No Storage Shortage Anticipated in Wheeler

Harvest of Wheeler County's best wheat crop since 1949 started last week end, and the first loads of wheat were delivered to the Richerson Grain Co. in Wheeler.

The initial cuttings indicate a yield of 20 to 35 bushels per acre on wheat with some running as high as 40 bushels, Richerson stated.

The wheat is testing 60 to 65 with a moisture content of 13 to 14 per cent, which classifies it as No. 1 grain.

In addition to the excellent wheat crop, the first appreciable crop of barley grown here in recent year is also being harvested with yields running 40 to 45 bushels per acre.

The barley harvest got into full swing this week and will continue for at least two weeks, Richerson said.

More than 14,233 acres are seeded to wheat in Wheeler County.

Much of the wheat is being placed in the government loan which nets the producer $1.66 per bushel.

The current market price is some six cents below the loan price.

No storage problem is anticipated according to Richerson.

McIlhany Is Honored With Appreciation Banquet

The agriculture committee of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce honored State Representative Grainger McIlhany with a special appreciation banquet Tuesday night, for his outstanding contributions to agriculture.

Rep. McIlhany received this award following a county poll which indicated that he had contributed the most to the betterment of agriculture in Wheeler County.

An unusually large number of farmers, ranchers, businessmen and their wives turned out for the banquet to show their appreciation to McIlhany.

T. M. Britt, Wheeler County rancher and community leader, was the principal speaker and outlined the work of Rep. McIlhany in the Texas Legislature which was the basis for his selection for the agriculture award. Cotton John Smith from KGNC, Amarillo, presented McIlhany with a scroll signed by the officers of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Britt pointed out that during 1957, Grainger McIlhany sponsored legislation to set up on the farm demonstrations of improved farming methods in the eastern Panhandle area. This program has already been set up in Collingsworth, Hall, and Wheeler Counties. McIlhany also secured state aid in the eradication of crows, who annually cause great damage to grain crops.

He successfully sponsored amendments to the general appropriations bill to expand the services of the county agents office and to improve the Texas A & M experiment station and a forestry program. He was the author of the complete revision of the livestock feed laws of Texas.

The speaker noted that Rep.

In the field of water conservation, he authored the bill to validate the creation of the underground water district in Gray County and was also one of the planners of the present loan program for the building of water conservation dams.

Farmers Urged To Vote

WHEAT REFERENDUM VOTE TO BE FRIDAY, JUNE 20

Wheeler wheat farmers and landlords will decide by referendum Friday, June 20, whether or not they want marketing quotas on the 1959 wheat crop.

Polling places will be open at Allison, Briscoe, Kelton and Wheeler from 8:00 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Commissioner's courtroom in Wheeler.

Mobeetie farmers will vote in the first building west of Atkins grocery.

Twitty, Shamrock, Pagan, Lela and Kellerville will cast their ballots in the city hall at Shamrock. Eligible voters include all growers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain. The county ABC committee recommend that all eligible farmers, landlords and their wives vote.

Albert Marshall, manager of the ASC office said "most growers have received notice of their farm allotments for the 1959 crop. Should there be any question about the wheat program, please call at my office and we will make every effort to answer your questions."

The issues to be decided by the vote June 20 are:

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and a price support, the big issue to be decided will be the level of price support," Marshall stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes next Friday," he pointed out.

As announced recently, price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be available in the commensurate at a national average of at least $1.51 or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959-crop of wheat are approved by two-thirds of the growers voting Friday.

This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by the necessary majority, the support level will drop to about $1.50 per bushel, or 50 percent of parity, as directed by law.

Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

WHEELER COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Now is the time to consider terracing cropland that is in small grains. The harvest will be completed shortly making possible the construction of field terraces and diversion terraces where excess water is a problem.

Rains so far this year have been slow, causing very little runoff. Heavy rains do occur, and terraces with contour farming slow down runoff, giving the water a better chance to go into the soil. Water that runs off and erodes the land will not help produce a crop.

