Winds Blow Mercury Down

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP)—Cold March winds blew the mercury to below seasonal levels over a wide section of the country today.

Temperatures were below normal over the central part of the country from the Appalachians to the Rockies. They dipped to below zero near the Canadian border from the Rockies to the Great Lakes and were near zero in parts of New England.

The extensive blanket of snow remained unbroken from the northern and central Rockies eastward across the Great Lakes to New England. Today light snow fell in several areas—in the central Rocky Mountain region, Indiana and Ohio and on the south Atlantic coast. Rain was reported over parts of the south Atlantic coast.

North Dakota was the coldest spot on the early morning weather map. Grand Forks reported a low of -14; Fargo -10 and Pembina -9. Highs on yesterday's map included 3 at Jacksonville, Fla., 0 at Miami and 72 at Brownsville, Tex.

ANDERSON ASKS PROGRAM

Gardens Will Help Feed Needy World

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The Secretary of Agriculture has asked for 20 million gardens in 1948 to help make it possible to ship more food to the distressed areas abroad. Now that garden planning and seed ordering time is here, what should our gardens be like in town and city?

The garden first of all should be large enough to produce an adequate supply of fresh vegetables from early spring until early winter. Many town and city gardens are entirely too small, and the few carrots, green onions, lettuce and radishes they produce, while enjoyable, do not contribute much in providing sufficient quantities of health protecting food. About one-third of our non-farm gardens are only 500 square feet in size. They ought to be at least 1,000 or 1,500 square feet.

Freedom gardeners—and maybe one-fourth of these will be novices—should not try to grow the kinds of vegetables that require large amounts of space. Sweet corn, pole beans, squash and peas are out for them.

The first choice of vegetables should include as many as possible of the green and leafy vegetables, yellow kinds and tomatoes. These are vitamin suppliers and health protectors. Included should be lettuce, chard, collards, kale, Chinese cabbage, broccoli and cabbage. Then green and yellow snap beans, and of course, yellow turnips, carrots and lots of tomatoes. Chinese cabbage, kale, cabbage, collards, endive will produce greens late in the summer and early fall.

A good garden starts with a good plan before seeds are ordered. This plan plainly marks each row of vegetables, the distance between rows and the crops to follow as each row is harvested.

Too many gardeners make only one planting. Then the garden produces little in summer and fall. Surely, we want early radishes, green onions and lettuce. But a well planned garden provides for succession sowings and plantings, especially of kinds that do not require the entire growing season.

Thus plantings of snap beans, beets, carrots, should be made so that some of these can be enjoyed all season and provide some for winter storage. When one crop is maturing another should be coming along. No part of the garden should be bare of growing vegetables. The garden planner also selects varieties which vary in the time it takes to maturity, thereby extending the season. Thus, a gardener having early leaf lettuce like Grand Rapids should also have Slobolt, which does not go to seed so soon and thereby extends the season. Good planning also takes in account the quantity of any one kind a family can consume before this kind becomes over mature. So a ten-foot row of radishes, for example, is sown every week, say, for three weeks in early spring instead of one 40-foot row. The same holds true for lettuce.

All these things hold true also for farm and suburban gardens. Many of these gardens do not supply sufficient amounts of vegetables for fresh use, storage, freezing or canning. Nor do many of our farm and suburban gardeners realize the advantage larger garden space gives them in growing a wide variety of vegetables. They should try to grow more kinds, thereby getting new taste thrills and extending the garden season. Besides they can produce much more for winter use. During the war, our Victory gardeners canned about 3,500,000,000 quarts of food. Their gardens produced about 8,000,000 tons, 40 per cent of our fresh vegetables. Now our Freedom gardeners can do as well. Thereby they will release other foods for shipment abroad. They won't eat so much bread and breadstuffs. They will save money, and set a better table.

Local information on the "how to do it" side of home gardening can be had from your county agricultural agent, usually located at the county seat, or from your State Agricultural Extension Service at your State agricultural college. General information may be had by writing the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Two Men Killed In Plane Crash

BROWNSVILLE, March 4 (AP)—Two men were killed near here early this morning in a plane crash.

The wreckage was discovered about a mile from the Brownsville international airport.

The victims were not immediately identified.

L. M. Nye, of Brownsville, who went to the crash scene, said two bodies, partly driven into the earth, were found. Parts of the plane were scattered over a wide area.

The light plane apparently crashed during murky weather. A light rain was falling here this morning.

President Will End His Vacation

KEY WEST, Fla., March 4 (AP)—President Truman took his last dips into calm vacation waters today before plunging into international and domestic political problems awaiting him at Washington.

He will meet with his cabinet at 3 p. m. (CST) tomorrow at the White House, a couple of hours after his scheduled arrival in Washington.

The presidential plane, "The Sacred Cow," is due to leave the Boca Chica airport eight miles away at 8 a. m. (CST) Friday.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Texas Church Women's Group Backs Six Truman Proposals

DALLAS, March 4 (AP)—The Texas Council of Church women today was on record as favoring six of President Truman's ten civil rights proposals.

Mrs. C. G. Eidsen of Waco said, however, that no political significance is attached to the council's action, taken here yesterday at a conference. The conference ends today.

