

Pope Pius Suffers A Heart Attack; Given Oxygen

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—An Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) dispatch from Rome today said that Pope Pius had suffered a second stroke at 5:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m., C.S.T.) following his heart attack this morning.

The dispatch said the Holy Father was unconscious for about 15 minutes.

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—Pope Pius suffered a serious heart attack this morning and oxygen was administered immediately after his collapse to overcome a difficulty in breathing.

This treatment was suspended, however, after the difficulty had been remedied and the Vatican announced officially that the Holy Father's condition was improving this afternoon.

The 81-year-old Pontiff was stricken suddenly as he was about to leave his private apartment for an official ante-chamber for his daily round of private audiences.

A Vatican medical bulletin described his illness as cardiac asthma. Another informant said it was myocarditis (inflammation of the muscular part of the wall of the heart).

Secretaries who saw the Pope overcome his dizziness immediately carried him to his room and put him to bed. Physicians were summoned and his personal physician, Dr. Amintore Milani, still was with the Holy Father late in the afternoon.

Cardinals and prelates, including George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, who were to have been received in audience were informed of his illness when they arrived at the Vatican.

Cardinal Mundelein later left by automobile for Naples, intending to sail for the United States tomorrow on the Conte Di Savoia. This was taken to indicate that the Pope's condition was not considered cause for immediate alarm.

The Pontiff collapsed and sank to the floor when he was stricken, but members of his household said he remained conscious. As soon as he was in bed Dr. Filippo Rocchi gave him an injection of adrenalin and digitalis.

Thompson Sees A Good Year For Oil Industry

Cites Decline In Crude And Gasoline Stocks

AUSTIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission and the Texas Railroad commission, said today it appeared 1939 would be a "crackerjack year" for the oil industry.

He ventured the prediction while outlining plans for a highly important statewide hearing here December 12. He said testimony would be sought to ascertain whether the slashing of crude oil and gasoline stocks should be halted.

"We've cut crude stocks through the nation 34,000,000 barrels," he said. "Gasoline stocks have now been pulled down below what they were a year ago. It may be that at the start of 1939 we should stop these withdrawals from storage. At any rate we want heads of the big refining companies to come here from all over the country at our regular hearing December 12 and tell us what they think about the situation."

The railroad commission chairman said he could see "nothing" See OIL, Page 3, Col. 1

STORMS IN EAST TAKE HEAVY TOLL

Chiang Calls For A Showdown On British Assistance

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was said by Chinese sources today to have expressed dissatisfaction to the British ambassador over Great Britain's Far Eastern policies and to have hinted strongly that the time for a showdown had arrived.

This was disclosed as the British ambassador, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, returned to Shanghai from a conference with Chiang "somewhere in Hunan province." Informed quarters said the conference might be the turning point in Anglo-Chinese relations.

Sir Archibald declined to discuss his talks with the generalissimo other than to say Chiang was "well, fit and optimistic."

Chinese sources said, however, that Chiang told the ambassador Britain had failed to carry on the traditional Anglo-Chinese relationship.

He was said to have told Sir Archibald that unless British policies were changed and aid was forthcoming China would be forced to turn elsewhere. In that event, Chiang was reported to have said, Britain's dominance in China would fade away and the power that provides the needed help would become the paramount influence in Chinese foreign affairs.

The Kuomintang is scheduled to open an important session at Chungking, temporary capital, early in December to determine China's foreign policy for the future. Chiang was said to have urged Britain to provide assurances of positive assistance.

Britain thus was placed on the horns of a dilemma, since Japan frequently has asserted that Britain must change her Far Eastern policies to meet Japanese approval before peace and understanding can be achieved in the Orient.

French and American relations with China were understood to be slated for a similar frank review in conversations Chiang expects to hold in the near future with ambassadors of the two countries.

Chiang was reported to have expressed the opinion, Chinese sources said, that Japan's South China campaign was decided upon after the Munich conference on the partition of Czechoslovakia had led the Japanese to believe Britain would not take action in the Far East.

He was said to have called Sir Archibald's attention to the fact that Britain quickly granted a large loan to Czechoslovakia while China had been trying in vain for 16 months to obtain financial assistance from London.

Traffic At A Standstill In Heavy Snow

Wintery Attack Called The Worst In Many Years

By The Associated Press Snow plows and shovel brigades mopped up in cities and rural communities across the nation today in the wake of the worst Thanksgiving Day storm in many years.

Incomplete reports showed nearly two score storm fatalities, with shipping and air transportation partially paralyzed along the Atlantic coast and elsewhere. Trains and buses ran behind schedule.

Automobile clubs received thousands of calls from drivers needing help as their cars were marooned in heavy snowdrifts and incapacitated by freezing temperatures.

The worst single tragedy growing out of the storm was reported at Amsterdam, N. Y., where a 27-year-old mother and her five small children, huddled around an oil stove for warmth, were burned to death when the stove exploded.

Breakdowns or delays in air, land and coastal shipping traffic marred the holiday by preventing untold numbers of scheduled family reunions.

Swift-freezing sleet resulted in hundreds of highway accidents and slowed traffic to a turtle's pace.

Washington, D. C., recorded seven inches of snow in 24 hours—more than fell throughout last winter.

Eight inches of snow blanketed metropolitan New York following a freak thunder and lightning storm, almost without precedent in cold weather.

Weather bureau officials said it was the city's worst November snowstorm in 40 years.

Upland New York counted 11 dead, with 10 inches of snow at Rochester, five each at Buffalo and Syracuse.

Approximately 100 wheat-laden barges fought their way eastward through the barge canal, hoping to reach the open Hudson river before it freezes over.

Twenty passengers on an Albany-New York bus were marooned for seven hours when the bus struck a drift near Selkirk, in Albany county. Owls Head, the state's "icebox," reported zero temperature overnight.

France Torn By Strikes

Baladier May Call State Of Siege To Crush Movement

By The Associated Press A mounting wave of strikes threatened intensified discord in France today.

Premier Daladier called out 30,000 mobile guards and 20,000 gendarmes to afflicted centers as the strike roll approached 100,000 and grew hourly.

Daladier was said to be determined to crush the movement, even to be planning to decree a state of siege—similar to martial law—and to be considering the arrest of former Socialist Premier Leon Blum and leaders of French labor.

It was reported in Paris that the socialist party, most powerful in the French chamber of deputies, had decided to demand Premier Daladier's resignation amid spreading agitation against the government.

The socialist chiefs conferred under the leadership of former Premier Leon Blum and afterward met with left-wing radical-socialist forming a dissident group of Daladier's own party.

They were understood to be attempting to form a new chamber majority.

French workers in metal factories, textile mills and chemical plants of Lille voted to quit tomorrow, refusing to do a half day of work Saturday beyond the 40-hour work period.

Northern Railroad hands, ordered back to their posts under government requisition of the lines, were prevented from resuming service by striking miners who occupied railway stations at the Anzin and Bruay mines.

Strikers also held the Renault automobile factory plant on Seguin island in the Seine. Police and mobile guards patrolled approaches to the plant but did not storm it. Crowds stood in the rain to watch.

Authorities said 40 policemen and police officers were wounded in last night's battle at the main Renault plant in Paris, the first clash of the strike wave.

Continued arrests of strikers and demonstrators brought the total jailed in the Paris region since yesterday to 290. All were accused of resisting officers of the law.

HUTTO RESIGNS AS MEMBER OF COUNTY TRUSTEE BOARD

Louis Hutto, Coahoma, Friday submitted his resignation as a member of the county board of school trustees.

A long time member of the board, Hutto is leaving his post because he plans to be out of the county frequently during the year.

He said that it was his conviction that a person in public office should not attempt to hold that office unless he is in a position to serve at all times.

His successor will be named at a subsequent meeting of the county board.

HE GOT HIS FISH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25 (AP)—John Galloway, 65, was pulled out of San Francisco bay and taken to an emergency hospital.

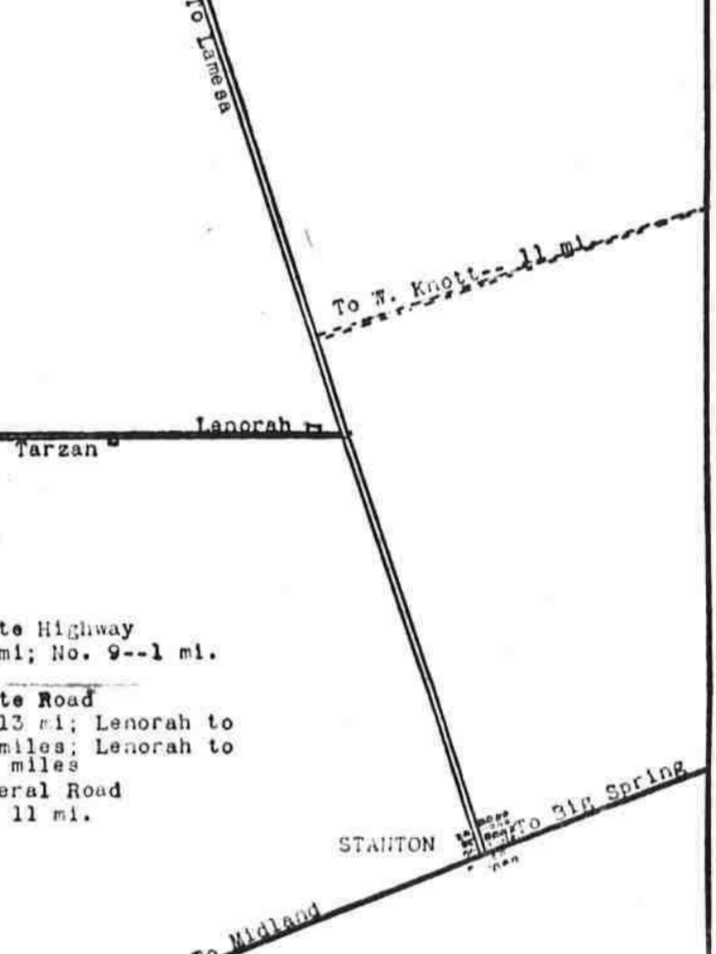

"I just wanted one of those pretty fish," he told Dr. S. P. Smith. Dr. Smith began unbuttoning Galloway's clothes. Out flopped a four-inch smelt.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 25 (AP)—Through the medium of a Thanksgiving telegram, president Roosevelt was on record again today—at least by implication—in opposition to policies of dictator nations.

