TO TEXAS LAND OWNERS
TREE SEEDLINGS AVAILABLE
 Over 250,000 tree seedlings will be available to Texas landowners for windbreak plantings in early 1958. Don Young, head, Forest Management Department of the Texas Forest Service announced this week.
 "Landowners in critical areas should establish farmstead or field windbreaks to prevent wind erosion of their valuable topsoil," Young said.
 Austrian pine, ponderosa pine, Chinese elm, and red cedar will be available for the 1958 winter planting season. These seedlings, procured from the Oklahoma State Nursery at Norman and Boyd's nursery at McMinville, Tenn., will be sold for $3.00 per hundred. This price includes the cost of shipment to landowners.
 Application blanks for ordering the seedlings can be procured from county agents and Soil Conservation district offices in the Central and West Texas area. In addition, order forms are available upon request, from the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station.
 "As the orders will be filled on a 'first come, first serve' basis, we want to urge those interested to get their requests in as soon as possible," Young added.
 Landowners with sufficient area to plant a minimum of one acre in windbreaks should contact the ASC office in the county in which the lands are located for information on this program.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

How long is a car length? Speedy Gonzales scratched his head in wonder as he pondered over a newspaper article giving statistics on safe stopping distances. Speedy had just read that a motorist should maintain at least one car length between himself and the vehicle ahead for every 10 miles per hour driving speed.
 Now, Speedy is a careful driver, albeit he does like to go fast at times. But he has found it very difficult to judge these "car lengths" with the naked eye. As a matter of fact, he has trouble judging the distance across a room.
 Well sir, Speedy considered this problem for some time, because he is always careful to observe the rules of safe driving. Zipping along the highway one day with Mrs. Gonzales, therefore, he mentioned the matter uppermost in his mind. With the typically unpredictable logic of woman, she suggested that perhaps the State might place markers at intervals along the road to indicate the average car length, as a guide for the motorist.
 A little bell rang in Speedy's head. Such markers, he reasoned, would hardly be practical on open highways because speed fluctuates with the whim of driver. But what if little signs could be posted on the backs of the cars themselves?
 Another little bell rang. Speedy remembered once hearing that, with 20/20 vision, you can read a number or letter one inch high from about 50 feet away.
 Connecting this thought with his "one car length per 10 miles per hour" obsession of the moment, Speedy visualized a rear bumper with reflective numbers from 1 to 6, graduated in size so that the motorist behind could read only a certain number (or higher) if he were properly spaced for his speed. For example, if he were traveling at 50 miles per hour, he should not be able to read the number "4" on the car ahead — or if he were driving at 60 and saw the number "5", he was too close for comfort

Slowdown At Sundown

"Slow down at sundown!" J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety association, warned motorists this week. His appeal came as part of the safety-after-dark program of TSA for October.

"Since nighttime doubles traffic troubles, the driver has to soft pedal the gas pedal—he has to watch out for the lives of others as well as his own."

He emphasized that a driver must be alert at all times and expect the unexpected. Sometimes children dart from behind parked cars, or bicycle riders make turns without signaling, or an animal wanders onto the highway.

"If a driver must stop at night, it is imperative that he always pull completely off the road and leave on his parking and dome lights," Musick said.

He particularly stressed the fact that night driving is different from daytime driving. Motorists must adjust to that difference by putting their guard up when the sun goes down.

"Fourteen percent of the 2,611 traffic fatalities in Texas last year, occurred in the three hour period from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.," Musick said.

Accidents don't just happen. They are caused. Public enemy number one—the stop-sign passer.

RIVES SAYS POLL TAX MUST BE PAID TO VOTE

Next year is election year and all citizens will want to have their poll taxes paid, Wheeler County Tax Assessor-Collector Thurman Rives warned this week.

Many county residents are already paying 1957 taxes in order to take advantage of the three percent discount, and some are overlooking the poll tax payment, Rives said.

Under Texas law, poll taxes cannot be assessed along with property taxes, and the poll tax, prerequisite to voting in Texas, does not appear on the tax statement.

Poll taxes must be paid before January 31, if citizens are to vote in next year's primary and general elections.

