Zardus, Virgil J. Magnuson, Gerald E. Poorman.

School Boundaries Due To Be Shifted

City school officials are studying the possibility of realigning boundaries of the various elementary schools, with one major change due immediate consideration.

Members of the board of trustees said that some patrons were dissatisfied with facilities at the South Ward school. Complaints concerning heating problems have been received recently, they said, and roof of the South Ward building is unsatisfactory.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship said that space is currently available at College Heights school to accommodate South Ward pupils.

Board members suggested that the problem be investigated thoroughly, and that plans be made to make the transfer at an early date if conditions justify the action and patrons of the school favor such a move in the middle of a term. Otherwise, the transfer would be delayed until next fall when the 1953-54 school term begins.

Board members suggested that a special meeting of the South Ward P-TA be called to discuss the problem. They hope that desires of the South Ward patrons can be determined at such a meeting.

State Handling Of Continental Shelf Leasing Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Texas has proposed that his state and other coastal states handle oil leasing in the continental shelf.

This would be in addition to leasing within state boundaries, Shepperd's statement filed with the Senate Interior Committee said yesterday.

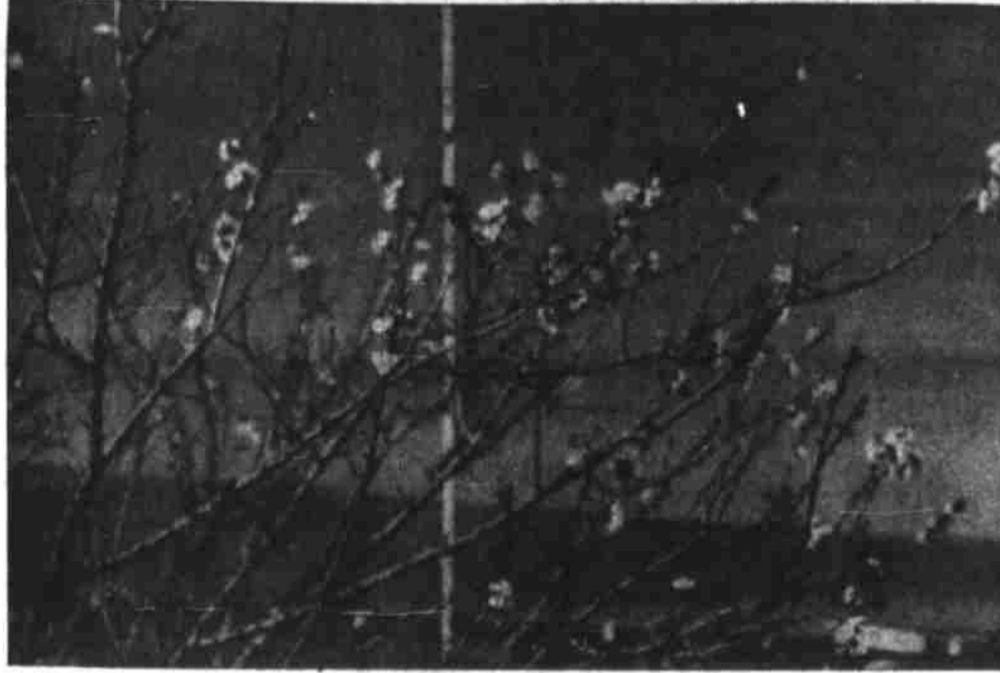

The committee is holding hearings on tidelands legislation.

Shepperd's statement followed generally the policies for control and management of the area from the shore line to the shelf edge as provided in a bill introduced earlier by Sen. Daniel (D-Tex.).

Blossoms In The "Spring"

This is supposed to be winter, but silly apricot trees haven't heard. All over town they are blooming to beat the band. Of course, they'll be nipped—as any old timer will tell you. Even the weather records say that—March 24 being the average last frost date. Meantime the blooms are a testimonial to the abnormally warm winter, January being the warmest since 1916.

