

Mobettie Meditations

Mrs. Homer E. Matthews

My reporter is home from a vacation and when asked how he was back and ready to go to work after a vacation, he replied I was back period. I never get ready to go to work after a vacation. I wonder, Well, we struggle with our relatives and friends in the highlight of our trip, but the highlight of our trip is having the privilege of hearing our pastor in the church. I attended as a girl and my mother and father before me. They sang duets in this church and they were married. It is a country church but kept up with the times. Our McCleary reunions held the same day so it was a big day for us. Of course we saw the Pirates play at Forbes in Pittsburg, while there, also a boat ride on Lake Erie. But we are happy to be back in Mobettie where we see the faces we have learned to love.

Mobettie schools will open Monday morning with assembly in the gym at 9 a.m. The new superintendent, L. P. Reeves will be in charge of assembly and introduce teachers which are as follows: High school—L. R. Reeves, Mrs. J. H. Scribner, High School Principal, Charlie Cash, and History, Robert Dumas, English, Mrs. Jessie Lee McCreary, Home Economics and Bill Johnson, Voc. Ag. Elementary—Mrs. Allen Neace, Principal, Mrs. Marie Seitz, 5th grade, Mrs. L. D. Unaway, 4th grade, Mrs. C. Crowder, 3rd grade, Mrs. C. Crowder, 2nd grade and Mrs. Dick Bricker, 1st grade.

Wednesday night, August 29th at the Baptist church, who is a Baptist minister, who is the son of H. D. H. Hathaway and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Godwin. He was accompanied by his wife and Mrs. A. H. Dyson.

Those attending the All-Star ball game in Amarillo Friday night from Mobettie were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hathaway and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCauley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Johnston and Jimmy are on a vacation, being back in Ill.

Mrs. LaVerne Scribner and Mrs. Carrol Scribner spent Monday in Amarillo attending to business.

The Blue Bonnet Study Club held its first meeting of the club Saturday morning when they met on the lawn of Mrs. H. L. Harris for an out-door breakfast. The new president, Mrs. W. Harris presided and the year books handed out and returned. Roll call was answered by telling of vacations. Dues were paid for the year. Mrs. Carrol Scribner were co-hostesses of this delightful breakfast at the following members present: Mesdames Sam A. Thomas, Sr., Tracy Willis, Grady Harris, Jim Hathaway, John C. Van Zandt, J. H. Scribner, Sam A. Thomas, Jr., Homer Matthews and the hostesses.

Folks of this community were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. G. L. and Della of Bakersfield, half visit in our midst for a few days. The Keys were enroute from their family reunion at Brownwood and planned to visit with friends in Bovina on their way home. Many of you will remember Garland was a Teller in the First State Bank here for a number of years. Your reporter was sorry to have him leave.

Mrs. Jim Selby was a delegate from Hemphill County to the Texas Home Demonstration Association's 25th Anniversary Meeting which was held on the campus of A. & M. at College Station, August 31st. The theme of the meeting was "United We Stand." There were over 2,000 Home Demonstration Club women attending and Mrs. Selby reported a wonderful time and feels it was well worth her time in information received.

FARM BUREAU LEADERS MEET IN WELLINGTON

County Farm Bureau leaders from this area will gather in Wellington on Monday, September 10 for a sub-district meeting. This is one of 24 such sessions being conducted throughout the State by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation during September. In attendance will be Federation President J. Walter Hammond and State Field Representative Leon Lane.

Stanley Garnett of Spearman, State Director for this district will preside. The all-day meeting will be held in the Community Building at Wellington beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Purpose of the sub-district conferences is to give officials of the State organization an opportunity to confer with county leaders on present day issues affecting agriculture. President Hammond will discuss the organization's program of work this year and the responsibilities of local leaders.

Mr. Lane will present the enrollment plan which has been developed by the State organization and recommended to counties for use in their annual membership enrollment drive scheduled for the week of October 11-18.

In his report to county leaders and members, President Hammond will discuss the movement led by the Texas Farm Bureau which resulted in the Passage of a natural resources tax this year to help defray expenses of State government. The Texas Farm Bureau's successful campaign which saved the rural road program for another two years will also be reviewed. Leaders will be told of the Farm Bureau's intensive program to curb price controls, its efforts to control inflation, work of the organization on the Poage labor bill which will provide additional labor on the farms of Texas during the harvest season. Hammond is at present urging Texas congressmen to devote effort to eliminating red tape in processing of Mexican Nationals which is causing delay in making labor available to farmers.