Departing from an otherwise perfunctory address at a holiday dinner last night the chief executive read a telegram—one of many greetings—from Eddie Cantor, the actor, as follows: "May you and yours have a

MARTIN VOTES ON ROAD BONDS SATURDAY

The road proposals involved in the Martin county $50,000 bond vote Saturday are shown in the above sketch. At stake are three sections in particular, the road from Stanton to Lenorah, from Lenorah to the Andrews county line, and from a point three miles north of Lenorah to W. Knott in Howard county.

The section above Lenorah to the Dawson county line is under contract for improvement as a state road project, while no active provision has been made for the road on into Stanton from that point. The road sections from Lenorah would connect with one at the Andrews county line and the Dawson county lines to eventually give all weather connections with Andrews and Lamesa. Issues of similar proportions to finance roadways purchase and improvements fell short by 11 votes in May and a single negative vote in October.

C-C Parley Is Set Tuesday

Community Programs To Be Talked At Meeting

Two of the most important matters facing the community during the remainder of the year will be discussed at an open speaker Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the chamber of commerce office.

While members of the chamber's trade extension and highway committees will be in attendance, other persons regardless of membership in the organization, were urged to participate in the parley.

Plans for the Christmas celebrations to usher in and promote Christmas shopping will be talked along with plans for organization of a Broadway club to cooperate in a move to recapture and increase traffic along U. S. 89 and State 1 highway.

After the smoker, there likely will be meetings of the trade extension and highway committees to act on ideas formulated during course of the meeting.

HEY, MISTER HERE ARE YOUR FALSE TEETH

PERRY, Okla., Nov. 25 (AP)—If Arthur O. Olson of Tulsa will communicate with James Slaven of this community he may recover those false teeth he sneezed overboard from his plane last summer.

Slavin said he found a set of false teeth in a field near here when he stooped over to pick up a rabbit he had shot.

While flying over this section last summer, Olson reported he leaned over the side of his plane to sneeze and his teeth plummeted to earth. Slavin said the teeth he found probably were Olson's.

Town Being Evacuated

Raging Flames Within A Mile Of Mountain Point

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25 (AP)—Evacuation of women and children from Crestline, in the San Bernardino mountains, was begun this morning when the forest fire began sweeping toward the little town.

Meanwhile, on another fire front, in Los Angeles county, a new menace arose on the ridge of a thickly populated canyon when an extensive backfire was whipped up suddenly by adverse winds. It threatened to send the fire down the main slope of Mandeville canyon, where there are many pretentious homes.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney, noted sportswoman, was among those who left Mandeville as the flames crept ever closer.

Walter Schultz, who led a caravan of three autos containing 15 women and children into San Bernardino, said that at 6:30 a. m. the flames were within a mile of Crestline.

Charles M. Plummer, chief dispatcher for the U. S. forest service at San Bernardino, describing the situation as "extremely serious," said men had been stationed throughout the endangered area "to assist in evacuation if that becomes necessary."

Crest Forest, comprising a dozen communities, and homegrown by twisting roads lined with homes, is a major center of a recreational area which in recent years has been visited by 2,000,000 persons annually.

All available men, many of whom had assisted in partially controlling the fire on two lower fronts, were rushed into the district, under direction of federal supervisors and rangers who flew to San Bernardino from all parts of the state. Early this morning, recruiting of 200 fighters began in the valley cities of San Bernardino and Colton.

Plummer reported that the fire was moving westward. Between Pinecrest and Crestline, three miles away, the twisting mountain road is lined with cabins and residences. Four thousand cabins are in the Crest forest district.

Two hundred CCC youths, in charge of supervisors and rangers flown to San Bernardino from all parts of the state, were rushed into the endangered district to augment crews already totaling more than 500. Several regional officials, who flew south from San Francisco, were on the fire line.

The latest break in southern California's most serious forest fire situation in years came at a time when thousands of exhausted fighters apparently were nearing success in their efforts to control blazes in four counties, which already have caused damage estimated to approach $5,000,000.

Two days later, on Dec. 8, a series of three weekly amateur radio programs under the direction of the chamber of commerce will start. These programs will be used to stimulate interest in the general Christmas program.

J. G. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, asked for more entries.

On Dec. 13 Saint Nick will return a second time in a gala parade in the downtown section during the afternoon. Several thousand people are expected to witness this spectacle.

City Turns To Yule Plans

Appearances Of Santa Claus To Be Gala Occasions

With Thanksgiving passed, Big Spring turned today toward an annual period of unusual activity—the Christmas season.

Merchants were outlining details of two events to bring in the Yuletide with great ceremony, both marked by visits from the patron saint of Christmas, Santa Claus.

The rotund gentleman is scheduled to make his first pre-Christmas call here Dec. 6 to touch off Yule preparations. Location for a huge chimney on the courthouse lawn was selected Friday in anticipation of his initial visit.

DIES THINKS GOVT. OFFICIALS SHOULD RESIGN POSTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) continuing his feud with Secretary Ickes, proposed today that the interior department head along with Secretary Perkins and WPA Administrator Hopkins should resign and thus "restore confidence to government."

"It is a consummation devoutly desired by the overwhelming majority of democrats," said Dies, chairman of the house committee investigating non-American activities.

"Citizens can not feel secure, he declared, while 'crackpots' are in high federal positions.

DELEGATES TO LIMA TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull worked up to the last minute today before leaving with other American delegates on a 13-day trip to the Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru.

A special car was attached to a New York train for Hull and his party. Most of the delegation, including Alfred M. Landon, already were in New York.

The group will sail at 4 p. m. (CST) on the Grace liner Santa Clara.

Hull had a long conference with Under-Secretary Sumner Welles, a Latin American expert who will be in charge of the state department in the secretary's absence.

Their discussion revolved in part around the foreign problems likely to arise during the next few weeks. One of these concerns relations with Germany, about which Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson of Berlin will report to President Roosevelt this weekend at Warm Springs, Ga.

Wilson was due in New York late today, having been summoned home at the president's request.

Germany's economic advance in South America will receive indirect consideration at the Lima conference, which state department officials consider the most important meeting of the 21 Pan-American republics ever held.

happy Thanksgiving. I am thankful I can live in a country where leaders all sit down on Thanksgiving Day and carve up a turkey instead of a map."

The message, the president remarked before reading it over coast to coast radio chains, "gives me a thought we can all think over."

The president spoke at the annual Founder's Day banquet of the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mrs.

Roosevelt sat beside him as he recounted to the 80 crippled patients and their families, the foundation staff, progress of the health colony he established here a dozen years ago.

The advance text given to correspondents had contained no hint of foreign affairs. It was not until Mr. Roosevelt reached an ante room to Georgia hall, where he spoke in the huge combination dining-assembly hall, that it became known he had decided to amplify his talk. He called a reporter over and tipped him off to watch closely at the close of his address.

The president referred to Cantor as "an old friend." The motion picture-radio entertainer has been a leader in raising funds for use in combating infantile paralysis by means of the annual Roosevelt birthday balls.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, refreshments were served to Mrs. W. F. Cushing, Mrs. R. C. Strain, Mrs. W. E. Hornbaker, Mrs. H. W. Leeper and Mrs. W. C. Henley, who are club members, and to Mrs. C. E. Talbot, Mrs. C. E. Shive and Mrs. The Andrews, who were guests.

Mrs. Shive and Mrs. Andrews were presented with prizes for winning high score and making bingo. Mrs. Strain scored club high.

Returns Home

Katherine Van Open returned to her home in Fort Worth Friday after spending Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Van Open. Miss Van Open is a member of the St. Joseph hospital staff.

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—until they get at the cause of the trouble!

Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B<sub>1</sub>. Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Patterns for making hat and shoe racks were distributed to the girls by the sponsor, Gertrude Harrington, who represented the club at a meeting in El Dorado recently, gave a report.

NEGRO'S COMPLAINT AGAINST RAILROAD IS DISMISSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission dismissed today a complaint by Arthur W. Mitchell, negro congressman from Illinois, that the Rock Island railroad required him to leave a pullman car in Arkansas and travel in a coach inferior to the pullman.

Commissioners Eastman, Lee Porter, Aitchison and Miller dissented.

Mitchell charged that he was traveling from Chicago to Hot Springs, Ark., on April 29, 1937, and that the conductor on the train required him to change cars when the train entered Arkansas. The railroad declared segregation of races is required by Arkansas law.

"It is not for us to enforce the state law," the commission's decision said. "We understand that to be a matter for state authorities."

TWO STANFORD MEN HONORED BY HITLER

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's award of the Order of Merit of the German Eagle to two Stanford university professors was described today by Dr. R. Y. Lyman Wilbur, Stanford president, as "an attempt by Hitler to look for friends."

How To Relieve Misery of Your CHEST COLD

If you are suffering from a miserable chest cold, try this: Massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub as bedtime. Then spread a thick layer on chest and cover with warm cloth.

VapoRub goes right to work to bring relief—two ways at once. (1) Direct through the skin like a poultice; (2) Direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors.

This poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over. VICKS VAPORUB

WE CAN SHOW YOU 3 NEW WAYS TO GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY! NEW PONTIACS FOR 1939 at even LOWER PRICES! KEISLING MOTOR CO. 401 Russell St. Big Spring, Texas

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING (FIFTH SERIES) Prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education, Advertising Federation of America More For Your Money Number 4 Money is important only for what you can buy with it. What you buy is important only for the satisfaction it gives you. And greater satisfaction is the only thing that is important in getting more for your money. That is why the service of advertising is so helpful. Merchants and manufacturers advertise primarily to sell their goods, but in the long run no advertising can be successful unless it helps the consumer to get more for his money. The most important business job that each of us has to do, next to earning an income, is to buy the best possible living which that income can afford. Whenever we go, at any time of day or night, we constantly see and hear many kinds of advertising. On all sides, industry offers its wares, presenting an enormous show window of everything that money can buy. Nothing is overlooked. Beans, movies, garters, automobiles, oranges, refrigerators, fishing poles, asphalt paving, and correspondence courses. You decide what you want and spend your money accordingly. Advertising gives you a world's fair in motion, a continuous parade of merchandise. The more you see of it the more you know about the world's goods and the better you know how to make your material life a happy one. By serving the interests of consumers everywhere, advertising does a very important job for industry. It is the only means by which the huge quantity of goods produced today can rapidly be moved to market. Advertising is the most economical and most efficient part of the selling process and if it were to be discontinued we would have to slip back to a much slower pace with a far smaller volume of goods to divide among us. Without this modern high-speed marketing machinery, Fords, Chevrolets, and Chrysler automobiles would cost much more because fewer would be made. The same is true of fountain pens, radio sets, and frozen foods, all of which owe their wide distribution to advertising. Thus advertising, with all its helpful information, costs the consumer nothing, and brings many articles within reach of the common man's purse. Advertising has also put identifying trade-marks on food, clothing, and nearly everything else you buy, standardizing the product of each advertiser. If you like a certain brand you buy it again, and if you don't like it you avoid it—the trade-mark tells the tale and advertising puts the trade-mark on the goods. If you want to know what you're getting you buy a well-advertised product, made by a manufacturer in whom you have confidence. Because there is so much advertising in this country, we are the best-informed people in the world on what there is to buy and where to buy it. Because advertising is an economical salesman, we can buy things cheaper and the country is more prosperous. Because advertising identifies products, we can buy with greater confidence in their quality. Advertising is one of our greatest helpers in the important problem of getting more for our money. Freeze Extends To The Coastal Area

By the Associated Press A stringing north wind today carried sub-freezing temperatures to the Texas Gulf coast. As far south as Corpus Christi there was light frost and thin ice.

Austin's minimum of 23 was the coldest of the year and the coldest Nov. 25 since 1924. Slightly warmer was the forecast there and at Houston. At San Antonio, the temperature went to 29, and the downtown reading at Corpus Christi was 38. The airport reading there was 32, and the forecast was for warmer weather.

The official forecast predicted somewhat warmer weather over most of the state Friday night, but gave advance warning of a new northerly due to hit in the Panhandle Saturday.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Buying forces tuned in on aircraft and specialties during today's stock market session and paid scant attention to many recent leaders.

Weakness of the British pound and French franc in terms of the dollar served to revive speculative wariness as the thought arose that maybe the Munich peace might not be so permanent. Hoarding and buying of dollars abroad brought another boost in gold at London to a new high record figure.

On this side of the water business prospects were still a buoying market factor. Last week's freight loadings—the official total was delayed because of the holiday—were estimated to have jumped to a new top since October, a year ago, exceeding the 1937 aggregate for the first time in 1938.

In the Panhandle-plains area, Lubbock had 21, with yesterday's low the coldest of November of record there. Abilene had 30, Amarillo 24, El Paso 22, Wichita Falls 28, Dallas 25, Fort Arthur 30, Galveston 40, Brownsville 40 and light frost. Big Spring's low of 23 signified a "break" in the severe cold, since that minimum was 11 degrees higher than the record low of 12 degrees Thursday morning.

The official forecast predicted somewhat warmer weather over most of the state Friday night, but gave advance warning of a new northerly due to hit in the Panhandle Saturday.

Livestock

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—For the fourth consecutive day, excluding the Thanksgiving holiday, a strike of C. I. O. union yard workers tied up Chicago's huge stock yards. No livestock quotations were available.

Both sides prepared for a mediation conference with federal conciliators tomorrow. The union was demanding a 40-hour week, overtime pay, written contract, closed shop and the checkoff. The Union Stockyard and Transit company, spokesmen said, particularly opposes the closed shop and checkoff.

Red Cross Is Given Boost

$150 Membership Puts Drive Well Toward Goal

A generous membership contribution Friday gave impetus to the Red Cross roll call, coming to life after a laggard start, and gave chapter officials new hope of reaching the budget and quota for the year.

Chapter Chairman Shine Phillips said that a $150 membership from R. F. Schermerhorn ran the receipts past the $2,000 mark and placed the chapter within striking distance of its goal—a $1,650 total budget and 2,500 members. Fifty cents of each membership goes to the National Red Cross for its humanitarian program while the remainder stays in Big Spring.

"We can make it now if the public of Howard and Glasscock county will just respond. All we need is 100 men with a heart and five dollars," said Phillips, "and 500 men with a heart and a dollar."

Miss Lois Smith, former member of the nursing staff at the Big Spring hospital, but now a stewardess on American Airlines, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays here, guest of the Sam Fisherman family. Miss Smith is now on the El Paso-Dallas run.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Ellington spent Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock, guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Baileys. They returned Thursday evening.

BURGLARY TRIALS ARE POSTPONED

DALLAS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Monday's trial setting of two burglary indictments against E. R. Wyatt, East Texas school man, growing out of the alleged dynamiting of a house last July, was removed from the docket today by Judge Grover Adams.

This action was taken after Dr. Horace E. Duncan, county health officer, reported that Wyatt is at a hospital fighting to avoid pneumonia.

Wyatt had been held in the county jail, unable to post bonds totaling $35,000. He was charged with burglary of a private residence at night time and burglary by explosion.

The residence Wyatt is alleged to have thrown a bomb into was occupied by J. H. Miller, his sister, Mary Jo Miller, a school teacher, also was living there. She had formerly kept company with Wyatt.

Drama Of The Forests Told In Picture

'Valley Of The Giants' Featured Friday And Saturday At Ritz

"Valley of the Giants," produced by Warner Bros. in beautiful Technicolor, with Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor heading a brilliant cast, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday at the Ritz as one of the Movie Quiz Contest pictures.

Based upon the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, the picture tells a story typical of the valiant fight waged some thirty-odd years ago to prevent the utter despoliation of California's noted redwood forests by ruthless selfish lumber interests.

Graft and corruption, legal trickery and plenty of outright physical violence were employed by the would-be despoilers to gain their ends, and all of this is strikingly depicted in the tense and exciting course of the unfolding of the new Warner color picture.

Most of the action of the picture takes place outdoors and all of these outdoor scenes were filmed in the heart of the redwood country, with the result that the picture is not only an exciting piece of drama but also one of the most beautiful and one of the most impressive productions ever filmed. For people who have never seen these forests of giant trees the film probably will also be a rare educational treat.

The hero of the tale, depicted by Morris, is a young lumberman but an altruistic one with a deep regard for the heritage of the ages represented by the big trees, and he leads the battle—it is literally a battle—to prevent the potential despoilers from gaining their ends. The latter are personified in Charles Bickford, an eastern lumberman who has already ruined the forests of his native state and sees in the giant redwoods only so many feet of valuable lumber.

His chief device to gain control of the acreage in which he intends to operate is to import several hundred of San Francisco's most raffish citizens to file homestead claims which they immediately turn over to him. This plot is executed when a friend of the hero's "accidentally" ups a lamp in the land office and burns it down, destroying all the records of the filings and transfers of title.

But Bickford has other cards up his sleeve, cards marked "violence," and he sets to work trying to win by force what he could not gain by trickery. The native lumbermen, led by Morris, meet forces with force, and the result is several of the most hair-raising sequences ever filmed.

Besides Morris, Bickford and Miss Trevor, the cast includes such skilled players as Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, Donald Crisp, Jack La Rue, John Litel, Dick Purcell, El Brendel, Russell Simpson and Jerry Colonna. The screen adaptation was written by Seton I. Miller and Michael Fessier, and the production was directed by William Keighly.

AT THE LYRIC

Charles Starrett, popular cowboy star, again has Iris Meredith for a leading lady in his newest outdoor action melodrama, "The Colorado Trail." The picture is at the Lyric Friday and Saturday.

LUMBERMAN

Young Wayne Morris has a leading role as a lumberman in the western epic, "Valley of the Giants," offered Friday and Saturday at the Ritz as one of the Movie Quiz Contest eligibilities. The film is based on the popular Peter B. Kyne story of the fight against despoilers of the forest. Claire Trevor has the leading feminine role.

Charles Starrett Is Starred In Lyric's Western Picture

"The Colorado Trail," Columbia's newest western outdoor action film, plays Friday and Saturday at the Lyric theatre with Iris Meredith again the two-fisted western hero's leading lady and the Sons of the Pioneers providing romantic range rhythms.

The story concerns the dramatic range war which breaks out in a cattle country when a crooked cattle dealer in order to force down the price of beef, blockades the only pass through which ranchers can drive their cattle out of the valley. Knowing there may be trouble, he imports a gang of gun-fighting buckaroos as extra ranch hands.

Starrett plays the role of an adventuring young cowboy, who also has a reputation as a gun-fighter. He arrives just as the trouble is about to start and becomes embroiled in it.

Alan Bridge as the crooked cattle buyer and Ed Le Saint as the honest old rancher who hires Starrett, have two of the leading character supporting roles. Comedy is contributed by Hank Bell, a rough-riding Dan Cupid whose weapon is a six-gun instead of the conventional bow and arrow. Sam Nelson directed from an original screenplay by Charles Francis Royall.

New Songs Offered In Tex Ritter Film At Queen Theatre

Tex Ritter, who is not only the screen's most popular singing cowboy, but also an authority on songs of the west, introduces five new cowboy ditties in Monogram's "Where the Buffalo Roam," playing Friday and Saturday at the Queen theatre.