Stories Of The Sea, Oklahoma Among Newly Published Books

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS
 (THE WRECK OF THE RUNNING GALE, by Garland Runk, Doubleday and Co., New York, $3.50)

The author, a Texan by birth, lives in Nacogdoches. He is also the author of that tremendous best seller and Literary Guild selection, "Wake Of The Red Witch."

"The Wreck Of The Running Gale" is one of the most exciting and stirring stories ever written of the sea of any era, a story of a stolen sailing ship in that period just after the Civil War, and of a strange vengeance through thrilling adventures.

The Running Gale put out for San Francisco with a fortune in silver dollars in kegs, to save a weakening bank on the West Coast. In command of one of the greatest sailing captains of all the time of sail, the ship was stolen from him, while he was ashore, at Valparaiso. He chartered a schooner and took up the pursuit out across the Southern Pacific. In those days, it must be recalled, there was no wireless, no radio, and few faster ships than the pursued and the pursuer. The search was a matter of stopping at port after port, and asking if the stolen ship had been seen, and there were the sailors who wouldn't pursue a ghost ship.

Through the ocean-wide search the pursuing ship—and the captain—were led on and on to one of the then mysterious isles in the South Pacific. Then came the day when the captain of the stolen ship, stood before the man who had lured him across thousands of miles of open sea; before the man who sought a strange vengeance, before this man and his beautiful daughter.

"The Wreck Of The Running Gale" is certainly a fit companion for the earlier "Wake Of The Red Witch" and a book that is recommended for most entertaining reading.

The description is good and the reader who will refrain from reading the last two chapters before they come in their regular sequence, will read a book of high adventure and courage that he will never forget.

This reviewer believes "The Wreck Of The Running Gale" is destined to become one of the outstanding works of fiction for 1953.

(THE MOON IS OUR LANTERN, by Edward Tatum Wallace, Doubleday and Co., New York, $3.75)

The author, now a feature writer for the New York World Telegram and Sun, was brought up in Oklahoma and worked for several years as an oil company pipe line telegrapher in that state.

This is a story of Oklahoma in the late 1920's. On the jacket it is described as "a warm and passionate novel about love and marriage," and that is an adequate description. In the course of the story it briefly pictures the University of Oklahoma at Norman as a locale of amorous excitement; has a heavy smoggy dash of Marine Corps barracks language to make it appear sophisticated to some, shocking to some, and repulsive to many. It is probably just such a book as the present session of the Texas Legislature has in mind while discussing (not debating) a ban on certain types of literature.

It is certain to be at least a mild

Eight Texas Cities Among Those Louted By An Ex-Convict

AUSTIN (AP)—Eight Texas cities were included in his three-state jewelry robbery tour, a 47-year-old ex-convict told a reporter yesterday.

Harry Charles Suggs, now jailed here for a store robbery in San Angelo, told an Austin American reporter he had "knocked off" stores in Denton, Tyler, Sherman, Longview, Abilene, Waco, McKinney and San Angelo. He also told of loot taken in Pittsburg, Newton and Chamulo, Kan., and Ponca City and Chickasaw, Okla.

Police Lieut. Jim Flow said Suggs was connected with 13 burglaries in the three states since he left the Texas Prison last September.

Suggs told a reporter he had enough. After the San Angelo job, he said, he intended to "quit and go up north and go in the Forest Service."

sensation with the folks just north of Red River.

The book is well written and interesting. There is some unparadiseable lack of description of almost everything except the love scenes. The price will provide a lot of better, and decidedly cleaner, entertainment if spent otherwise—say for beer, hamburgers, pop corn and a picture show ticket.

The author had a good story to tell of the inter-marriage of a white man and a half-breed Choctaw Indian girl, and of the isolated prejudices such matrimonial ventures faced in an earlier day in the Indian country. This could have been a wonderful book. We can hope it will be about the last shoveling of the filth of the jazz age.

For general reading or as an addition to the average home's library it cannot be recommended. There are too many other better books. Buy one of them instead.