150 leaders from this area are expected to attend.

Scarlet Fever Still Menace To Children

"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesirable, and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent."

Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharge of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease.

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side."

WHEELER WINS, PLAY MCLEAN AGAIN SUNDAY

Wheeler's baseball team in the East Panhandle League came back with a vengeance last Sunday and pasted the McLean team in the second game of the post-season play-offs with a 20 to 5 loss. The contest was played on Wheeler's American Legion diamond.

The Wheeler nine scored in all but the second and ninth innings and it wasn't necessary for them to take their bat in the ninth inning; so, they actually scored in all but the second inning. McLean picked up one score in the first, and one each in the fifth, seventh, eighth and ninth inning.

David Britt had his best day of the season at the plate for the local nine getting three home runs, two walks and being safe on an error in six trips to the plate. Chester Bowles, playing third base for Wheeler also poked out a home run in addition to a pair of two-base knocks.

These two teams will meet on the Wheeler diamond again Sunday in the third and deciding contest of the series with the winner of the game scheduled to meet Briscoe in the last round of the play-off beginning Sunday, September 16. Next Sunday's contest will begin promptly at 3:00 o'clock managers Bud Vanpool and Maurice Burgess stand by.

Briscoe won the second game of their play-off series with Mobettie last Sunday by a count of 10 to 9 by coming from behind in the last two innings of the contest. Briscoe had previously defeated Mobettie the Sunday before; therefore, they will be idle this Sunday awaiting the outcome of the Wheeler-McLean contest before beginning the final round of the play-off.

In last Sunday's Wheeler-McLean contest, Billy J. Darnell and David Johnson did the chores on the mound for the locals and Bud Vanpool worked behind the plate. Striker and Edwards pitched for McLean while Kramer did the receiving.

Wheeler Whisperings

By J. C. Howell

We enjoyed a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Clepper and their two children Saturday afternoon at their home at Roosevelt School which is a large rural school near Lubbock. The Cleppers had had the misfortune of turning their car over shortly before we were there but fortunately none of the family was seriously injured.

WHEELER HAS EXCELLENT FIRE LOSS RECORD

Olin Culberson, secretary of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association, has recently released a record of insurance premiums and fire losses in Wheeler since the records have been kept beginning in 1929 to Jack Garrison, chief of the Wheeler Volunteer Fire Department, and Mayor R. H. Forrester.

Mr. Culberson commended the local fire department with the following statement:

"It is a fine record and I am sure your citizens will be justly proud and appreciative of what has been done by the department. This statement shows what a tremendous business investment the fire department is to your city."

The record shows that a total of $158,784.81 in premiums have been paid in by residents of Wheeler in the past 21 years while only $45,963.32 has been paid out by the fire insurance companies in losses during the same period. This covers the years 1929 through 1950.

In the years 1934 and 1949 the insurance companies were not out a cent for losses in Wheeler and they paid their heaviest claims, $21,209.00, in 1944 while they collected only $4,405.69 in premiums that year. Following the heavy claims in 1944, Wheeler insurance payers were burdened with 15% penalty for three years then with a 10% penalty for a fourth year.

In 1932 the Wheeler insurance buyers enjoyed a 9% good fire record credit, from 1935 through 1939 at 15% good fire record credit, from 1940 through 1944 a 25% good fire record credit, then again for the past three years, 1949, 1950 and 1951, the good fire record credit has again been the maximum or 25%.

During 1948, with a 10% penalty, the residents of Wheeler paid the most insurance premiums they have paid since the records have been kept, $13,184.28, while the companies paid off only $622.00 in losses. The premiums for 1950 dropped down to $11,353.79 and the companies paid off $2,250.00 in claims.

Writers And Poet's Contest Is Now Open

The annual state-wide Writers and Poets Contest, sponsored by the Manuscript Club of San Antonio, will open September 1, according to word received here from Guye Brennan, director. A total of over $300 cash will be awarded winners of the various entry categories, which include book-length novels, short stories, non-fiction, juvenile and poetry.

Prizes will be awarded the winners at a banquet which will highlight Texas Authors' Day in San Antonio, now tentatively scheduled for April 13, 1952.

