SCHOOL COST IS KEPT DOWN

Despite soaring costs at many places, estimated expenditures of the Wheeler schools for the 1955-56 term are only about $1,200 more than last year, according to a budget prepared by Supt. Earl Brown.

The total cost of operation last year was $18,439.90 and the estimated cost for 1955-56 is $19,669.84. New furniture and equipment explains the difference with $2,650 estimated this year, compared with $1,415.26 spent last year.

Supt. Brown estimates receipts for 1955-56 will amount to $19,744.00, slightly above the $19,132.91 collected last year.

The "Report of Operation and Maintenance Funds," prepared by Mr. Brown, breaks down receipts for last year and estimates for the new year, into complete detail in all departments, and is several typewritten pages in length.

Interested patrons may examine a copy of the report by calling at Mr. Brown's office.

HIRING SCHOOL AGE CHILDREN NOT ALLOWED

Farm youngsters under 16 years of age are expected to be in school when the fall term opens.

Field Office Supervisor Harry B. Nunn of the Department of Labor's Wage-Hour-Division here says the child-labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act generally prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture, during hours when the local school is in session.

So children under 16 cannot legally be employed for farm work such as cotton picking, etc., during local school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce.

Farmers are responsible under the Federal law if they hire underage children to do farm work during school hours. And the law applies equally to local resident children and to migratory children.

He said "school hours" mean those hours when school actually is in session for the school district where the child under 16 is currently living.

The law, he said, sets no minimum age for employing minors on farms before or after school hours, or during school holidays or vacations.

WHEELER FFA GO TO PAMPA

Wheeler Future Farmers gave a good account of themselves at the Pampa Agricultural Achievement Day Program on September 3, with Joe Richard Hyatt, Mickey Patterson, James Cox and Hershel Hutchison attending.

The Wheeler County softball team composed of 4-H and FFA boys placed second, winning from Miami and losing to Pampa.

William Whitener was designated as the outstanding boy in FFA for the past year. Joyce Sims was the outstanding girl in FFA work for the past year.

Community and county leaders are urged to attend a meeting called for 3 p.m., next Monday in the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce Office in the Community building in Shamrock.

Purpose is to perfect organization and make plans for the Fall's Chest X-ray Clinic, date for which has not yet been set.

Phillip W. Gauss, Jr., field representative of the State Health Dept., Austin, will be in charge of the meeting.

The public is invited.

MUSTANGS OPEN WITH CANADIAN

Smarting under the 47-0 defeat they took last year, the Wheeler Mustangs open the 1955 season next Friday with the Canadian Wildcats on Nicholson Field in Wheeler.

It will also be the opening game for Canadian.

Although lighter than the 1954 squad, the Mustangs have experience and a fine spirit of hustle and enthusiasm, according to Coach J. D. Atwell.

The forward wall will be anchored by senior letterman, Dennis Bowerman, 175-pound end, and Doyce Watson, 165-pound tackle. Jim Porter, 170-pound halfback, and Roger Topper, 170-pound fullback, will carry much of the load in the backfield.

School faculty members and students join in asking the public to turn out Friday and support the home team.

The following boys are reporting for football practice this season:

ENROLLMENT IS DOWN 18 HERE

Wheeler school enrollment showed a drop of 18 from last year and will probably continue to remain a few pupils below the 1954-55 year, according to Supt. Earl Brown.

The school opened Monday with a total enrollment of 353, compared with 371 last year. Enrollment at the close of last year's term was 348.

"It is expected that a few more will enroll during the next few days but the total figure is likely to remain below last year," said Mr. Brown.

Enrollment in grades 1 through 8, totaled 249, with 104 enrolled in Wheeler High.

The auditorium was well filled at general assembly marking the official opening of the term, with many parents present.

Supt. Brown said regular attendance would be stressed again this year. He pointed out a student cannot be expected to do his best work unless he attends regularly. An effort will be made to maintain an average daily attendance of 348 or more, if possible, he said. If the total for the year falls below that 348, the number of teachers will be reduced, said the superintendent.