(INTRIGUE ON HALFADAY CREEK, by James B. Hendryx, Doubleday & Company, New York, $2.50)

James Hendryx has written about half a hundred books of adventure, principally about the Yukon and Alaska. This is the latest and possibly the best of the Halfaday series, another story of Black John Smith and his fellow citizens along Halfaday Creek who administer their own brand of an exact justice in Old Cosh's combined saloon and trading post close by the Yukon-Alaska border and the "Alaska Country Club," a well-provisioned shack just over the Alaska line to which the citizens could flee whenever the constable was sighted coming up the creek.

Black John Smith was the Roy Bean of the Yukon, but much more active, shrewder and a man who carried in liquor better. His profession, in which he was most successful, was that of skinning those who were out to skin others. And he met and weathered his share of danger. There was the time when a bullet thudded into the wall just a few inches above his head. That bullet saved the constable's life but brought instant death to the man who fired it. Black John had it arranged that way.

Hangin' offenses on the Halfaday included murder, theft and "general skullduggery" as Black John described almost everything else. He was at his best presiding at the miners' meetings.

"I app'nt Red John an' Short John, to search the said Dog Face, an' if them marked bills is found on his person, we'll take a vote on his guilt. In the meantime, Pot-Gutted John can cut a len' of rope and be tyin' the knot," said Black John Smith.

After the sentence had been duly carried out, Cosh set out bottles and glasses.

"This un's on the house," he said, "but first off have him pulled up higher so his feet won't be knockin' your hats off, an' carry Jeff over an' lay him agin the wall. It looks shifless as hell to have a corpse layin' around in the middle of the floor."

And to make sure there wouldn't be but one "John Smith" on Halfaday they had the "name can" on the bar. A new arrival giving the name of "John Smith" was warned that was also a hanging offense and he would be instructed to dip into the "name can" and come up with a new name. When Black John and Cosh put names on slips and dropped them into the can the only source for ideas they had was an early American history. When a Thomas Jefferson, George Washington or James Madison happened to be hung, Black John and Old Cosh reserved the right to return the man's name slip to the can for another to draw.

Intrigue On The Halfaday is a book packed with adventure, rare humor and entertaining deduction. It can be recommended as one of the very best Hendryx has ever written.

Atomic Power For Industry Is Aim

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's government says it is going into the field of atomic power for industry.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe predicts it initially will cost more than hydroelectric current but eventually will mean lower power bills.

Howe told the House of Commons last night that "the time has come to undertake the development of atomic power in this country, and discussions are going on as to ways and means of bringing about that development."

WHEN THERE'S A SPARE MOMENT ... Mrs. W. E. Bates relaxes by crocheting

Mrs. Bates Prepares 4-6 Meals Each Day

It's a good thing Mrs. W. E. Bates, 804 Main, likes to cook for she's in the kitchen most of the day.

"I'm in the kitchen all the time," the gray-haired mother of one explained. "My husband, a driller, works shifts and we never eat at the same time," she added.

It's not unusual in the least for Mrs. Bates to cook four or six meals a day and, by her own admission, it would have been tragic she didn't like her job.

Married 25 years ago, Mrs. Bates came here from Abilene as a bride. The couple's only child, Billie Jo, now an elementary school teacher in Levelland, was born at Malone & Hogan Clinic Hospital just across the street from the Bates home.

"We kid Billie Jo all the time about how far she's gone," Mrs. Bates laughed.

When she's not in the kitchen, Mrs. Bates is active in the work of the First Baptist Church. She is a member of the T.E.L. Class there and works with the primary training union.

Her only other pastime is crocheting.

She'd rather bake cakes than almost anything and here are recipes for her two favorites, Angel Food and Devil's Food Cake.

ANGEL FOOD CAKE
 Ingredients:
 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake flour
 1 1/4 cups sugar
 1 1/4 cups egg whites
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Method:
 Sift flour, sugar and salt four times. Beat egg whites until foamy, add cream of tartar and beat until egg whites stand in peaks. Fold in flour mixture and pour into ungreased, heated tube cake pan. Bake at 375 degrees for one hour.