The six points were approved without a dissenting vote by 155 delegates said Mrs. Eidsen, first vice-president and chairman of the council's legislative committee.

Mrs. Eidsen presented the six points to the council in the form of resolutions.

She told a reporter that they followed a digest of recommendations by the President's civil rights committee. It was this group which outlined the points that Mr. Truman has asked Congress to put into law.

Mrs. Eidsen said the women endorsed these points:

1. To strengthen the machinery for protecting civil rights of all people and for states to set up permanent commissions on civil rights to complement a Federal commission and civil rights.
2. The right to safety and security against lynching, police brutality, involuntary servitude and injustice in courts.
3. The right of everyone to citizenship and its privileges of voting and bearing arms.
4. The right of freedom of conscience and expression.
5. The right of equality of opportunity, employment, education, housing and health service.

6. The right of public service and accommodations.
Mrs. F. E. Shotwell, Los Angeles, Calif., a representative of the United Council of Church Women, said that adopting the recommendations was nothing less than expressing a Christian attitude. The United Council of Church women lists 10,000,000 members. It is one of 45 affiliated state groups.

CONTROVERSY RAGES OVER LAND

U.S. Sea Captain Called Antarctic Discoverer By Stonington Residents

STONINGTON, Conn., Mar. 4. (AP)—Folks in this little fishing village are at a loss to explain why the United States Government does not stake official claim on the Antarctic region. They say it was discovered by a Stonington sea captain, Nathaniel B. Palmer of the sloop Hero in 1821 while on a seal hunting expedition in the South Shetland Islands.

Chile recently set up two military bases in the disputed territory and the British Government, taking exception to the Chilean claim, has dispatched a cruiser to the area to "show the flag." The second Chilean claim was made on the peninsula known to Chile as O'Higgins Land and to Great Britain as Graham Land.

Some atlases refer to this region as Palmer Land, with such areas as Palmer Peninsula and Palmer Archipelago.

Stonington folks particularly those who trace their ancestry to the famous sea captain, say that it belongs to the United States and that this country should assert itself. The discovery of the Antarctic is "old stuff" in this community.

An exploration vessel for a fleet of eight ships searching for new rookeries, the Hero under Captain

Palmer set out from Yankee Harbor in the South Shetlands, January 14, 1821, in search for still more seal islands.

After sailing 70 miles, the northerly extension of the Antarctic continent, upon which the volcanic Mount Hope is located, was found. The newly discovered land was very mountainous and desolate looking with its heavy load of ice and snow even in the southern mid-summer. Feasible landing places were few on that frigid shore populated only by sea leopards, gray and black petrels and white cape pigeons.

Palmer never knew that he discovered a continent. He presumed that it was a large island or a chain of islands linked together by ice.

Accounts current here say that as the Hero was returning north, a dense fog set in. The Hero was hoisted to await clearing weather. When the fog lifted, two Russian war ships appeared, and a party from the fleet immediately boarded the American sloop. After a short visit Capt. F. G. Von Bellingshausen, later the honored Admiral Von Bellingshausen, asked to see the ship's log and charts. They were examined in silence. Then the Russian captain arose and exclaimed, "What do I see, what do I hear from a boy in his teens?"

"That he is commander of a tiny boat the size of the launch of my frigate, in which he has pushed his way to the pole through storm and ice; has sought and found the point I, in command of one of the best appointed fleets at the disposal of my august master, have for three long years searched day and night for." Then placing his hand on Palmer's head he continued: "What shall I say to my master? What will he think of me? But, be that as it may, my grief is your joy. Wear your laurels with my sincere prayers for your welfare. I name the land you have discovered in your honor, noble boy, 'Palmer Land'."

NEW PLANT OF THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM—The new and modern building of the Midland Reporter-Telegram had its formal opening Sunday when hundreds of West Texans visited the Midland newspaper plant. The new plant was occupied January 26. A 130-page Progress Edition was issued Sunday by The Reporter-Telegram in connection with its formal opening. The building, designed for newspaper efficiency, is of brick, steel and concrete construction and is fireproof throughout. It is 50 by 140 feet. A new Duplex tubular press was installed in the plant, along with new composing room equipment. New steel furniture and equipment were installed throughout the front offices.

LOUD HATBAND MAY BE ANSWER TO MAN'S MENTAL DEPRESSION

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 4. (AP)—Are you an incipient manic depressive? A loud hatband may be the answer.

Such was the suggestion today from a designer and psychologist, who teamed up to test a theory that fancy hats for males will relieve severe mental depression.

Kenneth Hopkins, noted creator of women's chapeaux, and Alice LaVere disclosed that their ideas will be tried out this summer in an unnamed California private mental sanitarium.

He and Miss La Vere, a juvenile delinquency consultant here and in San Francisco who has worked extensively with war veterans, say they're convinced their fancy uniforms and rainbow-hued ribbons appeal to men as at least partial satisfaction of male color hunger.

Popularity of such fraternal groups as Elks and Shriners stems from a love of dressing up in ceremonial attire, they add.