Hall Co. Homecoming Sunday, September 18

A Hall County Homecoming Basket Picnic will be held at Memphis City Park, September 18. All former Hall Countians are invited to bring baskets of food and spend the day with old friends and neighbors. All former old settlers are especially urged to attend.

Baseball Crown At Stake Here Sunday

The Wheeler Independents and the Rath Blackhawks of Amarillo will decide the championship of the Caprock Baseball League in a battle on the Wheeler field, starting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Admission prices will be 25c for children and 50c for adults, and a season attendance record is expected. Local baseball enthusiasts call attention it is rare to get to see the kind of baseball that will be played Sunday, and urge county fans to turn out and support their team.

Both the Independents and the Blackhawks have won one game each in the playoffs.

Wheeler earned her right to enter the championship tilt by walloping the Blackhawks 13 to 4 last Sunday.

Chubby Haynes will probably start on the mound for Wheeler Sunday while the Blackhawks will use Ray Faust who has recently finished the season with the Gold Sox. Faust won his last two starts with the Gold Sox by allowing only five hits each in games with Albuquerque and Clovis, winning from Clovis, 2 to 1.

Haynes has made a good showing this season and is primed for the crucial contest.

In last Sunday's win over the Blackhawks, Gabby Hays was a standout with two homers and a single. Yeager got probably the longest hit in the park with a homer over left field fence. Bus Dorman came up with a homer to help keep the Wheeler team in the lead.

The Blackhawks used Vokell, Barnsten and Gibbs in an unsuccessful attempt to stop the Wheeler hitting barrage. B. F. Wheeler went all the way for Wheeler allowing only four hits.

Line score last week:

YOUTH INJURED NEAR WHEELER

A highway accident occurred midway between Wheeler and Shamrock about 7:30 p.m.; Sunday, critically injuring a 17-year-old Shamrock boy, Johnny Wayne Hawley. He was taken to Shamrock General Hospital suffering from a broken back, several broken ribs and possible loss of an eye; and was transferred to an Amarillo hospital Monday night and placed under the care of a specialist.

Investigating officers gave the following account of the accident: Hawley, driving a 1949 Ford, traveling north on Highway 83, pulled up beside a 1955 Chevrolet pickup being driven north by Gene Worley Riley, 15.

As the two came to the crest of a hill, they met a south bound car. Hawley, who was in the left lane, pulled his auto to the left hand bar ditch, hit loose gravel and lost control of his car which slid back across the pavement and overturned on the right side of the highway.

Riley pulled partially off the highway to the right and the third car passed between the pickup and car driven by Riley and Hawley. Riley's pickup crossed the highway and came to a standstill in an upright position on the left hand side of the road. He was uninjured.

Leon Hagle, a passenger in the Hawley car, was only slightly injured.

Social Security

Some people have misunderstood the provisions of the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act, according to John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

"We have been asked quite often if one cannot qualify for benefits as a farmer because he is already age 65 or over," John R. Sanderson said. "The answer is that the farmer already 65 or past that age, who is continuing to operate a farm, will qualify sooner than the younger farmer but the fact that they are 65 alone does not entitle them to benefits. Age does not disqualify an individual from entering into the program. If he is actually operating a farm, he is eligible to participate by keeping his social security tax on his farm income in 1956, and then doing the same thing for 1957. This second payment, made in 1957 would qualify him for benefits if he is already age 65 or older," Sanderson added.

NOTICE

I have been a school bus driver for two years in Wheeler and was a driver at Twitty for two years. I have a clear record. I was let out this year by Supt. Brown to enable the Wheeler school to hire a teacher to drive and teach, thus enabling the district to pay more salary.

I want the people of the district to know why I am not driving this year. My driving record is clear, but Mr. Brown said he had to give the teacher more money to get him to come here, so he was going to take my job and give it to the teacher.