R. J. Smith of Wheeler has completed an erosion control dam. Chester Payne of Shamrock constructed a pond for livestock water. Other district cooperators are anticipating construction of ponds and terraces in the near future.

For assistance on conservation practices see personnel of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the District.

SHORTSTOP

By
 Honus Wagner

From the book "How to Play" published by The Sporting News

Get Rid of the Ball

On balls hit to the outfield, the shortstop dashes out to take the relay. He should not go too far into the outfield because if it is necessary to make the throw home, he can be more accurate on a short throw than on a long one.

Get Rid of Ball Fast After Tagging Runner

Here is one thing to remember when you tag a runner. Tag him in almost the same motion you get the ball and then get rid of the ball as fast as you can.

Pop flies and pop fouls can take many a pitcher out of a jam and the shortstop who can master these plays will help his team greatly.

Size up a pop fly right away and if you think you can catch it, yell for it at once. If you can't take it, holler for either the left fielder, the center fielder, the second baseman or the third baseman to make the play.

This is one of the phases of the game that requires constant practice. If the sun is shining brightly, the shortstop should take all pop flies back of third base because he comes in for the ball at an angle and the sun won't get in his eyes as easily as it does the third baseman's.

Another difficult play for a shortstop is the play at home plate with the infielders in close on the grass. The shortstop and second baseman play a trifle deeper than the first and third basemen. A sharply hit ball should enable the shortstop to cut off the run at the plate.

On a slowly hit ball, the shortstop may find it impossible to get his man at home and it is always best to remember to make the play at first base and retire at least one man. A late throw to the catcher could lead to a big inning and affect the result of the game.

Trick Play That Backfired on Tricky McGraw

Sometimes the shortstop can figure in a trick play or two.

I will remember how I got together with our third baseman and our catcher and we bided our time to spring our play. It went like this: With a runner on third base, the third baseman was to move in like he would in fielding a bunt. This would draw the runner off the bag and down the baseline toward home plate.

Then I would sneak over to third base from shortstop, the pitcher was to pitch out and I was to take a quick throw from the catcher to nab the unsuspecting base-runner, who naturally would be watching the third baseman.

Our Pirate catcher and I used to have a signal for a pitchout to catch a runner sleeping on second base. We used it successfully against the Giants early one year.

The next time it backfired. John McGraw was coaching at third base and when the runner got to second base, I gave the signal to the catcher. Out of the corner of my eye, I saw McGraw moving about more and more in the coaching box.

The catcher threw the ball and just as the ball left his hand, the runner on second dashed for third. McGraw had detected our signal.

Later, we met the Giants again and the same situation cropped up. I signaled the catcher and glanced at McGraw. He was showing unusual activity in the coaching box.

This time, however, the catcher bluffed the throw to second. The runner started for third and the catcher fired the ball to the third baseman and we had the runner out with plenty to spare.

We crossed up McGraw by changing the signal which he had previously stolen.

Almost every play on the diamond involves the shortstop—a pitched ball, thrown ball or a batted ball. A good shortstop must always be ready for any emergency and must be alert. He must be smart. And he must possess the natural equipment to play the position.

If he is all of these, baseball will be good to him.

*As related to Les Biederman.

The Deluxe Cleaners' Cardinals scored two in the first, ten in the second, and eight in the third to trample the Yankees 20-12 and stretch their margin 2-1. The Yankees collected eleven hits off winner Carol Gandy, but were unable to get the runners home. Chapman and Douthitt worked on the mound for the Yanks with Chapman taking the loss. The two teams meet again Tuesday for the fourth game of their nine game series.

Those amazing Thunderbirds ran wild in their last two appearances in turning back the Sheriffs 16-4 and the White Sox 28-13. The two wins gave the Thunderbirds a 3-0 record for the season.

In the attack on the Sox, Hardcastle was the big man at the plate as he pounded Sox pitchers for one single, one double, two triples and one home run in five times at bat. Goad was the winning pitcher in both games and helped his own cause with five hits in five trips to the plate. Moffitt was the loser for the Sox and Vanpool took the loss for the Sheriffs although he struck out seven batters in the two and two-thirds innings he worked.