"Women get an important mental life and psychological boost from the styling and coloring of their hats," Hopkins explained. "You might say that women's hats are their escape valves. They fit the mass of their subconscious desires, as well as their heads."

But the male straw skimmer or dull felt "has a zero value, psychologically speaking."

Horse Show Tops Amarillo Agenda

AMARILLO, March 4. (AP)—Judging of 175 quarter horse entries was on today's program of the Amarillo Fat Stock show.

Highlight of yesterday's program was an auction sponsored by the Panhandle Hereford Breeders association. Three sales records were broken. Breeders received the highest total, the highest average and the highest individual price in the association's 32-year history.

Total sales netted breeders nearly $4,000 for an average of $550 a head. The top bull brought $4,700 from Tommie Potts, Memphis, Tex. Fifty-four bulls sold for $31,170, an average of $577 a head.

Scientist Says Half Of Tree Is Wasted

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., March 4 (AP)—If you happen to have a tree around, you are right next to a gold mine.

All you have to do is figure out a way to use lignin.

You never heard of lignin? Well, says Dr. George D. Palmer, professor of organic chemistry at the University of Alabama, about half of every tree is made of lignin.

Dr. Palmer says, "lignin is a chemical present in wood. He figures that about 35,000,000 tons of it go to waste every year in the form of agriculture and sawmill discards and sawdust.

In addition, he reports, another 2,500,000 tons go to waste in pulp and paper mills where it is either burned as fuel or run into streams and rivers as disposal.

When it comes to the subject of lignin, Dr. Palmer asks why we can't figure out a way to use lignin much as some manufacturers use coal and petroleum as a source material for other chemicals with which to make plastics, drugs, and dyestuffs, synthetic rubber and a host of other items.

In addition to providing a whole new field of enterprise, Dr. Palmer says use of lignin "would give much greater dollar return to the farmer who now gets no dollars for about half his tree."

Dr. Palmer also says the chemical structure of lignin is akin to coal in that both are composed of benzene or benzol.

Baptists Will Build Hospital At S' Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 4 (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention under an agreement signed yesterday will build a $3,750,000 hospital here, centering around the present medical and surgical memorial hospital, it was announced today by Marshall Eskridge, president of the hospital.

The agreement was signed by the board of directors of the hospital and Dr. Frank W. Tripp, New Orleans, representing the Baptist convention.

The first unit, consisting of 100 beds at a probable cost of $1,250,000, will be erected as soon as necessary surveys have been made to determine what type of service should be featured, Eskridge stated. Two more units are expected to follow within the next few years, he said.

Under the plan agreed upon, M. & S. directors would resign and a new board would be set up, composed of San Antonio people chosen by the Southern Baptist convention, it was stated.

Riley Advanced As A Candidate For Lions Post

Schley Riley, district deputy governor of Lions district 2-T-2, has been nominated by the Big Spring Lions club as a candidate for the governorship of the district.

His name was placed in nomination Wednesday at the regular meeting and was endorsed unanimously by the membership. Bill Dawes, president, who will head up Riley's campaign, secured a pledge of all-out support from the club in the candidate's behalf.

Riley is the first to be announced for the position, now held by M. O. Woolam, Andrews, who is first governor of the newly organized district. Last year the district was carved off the southern part of 2-T to make it extend westward from the Mitchell-Nolan line to El Paso and south of the line which forms a continuous southern border for Terry, Lynn, Yoakum and Garza counties.

During the 12 years he has been a member of the Big Spring club, Riley has served in several offices, including that of president. He also served as district deputy governor in 1942, resigning to enter the army.

Dawes said that the candidacy would be pressed in virtually every club in the district prior to the convention May 30-31 in Fort Stockton.

Cadillac

PRESENTS

THE New STANDARD OF THE WORLD!

Today, the world has a new standard by which to measure motor cars. For Cadillac has taken a great stride forward—one of the greatest, perhaps, in its entire history of automotive pioneering. As is always the case when a new Cadillac is introduced, the advancement embraces every phase of automotive goodness. The exterior appearance is wholly new, and represents the soundest principles developed in years of research. Interior design and finish are a complete departure, and add immeasurably to comfort, beauty and convenience. Performance is finer in every way, for the great Cadillac chassis and engine have been thoroughly refined. And vital improvements in factory equipment have raised even Cadillac's high standards of manufacturing. In fact, all the attributes which have contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the world's premier motor car have been made more pronounced. Regardless of the price class from which you expect to select your next car, you are cordially invited to view the new Cadillac—now on display in our showrooms. When the standard of the automotive world has been so decidedly raised, it should be of interest to everyone.

Cadillac's basic characteristics of design are fully apparent in the front view of the 1948 model. Bumper and grille are even more massive. The symbolic V ornament and crest have been pleasingly refined to harmonize with new, low hood lines.

Viewed from the rear, the 1948 Cadillac shows a complete departure in design. The full-width rear window improves appearance and safety. Smart "rudder-type" fenders, protected by sturdy bumper uprights, give an appropriate touch of firmness. Note the wide, low rear deck.

Serve Spanish Beans As Economical Treat

Pleasant canned goods, including some of the lower grades of canned vegetables, are economy news that will appeal to the thrifty housewife. And it's economy news that provides for just as good nutrition and for fine eating, with a special touch in cooking.

