BLASTS SIREN SIGNAL

Second blasts of the Fire Chief Holt re-ignites this week. Chief Holt did not mean that the town was in danger of destruction, but the warning would be given whenever de-structive forces looked sufficiently threatening for the safety of the community.

Monday was blown last week. At that time persons from the clouds from the hill at Wheeler Cemetery that anything could happen were unable to tell ex-actly what was in the air. Know-ledge existed in the minds of the people of the town that a storm would rather have the sound and no storm than a storm.

FARMERS USE FHA FUNDS WELL

Farmers families in Hemphill & Wheeler counties who are using credit obtained through the Farmers Home Administration are making efficient use of the funds and are maintaining a good repayment record, according to a report by the agency's county supervisor, John L. Manning.

Many farmers are using the loan funds to obtain higher grade livestock including dairy animals, to improve their pastures, to buy proper types and amounts of fertilizer, feed, seed, and fuel, and to finance similar steps toward better farming.

So far this fiscal year, or since June 30, 1956, farmers in Hemphill & Wheeler counties have repaid a total of $378,336.00 on all types of loans.

The Farmers Home Administration provides loans to farm better, buy or improve farms, build or repair farm buildings, improve soil and water conservation practices, meet emergency needs, or take care of certain refinancing problems, Mr. Manning said.

Farmers Home Administration credit is supplied on the basis of supplementing credit from other sources, he explained. The loans (Continued on last page)

STORMS LASH WHEELER CO.

Last Thursday evening lightning struck the Wheeler Sub-Station near the location of Jowett Plant of Southwestern Public Service, knocking out one lightning arrester and two 69KV fuses in the plant. Local crews went to the station but because of the severe rains and lightning were unable to repair the damage for several minutes. About 4' of rain fell at the sub-station in the few minutes the crewmen were waiting to repair damage. Automatic switches were also thrown on the 69,000 volt transmission line running east from the Jowett sub-station.

These switches were thrown because of debris that blew into the line near Allison when sheet metal was blown from buildings and grain bins destroyed in the storm near Allison.

Two poles near Allison had to be replaced by maintenance crews Friday morning. Electric lines near Allison were damaged by the debris and some wires had to be replaced.

Among those hit by the storm at Allison on Thursday night of last week and partial list of damage each sustained were:

Forest Evans, windmill and small outbuildings; John McGee, overhead gasoline tank and outbuildings; Glen Elmore, two sheet metal sheds or barns, a gate, damaged to his truck. He was reported to be the only one without electric service during the entire night. Sanford Miller, outbuildings; John Glison, out buildings; L. L. Jones, lost a plate glass window from his Implement House in Allison and two nearly new grain bins from his farmstead just north of town.

The twister dipped down over the Claude Parker place and sucked the shingles off a portion of his house. Mr. Elmore reported that only 1.30 inches of rain fell and that one inch of that had fallen before the severe storm struck. George Parker lost a car hood and his TV antenna in Allison.

John Brown, Jr., chickens house and other outbuildings, gasoline storage tank, pickup bed, and feed troughs; Charles Gardner, outbuildings and a windmill.

Rains up to more than 5 inches were reported in the Mobeetie area and along the north Wheeler County line. Some damage to (Continued on last page)

ALLISON WILL VOTE ON MAY 4

A special school board election will be held in the Allison school district on May 4 to fill two vacancies which still remain on the Allison board as a result of four candidates tying for the two places in the regular school board election on April 24.

Tying with 70 votes each were: E. O. Kelly and Rex Miller, who were candidates for re-election, and L. L. Jones and John Glison.

These four will, presumably, be candidates in the special, and other applications for places on the ballot will be accepted until April 24.

"This is not a run-off... it's a special election, and it is open to all comers," Supt. Malin said.

Five members of the seven-man school board were named at the regular election on April 24. They were Joe Dukes, Vern Lohberger, Lee Kiker, Bob Markham (only member of the old board to win re-election), and Willie Begert.

Polls for the May 4 election will be at the Allison school, and the same election officials who conducted the April 24 election have been appointed to conduct the special election.

Clean UP Day Set For Tuesday, May 7, Here

The Wheeler Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Chairman Percy Farmer, have set May 7, 1957 as the date of the Clean Up Day in Wheeler. On that date various trucks will call at the homes and business places in Wheeler to haul off all unwanted items that have been gathered together for that purpose.