The third annual meeting of Texas Authors' Day, which is sponsored by the Manuscript Club, will bring together well-known Texas authors, publishers and editors as well as aspiring writers for a two-day conference, to which the public is invited, Mr. Brennan reported.

Applications for entry blanks and registration in the Writers and Poets Contest should be mailed to Contest Editor, Texas Authors' Day, Room 633, Bedell Building, San Antonio, Texas. Official closing date of the contest is March 1, 1952. Programs for Texas Authors' Day, to be available shortly, may be obtained upon request.

Some of the local boys who are in service spent the weekend in Wheeler visiting their folks and friends. They were: Pfc. Nathan Barr of Kelley Field, San Antonio, Pfc. Bob Lowrie of Shepherd Field, Wichita Falls, Pfc. Bill Erwin of Las Vegas, N. M., Lloyd Goad of Cheyenne, Wyoming, Duane Bradford of Fort Sill, Okla. and Bill Jones of Lubbock Air Force Base.

J. R. Clemons brought in the first bale of cotton to be ginned in Wheeler Tuesday of this week. Clemons resides southeast of Wheeler. The snapped cotton weighed approximately 2,000 pounds.

This year's first bale came in 18 days earlier than did the first bale last year which was ginned by Jim Ogle of the Center community on September 22.

This year's first bale has not been ginned as yet due to the fact that Billy J. Darnell and his crew at the Paymaster gin are still waiting on some air lines which are part of the new machinery they have installed this summer. Darnell, points out, however, that his gin will be entirely completed within a few days and they will be ready before very many bales of cotton are ready to be ginned.

SIMS CHILDREN RELEASED FROM POLIO CLINIC

The Times is happy to report that all three of the Lyndon Sims children who were stricken with polio earlier this summer have recovered to a degree where they have been released from the sanitarium at Plainview and have been returned to their home north of town.

Joyce, the last of the three to be stricken, was the first to be released since she responded to treatment more rapidly than did the boys, Dean and Kent. Joyce was released from the hospital the middle of last week and returned home last weekend. The boys were released from the hospital Wednesday and returned home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Sims reports that all are recovering nicely but will still be confined to the home for perhaps another month or longer. The children are able to be up for their meals and for short periods at other times but must spend a great deal of the time resting as yet. They will go back to the sanitarium at Plainview for a check-up in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims and the children ask the Times to convey their thanks to everyone for the many deeds of kindness and prayers that had been offered in their behalf during the time the children had been in the hospital.

THE U. S., MR. OATIS AND THE CZECHS

In the month of July, the officials of Czechoslovakia arrested an Associated Press correspondent, by the name of William Oatis, and since that time he has been in jail. There was something of a "trial," but, according to our standards, the accused did not have the benefit of justice as applied in the American courts.

It may be safely presumed that the government of this country has made, and is making, efforts to secure the release of the newspaper man. However, short of ultimatum, with a threat of immediate warfare, there is no way for the government to do "all that it can" to secure Mr. Oatis' freedom.

With this background, one will understand how much attention to give to the demand of Senator Harry P. Cain, of Washington, that the President make "an outspoken demand" for the release of the American. Mr. Cain wants the government to "speak out against the growing practice of Communists of abusing innocent Americans as a regular feature of Red Roman holidays." Apparently, he has the idea that the position of our government is not known and that it has not spoken out against such practices on the part of the Communist states.

While insisting on a "firm demand" and "determination" that such things must not happen again behind the Iron Curtain "without swift punishment for the offenders," the Washington solon seems to recognize that the Czechs will probably want to bargain for the release of Mr. Oatis.

Consequently, Senator Cain poses a question: "Will history record one more instance of our great country paying Red tribute?" We have no idea what the Washingtonian has in mind but, apparently, he favors a demand, backed by some kind of ultimatum, that might result in war. This, obviously, will not help Mr. Oatis but it might result in "swift punishment" for some of the people of Communist countries and, inevitably, some of the people in our own country.

While it is natural for Americans to become incensed at the action of the Czechoslovakian government, one would expect a man, in the responsible position of a United States Senator, to be more practical in his public addresses, even after making allowances for political propaganda. The United States has already partially shut off trade with Czechoslovakia by withdrawing all tariff concessions to that country.

It may be that this is the first step in laying the foundation for a "bargain" by which the correspondent can be recovered. Obviously, there is no expectation that this country will go to war with the Czechs over the correspondent and, in fact, no sound reason to do so.

