Reds Say Initiative Regained In Kharkov Battle; Nazis Disagree

U. S. Planes Aid Russians In Conflict

Kharkov Battle Key To Future Strategic Plans
By The Associated Press
Russia's Kharkov offensive, a major factor in strategic planning on both sides of the world conflict, was pictured today as rolling forward once again, the Red army having wiped out the best of the Germans could offer in the way of flank diversion.

The wedge which the Germans had driven into the Russian salient curving past Kharkov on the south had been shattered by "enormous losses" to the enemy, Moscow dispatches said, and the Russians had driven ahead once more after consolidating newly won ground.

This was the 14th day of battle on the Kharkov front, reports the most valuable of all German positions in Russia for it buttresses the Tangroff threat of the Germans to invade the Caucasus when and if they can get their own major drive under way.

The German high command, not retreating from previous claims that considerable Russian forces had been cut off in the salient flanking Kharkov, said today that the fighting south of the big Ukrainian manufacturing city had developed into a battle of encirclement.

The bulk of three Soviet armies, including strong tank forces, has been encircled, the German communiqué said. "All attempts to break out have failed with heavy losses for the enemy."

Obviously both the Germans and Russians could not be correct in their descriptions of the battle but since communications and the belligerents' own front line reports were the only sources of news, corroboration for either side must await final outcome of the encounter.

The Hitler command said that its forces had captured 30 villages in a "central sector" but whether it meant the Kharkov front or the whole front was not clear. If the whole vast Russian front were meant, the claim signified new action opposite Moscow.

The emphasis put upon the battle of Russia by American high strategy was namely illustrated by a dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent, Henry C. Cassidy, from a Red Air Force station which said that an Elite Russian pursuit squadron defending the bomber approaches to Moscow was flying American-made planes exclusively and asking for more.

The Russian airmen were elaborate in their praise of the fighters—especially the Bell Airacobra, which name they have meaningfully shortened to Cobra.

Allied Bombers Range Far Afield

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 25 (AP)—The Allies' non-stop attack on Japanese concentration centers, including another 1,300 mile roundtrip flight to bomb Amboina in the Dutch East Indies, dealt the enemy heavy blows over the weekend, General MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today.

Either by luck or suicidal sacrifice, however, the Japanese knocked out an Allied ship several hundred miles off Australia when one of their planes, crippled by anti-aircraft fire, struck the vessel amidship and set her afire. An Allied destroyer later sank her after removing 100 survivors, many of them injured.

In all, three Allied planes were lost, one each in three weekend raids, to many times that number destroyed or put out of action for the Japanese.

Vunakanau airdrome, on Bianche Bay 12 miles southeast of Rabaul, New Britain, a much-bombed target which never before had been identified by name, was attacked MacArthur's headquarters disclosed yesterday.

A communiqué said 29 bombs fell among one group of about 20 grounded planes, hitting two squarely, setting many others afire and also leaving a building in flames. The bulletin noted that the raiders met considerable anti-aircraft fire but no enemy fighter planes challenged them.

For the second time in 10 days, great Australian bombers reached halfway from New Guinea to Celebes to blast shipping in the harbor of Amboina at dusk Saturday.

Their Australian fliers, however, were too busy fighting off Japanese planes to observe the results carefully. Three enemy Zero fighters were shot down.

Another raiding force demolished an airdrome building and damaged two grounded Japanese aircraft at Lae, New Guinea.

The sunken Allied ship was said to have withstood 10 hits from 250-pound bombs and many misses which stoved in her sides before the enemy plane crashed on board.

Seniors Told Of 'Science Of The Cross'

Rev. P. D. O'Brien Tells Graduates Of Jesus' Omnipotence
A near capacity crowd heard the Baccalaureate Sunday night services at the city auditorium when the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, was principal speaker on the topic, "The Science of the Cross."

Supt. W. C. Blankenship presided with the invocation given by the Rev. R. Elmer Dunham of the East 4th St. Baptist church. The choir and congregation sang the Doxology.

The Rev. O'Brien took as his text, "Christ Is All and in All," and pointed out that the Christian religion is not unscientific as Christ is the center of every proven science.

He spoke of the science of geology and declared that Jesus was the rock in the wilderness, the foundation and the cornerstone, and also the rejected stone which later became head of the cornerstone. Next he spoke of zoology in which he said Jesus was the lamb of God and the lion of the tribe of Judah.

For the science of botany, the pastor spoke of Jesus as the lily of the valley and the rose of Sharon. As for the science of astronomy he likened Jesus to the Star of Bethlehem, the sun of righteousness, the bright and morning star and the day star.

He closed his talk with a quotation telling the students to hitch their wagons to a star but to make that star the Star of Bethlehem.

The Rev. H. W. Halslip, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the scripture. The Rev. Ernest E. Orton, pastor of the Nazarene church, had the benediction. Irby Cox directed the music with Mrs. C. W. Norman as accompanist.

Seventh grade graduation exercises are to be held at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the city auditorium and graduation for seniors is to be at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night to close the week of school activities.

Nuts To You, Toshi Go
TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), May 25 (AP)—Toshi Go, editor and publisher of the Japan Times and Advertiser, declared in a broadcast tonight that the "present war was totally unnecessary" and that "for the sake of peace it behooves the American people to free themselves from the ignorance and misapprehension from which they have been suffering."

British Labor Party Sticks By Churchill

LONDON, May 25 (AP)—Advocates of continued participation by the labor party in the Churchill government today in the first test of sentiment favoring a withdrawal, a course suggested earlier by Lord Strabolgi.

My vote of 2,319,000 to 164,000 the party's annual conference defeated an amendment, condemning labor's role in the government. The amendment had been attached to a resolution offered by Clement Attlee, Churchill's dominion secretary, calling for continuation of the war until victory is achieved.

The Churchill government is composed of conservatives—the majority party—and a number of labor and liberal secretaries.

Lord Strabolgi told the conference the time had come to consider strongly the possibility of withdrawing its members from the government.

Thousands of Mexicans gathered in the capital's central plaza yesterday to pay tribute to the submarine victims and cheer the balcony appearance of the president.

The demonstration was followed by a pageant, "Mexico alert," which portrayed Mexico joining the United Nations to crush the Axis. As a climax, rifle-carrying Mexican workers tore down a huge Nazi flag, leaving a Mexican flag displayed.

The next banner was trampled and burned, amid shouts of "let's declare war." Cheers for President Roosevelt and other Allied leaders, and boos for Hitler, Mussolini and Emperor Hirohito accompanied the action.

Similar demonstrations were held throughout the country. In Tampico 30,000 persons marched in a great anti-axis parade.

Only one instance of disorder was reported. At Uruapan in Michoacan state, workers stoned a German hardware store and threw a bottle of gasoline against the door in an effort to burn it.

STEVENSON PROTESTS OIL RATIONING

AUSTIN, May 25 (AP)—In telegrams to Texas senators and Speaker Sam Rayburn, Governor Coke R. Stevenson today protested proposed extension of gasoline rationing to Texas as an economic disruption to the state.

"Texas sentiment appears overwhelmingly against rationing in any form," he said.

"Likewise it is against rationing of mileage for cars and trucks."

The governor added the people were united and vigorously supporting the war program "but sensible rationing is necessary and disastrous upon public spirit."

The governor's request will reach motorists through envelope enclosures with regular mail sent out by more than 30 Texas life and casualty insurance companies.

Long opposed to gasoline rationing for the state which produces more crude oil than any other, the governor's telegram was his first public protest.