Monroe Page, leading the league in batting with a tremendous .846 batting average, was the first pitcher to hurl a no-hitter this season as he closed the gate on the stumbling Rangers. The Rangers were able to push across three runs compared to eight runs on five hits for the league leading Marshalls. In pitching his no-hitter Page left eleven batters stranded at the plate and allowed only three balls to be hit. Jamison was caught out by the third baseman and Jolly grounded to second and short. Loser Green pitched his best game so far as he struck out six and allowed only five safeties.

The Rangers were further humiliated by a double loss handed them by the surging Giants 17-2 and 14-10. Waters allowed one hit in a game called on account of rain, then gave up three hits in five innings to post his third win—all at the hands of his cousin Rangers. The Giants with five hitters batting at .500 or better belted twenty hits off hurlers Green and Jolly including home runs by Shaw, L. Watson, and S. Waters.

J. Meadows To Return From 6-Month Training Cruise

J. Meadows, seaman, U.S. Navy, returned from a six-month training cruise on the Australian aircraft carrier HMAS Melbourne. Meadows, who is from Briscoe, Tex., is returning to Long Beach, Calif. (FHTNC) to board the destroyer USS President Hayes after it ran aground on a reef near the Paracel Islands in the South China Sea. During the cruise the Kyes visited the ports of Melbourne, Perth and Darwin, Australia; Yokosuka, Kobe, Sasebo and Maji, Japan; and Hong Kong. The ship also visited the islands of Hawaii, American Samoa, and the Philippines. Mrs. Ebb Farmer is attending college this summer at Canyon.

"I cook complete broiler meals for my family—thanks to my Electric Range!"

Broiler Recipe...

The recipe Mrs. Wadley used when these pictures were taken. It's a complete, delicious broiler meal you'll want to try.

- 2 cans asparagus
- 1 can pimiento
- 2 cans Mexican Tomatoes
- Grated Cheese

Liquid from cans of vegetables and arrange in broiler pan. Place asparagus down center of pan. Place pimiento strips down the center. Arrange 1 can of Mexican corn on each side. Season vegetables with salt and pepper. With damp cloth, score fat around edges and curl. Place on rack of cold broiler pan, and place under broiler unit of electric range. Cook the steak in four or five inches from the unit. Control to Broil. Leave oven door ajar. Broil one side until brown (about 12 minutes). Turn and broil other side (about 10 minutes). Cut steaks in halves and put grated cheese on top of broiler rack just before steaks are done.

says Mrs. Gary Wadley,

GUYMON, OKLAHOMA

That's the nice thing about an electric range — you can cook complete meals — at one time. There are several ways, too. You may cook complete deep well meals, complete oven meals, complete surface unit meals or, as Mrs. Wadley favors, complete broiler meals. All come out tasty, tempting and nutritious.

Free ... Two Outdoor Bug Lamps !!!

See the versatility of electric cooking, first-hand. Your Reddy Kilowatt dealer will give you a personal demonstration of an electric range PLUS a certificate good for two free bug lamps. Yellow bug lamps, which fit ordinary sockets, eliminate most of the light that insects see, yet provide a soft, comfortable light for outdoor living.

Cross Currents

By Mrs. Osie Wilson

NEEDLES AND PINS — A young couple I know got married. For three years everything went along pretty well. The husband had a job most of the time and the wife worked too. They bought a home, owned two or three different cars, had nice furniture, and TV, and best of all they had a baby that made them both very happy. Then the big company for which the husband worked laid him off, and for five months he was without a job. He found temporary work that helped but nothing paid like the job he had had with the big company.

So the young man thought that if he had just a little capital with which to finance a truck, he knew some farmers with whom he could make the harvest. He had good credit and he borrowed the money for the initial payment on the truck. Then he met a promoter, not a farmer. And in a little while he had this man for a partner. The partner persuaded the young couple to borrow more money on their debt-free assets. Later the young people learned that this man had made them false promises and could not deliver any of the things he'd promised them in the deal. And the young husband just got in deeper and deeper and it looked as if he would lose the little that he had and the capital that he had borrowed. But, relatives were kind and got him out of hock and tried to arrange it so that he would have a chance. Now he is fighting for his financial life - working fourteen hours per day, getting ahead a little then having to pay it all out on used equipment for repair bills. According to statistics the odds are against him! His chance of coming out is small. But, who shall begrudge this young man the pains and trials that he asked for? 'Tis the struggle and strife that we find in this life that is really worthwhile, after all!

