BRISCOE School News
 The Briscoe Board of Education, along with their wives, will honor the school faculty with a supper followed by a social on Saturday, Sept. 27 at 8 p. m. Faculty members and wives or husbands are invited.

The juniors and seniors will hold a bake sale in Wheeler on Oct. 1st. Then on Oct. 4th they have designated as work day. Anyone desiring help on Oct. 4th may contact any senior, junior or Mr. Ethridge. The rate per hour is $1.50 for either boys or girls.

The money earned this year through the various activities will be applied to a trip at the end of the year. If you don't need help on the 4th, then feel free to contact us at a later date. Cars needing a good wash job can receive such by contracting a junior or senior.

This week completes our fifth week of school - which means next week is six weeks test week, just in case anyone has forgotten.

The Briscoe Board has set the tax rate for the 1969-70 school year at $1.25 for local maintenance and 10¢ for interest and sinking (debt service). The valuation for taxing purposes is 3 1/2 million dollars.

The school has ordered a new bus, which we hope will be delivered real soon.

The assembly program proved to be a great success. Mr. Don Comfort performed with his accordion.

Walk in, America.

Top of the line Kingswood Estate Walk-in.

You'll have a hard time finding a wagon as easy to get into as a 1970 Chevrolet. Try it sometime. Climb into any other wagon, then climb into ours. Chevrolet wins in a walk - With a dual-action door that swings open without any jutting hinges.

With a rubbered stair built right into the bumper.
 With a roof that slants thoughtfully forward so you won't hit your head.
 Look into a walk-in at your Chevrolet dealer's. Putting you first, keeps us first.

Good soil conservation practices today is the only way an adequate supply of nutritious food can be assured for tomorrow. Soil Conservation touches everyone, whether it be the farmer, merchant, teacher, lawyer, doctor, banker and the old and the young.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to say thanks to everyone who visited, sent cards and the many wonderful acts of kindness during my illness. Thanks also to the Doctors and the nursing staff for their wonderful care. Mrs. Opal Smith

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to say Thanks a Million to the Doctors, the Nurses and all the people of Wheeler for their care, the visits, the prayers, cards and flowers - and for every deed of kindness shown to us during our stay at the hospital. Maida Allen

CARD OF THANKS
 We deeply appreciate the many kind deeds and expressions of sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement. The H. L. Flanagan Family Mobeetie, Texas

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to say thanks to my relatives and friends who sent flowers, gifts and cards, while I was in St. Anthony's Hospital at Amarillo. God bless each one. Lucile Tipps

CARD OF THANKS
 Words cannot express our deep appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their thoughtfulness of us upon the loss of our loved one. A special thanks to Dr. Curtis R. Chaffin, the staff of nurses at Shamrock General Hospital, the personnel at Golden Spread Nursing Home and those that sent food and flowers and offered words of comfort. May God bless each of you. Mrs. Allie Smith of Amarillo visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Francis and family of Pampa were Sunday dinner guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Francis.

Mr. Charles Pendleton of Wellington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Pendleton had surgery last week in Wellington hospital and is doing fine at this time.

Man's struggle with soil erosion is as old as agriculture itself. Records of his effects to adjust himself to the land are written on landscapes around the world. Ruined land and starving people show us he failed to care properly for nature's great natural resource, "The Topsoil". If we wish to avoid these mistakes we must study the records and know the reasons for man's failure.

The conservation and development task in years directly ahead is going to be formidable. For example, the population of the United States will require over twice as much production from its agricultural land by the year 2000. We now use about 350 billion gallons of water daily; by 1980 we will need 600 billion gallons of water per day. Each year more than a million acres of land are taken out of agriculture and used for highways, housing projects and other urban uses. By the end of the century the demand for recreation will double. We are still losing some 500,000 acres of land a year as the result of erosion and other damage, both rural and urban.

Soil erosion affects the happiness and the welfare of the individual farmer and his family, and through them the welfare of the community of which they are a part and the town where they buy and sell. From decreased business in the towns, the influence of soil losses widens and spreads until it is felt by manufacturers and mill workers in distant states.

A trip across almost any state will furnish one the opportunity to observe the relationship of the soil and the well being of people. In areas where conservation has been practiced, one may see good crops, good fences, good buildings, painted and well cared for, a happy and prosperous people living on the land, and thriving towns or cities serving those who live there. In regions where soil conservation has not been practiced one finds poor crops, poor fences, dilapidated buildings, bad roads, poor schools, poor churches and a low level human well being. How does erosion affect you? It affects everyone, directly or indirectly whether farmer, merchant, teacher, lawyer, doctor, banker, old or young.

It influences not only the United States, but touches, sometimes quite tangibly, the interests of foreign countries with whom we do business. Soil is the basic source of wealth and no one, however remote from the farm, is entirely unaffected by soil erosion.

of blue and white were carried out in the theme. Cookies and nuts were served. They received many useful gifts. A large crowd attended and sent gifts.