It was his opinion that restrictions on motor fuel use would strike deep at the core of Texas economy, touching the lives of the laborer, the school teacher, the preacher tending his flock and virtually every strata of citizenry.

He emphasized that Texans would willingly support any reasonable suggestion for conservation or sacrifice but could not justify any unreasonable measures that would not contribute directly to winning the war.

Draft Revision Plans Studied
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Congress considered today proposals to give President Roosevelt broad authority to revamp the selective service system by classifying family men into groups who would be called for army duty only after the rolls of those without dependents had been exhausted.

Japanese Score China Successes

U. S. General Says We Took Hell Of Beating In Burma

By The Associated Press
Japanese dispatches claimed important successes today in southeastern and southwestern China, areas 1,500 miles apart which have become the most crucial sectors of war in the far Pacific.

In the southwestern province of Yunnan, Japanese forces were reported to have surged across the upper Salween river in the face of fierce Chinese fire, occupying hills from which to shield their bridgehead along the Burma Road to Paoshan, 55 miles beyond.

Despite the handicaps of the rainy season in Burma, which are generally counted on to forestall any major offensive against India, the Japanese conquerors of Burma still were a sharp threat to China though terrific odds of terrain lay between them and Kunming, eastern terminus of the Burma road, 375 miles from their Salween foothold.

The other front, where the enemy was in perhaps more decisive position to gain a major victory, lies in Chekiang province, across China from Yunnan.

Furthering the successes of last week in face of a Chinese resistance which could check or turn the enemy back in only isolated actions, the Japanese in Chekiang province had carried their drive dangerously near to the important communications center and provincial capital, Kinshwa.

The Chinese, estimating the enemy's strength at 100,000 men, acknowledged his proximity to Kinshwa and a Tokyo report said that the Japanese actually were storming the city.

Chungking said that Kinshwa was still in Chinese hands at last reports, although dispatches were delayed.

North of Kinshwa, which in turn is 28 miles north of Kinshwa, dispatches to the Chinese capital said, the defenders routed a Japanese column along the Fuchun river, inflicting 2,000 casualties.

Kinshwa was the anchor for the Chinese left wing. On their right, the defenders had been forced out of Fukiang, Yiwu and Tungyang, 25 to 35 miles northeast and east of Kinshwa.

Large scale guerrilla operations were launched against the enemy's communications in northern Chekiang in the hope that this would throw the offensive off gear if it could not be held frontally.

Commander Of Air School Arrives Here

Col. Sam L. Ellis, formerly of training center headquarters, arrived here during the weekend to assume his duties as commander of the U. S. Army Flying School being established here.

Monday he had secured offices at the city hall for himself and staff. Lieut. Col. J. W. White, former director of flying at the Midland Flying School, was due to report here Monday for assignment as project officer.

Col. Ellis, a native of Tennessee and for 25 years an officer in the United States Army, not only is to be in charge of the project staff, but also in command of the bombardier unit here when it is completed. He has been in command of aviation training for the third army.

His family is to join him here in about two weeks.

Lieut. Col. White has commuted here recently from Midland for some conferences to correlate certain projected training programs.

Meanwhile, operations at the school site were proceeding steadily despite temporary delays occasioned by showers.

Japs Claim Sinking Of US Warships

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), May 25 (AP)—Imperial headquarters announced today that a 35,000-ton United States battleship of the North Carolina type had been damaged and a cruiser of the Portland class had been sunk in the Coral Sea battle in addition to other losses previously reported inflicted on the Allied fleet.

The announcement also said it had been established that an unidentified United States cruiser previously reported damaged in that engagement was an "A-class cruiser of the Louisville type."

Roosevelt Slashes Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Slashing approximately $185,000,000 from the total because war conditions permit it, President Roosevelt asked congress to appropriate $280,000,000 for work relief in the year starting July 1 plus $2,767,000 for administrative expenses.

He had estimated tentatively in his budget message to congress last January, that $465,000,000 would be needed.

The lower figure, he said in a message to the legislators, will permit an average monthly employment of about 400,000, although it is estimated that there are still some 3,000,000 unemployed.

The residual group now being aided by the work projects administration.

The action which congress takes on such proposals, he said, will determine the extent of moves toward further reduction or "the possible elimination" of the WPA.

The types of projects to be undertaken in the relief program for the 1943 fiscal year, the chief executive asserted, will be those which can be prosecuted by day labor of the residual unemployed on WPA rules and which require a minimum of critical materials.

Shortages of labor and material are rapidly developing, he informed congress, citing large work appropriations. To meet labor shortages the requirement of workers from every available source will be required, and possibly even organized migration in some instances.

Many of the 3,000,000 now unemployed will be hired during the coming year, Mr. Roosevelt declared. Yet in a labor force exceeding 60,000,000 people, he added, a substantial number will not be hired because of age, lack of skill, or other handicaps, and some may be unable to migrate from regions with surplus labor to regions where workmen are needed.

In this connection, he said he could not emphasize too strongly "the need for industry to abandon prevailing practices of discrimination, racial and otherwise, in recruiting labor for war production."

Linked with reports that an effort soon would be made to make men of 19 to 20 subject to the draft, legislation of this nature was expected to clear up the status of older men and those with dependents, who now are subject to induction into active service at the discretion of local boards.

Blackout Smoker Gets Sixty Days
DETROIT, May 25 (AP)—For smoking a cigarette during Sunday night's blackout in Detroit, Dominic Lofrese, 31, was sentenced today by Recorder's Judge George Murphy to serve 60 days in the house of correction.

"This is war," Judge Murphy reminded Lofrese as he pronounced sentence.

Woman Refused New Trial In Slaying

NEW ORLEANS, May 25 (AP)—The Louisiana supreme court today refused a petition for a new trial for Mrs. Annie Beatrice Henry, three times convicted and sentenced to die for the slaying of J. P. Calloway, Houston, Tex., salesman, near Lake Charles, La., in 1940 and affirmed her conviction.

Mrs. Henry, born Annie McQuestion of Shreveport, was convicted for the third time in January of the rice field slaying on St. Valentine's day, 1940, of Calloway, a salesman who had given her and a companion, Finton Burks, a ride from Orange, Tex., to near Lake Charles, where he was killed.

Attacker Of Women Gets Long Term
NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Eugene Levine, 31-year-old Brooklyn father of a small daughter who confessed to attacking more than 100 women, was sentenced to from 32 years and six months to 155 years in prison today on his plea of guilty to five indictments charging assault, robbery, rape and larceny.

The husky six-footer, whose method of attack was to lure women into self-service elevators which he stopped between floors, broke down and wept as Kings County Judge Louis Goldstein expressed regret he could not impose the death penalty under the law.

Army Places Pointed Out

Elton E. Donaldson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Donaldson, has been enlisted for the U. S. Army, unassigned, Sgt. Troy Gibson, recruiting officer, said here Monday.

At the same time, the sergeant called attention to the extension of the deadline for engineer corps enlistments at Camp Claiborne, La., from May 25 to June 25.

Deadline for glider pilot and training instructor enlistments still stand as of June 1. Men interested in either type of service were urged to contact Sgt. Gibson's office for complete information.

US Food Production Soars
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Despite shortages of labor, machinery, rubber tires, and other equipment, America's food growers and producers are matching industry's setup in the production of war tools.

Farmers Take To Moistened Fields

Farmers were taking to the fields Monday with high hopes that another bumper crop year was in prospect.

After Saturday morning rains had deposited 45 of an inch moisture here and more in some other sections of the county, another shower brought 51 of an inch Sunday morning to completely clinch the planting deal. This brought the total within a week to around an inch and a half at a time of the year considered generally ideal for planting.