If you have brush, tree limbs, or other debris stacked in a wash or do not wish to have it hauled away please notify Dick Guynes at phone 2172. Dick will in turn tell the truckers not to pick up said accumulation. Also if your pile has not been picked up by 4 o'clock that afternoon call Dick at 2172 and he will send a truck out to pick it up. In the past there have always been piles that are missed by the pickup men, either because they were not seen or were placed out after the trucks had made that street. This year we want to get all the stuff hauled away, Dick stated.

JUNIOR RODEO RULES SET AT MONDAY MEET

Plans for a Wheeler County Junior Rodeo sponsored by 4-H clubs and featuring boys and girls from all schools of the county were outlined at a meeting in the office of County Agent Bryan Swain Monday night.

The event was set for the first part of June in Wheeler with the definite date to be decided on next week after a schedule of other activities has been checked in an effort to avoid major conflict.

Committee chairmen were named Monday and preliminary rules adopted regarding events, eligibility, and awards.

There will be three divisions: "small fry", boys and girls of pre-school age; juniors, school age up to 12; seniors, 13 years up but must be attending school.

Cups will be presented to best cowboy and cowgirl in each age bracket except small fry, and a cup will also be awarded the boy or girl making the highest individual score. Ribbons will be given every one entering any contest. No boy or girl who has ever accepted pay in any rodeo will be eligible to compete.

Here is a list of the proposed events: Junior bull riding and senior bull riding (boys only), spjor and junior barrel race (boys and girls), small fry barrel race, girls goat tie down, sode pop race (girls), small fry shoe scramble, boys 3-man tiedown, boys and girls ribbon roping.

Entries will be open to any boy or girl going to school in Wheeler County. Entries must be signed by parents and school superintendent and turned in to County Agent's office not later than May 27. Each entrant must buy a ticket when he or she turns in entry blank. There is no entry fee.

P. A. Martin of Briscoe has been named general rodeo chairman.

Adult committeemen in charge have been named as follows: Grounds, Arnold (Fat) Jones; Lindsey McCasland, and Melton Liles; Stock, J. T. Johnson, Frank Caswell, Floyd Davidson, Lyndon Sims, Gordon Stiles, David Britt, Glen Elmore, C. J. VanZandt, and Raymond Moore; Ticket, Thurman Rives, Buck Scribner, George S. Gandy, Lee Kiker, John Dabery, Clois Hanner, James Verden, and N. D. Ware.

ample time to finish the painting before too late.

It is surprising what a little effort, paint, and cooperation can do to the looks of a town, a representative of the local women's clubs stated at a planning meeting held last Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce office. The C of C committee met with a representative of each of the various clubs of the city and the city council to plan the activities for Clean Up Day.

It is hoped that all streets, alleys, and vacant lots can be cleaned and polished during the drive. NOW is the time for each of us to start on our homes and business places. By Tuesday, May 7 when the drive will be completed the town will look entirely different. It is a paying proposition.

Increased property value, protection against fire, health and accident insurance are all clauses of a current community "policy". Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up and each one of us can reap the dividends. The cost: a few dollars, some muscle exercise, and a spirit of determination.

By adding a room, finishing the attic, making necessary repairs, starting a garden, you can raise the monetary value of your property.

After checking the electrical appliances, removing trash, placing oily rags in metal containers, and following the other Clean Up suggestions, you will have removed possible fire causes. Should fire occur from uncontrollable situations, the blaze will not have the fuel of trash to feed on. Clean yards and ponds will reduce the insect and rodent problems and their threat to health.

In addition to the financial protection of your home, participation in Clean Up activities grants each worker one large share of satisfaction and achievement which can result only from doing a worthwhile improvement job.

It pays to Clean Up. Begin drawing your benefits today.