TEXAS DAIRYMEN SUGGEST JERSEYS TO FIGHT FIRES

The owners of three dairy farms in Texas have an answer to fires in time of water shortage. They say all you need is a herd of Jersey cows.

The Texas dairymen admit that milk is a little expensive to use in fighting fire but that you can count on a bountiful supply with Jersey cows around. To support their contention, they point to the records recently completed by 11 of their milk producers.

The milk records of the 11 Jerseys, all registered, total over 21,666 gallons. Seven of the cows are owned by Victory Jersey Farm, Tullia; three are owned by Knolle Jersey Farms, Sandia; and one is owned by Homer Rook, Plainview.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

SCHOOL BUS SAFETY LAWS

Thousands of school children will soon be trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time. Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule probably outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious. Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious. When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway. However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-travelled portion of the roadway. Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center

Wheeler County SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Wheeler County has been designated as one of the Texas counties qualified to take part in the Great Plains Conservation Program. This program is the result of Public Law 1021 passed in August of 1956. No money was provided by Congress to start the program until 1957.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is not an emergency program. It is a long range conservation plan based on proper land use and complete land treatment. Participants in this program must plan a complete conservation job on their farms or ranches. It will include using all land within its capabilities and treating it in accordance with its needs.

Cost sharing will be based on the average cost of applying a conservation practice. Cost shares are intended to speed up the application of all needed practices to a farm or ranch. It is not intended that this program replace any other program now in effect.

Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Wheeler SCD will assist farmers and ranchers to prepare the necessary plans to participate in the Great Plains program. A local committee including Soil Conservation Service, the FFA Supervisor and the Chairman of the County ASC committee will prepare local program information and cost shares as soon as the State Committee will prepare the State program.

FARM PRICES DECLINE

WASHINGTON.—The Agriculture Department reported Sept. 28 that farm prices declined about 1.2 per cent between mid-August and mid-September. This drop ended a 6-month upturn.

Lower prices for meat animals and for most commercial vegetables were primarily responsible for the decline. Partially offsetting were higher prices for dairy products and eggs.

The mid-September farm price level was 3.8 per cent above that of a year ago but about 21.8 per cent below the record high set in February, 1951.

Prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in farm production and family living increased one-third of 1 per cent during the month to match the record set in mid-April.

The level of prices paid by farmers was 3.15 per cent above that of a year ago.

Farm prices as a whole averaged 83 per cent of parity in mid-September compared with 84 in mid-August, 82 a year ago and the record of 123 in October, 1946.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Prices received by farmers in mid-September were reported at 245 per cent of the 1910-14 base average compared with 248 in mid-August, 236 a year ago and the record of 312 set in February, 1951.

Prices paid by farmers in mid-September were reported at 296 per cent of the 1910-14 base average compared with 295 in mid-August, 287 a year ago and the record of 296 in April of this year.

The department said farm prices of meat animals declined 3 per cent during the month but dairy prices increased 3 per cent. Vegetables declined 11 per cent.

MRS. DOROTHY FRENCH says in Mount Vernon, N. Y., that "something must have snapped" to make her husband, Air Force Capt. George H. French, offer to sell A-bomb secrets to the Russians. She said she knew that he owed more than $8,000 in poker debts but that his court-martial and sentence to life imprisonment came as a complete shock to her. (International)

Three - hundred twenty pound heifer calves at only 4 months of age! You dairymen would love to have a barn full of calves like that, wouldn't you? Especially if you could sell all the whole milk their dams produced.

At Purina's research farm last year, 89 calves were raised on Nursing Chow and Calf Startena. At four months, Holstein heifer calves averaged 320 pounds... a full one-third heavier than is considered good growth for calves of that age.

And, they were raised for less than half the cost of whole milk feeding!

Purina Nursing Chow and Calf Startena—built and proved under typical farm conditions—are designed to grow 320 pound Holstein calves at only 4 months. Ask us for Nursing Chow-Calf Startena... a complete Calf Program.

90% Of Trucks Fail Safety Check

Almost one out of every five of the 12,000-plus highway freighters receiving a thorough inspection during the Interstate Commerce Commission's latest nationwide safety check were ordered off the road on the spot.

ICC safety experts found 18.6 percent were "so immediately hazardous to operate as likely to cause an accident or a breakdown."

