NEW SCHOOL HOURS HERE

The Wheeler Schools have changed the hours of classes for the duration of the harvest emergency. School will begin at 8:30 a.m. with adjournment for lunch from 11:30 to 12:00 o'clock. Dismissal will be at 2:30 p.m. This schedule has been set up to enable the school children to work in the fields gathering or helping to gather the crops here, according to a statement made this week by Supt. A. E. Brown.

Mr. Brown said the hours will be changed as soon as the emergency passes. If bad weather interferes with the harvest the daily schedule will revert to the regular hours immediately.

Mr. Brown took the frames for the steel doors to be installed in the High School to Amarillo to get the shipping damage repaired. They should be back in a short time and the new doors can then be installed in the school building.

The plans for securing new bleachers at Nicholson Stadium are progressing steadily but at this time it appears that they will not be installed until next year, according to a report from the school.

STORM VICTIMS ARE STILL IN NEED OF HELP

Contributions are still needed to help replace the home of James F. Sheffield which was destroyed by the tornado which struck the state line at Sweetwater Creek last spring.

The movement to assist the family in maintaining their farm and home was started by a group of Sayre, Okla., business men who have been joined by the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce.

About $1,500.00 is needed to purchase and move a house to the farm. Less than one-half of that amount has been raised to date.

Those familiar with the circumstances declare the Sheffield family is deserving. Their misfortune has placed them in a position where they are in need of help.

Donations this week were received from the following:
Archie Hibler ----- $25.00

MUSTANGS HOLD IN WIN COLUMN

The Wheeler Mustangs have an open date this week. Last week they held their record by defeating the Turkey Turks by a score of 27 to 0. Jim Porter was the hero in this game in that he gained 170 yards rushing.

Later in this same quarter Jim Porter got loose for 40 yards and another counter. Dennis Wilsford again made the extra point kick good. The third period was a repetition of the first in that no scores were made. The only time the Turks threatened seriously was after recovering a Mustang fumble within the 20-yard distance. This threat was staved off however.

In the fourth quarter Harold Crossland got a TD on a 2-yard carry. The try for point after TD was not good. Roger Topper carried 2 yards for TD just before the game was over. Harold Crossland kicked this point and made it good.

Friday, October 28 will see the Mustangs tangle with the Lakeview Eagles at Lakeview. This is another conference game. Let's boost and win this one come Friday the 28th.

Wheeler County Soil Conservation District News

Cooperators of the Wheeler Soil Conservation District are planning and applying more soil and water conservation practices. Several have begun to harvest grass seed to replant additional acreage this next spring. Most of the grasses are ready for harvest such as sand love, indian grass and bluestem. Fat Murrill and Harry Wofford have finished their harvest of sand love grass. Mr. Murrill expects to use his grass seed to plant additional land to grass.

Grass seeding time is not far away. Plans should be made to locate the necessary seed. Now is possibly the best time to determine what areas are to be seeded. Cover to be used for seeding of grasses should not be overgrazed. Several cooperators have started to seed rye as cover crop. Gaston Harbour of Palkan has started to seed all of his cotton and bundle feed land to rye. Others are getting ready to seed rye.

Glen King of Twitty had additional terrace lines run which he plans to build.

Help and Care Save Pigs At Farrowing Time

It takes time and effort to watch sows carefully and, when they start to farrow, be on hand to save every possible pig. Pigs saved will pay big dividends come next spring.

Take each pig as it comes and clean away the mucus, especially around the nose and mouth. Put it into a box warmed by a heat lamp or other means. During the first few hours many pigs are mashed by the sow.

Clip needle teeth and paint gums with iodine-glycerine mixture. If ears are notched, paint notches with iodine.

After the litter is born and the sow settled, put pigs with sow to nurse. Be sure pigs are kept warm, dry and clean. It's helpful to hang a heat lamp over the pen.

Castrate Boar Pigs Early

At the Purina Research Farm pigs castrated the fifth day suffer less shock and wounds heal more quickly than when done later. Use Purina Wound Protector after castrating and for all cuts and open sores.

Get Those Profit Robbers

Right now, before puellets go into the laying house, get those worms with Purina Chek-R-Ton. Low cost. Shockless. Just feed as complete ration for 2 days. Also acts as a conditioned and appetizer.

Colored Eggs . . . Your Crazy

That's what one customer told me when I urged him to look at feeding this fine body-building Lay and Pay display. After he saw that red, green and yellow eggs resulted from feed changes, he's a better-than-ever Purina Laying Chow feeder. Stop in and see for yourself.