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS

On April 10 the House debated House Resolution 225. This resolution concerned the approval of a change in the 1946 loan agreement between this country and Great Britain. At that time this country loaned Great Britain 3 billion 750 million dollars, which was additional to a balance of 662 million dollars which Britain owed this country under the lend lease program. Under terms of the 1946 agreement Britain was to make annual payments of 138.4 million dollars. These payments were for both principal and interest. The agreement had the rather odd provision allowing Great Britain, the debtor, to waive the payments of interest for any year when certain factors existed. The payments on the loan began in 1951 and were met each year. On December 31, 1956, a payment date, Britain advised the U. S. that she was withholding the interest in the amount of approximately $1 million dollars and would seek approval of her right to waive the interest under sections 5 and 6 of the original agreement. The $1 million dollars was deposited in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York pending final settlement. Negotiations began between our Secretary of the Treasury and Britain with reference to the proper course to pursue. The 1946 agreement continues until the year 2000. Under the proposed change, approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, the British could select any 7 years of the remaining years and postpone the entire payment of 138.4 million dollars for that particular year, until the end of the agreement. Much more could be said about this agreement, but space will not permit here, since I wanted to say a little about the debate.

The debate was most interesting and generated considerable heat. One of the major points made by the opposition to the resolution was the fact that Great Britain had announced a tax cut for its citizens and the gimmick that had been worked out with our Secretary of the Treasury was for the purpose of helping to finance that tax cut and to support the present government of Britain. Whether or not it was intended to support the present government of Britain is, of course, debatable. However, there is little question, and no doubt in my mind, that the approximate 250 million dollar tax cut recently announced by Great Britain would be more than 50 percent, financed by the change in the agreement as recommended by Mr. Humphrey. A great deal was said about the recent statement of the British that their government revenue in the fiscal year ending March 31 reflected a balance, above expenditures, of 812 million dollars. Also pointed out was the fact that the British would be required to pay only 2 percent interest on these postponed payments. This is, of course, much less than our government is presently paying for the use of money, and far below the interest requirements of businessmen in commercial enterprises. One member brought out that the British government had recently purchased another valuable piece of property in Washington for which it paid in the vicinity of 140 thousand dollars. Numerous other arguments were advanced and included a full discussion of the many socialized programs being maintained by the British government.

The proponents argued that the resolution should be adopted because Great Britain was our ally and our friend, and in addition had the right to claim a waiver of the entire interest payment whether we liked or not. They argued also that if Britain claimed her waiver of interest for all of the years, it could cost our country 2 billion dollars. Actually Britain did not have the firm right to waive the interest. She had the right only upon the existence of certain factors which she would be required to establish. Whether or not she could establish them is another question.

It is my opinion that such a provision should never have been made a part of the 1946 agreement. In ordinary business transactions the party who has the right to waive interest payments is the lender of the money, not the borrower. However, the agreement was made and Britain was insisting upon the interest waiver right.

My analysis of the situation was as follows: In the first place, Britain hired the money and agreed to pay interest. In the second place, if she was the staunch ally and loyal friend that the proponents of the resolution claimed, it occurred to me that she should not be undertaking to welch on an

A NEW LOOK IN PUBLIC SCHOOL PLANNING

Even Tom Sawyer would have made class on time in this fairyland of steel, concrete, aluminum and brick that will be completed this summer at Morrilton, Ark., as one of the nation's most unique elementary schools. Created as a joint project of Philanthropist-Industrialist Winthrop Rockefeller and the Morrilton School Board and financed by a grant from the former's Rockwin Fund, it is a teacher's and pupil's dream that glitters with the ultimate in educational design and equipment. The model unit has attracted national attention, while both the Federal and Arkansas Departments of Education have kept an enthusiastic eye on the project and contributed ideas.

The trim nine-structure layout embodies design and facilities to serve the newest methods of teaching and child development, both curricular and extra-curricular, including special purpose classrooms for the exceptional, mentally retarded or handicapped child, a health center, an auditorium whose wall interest payment. In the third place, she had advertised that her income was approximately 1 billion dollars more than her expenditures for the past fiscal year, which is much better than this country has done, percentage wise. In the fourth place, it occurred to me that if anyone was entitled to some tax relief, it was the overburdened American taxpayer—the same taxpayer who shouldered the tremendous tax burdens to pay for the arms, equipment and facilities that saved Britain from complete annihilation in the last war. Certainly he should not be required to finance a tax cut for a Britisher under the circumstances.

It was for these reasons and others, which limited space will not permit me to present, that caused me to vote against the resolution.

However, my vote, along with the votes of 166 other members of the House, went down the drain so to speak, because the resolution carried to the tune of 218 yeas and 167 nays. We do feel that much additional strength was evidenced in our ranks, and that we are gaining in our efforts to slow down the tremendous foreign expenditures that have so grievously burdened the American taxpayer, and have obviously lessened our friends in the world rather than increased them.