Another 70 percent of the rubber-tired boxcars were found to have one or more safety defects, but were allowed to continue with warnings that the defects be repaired as soon as possible.

The most commonly found violation was faulty brakes, with 7-130 defects. The safety condition of all the trucks passing through the ICC check points may have been even worse than the figures indicate.

The scales of justice might well be called the trial balance.

stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing. A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic.

phasing out of many parts of this program and a reduction in these tremendous expenditures which have created such a heavy tax burden on the backs of American taxpayers. Few people realize that the total number of nations in the world is 87. Out of that 87 the United States of America is operating some type of aid program in 67. In other words, direct aid from the American taxpayers is going to over 80 percent of the nations in the world. It has been said that the 20 nations in which we are not operating some type of aid program are being measurably helped indirectly by the program which we are operating in the 67 nations. During the debate the Appropriations Committee had on display a chart with the names of all of the nations in the world listed thereon. Opposite each name was a colored thumbtack. Red thumbtacks indicated that the nation was receiving direct aid from this country. The green thumbtack indicated that the nation was not receiving direct aid from this country. The yellow thumbtack indicated the nations aid to other nations. The only nation which had a yellow thumbtack opposite its name was the United States of America. 67 nations had red thumbtacks and 20 nations had green thumbtacks. I pointed out that, aside from countries of the British Commonwealth, such as Canada, Australia and New Zealand, the large nations not receiving direct aid are the USSR and its satellites. The other nations not receiving aid are small nations, some of which many people have never heard. There are many more facts about this program which would make interesting reading but time and space will not permit me to put them in this letter. I did want to give you some background of the amount of money involved in this program and the nations to which it is going. In addition, I wanted to call your attention to some remarks which appeared in the hearings on the bill relating to the size of the United States public debt. (Continued on page 8)

BOND MARKET FAVORABLE FOR SALE OF VETERAN'S LAND BONDS

AUSTIN.—Land Commissioner Earl Rudder noted last week that the bond market seems to be growing more favorable for the sale of some part of $10,000,000 of Veterans' Land bonds.

"The average interest rate on bonds of our type was 3.50 per cent this week," Commissioner Rudder said. "The market has got to go down a long way yet," he added.

The average interest rate on the market was 3.57 per cent several weeks ago.

The State Constitution says the Veterans' Land Board can pay no more than three per cent interest on its bonds.

"One of two things must happen before we can sell our bonds," Commissioner Rudder said. "The Constitution must be amended so that more interest can be paid, or 2 bond market interest rates must drop considerably."

Questions and Answers

Q—I am a disabled Korean veteran and I hold a routine job that doesn't interfere with my handicap. I would like to take vocational rehabilitation training to prepare for a better job with a future. Does the fact that I'm working mean I have given up my right to train?

A—Not necessarily. If your disability is service-connected and if you have a need for training, you may receive vocational training despite the fact that you now hold a job. However, your training would have to be full-time; once you start, the law wouldn't permit you to hold your job.

Q—I am drawing compensation payments from VA for a service connected disability. What is the limit that I can earn before my compensation payments will be reduced?

A—There is no limit. No matter how much you earn, your compensation payments for service-connected disabilities will not be reduced. The ceiling on income applies only to pensions, paid living veterans for total and permanent non-service-connected disabilities.

Q—I am a Korean veteran with a dental condition for which I have a zero percent disability rating for purposes of dental treatment. Would that entitle me to the special Korean GI insurance available to service-disabled Korea veterans?

A—No. The insurance may not be granted if the disability is a dental condition for which a rating was made only for purposes of dental treatment.

Q—I expect to retire from my job soon. If I sell my GI house and move to another city, could I get my entitlement restored for another GI loan?

A—Yes, provided VA is relieved of liability on the old guarantee.

COPS KEEP THE PEACE IN TENSE LITTLE ROCK

A SMALL AND SCATTERED CROWD (bottom) gathers outside Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., as city police and state troopers crack down to prevent further outbreaks of violence in the integration crisis. He went on to say that the company believes that they are entitled to a substantial increase in rates and will appeal their application to a Travis County District Court.