Time To Condition and Train Hunting Dogs

Clyde Morton, nine-time winner of the National Championship Trials, says "Both men and dogs need pre-season workouts."

"As hunting season approaches both need training to get into condition and to sharpen their hunting skills. That's why I recommend man and dog train together, starting 6 weeks before the season. It never should start less than 4 weeks before opening day."

Your dog will go for Purina Dog Chow available in Checkers and Kebbled Meal. It's built to meet dogs' nutritional needs, tested on thousands of dogs at the Purina Research Kennels and proved by thousands of satisfied owners of pet, hunting and farm dogs.

In 30 days we re-weigh the cows and weigh the milk. You see the results—a nd extra profit—from feeding this fine body-building Chow. We think you'll agree a test like this shows real faith in our product. Ask about it.

Executive of Region IX, was the principal speaker and pointed the need of an extension in the planning of the Scouting program. He showed that by the growth of boys coming of scout age that by 1960 this council would need to be in position to handle at least 6,000 boys 4,500 are now enrolled in Scouting. Where the movement now requires 319 adult leaders by 1960 a total of 600 leaders will be needed. A budget of $64,000 will be against the budget of $50,000 needed this year. These figures are based upon reaching the same percentage of Scout age boys as are now being reached by Scouting.

The troop from Borger presented their Indian Dancers as part of the entertainment on the program.

Men attending from Wheeler were: Scout Commissioner Virgil Jamison, Institutional Representative Rev. Carlton Thomson, Cub Master Jim Montgomery and Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Walker. They were accompanied to the Retreat by Gerald Mayfield of Shamrock.

KIWANIS NOTES
By Dr. C. C. Merritt

Since I did not say a word about the luncheon last week, I'm going to shun that subject this week also. You know that when they do it so well all the time it may become monotonous for me to keep bragging about it. So — For a spell anyway.

It was good to see nearly all the members present Monday. I can think of only one that was not there tho there may have been others.

Virgil Jamison brought the program. His subject was "THE UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION." I'm sure the entire club enjoyed his talk. Of course he was safe from questioning for none of the rest of us knew any thing about the subject. But, it was good, Virgil. Come again some time. I said "none of the rest of us knew anything about the subject." I'm going to modify that statement lest some of you misunderstand me. So then I mean this, I knew nothing about the subject. I do not know what nor how much any of the rest of the members knew. That is, before Virgil made his talk.

Well, come again, each of you. And let us love one another and practice the Golden Rule. And that's my sermon for this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Beauchamp, Jeyton and Robert have moved to Amarillo where he has accepted employment.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN
WALTER ROGERS

There seems to be a great deal of increased activity in the field of grading Members of Congress. This is done by the numerous organizations throughout the country that hold themselves out as representing particular business groups, labor groups, manufacturing groups, political groups and so forth. You would be surprised at the number of such groups that have sprung up in this country in the last ten years.

As soon as a session of Congress is over, the individual voting records of each Member is thoroughly scrutinized by someone connected with the organizations doing the grading. Usually the organization has picked out several issues on which they have decided to take a definite stand. They then take the voting record of the Member of Congress and find out how many times he voted like they wanted him to. If ten issues are involved and the Congressman has voted in accordance with the wishes of the organization ten times, he bats one hundred per cent. For every wrong vote, of course, he gets reduced ten per cent.

The organizations then take the results and hand them out as absolute conclusions of fact that cannot be challenged. That is where the fallacy of the whole proceeding lies. In the first place, no mention is made of who does the deciding and what basic it was originally concluded that the best interest of the country would be served by a yea or a nay vote. The truth is that these decisions are so often made on the basis of—not what is best for the entire country—but what is best for the particular group that happens to be compiling the statistics.

Sometimes the issues chosen are not remotely connected with the particular interest of the group. Sometimes they get the yea and nay votes mixed up and give a Member a black mark when he should have a white mark according to the yardstick. For instance, as one occasion several years ago, a Member was listed as having opposed a certain piece of legislation that was supported by the particular group. It developed that the Member had actually vigorously supported the legislation. However, a motion to recommit

HAYMES SOUNDS A BLUE NOTE

SINGER DICK HAYMES seems to be all alone by the telephone in this photo made in Malibu, Calif., shortly after his wife, actress Rita Hayworth, left him. Haymes is reported to have tried desperately to persuade Rita to accept his apologies and call off their separation. He denies emphatically that he hit her in the eye. (International) the bill had been made which would have meant the death of the bill. Of course, this Member voted "no" on the motion to recommit. What the group had done was to see that he had cast a nay vote and apparently did not take the trouble to find out what he was voting "no" on.