Ranges possibly were never in better shape than they are now or will be in a week to two weeks. Sunday's shower put out little stock water in most places, although a few points north reported heavy downpours. The city lakes had been added to the basin levels.

When this year's bumper wheat crop is harvested, supplies are expected to be sufficient to meet the nation's needs for more than two years.

Allred Opens His Campaign On June 2

By The Associated Press
Former Governor James V. Allred begins firing from the stump in the U. S. Senate race on June 2. From Wichita Falls, his home town, Allred will deliver his first personal appearance campaign speech.

Thus he will use the same method Dan Moody, an opponent, chose in placing his candidacy before the public. After a previous statewide radio address announcing his candidacy, Moody went to his boyhood hometown, Taylor in Williamson county, for a platform appearance Saturday night.

The electorate has not been informed of Senator W. Lee O'Daniel's campaign plans. The incumbent, with but one week remaining in which to formally file his notice of candidacy, had not done so.

Moody and Allred whose political lives harbor many parallels—both are former governors and attorney generals—have lambasted O'Daniel but have had relatively little to say about each other.

Addressing his hometown friends Moody questioned O'Daniel's abilities to hold the important senate post.

"If I am correctly informed, never have more than four members voted for any proposal he has made," Moody told the Taylor rally.

"That means 92 other senators were wrong and the junior senator and three others were right, I suppose, in his estimation," Moody cracked.

Local Postoffice Accepting Bids

This is to be a week of bids for the U. S. postoffice here.

Wednesday sealed bids for carrying the mail route between the postoffice and the airport, submitted on a round-trip basis, are to be in the hands of Postmaster Nat Shick for forwarding to Washington.

Thursday at 2 p. m. Shick will open proposals for painting interior of the post office building. Plans and specifications for this work may be obtained at his office.

Work Starts On Public Projects

FORT WORTH, May 25. (AP)—Start of work on five war public works contracts in Texas was reported today by George F. Harley, regional engineer for the federal works agency, who also approved the award of another contract and set a bid opening date for one project.

They included:

E. E. Harrison of Corpus Christi began construction of the Lamarda elementary school. The bid was $107,656. This was the fifth contract to be awarded in connection with Corpus Christi's $1,905,000 school facilities program. Bids for providing cafeteria equipment are scheduled to be opened at 7:30 p. m., June 11 in the school district office.

The regional engineer approved approval of a contract award to the Bowie County Company of Texas to construct 21 comfort stations near Hooks, the bid being $6,705.

Soldier's Letter Is 1942 Feet Long

CAMP ROBINSON, Ark., May 25. (AP)—When Private Edward R. Temple says he received a long letter from his friends in his hometown of Longview, Texas, he means just that.

Japanese Diet To Speed Shipbuilding

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), May 25. (AP)—An extraordinary session of the imperial diet, summoned primarily to vote approval of a big shipbuilding program but also, according to Domei, "for the purpose of further intensifying the nation's spiritual as well as material mobilization," opened today.

The shipbuilding program, Domei added, "is to provide for the speedy construction of as large a number of merchant vessels as possible." (This apparently indicates that the Japanese are feeling the effects of heavy shipping losses in their southwest Pacific campaigns.)

The Rev. J. A. English, president of the Pastor's Association, will shuffle names of each minister and church and the pastors will not be notified until Sunday afternoon as to where they will preach. Members of the congregation will not know who their minister for the evening will be until church time.

Campaign On For Teachers

So serious is the shortage of school teachers these days that the department of education has started a recruiting campaign.

The deputy state school superintendent for this district, E. H. Boulier of Lubbock, is distributing a questionnaire to persons who possibly could qualify as teachers. These questionnaires may be obtained at the office of County Superintendent Anne Martin, or prospective teachers may write directly to Boulier, in care of Texas Technological college, or to their county superintendent.

Information asked for includes name, address, college degree and year and institution from which it was received, teaching experience, teaching fields or subjects, conditions of health, family encumbrances, willingness to teach outside home community, and institution of choice for summer refreshment courses.

Church Supported By Ginger Jar Donations

ORLEANS, Mass. — Cape Cod folks sometimes call the Holy Spirit (Episcopal) church here the "ginger jar church."

Since the parish was founded nine years ago it has been supported by offerings placed in a ginger jar at the door.

The church services, formerly held in a ship's deckhouse that was salvaged from a wreck, are presided over by the Rev. Richard B. Kimball, who was a business man until his 44th birthday, when he was ordained a minister.

Restrictions Put On Vera Cruz Shipping

VERA CRUZ, Mexico.—The Mexican embassy in Washington has been instructed to ask the United States to intervene in a situation which threatens to turn this city into a virtual ghost town, according to Melchor Pelusqui, port customs collector.

Pelusqui said he and President Camacho had discussed the effect of decisions taken by American shipping lines to curtail drastically their gulf coast service through Vera Cruz. He said the president had given him assurance the Mexican embassy would attempt to find some relief.

Rural Scrap Collection Is Mapped

Collection dates have not been definitely fixed, but preparations are shaping up for a final clean-up of junk iron, steel and rubber off Howard county farms.

J. H. Thomas, chairman of the county UREA war board, has written each farmer in the county advising him of the campaign and County Agent O. P. Griffin has written neighborhood leaders giving information about the collection.

Griffin has distributed tags which each farmer will attach to his junk when the scrap is placed by his mail box for collection. This tag will contain the name and address of the farmer, the estimated weight of scrap metal and estimated weight of scrap rubber. On the tag will be indicated whether it is desired to donate the scrap to the government, donate it to the local community, sell for war savings stamps, or sell for cash.

Exact dates on which trucks will tour the county and routes and pick up the junk by each mail box will be announced soon.

Bus Dorman In Fine Fettle As Sox Trim Bombers 9-0

Cincy Displays New Power In Pitching Staff

By AUSTIN DEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you're one of those skeptical citizens who figured the Cincinnati Reds were in for a rough summer because their pitching had gone to pot, you'd better change your outlook.

With seventh place in the National League starting them in the lead, the Reds called on Johnny Vander Meer and Ray Starr for a bit of hurling against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and what they did to the pre-season favorites was enough to make future opponents shudder.

Vander Meer tossed a five-hitter in the opening game and singled in the deciding run for a 3-2 decision. Then Starr blanked the Red Birds on three hits for a 2-0 win in the nightcap.

The double triumph failed by three percentage points to get the Reds out of sixth place in the standings, but it knocked the Cards out of second place and hoisted Cincinnati into the thick of a battle royal that now finds five teams clustered within three games of the runner-up spot.

The New York Yankees lost to the Washington Senators, 9-6, but added half a game to their American league lead because the St. Louis Browns swept a doubleheader from the second-place Cleveland Indians, 5-3 and 4-1.

The Boston Red Sox finally beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5, after dropping the first game of the afternoon by the same score, but slipped into fourth place in the American league as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox twice, 6-4 and 14-0, and took over third place.

The Boston Braves divided their bargain bill with the Philadelphia Phils, but regained the National League's No. 2 berth and the Chicago Cubs surprised everybody, including themselves, by pinning a double defeat on the Pittsburgh Pirates.

While all that was going on, the Brooklyn Dodgers — apparently tired of losing at the Polo Grounds — handed the New York Giants their first shutout of the year, 6-0, to salvage the final game of the series and snap a three-game losing streak.

It took the Phils 14 innings to turn back the Braves, 3-2, on Mickey Livingston's single with the bases loaded, but Boston squared accounts with a 3-3 triumph in the afterpiece on a three-run homer by Eddie Miller.