Mustangs To Turkey

6:30 and cars are allowed to park around the field free of charge on a "first-come first-served" basis. Mr. Brown said that it was about 120 miles from here to Turkey, going either by way of Childress or Memphis, and advised fans to leave here early enough to get a good spot to watch the game. Turkey's stand on the visitors' side is inadequate to seat a large number.

The team will leave Wheeler by school bus at 2:45. The Pep Squad will follow at 4:00 also traveling by bus.

Larry Hunter, who was injured in Friday night's game with the Silverton Owls has recovered sufficiently that he will be allowed to play part time.

James Cox will also be in the lineup despite the broken nose he received in practice early this week.

Hunting Conditions Good in Panhandle

Hunting conditions in the Texas Panhandle are good, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration, who recently made a survey of the area.

"There are lots of weeds, which will provide game birds food and cover. The quail crop is excellent in some sections, and there is a fine second crop of young turkeys," he said. "Milo is turning brown and harvesting it will add to the feed supply."

He said apparently the doves have already started moving out. Ducks are coming in, however, and he saw several flights of bluewings and pintails. With other biologists, they surveyed conditions in the valley of the Canadian and Washita Rivers.

"Marsh and western quail are all nesting," he said. Both are staple winter food items for the quail of the Panhandle. "It'll be hard on the dogs because these weeds are waist high. However, hunters will probably find good shooting in some areas."

He said the turkey were plentiful, "about frying size." Deer and antelope both were found to be in excellent condition.

More evidence of red legs also was observed. One rancher reported seeing a hatch of this exotic bird transplanted into the Texas Panhandle. They are on game restoration areas and are protected from hunting under the law.

importance of recreation. She also directed a game.

Eleven members and four guests were present. Visitors are always welcome. Next meeting will be Nov. 5.

Science Can't Find Equal for Wood In Home Building

In an age of plastics, miracle metals, and man-made fibres, the question often arises: Why is wood still retained as one of the principal materials in home building today?

The answer is that science never has come up with a substitute for wood that can equal its multiple advantages in home construction. Here are some of those advantages:

Durability. Wood, when used properly and given good maintenance, will outlast the structure of which it is a part.

Warmth and beauty. Wood is pleasant to the touch and takes to paint or natural finishes readily and lastingly.

Insulation value. Because wood is a natural insulator, windows and doors made of wood such as ponderosa pine won't heat up excessively in summer and resist frosting and sweating in winter.

Economy. A high percentage of wood used in modern construction is ponderosa pine. Its easy cutting texture saves time on the job. Its lightness reduces shipping and handling costs.

How-To-Do-It

Ordinary Tools Install Insulation

Only four simple tools are needed to install batts and blankets of mineral wool insulation. The tools are a staple gun, a sharp knife, a measuring rule, and a straight edge.

The staple gun can be rented from most hardware or building material dealers, a butcher knife from the kitchen will do all the cutting, a 6-foot carpenter's rule is fine for measuring, and a scrap of board is an adequate straight edge.

Measure the space to be filled, then cut the insulation slightly larger by slicing along the straight edge. Don't cut through the vapor barrier. You'll need a flange of this about 1 1/2 inches wide at both sides and sometimes the top and the bottom.

HIGH VOLTAGE!

A convict cowboy seems to be headed for trouble thrashing, thundering Brahman Bull takes off for the Blue Yonder." The above action shot was taken at the Prison Rodeo at Huntsville. This is just one of the many exciting events offered at the 26th annual Prison Rodeo each during October in the prison's million-dollar stadium.

Letter From Lyndon Johnson . . .

It was pointed out that as of June 1, 1957, we had a public debt of approximately 275 billion dollars. If we could borrow money at 3 percent interest and make just one payment each year in the amount of 8 billion 368 million 602 thousand 150 dollars and 60 cents, if would require to finally pay off the debt. This means that the final would be made in the A. D. It would mean the paid as a total sum, present interest, the staggering 1 trillion 205 billion 78 thousand dollars and This would not include payment of any sums borrowed in the meantime.

We wish to thank our friends and customers who helped our 8 years as proprietors of Nora's Cafe a pleasure and We hope you will continue your patronage of the Cafe in management of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris.