By himself Tex sings the play party song, "Shoot the Buffalo," in the barn dance scene; and also "Yippie Yi Yo I'm a Troubadour," the tuneful comedy ballad featured in the jail sequence.

With the Westerners, the outstanding cowboy radio group headed by Louise Massey, Tex sings "Longside of the Santa Fe Trail," a traditional western song; and "Where the Buffalo Roam," specially composed for the picture by Frank Sanucci, Frank Hartford, and Tex Ritter.

The Westerners themselves, with the spotlight on Louise Massey, offer "Heart of the West," which Miss Massey wrote.

The musical background in this picture is supposed to be the finest ever yet achieved in a western.

Prominent in the cast are Snub Pollard, Horace Murphy, Dorothy Short, Dave O'Brien, Karl Hackel, and John Merton.

Texas To Be 'Baby' Member Of The Next Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Lindley G. Beckworth, 25-year-old East Texas operator, will be the baby of the new congress and the youngest member in recent years.

The election of Beckworth and several other relatively youthful newcomers in both houses emphasized what veteran capital employees called a trend toward younger congressmen.

The youngest members of the last session were Representatives Boren (D-Okla.) and O'Connell (D-Mont.). Both were 27 when they came to congress two years ago. Boren will be back, but O'Connell was defeated for re-election.

Among the younger new members will be 31-year-old Robert F. Jones, republican, who will represent Ohio's fourth district. Reared on a farm, Jones took up law and entered politics shortly after graduation from college.

Beckworth, a former school teacher, unseated Rep. Morgan G. Sander, a veteran of 18 years in the house, in the democratic primaries. He has served one term in the Texas legislature.

The dean of the present congress, Senator Sheppard, also is a Texas democrat. He was 27 when he began service as a house member 35 years ago. The constitution requires that representatives be 25 years old and senators 30.

THE SPORTS PARADE

by HANK HART

Our Odessa friends, excited more at the present time over the Bronchos' 7-0 victory over the Bowie footballers than over the prospect of slipping into the new District 3-AA, are quite confident of the fact that the District Four champion, whether it be Odessa, Bowie or Austin (El Paso), all tied for the top, is capable of defeating the Oil Belt champion in the bi-district battle next week, are willing to back up their beliefs. Surely they will find argument in force from "back east." The Buccos, in blazing away at the Sweetwater Mustangs with all their guns yesterday, looked about the class of Texas high school football.

Your observer was on the sidelines of the Odessa-Bowie fracas in Odessa Turkey day, was hardly impressed by the performance of either team. How Bowie ever succeeded in defeating Austin high school, an outfit that hurled Odessa, 39-0, is just one of those mysteries that will never be solved.

The Bears boast a line that looks fairly good on the defense because it is taught mass tackling, a back labeled T. Hernandez who is a better chunker than Tommy Chadwick of the Colorado Wolves or Amos Gray of the Angelo Bobcats, nothing else.

Odessa, which truly deserved the victory, has been handicapped by injuries all season, could not at any set time put a representative eleven on the field. They could not hope to cope with Ereck or any other West Texas power. Joe Coleman has turned in a wonderful job as mentor of the Wild Horses but must wait even if his team is declared the Border champion. He does not have "it."

Coleman is very popular in Odessa, has turned in a wonderful job there in one short year. He's going to have a fair crew returning next fall but he loses some valuable aids, among them, Jack Callon, Alvin Caudle, Jack Sims, Billy Buford and Billy Hogan. Callon is said to be the No. 1 man but Sims, despite his lack of weight and height, looks the better of the two. Caudle showed to advantage in the Bowie battle.

Several Big Springers now working in Odessa were spotted rooting for the Horses, among them Joe Blount, Clarence Redding and Booster McCrary. McCrary lettered under George Brown here three seasons ago.

Odessa school officials have been more than pleased with the wonderful crowds that have been turning out to watch the Horses perform. The Turkey Day throng was the second smallest of the season but the "gate" ran in the neighborhood of $1,000. That's not to be sneezed at.

"Easy" Wilkins, the Broncho who broke his neck scrambling after a free ball in the Austin game in El Paso several weeks ago, is still in an El Paso hospital, cannot be removed for at least two weeks. Easy is all for playing the game again next fall. Recently Bob Ripley, the Believe It or Not man, stopped over in the Border City, enheartened lad with a fine pep talk.

Pat Murphy, local mentor, served as time keeper in this set. Score cards either had Pat's college listed as ACC or did not name H. Patrick attended McCrary. Officiating, along with Murphy were Chad Steele, Texas Mines; John Burleson, SMU; and Silme Hill, Austin. Burleson performed as a tackle for the Mustangs back at the turn of the decade. Hill will be remembered as an assistant on the coaching staff at McCamery several years ago when that school was playing Big Spring regularly.

Your observers stopped over in Midland on the way to Odessa, to see a gander at the much publicized Jay Francis, as that young man paced the Bulldogs to a 31-0 victory over Monahans, was hardly impressed by a youngster only two years old. His father, the ball club, Jay can ankle with the big hand but his values end right there. When a mate takes the ball, Jay has no hand to block, instead slyly watches the play from a safe distance. He can neither pass nor punt, certainly is not help on the defense. Ledy Bethel has nothing to fear when the two meet up for the district battle in 1939. Bethel needs title no back seat in the ball carrying department, is much harder, in the opinion of this department, to grow off balance, can certainly do other things besides carry the ball.

A. D. Weir, a former student, here, is a 60-minute guard for the 2-managers crew. A. D. moved to Midland two years ago.

Malone Plans Basketball Leagues

Play Slated To Begin Second Week In December

Plans are underway to organize three or more basketball leagues, games to be played on the four recreation outdoor courts of the city. Tentative divisions have been made classifying boys in the following groups: Sub-juniors (90 pounds and under), Juniors (from 90 to 120 pounds), and seniors (mature boys and men).

A number of groups are already practicing, but definite organization will not begin until after the Thanksgiving holidays. Play will begin about the second week of December.

Courts are located on each of the city playgrounds at ABC Fourth and Presidio streets; South Side, 13th and Donley; and Kate Morrison Mexican school. A court will be available at the East Side playground, Second and Goliad streets, early next week. Balls are furnished for each court.

H. F. Malone, city recreational director, is directing organization.

Sophomore Star

HERE is Johnny Clement, El Paso triple-threat star, who is currently taking the spotlight in Coach Matty Bell's show at S. M. U. Although Clement is best known for passing, he also kicks and runs well.

Longhorn Grid Year Success, Aggies Beaten

Biblemen Score An Astonishing Upset In 7-6 Victory

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
AUSTIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—Bald, mellow Dana X. Bible moved around in the dressing room beneath the University of Texas' Memorial stadium along about sundown yesterday, slapping backs and smiling through fogged eyes.

Outside the crowd roared. Bible's boys had won their first game of the 1933 season, a stunning 7-6 victory over a Texas Aggie team favored to inflict a ninth straight defeat on the Longhorns.

Bitter talk after eight hollow Saturday afternoons quieted. Bible was master again. Thirty-six thousand fans would swear to it.

And what did Bible, the maker of champions, think about that one victory of the season? "It was the happiest victory of my coaching career," he beamed. "It makes the future look much brighter. I'm happy over the results of Wednesday and Thursday."

Freshmen Win

His comment on Wednesday was directed at the Texas freshmen team, next year's varsity. It piled up some 325 yards on running plays alone in defeating a touted Texas Aggie "fish" team, 7-6. It promised to send Bible next season such stars as Jack Caudle, 165-pound running marvel of Nocona; R. B. Patrick, great blocker, runner and broken field of Olney and the two all-state schoolboy ends of 1937, Joe Schwarting of Waco and Jess Hawthorne of Port Arthur.

Things were looking up here today—all over a slim two days as against a pitiful two months of defeat and ill fortune.

The Longhorns, not given a look-in by experts who figured the Aggies, with unlimited offensive strength and a great line, would break the 16-year-old jinx and win its first game in Memorial stadium, outplayed the Cadets from start to finish.

From Start

Hardly had the game begun before Texas started beating off its jinxes of a cruel season. It didn't make much difference when they lost the toss and had a crackling north wind in their faces. The presence of Dick Todd, notorious broken field runner, across the line didn't frighten them either.

They started right in with Wallace Lawson, master kicker and runner, 145-pound Gilly Davis and Wes Boyer carrying the load to surge down to the Aggie two-yard line. Lawson fumbled on first down and the Aggies recovered and kicked off.

They came storming back on the kickoff, Davis taking it on the Aggie 45 and handing off to Lawson on a bit of trickery that took them to the Aggie eight on Lawton's sweep down the sideline. They got within a foot of the goal this time.

Couldn't Go Over

For the third time they moved in towards the promised land after the Aggie kickoff. Lawson passed to Peterson for 12 and Davis flagged it to the three—but again they lost the ball.

It was Texas all the way into the fourth period. Finally they made good. From the Aggie 46 they moved down on Lawson's line butts and Bryan's sweeps to the 17. Then Nelson Puett, son of a Texas immortal of 25 years ago, took only two spins over left tackle to score the touchdown.

Lawson kicked the first successful Texas conversion point of the season—and the best. The Aggies, with only 30 seconds remaining, scored a touchdown. Texas was cautiously sparing with time when Bobby Moers fumbled and Olbrich dived on the ball over the goal line. When Dick Todd slammed into the ball in an effort to get a tie, Roy Eason, bustling center, broke in and stabbed the ball with a flying arm to save the game.

Hale at the left has on O'Brien's civies but the idea didn't work because little Davey, one of America's great footballers, had to hold onto the pants to keep them up.

Bowie Victim Of Odessa Broncs

Jack Callon In Scoring Jaunt In 3rd Period

By HANK HART

ODESSA, Nov. 25—A desperate Bowie drive was jolted to a halt by the first half gun on the Odessa 15-yard line and the Bronchos returned with a newly found spirit after the rest period to swarm all over the Bears from out El Paso way, chalk up a tally in the third period that proved good for a 7-0 win and throw the District 4-A race into a three way tie in a game played here Thursday afternoon before 2,000 fans.