FROSTING
 Ingredients:
 3 egg whites (beaten until stiff)
 1 pound sifted powdered sugar

Method:
 Combine and mix well. Spread on cake.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE
 Ingredients:
 7 cups sifted cake flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup shortening
 1-3 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 3 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Method:
 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sweet milk.
 1/2 teaspoon red cake coloring

Method:
 Sift flour and soda three times. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs one at a time. Then add melted chocolate.

Alternately add milk and flour and lastly add vanilla and coloring. Mix well. Bake in layer pan at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes two layers.

FROSTING
 Ingredients:
 1 pound brown sugar
 1/2 cup butter
 1/4 cup evaporated milk

Method:
 Place ingredients in sauce pan over moderate heat. Stir constantly until mixture comes to a boil. Boil for four minutes. Remove from fire and cool until hard, stirring occasionally. Add enough milk to spread easily. A fruit filling between layers adds flavor.

Mrs. Bates believes that margarine is too salty to use in this filling.

Boston Baked Beans

2 pounds Navy beans
 1 pound salt pork
 3 tablespoons sugar
 2-3 cup molasses
 4 teaspoons dry mustard
 4 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 medium size onion

Soak beans overnight. In morning, parboil them for 10 minutes with a teaspoon baking soda. Then run cold water through beans in colander or strainer. Dice rind of salt pork in inch squares, cut in half. Put half on bottom of bean pot (2 quart) with whole onion. Put beans in pot. Put rest of pork on top. Mix other ingredients with hot water. Pour over beans. Bake in 300 degrees oven for 6 hours. Add water as necessary to keep beans moist, but do not add too much at time to flood beans. Serves 10 full portions.

Cornbread

1 cup sifted flour
 1 cup cornmeal, yellow preferred
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons sugar
 1 egg
 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
 4 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour, cornmeal, baking powder, soda, and salt together into mixing bowl. Combine sugar and egg; beat until light. Add sour milk or buttermilk and shortening. Combine slowly with dry ingredients. Stir only until ingredients are mixed. Grease pan (9 x 9 x 2) generously, and pour batter into pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 25 minutes or until nicely browned.

Sweet Potatoes

1/4 pound Sweet Potatoes
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 6 tablespoons melted butter

Grated rind of 1 lemon
 Grated rind of 1/2 orange
 Juice of 1 orange

Boil until tender, peel, and mash 2 pounds of sweet potatoes. Put through a sieve. Add remaining ingredients and beat until light. Bake in a well-buttered dish for half an hour in 350 degrees oven.

In A Hurry? Serve A One-Dish Dinner

Every woman wants recipes in her filing box that can be made in a jiffy. When unexpected company drops in at dinner time or the afternoon club meeting lasts late, a one-dish meal can save the day. The working wife must rely on such recipes often.

Serving a one-dish meal, either on a single platter or in a casserole, pays added after-dinner dividends in shorter dish washing time. Ground beef and frankfurters are the basis for many one-dish meals, but leftover roasts and canned tuna can make as delicious a dinner.

Here are six recipes designed to make meal planning and serving easier. Just add a salad, beverage and dessert and dinner is ready.

Tuna Divan is a seafood casserole that is easy to make, stretches the pennies and makes a colorful and appetizing one dish meal. The preparations are simple—just canned tuna set on broccoli and covered with a cheese sauce.

TUNA DIVAN
 4 cups cooked broccoli
 2 7/8 oz. cans tuna
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 teaspoon pure monosodium glutamate
 1 cup milk
 2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup

room soup
 1/2 pound cheese food

Arrange stems of cooked broccoli in bottom of shallow casserole. Stand blossoms around edge. Break tuna into fairly large pieces, place in casserole. Melt butter or margarine; blend in flour, paprika, salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. Add milk, stir over low heat until thickened. Add soup and cheese food, broken into small pieces. Continue to cook and stir until cheese melts. Pour over tuna. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 10 minutes.

Frankfurters are a "natural" for one dish meals. A tasty example of one which can be cooked on top of the stove in a minimum of time is this one.