Apathy—Curse
 For A Community
 Nothing is worse for a city — like a person — than the "I don't care" attitude. And a city is, after all, only the sum total of its parts.

New Glamor Fun for Girls

Little ladies who get a big thrill wearing mothers' jewelry pieces can now design necklaces, bracelets and earrings to suit their own individual personalities. Transogram's new "Snap-a-Part Jewelry Set" provides an assortment of gold and pearl-toned plastic jewelry parts with a generous supply of brilliant colored gems. All parts are interchangeable and easily link together with tiny plastic snappers.

people, you and I. With Clean Up Paint Up-Fix Up time approaching, it is time for us individually and collectively to rid ourselves of any difference and get ready to support the coming campaign.

If we continue to dump trash on that vacant lot down the block, scatter fruit peels and wrappers garbage and trash containers, from car windows, and ignore garbage and trash containers we will soon have a reputation for messy unconcern.

Tourists, visitors, new businesses are not attached to that kind of city any more than you want to become better acquainted with an untidy person.

Let's each make a firm resolution to stop littering streets and sidewalks, and otherwise blemishing our collective property. If we do, and then clean, paint, and repair of our individual share of the city, whether it be room, apart-ment or house, apathy's curse will be soundly defeated by energy's dividends.

YOUR NEIGHBOR AND MINE . . .

By MRS. LEVI REID
 Around 8 o'clock Saturday morning of April 6 just about every car in this part of the County was headed northward for Canadian to attend the Annual Canadian Valley Loan Association meeting; it was a good program interesting and entertaining as well. Guest speaker was Mr. Stokes from Houston. Music was furnished by the Wheeler Mustang Ramblers.

Mrs. Fay Patterson had as her week end guests her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Patterson from Borger.

John Barton who has been ill for some time is doing better. Mrs. Clarence Whittenburg and son of Canyon are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robison and family of Borger is in the city visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Williams.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones this past week were relatives from Amarillo Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis spent Tuesday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rutherford.

Mrs. Jerry Hays and baby of Sunray were a recent visitor in the home of Aaron Williams.

T. W. Reid of Pampa visited in the home of his brother, the Levi Reid's.

Levi Reid really had a streak of fisherman's luck recently, he landed a good 16 inch beauty fastened it safely on a stringer and tied it to the boat, but his prize fish pulled loose and swam away taking along the stringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caswell visited in Duke, Okla., last Tuesday.

Today's Bible verse: The Lord God formed man of dust from the ground, and breathed in to his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living being.

Genesis 2:7
 Mr. and Mrs. Don Oglesby of Borger spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oglesby.

The community is extending sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Miller in the death of their little son Dale Miller, in a Pampa Hospital last Thursday.

Housewife of the week, Mrs. H. H. Walser was elected for the honors this week by her neighbors, everyone agreed she is one of the best neighbors to be found. Loyalty and willingness to be of service to her community, makes her loved by every one.

Mrs. Walser is the mother of six children. She is a Methodist and has served in various offices by the church organization. Her hobby is crocheting. She is a native Texan. Her childhood home is Terrell. She has lived in Wheeler County for 53 years. She likes people and her big wish is just to be helpful to others. So our wish to you Mrs. Walser, is that the bread cast upon the waters will return to you.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

"Play ball." That cry will echo across the country all summer as millions of Americans play baseball. The players will range all the way from professional in the major leagues to boys playing on Little League diamonds, on sandlots, in parks, or wherever they can get a team together.

Watching the games will be millions of other people. These rabid rooters will make the rafters ring with the special language of baseball like "Kill the umpire," or "We want a homer."

Many of these fans are also motorists who come to the contests in their cars to cheer their favorite teams. These drivers could learn a lesson from the lingo of baseball. Here are a few baseball phrases that will help the average fan avoid accidents and be "safe at home."

Batter-up—Millions of motorists are battering up their cars every year as they crush them into other vehicles, trees, bridges and obstructions. Most of these accidents could be prevented by following the rules of good driving.

Curve-Watch out for sharp, sudden curves found on many roads. Many aren't marked properly, especially for night driving.

Screw ball—Avoid this kind of driver who shows off or stunts in his car, takes part in drag races on the highway or dangerous road "games."

Rule book—All players have to obey the rules of baseball. Drivers should learn rules of the road and traffic laws.