Jack Callon, Joe Coleman's combative boy, sped over from the one yard line seven or eight minutes after the third period had gotten underway after Al Caudle, the outstanding Odessa back of the day, had powerhoused the Bronchos on a 65-yard march down the field. Caudle was the difference between a tie and a win. Running very erect and seemingly with only average power, the 165-pound half could not be stopped by the burly Bowie linemen.

The Odessans, badly outplayed in the first two quarters, threatened time and again after scoring their touchdown, twice moving within the Bears' 20-yard stripe but somehow the drives failed to click with any degree of success.

Best Back

Probably the best back on the field was T. Hernandez, the 145-pound signal chanter of the visitors. Hernandez was difficult to be silenced and his passing was the best seen on Fry field this year. His receivers tried to break up the show. Facing to all angles of the field, Hernandez hit his moving targets time and again

TROJAN'S 42-7 WIN OVER UCLA IS BOWL BID

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25 (AP)—Southern California's Rose Bowl hopes, to make a simple understatement of fact, soared higher than the moon today as followers of the Trojan warhorse continued to celebrate the 42 to 7 annihilation of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Thanksgiving Day triumph was hailed here as the clinching argument in Southern California's bid for the far west's Rose Bowl nomination. A mere victory over the dreaded Uclans from across the city was all the Trojan supporters had asked for, but a 42 to 7 demonstration of strength left the boys and girls barely able to do anything more than yell their heads off.

The win left Southern California in a tie with the California Bears of Berkeley for the conference title, and the machinery was set up today for the conference to begin voting on which team will be selected to carry the colors of the far west into the annual Rose Bowl encounter.

but his mates could not sack the losses. Some were battered into the air and the alert Bronchos usually brought them in.

First downs favored the Bears, 10-9, while Bowie gained 113 yards from scrimmage to 117 for Odessa. The unexpected reversal sinks Bowie into a deadlock for District 4-A honors with Odessa. Should Austin defeat El Paso 15-6 Saturday, the Panthers would tie both the Bears and the Bronchos.

Mustangs And Frogs Finish Training

Clear, Cold Weather Predicted For Game In Dallas Saturday

DALLAS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Tickets sold at antique prices, conjecture forged the air and Texas Christian and Southern Methodist ended their cautious drills today for a game tomorrow that has the Southwest worked into a lather.

Undeclared Texas Christian, a massive bunch of football robots who haven't yet loosed their full power in rolling to nine straight victories, come up to their final game against a Methodist team that has risen from early season lethargy to full-grown power.

Cold, but clear, weather appeared certain for the game that could make the Southwest conference title swing to either school.

Tiny Davey O'Brien, the Christians' magnificent little quarterback and pass thrower, rounded up his crew of perfectly conditioned mates for the Dallas performance in a stadium that has been sold out for days.

Every corner of Ownby oval will be jammed. Ticket orders were refused five days ago. Some twenty-four thousand will find a spot somewhere inside the stadium; more than half that number were turned down on ticket requests.

Song of Woe
As usual, Coach Matty Bell sang a pre-game song of woe. He figured the Christians to be far too strong for his Mustangs and pointed out weight differences in the line. Such has been Bell's chant for the past several games—but the Methodists, strangely, have won their four conference games to match strides with T. C. U.

Coach Leo Mayer of Texas Christian, wanting his full strength available for the game, wound up strenuous scrimmage two days ago. The Methodists nursed a glaring weakness at spots that hurt—the ends. To combat O'Brien's bullets, Bell needed a strong end play. Today it was doubtful that two of his fastest wingmen—Bob Collins and Bob Hucus, would be able to play. The first stringers, Capt. Charlie Sprague and Bill Dwell, are in good shape, however.

Betting odds swayed towards the Christians but tradition in the annual rivalry between the two denominational schools situated only 30 miles apart, entered into the figuring.

ARLINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The North Texas junior college Aggies held the Central Texas conference championship today by virtue of a 7-0 victory over the John Tarleton Ploshboys.

The Aggies downed Tarleton at Stephenville yesterday with Elder dashing 18 yards for the touchdown and Clayton kicking the extra point.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—Missouri and Nebraska wound up their Big Six conference schedules in a blaze of glory as Kansas and Kansas State finished in a daze.

Missouri, steamed up over the fighting Jayhawks' 7-0 lead, rallied behind its irrepressible Paul Christian and Jim Starmer to subdue Kansas in their annual rivalry-cum-Thanksgiving Day battle 13-7 at Columbia.

Nebraska, on the other hand, rolled up a two touchdown first half lead, then staved off Kansas State's grim efforts to earn a 14-7 victory.

Their victories boosted Missouri and Nebraska into a third place tie. Kansas State dropped to fifth and Kansas wound up last.

Champion Oklahoma was idle, awaiting its traditional battle with Oklahoma A. & M. Saturday. Iowa State, which was an easy second in the conference, finished last week.

Tully Leader In Lion Win

COMMERCER, Nov. 25 (AP)—Darrall Tully, one of the finest backs in Southwest football, closed his college career in a blaze of glory yesterday, leading the East Texas State Lions to a 53-0 victory over the Kirkville, Mo., Teachers.

Tully made one touchdown from scrimmage, passed to Bob Harp for three and to Clint White for another. White, P. K. Rogers and Leon Winton made the other Lion counters.

SAM HOUSTON IN 13-6 TRIUMPH

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Sam Houston Teachers college Beards won yesterday with a 13-6 victory over Stephen F. Austin college, clinching second place in the Lone Star conference.

Barfield passed to Gifford for the first Sam Houston touchdown and a pass to Wells brought the second with Tippen kicking the extra point. Bailey intercepted a pass and lateraled to McCraw for the Stephen F. Austin counter.

Armstrong To Take Ring As 3-2 Favorite

Crammed House To Witness Fight With Garcia

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Henry Armstrong has been paid some nice compliments in the course of his mad career, but the bookmakers and the betting public have backed him the greatest pat on the back yet by installing him a firm 2-to-8 favorite over Ceferrino Garcia in their 15-round welterweight title bout tonight in the Garden.

The thousands of words written and said about Garcia's murderous punches have done nothing to shake the public's confidence in the little negro wonder. The fact that the husky Filipino will outweigh Henry by a dozen pounds when they enter the ring is worth only a bored "so what?" from Henry's loyal rooters.

Few fighters have gained such a hold on the customers. Promoter Mike Jacobs says indications are that the big hall will be packed, with close to $115,000 in the till. Only four reserved tickets were turned back when the bout was postponed from its original date, Nov. 2.

HP Jackets Are Again Titlists

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets added their third consecutive Texas conference championship to the trophy room today.

The Yellow Jackets defeated Southwestern university, 7-0, yesterday to gain their ninth title since the conference was organized thirteen years ago.

James Minor pitched a 13-yard pass to Garland Terrell for the touchdown. Chris Sunderman kicked the goal.

Foster Watkins Paces WT To Win

ATCHISON, Kas., Nov. 25 (AP)—The West Texas State Buffaloes downed St. Benedicts 28-0 here yesterday with Foster Watkins proving to be just about the whole show.

Watkins passing led to all the West Texas touchdowns and he added the four extra points. Thomas made two touchdowns, Washington one and Stephenson one for the Buffs.

By The Associated Press
The Texas interscholastic league crowned a dozen district gridiron champions today but it will be Monday before the slate for the state play-off is completed. Even then an executive committee ruling will have to be made in one district with possibilities of like procedure in two more.

One from the picture are such stalwarts as Wichita Falls, the 1937 state runner-up; Waco High, which had been one of the favored teams to reach the finals; and Amarillo's Golden Sandies, who for years have worn the crown in the burly-burly Panhandle race.

Ten championships were decided in traditional Thanksgiving Day games, Lubbock taking the District 1 title; Vernon winning in District 2; Breckenridge in District 3; Gainesville in District 5; Highland Park (Dallas) in District 6; Tyler in District 9; Lufkin in District 10; Temple in District 11; Corpus Christi in District 15 and Pahr-San Juan-Alamo in District 14.

Masonic Home won the Fort Worth district title last week and Sunset (Dallas) captured the District 8 crown the week before. Austin plays Kerrville at Kerrville tonight for the District 12 gonfalon and they also start trying to straighten out a tangle in the Houston district where three teams are tied for the lead. One of them, Conroe, plays Lamar (Houston). Tomorrow the other two—San Jacinto and John Reagan, both of Houston—meet each other. In event of a tie for the title the district committee will decide the winner Monday.

Port Arthur plays Galveston at Port Arthur tomorrow. A tie or a victory for Port Arthur would give the Yellow Jackets the District 14 title. If Galveston won the Islanders would tie Port Arthur for the championship.

Austin Meets El Paso
Bowie (El Paso) was upset by Odessa 7-0 yesterday to throw the District 4 race into a tie. It may become a three-way proposition.

Four bi-district games have been arranged. Gainesville will play Highland Park at Dallas next Friday and Masonic Home will meet Sunset at the same place Saturday, Dec. 3. Tyler and Lufkin clash at Tyler next Friday and Pahr-San Juan-Alamo plays at Corpus Christi next Friday night.

Site and date of the Lubbock-Vernon game will be decided probably today when officials of the two schools, attending the State Teachers association convention in Dallas, confer. Other bi-district tilts can not be set until champions are determined in the remaining districts. Breckenridge plays the winner of the El Paso district, the champions of Districts 12 and 13 meet and the titlists of Districts 15 and 14 clash in the first round.

REMEMBER THE FIFTH MAN: Because, with an extended holiday weekend current, traffic fatalities will be so numerous that the public will shudder in thinking of the terrific toll; and because the dangerous driving period is yet ahead for the remainder of this year; and because there's an important message and a worthy appeal in the communication, The Herald is pleased to present here-with an "open letter to motorists" written by the National Safety Council.