Modern Way to Control Roaches, Ants

Roaches are the most difficult household pests to control, since they can be brought into any home from the market in a bag of potatoes or other groceries. Latest research at the Universities of North Dakota and Minnesota indicates that the roach is a polio carrier. Science has just come forth with a new discovery that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. Johnston's No-Roach coating was developed in the laboratories of the Gaston Johnston Corp., New York 22, to provide a simple and easy method of disposing of these household pests. The coating can be painted on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, such as woodwork, near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. It's invisible, odorless, stainless and remains effective for months. The product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorous. No-Roach can be easily applied to any surface with a regular paint brush, since it is not a contaminating spray or messy powder. It is sold throughout the country and your local department store will have it in three convenient bottle sizes.

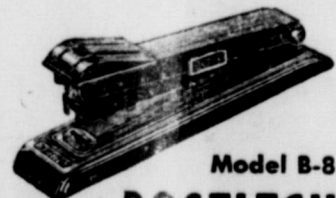

BLUEBELLS IS MONEY CROP TO RANCHERS

The Texas bluebell is a native purplish-blue gentian known as "prairie gentian." The long-lasting blue flowers are generally found on hills and slopes in East Texas, and valleys and depressions of West Texas. The flower opens to full bloom in sunny places, offering color to landscapes and a money crop to the farm or ranch family.

Sadie Hatfield, Homestead Improvement Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College says the bluebell seed begins to ripen in August or September and can be planted as soon as ripe. The longer the seed dries, the longer it takes for them to grow.

The specialist suggests starting the seed in boxes, cans or flower pots in good garden soil, packed firmly. Smooth the soil with a board or other flat object and spread the seed, mixed with a little sand or dry soil, evenly without covering. The specialist says water slowly and evenly to keep from washing the seed together. Cover the pot, seed box or can with a glass or newspaper during the day, remove at night. The plants will come up in about two weeks, growing slowly during the fall and winter. When there are a few leaves remove plants from the seed box with a spoonful of unbroken soil around each, and re-pot. Protect from winds and cold, and in the early spring plant them in the open ground. The second year plants flower more freely than first year growth.

The botanical name for the Texas bluebell is "Eustoma russellianum." You can get the seed from local seed stores.

MRS. CLAYTOR GIVES RULES ON FREEZER CARE

If your home freezer accumulates unpleasant odors from spoiled food, you may have difficulty removing them.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Home Management Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College suggests several methods of dispelling the odor from the freezer. First, try washing all the interior surfaces of the freezer with plenty of soap and water. Then go over them with a cloth wrung from clear water. Wipe dry. If this doesn't dispel the odor, wash the freezer with soda water, using 1 teaspoon baking soda to each quart of warm water. Then, if the odor persists, try vinegar, using about 1 cup to a gallon of water, or household ammonia in the same proportions.

But if none of these suggestions prove effective, don't give up. Try using heat to bring out the odor particles and get them into the air. Put something like a toaster or electric heater inside the freezer to heat. Then use an electric fan for about 2 hours to blow the air out.

The specialist says activated charcoal in the warm freezer will absorb odors released by the heat, or a commercial, wick-type air freshener may be used. When the odor has been removed or reduced to where it is of no consequence, the specialist suggests a final washing of the inside surfaces of the freezer with soda water. Activated charcoal left in for a while will pick up any residual odor.

THE FORGETFUL HOST

One day a visitor arrived in the home of Leonard Lieblich, editor of "Musical Courier," just as the family was about to sit down to dinner. Mr. Lieblich, annoyed at such thoughtless timing, had the maid ask the guest to wait.

After an unhurried meal, Mr. Lieblich greeted his friend. "Sorry to keep you waiting," he said. "but we always eat at 7." "That's what I thought," the friend replied, "when you invited me to dinner tonight."

Easy because accurate, finger-tip heat control gives you the correct amount of measured heat called for by your recipe.

Easy because clean electricity — cleanest of all heat producing methods — cuts down wall and curtain cleaning, eliminates entirely muss, fuss, dirt, grease and grime.

Easy because automatic electric cooking lets your meal start while you're away from home—stops it while you're gone, too, if that's your wish.

Easy because cool electric cooking brings added comfort to your kitchen — added pleasure to your meal planning.

Easy because your electric range can be placed in the most convenient kitchen location without worry about flames or fumes — matchless electric cooking requires neither.