Rip Sewell's wild pitch in the tenth inning helped the Cubs beat the Pirates, 7-5, and Phil Cavarretta and Lennie Merullo led a 14-hit attack that made it unannounced for Chicago, 11-4.

Ladies May Go In Free At Game Tonight

Ladies night will be observed at Roberts Field at 8 o'clock this evening as the Big Spring Bombers conclude their current series with the Amarillo Gold Sox.

In keeping with the Monday evening "Ladies Night" custom, for every ticket sold, a woman guest will be admitted for only the five cent federal tax. In so many words—man and wife may attend for a total of 55 cents.

Road is due to go to the hill for the Bombers in an effort to gain a split in the series. Bus Dorman's pitching and hitting having swamped the Big Spring boys Sunday afternoon in the opener, 9-0.

Old Bus has seldom been in finer fettle than he was Sunday. Besides shacking the Bombers with three measly singles, he had a perfect day at bat, including two homers, and knocked in no less than five runs.

Whatever it was he had on the ball, it made Bomber batsmen look like butterfly chasers. Although he only struck out six, he had perfect control and until Savage poked one over second in the fifth frame, it looked like he might be heading for a no-hitter. Only chance the Bombers had was in the ninth when Timmons singled and Martin looked safe when Ray's throw to Prother at first was wide—but not safe to Umpire Bailey. Brown then rolled a difficult one to Pitcher Dorman that normally would have scored Timmons—but it went for out No. 3 instead.

Ira Johnson started out for the Bombers but hard licks right down the four lines spelled doom. Spier replaced him in the sixth—but that didn't damp his spirit in leaving six walks, one of which forced in a run. Perhaps the brightest local play was a splendid running catch in the ninth, by Wheatley, who slung it to Savage at first base for a double off Hargrove.

Dorman's homer with Ray on scored first for Amarillo in the third. Hargrove homered in the next frame. Gardner doubled and scored on Moore's fly. Dorman homered again in the fifth and Tenorio in the seventh. Amarillo and Cato walked to force in Tenorio in the seventh. Amarillo scored there on two hits in the eighth. Moore singled, Tenorio walked. Ray forced Prother at the plate. Dorman singled home Moore and Tenorio and Ray scored on Cato's long fly.

Nova-Savold Scrap Slated Again Tonight

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The twice-postponed Lou Nova-Les Savold heavyweight scrap comes up again tonight, weather permitting, with each fighter forecasting a victory that may lead to a shot at Joe Louis and the top title of the boxing world.

Nova, starting a comeback eight months after being fattened by Louis, was about an 8-5 favorite, with the betting boys. But Savold, him for the past year, remained with an impressive record behind the cooly Des Moines, Ia. led a good outside choice to upset the ex-Yogi man from California.

Hardest Working Pitcher Spends Most Of His Time In The Bull Pen

DALLAS, May 25 (AP)—Buried deep in the heart of the Texas league box scores—and you'll find his name there most any day if you read that far—is the story of the guy who doesn't thrill to the roar of the crowd because there just isn't any roar.

Baseball's glory road closed for Eddie Marleau six years ago. But the work is steady, he's a handy fellow to have around and the war may bring him his greatest opportunity, although that, too, would be without frills.

His domain is that vale of forgotten men—the bull-pen. He spends more time there than all the other pitchers on the Dallas club combined. But he's been doing this kind of job since 1937 and has grown to like it.

Eddie explains his last six seasons like this: 1395 2-3 innings—688 1-3 in the pitcher's box, 683 1-3 in the bullpen.

The week-end was just a sample of what he's been doing. Dallas played three games and Eddie was in two of them. The only publicity he got was the mumble of the umpire: "Marleau pitching for so-and-so."

Dallas has played 33 games to date and Eddie has pitched in 18. During 13 other games he warmed up in the bullpen. At the rate he's going he should get some kind of record. He was in 55 games at Oklahoma City last year but this time ought to approach the 70 mark.

Marleau never got a chance in the big leagues. But he's only 32 and now he may have his day. With the youngsters going off to war some of the major league clubs might like a fellow as valuable as he is to fill in.

You think he hasn't had fun? There was the day he won a double-header. He went the route in the first game and, with one pitch got the decision in the second. Then

No Ceiling Yet Fixed Against Warmerdam

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25 (AP) School Teacher-Athlete Cornelius Warmerdam, who has been kicking holes in the pole vault ceiling since the spring of 1940, has a new record today in the latest effort to determine "how high is up" in this event.

In the Northern California Relays at Modesto Saturday night he vaulted 15 foot 7 3/4 inches to better his own outdoor record set three weeks previously at 15 feet 6 7/8 inches.

Accredited officials were present in sufficient numbers to assure its eventual acceptance as a new American mark.

Warmerdam is the only athlete in history who has vaulted 15 feet or more but he cannot explain how he consistently manages to propel his lean six foot frame over the bar at such extraordinary heights.

PGA Players Reverse Field As Gnats Win First Round

ATLANTIC CITY, May 25 (AP)—All gnats, as a matter of insect pride, will be pleased to know that the particular gnat clan which settled in these parts has been influential enough to overrule the tournament committee in the conduct of the Professional Golfers Association championship at the Sea View club.

The gnats so completely upset the committee's original plans that the field in the first 18-hole qualifying round today found itself playing the course backward, so to speak. At any rate, the boys were playing the "back" nine first and liking it. Here is the explanation, and it is a feather in any gnat's cap.

There are two separate and distinct nine-hole layouts at Sea View. One is the "Pines Course," and as the name suggests it is heavily wooded. That is where the gnats make their headquarters. The other nine holes, comprising the "Bay Course," is breezy and almost denuded of trees. It is not good gnat country.

The committee, without having consulted the president gnats, decided to play the "Pines Course" first and finish up on the "Bay Course," the latter layout offering plenty of wide open spaces for the gallery in the closing stages of the tournament.

But that was before the gnats went to work. Players caught deep in the "Pines Course" in the early morning came back looking like they had the hive. They had battled their way through swarms of hungry insects. Others who went into the woods later in the day discovered that the going was not so bad, the gnats either having tired somewhat or been discouraged by the midday breeze.

So hurriedly the committee convened late yesterday and ran up the white flag.

The first starters this morning teed off on what originally was the 10th hole, hopeful that by the time they reached the wooded nine the gnats would have got tired waiting for them.

Corp. Vic Ghetti, the defending champion, promised to enjoy a comparatively gnat-free round, as he was not due to go off until 1:41, in company of Corp. Ed Oliver and Craig Wood, the Open champion. Byron Nelson, favorite in the field of about 100, also had a comparatively late start at 11:21.

Bowling Honors Go To Youth Beauty

Week-long leaders tumbled from their perch in the final day of play Sunday in the city bowling tournament.

Result was that Youth Beauty Shop's team took the grand prize with its four women and one man rolling consistently well for a 3,187 score. Members of the team are Jimmy Eason, Irene Knuss, Mrs. O. C. Auble, Lois Eason and Elouise Halley.

This figure barely put them ahead of Schiltz beer, which on the first day of the tourney had taken a lead with 3,166, and C. R. Anthony, which wound up in third place with 3,155.

In the doubles event, Brimberry and Bagley fired 2,379 to take the trophy, Brimberry chalking up 708 and Bagley 671. Ramsey and Douglas, leaders since the tournament opened, fell into second with their 2,356, and Eason and Alexander took third with 2,315.

Singles leaders remained the same: Howard Smith first with 718, McNaillen second with 713, and Huff Peters third with 688.