This Peace Plate suggestion features Spanish snap beans for excellent use of Grade C snap beans, plus a pumpkin pie dessert that takes advantage of our large stocks of canned pumpkin. For the housewife skilled in buymanship is both grade-wise and supply-wise. And it is smart planning and true home economy to buy foods when they are plentiful on the market. The homemaker needs no economics textbook to tell her that prices go down as supplies go up.

Especially good supplies of lower grade canned snap beans—cut and French style, the latter cut lengthwise—are on the market now, food specialists tell us. Whole beans and the Grade A cut beans remain high in price because they are not so plentiful.

The Grade C beans mean no lower nutritional value and no less care in the canning process, the specialists say. They simply are not as tender or as delicate in flavor. But good cooks can overcome these minor disadvantages.

SPANISH SNAP BEANS
2 onions, medium size
2 tablespoons drippings or cooking fat
3 cups canned snap beans, green or yellow
1 cup tomatoes, canned or cooked
Salt
Paprika
Cayenne pepper (optional)

1-2 cup dry crumbs
Cut the onions in thin slices and fry until golden brown in the drippings. Add beans, tomatoes and seasonings. Put into greased baking dish, sprinkle with crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 20 minutes.

Menu suggestion: With the Spanish Snap Beans, serve cottage cheese seasoned with chives, hashed brown potatoes, and cole slaw made of crisp new cabbage, to complete the main course. And for dessert, try the pumpkin pie for nutritional balance and good eating.

Food Tips: In any meal which leaves out meat, it's a good idea to use protein-rich foods to fill out the menu. That's why the cottage cheese and the pie are especially wise with this Spanish Snap Beans dish. The eggs and milk in the pie, of course, furnish added protein.

Bacon or other drippings used in the main dish of snap beans is an old favorite with Southerners. If you are not familiar with the appetizing flavor they add to beans, it's one you may enjoy.

Food specialists say that Grade A canned green beans would be a first choice for serving if you use no seasonings other than salt, pepper and table fat. Grade C beans are good buys for such dishes as this Peace Plate where other vegetables or meat lend flavor.

Pecan Muffins Are Delicious Dessert

If you follow the directions for making these muffins to the letter you will have a delicious hot bread with a fine texture and an extremely tender crumb. Each muffin should be symmetrically shaped, golden brown in color and have a rounded top that's pebbled in appearance.

2 cups sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting or 3 teaspoons single-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ to ½ cup pecan nutmeats
1-3 cup hydrogenated fat
1 egg, very well beaten
½ cup milk

Mix and sift cake flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into medium-size mixing bowl. Cut in hydrogenated fat thoroughly with pastry blender or two knives until no pea-size lumps remain. Mix in pecan meats. Put egg in small-size narrow-bottom mixing bowl; beat with rotary or electric mixer until thick and pale-colored (at least 5 minutes), add milk and beat to blend. Add to dry ingredients all at once. Fold together by drawing spoon from one side of the bowl to the other, rotating bowl as you do so, and bringing some of the mixture to the top each time. Folded in this way flour should be entirely dampened in about 15 strokes or motions. Mixture will be lumpy. Spoon into 8 greased 3-inch (measured across the top) muffin pans. (If smaller pans are used they should be filled no more than 2-3 full.) Bake in moderately hot (400 F.) oven 25 minutes, or until golden brown and done.

Klan Lashes Civil Rights

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., Mar. 4. (AP)—The grand dragon of the Georgia Ku Klux Klan Tuesday told robed and hooded members of the organization that "blood will flow" in the South if the Negro takes a place at the side of white men through the force of Federal bayonets.

Dr. Samuel Green of Atlanta addressed the klansmen as they paraded around the square of this Johnson county seat on the eve of a democratic primary to name 10 county officials.

About 300 Ku Kluxers participated in the orderly demonstration. After their parade they burned a 15-foot cross on the courthouse lawn.

About 400 Negroes are eligible to join 5,200 white persons in today's voting in which nomination is tantamount to election in this democratic stronghold of the deep South. The county has a population of 14,500, including about 4,500 Negroes.

He was the only unhooded klansman at the demonstration. He was dressed in the green regalia of grand dragon of the Georgia Klan.

sty Creole Shrimp Adds Variety Menus During Lenten Season

time for Lenten meals canned shrimp, now in supply on market shelves, with other good things make a very satisfactory dish at a reasonable cost. The best-liked shrimp are teamed with a tomato sometimes called Creole, Spanish.

Next on the menu came the shrimp creole on a mound of rice. With it hot oatmeal muffins.

After that an enormous bowl of romaine, thin slices of avocado, radishes, celery and cucumber and a salad dressing of tarragon vinegar, olive oil, salt, freshly ground pepper, paprika, mustard and a dash of sugar. The salad bowl sounds luxurious. I know, but it wasn't, since judicious shopping had bought the vegetables most reasonably.

For dessert we had a velvety butter pecan ice cream which comes packaged. Any number of less expensive desserts would have made a good ending. Applesauce and gingerbread, for instance, or an economical fruit whip.