Joke: A Jew merchant was trying to teach his son how to run the business. A man came in to buy a pair of shoes.

When the customer had gone, the father asked his son, "What did you sell him?"

"A pair of shoes," answered the son.

"No", said the father, "he bought a pair of shoes. But, what did you sell him?"

Mrs. Boyd Evans of Fort Worth shot at a stranger who forced his way into her home with avowed purpose of selling her insurance. She thought she hit the man in the shoulder but police found two bullets lodged in the wall and expressed doubt that she hit him. What became of him? He HAD WENT!

At Rainy River, Ontario, Carol Johnson, an eleven year old girl got lost in the woods. A search party of 500 volunteers looked for her for a week. On the last go-round they found her asleep behind a fallen tree, wet, and hungry but in good physical condition.

Near Fort Worth, a seventeen year old girl had a date with a big man. He stabbed her, raped her, and threw her into a field, where he left her for dead. Two fishermen who went there to dig worms found her. She was suffering from exposure and bleeding but is believed she will recover.

A personal column such as this one is written for the purpose of carrying editorial comment; mine are also designed to entertain you. Notice that all of my little stories have either happy endings, or satisfactory ones.

Now I will put on my bullet-proof vest and give you the editorial. Over the Memorial Day week end I saw two automobiles, each driven by a Wheeler teenager parked for about ten minutes on, and half-way on the highway side-by-side while their drivers had a conversation. Perhaps fifteen cars had to pull around these two vehicles. Improper parking is the cause of many fatal accidents. It is also subject to a fine of about $17. Ask your teen-ager with whom you trust your car if he was the one guilty of this violation.

In Houston a pupil was absent from school because she had the mumps. She returned in time to take a final examination on which she made a grade of D. In an argument the mother of the pupil and the teacher had a fight: each claimed injuries and will appear in court.

This controversy has come up in the life of every teacher. When a pupil is absent because of illness, the pupil and the parents expect grades to be donated. A teacher cannot give grades for absences, no matter what the reason is, for the pupil has just lost out on work. If one could receive grades for absences, who would come to school?

In the matter of the traffic violation and the excused absences we find the same expectancy of mild leniency. That is not the way that life treats us. Life is real and it is earnest! Let us teach our children to face-up to these hard facts.

Hampton Honored With Birthday Party

Steve Hampton was honored with a birthday party Monday June 9, at the City Park, celebrating his 7th birthday. The party was given by his mother, Mrs. Bill Hampton.

Favors of balloons and bubble gum were enjoyed by the guests and refreshments of cup cakes and punch were served to the following: Pam and Bitsie Gaines, Mike Lewis, Joyce Ann Burk, Bernice McCasland, Vickie Moore, Monnie Edwards, Larry Hampton and the guest of honor, Steve Hampton. Others present were Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. E. H. Herd, Mrs. C. B. Brotherton, Mrs. Lula McCasland and Elaine, Mrs. Bertha Barr, Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. Maxine Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Thomas and family visited in Dalhart Sunday with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Sam Thomas.

Love story

It seems this girl was so cr-r-azy about the service she got from her Phillips 66 Dealer that she'd buy only one gallon of Flite-Fuel at a time... just so she'd have an excuse to come back oftener.

It was rather trying for this Phillips 66 Dealer, considering all the free services he provides for every customer on every visit. Brushing out inside the car, for example. Cleaning the windows all around. Checking the tires, battery, and radiator.

It turned out just about as you'd expect. Such an obliging fellow, she decided, would be a handy man around the house. So she hooked him.

The trouble is, of course, that most Phillips 66 Dealers are so dedicated to their jobs that household chores get short shrift. No moral here for wives. Obvious moral for motorists.