Yes, electric cooking is easy — as modern women know.

PLANTING TWO ROWS LEAVING ONE IS GOOD

Approximately equal yields of cotton were obtained under irrigation by planting two rows and skipping one and by planting each row according to D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station.

observed between the two practices in tests conducted under irrigation at Lubbock during the three years 1948-50. Where each row was planted, an average of 382 pounds of lint per acre was obtained, while 370 pounds of lint was obtained from planting two rows and skipping one. During the two dry years of 1948 and 1950, the practice of allowing every third row to remain blank returned greater yields.

In tests conducted under dry-land conditions during the four years 1929-32, the practice of planting each row gave an average of 23 percent higher yields.

These results were obtained where the "plant two-skip one plots" had two-thirds as many plants as where each row was planted. Jones points out that planting each row hastens maturity as compared to planting two and skipping one.

The practice of allowing each third row to remain unplanted, on the average, retards maturity except where the number of plants are equal on an acre basis, reduces harvest time, presents a weed management problem in the blank row, and is not easily adapted to four-row equipment.

The results of this research are given in Progress Report 1384, available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

WE PROUDLY PRESENT...

A New Gin

For This Territory

Yes, Everything New But The Building

We have spent the entire summer this year tearing out the old ginning machinery at our local plant and have completely installed new ginning equipment from beginning to end. Everything has been put in new, no expense has been spared.

We now have one of the most up-to-date ginning plants that can be found anywhere and we can certainly guarantee you as good a turnout for your cotton as you can possibly get anywhere.

We feel that the farmers of this territory are entitled to the very best turnout possible for their cotton to enable them to sell their product for the very highest price possible; therefore, we have gone to all the expense of installing this complete new gin plant with the hope that you will take advantage of its facilities.

Our equipment includes new cleaners, burr machine, separator, press, in fact, everything in the plant is new.

We heartily invite you to come by and look over our new ginning plant before you harvest your first bale of cotton. Let us show you just exactly what we have done to our plant in order to give YOU, MR. FARMER, a better turnout of your cotton.

We want you to know that we have appreciated your patronage the past few years and shall endeavor to do everything within our power to merit your continued patronage.

LOTS OF TRUTH TO THIS

A man who went to the doctor's office was somewhat surprised when the nurse told him to step in the next room and remove his clothes.

"But nurse," he started in a hoarse whisper, "it's my throat."

"Please do as I tell you," snapped the nurse, "or I shall be forced to cancel your appointment."

So, shugging his shoulders, he went into the next room and there set a young fellow who was looking very uncomfortable and quite naked except for a large parcel he held across his knees.

"Doesn't that beat everything?" said the man removing his coat, "I come in here with a sore throat and I have to take my clothes off."

"What are you beefing about?" was the reply, "I just came in here to deliver this parcel!"

BIGGER'N THE JURY

A young lawyer pleading his first case had been retained by a farmer to prosecute a railway company for killing 24 hogs. He wanted to impress the jury with the magnitude of the injury.

"Twenty-four hogs, gentlemen! Twice the number there in the jury box!"

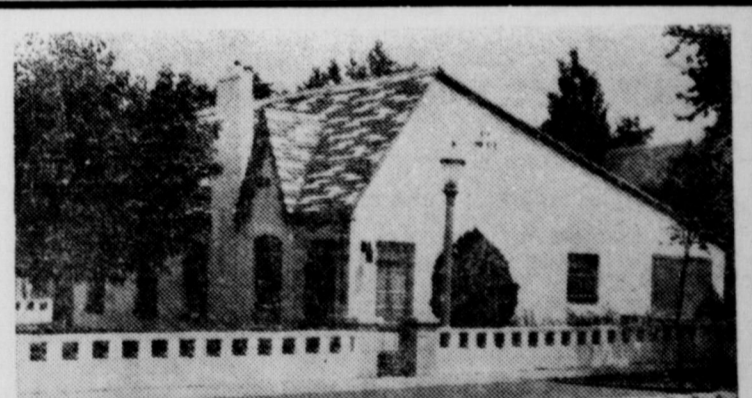

SPYING

Woman: "My husband talks in his sleep."

Doctor: "I'll give you something to quiet him."

Woman: "No, I want something to make him talk louder, I can't quite make out what he says."

The wife maintains that back-seat drivers are no worse than men who cook from the dining room table.