Creole Shrimp
3 tablespoons fat
1-4 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely diced green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon chili powder
Dash of cayenne
1 bay leaf
1 sprig parsley, if desired
1/2 cup water
1 No. 2 can (1 pound to 1 pound 4 ounces) tomatoes (2 to 2 1/2 cups)
1 5-ounce can shrimp
Heat fat. Saute onion, green pepper, celery and garlic in hot fat over medium heat until partly soft, about 5 mins. Add flour and mix until vegetables are well-coated with it. Reduce heat. Add salt, chili powder, cayenne, bay leaf, parsley (if used), water and tomatoes and mix well. Increase heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Simmer over low heat for 15 mins., stirring a few times, to develop flavor. Remove bay leaf and parsley if desired. Add shrimp which have been drained and rinsed in cold water; mix well. Simmer 5 mins. longer or until shrimp are heated through. Serve hot with rice. 4 to 5 servings.

Stuffed Prune Dessert
20 to 24 home-cooked or ready-prepared prunes, drained (medium-size)
1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened.
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1-3 cup very finely diced celery
Salad greens
Slit prunes and remove pits. Beat cream cheese, which has been left at room temperature to soften, with a fork or spoon. Add mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing and lemon juice and blend well. Add 2 tablespoons of the celery and mix. There will be about 1/2 cup of the mixture; put about 1 teaspoon of it on each opened prune and pinch prune together slightly. Sprinkle about 1/4 teaspoon of the remaining finely chopped celery on each prune stuffing to garnish. Chill before serving. If preferred, the cream cheese mixture may be placed in refrigerator to stiffen before stuffing prunes. Allow 5 or 6 prunes for each serving and place on salad greens. 4 servings.

Note: If a 1-pound jar of ready-prepared prunes is used, the remaining juice may be made into a delicious drink. Simply add 1 cup milk to the juice (there will be about 3/4 cup of it), mix well in prune jar, recap and chill.

Chilled Pear Salad
6 fresh or canned pear halves
1-3 cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1-3 cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
Salad greens such as watercress, escarole, lettuce or chicory
6 whole ripe olives
If canned pears are used drain well; if fresh pears are used peel, halve and core just before serving salad. In either case chill well beforehand in refrigerator. Place each half pear on a bed of washed and dried salad greens. Fill centers with a spoonful of mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing which has been mixed with celery, blanched slivered almonds and ripe olives. Garnish with whole ripe olives. 6 servings.
Note: To blanch almonds place in boiling water until skins can be easily slipped off; dry on a towel and cut in lengthwise slivers at once.

and parsley if desired. Add shrimp which have been drained and rinsed in cold water; mix well. Simmer 5 mins. longer or until shrimp are heated through. Serve hot with rice. 4 to 5 servings.

AT PLENTY AND AKE OFF UGLY FAT

people have reported amazing results in some recipe. It's easy—no trouble and costs little. Just go to your drug store and buy a 4-ounce bottle of Barcostrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then shake thoroughly twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle shows the simple, easy way to lose fat and help regain slender, more curves; if you're unable to lose weight and excess fat don't just seem to disappear like magic from neck, chin, waist, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, turn the empty bottle for your money.

Lost 47 Pounds
"When I commenced to take Barcostrate, I weighed 213 pounds. I now weigh 166. I lost 47 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after losing that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barcostrate."—Mrs. George Greer, Chalmers Court 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

H. R. Cullen Will Back O'Daniel

HOUSTON, March 4. (AP)—Hugh Roy Cullen, Houston oilman and philanthropist, today said he plans to give unqualified support to U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel should he seek reelection in this year's Texas elections.

The outspoken Houston millionaire said "I've always supported O'Daniel because he talks good Americanism and I shall continue this support."

He gave no details as to any plan for participation in O'Daniel's campaign.

The junior senator from Texas as yet has not announced he will seek re-election in the July democratic primary.

O'Daniel was re-elected to a second term as governor in 1940 but resigned the following year to accept the senatorial post following a special election to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Morris Sheppard. He was elected to his first full senate term in 1942.

FOR ARMED FORCES

Press Panel Will Study Censorship

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—A panel of news experts will tell the armed forces soon whether some form of voluntary censorship is feasible in peacetime.

A group of 22 representatives of newspapers, wire services, magazines, radio and newsreels conferred with Secretary of Defense Forrestal yesterday. An eight-man committee was formed to study the problems which the defense chief outlined. The committee will report within 30 days.

Forrestal told the newsmen that there exists a "serious problem" of preventing information which might endanger the United States from reaching "any potential enemy."

He said there are two aspects to the general problem: 1. Tightening up "leaks" of information within the armed forces themselves; 2. assumption by the press of responsibility for "voluntarily refraining from publishing information detrimental to our national security."

Forrestal offered what he said was a suggestion by newspaper friends as "one possible solution." It was this: to establish both a security advisory council of six men from among the group which met with him yesterday and an information advisory unit. This latter unit would operate within the national military establishment but would be made up of civilians "insofar as practicable."

The advisory unit would function 24 hours a day to answer "inquiries on certain security subjects and offer guidance to the news media." The council would set up the rules governing operation of the information advisory unit.

