a mistake to suppose that they spend much time looking for human victims. They feed mainly on fish.

In addition to fish, these sharks eat crabs, lobsters, squids, octopus and sea snakes. Rarely the bodies of cats and goats have been found in their stomachs, along with pieces of clothing. It may be figured that these fell from ocean vessels, or were washed to sea from beaches.

Q. Are baby sharks born alive?
A. Many of them are. Sharks are among the few kinds of fish which produce living young, instead of laying eggs which hatch into fish.

Many baby sharks are more than a foot long at the time of birth. A baby tiger shark is about 18 inches in length, and a baby hammerhead may measure 20 inches.

Some kinds of sharks lay eggs. These include the dogfish sharks. Tomorrow: Hitchhikers Among Fish.