Dear Driver: Right now we stand a good chance of coming through 1938 with 20 per cent fewer traffic deaths than we had last year.

But it won't be easy, because we're facing the two toughest months of the year for driving.

For one thing, it gets dark earlier now—and our figures show that the traffic death rate triples when the sun goes down.

And then there's the skidding. Sleet, rain, snow, ice and wet leaves on the pavement mean that it takes longer to stop your car—in time, perhaps, to keep from hitting that boy or girl whose forever popping out when least expected.

So won't you tack this note somewhere where it will remind you, each time you get behind the wheel of your car, to take it easy and keep your eyes open for special seasonal hazards?

With your help, we may be able to turn in a record for 1938 that will demonstrate conclusively to everyone that traffic accidents can be stopped.

Let's keep that fifth man alive! National Safety Council.

INSIDE GERMANY

It will be a great mistake to regard what is happening in Germany as primarily a Jewish matter.

Germany, a great, industrious, civilized people, is in the hands of a gang, and the German government is a super-racket.

The representatives of the British, American and French press stationed in Berlin have, with negligible exceptions, been unanimous on this from the first.

Robert Dell, the veteran correspondent of "The Manchester Guardian" wrote a book in the spring of 1934, "Germany Unmasked," which opens with a quotation from a diplomatist at that time stationed in Berlin.

The action precedent to Munich was not taken on the advice of the quasi D'Orsay or of the French general staff.

The anarchy in Europe is a direct result of personal government, the obstinate inability of the old conservatives to believe anything as utterly fantastic as the truth about what was going on.

It has been terrified of Bolshevism, and has thought that it would be very good thing to let Germany clean up the "Russian experiment."

The real nature of Nazism was being concealed behind the front of the German diplomacy and the German bureaucracy as a whole.

This bureaucracy and diplomacy is loyal to Germany, to Germany as such, no matter what regime may be directing them.

The bureaucracy, the army and the foreign office have kept their positions, furnished a respectable front, believed, no doubt, that they were much more powerful than they were or are, and that they could "influence" events while, step by step, the Nazi party, which is nothing more or less than a gang, destroyed every vestige of legitimate government in Germany.

The bureaucracy and the diplomacy, as well as every instrument of public opinion, now work with pistols at their backs.

Every kind of political, economic or social organization which might have rendered order has been demolished. There are no political parties except the Nazi party, and it is not a party at all but a horde blindly following absolute dictation.

There are no trade unions which might have mobilized the working masses. Even the churches have become underground movements in so far as they remain religious bodies.

The only thing that kept the Nazis in check was the fear of outside intervention, the fear, that is to say, of war. That fear not only kept them in check externally, it kept them in check internally.

There was always the chance that in a showdown with any formidable outside force the army would mutiny or its most important officers resign en bloc.

There was always the fear that, with arms in their hands, the people would find new leaders to overthrow this terror.

Again the conservative governments abroad were afraid of the latter. They thought that the result would be "Bolshevism." But the German people have most probably had their fill of Bolshevism. They want peace and quiet, the end of terror, order, legitimate government and the re-establishment of a few civil freedoms.

The last check on the Nazis was removed by the conquest of Czechoslovakia, because with that conquest Britain and France made themselves powerless for unforeseeable time. They gave away 38 divisions, enormous man power re-

NEW YORK—If I were good at describing women's clothes I would tell you about a couple of gowns observed at a recent Guy Lombardo opening.

But I don't know much about women's clothes, and when someone asks me to describe what someone had on I always become involved in one of those "Well, she had on a sort of dress with one of those things down the front, and it was tucked around here with a bundle of something or other that sort of curled around there before it flared out yonder, and a red belt." Maybe this sounds like double talk to you, but it is perfectly clear to me.

And so I won't ask you to draw a picture of these two gowns after I describe them. It just happened to see them and they left pictures on my mind. In technical.

The first one was made out of what I will wager was gray net. Nobody told me. I just figured it out myself. And there was a lot of metallic stuff on it, as if it had been sprayed up and down the front. Those were sequins, silver sequins. It didn't have any shoulder-straps. It was very long and billowy, and when the girl walked, you could glimpse the toes of her silver sandals. Maybe they were sandals. Maybe they were extremely high-heeled. I never saw the heels.

But what caught my eye was a scarlet velvet wrap she wore with the dress. It came about to the hips, and the collar sort of furled up in a roll like a flower that has just begun to open. And she wore a scarlet flower in her hair. I haven't the remotest idea who she was. That is irrelevant. But that combination silver sequins, silver slippers, scarlet velvet wrap and flower in her hair—like a big red ripple cherry on top of a peach sundae, made paying attention to Mr. Lombardo very difficult indeed.

The other dress I liked and which left me pushing my cake around my plate in a dazed sort of fashion was the exact opposite. It was sort of rust color, or reddish brown, without any lines, and it sort of fell over the wearer like an extremely heavy and loose fitting robe. It hung in voluminous folds, almost like a monk's cloth.

But it was caught at the waist the Reichsbank, vainly trying to keep his hands on the nation's money. His name is never mentioned in the German press today.

And a new decree says that the Nazis will from now on exercise a veto power over the managements of all industries, with the power to remove from the direction of them any one they choose.

The only hopeful sign is in England, where the by-elections indicate that the British people are beginning to wake up, despite the fact that the Chamberlain government is doing everything in its power to prevent them from getting at the real story of what has happened in the last six weeks.

Vernon Bartlett, a well known radio commentator and journalist, extremely well informed, has left the position of spectator, and standing alone, without any party behind him, won a sweeping victory a few days ago in a conservative stronghold.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Gary Cooper, the Montana cowboy, goes back home this week on the screen. And it's about time.

For years now Gary has been no closer to a horse than he came in the ancient Chinese horse opera of "Marco Polo." He has dabbled in the whimsy of "Mr. Deeds" and he has flirted in the Lubitsch boudoir of "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife." But this week he's on a horse again—where he began — and everybody should be happy.

The picture is "The Cowboy and the Lady." It is not so wild, however, as the title indicates. Cooper plays a rodeo rider who goes to Palm Beach, with the show ostensibly, but actually on a personal prow for a bride. By happy chance, Merle Oberon, daughter of Henry Kolker, a gent with presidential aspirations, is down there in temporary exile after a youthful fling. All her life, daughter Merle has played second fiddle to papa's ambitions. For excitement she joins her maids (Patsy Kelly and Mabel Todd) on a blind date with three rodeo-riders. Kelly draws Walter Brennan, Todd gets Fuzzy Knight, and Merle gets—well, you guess now.

But they lead a stormy life, especially after she marries the fellow without letting on she's an heiress. Nicely directed by H. C. Potter, tastefully produced, "The Cowboy and the Lady" is strictly for amusement, of which it provides plenty.

I'm still not sure when "The Shining Hour" struck but I do know this: it starts out as the best which Joan Crawford has had in many a year—and how she needs a good one!—and then Poot!

In it Joan plays a Broadway cabaret star who lives of light love and marries Melvyn Douglas, member of a long-established, wealthy and smug mid-western family. Joan right away puts her foot in it; before she reaches her new home the hatred of Melvyn's elder sister (Fay Bainter) is set against her; to make matters worse, she has to fight against a fatal fascination for her brother-in-law (Robert Young) who returns the passion although he's married to a charming gal of his own set (Margaret Sullivan).

The situation smoulders with emotional conflict, and Director Frank Borzage, aided by the convincing work of his exceptional cast, manages to hold a spell of sultry tension over the proceedings for a good part of the way. Then suddenly it all blows up; the house of cards is stacked too high and it collapses.

There's a scene in which Joan and Margaret talk and talk and talk, and the only thing that stops the conversation is the cry of fire. Joan's new house is burning down. Then there's a gem in which Margaret (self-immolating) runs into the fire to be rescued by Joan. The result is reminiscent of the old Keystone Kops days. The climax is capped — or maybe smothered — when Sullivan plays her final scene with her head swathed in bandages except for her eyes. The best actress in the world couldn't beat that handicap.

"Spring Madness" is light and pleasant stuff on the campus, with Lew Ayres splendid as the obstinate youth who doesn't see, at first, that marrying Maureen O'Sullivan is an end greatly to be desired.

The film, directed by S. Sylvan Simon, has humor and freshness, and benefits by a youthful cast, including Frank Albertson, Ruth Hussey, Joyce Compton, Burgess Meredith, Ann Morris.

DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

Word has been received here of the unexpected death of John Westerman, 82, Cross Plains, who passed away Thursday at 2 p. m. at his home. Westerman was an uncle of Mrs. A. C. Hart, Mrs. Will P. Edwards and Cecil Westerman of this city.

with a wide gold belt. And the lady wore a wide gold choker or something around her neck. She finished off with a gold clasp in her hair. And the effect, though Grecian in severity, was startlingly impressive and made her look like a modern Joan of Arc. I couldn't see her shoes. Nor do I know her name. But if I can say this:

Many a Broadway actress could take lessons from her on the art of walking across a room. When she walked, time stopped. When she left the room the clocks started ticking again.

I haven't the faintest idea who she was, or how much money their creators received in payment. But whatever it was, they were underpaid.

Sinclair Lewis seems to have started something. Now it's Ludwig Bemelmans, illustrator and author of "Life Class" and many other books, who is smearing on greasepaint and having his say behind the footlights. Bemelmans is playing the role of a pompous general in Nathaniel West - Joseph Schrank, comedy, "Good Hunting."

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

CHAPTER 30 SEARCHING

"I think you all know by now that another girl has been murdered."

Adam was standing by a round wicker table that was laden with magazines, with ash trays, with empty coffee cups. The rest of us were distributed in chairs around the lounge, listening, waiting. I glanced from face to face, seeing fear, horror, hostility. Nowhere could I recognize guilt.