Play ball—Observe proper motoring manners as well as following the letter of the law. Play ball with other drivers by being courteous-and careful. Signs-Obeey all traffic signals & signs. They can save your life by warning you of hazards ahead. New modern signs that can be seen at night help motorists get to and from night baseball games.

Park-Be careful to park correctly along city streets. Don't park on the highway. Be alert when getting out of a parked car.

Twin killing—An accident in which more than one person was fatally injured.

High ball—Driving too fast. Some 3 out of 10 drivers in fatal accidents are breaking the speed law.

Pitcher—The one-armed driver who pitches woo while wandering down the highway paying more attention to his girl than the road.

Out-You'll be out both time and money-as well as your health-if you're injured in an auto accident.

Social Security

Social security payments can be paid retroactively for only one year before the formal application is filed, if entitlement exists in the earlier months, according to John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo District Office. "There are some rare occasions," he went on, "when a person claims benefits, fails to prove entitlement for a number of months, then succeeds and gets back payments for more than a year from the time he furnished the last bit of evidence on which his eligibility depended."

"Ordinarily, such occasions are few and far between, as a social security office is usually able to help most people gather, in about three weeks or so, any evidence needed to prove their rights to benefits," added Sanderson. He further stated that the vast majority of the more than nine million people now receiving monthly social security payments had no trouble getting their checks started. It was thus not necessary to pay them retroactively for more than a month or so unless they had delayed filing their claims for many months past their initial eligibility.

"We have always suggested that the nearest social security office be notified when a possible claimant reaches the age of 65, or when a person insured under social security dies," Sanderson concluded.

God Works Through Billy Graham

Billy Graham the dynamic evangelist whose amazing international ministry has been called "the phenomenon of the mid-twentieth century" has once again become the subject of a new and inspiring book.

Titled "Billy Graham," this latest literary account deals with the personal history of this amazing man, his message and his mission. It is an authentic, stirring account of the youthful preacher of the gospel, who at the age of 38 has probably preached face to face with more spiritually hungry millions than any spokesman for Christianity in all history.

Told dramatically and at first hand by Stanley High, senior editor of Reader's Digest, the story traces Billy Graham's Crusades from their inception when Billy as a teen age preacher barnstormed the South gathering in converts to Christ wherever he went. In his frank and objective biography explaining how the Crusades grew and grew first in scores of cities across the United States and Canada and later in Great Britain, Europe and Asia.

High says, "Billy put religion on the front pages and made it the chief topic of man-in-the-street conversation."

What is of particular interest is that the author satisfies the natural curiosity of millions of people by graphically picturing "behind-the-scenes" workings of these highly successful revivals, how they are prepared, organized and financed. An itemized account of the fabulous Billy Graham Evangelistic Association which, from tens of thousands of small contributions received last year, spent $2,000,000 for Billy's radio, film and preaching ministry, is also described.

Such provocative questions as: What manner of man is this handsome young evangelist who has reaped this rich harvest of souls? Is he genuine? Do his conversions last? Is he merely a flash in the pan or is he really the religious phenomenon of our era, are candidly answered in the story of the North Carolinian, who world church leaders declare "walks at the side of God."

All of Billy Graham's diaries, records and personal letters were made available to Stanley High, who also did on-the-scene research in both America and abroad and followed in the wake of the Crusades, interviewing converts and ministers.

Heart-warming character sketches of the evangelist's loved ones about his four children in their hilltop home in Montreat, North Carolina, provide a wealth of human interest and show the basic simplicity of this most extraordinary of men.

"Billy Graham" was just published recently by the McGraw-Hill Book Company.

Sheriff's Office, and the Wheeler GOC to provide storm information and security for our city. During that period radio contact was maintained with local radio units which were in strategic points surrounding Wheeler and with other towns and cities in the area which had watchers on duty the same as Wheeler had.

Thursday night, during the trial the sheriff's department provided radio cars which were manned by volunteers. The new Fire Department Walkie-talkie was used at all alerts.

When the GOC is alerted to watch for storms it does not mean that one is in the Wheeler area. These severe storm alerts come from the weather bureau at Kansas City by way of the Filtration Center in Oklahoma City. These forecasts are to alert watchers, who in turn will try to notify the public by use of the storm signal when and if the watchers think public safety demands it. They in turn may sound the storm warning signal of two 30-second blasts.