FRANKFURTER ONE-DISH MEAL
 4 tablespoons fat
 1 bunch green onions
 6 tablespoons flour
 3 cups milk
 1 box frozen mixed vegetables
 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 pound frankfurters
 Rice

Melt 4 tablespoons fat in a skillet and in it lightly brown one bunch of green onions, including part of the stems. Stir in 6 tablespoons flour and gradually add 3 cups milk, stirring constantly until thick.

Add 1 box frozen mixed vegetables which have been cooked according to the directions on the package. Add 1 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1 pound frankfurters which have been sliced in 1/4-inch thick pieces. Cook about 10 minutes. Serve on hot boiled rice.

Ground beef has a multitude of uses for cooking and one of the nicest aspects is the easy preparation and quick cooking of most of the recipes. A really different treatment is this skillet supper of juicy meat balls in rich tomato sauce covered with light corn meal dumplings. This is a filling main dish supper.

MEAT BALL DUMPLING STEW
Meat Balls:
 1 pound ground beef
 1/2 cup rolled oats (quick)
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
 1/2 cup milk

Corn Meal Dumplings:
 1/4 cup sifted enriched flour
 1/4 cup enriched corn meal
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon sage
 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese
 2 tablespoons shortening
 1/2 cup milk

DINNER IN A SKILLET ... cover meat balls with corn meal dumplings

Icebox Rolls

1 cup hot water
 1 1/2 tablespoons butter
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 egg
 2 tablespoons water
 1 1/2 cups yeast
 4 cups flour
 Milk to dampen
 Poppy seeds

Mix the water, butter, salt, and sugar until butter melts. Dissolve yeast in the 2 tablespoons water and add to first mixture. Beat 1 egg and add to mixture.

Add 2 cups flour and beat in well; add 2 more cups of flour, one at a time, and knead until smooth. Grease a deep bowl for dough cover with damp cloth and wax paper. Let rise. Pinch dough off in small pieces, tie in knots, and put in greased pan. Dampen tops of rolls with milk and sprinkle with poppy seeds. Bake in 425-450 oven, 20 minutes.

Beans, Mushrooms

1 1/2 to 2 pounds green stringless beans
 1 large can mushrooms
 1/4 small onion
 2 heaping tablespoons of butter or Oleo

Season to taste
 Wash beans and cut into pieces the size of a large English pea. Drain contents of can of mushrooms and slice into slightly smaller pieces and dry on paper towel. Cut the onion into very small pieces and brown in the fat. Add beans and cook 30 minutes. Just before serving, add mushrooms.

Chopped Spinach

Boil spinach until tender, drain and chop fine. Make a medium cream sauce, using 1/2 spinach juice in place of milk or cream. Add spinach and season with salt and pepper and a dash of nutmeg.

Special Announcement

We are glad to announce that we have been fortunate in making arrangements to carry some of the famous old-fashioned PEPPERIDGE FARM BREAD which has been written up in Readers Digest, Time Magazine, The New Yorker, Coronet Magazine and many other periodicals.

These people at PEPPERIDGE FARM make this bread like our grandmothers used to make it—each loaf is carefully kneaded by hand—their whole-wheat bread is made of stone-ground flour and their white bread of "unbleached" flour—they add honey for sweetening and fresh whole milk—and they use nothing but sweet-cream table butter for shortening.

We just had our first taste of it right here in our store. It tasted so good, we simply had to order some.

So sure are we that you will like it, we want you to try just one loaf of either variety. If you don't agree with us that it is the best tasting loaf of bread you have ever bought in our store, return the unused portion of the loaf and we will cheerfully refund your money.

Phone in your order now and we will gladly earmark a loaf for you.

HILLTOP GROCERY

1405 Scurry Phone 824

1 egg, beaten
 Sauce:
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 tablespoons chili sauce
 1 can tomato soup
 1 1/4 cups hot water

Combine all ingredients for meat balls. Shape meat mixture into small balls roll in flour and brown in hot fat. Remove meat balls from the pan.

For the sauce, mix flour with remaining fat in pan. Add chili sauce, soup and hot water. Stir over low heat until well combined and thickened. Replace meat balls and bring mixture to a boil.