During the war a voluntary censorship code was set up and an office was staffed around the clock to offer guidance on matters submitted to it.

Forrestal avoided the term "censorship" in his statement.

Members of the committee formed yesterday include:

B. M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Star, chairman; Reiman Morin, chief of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press; Lyle C. Wilson, general manager, Washington office, United Press; Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters; Perry Githens, editor of Popular Science monthly; William L. Cheney, publisher of Colliers magazine; Walton C. Ament, vice president and general manager, Warner Pathe News; Gene Dawson, Indianapolis, president of the Aviation Writers association.

Testimony Heard In Trial Of Long

TULSA, March 4. (AP)—Testimony began yesterday in the trial of Harold Long, Lubbock Negro, charged with murder without malice, in 68th district court here.

Long is charged in the death of Mrs. Walter T. Rogers, 60, Lubbock, who was killed almost instantly in a highway collision Jan. 17, 1947, about five miles south of here.

Her husband testified that he and Mrs. Rogers were returning from Claude to Lubbock when the accident occurred. Rogers said he saw Long's car approaching from the wrong side of the road but was unable to avoid a collision.

Other witnesses said the weather was foggy, snow had been falling and the highway was slick.

New Orleans Couple Reports Robbery

HOUSTON, March 4. (AP)—Police today said a New Orleans couple reported last night they were held up and robbed of $475 in cash and a $600 diamond ring.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Schrankel, said two Negro men signalled them to stop on the Beaumont road between Sheldon and the San Jacinto river and robbed them at pistol point.

Enroute to the West Coast, they continued their trip after making the report to police.

Bad Cable Causes Phone Service Break

HOUSTON, March 4. (AP)—Telephone service to Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, St. Louis and Kansas City was temporarily disrupted during the night.

Fisher Adams, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, said a cable containing 363 long distance circuits went out when a conduit housing the cable beneath a bridge caught fire.

Eisenhower Name Is Back In Politics

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4. (AP)—The name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday bounced back into political talk — this time as a possible Democratic presidential nominee. Eisenhower last month declared himself out of the running for the GOP nomination.

But friends who accompanied Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina to Washington said the Dixie executive would like to see the democrats pick the retired chief of staff, in preference to President Truman.

Thurmond himself did not mention Eisenhower by name. He did tell reporters that Secretary of State Marshall is a possibility. And he said southern politicians who are up in arms over Mr. Truman's civil rights program are discussing men from various parts of the country.

They include some who might be put up by either party, the governor said.

"Truman cannot be elected," he declared.

Thurmond is chairman of a southern governors conference committee which came here last week in a vain effort to convince Democratic National Chairman McGrath that the civil rights program should be withdrawn.

Newton Follows Baptist Precedent

ATLANTA, March 4. (AP)—When Dr. Louis D. Newton made it clear he would not want to be considered for a third term as president of the Southern Baptist convention he was following precedent set by his three immediate predecessors.

Newton, pastor of Atlanta's Druid Hills Baptist church, said his predecessors served two terms.

They were the late Dr. L. R. Scarborough, Edinburg, Tex.; Dr.

W. W. Hamilton, New Orleans, and Dr. Pat M. Neff, Waco, Tex.

The next convention will be held May 10-23 in Memphis.

Thirty per cent of adult Americans in 1940 had not completed a third grade school.

IT'S GOOD TO KNOW

Mrs. Tucker's HOME MAKING HELPS

Not knowing but doing often brings mistakes... Knowing and not-doing brings nothing. It's good to know and then do it.

On again, off again" is the unhappy dirge of many of our fancy modern buttons that noticeably cringe at washing, ironing or dry cleaning: thus must be removed. Here's a simple solution inspired by a blouse equipped with studs to easily button-hole your "new-look" button worries.

Sew a small (shirt-size) pearl button to each unwashable button, leaving a short loop of thread unless there's a shank on the fancy one. Work a button hole to fit the small button in the under facing where you would sew the larger one. Just button into place for wear... and unbutton for washing or cleaning.

Another new stitch to save time in sewing snaps to shoulder pads and shoulder seams of your blouses and dresses. It's a minor undercover job that's well worth pulling a few strings. To make it easier to match the pads to the right dress... sew the snaps with thread matching the color of the material.

Corned Beef Pie Is Tasty Dish

Is your family getting a little "set" in its eating habits? Or is it, perhaps, you, the meal planner, who is in a rut? You think of certain menu combinations week after week with only slight variations, and recently you've been appalled at how the prices on these familiar items have changed.

Try making a virtue of necessity and let high food prices and the need for food conservation shake you out of old habits and spur you on to try new dishes in your attempts at economy. The family might like the new, less expensive dishes better than the old ones.

Take corned beef as an example. Ten to one you've never cooked it except with cabbage—a good fish, to be sure, and an economical one. But you could have it twice as often if you used it also in Corned Beef Pie.