"We do not know who this girl is," Adam continued evenly. "We know that she called herself Ethel Curtis, which may or may not be her name. We know that she was ill—that she had recurring attacks of epilepsy. She had one tonight. We know that she left a sanitarium in Illinois yesterday—that before she left she received a letter from someone on this post."

"Do any of you know such a girl, or know of her?" He waited during a breathless, lengthening silence that weighed so heavily that it seemed to me anyone who knew must scream his knowledge, must somehow break the listening stillness.

I glanced fearfully toward the balcony and again fearfully at the window beside me. Someone had closed the front door, and though the air was stifling there had been no disassembling voices.

Adam's pleasant, conversational tones resumed. "Very well. We know that she was murdered just before or after the lights went out. Just a minute, please—"

A babble of voices had interrupted him. "I'll ask you for your alibi later. But first, I want to settle something else. We know that she was stabbed by a two-inch blade—and probably double edged. I want to find that knife, and I'm going to ask you all to submit to a search. You women go into the powder room and lock the door. Search each other, then search the room and the lavatory. Stay there until I call you. You don't mind?" He added with a winning air of asking their permission.

Mrs. Orpington stood up, regarded her brief Pierrette costume complacently and cackled. "Anyone can search me that wants to; I've got nothing to hide." "If you have, you didn't bother to hide it tonight, did you, Lou?" It was Mrs. Flower again.

"They had almost forgotten how to laugh. The tentative experiment in mirth died guiltily. Silent, the women filed into the dressing room.

I was the last. I shut the door and turned the key and stood for a moment looking at that room—at the chaise longue against the left-hand wall where Anne had lain, at the long metal coat rack opposite the door where four or five dejected garments were still suspended and where I had seen Mrs. Flower hang her black velvet, violet-scented wrap upon our arrival after dinner. To my right the stairs went up to the balcony. Beyond, on the right-hand wall, a swinging door led to the lavatory.

I remembered the outside door by which I had left in search of Adam. Crossing the room, I turned that key, too, then found a chair and sank into it.

Pointedly Ignored Mary Shaw had fled to a mirror and was making anxious dashes at her face. Elizabeth and Annie were soberly searching each other. Then Elizabeth was in front of me, looking apologetic and obviously waiting for me to rise.

"We may as well get this formality over with," she said. I stood while she poked and patted diffidently at the blue silk pajamas. I wondered if she was thinking about the mandarin coat. Neither Adam nor I had mentioned it, and she was too well bred ever to ask me where I had left it. But I could not face telling her yet.

Annie had advanced, terrierlike, on Mary Shaw and was giving her a going-over that would have done credit to a Chicago policewoman. I must admit that I would have liked to prod the stays of her Elizabethan dress—assure myself that nothing was concealed under them. But Shaw had alibied himself and her.

We found nothing of course. I took little part in the search, but I tried to keep everyone in view; and if there was any knife undiscovered in those two rooms it could have been no larger than a nail file.

It was afterward, when we sat down to wait, that I was aware that Mary Shaw and Lou Orpington were pointedly ignoring my presence. They did not succeed in being very obvious, for Elizabeth was beside me, and Mrs. Flower persisted in carrying on her aimless chatter. I listened, because I couldn't tell when I might pick up a scrap of information. But all the time I was conscious of the Shaw and the Orpington conversing in undertones and not quite seeing me when I glanced their way.

I wasn't particularly bothered by it at first, because by now they must all know that I was in Adam's confidence—at least to a certain extent. I wasn't sure myself just how much he had failed to tell me. That about the gun. . . . They were jealous, of course. But that realization did not weaken the effect on me of Lou Orpington's spiteful expression and Mary Shaw's air of cold dislike.

A woman is afraid of the members of her own sex when they turn against her. I sat there feeling chilly, thankful for the presence of Elizabeth; thankful, too, that Adam had taken me under his wing. Had he expected this to happen?

I remembered suddenly what he had said hours ago on the veranda: "In time of trouble it's the Outsider who takes it on the chin."

I shivered involuntarily, realizing that these people were like a large, involved family, with feuds and counterfeuds within the group—and that, like any family, they preferred to lay crime at the door of someone to whom they were not related. Anything to keep the scandal out of the family.

Well, that protected Charlie at least. Or did it? Was I to be the Master Mind and was my reluctant accomplice?

I was beginning to lose what sense of proportion I had left when Adam rattled the doorknob and called to us to come out.

In the lounge Barney was peering hopefully under chairs and Shaw was riffling the pages of magazines.

"That's enough," Adam told them. "It's not here, obviously. And it's not upstairs. It must be either backstage or out of doors, and we can search both places later. Now for the alibi."

We found chairs again and Adam questioned us in turn. Shaw repeated what he had said on the balcony, that he and Mary had been together in the lounge when the lights went out. Barney, called upon, corroborated this. He had brought their coffee and gone back after sugar which he had forgotten the first trip.

"I wonder what was the matter with my coffee," Shaw interjected plaintively. "Then you were in the kitchen with Elizabeth?" Adam asked Barney. "I was in the corridor backstage. I could see the lighted doorway. . . . He hesitated, went on steadily, "I could see Elizabeth bending over the stove. Suddenly the light went out. I thought for a minute she had turned it off, then I heard the commotion out front. I raced back to the door by the stage and looked out. It was pitch dark everywhere. Women were screaming and I heard Shaw's voice. I realized there was nothing I could do there, so I went back to the kitchen. I could hear Elizabeth moving around—I asked her if she was all right and she said yes, she was trying to find some candles. I lighted some matches, finally found the switchbox and was working with it when Shaw arrived with a flashlight. And that's all. I didn't see or hear anything unusual, and I was not out front after the lights went out."

"You didn't glance up at the balcony as you crossed the dance floor from the lounge?" Barney considered. "No, I didn't. I remember thinking I heard a woman groan as I went past the ladies' room. In fact I paused for a minute at the door to listen. I didn't hear anything more, so I went on. But I wasn't thinking about the balcony."

Mrs. Orpington was looking at him with a kind of frozen horror. "Then there was someone in there," she said through lips that looked stiff. "Wait a minute," Adam interrupted. "Where were you?" (Copyright, 1938, Virginia Hanson)

Elliott's Column...Each Friday

After Election

It's all right to be against the candidate of the opposing political party—BEFORE election. But after election, we support the man who won, even if our own man lost.

A nation gags good when all the people pull together with confidence in the government.

If it is not done after an election, local or national, our progress in prosperity is slowed up. All things done by a public servant are not wrong just because we didn't vote for him.

Regardless of your politics or the color of your hair, we're here to make it profitable for you to trade with us.

FUNNY MEN TO APPEAR HERE WITH SANTA

No one likes a laugh better than Jolly old Santa Claus, and when he comes to Big Spring on December 13 with a big, nine-block-long parade, he will have 20 clowns and funny characters who are guaranteed to furnish laughs. Big-headed clowns will be seen; Mr. Tony, the funny wop; Elmer, the silly kid; Billikin, the funny kid; Gaston, right out of the funny paper; the Yellow Kid; the totem pole; Mr. Policeman, the Crying Baby, and many other novel characters will be on hand. Over 100 people will parade with Santa in the big Christmas event here. Santa will make an earlier visit, on the night of December 6, to open the Yuletide season in Big Spring.

Says Southwestern States Have Not Received Full Share Of PWA Funds

FORT WORTH, Nov. 25 (AP)—Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas failed to receive their equitable shares of Public Works Administration funds allocated to this seven-state region, George M. Bull, regional director said today. Bull's announcement was issued after he had received word from PWA Administrator Harold Ickes to the effect that allotments under the 1932 PWA program were virtually complete and that subsequent shifts probably will be inconsequential. The total amounts received in those states did not reach the quota because of failure of communities to accept funds, or, in some cases, because the communities did not establish eligibility, Bull said. Louisiana was the only state to receive an amount materially larger than the equitable share, the regional director pointed out. Records for the region show that Texas received $27,034,331 in allotments as compared with an equitable share of $28,236,000. Bull said that in August Texas allotments totaled about $45,000,000. Subsequent action on the part of the communities cut the total to the final figure. Oklahoma, with an equitable share of $15,204,000 received $4,094,152. Arkansas received $4,557,864, or $5,433,336 less than her equitable share. Louisiana received $1,763,723 more than her equitable share of $10,642,800. Colorado received $6,649,060 as compared with an equitable share of $6,585,400. Kansas' final total was $9,977,324. Her equitable share was $9,918,800. New Mexico received $2,632,428 as compared with an equitable share of $2,570,200.

POLAND TAKES OVER MORE TERRITORY

WARSAW, Nov. 25 (AP)—Poland, charging that a Polish demarcation commission has been attacked in Czechoslovakia, today completed ahead of schedule occupation of ceded territory which until now technically was Czechoslovak. Entry of Polish troops into these areas was believed to have fulfilled Poland's declared intention to take measures "to obtain satisfaction" and "protect territory ceded by the Czechoslovaks."

SIX IN FAMILY PERISH IN FIRE

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Nov. 25 (AP)—An entire family of six persons—a 27-year-old mother and five children—was burned fatally today in a tenement house fire during a heavy snowstorm. The victims were Mrs. Carrie Derosa, a widow of five months, and Edward, 9; Dorothy, 8; Carl, 6; James, 3; and Michael, 2. Fire Chief Matthew J. Kavanaugh said he believed the family was huddled around a portable stove in the living room of a small second floor apartment when the heater exploded. The father, James Derosa, was killed last July when he fell from a bridge. Lillian Hurt, who is attending T.S.C.W. at Denton, arrived this week to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hurt.

105,000 Due To Watch Classic

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 (AP)—Snow stacked several inches deep at Municipal stadium and frigid blasts whistling between the goal posts gave prospect today of a cold, bleak setting for one of football's most glamorous games—the annual Army-Navy Battle. Snow, rain, sleet and sub-freezing temperatures slowed but failed to halt the surge of hundreds of visitors into the city. Muffled to the ears, gay in defiance of the wintry winds, they jammed hotel lobbies, railroad stations and bus terminals. More than 105,000 were expected for the kickoff at 12:30 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

Denver Slams Colorado U.