Supt. Brown asked me to accept a half-time bus driving job, but I did not feel I could afford to take it. It is not the money involved, it is the principle in not letting the people know why they let me out.

Flue Blocks Make Wall

For the home-owner who wants something a little different, here's an idea from American Builder, the light construction industry magazine: Use concrete chimney flue blocks to make a striking-looking wall along a patio. The blocks give a good measure of privacy without shutting out the breeze, which passes through the open cores of the blocks. American Builder says this is only one of the many unconventional and unconventional-for concrete products.

justify harvesting of seed. Service personnel will assist district cooperators in determining when seed are ready to be harvested if those interested will contact them. Gaston Harbour of the Pakan community has already requested a check be made of his grass. It will be later in month before it will be ready to determine the practicality of harvest.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Arthritis Target

Women appear to be prime targets for the great crippling arthritis. Statistics show that for every man, three women fall prey to this disease.

Rheumatoid arthritis is the malady's formal name. Along with allied conditions, in one way or another, the disease has afflicted more than 10 million people in the U.S. and completely crippled some 200,000 others.

The secretary, housewife and young mother are most susceptible. Arthritis is insidious. Its symptoms at first are usually mild. Gradually they worsen, until one day you wake with an arm or leg that is completely useless.

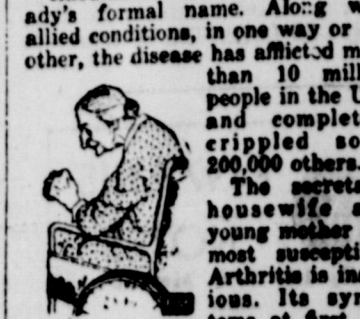

What causes arthritis? Scientists have not yet found an answer. Nor have they yet found a complete cure. They do have available a number of chemicals to control the symptoms of rheumatoid arthritis in many patients. These drugs, administered by the physician, can lift the hopelessly crippled arthritic victim out of the wheelchair and back into normal life.

Among the medicines which have proven effective in some patients are aspirin, gold compounds, and the much-heralded hormones, cortisone and hydrocortisone.

However, these drugs are not fully effective and the hormones, in particular, sometimes create unpleasant side effects in some patients and thus force their abandonment.

Recently, a new synthetic hormone called Sterane has been placed in the hands of physicians. Sterane appears to be far more potent than cortisone or hydrocortisone and offers promise of reducing the side effects noted with the other hormones.

With advancing research and rehabilitation, many arthritic patients will be given a new lease on life.

State Board Makeup Needs Modernizing

By JOHN BEN SHEPPERD
Texas Attorney General

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of four articles written by Texas' Attorney General on the problem of the present State board system of Texas. Other articles will follow in later issues.)

One of the most vexing problems of modern Texas government is the present system of state boards.

These boards are like the story of Topsy, who just grew and grew. At the present time some state officials serve on so many boards that proper administration is almost impossible.

This problem is so important to the citizens and taxpayers of this State that I have done a great deal of research to determine possible answers to it.

You might say that I am one who speaks from bitter experience, for as your Attorney General I have served on twenty-five of these boards, and I have had a first-hand view of the inefficiency of the system.

Those men who will be elected Attorney General in the future should not be harassed and hamstrung with this impossible number of sideline duties.

When the State Constitution was written in 1875, a state official was not busy by today's standards. He could take care of his duties, attend a couple of board meetings a week, and still have ample time to go fishing on the Colorado. So the Legislature put the State's constitutional officers on various boards as "ex-officio" members.

One of the most important reasons for making the state officials members of Boards was the fact that they lived in Austin. In those days of slow transportation a man could not leave his farm or his store for weeks and travel down here to serve on a board.

The only railroad coming into Austin was from Hempstead, 50 miles north of Houston. Almost all of the 1,566 miles of track in the state were running north and south in East Texas. In order to get to Brownsville, you had to take the stage from Waco to Comanche, and go by hack. Or you could go by horse in 10 days from Austin and save the $10.00 stage fare.