Only a Rose, and how we love it! Yet it is the commonest of flowers. It grows in every country, along every roadway under the sun. Every nation appreciates it. Perhaps it is like the sunshine... the spring showers or the pearly dewdrops on its petals; all the more meaningful because so universal. God made the Rose.

Children carry them for their favorite teacher. Lovers weight them down with deep and intense affection for their beloved. Mature home lovers are brightened by their fragrance and loveliness. The hours of sorrow are lightened and sanctified by the silent ministry of friends who find no other expression of sympathy quite so satisfactory. Thank God for the simple wayside wild rose. Thank Him for all the patented varieties so much sought after throughout the land. His rose by any other name would smell just as sweet. It is God's Rose.

Can we not make the humble rose even more symbolic and glorious? Let the crystal purity of her white petals symbolize life everlasting. May she speak in reverent words of devotion, and love and God as she illumines His sacred pulpits all over the world. May she not testify to the omnipotence of God and may her sacred and significant voice be that of Him calling His children to worship. God made the Rose!

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today are aware that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Declare with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH. GOES and a daily BIBLE READER.

This week I give you the following from the Hungarian Observer, published by the Hungarian National Council, 339 East 52nd Street, New York 22, New York.

THE RUSSIANS REQUISITION CHILDREN IN HUNGARY: In olden times the Ottoman Empire used to kidnap children from occupied countries, take them to Turkey, and there train them as Janissaries in the service of world conquest. These boys, trained as ruthless warriors, gradually forgot their mother tongue, their nationality and even their names. By the time they grew up, they would not have recognized their own parents, so completely were they changed and Mohammedanized.

This is what Communists are doing on Soviet-occupied territory in Eastern and Central Europe. They first tried the system in Greece. There Communist bands abducted Greek children to Communist states, seeking to make them forget their origin and train them to become fanatic Communists.

THE "SOCIALIZATION" OF CHILDREN: According to latest reports, this method has been extended to Hungary. The Times of London was first to report that in the course of the Budapest deportations

"in many cases children are taken from their parents in order that they shall receive a thorough education in Communist principles."

Then Hungaria (Hungarian paper of Munich) reported that children snatched from deportees are taken to staterun orphan asylums and apprentice homes, which are simply institutions for the training of Janissaries. People who try to flee the country with their children are arrested. Their children are taken from them and "socialized."

THE WEEKLY DIGEST OF NEWS FROM HUNGARY (issued by the Hungarian Research Division of the National Committee for a Free Europe) further informs us that

"In mid-June new rumors spread like wildfire among the evictees: the segregation of children under 14 years of age, and the transporting of certain groups to the Soviet Union. It is a fact that children who cannot be used for factory work are mostly separated from their parents and put into lower grade technical training schools controlled by the Communist authorities. . . . The conception of the family will become a thing unknown."

A report has also been received from SERVICE LIBRE "Rideau De Fer" (Iron Curtain Free Press Service, a Paris news agency run by Hungarian emigres) to the effect that passersby have come across a 2 and a 4 year-old child wandering in the streets of Budapest. They had tags around their necks with texts like the following: "I shall never see these children again I have just packed my bundle and am waiting for them to take me away." Signed: "The grandmother of these two little ones."

LITTLE LOUIS IS BOUGHT FOR 2000 FORINTS: This is the background of the tale of horrors, imparted by Samedi-Soir of Paris, in whose columns Mrs. Stephen Nagy, nee Julia Kovacs, a 48-year-old woman who fled from Hungary, relates the following:

She lived at Ujpest, an industrial suburb of Budapest. Her husband having died two years ago, she supported her two-year old son, Louis, on her factory earnings. Recently Soviet-style women's divisions were set up in the Army. And it was decreed that the children of drafted women would be "bought" by the state. The factory where this woman worked was ordered to designate fifteen women workers for army service. Since she had not surpassed the notorious "norms," the Communist factory manager put her on the list. Mrs. Nagy, informed she was to serve in the first women's regiment of the third battalion, was ordered to report before induction to the Rakosi Children's Home with her two-year-old son. Here they told her she must surrender the child to the state that he might be "suitably educated." The state would "redeem" her child for 2000 forint (at the official rate this would be two hundred dollars); in the black market, forty dollars). They handed her an official transcript of the transaction, tearing her child forcibly from her arms despite her desperate appeals. The woman fled to