The point I want to make is that these matters should be carefully scrutinized by readers. It would be a very simple matter for a communist group to pick ten issues at random and grade the Members of Congress, both House and Senate, on how they voted on those issues, to then list these Members as having voted in accordance with the communist yardstick or against it. Unless the readers of this rating sheet knew the exact issues that were being voted upon, they would have no way of knowing whether there was any soundness in the conclusion or the rating group. This process could be very easily used as a subtle but vicious propaganda vehicle.

HOMECOMING

West Texas State College's largest student body in history is ready to welcome back to the campus a record-breaking crowd of ex-students for the annual Homecoming celebration October 22. Members of the Class of 1930 will be honored during the day.

Program for Homecoming Day and "Western Days" preceding the celebration has been completed, with the traditional parade, barbecue and football game heading the list of attractions. An assembly, held for the first time last year, will again be featured during the morning.

"Western Days", when students and faculty don western clothes on penalty of being thrown into a tank of cold water, open October 20 and continue until Homecoming Day. Students get the celebration underway October 19 at the annual western dance sponsored by Gamma Phi Sorority. On Thursday, October 20, the traditional Homecoming Assembly is slated, and a bonfire and pep rally is to be held October 21.

Exes will begin registering at 8 a.m. in the Administration Building, where they will be given barbecue tickets. A general assembly for students and exes is scheduled at 10:45 a.m., when Luther Roberts, minister of the Gateway Church of Christ, Borger will be speaker. Roberts is a member of the Class of 1930. Climaxing the assembly will be the crowning of WT's Homecoming Queen.

Campus clubs, organizations and groups will entertain their exes from noon until 3:30 p.m. at teas, smokers and get-togethers. An ex-student band, composed of former members of the Buffalo Band, will be organized for the first time at 1 p.m. at the Band House. The group will head the Homecoming parade and take part in halftime activities Saturday night.

The annual parade, featuring several bands, riding clubs and floats from the campus and Canyon, will start at 4 a.m. through downtown Canyon. The barbecue will follow at 5:30 p.m., and the football game between the Buffs and Hardin-Simmons is at 8 p.m. Closing the day's events will be a dance at the Student Union Building after the game.

Special recognition will be paid to the Class of 1930, celebrating its silver anniversary. The group will register at Randall Hall beginning at 8 a.m., where they will visit until the general assembly. The class, with faculty who were on campus in 1930, will march together into assembly. A buffet luncheon at Randall has been arranged for the class.

POSTAL RATES ISSUE GIVEN

"No businessman would seriously believe it possible for any business to absorb seven major increases in the expenses which account for over 90 per cent of a business's total cost without compensating increases in prices", Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said in commenting on the proposed postal rate increase.

"This is the situation the Post Office Department faces — and since rate increase have not kept pace with costs, this huge businesslike enterprise within Government is losing money at the rate of over a million dollars every working day.

"Postage rates on first — class letters are the same today — three cents for the first ounce — as they were in 1932. Meanwhile, Congress has voted wage increases to postal employees on five different occasions since then.

"Two increases in the rate paid the railroads for carrying the mails have also been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, in 1951 and 1954.

"These two major costs—wages and transportation — account for over 90 per cent of total Post Office Department costs.

"Not Long has the Post Office Department faced these increases in costs without compensating increases in income, but it has been forced to serve an over-increasing and shifting population.

"The number of householders in the United States has increased almost two-thirds since letter rates were last changed, and new communities requiring postal service have mushroomed in the areas adjacent to our towns and cities.

"These are some of the basic reasons why the Post Office Department believes a reasonable increase in first-class letter rates — from 3 cents to 4 cents for the first ounce — is well justified. Since the volume of letter mail handled in this country is so large, this moderate increase would yield revenues that would go a long way toward balancing the postal deficit."

Postmaster Jamison echoed the opinions of the Department and said he would like to know how the people of Wheeler feel about it.

5 Pontiacs Have Many New Features

New 1956 Pontiac models on display in dealers' showrooms Friday introduce a complete new "first" a complete Hydra-Matic transmission. Pontiac engineers, the new design is designed to provide quiet shifting of gears. The Strato-Streak V-8 introduced last year, is now available in all three body styles, longer by 2.4 inches overall the 15 new body styles have a longer, lower looking silhouette.

Front-end styling is similar on all three series. A brilliant wrap-around bumper of sturdy, chrome-plated protects the entire front end of the car. The cleanly integrated front bumper and grille give the car a spirited, powerful look. Bomb type bumper guards and air-scoop cressets above the headlamps add to the fleet appearance of the car. The headlamp visors match the color of the front fenders.