The men who traveled to the Constitutional convention traveled an average of 386 miles, round trip, mostly by horse. The trip from El Paso, Texarkana, or Amarillo, on horseback took from one to two weeks.

Now a citizen can fly from his home town, attend a board meeting, and be back home for supper. In 1875 Austin had telegraph communication only with New Orleans and Galveston, and not a permanent newspaper correspondent in town. Now we have 40 correspondents in the capital to cover all the activities of state government and almost instant communication with any part of the United States.

We don't have to look any further to see why the Legislature started putting these same officials on boards. They have continued to use them to man new boards through the years, thus avoiding possible criticism for adding new "bureaucrats" the payroll.

During the past 50 years the rate of addition of these extra board duties has speeded up to twice what it was in the 54 years from 1875 to 1930. The seven constitutional officers — Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, and Land Commissioner — are now required by law to fill 38 seats on 27 separate boards and commissions of the state government, not including about two dozen inactive boards that still exist in theory.

The Governor serves on nine boards; the Land Commissioner, eight; the Comptroller, seven; State Treasurer, five; and the Lieutenant Governor, four.

The Attorney General carries the heaviest load. He serves on 24 boards, many of which are active enough to require considerable time. He often feels the need of 24 hands and two dozen eyes to keep with them. He was placed on most of them for no better reason than to provide the boards with handy legal advice, which is fundamentally a bad idea.

Board membership places the Attorney General in the unseemly position of a man witnessing his own contract. He is often called upon for an official opinion on the legality of a policy which he as a board member helped to establish. Other states have recognized this conflict and refused to place their Attorney General in such a dual role. In fact, in recent years almost all the states have shown a tendency to stop placing their legal officer on state boards. Texas is unmatched in the number of ex-officio responsibilities placed on the Attorney General. He has more than any other state, 6 times as many as the average.

177 boards and commissions of Texas government determine state policies and secure the Attorney General's legal opinion (which are purely advisory) without his presence on the Board, so his service as an ex-officio board member hardly seems necessary and is in most cases unwise.

The primary duties of constitutional officers have been so expanded with the development of state government through the years that none of them now have the time which should be devoted to State Boards.

The constitutional and statutory duties of the Attorney General, outside of board members, fill hundreds of pages in the law books. He is charged with the approval of all bonds issued by the state or any lesser unit of government and these have run to over 375 million already this year. He must examine the characters of the thousands of corporations in the State and inquire into anti-trust violations.

He must advise the Governor and all other state officials, agencies, boards or commissions on their legal problems. With 2,000 lawsuits a year to prosecute or defend in the state or federal courts and the preparation of over 1500 opinions a year, his job can hardly be called part-time employment.

All of the constitutional officers make a giant effort to squeeze attendance at 38 boards into their busy schedule. But this is defeating the real purpose of having a board. Boards should be composed of men able to give time, calm consideration and expert advice to the administrators of the program. Show me the man who can qualify as an expert in banking, investment, taxes, leasing, elections and vote frauds, retirement programs, rehabilitation of the blind, cancer and pellagra control, county financing and taxation, interstate cooperation, land purchasing for game conservation, collection of unpaid judgments, legislative redistricting, election law revision

Public confidence in officials is based in the final analysis on their efficient and honest service. However you can't produce good government by weighting down your public servants. The only man who does his job better with lead weights on his feet is a deep sea diver.

Mrs. W. O. Flynt — (Continued from page one) was president of Centenary College and Goodnight College in which she also taught after she grew up but it is what advantage one takes of an education that counts. Hers enriched her life that she in turn might enrich the lives of others. She wrote many poems and one book on them was published.

Mrs. Flynt was a sister of the late Mort McIlhany of Wheeler and of Miss Lattie McIlhany of Shamrock.

A FRIEND
At sunset time when all the birds A-weary homeward fly.
And your soul is filled with rapture
By the glory of the sky.
As you watch the tinted colors
Of the picture softly blend
It will be a bit more lovely
If you see it with a friend

When life is at the zenith
And your cup is running o'er
With the sunshine and the laughter
That it brings you more and more
When every day is happy
From beginning unto end,
Your joy is not quite perfect
Till you share it with a friend.