In the total-in-all-events score, McNaillen remained leader with his 2,017. Rat Ramsey kept second place with 1,904, and Mrs. O. C. Auble worked her way up to the third prize with 1,917.

Greenbelt Tourney Opens At Quanah

QUANAH, Tex., May 25 (AP)—Ninety-two West Texas and Oklahoma golfers played the opening round of the 17th annual Greenbelt golf tournament today after two Texasans, O. B. Smith of Memphis and T. S. Haney of Crowley, divided medalist honors with 74's.

Behind the leaders yesterday came L. S. Walker of Quanah with a 75, H. C. Johnson of Altus turned in a 76, and Dale Oswald of Vernon and J. D. Michie of Childress each had a 77.

The tourney ends tomorrow afternoon with an 18-hole round.

MEN of 18 and 19

... HERE'S A NEW OPPORTUNITY: CHOOSE YOUR OWN BRANCH OF ARMY SERVICE!

If you've passed your 18th birthday and aren't yet 20, here's where you get a break! A new Army ruling makes it possible for you to enlist at once and pick out any one of the eight combat branches in which you want to serve. After you're 20 you'll no longer have this choice.

You're getting this special opportunity because qualified men of your age are vitally needed now in America's fighting Army. You've got what it takes. Your mental alertness and adaptability will enable you to learn fast. You're built to take the bodily toughening of Army training and thrive on it. And, above all, you have the enthusiasm, the daring and love of adventure that is necessary in the making of fine soldiers.

Decide now whether you'd like to join the Air Force, Armored Force, Cavalry, Coast Artillery, Engineers, Field Artillery, Infantry or Signal Corps. Every branch will give you the finest mechanical equipment—thorough training—plenty of action—and a great chance for advancement.

Whichever one you choose, you'll enjoy the comradeship of a splendid group of men. American soldiers today are the healthiest, best equipped and best fed fighting men on earth.

Talk this over with your friends and with your parents. Then get full details at the nearest Army Recruiting and Induction Station. This is going to be your country one of these days—and your country needs you now!

Quality Work Brings Increased Patronage For Modern Cleaners

Increasing patronage over a 14-year span of service in Big Spring stands back of Modern Cleaners, 208 E. 3rd street, in its bid for cleaning and pressing business. Operated by M. M. Mancil, Modern Cleaners has been maintained in the same location since it first opened for business. However, the intervening years have seen more and more modern equipment added to replace other machinery, until long since the shop has had the best implements for quality cleaning possible. As always, the chief service of Modern Cleaners is general dry cleaning service—for any type of garment from men's-rugged coats to delicate gowns of milady. Whether it be in cleaning and pressing a suit, cleaning a tie, or handling an intricate pressing job, the firm insists on quality workmanship. Many of the staff of six have been with Mancil for years, and all have long records of experience in the business. Other services offered by Modern Cleaners are hat blocking, alterations, reconditioning and expert patching, and a cold storage unit for fur coat storage during summer months when moths are apt to make a meal of costly wraps at home. Modern Cleaners offer delivery service at all times, and also has special arrangements for cash and carry work.

Hair Styling Specialty Of Settles Shop

Hair styling and permanent waving are specialties of the Settles beauty shop in the Settles hotel and Mrs. Ina McGowan, owner and manager, who has had 12 years of experience in the business. Mrs. McGowan came to Big Spring in 1930 and started work as an operator in the shop that was then located on the mezzanine of the hotel. Later she went to work at the Crawford hotel beauty shop and stayed there for seven years. Just last March she went back to the Settles shop which is now located on the main floor and this time she decided to buy and manage the shop herself.

Known to most of her patrons as "Smitty," Mrs. McGowan names her clientele from all over town and from old residents to newcomers to town. Five operators and Mrs. McGowan are kept busy during the day filling appointments. An extra service for working girls is also provided by the shop. Whenever it is impossible for a working woman to make an appointment during the day, the operators give up their evenings and stay late to accommodate these busy souls. The shop has two permanent waving machines including the new Koolerwave machineless type that has made Victory bobs popular. Six dryers take care of those getting hair sets and the manicuring tables and other beauty services are always in operation. In addition to hair styling and permanent waving, the shop specializes in hair tinting and other services that help make beauty a reality for many women.

Now Is Time To Fertilize Lawns

Most lawns in Big Spring need fertilizing, says J. O. Vineyard, Sr., manager of Vineyard Nursery, and now is a good time to do that work. Vineyard observed that many local householders are spreading sand on their lawns at this time, and remarked that this in many cases is the wrong thing to do. Well-rotted manure could be applied with better results.

Mr. Vineyard has had 35 years experience in the nursery business, and knows just what is needed to make a sick lawn grow. At this season he is specializing in lawn work. Now is also a good time for buying hedges, he points out.

The Vineyard nursery was established here last December, Mr. Vineyard coming here from Amarillo. His business has received such an enthusiastic welcome that he has kept three men busy helping him in landscaping work most of the spring. He can do any kind of landscaping, and has a healthy and growing stock of 25 different kinds of shrubs on hand.

Electric Power Multiplies Manpower!
Experienced men, with the help of electrically-driven machines, can turn out great quantities of materials needed by our armed forces. The productiveness of manpower in time of war depends largely upon vital electric power, and that is why Texas Electric Service Company employees are doing their utmost to keep the wheels turning in this area.

To Experiment In Making Gasoline From Coal, Shale

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP) — Production of gasoline from coal and shale will be attempted by the Bureau of Mines if congress approves requests for experimental funds in the $162,167,000 interior appropriations bill. Citing available coal supplies in this area, some members of the Senate appropriations committee said that if an economical process of extracting gasolines could be developed it might go a long way toward relieving the shortage in the East.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, testifying in connection with the appropriations bill, told committee members recently that this country eventually might find itself the only source of oil for the United Nations and urged a study of the coal and shale processes. "Of course," Ickes told the committee, "we have enough oil now but we do not know when we are going to be forced to resort to coal and shale for synthetic gasolines. "Whether we ought to use it now or not, we ought to know where we can get an augmented supply when we need it, and we do not know. All through this thing we have always been too little, too late."

Washington Keeps Eyes On Texas Senate Race

By JACK KENNEDY
WASHINGTON—Odds enough, Washington, as a city, doesn't pay much attention to horse and senatorial elections until the votes are in. Ask a hundred persons how this race or that is going, before it's run, and unless the person questioned has some particular affinity for the state or district under discussion, you will only get a blank look or raised eyebrows. There are, however, exceptions—and the senatorial race coming up in Texas is A-1 this year. There are good reasons why.

administration threw its weight behind young Johnson. Apparently a certain sector of Texas voters resented this Administration interference in local politics. In spite of that, there is some possibility the Administration may jump in again. I'm not going to try to anticipate the administration action, but if it won't be behind Senator O'Daniel, the senate stands on dignity, precedent, tradition and whatnot. Freshman Senator O'Daniel paid little attention to them. In fact, some observers say that not since the late Huey Long took his seat has any incoming senator paid so little attention to the traditional methods of the senate. Don't ask me it is that good or bad—but I do know that it hasn't made the senator the most popular freshman to come into the north wing of Congress. On the other hand, I don't think that this time any oldtimer in the senate will make the mistake of underestimating O'Daniel's vote-getting powers. Apparently, Washington's popular young Lyndon Johnson (now in the Navy as a lieutenant-commander) and nationally-publicized Martin Dies have had enough anyway. It would be hard to find two young men with such political springboards who would shy away from a senatorial race. Some ancient and impartial observers here are grinning over the Texas senatorial picture. Their guess is that "Pappy" O'Daniel has done it again. Allred and Moody, they say, will split the opposition. That's the aim of every candidate, as well as every general.