For corn meal dumplings, sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Add sage and cheese. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and egg, stirring lightly only until ingredients are well combined. Drop by tablespoonfuls on to boiling meat ball-sauce mixture. Cover tightly and simmer for 12 to 15 minutes. Do not remove the cover while cooking. Serve immediately.

A little ingenuity and a lot of imagination can make leftover meat go a long way. The crowning touch of this economy dish, which uses less than a pound of meat, is a topping of mashed potatoes.

Scholarship At A&M

Maxie Davis, right, accepts a $2,000 scholarship at Texas A&M College at the Houston Fat Stock Show by the Sears Foundation and presented by E. R. Oldham. The happy fellow in the center is Elbert Steele, vocational agriculture teacher in the Stanton High School, who is Maxie's FFA advisor.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

When Maxie Davis, a member of the Stanton High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, and Elbert Steele, his teacher of vocational agriculture and FFA advisor, went to the Houston Fat Stock Show they received one of the greatest and most welcome surprises of their lives.

At the 1952 Houston show Maxie had won a scramble calf, a Hereford which he fed out, and which he took back there this year to show. During a banquet at which the host was the Sears Foundation, Maxie and Elbert (right in the middle of the thing) were asked to come to the speaker's stand. When they got up there they were told that Maxie had been adjudged winner of a $2,000 scholarship at Texas A&M. Both Maxie and Elbert were apparently so surprised that the element of surprise was almost a shock and neither could speak for a few minutes.

Maxie was declared the winner on the basis of many things and among these were the care he had given the calf under Elbert's supervision; his character; his general academic high school standing; his FFA record; his behavior; his personal appearance; the opinion his fellow students have of him, and a host of other things.

In other words it appeared that the judges decided Maxie was the outstanding FFA Chapter member in Texas. This year he is a senior. Next year he will enroll at A&M.

Approximately 20 cars of hay have been ordered by Howard County farmers and ranchers since it was recently announced that more of the drought disaster area feed was available, according to Gabe Hammack, county PMA administrative officer.

Hammack explains that this hay was originally shipped to East Texas points where it is no longer needed and is being diverted to West Texas points, on request, where the need is as great if not actually greater than when the program was first inaugurated. Some of this hay will probably be received here within the next 10 days, Hammack says he has been told.

The second Texas Agricultural Aviation Conference will be held in the Memorial Student Center at Texas A&M, College Station, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 22-23-24.

Registration for the Conference will begin at noon Sunday in the Student Center lobby. The registration fee of $3.00 also pays for the mimeographed text which will be used during the conference.

Everyone interested in the benefits to be derived from agricultural aviation is urged to attend. The sponsors are of the firm conviction that with farm operative and managerial decisions becoming more complicated, due to the increased scarcity of farm labor, with the growing importance of agricultural aviation, and the wise use of the plane in cropping operations, that a conference with all interested persons in attendance will contribute much to agricultural production and its allied industries.

A number of Dawson counties are getting their grass seed now preparatory to spring planting. They figure they're getting a better price now than they will be able to get later when the demand for seed is heavier.

A. E. Davis, who lives about a mile west of Woody has gotten enough Sand Lovegrass and Blue Panic grass for 10 acres. Carson Echols, a member of the Dawson SCD board of supervisors; vice president of the Dawson-Borden County Junior Livestock Association, and farmer and rancher, has been a very busy man but he has also managed to find time to stake out enough Blue Panic seed to plant 50 acres in the Patricia area.

Travis Kidd, who farms one mile east of Friendship has gotten enough Blue Panic seed for 40 acres. J. V. White of Klondike has ordered enough Blue Panic for five acres. Buyers say they find the grass comes at a saving when bought in 100-pound bags.

and this area was terraced this spring.

Roy Buchanan, a farmer in

Mitchell County's Seven Wells community has recently built a mile and a half of new terraces. These lines were constructed between old lines which had too great a vertical interval. He built these lines with his own machinery using a terracing disc and breaking plow. These new lines, he says, will assist in giving a more uniform distribution of moisture and in preventing inter-terrace washing.