CORNED BEEF PIE
1½ cups cooked corned beef cut in cubes (about ¾ lb. lean meat)
4 small potatoes
1 small onion
1 tablespoon cooking fat
2 cups cooked red kidney beans
Salt and pepper
Table fat

Cut cooked corned beef and peel raw potatoes in small cubes. Brown chopped onion in fat; add ¾ of the potatoes and brown lightly. Add corned beef, beans and their liquid, and seasonings. Mix well and place in greased baking dish. Spread remaining potato cubes over top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with table fat. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375 F.). Serves 4.

MENU SUGGESTION: Serve a generous dish of cooked spring greens or spinach with this hearty dish. Add variety in color and texture with a salad of shredded carrots and raisins. Top off the meal with a dessert that is not rich, such as chilled grapefruit cup and crisp cookies.

FOOD TIPS: You'll find two kinds of bulk corned beef in some markets: one, corned in a solution with nitrates or nitrites, is red and keeps this color even after cooking; the other, corned in a salt solution, is brownish. Either is good so make your selection according to your family's taste.

Cuts commonly used for corning are brisket, navel, plate, neck and flank. In buying, select the leaner cuts. Canned corned beef may be used instead of bulk.

In Vermont, thrifty housewives give corned beef a company air by glazing it—the same sort of finishing touch given to ham. Put a piece of lean corned beef in a baking pan, stick with whole cloves and sprinkle with sugar. If you live in Vermont, you may use maple sugar, but if you are far from the maple groves, brown sugar will do. Bake in a moderate oven for about one-half hour, and serve hot.

Sailor May Get A Second Trial

FREDERICKSBURG, March 4.—The state is scheduled to make a second attempt April 26 at San Saba to try a Lampasas sailor charged in the fatal dancehall fire here last Christmas night.

The sailor is William Doyle Biddy, 22, charged with tampering with a butane gas stove at the dancehall shortly before the place became engulfed in flames.

Four persons died in the Dec. 25 tragedy. They were Mrs. Otto Seipp, 52, wife of the dancehall proprietor, and Mrs. Benno Eckhardt, 53, both of Fredericksburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petri, both of San Antonio.

The first trial opened here Monday, but Judge Thomas Ferguson ordered the transfer after difficulty was experienced in trying to obtain a jury.

Kleberg Hits Disease Fight Methods Used

SAN ANTONIO, March 4 (AP)—Cattleman Richard M. Kleberg says he believes the foot and mouth disease in Mexico should be stamped out "even if it costs the American people a billion dollars."

He told 200 members of the Lions club here yesterday that the joint U. S.-Mexico campaign was "wholly ineffective."

"The only solution is for the United States government to go into Mexico, buy all infested cattle, replace them with clean stock, and destroy all diseased beasts—even if this plan should cost the American people a billion dollars."

Kleberg, former congressman, attacked the methods used when American veterinarians "first entered Mexico and began slaughtering infested cattle."

"Few realize that this work began in secluded rural areas and often the only beast of burden—an ox—or the only source of milk supply—a cow—was slain," he said.

The Mexican farmer, he continued, was left with little means of a livelihood. Money paid him meant nothing, and he was miles from any store or food sources, Kleberg said.

Much of the meat from slaughtered animals should be canned and sold in Mexico or abroad, Kleberg asserted, but added that suffering animals heavily infested should be killed, placed in a trench, covered with lime and buried.

Kleberg resides at Corpus Christi.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Hughes Says Crop Residue Protected Land From Storm

Land with a protective cover of litter from crop residue lost very little soil during the severe sand storm last Monday E. J. Hughes, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, states. As an example, Hughes cited a sandy field east of Coahoma which had two strips of feed stubble and a strip of cotton on it. The strips with feed stubble were hardly blowing, Hughes said, while the cotton stubble land was blowing away.

Chiseled land on the C. H. DeVaney farm east of Coahoma also was not blowing during the sand storm, Hughes said. Chiseled land leaves it in a cloddy condition and keeps the crop stubble on the surface of the soil where it is most effective in controlling wind erosion he added.

R. N. Adams, a cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, left 50 acres of crop stubble this year on his farm in the Soash Soil Conservation group to keep his land from blowing. Adams, who listed about 400 acres of combine maize stubble this year, leaving most of the stalks on the surface of the soil, did not plow the crop stubble on the 50 acres.

"I left the stalks standing," Adams said, "to get the maximum benefit from the stubble in controlling wind erosion."

Adams is also maintaining the terraces on his farm by plowing them with a whirling plow to make them wider and higher. Terrace maintenance and crop residue management are only two of the measures used by Adams in his coordinated soil conservation program.

Others who are maintaining their terraces this year are Ed Martin and A. E. Madewell. Martin built up the terraces on his farm in the R-Bar Soil Conservation group 10 miles northwest of Big Spring. Madewell plowed the terraces on the C. E. Talbot farm south of Knott with a one-way plow.

Abruzzi rye and hairy vetch plantings on the State Hospital farm, W. J. Rodgers, E. A. Richers, Tom Barber, Gene O'Daniel, O. J. Brown and Oscar O'Daniel farms made good growth the past two weeks and are protecting the land from blowing. These crops survived the winter in good shape and besides making a good cover for the land will provide considerable grazing this spring after a late start because of drought and cold weather.