A New Order Is Coming

There is considerable thought and some spoken and written words being devoted to what sort of world we shall have after this war is ended, the general supposition being that it will end some day. Much of this thought and these words is based on the belief that it should and could be a return to conditions before the war and even before the dip in the prosperity curve that began ten years ago. Those who advocate such a recrudescence are not keeping up with the trend of the times. Their outlook is narrowed by what is perhaps their personal desire, and they do not take into account the vastly different road along which we have come in those ten years, and the futility of expecting to retrace that road and make the new start where we left off. The world, even before the New Deal began to operate, was not such a good world after all. Too many people were of the belief that buying stocks on margin would make them rich and make the country prosperous. Too many were expecting the world to supply their living with no work being done to earn it. If we cannot make a better world than that, then we would do well to let Hitler and the Mikado take it in charge, for the world they envision would not be much worse. The world after this war is going to be a people's world, not one of classes nor favored groups. The experiments we have been making in what we call social security will be past the experimental stage and will be widened. Make no mistake about that. There will be more of Government in business—in the utilities and industries for certain, and perhaps in every line. There will be fewer references to what Washington and Jefferson would say and less regard for the traditions of constitutional government. It will be a new world, not the old one made over.

Man About Manhattan

Brother, This Is Corn That Really Pays

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK — Back in the prohibition days if anybody asked you if you'd have some corn you said "Thank you," and passed your glass. That's one kind of corn. Then there's the kind of corn that grows in Iowa and makes the little pigs fat. That's another kind of corn. But on Broadway we have an entirely different kind of corn. Sometimes it's spelled korn. It's just ordinary corn, meaning lousy, it's no good. But if it's real korn, if it's so comy it hurts, brother, that's korn. That's why I want you to meet the Korn Kobbler. Are they corny? Yes, brother. Their idea of a sweet saphyr is a curdled cow horn of the 1890 variety. They have warts on their fingers from playing tunes on washboards. I think one of them owns a dinner jacket but he has never had it on. They wear just what they happen to put on when they get up in the morning. And they make money. They just finished one transcription series that paid them $25,000. This dough was wracked up six ways, because there are six Kobbler and they are a cooperative outfit. They share everything from piccolo reeds to underwear. Last year the Kobbler opened a "two-weeks" engagement at the Flamingo, a Jersey night spot, and stayed eleven months. They're back again. They have a prize collection of 38 automobile horns, one stolen from a Paris hack. These horns go back to 1920. Do these horns sound sweet to the Kobbler? Yes, brother. When they crack loose with these outmoded relics of a forgotten civilization, tears come to their eyes. Long ago they learned that you didn't have to operate a still to make corn pay. There's Nels Laakso, trumpet player, married, who comes from Wakefield, Michigan. There's Stan Fritts, trombonist, of Lyons, Neb. Stan is a registered barber. He has a child and wears horn-rim specs, but only as a part of the act. Harry Turan, also of Nebraska, was once a printer's devil. He plays clarinet and sax. Chief Mac Elroy, the drummer, looks more like a priest or a school teacher than a Kobbler. He used to play in a burlesque theatre, pit-band, and he still cracks the gags he learned from the tramp comedians. Marty Gold, the only New Yorker in the outfit, gave them their name—the Korn Kobbler. He is the band's arranger. He is a composer. Charles Keopig, the bass player, is the only bachelor in the group. Of course, beneath the corn shocks, the stunk-skin drums, and the tub-thumping, these boys are musicians. They could play with any outfit. But they don't want to play with any outfit. They want the corn. They like the corn. They're out in the corn, where it's really hot. And when it comes to peddling corn, the real korn, they've got it. That's all, brother.

UNFAIR TO LOVE

By Watkins E. Wright
Chapter 13
Turned Down
"Darling!" said Joe huskily. "Let's get married—now—right away." The word "married" brought Kathleen to her senses, or what she chose to call her senses. She looked at Joe from her eyes. She began doing things to her hair. "How silly of me, Joe!" she said. "Being romantic before noon!" She looked at the clock in the dashboard of the car. "Hurry up, I've got to get back to the barn. I'm going to ask Paul Pennell to give me a part in 'Goodbye, Honey Chile!'" Joe stiffened. There were a number of things he could have said, and all of them cutting. But he decided to be a gentleman, and hold his tongue. He released the brake—and the car moved on down the lane. "I heard that Farmer Heene's cow gave birth to twins," she said presently, when he had gotten control of his emotions. "If it's true, it ought to be a good thing for my cousin." "Wonderful!" said Kathleen. "When she dug into her bag for a mirror." Back at Joe's Old Bag Dreams House the rehearsing went on and on. "I think," said Fred DeMille finally, "that if everyone is agreeable, I'll bring one of those cows back in here, and put pants on her." "You're hitting at me, of course," said the actor who was taking the place of the man with the injured ankle. "Okay, talk smart! I don't mind." "That's terribly sweet of you," said Fred sarcastically. "You don't seem to mind anything—even greetings." He sighed. "All right, let's try it again—and again—and again." Another hour of rehearsing, with everyone's nerves on edge. Ruby snapped at Paul, Paul snapped at Ruby—and Daisy Doran lashed out with her tongue, which was never very gentle even under the most favorable circumstances. "The ingenue with a dragon's disposition!" said the juvenile. "And a juvenile with a lady milliner's characteristics!" Daisy retorted.

The Timid Soul

"A fine alibi for your rotten acting." "Thanks!" "Besides," Ruby went on, "if you'd stop trying to be Tyrone Power to Kathleen Vaughan, and think more about your work, rehearsals might go better." Paul grinned. "So you've at last admitted that I do look like Tyrone!" he said. "In an unpleasant sort of way, yes," said Ruby. "Only being a lot older, you—"

Happy Herpy Makes Great Movie Star

By BOBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—This is the tale of the Happy Herpetologist who became by accident a movie star—and remained, first and foremost, a Happy Herpetologist. Mr. James Dannelson, 27, a big strapping fellow with a grin on his lips and a gleam in his eye, is like no movie actor I've ever met. That's why I like to think of him as the Happy Herpetologist, though strictly speaking the gleam in his eye is for all forms of animal life and shines just as brightly over a beetle as for a snake. It is a strictly scientific gleam, and has been there for years. Mr. Dannelson, Omaha-born, came to Los Angeles when he was seven, later attended University of Southern California where his 194 pounds were lent to track and field sports but his mind to science. He wound up as curator of the snake museum. When he read in the paper that Clyde Elliott, the film-explorer, was taking a crew to the Amazon jungles, young James (visions of dancing beetles and giant crocodiles no doubt making him dizzy with delight) applied for a job. "I had hoped to go in some technical capacity," says the academic James, "but they gave me a screen test which turned out not so badly as I feared it would. They made me an actor."