The Pontiac Silver Streaks are one of the most distinctive styling features in the automobile industry. They flow from the grille, back across the hood to the windshield and are depressed into the hood on each side of the new hood ornament. The slots between the Silver Streaks blend with the color of the hood.

The Silver Streaks are repeated in the car fender design where the convex surface of the streaks mold into the surface of the rear fins, ending at the new visored tail with big-car riding comfort in the new "series". Critchfield pointed out. "The rich colors of Pontiac Vogue two-tones are picked up in the luxurious interiors. Exciting new fabrics are colorful with durability, cleanability and slideability".

Foremost among the mechanical improvements in the 1956 Pontiacs are the new Strato-Streak V-8 engines — bigger and sturdier than ever and upped in horsepower. The upsurge in horsepower comes from the increased displacement, higher compression ratios up to 8.9:1, and improved carburetion.

Pontiac offers three Strato-Streak body series in 1956. Longer by 2.4 inches overall the 15 new body styles have a longer, lower looking silhouette.

PONTIAC OFFERS NEW FOUR-DOOR HARDTOP FOR 1956 — Exciting news in Pontiac's beautiful new line of 1956 automobiles is the Star Chief Custom Four-Door Catalina Sedan. The fleet, luxurious model, finished in custom colors with matching leather and nylon fabric interiors, rides on a road-leveling 124 inch wheelbase. Its new, larger 227 h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 engine and the revolutionary new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission makes the car the smoothest handling, most powerful ever produced by Pontiac. In 1956, Pontiac offers the popular four-door hardtop sedan in all series.

lamps. Accentuating the air foil lines of the rear fenders, a stainless spear thrusts forward along the fenders from each tail lamp. This protective molding is brightened by three indented reflectors, and added safety factors in Pontiac styling.

Continuing its trend in modern colors, Pontiac introduces a completely new array of exterior finishes. The exciting flair of the new "Vogue", two-toning combines these colors to add to the low, trim look of the 1956 Pontiac silhouette.

The wide varieties of interior trim materials on the new models are most colorful and more luxurious than ever offered by Pontiac. They range from bizarre red and black to soft combinations of greens or greys.

The front seats of all 1956 body styles have been redesigned for more comfort and more leg and head room. A mechanical 360-degree seat is also available.

The new panoramic instrument panel controls in the 1956 Pontiacs are lighter and more legible. Control knobs are gleaming white plastic. The two-tone finish of the panel harmonizes with the interior exterior color scheme. Trim plates on the panel are of smart brushed aluminum recessed in black.

Centrally located in the instrument panel just above the glove compartment, is Pontiac's new electromagnetic radio which automatically selects the strongest stations. It also can be tuned manually or by push-button. Conventional radios are also available.

Pontiac offers a new rear seat sound system employing two speakers. These two speakers, combined with the front speaker embody a high fidelity system with stereophonic sound distribution. Such an exactness of tone quality reproduction has never before been available in automotive radio reception.

Displacement of the 1956 Strato-Streak V-8 engine is 316.6 cubic inches. The extra volume from larger cylinder bore and pistons gives more reserve power, not only at low, but at all driving speeds.

Compression ratios, raised to 8.9:1 in the Strato-Streak engines of Pontiacs equipped with Hydra-Matic transmissions, take full advantage of the higher octane ratings of today's premium fuels. Along with economical maximum power from improved gasolines the higher compression gives quick acceleration and quiet operation.

Larger venturi or air-intake throats on both the four-barrel and the two-barrel carburetors improve the "breathing" qualities of the 1956 Pontiac engines. Better performance and greater economy result. The 227 horsepower engine with two-barrel carburetor is standard for the Star Chief series and the 205 horsepower engine with two-barrel carburetor is standard equipment for 870 and 860 series equipped with Hydra-Matic.

A new dual exhaust system, optional equipment this year, also better the Strato-Streak efficiency and performance by improving the engine's "breathing". Shroum twin exhaust deflectors for the dual exhaust pipes appear as an integral part of the massive rear bumper.

In addition to the new Strato-Flight transmission for the Star Chief series, Pontiac offers an improved Hydra-Matic transmission for the 870 and 860 series and a new Synchronesh transmission, incorporating many refinements and improvements.

A notable improvement in the ride and handling characteristics of the 1956 Pontiacs comes from a new steering knuckle and support assembly. The press fitted king pin bushing reduces friction and improves lubricating qualities of the front suspension.