O. J. Brown, who has 7 acres of rye and vetch on his farm in the Richland Soil Conservation group, says he wishes he had more of his land in this crop. The rye and vetch is making more growth and gives more grazing than wheat, Brown says.

W. J. Bronaugh, district cooperator in the Elbow Soil Conservation group, planted 6 acres of Madrid clover this week. Bronaugh, who had the help of the Soil Conservation Service in planting his clover, inoculated the seed with "Nitragin A" and planted it in 40-inch rows. He planted the clover as a soil building crop and to furnish supplemental grazing.

Clover planting also started on the farm of Frank Lovelless, district supervisor who lives six miles northeast of Coahoma. Lovelless planted 4 acres of Hubam clover and will plant 3 acres of Madrid. Volunteer Hubam clover on the farm of C. E. Talbot came through the cold weather this winter in good shape and is making good growth. H. L. Mundell, operator of the farm, harvested 4 acres of the clover last July for seed and found that enough seed was left on the ground to get a volunteer crop of clover which came up after fall rains.

H. G. Talbot completed a conservation plant last week on his farm in the Richland Soil Conservation group eight miles north of Big Spring. Talbot, who resigned as agricultural engineer with the Soil Conservation Service last fall to devote full time to his farm, will plant 50 acres of Madrid clover for soil improvement as part of his conservation program. He has built up the terraces on his farm this year by plowing them with a Ford terracing plow.

A conservation farm plan was also made out by L. A. Rawlings on his farm a mile and a half north of the Gay Hill School.

blowing, Hughes said, while the cotton stubble land was blowing away.

Chiseled land on the C. H. DeVaney farm east of Coahoma also was not blowing during the sand storm, Hughes said. Chiseled land leaves it in a cloddy condition and keeps the crop stubble on the surface of the soil where it is most effective in controlling wind erosion he added.

R. N. Adams, a cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, left 50 acres of crop stubble this year on his farm in the Soash Soil Conservation group to keep his land from blowing. Adams, who listed about 400 acres of combine maize stubble this year, leaving most of the stalks on the surface of the soil, did not plow the crop stubble on the 50 acres.

"I left the stalks standing," Adams said, "to get the maximum benefit from the stubble in controlling wind erosion."

Adams is also maintaining the terraces on his farm by plowing them with a whirling plow to make them wider and higher. Terrace maintenance and crop residue management are only two of the measures used by Adams in his coordinated soil conservation program.

Others who are maintaining their terraces this year are Ed Martin and A. E. Madewell. Martin built up the terraces on his farm in the R-Bar Soil Conservation group 10 miles northwest of Big Spring. Madewell plowed the terraces on the C. E. Talbot farm south of Knott with a one-way plow.

Abruzzi rye and hairy vetch plantings on the State Hospital farm, W. J. Rodgers, E. A. Richers, Tom Barber, Gene O'Daniel, O. J. Brown and Oscar O'Daniel farms made good growth the past two weeks and are protecting the land from blowing. These crops survived the winter in good shape and besides making a good cover for the land will provide considerable grazing this spring after a late start because of drought and cold weather.

O. J. Brown, who has 7 acres of rye and vetch on his farm in the Richland Soil Conservation group, says he wishes he had more of his land in this crop. The rye and vetch is making more growth and gives more grazing than wheat, Brown says.

W. J. Bronaugh, district cooperator in the Elbow Soil Conservation group, planted 6 acres of Madrid clover this week. Bronaugh, who had the help of the Soil Conservation Service in planting his clover, inoculated the seed with "Nitragin A" and planted it in 40-inch rows. He planted the clover as a soil building crop and to furnish supplemental grazing.

Clover planting also started on the farm of Frank Lovelless, district supervisor who lives six miles northeast of Coahoma. Lovelless planted 4 acres of Hubam clover and will plant 3 acres of Madrid. Volunteer Hubam clover on the farm of C. E. Talbot came through the cold weather this winter in good shape and is making good growth. H. L. Mundell, operator of the farm, harvested 4 acres of the clover last July for seed and found that enough seed was left on the ground to get a volunteer crop of clover which came up after fall rains.

H. G. Talbot completed a conservation plant last week on his farm in the Richland Soil Conservation group eight miles north of Big Spring. Talbot, who resigned as agricultural engineer with the Soil Conservation Service last fall to devote full time to his farm, will plant 50 acres of Madrid clover for soil improvement as part of his conservation program. He has built up the terraces on his farm this year by plowing them with a Ford terracing plow.

A conservation farm plan was also made out by L. A. Rawlings on his farm a mile and a half north of the Gay Hill School.

Soviet Returns Two Tankers

YOKOHAMA, March 4 (AP)—Two more lend-lease tankers have been returned to the United States by Russia, at a time of critical world shortage of such vessels.

The tankers are the former Swanee Rail and the Paul Dunbar. They were brought to Yokohama by Russian crews. American crews will be flown here to sail the ships to the Persian gulf for oil to relieve the shortage along the U. S. East Coast.

The first lend-lease ship to be returned by the Russians was delivered to an American crew last week in Hong Kong. Thus began the return of vessels the United States has sought to get back since the end of the war.

Four other tankers are to be brought here, and a fifth is slated for delivery at Trieste.