This, of course, is scientific modesty. James Dannelson is the star of "Killers of the Amazon." He plays the American hunter who trails the black calman (crocodile), the anaconda, the giant ant-eater, the jaguar, and other quaint and lovable critters of the Amazonian wilds. The animals, of course, are the real stars. Young James, recognizing the fact, allows that movie-acting is not so bad "as long as there are animals to cover you up." The troupe settled on Marajo Island, in the mouth of the Amazon, an equatorial spot, for its dalliances with the calman. This the Happy Herpetologist relates, is the most treacherous and dangerous of crocodiles, from 8 to 17 feet long, with 6-inch teeth and meanly playful habits. The troupe ran out of supplies on Marajo, and Charlie Ford, the producer, went to the rescue. Mr. Ford had quite an epic voyage himself during a tropical storm, but hadn't a camera along. It was Mr. Ford who told me such items as the native's fondness for boa-constrictors as household guardians against rodents, and of young James' near-finish when an anaconda read the script wrong and nearly choked him to death. Young James got his nose badly slashed when an obstreperous cal-

Ex-Carpenter Bests College Air Cadets

BOSTON — Matthew Constantino, 26, a high school graduate and former carpenter now training in the U. S. army air corps, has made the highest mark on the corps' intelligence and adaptability examination in New England, surpassing even college graduates. Constantino answered 148 out of 150 questions correctly—two more than any other New England man. To pass the test, an air corps candidate must have 90 right answers. KILLED IN CRASH BEAUMONT, May 25. Movie Promoter Loses His Wallet in Mixup

WILLOW, Calif. — To advertise a picture playing at the theater he manages, Lloyd (Doc) Phipps set out to drop 35 old wallets on the streets.

Each wallet contained a letter good for two free tickets to the show. But Phipps dropped 26 instead of 35 wallets. The 26th was his own, containing not only his driver's license and credit cards, but $10 in cash as well.

Phipps' wallet was not among those returned.

Cowboys Ride Herd On Army Depot

PUEBLO, Colo.—Western cowboys are riding herd on something far more valuable than steers these days on the plains near Pueblo.

They are serving as mounted guards at the huge army ordnance depot near here and Maj. Harold Hore of Kansas City, who at 29 is the youngest ordnance depot commander in the nation, says they are far more satisfactory than automobile patrolmen.

Besides their greater maneuverability, the cowboy guards can patrol the miles of arroyo-strewn prairie without using precious tires or gasoline.

The Pueblo cowboy guards, officials say, are the first ever used to guard a modern war plant.

The bronzed guards wear old-fashioned six-shooters strapped to their hips and carry lassos on their saddles. They say they are ready for anything—but so far they have not run up against anything tougher than prairie rattlesnakes. They shoot them just for practice.

Forgets His Patient, Locks Him In Office

COLUMBUS, O. — Patrolman C. D. Miller heard a beating from the inside of a door to a downtown establishment late in the evening. He forced the door and the imprisoned man, who gave his name as Ignolus Raines, 45, negro, told the officer that he was a patient of a doctor at the establishment. The doctor and his assistant forgot that Raines was in a consultation room when they locked up for the night and went home.

Shonbrun Says Girl Took No Part In Murder

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — Eli Shonbrun testified today that his 25-year-old lover, Marlene Webb, had no knowledge or part in the slaying of Mrs. Susan Flora Reich but that he and his uncle, Murray Hirschel, "murdered a woman entirely alone."

Shonbrun, who earlier had proclaimed his love for Miss Webb, blurted out shortly after he had taken the stand in his fight for life that "Murray and I murdered a woman entirely alone," adding that he and his uncle were alone in the hotel Sutton suite last March 4 when the well-to-do Polish refugee called.

"For what purpose?" demanded General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein.

"I mean," replied Shonbrun, somewhat testily, "that the woman ultimately died. We had no intention of killing her."

"We did things which unfortunately and ultimately resulted in her death," Shonbrun continued.

He had testified earlier that Miss Webb had been sent out to do some shopping the day Mrs. Reich was slain and added, "I would have died if Madeline had known."

Miss Webb, a model who came to New York in search of a theatrical career, gasped as Shonbrun made his acknowledgment. John D. Cullen, the third person accused of the slaying, remained impassive.

Hirschel, himself indicted for the crime, turned state's evidence and obtained a separate trial. He had testified that all four plotted the robbery, but that he and Miss Webb were absent from the Sutton hotel when the slaying occurred.

Diz Dean Still Has His Fans

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP) — Dizzy Dean has plenty of crowd appeal and enough strength left in his officially retired right arm to sign at least a couple hundred autographs and pitch one inning of ball.

Diz returned to Wrigley Field as manager of an all-star team yesterday, opening the game on the mound against Satchel Paige and a negro aggregation of Kansas City Monarchs. The former Cub and Cardinal hurler fired over some curves and several whizzers, fast balls to set down the first three batters to face him without a hit. Then he turned the chores over to John Grodzicki of Fort Knox, Ky., former Columbus pitcher in the American association.

Dean spent the rest of the game in the coaching boxes while the Monarchs belted out a 9-1 decision. But Diz got most of the plaudits from the 29,776 fans—10,000 more than the White Sox drew in their doubleheader with Detroit on the south side.

Beaumont Has Potent Grip On 1st Place

By The Associated Press

It looks as though if anyone is to beat the youthful Beaumont Exporters out of the Texas league leadership it will have to be Uncle Sam.

Unless the draft makes inroads on the roster, the Shippers appear tough enough to weather the season at the top of the standings. With 30 games won and 14 lost, the Exporters have an impressive lead over the second-place Tulsa Oilers, who have won 24 and lost 17.

And the Exporters show no signs of coming apart at the seams, even though they permitted the visiting Shreveport Sports to split a doubleheader yesterday. The Sports took the first game 6-4, but Beaumont came back in the seven-inning nightcap to win 5-3. That's been the case all season—the Shippers might be defeated once but rarely twice in a row.

At Fort Worth the Cats and Tulsa Oilers broke even in two extra-inning contests, the Cats winning the first in the 11th inning, 3-2, and Tulsa the second in the eighth, 6-4. Houston drubbed the Missions 9-2 at San Antonio. The best the Dallas Rebels could do in finishing an unfortunate home stay was to divide a double bill with Oklahoma City, capturing the first 6-1 and dropping the second, 1-2, in eight innings.

Racing Interests Aiding War Effort

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — When Herbert Bayard Swope threatened to take a walk out of the Turf Committee of America unless the nation's race tracks got started on war contributions, it apparently did more than a little bit to wake up the fellows who run the show.

For, on top of a joint statement from Belmont and Jamaica tracks for a "war relief day" on June 6 that probably will net about $200,000, the turf committee announced today that United States racing's goal of $2,000,000 for the war effort "is well in sight."

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP) — Col. Max Winn and his horse racing associates are peeling another $50,000 off their bankroll as a contribution to war relief agencies by bringing their contributions up to $100,000.

The famed producer of the Kentucky Derby and executive director of Lincoln Fields said today the board of directors also had voted to purchase $50,000 worth of war bonds.

Governor Stresses Need Of Education

AUSTIN, May 25 (AP) — Democracy can only survive so long as the people are sufficiently educated to distinguish the true from the false in government, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson asserted today in a tribute to the American educational system.

In his regular weekly broadcast, the governor said: "The democratic system depends upon the intelligence of the people for its existence and development. Dictators flourish only in those countries where ignorance is rampant or where the mental processes of the people are controlled by propaganda and mass instruction."

Such instruction, Stevenson said, fits them to be subjects of tyranny and oppression.

"They are incapable of that individual thought and action necessary for the exercise of freedom," he explained. "This is the system which the dictators in Europe have employed for the last 20 years to throttle the mind of youth and to make youth the subservient tools of a war machine."

Preventing ordinary accidental fires is important as their results can be just as serious as fires from bombing raids.

Pennsylvania Flood Deaths Up To 33

HONESDALE, Pa., May 25 (AP) — This once-gay mountain resort town of 5,687, grieving for its dead and missing, waged a grim fight against disease today as the death toll in eastern Pennsylvania's weekend flash floods rose to 33.

Scores were still missing and feared drowned in a devastated area extending from Chester county on the south to Wayne county on the north as the Lackawanna, Lehigh, Schuylkill and Delaware rivers receded over layers of bacteria-laden mud.