DENVER, Nov. 25 (AP)—No one could convince Denver University's gridlers today their 1938 season was not a success—not after their 19-12 triumph over Colorado in their Thanksgiving Day tussle before nearly 20,000. So deep-rooted is the rivalry between the two state adversaries a victory in their annual game makes up for a whole season of disappointments. Denver outbattled C.U. by much more than one would guess from its seven-point winning margin. Despite the freezing north wind, the players put on a great show of long runs, sensational pass plays and smashing defensive work, the last mainly by Denver's inspired linemen.

U. S. Exports Show A Gain

Imports, However, Down 6 Pct. During October WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—United States merchandise exports during October increased 13 per cent while imports increased six per cent, as compared with September. The commerce department said today exports totaled $277,928,000 in October, compared with $246,305,000 in September and $332,710,000 in October, 1937. October imports totaled $177,979,000 compared with $167,653,000 in September and $224,299,000 in October, 1937. The $90,949,000 excess of exports over imports boosted the total excess of exports for the first 10 months of 1938 to $960,131,000. In the same months last year, exports were head of imports by only $39,322,000. Agricultural exports increased from $75,196,000 in September to $86,961,000 in October, principally because of larger shipments of leaf tobacco and fruit. Dried fruit exports of more than 100,000 tons were the largest for any month in three years. Shipments of grain, however, declined despite the government's subsidy and other efforts to expand foreign markets. Wheat exports totaling 3,104,000 bushels were only a third of the average for previous months this year. Corn exports of 4,068,000 bushels equaled only a fourth of the monthly average this year. Automobiles stood out among the export increases, rising from $1,815,000 in September to $6,713,000 in October. Increases were recorded for manufactured rubber, cotton, and paper articles, electrical apparatus, office appliances, chemical products, semi-manufactured iron and steel articles. Raw cotton exports increased in October but not as much as usual at this time of year. In the first three months of the current crop season, August to October—compared with the same months last year—shipments of raw cotton to the United Kingdom declined from $2,000,000 pounds to $3,000,000, to France declined from 152,000,000 pounds to $4,000,000, and to Germany declined from 151,000,000 pounds to Japan increased from 36,000,000 pounds to 116,000,000, comparing the three month periods, but earlier in the year Japan's purchases were far below normal. Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cole, Arlington, accompanied by Rebecca and Richard Thomas, students in NTAC at Arlington, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas and family.

JAPAN AND GERMANY SIGN ACCORD FOR CULTURAL AID

TOKYO, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Japanese and German governments signed an accord on cultural cooperation today but, the foreign office spokesman said, "the agreement does not mean that Japan is going to persecute Jews." The accord recognizes the respective "racial principles" of the two countries (Nazis culture is built upon a thesis of a pure German race). Many Jews in Japan, a large number of them teachers, had expressed apprehension. The foreign office spokesman, answering questions whether Japan could subscribe to the "characteristic features" of German culture without embracing upon a program of anti-Semitism similar to that in Germany, said Jews attached to schools would not be asked to resign. Specifically, he stated, "the agreement does not mean that Japan is going to persecute Jews." Details are to be determined later but the practical phases of the agreement are for cooperation among youth groups, exchange of professors, students, books, periodicals, objects of art, films, and radio broadcasts.

RETAIL TRADE SHOWS A SLIGHT PICKUP

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Although still lagging in the recovery procession, retail trade moved ahead at a better pace during the past week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today in their weekly trade review. "Buying in newly opened Christmas departments," the review said, "was up to the 1937 level in most stores, and merchants who always consider initial returns an excellent measure of results for the full season, planned for a holiday trade comparable to last year."

Rev. Will C. House, pastor of the First Methodist church here during the past year, left with Mrs. House Friday for Amarillo where he has been named presiding elder.

COMPANY TOLD TO REINSTATE WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The National Labor board today ordered Hamilton Brown Shoe company, St. Louis, to reinstate with back pay 187 employees in its Union, Mo. factory. It also ordered the company to bargain collectively with a local of the United Shoe Workers of America (CIO) because it found that a majority of the 600 workers employed in May, 1937, were members of that union.

MAGAZINE CARRYING BARBARA'S ARTICLE BANNED IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—British newsdealers today destroyed their copies of the December issue of Cosmopolitan magazine to avoid possible legal action by Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, estranged husband of the former Barbara Hutton. The count raised objections to an article called "The Truth About Barbara Hutton," one of a series by Elsa Maxwell, society's noted party thrower. The Daily Mail reported that the American five-and-ten heiress had collaborated in preparing the life story but her representative here issued a denial.

MINERS BEATEN BY NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 25 (AP)—The University of New Mexico won the Sun Bowl at El Paso New Year's Day. That much appeared a certainty today, but whether the Border Conference representative would be University of New Mexico or New Mexico State College remained to be decided. The Sunshine state eleven deadlocked for the loop title yesterday when State's Aggies bowled over Texas Mines, 13 to 9. Western Reserve and Georgetown looked to be the likeliest choices for the eastern team.

Cowhands Win Over OC 37-6

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons university scored two touchdowns in the second period, another in the third and pushed over three more in the last quarter to smash the Oklahoma City Goldbugs 37-6 here yesterday. Ford counted for three and Mullins, Davis and Cowan one each in the Hardin-Simmons touchdown parade with Parker making one extra point. Smith counted for Oklahoma City.

O'Daniel Has Praise For Valley Sector

MARLINGEN, Nov. 25 (AP)—Development in the Rio Grande valley basked in the praise of Gov. Elect W. Lee O'Daniel today.

"It is the duty of citizens and officials of Texas to help preserve your marvelous development here in the valley and to preserve the water supply that has made development possible," he said as he completed a pre-inaugural tour yesterday, speaking at the Valley Mid-winter fair and at a dinner given by officials of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Water Conservation association.

With his two sons, Pat and Mike, O'Daniel was taken on a motor tour of the citrus and irrigation areas. Mrs. O'Daniel and daughter, Molly, were luncheon guests of 150 valley club women.

The O'Danields were to go to Laredo today.

CHAFT IMPROVEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Naval aircraft "continuously improved" during the last year, in the opinion of the navy's aerobautics chief, who coupled with this report today a plea that more money be spent to keep America's air strength up with other countries.

CHICAGO GANGSTER IS SHOT TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—Thanksgiving Day ended in death by assassination for Joseph "Red" Bolton, a gangster of the turbulent prohibition era.

The 49-year-old victim was shot to death a few minutes before midnight as he turned into his apartment walk.

Police investigators regarded it as an underworld attack but could not determine the motive. They said Bolton reputedly had operated a handbook and that the killing might be the outgrowth of a gambling feud.

FATHER COUGHLIN MUST SUBMIT HIS SCRIPTS IN ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Radio station WMCA announced yesterday it had advised Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit that hereafter he must submit 48 hours in advance the scripts for his weekly broadcasts.

The station said it had sent him a telegram reading in part: "Your broadcast last Sunday was calculated to insure religious and racial strife in America. When this was called to your attention by this station in advance of your broadcast, you agreed to delete those misrepresentations which undeniably had this effect. You did not do so, and we therefore are compelled to require you hereafter to submit all scripts 48 hours in advance of broadcast and to advise you that this station will not carry anything by any speaker calculated to spread racial and religious hatred, intolerance or strife in America."

BONDS RECOVERED

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Nov. 25 (AP)—Winter aided Great Falls police in recovering $7,000 in bonds that were part of the contents of three suitcases taken from a railroad station baggage room.

Detective William P. Frank said William Myers, 24, confessed taking the suitcases and dumping the bonds and other papers into the Missouri river.

But the river was freezing at the time, Frank said, and all the bonds were held by the forming ice instead of floating down the river. Police chopped them out late yesterday.

Hearings On Monopoly To Start Soon

Study Of Industrial Machinery To Be First Task

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The federal committee organized to investigate monopoly wants to find out first what makes American industry tick, and how well the machinery is working.

The committee, composed of congressmen and government officials, will start public hearings next Thursday. It first will receive testimony on such general topics as production and distribution, unemployment and national income.

Members said the early testimony would give the committee a well-rounded background picture of industry and how effectively it has performed in various stages of its growth.

"The testimony, said Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), the chairman, "will not be a recital of facts. It will be a recital of facts."

To gather the facts, the committee has called a group of top-flight government experts.

The investigators will continue hearings three weeks before adjourning for the Christmas holidays. After the preliminary general statements, the committee has voted to consider the "use, distribu-

NO FURTHER DUE FROM JAPAN

TOKYO, Nov. 25 (AP)—The foreign office spokesman said today Japan did not contemplate a second communication to the United States on the American protest of October 6 against discrimination in China.

Press reports that State Secretary Hull described as unsatisfactory the Japanese reply, disclaiming discrimination, "caused no surprise whatever," the spokesman said.

CZECHS CALL FOR A GUARANTEE OF BOUNDARIES

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Czechoslovakia today told Britain that she "assumed" that the international guarantees promised at Munich for the shrunken frontiers of the little republic would now be made effective.

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to Britain, sent a note to the foreign office stating that as result of negotiations with Germany, Hungary and Poland—to all of which Czechoslovakia ceded territory—the final delimiting of the new borders had been achieved.

The note said it therefore was assumed that the guarantees stipulated in the annex to the Munich accord of September 29 automatically would become effective.

YOUNG MAN MISSING

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25 (AP)—David Richardson, Shreveport, La., oil man, reported to police today his son, William, 26, had been missing since Tuesday afternoon.

Richardson, who has been in Centralia, Ill., in connection with his oil interests there, said the young man drove a friend, F. H. Brown, here Tuesday to make a train connection. Brown took a train to Shreveport, but young Richardson has not been seen since, the father said.