South Texans are polishing up their boots and getting out their finery for their own big livestock show which opens in the Bexar County Coliseum at San Antonio tomorrow (Friday), Feb. 20, for a 10-day run.

Four thousand head of livestock will be competing for more than $44,000 in prize money. The grand champion steer will be selected at 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 23.

The Coliseum grounds will be packed with interesting and educational exhibits. There will be a wild life exhibit, a million-dollar farm and ranch machinery display, and a big military exhibit. The Don Franklin Carnival has the show concession.

Canadians Perfect Jet Fighter Carrying Radar-Aimed Rockets

TRENTON, Ont. (AP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force says it has successfully completed firing tests on a new jet fighter carrying 28 radar-aimed rockets. The Air Force said this was far more rockets than any U. S. jet can carry.

The plane, the Mark IV version of the CF100 jet, is a "much improved" model of an earlier Canadian aircraft which was armed with six 50-caliber machine guns. Automatic controls aim the rockets once the plane picks up its target and there is a "high ratio" of hits for the amount of ammunition expended, experts said.

NOW YOU KNOW WHY ASHTRAYS ARE MISSING

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ever search in vain for an ashtray when you're eating in a restaurant? Chances are the absence was intentional to make you eat faster, says an official of the Ohio Restaurant Assn. Vice President Robert R. Williams told restaurant men here yesterday that twice as many patrons can be served if ashtrays are removed.

Arthritis Is Aided By Iodine, Medical Officials Report

LONDON, (AP)—Two British doctors reported today that plain old iodine seems to be effective in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. Writing in the magazine Medical World, Dr. Charles Hagenbach and Dr. R. Lase Walmsley said that intravenous injection of colloidal iodine has arrested the disease in 85 per cent of the 35 cases they have investigated thus far. Of the 35 rheumatoid arthritis treated with colloidal iodine, they said 30 "remain completely symptom-free, two are much improved, only two failed to respond and one has relapsed."

Red China Tonnage Increased Over '51
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—While Westerners pondered the advisability of a blockade along the China coast, Red China's finance minister today obligingly provided the tonnage of cargo moved last year along the coast and inland rivers. In a Peiping broadcast heard by The Associated Press in San Francisco, finance minister Po I-po said government-owned ships moved 5,312,000 tons of cargo, an increase of 49.6 per cent over 1951.

School Attendance Here Is Back To Normal Level

Had absentees continued at the increased rate occasioned by January's flu epidemic, the Big Spring Independent School district would have lost five teaching units in state aid.

However, the situation righted itself and attendance is back on a winter normal, according to W. C. Blankenship, superintendent. As it turned out, the combined illness increase in January cost the district the equivalent of only one teaching unit in state aid.

Blankenship based his hypothesis upon reports from Burns Lane, attendance officer for the district. Even with the sharp and almost alarming increase in absentees during a fortnight in January, attendance for the first five months of the current school year is up.

Officers Maintain Check On Suspended Drivers Licenses

Local law enforcement officials keep check on people whose drivers' licenses have been suspended through the "Round-Up," a publication of the Department of Public Safety.

However, both Sheriff Jess Slaughter and Highway Patrolman Jack Taylor point out that keeping track of people with suspended licenses is a tough job.

News From Webb Air Force Base By A-2C FERD J. BORSCH

Webb Air Force Base again scored on its ground safety record. Winner of the initial FTAF safety award a month ago, the West Texas installation received honorable mention for the three-month period ending in January.

Information Services, will be tape recorded weekly emanating from the studios of KBST every Saturday evening.

The base finished third in current ground accident per capita ratings behind Vance AFB and Laredo AFB.

A chain reaction involving the movement of two sections will soon make another room available to the Chaplains Section.

Webb recently received the blue-and-gold safety pennant for winning the initial award.

The room, presently occupied by the library, will be converted into a special chapel for Protestant Sunday school, Bible classes, and Catholic Mass.

Webb will soon have its own radio program, featuring the music of the newly organized base band.

The first wave of over 2,000 airmen invaded unit personnel this week when a base-wide records check program was launched.