In this hardest-hit village in northeastern Pennsylvania, the Red Cross was feeding 3,000 homeless persons in hastily devised canteens after finding them shelter in homes still intact. Thirteen perished here.

Rivers and tributaries, fed by torrential rains, surged over their banks early Saturday.

Homes and automobiles were washed away, gas electric service was shut off. Traffic was paralyzed. War plants were damaged. Buildings were twisted on their foundations. Hundreds were marooned on the second floors of their homes. Several small communities were isolated.

25 Texans Qualify For Golf Event

By The Associated Press

Texas is expected to qualify some 25 golfers today in sectional rounds of the Hale America National tournament.

Qualifying will be held at Houston, Dallas, Austin, Odessa, Kilgore and Dallas. Each will send four or five qualifiers to Dallas June 5 and 6 when this state's quota in the National tournament at Chicago next month will be determined.

Both professionals and amateurs are eligible for the 36 holes scheduled today.

June 5 there will be 18 holes and June 6 thirty-six holes.

Fuel Shortage Brings Switch To Electricity

MASON CITY, Wash. — War forced many persons to adopt less modern methods of heating, but in Mason City, near Grand Coulee dam, the citizens got a real break.

The town is to be completely electrified, including electric heating for homes, to conserve fuel oil and other heating supplies.

Engineers decided to switch the dam-construction town to an all-electric basis to utilize the output of two 10,000 horsepower generators which could not be tied in with major distributing lines.

In addition to conserving fuel oil during a time of scarcity, the changeover will bring the government an annual credit of $15,000, this to come from savings in heating public structures and from residence heating revenue.

Traitors Arrested In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, May 25 (AP) — Army Minister Francis M. Forde, announced today the arrest of 19 men and women believed to have been associates with the so-called Australia first front, on charges of treasonable conspiracy to aid the Japanese if they invaded Australia.

Forde said documents which were seized gave plans for the assassination of leading Australians and for sabotaging vulnerable points.

South California Has Blackout

LOS ANGELES, May 25 (AP) — For the fourth time since the United States entered the war southern California had a blackout last night for 45 minutes.

The military said the blackout was ordered because of "an unidentified flight of planes" that later proved to be friendly.

An air raid warning, John H. Arnold, 57, of South Gate, was killed in line of duty in the blackout. He was struck by a hit-and-run driver he tried to flag down.

Rationing, It's Wonderful

By RAY PEACOCK
Wide World Features Writer

NEW YORK—It's starting out to be a glorious summer in pastoral Jackson Heights.

Our broad acres of undulating apartment houses, dotted with sleek baby buggies, bask in the kindly sun. Only now and then is the drowsy quiet interrupted, perhaps by the cheerful prattle of the elevated, the hum of interceptor planes playing tag overhead, or the musical tinkle of smashed windshield glass.

Nightly the husbandmen, home from labor in the vineyards of Manhattan, lay aside their soiled white shirts and gather in comfortable slacks and sandals at the corner pub to talk in hushed, unbelieved voices of the blessing that has come to pass.

"Ration cards," we say, reverently. "Why will they have to be stopped after the war?"

Let's Take Exhibit A

Mr. Schmeckpepper, my neighbor in 5J, was in a particularly good mood last night. His brother Bill, who drives in with his family for a two-week visit during June, July and August, isn't coming this year. He'd get only as far as Trenton and he'd run out of gas.

Mr. Kortenbeutel, who lives in 4E, was as happy as a boy with a fresh piece of chalk. "My mother-in-law," she ranted, "she's lost her sugar ration card and can't get nothing of hay and rose fever in season, was looking as serene as a girl with two escorts."

"It's wonderful," Mr. Wallassa sighed. "All I have to do is say, 'Look, Henrietta, the boys in Australia need those ten gallons of gas worse than we do. Wouldn't it be patriotic to stay home?' So now I've got my match cover collection all straightened out through said. "My wife was hounding me for another fur coat, but what with these new credit regulations, every time we split up the cost the payments came out too big, so she settled for a new hat and a sea voyage to Staten Island."

Mr. Wallassa, a hen-pecked little man whose wife has made him take her on a Sunday drive every week since they were married, causing Mr. Wallassa a great deal of unhappiness because he is allergic to gasoline, had to say nothing of hay and rose fever in season, was looking as serene as a girl with two escorts.

This'd Be Serious

"It's wonderful," Mr. Wallassa sighed. "All I have to do is say, 'Look, Henrietta, the boys in Australia need those ten gallons of gas worse than we do. Wouldn't it be patriotic to stay home?' So now I've got my match cover collection all straightened out through Nevada, and next Sunday I'm going to sort out New Mexico."

Lean Mr. Gillenwater lifted his glass and looked at it pensively. "I hope they don't get around to rationing Scotch," he said.

"You can't tell," Mr. Schmeckpepper said, glum for a moment. "All these shortages—rubber, tin, aluminum..."

"Ah, rubber," responded the suddenly assertive Mr. Wallassa. "For nine years Henrietta has been spending five and six dollars a throw for girdles. Always got them too small, of course, and had to throw them away. Now she's practicing girth control and I'm putting money in the bank again."

Mr. Gillenwater again looked at his glass, and Mr. Wallassa grandly summoned the clerk. We all agreed that as war went, it was the best ill' old war we've had this year.

Just part my wig and call me Pollyanna.

Buckner Gets El Paso Job

Joe L. Reed, Tyler, is to arrive here June 1 to take charge as district supervisor for the trades and industrial division of the state department of education, it was learned Monday.

He will succeed Pascal Buckner, who has resigned after four years in the post to accept appointment of director of vocational education for the El Paso school system.

Buckner said Monday he would spend a week on the field with Reed before leaving to assume his duties at El Paso.

County Hears USO Quota

Steadily, Howard county moved toward its USO quota Monday with belated weekend reports adding $67.40 to the total.

This brought the amount received to $3,365.92 and cut the amount to be raised to $334.08.

With several communities yet to be reported, and the school room contest yet to be rounded up, Chairman Ben LeFever felt that there was ever reason to be hopeful of reaching the quota quickly.

He urged all who have not been solicited or who have neglected to give as yet to contact the USO desk at the chamber of commerce office.

Louise Ann Bennett Named Cowgirl

Louise Ann Bennett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett, was named as Big Spring's cowgirl representative to various rodeos to be staged in West Texas this season, at a meeting of the chamber of commerce directors Monday.

Louise Ann was the city's sponsor last year, appearing at several rodeos, including those at Midland, Colorado City, Lamesa and Spur. Her experience of last season is expected to stand her in good stead for the events this summer.

Patrol Bomber Sinks Submarine

FORTALEZA, Brazil, May 25 (AP)—A North American patrol plane discovered and sank a submarine off the northeast coast of Brazil May 23, authorized sources announced today.

"There has been great activity along the coast," these sources added.

The submarine, while attempting to submerge, fired with its gun and machineguns. The plane unloaded all its bombs "on the submarine," the announcement said, and at the same time called for assistance.

Two Join Navy At Local Station

Leo William Huhn, Pittsburg, Kas., and Tom Harris Houston, Stanton, have been shipped to Dallas for enlistment in the U. S. Navy. It was reported from the recruiting sub-station here Monday.

Huhn is going in as V-6, yeoman, USNR, while Houston applied for V-5, aviation cadet.

H. L. Cooke, in charge of the office, was making the western swing of his district, Monday in a new station wagon returned from the Dallas station by A. H. Walker, yeoman, Sunday.