Completely new power steering, power brakes and electric window lifts are available as optional equipment.

Front mounted air conditioning, the system entirely located under the hood which was pioneered by Pontiac in 1954, will be continued with a number of new features in 1956. The new unit will give greater cooling, easier operation, more compactness and simplified installation. The unit's control panel, conveniently located above the radio controls, is restyled for improved appearance and operation.

Specialized in care of bed, elderly and infirmed patients, 24-hour nursing service. Reasonable rates. King's Rest Home, Phone 139, Wellington. We do not operate the Clarendon Home. 44-2tp meeting will go to the state conference and from there to the White House Conference.

Participation of both professional and lay people is needed in this study of school problems, said Neil McElroy, president of Procter & Gamble and chairman of the White House Conference, in a recorded address heard by the group.

"Public education is the most vital and important function of our state government," said A. R. (Dick) Bivins of Amarillo, member of the State Board of Education. "Much can be accomplished by such conferences as these."

Leds Lacey of Denver, district representative of the National Commission for Public Schools, briefed the general assembly on conduct of the conference, and then those present formed study groups. A chairman and two other lay or professional leaders the discussion groups in the following subjects:

What Should Our Schools Accomplish? In What Ways Can We Organize Our Schools More Efficiently and Economically? What Are Our School Building Needs? How Can We Get Enough Good Teachers and Keep Them? How Can We Finance Our Schools — Build and Operate Them? How Can We Obtain a Continuing Public Interest in Education? What Educational Opportunities Should be Provided for Adults, and What Provisions Shall We Make For Higher Education?

The steering committee of the 31st Senatorial District is composed of Chairman Rogers; Knox Kinard, Pampa; Glynn Bell, Shamrock; Mrs. Robert Lee Foster, Canyon; Mrs. Ralph E. Randel, Penhandle; and E. G. Schubart, II, Dalhart.

The Veterans Land Board expects to make about 1,000 new loans. Approximately $6,000,000.00 will be available in the near future.

New applicants were discontinued more than a year ago, because of lack of funds. Money now has become available through repayments and recovery in lawsuits filed against block deal promoters.

Chairman Rudder warned applicants to use only new forms, which can be obtained by writing to the Veterans Land Board at Austin. Changes made in the law make the old forms useless.

Each applicant should make sure that his correct mailing address is enclosed. No money or checks should be enclosed with the request for application forms.

Rudder advised prospective applicants to have the land selected before writing for an application form. They have only 30 days after receiving the forms to complete and return the application.

"The system which we will use is designed to eliminate accumulation of paper work, to enable the veterans and seller to conduct their business promptly, and to secure efficient utilization of veterans Land Board personnel," Rudder explained.

volunteer workers in churches and other organizations sponsoring Scout units and the small core of professional Scout executives, Virgil Jamison, Scout Commissioner stated.

"We want to be able to offer Scouting to any boy desiring to join the movement next year. In order to do this, we must help the local Scout executives and the churches and organizations sponsoring units. It is good to always remember that these youngsters learning physical fitness, skill, self reliance and respect for others, will some day be grown-up Texans. And these youngsters in the Scouting movement are from all races, religions and economic backgrounds," he said.

At the present time there are 165,000 members in the Scouting movement in Texas. Scout figures indicate this amounts to one of every 4.7 youngsters in the Scout age bracket.

A portion of the funds from the drive will go towards maintaining Camp Ki-O-Wah, where hundreds of local youngsters spend summers getting the thrills of their lives. Last summer more than 26 campers weeks were spent there by woy Scouts from the local council.

Camp Ki-O-Wah is well developed and has facilities to take care of most outdoor activities. At the camp, youngsters can enjoy swimming, boating, canoeing, handicraft and camping, all under the guidance of experts and their Scoutmasters.

Other funds will be used to supply things that no boy, leader or institution can supply. The money will help maintain the basic Scout program, training for leaders, program material, a service station for supplies and records, advancement standards and awards and professional leadership and guidance.

"Scouting is not for any select group. It takes in all future Texans of every race, religion and economic backgrounds. We feel that what is invested in Scouting returns big dividends to our community," Mr. Burgess concluded.

Men who will be calling on you next Thursday, October 25, are: Junior Jamison, Thurman Rives, Watson Burgess, Hugh Grider, Wayne Edwards, Bob Douthitt, Frank Wofford, Dick DeArment, Percy Farmer, Jack Garrison, C. B. Kirk, Joe Rogers and Chas. Slemmer, Mr. Watson concluded.