When sorrow and affliction
Come upon you on the way,
And the shadows gather 'round

you
Till they darken all your day.
When beneath the load of trouble
Your heart is forced to bend,
You could not bear the burden
If you did not have a friend.

OPERATION 64 HUGE SUCCESS

Some 297 Maytag dealers throughout the state of Texas were wide awake Saturday midnight. In fact, they had been awake for a total of three days and two and one-half nights in a sales promotional campaign so big that Texas was the logical place to have it. "Operation 64" broke sales records at every place conducted.

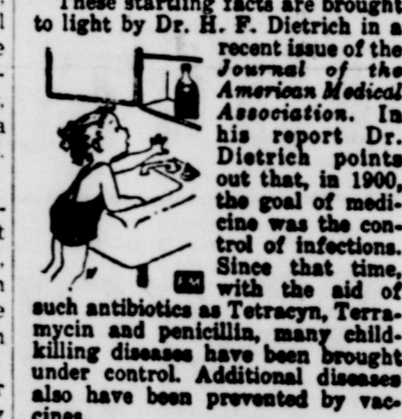

Nash Appliance, who conducted the Operation in Wheeler sold 14 units to Wheeler housewives. Mr. Nash said, "This was the most successful campaign to place Maytags in the home we have ever seen! We are tired, but we are happy!" It is estimated that over 5,000 Maytag units were sold to customers during the statewide Operation 64.

The now famous slogan, "Catch us asleep and we'll give you a Maytag," rang a bell only in Port Lavaca, when a farmer wandered into the store to purchase a lawn mower part, found the dealer sound asleep, woke him, not aware that he would be entitled to a brand new Maytag washer. Very much to his surprise the farmer was offered and accepted the new automatic free.

Texas dealers bought Maytags by the mile in preparing for Operation 64. These Maytag appliances were shipped in a truck convoy movement which established an all-time record as the largest single over-land shipment of saleable merchandise to a single consignee. The convoy consisted of 64 super-van trucks and trailers and brought the vast shipment from the Maytag factory at Newton, Iowa, to its Texas distributorship in Dallas, where it was dispersed direct to dealers throughout the state.

Child Killer
Perversely, accidents kill more of our children than any other cause. Last year they accounted for one-third of all child fatalities, claiming the lives of 13,000 youngsters and permanently injuring about 50,000 more.

These startling facts are brought to light by Dr. H. F. Dietrich in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. In his report Dr. Dietrich points out that, in 1900, the goal of medicine was the control of infections. Since that time, with the aid of such antibiotics as Tetracycline, Terramycin and penicillin, many child-killing diseases have been brought under control. Additional diseases also have been prevented by vaccines.

Meanwhile, Dr. Dietrich states, as the result of the control of infection and communicable diseases, accidents have become the leading killer of children. But accidents, like disease, can be prevented with the right "vaccine," the pediatrician believes.

Dr. Dietrich prescribes accident prevention education for both the parent and child. He points out that the pre-school youngster must be protected from the potentially poisonous household agents such as aspirin, shampoos, cologne, suntan lotions and cleaning fluids.

"Up to the age of one year, the infant needs complete protection from all hazards. After the age of one, protection must gradually be reduced and replaced by education," Dr. Dietrich stresses.

The accident prevention vaccine requires "forethought, time and discipline" to be effective.

Camp Stove Lets Backyard Chef Expand His Menu

The charcoal grill's fine for steak but what about coffee? Many backyard chefs are solving that problem by setting up a Coleman camp stove beside the grill. The stove burns white (unleaded) gasoline, giving a flame that can be regulated as easily as the flame of a kitchen range. Used in conjunction with a grill, the camp stove serves for making coffee, boiling corn, or for cooking any food that the grill isn't suited for. The stove makes it unnecessary to run to and from the kitchen.
